Mayor Arrigo assures residents about safe environment at Revere Recreation

By Cary Shuman

In remarks at a Revere City Council meeting Monday night, Mayor Brian Arrigo assured residents that the Revere Recreation Department offers a safe environment for children.

Arrigo's speech came in response to a motion by Councillor-at-Large Dan Rizzo that "the Mayor appear before the City Council in Executive Session for the purpose of discussing the consideration of filing criminal complaints relative to pornographic materials being brought into the Youth Center by a city employee."

A pornographic video had been found among a large quantity of digital video discs that a person had donated to the Recreation Department.

"I want to start by assuring our residents that the Recreation Department is a safe place for everyone," to spend their time," began Arrigo. "The review by both the Human Resources Department and the Revere Police Department has shown that there has been no evidence of any wrongdoing by anyone."

In a separate interview, Police Chief James Guido also affirmed that there was no wrongdoing.

"After a two-day investigation conducted by the Revere

State auditor commends Arrigo's administration's audit practices, declines City Council request

Special to The Journal

State Auditor Suzanne M. Bump notified Revere Mayor Brian M. Arrigo that her office will not undertake an audit of the City's finances that was suggested by the Revere City council in August.

Following her department's review of independent audits by firms retained by the Arrigo Administration, Auditor Bump stated in an Oct. 28 letter to the Mayor "... the audits already performed seemed to do an excellent job of evaluating current operational conditions and making recommendations aimed at improving controls over City operations."

Mayor Arrigo was satisfied with the Auditor's conclusions. "I am glad, but I am not surprised," the Mayor said. "One of my first objectives when I took office was to obtain an independent and comprehensive assessment of the City's financial conditions and procedures. We did that, and we are taking recommended steps to tighten procedures, streamline and simplify the public's interaction with the City, and maintain a clear scrutiny of all the city's finances. This is an ongoing practice and my idea of what good government is all about."

The Mayor pointed out that a department-wide audit by the accounting firm CliftonLarsonAllen LLP, which Auditor Bump's office reviewed, uncovered more than two million dollars sitting in dormant municipal accounts dating back nearly 20 years. "That was a pleasant surprise," said Mayor Arrigo. "And we found it because we took the initiative to conduct the audit. On top of that, we retained a firm that frequently works with the State Auditor's office in

Suffolk Downs not the choice, according to Amazon rumors

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

Rumors persist to fly around about where Amazon will land its HQ2, and according to the Washington Post, it's not going to be in the Boston area or part of the proposed Suffolk Down development in East Boston and Revere.

According to the New York Times this week, Amazon may split its HQ2 site with offices in Queens, N.Y., and Crystal City, Va. for its east coast headquarters. Crystal City is an urban neighborhood in the southeastern corner of Arlington County, Va., south of downtown Washington, D.C. Due to its extensive integration of office buildings and residential high-rise buildings using underground corridors, travel between stores, offices, and residences is possible without going above ground; thus, a large part of Crystal City is an underground city. It has 16,000 residents and 60,000 people who work there every day.

According to the Post, Amazon is in "advanced talks" with officials in Crystal City, Va., just outside Washington,

Meet the new Student Rep. on the Revere School Committee, Wallid Soukaki

By John Lynds

During October's Revere School Committee meeting, committee members welcomed Revere High School senior Wallid Soukaki to his first meeting as the committee's student representative.

Soukaki grew up in Revere and attended the Lincoln and McKinley Elementary Schools, the Rumney Marsh Academy, and is now a senior at Revere High.

"I was interested in being part of the School Committee, as I wanted to see the behind the scenes to what is going on in school, I also want to serve as a voice to the student body, the school committee has allowed me to do so," said Soukaki. Already Soukaki has put together an impressive resume and was selected as a Quest-bridge Scholar.

"I hope to major in Biomedical Engineering and minor in biotechnology," said Soukaki. "I was selected as a Quest-bridge Scholar, so if I get acceptance to one of the eight Ivy League Schools, Tufts, or MIT I will be awarded a four-year full scholarship."

At Revere High Soukaki has been a member of the football team, a founding member of the Student Senate during his freshman year and served as the Senate's President during his junior year

State Sen. Joe Boncore reflects on work at State House

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

State Sen. Joe Boncore held a "Coffee with Joe" event with Revere residents this past Saturday at Torretta's Bakery. He took a moment to reflect on his work at the State House and for his constituents around the First Suffolk and Middlesex district.

What are your thoughts on the past two years in the State House?

It's been an incredible journey, getting to know the pulse of the State House and getting to know constituents all across the district. I was able to accomplish quite a bit. As chairman of the Joint Committee on Housing we passed the largest housing bond bill in the Commonwealth's history, a $1.8 billion bond bill that makes the investment in the production and preservation of housing that is affordable throughout the Commonwealth.

What other areas are you working on?

Also, as chairman of the Transportation Committee, we just passed the Chap. 90 bond bill. This supplements money going to the municipalities for local road work. I've also been able to take the lead on some issues around congestion in the area. One of those areas is called "dynamic tolling" also known as "congestion pricing" which would help alleviate some congestion in the area, our neighborhoods, during our commute.

If we can take 5 percent of cars off the road that would free up congestion by about 20 percent. Congestion tolling would incentivize people, people who have a more flexible schedule to not drive during peak hours.

Could Route 1, the old Newburyport Turnpike, get a makeover?

We need infrastructure investment all across the Commonwealth. Highways and bridges in Commonwealth are in a $5 billion state of disrepair, and number is growing every day. Expanding roads might seem like the right idea, but it actually induces more cars and more traffic. We need to look at transit not as a way to move cars but to move people. The investment is better made in the reliability of the T and investment in commuter rail. We need transportation that is efficient, time saving and reliable.

Does he think the Suffolk Downs development helps with transportation issues?

