Arrigo pulls nomination papers; holds annual birthday fundraiser

By Cary Shuman

Mayor Brian Arrigo pulled his nomination papers for the office of mayor last Friday at the Revere Election Department at City Hall.

Arrigo, who was elected mayor in November, 2015, was accompanied by his wife, Daveen, and their sons, Joseph and Jack.

The mayor had celebrated his 39th birthday at an annual campaign fundraiser Tuesday that brought a large crowd of supporters to the Marina at the Wharf Restaurant.

That event was its usual fun and fes-

Rizzo holds virtual Town Hall

Councillor-at-Large Dan Rizzo held what was described as "a first-ever virtual Town Hall" last Tuesday night as he continues his campaign for election as mayor of Revere.

Niko Kostopoulos moderated the live broadcast during which Rizzo answered a number of questions that had been submitted by residents.

The event did showcase Rizzo's many years of experience in city government, his term as mayor of the city (from 2012-2016), and his extensive knowledge of the issues.

Rizzo did not have any notes on the table in front of him but he smoothly and directly answered a wide spectrum of questions. One questioner

Suffolk Downs readying for live racing June 29 and 30

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

The final two days, June 29 and June 30, for live thoroughbred racing a Suffolk Downs are approaching.

What was once a mudflat and was then turned into a premiere live horse-racing venue, opened July 10, 1935.

It's hard to forget moments like when SeaBisquit won the MassCap, the most traditional race at the track, and broke the track record Aug. 7, 1937 - a 1 and 1/8 mile run in 1:49! Back in the day the track attracted overflow crowds of 62,000 people.

Or 1999 the horse drawing attention when Cigar won two MassCaps in a row under new ownership of the track, Sterling Suffolk Racecourse.

"Suffolk Downs is Massachusetts original retail bricks and mortar sport betting facility," said Chip Tuttle, Chief Operating Officer of Sterling Suffolk Racecourse.

Tuttle reported that in 2018 $160 million in betting --$48 million on-site and $112 million through Sterling Suffolk Racecourse's advanced-deposit wagering platforms, mobile and internet wagering.

Other landmark events held at the storied site include the invasion of the Beatles on Aug. 16, 1966, if you didn't have a ticket you got in under the fence.

Also the famous K9 Rin Tin Tin came to Suffolk Downs to visit the horses, according to Mary Jane Trenzi, of the Revere Historical Society. So did entertainer Hop Along Cassidv and others.

Revere High graduates 465 seniors during last Wednesday's commencement

By John Lynds

Last Wednesday evening 465 seniors who are part of the class of 2019 walked across the stage at Harry Della Russo Stadium to pick up their diplomas as part of Revere High School's (RHS) Commencement Exercises.

The evening kicked off with some words of wisdom by RHS Principal Dr. John Perella.

"I'm so honored to be your principal," said Dr. Perella. "However, my one regret this year is that I didn't get to know you the way I wanted to

Dr. Perella reflected on the past four years for the Class of tive self, with owner Victor Molle serving up a delicious buffet followed by the traditional birthday cake decorated in the familiar orange and blue Arrigo campaign colors. As has been her custom at past birthday fundraisers, First Lady Daveen Arrigo thoughtfully carried pieces of the cake to the various tables for consumption.

There were repeated chants of "four more years," as the mayor took the microphone from DJ Rick Freni.

This year is an election year and Arrigo conceded as much in his opening remarks.

"It's always humbling to have this birthday celebration," said Arrigo. "Having a birthday celebration is always an exciting, fun time. As you may have heard, we actually do have an election this year.

"We have a familiar foe that is looking to run for mayor and I think it's incumbent on all the people that are here tonight to know that we have accomplished so much in the last three-and-half years," said Arrigo. "And what I want to make sure that we do - because we've already seen the first hint of it – is that the people that are not in this room, the 10,000-13,000 people that are going to vote - understand that they cannot believe the lies, the mistruths that they're going to hear over the next five months.

"And the race that we run is a race based on accomplishments, the things that we've done, and the actions that have been taken," continued Arrigo.

Saying that he was "extremely proud of the things that we have accomplished," Arrigo highlighted the 311 constituent service phone system, the city's investments in its public safety and public works department, "the new high school that we're going to build," and the Suffolk Downs redevelopment.

"But what I want people to know that it's much more than that – it's a feeling. It's optimism. The fact is that I've been walking the streets and I am hearing the optimism from my neighbors, from the kids in our schools, from the people outside the city looking in and saying 'there are incredible things happening in your city and you need to be proud of them.'

"We all need to be proud of them," said Arrigo.

He then turned his focus to one of the other candidates for mayor.

"Unfortunately, I think my opponent is banking on the idea that people have short memories, that we may forget what was happening four, five, six years ago - people may forget that there were no accomplishments. There were no accomplishments for him to run on four years ago.

"The fact is we have a record to run on. We have accomplishments and we're going to make sure that the entire city knows every one of those accomplishments," said

The mayor outlined some of his goals including the construction of a new Revere High School, a new DPW facility, and a new Point of Pines Fire Station.

He concluded his remarks by stating that, "With all of your help, we're going to get another four years, we're going to get right back to work and make sure that everyone knows how great the city of Revere is.'

The chant, "four more years," erupted in the room once more.

voter" and Rizzo politely and unhesitatingly responded though Revere elections are non-partisan, meaning that Democrats, Republicans, and unenrolled voters all vote in one primary.

Kostopoulos said the questions were compiled by Facebook comments and messages and from topics brought up by voters on the campaign trail.

A female resident asked Rizzo about better providing services in youth-focused programming, claiming, "youths have nothing in the city anymore.'

"Youth-focused programming has always been high on my list of priorities," responded Rizzo. "While I was mayor, I believe we did a lot of good things as an administration for the youth of our city.

"We refurbished four playgrounds, provided funding for two additional playgrounds that came on line, built a brand-new stadium (Della Russo) that included two new basketball courts, two new tennis courts, and Revere's first-ever regulation track.

'We built three beautiful new Little League fields behind St. Mary's Church and as far as outside the classroom, has over 300 kids," said Rizzo. The councillor said he was disheartened to see that "the 14-year-olds were eliminated from the summer jobs program."

Rizzo said he would like to create student internships and training through private employers in the city.

Rizzo took on a question from a resident about the "worsening traffic and overcrowding, and a city hall without enough resources to support waves of new residents."

"If we know all these new apartments are hurting us, why do we continue to allow it to happen?" Kostopoulos asked Rizzo. "If elected, what would you do to control this?"

Rizzo responded, "I had asked for a two-year moratorium (a stop to all building in the community) so we could study and amend our antiquated zoning that may have prevented a lot of this development you see today and a lot of the proposed development."

"Basically, we now have uncontrolled, rampant apartment development that's impacting our city in many negative ways," said Rizzo. "Our schools are overcrowded. We spent tens of millions of dolbecause of the number of kids that we have in them. The traffic – we do get regional traffic, but we are absolutely not helping, we're pouring gasoline on the fire by continuing down this path of building more apartments."

Rizzo highlighted his mayoral administration's efforts in revitalizing Northgate "by bringing in Market Basket."

"It created 500 jobs," said Rizzo. "Not to mention the other jobs that were created as a result of the businesses growing in the Northgate area. And through $9 million in state grant money, we revitalized our central business district (the entire stretch of Broadway).'

"Broadway has never looked better," added Kostopoulos.

Rizzo said the schools were recognized nationally for their excellence during his years as mayor in collaboration with the leaders of the school district.

'We built a new Hill School," said Rizzo. "We took the kids out of a dilapidated McKinley and we opened up and cut the ribbon on that new Hill School proudly in 2016.

"We know that we've needed a new high school for within Revere High School, we lars on new schools and these a long, long time, but accordevery neighborhood throughcreated the JROTC that now schools are already out of date ing to the administration, acout the city."

cording to the mayor, he says, 'maybe in six to seven years, we'll have one.'

"I think that's unacceptable," said Rizzo. "Right now, we have a situation at Revere High School, we're borderline - because of science labs and other things – of losing accreditation. I believe we're in crisis mode and I am not an alarmist. If I'm elected mayor, we're going to have to adopt an aggressive plan [for a new high school]."

For more than one hour, Kostopoulos asked questions about life in Revere today and in the future, and Rizzo responded with extensive explanations.

From a visibility standpoint, Rizzo's Town Hall event generated an overwhelming response. According to the candidate, there have been close to 5,000 views with more than 500 comments and 45 separate questions from residents.

"We look forward to a spirited debate on the issues that impact our city, our neighborhoods, and our residents," said Rizzo. Our plan is to compare and contrast our record and vision for our city. We also plan on taking our positive message about our future to

"Not only will these funds provide critical resources to cities and towns across the Commonwealth and fortify larger regional transportation projects, they will create jobs and spur economic growth," said House Speaker Robert A. DeLeo (D-Winthrop). "These investments support our vibrant economy by improving our transportation infrastructure."

Indeed, Guinasso has been at the top of his game after being unanimously elected Council president in January. He has drawn plaudits for his expertise with the gavel during debates and for putting more of a focus on the work done by the council sub-committees.

DeLeo said Guinasso often contacts him at the Statehouse about issues of concern in Ward 2.

