Plans are in the works for a new Point of Pines Fire Station

By Cary Shuman
The process that will result in a brand-new Point of Pines Fire Station on the site of the old station located at 140 Lynway is well underway. During his remarks to the City Council about "the long-awaited feasibility study" for the station, Mayor Brian Arrigo said that Winter

Street Architects (the firm that did the feasibility study) has recommended that the old fire station be demolished and a new fire station be constructed - rather than a rehabilitation project for the current structure. "I cannot stress enough how important that this is for not only for the Point of Pines, but for the eastern part of our city in providing great service and public safety to our community," said Arrigo. "I want to thank Chief [Chris] Bright and Deputy Chief [Paul] Cheever for the great work they've done in pushing this forward and making this a reality."

Bright endorsed the construction of a new station. "I'm very pleased to be before you with the results of the study," said Bright. "I've been very anxious to see this. As fire chief the past three years, I've really seen first-hand the need for this facility. We've had some storm surges down along Revere Beach, the Atlantic Ocean just coming in - Mills Avenue, Pearl Avenue, Beachmont. These storms are happening all the time now." Bright added, "we feel the

Suffolk Downs live racing though June

By Sue Ellen Woodcock
There are now only two weekends left of live horse racing at Suffolk Downs on June 8 and 9 and June 29 and 30 before the track shifts to simulcasting. For horse racing enthusiasts, simulcasting will be offered through next year at the Clubhouse.

"We are looking forward to staying in the building for year-round simulcasting and perhaps sports betting in the near future should the legislature authorize that. We believe that's a real opportunity for us and our workforce either as a component of the HYM development or at the Wonderland property (site of the former Wonderland Dog Racetrack) that is still owned by our operating company," said Chip Tuttle, Chief Operating Officer at Sterling Suffolk Racecourse.

"Suffolk Downs ownership has extended their lease to have simulcast to the end of this year and possibly into next year," said Doug Manz, partner and director of development of The HYM Invest-

Councillor Rizzo seeks traffic officers for busy North Shore Road intersection

By Cary Shuman

The City Council approved a motion by Councillor-at-Large Dan Rizzo that Mayor Brian Arrigo instruct the chief of police to assign officers at the intersection of North Shore Road and Revere Street during peak hours of traffic.

Rizzo said he has personally experienced the traffic backups on Revere Street and Route 1A.

“Over the weekend coming down 1A, the traffic was backed up to the Wharf Restaurant,” he said. “We should be utilizing traffic enforcement pulling traffic at peak hours. Get some police officers out there whether it’s in conjunction with the State Police or the Revere Police Department.”

“We need to have more than just the lighting doing a regular cycle,” said Rizzo. “We need to utilize manpower to pull that traffic because people are getting extremely frustrated waiting.”

Rizzo said there are problems with heavy, vehicular traffic across the city.

“The city right now is in gridlock,” said the councillor. “This city is in gridlock almost all day long with the exception of a few hours in the middle of the day.”

Ward 5 Councillor John Powers said he has been in touch with MassDOT officials about the traffic situation.

“The explanation that I received is that they are going to put in some wooden poles that they can put the lights on – they would expect to have the lights on early next week,” said Powers.

Eric Lampedecchio of Taft Avenue thanked Councillor

Rizzo for presenting his motion.

“It’s an absolutely safety hazard on North Shore Road,” said Lampedecchio. “A lot of people are disregarding the cones and taking that left in to the oncoming two lanes of traffic. It’s only a matter of time until somebody gets hurt. MassDOT has been extremely slow to respond to this. It’s been over five weeks since residents could take a left on to Mills Avenue.”

“I’m tired of hearing that traffic is a regional issue and there’s nothing we can do about it,” said Lampedecchio. “I think manually adjusting the traffic lights during peak hours is a great idea. We see on Route 1A northbound in East Boston a police officer controlling the lights in Orient Heights. I’d like to see something like that on Revere Street.”

HAPPY BIRTHDAY ‘AUNTIE LENA’ 104 YEARS OF LIVING!

Pasqualina Spagnola recently turned 104 years of living! She was born June 3, 1915. After doing some research, it seems to be she is the oldest living woman in the Suffolk/Boston area and possibly Massachusetts. She is a Revere native and has lived on Revere Street most of her life. She currently resides in Jamaica Plain with her daughter.

Pasqualina also known to family and friends as Auntie Lena, is such a humble and sweet soul.

DCR TRAFFIC ADVISORY: REVERE BEACH BOULEVARD IN REVERE

Through Monday, June 24, 2019, excluding weekends, the Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR) will implement a right lane closure along Revere Beach Boulevard (northbound) starting at the A5 - Massachusetts State Police Barracks in the City of Revere for approximately 250 feet north from 6:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. to accommodate water main work. Traffic patterns will be clearly marked, and a police detail will be on site. For the duration of work, DCR will implement a parking restriction on Revere Beach Boulevard (northbound) for 20 parking spaces, and a sidewalk closure within the work-zone area.

THE ‘T’ TOWER COMES DOWN AT BEACHMONT

This past weekend the MBTA removed an icon of the T in Beachmont. The 25-foot high glass-block and steel tower had structural issues. “The removal of the tower had nothing to do with a development at Suffolk Downs,” Joe Pesaturo, executive director of the MBTA. “The tower was removed over the weekend because it was past its useful life. After an assessment earlier this spring of the tower’s structural integrity, a decision was made to remove the tower, and therefore eliminate any potential safety issues. The tower existed for aesthetic reasons only and served no function in the delivery of transit services.” The MBTA has no plans at this time to replace the structure.

need is there [for a new fire station] and the time is right now, the city is in a much better financial position.”

Ward 5 Councillor John Powers has long advocated for the restoration of services at the old station or the construction of a new one. Powers expressed his support for the project.

“With all the new wood-frame construction going on in the city right now, this station is so sorely needed,” said Powers. “I want to thank the mayor, Chief Bright, and the deputies for putting the effort into it that they did.”

City Council President Arthur Guinasso said the matter will be sent to Council sub-committees for further discussion and an extensive look at the plans for the new facility.

Arrigo said after the meeting that the city will move forward with a presentation of a bond authorization for the project. He said the estimated cost of building a new 12,000 square-foot Point of Pines Fire Station is $9 million, which would be paid over a 30-year period.

The bond-authorization would require a two-thirds vote of the City Council.

ment Group, LLC

The clubhouse life is extended because it is not part of Phase 1 and the developers are considering a possible interim use of the building.

“We also want to think of the employees who have jobs there, and support the local community,” Manz said. “The simulcast won’t interfere with our project.”

The HYM Investment Group purchased the 161-acre property, split between East Boston and Revere in May 2017 for $155 million. Plans call residential, retail and commercial property.

The Suffolk Downs Redevelopment received its special permit from the city of Revere in December 2018. The Revere portion of the development will be 50 percent commercial and 50 percent residential development.

Phase 1 includes demolition of the horse barn area with 30 horse barns, stables and associated equipment on the property. There is also a drainage system and utilities associated with the barns that will be cut and capped in place.

Area of the property will have a hotel, an innovation center and the beginning of the residential units.

“Our goal is that they all open at the same time in summer of 2022,” Manz said.

Suffolk Downs was built by Joseph A. Tomasello for a cost of $2 million in 1935 by 3,000 workers in just 62 days when Massachusetts authorized pari-mutuel wagering. The historic track has been a showcase for some of the most famous names in Thoroughbred racing history, including Seabiscuit, Whirlaway, John Henry, Cigar and Skip Away.

Revere resident can join race enthusiasts for live racing, food trucks and family fun activities on Saturday and Sunday, June 8-9 and June 29-30.

“Demolition of the barn area should begin after Labor Day,” Manz said. “The Clubhouse and the grandstand are probably a few years out.”

Construction is expected to begin in summer 2020.

“We’ve engaged architects for the first phase, so we are in design,” Manz said.

Your Community Source

SPOTLIGHT

Lately at RevereTV, we have been seeing a lot of the same community members dedicated to keeping up with independent programs. Joe Fortunato has been utilizing the editing suites to complete episodes of Eye On Revere, and has also made frequent use of our DVD burner. Although we do encourage the sharing of digital copies at RTV, we still allow our community members to burn their programs to a DVD on their own. We have recently installed the appropriate software on an editing suite computer and it is easy to learn how to do!

Community member, Josh Rojas, has finished up a long-standing project he has been working on for the past few months. He has overcome a few more obstacles than expected throughout his editing process, so he happy to finally have this project complete. Wayne Davidson spent a few days last week doing some clean-up work on his mixed martial arts program. Alexandra Coppola utilized our editing suites as well for her art show.

There are a few new recordings to look out for on our channel. Revere Senior News completed the episode for the month of June which features guests, Captain Amy O’Hara, Community Resource Officer Gerald Salvati, and Lieutenant Carl Bergioli, all of the Revere Police Department. This show is run by hosts Morris Morris and Director of the Rossetti-Cowan Senior Center, Stephen Fielding. Last week, the control room crew for this show included community member Baudelaire Senatus. Kim Luiso of Kim’s Got Crafts recorded a few new episodes. This is a show about crafting ideas for children.

Our community members are also busy out in the field. Rachid Moukhabir checked out equipment to record more local soccer games. Diana Cardona is out working on content for one of the many shows she is involved in, and Ashton DeRousi is recording toward his independent film. RevereTV is happy to welcome a new student community volunteer, John DiGregorio, who took a camera class last week and will be spending time with us this summer!

Julia Tran named Revere High School Class of 2019 Valedictorian

By John Lynds

This evening at Harry Della Russo Stadium Revere High School senior Julia Tran will take the stage and deliver her Valedictorian address.

Tran, an honors student and AP scholar with distinction, will graduate with 465 of her fellow classmates and, after her summer break, head off to the prestigious Ivy League School, Dartmouth College in New Hampshire.

Tran, who grew up in Revere, is the daughter of Vietnamese immigrants that moved to the U.S. before Tran was born.

"Honestly, it's a little overwhelming but at the same time I've never been one to focus everything on academics," said Tran. "I'm no way the smartest or worked the hardest. Being the valedictorian was never my highest priority nor was getting super high grades. Through my whole high school and school career all I wanted to is try and find a passion and meaning. I still haven't found that yet."

While she may not have found her exact path to the future Tran said she is excited about attending Dartmouth in the fall.

"That's exciting, right?" she asks. "It's going to be cold though so if anyone wants to send me blankets I'll send you my PO address in New Hampshire."

Throughout her high school career at RHS Tran has compiled an impressive resume.

She was a National Spanish Honor Society Plata Award winner, a Questbridge College Prep Scholar, Questbridge College National College Math Scholarship recipient, recipient of the Massachusetts Superintendent Award and a Ugo Evangelista Medal winner for excellence in math.

Tran said she's leaning towards majoring in English and Literature once she gets up to Dartmouth but like most students her age she's just glad to not have to get up in the morning for high school.

"I'm happy I won't have to get up at 6 a.m. to go to school and sit through 80 minute class periods," she jokes. "The one thing I think I've been craving is freedom and that has influenced a lot of my decisions and choices in high school like what classes I would take and clubs I'd join because it's hard to find that in high school. I'm excited for more freedom in college. Most important part of any place is the people and I really do like the people here at RHS so I will miss all the people here."

Tran lives at home with her mom, dad, grandmother and older sister and they are all excited she's off to college--even if they're not sure about the school's prestige.

