D’Ambrosio seeks to advise School Committee

Saying that “I didn’t get elected to just go along with the status quo,” first-term School Committee member Anthony D’Ambrosio is proposing to establish an advisory board that would make recommendations to the Committee and the superintendent of schools on a regular basis.

D’Ambrosio will request in the form of a motion at the July 21 meeting that the School Committee “establish an Advisory Board that will examine racial, disability, gender, and religious equity issues in persistent need of attention.”

“The Advisory Board – which would consist of educators, administrators, and outside experts – will make recommendations to the superintendent and the School Committee on concrete steps to improve equity in our educational policy, programming, and teaching ranks,” D’Ambrosio said.

The Advisory Board, he added, will have “the sole goal of helping to improve the educational experience for every student.”

Gravellesse, Giannino discuss debate format

State Rep. candidate Joe Gravellesse and his running mate, State Rep. candidate and Revere Councilor-at-Large Jessica Giannino, are beginning to review debate guidelines, the state of the campaign, and thinking about what voters want to hear.

Both candidates are in the heat of the campaign, with the primary election being held on Aug. 4.

Gravellesse said this past weekend he attended an informal gathering of about 20 state representatives from across Massachusetts.

Under normal circumstances, the race for the Democratic nomination for state representative in the 16th Suffolk District (that includes parts of Revere, Saugus, and Chelsea) would be the “talk of the town” among political observers.

Earlier this year, the state’s Democratic convention was relatively quiet, with no strong candidates emerging, and few in the party’s leadership even hinting at a potential candidate for the seat.

Gravellesse and Giannino are vying for the position that will be on the ballot in the fall, with the winner running in the general election.

Gravellesse said the campaign is not yet in full swing, with the candidates still mostly focusing on organizing and fundraising.

According to Gravellesse, the campaign is in a “lull,” with both candidates focusing on other aspects of the campaign, such as social media and internet advertising.

D’Ambrosio said, “I think my motion is essential – we’re at an inflection point in our city’s history,” said D’Ambrosio.

“While the city continues to thrive, we need to ensure that all residents are being represented and that their voices are being heard,” D’Ambrosio added.

WHEN DID THE U.S. GO FROM FIRST TO WORST?

For those of us of the Baby Boom generation, it was un questionable that the United States was “the best” country in the world.

Despite the war in Vietnam, Watergate, recessions, 9/11, and other setbacks, America continued to be a global leader in just about every aspect of world affairs.

The decision this week by the Washington Redskins to change its team name was long, long, LONG overdue.

At least one of the team’s owners has said something like, “Let’s kill all of those thievin’ redskins,” (or something similar), the use of the term “redskin” was meant to reference to Native Americans.

The decision this week by the Washington Redskins to
change its team name was long, long, LONG overdue.

Many factors led to this, but we have 40 years of the world’s population, but we have 25% of the deaths from COVID-19 in the U.S. It’s been that bad for months in the pandemic, we still do not have enough PPE (personal protective equipment) for our hospital and other front line workers.

To what are you saving a dog in surge during pandemic: Four Tips from Susan Marie, Host of The Doggy Diva Show

As word goes that people were going to have to adopt another dog in the specific kennel of life, animal shelters began to warn that they would soon fill up.
I’m sure that you can realize that they may not have a specific kennel of a life, but in animal shelters, there are only a few people who can care for the people and the animals.

1. The coronavirus pandemic will not last forever, but adopting your “forever friend” is a lifetime commitment. The first thing to think about is the health of your lifestyle. Are you looking for a dog that is high enerdy and requires a lot of physical activity? It is important to keep in mind that you will be spending a lot of time together. When considering what your home and lifestyle can reasonably accommodate. Though your situation may differ during the pandemic and after the pandemic. More time spent at home together while you work from home
or telecommute make the right decision.

3. How much time will you spend with your dog during and after the pandemic? More time
spent at home together while you work from home
or telecommute make the right decision. It’s

4. If adopting is something that you’re not able to commit to at this time, consider a foster-
dog. Contact your local shelter or rescue organization to find a foster
that may be right for you.

Susan Marie has been promoted to Chief of Engineering and Infrastructure. With this position he has added more responsibilities. They include water, sewer, meter
billing, planning and design,
whistle-blowing and Samitation. With these increased responsibilities the number of the councillors voted not in the majority for the work, more responsibility with no compensation. If the position is made up across the city we may not agree with the decision. This was the case. The councilllors are equivalent to receive without any additional re-Sponsibilities is humiliating for the people who have raised and progressed.

Rana has done an exemplary job on the job. Councillor director. My hope is to open a new shelter for children who have been sexually abused and not recognized as children. I am calling for a stronger community.

If you recall, last summer ended up being a scorcher! And we have already seen the humidity and tempera-tures rising once again.

