ZBA grants variances for 334-unit apartment building at Wonderland Ballroom

By Journal Staff

The Revere Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) held its regular monthly meeting last Wednesday, September 30, in the City Councillor Joseph A. DelGrossoCity Council Chamber.

On hand for the session were chair Michael Tucker and fellow members John Lopes, James O'Brien, Aklog Limeneh, and Arthur Pelton.

The big news of the meeting was the board's approval of a 16-story, 170-foot tall building that will contain 334 apartment units on the present site of the Wonderland Ballroom. The new building also will contain a new function facility on a lower floor that will serve as a replacement for the iconic Wonderland Ballroom.

The matter initially came before the ZBA in July. The members voted at that time to reject the application, citing the excessive height (182 feet), the number of stories (17), and the large

Federal funds to help Revere Fire Department hire 12 firefighters

By Adam Swift

This week, FEMA awarded nearly $4 million in grant funding for fire departments and other first responder organizations in Massachusetts.

Revere was the biggest recipient of the FEMA grants, with a $2.5 million award that will allow the Revere Fire Department to hire 12 new firefighters.

City and state leaders, as well as Senator Ed Markey were on hand at the Revere Fire Headquarters on Monday afternoon to help celebrate the award.

Revere Deputy Fire Chief Glen Rich welcomes Sen. Lydia Edwards to the press conference announcing the $2.5 million FEMA grant for Revere.

"These types of awards in communities like Revere do not go unnoticed," said Mayor Patrick Keefe. "The Revere Fire Department will have the opportunity to add 12 firefighters to its ranks, strengthening our capacity to respond quickly and effectively when residents need us most. Investments in public safety have always been a key priority of mine, and just in the past month, we are graduating 11 new firefighters from the Proposed study to look at free meter parking for senior citizens

By Adam Swift

One Revere City Councillor wants to give senior citizens a break when it comes to parking at city meters.

At Monday night's meeting, the council supported a motion filed by Ward 5 Councillor Angela Guarino-Sawaya asking that the mayor request the parking department and traffic commission conduct a feasibility study on offering free 2-hour parking at metered spots for Revere residents 65 years of age or older. The residents would have to have a valid driver's license and vehicle registered in their name, according to the motion.

"My reasoning behind this is that there are many hair salons, nail salons, restaurants, and specialty shops along the Broadway corridor that could benefit from more customers," said Guarino-Sawaya. "These visits often take longer than the quick 15 minutes that we offer them to do their errands. Two hours of free, metered parking would give eligible seniors time to keep an appointment, enjoy a meal, and shop without worrying that the meter is going to expire; helping both the seniors and the local busi-

City celebrates completion of rooftop solar project at DPW

Special to the Journal

The City of Revere and Mayor Patrick M. Keefe Jr. are celebrating the completion of a new rooftop solar project at its Department of Public Works (DPW), developed by Solect Energy through the PowerOptions Solar & Storage Program. The 236 kW DC solar array is expected to generate approximately 294,000 kilowatt-hours (kWh) of electricity in its first year, helping the City reduce electricity costs while advancing its sustainability goals.

"Going green and cutting costs can often go hand in hand. This project allows us to take an existing City resource, the roof of our DPW facility, and leverage it for greater financial and environmental benefits. By ensuring that we are always finding ways to use our existing resources to their fullest potential, we can enhance our facilities and further our goals with the benefit of our residents and public services in mind," said Mayor Patrick M. Keefe Jr.

By using on-site solar generation in place of electricity purchased from the grid, the City is projected to save nearly $45,000 in the first year and nearly $1.15 million over 20 years. The project's economics were further strengthened when Solect pursued an increase in the state's SMART incentive and amended the original PPA, significantly reducing the price of solar electricity for the City. The project also incorporates the full value of the 30% federal tax incentive.

The project is also expected to avoid approximately 282,000 pounds of carbon dioxide emissions annually, or about 2,700 tons over the 20-year contract term. Together, the financial and environmental benefits demonstrate how municipalities can use their facilities to support long-term energy and sustainability goals.

"Revere's DPW project is a great example of how municipalities can make practical use of their facilities to reduce energy costs while making progress toward their sustainability goals. We're pleased to have worked with the City and PowerOptions to deliver a project that provides meaningful savings from day one and over the long term," said John Dimodica, Business Development Manager at Solect Energy

With the DPW rooftop array complete, Revere is taking another step toward lowering municipal energy costs and expanding the use of clean, locally generated electricity.

nesses that are there."

Guarino-Sawaya said that under the program, eligible seniors might be able to receive a placard that would denote that they are allowed to park at the meters for free for two hours. She said that the parking and planning departments could do a feasibility study to look into the specifics of how the program would be run.

"I think a feasibility study would be a good first step," said planning and community development chief Tom Skwierawski. "I know our peers next door in Everett just started doing this, and I think we are in many respects pretty similar with them in regard to population and percentage of seniors representing the total population. They have a lot more parking meters, so it is a somewhat different comparison there, but I think it would be good to learn from them after a year of this in operation."

Skwierawski said another reason Revere may not want to put a new policy into effect immediately is so that it can assess the impact of the relatively new 15-minute meter spaces on Broadway and Shirley Avenue.

"If we were to have a year of that program under our belt and understand how it is affecting our revenues, and then in addition to that in that time, we could look at Everett and see how it is impacting their revenues … I think it is worth exploring," said Skwierawski.

Skwierawski said the city and the parking department want to be respectful of the concerns of senior citizens, but also want to be able to look at potential implementation and financial issues associated with the policy.

RESIDENTS INVITED TO LEAVE THEIR MARK ON FLAHERTY SQUARE

Revere's Shirley Avenue neighborhood is about to get a whole lot brighter, and city organizers are asking for the public's help to make it happen. Inspired by the community's recent Participatory Budgeting process, a new temporary public art installation—named the "Many Hands" Lighting Project—is officially making its way to Flaherty Square.