"When I told my parents where I was going they had no idea what Dartmouth was," she laughs. "But I told them I had mostly a full ride so they were content."

In the meantime Tran said

she's going to use her summer break to try and learn something new everyday before heading off to college.

"I'm going to work but I really want to create something new, start a new hobby, learn another language," she said. "I want to learn something new every day--it doesn't matter what--I just want to learn it like building a chair or making guacamole or learning how to roller skate."

As for her fellow classmates Tran said a lot have gotten into really great schools and are going to do big things in life.

"You're going to be reading in like 20 years about former students of this class and the things they accomplished," she said.

Dartmouth College in New Hampshire in the fall. The class of 2019's salutatorian Kiet Vu and Class President is Jenna Wells. Tran, Vu and Wells will deliver speeches during the commencement exercises.

The National Anthem will be sung by students Nadira Batista Martinez and Jackeline Chavez followed by a greeting from RHS Principal Dr. John Perella.

Mayor Brian Arrigo will also provide some words for the graduates as well as School Committee Vice Chair Michael Ferrante and Poet Laureate Rebecca Villatoro-Alvarez.

Elizabeth Mirasolo will deliver this year's Faculty Address.

"We are just incredibly honored to have worked with all of these young people," said Superintendent Kelly. "This year, in addition to our two posse Scholars, we have two QuestBridge Scholars -- a first for Revere. We have students moving on to colleges and universities across the commonwealth and the country including MIT, Syrause, Bucknell, Mryn Mawr, and Dartmouth. They take with them over $420,000 in scholarships. In addition, several students have enrolled in trade programs and several others will defend our country in the Armed forces. We are so proud of all of them!"

REVERE THROUGH THE YEARS

10 years ago
June 3, 2009

Mayor Thomas Ambrosino has submitted a budget of $128.417 million, an increase of 1.3% over last year's budget, which is the smallest percentage increase in many years. By contrast, the city's budget increased by 8.3% in 2006, 7% in 2007, and 4.6% in 2008. The small increase in this year's budget is attributable solely to increased fixed costs, such as city employee health insurance premiums, and will result in further layoffs of city workers and reductions in programs.

The Traffic Commission reportedly will be increasing fines for illegal parking. The fine for parking at a bus stop will increase from $15.00 to $100.

Revere and State Police arrested a 19 year old Morris St. man on drug charges after intercepting a package from UPS that contained a large quantity of oxycontin pills.

"The Hangover," "Land of the Lost," and "My Life in Ruins" are playing at the Revre Showcase Cinemas.

June 9, 1999

Democrat Anthony Petrucci defeated Republican Thomas J. McCarthy in a special election by a margin of 2192-1066 to fill the State Representative seat created by the recent departure of Emmanuel "Gus" Serra. Petrucci captured the lone precinct in Revere in Beachmont by a vote total of 44-35.

Revere High senior Giovanni Lepore has been awarded a Silver Key in the National Scholastic Art Awards competition. Lepore had won the Mass. competition to advance to the nationals. Lepore's winning piece was a ceramic teapot made from white clay in the form of three creatures, a hungry lizard, a bird hatching from an egg, and a dragonfly.

The city has received a $360,000 federal grant to pay for a flood control gate at Oak Island and Rumney Marsh.

A 19 year old Revere woman is in serious condition after being struck by a car while crossing the Winthrop Parkway Tuesday night.

"Notting Hill," "The Mummy," and "Analyze This" are playing at the Showcase Cinemas.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 2019

Graduation Day is one of the few occasions that brings a smile to the faces of everyone in a community, regardless of whether they know a graduate. It is an occasion when all of us share in the joy -- and pride -- that graduation day marks in the lives of our young people. For older folks, graduation day recalls a time when we too, were young and full of life.

However, graduation day marks a bittersweet moment for parents, friends, family, and teachers, as well the grads themselves. As befits every turning point in our lives, it is a time of mixed emotions of joy, sadness, and reflection. Although the graduates and those close to them are looking forward to the exciting future that lies before them, they also will be looking back on the passing of their carefree youth and the experiences that have shaped their lives to this point.

The young women and men who receive their diplomas no longer are considered "youths" in the eyes of the world. They are full-fledged adults who have been deemed ready to assume all of the rights -- and responsibilities -- that adulthood implies.

The graduates, most of whom have turned 18, can vote, run for public office, enter into contracts, be tried fully as adults in the criminal justice system, and fight and die for their country.

For the parents of the grads, watching their "little boy or girl" proceed to the podium to receive his or her diploma will be a poignant moment. No doubt every parent will be thinking of the sentiments expressed in the song Sunrise, Sunset from Fiddler On The Roof:

*Is this the little girl I carried?
Is this the little boy at play?
I don't remember growing older
When - did - they?
When did she get to be a beauty?
When did he grow to be so tall?
Wasn't it yesterday when they - were - small?*

Although economists these days tell us that the value of a high school diploma is not what it was a generation or more ago, the graduates should keep in mind, as they contemplate venturing out into an uncertain future, that their mere presence on the podium has proven that they have the ability and the determination to achieve whatever goals they may set for themselves.

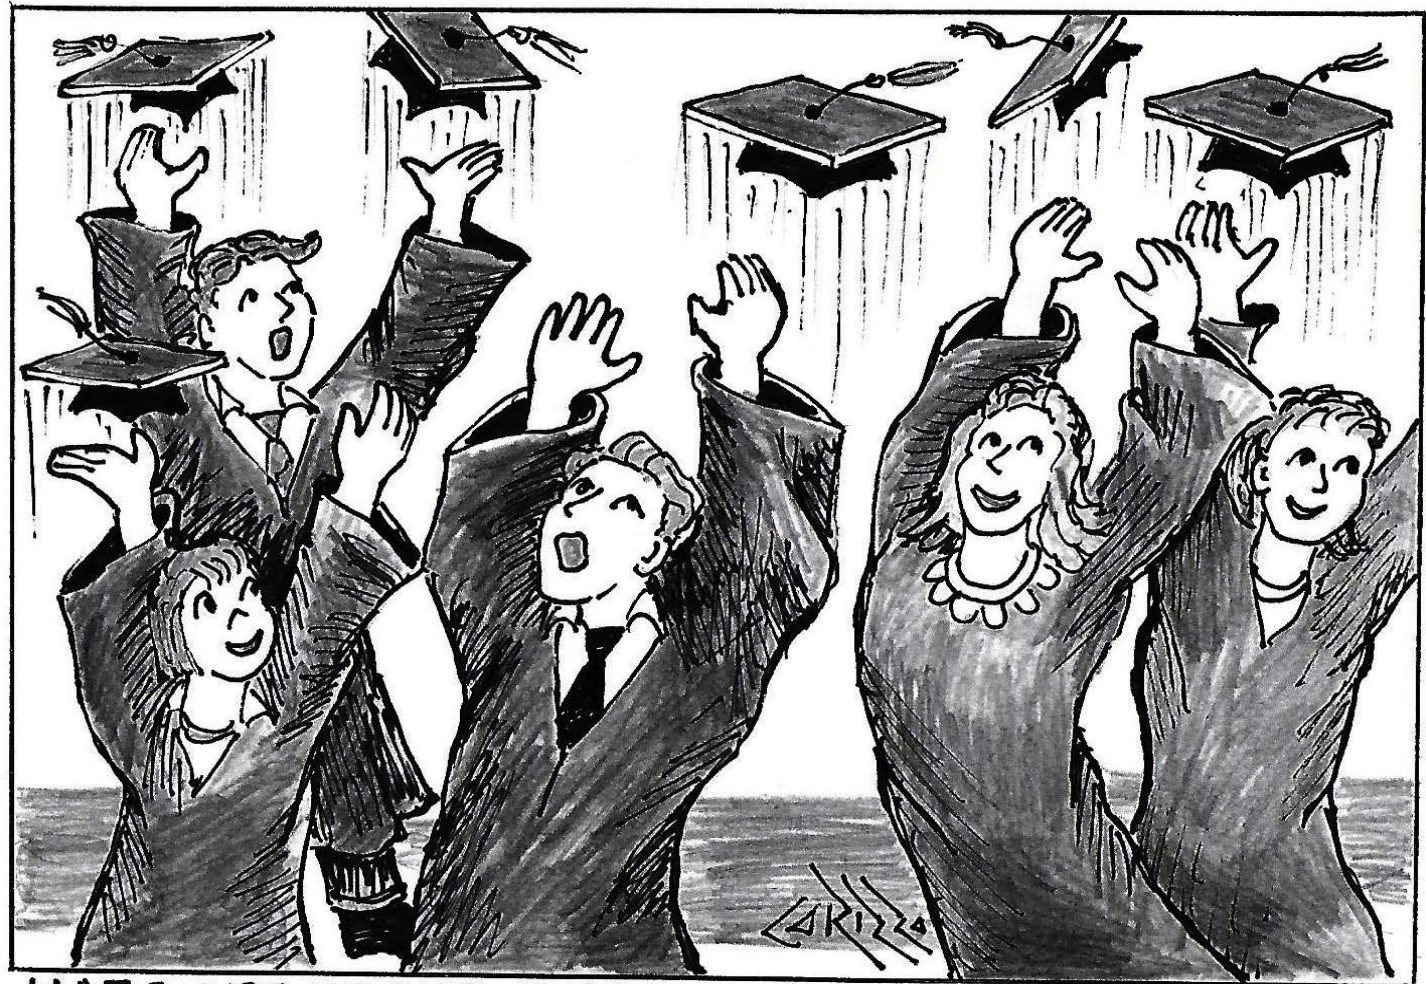

We came across a news item from one of our sister publications, The Winthrop Sun-Transcript, from June 24, 1898. The article, which reprinted the Class Ode for the Winthrop High Class of 1898, is as timely today as it was 121 years ago, and sums up the feelings of all of us on Graduation Day.

*The years pass by in swift array
We cannot check their onward flight;
The moments that were ours today,
Have passed forever from our sight.*

*Yet while the course of life moves by
We too, must never lag behind;
But work and strive as best we may
To aid and benefit all mankind.*

*This we must do, or soon too late
We think in sadness of our loss,
For "Each is Master of his Fate,"
Though some must bear a heavy cross.*

*And when the race of life is run,
This life that holds so much for each
Shall come the gentle words, "Well done!"
As we at last the goal have reached.*

GUEST OP-ED

A Green New Deal of Action

By Jack Clarke

Massachusetts needs its own Green New Deal -- but it needs to be a deal of action.

Although not a law but more a resolution expressing the will of the Congress on the necessity to address the climate crisis and economic inequality, the Green New Deal, filed by New York Congresswoman Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez and our own Sen. Ed Markey, was killed by the Senate in a vote following no review and analysis by legislative staff, no expert testimony or committee hearings, and no floor debate. The message was clear: the U.S. Senate does not want to discuss the climate's breakdown. So we at the state level will.

The name harkens back to the New Deal and its social and economic reforms, and public works projects, undertaken by President Franklin Roosevelt in response to the Great Depression.

The Green New Deal echoes Roosevelt's economic stimuli incentives and adds plans for renewable energy and resource efficiency.

FDR's New Deal was not realized in one bill in one year, but became law through various pieces of legislation over the first three years of his first administration. Beacon Hill lawmakers should also develop an ambitious multi-year plan to meaningfully confront climate change, the most urgent threat of our lifetime, in their version of a Green New Deal -- but it needs to be more than a good idea. And it needs to pass.

