MVES PARTNERS WITH ACTION AMBULANCE TO STREAMLINE COMMUNICATION WITH MEALS ON WHEELS

Arrigo taps Lieutenant David Callahan as RPD Chief

Special to the Journal

Mayor Brian M. Arrigo this week named Lieutenant Dave Callahan as Revere's new Chief of Police, effective July 1. Callahan, 51, replaces retiring interim Chief James Guido.

The move comes as law enforcement departments across the country confront the challenges to public safety posed by the coronavirus pandemic, civil unrest regarding racial injustice in America, and shifting attitudes about crime and the police officer's role in the community.

"Dave Callahan is the type of talented and conscientious individual whose leadership qualities are imperative in a modern urban police department," said Mayor Arrigo. "His commitment to fairness, his compassion for people, and his ingrained respect for our

RPD Chief David Callahan.
City especially qualify him to lead our Police Department as Revere continues to grow and diversify."

Callahan, who joined the Revere Police in 1991 after two years as a patrol officer in Old Orchard Beach, Maine, cites his tenure on the Revere force and his deep-rooted familiarity with the city as key factors of his qualifications. "As police officers, it is imperative that we hold the highest standard and that we are known for our integrity," he said. "My extensive experience in the field, supervisory roles, and collaborating with other law enforcement agencies has prepared me well to lead the police department. I look forward to work with the outstanding men and women who comprise the RPD."

Callahan attained the rank of Lieutenant in the Council set to vote on Fiscal Year '21 budget

By Cary Shuman

City Council President Patrick Keefe said that if Ways and Means subcommittee hearings on the Fiscal Year 2021 budget continue to go smoothly, he expects the full Council to vote on the budget at its June 22 Council meeting.

Ways and Means Chair John Powers has been leading the subcommittee discussions about the budget this week.

Finance Director Richard Viscay presented Mayor Brian Arrigo's city budget at the June 8 meeting. Arrigo addressed the Council at that meeting.

"Obviously this budget cycle is a little bit different than what we've grown accustomed to and I want to commend Rich and his team for being able to put something together that is our best estimate to where we're going to land for Fiscal Year '21," said Arrigo.

"We are projecting a lot of revenue decreases and you'll find that there's a combination of reductions in force and cuts and the use of Free Cash to get us through the next Fiscal Year," added Mayor Arrigo "This is certainly a lean budget but it's one that reflects the best estimates that we have in terms of our conversations with our partners at the state level and what we know that is happening on the federal level."

Keefe called the reduced spending in the budget "responsible, given the economic future we are facing and the expected local and federal funding shortfalls."

Keefe believes that essential city services will continue at the high level of excellence that residents have come to expect from city government and de-

As a young boy Joseph Fanale would ride his bicycle from Winthrop to Revere to visit his parents' business, Wonderland Dry Cleaners, on Broadway.

"I'm one of six children and we all worked here at one time or another," said Fanale. "I used to be in the assembly line. My job was to fish the pockets. If the customers left anything harmful in the pockets, I would remove them before it went into the washer or the cleaner."

School Committee member D'Ambrosio convenes Young Leader Town Hall Program

By Cary Shuman

Anthony D'Ambrosio, the 24-year-old Yale graduate who stunned local political observers with his first-place finish in the School Committee election last fall, has launched a new student-oriented initiative that is already generating significant audiences.

D'Ambrosio's new venture is called the Young Leader Town Hall Program (YLTHP) and it has held virtual town meetings that have drawn more than 50 students, an auspicious debut.

As D'Ambrosio explains, the three main goals of the YLTHP are as follow:

- Promoting student and youth leadership engagement in Revere:
- "Our students are budding young leaders and we want to facilitate their growth in that regard as best we can," said D'Ambrosio.

"We are to create the future leaders of this city and state. I think a lot of city officials would agree with me that's a primary goal of a lot of what we do."

- Elevating student voices:

"Our students inherently deserve to be heard," said D'Ambrosio. "Freedom of speech and expression is a cornerstone of this country. In any social movement and in any movement at all in this country, people and especially students need to know that they can have open dialogue with people from all generations and all sorts of backgrounds in order to let their voices be heard."

- Providing a more direct platform for younger leaders to engage with city leadership:

"Especially today in the era of coronavirus when

The motion to raise the flag was brought to the City Council by Councillor Steven Morabito and approved by Mayor Arrigo in March. The Unity Flag includes two additional black and brown stripes as well as colors of

SBA, Treasury announce new and revised guidance regarding PPP

Staff report

The U.S. Small Business Administration, in consultation with the U.S. Department of the Treasury, issued new and revised guidance for the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP). This guidance implements the Paycheck Protection Program Flexibility Act (PPPFA), signed into law by President Trump on June 5, 2020, and expands eligibility for businesses with owners who have past felony convictions.

To implement the PPPFA, SBA revised its first PPP interim final rule, which was posted on April 2, 2020. The new rule updates provisions relating to loan maturity, deferral of loan payments, and forgiveness provisions.

In addition, as an exercise of SBA's policy discretion in furtherance of President Trump's leadership and bipartisan support on criminal justice reform, the eligibility threshold for those with felony criminal histories has been changed. The look-back period has been reduced from 5 years to 1 year to determine eligibility for applicants, or owners of applicants, who, for non-financial felonies, have (1) been convicted, (2) pleaded guilty, (3) pleaded nolo contendere, or (4) been placed on any form of parole or probation (including probation before judgment). The period remains 5 years for felonies involving fraud, bribery, embezzlement, or a false statement in a loan application or an application for federal financial assistance. The application also eliminates pretrial diversion status as a criterion affecting eligibility.

SBA issued revised PPP application forms to conform to these changes. The guidance and revised application forms are available on SBA's and Treasury's websites. SBA will issue additional guidance regarding loan forgiveness and a revised forgiveness application to implement the PPPFA in the near future.

less than one hour. The pre-recorded calls come from a MVES nutrition program phone number, ensuring that consumers know the calls are legitimate and not from telemarketers. The messages feature the voice of a Nutrition Services team member.

According to Angie Fitzgerald, MVES Nutrition Director, the partnership with Action Ambulance—which has been in place for six years—has ensured seamless communication between the MVES nutrition program and its many consumers. She points out that Action Ambulance provides the phone alert system free of charge to MVES. "They are always just a call away when we need their assistance," she stresses. "I simply send our list of active consumers to Action Ambulance and they ensure the calls are made."

"Working with Action Ambulance has streamlined our communication process and made it more instantaneous," continues Fitzgerald. "It truly is such a great partnership and has helped us send out reassuring messages to our consumers during the COVID-19 pandemic."

Michael Woronka, CEO of Action Ambulance, shares, "Action Ambulance recognizes the critical need Mystic Valley fills by providing a range of support services to the disadvantaged and frail within the community. These services allow for as many people as possible to remain in their homes or group setting while keeping their independence. We are proud to support an organization such as Mystic Valley Elder Services especially during these uncertain times."

"Our Meals on Wheels program offers much more than just a meal. It's a friendly face at the door, a warm exchange. I am very proud of what we do. Seeing firsthand why the service is essential and who is being served is such a privilege," concludes Fitzgerald.

BOSTON TEACHERS UNION LOCAL 66 ENDORSES JOE GRAVELLESE FOR STATE REP.

The Boston Teachers Union Local 66 has endorsed Joe Gravellese for State Representative in the 16th Suffolk District (Revere, Chelsea, Saugus). Gravellese is a candidate in the Democratic primary election on September 1.

The BTU represents over 10,000 teachers, school nurses, guidance counselors, and other public education professionals.

"The Boston Teachers Union is proud to endorse Joe Gravellese to represent Suffolk's 16th," said Jessica Tang, President of the Boston Teachers Union.

"Joe has demonstrated a commitment to ensuring every child has access to a well-rounded, high-quality public education, and tackling the inequities that prevent many students from reaching their full potential. He understands that top-down policies and privatization harm those they are supposed to help."

"I'm grateful for the support of the hard working educators of the Boston Teachers Union," said Gravellese, a 2006 graduate of Revere High School.

"In my campaign, I've advocated for policies our students and educators need to thrive. Alongside the BTU, we'll fight to ensure funding for arts, music, and the humanities; break down inequities in access to education; and invest in the future of all students."

Voters can learn more about the campaign, including its platform for education, at www.joegrav.com.

TEAMSTERS LOCAL 25 ENDORSES REVERE CITY COUNCILOR AT-LARGE JESSICA GIANNINO FOR STATE REP.

On Tuesday, the Teamsters Local Union 25 endorsed Revere City Councilor At-Large Jessica Giannino for State Representative, 16th Suffolk District. Giannino officially claimed a spot on the September 1st ballot after submitting the required certified signatures to the Secretary of State's office last month.

"As a life-long resident of Revere, Jessica grew up in a family that understood the importance of community and public service," said Sean O'Brien, Local 25 President. "Jessica has been a strong advocate on issues that are important to working families while serving on the Revere City Council and we have no doubt that she will bring the same sense of community and working-class values to Beacon Hill."

Teamsters Local 25 represents nearly 12,000 members in the Greater Boston area, including 900 active and retired members that live and work in Chelsea, Revere and Saugus.

"I come from a long line of dedicated public servants and union members, so having the endorsement from Teamsters Local 25 is an honor to say the least," said Giannino. "This race will be a hard fought one. I am sure that nobody will work harder or smarter than me and my team, and having support from the Teamsters will allow us to reach even more voters across the district at a time when it is needed most."

Jessica began her career in politics as a City Councilor At-Large for the City of Revere in 2012. In that time, she has worked on countless issues that impact the daily lives of the citizens of Revere, as well as ordinances that will impact generations to follow. In 2013 her inclusive style and strong leadership qualities prompted her colleagues to elect her Vice President of the Council. In 2016 and 2018, Jessica had the honor of serving as City Council President. During that time, she worked to ensure the agenda maintained a balance between protecting and growing the city's economic base, without compromising the quality of city services to residents. Jessica believes it is her responsibility to ensure that Revere's government is accountable to the people, financially responsible and forward thinking.

ENDICOTT COLLEGE ANNOUNCES DEAN'S LIST

Endicott College, the first college in the U.S. to require internships of its students, is pleased to announce its Fall 2019 Dean's List students. HINOJOSA EARNS DEGREE FROM ASSUMPTION

Ally Hinojosa, of Revere, was one of 522 individuals to earn a degree from Assumption at the culmination of the 2019-20 academic year. Hinojosa received a bachelor's degree in Marketing.

On Sunday, May 10, the day on which the Class of 2020 was originally scheduled to receive their degrees at the College's 103rd Commencement, Assumption virtually celebrated the candidates for graduation and their years of commitment to academic programs. Assumption President Francesco C. Cesareo, Ph.D., was joined by Provost and Academic Vice President Greg Wiener, Ph.D., and Vice President for Mission Father Richard Lamoureux, A.A. '64 for a Conferral of Degrees ceremony that was livestreamed from the Chapel of the Holy Spirit. The ceremony was followed by a Mass which included candidates for graduation who pre-recorded hymns and readings.

Assumption has rescheduled its annual commencement ceremony during which it will formally honor the graduates of the Class of 2020 for August 23.

When addressing the graduates virtually, President Cesareo acknowledged the unprecedented challenges the Class of 2020 faced in their final semester, namely making a swift shift to remote learning due to the global pandemic. "You have come to the end of your studies at Assumption under extraordinary circumstances. This has certainly been a difficult and challenging semester for your class. You have had to confront adversity and the unexpected," he said. "You should be proud of the way in which you adapted to this situation, how you showed your resilience, strength, and ability to overcome challenging times."

He added that while the COVID-19 pandemic has created many challenges for the Class of 2020, their Assumption education has and will help them thrive rather than simply endure. "Because of your education, you are able to view challenges as obstacles to overcome rather than a crisis to be endured," he explained.

"Assumption has provided you with an education that prepared you to confront and to make sense of these personal and societal challenges. This pandemic has made the unique value of a Catholic liberal education like the one Assumption provides even more evident. The most important challenges our society faces in both overcoming and understanding this crisis involve more than technical problems, although those are an important part of an Assumption education, too. The essential issues are the deepest questions of the human heart, which transcend time and place," he said, adding that ancient and modern thinkers have explored the questions regarding the meaning of life and human suffering.

Saint Augustine reminds us that these questions are 'ever ancient, ever new.' The Assumption education you received has prepared you for a changing world. Many institutions have forgotten these enduring questions. Assumption never has, and you have benefitted from this. A Catholic liberal education engages these questions has prepared you to live out your vocations and to be lifelong learners. It has provided you with the wisdom and courage to confront the challenges we face at this time and that you will face throughout your life."

