City Council honors Engineering and Water and Sewer Departments

Staff report

The Revere City Council honored the Engineering and Water and Sewer Departments Monday night for “their efforts in completing major storm water improvements in the Tuscano Avenue neighborhood to correct the flood issues which had been unresolved for over 20 years.”

City Council passes Urban Farming Ordinance during June 21 Meeting

On Monday, June 21, 2021, the Revere City Council overwhelmingly passed the proposed Urban Farming Ordinance. The Urban Farming Ordinance was created to increase access to fresh, locally grown, wholesome foods for the residents of Revere. Revere on the Move and their local partners have established a wide and increasing variety of programs and resources for access to all food – the Urban Farming Ordinance expands the work already being done by integrating state and national policies to encourage home gardeners, commercial businesses, and non-profits to grow their own food. Revere on the Move started in 2008 and is a community-led collaboration between the City of Revere and the Revere CARES Coalition.

Revere residents have long asked for additional community gardens, urban farms, chickens, bees and more, and this Urban Farming Agenda addresses the many areas of Revere’s food economy. “I

North Suffolk Mental Health dedicates Hanton House on Chelsea’s Clinton St.

By Cary Shuman

In an impressive ceremony held on a picture postcard pre-summer day, the beautifully done souvenir program distributed to the guests said it very well about the outstanding contributions of Kim Hanton to the North Suffolk Mental Health Association.

The program read: “NS-MHA’s Addictions Division wouldn’t be what it is today without the leadership, guidance, and vision of Kim Hanton.”

Hanton retired from the organization in 2020 after 34 years of exceptional service. She is currently Chief of Staff to Revere Mayor Brian Arrigo’s Office.

The tribute to Kim Hanton Wednesday was the Hanton House - a fully accessible, 12-bed residence with co-occurring mental health and substance use disorders – that was named in her honor. City and state officials joined Hanton’s colleagues, friends and family at the dedication and official ribbon-cutting ceremony.

Arrigo presents 2022 Budget

Staff report

Mayor Brian Arrigo re-committed his priorities with his Administration’s Fiscal Year 2022 budget. Since taking office, the Arrigo administration has worked towards professionalizing city services, embracing technology, upholding professional and ethical standards, and maximizing and modernizing development. This year’s budget reflects Mayor Arrigo’s proposed budget that focuses on moving Revere forward.

“The budget we presented today highlights how our tax dollars will drive our city toward greater progress for all of our residents,” Mayor Brian Arrigo said. “The hard work and commitment of all of our department heads during the past year has informed the priorities of this budget and will allow for more collaborative work across all city agencies, stakeholders and state partners.”

Debra Peczka-DiGuilio to lead Revere Elder Affairs

By Cary Shuman

The City Council unanimously approved the appointment of Debra Peczka-DiGuilio as the new Director of Elder Affairs at its meeting Monday night. Peczka-DiGuilio had been serving as interim director, overseeing the daily operations of the Rossetti-Cowan Senior Center.

Councillors were profuse in their praise of Peczka, who previously served as executive assistant in Mayor Brian Arrigo's Office.

Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna said Mayor Arrigo's designee is "a great fit for the Senior Center."

"I think you will have wonderful ideas. I think you're kind and passionate about the seniors. You want them to have the best experience. I'm totally in favor of this appointment, congratulations," said McKenna.

"Her [Peczka's] track record is unbelievable," said City Council President Anthony Zambuto. "The seniors love her and she's doing a wonderful job. And she loves Revere. This is another great appointment by the Mayor."

Councillor-at-Large Gerry Visconti said the Senior Center holds a special place in his heart.

"I love going there. They have always welcomed me from the start of my political career," said Visconti. "A lot of seniors were a little concerned [about who the next director would be], and I kept saying, 'just relax,' because there's a person coming who fits that position to a 'T.' I was so excited to hear that you were being appointed. I am ecstatic that it's become official because you have done a great job through the pandemic. Talking to all the seniors, they love you."

Councillor-at-Large Jessica Giannino also lauded the appointment.

"Deb, you're a phenomenal person in general, but I cannot think of a better person to fit this role," said Giannino. "Your personality and the way you care about people and genuinely just care from your heart. I can't think of a better person to be working with our seniors and to be in this position."

Ward 5 Councillor John Powers said "this is certainly if not Mayor Arrigo's best appointment, one of his best."

"I can't think of anyone with the work ethic of yourself that he could have put down there in that position," said Powers. "With the improvements you've made [at the Senior Center], it seems like home to many people and that's what we should be doing for our seniors in this city, making them feel at home and making sure they're getting whatever is necessary to make it a more pleasant visit and you've more than done that. You've exceeded my expectations and I want to congratulate you."

Councillor-at-Large George Rotondo credited Peczka-DiGuilio for her outstanding efforts during the COVID-19 pandemic.