Although the national Green New Deal is admittedly a vision statement, the Massachusetts version should be a statutory set of requirements with goals, targets, and reasonable dates that move us forward in addressing the climate breakdown.

Our version should start with and include at a minimum, laws establishing:

§ Zero net carbon emissions, meaning Massachusetts emits only the carbon emissions that it can capture or re-absorb -- by 2050.

§ An annual increase in the amount of clean energy that utilities are required to buy, leading to 100 percent renewables -- by 2047.

§ Environmentally responsible development of 6,000 megawatts of offshore wind energy, and quickly scaling up from there. This is well beyond the 1,600 MW required now -- by 2027.

§ A carbon fee: Massachusetts and eight other states, along with the District of Columbia, are presently participating in the Transportation Carbon Initiative that would cap regional transportation emissions and require fuel wholesalers to buy pollution permits for the fuels they sell. Revenues from the sale of the permits would then go back to states for investments in public transit, electric vehicles, bike lanes, and other initiatives to reduce carbon emissions in the transportation sector -- by 2021. And if the regional approach fails, Massachusetts needs to be ready to go out on our own and pass a statewide carbon fee.

§ Improved solar options: allow net metering not just for Massachusetts homes but for all non-residential solar facilities to free up Bay State businesses and communities to build more solar projects, create more jobs, and allow for millions of dollars of investments -- by 2021.

§ Create green jobs: Mobilize the academic and research assets of the Commonwealth to more fully contribute to the innovation economy and create more green jobs. This will require increased investments of private and state funds in Massachusetts' 114 colleges and universities to research and apply advanced technologies in the fields of deep-water offshore wind energy, solar, carbon capture and re-use, and long-term high-quantity battery storage. This investment in education and innovation would unleash clean energy jobs. Although there are 110,700 such jobs in the Commonwealth workforce today, it's still just 3 percent of Massachusetts employment. It needs to grow substantially -- by 2021.

§ Environmental, social and economic justice principles should be embedded in all newly passed state laws whereby the power of communities of color, low-income, rural, indigenous, under-represented and non-English speaking residents in Massachusetts would be harnessed to help eradicate environmental racism and classism, to create healthy, and sustainable communities -- by 2019.

The changes we experience today, such as stronger storms, accelerated sea-level rise, and intense heat are just the beginning of what should be expected.

There needs to be a sense of urgency on Beacon Hill when it comes to our climate emergency, especially as recent reports from the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change and the National Climate Assessment warn we have only 12 years to figure out a solution before things really start to fall apart.

For my grandchildren, six year old Haley and her five year old brother Jack, who will be teenagers in twelve years, it is time for lawmakers to act, and to act now.

Jack Clarke is the director of public policy and government relations at Mass Audubon.

TEAM VISCONTI ON THE CAMPAIGN TRAIL

Out in numbers this past Saturday morning were supporters for Gerry Visconti, candidate for Councilor-at-Large. Visconti said, "We plan on working hard the next five months in getting our message out there to the residents and we plan on having some fun along the way."

The Winthrop Marketplace turns 20

By Domenic DeMasi

"In all aisles of the Marketplace you could hear how happy the patrons are to finally have a market open in town", begins Catherine Elcik's article in the June 10, 1999 issue of the Winthrop Sun-Transcript about the opening day of Winthrop Marketplace. As the Winthrop Marketplace prepares to celebrate its twentieth anniversary, the delight of the store's customers has not settled down. "I love his meats, I love his produce, the convenience of being in Winthrop. It is nice and small and he has great weekly specials", said Robin Rice, a loyal Winthrop Marketplace customer since the store first opened for business in June 1999.

It is really quite remarkable how a small, single, independent grocery store has not just survived, but thrived, for so long while being surrounded by the supermarkets of many corporate competitors like Market Basket, Price Rite, and Stop & Shop. Store manager Kevin Miccichi, who has been with the Winthrop Marketplace family since day one, has said one of the primary reasons has been "being able to change with the times on a personal touch". This has included taking special orders for items the store does not carry and stocking organic items as consumer demand for them has grown in recent years. "People who shop here are familiar with us and have ties to us" he said, adding that "we have made a lot of donations to the town and we helped the community any way we could", mentioning that the store has been involved with several community events like sponsoring the Winthrop Chamber of Commerce Day At The Beach and serving apple cider at the town's Christmas tree lighting.

Having been working as a deli clerk at Winthrop Marketplace for about a year now, I have noticed that Winthrop Marketplace is more than just a grocery store for local residents. Every day I see customers otherwise unknown to each other having spirited conversations on topics ranging from the news of the day to their favorite cold cuts. It is not uncommon that I witness friends who have not seen each other in some time bumping into each other at Winthrop Marketplace, of all places, and catching up, asking how their trip was or how their kids are doing in school. Clearly, the Winthrop Marketplace also serves as a friendly social space for the community where members can comfortably interact with each other.

It is also where they can interact with the employees and, of course, where the employees can interact with each other. "After awhile you get to learn about people's families, their pets, and you get to joke around with everyone", said Elizabeth McDuffee, a cashier who has been with the Winthrop Marketplace since 2016, when she was still a junior in high school. In fact, many of the Winthrop Marketplace's employees are high school and college students. "We have given a lot of kids their first jobs here" said Brian Macrina, another store manager who has been with Winthrop Marketplace since its inception, who recognizes the store's youth employment program as another way the store gives back to the community. While many student employees eventually leave the Marketplace for other education or employment, a few have stuck around or have returned after long departures. Antonetta Adler, John Devlin, and Michael Miccichi (son of Kevin) are longtime employees who have all been with the Winthrop Marketplace since they were high school students, beginning in 2001, 2003, and 2006, respectively. Besides youth employment, the Winthrop Marketplace also prides itself as an equal opportunity employer as many employees with disabilities have come and gone over the years.

With all of this in mind, it should come as no surprise that the Winthrop Marketplace has stuck around and has stuck out in Winthrop. "It is a part of the community because it participates in the community. Marc is very generous to the community and gives back to the community", said Lois Sullivan, another dedicated Winthrop Marketplace customer since 1999. Tracey Martucci, also shopping at the store since its beginning, said "Marc is always welcoming, always engaging with his customers. You guys always have everything I need". This kind of customer feedback may form part of the reason why the Winthrop Marketplace has been a recipient of the Retail Association Of Massachusetts New Business Of The Year Award in 2000 and American Dream Award in 2002, the Winthrop Chamber Of Commerce Business Of The Year Award in 2002, and the C&S Wholesale Grocers Community Service Of The Year Award in 2017.

Twenty years is a long time and the Winthrop Marketplace has big plans for its upcoming celebration during the week of June 6-13. The store's recently installed new floor will be matched with twentieth anniversary banners hung from its walls and ceiling as well as special twentieth anniversary shirts for its employees. Customers will also have the pleasure of taking some free samples, participating in raffles for prizes, and taking advantage of the store's 20th anniversary supersales on select products.

Catherine Elcik continued in her opening day article that "If the reactions of the first week are any indication, the Marketplace is in Winthrop to stay". After 20 years the Winthrop Marketplace has not only confirmed Elcik's prediction, but has also visibly left an indelible mark on Winthrop's history through the customers it has served and the 50+ organizations it has contributed to throughout the past two decades. "I cannot thank the customers from Winthrop and the surrounding communities enough for their loyalty for the past twenty years", said Marc Waller of the Winthrop Marketplace, adding "I enjoy coming to work everyday. Some are more challenging than others, but through it all it has been very rewarding and I wouldn't change anything that has happened. And I can see in the next 20 years our team and our customers working hand in hand to make our company grow with the community."

Winthrop Marketplace has been located at 35 Revere St., in Winthrop for the past 20 years.

Rotondo receives commendation award for his life-saving efforts

By Cary Shuman

The Revere City Council honored Councillor George Rotondo for his actions in helping to save the life of an individual who had lapsed in to an unconscious state in the City Hall parking lot.

City Council President Arthur Guinasso presented a Certificate of Commendation to Rotondo. Guinasso described the incident as follows:

"During the evening of May 22, 2019, following the City Council meeting, you (Rotondo) exhibited the true definition of a good samaritan by saving the life of an individual, who had overdosed near City Hall parking lot, by administering Narcan and reviving this person prior to the arrival of the Revere Fire Department."

Continued Guinasso, "In acknowledgment of your life-saving action, special recognition is hereby accorded to George J. Rotondo Jr., city councillor-at-large.

Rotondo, who is a nurse, addressed the Council in a brief acceptance speech, thanking Guinasso and Fire Chief Chris Bright.

OBITUARIES

Paul Mazzone, Sr.

City employee whose passing leaves a deep void in the Revere community

Family and friends are invited to attend a visitation on Thursday, June 6, from 9 to 11 a.m. in the Vertuccio & Smith Home for Funerals, 773 Broadway (Route 107) Revere for Paul A. Mazzone, Sr. who passed unexpectedly on Monday, June 3, at Melrose-Wakefield Hospital. He was 72 years old.

A Funeral Service will follow the visitation in the Funeral Home on Thursday at 11:15 a.m. and will be immediately followed by entombment at Woodlawn Community Mausoleum (Sheffield Building) Everett.

Born in Boston, Paul was raised and educated in Canton, and was a 1965 graduate of Canton High School. He entered the U.S. Air Force in October of 1965 and served until June of 1966 as an Airman 3rd Class.

His early working career was spent as a lineman for over 20 years with New England Telephone and Telegraph Company and he then joined Yellow Pages as a salesman for about five years. For the past 25 years, he has been with the City of Revere, first in Parks & Recreation and later in the Division of Transportation as a school bus driver. As a school bus driver, there was none more popular or well-suited. Children loved him and he, in turn, loved them. His time with the children was always crowded with many a funny story and joyful experiences. Up to and until the time of his untimely death, he served the City as a Crossing Guard.

If Paul had a true vocation in life, it would have been politics...he had a love and an intellect for politics second to none. Politicians were most eager to have him on their team for the huge scope of political savvy that he possessed and exhibited.

During the years, he also enjoyed many Signatory Titles within City Government, among them as a board member of the Conservation Committee.

His passing has left a deep void within the Revere community. One of the only positive aspects of his death is the fact that he now enjoys the presence and comfort of his dear wife, Adele J. (Robinson) Mazzone, who died on Feb. 5, 2019.

He was the devoted father of Robyn D'Apolito of North Reading and her 'former' husband, Stephen D'Apolito of Revere, Michael T. Bozek of San Antonio, Texas, John B. Bozek and his wife, Sherry of Tewksbury, Nicole M. MacTaggart and her husband, Kevin of Saugus and the late Paul A. Mazzone, Jr. He is also lovingly survived by his daughter-in-law, Deanna Mazzone of Dracut, 14 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

In lieu of flowers, remembrances would be most appreciated to: (www.gofundme.com/paulmazzone/ar/memorialfund) to benefit his grandchildren. For additional information, please visit: www.vertuccioandsmith.com.

Dolores 'Dee' DiPalma

Animal lover and longtime CVS employee

Services were conducted on Tuesday, June 4, in the Vertuccio & Smith, Home for Funerals, Revere, for Dolores D. "Dee" DiPalma, a longtime East Boston resident, who died on May 25 at the Light-house Nursing Care Center in Revere. She was 67 years old.

Dee was born and raised in East Boston and was a graduate of East Boston High School, Class of 1969. She lived in East Boston until eight years ago when she moved to Revere.

