Call center sees sharp increase during wind storm

The City of Revere 311 Call Center experienced a 40 to 50 increase in calls during the windy weather on Monday and Tuesday. In an average day the center receives 80-100 calls. During the wind storm the center was busy.

Last Wednesday afternoon at the Licensing Commission meeting a marriage took place between the Mottolo Post and DeMaino's at Casa Lucia. From now on the Mottolo Post will be on the lower-level with its own small room to rent while DeMaino's will run a function business on the top-level, entirely separate from the post.

DeLeo announces GreenWorks Resilient Communities Investment

House Speaker Robert A. DeLeo announced a new initiative to invest $1 billion over the next 10 years to help communities across Massachusetts adopt technologies – including clean energy, energy efficiency, and climate change resiliency measures – that cut greenhouse gas emissions, fortify infrastructure and reduce municipal costs.

The proposal – known as GreenWorks – builds on a long-standing House approach providing concrete tools directly to communities with an immediate impact.

"This long-term investment will help Massachusetts cities and towns build sustainable and resilient communities," said Speaker DeLeo, (D – Winthrop). "Not only will cities and towns have the ability to cut greenhouse gases and lower long-term energy and operating costs, but they will adopt Massachusetts-made innovative technologies and put people to work on cleantech infrastructure projects."

These competitive grants are for cities and towns to

Councillors discuss numerous issues at Monday's meeting

By Journal Staff

The Revere City Council met on Monday night and discussed issues ranging from double street poles to short-term housing rentals to making sure that absentee landlords keep their sidewalks free from ice and snow.

"Businesses like AirBnB are getting out of control in our city," said Council President Arthur Guinasso. "Parking is a major issue. I see a car with Florida plates parked in front of my home and it has not moved for a week," he said. Councillor Patrick Keefe said that he and Guinasso are working on an ordinance on short-term rentals.

A motion was put forward by Councillor at Large Jessica Giannino and Ward 1 Councillor Jo-anne McKenna to strengthen the existing ordinance on snow and ice removal from sidewalks. McKenna noted that this would also include sump pumps that spill water onto sidewalks. Ward 5 Councillor John Powers also looked to fine owners of property who live outside the city for not having their sidewalks free of snow and ice. A resident noted that the sidewalks around Costa Park are not very well cleared by the city.

Councillors also passed a motion to have Massport officials appear before the Council to answer questions about flight paths in Revere airspace. McKenna said, "Every two minutes planes fly over Beachmont, and the residents in this neighborhood have their quality of life negatively im-pacted. There is a an increase rate of COPD

Sen. Boncore, Madaro file legislation to address traffic woes

By John Lynds

At a community meeting called by elected officials, MassDOT was forced to admit that when designing the new entrance into the Sumner Tunnel the state agency used outdated traffic projections. MassDOT predicted traffic going into the tunnel would grow by .5 percent each year.

Going on those projections traffic into the Sumner should have only grown by 2.5 percent from 2013 to 2018. However, MassDOT engineer Andrew Paul said at last week's meeting that traffic has exploded and there was a whopping 47 percent increase in tunnel traffic since 2013. That is nearly 45 percent more than MassDOT predicted over the same time period.

This represented a growth 20 times what MassDOT expected.

Sen. Joseph Boncore (Chair of the Joint Committee on Transportation) and Rep. Adrian Madaro (Vice Chair of the Joint Committee on Transportation) have teamed up to file a package of bills to address the growing traffic

Fiesta Shows set to open on March 21

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

Get ready for a good snow storm in March or April because the Licensing Commission has approved a permit for Fiesta Shows to come to town once again.

Traditionally it snows at least once when Fiesta open its first show of the season in the Showcase Cinema parking lot off Squire Road on March 21 and close on April 15 operating every day from 3-11 p.m.

This year the License Commission reminded show owner John Flynn of years past when there were incidences but they noted that last year was a good year with no problems. This is credited to beefed up security and the installation of cameras around the cinema.

“In the past sometimes I voted for this sometimes against,” said Commissioner Linda Guinasso. “I’ve looked at other cities and towns and I wonder why they allow the show, and it all comes down to the money. It’s hard to turn this money down for the kids.”

The funds do go to the McCarthy-Trifone fund, which is used to support sports in the city.

Ward 5 Councillor John Powers said Flynn has stepped up over the years.

Jane D’Angelo, president of the McCarthy-Trifone fund said without the carnival there would be no other means of money for the fund.

“He has been very generous even in the years it snowed and rained,” she said.

Veterans organizations get discount on licensing fees

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

There are three veterans’ organizations in Revere and each one is struggling with membership numbers with older veterans dying off and younger veterans not joining their local post.

For the past few years all the posts have been paying $1,300 a year in license fees to the city. Ward 2 Councillor and veteran Ira Novoselsky made a motion during a recent City Council meeting for the fee to be cut in half. The council agreed with the motion and the mayor agreed it was a good idea. Last Wednesday afternoon the Licensing Commission agreed but Chairman Robert Selevitch took it one step further and slashed the license fee to $500 for a year.

“It’s something we as a city should be doing to help out veterans and their organizations,” Novoselsky said. “It shows support and gives some community engagement.”

Don Swicker of the Mot-to Post acknowledged it would help.

“We are struggling,” said James Sintra of American Legion Post 61.

“We should do as much as we can for out veterans,” said Commissioner John LaCroix.

METRO CREDIT UNION LAUNCHES A BED FOR EVERY CHILD INITIATIVE

Metro Credit Union announces the launch of a company-wide campaign that will support local organizations serving families with young children who struggle with housing insecurity. The Credit Union encourages employees to “dress down” and wear jeans to work on one Friday each month in exchange for a $5 donation to support a charitable cause. Metro then matches the amount of the pooled donation to be given to a specific charity.

Metro’s 2019 dress down day fundraisers will focus on building beds for children within the Credit Union’s branch communities. Through the generous donations received during the monthly dress down days, and the match provided by Metro, the Credit Union will partner with Coalition for the Homeless and local organizations to deliver beds, a stuffed animal, a book, and bedding for local children. As part of this campaign, Metro will host a build-a-bed event for employees who have volunteered to help construct the beds.

Many families in Massachusetts who experience housing insecurity have young children. A good night’s sleep has a significant impact on a child’s ability to arrive at school ready to learn, and falling behind at school can have negative long-term consequences affecting a student’s education and future. A proven pathway out of homelessness is to ensure children of low-income families receive an education that will enable them to graduate from high school. To do this, children must be provided with the tools they need to succeed, and one of the tools is a bed.

“At the end of the day, a child without a bed will have more obstacles to success. The future of the children in our community is incredibly important to us,” says Charlene Bauer, Chief Development Officer, SVP Advocacy and Outreach. “Metro is proud to employ so many generous people who are excited about this campaign and wish to donate their time and money to this great cause. We look forward to seeing the initiative grow!”

Metro Credit Union is the largest state-chartered credit union in Massachusetts, approaching $1.8 billion in assets. Metro provides a full range of financial products to more than 200,000 members in Essex, Middlesex, Suffolk, Norfolk, Plymouth, Barnstable, Bristol and Worcester counties in Massachusetts, and Rockingham and Hillsborough counties in New Hampshire, as well as to employees of over 1,200 companies through its Metro@work program.

Founded in 1926, Metro currently operates 15 branch offices in Boston, Burlington, Chelsea, Framingham, Lawrence, Lynn, Melrose, Newton, Peabody, Salem, and Tewksbury. Metro is also a Juntos Avanzamos (“Together We Advance”) designated credit union, an honor given to financial institutions for their commitment to serving and empowering Hispanic and immigrant consumers. Officials happy with federal wetlands protection

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

Winthrop, Revere and Lynn are in good shape when it comes to protecting marshland and wetlands through the Wetlands Protection Act.

Winthrop and Revere share the Belle Isle Marsh with East Boston. Revere and Lynn also share the Rumney Marsh.

Boston City Councilor Michelle Wu re-filed a wetlands protection ordinance for Boston recently to protect wetland areas in the city and its portion of the Belle Isle Marsh. Having tools in place to protect wetlands also helps mitigate global climate change.

Wu is hoping her ordinance will strengthen the city’s ability to fight climate change and reasonably regulate develop-ment.

Boston is only one of three coastal communities without a wetlands ordinance to protect areas such as the Belle Isle Marsh.

“We do have a wetlands by-law, but it doesn’t specifically mention Belle Isle Marsh,” said Winthrop Conservation Commission chairman Norm Hyett, who added that at the next ConCom meeting they may discuss further protec-tions.

Nick Moulaison, interim ConCom chairman in Revere said the city also looks to a wetlands protection bylaw for protection of wetlands and the Belle Isle Marsh.

Lynn too looks to a Wetlands Protection Bylaw to protect marshes and critical areas.