I do, especially in regard to the T. The blue line is not at capacity right now, they're not running every available car on the blue line, like they are on the red, orange and green line. The reason for that is because the demand is not there. I think the infusion of 10,000 residences in the (Suffolk Downs) development during the next 20 years. We have to focus on the Blue Line, the demand will be there. This will also force us to look at the Orange Line/Red Line connection, which would link communities and economies. The expansion and connection of the two lines were part of mitigation when the Big Dig took place. It will make so transit is moving people. We need to be more efficient with our public transit.

What are your plans for the upcoming term?

I'll be working on the housing and transportation committees. We have a housing crisis in Massachusetts, especially the greater Boston area that is one of the top three most expensive cities to live in. We need to be able to produce housing to keep pace with our job growth and economic growth. In order to do that we need housing and some zoning reform. In transportation my main focus is on "congestion tolling" and figuring out what we need in our region. There's a lot we can do with "dynamic tolling," we also need to find sources of new revenue, and invest in our otherwise failed transit system.

VOLUNTEER LUNCHEON AT THE JACK SATTER HOUSE and was elected to serve again this year.

Soukaki said he also is a 3-year member of Model United Nations at Revere High and is planning on traveling to Beijing in February and then to New York in March as a Model UN representative for the school.

"I am also a current member of Student Council. Also a member of both the National Honor Society and Spanish Honor Society," he said.

In the end Soukaki said Revere Public Schools (RPS) has really afforded him all these opportunities to better himself and prepare for the future.

"I feel grateful for all of the opportunities RPS have offered me," said Soukaki. "Since elementary school, I feel as if I was primed for the position I am in right now. I'm thankful for all who contribute to the RPS system. I also feel motivated to work with the School Committee on improving the growing the RPS system."

His hope as a member of the School Committee this year is to heightened Revere Public Schools' profile outside the four walls of each school in the district.

"I would like to help integrate the school community and the outside community more," he said.

"I would like to aid in getting more families and residents involved in RPS events."

Revere School Superintendent Diane Kelly called Soukaki a 'phenomenal student'.

"We are honored to have Wallid Soukaki as our student representative," said Kelly. "He's been with us (RPS) for a long time and I got to talk to him a little about his plans going forward. He told me as Questbridge Scholar he has already applied to Brown, Dartmouth, Columbia, MIT and Tufts. He already has interviews with Columbia, MIT and Tufts already scheduled. Whenever he's not in school he's either taking care of his little brother or learning all he can, whenever he can about (Biomedical) Engineering. He did promise me that after he graduates he will come back to Revere and help us educate the next generation of kids like him."

the Washington Post reported Saturday.

It is possible the company is in similar talks with other cities.

But many close watchers of the Amazon sweepstakes consider Metro Washington the front-runner for one of the biggest economic development projects especially since Amazon founder and chairman Jeff Bezos owns the Washington Post and has a large home in D.C.

No matter how many times he is asked, Tom O'Brien, founding partner and managing director of The HYM Investment Group, developing Suffolk Downs, will answer that his project does not rely on Amazon.

"If we don't get Amazon we'll get somebody else," O'Brien told the Revere City Council Monday night. "We'll keep plugging away. We're going to make this a good place to live, to shop and we will lure in other companies, that's the key. It's been the story of all our lives - just keep working piece by piece and good things will happen."

Amazon employs thousands at offices in Boston and Cambridge and a robotics facility in North Reading. Last spring Amazon said it will occupy an entire new building - separate from HQ2 - in the Seaport, with 2,000 employees, as well as holding an option for a second building with another 2,000 workers.

Police Detective Bureau, there is no evidence of any wrongdoing at the Rec Department," said Guido. "It appears to be an innocent mistake that was immediately addressed, and no children, no parents, no one was exposed to the video in question, and this matter has been resolved appropriately."

Arrigo said he was proud of the overall programming at the Recreation Department and told the Council that his administration's first priority "is a safe and secure city for all of our residents."

The mayor said it was "extremely unfortunate" that the city's reputation was called in to question prematurely by the incident.

"I agree with those city councillors who have voiced a concern about how this got on the Council agenda, how this got in to the Boston Globe, how this got on WBZ, without verifying facts," said Arrigo. "This type of accusation strips away all of the good work that the Recreation Department does and unnecessarily causes parents to hesitate sending their child to the great programming that happens at the Rec Center. We, as elected officials, have to be mindful of the repercussions of our actions."

Arrigo said he plans on visiting with parents at the Recreation Department to inform them how committed the city is "to their child's well-being and answer any lingering questions or concerns they may have."

Dear Citizens of Revere:

November 12-16, 2018 marks the 97th anniversary of American Education Week. It is a time to celebrate the great work that our students are doing everyday under the expert guidance of their incredible teachers, administrators, and all staff members.

I believe that the efforts of our staff have made the Revere Public Schools shine. Embracing our 4R's of Rigor, Relevance, Relationships and Resilience, the teachers continue to innovate so that our students consistently achieve at the highest levels of urban schools throughout the state. I am confident that our continued hard work and collaboration will help us move further along this path of student success.

We make even better progress closing achievements gap as families and community members work with us; embracing our 4R's and helping students to take ownership of their learning. As we increase the number of care givers and local leaders partnering with us, we increase student achievement.

We invite school visits in celebration of American Education Week so that all citizens can see our schools in action. Every school will be offering specialized programs and demonstrations specifically designed for visitors.

In addition to visiting classrooms and teachers during American Education Week, we remind parents that we have designated certain afternoons and evenings in November and December for individual conferences regarding your child's academic and social-emotional progress.

Individual visitation schedules for each school, prepared by the principals and teachers, will make it possible for you to visit without interrupting or altering the daily classroom procedure.

The schedule for classroom visitations is on the back of this letter. Please join us.

EASTIE GALS PURPORT SET-UP ROBBERY

Two East Boston women have been charged with working together to set up a local business manager to conduct an armed robbery.