"If you look at all the great things and all the improvements over the years that have happened in this city – one of the people who has been most important and involved in all of that is Arthur Guinasso."

Guinasso took the podium to a raucous ovation from the gathering.

He reflected on his impressive victory in the 2017 election and the well-organized campaign. "Our team worked so hard and I just can't thank you enough for that," said Guinasso.

He thanked his colleagues for "honoring me by selecting me" as City Council president. He said the councillors have given him their cooperation "in allowing subcommittees to do the work."

"All the meat and potatoes come out of those subcommittees," said Guinasso.

He said the Council has heard the pleas from its constituents to "slow down the growth in construction, take a deep breath, and try to come up with something that's useful for the community."

To that end, Guinasso said he sponsored a motion to put a moratorium on the conversion of single-family homes in to two-family homes.

Guinasso said he will continue to work hard for his constituents in Ward 3

"We'll win again [in November] because we have the desire to do what's right for our community and we're going to do it the right way," said Guinasso. "Thank you very much for honoring me by being here tonight.'

Guinasso concluded his remarks by thanking his family, including his wife, Linda, who has also ably served the city as a licensing commissioner.

SPEAKER DELEO PREPARES

FOR THE FUTURE

Massachusetts House Speaker Robert DeLeo this week unveiled the details of the plan he announced last February that will provide $1.3 billion to combat the ever-increasing effects of climate change. Among the major aspects of the plan will be the awarding of grants to cities and towns across the state to encourage green energy initiatives and climate change resiliency efforts, which are particularly needed for our vulnerable coastal

The grant program, called GreenWorks, would be funded by $1 billion in bonds and paid out over a decade. The program, to be run by the state Executive Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs, will allow local governments to seek grants for a variety of projects that will focus on climate change preparedness and clean energy production in order to reduce car-

The bill also would set aside an additional $295 million in state spending for energy infrastructure, including $100 million for municipal microgrid systems to increase the resiliency of the electricity grid and $125 million for electric vehicles in municipal fleets and regional transit authorities.

There no longer is any dispute that climate change is occurring and that our coastal communities, including the City of Boston, are ill-prepared at the present time to address the twin threats of rising sea levels and more powerful storms.

Speaker DeLeo's GreenWorks initiative represents a major step forward in protecting our vulnerable coastline, while at the same time creating jobs in the green energy and clean tech industries.

Given the urgency and pressing need to address the issue of climate change, which is occurring at an ever-accelerating pace, we urge our state senators to join with Speaker DeLeo and the Mass. House in presenting a bill for Gov. Charlie Baker's signature by the end of this year.

The rest, as the saying goes, is history. Ali's desire to perform led her to the stage and, with the support of her family, peers, and teachers, she discovered her powerful singing voice and appeared in her high school productions.

She won a role in the hit TV show Glee and eventually made her way to Broadway, where she earned a prominent role in the revival of Oklahoma!.

If a fictional movie had been made on the premise of Ali Stroker's life, no doubt it would be described as powerful and moving, but just a nice fantasy.

But Ali Stroker's life is real, and her success sends a powerful message to all of us that we can achieve our dreams, regardless of the adversity we may face. Her success also has changed the perception of what is possible in the face of physical limitations.

So whenever we're feeling sorry for ourselves, think of Ali Stroker. She has not attained her dream because of luck, but because she believed in herself -- and that's the most powerful belief any of us can have.

CELEBRATE FATHER'S DAY ... JUNE 16, 2019

GUEST OP-ED

Let's celebrate our rivers this June - and make sure we know it's safe to jump in

By: Julia Blatt, Executive Director, Massachusetts Rivers Alliance

At long last, a recent weekend presented one of those pristine days that remind us here in Massachusetts why we endure those winters. With warm spring weather finally here, many of us hit the water for the first time this year, visiting local rivers. With more than 10,000 miles of rivers traversing the state, we had many choices. Sail boats blossomed on the Charles. Rowers huffed and puffed on the Mystic. Fishing rods sprouted along the Swift. Bikers and kayakers explored the Sudbury. For many people, the beautiful day meant a chance to spend on, in and around the rivers of Massachusetts.

Fittingly, June is National Rivers Month, a 30-day gala celebrating our waterways. Whether you kayak past important Revolutionary War sites on the Concord River, hike over the Bridge of Flowers on the Deerfield, draw water for local crops from the Connecticut, or depend on drinking water from the Merrimack, National Rivers Month is a time to celebrate the gains we have made in protecting these important public recreational, economic and historic assets.

however, is also a time to reflect on what remains to be accomplished. The Massachusetts Rivers Alliance, the voice for Massachusetts rivers, is a statewide environmental advocacy non-profit that helps those whose lives are touched by these Massachusetts waterways (and we would argue, that's all of us). Consider, for example, pending legislation regarding sewage overflows around the state. Very old stormwater and wastewater systems serving municipalities in the state have what are called "combined sewage overflow" (CSO) systems. Through these CSOs, stormwater and wastewater systems are physically interconnected. At times of high precipitation, stormwater run-off goes into the wastewater system and overwhelms the water treatment plants. To prevent these backups, wastewater the sewage from your homes and businesses - is dumped directly into Massachusetts rivers. Approximately 200 of these CSO connections exist throughout the state. In Massachusetts, an estimated three billion gallons of raw sewage gets dumped into the state's rivers each year. Swimmers, canoeists, and pets exposed to CSO contaminants are vulnerable to gastroenteritis, respira-

National Rivers Month, fections, skin rashes, hepatitis and other diseases. Children, the elderly, and people with suppressed immune systems are especially vulnerable. Wildlife are also adversely affected by CSO pollutants which lead to higher water temperatures, increased turbidity, toxins and reduced oxygen levels in the water.

Everyone recognizes the problem. But it takes money to fix it, more money than is now available. Over the past two decades, Massachusetts communities have spent more than $1 billion to eliminate CSOs. The federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) estimates, however, that an additional $4.2 billion is needed to finish the job.

federal funding to eliminate CSOs, Mass Rivers is championing a simple sewage notification bill now pending before the Massachusetts legislature. Disturbingly, there is currently no state requirement to notify the public about the presence of sewage in the water when these discharges

The legislation supported by Mass Rivers would require the operator of a CSO to notify local boards of health, in addition to the state Department of Public Health, within two hours after a sewage spill begins. In addition, the public could sign up to receive these notifications, by text, e-mail, phone call or tweet. The state Department of Environmental Protection would be required to centralize all sewage spill data and make it available on the internet. Signage would be required at all public access points (for boating, fishing, beaches) near CSO outfalls as well.

National Rivers Month is a time to shake off those indoor blues and enjoy Massachusetts' bounty of rivers. Whether you go to look for great blue herons, to fish for trout, to take your family and the dog on an afternoon paddling adventure, or simply to seek calm and quiet, our In addition to supporting state's rivers are there for you. efforts to increase state and To preserve these friends, and to ensure the safety of those who use our rivers, National Rivers Month should also be a time for towns and cities to insist that our legislators enact a requirement that when the waters are despoiled with sewage spills, we know about it.

Julia Blatt is Executive Director of the Massachusetts Rivers Alliance, the voice of Massachusetts rivers. The Alliance is a statewide organization of 77 environmental organizations in Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Congratulations to Revere High School Class of 2019! It was a complete team effort at RevereTV to record and also stream this year's RHS graduation ceremony live on our channel and on social media. Director of Community Media, Andrew Love, led a crew of community members at Harry Della Russo Stadium through a full live production process. This also involved staff monitoring our signal and adding graphics in the studio. Thank you to Jackie Wright, Josh Rojas, and Jharline Amaya Pineda for volunteering to take on the roles needed to record and stream the event. If you missed graduation, you can still watch it as it replays on our channel or find it on our social media pages. There, you can also find our coverage of the RHS Senior Prom Red Carpet.

Cesar Agudelo has been a reliable community member since he first showed interest in the studio. RevereTV, with Agudelo's help, covered the Paul Revere School's Community Field Day on Friday. Coverage of this day of fun will soon be available on all of our outlets.

While some community members lent a hand in the field, others were in the studio advancing their skill set. Rachid Moukhabir recorded and submitted more content for two programs, Soccer Talk and Nour Zone. Said Benjebli spent time practicing for his show in our studio. Alexandra Coppola continued working on a project in the editing suites. Fatima Zahra Ouled-Alla expressed her interests in editing and took a class to learn more about Adobe Premiere Pro.

As a reminder, all community member and RTV content can be viewed with cable service from both Comcast and RCN. Our Comcast channels are 8 and 9, while our RCN channels are 3 and 13. We upload all of our own RevereTV coverage, content, and city meetings to our YouTube page and Facebook. All community member programming airs on our television channels. If you are interested in becoming a member, feel free to stop by our studio or reach out by phone by calling 781-426-9498.