Funded through a NEFA Making It Public grant, the luminous new display won't just be for the community; it will be created by the community. Residents of all ages have an opportunity to draw and design custom tiles that will be directly incorporated into the final artwork. It is a chance for locals to showcase their neighborhood pride and lend their own creative flair to Revere's streetscape.

The deadline to submit drawings is October 16. To learn more about the installation, download the official design template, and submit artwork for consideration, visit the project's website at behance.net/gallery/254855461/Light-of-Many-Hands.

BHCC CELEBRATES THIRD YEAR OF LIBERTY MUTUAL INSURANCE GRANT FOR DISH FOOD PANTRY

Bunker Hill Community College's (BHCC) is marking the third year of a $150,000 grant from Liberty Mutual Foundation supporting its DISH Food Pantry, which provides food and other essential resources to students and their families.

Since opening in 2019, DISH has grown significantly in both the number of people it serves and the resources it provides. In 2025, the pantry distributed more than 131,000 pounds of food — an increase of more than 300 percent over five years — and served more than 1,000 households. Today, students can access resources through grocery pickup and automated food lockers, as well as programs such as a monthly diaper lottery.

Liberty Mutual has been a supporter of DISH since BHCC opened the pantry. The current three-year grant has helped DISH fill gaps in resources that may not be available through other sources, including culturally relevant and gluten-free foods, hygiene products, diapers and infant care items.

"We are grateful to Liberty Mutual for its stalwart support of the DISH and our students," said BHCC President Pam Eddinger. "It has always been important to me that we address our students' basic needs, because you can't learn if you are hungry. We also know that our students are parents and caregivers, and it's important that we feed their families, too. We are proud to have helped lead this movement to address campus hunger in America, and we could not do it without committed partners like Liberty Mutual."

BHCC's work on basic needs support has helped foster a national movement to recognize food insecurity as a significant barrier to student success. For two decades, the College has been an advocate for addressing student hunger not only through direct services, but also through broader policy and institutional change. The College's approach emphasizes dignity, flexibility and access to foods and necessities that reflect the lives of the students and families it serves.

"The DISH team is so grateful for the long-term support of Liberty Mutual," said Chelsea Alexander, DISH Food Pantry Coordinator. "This three-year grant provided significant funding that we could rely on year-over-year, supplementing our purchasing budget in a substantial way. Liberty Mutual's support has given us the flexibility to fill the gaps and make DISH responsive to the real lives of our students."

The continued support of partners such as Liberty Mutual has helped BHCC build on this foundation and strengthen the College's capacity to ensure students have the resources they need to succeed.

Keefe said the city has consistently sought to increase its ranks in the fire department.

In recent years, in part of the FEMA SAFER grant and other grants, he said the city has been able to reopen and fully staff its Point of Pines fire station and increase staffing across the city.

"You need all the help, you need the equipment, you need all the assistance that is possible," Markey told the firefighters.

Markey thanked Revere Fire Chief James Cullen and the department for their dedication and commitment to public service.

"You keep the community of Revere safe every single day, and that is why I am so excited to announce the $2.5 million in federal funding for the Revere Fire Department," said Markey. "You are one of the very few communities in the country to receive this funding, because we know that you need it, and that Revere will use it in ways to keep this city safer."

Markey also thanked state Senator Lydia Edwards for her role in helping to secure the grant funding.

Cullen said it was a monumental day for the city and the fire department.

"I am incredibly proud to stand before you and accept the Staffing for Adequate Fire and Emergency Response, or SAFER grant, as it is more commonly known," said Cullen. "This funding is a true game changer for our department, directly translating into more firefighters on the job every day, and enhanced safety for our members who serve the citizens of the city of Revere. An achievement like this does not happen in a vacuum, it takes immense dedication and advocacy, and we are profoundly grateful for the leadership that has made this possible."

Revere Fire Captain Kevin O'Hara said the support and advocacy of Keefe, Markey, and Edwards is helping the department reach its staffing goals.

"I am here not just to celebrate, but also to thank all of our hard workers in the Revere Fire Department," said Edwards. "I want you to know that an investment of this size that adds to the personnel of this department isn't just for Revere. I am keenly aware of the mutual aid that this department provides to the region, so investing here is also investing in helping out folks in Winthrop, Chelsea, and East Boston."

Revere Council debates funding of Garfield School elevator funding

By Adam Swift

The potential city funding for an elevator study at the Garfield School was tabled by the Revere City Council Monday night.

At last week's council meeting, the city council voted down a request from city finance director Richard Viscay requesting a $125,000 city appropriation for an engineering study for new elevators at the school.

"As you may be aware, the elevators in the Garfield School have been in use since 1989 and are nearing the end of their useful life," stated Viscay in the letter to the council. "As such, we have developed a scope of services for an engineering firm to survey the original equipment and provide design criteria for the modernization of the building's complete elevator system, including Mechanical, Electrical, and all subconsultant engineering services involved."

Viscay requested that the money from the study be appropriated from the city's capital improvement stabilization fund.

However, the appropriation was voted down when several councillors noted that the school department has its own budget surplus and should be paying for the study, not the city.

At this Monday night's meeting, Ward 2 Councillor Ira Novoselsky successfully asked for a reconsideration of the Sept. 28 vote. However, after some additional discussion about the study funding, Novoselsky asked that the matter be tabled, where it could conceivably be brought up again at a future meeting.

"I know the way we all feel about the school department always asking for money, and I agree," said Novoselsky. "But I thought about, what are we really doing here? We're only hurting kids, families, parents, and all the workers, all the vendors by not having all of the elevators working. Right now, one elevator is totally down, one elevator is working kind of properly, and one elevator only works periodically and a lot of people get stuck on it."

Novoselsky said the city should move forward with the project and deal with the money as it goes along.