Before closing, President Cesareo said he hoped that the disruptive nature of the last several months had taught the graduates some important lessons: take the time to say 'I love you,' to stop harboring resentment, thinking that forgiveness can always wait for another day, to cease pretending that little annoying things matter so much, to pick up your heads to look at the beauty of the world, to examine your beliefs about what truly matters in life, to mend relationships, and to take time to pray," he said.

"I am not going to say goodbye, but rather arrivederci, since it is my hope to see you in August," he said.

The ceremony was complemented by the playing of a newly composed hymn based, "Shelter Me," a prayer song in the time of COVID-19, by Jan Michael Joncas based on Psalm 23. After the conferral of undergraduate, continuing education, and graduate degrees, Adam Duval '20, William Goliger '20, Arianna Pereschino '20, and led by Brad Dumont, sang the Alma Mater, "Long Live the Blue and White," via video conference.

Although we are not yet open to the public, RevereTV has still been busy covering all that is happening in our community. City government meetings take place online, but are always streamed to our Facebook and YouTube page, as well as our TV channels. If you miss these meetings as they happen, you can always find them on Facebook or YouTube to play at your convenience. Our government channel can be accessed on channel 9 for Comcast subscribers, and channel 13 and 614 for those with RCN.

With the help of our community members from the program Las Parceritas, RevereTV provided full live coverage of the Black Lives Matter Revere March. This took place on Tuesday, June 9. The march started at the bandstand on Revere Beach and ended at the steps of City Hall. You can find the recording from that day on our Facebook and YouTube pages, but it also aired on our community channel. This channel is 8 and 1072 on Comcast and 3 and 613 on RCN.

Revere High School held a graduation car parade for all graduating seniors on Wednesday, June 10. Everyone involved abided by social distancing rules while students stayed in vehicles and drove through the parking lot of RHS. Teachers and staff also attended, so everyone had their chance to say congratulations and goodbye. RevereTV will be providing highlights of the six hour celebration on social media and our community channel. Congratulations to the Revere High School Class of 2020!

"Cooking with the Keefes" is beginning a new rendition of its program. Ward 4 Councillor, Patrick Keefe, leaves his family home this time around to highlight and cook with some local restaurants! Keep an eye out for the newest episode on our community channel. This program airs on Tuesdays at 4pm, and Fridays at 1pm.

Wonderland Dry Cleaners in 1945. An excellent, all-around student, Joseph Fanale attended Boston College High School where he was a classmate of former Revere Finance Director George Anzuoni. Joseph later attended Boston College. He took over as the owner of Wonderland Dry Cleaners in 1973.

It has been a remarkable 75-year journey, a tribute to the Fanale family philosophy that, “you have to be accountable – I think that’s very important – and you really have to care.”

“I think taking pride in your work is even more important than being good at it,” said Joseph. “There are plenty of people that are good at something, but just don’t care enough – and I do care.

Sailors, doctors, lawyers, clergy, teachers, city officials, neighbors and friends have made Wonderland Dry Cleaners their first choice for taking care of their cleaning and alteration needs for three generations. The store also offers leather and suede cleanings, boot cleanings, and wedding gown preservation.

Fanale recounted the family’s proud history of ownership during an interview this week at the famed store located at 876 Broadway. He first noted kindly that Michelle Cinelli has been a loyal 22-year employee of the store.

“We were privileged to service both Navy Yards in Charlestown and South Boston and the South Weymouth Naval Air Station back when they were in their hey-day,” recalled Fanale. American Airlines and Butler Aviation at Logan Airport have been major business customers.

And those third-generation customers – the sons and grandsons of those who knew Joseph Fanale’s beloved parents well – continue to patronize Wonderland Dry Cleaners on a regular basis.

“I have some third-generation customers that I remember their grandparents and their parents who came to the store, and now their kids are in their 20s and 30s and married,” said Fanale. “When you can look across the counter and tell a customer that you have memories of their grandfather, it lets you know that you’ve been there and you’re doing something right.”

Wonderland Dry Cleaners’ popularity extends across the entire city from neighborhood to neighborhood. Many former residents, some as far away as Woburn and Amesbury, still drop off their clothing at the store once a week.

“People have moved away but I have never lost them as customers,” he said proudly.

Fanale said cleaning operations have improved through technological advancements in the industry. “It’s a much safer and environmentally friendly process now than it was years ago,” he said. “It used to be considered a health hazard a long time ago, but the Environmental Protection Agency has such [stringent] regulations now that it’s as harmless as any other industry.”

Joseph Fanale said he is also “proud to have survived” two quite distinct happenings in the Broadway business district through the years: When Broadway was dug up in 1986 and they had Jersey Barriers down the middle of the street – and of course, the Great Revere Tornado of 2014 that roared down the entire length of Broadway, clobbering anything in its destructive path.

“I was standing behind the counter when my sign came down and the trees started blowing by on Broadway as fast as cars go by, and both my front doors got blasted open – I had to run and grab the doors and close them and lock myself in the store,” he said of the unprecedented meteorological event for Suffolk County. “That tornado was really something.”

Joseph Fanale and his wife of “35 happy years,” Patti Fanale, have two children, Joseph Michael Fanale, 32, a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) and holder of undergraduate and Master’s Degrees from the University of Massachusetts/Lowell, and Kathryn Fanale, also a graduate of the University of Massachusetts/Lowell who is pursuing a Master’s Degree in Occupational Therapy from Southern New Hampshire University.

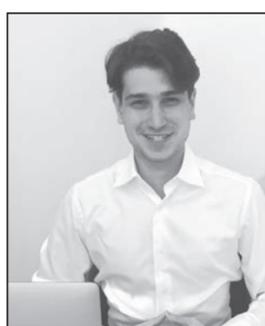

“And in July, we’re going to have a granddaughter, our first one,” said Fanale. “My wife and I are very, very excited to become grandparents.”

Joseph Fanale, owner of Wonderland Dry Cleaners, is pictured outside the family business that is celebrating 75 years of continuous operation in Revere in 2020.

public spaces are closed off and it’s hard to access traditional platforms of discourse, creating a space for younger citizens to engage with older members and formal leaders of the community is incredibly important,” said D’Ambrosio. “I don’t know where else it would happen in socially and politically turbulent times like these. So it really is a top priority to create that platform and space where there is direct access between younger citizens and leadership in the city.”

School Committee member Anthony D’Ambrosio is pictured at his base of operations where he is moderating the Young Leader Town Hall Program that he initiated for Revere students.

How YLTHP was created:

D’Ambrosio said he met two Revere High students, Jason Acosta and Minnah Sheikh, during his campaign for School Committee.

“After I was elected, I met with Minnah and Jason with the primary goal of determining how we could make our elected officials more accessible to students in the city,” said D’Ambrosio. “COVID-19 wrecked a lot of our initial plans. Obviously the past few weeks have been pretty turbulent and a very clear need for discussion between younger residents and city officials became apparent. We decided to host Zoom calls that we called Youth Leadership Town Halls.”

The first town hall meeting was a massive success with more than 50 sign-ups. The meeting lasted more than three hours. School Committee member Carol Tye was one of the participants. “She’s amazing,” said D’Ambrosio. Dr. Lena Rockwood, assistant principal at Revere High and state representative candidate Joseph Gravelle also participated, according to D’Ambrosio.

“The whole purpose of these calls is to open up a space and a platform where budding leaders can discuss anything they want about social politics and accessibility to government,” said D’Ambrosio. “We want to build relationships between these future leaders in our city and people who are already formal leaders.”

Following are the comments of two of the student participants in Anthony D’Ambrosio’s Young Leader Town Hall Program:

Minnah Sheikh is a rising senior at Revere High School:

“One of the hardest things about being a young person is that often times, our voices aren’t necessarily heard. We don’t always get a seat at the table. Developing the Student Leadership Town Hall created that seat.

In essence, for the past few months, Anthony, Jason, and I have been working to address a need of our city’s youth: venues to be heard. As someone who grew up in Revere Public Schools, I am so incredibly proud and inspired by the passion for change so many RPS students exhibit. However, that passion isn’t always able to make it to city leaders. Organizing a Student Town Hall would allow for students to have conversations with people in positions of power. It would allow for them to voice their concerns and share their ideas. When Anthony reached out to Jason and I with the idea, it served as a reminder that our city officials want to listen just as much as we want to be heard. The matter of the fact was creating a connecting bridge.

Unfortunately, in the midst of organizing our first event, COVID-19 got in the way of our plans. Nonetheless, we moved the planning to a virtual platform. Anthony hosted the first Town Hall on June 3rd. The call was three hours of genuine conversation. Students were talking and the adults were listening. They were taking our feedback into account in order to construct ways to support student needs.

As a whole, it’s been absolutely incredible working with Anthony and Jason to elevate the voices of the future of our city.”

Minnah Sheikh.

Jason Acosta is a Class of 2020 graduate of Revere High School and an incoming freshman at Dartmouth College:

“As I stood on the bandstand in front of all my fellow protesters, I was overwhelmed by the amount of support we received for our march. Above all else, what still lingers in my mind is how youth came together to organize this movement. I have been in the process of making active social change in Revere High School for the past four years. Within the past few months, I along with my amazing friend Minnah had been discussing with Anthony D’Ambrosio about the best course of action and needs of our students. He has continued to be a source of support, but I want to especially extend my thanks to all my fellow youth. We continue to see an uproar of support and action being taken, especially from minority-led organizations and voices. I am proud of the work that I, along with my fellow organizers, are doing, and we continue to look forward to progression in Revere and make our city a better place.”

Revere Police Department in 2003. A popular figure among his department colleagues for his tireless work and motivational personality, Callahan advocates community policing as “an essential element of a successful municipality.”

“Every neighborhood,” he says, “deserves to be a place where people want to live and safely raise their families.”

Callahan served as Commander of the Drug Control Unit and also was assigned to the Criminal Investigation Unit from 2004 to 2012. “During that time, I cultivated a strong relationship with outside agencies such as the Massachusetts State Police and the Suffolk County District Attorney’s office. We worked together to build substantial cases.”

In particular, Callahan spearheaded a public corruption investigation of a fellow officer who ultimately was arrested by the FBI and charged with federal criminal violations. “This was an officer who betrayed the oath we have all taken. His criminal actions tarnished the honest and dedicated work of all law enforcement.”

Callahan also played a major role in shutting down a narcotics distribution enterprise operating out of the defunct Ocean Beach Motel on Revere Beach Boulevard. More than 20 individuals were arrested. In addition, his investigative work led to the prosecution of four U.S. Postal workers who used their mail carrier routes to facilitate cocaine and marijuana distribution.

He was awarded the Massachusetts State Police Medal of Merit in 2012 for his action during the hazardous conditions that erupted into an eight-alarm fire after a fatal tractor-trailer rollover on Route 1 in Saugus. Callahan’s, off-duty at the time, was one of first people on the scene. He called for emergency assistance while assisting four injured motor vehicle passengers and then evacuated an elderly resident whose nearby home had become engulfed in flames.

Since 2012, Lieutenant Callahan has served as the Group Commander of the Night Patrol Division, overseeing 16 officers in addition to responding to calls.

Mayor Arrigo praised Callahan’s record of accomplishment and his appreciation for teamwork in law enforcement. “Lieutenant Callahan is active in community outreach and is well-acquainted with the most demanding issues that face our City. He has extensive contacts to the “Revere Cares” program administered by the Massachusetts General Hospital and has worked closely with the North Suffolk Mental Health Collaborative both as a police officer and as a volunteer. He understands the human side that underlies the complex issues that plague our community and modern society.”

Lieutenant Callahan holds a Bachelor of Science degree Law Enforcement and a Master of Science Degree in Criminal Justice, both from Western New England University. He has completed extensive supplementary training through the FBI-LEEDA program, including certifications from the Supervisor Leadership Institute, the Command Institute for Law Enforcement Executives, and the Executive Leadership Institute. In 2012 he earned a certificate from the FBI National Police Academy. He also holds a certificate in Incident Response to Terrorist Bombings from New Mexico Tech.

Chief Callahan and his wife Rhonda have a daughter, Cadence. The son of Charles and Janet Callahan and his step-mother Judith Callahan, David was raised in Revere and attended the Lincoln School leading up to his graduation from Revere High School, Class of 1987. He is the grandson of the late Victor and Nellie Duca of Revere. He has two step-sisters, Lee Venezia and Lauren. Lieutenant Callahan’s brother Chuck is a sergeant in the Revere Police Department.

partments. “The budget is certainly going to be leaner and people will need to wear more hats, but I still believe we can still provide the highest level of service.”