Judith 'Judy' 'Meme' Cammarata

An extraordinary woman whose spirit will never leave those who knew her

Judith 'Judy' (Mercurio) Cammarata was born on August 17, 1933 to Michael and Elizabeth Mercurio along with her twin sister and lifelong partner-in-crime, Janice. Together, the Judy and Jannie show was the main attraction at family gatherings for 86 glorious years. Tales of their often strange and "creepy" twin connection still come up in conversation. Stories of showing up to events dressed eerily similar with no knowledge of what the other was planning to wear, or Judy getting a funny feeling in her arm and calling up her sister asking if she had hurt her arm only to find out that she in-fact did, and even sharing labor pains proved how truly and unbelievably close they were. They would often be seen in the background at family gatherings, wearing their famous aprons, preparing dinners and treats for their eagerly awaiting families, and cleaning up after they had fed everyone to the point where no one could move from their seats. They laughed together, they cried together and lived their lives to the end together, passing away exactly seven months to-the-day apart.

A lover of family, friends and traveling, Judy went on many adventures with her family including to "Virgin-E-ah" and her beloved "IT-LY" on multiple occasions, but wherever she was in the world, you would always find her standing next to her husband with a giant smile on her face, surrounded by those who loved her.

Their greatest adventure together would be the family they brought into the world. Judy would become the mother of three loving daughters who. in turn. blessed her with seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren, sharing in a special, unique and unbreakable relationship with their beloved Meme (all of whom still claim to be the favorite.) She would never miss school plays, sporting events or gatherings. And, though she may have been sitting in the audience, to all of her grandchildren she was always the real star of the show, as they, and their friends always looked around the crowd to make sure they saw her.

She may have been the grandmother of seven, but she was Meme to countless friends, classmates, and neighbors.

And to answer the question once and for all, Janelle was, and continues to be, Meme's favorite.

A devout Catholic, Judy was an active member of St. Mary of the Assumption Church and the parish Women's Club in Revere, where she would be constantly found lighting candles and praying for her friends and family. She was an avid bowler, member of the Suburbanites' Bowling league and involved in countless church activities.

Judy does not leave behind anyone, because her spirit will never leave those who knew her. She is survived by her adoring husband, Sonny, her daughter, Susan and husband, James Forte of Saugus, daughter, Cheryl Cammarata of Revere, daughter, Phyllis and her husband, Thomas Yewcic of Stoneham, her granddaughter, Kristen and her husband, Ryan Flynn of Merrimack, New Hampshire, Elizabeth granddaughters Forte of Beverly, Meredith Stavrinos of Medford, Michala Stavrinos and her fiancé, Alex Shea of Revere; granddaughters: Janelle and Julia Yewcic and grandson Thomas Yewcic, all of Stoneham, and great granddaughters, Mia and Madeline Flynn.

She will be dearly missed by her brother. Robert Mercurio and his wife, Grace of Falmouth, her older sister, Aida Mageau of Dennis and her brother-in-law, George L. Gonnella, Sr. of Peabody, all of her nieces, nephews and cousins for whom she had a special place in her heart, and countless friends and neighbors, all of whom had the good fortune to know her.

As we all look back at this extraordinary woman who led such an extraordinary life filled with such extraordinary love, we are reminded how lucky we all are because for some reason God loved us all enough to put us on this earth at the same time as Judy Cam marata.

Visiting Hours are today, Wednesday, June 12, from 4 to 8 p.m. at the Vertuccio & Smith Home for Funerals 773 Broadway, Revere and family and friends are invited to gather at the funeral home again on Thursday, June 13 at 9:30 a.m. to prepare and proceed to a Funeral Mass at St. Mary of the Assumption Church (670 Washington Ave., Revere) at 10:30 a.m., immediately followed by interment at Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

In lieu of flowers, remembrances may be made to the A.C.F. Famiglia Scholarship Fund, 14 Joseph Road, Revere, MA 02151. For more information, please visit www. vertuccioandsmith.com

Richard Laft, Sr.

Massachusetts Dept. of Transportation retiree

Richard "Richie" C. Laft, Sr. passed away Monday evening, June 3 at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston surrounded by his loving family.

Born and raised in Chelsea, the son of the late Irene (Paragone) Laft, Richie attended Chelsea Public Schools and graduated from Chelsea High School, Class of 1965.

He enlisted in the US Army during the Vietnam Era on July 11, 1966. He was honorably discharged on August 24, 1969 and returned to the US Army Reserve to complete his service obligation. Upon returning home from the service, Richie began his career as an equipment operator for the City of Chelsea. After several years of working for the city he grew up in, Richie began working for the MA Highway, now called the Department of Transportation. He retired from the State in 2004. Richie enjoyed his retirement by spending time with his children and grandchildren.

He has been residing in Saugus for the last years but previously lived in Chelsea and Revere. As a kid, Richie enjoyed playing football in the City of Chelsea. He often reminisced about his youth and his famous game winning touchdown catch. Richie was a late member of the American Legion, formerly in Chelsea. He will be greatly missed by all who loved him. He was a beloved husband, father and grandfather, the beloved husband of Sandra J. (Budney) Laft of Saugus, with whom he shared 47 years of marriage; devoted father of Chelsea Police Detective Richard C. Laft, Jr. and his wife, Jeanette of Lynn and Serena D. "As Revere's economy continues to grow, the Revere Police Department will take a pro-active approach to keep Revere a safe place to live, work, and visit," said Mayor Arrigo.

Chief James R. Guido added "The Revere Police will send a strong message that this type of crime will not be tolerated in our City. Women involved in these matters are often the victims of human trafficking, suffer from drug addiction and have been the victims of many types of abuse. We want to make it well known that if you come to Revere to engage in this crime, you will be arrested."

Parking meter investigation ends; reforms project record revenue

Mayor Brian M. Arrigo expressed satisfaction with the closure of the investigation of a Revere Parking Department technician and emphasized the success of Parking Department reforms and technology improvements implemented since an internal audit revealed a trend of declining meter revenue dating to 2012. A criminal charge of larceny over $250 has been filed against a former Department employee following an investigation by Revere Police and the Suffolk County District Attorney's office.

Mayor Arrigo listed a series of initiatives that were put in place shortly after an internal audit was completed in July of 2018 that showed a steady decline in parking meter revenue starting in 2013. The initiatives included hiring a new Parking Clerk, reorganizing the department, overhauling collection schedules and implementing tighter controls over collection practices. Mayor Arrigo also authorized the installation of new "smart" meters in the Broadway and Shirley Avenue business districts, and the purchase of new technology that strictly monitors revenue and eliminates unsecured cash exposure.

These reforms have the Parking Department on pace to collect a record amount of parking meter revenue, with projections nearing $150,000. The increased parking revenue will reap tangible benefits. "Revere at long last will be able to create a Parking Benefits District under the 2016 statewide Municipal Modernization Act," said Mayor Arrigo. "Our parking meter revenues will be reinvested directly back into the parking district for improvements in pedestrian safety and neighborhood aesthetics, with new benches, trees, and lighting in our business districts."

Mayor Arrigo ordered an internal audit of all city departments in March of 2016. That audit recommended further review of cash collection procedures in the City, and the Parking Department came under specific scrutiny due to a dramatic decrease in parking meter revenue over a number of years. As a result of an audit of the Parking Department, two employees were placed on unpaid administrative leave and the information turned over to Revere Police. The Suffolk County District Attorney's office determined that criminal charges were warranted against one of the employees. Further measures against the two employees will follow the City's internal administrative personnel pro-

"We applaud the City of Revere for taking proactive measures to ensure the public trust," Suffolk County District Attorney Rachel Rollins said. "The efforts they are taking to move forward with new policies and procedures will provide for more accountability

"Our promise to the residents of Revere is accountability, transparency, and modernized services," said Mayor Arrigo. "When we learned the results of the audit, we took hold of a troublesome situation and since then have turned the Parking Department into an exemplary department that now functions efficiently and improves quality of life for our residents and business owners. The people of Revere deserve the best from city services and staff meets the highest standards of integrity," Mayor Arrigo said.

sage tonight to all of you is to do your best to slow it down," said Mayor Arrigo. "Slow it down long enough to appreciate each moment..that's how you will understand and enjoy the meaning of life. Reflect on the friends you've made, the obstacles you've overcome the moments of disillusionment or angry because they are all valuable and make you who you are. When you slow things down life is more manageable and more valuable and it becomes easier to understand and appreciate life. Take the good and the bad with understanding and go about your days unafraid of failure but most of all slow it down enough to appreciate the goals you have achieved."

In brief remarks, School Committee Vice Chair Michael Ferrante gave sound advice to the seniors.

"Each one of our students are leaders in their own way," said Ferrante. "So I say pursue a career based on your interests and talents."

Class President Jenna Wells said the these last four years at RHS will help the class succeed in the places they go.

"Without all that you have done for us (RHS staff and administrators) we would not be here today about to graduate as the Class of 2019," said Wells. "We have navigated our way through freshman, sophomore, junior and senior year. While this year has been filled with ups and downs and more changes we have so much to cherish. While these four years of high school were a rollercoaster it is what makes us unique. We are not the same class that walked through the doors of RHS four years ago. We learned we matured and paved our path for the future.'

Valedictorian Julia Tran began her speech humbly saying many other students could have given this year's Valedictorian Speech, students that are better writers, who have more school spirit and who have good grades and work hard.

However, in her speech she said that the accomplishment of the Class of 2019 is that it helped shape RHS into the school it is today.