Dee was a long-time employee at CVS Pharmacy, for well over 20 years. She spent the majority of the past several years at the Winthrop CVS in Winthrop Center where she worked as a cashier. She was known as a people person and loved to talk with the customers she would see on a regular basis. She continued to work until her untimely passing.

Dee, above all, loved animals of all types and was a supporter of several local animal shelters.

She was the devoted daughter of Loretta C. (Barbetta) DiPalma of Charlestown and the late Albert A. DiPalma; loving sister of Raymond V. DiPalma of Revere, Albert D. DiPalma of Palmetto, FL and the late Dana L. Popp; cherished aunt of Kristen N. Popp and Rob Stone, both of New Hampshire and the beloved companion of Patrick Shannon of Revere. She is also lovingly survived by several cousins and friends. Interment was private. Remembrances may be made to MSPCA / ANGELL 350 South Huntington Ave., Boston, MA 02130-9923. For more information, please visit www.vertuccioandsmith.com.

6th Anniversary

It's been 6 years now that you been gone and the pain and hurt are still with us in our hearts.

As time goes by, everyone says that it gets easier but for us it's just more painful because the longer you don't see your loved one the more sad and hurt you are. Life is never the same when you lose someone special.

We will miss you everyday for the rest of our lives and our emptiness in our hearts will never be fulfilled until we see you again.

We lost our Beloved Gracie last year. We love and miss her very much

As for myself, dad, King, Pumpkin, and Lola we will see you in our dreams. Until we meet again.

Loved and sadly missed by loving husband Len, and loving daughter Lisa.

Ann 'Babe' Camiolo

Former longtime proprietor of Ann's Beauty Salon of Somerville

A Funeral Mass was celebrated for Ann M. "Babe" (Belmonte) Camiolo at St. Anthony of Padua Church, Revere on May 29 followed by interment in the family lot at Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

Born, raised and a lifelong resident of Revere, she was 90 years old. Following her graduation from Revere High School in 1946, she pursued a career in hairdressing and styling at Wilford Academy of Boston. After receiving her certification and appropriate licenses, she purchased a shop on Central Street in Somerville. Soon after, she named the shop, "Ann's Beauty Salon" of Somerville, where for some 52 years, she was the senior stylist, until her retirement in 1999. Being a client at "Ann's Beauty Salon" not only entitled you to the very best in hair care, hair styling, skin maintenance and education, it was an invitation to become "one of the family." Clients (members) of this exclusive group enjoyed an opportunity to forge lasting friendships and become extended family. Much verbiage and praise is due Ann for all the kindnesses she has bestowed on her family, friends and extended family.

The family is assured that mercy, gentleness and generosity of spirit is being joyfully extended to her in her new and eternal home, heaven. Ann was the devoted wife to the late Nunzio "Nuno Cam" Camiolo, who passed in June of 2009; the beloved sister of Joseph J. Belmonte and his wife, Rose of Saugus and the late Frances A. Lepore, Rose Aulino, Nicholas and Angelo Belmonte, Carmella Mazzullo and Janice Cuccio. She is also proudly survived by many cherished nieces, nephews, grandnieces and grandnephews.

Remembrances may be made to the Alzheimer's Association, 309 Waverley Oaks Road, Waltham, MA 02452. For more information, please visit www.vertuccioandsmith.com.

S. Ann Evensen

Retired City of Medford payroll administrator

Services and interment at the Mass National VA Cemetery, Bourne have been held for S. Ann (Wilson) Evensen of Point of Pines, Revere, who passed on Wednesday, May 22, at Boston's Beth Israel - Deaconess Medical Center following a brief illness.

Born on Dec. 15, 1923 in Canada to the late Samuel and Suzanna (Kingston) Wilson, she came to live in Medford as a little girl. She was educated in Medford, was Valedictorian of her Class of 1941 at Medford High School and continued her studies at Boston University.

She and her family relocated to Winchester and also held a "Beach House" in Dennisport for over 20 years. Her grandchildren recall with joy the many, many summers they enjoyed in Dennisport, while their grandparents shepherded their early years.

She married Roy A. Evensen, who died Feb. 21, 1995. Mrs. Evensen was a long time member and benefactor for the Parish of the Epiphany of Winchester and also Grace Episcopal Church of Medford. After her children had grown, she began working for the City of Medford and spent over 20 years within the City of Medford School Department as a Manager and Administrative Assistant in the Payroll Division. She enjoyed her homes, where she spent much time in her gardens and entertaining family and friends.

Shortly following her husband's death, Mrs. Evensen began her 24 year residence here in Point of Pines, Revere with her daughter and son in law and their family (Mr. and Mrs. Michael P. and Susan A. Myers). She was the cherished mother of Roy W. Evensen and his wife, Penelope of Sarasota, Fla., Richard A. Evensen of Boise, Id. and the late Susan A. Myers. She is also lovingly survived by her son in law, Michael P. Myers, Sr. of Point of Pines Revere, within whose home she made her home. She is the devoted grandmother of Colleen A. Myers of Point of Pines Revere, Michael Evensen and his wife, Sandi and Michele Donovan, all of Scituate, Amada Evensen of Nashua, N.H., and the late Michael P. Myers, Jr. She was the proud great-grandmother of eight and aunt of several and the dear sister of the late Charles Wilson and Margaret "Peg" Wilson - Clark.

Remembrances may be made to the Michael P. Myers, Jr. Memorial Fund C/O The Cotting School, 453 Concord Ave., Lexington, MA, 02421. For more information, please visit www.vertuccioandsmith.com.

Retired Operations manager at Nabisco in Cambridge, known for his love of gardening

A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated on Friday, May 31 in St. Anthony of Padua Church for Manuel M. "Manny" Moreira who died on Monday, May 27 at the Cambridge Health Alliance - Everett Hospital following a brief illness. He was 81 years old.

Manny was born and raised in Santa Maria Island of the Azores in Portugal. He was educated in Santa Maria and worked various jobs as a young man. In 1965, Manny and his family decided to move to America, settling in Cambridge. Manny moved to Revere in 1967.

Manny married and he and his then wife, Dorothy began their life together and raised their family. Manny began a job at the Nabisco Company located on Massachusetts Avenue in Cambridge. He worked very hard and very diligently. His strong work ethic demonstrated his commitment of how he took pride in his work. He became an operations manager for Nabisco and when he retired, he had provided 40 years of dedicated and faithful service to the company.

Manny also worked many and various jobs to make certain he had enough to provide for his family. His family was paramount in his life, although Manny faced many hardships and obstacles along the way. But true to the man he was, his strong nature allowed him to appreciate the simple things life had to offer. He never took anything for granted. Above all things, Manny prided himself on his gardening. He had a natural love for growing various types of herbs and vegetables and his tomatoes plants were legendary in the neighborhood. His neighbors looked forward to Manny's bountiful harvest because he would share everything he grew with all of his friends and neighbors.

Manny was loved by many, neighbors, friends, his children, grandchildren and his fiancé, Barbara (or as he would affectionately call her, Barbara) who cared for him to the very end.

He was the devoted son of the late Manuel Moreira and Bernardina Sousa; the loving father of Kim A. Falle of Hampstead, N.H. and Heidi M. Pina and her husband, Paul D. of Peabody; the adored grampy of Talia Polichetti, John Polichetti, Rocco Pina, Dean Falle, Jr. and Reece Pina; the beloved finance of Barbara M. Coleman of Revere; the dear brother of Antonio and Joseph Sousa, both of Billerica, Ines Cabral and her husband, Edmund of Stoughton and the late Joseph Moreira, Antonio Moreira and Maria Taber. He was the former husband of Dorothy A. (Miller) Colarusso of Salem, N.H., and is also lovingly survived by many nieces, nephews, grandnieces and grandnephews.

Manny was loved by all who knew him and will be forever missed. Interment was in Puritan Lawn Memorial Park, Peabody.

EBNHC honors two at Monday's Art of Health Care Event

By John Lynds

On Monday the East Boston Neighborhood Health Center held its seventh annual Art of Health Care event at the ICA's Watershed at the Boston Shipyard and Marina.

This year the annual innovative fundraiser to celebrate EBNHC's mission in the community and the healing impact of art will paid special tribute to President of New England Baptist Hospital David Passafaro and EBNHC Board of Directors Clerk Jennifer Blanco, who received the EBNHC's prestigious Maestro Award for their dedication to the community and city.

Passafaro is president of New England Baptist Hospital (NEBH). Previously, he served as senior vice president of external affairs overseeing the offices of Community and Government Relations, Philanthropy, Real Estate and Construction. Passafaro has extensive government and political experience, serving as Chief of Staff for the Office of Mayor Thomas M. Menino, and President of Boston 2004, Inc., a single purpose nonprofit that represents the city in staging the Democratic National Convention. In the early 1980s, he served in Washington D.C. working for the US Senate and in the early 1990s as a lobbyist in Washington D.C. and Boston with the firm McDermott/O'Neil & Associates.

Prior to joining NEBH, Passafaro served as vice president for business development at Suffolk Construction Company where he was responsible for business development and client relationships for clients in the commercial, hospital, healthcare and higher education sectors in the Northeast. He also served as Vice President for Business Development at William A. Berry & Son Construction and Managing Director for Real Estate at Cambridge Associates Holdings Company.

Passafaro previously served on several boards and commissions, including: Boston Medical Center, Board of Trustees, Finance Chairman; Chairman of Boston Medical Center Insurance Co., LTD and GMPCL, LTD, both captive insurance companies; Zoo New England Board of Directors; and City of Boston Rent Equity Board. David holds a BA in political science from Marquette University and a MA in international affairs and foreign policy from Georgetown University.

For nearly two decades, Blanco has provided at-risk youth and families with services and resources that foster stable family relationships and enhance children's physical, emotional, and cognitive well-being. Blanco began her career at East Boston Head Start as a part-time summer teaching assistant. In 2000, she took a position teaching preschool at a private school. Five years later, Jennifer returned to East Boston Head Start as a family advocate, where she held the position of family advocate until 2010.

After serving as a family community engagement supervisor at Parker Hill, in 2011 Jennifer transferred to the Jamaica Plain Head Start. In 2014 she returned to the East Boston Head Start location, where she works today.

Blanco holds a master of science degree in family studies from Wheelock College. She has served as Clerk of the EBNHC Board of Directors since 2001.

Each year through corporate and private sponsorships, ticket sales, a silent art auction, raffles and other donations the event raises $250,000 for the Health Center's crucial programs.

EBNHC manages innovative programs that support children's health and wellness. Through its Pediatrics and Family Medicine primary care departments, EBNHC has developed relationships that help meet the unique challenges faced by children and young adults in the community. While positively impacting children's lives, these programs have many non-reimbursable expenses and often run at significant deficits. Fundraising, through individual and corporate donations as well as grants, allows EBNHC to continue these effective mission-aligned programs, which serve young community members most in need.

"The Art of Health Care event is very important to our Organization," said EBNHC CEO Manny Lopes. "The Health Center runs some amazing special programs that have huge impact in our community. Examples include our Let's Get Moving Program, which helps kids and families stay active and fit. Our CATCH Program, which closely coordinates care and activities for medically complex children. Our Project Shine, which coordinates care and does education around HIV. Our Youth and Young Adult Pathways Programs (YYAPP), based at our Education and Training Institute (ETI), helps children and young adults move onto positive paths toward healthy and responsible adulthood."