He commended Mayor Arrigo for maintaining the current number of uniformed positions in the Police and Fire Departments.

“Public safety and education are always the cornerstone of how we should plan our budget, so I’m happy that we will not see a reduction in manpower,” said Keefe.

2020 Revere Annual Summer Food Program

Revere

Mayor Brian Arrigo together with the Revere Public School Committee and the Superintendent Dr. Dianne Kelly has announced that the Revere Public Schools will sponsor the Summer Food Program for its 25th summer. The program will provide free breakfast and lunch to children 18 and under from June 22, 2020 to August 27, 2020.

Children will receive meals for all 7 days. Distribution will be Mondays (3 day pick up) and Thursdays (4 day pick up) at the Beachmont School and Revere High School from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The goal of the Revere Summer Food Program is to serve nutritious meals that are well balanced and supply the required nutrients that children need. The Revere Summer Food Service Program was established to ensure that children could continue to receive free nutritious meals comparable to those served under the National School Breakfast and School Lunch Program during the school year.

For more information, please call Revere Summer Food Service Program Director, Pauline Lyons at 781-333-2063.

The USDA IS AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY PROVIDER AND EMPLOYER.

In accordance with Federal Law and U.S. Department of Agriculture Policy, this institution is prohibited from discriminating on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, or disability. (not all prohibited bases apply to all programs).

Contracts for three Revere educators are not renewed, online petition launched, rally planned

By John Lynds

An online petition with over a 1,000 signatures has been circulating on www.actionnetwork.org and sponsored by the Revere Teachers association calling for contracts to be renewed for three Revere educators.

The petition and subsequent letter to the Revere School Committee argues that the contracts of Katie Cochrane, Victoria DeVincent and Heather Kantrowitz, all staff members at the A.C. Whelan School were not renewed as retaliation for their union activities.

“On June 5, 2020, three Revere staff members at the A. C. Whelan school had their contracts non-renewed as retaliation for their union activity,” reads the online petition. “They were punished for standing up for the rights of teachers and students in the 2019-2020 school year. We call on the Revere Public Schools to immediately reinstate these three educators.”

Cochrane, a 5th grade ELA and Science & Social Studies teacher, has been with the district since 2016. DeVincent, a 4th grade ELA and Science & Social Studies teacher, has been with the district since 2014. Kantrowitz, a K-5 school adjustment counselor, has been with the district since 2016 when she covered for another teacher’s maternity leave.

“Aside from being hard-working and dedicated staff members, all of them have one other thing in common: they took a stand against unfair practices and raised their voice as union members this year,” said the statement. “They filed grievances, spoke at rallies, and all were outspoken in their concern. They protested against wrongful policies by their administrator which hurt student learning. They went above and beyond every day in their jobs and also took the risk of advocating for their working conditions, and for the learning conditions of their students.”

In a statement from the Revere Teachers Association the group wrote, “We the undersigned call on the Revere Public Schools to renew Heather Kantrowitz, Katie Cochrane, and Victoria DeVincent to their positions for the upcoming school year. All of these educators have done fantastic work for the A.C. Whelan school this year, and they deserve to remain in their jobs. Furthermore, their non renewals are blatant attempts to punish these three for their union activism. These educators deserve their jobs. Their students deserve their teachers. We all deserve the right to make our schools a better place.”

While the Revere Public School Department does not comment on individual personnel matters, Revere Public School Superintendent Dr. Dianne Kelly did say every year administrators review all teachers, as well as staff without professional teacher status, to determine which teachers will return to work for the next school year.

“This year was no different than the previous years in that some teachers without professional teacher status were issued notices of non-renewal for the upcoming school year,” said Kelly. “When determining which personnel will return administrators do not consider any individual’s union activity or use of the contractual grievance procedures.”

The Revere Teachers Association is planning a “Car Rally” on Thursday, June 18 at 1 p.m. at Revere High School in response to the non-renewed contracts.

The caravan will wind through Revere and end at the Whelan School by 2 p.m.

In a statement Revere Mayor Brian Arrigo said, “Our school system is one of our city’s greatest assets -- providing a high quality education to our thousands of current students and attracting new families to Revere all the time. I’m proud of the work Dr. Kelly and her teams do in applying the sound policies that continue to move Revere Public Schools forward.”

Newly-elected Ward 1 Councillor Corey Abrams submitted his resignation to City Clerk Ashley Melnik this week and indicated that it was because of previously unknown medical reasons that he was stepping down. Abrams won a special election to succeed former Ward 1 Councillor Jim Kimmerle, who passed away while in office. A special election has been called for and will take place on Aug. 31.

They’re swimming in homegrown tomatoes, green beans and many other food crops at the Garfield Middle School this year, as students have taken to developing their green thumb. Garfield Science teacher Tyler Arlington explained that the school won a three-year grant from the state worth $25,000 per year to conduct a course that teaches students about gardening. They were one of only 11 schools statewide to get the grant.

While proponents at Suffolk Downs, Wonderland, and other pro-gaming entities have struggled for years to get approval for expanded gaming, this time around it looks as if the matter will be passed once and for all – and maybe sooner rather than later. Any expanded gaming bill is expected to eventually benefit front-runner Suffolk Downs, changing the landscape in Revere more than it has been changed in generations. The House of Representatives overwhelmingly approved an expanded gaming bill earlier this spring and sent it to the Senate, where it’s been lingering, but is soon expected to pass.

The City Council was unable to achieve enough of a consensus to take a final vote on the proposed budget by Mayor George V. Colella and took no vote, even though the Council was beyond the 45-day deadline for taking a vote, which means that it automatically goes into effect. However, Colella now must go through the budget to reduce the estimated $2 million deficit.

THANK YOU, CHIEF GUIDO

The announcement last week by Police Chief James R. Guido that he will be retiring effective June 30 caught many by surprise in the city.

However, the coronavirus has reinforced for many of us the two things that are most important in life -- our health and our loved ones -- and Chief Guido plainly stated in announcing his retirement that he looked forward to spending more time with his three grandchildren, a difficult-enough task when you are working full-time, but even harder during a pandemic.

From the time he joined the Revere Police Department more than 33 years ago, Chief Guido has devoted himself toward making Revere a better place for all of its citizens.

As the Revere police chief for the past three years after being appointed to that post by Mayor Brian Arrigo, Chief Guido used his leadership role to effectuate practical-minded solutions to the interaction between the police department and the community it serves.

The high esteem in which Chief Guido is held by his fellow professionals was evidenced by his election a few months ago as the President of the Massachusetts Police Chiefs Association.

Mayor Arrigo succinctly summed up in last week's Journal the thoughts of all of us who have had the honor and pleasure of knowing the chief: "We will miss his gregarious personality, his candid and thoughtful commentary, and his expertise as a law enforcement official. As a community, we are grateful for his years of service."

We know we join with all of our fellow residents in wishing Chief Guido a long, happy, and healthy retirement.

A TREMENDOUS COURT DECISION

The decision this past Monday by the U.S. Supreme Court extending the rights of gay and transgender workers under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which bars employment discrimination on the basis of race, religion, national origin, and sex, is a wonderful affirmation of the shift in this country from one of outright homophobia just a generation ago to the acceptance by a large majority of Americans of persons regardless of their sexual preferences or gender identity.

This newspaper for more than 25 years has supported the efforts of the LGBTQ community to secure all of the rights that are enjoyed by every American and to be free from discrimination of all kinds.

We applauded the Goodridge decision in 2003 by our Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court that held that the Commonwealth must legally recognize same-sex marriage, something we had advocated for almost a decade previously.

In 2015, the U.S. Supreme Court in the Obergefell case affirmed same-sex marriage as a Constitutional right, thus making it applicable to all 50 states.

This week's decision by our country's highest court now extends Title VII protections for gay and transgender persons to all 50 states. Previously, about half of the states still allowed a person to be fired by their employer solely on the basis of their sexual status.

There still is more to be done in terms of bringing full legal and social equality for our LGBTQ fellow citizens, but Monday's 6-3 decision, which included two of the conservative justices, Roberts and Gorsuch, unquestionably represents a huge step forward for gay and transgender Americans.

AND NOW, STINGING JELLYFISH

The ocean temperature barely has reached 60 degrees in Boston Harbor and vicinity, but the warnings on our beaches have confirmed what the beachcombers among us have known for a week or so -- the dreaded jellyfish have arrived.

According to the experts, these are the lion's mane jellyfish, whose flowing tentacles (hence their name), when they are fully-grown, can extend as long as 90 feet. (Reportedly, the largest recorded specimen ever measured occurred in 1865 off the coast of Massachusetts and had a bell with a diameter of seven feet and tentacles of about 120 feet.

They principally are found in the extreme northern oceans, but they come to our latitudes at this time of year, though fortunately not many are of the full-size stature that they attain in colder waters.

The jellyfish have been seen from Nahant to Hull in recent days. Although most are not fully-grown at this stage of their lives, they nonetheless have the ability to deliver quite a sting to anyone who comes into contact with them.

So swimmers beware. The ocean may provide a respite from the coronavirus, but the jellyfish will be waiting.

HAPPY FATHER'S DAY..... JUNE 21, 2020

GUEST OP-ED

A Father's Day Reflection

By Mayor Brian Arrigo

Years from now, historians, sociologists, scientists and academics of all disciplines will examine the events and upheavals of the year 2020 and probably say..."wow."

We are actually living it, staying indoors, standing in lines, wearing masks and, all the while, studying our personal roles in social justice. Our sense of equilibrium feels out of whack.

And then, amid all the anxiety and challenge and introspection that these first six months of the year have foisted upon us, every now and then there's a moment, a pause amid the rapid tempo of the times that affirms precious truths that can stabilize us in even the most trying circumstance.

I noticed that as the calendar approaches Father's Day, 2020. I notice the unmeasurable power of selflessness, and giving of ourselves.

I write this on a beautiful summer evening, the season's late sunset lending a tint of orange to the surroundings. My boys Joseph and Jack have dozed off after a vigorously playful day and the fun we had playing a very modified version of baseball this evening. And I am reminded of my father.

It's almost four years that Dad left us at the too-young age of 68. While he made his living as a pressman for over 30 years, he made his life serving the public. Whether it was school PTA, his years on the City Council, or helping out his neighbors and friends, quiet, dedicated service to the public inspired and motivated his every act.

Oftentimes, I wonder what kind of guidance or advice he'd have offered me these days, as the City enjoys unprecedented growth yet grapples with unprecedented tests. While I am sure he'd be generous with criticism—(constructive criticism, I hope...), I am pretty sure he'd steer me consistently upon a path that I can best summarize as "giving."

A common and constant aspect of a Mayor's job is that we hear from people, groups, and organizations who seek the assistance of the municipal government in their respective pursuits.

And when the City can respond, the sense of public fulfillment overrides any shred of frustration that also comes with the job.

Maybe I didn't realize it as a child, but I appreciate now the pure joy my Dad experienced from "giving." As a pressman, Dad would often take home a newspaper "press plate," the full-sized metal sheet that contained the image of a newspaper page and from which a newspaper was printed. When printing was finished, the metal plate was a solid lasting image of the particular newspaper page. Plates depicting momentous occasions quickly became a popular collectible.

Dad was a sports fanatic, and when a Boston sports event made the front page of the Boston Globe, he'd find a way to make sure that press plate came home with him that day. The first time I ever set foot in the Mayor's office at City Hall, I was a youngster. The Globe had run a front-page story about the Red Sox and the legendary Carl Yastrzemski. Dad knew that Mayor George V. Colella was an avid Red Sox fan, so he took the press plate of that front page, and me, to deliver a gift to the Mayor.

I still have the photo of Dad handing Mayor Colella the plate, and as happy and grateful as Mayor Colella was receiving it, I am certain Dad's joy giving it to him was greater.

I reflect on that this Father's Day, hopeful that I live the genuine appreciation for "giving" that my Dad imparted to me. When we give, and when we truly savor the act of giving of ourselves, we can make for a better world.

Our nation, our City, and every one of us face unique demands in 2020. If we pause, and remember what is important in our lives, if we reflect on the importance and purpose of giving, we will not only survive this tumultuous year, we will all be better for it.

As a Father, I am resolved to instill that awareness in my children. As a Mayor, I aspire to exemplify it for our community. Father's Day is an opportune time for all of us to think about it, and when we live it, all the good that will come of it will be another reason to say "wow" about 2020.