"Like all the classes before us and hopefully like all the classes after us we made RHS what it is," said Tran. "Our attitudes, our relationships with teachers, with underclassman and each other, the initiatives we tried to be a part of the changes we made we've influenced RHS as much as we think it changed us. #### NEWS FROM AROUND THE REGION

COUNCIL PASSES 2020 BUDGET

CHELSEA - The City Council passed a nearly $181.5 million City Budget for Fiscal Year 2020, but not without some dire warnings about the financial future of the City by a few of the councillors.

The $181,486,465 budget passed by an 8-3 vote, with Councillors Damali Vidot, Joe Perlatonda, and Robert Bishop voting against the 3.7 percent increase over the FY19 budget. The School Department's $95.4 million commitment comprises the largest chunk of the budget.

The Council also approved the Water and Sewer Enterprise accounts for FY20, bringing total City appropriations to around $205 million, but the water and sewer accounts are paid through the water and sewer rates, not taxation.

Several attempts were made to cut money from the budget Monday night, but with the exception of a $1,300 cut in the Emergency Management department budget, none of those efforts garnered a majority.

Among those failed efforts was one by Vidot to cut salary lines in the police, fire, and planning budgets.

Vidot proposed the $80,000 cut to the planning budget, $50,000 to the police, and $100,000 to the fire last year as well, citing a top heavy administrative budgeting in the Police and Fire departments, and her displeasure with the way the Downtown Coordinator position in the Planning Department has panned out.

One of the biggest issues, Vidot said, is that the Downtown Coordinator has not been properly involved with the small, local businesses in the city.

"We have to think about the future of this city, and (the position) is leaving out a huge part of Chelsea," said Vidot.

Perlatonda said he couldn't agree with an effort to cut $80,000 from the planning budget when the Council didn't take action to cut millions of dollars from the Department of Public Works budget.

Perlatonda made his own amendments looking for the cuts in the DPW budget, which would have effectively ended a request by City Manager Thomas Ambrosino to have the DPW oversee a new City Water and Sewer Department, rather than contracting for the services.

Those amendments also failed.

Councillor-At-Large Roy Avellaneda also voted against the cuts to the planning budget, noting several recent citywide events that have brought hundreds of people to the downtown area.

Vidot noted that her amendment was not a personal attack on anyone, but added that City events would more appropriately be funded in the Recreation Department budget. In casting his vote against the overall $181.5 million, Bishop said the constant increases in City spending are unsustainable.

"Last year, I voted against the budget because it was unsustainable," said Bishop. "This year, it is even more unsustainable ... this can't continue. It's no surprise to everyone that I usually oppose certain spending.

"I'm against a lot of spending because I think it is not spent wisely," he continued. When is this going to end? I hope I am not around when the bottom falls out, because it is going to fall."

District 6 Councillor Giovanni Recupero voted for the budget, but said the City needs to seriously heed PAYMENT USED FOR Bishop's warning, noting that SOUNDPROOFING other large cities in Massachusetts such as Springfield and Lawrence have seen the economic bottom fall out.

"It can happen anywhere, ... and then we will have to start laying people off," said Recupero. "We only have 1.8 square miles in the city, how much can you grow in our city?

"I am going to vote for the budget because it is the right thing to do now, but like Mr. Bishop said, we have to beware of the future, because the future is not too far away," he continued.

Perlatonda said that the budget is rising without the City doing enough to help its poorer residents through things like tax and water and sewer rate breaks.

"When is it going to end?" he said. "This budget needs to be stopped at some point."

District 8 Councillor Calvin Brown said the councillors have gone through a long budget process with ample chance to make amendments or address their concerns to Ambrosino.

"I believe this budget is solid, well thought out, and well supported," Brown said. "I know the investment we are making today is sound."

Avellaneda voted to approve the budget, but said it is the first time he has ever given serious pause to voting in favor of a budget.

"What I have seen during the last year with the budget process is that I don't think we are doing enough during budget season," he said.

Avellaneda said there should have been more debate about, and more information provided about, the proposed change to the control of the Water and Sewer Department.

He also noted that the budget will have to be paid for in October, when the Council sets the City tax rate.

When that time comes around, Avellaneda said he will have questions for the City's Assessing Department, which he said has been doing a "terrible job" capturing the true value of many larger properties in Chelsea.

"Across the board, there are many, many, many buildings, and these are large landlords, that are not paying their due in this community," Avellaneda

COUNCILLORS WANT MASSPORT

CHELSEA - District 6 Councillor Giovanni Recupero doesn't like some of the noise he is hearing about a proposed Massport-funded soundproofing program.

Earlier this spring, Recupero and Councillor-At-Large Roy Avellaneda proposed that the City use $300,000 of the $600,000 annual Massport mitigation payment to help provide soundproof windows for residents who deal with the whoosh of jets traveling to and from Logan Airport.

But a letter from City Manager Thomas Ambrosino to the City Council states it might not be that easy to automatically earmark those funds for a soundproofing program.

"I am not opposed to creating some local grant program, operated through our Planning Department, to provide funding for soundproofing to residents adversely impacted by airport related noise," Ambrosino stated. "Deciding who should qualify for such grants, and how to prioritize areas of the City, might be a bit challenging. But, I feel with some time, we can work out those details together in collaboration with the City Council."

But Ambrosino said the funding proposed by the Council is problematic, since the annual mitigation payment cannot be directly used for a specific program. The payment is considered a payment in lieu of taxes by the state's revenue department, making it a general revenue source that is deposited into the City's general fund.

"If the Council desires to depend upon this Massport payment to help fund a soundproofing program at the level of $300,000 annually, it must Ward 2 Councillor Ira Novoselsky is upset with National Grid and its contractors using local streets in the Garfield neighborhood as staging areas for their work on gas line connections to home.

"National Grid has been parking its heavy-duty equip-appropriate the $300,000 separately," Ambrosino stated. "It can do that either in an annual Budget line item, or as an isolated appropriation from a source such as Stabilization or Free Cash."

Ambrosino recommended the City commit to appropriating $300,000 for the soundproofing program from Free Cash whenever it is available, rather than making it a permanent part of the budget.

"I can see what the City Manager is saying, but this money comes to us direct from Massport, we get it all the time, so why do we have to wait and put it in free cash?" Recupero asked. "What kind of guarantee can the City Manager give us? I want the City Manager to give us some kind of guarantee that the money will be used for that purpose, not all of it, but a piece of it."

NEW GAS STATION OPENS AT LOGAN: WILL SOON HOUSE STARBUCKS

EAST BOSTON - Soon Jeffries Point residents will no longer have to walk or drive to Central Square or McClellan Highway to get their Meridian Market or Starbucks fixes.

Massport announced that a new convenience and filling station opened on the Logan Airport campus on Tomahawk Drive on Saturday, June 1. Massport also announced that Eastie's famed Meridian Market has been selected as the deli business within the new gas station and Starbucks will be the station's coffee vendor.

The new gas station, which is being relocated due to the Terminal E modernization project, could be a boon for the gas station operator, Meridian Market and Starbucks. Total gross sales of the former gas station last year were $10,840,340. This amount included fuel pump sales at the gas station, Dunkin' Donuts, and retail sales from the filling station deli and convenience

The new station features a Shell gas station with open space and a park-like layout, which will be completed this Massport's Acting CEO John Pranckevicius said Meridian Market and Starbucks should open this summer. He said having a community partner like a Meridian Market to run its sandwich shop and deli is part of Massport's plan to increase more local business opportunities at the airport.

"It was important to the community to develop an attractive, functional convenience store and gas station facility that includes local food options and open community space, said Pranckevicius. "We wish to thank the new station owners for designing a great facility that the Airport and community will both enjoy".

As part of this project and due to its close proximity to the Jeffries Point neighborhood, Massport is improving the physical space around the new filling station. The space will feature a number of amenities including public open green space with a patio, electric vehicle charging stations, and walk able access to the community. The design of the space was inspired by the outdoor veranda at the Bremen Street Library that overlooks Massport's Bremen Street Park.

"The convenience and filling station will be an attractive and functional store and gas station with modern features that will not only serve Logan Airport but the Jeffries Point neighborhood as well," added Pranckevicius.

EXCEL OFFICIALS LAY OUT PLANS TO EXPAND HIGH SCHOOL

EAST BOSTON - At a recent community meeting, Excel Academy Charter School Executive Director Owen Stearns and Excel's Pat Forbest and Dan Mills laid out the plans to expand the High School on Bremen Street to include a middle school. The plan includes building the new middle school facility over the current parking lot at Excel Academy High School. Most of the parking spaces in the lot, which is between the school and the Bremen Street Branch Library, will remain and the schools plans to lease additional off site spaces to accommodate for teacher and staff parking.

The expansion is part of Excel's 2014 plan to accommodate the growing student population.

Excel opened first a middle school in Eastie in 2003, a second middle school in Chelsea in 2011, a third middle school in Orient Heights in 2012 and the neighborhood's first charter high school on Bremen Street in 2016.

"This month we will see the first 100 graduating class of seniors from our high school," said Stearns. "Excel has educated approximately 2,000 students in Grades 5-12 since Stearns said the expansion of the high school facility to include a middle school is Phase 3 of the school's plan outlined in 2014.

This plan will increase the student population from 896 to 924 and increase the school's footprint on Bremen Street from 71,000 square feet to 79,500 square feet.

According to Forbest and Mills, traffic studies have been conducted regarding bus and car traffic.