Featured cuisine at the event included offerings from Chef Jose Duarte of Taranta; Dan Lyons of Maverick Marketplace Café; Shelly Demmon of Chelsea Station; and Anthony Pino of the Cunard Tavern.

President of New England Baptist Hospital David Passafaro and EBNHC Board of Directors Clerk Jennifer Blanco, who both received the EBNHC's prestigious Maestro Award for their dedication to the community and city. POLICE NEWS

LONGSTANDING FEUD

A Boulevard man has been charged after allegedly threatening a long-time rival with a firearm in Butler Circle May 26.

Police were called around in the afternoon on May 26 when the victim reported an altercation with a man he has had problems with in the past. The man first got into an argument with the victim at Wonderland Marketplace and kicked his door.

Then, about 20 minutes later, the victim told police that the man saw him at Butler Circle. The man recognized the victim and backed his car into him while in the roadway.

The man then got out of the car and lifted up his shirt to the victim, exposing a firearm allegedly in the man's waistline.

He then got back in the car and left.

Police identified the man and are summoning him to court.

George Orchi, 55, of 505 Boulevard, was charged with malicious destruction of property under $1,200, leaving the scene of property damage, and assault with a dangerous weapon.

SPIT ON OFFICER

A woman from Lynn has been charged with shoplifting and spitting on a police officer in the Wonderland Marketplace May 24.

Police were called to the Big Lots store around 5 p.m. for a woman that was suspected of shoplifting. Police confronted her in the parking lot as she was loading up things.

At that point, she allegedly spit on officers.

Mariaelena Cincotti, 36, of Lynn, was charged with shoplifting and assault and battery.

MEMORIAL DAY FLAG DESECRATION

Revere Police took a report on Memorial Day, May 27, from a man on Squire Road who reported his American flag display had been vandalized.

The man informed police around noon that he has about 24 small flags he places in his yard, and they were stolen and broken on Memorial Day.

It had also happened one time previously.

COFFEE IN THE FACE

One man from Acton was arrested when he got angry for being refused alcohol service, and then threw coffee at the bartender.

Around 6:30 p.m. on May 29, police were called to Margarita's Restaurant for a man who had thrown hot coffee at a bartender. The man had come in and tried to order alcohol, but was denied under Tips training methods. The man then threw coffee at the bartender and was uncooperative when police arrived.

He also pushed an officer at the scene.

Richard Porter, 56, of Acton, was charged with assault and battery with a dangerous weapon, resisting arrest and one warrant.

NOT SO FAST FOOD

A Parkway man got his fourth drunk driving charge on Memorial Day when he fell asleep in the Wendy's drive-thru while allegedly being intoxicated.

Around 8:33 p.m., police were called to the Wendy's on Squire Road for a man allegedly causing a problem.

Police found the man had dozed off while in the drive-thru, and had hit the car in front of him.

After an investigation, it was determined he was intoxicated. It was his fourth OUI charge.

Phong Tran, 31, of 751 Parkway, was charged with operating under the influence of liquor (fourth offense), driving under the influence with a license suspended for driving under the influence, negligent operation, wanton destruction of property under $1,200, and habitual traffic offender.

MAYOR GEORGE V. COLELLA ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS

Photos by Cary Shuman

The ninth annual Mayor George V. Colella Academic Achievement Awards were presented Monday at City Hall.

The awards are presented to the top student in the fifth and eighth grades in the Revere schools.

Each student received an award certificate and a $200 scholarship.

City Council President Arthur Guinasso, Supt. of Schools Dr. Dianne Kelly, and School Committee member Carol Tye led the prestigious awards ceremony.

Mayor Arrigo's Chief of Staff, Robert Marra, congratulated the award recipients on behalf of the city.

Also participating in the ceremony were City Councilors Dan Rizzo, Steve Morabito, Patrick Keefe, Ira Novoselsky, and John Powers, and School Committee member Gerry Visconti.

The principal of each school spoke about the academic achievements, contributions to the school community, and future aspirations of their respective award-winning students.

END OF AN ERA
Pope John XXIII High School will close its doors on Thursday

By Cary Shuman

When the 200 students walk out of Pope John XXIII High School for their final day of classes on Thursday (June 6), it will mark the final chapter in the 53-year history of the Catholic institution.

Ninety-two seniors had received their diplomas in the school's graduation ceremony on May 23. There will be a Mass Thursday at 5 p.m. followed by a farewell reception in the school cafeteria for students, faculty, parents, and alumni.

As previously outlined in a letter to Pope John parents from Head of School Carl DiMaiti, the school is closing due to "the unfortunate circumstances" that led to a $1.3 million shortfall in the school budget for the 2018-19 academic year.

The deficit was caused by International Residence Management (IRM) "failing to meet the obligations of its agreements with the school."

Principal Thomas Mahoney was a member of the first Pope John graduating class in 1970. He is a shining example of the many area students who chose Pope John for its outstanding Catholic education, its reputation for sending its graduates to the top colleges, and its athletic tradition that flourished under some superb leaders such as former football coach Bill Perkins and current coaches Paul Sobolewski, Leo Boucher, and Jake Feraco.

Mahoney went on to attend Boston College, enter the field of education, become a brilliant teacher and soccer coach himself at Chelsea High, continue his career in the Malden school system, and ultimately return to Pope John as its principal the past six years.

"Certainly there's some irony being involved in the first class and giving diplomas out to the last one," said Mahoney. "I didn't expect that." Mahoney, 67, said he will always carry the fondness he has for the school in his heart.

"This is a great community, a great place to be," said Mahoney. "I wish I had retired sooner and come here. It was a great place for the faculty to come and teach. The students here are spectacular. There is a great deal of respect here between the students and faculty. The students have a voice. It's palatable the concern that people have for each other here."

He offered praise for the other half of the administrative dream team, Head of School Carl DiMaiti.

"Mr. DiMaiti - what a great guy to work with," said Mahoney. "He worked tirelessly for Pope John High School."

DiMaiti, who came to Pope John after a distinguished tenure at St. Mary's of Lynn, said Mahoney helped him make a smooth transition to his new position. "He knows this school inside and out and upside down. And he cares deeply for the school both as an administrator, and more importantly as a graduate."

"It's extremely sad and to me it's personally disappointing," said DiMaiti about the school's closing and IRM's failure to meet its financial obligations. "We were on the right path. I'm kind of overwhelmed by the support of the alums when we were in trouble, how they stepped up. The Archdiocese has been supportive, which I appreciate."

DiMaiti said he will be retiring after 34 years as a schoolteacher, coach, and administrator.

Father George Butera bid a heartfelt farewell to hundreds of parishioners and invited guests at St. Anthony's Church as he celebrated his final Mass before retiring after nearly 51 years as an Archdiocesan Priest Saturday at St. Anthony's Church.

Father Butera, who will remain in active ministry and reside in Boston at the Regina Cleri home, reflected how he was 'chosen by God' to the priesthood. He called the St. Anthony's Parish a great church, made strong by its people and their devotion.

Celebrating St. Anthony's regular 4 p.m. Saturday Mass with Father Joe Robinson, a fellow seminarian over 50 years ago, Father George said simply, "Wow," after listening to greetings and accolades from Speaker of the House Bob DeLeo, City Councillors Arthur Guinasso, Dan Rizzo, and John Powers, and Mayor Brian M. Arrigo, who proclaimed Saturday June 1 as "Father George Butera Day" in the City of Revere.

The Mayor spoke of the special place St. Anthony's holds in the Revere community, both as a place of spiritual fulfillment but also as a landmark to all "...to guide us home. Steady leadership is vital for a church to succeed in its mission," said Mayor Arrigo.

Robert Bucchino, president of the St. Anthony's Parish, spoke of Father Butera's qualities as a priest, citing the Pastor's welcoming presence and devotion to his Parish and his ministries at Massachusetts General Hospital, among other places.

The Mass was very much a family affair featuring special singing from three of Father Butera's nieces, Leann, Lisa, and Linda Giovino. Altar servers Saturday included Father Butera's nephews, Ron Giovino and Rick Giovino, who were the altar servers at his first Mass in 1968.

George Butera, the priest's brother, was a lector during the Mass. In addition, a group of Indian singers musically expressed their appreciation for the years of assistance that St. Anthony's has provided to Catholic parishes in India.

A reception followed in the lower church hall, where attendees watched a video depicting Father's career, and a young Indian dancer, Prisci Srikanth, dressed in traditional garb danced a celebratory dance of gratitude to begin the evening.

Speaker of the House Bob DeLeo brought the greetings of the State Legislature.

FINAL BLESSING: Father George Butera conducts the Final Blessing at the conclusion of his Jubilee Mass at St. Anthony's on Saturday, June 1.

FATHER GEORGE BUTERA DAY: Mayor Brian M. Arrigo presented Father George with a Proclamation that Saturday, June 1, 2019 was "Father George Butera Day" in the City of Revere.

Councillors John Powers, Council President Arthur Guinasso, and Councillor Dan Rizzo presented Father Butera with greetings of the City Council.

