MVES SEEKS VOLUNTEERS FOR SOCIAL ENGAGEMENT PROGRAM

Mystic Valley Elder Services (MVES) is seeking volunteers for its Social Engagement Program, a program vital to isolated older adults by supporting independence and fostering compassion.

The Social Engagement Program is designed to help improve the health and well-being of isolated older adults in the community by providing meaningful social connection—whether it be through regular visits (when safe to do so), telephone calls, or email.

Many older adults already live with a deep sense of disconnection from their community but the pandemic and related social distancing measures have made their sense of social isolation and loneliness much worse.

There are three different options for program participants. Volunteers may choose one that is best for them, or could be involved in two, or all three. Options include a Telephone Reassurance Program, where a volunteer calls the isolated individual and provides a social contact and friendly conversation;

Residents turn out to voice opposition parking meters

By Cary Shuman

Several residents showed up Saturday at the William G. Reinstein Bandstand for a protest against the DCR's parking meter program on Revere Beach Boulevard that will begin on May 1.

Wayne Rose, one of the leaders of the group, said, "We would like to effectively get all the meters off of Revere Beach. Two hundred spaces (for residents) wasn't enough. We have no parking for residents of Beachmont, which isn't right. I've driven to every beach all along this coast and no other beach has a meter on it. It's just not right."

Rose added that his group would like to meet with DCR officials to discuss the issue. He noted that no DCR official ever appeared at a City Council meeting in the months leading up to the installation of the parking meters on the Boulevard. "No-

Council airs its complaints about DCR meter program

By Cary Shuman

Despite Mayor Brian Arrigo's efforts to negotiate a compromise that will allow residents on the westerly side of Revere Beach Boulevard from Revere Street to Carey Circle to park free of charge on that side, the City Council and residents continue to be dismayed by the DCR implementation of a metered parking program on Revere Beach Boulevard.

The parking meter program is set to begin this Saturday, May 1 at a cost of $1.25 per hour.

In addition to the program being a source of irritation among residents, it's been a source of confusion at all levels.

Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna wondered why residents who live in other residences on the westerly side, including the Atlantic Towers and the new Ryder apartments at the beginning of Revere Beach, would still have

RHS graduation planned for June 8

By John Lynds

With COVID numbers down, and more and more residents getting vaccinated each day it looks as though this year's Revere High School (RHS) graduation ceremony will be different than the 2020 RHS graduation.

During the height of the pandemic last year, the usual graduation exercises at Harry Della Russo Stadium were cancelled, and graduation for seniors was moved to August. With COVID infections running high at that time the school opted for a 'drive-by' graduation in front of City Hall where the Class of 2020 picked up their diplomas during an afternoon-long car parade.

At last Tuesday night's Revere Public School Committee meeting, RHS Principal Dr. John Perella was happy to report that this year's graduation will return to the stadium with a social distanced ceremony for the more than 500 students who are part of the Class of 2021.

"We have identified the night of Tuesday, June 8 at 6 p.m. as the date for a graduation ceremony," said Perella. "This was approved by the School Committee and we also presented the plan to city officials, fire and police departments and health officials. I will say that this is, at its base, the same plans that we put together last year (that were cancelled)."

Perella explained while graduation will return to the stadium for the first time since 2019, and it will be a minimized controlled event.

Council wants MassDOT to clean Route 1 overpass and underpasses

By Cary Shuman

The City Council approved a motion that requests MassDOT to paint and clean the overpasses and underpasses for Route 1 and Route 16 at Broadway, Dale Street, Park Avenue, and Mountain Avenue.

Councillor Patrick Keefe and Joanne McKenna sponsored the motion.

"All those areas are gateways into our city," said Keefe. "And they all look terrible. If MassDOT is not able to take care of it in timely fashion, I would ask that Mayor Arrigo use some free cash to take care of it on our end and just show a little pride."

McKenna called the condition of the embankments coming off the highways "just disgusting."

The councilor said she has made frequent phone calls to state officials for the past month and her calls for action have gone unanswered.

Ward 6 Councillor

Richard Serino asked the two sponsors of the mo-

City Council supports motion on denouncement of human trafficking

By Cary Shuman

Councillors George Rotondo, Jessica Giannino, and Richard Serino sponsored the following motion requesting that the City Council and Mayor Brian Arrigo denounce human trafficking and all its forms and support the following resolution:

WHEREAS, we, the undersigned members of the Revere City Council, recognize the urgent and critical need to create a Human Trafficking Free Zone; and

WHEREAS, as a Council, also recognize the impact human trafficking has on the people of Revere and our residents who may have suffered from human trafficking or forced labor, and in a manner that prevents human trafficking and forced labor and unites all residents of Revere against it; and

WHEREAS, we, The City Revere City Council, affirms our commitment against human trafficking and sex trafficking of children in any form; and

WHEREAS, human trafficking is an international, national, and local phenomenon that traps millions in cycles of exploitation for sex or labor and is often called “modern slavery”. It is a direct affront to individual human rights and jeopardizes community health; and

WHEREAS, worldwide, human trafficking generates about $36 billion each year. About one quarter of those dollars circulates in the United States, where freedom is an inalienable right; and

WHEREAS, commercial sex trafficking includes “the recruitment, harboring, transportation, provision or obtaining of a person for the purposes of a commercial sex act.” Children in “the life” are considered victims of severe forms of trafficking—and they are in our schools; and

WHEREAS, every year, hundreds of thousands of children, mostly girls in early adolescence, are at risk of being trafficked. They are subject to physical, verbal and sexual abuse. Specifically, they face social isolation, lack of care, manipulation and severe health concerns, including HIV. Getting out of the life isn’t easy—many are trauma-bonded with those who exploit them and must overcome stigmatization and post-traumatic stress. In some states, they also face the threat of a criminal record; and

WHEREAS, research by the Polaris Project indicates that the majority of trafficked persons come from vulnerable groups, including undocumented migrants, runaways, at-risk youth, oppressed or marginalized groups, and the poor, in which this occurs specifically because they are the easiest to recruit and control. Many of these young people are our students; and zations such as SEEN in Suffolk County have been incredible leaders in establishing and maintaining infrastructure to combat child sex trafficking and education about this issue. Support to End Exploitation Now (SEEN) is a groundbreaking partnership that unites more than 35 public and private agencies in the belief that collaboration yields positive outcomes for child victims of commercial sexual exploitation (CSEC). Before the creation of SEEN in 2006, this form of human trafficking was virtually unrecognized in Suffolk County; and

WHEREAS, Child abuse “best practice” is premised upon the philosophy that “no one agency can do it alone.” Children referred to SEEN typically have complex histories, involve many collateral agencies, and often, multiple jurisdictions. SEEN Case Coordinators promptly connect each of these agencies and individuals together as a team to facilitate an efficient and effective response; and

WHEREAS, with the proper training, paraprofessionals, teachers, school personnel, and first responders can recognize and help victims of human trafficking in all its form. Schools, and all employees of the City of Revere can be part of the frontline to combat the marginalization, criminalization, and exploitation of our most vulnerable.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that The Revere City Council stands in the fight to end human trafficking and condemn the ongoing exploitation and profit from sex trafficking and forced labor; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the City of Revere provide resources to inform and educate all people in Revere on how to recognize human trafficking, forced labor and sex trafficking in English, Spanish, Portuguese, Arabic, and Russian, and how to access help on the City’s website and call 911; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the City or Revere will address the consequences of human trafficking by supporting programs that counteract victims’ criminalization and stigmatization through educating victims about their rights and opportunities, facilitating social reintegration, advancing educational opportunities, and assisting in obtaining sustainable employment; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Revere City Council reclaim the promise of safe and humane communities by supporting legislation to eradicate human trafficking in Massachusetts and the United States and abroad.

Officials award $720,000 for services for young adults in recovery programs

Staff Report

The Executive Office of Health and Human Services (EOHHS) and the Department of Public Health (DPH) has announced a $720,000 grant award to the national organization Young People in Recovery for the development of statewide support programs for young adults recovering from substance addiction.

With this funding, Young People in Recovery will develop, build, and maintain seven recovery support networks strategically positioned in areas of critical need throughout the Commonwealth, providing young people ages 18-25 the life skills and peer supports they need to recover from opioid use, stimulant use, or other substance use disorders and co-occurring substance use and mental illness. The program launches in April 2021 with the capacity to serve approximately 1,400 people annually.

“As we cross the one-year mark of fighting the COVID-19 pandemic we remain aware of its serious impacts on those struggling with addiction, especially young people who may be experiencing social isolation as they social distance to stay safe,” said Gov. Charlie Baker. “This award builds on the Commonwealth’s ongoing efforts to provide support to those who are seeking a way out of addiction and from the grip of the opioid epidemic.”

The COVID-19 pandemic has created an extraordinary public health challenge in Massachusetts, particularly for many young adults, whose social, emotional, and mental well-being has been adversely affected. For those affected by substance use, this grant initiative seeks to forestall the kinds of trauma that can have long-term consequences when faced at such an important developmental stage.

“Studies have indicated that people between the ages of 18 and 25 are among the most impacted by substance use disorders,” said Health and Human Services Secretary Marylou Sudders. “This program will provide young people the support, engagement, and skills they need to maintain recovery as they transition into adulthood, making important resources accessible during a time when we are combatting social and emotional isolation caused by the COVID-19 pandemic’s impact on our lives.”

The grant award will be distributed over the course of FY21-22. The program is funded through the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) State Opioid Response (SOR) grant.

Baker signs Executive Order to reduce greenhouse gas emissions in Commonwealth

Staff Report

As part of the Baker-Polito Administration’s celebration of Earth Week in Massachusetts, Gov. Charles Baker last week joined state and local officials at the Massachusetts Emergency Management Agency (MEMA) bunker to sign a new Executive Order building on the Administration’s efforts to reduce greenhouse gas emissions across state facilities.

The Order, Leading by Example: Decarbonizing and Minimizing Environmental Impacts of State Government, sets goals and requirements to accelerate the state’s decarbonization efforts in state agencies and public institutions of higher education, prioritizing electrification of buildings and transportation. The Order builds on the Commonwealth’s national leadership on climate change, including an announcement by Governor Baker that the Administration has met its commitment to invest $1 billion in climate spending by 2022, surpassing that benchmark in April 2021.

“Addressing climate change requires bold, urgent action, which is why I am proud that our Administration has achieved an ambitious goal of investing $1 billion in climate adaptation and mitigation efforts, an accomplishment we will continue to build on through this Executive Order,” said Baker. “The Leading by Example Executive Order will boost the state’s adoption of innovative clean energy strategies, and I’m grateful for the efforts of our state agencies and institutions to help us take on the challenge of climate change.”

The Executive Order reinforces Massachusetts as a leader in emissions reduction efforts through a variety of strategies. To reduce emissions and increase energy resilience, the Order underscores the need for significant energy efficiency measures across the state portfolio, as well as the deployment of renewable energy and energy storage at multiple facilities. Additionally, the Order:

- Requires all new construction at state agencies and campuses to meet stringent energy performance standards, install high efficiency heating and cooling systems, and meet DOER’s new Specialized Stretch Energy Code when it is promulgated.

- Requires all state fleets to buy zero-emission vehicles starting next year.

- Requires the doubling of electric vehicle charging stations installed at state facilities by 2030.

- Establishes specific and measurable emission reduction targets associated with building and vehicle fossil fuels consumed by state entities.

- Requires agencies to incorporate emissions reduction strategies into all budgetary and planning efforts.

- And requires state agencies to appoint Leaders by Example coordinators in support of the Executive Order’s goals.