GUEST OP-ED

The moment is now for big, structural change

Sadly, everything that's happened in the last 3 months has only made it clearer how much we need serious, structural change.

COVID-19 hit our communities especially hard, exacerbating problems that were already present.

Our local population was already at-risk to respiratory problems due to environmental hazards, like increasing tailpipe emissions, natural gas leaks, the expanded airport, and the nearby incinerator. These risks contributed to our high rate of COVID-19 infection. Back in March, I laid out an aggressive agenda to address environmental hazards. It's never been clearer that our next representative needs to get to work immediately on environmental quate transportation and overcrowded housing.

Our residents were also vulnerable due to inadequate

See OP-ED Page 9

By Joe Gravellese

Back on February 28 - which feels like a lifetime ago - I was quoted for the first time in the Revere Journal about my interest in the State Representative race. At the time, I said "Revere, Chelsea and Saugus need leadership to fight for big, structural changes" to address environmental and health challenges, housing and education costs, and other major issues facing Massachusetts' working families.

"With the state facing such urgent challenges, the voters deserve a race that focuses on where we stand on the issues [and] how we plan to invest in the future of our Commonwealth."

The Saint Anthony of Padua Church re-opened Saturday and welcomed parishioners to a 4 p.m. Mass.

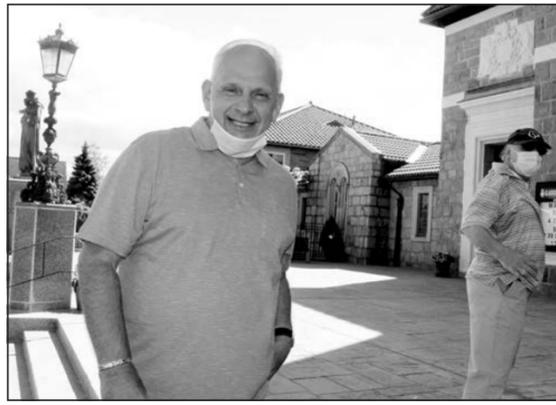

The Rev. Xavier Arulraj, church pastor, greeted parishioners as they arrived at the church.

The many parishioners observed social distancing guidelines.

The church had been closed since March due to the COVID-19 global pandemic.

New Five-day Flex Pass Pilot for commuter rail begins July 1

Staff report

The MBTA today announced a new customer-driven Commuter Rail fare product pilot to begin July 1: the Five-day Flex Pass on mTicket, a bundled fare good for any five days of travel within a thirty-day period. With the understanding that travel patterns are changing and many employers are exploring new ways of working like staggered schedules and telework policies, this new fare product aims to serve Commuter Rail riders whose commutes may change as they return to using the system during the Commonwealth's reopening phases. This product also comes as part of the MBTA's Fare Transformation program, which aims to make paying for transit easier and more convenient.

"We understand our Commuter Rail riders need another fare option as travel patterns adjust and many previous daily commuters see their post-pandemic work schedules changing," said MBTA General Manager Steve Poftak. "Using mTicket, Commuter Rail customers can purchase a Flex Pass and use their five one-day passes any day within a thirty-day period, giving riders the flexibility to travel when they need to, using an option that's cheaper than the traditional roundtrip ticket."

The Five-day Flex Pass Pilot will take place beginning July 1 through September 30 and is available within the mTicket app only. Once activated within mTicket, the Flex Pass provides five one-day passes that can be used at any time in a thirty-day period. Available for all zones and interzones, the price of a Five-day Flex Pass is a 10% discount when compared to five round-trip tickets.

Youth Pass Improvements:

As part of this pilot, beginning July 1, Youth

Pass holders can now purchase half-price fares for all Commuter Rail zones at ticket windows, onboard, and via the mTicket app, which was not previously available to Youth Pass holders. The Youth Pass Program is a partnership between the MBTA and participating cities and towns that offers young adults with low incomes roughly 50% reduced one-way fares or $30 monthly LinkPasses and was previously only available on bus and subway. Other recent Youth Pass updates include approval this past May by the Fiscal and Management Control Board of allowing Youth Pass holders to purchase half-price Zone 1A Commuter Rail tickets. This half-price Zone 1A Youth Pass ticket is available through the use of Fairmount Line validators, at ticket windows, and onboard trains beginning upon the commencement of the Fairmount Line Week-day Service Pilot on Monday, June 22.

Additional Commuter Rail Fare Improvements:

Today the MBTA also announced a one-time extension of its Commuter Rail ticket expiration policy. Understanding that many Commuter Rail customers were unable to use their tickets and passes due to the recent stay-at-home orders during the pandemic, beginning June 22, Commuter Rail customers may use expired paper tickets that were valid on March 10, 2020, onboard for the next ninety days. For expired mTickets, customers do not need to take any action – the MBTA will automatically push new mTickets to customers' apps on June 22 for use over the next ninety days. If customers do not use these tickets before they expire, the MBTA will push re-expired tickets at the end of the state of emergency. Customers also should note that the MBTA is unable to re-issue tickets earlier than June 22.

Travel and vacation problems top list of COVID-19-related complaints from Mass. consumers

Staff report

Reports about travel and vacation problems topped the list of COVID-19-related complaints from consumers in Massachusetts, while nationally reports about online shopping top the list of consumer complaints, according to new data released by the Federal Trade Commission.

Most of the COVID-19-related travel and vacation complaints from consumers are about problems with cancellations and refunds. COVID-19-related consumer complaints about online shopping include reports about items not arriving or not arriving when promised and items that are different than advertised.

The FTC began releasing COVID-19-related complaint data in late March 2020 and is now releasing more detail about the types of complaints it has received from consumers in each state.

From January 1 through June 8, 2020, Massachusetts consumers reported losing a total of about $696,000 to fraud related to the pandemic, with a median loss of $321. In addition to vacation and travel-related complaints, other top COVID-19-related fraud complaints from consumers in Massachusetts include issues with fitness club memberships and other health-related services and online shopping problems.

You can find additional complaint data about Massachusetts and other states on the FTC's new interactive COVID-19 complaint data dashboards.

Four tips for preventing dog attacks on mail carriers

Staff report

Can you picture a member of your family attacking a mail carrier? Of course not, but it happened 5,803 times last year across the nation. One Hundred and Twenty of those in Massachusetts.

Beverly, MA, Letter Carrier Alfonse Jahaj recalls being bitten on the leg recently. "The customer didn't realize the dog was behind her and, as soon as she opened the screen door, he flew out," Jahaj reported. "I'm constantly aware now of where the dogs are when I'm delivering," said Jahaj. He'll ask the customer, "can you please keep the dog indoors?" And, while many reply "don't worry, he won't bite", he realizes now that any dog, even the tamer ones, will bite if they believe their turf or family is threatened.

When a dog attacks a letter carrier, the dog owner could be held liable for all medical expenses, repayment of lost work hours, replacement of the uniform and other costs, which can run into thousands of dollars. The Postal Service places the safety of its employees as a top priority and dedicates a week each year to Dog Bite Awareness.

Here are four simple tips to prevent dog bite injuries that should be enforced all year round:

Door Delivery: If a carrier delivers mail or packages to your door, place your dog in a separate room and close that door before opening the front door. Some dogs burst through screen doors or plate-glass windows to attack visitors. Dog owners should keep the family pet secured. Parents should remind their children and other family members not to take mail directly from carriers in the presence of the family pet, as the dog may view the person handing mail to a family member as a threatening gesture.

Electronic Fencing: Carriers may assume, when they see no physical fence around a property, the property is animal-free. This can be a dangerous mistake. Postal Service officials request that you keep your dog restrained or inside when the mail is delivered. Although the electronic fence may keep your dog from wandering, it does not protect your Postal Service carrier, who must enter your property to deliver the mail. Even homes with curbside mailboxes may have oversize packages or signature-needed items that require the carrier to approach a doorstep and cross the boundaries of the electronic fence. This poses a serious risk to carrier safety.

Dog in Yard: Make sure your dog is properly restrained on a leash away from where your mail carrier is delivering the mail. Mail delivery service can be interrupted at an address or neighborhood the carrier deems unsafe because of an unrestrained dog. When service is interrupted at an address or neighborhood, all parties involved will have to pick mail up at their local Post Office. Service will be restored once assurance has been given that the animal will be confined during regular delivery hours.

Tracking: Dog owners who have access to postal features such as Informed Delivery notifications (informeddelivery.usps.com) for letter mail and package tracking are urged to use this as a way to gauge when the carrier is on their way and to ensure dogs are properly restrained. Expecting a postal package delivery on Sunday? Postal Service officials urge dog owners to restrain their animals on Sundays as well, as more residences are receiving deliveries throughout the weekend.

The Postal Service receives no tax dollars for operating expenses and relies on the sale of postage, products and services to fund its operations.

Maps of COVID infection tracked closely with areas where people rode delayed and cramped buses to work, or lived in crowded indoor settings. Before COVID hit, my campaign was laser-focused on ways to improve our transportation system; these investments are now even more important.

Essential workers like grocery store employees, healthcare workers, and bus drivers found that the government was quick to clap for them and arrange flyovers, but slow to acquire needed PPE or give them representation on discussions about how to reopen. We are still waiting for the Massachusetts Legislature to pass additional emergency paid sick time, to ensure that essential workers don't have to choose between getting a paycheck and going to work with symptoms while COVID is still with us.

The national outcry over the killing of George Floyd put another crisis on our plate. This one has been especially traumatic for our young people and our communities of color. The ensuing dialogue has forced us to look hard not only at our public safety policies, but also at how lack of access to education and opportunity has entrenched inequalities.

Why are thousands of kids sitting on waiting lists to attend vocational schools? Why do we not have more programs like ROCA in Chelsea, which connects at-risk local youth to job opportunities to help them get on the right path? Why is our transportation system limiting access to good jobs for working-class people? Why are we letting lower income communities get their school budgets devastated by funding cuts, when higher-income communities will be shielded due to their property tax base?

I stand by my comment back in February that we need big, structural change. Recent months have made it clear. If we respond to this moment of crisis correctly, we can build a Commonwealth that is stronger, healthier, and more equitable - but we need leadership willing to fight to make it happen. If elected on September 1, I pledge to work with leaders across the Commonwealth to transform our education, transportation, and public health policies.

RHS ADMINISTRATORS HOLD A SPECIAL EVENT TO HONOR THE CLASS OF 2020

Last Wednesday, 450 RHS senior graduates paraded through the high school parking lot to celebrate their senior year, and to pick up caps, gowns, and yearbooks.

"Roughly 60 faculty members will line the "parade route" with their decorated cars to cheer on our Class of 2020," said RHS Assistant Principal Leeanne Collura.

Revere High Seniors Robert Lynch (at the wheel) and Robert Kjersgard stopped by to get their graduation cap and gown.

Sophia Valencia (left), Samantha Farias and Ben Barbosa were on hand to help.

Marvin Guzman has his car decorated.

Northeast Metro Tech appoints Diversity and Inclusion Coordinator

Superintendent David DiBarri is pleased to announce that Northeast Metro Tech has appointed its first Diversity and Inclusion Coordinator.

The district's School Committee approved the creation of the position and the appointment of Dawon Dicks to the role at its Thursday, June 11 meeting. Dicks has worked a Prevention and Intervention Coordinator at Northeast Metro Tech for the past year and has worked with the administrator of student services and guidance department to identify student needs that require intervention and prevention services. He joined the district in April 2019, and also launched the Student Athlete Leadership and Mentoring (SALM) program at the school. He is additionally an assistant football coach.

"Right and "wrong" can be hard, but love, kindness, and integrity are choices we can all make in the pursuit of equality, and equality for all of us," Dicks said.

In his new position, Dicks is tasked with working on the district's goal to ensure Northeast Metro Tech is supportive of all students and reduce opportunity and achievement gaps based on race, ethnicity, disability, gender and other factors. As Diversity and Inclusion Coordinator, he will be responsible for working with administration to address issues of equality, inclusion, and cultural proficiency through professional development and group curriculum implementation with students.

"Systemic racism in particular is being examined and addressed at every level nationwide at this moment, and we felt it was our duty to take this step to promote diversity, compassion and acceptance at Northeast Metro Tech," Superintendent DiBarri said. "Dawon has become an invaluable member of our community and we're confident he will flourish in this role and that he'll deftly identify opportunities for growth at our school and what our students need to feel valued, included and accepted."

Dicks is also the co-founder of the nonprofit Student Athlete Youth Academy (SAYA), an organization that works closely with young people in Lawrence to assist them with reading comprehension, life skills, sports and sports training.