"This thing is still going to take a year and a half to get done, we are only talking about the engineering now," said Novoselsky. "We still have to talk about bidding it out and getting the contractor in."

The Ward 2 councillor said the total cost of the project will easily be over $1 million and that there can be further discussions about how to pay for the construction of the elevators.

"Let's move it along and we can talk about the money afterwards," said Novoselsky. "I know some folks say no, but I think it is ridiculous, we have to look at public safety and the concerns with those using the school."

Ward 3 Councillor Anthony Cogliandro said it is unrealistic for the school department to put the responsibility for the elevators onto the city when there have been issues with them for the past year.

"In my opinion, all I want to know is why the school department won't pay for this when they have over $5 million in surplus," said Cogliandro. "That is not an unreasonable ask, it is not unreasonable to wonder why they won't pay for this."

Council President Anthony Zambuto said he agreed that the elevator study is not something the city should be paying for, and that it should be coming out of the school budget surplus.

MAKE THE MOST OF THE LONG WEEKEND

The arrival of the long holiday weekend means that the fall season is squarely upon us, the time of year that has special meaning for all of us in New England.

With the weatherman (as of this writing) forecasting a near-perfect weekend weather-wise, we urge as many of our readers as possible to partake of the simple pleasure of getting outdoors to enjoy the crisp, clean air and the autumn colors before the colder temperatures arrive.

A nice hike, whether along the shore of the Cape, or in the Berkshires or the mountains of northern New England, or even as nearby as the Blue Hills in Milton, provides an opportunity to enjoy the natural world, far away from the noise of our daily lives, that will do wonders for our emotional and physical well-being.

One of our favorite things to do with our kids when they were young was to go apple-picking, which is in prime season at many farms that are a short drive from the city.

We've always viewed the Columbus Day/Indigenous Peoples' Day weekend as the last chance to take a mental and physical break ahead of the freneticism of the upcoming holiday season -- which will be here before we know it.

Councillors want further discussion on building naming process

By Adam Swift

Earlier this fall, the Revere City Council approved a new naming policy for municipal buildings.

Monday night, the council approved a motion made by Ward 5 Councillor Angela Guarino-Sawaya and Ward 3 Councillor Anthony Cogliandro asking that the mayor, city council, and school committee discuss, as a whole, establishing a decision-making, working group regarding naming all city property.

"As we discussed the other day, we had a naming ordinance that we just passed and there was a discussion over whether the council should have a say over naming the buildings and the rooms and all these things," said Cogliandro. "I believe, in fairness, and because we are not the only elected officials in the community, that we all get together; us, the administration, the school committee and have a working group for all buildings. That means giving the school committee a say in the city, and I think that would be fair since we

City officials assert that the recent bills make up for water that was not charged because of old water meters in use at that time that underestimated water usage.

A group of 50 State Police troopers, responding to complaints from Revere residents that local police and city officials are failing to take action against reputed organized gambling interests, swooped into the city Friday afternoon for a coordinated, mass raid at 16 locations, resulting in the arrests of 48 men and one woman. The raids came after the State Police conducted a lengthy investigation without informing local police or officials. Among the places raided were: the Dublin Cafe; the Red Roof Grill at 258 Broadway that is located opposite City Hall and just 200 yards from the police station; Joe's Lunch; Suffolk Downs Variety; and Beach News. City Councillor Athol Cooledge then tossed a bombshell into the City Council meeting Monday night when he commended the State Police for their efforts and said that the Revere police must be released from the stranglehold of Mayor Raymond Carey.

Numerous suggestions were made for an appropriate memorial for the veterans of the last war who made the supreme sacrifice. Among the ideas was the construction of a Revere Memorial Hospital that would entail the purchase and expansion of the present Revere General Hospital.

A group of irate parents has demanded that the City Council take appropriate action against the police officers who arrested eight high school students Sunday night. The parents said the boys were just minding their own business and waiting to go to a movie when the police threw them into a patrol wagon. Police said they were responding to reports of noise and rowdiness from residents in the area. The parents also were upset that one of the officers reportedly said to the youths, "Where the hell do you think you are -- in Italy?"

are all elected officials."

Guarino-Sawaya said the council, school committee, and the administration can all work together to form a thoughtful overall policy for naming buildings in the city.

"As I mentioned previously, the language concerning school buildings and school grounds deserves particular attention," she said. "I respect the school committee's role, and I believe we should work together towards a process that reflects the interests of the entire community, and naming a public property is a lasting decision. It should follow clear standards, provide an opportunity for public input, and give residents confidence into how these decisions are being made with all of us coming together as one."

Ward 4 Councillor Paul Argenzio said he supported the motion, but noted that Massachusetts general law gives the school committee the right to name school department property and buildings.

"I am assuming they could just refuse this, and they would be within their rights," said Argenzio. "There is a system in place now that the city council and the mayor name city buildings and the school committee, and the mayor sits on the school committee, they name the school buildings. So there is a process in place, but I have no problem sitting down and discussing it."

number of apartment units (358) without adequate off-street parking.

Prominent local attorney Nancy O'Neill represented the petitioner, Mario Zepaj of 1290 Northshore Road, LLC, of 365 Turnpike Street, South Easton. Even though the new petition represented a scaled-down version from the original application in July, the project still required three variances from the ZBA:

1. Revere Revised Ordinances (RRO) Section 17.21.040 (I) with respect to maximum Floor Area Ratio (FAR) requirement of 3.6 within the Wonderland Transit Oriented Development District (WTODD);

2. RRO Section 17.21.040 (F) with respect to maximum height requirement of 160 feet within the WTODD; and

3. RRO Section 17.21.050 (A) with respect to minimum off-street parking requirements for residential use within the WTODD.

"This proposal originally came before this board in July and since then has been refined to meet the concerns of the board and to more closely align with the requirements and design of the Wonderland Overlay District," said O'Neill, who said that the new proposal meets the legal standard of "material and specific changes" (which therefore permits the applicant to resubmit the application within less than a year) from the original plan.