Gov. Baker was joined by Lieutenant Governor Karyn Polito, Energy and Environmental Affairs Secretary Kathleen Theoharides, Department of Energy Resources (DOER) Commissioner Patrick Woodcock, and Division of Capital Asset Management and Maintenance (DCAMM) Commissioner Carol Gladstone. The MEMA bunker features a comprehensive energy efficiency and renewable energy project completed in 2020, overseen by DCAMM and partially funded by DOER’s Leading by Example Program.

Through the Leading by Example Program, state entities have collectively reduced greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions by 35 percent from a 2004 baseline, reduced heating oil use by 85 percent, eliminating more than 18 million gallons of fuel oil, and reduced energy use per square foot by 14 percent. Since 2015, state entities have installed 184 electric vehicle charging stations, deployed more than 20 MW of solar, created 42 new pollinator-friendly habitats, and completed 57 LEED Certified buildings, 35 of which achieved a Gold or Platinum rating.

The MEMA bunker is the site of a comprehensive energy efficiency and renewable energy project, which includes a state-owned 275 kW parking lot solar canopy. The project will generate 376,000 kWh of renewable electricity annually and result in an estimated $100,000 in annual benefits to the site from electricity cost savings, Solar Massachusetts Renewable Target (SMART) Program incentive payments, and demand charge savings. Over 20 years, the project is estimated to provide the site with roughly $2 million in total cost savings and generated revenue. The project received a $453,750 DOER Leading By Example grant, which reduced the construction cost by approximately 27 percent, reducing the project’s payback period by four years.

Bianchi's receives the go-ahead to serve pizza in new location

Staff report

The wait for a slice of Bianchi's legendary pizza is almost over, and this is good news for local pizza aficionados. The Revere License Commission at their meeting on April 21 approved a Common Victualler License to sell pizza at Bianchi's new location at 381 Revere Beach Boulevard while waiting for major repairs to the building to be accomplished before granting an All-Alcohol Restaurant license with seating.

"This is a plus, plus, plus for the city," an enthusiastic Ward 5 Councillor John Powers said in support of the proposal.

Fire Deputy Paul Cheever added that the owners are, "on the right track....this will be a great improvement in the business area."

Inspectional Services Department Director Michael Wells clarified the temporary status of the commission's action.

"This will be a take-out business only until all code requirements are met for the alcohol license and seating requirements," Wells said.

A neighbor, Ron Clark, supported the request saying that he was "excited to have it happening."

However, Laura Parsons, another neighbor, raised some concerns about trucks unloading and cars randomly parking while waiting for a take-out slice of pizza.

Commissioner Linda Guinasso pointed out that any cars blocking the street can be towed. Guinasso also noted that no deliveries can be made before 7 a.m.

Parsons also raised a concern about live music playing late into the night.

Commissioner Robert Selevitch noted that live music will end at 10 p.m. and that until closing, all of the doors must remain shut.

The formal request before the commissioners was as follows: Application of 381 Revere Beach, LLC d/b/a Bianchi's at the Sand Bar, for an All Alcohol Restaurant license, said license to be exercised at 381 Revere Beach Boulevard. Requested seating is 92 inside, plus 20 seasonal seats outside. Proposed hours are Sunday-Saturday 11 a.m.-2 a.m. Proposed entertainment is TV, vocal and instrumental music, and dancing by patrons.

The commissioners voted to approve the takeout business, which can start immediately, by issuing a Victualler License. Then, after both the Inspectional Services Department and Fire Department have certified that the restaurant is up to code, the owners can apply for an All-Alcohol License with indoor seating and seasonal outdoor seating.

In other matters before the Commission:

The commissioners heard from the owner of Rubino's Restaurant, LLC d/b/a The Cutting Board, for a change of hours for a Wine, Malt, Cordials/Liqueurs Restaurant license to allow for an earlier opening on Sundays.

The restaurant currently opens at 5 p.m. every day of the week, including Sundays, but the owner came before the board seeking to open on Sunday mornings at 9 a.m. Alcohol service would begin no earlier than 10 a.m. on Sundays.

Owner Louis Rubino said he is seeking the earlier opening on Sundays in order to try to branch out into the Sunday brunch business. The commissioners approved the change of hours.

Regarding an application by Eddie Mac's Lounge, Inc. d/b/a The Volcano Room for a change of d/b/a from Atlantic Lounge, a motion for a name change was approved.

The commission approved an application of the Boston Renegades, a women's tackle football team, for five, one-day Malt/Wine licenses to be exercised at Harry Della Russo Stadium from 5:00 p.m.-7:30 p.m. on the following dates: May 8, 2021, May 15, 2021, May 22, 2021, June 26, 2021, and July 10, 2021. All of the dates are on Saturdays.

The commission took up the application of Rincon Limeno Revere, Inc., Juan D. Jaramillo, Manager, for an alteration of premises at 260 Broadway to change the layout of the dining area to comply with local, state, and ADA regulations. The seating will remain at 66 patrons.

With both Wells and Cheever noting that the building needed extensive repairs and that Jaramillo had performed all of the work that had been requested by the city, the commissioners approved the change in layout.

The commissioners approved a change in ownership upon the application of Shree Rang, Inc. d/b/a E-Z Liquors, 750 Washington Avenue, Daya Rawal, Manager, for transfer of an All Alcohol Package Store license from Washington Liquors, Inc., with said license to be exercised at the same location.

The commission conducted a hearing into alleged violations of the health code, state-ordered COVID-19 restrictions, and conditions of license at the Patriot Civic Club at 93 Patriot Parkway.

The commissioners heard from the club's managers, who said that the repairs to the kitchen are being made and that the staff is receiving training on the COVID-19 protocols.

The commissioners ordered that the club cannot reopen until both the Revere Fire Department and the Inspectional Services Department have given their approval to the changes and have determined that the club is in compliance with state and local laws.

However, Guinasso noted that since both Wells and Cheever said that the repairs to the kitchen should be completed within the next two weeks, she felt that waiting another two weeks for the commission's May meeting to approve the changes may cause hardship to the club.

The commissioners then voted to allow the club to reopen after approval from Inspectional Services and the Fire Department, to be followed by a probationary period, prior to the commission's next meeting.

In other matters: Application of Kenneth G. LaFauci d/b/a Brothers Auto Body, for a Class 2 Motor Vehicle Dealer license, said license to be exercised at 16 Naples Road. Hours of operation to be Monday - Friday 9 a.m. - 5 p.m., requested number of cars for sale to be 2. The license was not approved.

Application of Colimens Corporation d/b/a Taqueria Colima, 425 Revere Beach Boulevard, Daniel Diego, Manager, for a Malt/Wine Restaurant license for an existing restaurant, said license to be exercised at the same location. Requested seating to remain at 15 inside, 24 outside; requested hours to remain at Sunday 10 a.m.-2 a.m., Monday-Saturday 8 a.m. - 2 a.m.; no requested entertainment.

However, with commissioners expressing reservations that there were not enough controls in place to monitor what happens to the alcohol after being bought by customers, they voted to allow a continuance for the request.

parking meters in front of their buildings even though those buildings are on the westerly side.

"I want to voice my disappointment that these residents that live at the beginning of the beach didn't get the same consideration as the people from Revere Street all the way to up to Point of Pines," said McKenna.

City Council President Anthony Zambuto opened another avenue in the discussion by stating that after meeting with Mayor Brian Arrigo, he learned that "every citizen that has a car registered in the city of Revere will receive a beach sticker and that allows you to park on the westerly side of the beach from Revere Street to Carey Circle and all of Ocean Avenue.

"That's what will happen in the very near future," said Zambuto."

Councillor-at-Large George Rotondo seemed to summarize best the sentiments of Revere residents who have been parking free of charge for generations at the nation's first public beach. Rotondo is not at all pleased with the DCR's decision to implement the program, especially so during an ongoing pandemic that hit Revere very hard.

"This is no reflection on the Mayor's Office, but this is egregious," said Rotondo. "Seventeen hundred parking spaces, 23,000-plus residents with cars within our community, well over 2,000 seniors up and down the Boulevard - more importantly people are going to be acrimonious and fighting for spaces where these new developments start from Eliot to Carey Circle," said Rotondo. "This is just foolish."

Rotondo added, "Quite honestly putting meters down there has a huge impact on those people who need to be given care from an OT, PT, a nurse, or respiratory therapist. The people at the Satter House have suffered enough. Their parking spaces are basically being taken away with this particular process."

Ward 5 Councillor John Powers said his original interpretation of the parking program was that residents on Revere Beach Boulevard would receive stickers that would give them "first priority" for the parking spaces on the westerly side from Revere Street to Carey Circle. As it stands today, any resident of Revere or elsewhere will be able to park free of charge in those spaces.

"I hope the mayor will look to address this the best he can," said Powers.

Residents Wayne Rose, Niko Kostopoulos, and Pat Melchionno all expressed their displeasure with the parking meter program.

"There's no parking spaces at the beginning of the beach anymore on Ocean Avenue because you took them all away from the Beachmont residents," said Rose. "We don't need meters here. We've never had them. Even in the beach's heyday, the state never tried to raise revenue from this beach because it's an historic beach."

Kostopoulos said, "Obviously nobody wants the meters. Obviously I feel the same way. I'm just curious as to why DCR feels they can just impose this on the Revere residents. I'd like to know as a city, what are we doing to fight that?"

tion to add the Malden Street and Sargent Street underpasses to the original motion.

He credited DPW Supt. Paul Argenzio for his work in cleaning up the area on Malden Street, but "both of those underpasses could use a cleaning."

"This will be a graduation that will meet the needs of the students and families in that it will be a traditional graduation that is in-person at the stadium," said Perella. "This is something that students have told us over and over again is their highest priority. Unfortunately, last year we were unable to do that, but this year it looks like we have a go for June 8."

Perella said the basics of this event will be that each graduate will receive two guest tickets.

"This will enable those guests to sit with a graduating senior on the field at the stadium for the ceremony," said Perella. "This will limit the number of people that are in this stadium and will fall under CDC guidelines."

Perella said the school will be creating 18x11 ft. pods on the football field that will be spaced out accordingly to meet social distancing guidelines.

"In these pods will be one student and two of their guests," said Perella. "When we spread these pods out across the entire field it creates the distancing needed to fall under the guidelines while accommodating the numbers of students that we have. This is why we're not allowing student guests into the bleachers because we can't really control that."

The stands themselves will provide seating for some dignitaries and faculty of the high school only. Perella told the School Committee there will be no exception to the two ticket rule.

"So each student who is graduating will get those two tickets and that will adhere to the limits and everything will be under CDC guidelines with spatial distancing," said Perella. "Masks will be mandatory and the entire graduation will be very organized and somewhat more brief than it has been in the past."

Perella said there will be fewer speeches, and only students will give speeches during the ceremony.

"While it will be a smaller ceremony we hope it will be really special and one that will meet the needs of our students and their families," said Perella.

Perella said the last day of classes for RHS seniors will be Friday, May 28, and then the following week RHS will begin graduation rehearsals.

However, as far as traditional end of the year celebrations go, everything will be virtual this year.

"We are now coordinating with the elementary and middle schools to ensure that their (end of the year) events don't take place at the same time as the High School's."

BIDEN'S CLIMATE CHANGE BILL: TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE?

President Joe Biden's ambitious proposal to reduce greenhouse gas emissions in the U.S. by 50 percent (from their 2005 levels) by 2030 marks a dramatic moment in the environmental movement.

Those of us old enough to remember the first Earth Day -- 51 years ago this past week -- know how difficult it can be to induce American consumers and businesses to adopt environmentally-friendly habits.

The first Earth Day was inspired by the images a few months before of Cleveland's Cuyahoga River catching fire when the chemical pollutants which industries poured into the river (which in turn streamed into Lake Erie) were ignited by a spark from the shore.

The shocking river fire and the Earth Day movement in turn led to the creation of the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) with the full support of then-President Richard M. Nixon, a Republican.

