WATER AND SEWER DISCOUNT FOR SENIORS EXPANDS FOR 2019

Mayor Brian M. Arrigo announced an expansion in the City's Water and Sewer Senior Discount program that begins Feb. 15.

Under the new discount qualifications, eligible property owner/occupants who use 30,000 gallons of water or less over a 12 month period will earn a 30 per cent discount in the form of a credit toward their next billing period.

"This is an entirely new discount category that encourages water conservation and increases the value of the discount at the same time," said Mayor Arrigo.

Other features of the discount program remain intact. Those who use between 30,001 and 70,000 gallons earn a 20 per cent discount, and those who use over 70,000 gallons earn a 10 per cent discount.

"Our objective is both to help seniors with their water bills, but also to help people realize the real benefits of water conservation," said Mayor Arrigo. "There are many simple ways that people can use less water in their everyday routines." Most common

THE 'KITCHEN-SINK' STORM COMES AND GOES

This past weekend saw the first big snowstorm of the winter, as well as the first of the new year. The 'kitchen sink' storm that made its way through the area brought snow, ice, sleet, rain flash freezes and more. Pictured above, Revere's Patriot fans are all smiles as they get their shoveling done early to enjoy the game later in the day. Pictured left are two of Patriot JROTC Snow Angels, who clear out walkways for senior citizens following a storm; they are truly heroes in the community. See more photos on Page 8.

Revere weathers first 2019 storm well

By Cary Shuman

Mother Nature threw it all at Revere – snow, freezing rain, and sub-freezing temperatures – but the city handled the first stormy blast of the winter very well.

Mayor Brian Arrigo said there were no major storm-related issues in the city over the weekend and on the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. holiday when temperatures were in single digits. Revere students returned to school Tuesday morning with no delays, while the RHS sports teams resumed their regular schedule.

"Revere endured the effects of the season's first winter storm with no major consequences or problems," said Arrigo. "It was a challenging type of storm, with the heavy, wet snow followed by what amounted to a 'flash freeze.' Thankfully, the storm hit on a Sunday of a long weekend, so not many people were on the roads – and with the Patriots game on that evening, a lot of people remained indoors."

Arrigo thanked the public safety departments and the DPW for their efforts during the storm.

"I thank all those who protect our public safety, our police and fire departments, and our DPW workers, and those who respond to the public at the City's 311-Constituent services, for their hard work during the storm," said Arrigo. "They were at their posts and doing their jobs. It's winter in New England – so storms are part of what we deal with."

Ward 5 Councillor John Powers was pleased with the DPW's plowing operations throughout his ward.

"The streets were cleared quickly and treated with salt, giving motorists safe access in the neighborhood," said

Revere's Olivia Ferrante named to Who's Who

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

When you go to the public library ask to see Marquis' Who's Who and look up Olivia Ferrante. The Reservior Avenue resident recently received a lifetime achievement award from Who's Who based on her career longevity, philanthropic endeavors and lasting contributions to society.

Her mother was only five months along in the pregnancy when Ferrante was born prematurely. Weighing only two pounds, she fought for life in an oxygenated incubator. While saving her life, the oxygen in the incubator led to her visual impairment. This disability has posed no limitations to Ferrante, who has used her disability has been a positive influence on her career choices, and she has gone on to help many others with similar circumstances.

Ferrante, 70, earned her master's degree in education from Boston College. She's a member of Revere High School class of 1966. She was hired in 1974 as a traveling teacher in several school districts in Revere, Chelsea, Everett, Malden and Saugus, working with students who had vision disabilities like herself.

"I traveled from school to school (with the help of her father Guy) and taught each child individually," Ferrante said. "He said I will drive you and that's what he did for 14 years before he died in 1987. No salary. After a few years we did get some gas money."

She also earned tenure and the ability to have a pension and medical benefits like all the other teachers. She retired in 1991 after the school district stopped providing a driver.

As an advocate, Ms. Ferrante has pushed for several proposals which were accepted in her local government,

Science from Scientists program discussed at Revere School Committee meeting

By John Lynds

At January's Revere School

Committee meeting Chief Operating Officer from Science from Scientists Amanda Schutt gave an overview on her program's work in the Revere School system.

Science from Scientists was founded by Dr. Erika Ebbel Angletto in 2002 to address the STEM workforce gap with the specific mission to teach and inspire the next generation to identify and solve real-world problems by improving STEM literacy.

"When we look at our students at the high school level they are really lacking proficiency and interest in Science, Technology, Engineering and Math fields," said Schutt. "What we see at the high school level is only about 17 percent of students are interested in the STEM fields nationwide. Our organization is really interested in working with the other 83 percent who are either not scoring well in science technology, are not interested or just don't think they are smart enough. We want to inspire these students and motivate them and help them see that they have the possibility to become a scientist, an engineer or mathematician in the future."

Science from Scientists have found there are several reasons 83 percent of students may not be interested in math at the middle and high school levels.

These include social pressure because excelling at science is often seen as 'uncool'; teacher Preparedness because many teachers feel anxious and unprepared to teach Science due to time constraints; out of date content where science content is always being updated and classroom teachers feel anxious teaching content that has since been updated outside of the textbooks; lack of hands-on labs where students rarely have the opportunity to engage in hands-on learning; lack of parental involvement because parents struggle to find opportunities to extend students' learning at home; and no aspirational role models where students in elementary and middle school rarely have the opportunity to interact with STEM professionals and role models outside of their doctor or dentist.

Schutt said here in Revere Science from Scientists has been running an In-School Module-based Instruction in lower grades to make STEM exciting and interesting once students get to middle and high school.

In this program Science from Scientists partners with elementary and middle schools that serve students in its target population of grades 3-8. Science from Scientists sends the same two real, scientists into schools in Revere to see the same group of students every other week throughout the entire school year. During each of these visits, Science from Scientists instructors coordinate with classroom teachers to select one of 90 plus engaging hands-on lessons in STEM.

Chief Operating Officer from Science from Scientists Amanda Schutt gave an overview on her program's work in the Revere School system.

"What makes this program unique is that it takes place during the day so our scientists are in the school from first bell to last bell with all students in any given school that day," said Schutt.

Schutt said Science from Scientists has been measuring improvements in Revere Schools through a pre-program quiz and post program quiz. So before the program starts in any given school year students are given a quiz to see their proficiency on STEM topics. After the program the students are given another quiz to test what they've learned and their comprehension.

In Revere elementary schools students would score 41 percent and that number would jump to students getting 55 percent of answer correct two weeks into Science from Scientists.

from middle schools, students would score 63 percent on the pre-program quiz and that number increased dramatically with students answering 84 percent of the questions correct two weeks into the program.

Science from Scientists also hosts their Scientist-Teacher Partnership (STP) program. The STP program is designed to help teachers feel more comfortable preparing and leading hands-on science activities by providing guidance, resources, and time to incorporate field-tested lessons into existing curriculum. After the program, Revere teachers leave with readily implementable activities, a suite of adaptable teaching strategies, and the support of the Science from Scientists instructional team.

Airline inspectors at Boston Logan Airport warn passengers of safety concerns amidst the Government Shutdown

By John Lynds

Local concerns regarding Air Traffic Controllers working without pay at Boston Logan Airport during the government shutdown are surfacing. The shutdown and working without pay maybe making an already stressful job more demanding an impacting safety.

With hundreds of thousands of residents living in the shadow of the one of the busiest international airports in the nation, air traffic control safety at Logan is paramount to the welfare of the community.