O'Neill emphasized that "a central aspect of the project is the creation of a new function space to replace the Wonderland Ballroom that will be an important amenity for Revere residents and families." She said that the need for added ceiling height for a ballroom had pushed the building beyond the 160 feet that is allowed in the district.

O'Neill noted that the vast majority of the apartments will be small in size, which will attract tenants who will not own cars. O'Neill said that although the 90 parking spaces within the property will be sufficient for the building, she added that there are 1400 adjacent units in the nearby MBTA parking lot that will be available for ballroom events.

O'Neill also pointed out that 23 apartments, equaling seven percent of the units, will be offered as affordable housing. "This project is the perfect project for all of the state's goals for transit-oriented housing," O'Neill concluded.

Ward 2 City Councillor Ira Novoselsky spoke in favor of the application. "We had asked them to put it in this function hall," Novoselsky said, who added that because the building is in a flood zone, it has to be constructed above-ground. "There already is an existing, 16-story property nearby, so it is not out of whack for the neighborhood."

Ward 5 Councillor Angela Guarino-Sawaya also spoke in favor of the project, noting that the community needs a function hall facility of this type. "This is going to be a beautiful project," she said.

Resident Travis Alpert from Coolidge St. spoke in favor of the application, noting the affordable housing component, which he said is much-needed in Revere.

A resident from Park Ave. also spoke in favor of the project, citing the modern design that will be a welcome addition to the city.

The board first voted unanimously in favor of a procedural finding that there were "specific and material changes" to the plan, which was a necessary antecedent to allow the board to take a vote on the merits of the revised project.

The board then voted 4-1 (with Tucker dissenting) in favor of granting the variances. In addition to the usual conditions, the board added the stipulation that the tenants will not be eligible for the city's on-street parking program.

The board took up a number of other matters during the evening.

The first item on the agenda was an application from Brandon Melendez, 262 E. Eagle St., East Boston, requesting a variance of Revere Revised Ordinances (RRO) Section 17.16.260 (F)(1) with respect to "no accessory structure can be located within the required side yard and no more than 10% of the rear yard can be occupied by an accessory structure" to enable Melendez to raze his existing garage for the purpose of constructing a new 15.5' x 36.2' garage at 16 Rand Street.

Mr. Melendez appeared on his own behalf. He said the new garage will be slightly larger than the current structure. There were no opponents at the hearing, though a Howard St. resident sent in a letter of opposition.

The members unanimously approved the application with the usual conditions, as well as the condition that there be no plumbing other than for a water spigot.

Next up was an application from Washington Sherman, LLC, 9 South Street, Chestnut Hill, requesting a variance of RRO Section 17.28.020(D) with respect to minimum parking requirements for apartment use within the General Business (GB) District to enable the appellant to remove the mechanical parking stacker devices and provide a total of twenty-six (26) surface level parking spaces for the existing apartment building at 810 Washington Avenue.

The board received letters from a neighbor and from the city Building Commissioner, Louis Cavagnaro, in support of the application. There were no opponents and the board unanimously approved the application.

The next item pertained to a request from Eraano Investment, LLC, 42 Genesee Street, "requesting a variance of the following ordinance to enable the appellant to construct a two-family dwelling on the undeveloped lot adjacent to 42 Genesee Street, Revere: 1. RRO Section 17.24.030 (d) with respect to the requirement that a buildable lot within the LD Zone must have an area of at least 4,000 s.f. Therefore, this is not a buildable lot for a single- or two-family dwelling and a single family dwelling could only be built by special permit of the ZBA if it meets the requirements of Sections 17.24.031 and 17.24.032 regarding special permit conditions for undersized lots."

Although the petitioner asked for a continuance of his application in order to hold a community meeting, a number iof neighbors spoke in opposition to the application. Tucker said he would like to have the ward councilor weigh in on the application, as well as for it to go before a community meeting. In addition, Tucker said that there is a legal question that needs to be reviewed by the City Solicitor.

The board then voted to continue the matter.

The next item was a request from 7 Sheryl Realty Trust, Rashid Shaikh, Trustee, 24 Sheryl Dr., Shrewsbury, requesting a variance "to enable the appellant to request a special permit for a townhouse use within the RB district for the purpose of constructing a 4-unit townhouse structure at 2 Porter Avenue:

1. RRO Section 17.16.060(A) with respect to the requirement the minimum lot size shall be ten thousand square feet with a minimum of three thousand square feet of lot area required for each unit."

Mr. Shaikh presented the application. He explained that the property originally consisted of three lots in 1920, but it has been converted over the years into the current two lots, on one of which presently sits a home.

He said that by constructing a four-unit rowhouse, the new structure will be more compliant with the setback requirements of the zoning ordinances than the present structure. He also noted that the lot consists of 9280 sq. ft., which is just shy of the 10,000 sq ft. minimum.

He further pointed out that unlike most of the other homes in the area, which is in the Beachmont section of the city, the new townhomes will sit above the 100 year floodplain.

Porter Ave. Richard Adreani resident expressed concerns about parking and flooding. "We have a terrible parking problem down there," Adreani said. "Emergency vehicles cannot make that turn because of the cars parked there on the one-way street. We also have a flooding problem there that seems to be getting worse the more it is developed."

After Tucker pointed out that there will be two off-street parking spaces per unit, the board unanimously approved the application.

The final matter came from Parkway Homes Owner, LLC, 235 Bear Hill Road, Suite 300, Waltham, "requesting the following variance to enable the appellant to subdivide 2 Pratt Street, 12 Pratt Street, 16 Pratt Street, and 418 Revere Beach Parkway, into proposed Lot 1 (102,267 sq. ft.) and proposed Lot 2 (104,176 sq. ft.):

1. RRO Section 17.24.010 with respect to the minimum frontage requirement of 150 feet within the TED District for the creation of proposed Lot 2."