The EPA soon initiated policies that began to improve America's air and waterways, most notably with the elimination of lead in gasoline.

However, despite the tangible accomplishments of the EPA over the past 50 years, our air and water -- the essentials of life for all living things -- have remained as harmful to our health as ever.

A recent study by the American Lung Association concluded that almost 50 percent of all Americans still breathe polluted air.

The 1967 movie, The Graduate, predicted the rise of plastics ("Benjamin...I have one word for you: 'Plastics.' There is a great future in plastics.") in everyday life. But what the movie did not anticipate was that within a few decades, micro-plastics not only would contaminate the oceans around the world, but also would be found in every major organ in our bodies.

And of course, there is the matter of global warming, which soon is set to reach a point that will make life as we know it unsustainable in many parts of the world, including our own, where rising sea levels will inundate the Massachusetts coastline.

However, what is encouraging about President Biden's plans is that for the first time, major U.S. companies are supportive of policies that are good for the environment. Although we would like to think that they are doing so for the right reasons, the reality is that these companies realize that climate change will have a catastrophic effect on their business interests.

The U.S. military has warned for the past decade that climate change poses a major threat to our national security and now private industry finally has jumped on the bandwagon. According to an article in the New York Times last week, "Rising temperatures are likely to reduce global wealth significantly by 2050, as crop yields fall, disease spreads, and rising seas consume coastal cities...The effects of climate change can be expected to shave 11 percent to 14 percent off global economic output by 2050 compared with growth levels without climate change, according to a report from Swiss Re, one of the world's largest providers of insurance to other insurance companies."

So we applaud President Joe Biden's dramatic pro-environment policies, which incorporate many aspects of the Green New Deal put forward by our U.S. Senators, Ed Markey and Elizabeth Warren, in tandem with New York Rep. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez.

And we are heartened that American business is fully on-board with the president's proposals.

Hopefully, the shift in our national policy will not be a case of too little, too late.

On the other hand, for those of us who celebrated the first Earth Day in 1970, we have to say, "Better late than never."

Legislation seeks to improve road safety

Staff Report

The Baker-Polito Administration filed legislation this week to improve road safety, entitled, "An Act Relative to Improving Safety on the Roads of the Commonwealth." The legislation includes provisions previously filed by the Administration in 2019 and several new proposals, including increasing penalties for individuals who cause personal injury while driving on a non-administratively suspended license.

"These proposals will make Massachusetts roadways and streets safer for all travelers and will help reduce roadway fatalities across the state," said Gov. Charles Baker. "This legislative package builds upon laws enacted in 2019 to prevent and enforce distracted driving, and we look forward to working with our partners in the Legislature to take additional steps to improve road safety."

An Act Relative to Improving Safety on the Roads of the Commonwealth, includes proposals on the following new and previously filed topics:

- Primary Seatbelt: allows law enforcement to stop motorists for not wearing a seatbelt.

- Haley's Law: increases penalties for individuals who cause personal injury while driving on a non-administratively suspended license. New provisions would create three levels of new "aggravating factors" to driving while suspended: 1) Driving negligently/recklessly: fine up to $1,000 and up to five years in prison; 2) Causing "serious bodily injury:" fine up to $3,000 and house of correction up to two-and-a-half years; and 3) Causing death: fine up to $5,000 and mandatory two years to a maximum of 10 years in prison. Current statute simply penalizes for driving while suspended.

- Traffic Camera Enforcement Local Option: allows localities to place red light cameras at intersections (and the Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR)/MassDOT-owned roads that serve as local roads with DCR/MassDOT permission). Cameras would be restricted to collecting photographs only upon a violation and only of the vehicle license plates. Violations would include running a red light and making an illegal turn on a red light.

- Bicycle Safe Passing: requires a driver to maintain a 3 foot "safe passing distance" and to travel at a speed that is reasonable and proper when passing a bicyclist or pedestrian when there isn't any physical separation (such as a protected bike lane or curb). Thirty-six other states have "safe distance" requirements.

- Commercial Driver's License (CDL) Changes: a refile of previously filed changes to the state's CDL laws, which include updates to conform to federal law.

- Crash Data Reporting: proposes adding to reporting requirements crash information involving "a vulnerable user," a term which would include pedestrians, bicyclists, public works or public safety personnel working in the right of way, individuals on farm tractors, and users of other mobility devices such as scooters and inline skates. Current statute requires drivers to report any crashes resulting in serious bodily injury, death, or property damage in excess of $1,000. This reporting on crashes involving vulnerable users will assist municipalities and state transportation entities to identify problem areas or emerging trends.

- Side Guards and Additional Mirrors: requires all Commonwealth-owned and operated vehicles over 10,000 pounds to have side guards, convex mirrors and crossover mirrors. Additionally, all Commonwealth and municipal contractors would be required to have these devices by Jan. 1, 2024. Side guards protect bicyclists and pedestrians from being swept under large vehicles, which can happen, for example, when vehicles are making tight turns at intersections. The convex mirrors complement the side guards.

- Low-Speed Mobility Device Advisory Working Group: given the growth in use and acceptance of micro-mobility solutions like electric scooters and bicycles, and their unclear status in state law and local regulation, this bill calls for MassDOT to convene an advisory group to recommend a new statutory framework to ensure safe use while encouraging these low-carbon transportation alternatives.

Bocce court to be dedicated in memory of Jerry Russo

By Cary Shuman

The new bocce court on Newhall Street at the West Revere School Complex will be named in memory of Gerald "Jerry" Russo as a lasting tribute to his contributions to the Revere community.

Mr. Russo was an avid bocce player, a Ward 6 resident, and city senior worker. He passed away on January 23, 2021.

Mrs. Eileen Russo thanked Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino for proposing the bocce court be named in honor of her late husband, Jerry Russo.

"Jerry was a resident of Revere for over 50 years," said Mrs. Russo. "He coached baseball. He was active in hockey and his kids played all the sports. He worked part-time for the Parks and Recreation Center. We're just grateful for this kind gesture."

The Council unanimously approved the motion to name the bocce court in honor of Mr. Russo.

State officials award $30.4 million in COVID relief grants for businesses

Staff Report

Last Friday, Baker-Polito Administration announced awarding $30.4 million in grants to 602 additional Massachusetts businesses through the COVID-19 business relief program administered by the Massachusetts Growth Capital Corporation (MGCC).

With the addition of these grants, the Administration has awarded a total of over $682.4 million in direct financial support to 15,004 businesses across the Commonwealth.

Among the 602 businesses receiving funding, grants were awarded to 126 minority-owned, and 115 woman-owned businesses; 97 recipients are located in Gateway Cities, and 100 businesses have not received any prior aid.

MGCC's business-relief grant program was established to provide direct support for businesses, with a focus on specific economic sectors and priority demographics known to be the most impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic.

This business relief program is a key part of the Administration's larger strategy to support small businesses and foster economic recovery across the Commonwealth. Through Small Business Technical Assistance grants, as well as matching grants for Community Development Financial Institutions and Community Development Corporations, the Administration is investing a record amount of funding in the organizations across Massachusetts that are providing services and capital to small businesses, many of them owned by women, minorities and veterans and serving disadvantaged communities.

These awards are part of a steady deployment of grants and capital funding to support economic recovery throughout Massachusetts.

Last week, the Administration announced the award of 37 grants totaling $5 million to cities, towns, and non-profit entities through the Regional Pilot Project Grant Program. Among the funded proposals are projects to launch business empowerment and marketing initiatives, activate vacant storefronts as pop-up retail, support regional supply chain resiliency, and create small business support networks.

This week, the Administration also awarded $1.6 million to 59 tourism organizations, chambers of commerce, and cities and towns through the new Travel and Tourism Recovery Grant Pilot Program, in order to promote recovery in the tourism industry. Many of the supported projects are aligned with the Commonwealth's My Local MA marketing initiative to encourage residents to support their local economies by shopping at Massachusetts businesses and attractions.

As part of the Partnerships for Recovery economic strategy announced in October, 125 communities are currently working with consultants to pursue locally driven, actionable strategies to support downtown and commercial districts thanks to $9.5 million awarded through the Local Rapid Recovery Planning program. Additionally, the Commonwealth has invested $21.1 million since June 2020 in municipal projects through the Shared Streets and Spaces program, designed to help cities and towns implement changes to promote commerce like outdoor dining while supporting public health.

North Revere residents beautify their neighborhood

By Melissa Moore-Randall

North Revere residents took advantage of the beautiful, spring weather Saturday and took part in a neighborhood cleanup. Megan Conley spearheaded the clean-up. "I was walking around the pond, behind the bike trail about a month ago, and there was just so much trash everywhere, stuck in the trees and bushes. This area is a hidden gem and serves to be beautiful. So I decided right then and there that I wanted to put together a clean-up day."

Conley quickly reached out to Ward Six Councilor Richard Serino. "He was so quick to respond to my email, within minutes really, and he mentioned that normally there is a clean-up day but because of Covid-19 there were other things that needed to be prioritized. As a result, I was able to spearhead this operation, and I did just that!" added Conley.

Megan then reached out to the Bike to Sea Northern Strand Committee. They mentioned that there were several clean up Saturdays planned in April along the different parts of Everett,

Malden, Revere, Saugus, and Lynn trail. "I planned accordingly with DPW and spread the word. As a result our day on Saturday was a complete success. There were a lot of areas that needed cleaning and we did exceptionally well. There were a few huge items that need to be taken away that are planned to do so."

Conley organized about 18 volunteers, many who she knows from working closely with at the food pantry and other volunteer opportunities. "Councilor Serino donated a Market Basket gift card for us to stay hydrated with yummy snacks to keep us going! Overall we had one heck of a day and I'm happy! Can't wait to get out there again. There is still much to do so you'll see me out there picking up trash to help preserve our green space! Bobby Golding was able to snatch us up t-shirts from the previous "Beautify Revere" clean up days! Everyone got one, it was awesome!"

Conley was thankful to the volunteers who included Erika Svendsen, Anthony Peters, Bobby Golding, Rick Savage, David Etough, Marissa Mcqueeny, Vanessa Bisella and her sons, Mostafa Hajim, Camila Castro, Xavier Alvarez, Rocio and Luis Lopera, Steve and Carmela Penta, and Jamie Nelson and his dog Buddy.

Luongo appointed director of Revere Public Library

By Cary Shuman

The City Council unanimously approved Mayor Brian Arrigo's appointment of Diane Luongo as director of the Revere Public Library.

Luongo appeared at the Council's Appointments Sub-Committee meeting Monday. Chair Arthur Guinasso asked Luongo to give the Committee "a brief outline as to what your intentions are to be the director of the Revere Public Library and what you see in the future for the Library."

Luongo told the Committee that she has worked at the Revere Public Library for eight years. She has begun her studies in a Master's of Library Science program.

"What I envision for the Library is to start filling it with qualified staff members in order to bring us up to speed with all the other surrounding cities," said Luongo. "So that's where I am right now as far as future planning. I'm just trying to get staff in the building that are qualified in order to better serve our community."

There were no further questions from the members of the Subcommittee. Members of the Subcommittee, Councillors Arthur Guinasso, Jessica Giannino, Joanne McKenna, Gerald Visconti, and Anthony Zambuto voted 5-0 to approve the nomination which was later confirmed by the entire City Council at its regular meeting.

Gov. Baker relaxes COVID-19 restrictions as metrics trend in positive direction

Staff Report

On Tuesday, the Baker-Polito Administration announced that Massachusetts will reopen some outdoor Phase 4, Step 2 industries effective May 10, and put plans in place for further reopening on May 29 and August 1.