RUMNEY MARSH BURIAL GROUND RESTORATION EFFORT MARKERS OF PROGRESS

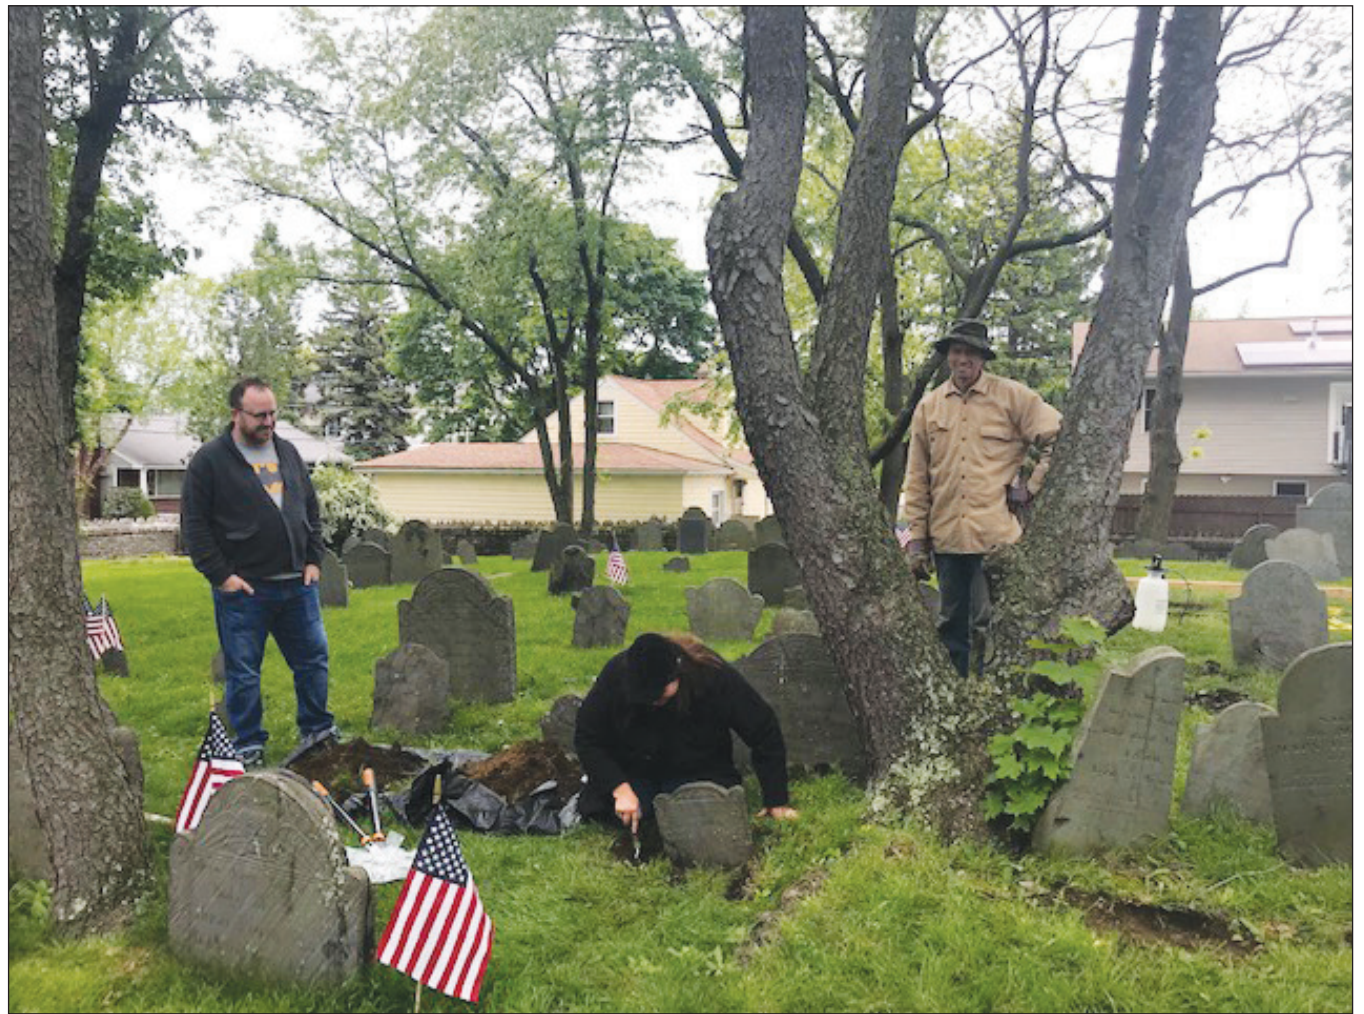

Despite the stubbornly chilly start to spring, Ipswich-based company Epoch Preservation recently began work on two projects at Rumney Marsh Burial Ground. The first of the two projects involves the temporary relocation of several gravestones that have been adversely affected by trees, roots, and stumps. After the removal of the trees and stumps, the gravestones will be cleaned and returned to their rightful places.

The second project aims to repair the gravestone of Captain Samuel Sprague, who led the local militia during the Revolutionary War. Sprague's gravestone has been in two pieces for some time now. Epoch Preservation's Rachel Meyer chalked the damage up to a fallen tree limb, and was pleasantly surprised to find the pieces in such good condition. Meyer described the project as "a straight forward repair" which will "preserve a small part of Revere's history for the next generation."

When the repair is complete, Captain Sprague's gravestone will again be a highlight of any visit to the Burial Ground.

Rumney Marsh Burial Ground is open daily from 9-4 and can be followed on Facebook and Instagram.

RHS SPORTS Roundup

RHS SOFTBALL AWAITS TOURNAMENT OPPONENT

The Revere High softball team's first-round opponent will be Peabody High School in the upcoming Division 1 North Sectional of the MIAA state softball tournament. The game will be held in Peabody.

The Lady Patriots wrapped up their regular season on Sunday, dropping a 4-3 decision to Austin Prep to finish with a 10-10 record.

The Lady Patriots trailed 4-1 entering the bottom of the seventh inning, but rallied for two runs and had the tying and winning runs on base. However, the Lady Patriots could not push them across the plate and fell short by a run.

Lynzie Anderson, who played at shortstop for the first time in her RHS career, led the RHS offense with a triple and a two-run double.

"Overall, we played well," said RHS head coach Joe Ciccarello. "We avoided giving the other team a big inning, which has been our downfall this season."

TOURNAMENT TIME FOR RHS LAX, GIRLS TENNIS

The Revere High girls and boys lacrosse teams and the girls tennis teams played in the MIAA state tournament this past week.

The girls lacrosse squad was set to open play in the Division 1 North Sectional of the MIAA state tournament yesterday (Tuesday) with a contest at Lawrence Stadium against Central Catholic.

The Lady Patriots entered the tourney as the 12th seed among the 15 teams in the D-1 North with a 12-8 regular-season record. Central Catholic is the fifth seed with a 13-5

The RHS boys lacrosse team was ousted from the tourney with a 15-10 loss to Peabody Monday evening at Harry Della Russo Stadium. The Patriots were the eighth seed among the 13 teams in the D-1 North with a 14-4 record. Peabody was the ninth seed with an 11-6 record.

The RHS girls tennis team hosted Methuen on Monday in the opening round of the D-1 North team tennis tournament, but came up short by a 4-1 decision. Coach Carla Maniscalco's Lady Patriots were the seventh seed in the D-1 North with a 9-7 record, while Methuen was the 10th seeded-team.

Hannah Fitzpatrick named GNAC Women's Track Rookie of the Year

The Great Northeast Athletic Conference announced its 2019 outdoor track & field major award winners on Monday afternoon, as Emmanuel College freshman Hannah Fitzpatrick was named the GNAC Women's Track Rookie of the Year.

Suffolk University led all teams taking home four individual winners and championship host Regis College claimed three honors.

RHS SOFTBALL CLOSES OUT REGULAR SEASON AGAINST AUSTIN PREP, MAKES TRIBUTE TO LINDA BRUNO

Linda Bruno took joy in watching her husband, Anthony "Butch" Bruno, Assistant Coach for the RHS Lady Patriots Softball Team and watching her daughter, Michele Bruno Brewer Coach the Austin Prep Softball Team.

Linda passed away this past April, right at the beginning of the season she loved so well, seeing her family doing what they enjoyed, coaching softball and developing girls into young ladies, teaching team work and support and the lessons of life. In the final home game of the RHS Lady Patriots vs. the Cougars of Austin Prep a special dedication ceremony was held in Linda's remembrance.

Her daughter, Michele threw out the first pitch to her dad, Anthony Bruno and a chair was set up, and left empty in left field, where Linda would have watched the game. At home plate, behind the screen was a picture of Linda Bruno and a candle burned through out the game.

Michele Bruno Brewer, Coach of the Cougars of Austin Prep, took the mound at Ardagna Field and threw out the first pitch of the game to her dad, Anthony "Butch" Bruno, Asst. Coach for the RHS Patriots. The game was dedicated in memory of Linda Bruno, wife of Anthony and mother to Michele, who passed away April of this year.

GNAC head coaches, while the Regis women and Saint Joseph's College of Maine men received the GNAC's institutional sportsmanship awards in the sport of outdoor track & field. For the complete list of major winners and all-sportsmanship selections, please see below.

Fitzpatrick was selected as the GNAC Women's Track Rookie of the Year, as the Saints first-year won the 1500 and the 5K, and took home second-place finishes in both the 800 and the 4x800m relay at the conference championships. Her teammates, junior Aime Knowles (Seabrook, N.H.) and freshman Aidan Sitrer (Wethersfield, Conn.) represented Emmanuel on the GNAC All-Sportsmanship Team.

Suffolk junior Emily Manfra was named the GNAC Women's Track Athlete of the Year. The Stoneham, Mass. native was the conference champion in the 800 meters, setting a new GNAC Championship record with a time of 2:20.59, 7.50 seconds better than the former record holder. The All-New England runner finished second at the NCAA DIII New Englands in the 1500 with a personal-best time of 4:34.58.

Regis senior Matthew Malone was voted the GNAC Men's Track Athlete of the Year after the West Roxbury, Mass. native finished first in the 100-meter hurdles and third in the 400-meter hurdles at the GNAC Championship. He was also a member of the Pride's 4x100 relay that placed third.

Regis also swept the field athletes of the year individual awards, as seniors Fatima

St. Hilaire and Daniel La-Flamme earned the respective honors. St. Hilaire, who was also a sprint standout for the Pride, was a runaway winner for the award after finishing first in both the long jump and triple jump at the GNAC Championship. Meanwhile, the standout thrower La-Flamme was first in the shot put and discus and second in the hammer throw at GNACs back on April 28-29.

Suffolk took home the other three rookie awards, as Rams freshman Matyas Csiki-Fejer was named Men's Track Rookie of the Year and Allison Rodrigues and Michael Balestra captured the GNAC's Field Rookies of the Year accolades.

Csiki-Fejer won a pair of GNAC titles in the 800 (1:59.97) and 1500 (4:00.23), setting new GNAC records in both events. He also finished 11th at NCAA DIII New England Championships with a personal-best time of 3:58.60 in the 1,500.

Rodrigues was the GNAC

Champion in the women's javelin event with a conference-record mark of 30.94 meters, and she also finished second at the conference championships in the shot put (10.91 M) and third-place in the discus (32.47 M). She became the first-ever Suffolk field athlete to compete at the regionals, where she finished 13th in the shot put and 17th in the javelin.

Balestra set a new GNAC Championship record in the hammer throw with a toss of 46.60 meters to beat the previous mark of 43.50, and later finished eighth at the NCAA DIII New England Championships with a 48.49 meter toss.

Saint Joseph's of Maine head coach Tom Dann was named the GNAC Women's Coach of the Year, while Colby-Sawyer College head coach Lyndsay Ostler (Bisaccio) was voted the GNAC Men's Coach of the Year after the Chargers won the men's team title in their first year in the GNAC.

MAYOR ARRIGO OFFICIALLY REOPENS GIBSON PARK

FUN FOR ALL

Mayor Continues to Prioritize a Healthy, Inclusive Revere

Mayor Brian Arrigo and the City of Revere celebrated the grand reopening of the newly renovated Gibson Park this past week. This renovation includes an expanded playground area, new fencing, safety surface, walkways, new and accessible playground equipment, and a fully restored ballfield. Gibson Park marks the seventh renovation to recreational spaces in the City over the past three years. Additional grant requests and funding sources are in the pipeline for more park upgrades in 2019.

"Our parks and playgrounds are the spaces that make us feel pride in our community and welcome our young people to get active and build lasting memories," said Mayor Arrigo. "We'll continue to work hard to secure the grant funding and manage our city's finances responsibly to ensure that our public outdoor spaces get the upgrades our residents deserve."

In addition to Gibson Park, six recreational spaces have been renovated since 2016:

- Oak Island Park, renovated in 2017: renovations to the fields and play structures
- Lincoln School, renovated in 2016: renovation to basketball court and play structures
- Harmon Pak, renovated in 2017 installation of a large inclusive play area, safety surfacing, restoration of the basketball court, landscaping, new fencing, park signage, handicap walkway, parking space and swing, play space for autistic children, bike racks, benches, lighting, new trees, and splash park.
- Beachmont School renovated in 2016: playground and basketball court
- Beachmont School gymnasium resurfaced in 2019
- Curtis Park, renovated in 2017: future renovations later this year
- Costa Park to be renovated this coming June.

FUN-damental Basketball Camp open to boys and girls in the local area

The annual FUN-damental Basketball Camp, open to boys and girls in the local area, will be held July 22-26, 2019 at the Immaculate Conception Parish Center, located at 59 Summer Street in Everett.

The camp will be held between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. for boys and girls entering grades three thru nine as of September 2019. The cost of the camp is $100.

Tony Ferullo, boys' varsity basketball coach at Mystic Valley Regional Charter School in Malden, will be the camp director.