The property is the site of the former Lee's Trailer Park. Atty. O'Neill presented this application and was joined by Project Engineer Rick Salvo of Engineering Alliance, LLC. O'Neill noted that the City Council in 2024 approved the site for a mixed-development project with 10 percent affordable housing.

She said that there are no present plans for the development of Lot 2, but that the developer is simply asking for the division of the lots.

Travis Alpert spoke in favor of the application, as did Ward 2 Councilor Novoselsky, whose district lies across the street.

The members unanimously approved the application.

The next meeting of the ZBA is set for Wednesday, October 28.

BEACHMONT ELEMENTARY SCHOOL CELEBRATES CULTURE NIGHT

Revere Public Schools Photos

Beachmont Elementary School celebrated its families' cultures, traditions, and stories during a special Culture Night that brought the school community together for an evening of food, fun, and connection.

Throughout the night, students and families explored the many backgrounds represented at Beachmont, enjoying traditional foods, music, cultural displays, and activities that offered a glimpse into their classmates' and neighbors' customs and experiences. Families proudly shared pieces of their heritage, giving students opportunities to learn more about one another while celebrating what makes each culture unique.

Culture Night also reminded us of the strong sense of community at Beachmont. Thank you to the families, staff members, volunteers, local businesses, and community partners who contributed to the celebration and helped make the evening possible. Their participation turned the event into a joyful gathering that celebrated both the diversity of Beachmont and the connections that bring its community together.

HRC members thank outgoing chair Chaimaa Hossaini for her service

By Journal Staff

Although the lack of a quorum last Thursday prevented the Revere Human Rights Commission (HRC) from conducting what would have been its first meeting since June, the commissioners in attendance took the opportunity to thank outgoing chair Chaimaa (Shay) Hossaini, who has stepped down from the board, for her years of service to the HRC.

"Shay has served on the commission since 2020," said HRC Exec. Director Steve Morabito, who is the city's Director of Engagement, Inclusion,and Culture. "I want to wish her the very best. We thank her for her volunteer service."

Fire Chief Albert James Cullen echoed Morabito's sentiments. "I want to wish Shay the best and good luck in the future and thank her for all of her service here. She did great work."

"She was very good and put in a lot of time and made a lot of sacrifices to come here often," added vice-chair Herby Jean-Baptiste,. "She doesn't drive, so she took the bus. I wish her the best and success in life."

"I want to say, 'Thanks Shay,' if you're watching this," said member Albert Tecci. "She brought passion and a thoughtfulness to the work that is necessary and that we can all aspire to. It's not easy work and she had a lot of difficult times over the years that speaks to who she is as a person and what she was able to accomplish."

Baptiste will assume the duties of Acting Chair until the board elects new officers in January.

RHS ROUNDUP

RHS BOYS SOCCER IMPROVES TO 7-1-1, RANKED 16TH IN D-2

The Revere High boys soccer team extended its unbeaten streak to eight games with a tie and win this past week.

In a 2-2 draw with Greater Boston League (GBL) foe Lynn Classical last Tuesday, the Patriots overcame a 2-0 deficit to earn the deadlock.

"Classical came with a defensive game plan, but a good one," said RHS head coach Gerardo Rodriguez. "They jumped out to a 2-0 lead before Lukas Guerra and Sebastian Rueda scored to tie it up."

This past Saturday evening, the Patriots celebrated Senior Night in appropriate fashion with a 4-2 victory over Boston Latin Academy, which entered the contest as the #19-ranked team in Division 3 in the MIAA's power ratings.

The Patriots took a 1-0 lead in the first half on a goal by Jeronimo Agudelo Alvarez. Revere expanded its lead to 3-0 after the intermission on tallies by Agudelo Alavarez and Francisco Navarette.

The Dragons responded to close the gap to 3-1, but Agudelo Alvarez notched his third goal of the night for the hat trick to put the game away. BLA added a meaningless tally with four minutes to go for the 4-2 finale.

Rodriguez and his crew, who are ranked 16th in the MIAA's Division 2 power ratings, now stand at 7-1-1 overall and are in first place in the GBL with a 3-0-1 mark.

They were scheduled to meet GBL foe Medford yesterday (Tuesday) and will travel to non-league opponent Methuen on Friday. They will host GBL rival Malden next Tuesday.

FIELD HOCKEY TEAM DEFEATS PEABODY, 3-2

The Revere High field hockey team earned its first victory of the season with a 3-2 triumph over Peabody last Tuesday.

Zacharahia "Zizi" Kalliavas struck the backboard of the Lady Tanners net for two goals and teammate Genevieve Zierten added a single tally to power the Revere offense.

"Zizi played with her heart this game and it showed and paid off," said RHS head coach Victoria Correia.

The Lady Patriots came up on the short end of a 5-1 decision at Methuen the day before. Kyles Lanes notched the Revere goal.

"It was a tough game," said Correia, "but our three captains pushed and worked hard the entire game. They all communicated and played well."

Correia and her squad were scheduled to travel to Ursuline Academy yesterday (Tuesday) and will travel to Everett today. They will host Ursuline for a return match this Saturday at 12:30 at Harry Della Russo Stadium. They will hit the road to Malden next Wednesday.

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY RUNS PAST CLASSICAL

The Revere High boys cross country team posted its first victory of the season with an 18-34 triumph last Wednesday on the Patriots' home course at Belle Isle.

Kosta Stamatopoulos ran comfortably and won the race with teammate Diogo Yogi. Kosta finished in 18:01 and Diogo was one second behind in 18:02.

Luke Imperato finished fourth with a time of 20:24. Emanuel Taylor ran what RHS head coach Mike Flynn termed "an excellent race" and finished in fifth place with a personal record (PR) clocking of 20:29.