The Administration continues to take steps to reopen the Commonwealth's economy with public health metrics continuing to trend in a positive direction. This includes drops in average daily COVID cases and hospitalizations. Massachusetts remains first in the nation for first vaccine doses and total doses administered per capita, among states with more than 5 million people. The Administration will also relax the Face Coverings Order for some outdoor settings, effective this Friday, April 30.

•Face Coverings Order:

Effective April 30, the Face Coverings Order will be relaxed for some outdoor settings.

*Face coverings will only be required outside in public when it is not possible to socially distance, and at other times required by sector-specific guidance.

*Face coverings will still be required at all times in indoor public places. Face coverings will also continue to be required at all times at events, whether held indoors or outdoors and whether held in a public space or private home, except for when eating or drinking.

*At smaller gatherings in private homes, face coverings are recommended but not required. The $300 fine as an enforcement mechanism will be eliminated.

•Phase IV, Step 2 Industries and Gathering Changes:

On March 22, Massachusetts loosened capacity restrictions and advanced to Step 1 of Phase IV of the reopening plan. Since then, case rates dropped by 20%. The positivity rate has dropped to the lowest levels recorded since last summer.

Effective Monday, May 10:

*Large venues such as indoor and outdoor stadiums, arenas and ballparks currently open as part of Phase 4, Step 1 at 12% will be permitted to increase capacity to 25%.

*The Commonwealth

will reopen some outdoor Phase 4, Step 2 industries including amusement parks, theme parks and outdoor water parks that will be permitted to operate at a 50% capacity after submitting safety plans to the Department of Public Health.

*Road races and other large, outdoor organized amateur or professional group athletic events will be permitted to take place with staggered starts after submitting safety plans to a local board of health or the DPH.

*Youth and adult amateur sports tournaments will be allowed for moderate and high risk sports.

*Singing will also be permitted indoors with strict distancing requirements at performance venues, restaurants, event venues and other businesses.

•Effective May 29:

*Subject to public health and vaccination data, gathering limits will increase to 200 people indoors and 250 people outdoors for event venues, public settings and private settings.

•Subject to public health and vaccination data, additional Phase 4, Step 2 industries will be permitted to open including:

*Street festivals, parades and agricultural festivals, at 50% of their previous capacity and after submitting safety plans to the local board of health.

*Bars, beer gardens, breweries, wineries and distilleries, will be subject to restaurant rules with seated service only, a 90 minute limit and no dance floors.

*Subject to public health and vaccination data, the restaurant guidance will be updated to eliminate the requirement that food be served with alcohol and to increase the maximum table size to 10.

•Effective August 1:

*Subject to public health and vaccination data, remaining industries will be permitted to open including:

*Dance clubs, and nightclubs

*Saunas, hot-tubs, steam rooms at fitness centers, health clubs and other facilities

*Indoor water parks

*Ball pits

*All industry restrictions will be lifted at that time, and capacity will increase to 100% for all industries, with businesses encouraged to continue following best practices. The gathering limit will be rescinded.

*Depending on vaccine distribution and public health data, the Administration may consider re-evaluating the August 1 date. The Department of Public Health will also continue to issue guidance as needed, including guidance to still require masks indoors.

RISK OF SHINGLES INCREASES WITH AGE

Just recently, a Mystic Valley Elder Services consumer's grandmother was diagnosed with shingles. She always thought that was an old-fashioned disease that no one got anymore. But shingles has never disappeared. In fact, each year, approximately 1 million Americans will develop this painful viral infection. Shingles is caused by the same virus that causes chickenpox.

The risk for shingles increases with age. Half of all cases of shingles are in people over 60. People with weakened immune systems from illnesses such as cancer, leukemia, lymphoma, or HIV are at a higher risk of developing shingles.

The good news is shingles can be prevented by getting a vaccination. More than 99% of Americans ages 40 and older have had chickenpox, even if they don't remember getting the disease. The Center for Disease Control (CDC) recommends that healthy adults 50 years and older get two doses of the shingles vaccine called Shingrix, separated by 2 to 6 months, to prevent shingles and the complications from the disease. Speak to your doctor or pharmacist about getting the vaccine.

Once you have chickenpox, the virus can stay dormant in your nerve tissues for years—even decades. In some people, the virus suddenly wakes up, forming blisters or rash on the chest, back, waistline, upper arms, or face.

The shingles rash will begin with tingling, pain, numbness, or itching. Within a few days, a rash will develop and can be mild to intense. Some people will have mostly itching; others will feel pain, even from a gentle touch or breeze. Other symptoms of shingles can include fever, headache, chills, and upset stomach.

Shingles itself is not contagious. You can't spread the condition to another person. However, the varicella-zoster virus is contagious, and if you have shingles, you can spread the virus to another person which could then cause them to develop chickenpox. If you've never had chickenpox, make sure not to touch open blisters until they scab over, or you'll develop chickenpox yourself.

Shingles can last from two weeks to several weeks. Most people will only have one outbreak in a lifetime, but multiple outbreaks are possible.

Councilor Novoselsky announces intention to seek re-election

Special to the Journal

Ira Novoselsky has announced for re-election as Ward Two City Councilor. The following is his statement:

“My name is Ira Novoselsky and I am, once again, a candidate for re-election as the Ward Two City Councilor.

During the last 19 years, I have continued to work to make our area a better place to live. I had Stop signs installed on Shirley Ave. next to Costa Park for the protection of our children and residents along with upgraded lighting. New Stop signs have been installed on Standish Road, Garfield Ave. and Kimball Ave.

Many streets and sidewalks in Ward Two are now on the reconstruction list after many years of neglect. Over 27 Streets have been repaved with more to come this year. Additional sidewalk and street work is ongoing with more scheduled this spring, during the summer and the fall. Through my efforts and cooperation with DCR and developers on Ocean Ave. we have had Ocean Ave. partially repaved with more to come.

Through my efforts with MDOT and Safe Routes, we have upgraded sidewalks and handicap ramps on many streets and sidewalks leading through our neighborhood and around the Garfield School. With funding from the Community Improvement Trust Fund obtained from the various private construction projects, Curtis Park has been renovated, the public stairs at Hillside Avenue have been replaced and the upgrading of storefronts and signs on Shirley Avenue is ongoing. The replacement of the public stairs at Campbell Ave. is scheduled for late Summer early Fall.

Your streets are continuously swept, old trees are being trimmed and removed and new trees have been planted on many of our streets. In other areas of the Ward, I am proud to have sponsored National Night Out at Curtis Park for the past 17 years and to have decorated Shirley Ave. and Costa Park for the Christmas holiday. Currently we are working with MassWorks to fund the renovations of Shirley Ave. to include wider sidewalks and additional lighting. The passageway to Wonderland Plaza at the dead end of Walnut Avenue, along Kimball Avenue, has been renovated and illuminated for safe passage. Sandler Square at Dehon St. and Centennial Ave. is being renovated with additional lighting, benches and tables. The renovation of Flaherty Park and Fitzhenry Square Park are under review for future renovations.

My work with local civic and Veteran organizations over the years has been rewarding and very fulfilling and I am proud to continue my affiliations with these hard working groups. I have been honored by the Revere Elks, The Neighborhood Developers, WEE, The Revere Community Committee of Ward 2, The Revere Chamber of Commerce, American Legion, and the Jewish War Veterans as the Man of the Year. In 2018, I was proud to work with a private developer to bring 30 housing units for Veterans only to Shirley Ave.

I was born in Ward 2, I grew up in Ward 2, and I have raised my family in Ward 2. As you can see, my heart and soul belongs to Ward 2 and the City of Revere. As a City Councilor, my number one priority is the welfare of Revere and its residents.

I retired from the Commonwealth of Massa-

Longtime Revere resident Vanessa Biasella announces bid for Revere School Committee

By Melissa Moore-Randall

North Revere homeowner, Vanessa Biasella, has announced her decision to run for Revere School Committee. An educator, mom, wife, volunteer, and perpetual student, Biasella hopes a seat on the School Committee will provide a bright future for Revere's students.

“I am running for School Committee because I believe I can bring the perspective shared by most parents. We are parents who want the best for our children. That can and does look very differently from family to family, but we all want the same thing for our children and that is to be welcomed, fulfilled, and successful. Some things I hope to see and plan to work towards, if elected, are access to trades and early college by removing barriers, creation of mental health/self-care awareness curriculum and implementation as a preventative measure. This will reduce substance abuse, increase motivation prevent suicides, drop-outs, and bullying, and is by nature culturally responsive. I would like to see professional development centered around NAS (children born to opioid addicts) and the correlation to Special Needs teaching as this is 25% of our student population and ties into the mental health piece. If elected I would also explore forming an incentive program to get former Revere students to return to Revere to teach Revere's students, increase childcare accessibility including affordable options with transportation specifically before and after school, and early childhood from infant to preschool.”

Vanessa works for Lynn Public Schools as a Special Education Liaison and Special Educator in English for 9th and 10th graders. Her education career began in 2002 at Kiddie Koop in Revere. She has worked in education for the past 19 years. “When Mike and I married in 2011, I had the opportunity to return to school and follow my dream to teach high school. Since then, I have obtained an Early Childhood Education Director 2 Certification, an Associate's Degree in Liberal Arts, Bachelor's Degree in History, and a Master's Degree in Secondary Education.

She also holds a license in Secondary History, an SEI Endorsement (Sheltered English Immersion Teaching), and a license in Moderate Disabilities 5-12. In addition, Vanessa is trained in Culturally Responsive and Equitable Educational practice.

Biasella is also heavily involved in the Revere community. “Community involvement is something I pride myself on and have for years. My parents were always involved. For example, my mother was involved in the infant stages of our recycling program beginning in the early 1990s. Our involvement was always a family affair.” Her community involvement includes the North Revere Neighborhood Group, the Harmon Park Rebuilding Committee, securing the North Revere Urban Trail Grant, a former softball and baseball coach for Revere Youth Baseball and Softball, a community volunteer with Revere Shines and Beautify Revere, Bike to the Sea, Revere History Museum, the Revere High School Visioning Team, and a Little Library Steward.

Biasella was born and raised in Revere. She resides in North Revere with her husband, Michael, and their four sons, Shane and Daniel, both Revere High graduates, and Michael and Joey, currently students at the A.C. Whelan School.

“I come from a long line of DiCologeros who called Revere home for generations. My husband is the son of South American/Italian immigrants, and he is the only American born in his family. He made Revere his home in 1999 when he bought his first house on Ridge Road.”

If you would like to

Revere was the host last Friday of a meeting of municipal and school leaders, as well as community leaders, who are calling on legislators to vote for Speaker of the House Robert DeLeo's municipal health insurance reform proposal. Mayor Tom Ambrosino led the group, all of whom said the time had finally arrived for the reform of health insurance programs for municipal workers that have become unsustainable. The bill calls for municipal employees to become members of the state's health plans operated by the Group Insurance Commission.

Two Revere officers have tested positive for illegal drugs pursuant to the city's mandatory drug-testing program that was rolled out 16 months ago. Michael Murphy wrote in an email that, "Both officers were punished consistent with departmental guidelines."

Necco Candy Co. of Revere is seeking to keep a lucrative tax relief agreement with the city. The tax agreement, called a tax increment financing (TIF) agreement, allows for a shifting percentage of property tax relief on the company's massive factory at American Legion Highway if the company meets job-hiring goals. However, Necco has come up so short in creating new jobs over the last three years. Company officials said that the owner - American Capital of Maryland - was now fully behind rebuilding the company and creating new jobs.

The suspect was charged Monday with assault and battery on a child causing serious bodily injury, wantonly or recklessly permitting serious bodily injury to a child, and child endangerment. The boy was rushed by ambulance to Massachusetts General Hospital, where he underwent emergency surgery Friday. He remains hospitalized in stable condition.