As the government shutdown moves into its fifth week, aviation safety specialists across New England and the country are speaking out to warn passengers that skeleton inspection staffing is lowering safety standards at airports throughout the country. While a handful of inspectors were mandated back to work under “emergency” conditions, many remain sidelined by the shutdown in New England-including Logan. This means more flights across the region are taking off without independent oversight by qualified aviation safety specialists at the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA). Now, inspectors like Stephen Brown are speaking out, saying skeleton crews are not enough to keep the skies as safe as possible for passengers flying out of airports in the region like Logan.

Brown said while airline companies may conduct their own checks, the FAA safety inspectors charged with double-checking the work of those airlines and ensuring companies play by the rules have been sidelined since December 22.

Workers like Brown say that it’s a major concern for all travelers. “The government shutdown has put a tremendous strain on the workers, but more so I believe it has put a strain on the aviation industry and its safety,” said Brown in a statement on behalf of employees belonging to the Professional Aviation Safety Specialists (PASS) union. “With the government shutdown and the furlough of Aviation Safety Inspectors across the nation, this line of defense on regulatory and safety oversight has just disintegrated. Aviation Inspectors, like myself, have been forced to cease inspections on the airworthiness and operations of many commercial entities, from the large major air carriers down to the local commercial flight school.”

Brown added that the nation and the public are now in a position where the is little to no oversight on all these commercial operations, yet they are allowed to operate.

“Unscrupulous or naive operators and operations can be conducted within our system without any regulatory oversight, inspections or investigations,” he said. “While some inspectors are being recalled, we are all essential to the safety of the National Airspace System and should all be on the job for the American flying public.” Historically, inspectors like Brown had been classified as excepted employees and would have been required to work. However, that was changed in 2013 with the nation’s second longest shutdown.

Last Monday, some of Brown’s colleagues were called back to work on an “emergency” basis, but it’s unclear how long that will last for – and when the services will return to being fully staffed. PASS National President Mike Perrone spoke at a federal employee rally on Capitol Hill last week. “We stand with those in the labor and aviation communities to let Congress and the White House know that this government shutdown hurts the employees we proudly represent and impacts the ability of the Federal Aviation Administration to conduct important safety-related functions,” said Perrone at the rally. “Essential aviation professionals have been forced to the sidelines and their important work is not getting done. Without a fully functioning FAA, a layer of safety is missing. Let me say that again: Without a fully functioning FAA, a layer of safety is missing.”

among these are simple steps such turning off water faucets while brushing one’s teeth or collecting rainwater to water gardens and flower beds.

“People should also make sure they are not wasting water through undetected leaks,” said the Mayor. “Residents who suspect that their water bills are higher than they would expect should contact the City’s water department to help determine whether there might be a leak issue.”

The discount will be applied to one billing period per year. To qualify for the Senior Discount program, an applicant must be the owner of record and occupy the property in question. The applicant or spouse must turn 65 during the calendar year to which the discount will be applied. An applicant will be required to provide a valid Massachusetts drivers’ license or other official form of identification that includes the date of birth and property address, or additional documentation.

Applications will be available at the Water Department or can be obtained online through the City’s website www.revere.org beginning Feb. 15. Applications must be completed and returned no later than June 30 of the calendar year the discount is in effect.

The discount percentage is determined based upon the total consumption at the applicant property during the previous year. That percentage amount is then multiplied by the current Water/Sewer rate and produces a credit toward the applicant’s subsequent water bill.

TEXT TO 911 NOW AVAILABLE ACROSS THE COMMONWEALTH

The Massachusetts State

911 Department is pleased to announce that Text to 911 is now available throughout the Commonwealth. All Massachusetts 911 call centers now have ability to receive a text message through their 911 system. The Baker-Polito Administration has supported making these system enhancements since 2015.

Text to 911 allows those in need of emergency services to use their cellular device to contact 911 when they are unable to place a voice call.

“This is a significant improvement to our 911 system that will save lives,” said Public Safety and Security Secretary Tom Turco. “By giving those requiring emergency services this option we are greatly expanding the ability of first responders to provide critical assistance to those in need.”

To contact emergency services by text message, simply enter 911 in the “To” field of your mobile device and then type your message into the message field. It is the same process that is used for sending a regular text message from your mobile device. It is important to make every effort to begin the text message indicating the town you are in and provide the best location information that you can.

“Having the ability to contact a 911 call center by text could help those being held against their will or victims of domestic violence unable to make a voice call,” said Frank Pozniak, Executive Director of the State 911 Department. “Text to 911 also provides direct access to 911 emergency services for the deaf, hard of hearing and speech-impaired, which is a service that these communities did not have access to until now.”

It is important to note that the 911 call center may not always have your exact location when they receive your text. For this reason, when sending a Text to 911 it is important to make every effort to begin the text message indicating the town you are in and provide the best location information that you can.

The State 911 Department encourages citizens to Text to 911 only when a voice call is not possible.

Remember: “Call if you can, text if you can’t.”

MASSACHUSETTS DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH TO MARK ITS 150TH YEAR

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health (DPH) will celebrate its 150th anniversary, or “sesquicentennial,” with a series of events and has unveiled a new logo that will be used throughout the year to mark the occasion.

The year-long recognition will include commemorations during National Public Health Week in April, activities at the state’s Public Health Museum in Tewksbury this summer, speaking presentations, and other events. The activities will be promoted using the anniversary logo that reads, “150 Years of Advancing Public Health” in addition to the traditional department seal.

America’s first board of health was established by an act of the Massachusetts Legislature in Boston in 1799, with Paul Revere as president. Later, in September of 1869, the Massachusetts State Board of Health, now DPH, was established by Dr. Henry I. Bowditch, its first chairman. It later merged with what was called the “Board of Health, Lunacy, and Charity” and went on to publish the first manual of public health laws, require mandatory reporting of dangerous diseases, establish the nation’s first Food and Drug Laboratory and state public health microbiology lab, among other landmark achievements.

“We’re proud to celebrate our first 150 years,” said DPH Commissioner Monica Bhar-el, MD, MPH. “Marking this year enables us to acknowledge our many “firsts” and our continuing accomplishments. It also encourages us to think about how we are working now to improve public health today and for the next 150 years.”

To learn more about the history of public health in the Commonwealth, view the list of public health milestones or visit <https://publichealthmuseum.org/>. The state’s Public Health Museum, the nation’s first such museum, features artifacts and records of U.S. public health history, serves as a public education resource, and promotes initiatives addressing current health issues.

Cathedral High School students cut the ribbon across the entrance to the Applied Learning Center, officially unveiling it.

Applied Learning Center unveiled at Cathedral High School

By Lauren Bennett

Cathedral High School in the South End revealed its brand new Applied Learning Center at a ribbon cutting ceremony on Sept. 4. Construction for the 15,000 square-foot center began in April 2017, and it will include programs in STEAM-based learning: science, technology, engineering, arts, and mathematics.

Head of Cathedral High School, Oscar Santos, said that the school was founded in 1926 with the purpose to “serve as a mission to make sure that inner city kids have a great place to have an education.”

With the completion of the Applied Learning Center, Santos said that along with the school building and the gymnasium, there are more opportunities for students to be successful. The center will allow students to have hands-on experiences with things like robotics, 3-D printers, and theater. “We know that as the world changes, students need opportunities to have applied learning experiences,” Santos said. “And that’s making sure that they content and the skills that they learn in the classroom is also implied and embedded into the work that we do here every day so that students are better prepared to go out into the workforce, and more importantly, into the world.”

Paul Chisholm, Chair of the Board of Trustees, told the students at the ribbon cutting: “This is your building...make sure you take advantage of it, make sure you challenge your teachers, because this is the type of education you need to be successful in the future.”