Peguero, Fuentes each score two TDs in victory over longtime GBL rival

By Cary Shuman

Sergio Peguero and Jose Fuentes scored two touchdowns apiece as the Revere High football team raced past Chelsea, 33-0, in the GBL opener last Friday night at Chelsea Memorial Stadium.

Sergio Peguero goes for a big gain with blocking from Jacobi Seymour.

The Patriots' rushing game was in high gear as Fuentes had 131 yards on the ground while Peguero accounted for 128 yards. Ismael Romero-Gonzales (80 yards) scored on a 4-yard run as Revere went well beyond 300 yards rushing for the game.

Junior linebacker Elijah Kearns helped keep the Red Devils off the scoreboard with nine individual tackles. Defensive linemen Nico Cespedes and Cesar Herrera played very well. Herrera was also effective in his blocking assignments at offensive tackle, opening paths for the Revere running backs.

Junior running back Jose Fuentes had an unbelievable game against Chelsea last Friday night.

"It's a big win for us," said Cicatelli, whose team improved to 2-2. "We feel we have the ship pointed in the right direction and we'll be ready for Everett (Friday at 6 p.m. at Everett Stadium).

Cicatelli's Chelsea Connection

As a youth, Lou Cicatelli attended Camp Robie, a summer sports camp at the Chelsea YMCA.

"I was telling the players on the bus ride over to Chelsea about my days as a camper," said Cicatelli. "I enjoyed my summers there a lot."

On Tuesdays, campers would play baseball at the

Mr. Bill Sartorelli, a former Chelsea High teacher and football star, was the camp director and the head chef.

"Mr. Sartorelli was a wonderful guy," said Cicatelli.

Cicatelli distinguished himself as an outstanding athlete at the camp, winning numerous awards for his skill in such sports as candlepin bowling, table tennis, kickball, baseball, and bombardment (dodge ball).

Cicatelli was part of a Revere delegation that included the popular Millerick brothers, Billy and Kevin, who like Cicatelli, were excellent athletes with magnetic personalities.

"Those were great days," said Cicatelli.

SPOOKY SEASON JAMBOREE SERVES UP COMMUNITY SPIRIT AT REVERE BEACH

Who says you can't play beach volleyball in October? Certainly not the dedicated athletes who gathered at Revere Beach for the "Spooky Season Jamboree." Serving as the grand finale of "Emma's 2026 Beach Volleyball Tournament Series," the autumnal event brought together competitors from all over the Boston area for a day of tough competition, plenty of playtime, and neighborhood pride.

What began just two years ago as a small gathering of friends has blossomed into a passion project powered entirely by the local volleyball community. Spearheaded by Emma Kuczkowski, the tournament series operates on a free and pay-what-you-can model. It provides a welcoming environment that accepts both pre-made teams and free agents looking for partners, making it an ideal setting for players of all skill levels to learn the ropes of 2v2 beach volleyball.

The grassroots charm of the jamboree is undeniable; the tournaments thrive largely through word of mouth. It is a true collective effort: players donate their own nets, referee their own matches, and brave the elements to make the magic happen. Kuczkowski gave a huge thank you to the dedicated crew who showed up at 8 a.m. to set up nets in the brisk autumn wind.

Leaning fully into the seasonal theme, the competition featured 4v4 teams named after Stephen King books, while the 2v2 squads adopted various spooky terms for their monikers. As for the stakes? The champions walked away with bragging rights, bright teal tournament T-shirts, and highly coveted trophies courtesy of the Dollar Tree.

"We're far from an official organization, but we're building something wonderful, and I can't wait to see what happens next," Kuczkowski shared. She extended her deep gratitude to the entire community, giving special thanks to Thiago, Emily, Brittney, Alex, Karli, Ryan, Jeremy P., and Jeremy G. for their invaluable support in making the series a resounding success.

finished 11th with his own PR time of 23:37. Max Brown finished in 14th place with a clocking of 27:34.

RHS head coach Mike Flynn and his crew are scheduled to host Lynn English today (Wednesday) and will travel to Malden next Wednesday.

RHS GIRLS EDGE CLASSICAL, 27-28

The Revere High girls cross country team nipped Lynn Classical by the slimmest of margins, 27-28, on their home course at Belle Isle last Wednesday.

"It was a tight race overall with us needing every runner to earn their place," said RHS head coach Katie Sinnott. "I am especially proud of both Tram Vu and Dakota Hernandez who helped to secure the win.

"Tram pushed herself despite not feeling 100%, putting the team's needs and her desire to compete above that discomfort," Sinnott continued. "Tram was over a minute faster this week than last week. Dakota had a massive personal best, taking five minutes off her time from last week. That is an epic improvement in just the span of one week. As she gets more experience running distance, I can see her times continue to improve.

"Also earning a personal best was Jaelyn Torres, similar to Dakota, as she gets more comfortable with running distances she will continue to see her paces and course times drop," Sinnott added. "Our captain, Emma DeCrosta, nearly got first place, just missing this by one second. She turned on her final kick just a hair too late, but feels motivated to race against this same team again in the league meet."

Sinnott and her crew, who are 2-2 for the season, are scheduled to host Lynn English today (Wednesday) for their final home meet of 2026. They will travel to Malden next Wednesday.

Overall results:

Revere 27, Lynn English 28

Individual results:

Emma DeCrosta – 2nd overall – 23:47

Jaelyn Torres – 3rd overall – 29:34

Tram Vu – 4th overall – 31:10

Dakota Hernandez – 8th overall – 34:46

Rania Abboud – 10th overall - 38:07

Kayla Men – 11th overall – 38:08

RHS VOLLEYBALL DEFEATS EVERETT

The Revere High girls volleyball team posted a 3-0 victory over Greater Boston League (GBL) rival Everett last Wednesday. Leading the way for the Lady Patriots were Sofia Guzman (7 kills and 3 aces), Haley Peralta (7 kills and 2 aces), Sarah Lechheb (6 kills), and Anna Doucette (17 assists and 2 aces).