Officials from the RecycleBank program told City Councillors that the program is going quite well and is increasing Revere's recycling rates. "It's been successful," said Beth Keene-Waddell of RecycleBank. "Recycling volume has increased 60 or 70 percent each month, which is very high and annual household recycling has increased 140 percent since the program started."

Suffolk County District Attorney Daniel Conley presented a special citation to McKinley School first grade student Borias Lake in recognition of a book that the youth had authored on the topic of bullying. Downing urges state to abandon plans for new women's prison

Staff report

Following news that the state continues to move forward with plans to build a new women's prison in Norfolk, former state senator, clean energy business leader, and current gubernatorial candidate Ben Downing today urged state leaders to abandon the project.

"Investing in incarceration is the exact opposite of what Massachusetts needs. If there is a genuine desire by state leaders to focus on more 'trauma-informed' care for those interacting with our justice system, then our dollars should be directed towards decarceration, community-based alternatives, housing, mental health care, education, job training, and the endless other ways we can support -- rather than punish -- those carrying trauma. Our state government should also engage transparently and in good faith with the advocates for whom this is deeply personal; the women and children and families living with the generational consequences of incarceration every day.

"The Baker Administration and Department of Correction should abandon this project, and the state legislature should expeditiously pass Rep. Tyler and Sen. Comerford's legislation to protect against this kind of misuse of state dollars moving forward."

Rockland Trust will acquire East Boston Savings Bank

By John Lynds

Officials from East Boston Savings Bank (EBSB) and Rockland Trust announced last week that the two banks have inked a merger agreement for Rockland to acquire EBSB's parent company, Meridian Bancorp., thus acquiring EBSB in a $1.15 billion deal. Under the agreement each Meridian stockholder will receive 0.275 of Rockland common stock for each share of Meridian common stock. According to officials the merger is expected to close in the fourth quarter of 2021. EBSB President and CEO Richard Gavegnano said last week this transaction brings together two strong banks with a long and rich history serving and investing in local communities. "We are excited to join a like-minded organization dedicated to creating exceptional customer experiences, built on trust and quality service, while also providing an attractive return to our stockhold-

EBSB and Rockland Trust announced last week that the two banks have signed a merger agreement that will allow for Rockland to acquire EBSB in a $1.15 billion deal.

ers," said Gavegnano. Rockland President and CEO Christopher Oddleifson added this merger is consistent with Rockland's strategy of acquiring banks in overlapping and adjacent markets who share his bank's "relationship-focused style of banking". "East Boston Savings Bank has been committed to building meaningful connections with their customers since 1848 and we are excited to work alongside them to deepen those relationships with expanded products, services, and technology," said Oddleifson. "At the same time, we look forward to increasing our presence in and around the city and reinforcing our position as the Boston area's premier community-focused commercial bank." EBSB currently has 42 full-service locations, one mobile branch and three loan centers in the greater Boston metropolitan area. As of March 31, 2021 Meridian had $6.5 billion in total assets, $5.3 billion in loans, and $5.1 billion in deposits. "Following this merger, Rockland will have approximately $20 billion in assets," said Oddleifson. "In addition to the market leading commercial lending capabilities, this acquisition will further enhance our core deposit franchise value and allow for the expansion of Rockland's broad financial product set to an expanded business and consumer customer base." The boards of directors of each company have unanimously approved the transaction. The transaction is subject to certain conditions, including the receipt of required regulatory approvals, approval by the stockholders of both EBSB and Rockland and other customary conditions.

TWO VICTORIES FOR RHS BOYS SOCCER

The Revere High boys soccer team opened its Fall II season in fine fashion this past week against a trio of Greater Boston League rivals, winning two of its three contests.

Coach Manny Lopes and his crew kicked off their 2021 campaign with a 6-0 triumph over Everett last Saturday.

Junior midfielder David Marquez paced the Patriot offense, scoring the first two Revere goals and earning an assist. Senior captain Diego Salcedo also reached the back of the Everett net twice. Senior captain Michael Maldonado and senior Andres Callejas scored a goal apiece. Maldonado also was credited with an assist on the day.

Last Tuesday the Patriots came up on the short end of a 4-2 decision to Somerville. Junior Erick Alves DeSouza (unassisted) and junior midfielder David Paiva (assisted by Salcedo) accounted for the Revere goals.

However, the Pats bounced back this past Saturday with a 5-1 triumph over Lynn English. Five different Patriots found the back of the Bulldog net. Maldonado scored four points on the day with a goal and three assists.

The goal-scorers for Revere were: senior midfielder Juan Perez (assisted by Maldonado), Salcedo (assisted by Maldonado), DeSouza (assisted by Maldonado), Maldonado (assisted by Salcedo), and freshman Latrell Ashby (assisted by Paiva).

“Our defense has made a strong contribution in our last two games,” said Lopes, who cited the play of Milton Guerra, David Vera, and Matt Rivera. “David Vera returned after being out due to injury the first two games, but Milton Guerra was solid at center back in David’s absence.

“I also want to complement the work of goalie Jose Vejar, who has been stepping in for the injured Johan Martinez,” Lopes added.

The Patriots were scheduled to play at Medford yesterday (Tuesday) and will make the short trek to Chelsea tomorrow (Thursday). They will host Malden this coming Tuesday.

STRONG START FOR RHS GIRLS SOCCER; EIGHT GOALS FOR BETTERO

The Revere High girls soccer team has begun its 2021 Fall II season in fine style, earning a pair of victories and a tie in matches with three Greater Boston League rivals this past week.

The Patriots kicked off their season against Everett and rolled to a 7-1 triumph.

After a year off, coach Megan O'Donnell's squad came ready for action in the contest with Everett. Senior captain Jackie Zapata knocked in the first goal of the Fall II campaign with an assist from Madeline Yanez to start the scoring for the Patri-

The Revere High football team has picked up right where it left off following its historic 10-1 season in 2019.

Led by senior quarterback Calvin Boudreau and a sensational lid-lifting safety by Cam Ventura for the first two points of the season, the Revere High football team defeated Lynn Classical, 18-0, Friday night at Manning Field in Lynn.

Classical is a brand-new member of the Greater Boston League. The Rams are a young team with a bright future and Revere's defense kept that future on hold for four quarters of shutout football.

“It’s never an easy task to go to Manning Field and get a ‘W’ and they did it in a pretty convincing way,” said Revere head

Greenstein achieves All-American status at NHSCA Wrestling Nationals

By Cary Shuman

Dylan Greenstein launched his high school wrestling career in spectacular fashion.

The 15-year-old St. John's Prep freshman from Lynnfield took home All-American honors from the National High School Coaches Association (NHSCA) Wrestling Nationals over the weekend in Virginia Beach, Va.

Competing against the USA's top wrestlers in the Nationals Freshman Division in the three-day competition, Greenstein advanced through his bracket to finish in the top eight, earning him "All-American" recognition and a plaque symbolic of his extraordinary achievement.

Interestingly, because the COVID-19 pandemic forced officials to move the high school wrestling season, Greenstein will not make his actual varsity wrestling debut in Coach Manny Costa's powerful St. John's program until next week. But the seeds of future success were planted a year ago when Greenstein had a phenomenal 47-1 record for the St. John's Prep junior varsity team as an eighth grader vying against older, high-school age competitors.

Greenstein, son of Boston nightclub legend Randy Greenstein (of Big Night Entertainment Group) and Karen Greenstein, was asked to assess his achievement of receiving national All-American recognition as a freshman.

"It feels great," said Greenstein, who stands 5-foot-11 and weighs 195 pounds. "I know that I still have a lot of work to do because I'm more of a judo player but I'm looking forward to learning more about wrestling techniques. I know I have a lot more to learn."

Greenstein credits the sport of judo, in which he has participated for ten years, for laying the foundation to his noteworthy entrance in to wrestling. He's a four-time national judo champion while training under his well-known coach, former two-time Olympic bronze judo medalist Jimmy Pedro.

"When I was in the sixth grade, my dad helped me transition to wrestling," said Greenstein. "Initially I wasn't sure I wanted to do it because I was all-judo, but now I love the sport, so I'm excited."

Lofty accomplishments in wrestling are familiar in the Greenstein family. Dylan's father, Randy, was a standout wrestler at Lynnfield High School as was his uncle, Ricky, who won two MIAA state wrestling championships representing the LHS Pioneers.

Dylan, whose older brother, Brandon, attends Pingree and will be matriculating at Emerson College, aspires to wrestle at the collegiate level one day, but he is currently focused on his first varsity season at the Prep.

"I think we're going to have a really good team this season," said Dylan.

Nick Curley of Burlington, a senior at St. John's Prep and one of Dylan's teammates, won the overall NHSCA national title in the 113-pound weight division, giving the Danvers preparatory school three All-Americans, which is likely an unprecedented achievement in the annals of local high school wrestling.

Tyler Knox also placed seventh and is an All-American that goes to SJP.

With three All-Americans on its roster, the Prep will definitely be a "team to watch" in 2021.

The Revere High boys tennis won its second match of the season with a 5-0 shutout of Lynn Classical in a match played at Winthrop High, which is serving as the home court for the Patriots this season. Malak Mossadek, playing in the first singles spot, defeated his Classical foe, 6-2, 6-2. Mladen Pepic was a victor at number two, 7-5, 6-1, and sophomore Nick Mucci captured his first varsity singles triumph with an impressive 6-1, 6-1 triumph at third singles. The first doubles tandem of Joseph Tran and Pariwat Chaiwong, playing together for the first time, were easy winners, 6-2, 6-1. The Patriot duo at second doubles of Nick Tan and Soun Lee also won in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4.

The Revere High boys track team improved to 2-0 with a 73-58 win over Beverly. Although coach Jack Mosko's Patriots captured first place in only five events, the superior depth and overall quality of the RHS track crew prevailed against their Panther rivals. In all nine of the individual events where Beverly took first place, Revere took both second and third positions to keep the overall margin between the teams close. Mike Fitzpatrick was a double-winner in the 400 hurdles in a time of 61.1 and in the 800 meter run in 2:07.3. Other individual first-place finishers for Revere were Brian Collins in the two mile run in 11:02; Vin DiChiara with a javelin throw of 115'-11"; and Karim Sahila in the triple jump with a jump of 35'-3.5." Sahila also added second-place efforts in the 400 hurdles in 64.2 and the 800 in 2:17.9 to contribute a total of 11 points on the day.

The Revere High softball team reeled off three straight victories by convincing margins this past week, accumulating 47 runs in the three contests against Lynn English, Waltham, and Peabody. In a 15-0 whitewashing of Northeastern Conference rival Lynn English, Lady Patriot hurler Briana Lauletta spun a two-hit shutout. Ashley DiFraia was the offensive star for the Lady Pats, with three hits (two of which were doubles), three runs, and three RBI. Lindsay Gurska belted a pair of doubles and drove in two runs, while cleanup hitter Nicole Palermo had two hits and scored three runs. Coach Joe Ciccarello's squad then pounded their former Greater Boston League rival Waltham, 17-1. Gurska was a force at the plate, going 5-for-5 with a triple, four runs, and five RBI. DiFraia swatted a homer and had two RBI and Palermo was a perfect 4-for-4 with two RBI. Freshman

Logan DiCarlo earned Star of the Game plaudits for her first varsity homer and for her fine defense at second base, where she made a couple of nice plays and accounted for four putouts. After a slow start in the Peabody game, the Lady Patriots busted out all over the Peabody pitching. Revere knotted matters with a four run uprising in the bottom of the third and then pulled away with eight markers in the fourth, a rally that was highlighted by a two-run homer by DiFraia. Senior captain Kat Prince, Revere's lead off hitter, earned Star of the Game kudos from Ciccarello by setting the table nicely throughout the contest, drawing three walks and banging a double to score three runs. Gurska in the second slot had two hits and two runs on the day. Lauletta started once again and pitched well through five frames. Sabrina Palermo came on in the sixth and got the final six outs to preserve the victory.

ots, and the contest never was in doubt.