Senior Armani Lamin spoke about his third summer at the Crimson Summer Academy at Harvard University, where he lived on campus and studied macroeconomics and expository writing. “It gave me a sneak peek of what college would be like and so I enjoyed that,” Lamin said. He spoke about how great it was to be in the same room with people who came from all over the world for the same purpose: to get an education. “And with this building that you guys have funded and put all your time into we can advance our education, so for that I thank all of you,” he said. He said he’s most excit-

Forming the leaders of tomorrow at Malden Catholic

Since its founding in 1932, Malden Catholic High School has prided itself on delivering an educational program that turns the outstanding students of today into the outstanding leaders of tomorrow. Formed by a rigorous college-preparatory experience and steeped in the values of the Catholic and Xaverian traditions, MC students have gone on to pursue meaningful careers and vocations that touch all aspects of society. Malden Catholic counts among its alumni CEOs, doctors, lawyers, innovators, teachers and administrators, members of the United States military, priests, deacons, vowed religious, professional athletes, tradesmen, law enforcement officers, state representatives, ambassadors, a United States Senator, and a Nobel Laureate in Economics. This has not happened by accident! Regardless of what paths in life the graduates of Malden Catholic pursue, they all share a common vocation: the call to be servant-leaders.

As Malden Catholic begins the next chapter of its history as a codivisional school—all boys and all-girls divisions on one shared campus—it does so with an intentional focus on providing unique programs for boys and girls to develop their God-given potential for effecting change through confident, ethical leadership.

Four programs at Malden Catholic stand out as foundational aspects of Malden Catholic’s focus on leadership:

for Boys

One of the most cherished of Malden Catholic’s traditions, the Leadership Institute is the signature event in the four-year progression of retreats at Malden Catholic School for Boys. Sponsored by the Campus Ministry team, the institute consists of a dynamic, four-day/three-night program on the campus of Endicott College where service, worship, team-building, and deep self-reflection converge, providing students with the opportunity to examine how their formation at Malden Catholic is calling them to live as faith-filled men of purpose and integrity in their senior year and beyond.

The Leadership Course (School for Girls)

Inaugurated in the fall of 2018, the School for Girls Leadership Course makes leadership learning and training a priority for students at Malden Catholic School for Girls, providing them with the tools to lead themselves and others. The four-year leadership course helps young women to explore who they are and what they believe. The first of its kind anywhere, the course provides students a way to merge the five values of Xaverian education—humility, simplicity, compassion, trust, and zeal—with effective leadership skills. This program equips girls with the courage to embrace the power of their own voice to affect change locally, nationally, and globally.

The Senior Service Program (School for Boys)

The Senior Service Program at Malden Catholic School for Boys is the culmination of students’ four-year commitment to compassionate Christian service to others. After moving through a 15/25/35-hour progression over their first three years at Malden Catholic, seniors carry out 90 hours of service under the direction of Campus Ministry, devoting 60 of those hours to a non-profit organization of their choice over a two-week period in January. Some of the most popular organizations among MC students in recent years have included Habitat for Humanity of Greater Boston, iPods for Wounded Veterans, Mission of Deeds, Housing Families, Inc., and the Greater Boston Food Bank. Following their two weeks of service, seniors use the second semester of their theology courses to share and discuss the insights, learnings, and movements of the Spirit that arose as a result of their service.

The Capstone Leadership Program (School for Girls)

The Capstone Program at Malden Catholic School for Girls provides students with the opportunity to put into practice the faith and character formation they have received. The Capstone invites students to investigate an area of social concern over four years and develop a substantial Christian service community outreach initiative in that area of concern, undertaken in the ju-

St. John School poised for academic success and future growth

Nestled in the heart of Boston’s North End, St. John School has prepared students for bright futures since 1895. We are a Catholic value-centered learning environment focused on educating students in an atmosphere that fosters the growth of each student in spirit, mind and body. We welcome pre-kindergarten through eighth grade students and utilize innovative programs and a standards base curriculum to educate the whole child.

Our dedicated teachers and small class size ensure that each student’s unique progress is celebrated. Students enjoy a state-of-the-art computer lab, one-to-one iPad program, science lab, STEM programs, Italian language instruction, woodworking classes, our own hydroponic gardens, professional music classes and more. Our After School program cost $300 per month and is in session from 2:30 p.m. – 6:00 p.m. Drama, Yoga, Fitness, Dance, Guitar, Chinese and other programs are also offered in the After School program for an additional charge.

While a deep sense of tradition fills our community, St. John School’s learning environment is focused on preparing students for innovative futures. As we help students explore and master new subjects, we also open their lens to the world outside. We expose children to the vibrant culture of the city just beyond our walls, through frequent field trips to museums, theaters, and innovative companies helping students build the knowledge they need to excel in high school and beyond.

After graduating from St. John School, students launch into their high school years with the confidence of feeling one step ahead of their peers. This is due largely to our highly-trained teachers and our rigorous curriculum.

St. John School is in a truly wonderful position to move into the future and provide the best education for our students, so that they achieve their full potential. “Catholic Roots, Worldly Wings”.

ed to use the 3D printers and getting to know the new Applied Learning Center, where he will have some classes this year.

The building was blessed by the Very Rev. James Flavin, who prayed that the center would become one where “students and teachers imbued with the words of truth will search for the wisdom that guides the Christian life and strive wholeheartedly by Christ as their teacher...”

Current Cathedral students provided those in attendance with a tour of the new facility, showing them the different dedicated spaces that they are excited to use.

Santos said that the school will start three new programs: maker space, which involves engineering, as well as creating robots, where the students will learn basic programming and then prototype and print. In addition, there will be a new art program with a new art teacher to increase the level of arts instruction at the school, and finally, programs for theater and music.

He said they surveyed the kids and asked what their interests and passions were, and these were the top results. Being able to provide the students with real-world experiences and input through having workshops with real firms and companies are some of the “things that help kids feel like they’re part of the solution and really creating,” Santos said.

“What I’m most excited about is really giving kids real world opportunities to make sure that the things that they’re learning in class, they can connect it to their real lives,” Santos said.

Santos said that most importantly, he wants to thank everyone who helped make this a reality, and that buildings go up and down every day in the City of Boston, but “this is really about opportunity for kids and it’s the Cathedral story,” he said.

The students are excited for the new center too. Senior Lisalina Pena said “I’m glad they’re making all these changes right now and they’re trying really hard to make us happy and listen to our voices and I like that.” She said she’s excited to take some law and justice classes, and is thinking about applying to Tufts University and Wellesley College

Very Rev. James Flavin reads a prayer before he blesses the new building.

Head of Cathedral High School Oscar Santos gives a welcome speech at the ribbon-cutting ceremony for the school’s new Applied Learning Center.

St. Mary’s to offer field hockey, crew and rugby in 2019-20

The St. Mary’s High School golf team won the MIAA Div. 3 state championship on October 29, marking the 12th consecutive year that the school has captured at least one state title, but there will no resting on their laurels on Tremont Street.

Aware that scholastic sports are every bit as much about participation as championships, St. Mary’s Athletic Director Jeff Newhall announced that the school will be offering field hockey, co-ed crew and girls rugby starting with the 2019-20 school year. The teams will participate at the club level next year with an intention of moving up to sub-varsity and varsity in subsequent years, based on participation and interest.

St. Mary’s currently fields teams in 19 MIAA-recognized sports plus cheerleading.

“We’re excited to be able to introduce these new sports at St. Mary’s,” Newhall said. “We are very proud of the legacy of success of our teams, as well as the important role athletics plays as a co-curricular activity at the school.”

One of the primary reasons for adding the sports, Newhall said, is to increase the opportunities St. Mary’s student-athletes will have to play at the collegiate level. With that in mind, the new sports were chosen strategically.

Field hockey is the second-most played sport in the world (after soccer). Crew nior year. The senior service commitment is dedicated fully to the chosen area of social concern. The Capstone allows each student to become a flexible and self-directed learner, a strong team collaborator, an innovative problem solver, an effective communicator, a competent information researcher, a globally aware individual, and a compassionate and faith-filled citizen.