On Oct. 26, the business owner was taking a cash deposit to the bank in Revere. As had been the custom, he was giving one of the employees a ride home, but stopping at the bank beforehand.

Little did he know, though, that the employee was allegedly working with her roommate to set him up.

Around 10:30 p.m., the man was taking the deposit into the bank when a masked woman confronted him with a knife. She demanded he hand over the money, which he did, and she fled.

The incident was reported to police, and detectives began a thorough investigation.

Soon, the learned that – allegedly – the two women were working together to commit the robbery.

Both were charged in a joint venture on Nov. 2.

“This was good work by detectives to find a suspect and make an arrest,” said Capt. Amy O’Hara.

Kimberly Kelly, 44, of East Boston, was charged with armed and masked robbery and one warrant.

Elizabeth Daniels, 45, of East Boston, was charged with armed and masked robbery.

ELDERLY MAN HIT AT NORTHGATE

An elderly man is recovering from serious injuries he sustained from a hit and run driver last Saturday, Oct. 27, while in a crosswalk outside the Market Basket.

Around 6 p.m., the 80-year-old man was coming out of the store with a cart and in the crosswalk. Immediately, a truck made a left and crashed into the man, toppling the carriage and sending him to the ground. The driver opened the door slightly and asked if the man was okay. When the man nodded, the driver took off.

Witnesses, however, were able to get a license plate and good descriptions.

The man indicated he was alright, but a family member was able to convince him to go to the hospital, where it was learned he was very seriously hurt.

Police were able to identify the driver using witness information.

Robert Madore, 45, of 62A Lincoln St., was charged with leaving the scene of personal injury, operating with a suspended license, and crosswalk violation.

CRASHES INTO FENCE

A Chelsea man was summoned after leading police on a chase Sunday that ended up with him plowing into the fence at Woodlawn Cemetery.

Around 2 a.m., police observed the truck speeding past cars on Broadway in the wrong lane of traffic. Police began to follow and observed him to run a red light too.

Officers tried to make a traffic stop, but the chase was on.

The man took a right on Mountain Avenue and blew through stop signs on the street until he arrived a Washington Avenue – where he continued straight into the cemetery fence.

That put an end to the chase.

Orlando Bernier, 32, of Chelsea, was charged with failure to stop, operating recklessly, passing violation, failing to stop, and malicious destruction of property under $1,200.

Q-TIP CAPER

A Revere man has been charged in a zany incident that took place on Sunday at the Walgreens.

The man was in the store at 7:15 p.m. when he allegedly stole four water bottles and some Q-Tips. A security officer confronted him outside about the items, and the man began yelling that he was being harassed.

He took out a pocket knife and began waving it around, dropping his cell phone and the knife at one point.

He fled the scene, but left one shoe behind.

When police arrived, the man was found at the Fire Station, along with another man. Both had a very different story.

Police investigated and charged the Q-Tipper.

The second man had no clear connection to the matter, but had warrants.

David Sena, 32, of 244 Lincoln St., was charged with shoplifting and assault with a dangerous weapon.

Amaury Silva, 37, homeless, was arrested on one warrant.

GETTING BACK

A Somerville man has been charged on Oct. 31 with vandalism after he allegedly broke into the Revere tow lot that yanked his car on Oct. 29 – allegedly to break into his car.

The man had his car towed from Overlook Ridge by Action Towing on Oct. 29, a situation that erupted into a disagreement. However, the tow company did get away peacefully.

Two days later, they found the car had been vandalized on their lot.

A review of the video showed it was the man who had been at Overlook Ridge. He was shown going into the car for something.

Michael Henderson, 59, of Somerville, was charged with trespassing and malicious destruction of property under $1,200.

City, Police land second important grant aimed at school safety

By Seth Daniel

In the wake of getting a large grant for school safety training and resources last month from the U.S. Justice Department, the Revere Police Department announced this week that it received another grant from the state to supplement the grant – providing monies to help buy new laptop computers for all of the department’s cruisers.

Last week, Gov. Charlie Baker announced more than $1.3 million in federal Byrne JAG Grants, including $20,000 to the Revere Police for Virtual Desktop Infrastructure equipment. In layman’s terms, that means new laptops for all the cruisers, equipment that hasn’t been replaced in several years.

“The mayor and I both strongly agreed we needed to apply for both of these grants,” said Chief James Guido. “It’s mostly technology driven with some training. This $20,000 grant is going to help us to make the first response even better. These two grants taken together are going to morph us ahead of the game on school safety and being prepared...School safety is a big priority for us.”

Lt. Steven Ford said the new grant will allow officers responding to have the capability on their cruiser laptop to access building layouts and set up an initial command center quickly if there is ever an incident.

“We’ll have a better understanding,” he said. “The officer on the street will be able to get real time information for the school if there is an incident. That includes building layout plans instantly. Right now the laptops don’t have the capabilities to do what we want.”

Chief Guido said the grant would also allow the schools and police to identify who is in the buildings – who is coming and going – so that in an incident, they will know who has been in the buildings. With the laptops, that information can be obtained by any officer on the street instantly through cooperation with the schools.

“The opportunity came around for the second grant, and we were able to use it to piggy back on the first grant,” he said. “Together, they will enhance the entire program.”

Guido and Ford both said that Kathy Callahan, the Department’s grant writer, was instrumental in landing both grants.

“She’s an outstanding worker, and has been the driving force for many of the grants we’ve gotten over the years, including this one,” he said. “She truly is a dedicated employee and does outstanding work for us.”

Jonathan Ferrara of the School Department was also thanked for his efforts too.

Revere Pop Warner teams advance in state playoffs

Two Revere Pop Warner teams advanced to the Eastern Mass. finals as a result of victories in playoff games on Saturday.

The Revere 'B' team scored on its opening drive and played tremendous defense the rest of the way in a 13-0 victory over Mission Hill.