“Lynn’s local by-laws include marshes already and have since they were written,” said Mary Lester, chair of Lynn’s Conservation Commission. “We treat marshes the same as any other fresh-water wetland area, as far as protection is concerned.”

She added that Lynn does have marshes as well as Areas of Critical Environmental Concern (ACEC).

Revere too goes by the city Wetlands By-law when it comes to protecting the wetlands.

Loyal Order of the Moose gets a reprieve; 30 days remain before doors are closed for good

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

The Licensing Commission has given the Loyal Order of the Moose 30 days to get its act together or cease to exist.

For the past year the private social club on Broadway has been struggling internally, so much so that regional and national representatives of Moose International had to come to Revere to help sort everything out. It has been reported that allegedly there was a problem with manage-ment and other serious issues to contend with.

Other problems that came out during meeting with the License Commission, last Wednesday afternoon included failed inspectional reports, the owing of back taxes to the city and an issue with the Lot-tery Commission.

”We’ve got a lot of issues going on,“ said Bruce Powell, a Regional Manager of the Moose organization.

“This is an excellent motion,” Powers said. “The planes fly low over the Point of Pines neighbor-hood. These plane paths should be more over the water.”

Councillors also heard from representatives of Comcast and Verizon on their work to get rid of the double poles. The representative from National Grid could not attend due to working on power outages from Monday’s wind-storm. The representatives noted that the numbers of double poles are down to 85 citywide. They also noted that some of the work is taking longer as the companies are waiting for the City to pay their share on replacement of the poles since school lines use those poles. Ward 2 Councillor Ira Novoselsky noted some of the double pole issues go back to 2016.

The following motions were discussed at Monday’s meeting.

Stabbing victim dies, police still searching for suspects

By John Lynds

The Revere man who was a victim of a stabbing in East Boston died from the injuries he sustained last Wednesday.

The victim, Alfred Rodriguez is a father of two and owns of a barber shop on Shirley Avenue in Revere with his brother, succumbed to his injuries last Wednesday at an area hospital after being stabbed in the chest in the early morning hours of Sunday, February 17.

Friends are now mourning the man they say was humble, regularly gave free haircuts to people who couldn’t afford them and never looked for trouble.

A night out for Rodriguez turned deadly on Feb. 17 when police were called to Modelo Bar in East Boston at 2 a.m. that morning. Police found Rodriguez suffering from a stab wound to the chest. He was rushed to a local hospital with life-threatening injuries. He survived for nearly three days before passing away Wednesday.

Police continue searching for three people caught on security cameras that may have information on the attack.

Police said that the three individuals, one male and two females, are not considered suspects at this time but they would like help from the public in identifying the three people that were in the area at the time of the stabbing.

“These individuals are not wanted at this time,” Boston

Police said in a statement. “This information is being provided for identification purposes only.”

The Boston Police Department is actively reviewing the facts and circumstances surrounding this incident. Anyone with information is strongly urged to contact Boston Police Homicide Detectives at (617) 343-4470.

MASSACHUSETTS
GREENWORKS IS AN INVESTMENT IN OUR PRESENT
-- AND FUTURE

The announcement last week by House Speaker Robert A. DeLeo that the state will be investing $1 billion over the next decade to help communities across Massachusetts adopt technologies to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and fortify infrastructure is welcome news to everyone who realizes that time is running out if we are to offset the inevitable effects of climate change that already are taking place all around us.

The proposal – known as GreenWorks – builds on a long-standing approach by the House under Speaker DeLeo’s leadership to provide the means for our cities and towns (especially along the coast) to build sustainable and resilient communities that hopefully will prepare us for the impending threats posed by rising sea levels and catastrophic weather events.

Environmental groups and clean-energy businesses across the state have praised the plan. The $1 billion investment envisioned by the GreenWorks proposal not only will provide cities and towns with the ability to cut greenhouse gases and lower their long-term energy and operating costs, but it also will adopt Massachusetts-made innovative technologies that will put people to work on clean-tech infrastructure projects.

These competitive grants, to be administered by the governor’s Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs, will provide funding for a wide array of projects, including energy-efficient buildings, solar, microgrids, energy storage, electric vehicle charging stations, and resiliency infrastructure.

Inasmuch as the GreenWorks plan presents an opportunity to pursue innovative approaches to funding clean energy and climate-change resiliency projects, the economic and environmental benefits of GreenWorks grants will be felt immediately, while also expanding the state’s commitment to embracing cost-effective investments in leading-edge clean technologies.

In our view, the GreenWorks program represents a timely part of the overall solution that is essential if we are to address the imperatives we face from the looming catastrophe of climate change. We applaud Speaker DeLeo for taking the lead in advancing a plan that acknowledges this reality and the need to deal with it immediately.

issue that has been affecting not only Eastie but places like Revere and Winthrop.

“It is the number one complaint we get in the office,” said Madaro. “I filed a series of bills in the House and Sen. Boncore did the same in the Senate to address this issue of traffic and congestion in the neighborhood. We are attacking this issue from a number of angles to incentivise public transportation, to decrease the amount of vehicles that are on our streets and a transportation study.

One bill in the duo’s package would implement a congestion pricing pilot program for the tunnels that offers lower tolls at off-peak hours.

“This is an attempt to motivate commuters to stay home during rush hour if they can and travel to work when congestion is not at its peak,” said Madaro.

Sen. Boncore said we are in the midst of a what he calls a ‘perfect storm’ when it comes to traffic in the area.

“We are experiencing unprecedented growth at Logan Airport, in the areas population coupled with new technology like ride-sharing apps and other apps like Waze by Google has been a recipe for disaster,” said Boncore.

Boncore and Madaro’s bills address these issues and aims to impose a $3 fee on any ride-sharing trips from Uber and Lyft entering or exiting Logan International Airport without a passenger.

“This is referred to as ‘dead-heading’ in the industry,” said Madaro. “When the ride-share driver decides to just head over to the airport knowing he will get a fare without a passenger that is may be going to Logan it’s adding to our neighborhood’s congestion. The same can be said when a driver takes a passenger to Logan but doesn’t want to pick up at the airport and instead exits to East Boston to find another fare. The money raised by these fees would go into a fund that would be used to fund transportation infrastructure improvements.”

Massport allowed ride sharing companies like Uber and Lyft to begin doing business at Logan Airport in the middle of the project to replace the Sumner Tunnel tolls plaza. According to MassDOT Logan represents almost a third of the all the traffic flowing into the Sumner during the morning commute and over half of all the traffic in the evening. Boncore said Uber and Lyft were responsible for 10 million pick-up and drop-off trips at Logan in 2018. That represents roughly 10,000 trips per day in and out of Eastie using the neighborhood’s tunnels. “Growth at the airport is increasing and trips to and from the airport are at a historic high,” said Boncore.

Also, new apps like Waze by Google that help motorists avoid traffic have had dire effects on the traffic.

“There’s no doubt that people’s quality of life have been impacted by the congestion,” said Madaro. “This is not just a transportation issue it’s also a public safety issue and a public health issue. In terms of public safety, God forbid we have to get an ambulance or other emergency vehicles through the tunnel during rush hour it is near impossible. We have to be able to get those vehicles to the other side of the tunnel were all the hospitals are in a timely fashion. IN terms of public health we now have thousands of idling vehicles on populated streets that have never experienced this level of traffic before. This combining factors have no doubt led to a decrease in quality of life.”

fund projects including, but not limited to energy efficient buildings, solar, microgrids, energy storage, electric vehicle charging stations, or resiliency infrastructure. Under the proposal, the Executive Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs will administer the grants through its agencies.

“Under Speaker DeLeo’s leadership, the GreenWorks plan represents an exciting opportunity to pursue innovative approaches to funding clean energy, energy efficiency, and climate change resiliency projects that will make a real impact in cities and towns across the Commonwealth,” said Rep. Thomas A. Golden, Jr. (D-Lowell), Chair of the Joint Committee on Telecommunications, Utilities, and Energy. “I applaud the Speaker’s strong commitment to advancing Massachusetts towards a clean energy future, and I look forward to productive conversations in the House.”

Speaker DeLeo unveiled the legislation during a visit to the Greentown Labs Global Center for Cleantech Innovation. Located in Somerville, Greentown Labs is the largest cleantech business incubator in the United States. Since its founding in 2011, it has graduated more than 170 companies with more than 86 percent of them still in operation. “Greentown Labs’ mission is to support cleantech startups and help get their technologies to market,” said Emily Reichert, CEO of GreenTown Labs. “We’re excited to learn of Speaker DeLeo’s new GreenWorks plan and eager to see the positive impact it will make on deploying cleantech and clean energy solutions across the Commonwealth.”