Through their participation in these leadership programs, each Malden Catholic student makes the school motto – “Plus Ultra,” Latin for “More Beyond” – a lived reality. In doing so, the Lancers of MC truly become leaders who walk in the way of Christ, the One who came not to be served, but to serve.

THANK YOU, JAY ASH

When Gov. Charlie Baker was elected to his first term of office four years ago, his first major announcement was the appointment of Jay Ash to the post of Secretary of Housing and Economic Development.

The announcement by Gov. Baker, a Republican, came as a surprise to many political insiders because Ash was a lifelong Democrat and at the time was serving as the City Manager for the City of Chelsea, a post he had held for almost 15 years. Moreover, the Secretary of Housing and Economic Development is among the most important members of a governor's cabinet, and typically goes to a person who is among those most trusted by the governor to implement his broad policy objectives.

However, Ash's appointment by Gov.-elect Baker signaled two things about the incoming administration: First, that Baker was going to "reach across the aisle" to Democrats and second, that he was seeking the most-qualified persons he could find to serve in his administration.

During the past four years, Charlie Baker's appointment of Jay Ash, who officially stepped down from his cabinet post in December to become the new president of a nonprofit business group known as the Massachusetts Competitive Partnership, has proven to be a win-win for Gov. Baker -- and the people of Massachusetts -- on both scores.

Ash, who had served for many years as the chief of staff to former House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Richard Voke, not only knew the ins-and-outs of the legislative process, but also was on a first-name basis with many legislators, most notably House Speaker Bob DeLeo, who played a key role in working with Jay in implementing the many initiatives put forth by the Baker administration.

In addition, Jay Ash brought to the table his experience as the City Manager of Chelsea, a small city that is the prototype for both the potential and pitfalls of economic development of urban areas throughout the state.

During his tenure, Jay Ash brought to fruition many projects that will bring economic benefits for future generations of our state's residents. Among Ash's signature accomplishments, he played a key role in bringing the Pawtucket Red Sox to Worcester, which included the redevelopment of the city's Canal District with $35 million in infrastructure and affordable housing funds; he brought $12.5 million in state funds to the Berkshire Innovation Center, which will focus on life sciences in Pittsfield; he played an integral role in persuading General Electric to locate its world headquarters in Boston's Seaport District; and he was instrumental in bringing about a significant reduction in the number of homeless families living in motels.

All in all, Jay Ash's tenure as Secretary of Housing and Economic Development has been among the most successful and remarkable of any Cabinet member of any administration in the state's history.

We know we speak not only for the residents of his native Chelsea, but also for citizens throughout the state, in thanking Jay Ash for his years of public service and wishing him well in his future endeavors.

LETTER to the Editor

REMEMBERING OUR HEROES

Dear Editor,
"...If I can help somebody as I pass along, if I can cheer somebody with a word or song, if I can show somebody he's traveling wrong, then my living will not be in vain."

These are the words that Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. chose to be remembered by as we celebrate his ninetieth birthday this year. They are also the words that I used to describe my dad, Peter Sarno upon his retirement. He was a teacher, a coach, a principal in the city of Revere for almost forty years. January 8 was the seventh anniversary of his passing.

As much as one would like to believe otherwise, difficult times are not unusual in the history of our country or in our own lives. It is how all of us, as human beings, accept those challenges that gives hope for the future. We can learn from our mistakes. We can remember the example of our heroes; personal, national and in our city as well. We "can make this old world a new world" and know that our own living has not been in vain.

"Adding these sports not only sets up our students for the chance to play at the next level, it also provides expanded opportunities for them to compete in high school. We emphasize the student in student-athlete and the results show. We have a high percentage of student-athletes in the National Honor Society, and students who play at least one sport perform better academically than those who do not participate."

*We little knew that morning,
God was going to call your name.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
You did not go alone,

The day God called you home.
You left us beautiful memories,
Your love is still our guide,
And though we cannot see you,
You are always by our side.
Our family chain is broken,
And nothing seems the same,
But as God calls us one by one,
The chain will link again.*

Baker-Polito administration files legislation to improve road safety

The Baker-Polito Administration filed legislation to improve road safety entitled, “An Act Relative to Improving Safety on the Roads of the Commonwealth.” The proposal makes a number of changes recommended in the Strategic Highway Safety Plan and updates existing statutes that were drafted before recent advances in various forms of mobility.

“Keeping the Commonwealth’s networks of roads as safe as possible for everyone using them is one of our administration’s top public safety priorities,” said Governor Charlie Baker. “This bill includes common sense proposals to substantially reduce distracted driving, stiffen penalties associated with operating under the influence, improve safety requirements for certain trucks and to begin establishing a regulatory framework for new forms of transportation. We look forward to working with our colleagues in the Legislature to pass this comprehensive road safety bill into law.”

“Our administration believes empowering law enforcement and transportation officials with the tools contained in this bill will make a real difference in road safety for drivers, workers, bicyclists and pedestrians,” said Lt. Governor Karyn Polito. “This bill will put in place important safety measures for First Responders and highway construction crews working every day to improve road conditions and overall safety for everyone travelling in Massachusetts.”

been killed. To protect those working, the legislation would allow the Massachusetts Department of Transportation (MassDOT) to set up temporary mandatory speed limits in construction zones. To protect people walking, bicycling and using motorcycles on Massachusetts roadways, the legislation would require state-owned heavy trucks and state and municipally-contracted vehicles to be equipped with convex and cross-over mirrors and require the installation of side guards between the front and rear wheels of these vehicles to protect people from being caught under a truck and run over by its rear wheels. The bill expands efforts to limit distracted driving by having Massachusetts join sixteen other states, including all of our neighboring New England states, in requiring hands-free use of electronic devices while driving. Law enforcement would also be able to stop motorists who are not wearing seatbelts under this legislation.

The proposal corrects inconsistencies in the law for those convicted of Operating under the Influence (OUI) by requiring first-time offenders who apply for hardship licenses to be placed into the ignition interlock program and clarifying the ability of the Registry of Motor Vehicles to penalize those who attempt to drive after consuming alcohol, even with an ignition interlock device.

Emerging micromobility technologies like electric scooters and increased use of electric bicycles present both opportunities as a compliment to current means of transportation and challenges as an industry without any existing statutory framework. As a first step, the administration proposes treating electric scooters and pedal assist electric bicycles the same way bicycles are treated under state law and establishing a multi-party advisory group to recommend more permanent policies.

An Act Relative to Improving Safety on the Roads of the Commonwealth includes proposals on the following topics:

- Hands-free: Requires electronic devices to be used in “hands-free” mode and would not allow anyone operating a motor vehicle to touch or hold a mobile electronic device, “except to perform a single tap or swipe to activate, deactivate, or initiate hands-free mode.” The bill would permit talking, texting and other tasks to be completed by voice commands and would allow law enforcement officers to better enforce distraction laws.

- Primary seatbelt: Law enforcement would be permitted to stop motorists for not wearing seatbelts.
- Work zone safety: Allows MassDOT to establish mandatory temporary lower speed limits in construction zones that would double fines when workers are present.
- Ignition interlock, hardship licenses: Proposal would require the use of ignition interlock devices for first offenders who apply for hardship licenses, requiring an interlock device for a minimum of six months as a condition of obtaining a hardship license.
- Ignition interlock, penalties for violating terms of interlock program: Clarifies the ability of the Registry to penalize those who attempt to drive after drinking alcohol, (even with an interlock device), or who tamper with an

In The Silence

In the silence you hear me, in the silence I am here.