Defensive tackle William Rosales had five quarterback sacks to lead the Junior Patriots' defense.

"He was the defensive player of the game," said Assistant Coach Patrick Keefe. "He played the game of his life."

Santiago Quienceno and Doug Goodwin scored the Revere touchdowns. Quinzano had a 15-yard run while Goodwin, the Revere quarterback, scored on a 30-yard bootleg run.

Chris Cassidy rushed for more than 150 yards in the game in a terrific performance.

The 'B' team will play at Mattapan in the Eastern Mass. championship game.

The Revere 'D' team rallied in the fourth quarter to defeat Mission Hill, 7-6. Trailing by a 6-0 score, Revere marched down the field and scored on a Cam Manley run for a touchdown. Quarterback Ethan Day connected with Isaiah Llanos for the conversion point that proved to be the game-winner.

The 'D' team will also play at Mattapan in the Eastern Mass. championship game.

The Revere 'C' squad fell to Mission Hill, 25-0, in a first-round playoff game.

Gloucester proves too much for Revere football in semifinals

For at least one half of Friday night's Division 4 North semifinal matchup in the MIAA state football playoffs, Revere High football fans could be forgiven if visions of Super Bowl glory danced in their heads.

Their Patriots came into the contest as the decided underdogs against a Gloucester team that had defeated Revere in the opening game of the season, 29-6.

But as the teams headed into their respective locker rooms at the intermission, the scoreboard showed the Patriots holding a 7-6 lead. Moreover, Revere's hard-nosed play in the first two quarters had given every indication that they had come primed for an upset of the vaunted Fishermen.

Revere had scored on its opening possession of the game, marching 70 yards behind the hard running of senior captain Darius McNeil, who burst for a 46 yard gain during the drive and then went in from eight yards out for the touchdown. The successful extra point by Rayan Riazzi made it 7-0.

Gloucester responded with a TD drive of its own on the ensuing possession, but the defenses on both sides stiffened for the remainder of the half, leaving the Pats with a slim 7-6 advantage at the half.

However, any hopes harbored by Patriot Nation for a possible berth for their heroes in the Super Bowl for the first time for a Revere team since 1973 soon were dashed by a powerful Gloucester ground attack that relentlessly took control of the game from the outset of the second half.

The Fishermen took the opening kickoff and marched to paydirt to move out to a 14-7 lead and then, after a three-and-out for Revere, took advantage of a 52 yard run from scrimmage to make it 22-7. After another three-and-out for the Patriot offense, a 46 yard burst by a Fishermen halfback led to another score and a 30-7 deficit for the Patriots.

A late score by Gloucester accounted for the 38-7 finale.

"Hats off to Gloucester, they were the better team and they took control in the second half," said RHS head coach Lou Cicatelli. "They utilized their experience to

DIV. 1 STATE VOLLEYBALL TOURNAMENT

THE SPY'S THE LIMIT

Revere High's fantastic season comes to an end with a loss to the Arlington Spy Ponders

The Revere High School volleyball team hosted a first-round match in the MIAA Division 1 volleyball tournament vs. Arlington on Nov. 1 in the Revere High School Field House.

While Revere was defeated, 3-0, by the Spy Ponders, it was a great season for the Patriots, who won 12 games during the regular season and earned the No. 7 seed in the 11-team Division 1 Central-East sectional.

their schemes. We fought as hard and as best we could. I'm very proud of the effort that our guys gave."

A key blow for the Patriots early in the second quarter was the loss to injury of junior tailback Lucas Barbosa, who was forced to leave the game with a pulled hamstring. "Lucas is a huge part of our offense," said Cicatelli. "He is our main outside threat on jet sweeps, so losing him really narrowed our options offensively. Hopefully, he'll be able to play against Winthrop on Thanksgiving."

McNeil enjoyed a fine game, running for over 100 yards from scrimmage and scoring the lone Patriot TD.

RHS quarterback Jonathan Murphy, who had success on the opening drive with a pair of completions to Eric Bua, finished at 7-for-13 for 90 yards.

The Patriots, who stand at 5-4 on the season with their four losses -- to Marblehead, Swampscott, and now two to Gloucester -- having come against teams with a combined 24-3 record, will host Burlington this Friday evening on which Senior Night festivities will be held.

Burlington was the number four seed in the D-4 North (Revere was the sixth seed), but the Red Devils were smacked by fifth-seeded Wayland, 42-16, in the quarterfinals.

"This is a very important game for us, because a victory will assure us of a winning record and give us a lot of momentum heading into the Winthrop game on Thanksgiving," said Cicatelli. "It should be a good high school football game."

The opening kick-off is set for 6:30 p.m. under the lights at Harry Della Russo Stadium.

POST-SEASON ACCOLADES FOR RHS FIELD HOCKEY; SCATA NAMED TOP COACH

The Revere High field hockey team wrapped up its regular season last week, finishing with a 5-11-2 record, the team's best in many years, in the highly competitive Northeastern Conference.

Coach Briana Scata and her crew are set to hold their annual post-season banquet tonight (Wednesday) when players will be recognized for their achievements and contributions to the RHS field hockey program.

A number of Lady Patriots have been awarded post-season accolades. Senior captains Jenna Wells and Joli Giuliano were selected for the Northeastern Conference All Conference Field Hockey Team. Senior captain Jessica Vo and senior Jannel Mercado were selected as All-Stars of the North Division.

In addition, Scata was named the NEC North Coach of the Year.

RHS GIRLS, BOYS COMPETE AT NEC MEET

The rain threw a wrench in the Northeastern Conference Meet last Saturday at Bradley Palmer State Park, forcing postponement of the meet to this past Sunday at a new venue, Stage Fort Park in Gloucester.

"Despite the rescheduling, thankfully several members of our team were able to participate in the make-up date," said RHS girls head coach Katie Sinnott, for whose squad Stage Fort Park was a brand new course.