“NECEC commends Speaker DeLeo for his leadership on helping cities and towns across the Commonwealth accelerate their transition to a clean and resilient economy,” said Northeast Clean Energy Council President Peter Rothstein. “Creative steps towards addressing climate change need to be taken now, and the legislation announced today will allow Massachusetts communities to invest in and deploy the latest innovations in clean energy. The timely economic and environmental benefits of GreenWorks grants will be felt immediately, while also expanding the Commonwealth’s market signals over the next decade, embracing cost-effective investments in leading edge clean technologies.”

“ELM welcomes Speaker DeLeo’s announcement. The Commonwealth has so much to gain from proactively investing in resiliency and sustainability – and so much to lose from inertia,” said Environmental League of Massachusetts President Elizabeth Henry. “We look forward to working with the Speaker and the Legislature to craft an effective program.”

“Supporting communities – large and small – to reduce carbon emissions through energy efficiency and clean energy initiatives is a smart and powerful solution,” said Sue Coakley, Executive Director of Northeast Energy Efficiency Partnerships (NEEP). “NEEP applauds efforts to fund Massachusetts community leadership to provide inspiring and impactful building decarbonization solutions, and look forward to assisting these efforts.”

ARTICLE 839 - REMEMBER REVERE BEACH DANCING?

Once in a while our “Then & Now” Articles wander just beyond our peninsula’s borders (Winthrop’s) to address areas that have been of interest to our residents in the past such as, Orient Heights (where the Winthrop Narrow Gauge Railroad joined the rail line to the East Boston Ferry service to Boston), the Rumney Marsh Cemetery in Revere (where Deane Winthrop is buried) and Apple and Governor’s islands just off our harbor coastline (which are now part of the airport). Today we want to take a glimpse of the lower end of Revere Beach where many of us remember dancing at the Ocean View Ballroom”. In 1846, the community known today as Revere became a township under the name of North Chelsea, which in 1871 became Revere. So, in turn Chelsea Beach became Revere Beach. In 1896, the MDC established the first National Seashore and relocated the Narrow Gauge Railroad, that ran along the beach to Lynn, 500 yards west to a new location parallel to the beach. The new shore drive was planned with absolutely no buildings on the ocean side except for the pavilions and restrooms. On the west side of the railroad track, where the Wonderland Race Track and a Shopping Center are today, the land was developed into a large amusement park which in the early 1900s was slowly relocated to be along the beach as we remember it. As can be seen in picture one, “Condit’s Dance Hall” was constructed in 1904, next to Elliot Circle, where it operated as such until 1924 when it was renamed “The Beachcroft”. With some renovations by Mr. Herbert Ridgeway in April of 1928, he created an alluring splendor of Spanish atmosphere and renamed it “Spanish Gables” as shown in picture two. After WWII it was reopened as the “Ocean view Ballroom” which was destroyed by fire in December 1959. The ground floor was devoted to serving food and drinks while the second floor provided a very large dance floor with chairs around it for attendees to enjoy the music of such great “big bands” as Glen Miller, Tommy & Jimmy Dorsey, Benny Goodman, Harry James and others that many of us remember dancing to. One of the customs that existed in the dancing area was that the young people from the communities of Revere, Everett, Winthrop and Chelsea each occupied one of the four corners of the dance floor. As you sat or stood in your corner you would smile and try to catch the eye of someone across the floor who, if they smiled back, you knew that you could go over and ask them to dance. Such was the custom of the times. On the shore side of the Boulevard heading South to Beachmont, where recently constructed condominiums/apartments now stand, was the Ocean Pier Bath house as shown in picture three. It contained two swimming pools, a large one for everyone to enjoy and a small one for women and children. Picture four depicts the larger pool within the building. All this brings back extremely fond memories.

A MISSION OF LOVE AND LIVING THE GOSPEL FOR HAITI

Looking back at Morningstar Catholic Collaborative’s recent trip to Haiti

By Stephen W. Fielding
Special to the Journal

When the Morningstar Catholic Collaborative, consisting of parishioners from St. Mary of the Assumption Parish, Revere and Our Lady of Grace Parish, Chelsea/Everett, embarked on their journey to sister parish - St. Joseph Parish in L’Asile, Haiti on January 29th, their mission, as it has been for twenty-two years, was to simply help the Haitian parish community, working with them side by side, immersing themselves in a mission of love, living the gospel through good works and bringing a beautiful people spiritual joy.

For most, their stay was expected to be two weeks. What they did not expect was a delay of several days and eventually being airlifted by helicopter to Port-au-Prince Airport, a distance of approximately five hours by truck. Requiring needed intervention from the Archdiocese of Boston administration, the team remained in communica-tion with Cardinal Sean O’Malley, daily contact with Fr. Paul Soper, Fr. Bill Joy, and dialogue with Mr. Joe McInnis of the Archdiocese Risk Management staff. They kept in daily connection with Senator Ed Markey’s staff and State Representative RoseLee Vincent along with staffer Ricky Serino. They were able to reach Port-au-Prince Airport and catch a flight to Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., prior to heading back to Boston on Sunday, Feb. 17, 2019. Due to political unrest and violent protests roads were closed, access to Port-au-Prince blocked, and food and water supplies at a standstill. Although they were safe and protected within the confines of St. Joseph’s grounds during this additional time of uncertainty as to when they return home and thanks to the pastor, Fr. Lucan, Assistant pastor, Fr. Colbert, and visiting priest and former pastor, Fr. David, the parish missionaries were able to depart safely.

Revere native Linda DeCristoforo, Pastoral Associate

Fr. Jim Barry peers out the chopper window during the airlift to Port-au-Prince.

of The Morningstar Catholic Collaborative, one of the volunteer parish missionaries, and in her third visit to L’Asile, Haiti, expressed, “We never lost faith or hope even though we couldn’t leave. We just didn’t know how long we had to wait. We were safe, staying on church grounds. Our main concern was they we might run out of medications. We had to be ready at a moment’s notice.” Linda continued, “Finally, a decision to go had to be made. We could only take one carryon bag and leave the rest of our belongs behind. Two helicopters from the Dominican Republic finally landed in an open field near our site and took us to the Port-au-Prince Airport.”

As they flew over the city of Port-au-Prince, Linda realized the emptiness and lack of vehicles and crowdedness. “Port-au-Prince is a very congested, bustling city that is actually bigger than Boston. It was amazing to see what it looked like during the manifestation”

During their tenure in L’Asile, Haiti the volunteer parish missionaries from Revere, Chelsea, and Everett had spent a little over two weeks in L’Asile and surrounding area before being unable to depart for home when scheduled. They had brought donated school supplies, household and hygiene essentials, and other everyday necessities and each day participated in work projects such as cleaning St. Joseph Church and school buildings, refurbishing, painting, and pouring concrete foundations for the kindergarten playground equipment, building retaining walls preventing hillside erosion, repairing church pews and statues, painting school classrooms, and conducting retreats and prayer services. Through generous donations from Revere and Chelsea/Everett parishioners they were able to purchase bags of rice, beans, and other foodstuffs. They were welcomed with open arms by the Haitian community and felt blessed to give, receiving more than they ever imagined.

When asked about how the Haitians lived on a daily basis with no running water, a single well for water to accommodate the entire region, no electricity only workable by either solar panels or generators, she said, “They are grateful for what they have. They are a very loving, caring community with a profound goodness, and a life centered around their church and school. That’s all they have.”

The Haitian community in L’Asile and surrounding area are totally dependent on a water well and pump for cooking, washing clothes, bathing and drinking. It is absolutely a vital part of their lives. There is no running water or plumbing in the homes. The water is pulled from rivers and streams and is not fresh. The local Haitians have built up anti-bodies and drink this. However, the parish missionaries could not. They drank purified water to ensure their health was not compromised. The local people travel major distances and many miles for water, carrying all sorts of containers and buckets. Many walk while others utilize motorcycles, bicycles or donkeys. The team was in awe at how the local community depended on this necessity we normally take for granted. They are grateful for everything they have – particularly their life at St. Joseph Parish. Linda said that despite their poverty, the people dress up every Sunday for church services and actually arrive two to three hours before mass, even before the parish priest gets there, to sing and pray. She noted that, “This is all they have. Their faith sustains them.” She talked about their homes that are made of cement blocks, wood, or natural elements. Many are farmers or merchants. Some are woodworkers. They often sell their fruits and vegetables or other wares at a marketplace.

St. Joseph Parish School consists of 400 children, 180 in the kindergarten. The children dress in very clean uniforms. Their breakfast is usually powdered milk and bread while lunch is rice and beans. These are the only meals they eat each day. The parish team was extremely welcomed by the children.

In addition to St. Joseph Parish in L’Asile, Father Lucan and Colbert visit seven chapel sites located throughout the mountainous areas in the province. These parishioners are visited by the priests once a month. At each visit the priest says mass, performs baptisms, confirmations, weddings, and other sacraments. Linda also cited that music and an upbeat, positive attitude at these visits was amazing. “Going to Haiti has changed my life in a profound way. To see them have so little, live in extreme poverty, yet be so loving and caring has certainly affected me and strengthened my faith. They are so much more holy than I am” During the month prior to the priests’ visits, lay directors hold prayer services, bible studies, and other religious activities.