The purpose of the camp is:

- To provide all campers with the fundamental tools to help them become better basketball players;
- To create a positive atmosphere where the camper will learn and have fun at the same time; and
- To instill the spirit of the game into all campers, and inspire them to continue playing the game either competitively or just for fun.

Each camper, who will receive a t-shirt, certificate and medal, will participate in various drills, scrimmages and individual contests. Special guests will speak and share their personal basketball tips. An awards ceremony will take place on the last day of the camp, and parents and friends are welcome to attend.

Irish Memorial dedicated on Deer Island

Nearly 1,000 people, many of them with Irish deep in their blood, gathered Saturday, May 25, on a tall hill overlooking Boston Harbor, the same harbor that was host to hundreds of ships, some known as "coffin ships" filled with Irish immigrants fleeing the famine in Ireland from 1845 to 1849.

People from all over came to show their pride and respect for the 850 men, women and children who died on Deer Island during the famine.

"It took my breath away when I first saw it," said Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (MWRA) head Fred Laskey.

"This project started many years ago and with many good intentions, but to get it over the line I met with a remarkable group of individuals - Mike Carney, Mark Porter, Peter O'Malley, John Flaherty. Mark Porter who literally bulldozed their way through bureaucracy, and received wonderful help from the MWRA to make this event what it is today," Boston's Corporation Counsel Gene O'Flaherty said.

After 25 years of talking about an Irish Memorial at Deer Island, which is part of Boston, it was finally a group of Irish tradesmen who pulled it together to erect a 16-foot Irish cross overlooking Boston Harbor. Boston Mayor Marty Walsh acknowledged the early efforts of the late William and Rita O'Connell who helped launch a memorial idea decades ago.

Robert Flynn of Pennsylvania was the stonecutter who created the cross. Feeney Brothers of Boston helped erect it and Local 25 also worked on the project. Maureen Keady sang the national anthems of both Ireland and the United States.

Among the speakers were John McColgan, Boston's city archivist, who recounted the history of the famine, including Deer Island where the sick were taken. Boston managed a quarantine hospital at Deer Island in 1847 and it is well documented in the city's archives.

"An Gorta Mor, Ireland's Great Hunger saw an estimated 1.5 million people die of starvation and disease. Another 2 million immigrated, many perished from the plague that they fled, thousands on ocean journeys and thousands more already on the shores, and thousands in quarantine in places like Deer Island," said McColgan.

Patients were transferred from the Long Wharf to the hospital on Deer Island. Soon, ships with sick started sailing directly for Deer Island.

The first to be buried on Deer Island because of the Great Hunger was a one-year-old girl Mary Connell, according to McColgan.

"If it wasn't for Irish immigrants leaving Ireland, coming to Boston, meeting at the Hibernian Hall I would not be standing here as Mayor of the City of Boston," Mayor Marty Walsh said. "For the Irish from Ireland who are here today, thank you for your contributions to our city and our country."

Walsh noted that President John F. Kennedy spoke of the emerald thread in the tapestry of the Irish past and Deer Island is part of that past. Somehow by erecting the monument the thread is mended.

"It's unbearably sad to imagine the reality of what happened right here and in Boston Harbor," Walsh said. "Those who were lost here deserve a better fate."

Cardinal Sean O'Malley, compared the "orphan ships" in Boston Harbor to "children at the borders of our country, who are fleeing oppression and hunger, and whose parents are making the sacrifice to save their lives and give them a new future."

"We pray that immigrants coming today will receive a welcome from people who have made the difficult journey and are open to being brothers and sisters to those arriving from every part of the globe," he said.

Toward the end of the dedication the Boston Curraha Rowing club placed a wreath in Boston Harbor and two fireboats displayed plumes of water.

REVERE STUDENTS EARN ACADEMIC HONORS

ASHA DEEPTHI KADIYALA GRADUATES FROM CUMBERLANDS

University of the Cumberland is proud to congratulate Asha Deepthi Kadiyala on their graduation. Kadiyala completed their Master of Science in Information Systems and Security in Information Systems Security during the 2018-2019 academic year.

This is the largest group of graduates Cumberland has ever celebrated. The school conferred 26 types of degrees to 1,537 students during its recent annual commencement ceremonies.

In a letter to the Class of 2019, Dr. Larry Cockrum, University President, stated, "Today you have reached an important milestone in your life. Your hard work and dedication have paid off... All of us at University of the Cumberland are proud of you and your stellar accomplishments."

Cockrum continued, "Please know that no matter where your life leads, you will always be a member of the Cumberland family. And, just like family, we all wish the best for you and your future endeavors."

Congratulations to all the newest graduates of University of the Cumberland!

BELSCHNER RECEIVES CROWN AND SHIELD AWARD

A day before their Sunday, May 12 commencement, a select number of exemplary students were honored with the College's Crown and Shield Award during a luncheon with their families and College administrators.

Andrew Belschner of Revere, earned a degree in history. He served in a number of important student leadership roles during his undergraduate journey including admissions ambassador and ESL Argentina program student ambassador; orientation leader; class president; Student Government Association Senator, treasurer and vice president for academic affairs. In nominating Belscher for the award, a member of the College shared that "Andrew can be described as many things - funny, smart, kind, cute. But nobody could ever call this guy negative or grumpy." Following graduation, Belscher is travelling to Bermuda and Europe with his family.

As a student at Assumption, Andrew served as an Admissions Ambassador and an ESL Argentina Program Student Ambassador in addition to an Orientation Leader. Andrew's responsibilities on campus also extended to serving as Class President, Student Government Association Senator, and Treasurer and Vice President for Academic Affairs. One nominator said "Andrew can be described as many things: funny, smart, kind, and cute. Nobody could ever call this guy negative or grumpy." After graduation, Andrew will be preparing for family trips to both Bermuda and Italy.

The Crown and Shield awards is a tradition at Assumption, celebrated since 1952. The award was established as a result of students appealing to the administration to develop a special recognition for outstanding seniors. The crown and shield exist as key icons in the College seal.

Those recognized with this award have demonstrated outstanding leadership and participated in selfless service to the College throughout his or her four years of study. Students are recognized members of the Assumption College Community who have protected (shield) and furthered (crown) in the interests of the student body and the College in the various areas of leadership and community service to students and others.

"Crown and Shield recipients, your families are very proud of you today and they have that right to be proud," said Dr. Catherine Wood-Brooks, vice president of student affairs. "You have been selected as the outstanding student leaders in the Class of 2019, a designation afforded to only three percent of the graduating class. It should be noted that many of you also lead through service to others and have experienced the joy of giving that will undoubtedly continue throughout your lives."

LEGAL NOTICE

Final Notice and Public Explanation of a Proposed Activity in a 100-Year Floodplain and Wetland To: All interested Agencies, Groups and Individuals This is to give notice that the Malden Redevelopment Authority (MRA), agent for and representative member of, the North Suburban Consortium, and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD), have conducted an evaluation as required by Executive Order 11988 and 11990, in accordance with HUD regulations at 24 CFR 55.20 Subpart C Procedures for Making Determinations on Floodplain Management and Wetlands Protection. The activity will be contingently funded under the HOME Investment Partnerships Act, under Title II of the Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act, 42 U.S.C. 12701 et. Seq. as amended and the Housing Choice Vouchers Program (HCVP) Section 8 of the Housing Act of 1937, as amended under HUD grant numbers M-15-DC-25-0212 for MRA HOME, MA185G-25-0100 for DHCD HOME, and HUD contract number MA02-3G-25-0100 through HCVP. The proposed project is located at 571 Revere Street in Revere, MA, Suffolk County. The project will comprise 51 units of newly constructed, mixed-income rental homes for families. The site is vacant and is about 29,768 square feet in area. There will be a six-story building with two levels of parking containing 84 on-site parking spaces and four levels of housing. According to the FIRM map (Map No. 25025C0036J) the majority of the site is located within the 100 year flood plain with Base Flood Elevation of 11 feet North American Vertical Datum of 1988 (NAVD88). There is a small portion of the site (estimated by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to be 728 square feet) identified as historically wetland although that area is currently under pavement created by previous development. The MRA and DHCD have considered the following alternatives and mitigation measures to be taken to minimize adverse impacts and to restore and preserve natural and beneficial values: (i) reasons why the action must take place in a floodplain/ wetland - the preferred alternative provides public benefits by creating 32 new affordable and 19 new middle-income homes; the project will provide for storm water management and flood mitigation; and the project has been reviewed and approved by Massachusetts Dept of Environmental Protection; (ii) alternatives considered and reasons for non-selection: development by right would yield a larger project inappropriate for site; not doing the project would leave a vacant dilapidated site and deprive the area of needed affordable workforce housing; (iii) mitigation measures to be taken - pervious surface will be increased; parking on first 2 levels mitigates potential flood damage; storm water management system will be constructed; and landscaping will be created. The developer has completed all compliance processes required by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Department of Environmental Protection, and received Waterways License No. 14821, October 19, 2018, authorizing the planned construction and improvements and a Superseding Order of Conditions, File No 061-0703, April 17, 2018. The MRA and DHCD have reevaluated the alternatives to building in the floodplain/ wetland and have determined that it has no practicable alternative. Environmental files that document compliance with steps 3 through 6 of Executive Order 11988 and 11990, are available for public inspection, review and copying upon request at the times and location delineated in the last paragraph of this notice for receipt of comments. There are three primary purposes for this notice. First, people who may be affected by activities in floodplains/wetlands and those who have an interest in the protection of the natural environment should be given an opportunity to express their concerns and provide information about these areas. Second, an adequate public notice program can be an important public educational tool. The dissemination of information and request for public comment about can facilitate and enhance Federal efforts to reduce the risks and impacts associated with the occupancy and modification of these special areas. Third, as a matter of fairness, when the Federal government determines it will participate in actions taking place in floodplains/wetlands, it must inform those who may be put at greater or continued risk.

Final Notice and Public Explanation of a Proposed Activity in a 100-Year Floodplain and Wetland To: All interested Agencies, Groups and Individuals This is to give notice that the Malden Redevelopment Authority (MRA), agent for and representative member of, the North Suburban Consortium, and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD), have conducted an evaluation as required by Executive Order 11988 and 11990, in accordance with HUD regulations at 24 CFR 55.20 Subpart C Procedures for Making Determinations on Floodplain Management and Wetlands Protection. The activity will be contingently funded under the HOME Investment Partnerships Act, under Title II of the Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act, 42 U.S.C. 12701 et. Seq. as amended and the Housing Choice Vouchers Program (HCVP) Section 8 of the Housing Act of 1937, as amended under HUD grant numbers M-15-DC-25-0212 for MRA HOME, MA185G-25-0100 for DHCD HOME, and HUD contract number MA02-3G-25-0100 through HCVP. The proposed project is located at 571 Revere Street in Revere, MA, Suffolk County. The project will comprise 51 units of newly constructed, mixed-income rental homes for families. The site is vacant and is about 29,768 square feet in area. There will be a six-story building with two levels of parking containing 84 on-site parking spaces and four levels of housing. According to the FIRM map (Map No. 25025C0036J) the majority of the site is located within the 100 year flood plain with Base Flood Elevation of 11 feet North American Vertical Datum of 1988 (NAVD88). There is a small portion of the site (estimated by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to be 728 square feet) identified as historically wetland although that area is currently under pavement created by previous development. The MRA and DHCD have considered the following alternatives and mitigation measures to be taken to minimize adverse impacts and to restore and preserve natural and beneficial values: (i) reasons why the action must take place in a floodplain/ wetland - the preferred alternative provides public benefits by creating 32 new affordable and 19 new middle-income homes; the project will provide for storm water management and flood mitigation; and the project has been reviewed and approved by Massachusetts Dept of Environ-

TUMBLING TOWER

The Chelsea Soldiers Home water tower was blocked off and surrounded by heavy machinery for its removal last Wednesday, May 29. It was pulled down by heavy machinery, and it made an impact as it hit the ground, stirring up dust and dirt. The tower was torn down to make way for a $199 million veterans' hospital and living center.