He also operates Grit Athletics Performance Strength out of Methuen, a program that offers strength and conditioning training for football players. Dicks spearheaded the creation of Grit Athletics while working at Andover Youth Services.

Northeast Metro Tech's first Diversity and Inclusion Coordinator Dawon Dicks, right, stands with senior and 2020 graduate Joshua Yandoli.

tory teacher at Notre Dame Catholic High School from 2011 to 2013, and as a middle school reading and religion teacher, health and wellness coordinator and admissions committee member at Washington Jesuit Academy from 2007 to 2011 where he created an in-depth health and wellness program. He also served as the vice-president of athletic development at SiSu Systems from 2004 to 2007.

He holds a bachelor's degree in sociology from Georgetown University. He has been inducted into Notre Dame Catholic High School's Hall of Fame for football and track, is a former assistant strength and conditioning coach for Washington's NFL team and, as an offensive coordinator led his team to being among the top-ranked offenses in the New England Football League.

Sao-Pedro-Welch, Endicott claim national dance crown

By Cary Shuman

Nikki Sao Pedro-Welch is familiar with winning major championships as an athlete. At Revere High School she was a state gymnastics balance beam champion before becoming a captain of the RHS cheerleading squad that built the foundation for a program that would become a powerhouse.

Upon her graduation from RHS, Sao Pedro-Welch was the recipient of the Joe "Pip" Giulia Memorial Award as the most outstanding cheerleader and gymnast. She was an RHS teammate and captain with current RHS cheerleading coach Julianne Esposito.

Prior to high school, she had competed on two Pop Warner national finalist seventh-and-eighth grade cheerleading teams in Orlando. As a pairs dancer with her partner, Bruce Weber, they won several national dance titles, some in New York City.

But a national collegiate dance championship as a head coach – the first of its kind in Endicott College history – has to find a place at the top of Nikki Sao-Pedro-Welch's list of career accomplishments.

Sao Pedro-Welch's team of 14 Endicott athletes – 13 females and one male – prevailed in January over 27 college dance teams to take home the 2020 Open Division national collegiate championship from ESPN's Wide World of Sports in Orlando – the same Disney complex where the NBA hopes to resume its season. Endicott, whose campus is in Beverly, became the first school in Massachusetts to win a national championship in the Pom Competition, a style that combines a team's jazz and ballet technique and dance skills with Pom motions and hip-hop power moves.

"It's a two-minute routine that was a mix of the genres, and it's high energy, performed at a really fast pace while the dancers hold poms," explained Sao Pedro-Welch, 37.

The team convened for three-per-day practices prior to leaving for the nationals in mid-January. The championships were contested before thousands of spectators and were televised on ESPN2, with Sao Pedro-Welch and her team getting some international exposure for Endicott.

"Being on ESPN for a small, private college from Beverly is pretty fantastic," said Sao Pedro-Welch. "The [national championship] trophy is currently in the trophy case at our Post Center on campus. We are waiting for the rings to come in, so that will be a nice celebration if we can get together."

The Endicott dance team won its tenth consecutive New England title in February at Westfield State University.

Sao Pedro-Welch, who is the wife of Niles Welch and the daughter of Carlos Sao Pedro and Denise Sao Pedro of Revere, is becoming the preeminent personality in New England college dance. She serves as a judge for MSSSA high school dance competitions and oversees the organization's rules and regulations. She is also the state representative for high school dance teams.

In addition to being in her 13th year as head dance coach at Endicott, Sao Pedro-Welch is coordinator of dance and an assistant professor in the college's Visual and Performing Arts Department.

Sao-Pedro Welch received her Bachelor of Arts in Dance from prestigious Point Park University in Pittsburgh. She also holds a Master's in Education in Arts and Learning from Endicott and a Master of Fine Arts in Interdisciplinary Arts from Goddard College in Vermont.

The success story in dance began for Nikki Sao Pedro-Welch at Sheila Rosanio's School of Dance and Gymnastics in Revere.

"I started taking classes there when I was seven," said Sao Pedro-Welch. "Sheila was great. She pushed us and worked us really hard and I never took opportunity for granted. I was that kid that was in the studio the minute I got out of school so I could dance extra."

That was the first step on an amazing journey that included the honor of earning a position on the inaugural Boston Celtics dance team during the 2006 and 2007 seasons and becoming a national champion college dance coach. Several of her Endicott alumnae have been members of the Celtics dance team, Patriots cheerleading team and performed in shows on cruise ships.

Then as now, Nikki's mother, Denise, a popular Revere resident, remains her No. 1 fan. "She's my biggest fan and has always been so supportive. I wouldn't be able to do half of what I have done without her," said Nikki. "My husband has also been a huge support system. He knew how important dance was to me when we met and has never gotten in the way of my dreams and has only supported them."

Gov. Baker announces pop-up testing sites for participants of large gatherings

The state announced on Monday the availability of pop-up COVID-19 testing sites throughout the Commonwealth for individuals who have recently participated in large gatherings.

These free testing sites will be available at over 50 sites throughout the Commonwealth on Wednesday, June 17th and Thursday, June 18th. The Administration is urging anyone who has attended a large gathering in the past two weeks to get tested for COVID-19 at one of these sites. Test results will be provided to each participant confidentially, and participants are encouraged to share these results with their doctors.

A full list of all testing sites is available at www.mass.gov/gettested.

Social distancing, wearing face coverings, the frequent use of disinfectant and handwashing have been important to the Commonwealth's efforts to decrease the number and rate of newly confirmed positive cases. COVID-19 can spread easily and quickly in large groups of people who are in close contact. Some people do not have symptoms but may have the virus and could spread the virus to others, including family members.

The Administration has worked with partners across the Commonwealth to provide these sites including Baystate Health, Berkshire Medical Center, Beth Israel Lahey Health, Brockton Community Health Center, Brookside Community Health Center, Cambridge Health Alliance, Community Health Connections, CVS, Fairview Hospital, Lawrence General Hospital, Lynn Community Health Center, Massachusetts General Hospital Chelsea, Outer Cape Health Services, Manet Community Health Center, and UMAss Medical Center.

To date, Massachusetts has tested more than 700,000 people for COVID-19. On average, 10,000 individuals are tested each day, comprising 4.4% of the state's population each month. The state currently has capacity at 45 labs to perform up to 30,000 COVID-19 tests per day, and its nursing home testing strategies have been replicated by states across the country.

The Administration continues to prioritize expanding access to testing, with a key focus of that strategy being ensuring access to testing in skilled nursing facilities, rest homes, and assisted living residences and other 24/7 staffed congregate care settings. On May 30, 2020, the Administration filed its required federal plan to expand COVID-19 testing under the Paycheck Protection Program and Health Care Enhancement Act of 2020. Massachusetts has received $374 million in federal funding from the Act.

This funding will help the Commonwealth implement a comprehensive testing strategy that includes:

- Increasing lab testing capacity to 45,000 by the end of July;

- Goal of reducing and maintaining a positive test rate to less than 5 percent;
- Ensuring on-demand access to testing for all symptomatic individuals and their close contacts;

- Increasing access to testing for vulnerable and high-risk populations;

- Building a testing infrastructure to support a potential second surge;
- Modernizing public technology infrastructure to provide real-time data on cases and testing; and

- Operating a best-in-class contact tracing program.

Grace LoGrasso

A gentle, understanding woman who always gave solid advice

Grace (Pace) LoGrasso of East Boston, formerly of Revere, California and Florida, passed away on June 7 at the age of 95 surrounded by her caring family.

Grace was a homemaker and a loving, giving mother and grandmother.

Grace was a gentle, understanding woman who always gave solid advice. She enjoyed traveling, reading, singing along to classic movies, and vividly retelling moments from her life. Jeopardy and Wheel of Fortune were some of her favorite shows. She will truly be missed by all who knew her.

She was the beloved wife of the late Frank LoGrasso, devoted mother of Rosemary "Rory" Pretti and her husband, Alfred "Butchie" of Derry, NH, Suzanne LoGrasso of East Boston, David LoGrasso of Palm City, FL and the late Stephen LoGrasso; cherished grandmother of Brian LoGrasso, Vanessa Middleton, Derek Pretti, Ashley LoGrasso, Frankie LoGrasso, Krystal Almonte and the late Douglas "Dougie"

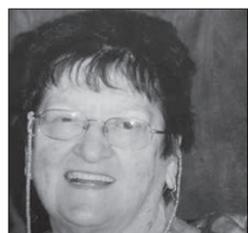

Pretti; adored great grandmother of Dallas Gilbreath, Steven LoGrasso, Devin Michaud, Andrew Middleton, Avery Middleton and Dario Pretti; dear sister of the late Frank Pace, Tina Adreani, and Joseph, Joseph, Salvatore, Michael and Rosie Pace. She is also survived by many loving nieces and nephews.

A Funeral Mass was celebrated the Immaculate Conception Church, Revere on Thursday, June 11. Interment was at Woodlawn Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the American Heart Association, 300 5th Ave, Waltham, Ma 02451. For guest book please visit www.buonfiglio.com.

7th Anniversary

It's been 7 years now that you been gone and the pain and hurt are still with us in our hearts.

As time goes by, everyone says that it gets easier but for us its just more painful because the longer you don't see your loved one the more sad and hurt you are. Life is never the same when you lose someone special.

We will miss you everyday for the rest of our lives and our emptiness in our hearts will never be fulfilled until we see you again.

We lost our Beloved Gracie last year. We love and miss her very much

*As for myself, dad, King, Pumpkin, and Lola we will see you in our dreams.
Until we meet again.*

Loved and sadly missed by loving husband Len, and loving daughter Lisa.

OBITUARIES

John Burns, Esq.

Prominent criminal defense attorney

John T. Burns, Esq., passed away on June 10, due to complications from COVID-19 after a long and agonizing battle with Alzheimer's Disease.

John, who was born on July 14, 1940, the son of the late Kathleen (Coleman) and George V. Burns, Sr, formerly of West Roxbury and East Dennis. He was the beloved husband of the late Roberta (Abrams). John and Roberta were married for 40 plus years, until 2008, when Roberta lost her battle with lung cancer.

John and Roberta settled in Revere (Roberta's hometown) where they raised their family. He was the caring brother of George V. Burns Jr. of West Roxbury, Kathleen and her husband, Vincent Ryan of West Roxbury, Mary Guiney of Canton and her late husband, Ken Walsh, the late Helen Doyle and her husband, the late Joseph Doyle of Scituate and James of Pompano Beach, FL and his ex-wives, the late Janet and the late Diana. He was the loving father of George and his wife, Marifrances Morrison, of Raleigh, NC and John Jr. of Revere and he is also survived by three adoring grandchildren, Madison, Michael and John of Raleigh, NC and many loving nieces and nephews.

John, a native Bostonian, lived with his family in Hyde Park, then moved to West Roxbury. From an early age, John was always active in sports, but as a child he particularly loved basketball. It was as a result of John's basketball exploits for his CYO basketball team at St. Thomas More in Braintree that John's older sister Kathleen, was introduced to her future husband Vincent Ryan, John's CYO basketball coach. (Rumor has it that the only reason Coach Vincent Ryan kept John on his team was to get a date with Kathleen).

John attended Roslindale High School, graduating in 1959. While at Rozzie High, John played football, basketball and baseball, being named as the school's "Most Athletic" student. (It has been reported, although not confirmed, from a (mostly) reliable source that while at Rozzie High, John was a member of the military cadets, attaining the rank of captain, the key club, as well as being involved with student government.)

After graduating from Rozzie High, John traveled across the country to attend New Mexico State University-Las Cruces on a football scholarship. However, being far from home and missing his friends and family, John returned to Boston, eventually graduating from Calvin Coolidge College, located in the Beacon Hill section of Boston. After graduating from college, John attended Portia Law School (New England Law), also located on Beacon Hill. It was while at law school that John met his future wife, and the love of his life, Roberta, who was working as a secretary at the school. Upon John's graduation from law school, he passed the Bar Examination and in 1969 was admitted to

Robert Foresta

Retired Whidden Memorial Hospital director of Pharmacy, active member of Revere KoC Series.

Robert "Bob" Foresta, 86, passed away from fighting an illness on Saturday, March 7, 2020 at Whidden Memorial Hospital in Everett.

After Bob graduated from Revere High School, he entered the military with the US Army. During his military years, he was part of the nuclear bomb testing teams in Nevada.

After his time in the US Army, Robert went on to receive a Bachelor of Science Degree in Pharmacology from Massachusetts College of Pharmacy. He worked at the Whidden Memorial Hospital for 27 years where he was also the Director of the Pharmacy. While at WMH, he took great pride in preparing the complex medications needed for cancer patients.