In the silence you can feel me,

In the silence it is clear... that my spirit hasn't left you,

I am just a thought away, you can see me in the shadows,

Anytime you look my way.

Look for me in the sunshine, and in the stars at night.

In the wind, trees and flowers, everything that is in sight.

Talk to me, say my name, know that I'm still here,

In my death I have a new life, and one day it will be clear.

So talk to me and look for me, in everything you do,

For I haven't gone so far away, I'm really right next to you.

Dear Nessa!! We love you and miss you.

REVERE SEES FIRST STORM OF 2019

A BUNCH OF SNOW, A WHOLE LOT OF ICE AND BITTER WINDS

Most of the City stayed in their homes through the weekend as the ‘kitchen sink’ storm made it’s way across our swath of land bringing rain, snow, sleet, hail and high winds to the area. By Sunday, precipitation had slowed, and by Monday afternoon precipitation had stopped and all signs of the storm were gone, save for the mounds of snow and wind-chill in the negatives; that didn’t stop Revere residents from getting out and beginning the post-storm clean up.

Local businesses prepared to clear out their stores in hopes for an afternoon run on business.

Freezing cold winds mixed with sleet hit Revere Beach and surrounding areas.

Heavy wet snow covered Revere streets Sunday morning.

The William G Reinstein Band Stand was empty as a sign of the winter season.

With cold winds and sleet and the fresh snowfall Kelly's Roast Beef was quiet on Sunday morning.

RHS HOCKEY TEAM DEFEATS EVERETT, 4-0

The Revere High hockey team put it all together at both ends of the ice to skate to a 4-0 victory at Northeastern Conference South Division rival Everett last Wednesday.

The final score was not reflective of the Patriots' dominance of the contest. Revere outshot Everett by a wide margin, but the Crimson Tide's goalie turned in a superb effort to thwart many Patriot scoring opportunities.

Wayne Cintolo scored what would prove to be the game-winner, with freshman Alexio Trichilo earning an assist with a nice feed to Cintolo to make it 1-0.

Senior Andres Cardona scored his first career goal. Senior defenseman Matt Cravotta lit the lamp with a blast from the point and Rick Briana added some extra insurance for the 4-0 finale.

RHS sophomore netminder Tristian Goroshko went the whole way to record his first career high school varsity shutout.

Three days later the Patriots traveled to the Salem State University rink to meet Swampscott, another NEC South Division foe. Revere trailed 2-0 after two periods, but Cintolo drew the Patriots within a goal early in the third period. The Big Blue responded with a marker to make it a two-goal affair once again at 3-1, but Cintolo went back to work and lit the lamp to bring Revere to the brink of level at 3-2 with seven minutes remaining.

Despite some furious play and chances to score in the closing minutes, in which the Patriots pulled goalie Goroshko for a sixth skater, Revere was unable to achieve the equalizer.

"Overall, we played well in both games," said RHS head coach Joe Ciccarello. "Wayne Cintolo has really stepped up in the scoring department for us and both of our sophomore goalies, Tristian Goroshko and JT Bowdridge, have been solid in net for us."

Ciccarello and his crew will host Somerville tonight (Wednesday) at Cronin at 5:30 p.m. and will make the long trek to Gloucester on Saturday.

RHS BOYS TRACK AND FIELD ON TRACK FOR STELLAR SEASON

RHS TRIUMPHS OVER GLOUCESTER, 68-18

The boys track team has had a very competitive season. The season is full of close meets that could have gone either way. They are in a battle for as high as second in the NEC North Division. Two meets were lost by a total of 10 points. The Seniors lead the way for the team but they have a few young freshmen and sophomores that are on track to be the bests in the conference as they get older.

Jaryd Benson threw the shot put.

Augusto Goncalves ran the 300 meters.

Antony Arias, Christian Madrid and Jonathan Nushi ran the 1,000 meters.

Samuel Gonzalez, Eric Bua and Idriss Taoujni ran the 600 meters.

Victor Pelatere ran the mile.

ot sweep in the 50-yard dash in a time of 5.9. Teammate Cal Capozzi recorded the same clocking for second place and Arath Hernandez-Neto came across in third in 6.1.

A highly competitive 600 dash, in which the top five finishers were within 0.9/second of each other, saw Patriot Augusto Goncalves earn first-place honors in 40.9. Teammate Matthew DeRocha came across in third place in 41.3 and Patriot Camron Ventura was fifth in 41.8.

Christian Madrid paced a 1-2 Revere finish in a similarly dramatic 1,000 race with his clocking of 2:55.1. Teammate Jonathan Nushi was right behind in 2:55.5 and the Gloucester boy came next in 2:55.8, a separation of just 0.7/second among the top three.

Patriot teammate Antony Arias finished fourth in a fine time of 3:06.5. Although Antony did not score in the 1,000, he earned a point for the Revere side of the scoresheet with his third-place finish in the high jump with a leap of 5'-4".

Revere also won both distance events. Victor Pelatere continued his dominance this season in the mile with his time of 5:06.4. Fabio Tran took first in the two-mile run in 11:30.6.

Rayan Riazhi scored three points for his second-place finish in the hurdles in 7.5.

The Patriot 4 x 400 relay quartet handily defeated their Gloucester counterparts by 12 seconds with their finish of 4:05.9.

The Revere boys will host Beverly today (Wednesday).

SWIMMERS NIPPED IN MEET WITH PEABODY

The Revere High swim team engaged in what RHS head coach Chris Hill called "one of the most exciting meets I've ever been a part of," though unfortunately, the Patriots emerged on the short end of a 93-90 decision at Peabody last Tuesday.

With the diving competition coming first, the Revere squad found itself swimming upstream from the outset, falling into a 13-0 hole, inasmuch as Peabody had five divers and the Patriots do not have any, allowing Peabody to claim the 13 maximum points (six for first place, four for second, and three for third) in one event.

However, Revere soon began swimming into open water, bouncing back to slice the deficit in half, 33-26, by winning the first three swimming competitions.

The RHS medley relay team of David Del Rio, Ashton Hoang, Andrew Carvalhais, and William Arias provided the big highlight for Revere, swimming a team-best to win their race.

Other Patriot competitors who turned in strong performances were Isabella Veraldi, who won the 200 free, and Del Rio, who took the 200 IM. Freshman Jeffery Martinez took second in the 50 free sprint and Carvalhais won the 100 fly. At the halfway mark of the meet, Peabody's advantage remained at seven, 49-42.

In the 100 free, Martinez, Lelia Cestic, and Arias went 2-3-4 to outscore Peabody 9-7, closing the gap to five 56-51.

Peabody fought back, winning the 500 free despite personal records (PR) from Patriots Reked Caushaj and freshman Miguel Leonard. However, in the 200 free relay, the Revere quartet of Del Rio, Hoang, Arias, and Carvalhais took first place.

When Del Rio and Veraldi went 1-2 in the 100 back and Carvalhais and Hoang were joined by Lucas Hurtado in scoring for Revere in the breast stroke, the Patriots had narrowed the margin to a single point, 85-84, going into the last event, the 400 free relay.

A very strong Peabody team swam a sub-4:00 relay to win the race and the meet by taking the eight points for their first-place finish. Revere captured second and third places (earning four and two points for a total of six) with Mathews Oliveria and Ahmed Khalid joining Martinez and Caushaj on the runner-up squad and Sonia Salazar and Olivia Windsor teaming up with Cestic and Veraldi for third place.

Hill and his crew will take on East Boston tomorrow (Thursday) at the Garfield School pool.

RHS BOYS FIGHT HARD AT CLASSICAL

The Revere High boys basketball team, coming off a week of inaction because of high school exam week, traveled to Lynn Friday night to face the Rams of Lynn Classical.