During their stay the team members were working on playground equipment when thick, black smoke raged into the sky from below where they were located. With no fire department, fire hydrants, hoses, or running water around the parish priest parish ran back to the church, jumped into a pickup truck, retrieved several 50-gallon empty drums and a number of five-gallon buckets, and hurried to a river in order to fill them. As soon as the truck arrived at fire site a bucket brigade was formed including local people who carried brought their own buckets too. Other trucks joined the effort and older students helped. The locals then began to throw rocks on the tin roof to try to collapse it and smother the fire. Eventually the fire dissipated and subsided. Luckily, the fire didn’t spread. One homeowner suffered some burn injuries. He was treated with medical supplies brought from the donations the Morningstar Catholic Collaborative parishioners.

The L’Asile connection began twenty-two years when former Our Lady of Grace pastor, Fr. Jerry Fitzgerald became involved with the Parish 20 Program. Fr. Jim Barry continued it, and it thrives today. Each year a parish team of volunteer missionaries goes to Haiti. They are always on a mission of love and are certainly living the gospel, setting an unbelievable example of Christ through good works.

The Morningstar Haiti Team members included Kristen Ells, Bill Ells, Linda DeCristoforo, Paula Jimenez, Johnny Jimenez, Bob Heinle, Judy Zolla, Linda McElwaney, Noreen Murphy, Eileen Maquire, Fr. Jim Barry, Dieulita Narcisse, and Immacula Cayrad. While in Haiti some members stayed over the entire period while others rotated. There were ten airlifted to the airport.

(Thank you to Linda DeCristoforo for this interview, writing a daily Haiti blog from which some information was obtained, and taking beautiful photos.)

Solutions will evolve from far-sighted political leadership and vibrant businesses that resist narrow-minded thinking and decision making."

Mayor Arrigo thanked businesses for their contributions to the local community, and encouraged bold ideas that will cultivate the successful progress of Revere.

Hello, Dad, in the same old way;
To hear your voice, see your smile,
To sit with you and chat awhile.
So you who have a Dad,
Cherish him with care.

Til you see his vacant chair.

"Tribute To Toddy"

There is a new star shining above the earth tonight
A star that warms the heavens and bathes us in its light

The light of a special woman who lived a happy life
She was the greatest mother and a very special wife

She was a caring person and a very special friend
Her attitude was positive until the very end

The time that we are given here on earth is very short
The ones who leave the quickest are the ones who mean a lot.

We'll miss her friendship dearly
we'll remember her sweet face
Her time on earth is over now she's in a better place

There is a new star shining above the earth tonight
May the spirit of our Toddy remain forever bright

The City Citation mentioned DeLeo's legislative work ranging from clean energy to opioid control to economic development for the benefit of the citizens of Massachusetts and Revere. In accepting the citation, DeLeo said, "As Speaker of the House I am recognized for statewide issues, but this is more special as it comes from the people whom I work with and represent on a daily basis. This really means a lot to me and I will never forget the people who put me here."

DeLeo has represented the district that includes Winthrop since 1991 and is the longest sitting Speaker of the House in Massachusetts's history with 10 years.

Revere native earns Junior Sailor of the Quarter Selection for Naval Hospital Bremerton

By Douglas H. Stutz, Naval Hospital Bremerton Public Affairs Officer

It's not infrequent for hospital corpsmen in varied career stages to share a common connection.

Such proved to be the case for Navy Hospital Corpsman 3rd Class Dylan Stuart selected as Naval Hospital Bremerton (NHB) Junior Sailor of the Quarter.

Stuart was one of four sailors selected for the special recognition earned serving at NHB.

Stuart, a Revere High School graduate and Revere, Massachusetts, native, is the Leading Petty Officer of NHB's Physical Therapy and Occupational Therapy department.

For Stuart, with six years in the Navy, NHB is his second assignment after an initial tour at Branch Health Clinic in Iwakuni, Japan.

The most rewarding aspect of his career has been interacting and helping others he has worked for and worked with during his assigned duties.

"The relationships formed with my peers throughout the years has been the most gratifying, and saying goodbye to those people that I've grown close to and having to form new relationships has been the most difficult," Stuart said.

Stuart's duty in the Far East has provided him his favorite memory as part of Navy Medicine.

"As a lead emergency medical technician instructor at Iwakuni, I was seeing the students I taught put their knowledge to good use and work together to take care of our sailors, Marines and their families," Stuart said.

Although Stuart is transitioning in several years back to Revere to work for the fire department, he plans to continue to do all he can to assist others with their goals.

"There are two other third class petty officers in my department," Stuart said. "My goal before I separate, is to help them both advance in rate."

The common connection amongst the four goes well beyond being recognized as Sailor of the Quarter. Each observes the Hospital Corps pledge to hold the care of those sick and injured to be a sacred trust, as well as dedicate heart, mind, strength to their work, and do all within their power to carry themselves as an example of all this is honorable and good throughout their Navy career.

"Congratulations on your selection and thanks for your hard work, dedication and sustained superior performance," said Capt. Jeffrey Bitterman, NHB commanding officer. "Our sailors, Marines and their families depend on you. You deliver readiness and safe high quality health-care on a daily basis. Keep up the great work."

NHB Washington has a three-fold primary mission to support our warfighters, past and present, and their families by: Providing exceptional care anytime, anywhere; shape military medicine through training, research, and graduate medical education; and to prepare our forces for deployment.

Navy Hospital Corpsman 3rd Class Dylan Stuart, of Revere, has been selected as Junior Sailor of the Quarter for the Naval Hospital Bremerton, in Washington.

RHS SPORTS Roundup

RHS GIRLS FALL TO READING IN TOURNEY

The Revere High girls basketball team dropped a 56-38 decision at Reading in a first-round contest of the Division 1 North Sectional of the MIAA girls basketball tournament Monday night. Revere was seeded 12th in the D-1 North and Reading was the #5 seed with a 16-4 record.

Lady Patriot junior captain Erika Cheever struck for 20 points to lead Revere in the scoring department, but it was not enough to overcome a strong Reading squad.

“We battled and we made runs early in the second quarter and end of third, but we faced a really tough Reading team,” said RHS head coach Matt Willis, whose Lady Patriots enjoyed a successful 2019 campaign, finishing at 11-9 during the regular season. “I was really proud of how hard the kids competed tonight and each day this year.”

RHS BOYS BASKETBALL CLOSES OUT SEASON

Last Monday night the Revere High boys basketball team traveled up to Hamilton-Wenham to face Winchester in the opening round of the annual General Patton Tournament.

The Patriots were hoping to get off to a quick start against Winchester, which needed to win to stay alive for a chance in the state tournament, but unfortunately things did not go as planned for Coach David Leary’s squad.

Revere got a quick three-pointer from senior co-captain Scotty Montefusco, but the scoring basically dried up for the rest of the quarter and Winchester led 10-5 at the first buzzer.

Leary went to his bench to start the second period and got two quick baskets from junior guard Amara Bockarie, as well as a few tough baskets inside from junior forward Scott Togan (10 points on a perfect 5-for-5 from the field), but Winchester would not be denied. Winchester drained six three-pointers in the second frame and jumped out to a 36-15 halftime lead.

The Patriots played better after the intermission, led by senior forward Omar Bendjahene (six points, seven rebounds), who made some athletic moves to the basket, and junior guard EJ Leone (five points), who played tough defense to slow down Winchester.

Although the third quarter was played pretty much evenly, Winchester still held a healthy 50-28 advantage after three periods.

Revere got a good look at some of their younger guys with the game out of reach. Sophomore guard Crisrael Lithgow made a nice contested layup. Junior guard Devon Avery drilled a trey and junior guard Michael Hayes made a basket-plus the foul to close out the game.

However, Winchester was just too much, as was reflected in the final score, 66-40. “We lost this game in the second quarter,” said Leary. “We just gave them too many open three-point shots and they made them all.

“I did like the way our young guys battled at the end,” Leary continued, “and when sophomore forward Wilfredo Martinez dove on a loose ball down by 28 points, that was a proud moment for our team. We showed no quit. That is not easy to do considering how things have gone for us the past few weeks.”

The following evening the Patriots took on the host Hamilton-Wenham in the consolation game of the tournament. The home Generals jumped on the Patriots early.

Revere trailed 12-0 half-way into the first quarter and Leary needed to call timeout to calm the team down. Leone was doing a great job defensively on H-W standout guard Billy Whalen (who needed just two points for 1,000 in his career), but the other Generals were making their shots.