At the meeting the Excel team also laid out its transportation and traffic management plan. The school plans to increase the number of staff managing flow of bus/ auto queue. Increase number of staff to manage student pedestrian activity on both sides of Bremen Street. Cars will be assigned to specific pickup and drop-off areas. Excel agrees to pay a fine for any parent blocking driveways and will ask BTD to supply meter maids as necessary. The school will Increase communication with parents on policies, install school zone signage and change to staggered arrival times if traffic becomes too much of an issue in the mornings

Forbest said the school would also improve residential access to Excel parking lot when school is not in session. Lot signage will be revised to indicate available parking for library patrons and neighbors from 4 p.m. to 6 a.m. every day. However, any non-Excel car that remains past 6 a.m. may be towed.

On weekends and statewide holidays when public schools are closed, neighbors will be able to park in the lot during normal school hours.

"For evening or weekend events which necessitate utilizing the parking lot, the lot will be closed and Excel will post on Twitter and Facebook announcing the hours the lot will be closed for special events and state that any cars parked will be towed," said Forbest. "In addition, sandwich boards will be posted at the entrance and exit of the parking lot listing the days/ times the lot will be closed and when cars will be towed."

During inclement weather no parking will be allowed in the lot when cars could impede snow removal.

Back in 2017 Excel expanded the footprint of the high school to give the senior class more classroom and flex space as they take electives and advanced placement classes.

The school added 2,500 sq. ft. in the rear of the building near the East Boston Greenway, which resulted in roughly a 10-percent increase in the building's overall size.

The addition had no impact on the Greenway or Greenway access. There was some concerns of runoff from the building due to flooding problems along the Greenway closer to Jeffries Point and the school's close proximity to the neighborhood park system. However, the school, which is LEED certified, uses a system of storm water storage that traps that slowly release storm water from the building after heavy rain.

Formerly the site of Paul's Park and Fly, the last of the park and fly companies that once dotted Bremen Street, the $25 million Excel High School was built on stretch of land that now includes a state of the art library and the sprawling 18-acre Bremen Street Park,

The new two-acre campus includes the main building, community rooms, a cafeteria, gymnasium, office space, and support space. The school also includes a 30-car pick up and drop off area, a dedicated bus pull off area, a 50-space parking lot for faculty and visitors, and a 24,100 square-foot outdoor student courtyard.

SHORT TERM RENTALS SUBJECT TO FEE

EVERETT - At the City Council meeting on Tuesday, May 28, Councilors unanimously approved a measure that would charge a 3 percent Community Impact Fee to the operators of short-term rentals in the City of Everett, including those using Airbnb and other rental booking sites.

It will go into effect July 1. The fee is part of the Short-Term Rental Ordinance approved by the Council earlier this year. Councilors were given the option to impose between 1 percent and 3 percent in the Community Impact Fee, and they chose the maximum. Operators of short-term rentals will be assessed the 3 percent fee paid directly to the Department of Revenue (DOR) in the form of an excise on the total rental revenue. The State will then give that back to the City on a quarterly basis and Councilors voted that the fee go toward affordable housing and infrastructure. This fee is on top of the 6 percent Occupancy Excise that short-term rental operators are already paying to the DOR as of March 4.

A short-term rental is defined as any stay under 31 consecutive days and would not apply to month-to-month leases or leases over one month. However, the Community Impact Fee is only applicable to rentals that are managed through a registered booking agent. In addition to the 3 percent fee, the new ordinance requires that all short-term rental properties managed through a booking site be fully licensed just like any other business. Rental operators must apply for a license with the City, pay for said license, and have the license approved by the City Clerk in order to operate legally.

This went into effect on March 4 when it was signed by the Mayor.

"If they are in operation without a license, they will receive a cease and desist order," said City Clerk Sergio Cornelio. "Please be sure you have all the licenses needed."

He added that rental owners who continue to operate without a license will be subject to fines.

The new ordinance comes amid a surge of local rentals being listed on booking sites like Airbnb and Vrbo ahead of the opening of Encore Boston Harbor this summer.

"We have to do this. We have a ton of Airbnbs," said Councilwoman Rosa DiFlorio. "With the growth coming with the casino, [they] are going to be more popular."

Platforms like Airbnb and Vrbo allow homeowners to rent out rooms in their home or units in their building to guests for short-term stays. Residents are hoping to take advantage of the coming tidal wave of out-of-town visitors who want to use the casino but don't want to pay a premium to stay at the Encore hotel, where, according to its Chief Communications Officer Michael Weaver, rooms will start at $645 per night.

rentals available in Everett yields a smattering of options on the streets surrounding Broadway and beyond. They range in price from $29 per night for an entire three-bedroom apartment on Marie Avenue, to $350 per night for a six-bedroom, ten-bed house on Summit Avenue. Some posters tout their proximity to the casino in their listings as a way to entice possible guests.

In order to make the public aware of the new rental requirements, the City plans to release announcements on Everett Community Television as well as take out ads in the local papers.

Clerk Cornelio admitted that it would take a lot of legwork to acquaint the community to the new laws.

"It's a slow process," he allowed. "No one's had the licensing before. We're trying to move forward as proactively as we can."

The Clerk also added that he and his team are using sites like Airbnb to identify unlicensed short-term rentals in the city and to reach out to their operators.

CASINO'S TRANSPORTATION PLANS DISCUSSED

EVERETT - On Tuesday, May 28, the Council held a special meeting to hear a presentation by John Tocco, executive director Of Government Affairs and Community Relations at Encore Boston Harbor, who laid out the resort casino's transportation plan for opening weekend and beyond.

"It's a pleasure for me personally to be a part of such a wonderful opportunity for thousands of people," said Tocco. "To see it happening there today, to see 1,600 people from the surrounding towns working there already has been an amazing experience. This is what we set out to do seven years ago."

His presentation touched on three key areas: transportation, the grand opening, and public relations/marketing.

Tocco detailed the number of transportation options that

Transportation

Encore is offering to bring people to and from its site. These include parking options for cars as well as bikes, ride services such as limousines and taxis/rideshares, a water shuttle and various bus options. Encore has a fleet of four water taxis, which will connect the casino to Boston's Seaport and Financial District for $7 per ride. Councilors had originally expressed concern about traffic backups caused by the frequent lifting of the Alford Street Bridge. While it has not yet released its water taxi schedule, Encore's Chief Communications Officer Michael Weaver said in an inter-A quick Airbnb search of view with Independent that its water taxis are small enough to pass under the bridge without having to lift it.

In addition to the MBTA bus routes, Encore is presenting a number of its own buses. The free Encore Shuttle will connect the casino to Malden and Wellington Stations. The free Encore Neighborhood Runner will snake through Rivergreen, City Hall and Chelsea's Mystic Mall. The Encore Premium Motor Coach will offer a $7 ride to free parking options in MA and NH. There will also be a shuttle exclusively for Encore employees.

"Our objective is to keep as many people out of their vehicles as possible," said Tocco. "The MBTA is critical for our success."

The presentation identified a number of different lots where out-of-town visitors can park their vehicles to make use of the different transportation options to the casino: Wellington Station, Station Landing, Rivergreen, Malden Station, Jackson Garage, Malden Center, Wonderland Station and Lower Broadway.

•Grand Opening

Tocco dispelled any rumors of a delayed opening, stating that the resort was on schedule to open on its original projected date of June 23.

"Our operations team is working around the clock making sure everything is put together," he said. "It's a testament to our team to get this monumental task up and running.'

As part of its grand opening plan, Tocco also noted the bike and pedestrian connection that goes under the MBTA tracks and over to the Gateway Mall site by Costco, adding that the idea is to "keep as many people off of Broadway and out of neighborhoods."

Opening weekend will see an increased police detail comprised of officers from the Everett, Boston and Medford Police Departments; State Police, MBTA Transit Police; the US Coast Guard; the Police Marine Units of the Everett, Boston and State Police; and the Boston Department of Public Works. Moving beyond opening weekend, law enforcement presence will be reassessed as needed.

•Public Relations and Marketing

Encore hired a public relations agency to enhance public awareness about its transportation options, its dedication to minimizing traffic and its commitment to improving infrastructure.

Encore's marketing and communications team also hopes to leverage social media and local radio stations to provide real-time transportation updates to the public and to field questions from visitors. Its website will allow visitors to view transportation schedules and to book trips on its Premium Motor Coach. Local and regional wayfinding signage will direct drivers to Encore with highway signs along routes 16, 90 and 93, and street signs in Everett and East Somerville.

Overall, Councilors expressed cautious optimism regarding Encore's transportation plan.

"I think it's going to be a great project. I can't wait to see it," said Councilor John McKinnon. "But as a member of this board, we need to make sure it's going to go right for the host community. We don't want to be waiting years to get [things] fixed." "No matter how much planning you've done, we're still going to have issues the first couple of months," said Councilwoman Rosa DiFlorio. "Everett needs to expect this. After two or three months, we correct the issues, but we don't have a crystal ball."

"We know people aren't going to jump on these buses the first day. The intent is to educate people to do that," said Councilor Peter Napolitano. "The opening day command team will meet to assess what works and what doesn't work."