The Patriots, showing a bit of rust from their mid-season week off, struggled at the outset of the contest. Classical jumped out to an 12-2 lead with their full court pressure and Revere turnovers.

The undermanned Patriots (several members of the team were out with the flu and injuries) battled hard and began to handle the pressure better, but the Rams continued to shoot the ball well and led 25-10 at the end of the first period.

The second quarter was much better for the Patriots, as Revere controlled the tempo and slowly began to creep back into the contest. Senior captain Sebastian Vanegas knocked down a three-pointer and did a great job at the point guard position handling the Classical pressure.

Senior guard Wilkens Altenor made a nice move to the basket and sank two free throws to cut deeper into the Classical lead. The last few minutes before halftime went back and forth, with Classical taking a 37-26 advantage into the break.

Revere senior co-captain Scotty Montefusco (14 points, 3-for-6 on three pointers) kept the Patriots within striking range after the intermission with some sharp shooting from beyond the arc, helping the Patriots whittle the formerly-large Classical lead to five points.

Junior forward Scott Toglan came into the game and played outstanding defense, drawing a pair of charges that pumped up his teammates and shifted the momentum to the Patriots.

Classical called timeout to regroup and came out of the TO with a combination of defensive pressure and accuracy from the free throw line (the Rams were 21-of-27 from the charity stripe on the night) that rebuilt the LC lead back into double figures, 54-36, at the third buzzer.

However, the Patriots, as they have all season, refused to quit and displayed their resiliency. Senior guard Donato Colarossi (seven points, two steals, three blocks) attacked the basket and set up his teammates, while sophomore forwards Wilfredo Martinez (10 points on a perfect 3-for-3 field goals and 4-for-4 free throws) and Dillan Day (five points, five rebounds) made big contributions.

The Patriots also displayed tough, hard-nosed defense, eventually cutting the deficit to 64-57 with 1:50 to go.

However, the effort proved too little, too late as the Rams hit their free throws down the stretch to pull away for a 70-53 victory.

"The turnovers and fouls in the first quarter really hurt us and that was basically the difference in the game," said RHS head coach David Leary. "We needed to be ready from the start but we came out flat. If we did not turn the ball over so much, this is a different game."

"Still, we were proud of the kids for continuing to compete," added the coach. "We are fighting through some adversity right now with flu and injuries, but that is no excuse. We have to learn from this and continue to work hard and improve if we want to reach some of our season goals."

The Patriots, who now stand at 4-6 overall and 3-4 in the Northeastern Conference, were set to travel to rival Winthrop last night (Tuesday) and will host Swampscott Friday evening for Autism Awareness Night. Tip off is set for 7 p.m. at the RHS fieldhouse. The Revere Middle School Team will be scrimmaging the Revere eighth-grade travel team at halftime.

Leary and crew will entertain Lynn English next Wednesday evening.

RHS GIRLS BASKETBALL NIPPED BY CLASSICAL, 48-44

The Revere High girls basketball team came up short against Lynn Classical, 48-44, this past Friday evening at the Roland Merullo Field House.

Lady Patriot junior captain Erika Cheever turned in a fine effort, scoring a team-high 16 points despite being shadowed with her every step by a Classical defender.

Caroline Stasio turned in a monster performance, narrowly missing a triple double, with eight points, 16 rebounds, and 10 blocked shots.

Skyla DeSimone hit for a solid nine points on the night, while Katie O'Donnell turned in a hard-nosed, gritty performance on defense, despite giving up almost eight inches to her opponent.

"The team gave an outstanding effort against a good, big Lynn Classical team," said RHS head coach Matt Willis.

Willis and his crew have their busiest stretch of the season this week and next with six games in 11 days. They were set to host Winthrop last night (Tuesday) and will travel to Melrose tonight (Wednesday) for a non-league contest. They will play at Swampscott Friday evening and then return home Monday to entertain Triton, another non-league opponent.

Next Wednesday they will travel to Lynn English before returning home next Friday to face Salem.

RHS GIRLS TRACK EDGED BY GLOUCESTER

The Revere High girls indoor track and field team fought hard in a closely-battled meet with Gloucester, coming out on the short end of a 45-36 decision, last Tuesday at the Merullo Field House.

The Lady Patriots captured first place in three of the nine individual events:

Kiana Napolitano – Shot-Put (28'-7")

Olivia Novoselsky – Mile (6:32)

Fatima Hartout – 2 Mile (14:14)

Scoring three points for Revere with second place finishes were:

Lily Dellalacono – 50Y Dash (6.9)

Nubya Filho – 600M (2:05.6)

Thalia Ramos – 1,000M (3:50.2)

Jenna Wells – Shot-Put (26'-5")

Taylor Sujko – High Jump (4'-8")

Adding single points with third place performances were:

Luana Barbosa – 50Y Hurdles (8.7)

Kiana Napolitano – 50Y Dash (6.9)

Emily DeMauro – 300M (50.4)

Gabby Mogavero – Mile (7:30)

Elijah Godfrey – 2 Mile (15:59)

"Overall I was pleased with the girls performances," said RHS head coach Antonio LaBruna. "Gloucester has a lot of top-end talent and it showed as they won six of the nine events."

"We had a ton of personal records," continued LaBruna. "Taylor Sujko had her best meet of the season, running a PR of 7.0 in the dash and jumping 4'-8" in high jump. She had a good attempt at 4'-10" which would have qualified her for states."

"Thalia Ramos surprised me with a fast time in the 1,000," LaBruna added. "She usually runs the 600, but I bumped her up due to an injury and she looked extremely comfortable. She'll certainly be running that event again."

The Lady Patriots' next meet is set for today (Wednesday) at home against Beverly.

Governor awards Northeast Vocational School over $100,000 in grant

The Baker-Polito Administration awarded nearly $3.3 million in Skills Capital Grants to 31 high schools and educational institutions, enabling the schools to acquire the newest technologies to educate students and expand programs. Northeast Vocational School of Wakefield was included among the recipients.

The Governor and his three Cabinet secretaries on the Workforce Skills Cabinet made the announcement at Shawsheen Regional Technical High School, which has received more than $1 million in Skills Capital Grants over the past three years.

With the announcement, the Baker-Polito Administration has awarded more than $52 million to 188 different programs over the past three years. Through the grants, schools have been able to expand their enrollment capacity, adding more than 10,000 additional students in educational programs across the Commonwealth.

This round of Skills Capital Grants aimed to give funds to educational institutions which focused on helping residents with barriers to employment, including those who are unemployed or underemployed, lack English proficiency, or residents who do not have degrees or certificates and need new skills to obtain good-paying jobs.

Along with awarding the new grants, Gov. Baker announced an additional $12 million is available for schools to apply for now. The 2018 Economic Development Bill, filed by the Governor and passed by the Legislature, established an additional $75 million in funding for Skills Capital Grants. The grants range from $50,000 to $500,000.

The goal of the Skills Capital Grants is to help high schools, colleges and other educational institutions invest in the most up-to-date training equipment to give their students an advantage when they continue in their chosen field or particular area of study. The Skills Capital Grants cover a broad array of fields, from construction and engineering to healthcare and hospitality.

“Skills Capital Grants impact the education of thousands of young people across the Commonwealth and give them new opportunities and skills for a successful future,” Gov. Charlie Baker said. “We are proud of the 10,000 new seats that have been added to these programs across Massachusetts and we look forward to continuing our work with schools and teachers to give more students the experience and knowledge that employers demand.”

“Skills Capital Grants create important career pathways for both students and adult learners across the Commonwealth to support key industries,” Lt. Gov. Karyn Polito said. “Each program we visit is full of inspiring students excited to work with new equipment, so we look forward to this next round of grants and what it will mean for Massachusetts schools.”