Erika Cheever, Leila Cesic, Soleil Yuong, Carly Bennett, and Yulissa Santana Baez participated in the very competitive varsity race.

"Freshmen Maajda Louaddi and Gabriela Mogavero participated in the equally challenging junior varsity race and each of them ran personal bests," noted Sinnott.

Varsity race results (girls)
Erika Cheever - 24th overall, 21:50

Leila Cesic - 29th overall, 22:23

Soleil Yuong - 41st overall, 23:44

Carly Bennett - 47th overall, 25:04

Yulissa Santana Baez - 49th overall, 27:39

Junior Varsity results (girls)
Maajda Louaddi - 36th overall, 27:24

Gabriela Mogavero - 42nd overall, 29:02

On the boys' side, the change of date left the Patriots with a depleted complement of runners.

However, five Revere boys competed in the meet, led by captain Jonathan Nushi, who was the first Patriot across the line in a clocking of 19:13, which placed Jonathan in 38th place among the large field of 72 runners.

He was followed by teammates Fabio Tran (45th in 19:41), James Carpinelli (49th in 19:49), Antony Arias (56th in 20:38), and Will Martinez (63rd in 21:21).

"The team ran well," said RHS head coach Mike Flynn. "I'm very proud of the effort they made."

Both teams will compete this Saturday in the Eastern Mass. State Meet in Wrentham.

RHS TEAMS FALL IN STATE TOURNEY

The three RHS athletic teams who had qualified for the state tourney dropped their opening round matches this past week.

Coach Meg O'Donnell's girls soccer team came up on the short end of a 5-2 decision at Andover last Friday. The Lady Patriots, who finished the season with a 9-9 record to qualify for the tourney for the first time since 2012, were the 10th seed in the Division 1 North Sectional. Andover, which sported a 9-7-2 record during the regular season, was seeded seventh.

The RHS volleyball team, the seventh seed in the Central-East D-1 Sectional with a 12-6 record, fell by a 3-0 score to 10th-seeded Arlington (10-10 in the regular season) last Thursday in a match played at Revere High.

The RHS boys soccer team, the 12th seed in the Division 1 North Sectional with a 10-5-3 mark, lost a 1-0 heartbreaker in overtime to fifth-seeded Somerville (13-1-4) last Friday at Dilboy Field.

Ironically, Somerville then went on to meet East Boston in the quarterfinal round and fell by a similar 1-0 decision in OT.

COMMUNITY LIVING CENTER PLANNED AT SOLDIERS' HOME

CHELSEA – The Chelsea Soldiers' Home has officially embarked on a new face and mission to help care for veterans and their families, breaking ground on a $199 million Community Living Center (CLC) that will provide modern accommodations and replace the old Quigley Memorial Hospital.

Gov. Charlie Baker joined Secretary of Administration and Finance Michael J. Heffernan, Secretary of Health and Human Services Marylou Sudders, Secretary of Veterans' Services Francisco Ureña, House Speaker Robert DeLeo and veterans of the United States Armed Forces for the groundbreaking of the new long-term care facility at the Chelsea Soldiers' Home.

The current facility will continue to be fully operational, caring for 154 veterans, during the construction process with an anticipated project completion date in 2022.

Some 65 percent of the funding for the new facility will come from the Federal government, which approved monies for the project earlier this summer.

"The new long-term care facility at the Chelsea Soldiers' Home will improve the quality of services and care provided to the Commonwealth's men and women who have answered the call of duty and served our nation," said Baker. "Our veterans and their families have sacrificed so much for this country, and it is our duty to care for them with honor and dignity."

House Speaker Bob DeLeo was also on hand and has been a friend to the Home for years. Gov. Baker gave credit to DeLeo for getting funding through the Legislature so that the federal application was prepared quickly.

"Having been in the Legislature 25 years now, you, Mr. Speaker, own a big piece of that and we are all extremely grateful for this work and all the work you do for veterans in the Commonwealth," he said. "This place will be a true testament to our investment to our veterans."

DeLeo said the Home does have a special place in his heart, and serves veterans from his district as well.

"I am so pleased this project is underway and moving forward," he said.

In May 2017, Baker announced plans for a new long-term care Community Living Center, which was included in the Baker-Polito administration's Fiscal Year 2018 capital investment plan, and in November 2017, signed legislation authorizing funding needed to advance the project.

The administration has also received funding authorization from the United States Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) for the project. The federal funding was awarded through the VA's State Home Construction Grant Program which provides reimbursement of up to 65 percent of construction costs for approved projects. The administration, with strong support from the Legislature, plans to spend approximately $70 million net of federal reimbursement on the project.

The Home has long suffered from having open wards at the Quigley, and it was a point of contention for federal authorities – as healthcare payments are not allowed to go to facilities with old, open wards. With funding on the line, the Home was able to secure the project funding. This will allow the Home to now have private rooms and modern facilities for the residents there.

"This facility truly is a fitting tribute to our veterans who have served our nation," said Supt. Cheryl Poppe. "With this building construction, we honor their sacrifice...The Soldiers' Home in Chelsea is honored to serve Massachusetts veterans, and this groundbreaking reaffirms the Commonwealth's commitment to veterans of yesterday, today, and for generations to come."

The Soldiers' Home in Chelsea first opened its doors to Massachusetts veterans in 1882. The first residents were Civil War veterans who were wounded or unable to care for themselves, many of whom had previously resided in the Commonwealth's "alms houses." Today, Chelsea carries on Massachusetts' proud tradition of helping all veterans in need of both longterm care and domiciliary / supportive services. Chelsea is surveyed annually by the Federal Department of Veterans Affairs ("VA") and the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services ("CMS"). It is also fully accredited by The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations ("Joint Commission"). Chelsea has a Board of Trustees appointed by the Secretary of Health and Human Services. The trustees and DVS share responsibility for the management of the home. Chelsea Soldiers' Home currently has capacity for 136 beds for long-term care.