Councilor Wayne Matewsky proposed his idea of a dedicated suggestion hotline managed by Encore where residents can share about what is and isn't working in their communities. The idea is to reduce the number of calls being sent directly to Councilors. Encore currently has a community inquiry line, but it is not exclusively for complaints. "I would like to have it installed before you open and advertised to the citizenry of this community," he said. "We're on the same page, we want a great city. But I don't want people calling me on a daily basis if they have an issue regarding Encore."

Encore put together its transportation plan in consultation with various public and government entities: the police departments of Everett, Boston, Chelsea, Malden, Medford and Somerville; State Police; US Coast Guard; the Police Marine Units of Everett, Boston and Massachusetts; the Transportation Departments of Everett and Boston; MassDOT Highway Division; MBTA Operations and Planning; Boston Public Works; Massport and the Massachusetts Gaming Commission. "We've been working as a team on this since February," said James Folk, executive director of Transportation at Encore Boston Harbor. "Every agency understands this is for the whole community and the state and we will work together as a team."

The transportation plan is part of Encore's master plan, which had previously been submitted in the form of a 394-page document to the Massachusetts Gaming Commission. It is currently posted on their website for public

Taylor Ridings, of Revere, receives Teamsters Local 25 Scholarship

Teamsters Local 25 awarded college scholarships worth $60,000 to 30 high school students at its May 19 membership meeting, held at the Local 25 Union Hall. Taylor Ridings, of Revere, was among the recipients.

A recent graduate of Northeast Metropolitan Vocational High School, Taylor will attend Southern New Hampshire University this fall. Taylor is the daughter of Sean Ridings, a Teamsters Local 25 member that works at Massport. She received the George Rodrigues Memorial Scholarship Award, sponsored by Keches Law Group.

"These students are the future of our nation," said Teamsters Local 25 President Sean M. O'Brien. "They are smart, engaged and an example of all that is good in the world. If the achievements and goals they have had so far is any indication, we can expect nothing but greatness from the future generation."

President O'Brien was joined by Massachusetts Congresswoman Lori Trahan (MA-3), who helped present the student scholarships.

"I am so proud of the 30 recipients of the Teamsters Local 25 Scholarships. I grew up in a union household, and know first-hand how importbe to families working hard to make ends meet so they can build a better life for themselves and their children. Supporting one another is what union membership is all about. I look forward to these students continuing to grow and make a positive impact in their communities," said Trahan.

Since 2006, Teamsters Local 25 has awarded nearly $600,000 in scholarship funds. All students are children or grandchildren of Local 25 members or retirees.

Teamsters Local 25 is the largest Teamsters Union in New England, representing more than 12,000 workers.

A contingent of six members of the Revere High boys outdoor track & field team competed in the State Decathlon North competition last Monday and Tuesday and turned in fine performances.

"We finished very well both as individuals and as a team," said RHS head coach Sam Ros. "The boys finished second overall as a team. It was a very good couple of days for us and a great way to finally end the season. Revere has never earned a team plaque at the decathlon until this year.

"Our top finisher was our best athlete all year, Antony Arias. We had four boys, including Antony (10th overall in the competition), finish in the top 25," added Ros. "The others were Cam Ventura 17th, Rayan Riazi 23rd, Fray Del Rosario 24th, Idriss Taoujni 40th, and Matt DaRocha 50th."

RHS SOFTBALL TEAM DROPS TOURNEY OPENER

The Revere High softball team's season came to an end with a 5-2 loss at Reading in a preliminary round contest of the Division 1 North Sectional of the MIAA state softball tournament last Thursday.

The Lady Patriots (10-10 on the season) entered the tourney as the 23rd seed of the 24 teams in the D-1 North. Reading was the 10th seed with a 13-7 regular season mark.

The contest was a microcosm of the struggles the Lady Patriots faced all season. Revere jumped out to a 2-0 in the top of the first thanks to a two-RBI double by Danielle Dion that brought home teammates Lynzie Anderson and Julianna Raffa.

However, that would prove to be the apogee for the Lady Patriots' effort on the day. Reading chipped away with a run in second and then brought the contest back to level at 2-2 with another solo marker in the fourth.

Reading then pulled away with a three-run rally in the sixth on a pair of base hits and a line drive into the gap in left center that became a home run thanks to the lack of fencing in the outfield -- an inexplicable circumstance for a state

"The game was symptomatic of the way we played all year," said RHS head coach Joe Ciccarello. "We often grabbed early leads on our opponents, but then could not hold on and put them away."

tourney game.

RHS senior Olivia McManus went all the way in the pitcher's circle, limiting Reading to seven hits and striking out six opponents.

The contest marked the last game in a Revere uniform for Olivia and fellow seniors Dion and Joli Giuliano, all three of whom contributed immensely to the RHS softball program over the past four years.

"We'll miss those three girls tremendously," noted Ciccarello. "But we have a good nucleus of returning players that will bode well for next year."

Sophomore Alexis Iacoviello, who played at catcher and third base, was the lone Lady Patriot named to the All-Conference all-star team.

Baseball season is in full swing at St. Mary's Field, weather permitting of course! On any given night you can see the children of Revere lining all three Griswold Fields and enjoying themselves as they whack the orb around the diamond, whether it be big and yellow or small and white.

The Cardinals are stomping through their competition, as they remain firmly entrenched in first place in the Major League Division. Led by the prodigious bats of Phil Boncore and Matt McGowan, The Cards are keeping their eyes on the prize as they look to repeat as League Champions.

The Indians have locked up second place and the second first round playoff bye on the strength of solid contributions from Kyle Cummings, Seth Sullivan, Shayna Smith, Vincenzo Palermo and a cast of thousands. Playoffs will start on Thursday night, with the Phillies, Cubs, Red Sox and Diamondbacks all scheduled for 7:30 starts.

SHOCK DOGS

Northeast Vocational juniors combine cooking, science and technology and Automation students are taking the art of barbecuing to a new level.

Juniors Matthew Cheffro, of Wakefield, and Kyle Paradis, of Revere, recently created a programmable logic controller (PLC) hot dog cooker, to produce what students call "shock dogs."

The name came from the method in which they're cooked.

"It basically electrocutes them," Cheffro explained.

"Using 120 volts of alternating current," added Par-

With a push of a green button -- that is connected to a PLC -- a lid closes on the device and metal prongs send electricity through the hot dog, cooking it from the inside out. Sixty-five seconds later, the dogs are done.

> "I'd say our dogs are better than a Fenway Frank," Paradis said.

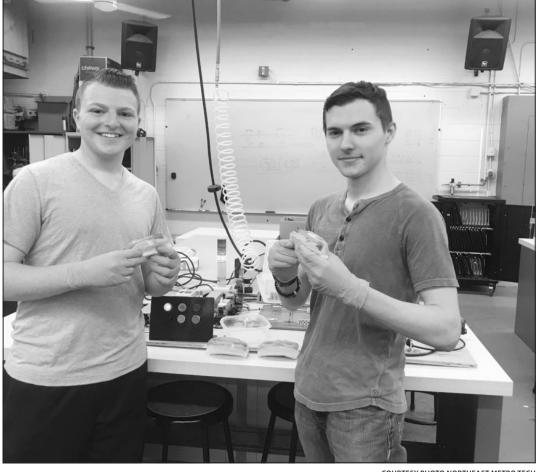

Coding developed by Cheffro and Paradis programs the device, which also includes a number of colored buttons that alert the user that different sequences are occurring. A blinking yellow light confirms the dogs are cooking, while a blue light signals that the device is functioning properly and no fuses have blown.

"It's amazing," Cheffro said. "I love that we can come beef, as that's what the device up with an idea and then make

The project, which the juniors completed under the guidance of instructor Brian Caven, encompasses the three main disciplines of robotics and automation: software, electrical and mechanical.

"Everything that students learn and create in class is similar to what they'd see in the industry," Caven said. "Whether it's cooking a hot dog on an electrical device, or programming stop lights, these all involve the automation process. It was great to see Matt and Kyle exercise their creativity and this is something the entire shop can preparing to kick off the new NPSL Founders Cup this fall and top the North Atlantic Conference with 24 points.

The Cosmos are unbeaten in two regular seasons, and when Boston City first faced the New York side back in 2016, they ended a similar streak. Three years ago, the Lions were playoff-bound and in fine form themselves, but this season have struggled to find consistency, so a home victory would cause an upset. Boston City did hold the Cosmos scoreless until halftime in New York back in May, before losing, as star midfielder Junior Burgos proved deadly with two unstoppable free kicks, inspiring a 5-0 win.

But that won't dampen the entertainment on offer at Hormel Stadium as joint interim coaches Cesar Deossa and Roberto Mazzinghy lead their side into battle.

The Lions hope to have top-scorer Jhonata Batista return from an injury he suffered having scored his fourth goal of the season away to the Rhode Island Reds last week. The attack has been boosted by the addition of striker Hugo Bomfim, who scored and assisted on his debut, while the Lions have added left back Francisco Neto, and returning midfielder Pedro Silva (pictured).