"I see you there. I know what you did," said Rotondo. "Councillor Powers said you're probably [the Mayor's] best appointment tonight and I have personal reasons to feel that way. You have my vote 100 percent."

Councillor-at-Large Steven Morabito also noted Peczka's excellent work with the seniors during the pandemic and upon the re-opening of the Center.

"I have full faith in you and taking on this role," said Morabito, citing his attendance at a barbecue luncheon at the Center. "I asked some of the seniors that day how they felt about the transition and it was all positive feedback. They were so happy to be back and they were very hopeful. I reassured them that you'll be a great fit and guaranteed that you'll be teaching them Zumba as well."

Ward 3 Councillor Arthur Guinasso said, "I've heard a lot of accolades thrown your way now, so you're walking out of here like 7-foot-2."

Peczka, whose daughter, former Revere High star athlete Emily DiGuilio, was in the Council

Debbie Peczka-DiGuilio, new Director of Elder Affairs for the City of Revere.

Chambers for the official vote, graciously accepted her appointment, stating, "I'm very humbled and appreciative and I thank the Mayor and I thank all of you. But you're only as good as the people that surround you."

Guinasso concluded the appointment process that was conducted at the sub-committee meeting, saying, "I think you'll do a great job. Congratulations again and we all appreciate the work you've done."

NEW RODENT BAITING MEASURES ARE SOUGHT

Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna and City Council President are asking the City's director of municipal inspections to use "less invasive poison" in its rodent control efforts.

McKenna said she has spoken with park rangers at the Belle Isle Reservation "and what they're seeing is many dead animals showing up, like owls, hawks, and other wildlife."

"A recent article in the Boston Globe cited poison that killed an eagle after eating a rat," said McKenna. "HYM (the firm developing the Suffolk Downs property) was asked by the Friends of Belle Isle to use a less invasive poison when they took down their stables and they complied," noted McKenna.

The councillor requested that utility companies also follow the same procedure and that the city hold the companies accountable for their actions.

Zambuto said the goal of the motion was "noble," but there are details that must be discussed in the Council's Health and Human Services and Ways and Means Subcommittees.

"I support this, but we need some details," summarized Zambuto.

City Clerk Melnik honored as Unsung 2021 Commonwealth Heroine

Special to the Journal

This month, the Massachusetts Commission on the Status of Women announced the 2021 Commonwealth Heroine Award honorees. The annual awards recognize women across the Commonwealth for their extraordinary contributions to their local communities in public or community service. Among this year’s honorees is Ashley E. Melnik, a Revere resident nominated by Representative Jessica A. Giannino.

“Ashley Melnik is a shining example of an unsung heroine who works tirelessly to make the City of Revere a better place for all to live, work, and visit,” said Rep. Giannino. “I was proud to nominate Ashley because in addition to what is in her job description as City Clerk, she goes far above and beyond what is expected and truly cares about her community and its people.”

As the City Clerk, Ashley works day-in and day-out to make municipal government easier to navigate. She leads a team who works on the front lines of City Hall helping our residents by accurately preserving public records and certifying all vital statistics for the city. Ashley also provides administrative support to the City Council, is a Justice of the Peace, Notary Public and Clerk to the city’s Zoning Board of Appeals. Although this may sound clerical, Ashley’s job goes far beyond just filling and maintaining records. She is a resource to anyone navigating city hall or municipal government who needs help. Often when people enter Ashley’s office, they are going through a life event, whether it be a marriage or something more solemn such as requesting death certificates, Ashley handles each resident with care. As the moderator for almost all public Zoom meetings for the City of Revere - both day and night - Ashley worked throughout the entire pandemic to ensure there were no hiccups when it came to public participation in municipal meetings.

In addition to her professional duties, in which she goes far above and beyond the parameters of her job description, Ashley quietly gives of herself to the community in various other ways to help make people’s lives better. She is a member of the Rotary Club, and spends her free time volunteering in various local organizations, such as the food pantry.

Ashley is always the first to offer help for anyone in need. She is a generous donor to many nonprofits, and never seeks recognition for the things that she does. Often, she is behind the scenes happy to roll up her sleeves and help.

Perhaps most important to her is her family. She is a proud auntie to her brother Mike’s children, Caden and Lyla, and daughter of June and Don Melnik - both of Revere. She is also a loving caretaker to her two fur babies, Port and Odin. Ashley’s compassion and kindness extend far beyond her job description. She takes difficult situations and upset residents and handles them with kindness, compassion, and grace.

Ms. Melnik will be recognized and honored at a virtual ceremony on June 23rd hosted by the Massachusetts Commission on the Status of Women. The Commission is an independent state agency that was legislatively established in 1998 to support equal opportunities for women in the Commonwealth in all areas of life and to promote their advancement. To encourage attendance for family and friends, and in celebration of our heroines, the Massachusetts Commission on the Status of Women will be streaming this celebration “Live” on their Facebook page at 12:00pm on Wednesday June 23, 2021.

am very excited about the possibility of having chickens in my home, said Angela Walsh, Revere resident. “I really think it’s beneficial for the environment, reducing our carbon footprint, and not having to go to the store and get eggs and not know what is going into the chickens that produce the eggs.”