NEW HOLIDAY INN SHOWS GREAT OCCUPANCY RATES

CHELSEA – The new Holiday Inn on upper Broadway, next to Mill Creek, is showing great occupancy rates and yet another strong property in the Chelsea-based Colwen Management group of hotels.

"We're almost at 100 percent full occupancy for October," said Joe Fiorello, director of sales for Colwen. "We're really excited about that."

The property officially opened on July 25.

The new, 124-room, full-service hotel gives Colwen its fourth property in Chelsea, with more than 500 rooms added since their first property – the Residence Inn – came online a few years back.

opening on Nov. 8.

Colwen now has the Residence Inn, TownePlace Suites, Holiday Inn and Homewood Suites in Chelsea. That adds to their larger portfolio of properties across Greater Boston, including the new AC Hotel in the South End of Boston and the newer property that opened last week at Assembly Row.

The new property continues the tradition of great design on the properties, with interesting lighting and lots of natural light.

The foyer includes a great sitting area, with a fireplace as well.

Since it is a full-service property, Fiorello said the free breakfast option isn't available. Instead, they have a European-inspired breakfast buffet and a la carte items as well. They also have a full restaurant and bar on the property, which Fiorello said would likely play well to local residents of Chelsea and Revere. They will be serving popular items like steaks, lobster rolls, salmon and other dishes.

"We are under the umbrella of IHG, but we are owned and operated by Colwen Hotels," he said. "IHG wants to use this property as a prototype hotel. When other owners come into town, they said they want to bring them here to show them the property as an example for all future builds. Colwen is very good at managing, designing and operating."

While there are no suites like in the other properties, the rooms are large and most try to focus on a view of the marsh or the City. Each room has smart TVs and luxury bath products as well. The building is an LEED certified property.

For functions, they do have a space that is available for small functions or meetings. It holds about 60-80 people and can be divided in half. It's called the Mill Creek Ballroom.

ROADWORK CONTINUES AROUND ENCORE

EVERETT – The unattractive speedway, or traffic trap, that many have known Lower Broadway to be over a lifetime will start to change as work crews from Encore Boston Harbor begin installing the long-touted median islands on the roadway.

The median strips will be fully landscaped and will run in portions from just before Dexter Street to the front of the Batch Yard entrance – an improvement that will be allow new left-hand turning lanes where there haven't been any and also will be fully landscaped to create a luxury boulevard.

Al Carrier, of Wynn Design and Development, said they began cutting in the new "islands" on Lower Broadway this Monday.

"We are cutting in the islands right now, and almost all of the sidewalks have been completed on Broadway," he said. "There are a few pieces here and there with the sidewalks left to do, but most are complete. The same for the elevated cycle tracks, which we have put in also. There have been a number of utilities in the way looking to improve their positions underground while we're working and that's slowed some things down. But really, what you're seeing this week is the median islands starting to be built."

"We're planning to mill and overlay Lower Broadway by the end of November," he continued. "The islands will be fully constructed by then, too. The only thing that will need to go in during the spring is the landscaping and that's the game plan. All the lights will be up and functioning, and all the street lights will be up too. We want everything on Lower Broadway fully functioning by the end of this construction season so it's only tying up work in the spring."

The traffic medians have long been proposed by Encore, and are believed to not only allow new left-hand turns without stopping a lane of traffic, but will also act as a way to slow down traffic on the corridor.

"For the motorist, it's definitely going to be a safer condition, especially on the turns," he said. "One thing we heard from the neighbors here is that the road is a speedway. The median islands actually also help as a traffic calming move. It isn't intended to be. It's intended to be for the left turn lanes, but it does actually slow traffic down when the landscaping is in."

The off-site traffic work on Lower Broadway is accompanied by a truck route that is to run on Dexter and Robin streets – taking trucks going to the industrial areas or the New England Produce Center off of Lower Broadway and the Beacham Street traffic light. That project, however, has been slowed up by a delayed, unrelated Eversource project.

Originally, Encore planned to finish the truck route first, then focus on Broadway to finish out the season. Now, due to the Eversource delays, it appears they will only be able to do about half of the truck route – starting on Robin Street Nov. 5 and working to around Thorndike before the season ends.

"The plan is to focus on putting Broadway back together this season and then we'll focus on the truck route," Carrier said. "The truck route was supposed to be first, but we had to change that."

Unlike Broadway, Carrier said the truck route has to be a full-depth reconstruction due to the deteriorated road conditions, which takes much longer to complete. On Nov. 5, they will likely begin working on Robin Street and Beacham and work down to Thorndike before the construction season ends.

Another improvement won't even be seen, but for those behind the wheel or on a bike, it will be felt – and hopefully in a big way.

That change is the coordination of traffic signals with the Boston Transportation Monitoring Center (TMC) using a Boston Transportation Department (BTD) "interconnect." From Sweetser Circle to Boston City Hall, all of the intersections will be coordinated and surveillance cameras will allow the BTD to monitor all of those intersections from their TMC.

Everett and Boston have worked together and agreed to allow Boston to be in charge of the "eyes" on the corridor as it is so closely linked. That way, if there is a major backup in Everett or Boston – a quick override of the new smart signals can help relieve the congestion manually.

"Once we get around the Mystic River, it will go all the way up to Sweetser Circle in Everett and will control all of that corridor," he said. "We'll have video there and it will all funnel into the Boston TMC. That will give them eyes on the whole corridor. There are conversations with Everett and Boston are happening, and they've agreed to let the BTD have their fingers on the controls to make whatever changes are necessary to the signals on the corridor."

With interconnected lights and the eyes from Boston City Hall, it is believed that the corridor will become much more efficient in moving traffic.

Beyond that, Carrier said the entire change will be amazing for those who, for a generation, have grown accustomed to the gritty appearances of Lower Broadway.