Saturday's match facts:

Boston City FC (1-7-2) vs New York Cosmos (8-0-0) Saturday, June 15, 2019 Kickoff 7pm

Hormel Stadium

90 Locust St., Medford, MA

Boston City FC vs. New York Cosmos match notes:

Boston City FC and the New York Cosmos have met five times previously with the Cosmos having won three, the Lions one and one game ended in a draw... The Cosmos won the first-ever meeting between the clubs, which was also Boston City's first-ever match, 3-1 at Malden Catholic in 2016... The sides drew 1-1 in 2017 in Boston with Jhonata Batista on target for the Lions... Batista is Boston City's joint top scorer in 2019 with 4 goals... Strikes from Darwin Espinal (2), Alejandro Penzini and Danny Szetela propelled the Cosmos to a 4-0 win in Boston to open the 2018 NPSL season... Earlier this season, the Lions held the Cosmos scoreless until halftime before Junior Burgos scored from two stunning free kicks and Darwin Espinal, Charlie Ledula and Joseph Sanchez completed a 5-1 win... The first time the clubs met in New York, Boston City triumphed 3-2 with goals from Jhonata Batista, Michael Bustamante and Homero Morais... The win was the second in a nine-match winning streak that propelled the Lions to the 2016 NPSL playoffs and was the first time the Cosmos had lost over 90 minutes in their NPSL history, having won the championship the previous season, 2015... Lions striker Jhonata Batista is second on the all-time club goal scorers list with 13, trailing Isaac Addai (17) by four goals...

Seventeen players have made their debuts for a newlook Boston City FC this season with D Francisco Neto and F Hugo Bomfim becoming the latest away to the Rhode Island Reds on June 7 when Bomfim scored and assisted on a goal... Midfielder Pedro Silva, who made 16 appearances during the 2017 and 2018 seasons, returned to the side on June 7 and played in both matches against the Reds... Midfielder Santi Cardona is the only player to have played in every match this season... Jason Katz has started the past two matches for a total of six starts this season, with Jake Wagmeister making three appearances and Sandro van Kuijck two between the posts.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION GRADUATION CEREMONY AND MASS

The annual graduation ceremony for Immaculate Conception was held with a graduation Mass last week for the Immaculate Conception School's Class of 2019.

The first Ronald P. Corbett, Sr. Scholarship was presented to Sebastian Vasquez. The annual scholarship is awarded to a graduating Immaculate student who is going on to a Catholic high school, and is offered by the children of Ron Corbett, who passed away last July. Vasquez will be attending Malden Catholic High School in the fall.

In addition to the Corbett Scholarship, the Peg McCarthy Volunteerism Award was also given out; established in 1998, this award goes to the graduating Immaculate Conception student who best exemplifies a spirit of volunteerism. Mrs. "Peg" McCarthy was a longtime member of the Immaculate Conception Parish who volunteered in a variety of parish and civic programs in the city of Revere.

For many years she was active in the Catholic Daughters, the Immaculata Guild, Bingo, the Prayer Group, and served as a Eucharistic Minister. In her later years, she gave her time to the Immaculate Conception School, serving the needs of teachers, students, and staff. "Peg" McCarthy was born into eternal life on January 1, 1997. This memorial award has been established by her family to keep her spirit alive at the Immaculate Conception School.

This year's recipient of the "Peg" McCarthy Volunteerism Award is Marnie Clavel, who was chosen by the staff of school because of his or her unselfish service, positive attitude, and Catholic values.

Graduation Speeches

Jenna Wells Class President

Oh The Places You'll Go Class of 2019, for as long as we can remember we havebeen asked what do you want to be when you are older, and more recently what our plans are for next year. While many of us never really knew the answer until a short time ago, and some may be sitting here still unsure, our time spent these last thirteen years, specifically these last four years at Revere High School will help us succeed in the places we will go. Before I continue and talk about all the places we have gone these last four years, I want to begin by acknowledging and giving my thanks and appreciation to everyone who has helped shape me into the individual I am

I want to personally thank my family including my parents, siblings, grandparents, and aunts. I would not be standing here, the person I am today, if it were not for you guys. On behalf of the Class of 2019, I want to extend our appreciation and gratitude to our elected officials, administrators, teachers, families, and friends.

Without all that you have done for us, we would not be sitting here today about to graduate as a part of the Revere High School Class of 2019.

As I began to think about this speech I could not help but think of the Dr. Seuss book, "Oh the Places You'll Go." This book best sums up all that we have experienced and how we are feeling as we sit here tonight. We have gone many places from the east wing to the cafeteria to the science labs in the c wing and the list goes on. We have steered our way through the halls of Revere High School, which at one point seemed like a maze. Dr. Seuss says, "You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes.

You can steer yourself any direction you choose." Class of 2019 we have navigated our way through freshman sophomore, junior, and senior year. We are almost done.

As scared little freshman on the first day of school, we walked through the doors and felt as if it was a whole new

We did not know what to do or where to go. As we sat in the auditorium, there were many unfamiliar faces and concerning thoughts going through our heads. How am I going to find my way to class? What is advisory? Wait, we don't have to wear uniforms anymore? We actually have to spend four years here? As the seniors told us and we should have really listened, these four years would fly by. While we sat there we thought the four years would drag, and then we blinked and we are here today. Those seniors were not lying. To the underclassmen, cherish these moments while they last, before you know it you will be sitting here just as we are ready and anxious to walk across the stage.

As we began our sophomore year, we quickly realized we are just freshman all over again, with a little more of a sense of what we were doing. Not much though. We thought we were cool, but we all had our reality checks as we realized were still in the back of the stands during Friday night football games and had very little chance of moving up anytime soon. While sophomore year felt as though it would never end, mainly because we couldn't wait to be upperclassmen, we made it through with the grit and perseverance that define what a Revere Patriot truly is.

Eventually we made it to our junior year. We were officially considered upperclassmen. We could finally move up closer in the fan sections, have our own proms, and some of us even drive.

Junior year really defined us as a class. As juniors we all formed many new friendships and had much more unity. We came together and made more of a name for ourselves. If I had to use one word to describe our junior year, it would have to be change.

Not only did we have two different assistant principals in the same school year, but many of us also started taking more rigorous AP and honors courses. While junior year felt #### endless as we could not wait to be seniors, many of us have limited memory about all that happened throughout that year, yet realize we should have appreciated it much more as we sit here today.

Finally, senior year, we made it! While this year was filled with ups and downs, and even more change as we are now on our fourth assistant principal in four years. Thank you Ms. Chamberlin. We have so much to remember and cherish, from the Friday night football games, to watching our boys whip Winthrop on Thanksgiving, to our girls powderpuff team also beating Winthrop 36-0. How could we forget the talent show, senior act, and Mr. RHS? Most recently we enjoyed the senior barbecue, boat cruise, prom, and now graduation. The hours of community service and portfolios many of us had to makeup, and the push to get to school the last few weeks, were all worth it Class of 2019. We are almost there, in just a few minutes we will walk across the stage and officially be the Revere High School graduated class of 2019.

While these four years of high school were a rollercoaster, it is what makes us unique. We are not the same class who walked through the doors of RHS four years ago. We learned, we matured, and we paved our path for the future. While we are all going different ways following this ceremony, I wish each and everyone of the ( # of grads graduates in front of me the best of luck in the future. Class of 2019, look around at your fellow classmates, and cherish the rest of the ceremony while it lasts.

This is the last time ever we will all be assembled as the Revere High School Class of

Before we walk across the stage I want to leave you with this message from Dr. Seuss, "Kid, you'll move mountains! Today is your day! Your mountain is waiting. So get on your way! You're on your own. And you know what you know. And you are the one who'll decide where to go. And will you succeed? Yes! You will, indeed! (98 and 3/4 percent guaranteed.)"

Congratulations Class of

Thank you!

Julia Tran Class Valedictorian

Class of 2019, faculty, families, loved ones, the celebrities I invited who are probably in disguise right now, I have a big secret.

I am totally not qualified to give this speech.

I have accidentally walked in on people in the girl's bathroom way too many times, even though I already know the stall doors won't lock. One week, I was incredibly sick and still went to school, and as I explained to people what it could be, I mentioned syphilis, thinking it was more like pneumonia and not an STD. I didn't know how to submit my supplements on Common App until weeks after I sent in my college applications. I still get lost in the school hallways, use the water refill station when the filter sign is red, touch the bottoms of my shoes too much, and I still don't know who Ms. Reis is or how to pronounce her name. I think I got lost and got up here somehow, and if someone can lead me back to my seat, that'd be really appreciated.

Many students could have given this speech. Students who are better writers than I, better speakers, who have more school spirit and paint their faces red, white and blue like Firecracker ice pops. Me? I don't even like popsicles. I'm here because I got good grades. That's it. And these grades I got won't even matter after Ifinish delivering this

High school won't. Unless you're a junior. Stay in school,

Now before I get jumped in the parking lot after graduation, by kids who are way too passionate about their high school careers, don't get me wrong. That doesn't invalidate your accomplishments. Nor does it invalidate the stress you endured because you felt of diplomas, the culmination like you were never going to "get it," or the emotional spiraling that occurred as you wondered what you were going to do with your life and if you were wasting it away, the overthinking of how you could've handled that dispute better, the regret when you finally found the right words to say, the loneliness, the feeling that no one cares, the high school problems and the at-home stressors too uncomfortable to share. It's probably during high school where we felt the lowest we've ever felt.