Junior captain Carolina Bettero notched a hat trick and earned two assists for five points on the day. Juniors Madeline Yanes and Sofia Choqri both reached the back of the Everett net, as did newcomer Emily Gomez, who scored her first varsity goal.

"It was a total team effort and everyone got to see some action," said O'Donnell.

Revere's encounter three days later with Somerville proved to be a different story, ending in a 2-2 deadlock.

"This game was a physical battle from start to finish and both teams put together a solid effort," noted O'Donnell. "We had great goal-keeping by Camila Perez and solid defense from freshman Samarah Paiva, Giselle Salvador, and Ari Pina. The mid-field, which was controlled by Jackie Zapata, Sofia Choqri, Madeline Yanes, and Imane Douane, had awesome ball movement that led to our two goals."

Bettero struck for both of the Revere scores.

"Carolina and Nahomy Galvez are amazing forwards and they made the Somerville defense work hard all game," added O'Donnell.

This past Saturday the Patriots took on Lynn English and cruised to a 6-0 victory. Bettero, displaying the mid-season form that ranks her as one of the top high school soccer players in the area, once again led the way for the Revere offense, notching her second hat trick of the season.

Choqri, Nahomy Galvez, and freshman Samarah Paiva also reached the back of the Lady Bulldog net to aid the Revere cause.

Perez earned her first shutout of the season, making eight saves on the day.

"We had a great team effort by Angela Huynh, Yasmin Riazi, Kyara Rodriguez, Kyra Delaney, Dayanara Cano, and Emily Gomez," noted O'Donnell.

O'Donnell and her crew were scheduled to take on Lynn Classical this past Monday at the Manning Bowl and host Medford yesterday (Tuesday).

They will entertain Chelsea tomorrow (Thursday) in a contest that will be highlighted by Senior Day festivities.

RHS GOLF TEAM DEFEATS LYNN ENGLISH

The Revere High golf team defeated Greater Boston League rival Lynn English last Thursday on the Patriots' home course at Cedar Glen.

Notable performances included junior Alexio Trichillo, playing in the number one spot, who edged his Bulldog counterpart by a score of 5-4.

Seniors Joseph Polidoro and Steven Leone, playing at the #2 and #3 slots, also played well. Polidoro halved his match with his English rival, 4.5-4.5, while Leone triumphed in a near-shutout, 8.5-0.5, of his English opponent.

RHS VOLLEYBALL TEAM WINS FIRST TWO MATCHES

The Revere High volleyball team opened its 2021 Fall II season with powerful performances, defeating Greater Boston League rivals Everett and Somerville.

Coach Lianne Mimmo's squad won both matches with 3-0 shutouts. The Patriots, who are led in their 2021 campaign by a quartet of captains, Lynzie Anderson, Alexis Iacoviello, Tracy Gutierrez, and Isabella Martinez, handily cruised past Everett, 25-13, 25-12, and 25-10, and then took the measure of Somerville, 25-21, 25-8, and 25-20.

In the victory over Somerville, major contributors for Revere were captain Isabella Martinez, who smacked five kills; Sydney Ciano, who set five assists; and captain Alexis Iacoviello, who served eight aces.

RHS CROSS-COUNTRY TEAMS OPEN FALL II

It has been a different kind of experience for the Revere High cross-country teams, as they attempt to undertake a semblance of a Fall II season in the spring of 2021.

"I only have one runner who has met all of the guidelines so far," said long-time RHS girls' head coach Katie Sinnott. "With only one competitor, we won't have the chance to score as a team, but our one runner can get results."

In the opening meet with Everett, Rocio Gonzalez Castillo finished fifth with a time of 25:11.

"Rocio is a freshman, so this is the first time she has raced at the high school distance," noted Sinnott. "She ran middle school cross country and was dominant. It will take a few races to get the pacing for the high school distance, but with the consistent work she has put in in the past, I am confident she will get there."

On the boys' side, coach Mike Flynn's crew engaged in meets with Greater Boston League opponents Medford and Lynn Classical.

The Patriots' top runner, Victor Pelatere, won both meets. Victor came across the line in a time of 17:24 to outdistance all runners in the Medford contest on the Pats' home course and sped to victory in a clocking of 18:32 in the meet with Classical.

In the Medford meet, Pelatere was followed by teammates Trey Delaney in fourth place in 19:50, Vincent Nichols (eighth place in 20:39), Miguel Leonarte (ninth place in 21:59), Brayden Shanley (11th in 22:32), and Tom Desir (12th in 23:22).

Delaney took second place against Classical, finishing just four seconds behind Pelatere with a clocking of 18:36. Nichols finished in fifth place with a time of 21:10.

"Our captain, Victor Pelatere, showed great leadership skills by pacing freshman Trey Delaney and really helping him run well on the Lynn Woods course," said Flynn.

POLICE TRAINING PROGRAM

CHELSEA - The Chelsea Police Department and the MIT Center for Ethics and Transformative Leadership collaborated this past spring on a unique police training program looking to build empathy and compassion into implicit bias training programs.

Acting on an existing relationship with the MIT Center that was used to form the innovative Chelsea HUB model, both organizations brought the program to the Chelsea Police and three other departments for six weeks of training in how to add new tools to keep situations from escalating on the street – and to take police departments into more of a direction of community service and safeguarding.

The Venerable Tenzin Priyadarshi, of MIT, ran the program – known as Transformative Citizenship – and said it focuses on understanding how officers view their community, how the community views them and the pressures that mount on officers due to the dangers inherent in the job – and often times incorrect public perceptions of them.

The most recent cohort in Chelsea was the first to take place in the United States, and could potentially next go to Seattle. There were 33 officers from Chelsea and three other departments, and they had in-person and online meetings for two hours at a time.

“This is the first time we are trying to create a model or pilot for a U.S. Police Force and maybe others too,” said Tenzin.

“I do believe this is something that could help all of them. This is one of the most important set of tools they will have. It will prevent even simple things, when they escalate, they will have these tools and will be able to recall them to de-escalate situations very quickly. These are the things that play a role in the way officers discharge their duties every day.

“In the end, these are very dedicated individuals that are trying to shift the culture so communities have better experience with what the police do and police forces do more than just policing,” he continued.

Chief Brian Kyes said he was happy to lead the effort with MIT, and found it a valuable forum for peers to share their experiences.

“This unique partnership provides our Officers with valuable insight and a forum for shared experiences with peers from neighboring communities,” he said. “It also helps to expand their resource toolkit, something that is important especially when presented with complex situations. We are happy to be leading with MIT in this effort.”

Tenzin said confidence in policing in the U.S., both perceived and real, is putting additional stressors on the very people that are depended on for public safety. Often, police officers internalize the public criticism that erupts whenever there is an event where use of force is exercised, whether warranted or not. Many times, men and women who have made a pledge to protect fellow residents feel that the world is against them regardless of the outcome. This presents a real danger both in regards to mental health and also with any future interactions these officers may face in the future.

“The important aspect is many are drawn to policing by their desire to serve the community,” he said. “There’s a lot of frustration because...you’re only judged by the worst in your department. It only takes one or two bad instances for the community to pass judgment on those good officers in the department at the same time. They are only interested in doing good for the community and they’re frustrated because of internal environments and external perceptions.”

The program also touches on how officers internalize anxiety – the idea that they may not come home at the end of the day – and it also focuses on how officers view their community. A key aspect of the program is to help develop an emotional resiliency so they can have compassion and empathy on those they encounter – even in the most challenging circumstances.

“One thing they look at is the perception officers have of the community they are serving,” he said. “The second thing with that is a focus on emotional resiliency. It is a high-pressure job at any given time. We give them another tool to help address situations with compassion and empathy.”

Transformative Citizenship aims to address these issues in a meaningful and impactful way by exploring the thought process and emotions these events can trigger. The focus of the program is to work through implicit biases in decision-making and to promote emotional resilience and trust both within the department and in the communities they work.

“I am extremely grateful to the Chelsea Police Department and the MIT Center for Ethics and Transformative Values for the opportunity to take part in this course and include more than two dozen officers from several PAARI-affiliated police departments,” said Allie Hunter, Executive Director of PAARI. “This program provided a unique and meaningful opportunity to enhance officers’ leadership skills, especially as they engage in public health and social service oriented community policing programs that support individuals with substance use and mental health disorders, as well as those experiencing homelessness.”

Tenzin added, “The work of police department is perhaps one of the most challenging and demanding for professionals. Our goal with this course is to further build and strengthen trust in communities where it may have eroded. That is critical to the safety and well-being of everyone.”

The next step is to create ongoing sessions for more police departments locally and throughout the U.S., using what was learned in Chelsea. In a period where the public is asking for the “re-imagining of police” this course offers opportunities for difficult conversations that can lead to solutions and not just volatile rhetoric, he said.

Anyone interested in learning more about Transformative Citizenship can contact Tenzin via e-mail at The Dalai Lama Center for Ethics and Transformative Values at MIT, info@thecenter.mit.edu.

CHIEF KYES, POLICE CHIEFS ASSOCIATION AGREE WITH VERDICT ON CHAUVIN

Chief Brian Kyes, president of the Massachusetts Major City Police Chiefs Association, hasn’t always been totally in step with every police reform that has come down over the last year, but this week Kyes said he believed the jury got it right when it came to the murder convictions against former Minneapolis Police Officer Derek Chauvin.

Chauvin was convicted on Tuesday afternoon by a jury in Minnesota of second-degree murder, third-degree murder and manslaughter when he killed George Floyd while in the course of his duties as a police officer.

“The jury in the murder trial of former Minneapolis Police Officer Derek Chauvin reached its verdict, finding him guilty of all three charges,” said the Chief in a statement. “As members of the Mass Major City Police Chiefs Association we strongly believe that not only was the defendant afforded due process as is required by our Constitution and in conformance with our system of justice, but that the honorable and informed jury absolutely got it right and that justice was served. We hope that the family of George Floyd finds some solace in this historic verdict.”

LEGAL EXPENSES ARE IN RANGE

EVERETT - One week after some members of the City Council questioned the outside legal fees paid for the tax valuation case that took place for several years between the City and Exelon Power Plant, members of several City Departments said the expenditures since 2017 are not out of the ordinary. There is a need often to get attorneys specializing in unique areas of the law as many surrounding community cities have done, said City Solicitor Colleen Mejia. She also said that the notion that her department doesn’t work or farms out all of the legal issues is not correct.

“It is absolutely not true that we’re farming out all the legal work,” she said. “We work all day every day – as well as nights and week-ends. Virtually every department head in the City calls us at night and on weekends. This isn’t a 9 to 5 job. We use outside legal services to supplement and help us resolve issues we need help with. We don’t know all the aspects of the law and sometimes legal research doesn’t give you all the answers. I don’t want it to be thought by residents and taxpayers that we just sit around and do no work.”

City CFO Eric Demas said there has been a tremendous amount of change going on in the City over the last several years, and much of it has revolved around very specialized sections of the law like the power plant and the casino.

“I don’t think it’s out of line with what you might see in other communities,” he said. “Between the casino and the change in assessments, there’s been a tremendous amount of activity going on in the last five years as

NIGHT SHIFT BREWERY MAKES ITS WAY INTO ENCORE BOSTON HARBOR

Chief Kyle Bradish, Encore President Brian Gullbrants, Night Shift Co-Founder Mike O’Mara and Joseph Liebowitz, Encore executive director of food, beverage and culinary operations, cut the ribbon on Encore’s latest addition, the new Night Shift Brewing Kitchen + Tap, on Thursday, April 15.

the City continues to grow an flourish. We have to make sure we’re doing everything we can to protect the residents.”