The timeout settled everything down and senior co-captains Sebastian Vanegas (six points) and Montefusco knocked down consecutive treys, and along with another three from Leone (12 points), Revere clawed its way back into the game to trail 16-12 after the first quarter.

The Patriots kept their momentum going early in the second period and brought the score back to level at 20-20 on a layup by Bendjahene (five points). Mid-way through the second quarter Whalen pulled up for a deep three-point shot and drained it to finally get his 1,000 points. The Generals seemed to feed off the momentum and went on a huge run, heading into halftime with a 45-23 advantage.

“EJ really did a fantastic job on Whalen the whole first half,” noted Leary. “It was almost as if their team was playing tight until he finally got his 1,000 and then they all relaxed and made shots.”

Revere however, refused to go away easily. Behind the hot shooting of Montefusco (15 points, five rebounds, four assists, 5-for-13 on three-pointers) and some strong drives from EJ, the Patriots cut the deficit to 55-42 heading into the final quarter.

Revere got four quick points from sophomore forward Dillan Day and cut the lead to nine points, but that was as close as the Patriots would get, as the hometown team finally got their offense going again, closing out the game out and the Patriots’ season by a score of 70-49.

“The last few weeks have been tough for this group, but they never came apart as a team,” said Leary. “We continued to play hard and compete, but just could not put together enough made shots to be able to win games. We will miss our seniors for sure and wish them the best of luck in all of their future endeavors. As for the guys coming back, they now know what to expect and what they need to improve on for next year.”

Mother charged in Route 16 crash

By Journal staff

Cecilia Miranda, 37, of Revere was arraigned in Chelsea District Court Monday on motor vehicle and child endangerment charges after she allegedly crashed her car on Route 16 near the Route 1 on-ramp.

She was charged with OUI alcohol w/serious bodily injury and negligent operation; Child endangerment while OUI; 3. Child endangerment while OUI; open container of alcohol; leaving the scene of a personal injury crash; reckless operation of a motor vehicle; Abandoning a motor vehicle; Having a child under 8 without a car seat; and marked lanes violation.

Early Sunday, at approximately 12:05 a.m., troopers from the State Police Revere Barracks responded to reports of a single-vehicle crash on Route 16 near the Route 1 on-ramp in the city of Revere.

Callers reported that the driver involved had left the scene with a child, in a bystander’s vehicle.

Upon arrival on scene, Troopers Andrew Patterson and Stephen Thomson determined that a red Nissan had rolled over and came to rest in a ditch adjacent to Route 16. No other vehicles were involved in the crash.

Witnesses reported that the vehicle had three occupants, the driver, later identified as Miranda, of Revere, and two children. Witnesses stated that Miranda left the scene in a bystander’s vehicle with the younger of the two children, later determined to be a 6-year-old boy, leaving the other child behind, later determined to be a 10-year-old boy. Witnesses stated that another bystander stopped and took the 10-year-old in their vehicle, reportedly to a local hospital. Both children were reported by witnesses to have severe injuries.

Subsequent and diligent investigation by Troopers Patterson and Thomson, led them to locate both children and the driver. Miranda was located with the 6-year-old at Mass. General Hospital and subsequently placed under arrest.

East Boston Neighborhood HealthCare Center notified State Police that a 10-year-old child was dropped off at their facility with severe injuries. Trooper Thomson responded to the center and determined that the child was in fact the other child involved in the crash. The 10-year-old was subsequently transported to Boston Children’s Hospital due to the severity of his injuries.

Both children are reported to have severe, yet non-life-threatening injuries. Miranda was transported to the State Police Revere Barracks for booking.

MAN CONVICTED OF MURDER

A Suffolk Superior Court jury Friday afternoon found Juan Gaviria, 21, guilty of second-degree murder and firearms offenses in connection with the Jan. 23, 2015, shooting death of 18-year-old Andres Jaramillo on Revere’s Garfield Avenue.

Gaviria’s co-defendant, Luis Urbaez, was convicted of his role in that homicide last September.

ABUSE CASE SHOWS SURVIVOR RESILIENCY

As part of her commitment to empowering survivors, Suffolk County District Attorney Rachael Rollins recently announced that a former Department of Youth Services employee has been sentenced to prison after pleading guilty to sexually assaulting two young victims – including one at a Revere home.

James Christian, 48, on Tuesday, Feb. 7, pleaded guilty to four counts of rape of a child in connection with sexual assaults more than a decade ago on two boys who are now adults. Judge Linda

POLICE NEWS

Giles sentenced Christian to four to six years in state prison followed by five years of probation. Assistant District Attorney Maryrose Anthes had recommended a term of eight to 10 years in state prison.

“This case involved the worst kind of betrayal – the abuse of a child by a person in a position of trust,” District Attorney Rollins said. “But it also showed us the courage of two men to defy the fear and shame that too many survivors may feel trapped by. They stepped forward to tell the truth, and their strength helped us hold their abuser accountable. I want them and survivors everywhere to know that my office is a safe, survivor-centered environment for anyone who wants to disclose abuse.”

Had the case proceeded to trial, Anthes would have presented evidence and testimony to prove that Christian worked at a DYS facility where one of the victims was a client between 1999 and 2001. The evidence would have proved that Christian drove the victim to Boston from a facility out-side of Suffolk County on weekends and assaulted him during the trips. At the time of the abuse, the boy was between the ages of 13 and 16. The evidence would further have shown that Christian assaulted a family member between 2001 and 2004 at a home in Revere beginning when the victim was age 13.

“I felt ashamed and feared that everyone would know,” the latter survivor wrote in an impact statement to the court. “I also felt guilty for not coming forward earlier. Twelve years after the abuse ended, I’m still dealing with the consequences.”

“I was put at his DYS program at the age of thirteen where staff was supposed to help me. He used that position of trust to groom and eventually sexually assault me,” one victim told the court. “I ran away from DYS because I didn’t trust people. I still have trouble trusting people and every aspect of my life has been severely impacted by what he did.”

The victims, who were not known to one another, each disclosed the abuse as adults. A Suffolk County grand jury returned indictments against Christian in 2016.

Are Braces Just for Kids?

Four reasons mom and dad want a great smile, too

When it comes to braces, teens and pre-teens remain the typical patients for orthodontists. But their moms and dads may soon be catching up.

Today, one in four orthodontic patients is an adult, according to the American Association of Orthodontists.

Many of those adult patients are in their 20s and 30s, but the number of older patients also continues to grow. In fact, it's not unusual for an orthodontist to see patients in their 60s, 70s and even 80s.

"We have seen parents and grandparents go through an orthodontic treatment alongside their children and grandchildren," says Dr. Seth Newman, who is co-author with Dr. Steve Giannoutsos of "Giving It To You Straight: Everything You Ever Wanted To Know About Orthodontics" (AskTheOrthos.com).

In deciding if orthodontic treatment is appropriate for an adult, Dr. Giannoutsos says the most important consideration is the condition of their gums and bone levels, and whether they are healthy enough for the procedures. Usually, that's not a problem, though.

"As long as the gums and bone levels are satisfactory, there are many new treatments and procedures that can greatly benefit adults," including senior citizens," Dr. Giannoutsos says.

Dr. Newman says patients who had braces as a child are informed consumers and know the importance of consulting with an orthodontist if they have any issues, such as teeth shifting over the years.

But many adult patients didn't have any orthodontics treatment as a child. Dr. Newman and Dr. Giannoutsos say those patients usually decide to get their teeth straightened now for one of four reasons:

- Finances are better. They always wanted straight and beautiful smile but they couldn't afford it until they became adults, or they could never find the right time to do it.

- They are educated consumers. They know about the benefits of having straight teeth, including both the cosmetic and health benefits.

- They are having other dental work done. The treatment is being done in coordination with other dental work so they have a strong foundation on which the additional dental procedures can be performed.

- They want to please their spouse. Some adults decide to improve their smile for their significant others, or because they are being encouraged by them to pursue the procedure. Dr. Newman and Dr. Giannoutsos refer to those people as "the romantics."

"We all want to look good," Dr. Newman says. "The days of 'I'm too old for braces' are over. Our mature patients are just as proud as our younger ones to have their teeth straightened."

Dr. Seth Newman is a board-certified orthodontic specialist for over 10 years. He is a graduate of Binghamton University with a degree in Environmental Health. Dr. Newman, with Dr. Steve Giannoutsos is the co-author of "Giving It To You Straight: Everything You Ever Wanted To Know About Orthodontics But Were Afraid to Ask" (AskTheOrthos.com). He completed his dental training at Stony Brook School of Dental Medicine, where he graduated at the top of his class. He is a member of the National Dental Honor Society. Dr. Newman furthered his education at Mount Sinai Medical Center in New York. He continued his postgraduate studies in Orthodontics at New York University College of Dentistry. While at NYU, Dr. Newman participated as a clinical instructor of the Invisalign appliance.