The competitive grants are awarded to educational institutions that demonstrate partnerships with local businesses, as well as align curriculum and credentials with industry demand, in order to maximize hiring opportunities in each region of the state.

Northeast Metropolitan Vocational School received $106,320 for STEM Occupation: Drafting, Design, Computer Opportunities.

Northeast Metropolitan Vocational School will create an eight-week program to increase access to STEM-related industries through the use of advanced computer applications. The Drafting and Design program will serve as the base for this program with the long-range goal to develop design programmers. The district will also introduce night school classes to serve non-vocational students including individuals who are unemployed, underemployed, veterans, and those who are disabled. Additionally, 900 Grade 9 vocational students will take a one-week exploratory course. The school partners include the Shark Ninja and i-robot corporations.

garage will be entered and exited from Condor Street, which has access to Meridian Street.

According to the developer's attorney, Richard Lynds, the project would create a residential development combining market-rate and affordable housing opportunities.

The four-story building will have roof decks and a more modern facade with wood accents to match the somewhat industrial look of the building across the street along the Chelsea Creek.

Recently the Eagle Hill Civic Association (EHCA) voted 23 to 9 in support of the project at 101 Condor St.

"In planning the building, great care was given to respecting the proximity and nature of abutting properties, which share boundaries with the site, as well as modifications made during the community outreach process to create appropriate setbacks from neighboring properties and to ensure that the height is consistent with the surrounding built environment," said Lynds. "As a result, the proposed building has been designed and scaled to complement the surrounding neighborhood and streets including Condor and Brooks streets, the area's ongoing multi-family residential developments, the surrounding commercial and retail uses, and the proximity to public transportation."

Lynds added that the creation of eighteen new residential units will include up to two affordable units under the City of Boston Inclusionary Development Policy (IDP).

If the project receives BPDA approval next month the developer will look for zoning relief from the Boston Zoning Board of Appeals.

Lynds said variances needed will include Use, Rear Yard, Floor Area Ratio, Height and Parking.

If his client receives all his permits, Lynds said construction on the project should begin in the summer.

The BPDA's Michael Sinatra said the Public Comment Period for the project is still open and will close on Jan. 25, 2019.

ADULT-USE MARIJUANA BUSINESS LOOKING TO OPEN

EAST BOSTON – If you are looking for equity in the state's emerging adult use marijuana business look no further than the proposal put forth by a group of East Bostonians at Monday night's Jeffries Point Neighborhood Association meeting.

When drafting how the state would roll out adult use marijuana facilities across the state the Cannabis Commission implemented a variety of programs to actively engage people from communities of disproportionate impact and ensure their inclusion in the legal cannabis industry.

Many programs were developed in response to evidence which demonstrates that certain geographic areas and demographic populations, particularly African Americans and Latinos, have been disproportionately impacted by high rates of arrest and incarceration for cannabis and other drug crimes as a result of state and federal drug policy. Criminalization has had long-term negative effects, not only on the individuals arrested and incarcerated, but on their families and communities.

Additionally, a legislative mandate requires a study of minorities, women, and veteran business enterprises in the cannabis industry in order to give these groups a fair shot at getting into a business dominated in other state's by big corporations and wealthy financiers.

On Monday Luis Vasco, Steven Vasco, Nick Spagnola, and Julis Soko, owners of East Boston Bloom LLC gave an informational presentation on their plans to open an adult use marijuana facility on the ground floor of a building owned by the Vasco Family in Maverick Square.

The presentation was very similar to the other five or six adult-use facilities being proposed in the community. There will be top-notch state-of-the-art security, a high level of professionalism, a floor plan that ensures access to the facility is by adults 21 years or older. There will be no advertising, flashy signs or the ability to see the product being sold from the street. In fact, according to Vasco, customers will come in, place an order and the product will be retrieved from a locked vault in the back of the store.

East Boston Bloom's proposal has gained the attention of many in the community looking for local entrepreneurs to emerge and take advantage of the new emerging business instead of outsiders with deep pockets looking to cash in on the community.

All partners in East Boston Bloom from the Vascos to Spagnola and Soko are longtime Eastie residents with Luis Vasco being a celebrated business owner for the past 15 years. Vasco and his family have run Taco Mex in the square without incident and is a popular destination for thousands of residents.

The East Boston Bloom proposal was recently mentioned in an Op-Ed by City Councilor Lydia Edwards.

"As the new industry emerges in Massachusetts, residents who know and are trusted in their neighborhoods, are best suited to open up shop," wrote Edwards. "Enter Luis Vascos. An immigrant from Colombia, Luis has lived in East Boston for 25 years. He has a restaurant for the past 15 years with no incident. His children are born and raised here and his son is an Iraq veteran who will be his business partner. Luis has everything to lose if he does not get this right--there is no other place for him to go. He knew better than to grab the cheap-est lease for two years without speaking to the operators of the methadone clinic next door. He knows about the extreme traffic woes we have in East Boston and has proposed a retail cannabis shop across the street from the MBTA Blue Line. Boston can ensure a fair and equitable roll-out of the industry that acknowledges local concerns, including reasonable public health accommodations. The city should be cautious, however, of companies that parachute in with a poor community process and without any regard for their would-be neighbors. The best entrepreneurs, people like Luis Vascos, will emerge out of the neighborhoods they hold dear."

At the meeting there were some concerns over traffic, an increase in loitering and the message that having an adult-use marijuana facility sends to people living outside of Eastie and whether it will cheapen the neighborhood profile or elevate it.

Aside from these concerns many felt East Boston Bloom's proposed location was a lot better than other adult use facilities that were recently proposed on Meridian Street just outside Central Square and Porter Street a few doors down from the substance abuse treatment facility North Suffolk Mental Health Association.

The group held a second presentation this week on Wednesday, Jan 16, at Paris Street Community Center.

LYNN – Bridgewell dedicated "The Kelly J. Martin Center" at a ceremony in honor of its former CEO's outstanding 35-year career at the social and human services organization located on Boston Street in Lynn.

Following is Interim CEO Chris Tuttle's remarks at the memorial tribute to Kelly J. Martin:

It's an important day for all of us and it's an important day for Bridgewell. I would like to thank Mayor McGee for coming today. Thank you very much.

We're gathered here today to honor Kelly, a very special person to all of us here. One of the things that struck me when I got to know Kelly is her telling her story to me.

All of you know Kelly started her career here at Bridgewell 35 years ago. She started as the director at Saugus Geriatrics and over her career moved up and ultimately became the CEO of Bridgewell.

Kelly's work here was so meaningful to all of us. Kelly's time here is incredibly important. One of the things I learned that Kelly, during her career here when she was in college, actually started off as a computer science major.

And because of her time here and her work with the individuals, Kelly switched her major to social work. What also struck me in the time that I got to know Kelly, and also talking with the staff and with the individuals, is Kelly's ability to move forward our agenda, our individuals' agenda, and continuously work toward making people's lives better.

That's what's going to stick with us. One of the things as we move forward at Bridgewell is Kelly will always be with us. Kelly's DNA is woven in to the fabric of Bridgewell. And it's who Bridgewell is. Thirty-five years, she will be with us forever.

Her spirit, her kindness, her innovation, her dedication – that is who we are and it is part of our mission and Kelly is a significant reason and a big part of who we are and what our mission is.

I want to take time in recognizing and thanking Kelly's family for being here, but also thanking Kelly's family for sharing Kelly with us. Thirty-five years in human service, to do it well as Kelly did, you were dedicated to your family, you were dedicated to your work.

And there were often times, I'm sure, that Kelly had to be at work when she much rather be at home. So for Bridgewell, we are in deep gratitude to Kelly's family for sharing her with us for all this time.