"It is going to be amazing," he said. "When you get the landscaping in, the crosswalks and the new bus stops, it will be really nice there."

LIMEBIKE A HUGE SUCCESS

EVERETT – With one season nearly complete for the LimeBike system, City leaders are proclaiming it a huge success in terms of helping residents get around the city.

Transportation Planner Jay Monty said they regularly analyze the ridership and have found it's quite higher than they would have expected.

"It's been a tremendous success," he said. "The total number of rides has been around 30,000 rides since it launched in April. That's a big number. We have tracked 7,000 individual riders that use the system. That's a great percentage for a new system. Riders have logged about 20,000 miles ridden."

LimeBike is a dockless bike rental system where users activate the bikes using their smartphones, paying the fee via the phone and leaving the bikes on an appropriate sidewalk when done.

The bikes have been in place since the official launch in the spring, with Everett being one of the first communities in the metro area to adopt Lime. Since that time, many other communities are also using Lime as a dockless biking option. Other systems, such as BlueBike in Boston, Cambridge and Somerville, use a docking system whereas bikes must be taken from the dock and returned to the dock.

Monty said they have been surprised by the short trips that Lime has been used for. He said many of the trips are less than a half-mile and many are also coming from young people – likely going to school or sports practices.

"What is fascinating is the individual trips are short," he said. "We're seeing a half-mile or less and 12 minutes. A lot of young people we are seeing using them for school trips and jobs in town. The thing we thought is that it would be recreational and on Sundays and people would use them on the bike path. Consistently, though, the widest usage is not recreational and not on Sunday... What that says is there are people taking these bikes to work and school."

He said the highest ridership, Monty said, came on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. He said it was quite evident people were using the bikes as a transportation service and not for a recreational activity.

Also, Monty said they quietly introduced e-bikes to the system over the summer – which is a bike with a small motor to help propel a rider easier. There are about 20 or 30 e-bikes in Everett, as opposed to about 150 regular bikes. The rate of riding those bikes, Monty said, was quite high.

He said the e-bikes were averaging about four rides per day, and about 4,000 total rides since being introduced.

"They are very popular," he noted.

The e-bikes are not scooters, but have a battery pack above the back wheel that allows it to propel the bicycle.

As far as the locations, Monty said they get a "heat" map every day from Lime showing where the bikes are at and where they've been used. There is no particular hot spot, he said, but they are being used all over the city.

"What we're seeing is they are everywhere," he said. "You couldn't look at these maps and say there aren't places they aren't being used, aside from Hospital Hill, for obvious reasons."

By contract, LimeBike will take up the bikes for the winter after the first snow. They will be back in the spring, however.

EHCA VOTES IN FAVOR OF RETAIL MARIJUANA SHOP

EAST BOSTON – The plan to place an adult use retail marijuana facility on the heavily trafficked Meridian Street near Central Square, the East Boston Social Centers, a bus stop and the neighborhood's shopping district was met with resistance at two previous community meetings.

However, in a close vote at their October meeting Eagle Hill Civic Association members voted 14 to 11 to support Berkshire Roots, Inc.'s plans to open the marijuana dispensary at 253 Meridian St.

Berkshire Roots is the largest grower of cannabis in Western Massachusetts and was the first medical marijuana dispensary to open in Pittsfield, Massachusetts.

At last month's Eagle Hill Civic Association meeting and a subsequent community meeting last month sponsored by the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, Berkshire Roots's attorney Andrea Nucifero said his client is intending to use and redevelop the retail space at 253 Meridian Street into a retail marijuana dispensary. The proposal for the Meridian Street pot shop includes transforming the 1,400 square foot retail space on the first floor of the building into sleek and stylish dispensary with façade improvement and subtle and understated signage.

Nucifero said there would be no cultivation, processing, or packaging on site. There would also be no product consumption on site and the product would not be visible from the street.

EHCA President Debra Cave voiced her concern at last week's meeting.

"I just have a concern about the location," said Cave. "It is sandwiched between two schools, the O'Donnell and Umana Schools, and it is right near the Social Centers. I know this is for adults but I don't know if it is a good match for a residential neighborhood. I see lots of children and lots of kids everyday in that location."

Nucifero said that the City of Boston identified the issue of keeping these adult use retail shops away from children by creating zoning and specific zones the business can be located.

"This location does fall within the permitted zones as defined by the city," said Nucifero. "The city established a 500-foot setbacks away from where children congregate, a 500 foot setback away from schools and the shop can not be within a half mile of any other marijuana dispensary location. There is a very limited number of place this use is actually permitted and this address happens to be one and adheres to all three rules put into place by the city."

There was also some concern over security. However, unlike a liquor store where access is relatively easy for underage people the facility would follow a rigorous protocol before people can even enter the dispensary.

There will be a security guard at the front door. When a potential customer enters he or she must present either a valid Massachusetts Medical Marijuana Card or a valid state license or identification card proving the customer is over 21 years of age. Between the front door and the actual dispensary is a locked door. The front door and internal 'locked' door are never open at the same time. Once the customer is approved by the security guard an employee inside the dispensary would have to activate a buzzer for the internal door to allow the customer inside.

"It's a very strict and rigorous process," said Nucifero.

The proposal had City Councillor Lydia Edwards calling for a hearing to discuss potential policy changes affecting the siting of enterprises serving cannabis as well as alcohol in the immediate vicinity of substance abuse treatment facilities during last weeks Council hearing.

Edwards pointed to the proposed dispensaries close proximity to North Suffolk Mental Health, a agency that helps addicts with their substance abuse problems.

Currently, the City of Boston regulates the distance between cannabis establishments at one-half mile and creates a 500-foot buffer between such businesses and K-12 schools. The City also regulates businesses that serve or sell alcohol through licensing and zoning, but has not enacted a similar distance-based buffer.

Zoning changes typically do not impact existing enterprises but would apply to new development and could potentially apply to substantially renovated buildings. The hearing will explore whether such a buffer should be created, potential impacts and how to create parity between industries.