It also doesn't invalidate the legacy we, the Class of 2019, left behind. No offense to prior classes, but I think if nothing, we left behind the legacy of having the prettiest yearbook. We were the first class that got to work with Ms. Walford on "The Weekly Voice." The first class to have a student reach Speech and Debate nationals. Our boys track team broke the 4x800 record this year. Our robotics team ranked second in the state. We saved Dima from hell (also known as middle school), and Pirkey loves us so much, no other class will ever compare.

Our class is full of talent, dancers and clowns. Like, all the classes before us, and hopefully all the classes after, we made RHS what it is. Our attitudes, our relationships with teachers, underclassmen, and each other, the initiatives we tried to be a part of, the changes we made, we've influenced RHS as much as we think it changed us.

But we've reached an end. Someone, whose name rhymes with marshmallows, reminded me that: Commencement is the handing out of however many years of hard work, an end. But in the word is to commence; it's a new start, a new beginning.

We will always carry the memories of RHS with us, some light and others burdensome. But high school is behind us. We have much more ahead of us. And when you think about it, which if you haven't, you will eventually, now that we no longer have portfolios or DBOs or derivatives to do, it's scary. We lose the safety and comforts RHS provided. Every day, we knew where six hours went. And now the decision is, mostly, up to us.

We're definitely going to make some mistakes, but we now have freedom and opportunities we didn't have before. And isn't that exciting too? How many times in life are we given a fresh start?

In this speech, I tried to refrain from giving advice. I can't tell you what to do. I mean, I'll probably just end up walking in on you in the bathroom. But I wanted to say something I, myself, needed to hear, something obvious but not obvious enough.

High school ends but it isn't THE end. There may be no going back. Thank goodness. But there's reason to be excited. We can wear off-theshoulder tops now. No IDs hanging off our necks. And rather than staying trapped in a windowless room second period, we'll finally be able to see sunlight at 10 am.

If not everlasting, at least we can feel excited now . And of course, looking behind us at the masses of people who came in support, appreciation can't help but stir up as well. Thank you to every teacher who has been a part of our experience, even the traitors who decided to move or retire. Thank you to our constantly changing administration. Which if it's going to keep changing, how bout we spice things up a little with more POC faculty and mental health resources?

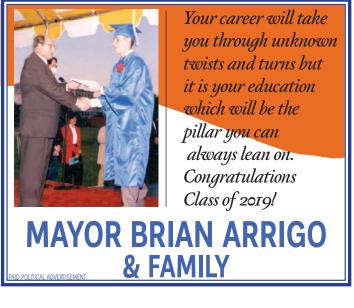

Thank you to the lunch ladies, custodians, and security. Underclassmen, please be respectful.

Thank you to family friends, and people who feel like family and friends. Thank you for feeding me. Among other reasons. Thank you to my advisory. You guys really do deserve a shoutout.

And most importantly, thank you to the good people who paid for these shoutouts.

Let's get excited, RHS! Let's commence.

Thank you.

Kiet Vu Class Salutatorian

Hello Everyone!

First, I want to express my gratitude to everyone who helped me throughout my years of high school.. family, friends and teachers... there are many people who have supported me since my first day in Revere to the day of graduation, I find myself having a difficult time saying these words in person. So here, today, I say thank you, to all of you

I often get asked about my future. What career will I pursue? What's my goal? Many of my friends have decided on their career paths. Some will be programmers, some will be teachers, some will be engineers...But I am standing here, not knowing my answer to these questions. What if I end up wanting to do something that is not related to what I am doing right now? Am I wasting my time and effort?

I feel the pressure of figuring out what I want to do with my life. And I believe many of us sitting here are also trying to determine what we want to do with out future.

But yet, I realizes there is nothing wrong with going slow and taking time to explore. Some people are looking far ahead toward the future, and that is amazing! But it is also a fine idea to look closer at the present. Trying things out might not be a bad idea, everyone goes at a different pace; most importantly, it feels liberating.

I know many adults here - we seniors will join them in just a moment - who have switched their careers and ended up doing something else. Some do not realize what they want until later in life. Some do not even get to choose what they can do. Yet, many of them still do well. So not being able to determine my future right now does not seem to be too bad.

Even better, we might discover other options that we have not considered before. Since we are not tied to anything, it means that there is nothing to stop us from trying things out. We might end up not liking what we choose to do, and that is fine. But we also have a chance to find something that we never thought we would like, or do something that we never thought we could do. By having no path for yourself, you may be able to discover a new path and surpass your expectation. If we do not put effort into anything, we will feel regret later for not trying. I think many of us know this feeling.

But the most difficult part of pursuing one's interests is always getting started. Everyone begins differently. We all know it is harder than it sounds. Some of us want to learn a language, others may want to excel in athletics, or acquire new skills...but how many times have we been discouraged along the way? We all have failed to start many things but if we manage to get ourselves on track[for just a few times], it only gets better.

Starting with what you want to achieve is often a good way to go. But more importantly, find something that excites you not only from the result, but from the difficulty itself. When you learn to like a process, then it is much easier to move forward. Each of us wants to be challenged in different ways. Some people find that mastering a trade is what they wish to do. Others want to put effort into sports. Some like doing arts. Some want to struggle through hard research problems. Everyone is unique.

Observing my classmates, see many different traits that I have come to admire. I have learned from my friends, and I wish to be like many of you. I truly believe you all will be able to do something great. Along the way, we will be stressed, we will be overwhelmed, we will question ourselves, but keep moving

I wish you all the best in the future. Thank You.

Graduation Speeches

Revere High Graduates

Lisa Mirasolo Faculty Address

Greetings everyone:

And, to the Class of 2019, I am humbled in being asked to deliver your graduation speech. So, here goes...

I have good news and I have bad news.

Which do you want to hear first? Oh, well! Since you are a captive audience, every teacher's dream, I'm going to do this my way. First, the bad news!

LIFE IS SHORT!

And, now for the good news! AS LONG AS YOU ARE ALIVE, YOU WILL NEVER STOP LEARNING!

Me! Compared to you, I am older than dirt, yet I am still learning. And, who are my teachers? Everyone sitting behind me and everyone sitting in front of me.

But, you, the Class of 2019, have taught me best. You, in your youth and innocence, without even knowing how you have influenced me, have taught me the best lessons that everyone should learn...how to help and how to be helped.

You all know I am vertically challenged. I think it is rather obvious.

But, yet...even after the students who were blessed with height hid my favorite pens and pencils high and out of my reach, I learned that the rest of the tall kids, some of whom I didn't even know, would happily reach up over my door frame to return to me my beloved pens and pencils. I asked for their help while standing in my doorway looking hopeless and helpless, and they obliged. A simple act of kindness goes a long way.

You know I am one of the oldest members of the faculty. But, yet...while you, as freshmen and sophomores, had to stop washing cars at one of our many fundraisers, so you to pay for my graduate courses, could get nourishment and re- Deacon refused. He said that I hydrate, I picked up a sponge, bent over a bucket of cold water, and began washing cars. And, how about the good souls who paid to have their entire car washed, but I never touched a car roof...I couldn't reach. They still smiled and waved as they drove off. And, me, well, I felt rejuvenated, with a little kick in my step, because you believed I could do what you could do.

You know my mother has been sick as of late, and I care for my two elderly parents, (Could I say hi? They're watching me on television right now.) both of whom are 92 years old, but yet... you continued to come to my classroom and learn... you read the books, wrote the papers, participated in the discussions, and then together we planned major events, designed t-shirts and sweatshirts...teaching me that no matter what the circumstances, we can all come together and collaborate...giving me the courage and strength to believe in myself and my passion for teaching and touching the lives of young people... when some did not. But, yet... it was you, the class of 2019, who kept me coming back, having fun as your class advisor, and looking forward to all the events we planned together, wearing our specially designed t shirts.

You know, I graduated from Revere High School years ago, and I have to thank all my teachers from the past for helping me to achieve my lifelong dream of becoming a teacher. After teaching in Catholic schools for years, I decided to go back to school and get my Master's degree in educational administration. I would be remiss if I didn't mention the kindness and generosity of someone you don't know but was very dear to me, Deacon Robert Kramich, better known as Deacon Bob, owner of a convenience store, at which I worked for years along side the Deacon and his family. Now you might wonder how much I could learn from working in a convenience store. But, it wasn't the store, it was the man. He taught me that nothing is more important than standing up for yourself, and if necessary, showing an unruly customer the door, as I did on the night that a gentleman came in and held a gun to me. I raised my teacher voice and told him to get out, and he did. And, when I asked for more hours would need the time to study. So, he made me a deal: I study and do well in school, and he would front me the money. He did, and I showed him my grades after every semester, he would take $50 a week out of my pay check until I paid my debt. No one could ever be as generous, kind or selfless as Deacon Bob. He should be an example to us all!

So, Class of 2019, whether you are vertically challenged, tall as a giant, athletically gifted, mechanically inclined, artistically acute, or even if you are an average Joe, remember Deacon Bob's message, that the most important thing in life is education which not only takes place in a classroom, but also in everyday experiences. Hey, look at what I learned at the convenience store.

So, as you leave here tonight, keep an open mind that learning can take place anywhere, at any age, in any situation. Now, Class of 2019, go forward and continue to learn.

Graduation isn't the end

Congratulations

Graduates!