I have deep gratitude for Kelly for giving me the opportunity to be part of Bridgewell. I don't take lightly that I was Kelly's last hire. I will always hold that and cherish that. I will continue to work to move Bridgewell in the path that Kelly had started over this time.

So it is our pleasure and honor not just to dedicate the building, but the programs that sit in this building and call it and have it, The Kelly J. Martin Center.

NO SMOKING AT PARKS OR BEACH AFTER MAY 1

WINTHROP – The Board of Health has approved changes to the town's smoking regulations that will go into effect on May 1.

The newly revised workplace and public places smoking regulations prohibit smoking, including e-cigarettes, in parks, at town beaches, there is also now a buffer zone of 25 feet around municipal properties. Smoking is prohibited inside membership associations/private clubs, but is allowed in an outdoor area.

Board of Health Chairman Bill Schmidt said the board has been working on these for the past several months, with input from Bonny Carroll, of the Six City Tobacco Initiative, and DJ Wilson of the Massachusetts Municipal Association. A public hearing was held in December.

The new regulations also carry a fine of $25 to $100 per violation. State law states it is a $100 fine to smoke on beach and other places, but the Winthrop Board of Health also wanted to establish a $25 fine for those smoking or vaping in places where smoking is prohibited.

The use of e-cigarettes is prohibited wherever smoking is prohibited per M.G.L. Ch. 270, §22 and Section 4(c) of this regulation.

Pursuant to M.G.L. Ch. 270, §22(j) smoking is also hereby prohibited in:

1. Retail Tobacco Stores
2. Smoking Bars
3. Town-Owned Playgrounds, Parks, Beaches and Athletic Fields
4. the area within 25 feet of any municipal building entranceway accessible to the public, except that this shall not apply to a smoker transiting through such 25 foot area nor to a smoker approaching an entranceway with the intention of extinguishing a tobacco product.
5. Enclosed indoor spaces of Membership Associations (private clubs)
6. Nursing Homes
7. Hotels, Motels, Bed & Breakfast Rooms
8. All outdoor areas of restaurants, bars and taverns where food and/or beverages are sold, served or otherwise consumed
9. Bus Stop Shelters and Waiting Areas

FRIENDS, COLLEAGUES REMEMBER MIKE MCDUFFEE

WINTHROP –There was no shortage of stories being passed around at the Elks Club as friends and family joined together to celebrate the life of Precinct 1 Councilor Mike McDuffee, a man who was known as a source of light in a sometimes-dark world. While it is agreed by all that the town of Winthrop has suffered a great loss from the passing of McDuffee, his memory will live on in the many stories that those closest to him will continue to share.

"It was a pleasure knowing Mike, he was like a big brother to me," said Ed Stasio, who met Mike on a roofing crew right after high school.

Stasio and McDuffee played hockey together for 20 years and spent countless Saturday evenings in a barn behind Stasio's house, along with several other close friends. McDuffee and his brother Bob were known for their competitive nature and were deemed the "Evil Empire," during dart games at the weekly gatherings.

McDuffee's humor was at its best when he was spending time with his friends at the barn, and he will forever be known for inventing the "hole in the beer can initiation." Always the joker, McDuffee took pride in poking a hole in the top of a beer can before offering it to his latest victim, typically a first-timer of the barn. The victim would inevitably end up with beer dribbling down his chin and shirt, and McDuffee would be hovered over in an uncontrollable fit of laughter.

Precinct 5 Councilor Pete Christopher was the last of McDuffee's victims to be on the receiving end of the beer can prank. According to Christopher, McDuffee's prank was well-practiced, always starting out in a hospitable gesture, and ending up in endless laughter.

"It's done so perfectly that you would question if you are mistakenly dribbling, and after a couple of sips you ask yourself what it wrong with your mouth," said Christopher, who admitted that it only took him three sips before he caught on. "That was classic Mike, having fun with everyone."

"He was a salt-of-the-earth kind of guy," Precinct 5 Councilor Pete Christopher.

McDuffee's life was filled with moments that have transpired into memories. As friends and family members continue to gather, the stories that McDuffee was known for will be passed around, creating smiles, laughter, and a legacy that will never be forgotten.

"Michael was a private but loving man whose faith guided his actions, words and deeds," said resident, Sean Donahue. "He strove always to be the best he could be - family man, business man, athlete, politician, neighbor, and friend. He lived a clean life and I never heard Michael speak badly about anyone. He was always upbeat, cheerful, and friendly, yet, he was passionate about his beliefs, political or otherwise. He wasn't afraid to take a position on an issue and, if necessary, vigorously fight for it. He was a champion to so many people. The Town of Winthrop is truly a better place because of Michael McDuffee. He will be missed.

Getting Out

THE WOLVES

By Sheila Barth

We’re seated on set designer Shelley Barish’s three-sided, netted indoor soccer court, with green turf on the back wall and floor. Eight teen-age girls come bustling in, with one more trailing behind. They’re warming up, doing their routine calisthenics.

We are part of their world - with little said about boy-friends, but more about playing hard despite embarrassing menstrual periods and avoiding disgusting porta-pottys.

They laugh, chatter, gossip, poke fun, but also discuss some serious global issues, such as a Cambodian murderer, Cambodia’s Khmer Rouge genocidal scourge, and more.

“I’ve been to Cambodia!,” #46 chimes in. She’s a newcomer to this tight, competitive, suburban team, and she’s trying desperately to fit in. When the word emphysema is bandied about, she injects with, “My grandmother has emphysema!,” like Kristen Wiig’s one-upper character, Penelope, in former “Saturday Night Live” shows. Self-consciously and awkwardly, she tries to do whatever the other girls are doing.

The girls learn later that she’s never played soccer before. She played football-soccer. And she was (gasp)! home-schooled! She lives in a yurt - a portable, circular structure- , which the girls’ giggle about, calling it yogurt.

Her string of outbursts make a lot of sense later.

Under Director A. Nora Long’s artistic leadership, accomplished actress Lydia Barnett-Mulligan is charming and touching, capturing ‘new girl’ teen-age angst in Sarah DeLappe’s 90-minute, Pulitzer Prize finalist. one-act play, “The Wolves”.

No, the girls aren’t part of the popular movie-TV werewolf-vampire genre. Their team’s name is the Wolves, and like a pack working in unison, they hope to win, win, win, and compete in the nationals, rumored to be held in Miami. #8 (Julia Lennon) blurts out, “I want to go to DisneyWorld,” and she’ll work hard to win, and make it happen. Later, she bawls and howls when she’s told the nationals will be in Tulsa instead.

The entire cast of 10 is a tightly-woven group, much like the teammates they’re depicting. Some of the actresses are soccer players, others are beginners, but they handle the ball, do calisthenics in unison, without being coached, and give theatergoers a bird’s-eye peek into their characters’ psyches. During their pre-game or practice warm-ups, half-time, and jubilant win over a national championship-winning team, the girls envelop us, at times running up the aisle stairs or around the theater’s perimeter.

Through their chatter, we learn one girl is Armenian. Another exhibits an eating disorder. Then. too, #7, (Olivia Z. Cote) drops f-bombs with every other word, making us immune to its shock factor, but her teammates still cringe at her colorful speech. She becomes injured in a ski trip and can’t play the rest of the season.

We’re also privy to #00’s (Simone Black) very private secret - she had an abortion awhile ago.

The girls are also acutely aware scouts are watching them, perhaps to recruit them to high performing teams.

The play doesn’t end happily. There’s tragedy, revealed when Laura Latreille, portraying distraught Soccer Mom, comes to cheer the team on, during a heart-wrenching scene.

Sara Elizabeth Bedard, Valerie Terranova, Jarielle Whitney, Chelsea Evered, Grace Experience and Julia Lennon round out the cast.