Dr. Steve Giannoutsos, or "Dr. G." as he is commonly called, was born in Astoria, Queens, just outside of New York City. He graduated from St. John's University in Jamaica, Queens, with high honors and a BS in Biology. He is also the co-author with Dr. Seth Newman of "Giving It To You Straight: Everything You Ever Wanted To Know About Orthodontics But Were Afraid to Ask" (AskTheOrthos.com). He completed his dental training at NYU, where he graduated with a Doctor of Dental Surgery (DDS) degree. He was also accepted into NYU's highly competitive orthodontic residency program. During that time, he also discovered a passion for treating children and adults with facial deformities. Coinciding his passion, his research thesis to attain specialty certification involved children with cleft deformities.

Dr. Jeffrey Benecchi continues family tradition

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

When it comes to dentistry it seems that the apple does not fall far from the tree and Dr. Jeffrey Benecchi, DMD is living proof.

Sure he could have become an environmentalist, he graduated from Bates College with a degree in environmental science and economics, but it was the influence of his father John, also a dentist, and grandfather Leo, a physician in Revere, who steered him toward dentistry and to being a 2009 graduate of the Tufts Dental School.

"I think it's in our family history. I always had it in me with my father being a dentist," Benecchi said from his office at 140 School St. He loves dentistry from the hands-on nitty gritty parts of the business to the patient interaction. His father John graduated in 1976 from Tufts Dental School and started his practice a couple years later.

Today Jeffrey runs the practice by himself since his father retired at the end of last year. He has 10 employees. Most who also had worked for his father.

"He's still says hi to everyone," Jeffrey said.

Dr. Jeffrey Benecchi, DMD.

Jeffrey has always liked working with his hands and he felt dentistry was a natural fit. He liked being around the patients and see what his father was working on. Not the corporate model of dentistry but a hands-on approach.

"I still like that personal touch," he added.

"It's been a good job to help people and be able to see things done with the artistry of dentistry," Jeffrey said. "I like everything there is to do with dentistry."

The Benecchi dental practice specializes in general dentistry for everyone from children to the elderly.

"Basically we offer what a lot of people need to have done," Jeffrey said.

Keeping up with the latest technology, Dr. Benecchi uses digital scanners to avoid goopy mouth molds for dental impressions.

There are also digital x-rays and cameras now that they use when working with a local laboratory for caps and crowns.

He noted that he will also be having a couple of associates added to the practice to help with an increasing patient load.

NEWS FROM AROUND THE REGION

MBTA SEEKS FEEDBACK ON FARE INCREASE

CHELSEA - Chelsea residents and MBTA officials mingled at the Chelsea Senior Center on Tuesday, February 19, where the MBTA sought community feedback on three new system-wide changes on the horizon: a proposed fare hike, a bus system improvement initiative dubbed The Better Bus Project, and an upgraded program for managing ticket purchases called Automated Fare Collection 2.0.

The event was the first meeting in a series that the Transit Authority is hosting in the Greater Boston area throughout February and early March. Other cities and communities on the list include Quincy Center, Woburn, South Boston, Harvard Square, Downtown Boston, Watertown and Worcester.

Departing from the traditional town hall-style meeting, there was no speaker or agenda. Rather, officials from the MBTA were stationed at a horseshoe of tables featuring large informational posters and fliers in Spanish and English. Residents from the Chelsea community were invited to circulate from station to station in order to learn about the proposed changes, ask questions and provide oral and written feedback.

Fare Proposal

The MBTA is looking to increase fares by an average of 6.3%, which, according to its website, it needs in order to “continue making system investments to improve service.”

The increase, which is aligned with Boston’s inflation rate, also meets the State law allowing the MBTA to raise their rates no more than 7-percent every two years. The fare hike, which would go into effect in July, would be the first since 2016.

The 6.3-percent increase would be applied to all fares, including bus and subway, commuter rail, ferry, and The RIDE.

In terms of the most common fares and passes, a local one-way bus ticket would go from $1.70 to $1.80. A one-way subway ticket would go from $2.25 to $2.40. A monthly LinkPass would go from $84.50 to $90.00, and a 7-Day LinkPass would go from $21.25 to $22.50.

Those interested can read more about the proposed fare hike at mbta.com/fare-proposal-2019. Comments can be emailed to fares@mbta.com, or mailed to MBTA, Attn: Fare Proposal, 10 Park Plaza, Boston, MA 02116. Respondents can also share their opinions via an online survey available at survey.monkey.com/r/6TW8FFQ.

The better bus project

Another project on the table is The Better Bus Project, an expansive initiative looking to overhaul the entire bus service of the MBTA. Its current projected rollout date is 2020.

“Too many of our bus routes still fail to live up to our own standards,” states the MBTA on its web site. “Through the Better Bus Project, we are changing that. Every day we’re finding new ways to improve the experiences of the people who use and ride our buses.”

The Better Bus Project would be comprised of five distinct elements: continuous change, analysis, proposed near-term changes, multi-year investment strategy and the Bus Network Redesign.

Continuous change refers to changes that can be made incrementally over time as the opportunities arise. Analysis includes reports generated from a period of outreach in which the MBTA surveyed riders most affected by gaps in service.

“Riders want more frequent, more reliable service,” said the MBTA. “They want more routes that run more often throughout the day—not just during peak service hours. And we learned [...] that there are too many routes, too many complex routes, and too few routes with frequent, all-day service.”

Proposed near-term changes for The Better Bus Project include 47 specific suggestions for the consolidation of duplicate routes, the increase of space at bus stops and the elimination of some obsolete bus routes.

One of the 47 proposed projects is Route 111, which runs from Haymarket through Chelsea to Revere. The MBTA aims to “provide faster and more reliable service to Route 111 by removing service on Park Avenue in Revere, with connection remaining via Route 110,” according to a Better Bus Project flier.

A multi-year investment strategy will kick off a dialog about how to best leverage resources to improve the bus system as a whole, taking into account what riders want and need.

The ambitious Bus Network Redesign would re-envision the current MBTA bus network in the hopes of better serving passengers.

Automated fare collection 2.0

Citing an outdated system, the MBTA hopes that its new project will make paying for transit easier. With the introduction of AFC 2.0, the MBTA hopes to “improve customer experience, ensure equal access, upgrade outdated hardware and software, improve revenue control, operate buses and trains more efficiently and support future MBTA changes and growth.”

According to the MBTA, passengers will be able to pay their fares faster with improved Charlie Cards, a smartphone app, different payment options and digital fare readers. Under the new system, passengers will be able to conveniently reload their Charlie Cards in a number of venues, from schools and employers, online, over the phone, retailers and an increased number of vending machines.

MBTA employee Anthony Thomas explained that people could still use cash to reload their Charlie Cards at a number of locations throughout the city, but that cash would no longer be an option for paying on buses. The idea is to reduce the long bus queues, resulting in faster routes.

“Our new fare system will get you moving faster,” said the MBTA. “It’ll also get our vehicles moving faster (by up to 10-percent according to some estimates).”

These changes would not be rolled out all at once, but would overlap with the current technologies available, some of them in place for over a decade. In this way, the MBTA hopes to have a seamless transition to the new system.

RYAN PLEASED WITH ASSIGNMENTS

CHELSEA - State Rep. Dan Ryan said this week he is pleased in what is considered a step up in becoming the vice chair of the Post Audit Oversight Committee – a powerful committee that runs investigations of government operations and actually has subpoena powers.

“I want to thank Speaker DeLeo for this appointment, and my House colleagues for voting to affirm his trust in me,” said Ryan. “I look forward to working with Chairman Linsky and other committee members in continuing to bring solid, cost-effective government programs to the electorate.”

Ryan said Post-Audit Oversight certainly isn’t a household name for most people in the Town, but said it has a unique mission and is a sought-after committee on Beacon Hill.

“The Post-Audit Oversight Committee is a select House committee that has a unique mission,” he said. “Members of the committee are tasked with ensuring that State agencies are abiding by legislative intent and the program initiatives put forth, by the legislature, through the budget process. When necessary, the committee will work with administrative agencies to propose corrective actions to best serve citizens of the Commonwealth.”

One of the most visible investigations conducted by the Committee came several years ago in the previous administration when the Department of Children and Families (DCF) came under fire for its handling and management of numerous cases involving children.

Ryan has also been assigned as a member of the Mental Health, Substance Abuse and Recovery Committee, and as a member of the Transportation Committee.

•Just across the North Washington Street Bridge, State Rep. Aaron Michlewitz came away with one of the biggest scores for the Boston delegation in getting assigned as chair of the powerful Ways & Means Committee.

Rep. Ryan said that having such an important chair nearby will be very good for Charlestown as well as the North End. That will particularly be apparent with projects like the North Washington Street Bridge, which affects the North End as much as Charlestown.