During the hot summer months, MyValleY Ei- der Services recommends that it’s a good idea to wear a close-up on the older adults in our lives. With COVID-19, it is even more imperative we check in on them.

Older adults are much more likely to develop heat-related illnesses than younger people because as we age our bodies don’t adjust as well to changes of temperature. Also, some medications that older adults are taking can affect the way their body absorbs heat. Here are some tips and resources to help you beat the heat:

• Slow down, and avoid strenuous activity. Don’t try to do too much on a hot day.

• Wear lightweight, loose-fitting, light-colored clothing. Light colors will reflect heat and sunlight and help maintain normal body temperature. Protect your face with a wide-brimmed hat.

• Drink plenty of water regularly and often, even if you don’t feel thirsty. Stay cool.

• Limit your intake of alcoholic beverages, as they can dehydrate you.

• Eat well-balanced, light, regular meals. Avoid greasy, rich foods that can increase metabolic heat.

• Cover windows that re-ceive morning or afternoon sun with drapes, shades, awnings, or screens. Effective, air-conditioners can even help you stay safe. If you then have any conditions, stay on your lowest floor, out of the sun. Elec-tric fans do not cool the air, but they do help evaporate the perspiration, which cools your body.

• The heat affects more than just people. Our pets can be in danger when the temperatures reach highs. Keep your animals safe and healthy in the heat. Do not leave them in a hot car or without water.

In extreme heat, it’s immportant that we watch for each other and stay infor-mated about how to remain healthy and safe when the thermometer climbs. Stay cool!

Calarusso officially announces candidacy for U.S. Congress

Stoneham Selectwoman Caroline Colarusso officially announced her campaign for U.S. Congress in the Massachusetts 5th Congressional District to unseat incumbent Katherine Clark. “The voters of the 5th Congressional District will have a real choice on November 3rd,” said Colarusso. “Voters want America to remain a nation of free and equal citizens.”

Caroline Colarusso for Congress

Calarusso, who grew up in Revere, is known for over 25 years as a fierce advocate for children and families. She has been a leader in the fight against child abuse and has dedicated her time and efforts to traveling with him and helping along the campaign trail.

A group of high school and college students have come out in support of candidate for State Rep. Joe Gravellese on the campaign trail. They discuss the importance of their time and efforts to traveling with him and helping along the campaign trail.

Calarusso was also a longtime community volunteer and at the high school level, she helped coach the Stoneham High Girls Varsity Ice Hockey team during the years when the program was struggling. In 1974 Caroline began her ice hockey days playing for the Winthrop Masquerade Jets. She graduated magna cum laude from Emmanuel College. She and her husband Joseph have been married for 30 years and have 3 adult sons — Anthony, Joseph, and Richard.

On July 7, the Suffolk County Sheriff’s Department launched a Facebook Tour with Senator Ed Markey and Congressman Joseph Kennedy III to familiarize them with the conditions of the Suffolk County House of Correction in this year’s State Senate.

The forum, which was moderated by Suffolk County Sheriff Stan Szabo with Senator Ed Markey and Congressman Joseph Kennedy III, was an opportunity for the duo to meet with inmates from the Suffolk County House of Correction. The forum was attended by nearly 2,000 private-sector workers and the support of the postal workers from the Massachusetts Association of Flight Attendants

Senator Markey and Congressman Kennedy answered questions posed by inmates in a socially distanced forum on Facebook and YouTube.

Scott Hoffman, a member of the Executive Board of the American Postal Workers Union, said, “The Executive Board has expressed our support to return to the United States Postal Services.”

Markey responded with “because everyone should be able to go to get to and from work like, you know, the grocery store or ‘are massive’ and possibly even exist-to put people with mental illness on the streets.”

Was also asked about why prison and jails are becoming “de facto mental health centers,” and about the “deinstitutionalization” that Markey said he had been working on with mental health.

Senator Markey said he had been working on legislation that would make access to treatment for mental health needs to change.

Senator Markey was also asked about what he finds “overwhelming” in the current US justice system. Senator Markey said he had been working on legislation to address structural inequities, but he said that “any police officer should have to wear a camera. There are things that the police are doing that they can and they shouldn’t be a full recording of what we are doing.”

Additional bags can be acquired by visiting www.simplerecycling.com, calling 866-835-5068, or emailing info@simplerecycling.com.

REVERE RECYCLING TIP OF THE WEEK:
RECYCLE TEXTILES IN YOUR PINK BAG!

Clothing and other textiles don’t belong in your normal recycling bin - there are pink bags that are meant for collecting extra clothes and materials you have around the house. By putting your textiles in your pink bag rather than your recycling bin, you are helping the City save money on contamination efforts.

Additional bags can be acquired by visiting www.simplerecycling.com, calling 866-835-5068, or emailing info@simplerecycling.com.

The workout machines have been rearranged in a such a way to make social distancing possible in all areas of the gym.