As that has happened, Mejia said it has been smarter to use outside legal services rather than to hire new staff and have to pay benefits and a pension.

“I think it has been very responsible not to hire more employees and not have more unfunded liabilities with pensions and insurance and salaries,” she said. “It doesn’t make sense. If you average out all the costs we spend, it’s still less expensive (than hiring someone).”

Both Demas and Mejia also pointed out that some fees paid to the City’s outside counsel – KP Law – actually isn’t paid by taxpayers. KP Law usually has an outside attorney present at most Zoning Board and Planning Board meetings, but some of that expense is picked up by developers.

Using the 53G accounts that can be charged to large developers for transportation, engineering and legal services, the City is able to be reimbursed by developer dollars through those accounts for part of the KP Law fees.

Communications Chief Deanna Devaney, who is also an attorney, said in her experience working at other cities and towns, Everett outside legal fees are well-within the usual range.

“This is a common practice using outside law firms,” she said. “If we compared to other cities and towns outside Everett, I would say it’s more than comparable...I believe Everett is very reasonable as to what they have for outside legal fees.”

BRUSH FIRE SHOWS EXTENT OF PHRAGMITES

EVERETT - A massive brush fire, fueled by the ignition of Phragmites via a homeless encampment near the Gateway Mall, has brought an immediate effort to identify and clear the invasive Phragmites from Everett’s waterfront and marsh areas.

The fire on April 6 came just as officials, including the City Administration, Fire Chief Tony Carli and State Rep. Joe McGonagle had been calling for the removal of the Phragmites near the Gateway Mall as a safety measure.

However, facing some pushback from the state, nothing had gotten done and soon after the blaze ignited and threatened many of the nearby structures – and potentially the lives of firefighters who were unknowingly in harm’s way from the homeless encampment’s stash of propane tanks.

“Deputy Cardinale did a great job getting to the area and knocking it down quickly – preventing it from spreading to the Mall,” said Chief Carli. “We knew there were homeless people living along the River. We knew a couple groups of them were up closer to Malden. This encampment caught us by surprise because it was so close to the highway that you couldn’t see it. Once we saw how quick that fire was moving, we got it down fast. Ten or 20 years ago, we didn’t have too many structures near that area. It’s just not good to have that interface between the vegetation and these structures.”

Due to the concerning nature of the fire and the threat to nearby buildings, Chief Carli issued an emergency order to the Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR) – with the sustained advocacy of Rep. McGonagle – that allowed for the Phragmites to be removed immediately as a public safety measure. With that, crews moved in immediately – with approval afterward by the Conservation Commission – to remove the invasive Phragmites along the Malden River and its tributaries. A longer-term plan for the Malden River has been to remove the Phragmites and other invasive species, and to replace them with native plants and shrubs that lived along the Malden River years ago. The fire has seemingly sped up that process.

Meanwhile, Chief Carli said another issue is the safety of firefighters as they moved in to put out the fire and didn’t know of the homeless encampment. No one in the encampment was present or injured, but there were several propane tanks that were stored in the area that could have exploded and injured fire crews. Luckily, Carli said, that didn’t happen.

“It really could have been a dangerous situation for the membership,” he said. “There were probably in excess of 20 to 25 propane tanks down there. They could have exploded from the fire, but thankfully they didn’t. When we show up at a fire like this, we don’t expect to see that in that area. At a grass fire in a location like that, we don’t expect to see humans there.”

Chief Carli reiterated he issued the emergency declaration because the situation just wasn’t safe.

“We want everyone to be safe, and that wasn’t a safe situation,” he said.

EAST BOSTON PROJECT RECEIVES FUNDING

East Boston. - Acting Boston Mayor Kim Janey proposed her administration’s recommended $3.75 billion Fiscal Year 2022 (FY22) operating budget and $3.2 billion Fiscal Year 2022-2026 (FY22-FY26) Capital Plan. Janey said the budget focuses on providing the resources for the city’s continued robust public health response to COVID-19, making strategic investments in Boston’s neighborhoods and residents, and setting the stage for Boston’s equitable reopening, recovery and long-term renewal.

One of those investments highlighted in the budget is $19 million for the final phase of the Boston Housing Authority’s Orient Heights Public Housing Development project.

Janey said she recognizes the importance of making sure that residents of all incomes are able to access quality, affordable and safe housing options that meet their needs, and this budget helps support additional affordable housing opportunities.

“Orient Heights has been a staple of the East Boston community for seven decades, and this investment will help to finish its redevelopment,” said Janey Tuesday. “This investment preserves a vital housing resource and will secure a better quality of life for hundreds of East Boston families for decades to come.”

Four years after kicking off the three-phase redevelopment of the Orient Heights Public Housing Development Trinity Financial began construction on Phase III of the project in January.

Like Phase I and Phase II, Phase III will tear down the old post World War II-era brick housing on Vallar Road and portions of Faywood Avenue and be replaced with 81 units of new public housing.

Eva Erlich, vice president of development for Trinity Financial said an additional 42 units would be modernized as part of Phase III.

Phase III will also include the construction of a centrally located park for residents, the demolition of the existing community center and the expansion of open space.

The $51.6 million Phase II portion of the project wrapped up last summer on Vallar Road. There, crews demolished

RHS FOOTBALL NOTEBOOK

Boudreau named Herald 'Star of the Week'

By Cary Shuman

Calvin Boudreau's debut to his senior campaign was most impressive. The Boston Herald named Boudreau, a three-year starting QB, as one of its "Stars of the Week."

"Calvin had a great night," said Coach Cicatelli. "He showed really good presence in the pocket and excellent mobility. He's played for this team since he was a freshman and he gotten better every year and this is his year.

I remember when I was taller than Calvin (who is now 6-foot-3)."

Boudreau certainly deserves the title as "all-around athlete." He is a captain of the football and basketball teams, having just completed his final season for Coach David O'Leary contingent. He will reportedly play baseball for the Patriots later this spring.

His talent on the football field has been recognizable since his earliest years in the Revere Junior Patriots Pop Warner organization.

Doucette brothers make a statement on the line

The Doucette brothers, senior captain and offensive guard Ryan Doucette, and sophomore center Max Doucette, kept the Classical defense away from Boudreau and gave running backs Ginepra and Atitebi some running room. Max was making his varsity debut for the Patriots.

"Our whole offensive line – they got great push up front," said Cicatelli.

Also drawing praise from the head coach were Josimar Martinez, Alaa Atoui, and tight ends Dillon Day and Jarrod Natola.

Keefe and Boudreau a winning team on TV

Ward 4 Councillor Patrick Keefe and Donald Boudreau, father of star quarterback Calvin Boudreau, did a great job in the play-by-play and analyst roles on the Revere TV broadcast.

The duo will be in the press box Friday night at Della Russo Stadium for the home opener. It is believed that Ward 2 Councillor Ira Novoselsky will be in his familiar position as the official timekeeper for the game.

Cerbone sustains season-ending injury

Marco Cerbone, a safety and running back who was off to a great start in the game, sustained a season-ending leg injury in the second quarter. Cerbone had a superb run that showcased his speed and athleticism and the 5-foot-8-inch senior also came close to blocking a punt earlier in the game.

"That's a big loss for us," said Coach Cicatelli. "He's a good player, but more importantly he's a great person. The guys were down about Marco's injury. Marco had surgery on his leg and he's out of the hospital and he's going to be fine."

coach Lou Cicatelli. "It was 18-0, we'll take it."

Boudreau completed 12 of 18 passes for 179 yards and a touchdown to Dillon Day in the end zone. Boudreau showed great touch in lofting the ball into the hands of the wide-open Day in the end zone. Day had an exceptional game with four receptions.

Billy Byrne-Ginepra made a sensational catch for a 50-yard reception. The speedy Ginepra also rushed for a touchdown.

Adetayo Atitebi, consistently finding the seam, also excelled for the Patriots with 90 yards rushing.

Ventura made a huge sack of Classical quarterback Edgar Ramirez in the end zone for two points. Ventura read the fake handoff to the running back and the entire play perfectly to give Revere a 2-0 lead.

The Revere defensive front of Alaa Atoui, Dominic Reed, Dillon Day, and ends Cam Ventura and Augusto Goncalves kept Classical's running tandem of Marquese Avery and Nico Galeazzi in check throughout the game. Linebackers John Tran and Mark Galvez made several tackles.

"Our defense was all over the field and our defensive ends were stellar in setting the edge," said

Cicatelli. "I thought we did a really good job in containing Avery."

Revere (1-0) hosts Lynn English (0-1) Friday on Senior Night at Harry Della Russo Stadium.

Though Revere is not looking past a talented Lynn English team (who led Everett 6-0 in its season opener), many high school fans are excited about a potential GBL title showdown between Everett and Revere on May 7. Everett (1-0) has a bye this week following its 42-12 victory over English in Rob DiLoreto's first game as the new Everett head coach.

87 old units in four buildings and constructed 88 replacement state-funded public housing units in two townhouse buildings and one mid-rise building. Phase II also included improvements to the existing infrastructure and open spaces. Phase II leveraged $10 million in proceeds from the sale of the Winthrop Square Garage, as well as $1.83 million in Inclusionary Development Policy Funds, secured from the Davis Companies' 99 Sumner Street development in East Boston.

Phase III is part of the larger effort to transform the 331-unit of BHA owned public housing development that was originally built in 1951. Trinity completed Phase I of the project in 2018 where 90 units of public housing were replaced with 120 units of public housing both in townhouse and apartment-style buildings. "Orient Heights has come a long way in the four years since we first broke ground for phase one. Hundreds of BHA families have seen their quality of life improve as they've settled into newer, more modern homes," said BHA Administrator Kate Bennett Tuesday. "I want to thank Mayor Janey for her commitment to helping us finish what we've started and complete this critical work for our residents and for the neighborhood at large."

In January 2015, the BHA selected the development team of Trinity Financial and East Boston Community Development Corp. to work with BHA and Department of Housing and Community Development (DCHD) and finalize a redevelopment strategy for the site. This development team secured financing to implement the redevelopment, and will own and manage the buildings post-redevelopment.

EDWARDS NAMED VICE CHAIR ON COVID-19 COMMITTEE

EAST BOSTON - Last week, City Council President Pro Tempore Matt O'Malley appointed At Large City Councillor Michael Flaherty and District 1 City Councillor Lydia Edwards as chair and vice chair of the Council's new Committee on COVID-19

Recovery.

Last Wednesday, the Council unanimously voted in favor of O'Malley's motion to amend the City Council rules to add the committee. The goals of the Committee are to exercise general oversight and make recommendations on the City of Boston's distribution of state and federal COVID-19 relief funding and programs.

With the city poised to receive hundreds of millions of dollars in federal support, Edwards said the new committee makes perfect sense for oversight and transparency.

"This new committee will really help concentrate all of the conversations about COVID recovery, and the hundreds of millions of dollars that's going to come to the City of Boston," said Edwards. "Normally as federal grants come in we have them go to the assigned relevant committees and then we have a hearing about it and a vote. But here comes hundreds of millions of dollars and the question is how do we make sure we're concentrated on COVID recovery and this funding doesn't just get washed away on other things."

Edwards said the committee will work to strategically direct federal dollars so they can be used appropriately.

"I don't want this funding to be used to fill the normal gaps that have to be filled," said Edwards. "That's not how this is going to work. We want to make sure we're talking about real structural changes that need to happen—specifically, aid to individuals and to our businesses because they were hurt in a unique way for a long time by this pandemic. It's hard enough for people to track where taxpayers' dollars are going so the idea is if we have one committee where all of the COVID related dollars are going then it's easier for us to be held accountable and be more transparent to the public. What we want to make sure we are not filling in budget gaps with these funds but really doing something new. If we're not dedicating a majority of our efforts to bringing people who lost everything back, bringing jobs back, bringing homeowners and tenants back and just dedicating our efforts to business as usual we will fail the city and its citizens."