Michlewitz told the Patriot-Bridge that he is humbled by the appointment, and that while he has to build consensus across the state, he will keep his district and Boston in the forefront.

“I am honored that Speaker DeLeo believes I can do the job,” he said. “The first order of business is creating and debating a $42.7 billion budget. A lot of work has been done in committee, but we have a short timeframe to get a lot done. The thing I was to stress is my district is my number one priority.”

SECOND LONGEST SERVING MAYOR, JOHN MCCARTHY, PASSES AWAY

EVERETT - The second-longest serving mayor in the history of Everett, John R. McCarthy, has passed away at the age of 79.

McCarthy passed away on Feb. 15 at Lowell General Hospital surrounded by his loving family. In recent years he had made his home in Dracut.

McCarthy was known to be a boisterous man, who loved local politics, and is best known for laying the ground for the Telecom City and Gateway Mall developments – as well as kicking off the new school building process.

McCarthy came from a long line of politically active people, with his brother, George, operating an appliance store on Main Street and also becoming mayor before John.

John was born on June 7, 1939 in Everett to John and Madelyn McCarthy. He was one of four children, brother of Bob, George, and Connie. He graduated from Everett High School and attended Newman Preparatory School and Suffolk University. He often worked in the family appliance store, but his main career was with the NYNEX telephone company as well. He entered local politics later in life, becoming an alder-

COMING TO EVERETT

The iconic Popeye sculpture is displayed in front of a theater in Las Vegas – but soon it will be moved to Boston and be placed between unique curved escalators in the grand foyer for the June opening. Meanwhile, the Wynn Las Vegas foyer, as shown last week, will be similar to Encore Boston Harbor’s foyer, featuring floral artworks by Preston Bailey. On this display, the floral art is celebrating Lunar New Year. Such themed displays will also be expected at Encore in Everett.

man in 1982 and continuing until 1985. At that time, he beat Ed Connolly in a closely contested race and started his run as mayor in 1986. He continued as mayor until 1997 when former Mayor David Ragucci beat him. He tried to run against Ragucci one more time, but was also beat once again.

“He is the second longest serving mayor,” said City Clerk Sergio Cornelio. “Our longest serving mayor is Philip Crowley and John McCarthy is our second longest serving.”

Long-time Councilor Wayne Matewsky said McCarthy will be remembered in Everett for the Gateway Mall and for keeping taxes down.

“He was responsible for getting the Gateway Mall to where it is today,” he said. “I didn’t think it would ever happen, but he deserves credit for that. He also always kept taxes down and he was a hands-on mayor. It was a different city back then, of course.”

McCarthy was actually one of the first to begin talking about reviving Everett Square, which was very desolate in the late 1980s and 1990s. Like the current plan to revive the Square, McCarthy wanted to see an enlivened downtown and was the first City leader to start that process, though a bad economy stopped its progress.

“The Everett Square revitalization dates back to John McCarthy,” said Cornelio. “They wanted to do it because there was supposed to be state funding, but the Massachusetts economy took a downturn. We were supposed to revitalize the downtown 30 years ago. He started that discussion decades ago.”

McCarthy also established the city’s first Conservation Commission, the first Disability Commission, the first curb side recycling program, and the countless renovations of schools, parks and public buildings, including the Everett Armory, and the award winning renovation of the Parlin Library in Everett Square. His leadership in office also resulted in the re-purposing of a large portion of the Monsanto Chemical Company site into what today is known as the Gateway Shopping Center.

As Mayor of Everett, John developed longstanding relationships with Mayor Tom Menino of Boston, Senator Ted Kennedy, Senator John Kerry, Speaker George Keve-ris, Governor Michael Dukakis, and Speaker Tip O’Neil, and had the opportunity to meet President and Mrs. Clinton to discuss the impact of federal policy on local communities. He was elected President of the Massachusetts Mayor’s association in 1992, and the Massachusetts Municipal Board of Directors from 1986-1992. John was also an active participant in the U.S. Conference of Mayors, which influenced local government nationwide. John was elected to the U.S. Conference of Mayors Advisory Board from 1993-1997, and served on several subcommittees, including Health Reform, Health Care Financing, Health Insurance, and the subcommittee on Aging.

John had a deep connection to the residents of Everett and the Italian and Irish heritage that many residents shared. He established a sister city relationship with Orsogna, Italy, and led a delegation that traveled to Italy to formally recognize the relationship, and later hosted a group from Orsogna when they visited Everett.

After leaving office in 1998, John and his wife Priscilla remained in Everett until 1999 when they retired to their lake house in Dracut where they had spent summers while raising their family. John and Priscilla spent the next several years traveling the country, visiting with old friends and making new ones, while maintaining their residence in Dracut. In true snow-bird fashion, they spent their winters in Florida, either in New Smyrna, Del Ray Beach, or the Villages. At home in Dracut, John was the proud “Grampy” to nine Grandchildren: Connor (18), Brendan (15), Kayla (13), Dillon (11), Sloane (11), Caroline (10), Michael (8), Sinead (8), and Sean (7). John and Priscilla had an open invitation for all of their children and grandchildren to visit Dracut and enjoy time on Long Pond.

John is survived by his loving wife Priscilla (Josephson) McCarthy, of Dracut, his children, Robert McCarthy, of Wakefield, John McCarthy, of Dallas, Texas, Darren McCarthy and wife Michelle McCarthy, of Winchester, and Kristin McAuliffe and husband Jason McAuliffe, of Malden, and his brother George McCarthy and wife Charlotte McCarthy, of Hamilton. He is also survived by nine grandchildren.

A wake is scheduled at Murphy & O’Hara Funeral Home on Broadway in Everett on Friday, Feb. 22, 2019, from 4 -8 p.m., and a funeral mass is scheduled for Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Immaculate Conception Church, on Broadway in Everett. All are welcome to attend and celebrate John’s life.

COUNCILORS TAKE TOUR OF ENCORE BOSTON HARBOR

EVERETT - While most councilors in Everett have toured the Encore Boston Harbor casino several times over, a small group of councilors had yet to see the five-star facility, and on Feb. 13 they got an eye-full of luxury.

Councilor Wayne Matewsky reported that he and Councilors Michael Marchese, Steve Simonelli (with Nick Saia) and Leo McKinnon were treated to their first major tour of the resort casino.

“This is not five-star; this is 10-star,” said Matewsky this week, noting that it was his first inside look at the project. “The ballroom was unbelievable. It will hold 4,000 people. I was amazed and happy that the Encore Resort will be exactly what they said it would be. I’m so pleased we actually had the opportunity to see it. People ask me what’s going on and I can actually be excited about it because I have seen it. I’m very glad they accommodated those of us who haven’t had the chance to go in there yet.”

The tour involved more than one mile of walking through the nearly-finished interior, and Matewsky said they were impressed every step of the way – particularly within the context of what has been on Lower Broadway.

“It’s really a shock to me,” he said. “It’s hard to imagine such a luxurious type of property on top of what was a contaminated piece of property just sitting there. I’m very interested in seeing how the docks and the water features and boats turn out in the end.”

The councilors said they watched workers busily finishing up the building, and they were laying carpet and putting in the slot machines on the day they took their tour.

Meanwhile, Matewsky said there was likely a chandelier for every space of the resort.

“They also showed us the locations where 15 restaurants will be, including Sinatra’s for Italian food,” he said. “I was very impressed with the Asian restaurant, which looked phe-

SEVERAL PROJECTS FUNDED WITH CPA FUNDS

EAST BOSTON - Mayor Martin Walsh and the Community Preservation Committee (CPC) announced the latest round of Community Preservation Act (CPA) funding for several East Boston projects.

Six Eastie projects were recommended by the Mayor and the CPC to received over $3.5 million of the $34 million in total funding that was dolled out citywide.

The six Eastie projects will be submitted to the Boston City Council for approval with an anticipated vote from the Council in March.

"I am proud to recommend these proposals for funding approval, which will support our community in countless ways," said Mayor Walsh. "Since residents voted to adopt the Community Preservation Act two years ago, we have awarded CPA funding for projects in every neighborhood. We look forward to continuing to use this revenue to build on our work related to affordable housing, historic preservation and open space."

In Eastie, Walsh and the CPC recommended $950,000 to the Grace Apartments development, which recently received Boston Planning and Development Agency approval. Developed by the East Boston Community Development Organization (EBCDC), Grace Apartments will be a new 42 unit residential building serving low-income seniors located on 187 Sumner Street. The project will also renovate 17 income-restricted units on the site's existing building.

According to plans submitted to the BPDa by the CDC the proposed project involves the construction of a new 39,067 square foot, 42-unit, seven-story building and the renovation of an existing 26,800 square foot building currently on the same site in Maverick Square.

The new building will include all low-income elderly housing.The existing building, which includes 17 elderly/disabled subsidized units, as well as approximately 3,000 square feet of ground floor commercial, will be converted to workforce housing units, including two affordable units.