The win was sandwiched between a pair of losses to GBL foe Somerville and non-league opponent Essex Tech, both by scores of 3-1.

In the match with Somerville last Monday, Guzman (13 kills and 13 digs) and Peralta (12 kills and 12 digs) turned in superb all-around performances.

In last Friday's match with Essex Tech, Guzman (12 kills, 11 digs, and 3 aces), Peralta (8 kills, 16 digs, and 9 aces), and Doucette (20 assists and 2 aces) provided strong efforts for Revere.

Coach Emilie Clemons and her crew, who stand at 5-5 at the midpoint of the season, were scheduled to trek to GBL rivals Lynn Classical this past Monday and Chelsea today (Wednesday). They will stay on the road at non-league opponent Swampscott tomorrow (Thursday) and GBL foe Medford next Tuesday before returning home to entertain GBL adversary Lynn English next Wednesday.

RHS GIRLS SOCCER DEFEATS L. CLASSICAL

It was an up-and-down week for the Revere High girls soccer team last week. Last Monday, the Lady Patriots defeated Greater Boston League (GBL) rival Lynn Classical, 4-2. Senior captain Emily Torres tallied a brace with two unassisted goals. Fellow captain Sofia Correa reached the back of the Lady Ram net, assisted by Amy Lopez, and Lopez added a goal to complete the Revere scoring.

"This was a great team win, a great effort from the whole team," said RHS head coach Ariana Rivera.

Two days later, the Lady Patriots came up on the short end of a 3-1 decision to GBL foe Everett. Isabella Coral Guerrero scored the Revere goal off a corner kick.

"This was a tough loss," said Rivera. "The team showed great effort and aggressive play throughout the game. We created plenty of scoring opportunities, especially through our midfield, but unfortunately couldn't capitalize on enough of them. It was a strong team effort despite the result."

Last Friday the Lady Patriots made the short trek to non-league opponent Winthrop and came up on the short end of a 5-1 decision. Emily Torres accounted for the lone Revere goal with an unassisted marker.

"We didn't match the same intensity and aggression we showed against Everett and allowed Winthrop to create too many opportunities," noted Rivera. "We also had chances of our own, but struggled to generate enough attacking pressure and finish in the final third.

"It's back to work this week," Rivera added. "We have plenty to build on and plenty to improve."

The Lady Patriots, who now are 3-3-1 on the season (2-1-1 in the GBL), were scheduled to host GBL rivals Medford yesterday (Tuesday) and Lynn English tomorrow (Thursday). They will entertain non-league opponent Northeast Regional next Monday before traveling to GBL adversary Malden next Tuesday.

RPS celebrates Hispanic Heritage Month through stories of culture, perseverance, and change

Special to the Journal

Revere Public Schools is celebrating Hispanic Heritage Month with the latest installment of From Where We Come, the district's storytelling series highlighting the cultures, experiences, and personal journeys that make up the RPS community.

This year's Hispanic Heritage Month theme, Pioneers of Change: Shaping the Future Together, serves as the backdrop for an episode featuring four members of the RPS community: Vanessa Hogu, a social worker at Beachmont Elementary School; Mary Davies, an ELL teacher at Garfield Middle School; Jaedan Wixon, a Revere High School student; and Jacqueline Monterroso, Revere School Committee vice chair and executive director of Latinos for Education.

Together, their stories explore how Latino and Hispanic heritage is carried through family, food, language, education, and public service—and how those experiences can inspire the next generation to create change.

For Wixon, his Peruvian heritage closely connects him to family and the kitchen.

Growing up, cooking alongside his grandmother and aunt, both of whom immigrated to the United States from Peru, gave him an opportunity to learn about the traditions and foods that connect him to his roots. Those experiences helped Wixon develop a deeper understanding of his identity while also teaching him the importance of embracing the many cultures represented within the broader Latino community.

RHS Student Jaedan Wixon

His message to others is to remain curious and open to learning about cultures beyond their own—whether Peruvian, Puerto Rican, Salvadoran, Ecuadorian, or one of the many other identities represented throughout Revere.

For Hogu, Hispanic Heritage Month is inseparable from her immigrant journey and her commitment to giving back to the community that helped raise her.

Originally from Envigado, Colombia, Hogu immigrated to the United States at age 7 with her parents and older brother. Her family settled in Revere, where she attended Revere Public Schools, eventually graduating from Revere High School.

Hogu recalled that her immigration status sometimes limited the opportunities available to her as a student, but she remained focused on her education. She eventually attended Pine Manor College, earned a degree in social and political science, and received Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals, or DACA—an experience that helped steer her toward a career centered on advocacy and social justice.

Her professional journey included immigration law, work as a victim-witness advocate in Suffolk County courts, and five years as a case manager with HarborCOV. Eventually, Hogu realized she wanted to return to the community where her story in America began.

That journey brought her back to RPS as a school social worker.

"My work at the schools centers around being able to give kids their voice," Hogu said, explaining that she strives to provide students and families with the kind of support system she wishes her family had while navigating a new country.

At Garfield Middle School, Davies brings another perspective to the meaning of Hispanic heritage.

Scan this QR code to watch Revere Public School's video celebration on YouTube.

A proud Mexican-American woman and longtime educator, Davies has served as a teacher, principal, and college administrator. After briefly retiring, she decided her work was not finished and returned to the classroom to work with multilingual students.

Her philosophy is rooted in a lesson passed down through generations of her family: education is a powerful equalizer.

Davies' grandmother earned a master's degree in education in the 1930s and became a principal, persevering despite the prejudice she encountered as a Hispanic woman. That example became foundational to Davies' own career and to the expectations she sets for her students today.