With her home neighborhood of Eastie hit harder than nearly every other neighborhood in Boston by the pandemic, Edwards is in a unique position to bring some insight to the committee on how funds should be targeted.

"I have never been more proud of my neighborhood and district than during this pandemic and I know that we're going to swing back stronger than ever," said Edwards. "I really think I'm uniquely positioned because my district has been hurt the most by this pandemic. So I want to help navigate a lot of these conversations towards how the funding can help the most and have the biggest impact on the lives of residents."

These federal funds will support a national vaccination program, small businesses, provide emergency relief and resources for schools' safe reopening.

"The purpose of the Committee is to elevate incoming federal and state funds, while ensuring there are community voices throughout the entire process ensuring that these funds are distributed equitably, fairly, and effectively," said O'Malley. "As the city recovers from COVID-19's devastating inequitable impacts on public health, housing, and the economy, we will work toward building a more resilient future for every Bostonian."

While Flaherty said, "A critical benefit of having a stand alone committee focused on reviewing this funding is that the Council can now provide a singular public forum for residents to provide input on how the funding is spent. I am looking forward to engaging residents and stakeholders from every neighborhood in our City to make sure that this funding will have the greatest impact on the programs, services and communities that need it most."

Aside from Edwards and Flaherty, committee members include Councilor Ricardo Arroyo, Chair of Public Health Committee, Councilor Kenzie

Bok, Chair of Ways and Means Committee, and Councilor Ed Flynn, Chair of City and Neighborhood Services Committee.

LOCAL BUSINESS OWNERS RESPONDS TO NEEDS

LYNN - You can be sure that Lindsay Wallin, owner-operator of the McDonald's restaurant on Boston Street, will be considered for the prestigious Greater Lynn Chamber of Commerce Businessperson of the Year Award.

When the pandemic hit last year, Wallin knew she wanted to do something to support her crew, and her community, through the challenging times. From allowing team members to bring food home to their families after a shift to paying an extra dollar an hour, Lindsay did what she could to alleviate the building stress of the coronavirus situation.

In her community, despite closed in-restaurant dining areas, Lindsay sought new ways to bring the McDonald's magic back to children and families in her community. On Halloween, she organized drive-thru trick or treating events at her restaurants to provide a safe but exciting event for the local children.

"Since I became an operator, opening my first store with a newborn on my arm, I've thought about my business from a mother's perspective," she says. "Along the way, I'm always looking to find ways McDonald's could support parents and children in our communities – and I couldn't be more grateful to have the support from my crew behind me."

Wallin, who resides in Lynnfield with her two children, officially became the owner of the McDonald's on Boston Street in early 2020. In the past years, she had been operating the Lynn restaurant which was previously owned by her father, Bob King.

"I've been running the restaurant for awhile, so I was already familiar with the restaurant and with the people, so it was not a super-tough transition, but the pandemic made it tricky, for sure," said Wallin.

A graduate of Winchester High School and renowned Babson College, a school known for its superb business curriculum, Wallin also owns eight other McDonald's restaurants on the North Shore, including the two on Route 1 (North and South) in Saugus.

McDonald's on Boston Street stayed open throughout the pandemic.

"We closed the restaurant for dine-in and take-out at first, but kept the drive-thru operating the whole time," recalled Wallin. "We also had delivery, which is actually a very big part of our business in Lynn."

Recognizing the stresses caused by the pandemic to her employees and customers, Wallin felt one of the most helpful things she could do was to allow her employees to take home a meal for their families at the end of their shift.

"It was just one less thing for people to worry about, with grocery shopping and the availability of food and all that at the beginning of the pandemic – it seemed like something that we could very easily do to help them out," said Wallin.

A mother of two children (ages 10 and 12), Wallin said her experience as a parent "helped me a lot to recognize what parents need and how we can better serve our employees and our customers. As a parent, I was able to see a lot of things that were helpful to them. While it was a challenge, it really helped me a lot in recognizing that."

Wallin has been a generous contributor to the Lynn schools. Fundraising nights, in which a portion of sales go to the school, have been very successful.

"We've done a lot of what we call 'Teachers Nights' with the Lynn Woods and the Harrington Schools – basically we give 20 percent of sales back to the schools," said Wallin. "Of all my nine stores, the Lynn fundraisers are always the most successful. And we love to give back. Anytime anyone asks us to do anything, we always say, 'Why not?' – that's kind of our go-to response. We look forward to doing more with Lynn as schools start to reopen."

Business has been very good at her McDonald's in Lynn, which should only increase as crowds (hopefully) return for sporting events at nearby Manning Field and Fraser Field.

"Lynn is my highest-volume store, it has the most potential and I do look forward to growing it even more," said Wallin.

And the city of Lynn is fortunate to have its midst, Lindsay Wallin - a philanthropic businesswoman and an authentic role model for aspiring female business owners everywhere.

FAISON DELIVERS ANNUAL SPRING PRESENTATION

WINTHROP - On April 20, Town Manager Austin Faison delivered his annual Spring Forum presentation to the Town Council, in which he provided updates on projects overseen by his office.

This year, Faison focused his presentation on four key areas: the solid waste program, the middle school site, the Center Business District project, and town departments.

Solid Waste Program

The Winthrop Zero Waste Committee (WZWC) is tasked with meeting regularly to discuss solid waste issues in the community. Winthrop will seek to reduce its solid waste by 70 percent by 2030 by diversifying solid waste removal options and paying an increased contract price.

The Town signed a five-year contract with Capitol Waste, which was more expensive due to the Town absorbing disposal fees. The WZWC reviewed the Solid Waste Program in 2020 and made recommendations.

Looking ahead, the Town will continue to monitor the program and adjust it accordingly. The WZWC will review the Town's ordinances and make recommendations to the Board of Health. New trash bins and overflow bags will be distributed to the community, and the Town will increase waste disposal enforcement. Informational campaigns will begin in early summer. A Solid Waste Fee would begin in FY22 if approved by the Town Council.

Training will be held via Zoom June 1-24 on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6 to 8:30 p.m. and June 7-30 on Mondays and Wednesdays from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Ordinary people can make an extraordinary difference in the lives of our patients. Are you able to visit with a patient; listen to the patient's concerns and provide a supportive, comforting presence? Can you hold a hand or engage in a shared interest or hobby? Are you able to help with letter-writing or life review; read to a patient; play games with a patient or family member? No matter what your skills, talents or motivation, we have a volunteer opportunity for you! As more of the population becomes vaccinated against COVID-19, our volunteers will resume in-person visits with patients in their homes and will be provided with all necessary personal protective equipment. If patient visits are not the right fit for you, you can contribute in other ways, such as providing administrative office support or making check-in phone calls to current patients or bereaved family member. Metro Credit Union receives national certification for new safeguard checking account

Staff report

Metro Credit Union, Massachusetts' largest state-chartered credit union, today introduced its Safeguard Checking account which is officially certified by the national Cities for Financial Empowerment Fund (CFE Fund) as meeting the Bank On National Account Standards (2021 - 2022). By creating this product, Metro is providing a safe, accessible, and affordable checking account that mitigates the risk of overdraft to its membership.

"The Cities for Financial Empowerment Fund is delighted to award its national Bank On account certification to Metro Credit Union's Safeguard Checking account," said Jonathan Mintz, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Cities for Financial Empowerment Fund. "Safeguard Checking offers members who are looking to improve their finances a useful mainstream banking product. Metro Credit Union's offering of this terrific account brings them into the forefront of national banking access efforts, and we thank them."

Metro created Safeguard Checking in collaboration with Bank On Boston, where Metro Credit Union is one of 82 member organizations of the Bank On Boston Coalition.

"The City of Boston is committed to equitable banking access for our residents," said Boston Mayor Kim Janey. "Key to that effort is ensuring that those in need of banking services have safe, reliable accounts to choose from, without worrying about overdraft fees. Thank you to Metro Credit Union for their partnership in this commitment and the creation of the new Safeguard Checking account."

Many households in Metro's Field of Membership do not have a checking or savings account and rely on costly check-cashing and other alternative financial services. For these residents, opening a safe, affordable and non-predatory checking account is an important step toward improving financial wellness. Safeguard Checking helps make that easier.

Key features of Safeguard Checking include:

- Paperless Checking – no paper checks issued.
- Debit card accessibility for ATM and POS transactions
- Direct deposit and recurring ACH payments
- Metro iBanking - Free Online Banking
- Zelle - Free Person to Person Transfers
- Free Bill Pay
- Free Remote Deposit Capture
- Free Mobile Banking
- Free Automated Telephone Banking

"Metro is committed to providing our members with products and services that make them feel confident and secure in their banking decisions," said Robert Cashman, CEO and president, Metro Credit Union. "We're proud to offer this new checking account to our members to help those who need some help establishing their own financial stability. And to have it certified by CFE provides an additional layer of assurance to our members."

Founded in 1926, Metro currently operates 14 branch offices in Boston, Burlington, Chelsea, Framingham, Lawrence, Lynn, Melrose, Newton, Peabody, Salem, Tewksbury, and coming soon to West Roxbury. Metro is also a Juntos Avanzamos ("Together We Advance") designated credit union, an honor given to financial institutions for their commitment to serving and empowering Hispanic and immigrant consumers. Metro was recently named among the most charitable companies in Massachusetts by the Boston Business Journal. Learn more at MetroCU.org and connect with us on LinkedIn.

Winthrop Marketplace makes updates

By Kate Anslinger

As the manager of the Winthrop Marketplace, Chris Wallerice knows how important it is to stay updated with current trends and best business practices, which is why he made the decision to make some physical updates to the store.

Replacing the floors and cash registers was a top priority for Wallerice, and in early April, during a brief store closure, New England Flooring worked around the clock to replace the floors, and local carpenter and loyal customer, Ben Schad, installed the newly designed cash registers.

“We installed new vinyl flooring almost two years ago, a big change from the old VCT floors that we had for almost twenty years,” said Wallerice. “Unfortunately, the flooring was defective and it would only turn into a safety hazard. As such, it had to be replaced.”

Wallerice said they opted for a similar style vinyl wood plank flooring that maintained the desired aesthetic appeal that he had in mind, providing a warm and welcoming environment and easy maintenance. With the store closed briefly for the floor replacement, Wallerice made the decision to replace the cash register stands, just in time for the plastic ban going into effect for the Marketplace on May 15th.

Aesthetically pleasing floors and cash registers brighten up the store.

“The register stands with the bag carousel was an outdated model to use. We wanted something that fit our wooden décor, was efficient to use, and looked good as well.”

The registers are made of maple and pine, with a solid maple butcher block top and designed and built by Schad.

“The registers far exceeded our expectations. The new wooden stands completely change the look and feel of our store. The front of the store feels more open and spacious and allows for a more expedited checkout process. With space in our store being at a premium, the new streamlined stands create space for more product offerings for our customers. The renovations and changes are never completed for a grocery store. That means that new

New cash registers allow for more space at the front of the store.

Point-Of-Sale register systems will be coming in the near future to allow for better reporting for our employees and more innovative sales and marketing for our customers. In addition, we are looking to add new produce cases and a grab-and-go refrigerated case to provide our customers with more options for quick and healthy meals.”

In response to the updates, Wallerice said he’s received wonderful feedback from the customers, who were patient and supportive during the brief closure. The last time the Winthrop Marketplace had to shut down for a remodel was two years ago when the original VCT flooring was removed and replaced with vinyl flooring. During that time, a new bakery rack and front end displays were also installed.