The property consists of a 16,266-square foot parcel of land with 26,800-square foot of mixed use, residential and commercial building.

There will be no changes to the footprint of the existing building and the proposed new building will be situated behind the existing building.

The 3,798 square foot first floor will consist of a community room, kitchen, lobby, mail room, office, and mechanical space. The lot size will accommodate five parking spaces, one of which will be handicapped accessible.

The second through seventh floors will have seven units per floor, for a total of 42 units. There will be no changes to the footprint of the existing building.

The tenants in the existing building will be given the option to move to a new unit upon completion of the first phase of the project.

A recommendation of $735,200 will go to the proposed Aileron development to build seven housing units, including four affordable units. Overall the East Boston Neighborhood of Affordable Housing, NOAH's architect, Eastie based Joy St Design, and the CDC has joined forces to create a 41-unit project that includes a mixed-use-mixed-income, ownership/rental housing and gallery spaces for Eastie artist community and community at large.

NOAH's project, dubbed 'Aileron' will include eight ownership units, half workforce and half market, in one building with 33-units occupying a larger building next door. Of the 33 units in the larger building 17 will be set aside for artist work/living space.

NOAH is also proposing two large common spaces, a Gallery and Workbar, that will be available for the other residents in the building. These are communal spaces and are not be strictly artist work space. Giffey said the 'workbar' space will be on the ground floor of the 33-unit rental building.

Eastie could also get $600,000 for a new playground at the East Boston Early Education Center. The new playground for ELC includes integrated classrooms for students with disabilities in K0 and first grade.

The Nantucket Lightship, Boston's only floating museum docked at the Boston Shipyard and Marina on Marginal Street could get $575,000 to restore the historic ship's rusted hull.

There is $500,000 recommend to create a new park to connect the renovated Boston Housing Authority Orient Heights development to the surrounding neighborhood.

Finally $300,000 could come through to build a fully accessible dock and dock house at LoPresti Park. This dock will create access to the waterfront for youth and an adaptive sailing program at LoPresti Park across from the Boston Housing Authority's Jeffries Point development for those with handicaps.

"Thank you to the many civic and cultural leaders who made today's Community Preservation Act investments happen," said Councilor Lydia Edwards. "This funding round expands educational, housing and recreational opportunities for children, seniors, persons with disabilities and promotes investments in open space and historic preservation that will serve all of Eastie, and all of Boston, well."

By adopting the CPA in November 2016, the City has created a Community Preservation Fund. This fund is capitalized primarily by a one percent property tax-based surcharge on residential and business property tax bills that began in July 2017. The City will use this revenue to fund initiatives consistent with CPA guidelines: affordable housing, historic preservation, open space and public recreation.

MADARO APPOINTED VICE CHAIR OF TRANSPORTATION

EAST BOSTON - With a major international airport, highway, toll plaza and the MBTA Blue Line in his district, it made sense for Speaker Robert DeLeo to appoint Rep. Adrian Madaro as the new House Vice Chair of the Joint Committee on Transportation.

Madaro will serve alongside the Committee's Chair Rep. William Straus (D-Mattapoisett) on the House side. Madaro and Straus will work closely with their colleagues and the Committee's counterparts on the Senate side, Chair Joseph Boncore (D-Winthrop) and Vice Chair Eric Lesser (D-Longmeadow).

Since being elected in 2015, Madaro has taken the lead on issues related to Logan Airport impacts and mitigation, MBTA late night service and the Red Line/Blue Line Connector as well as issues facing his East Boston constituents like traffic and regional congestion.

Madaro's work on transportation is rooted in a commitment to the priorities of the Commonwealth, including his transit-heavy First Suffolk district, which encompasses stretches of both Interstate 90 and Route 1, five MBTA subway lines, Logan Airport, and the Boston Harbor.

Since being elected Madaro has advocated for a ferry in Eastie, improvements to the Sumner Tunnel toll plaza project, increase in Massport mitigation to surrounding communities, late night MBTA service as well as addressing other transportation needs and improvements in the district.

"I want to thank Speaker DeLeo and my colleagues for entrusting me with one of the state's top fiscal and policy priorities," said Madaro. "I'm honored and thrilled to be appointed Vice Chair of the Transportation Committee. I'm excited to continue working on the important transit issues that deeply impact East Boston and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The Commonwealth's transportation system is the driver that ensures our economic success. Still, Massachusetts requires a new revenue mechanism to make necessary investments in our infrastructure to secure a statewide vision for a modern transportation system."

FERRINO SELECTED AS NEW PRECINCT 1 COUNCILOR

WINTHROP - You may now call him Precinct 1 Councilor Richard Ferrino.

The Town Council voted 4-3 Tuesday night to have Ferrino fill out the remaining term of Precinct 1 Councilor Michael McDuffee who died in January. "I'm very pleased the majority of the council voted on my behalf," Ferrino said. "I looking forward to convincing the other councilors that I am up to the task and I will perform in a manner that will make them change their minds."

The other candidate was Licensing Board member Nick Bracy. Councilors Heather Engman, Michael Lucerto and Nick LoConte preferred Bracy.

"I'm glad Nick put his name into the hat," Ferrino said adding that public service has its ups and downs. "It's all part of a growing experience in government.

For his own constituents in Precinct 1 he'd like to hold some meetings and address a few things that have been overlooked.

Ferrino has been active in town affairs for a number of years and grew up calling Winthrop home.

He will serve out the remainder of the 2019 season. There will be an election in November to determine who will serve the remaining two years of the term.

Ferrino is the son of Judge Joseph Ferrino.

Ferrino, 57, has lived in Precinct 1 for the past 30 years, and is employed as the assistant chief of probation in Salem Court.

He has been active in town affairs over the years with the Historical Commission (chairman at one time), Parks and Recreation, the Memorial Committee and the Winthrop Housing Authority.

He also worked on the town's Capital Improvements Committee, the Dalrymple School Reuse Study, the E.B. Newton Reuse Committee. He was also a Town Meeting member for over 25 years. He currently serves on a UMass-Lowell Advisory Board for Humanities and Science. Ferrino is a member of the Freedom Foundation and served on the Dom Savio Prep School board.

RESIDENTS PLAN PROTEST OVER WATER AND SEWER RATES

WINTHROP - Cathleen Napoli and other residents are fed up with the recent water and sewer rates in Winthrop so she took to social media and the airwaves to let everyone know how shocking the bills are.

Napoli started her protest with a posting on Facebook page called "Winthrop Open Discussion."

She's calling for a rally at noon on Saturday, March 9 at the Ingleside Park Gazebo, with a rain date of March 16, to protest the recent water and sewer fee increases.

In addition, Napoli wants to invite the Massachusetts State Auditor's Office to conduct an audit of the methodology, accuracy and fairness of the current Water Sewer assessment process.

On Tuesday night, the Town Council and the Town Manager heard from others who were ticked off about the water bills too.

"We have the second raise in our water bill in a year and I'm concerned about that," said Diane Sands of Precinct 5. "The second hike in a year is kind of outrageous. I'd like to go along with an audit."

Per the State Auditor's office, they can only conduct this audit if the town government votes to request the audit.

Water and sewer rates were just raised 17 percent in May 2018 because of a water and sewer budget deficit when Police Chief Terry Delehanty was interim town manager. It was said then that there was a risk to raise the rate further because a higher rate often resulted in less usage by residents. This has been the case with a six percent reduction in use from last spring.

In May, Town of Winthrop will increase water and sewer rates by $3 per hundred cubic feet beginning with the current billing cycle.

The increase, from $19.90 per hundred cubic feet to $22.90 is the result of a drop in the amount of water used by the Town in the first half of the billing year.

The reason for the $3 rate increase is to offset a projected $576,000 deficit caused by a 6 percent reduction in usage based on the first two billing cycles of this fiscal year. This deficit must be offset by June 30, 2019. There are no new projected increases in expenditures beyond those that have been previously planned.

Revere CARES Receives Strive Grant From the Department of Public Health

With a $40,000 dollar grant from the Department of Public Health, Revere CARES is in the process of piloting two curriculums in their Power of Know Clubs at all three middle schools. The first curriculum currently being implemented is the VOICES Curriculum (Valuing Our Insights for Civic Engagement) which is designed to bolster local youth leadership development through a six-workshop series. This curriculum specifically offers participants the opportunity to explore their identities, their communities, and their ability to make change as leaders. In the Spring, club members will experience the Wyman's Proven Teen Outreach Program® (TOP®) which promotes the positive development of adolescents through interactive group discussions; positive adult guidance and support; and community service learning.

Currently, over 53 Revere middle school students are involved in the teacher lead Power of Know Clubs. If you are interested in learning more or having your child join, contact Debora Guimaraes at dguimaraes@partners.org