Bob was also a very active member of the Knights of Columbus, Revere Council, where he participated in the weekly meetings, Tuesday night bowling league and many of the other council events.

He was a philanthropic donor supporting many charities. Bob was also a DIE HARD Red Sox fan. He watched just about every game possible and had great pride in the Sox after they ended the 86 year drought and won the World Series. He enjoyed Big Band Swing music especially the Glen Miller Orchestra, old Italian crooner music from Mario Lanza to the Rat Pack, old western movies and TV shows, and ballroom dancing.

He was born on May 8, 1933 in Revere to Salvatore and Emily Foresta. Robert is survived by his loving wife, Barbara (Glennon) Foresta, his sisters and brothers-in-law: Phyllis and Roy Bettano, Marilyn and Dave Ellis and his brother and sister-in-law, Henry and Gloria Foresta; his children, Christopher Foresta and his wife, Gina and Robyn Foresta and her husband, Matthew Pollock; Barbara's children, John Glennon, Laura Glennon and Judith (Glennon) Frazier; his grandchildren, Isabella, Samantha and Andraya Foresta, Otis Pollock, Jessica Vasquez, Alyssa Vozzella, Cecilia Frazier and Adrienne Morales and nine great grandchildren.

Services for Robert will be held on Friday June 19 at 11 a.m. at Saint Anthony's Church in Revere. Private burial will be at Woodlawn Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the St. Jude's Children's Hospital or the Shriners Children Research Hospital.

CHELSEA CURVES UPDATE Construction Look-Ahead through June 27, 2020

ROUTE 1 TRAFFIC IMPACTS

•ROUTE 1 NORTHBOUND: Approaching the Tobin Bridge from Boston, the work zone begins in the left lane. Two of 3 travel lanes will be open during daytime hours (5 a.m.–10 p.m.)

•ROUTE 1 SOUTHBOUND: Approaching the Chelsea Curves from the North Shore, the work zone begins in the left lane before the Carter Street off-ramp. Two of 3 travel lanes will be open during daytime hours (5 a.m.–10 p.m.)

CARTER STREET RAMP WEEKEND CLOSURES

•The Carter Street off-ramp will be closed Friday, 6/26 starting at 10 p.m. until Monday, 6/29 at 5 a.m.

•Traffic will be detoured to the Route 16 West exit towards Everett to take Revere Beach Parkway to Everett Avenue.

SILVER LINE ALTERNATING SINGLE LANE BUS TRAFFIC

•The Silverline busway will continue to have single lane bus traffic where the Line passes through the Silverline Gateway underneath the Chelsea Viaduct. This single lane bus traffic will help to facilitate safe bridge construction. The single, alternating lane condition has now been extended through Friday, 6/26.

•Silverline service will be maintained without interruption or delay using alternating direction bus traffic. The alternation of direction will be controlled by MBTA police and flaggers.

LOCAL STREET CLOSURES

•There are no local street closures for this current look-ahead.

WORK HOURS

•Most work will occur

during daytime working hours (7:00 a.m.–3:30 p.m.) on weekdays. Some work will take place on a 2nd shift (2 p.m.–1 a.m.) and overnight hours (9 p.m.–5 a.m.) and on Saturdays (7 a.m.–7 p.m.)

DESCRIPTION OF SCHEDULED WORK

•ROUTE 1 NORTHBOUND: Bridge deck and gutter repairs continue in the left lane over the Tobin Bridge. We will continue to remove bridge deck and install new bridge deck through the Chelsea Curves.

•ROUTE 1 SOUTHBOUND: Removal of existing bridge deck and installation of new bridge deck will continue through the Chelsea Curves.

• U N D E R N E A T H ROUTE 1: Crews will replace and paint steel; power wash and paint columns and support beams; excavate, erect steel; place new concrete columns; and deliver steel beams from the new bridge deck. During the period covered by this look ahead, concrete will be placed on the Tobin Bridge. While this concrete is curing, it will be kept wet. As such, at times, roadways under the structure may be observed to be wet. This is a normal part of the curing process.

TRAVEL TIPS

Drivers should take care to pay attention to all signage and move carefully through the work zone. Police details, lane markings, temporary barriers, traffic cones, signage, and other tools will be used to control traffic and create safe work zones.

The contractors are coordinating with local event organizers and police to provide awareness and manage traffic during events. For your awareness, there will be no events at the TD Garden during this look ahead schedule.

MBTA services to increase significantly as part of phased reopening

Staff report

Although ridership remains low, the MBTA is preparing to significantly ramp up service across all modes as part of Phase 2 of the Commonwealth's reopening plan. Effective June 21, regular weekday service will operate on the Blue Line; increased weekday service will operate on the Red, Orange, Green, and Mattapan Lines; and service will increase for nearly sixty bus routes.

On June 22, Commuter Rail service will be increased and ferry service will resume on weekdays.

While passenger volume continues to be just a fraction of pre-pandemic levels, the MBTA will continue to closely monitor ridership and undesirable crowding in excess of recently-adopted thresholds and, when possible, make adjustments. Weekday service will be added to nearly 60 high-demand routes, including Routes 1, 22, 23, 28, 57, 66, 111, 116, 117, and dozens more. Bus service has also been tailored to specifically allow for operational flexibility, giving dispatchers the ability to make adjustments in response to changing ridership demands and to alleviate crowding. The MBTA will operate a full complement of buses, including 30% reserved to be deployed where there is increased demand for service. Crowding will be closely monitored with these flexible buses deployed as needed.

"As the Commonwealth continues its reopening phases and we begin boosting service for all modes, we will continue to protect the riding public and our workforce through enhanced safety protocols, including cleaning and sanitizing our stations and vehicles," said MBTA General Manager Steve Pofatak. "Thank you to MBTA riders for their patience during these challenging times and for wearing face coverings while using the system. I also want to reiterate my deep appreciation to our frontline workforce, who have come to work every day throughout the pandemic in order to provide essential transit services."

On March 17, the MBTA implemented service changes that mimicked limited, modified Saturday schedules for most modes with ferry service temporarily canceled in an effort to help slow the spread of COVID-19.

Customers should continue to make efforts to distance and are reminded that face coverings are required while onboard vehicles and within the MBTA system. The MBTA urges area employers to continue to allow telecommuting and to consider staggered work schedules to promote social distancing on public transit. The MBTA also encourages cities and towns to assist in this effort by expanding available space at historically busy bus stops and working with the MBTA to implement dedicated-bus lanes.

Service by individual mode will update according to the following as staffing permits effective June 21 and June 22:

•Subway and Light Rail:

Effective Sunday, June 21, regular weekday service will operate on the Blue Line with increased weekday service on the Red, Orange, Green, and Mattapan Lines as staffing levels permit.

Customers should note that rear-door boarding on Green Line and Mattapan Line trolleys at street-level stops will continue during Phase 2 with removable barriers installed onboard trolleys in support of social distancing efforts. These measures protect the health and safety of the MBTA's workforce and customers. Anyone needing to use the front door, including seniors and people with disabilities, may continue to do so.

Customers should also note that planned service diversions are currently taking place on the Green Line.

•Bus:

Effective Sunday, June 21, MBTA buses will operate on a modified, increased Saturday schedule for nearly 60 bus routes, which has been designed to allow for operational flexibility and the ability to make adjustments in response to changing ridership demands. Modifications include more service on high-demand routes; many bus routes beginning service earlier than typical Saturdays and resembling the start of service on weekdays; and 30% of MBTA buses to be deployed every day based on analysis and reporting on where there is increased demand for service in Phase 2. All available buses will operate with service concentrated on about 80 percent of bus routes.

Weekday service will be added to over 50 high-demand routes, notably Routes 1, 22, 23, 28, 31, 32, 57, 65, 66, 70, 104, 109, 111, 116 and 117. Route 39 will now also operate with 60-foot buses all day for additional capacity. Routes resuming service that were previously not operating are Routes 19 and 245, which serve key medical and hospital areas.

Bus routes will also continue run their regular schedules on Saturdays and Sundays.

•Commuter Rail:

Effective Monday, June 22, all Commuter Rail Lines will operate increased weekday service. This increase in Commuter Rail service is about 85% of normal schedules with regular midday trains operating and increases to the number of trains during morning and evening peak periods.

Commuter Rail schedules are available at mbta.com.

•Enhanced Decontamination, Cleaning, Disinfecting, Social Distancing, and More:

In addition to encouraging good hygiene practices and social distancing, the MBTA is continuing its enhanced cleaning and disinfecting protocols. This includes:

*Stations and facilities: disinfecting touch points in high-traffic facilities twice a day; disinfecting touch points on surfaces such as handrails, fare gates, and fare vending machines in subway stations once every four hours; and hiring additional vendors for disinfecting using chemical fogging, electrostatic sprayers, and manual disinfecting wipes/solutions.

•Bus and rail vehicles:

decontaminating all vehicles nightly with disinfecting wipes; performing mid-day decontamination daily by wiping down operator cabs and high-touch locations; wiping down cabs, fare boxes, and entrances for first/second shift bus pullbacks; performing electrostatic fogging for 100% decontamination every two weeks for all bus vehicles; isolating and electrostatic decontamination of any vehicle reported as operated by an employee who tested positive for COVID-19.

National leading grassroots organization, Indivisible, endorses Ed Markey for U.S. Senate

Staff report

Indivisible, a national, progressive grassroots organization with over a million members across the country, today announced its endorsement of Ed Markey for re-election to the United States Senate.

“Senator Markey is a model progressive legislator: consistent, accountable to his constituents, and ready to fight for a more just and equitable future. He is a leader in the climate movement and a champion for a more just, sustainable, and livable future,” said Lucy Solomon, IE Director for Indivisible. “Senator Markey consistently demonstrates progressive leadership and vision by prioritizing working people and marginalized communities, and we’re excited to continue this work with him.”

“It’s an honor to receive this endorsement from such a grassroots powerhouse as Indivisible,” said Senator Markey. “Progressive action starts at the grassroots level, and in order to defeat Donald Trump, take back the Senate from Mitch McConnell, and keep our House majority, we need groups like Indivisible. I stand with Indivisible on the need to stop the dangerous effects of climate change, to increase access to health care, and racial and economic justice. I am grateful to them for their support.”

Indivisible’s mission is to educate and activate voters and hold elected officials accountable to the values of equality, justice, compassion, and inclusion and to elect progressive leaders.

The endorsement follows the recent announcements of support for Ed Markey from several major groups across the state, including American Federation of Teachers, Massachusetts Indivisible Northampton, Our Revolution Massachusetts, Planned Parenthood Action Fund, NARAL Pro-Choice, Progressive Democrats of America, the NRDC Action Fund, the Jamacia Plain Progressives, American Postal Workers Local #4553, and UNITE Here Local 26 labor union workers.

Indivisible is a grassroots movement of thousands of local groups with a mission to elect progressive leaders, rebuild our democracy, and defeat the Trump agenda. The organization is composed of thousands of group leaders and more than a million members taking action to resist the GOP’S extreme agenda, elect local champions, and fight for progressive policies.

Sen. Markey has served in the United States Senate since winning the special election in 2013 and has amassed a deep record on environmental, climate, gun safety, and consumer protection issues. He co-authored the Green New Deal, and his leadership has led to legislation to address the humanitarian crisis on the southern border, protect LGBTQ+ rights, and ensure that Donald Trump cannot launch a nuclear first strike without Congressional approval. Raised in Malden, Ed Markey has always stood up for the priorities of Massachusetts.

NEWS FROM AROUND THE REGION

KING ARTHUR'S SITE RAZED

CHELSEA - When some long-time businesses or buildings get torn down, it comes with some nostalgia or longing – such as with the Chelsea Clock building or the Soldiers' Home water tower.

There was no such sentiment for the demolition of King Arthur's Lounge, which finally came down late last week on Beacham Street – taken down by owner Greg Antonelli to make way for a new marijuana business.

Antonelli purchases the building a few years back and evicted the men who were planning to revive the strip club. After holding on to it for awhile, he pivoted and made a deal with Greenstar Herbals, a recreational marijuana dispensary.

Antonelli has permitted the project fully, and is the developer of the sleek new building. Greenstar will be the operator of the business, with Tom Morey as the president of that company.

It is being viewed in most every circle as a very positive end to a past most in Chelsea did not want to be associated with, including the shady strip club, many criminal assaults and even a murder.

City Manager Tom Ambrosino said it's a positive step.

"I think it is a step in the right direction for the City," he said. "The plan for that site is a good one and we look forward to it."