Davies tells multilingual learners that speaking more than one language is an asset, not a deficit. Her goal is not simply to encourage students to dream about college and careers, but to provide them with a roadmap for reaching those goals.

"Be proud of who you are. Be proud of your culture, your heritage," Davies said, while reminding students that hard work and education can open doors to opportunities they may not yet imagine.

That connection between education and opportunity also runs through Monterroso's story.

The daughter of Mexican immigrants, Monterroso grew up in a small farmworker community in Central Florida. She recalled rarely seeing teachers, leaders, or mentors who looked like her and experiencing discrimination because of her family's ethnicity and use of Spanish.

Those experiences ultimately became motivation.

"If I wanted there to be a change one day for people who looked like me, I had to be part of that change," Monterroso reflected.

She studied political science and international relations and traveled extensively before becoming a kindergarten teacher. Her experiences in the classroom—particularly working with young immigrant students who had experienced detention and family separation—convinced her that educators needed a stronger voice in shaping policy.

That realization eventually led Monterroso from the classroom into education policy and advocacy and, ultimately, to elected office on the Revere School Committee. Today, she sees that work as an opportunity to provide the kind of representative leadership she did not see growing up.

Now a mother herself, Monterroso is also thinking about what it means to pass her heritage to another generation—from cultural traditions and food to the stories and values passed down by her family.

Commonly known as: 39 Newbury Street, Revere, MA 02151

The sale will be held at 39 Newbury Street, Revere, MA 02151.

The Secretary of Housing and Urban Development will bid approximately $469,774.87.

There will be no proration of taxes, rents, or other income or liabilities except that the purchaser will pay at or before closing his pro-rata share of any real estate taxes that have been paid by the Secretary to the date of the foreclosure sale.

When making their bids, all bidders except the Secretary must submit a deposit totaling approximately $46,977.48 [10% of the Secretary's bid] in the form of a certified check or cashier's check made out to the Secretary of HUD. A deposit need not accompany each oral bid. If the successful bid is oral, a deposit of at least $46,977.48 must be presented before the bidding is closed. The deposit is non-refundable. The remainder of the purchase price must be delivered within 30 days of the sale or at such other time as the Secretary may determine for good cause shown, time being of the essence. This amount, like the bid deposits, must be delivered in the form of a certified or cashier's check. If the Secretary is the highest bidder, he need not pay the bid amount in cash. The successful bidder will pay all conveying fees, all real estate and other taxes that are due on or after the delivery date of the remainder of the payment, and all other costs associated with the transfer of title. At the conclusion of the sale, the deposits of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them.

The Secretary may grant an extension of time within which to deliver the remainder of the payment. All extensions will be for 15-day increments for a fee of $500 paid in advance. The extension fee shall be in the form of a certified or cashier's check made payable to the Secretary of HUD. If the high bidder closes the sale prior to the expiration of any extension period, the unused portion of the extension fee shall be applied toward the amount due.

If the high bidder is unable to close the sale within the required period or within any extensions of time granted by the Secretary, the high bidder may be required to forfeit the cash deposit or, at the election of the foreclosure commissioner after consultation with the HUD representative, will be liable to HUD for any costs incurred as a result of such failure. The Commissioner may, at the direction of the HUD representative, offer the property to the second highest bidder for an amount equal to the highest price offered by that bidder.

There is no right of redemption or right of possession based upon a right of redemption in the mortgagor or others subsequent to a foreclosure completed pursuant to the Act. Therefore, the Foreclosure Commissioner will issue a Deed to the purchaser(s) upon receipt of the entire purchase price in accordance with the terms of the sale as provided herein. HUD does not guarantee that the property will be vacant.

The scheduled foreclosure sale shall be cancelled or adjourned if it is established by documented written application of the mortgagor to the Foreclosure Commissioner not less than 3 days before the date of sale, or otherwise, that the default or defaults upon which the foreclosure is based did not exist at the time of service of this notice of default and foreclosure sale, or all amounts due under the mortgage agreement are tendered to the Foreclosure Commissioner in the form of a certified or cashier's check payable to the Secretary of HUD before public auction of the property is completed.

The amount that must be paid if the mortgage is to be paid off prior to the scheduled sale is approximately $462,274.87 as of 08/06/26, plus all other amounts that would be due under the mortgage agreement if payments under the mortgage had not been accelerated, advertising costs and postage expenses incurred in giving notice, mileage by the most reasonable road distance for posting notices and for the Foreclosure Commissioner's attendance at the sale, reasonable and customary costs incurred for title and lien record searches, the necessary out-of-pocket costs incurred by the Foreclosure Commissioner for recording documents, a commission for the Foreclosure Commissioner, and all other costs incurred in connection with the foreclosure prior to reinstatement. Tender of payment by certified or cashier's check or application for cancellation of the foreclosure sale shall be submitted to the address of the Foreclosure Commissioner provided below.

ST. ANTHONY'S PARISH CELEBRATES ST. FRANCIS OF ASSISI WITH BLESSING OF THE ANIMALS

Sunny and Nero with Seth Sinatra and Gavin, Olivia, and Liz Albanese.

Sunday afternoon was a beautiful day, and with the sunny weather, lots of local pet lovers turned out to the front patio of St. Anthony of Padua Parish on Revere Street to get their furry loved one blessed. Father Paul welcomed all and began with a general prayer to all pets and the ones no longer with us. Following the prayer, Fr. Paul proceeded with the blessing, making sure all were anointed with the blessed water. All pet lovers received a medal for their pet along with a prayer card.

common theme emerges: heritage is not simply about where someone comes from. It is also about what they carry forward.

Through the initiative From Where We Come, RPS continues to provide students, educators, and community members with opportunities to share their stories in their voices. During Hispanic Heritage Month, those voices demonstrate how culture and identity can become sources of strength, pride, and possibility.

As the episode concludes, the district encourages the RPS community to honor those who came before, celebrate those creating change today, and inspire those who will follow.