LYNN MAN ARRESTED ON TAX FRAUD

LYNN – A Lynn man was arrested on tax fraud charges in connection with a "10-percent" scheme, in which he purchased millions of dollars' worth of winning Massachusetts state lottery tickets at a discount in order to help the ticket holders avoid taxes on the winnings. In addition, two store owners have pleaded guilty in connection with the scheme.

Clarence Jones, 80, was arrested and charged in a criminal complaint unsealed today with conspiring to commit tax fraud and filing false tax returns. He was released on conditions following an initial appearance today in federal court in Boston.

Two conspirators previously charged by information have pleaded guilty. George Kinslieh, 68, was charged with one count of filing false tax returns. Kinslieh pleaded guilty on Oct. 10, 2018, before U.S. District Court Judge Leo T. Sorokin, who scheduled sentencing for Feb. 4, 2019. Bhavna Patel, 44, was charged with one count of conspiring to defraud the Internal Revenue Service. Patel pleaded guilty on Oct. 16, 2018, before U.S. Senior District Court Judge Douglas P. Woodlock, who scheduled sentencing for Feb. 7, 2019.

The charging documents allege that from at least 2013 through 2015, Kinslieh and Patel, who were store owners, and others, purchased winning lottery tickets from the ticket holders for cash, at a discount to the value of the tickets, thereby allowing the ticket holders to avoid reporting the winnings on their tax returns – a scheme known as "10-percent." Kinslieh and Patel gave the winning tickets to Jones, who presented them to the Massachusetts State Lottery Commission as his own, and collected the full winnings. Jones reported the winnings on his tax returns, but offset them with purported gambling losses. Jones and the store owners then shared the excess winnings.

It is alleged that for the tax years 2011 through 2017, Jones paid less than $16,000 in federal tax on a total of approximately $52,000 of reported income. During this period, Jones claimed that he was a professional gambler and that all of his winnings were offset by alleged gambling losses. Patel and Kinslieh did not report to the Internal Revenue Service or pay taxes on the income that they received from the ticket scheme.

The charge of conspiracy to commit tax fraud provides for a sentence of no greater than five years in prison, three years of supervised release and a fine of $250,000 or twice the gross loss or gain, whichever is greater. The charge of filing a false tax return provides for a sentence of no greater than three years in prison, one year of supervised release, a fine of $100,000. Sentences are imposed by a federal district court judge based upon the U.S. Sentencing Guidelines and other statutory factors.

United States Attorney Andrew E. Lelling; Kristina O'Connell, special agent in charge of the Internal Revenue Service's Criminal Investigation in Boston; and Colonel Kerry A. Gilpin, superintendent of the Massachusetts State Police, made the announcement today. The Massachusetts State Lottery Commission provided assistance with the investigation. Assistant U.S. Attorney Sara Miron Bloom of Lelling's Securities and Financial Fraud Unit is prosecuting the cases.

The details contained in the criminal complaint are allegations. The defendant is presumed innocent unless and until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt in a court of law.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE REAFFIRMS STAND AGAINST DISCRIMINATION

WINTHROP – At School Committee meeting last week, Chairman Valentino Capobianco, offered a resolution reaffirming the Prohibition of Discrimination in Places of Public Accommodation on the Basis of Gender Identity and Gender Expression in Winthrop Public Schools.

Capobianco urged fellow committee members to adopt the resolution that would show their support for a 'yes' on state ballot Question 3, which maintains the current law that protects transgender people from discrimination.

"I think it's important that we support the push to vote 'yes' on Question 3," said Capobianco. "The law has been in place since 2016, and in this political climate it's important to come together on an issue. An overwhelming group of law enforcement agencies and various Republicans and Democrats including Gov. Baker and Speaker DeLeo support this as well."

A 'no' vote on Question 3 would repeal the state law that currently protects transgender people from discrimination in public places such as stores, restaurants and even doctors' offices.

In a unanimous decision, the School Committee agreed to accept the motion.

Recently, other agencies and organizations including law enforcement, the Massachusetts Teachers Association, The Massachusetts Association of School Committees, the American Federation of Teacher, as well as colleges with diverse political backgrounds have banned together to show their support on a yes on Question 3.

"By adopting this resolution, it sends a message to our students that we accept them," said School Committee member Jennifer Powell. "A number of students have had questions about themselves and it means a lot to them to have accepting adults in their lives."

The resolution comes just days before Massachusetts voters will be the first in the nation to face a statewide popular vote on protections for transgender people from discrimination in public places.

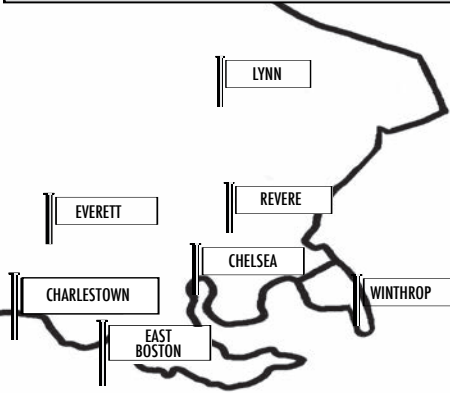

"I know that pre-judgment keeps me from being all that I can be, so surely it will do the same to our students," said School Committee member, Suzanne Swope. "And there is no proof of transgender bathrooms causing any violence, based on the research that I've done."

RESIDENTS UPSET OVER MWRA PIER

WINTHROP – A heated meeting in June between the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (MWRA) at Deer Island and its neighbors on Point Shirley left many people frustrated. Tuesday night there was no yelling, but there was a lot of frustration at the MWRA community meeting.

Despite the outcry, the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries still plans to go ahead with the construction of a 250-foot long fishing pier and a 20-car parking lot. The project has gone out to bid and proposals are due back by November. Construction could start next spring.