The development at King Arthur's comes at the same time that the City begins to go out to bid for its $12.5 million project to create a new roadway, pedestrian paths and bicycle tracks. That is primarily a safety precaution because it hasn't been very safe to walk or bike on Beacham Street – and it is the only way for bicyclists to get into Boston from Chelsea, Eastie or Revere. That project goes out to bid this summer, and could start in the early fall.

Ambrosino said he doesn't expect the uses there to change, but new development and infrastructure could improve the looks of the district.

"It's still going to be a food distribution area," he said. "That an important aspect of the City, state and regional economy. There are a lot of good paying jobs there. We don't want to transform it into anything different. Hopefully, this will all result in improved aesthetics."

MARCH FOR BLACK LIVES MATTER HELD

CHELSEA - The turnout was enormous, far exceeding the numbers that main organizers Kyle Umemba and Jayde Umemba had expected. The speeches were extraordinary, delivered with high energy and intense emotion.

More than 800 residents attended the Black Lives Matter Protest last week at Chelsea City Hall. There was a peaceful march on Broadway followed by a speaking program outside City Hall.

Long-time city official

Leo Robinson felt the rally met its mission of bringing unity and awareness to the issue of racism and the national events of the past two weeks. Several participants wore attire and carried signs honoring the memory of George Floyd, who was killed by police in Minneapolis on May 25.

"I thought it was great for the City of Chelsea that so many people came out," said Robinson. "I was very impressed by the speakers and their message. I also want to say the Chelsea Police did an excellent job."

Joan Cromwell, president of the Chelsea Black Community, was the master of ceremonies. As it turned out, it was her son, Kyle Umemba, who delivered one of the most dynamic and inspiring speeches of the day.

"Amen, that's my son," said Joan Cromwell following Kyle's message of hope.

Jayde Umemba, District Attorney Rachael Rollins (who was introduced by Leo Robinson), Councilor-at-Large Damal Vidot, and City Manager Thomas Ambrosino also delivered inspiring messages, all eliciting cheers of approval from the crowd.

Kyle Umemba spoke last and his remarks stood as tall as the 6-foot-3-inch graduate of two elite institutions of learning, Buckingham Browne and Nichols prep school and George Washington University, himself. He works in finance for Pricewaterhouse Coopers.

Kyle began his speech by thanking the Chelsea Interfaith Alliance, Chelsea Collaborative, City Manager Thomas Ambrosino, the Chelsea Police and Fire Departments, Rep. Dan Ryan, and the city councilors.

"Look around, it's peaceful, it's beautiful, we respect this community and we love each other," said Kyle, drawing applause from the assemblage. "This is a great event. We've all come together for different walks of life."

Kyle related how he was told by his parents, Kenneth Umemba and Joan Cromwell, "to speak properly, look in to people's eyes, be respectful, and treat people with a level of respect and a sense of self no matter who you are, no matter where you come from."

He recounted an incident that he experienced with law enforcement officers when he was driving home for work attired in a business suit and his vehicle ran out of gas.

As the interaction with the officers on the scene developed, Kyle recalled thinking, "Whatever's going to be is going to be. What I mean by that is, whatever it is going to be is going to be – whether I'm here or not, it is going to be and I had no control over my life and that is what it means for a Black life to matter."

Kyle, who with Cesar Castro directs Let it Fly, the area's most well-attended summer basketball tournament, concluded, saying, "I want to thank you all for coming out here today. I appreciate you. I love you. We hope to turn this momentum into actionable steps and really implement some change in this community. Across this state, across the country – they are protesting peacefully, respectfully. We are here. We did it. We're lovely. The police force can tell we're good."

Jayde Umemba, a 24-year-old graduate of Boston University, said public speaking wasn't her forte, but those who attended the rally would dispute that notion.

"There's a conversation that needs to be heard," said. "Thank you all or coming here today and standing in solidarity with us. We heard about George Floyd's murderers, Ahmaud Arbery's murderers, they've all been taken into custody, but that's not enough. We want more. Too many times have we been here. Too many times have we gotten the charge, but no conviction. Too many times have we had to lock things up and let things go, lock up our anger and pain and sadness and disappointment after they refuse to lock up a racist murderer. Too many times we're no longer locking those feelings up because we want more, we need more, we deserve more and we should have had more."

"So now you're going to hear it until we get it – you're going to feel it until we get it," said Jayde. "We want charges. We want convictions. We want to stop being murdered, disrespected, racially profiled."

Joan Cromwell introduced Damali Vidot as "an influential member of our community."

"She walks the walk, she talks the talk, in solidarity and truth and she's real, 24/7," said Cromwell.

"No justice, no peace," Vidot said in unison with her constituents. "We're a community and a world in mourning right now. The murder of George Floyd was a complete disregard for Black life, in the middle of the street in broad daylight."

Vidot said she was "inspired by the unity throughout the world to adjust these unjust systems. I'm also inspired because of the young people that are leading these efforts, like Kyle and Jayde, and saying 'no more' to systemic injustice and allowing older people like me to follow their lead and honoring my voice."

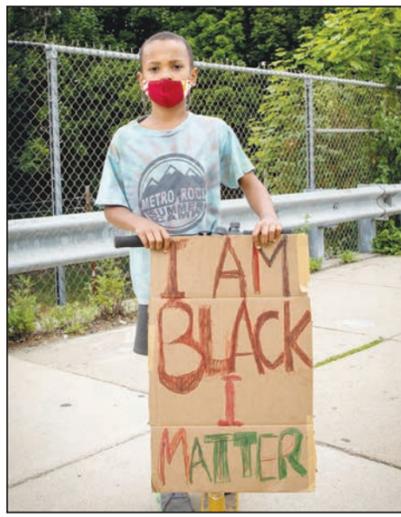

Vidot said the death of George Floyd "sparked something in all of us."

"We are at a pivotal point, my friends, to be having tough conversations about reimagining what serving and protecting looks like," said Vidot, who related some of her experiences with police brutality. "It's up to us to foster a world where the knee is off our neck."

"I just wanted to come and support you in this really powerful showing," said DA Rollins. "I can hear the anger and the hurt in your voices but this is how protests happen. I'm proud to see that people are compliant and I'm really proud to see members of law enforcement here in a helpful way."

City Manager Thomas Ambrosino said, "I watched

HUNDREDS OF CHELSEA RESIDENTS ATTEND BLACK LIVES MATTER MARCH

The Chelsea Black Community and other members of the community hosted a Black Lives Matter rally at City Hall on Sunday afternoon, followed by a march through the streets demanding change in policing strategies and systemic racism in Chelsea and across the nation. On City Hall Lawn, marchers staged a "die-in" to commemorate the black lives lost to police brutality. Celeste Williams raised her fist high and powerful, and a little boy stopped on a scooter as the marchers went by with a homemade sign stating, 'I am Black - I Matter.'

with horror those events in Minnesota. As a human, it just appalled me that that can still take place in this country that I love. But the fact that kind of brutality can still exist – it's just horrific in my mind. But as a city official who has spent 30-plus years of my life in local government trying just to help people, and to feel that I'm part of a system that still has that kind of pervasive racism in it, that can allow such a thing to happen – it leads me to recognize that I still have so much more work to do as a local official.

"I don't have the answers and I don't know exactly what's the next step to take, but I'm going to tell you I'm here to listen and try my best to understand to take the right steps forward," said Ambrosino. "We can come together to find solutions in a way that is tolerant, that is civil, and that is peaceful, but most important is hopeful for the future."

The Chelsea Police had a large contingent on hand and Joan Cromwell gave "a shoutout to Chelsea PD Chief Brian Kyes – who worked with us. We were in grade school together so he's one of us, for real."

The Rev. Dr. Sandra Whitley closed the program with a prayer of hope and an expression of gratitude for the Chelsea Black Community and "the leadership that we have in this community."

DEMARIA, POLICE LOOK AT POLICIES

EVERETT - As traditional policing strategies and policies have come under the microscope in the wake of several black people around the country being killed by police in the last few months, Everett officials last week took time to understand policing policies in Everett and how they need to change.

From the top down, it was clear this week that the status quo isn't acceptable.

Mayor Carlo DeMaria released a statement last weekend saying that the response to events locally and nationally when it comes to policing and systemic racism has to be with action – not words.

"The senseless killing of George Floyd is a result of a failure in policy and oversight by a system that needs review and reform," he said. "Inherent racism against persons of color resulting in violence and death are unacceptable. We reject and condemn police brutality and racism in the strongest terms. This is a time to act. How we act will be a reflection on the lessons we choose to see, what we choose to listen to, and how we can better understand the issues we face."

He said the City will change the way it polices the community – noting that the way things have been done in the Police Department for so long do not work now. In addition to that, he will also begin looking at City reforms in government as well.

"Instead of words, we will act with investigation and change," he said. "Policies created years ago are not effective today. I am in the process of putting together an independent committee to review governmental and police policy that needs updating. All policies will be looked at, and changes how complaints are investigated, and training will be strongly considered."

At a recent City Council meeting, Councilor Gerly Adrien had two pieces on the calendar asking for Chief Steve Mazzie and the Police Union President – who was elected to the position late last fall – to talk about various policies in the Department. Among the things she has asked for are: Use of Force Policy, Use of Force Complaint Policy, Everyday Use of Force Investigation Policy and the policy that is followed when an individual is injured during an encounter with the Everett Police. She also asked for the two police leaders to present on police training, including time spent, topics and testing assessments.

"I think we need to as a City Council to understand what's going on in our Police force to make sure we're not making or approving policies that hurt our residents," she said. "Over the last five weeks I have received complaints that are racial and about how the Everett Police have treated four residents and one non-resident. I don't know our policies and can't defend them when that happens."

Many of the things that are being reviewed nationwide right now along these same measures are use of force, how many officers live in the community where they work, what the racial makeup of the police force is, banning choke holds, a public officer misconduct database, and the demilitarization of the police.

Councilor Peter Napolitano said he agreed that the local police having so much military surplus equipment isn't appropriate.

"I agree that the militarization of the police departments with heavy equipment from the military doesn't need to be on our streets," he said. "We definitely need to make sure all our residents white, black, brown or yellow shouldn't be living in fear of police. It needs to be reported and we need to address it. We need to have substantial change."

The matters passed unanimously, 10-0, and they two police leaders will be invited to a future meeting to present.

Mayor DeMaria said community policing has been a priority in Everett, but he said it's time to update how that is achieved.

"Everett has always been a strong community, where community policing is a priority," he said. "However, updated policies must be considered so our community can move forward together. The City of Everett being a safe place for ALL is a priority, and will continue to ensure that any and all disparate treatment is acted upon swiftly, equitably, and with a keen eye towards true impartiality for the purpose of achieving real justice."

DRIVE-IN GRADUATION EXCEEDS EXPECTATIONS

EVERETT - Graduation commencements are by nature special, but over time they tend to run together and don't stick out for being unique from year to year.

That will never be said of the 2020 Everett High School Commencement – the drive-in graduation that exceeded everyone's expectations and truly brought the schools and community together in a way that is often only seen on the football field.

"It's a spectacle and it's spectacular," said Supt. Priya Tahiliani – who was busy all day walking the Lower Broadway parking lots set up for the commencement.

It was her first Everett commencement to boot.

"I didn't know if it would come together," she said. "There were so many obstacles. Many of the businesses that were vendors weren't even open. They stepped it up and delivered the things like balloons so quickly. This has come together wonderfully."

Graduation had been a focal point since the schools closed suddenly on March 12, not to re-open the rest of the year. That was a decision that Tahiliani and Mayor Carlo DeMaria made in concert, with Tahiliani leaning heavily on the mayor or as she had only been on the job nine days. When it became evident graduation wasn't going to happen in person at the Stadium as it normally does, both began working together to bring the community together for a celebration few will forget.

"Everett High School class of 2020 will be remembered by their resiliency and ability to overcome a global pandemic," said the mayor. "The drive through ceremony was outside the box but nevertheless meaningful and historic for our City. Thank you to all of the students, faculty, school administrators, and volunteers for making such an unprecedented time so successful."

The drive-thru graduation idea wasn't initially embraced, as it didn't sound all that enticing on its face. However, the Schools worked to be innovative, local businesses were more than generous and the Health Department monitored things for safety.

"What's most exciting is to see the smiles on kids' faces," said Tahiliani. "Having drive-thru graduation sounded so disappointing. We had a vision how it would work. I'm glad we made the vision come to life."