NEWS FROM AROUND THE REGION

COUNCIL APPROVES $18 MILLION CIP

CHELSEA - With a few adjustments, the City Council approved City Manager's proposed $18 million Capital Improvement Plan (CIP) budget for Fiscal Year 2020. About $4.7 million of that proposal comes from the City's free cash reserves.

The Council held a special meeting Tuesday night, May 28, to pass the CIP before the June 1 deadline.

The major changes to Ambrosino's requests included paying for the second phase of the Mary C. Burke School roof project through $825,000 in free cash rather than the school stabilization fund, and doing away with $450,000 in the FY20 CIP for an updated Master Plan.

"Even though I am a huge proponent of the Master Plan, I think we should take a step back," said Councilor-At-Large Leo Robinson.

He said the City will be looking at some zoning issues in the near future, and should focus on that before it moves forward with a Master Plan update.

Earlier this year, City Manager Thomas Ambrosino presented the proposed 2020-2024 Capital Improvement Plan to the City Council. That document included 45 projects totaling $18 million for FY20.

"It is my strong belief that this comprehensive Capital Improvement Plan fully meets our promise to invest the City's strong reserves in projects that enhance the quality of life in our City," Ambrosino stated in a letter to the City Council.

The program areas addressed in the CIP for FY20 include equipment purchases including furniture, desktop replacements, and vehicles for the library; roadway and sidewalk improvements; improvement and expansion of open spaces, including the Mary C. Burke playground; replacement of police cruisers, radio communication equipment, and a new engine pumper; and nearly $7 million for infrastructure improvements including utility replacement on Upper Broadway, mitigation of localized flooding and expansion of the City's lead service replacement program.

"This gives our City Manager the leverage to go out and continue to fix our sidewalks and roads and also help with school projects and water projects," said District 8 Councilor Calvin T. Brown. "It's a lot of money, but it needs to be done to improve the quality of life in Chelsea."

District 6 Councilor Giovanni Recupero voted in favor of the CIP, but questioned why the Council vote is necessary, since the City Charter already requires the annual adoption of the CIP.

"The charter is telling you it has to be approved," he said.

SUPT. BOURQUE HONORED BY SSU

CHELSEA - Chelsea outgoing Supt. Mary Bourque was honored as one of six 2019 Educator Award recipients in the State House - an award bestowed upon her from Salem State University.

The annual award from the Massachusetts State Universities Council of Presidents is intended to recognize and celebrate outstanding state university educator alumni who work or have worked in a Massachusetts public Pre-K or K-12 school or higher education institutions. One individual is selected each year by each of the nine state universities to highlight the historically strong connection between the teacher preparation programs and Massachusetts public schools. The state university system educates more than 52,000 students each year and has more than 225,000 alumni.

"I was honored to stand with six other 2019 Educator Award recipients Tuesday at the State House," said Bourque. "Of course it was Salem State College when I attended. I even brought my freshman ID to the event. I was 17 years old. I loved my years at Salem State. I was a commuter, living in Chelsea and working in downtown Boston. My Salem State education opened so many doors for me. I found my passion for teaching and learning at Salem State. I will be forever grateful for the education and the opportunities."

Bourque has been the superintendent of Chelsea Schools for several years, and has spent decades in the Chelsea Public Schools. She will retire this year, and is expected to remain very active in education issue in Chelsea and statewide.

WYNN RESORTS TO PAY FINES

EVERETT - Wynn Resorts announced last week it would not appeal its fine, and CEO Matt Maddox said he would not appeal his personal fine either - with both fines being delivered to the Massachusetts Gaming Commission (MGC) in the afternoon.

MGC Spokesperson Elaine Driscoll confirmed that both fine payments had been received by 3:15 p.m. Tuesday.

That fine, however, did not come without a verbal protest from the Board of Directors.

"The Board of Directors disagrees with a number of the Commission's comments and conclusions regarding Matt, and believes they are not supported by the evidence," read a statement sent out Tuesday. "Therefore, we would support his decision to exercise his rights and appeal the fine imposed upon him, and believe he would rightly prevail in his appeal. However, that appeal would delay the final conclusion of this matter, and therefore we appreciate Matt's decision to forego an appeal in order to allow closure for the Company. The Company will pay the fine imposed on him and has today delivered payment of that, and the Company's fine, to the Commission."

The Board did say it would not appeal any of the findings in Massachusetts, and it added that Maddox has created a new paradigm in the company. It defended him by saying that, unlike the MGC report, the Nevada Gaming Control Board praised the actions taken by Maddox since he took over.

"The Nevada Gaming Control Board, under whose jurisdiction the alleged activities of our founder occurred, conducted its own year-long investigation and recently reaffirmed Matt Maddox's good standing in Nevada, and praised him for creating a 'paradigm shift' and for taking 'corrective actions that [have] been impressive,'" read the statement. "We believe Matt's leadership has been, and will continue to be, essential in our transformation from a founder-led company to an innovative global corporation."

The statement concluded by indicating Wynn Resorts looks forward to working with the MGC, and is on track to open on June 23.

The MGC, for its part, recently put out a Request for Response (RFR) to procure an independent monitor to oversee the Wynn Resorts actions at Encore Boston Harbor. That was called for in the MGC's investigation and decision on April 30.

The primary focus of the independent monitor's review and evaluation will be the Massachusetts licensee. The scope of the review will include the policies and organizational changes adopted by the Company as described during the recent adjudicatory hearing process in April. The MGC is attempting to gain an understanding as to whether the approaches put in place by the Company are consistent with recognized best practices and are in fact effective.

A meeting of the MGC is expected today, May 29, to discuss numerous matters related to the Encore Boston Harbor opening.

MGC approves extended 4 a.m. liquor license for Encore

The Massachusetts Gaming Commission (MGC) approved an extended 4 a.m. liquor license for Encore Boston Harbor by a vote of 4-1 on Wednesday, May 22.

The MGC had discussed the matter at its May 6 meeting in-depth, as well as the other numerous regular 2 a.m. closing licenses that the casino requested.

A comment period was initiated with Mayor Martin Walsh and Councilor Lydia Edwards voicing displeasure with the idea of granting the extension, which is only for those involved in active gaming. The last call is 3:30 a.m.

They can re-open at 8 a.m.

OFFICE OF ORGANIZATIONAL ADMINISTRATION TO MAYBE ELIMINATED

EVERETT - The City Administration has moved to eliminate the two-year-old Office of Organizational Assessment in its current City Budget request - a department created by Mayor Carlo DeMaria and headed up by former School Department employee Omar Easy.

The City Budget proposal was submitted this month to the Council, and Review Committee Chair Anthony DiPiero has led one meeting to review it so far, an all-day meeting on May 18. Another meeting was to take place tonight, May 29, regarding the School Department and the DPW.

The biggest news so far, however, has been the elimination of Easy's department in a budget that looks to show a fair amount of reorganization.

The Mayor's Office confirmed that they have "zeroed out" the department because it no longer needs to be a full-time job.

As part of a re-structuring of municipal government in this year's budget, that department is being folded into Human Resources - where director Lara Webbe will take on Easy's work.

Easy has not yet been before DiPiero's Committee to discuss the change, but is expected in short order.

DiPiero said he wasn't surprised to see the mission of the Office folded into Human Resources.

"I don't think it was intended to be a long-term position," he said. "I think it was more of a short-term mission. I think what has happened is the bulk of the work is done and it's a little more of a transition. It ran its course and did what it was supposed to do."

The Office of Organizational Assessment was intended to solidify the job descriptions, the effectiveness of City positions and the qualifications of those in every job. Full reports on each department were expected, with recommendations on how to streamline operations and make things more efficient.

Easy made headlines last year with the Wellness Center incident when he appeared before the City Council in a meeting that became quite confrontational. In particular, he and Councilor Michael McLaughlin did not see eye to eye on the matter. Within that conversation, Easy indicated that he had not yet finished any assessments of any departments.

In last year's budget, several councilors were critical of his office, and quizzed him on what he was actually doing. His budget faced more scrutiny than others, and some wanted to eliminate it. However, it did pass and he was able to continue his work at City Hall.

•SCHOOL DEPARTMENT ASKS FOR $6.5M

The School Department will once again be asking the City for a large sum of money over and above their minimum funding requirements - that coming mostly due to budget constraints from the state again.

This year the School Department will be asking the City for $6.5 million above net school spending.

While similar numbers were quite controversial in the last two years, this time it seems like the City is ready to absorb the shortfall while the state leaders continue to argue over the best fix for urban school funding.

"That is the number we are being presented with this week," said DiPierro about the $6.5 million. "Being on the School Finance Review Committee, I've been looking at those numbers regularly with the School Department and the rest of the Committee. I'm okay with it.

The School Department is also looking to add more Attendance Officers to supplement the three existing now. Apparently they are having trouble covering every school with just those officers.

•BUDGET IS FAR BELOW LEVY LIMIT

The City Budget proposal is very unique this year in that it has made some major cuts and is $40 million below the tax levy limit.

As for the City operations, spending is down nearly $80,000, DiPierro said.

EASTIE GETS SECOND AMBULANCE

EAST BOSTON - A bone of contention for decades in East Boston is the fact that the neighborhood has had only one dedicated ambulance stationed in the community. With Eastie geographically isolated from the rest of Boston, coupled with the fact that the only dedicated Boston EMS ambulance is routinely called to serve Logan International Airport, residents have clamored for quite some time for a second ambulance.

The chorus of demands for a second ambulance here has gotten louder in the community over the past year after Eastie resident Steve Holt waited nearly 30 minutes for a Boston EMS ambulance while his daughter suffered a seizure at their Jeffries Point home.

"Someone is going to die before an ambulance gets to them," said Holt at the time. "That's the way this ends unfortunately unless changes are made."

NINTH ANNUAL SAFE SUMMER TIP OFF BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT TAKIN' IT TO THE COURTS

The Revere Police Activities League hosted the ninth Annual Safe Summer Tip Off Basketball Tournament Friday, May 31, and Saturday, June 1, at Della Russo Stadium. In the High School Division, Revere High competed with teams from Malden, Medford and Saugus. The College/Open Division consisted of 4 teams made up of local players competing against each other for a very successful weekend of basketball. Saturday was highlighted with a BBQ and music, the event was well attended and supported. This local basketball league bring together players of all ages and backgrounds, it's a safe place to get together, play hoops and perhaps talk about things that might be problems in their lives. This past weekend the tournament was held at the basketball courts at Della Russo Stadium and had an excellent turnout.

Joe DeFeo is no surprise behind the grill for all the players in the tournament. DeFeo has been the cook over the many years the tournament has been active.

Organizer Kris Oldoni (right) gets the clock set with Chris Rose to start the first game.

Revere players, Ramadon Barry, Volnaire Den, Robert Kjersguard, James Clauto, Jafar Barry and Louis Cardoza.