For Valedictorian Ahmed Alananzeh, he said on Saturday he was very impressed. Many seniors like himself were very down that they didn't get to finish their senior year – didn't get to attend several events like prom, science trips and now graduation. On top of that, heading off to Yale University in the fall is now in question, as many schools have considered being online for the fall semester.

On Saturday, though, he said graduation was a real pick-up.

"It's been amazing today," he said, celebrating with his family at the photo booth. "It's beyond all expectations."

The set-up was very unique from start to finish. Setting up on the Lower Broadway parking lots across from Encore Boston Harbor, the casino had donated thousands of flowers and put together three stages to host graduates. Cars would pull into the lot under an arch of balloons, and three cars would pull up at a time to the various stages.

Principal Erick Naumann would call each student's name, and they would advance to their appointed stage, cross to the center, get a photo taken, and then celebrate once back in the car with their family.

After that, there were booths set up where graduates would drive by and organizations like the Kiwanis, Rotary, Everett Teachers Association, Everett Bank, The City Council, School Committee, and Universal Screen Printing.

After that, the photo booth section was set up for families to exit their cars and take a family picture, which was delivered to them in 45 seconds or less. After that, the ceremony was over – taking about 30 to 40 minutes to pass through the whole thing.

GUNFIRE LEADS TO ONE ARREST

EAST BOSTON - Boston Police arrested an East Boston man in connection with allegedly firing a gun Sunday evening on the corner of Chelsea and Porter Streets.

Stephen Woodard, 30, of East Boston. Woodard was arraigned in East Boston District Court on charges of Unlawful Possession of a Firearm, Carrying a Loaded Firearm on a Public Way, Possession of a Firearm with an Obliterated Serial Number, Discharging a Firearm within 500 Feet of a Dwelling, Assault by Means of a Dangerous Weapon, Breaking and Entering of a Motor Vehicle, and Armed Career Criminal.

The incident occurred on Sunday just before 7:30 p.m. when officers from District A-7 police station responded to a radio call for a person with a gun in the area of Chelsea Street and Porter Street.

According to police, several witnesses directed officers to an unknown male suspect, later identified as Woodard, who was sitting in a car and in possession of a firearm.

Witnesses led police to Woodard who had entered a motor vehicle that was parked in the lot across from Santarpio's Pizza after firing off several rounds.

Officers approached and observed Woodard bleeding from the hand and sitting in the driver's seat of a gray motor vehicle that had a shattered driver's side window.

Officers asked Woodard if he had been shot, but he sat stoically, refusing to answer the officers. Woodard had his hands between his legs down by the floor of the vehicle. Officers repeatedly asked the male if he was in possession of a firearm or if he had been shot, eventually the male answered no to both questions.

Officers removed Woodard from the vehicle and subsequently recovered a folding knife in his front pants pocket. Partially under the driver's seat where Woodard had his hands, officers located a Rock Island

Armory 45 caliber firearm. Officers also observed ballistic damage to the vehicle.

After taking Woodard in custody officers spoke to a victim who said he had picked up food from a restaurant in the area and walked toward his car when he observed Woodard pulling on the door handle of the victim's car. The victim told Woodard that the car belonged to him, causing the Woodard to walk away from the victim's car.

Woodard then approached another vehicle and again attempted to gain entry by pulling on the door handle. The victim said he asked the suspect what he was doing and Woodard responded by allegedly pulling out a firearm. The victim stated he fled the area, hearing several gunshots as he walked away.

Additional victims stated they had exited the same restaurant and were walking to the parking lot when the suspect proceeded towards the two of them and allegedly pointed a firearm at them. The victims who were inside their motor vehicle, fled the parking lot at a high rate of speed, hearing multiple gunshots ringing out from the area.

Another witness stated he had observed Woodard allegedly waving the firearm, before shooting at a motor vehicle and fleeing the area.

According to reports, Woodward is the same man that made national headlines last year for stealing a truck full of lobsters from a Boston pier and fleeing to Charlestown. Woodard was arrested after two other lobstermen in refrigerator trucks pursued Woodard into Charlestown and rammed into the stolen truck.

In June 2010, Woodard, then 20, escaped from a Suffolk County sheriff's van. He ran on foot before stealing a Department of Public Works vehicle and leading officers on a brief chase. Woodard ditched the vehicle and took off running again. Three days later, he surrendered to the police at an apartment in Charlestown.

CITY REALTY DONATES CHROMEBOOKS

EAST BOSTON - City Realty Group continued its longstanding partnership with the Mario Umana Academy through a generous donation of Chromebooks for the school's students.

City Realty, known for several development projects in Eastie, has a non-profit offshoot called City Kids in areas where the development team works and conducts business.

Since landing in Eastie and developing residential projects in the neighborhood, City Realty's City Kids, has been looking for ways to give back to the community. During its project on Border Street several years ago, City Realty partnered with the Mario Umana Academy and donated supplies to the school. The developer also pitched in to help clean and maintain a park between Border and Meridian Streets.

"I got a chance to meet the new principal of the Mario Umana School Christina Michel and donate 10 Chromebooks on behalf of City Realty's City Kids," said Sal LaMattina. "Tommy Welsh, who oversees the schools in East Boston and lives in Orient Heights, as well as Principal Michel were thrilled to receive the donation."

LaMattina said City Realty has been donating Chromebooks throughout Eastie during the Coronavirus Pandemic.

Last month City Kids donated new Chromebooks to the Boys & Girls Club to help Eastie students continue learning at home during the COVID-19 pandemic.

City Realty Group Vice President of Operations James Caruso said the donations are a way City Realty can do their part to help children remain engaged and capable of continuing their studies at home.

Stephen Whalen of Boston, Managing Partner at City Realty Group and founder of City Kid, said his company has been a longtime supporter of the Umana as well as Salesian Boys & Girls Club and other area schools and after-school programs.

A few years ago City Realty, with the help of the Gove Street Citizens Association, donated Chromebooks to the Sam Adams School's Autism Strand classroom.

MBTA FARES FOR LYNN ANNOUNCED

LYNN - The MBTA announced that Zone 1A fares will again be temporarily accepted at Lynn and Riverworks Commuter Rail Stations on a pilot basis effective Wednesday, July 1, through Monday, August 31. This step is being taken so the MBTA may provide additional travel options for North Shore customers, ease crowding on nearby bus routes, and to allow the MBTA to collect ridership data related to the effects of temporary fare changes on relieving crowding.

"We're excited to again offer this option to riders traveling between Lynn Station and Downtown Boston for the same price as a subway fare," said MBTA General Manager Steve Pofatak. "We're continuing this temporary zone change pilot for two months starting July 1 with the goal of reducing crowding and promoting social distance on buses, and we encourage our North Shore riders to consider this Commuter Rail option."

Zone 1A fares were temporarily accepted at Lynn from May 22 to May 31 in an effort to provide additional travel options for customers affected by the Blue Line shutdown from Bowdoin to Airport and so that MBTA staff could begin to gather ridership data related to temporary fare changes.

Though data on Commuter Rail and relevant bus route ridership was inconclusive given the short length of the May offering, the MBTA hopes a longer two-month pilot will allow customers to learn about the Commuter Rail option so that additional data can be collected.

Customers heading inbound from Lynn or Riverworks to North Station and outbound from North Station to Lynn or Riverworks can purchase a Zone 1A ticket on mTicket, at a fare vending machine, on-board, or at a ticket window at North Station. Zone 1A monthly passes printed on CharlieTickets or CharlieCards or on mTicket will also be accepted. The MBTA will continue to closely monitor ridership levels with fourteen additional inbound trains (twenty-eight total) to be added to the Newburyport/Rockport Line as part of Phase 2 of the Commonwealth's Re-Opening Plan. A one-way Zone 1A commuter rail fare is $2.40, which is the same as a CharlieCard subway fare. Bus Routes that stop at Lynn Station include Routes 426, 429, 435, 436, 441, 442, and 455.

In compliance with the Commonwealth's Reopening Massachusetts Report, riders are also reminded that face coverings are required while onboard MBTA service and within stations.

WINTHROP MARCH IN SUPPORT OF BLACK COMMUNITY

WINTHROP - Like many other people right now, Elizabeth Tamayo and her sister Kathryn Monahan, felt a strong desire to show their love and support for the Black community. Last week, the sisters were joined by several hundred others on a peaceful walk that started at Massa Park, ran the length of Winthrop Shore Drive, and ended at the top of the beach, where walkers took a knee while engaging in a moment of silence.

"We wanted to organize a peaceful walk that would allow families to bring their children along as well," said Tamayo, who was joined by her two young children. "The youth is our future and we hope with enough love and support, we can make it a brighter one."

Signs reiterating Floyd's last words and declarations of justice were held highly by masked marchers of all ages. College student, Faith Hunt, held a sign that read 'I can't breathe' in bold, black print against a white background, sharing the three words that Floyd said before he laid motionless on the ground in front of several police officers.

"I think it's important to be aware that every person is here for a reason, and nobody is lesser than someone else," said Hunt. "Especially just because they have a different level of melanin in their genes. Racism isn't controversial-it's wrong."

Organizer of the walk, Kathryn Monahan, was beyond proud of how Winthrop came together to stand up for change.

"This was bigger, better and even MORE powerful than I ever imagined it being. I'm so proud of the town of Winthrop and everyone who came out."

WINTHROP FOUNDATION HELPS LOCAL BUSINESSES

WINTHROP - We've all seen the shuttered storefronts, tables and chairs stacked in corners, hand-written signs saying, "Closed Until Further Notice". Now that the state has begun to re-open, the Winthrop Foundation is doing its part.

Last week the Foundation announced a $26,250 economic stimulus grant, an injection of much-needed funding for some of our town's small businesses. The Foundation is purchasing up to $750 in gift cards from each of 35 local stores -- mostly food establishments.

The Board of Trustees are busy doing the legwork, going from business to business, purchasing $750 in gift cards from establishments around town. A partial list includes: High Tide, Letterie's, Belle Isle Seafood, Blackstrap, Pizza Center, Hong Kong Dragon, Winthrop Marketplace, La Siesta, Café Rosetti's, Twist & Shake, Center Café, Adriatic Restaurant, Go-Go, Express Burrito, Family Bakery, House of Pizza, Meat Market, Viking Pub, Osaka, Alia, Shore Side Café, Winthrop Arms, and several others.

The Foundation will distribute the gifts cards to charitable groups and town programs that serve Winthrop's vulnerable residents -- families, children, seniors, veterans and others. From the food pantry/bank, to Mi-Amore, to other groups serving essential needs, the Trustees felt that providing gift cards from local business to local programs was a win-win -- a great way to keep Winthrop dollars in Winthrop, help businesses get back on their feet, while supporting organizations that help our townspeople.

Founded in May 2019 with support from Speaker of the House Robert A. DeLeo and Senator Joseph Boncore, the Winthrop Foundation has received $500,000 in Massport funding thus far. Trustees have awarded nearly $50,000 in emergency grants, and plan to launch a Regular Grant Application later this month.

The Foundation will continue to support the people, programs and small businesses of Winthrop as they stand strong and carry on together.

the Trans Flag, reflecting an intersectional approach to this year's Pride.

"Publicly displaying the Pride Flag sends a clear and unequivocal message that Revere is a welcoming and inclusive place," said Councillor Morabito. "A place where not just us in the LGBTQ+ community, but every person can live without fear of persecution, judgment or discrimination. Pride means the freedom to be who you are and not let anyone judge you for it. It means standing up and being heard. It means coming together and celebrating our individuality by showing how inclusive we are, especially as a community."

"The past weeks have been a time for listening, introspection, and commitment to action as we work together as a city to address and overcome the injustices faced by marginalized communities," Mayor Arrigo said. "I'm grateful to Councillor Morabito for his work to ensure this clear signal of the City's opportunity for our LGBTQ+ community - especially during a time when we can't participate in Pride Month's traditional celebrations."

The Pride Flag flies high, above the lawn at City Hall.

Message from Councillor-at-Large George Rotondo about Pride Month

"When all Americans are treated equal, no matter who they are or whom they love, we are all more free." said former President Barack Obama. "To my sister, Kristen and her wife, my cousin, and my colleagues, I love you all. Happy Pride Month."

Parents of infants: You are focused on keeping your baby safe right now. We are too.

We know you are worried, but it is important to bring your baby to the health center for regular vaccines. Vaccines are more important now than ever, and without them, your baby is at risk for serious and sometimes fatal diseases. We are safely seeing babies in a separate building that is only being used for healthy babies. These visits are limited to one healthy infant and one healthy parent or caregiver. If you are unwell, please do not come to the health center yourself. If you have questions, please call us at 617-569-5800.