“The Urban Farming Ordinance has been 9 years in the making with the beginnings tied to the opening of Revere’s First Community Garden in 2012,” said Dimple Rana, Director of Community Health and Engagement and co-leader of Revere on the Move. “Revere’s history is based in our farming roots from the pig farms in West Revere and now an ordinance that fits with the current times of backyard growing, rooftop farms, vertical growing, community gardens, hydroponics and more. The benefits of urban farming help build strong communities by stimulating the economy and provide indoor and outdoor growing and distribution of healthy, fresh, local, accessible, and affordable fruits, vegetables, honey, and organic chicken eggs.”

The passing of the Urban Farming Ordinance will allow Revere residents to keep bees and chickens once the permitting process is established through the Revere Board of Health. The permitting process and oversight measures for bees and chickens must be developed before residents can legally host chickens and bees on their property.

“On behalf of Revere CARES Coalition, I thank the City Council for their progressive vision for the City of Revere and voting favorably for the Urban Farming Ordinance,” said Sylvia Chiang, Revere CARES Coalition Director. “Besides increasing access to healthy foods and stimulating the economy, such an ordinance opens other beneficial opportunities for the community in the areas of education; the environment- both aesthetics and reducing the carbon footprint; and socially- fostering integration, cohesion and bonding. This is a great day for Revere!”

The ordinance also allows for rooftop farms in residential and commercial properties, commercial farming/greenhouse, including but not limited to hydroponic and aquaponic farming is permitted on municipal land, in municipal buildings, on roofs of municipal buildings and/or in greenhouses on municipal land and formalizes the community gardens.

“This is a very exciting moment for Revere,” said Viviana Cataño, Program Manager of the Revere CARES Coalition and co-leader of Revere on the Move. “The passing of the Urban Farming ordinance will have a positive impact on our community for years to come and will expand access to the freshest food possible.”

By Cary Shuman

The City Council offered its support to Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino’s motion to establish rules and regulations for the Paws and Play dog park on Sargent Street in West Revere before sending the measure to Council subcommittees for further discussion.

South Avenue resident Dimple Rana spoke as a proponent of implementing rules and regulations at the park. Rana also recalled the history of the park.

“This dog park was organized and installed by the West Revere neighborhood group that is no longer in formation at this time, but there was a subcommittee that was formed to help enhance amenities around the Urban Trail in West Revere,” said Rana. “When the subcommittee established the dog park, it was to be done in phases and to also have rules and regulations as part of the dog park.”

Rana said “one of the big keys” at the park was to have dog owners register their dogs with the City Clerk’s Office “so we know what types of dogs are also frequenting that dog park.”

Councillor-at-Large Jessica Giannino commended Serino for presenting the motion. “As the Ward 6 councillor with the dog park in his district, he gets a lot of phone calls about this,” said Giannino. “And I think it’s important to notice that this isn’t meant to deter people that have multiple dogs from going and using the dog park. He [Serino] was getting calls that doggie daycares were just taking a busload of dogs and dropping them off and they weren’t taking care of them.”

Serino credited Rana for being instrumental in setting the foundation for the opening of dog park. Serino offered an amendment that would separate large dogs and small dogs who use the park.

A LONG, HOT SUMMER?

The images of parched reservoirs in the western part of the country that have been filling the news lately paint a devastating picture of the effects of climate change coupled with the overuse of natural resources.

While it is true that the West has been experiencing drought conditions for the past few years, the reality is that western states have been using far more water than nature is able to provide, even under normal circumstances.

The combination of large-scale farming operations -- which require enormous amounts of water for irrigation -- and the rampant expansion of housing developments into desert areas has created a scenario that is clearly unsustainable for the environment.

Water always has been a precious resource in the West that has been ripe for meddling by politically-connected special interest groups, but in the present situation, with more than 75 percent of the West in extreme drought, there is barely a drop of water for anybody to fight about.

The combination of a lack of moisture on the ground and extreme heat creates a feedback loop that makes for even hotter temperatures and even drier weather, not only affecting water levels in lakes and reservoirs, but making for prime conditions for the wildfires that have been a scourge in the western states for the past few years.

By contrast, the southern coast of the U.S. has a different kind of problem. The warming atmosphere is making our oceans warmer, providing the primary fuel for a different sort of cataclysmic event -- catastrophic hurricanes.

The South was assaulted by a fast-forming tropical storm this past weekend that wreaked havoc in its path with heavy rain and tornadoes. Meteorologists are predicting another active hurricane season that promises to cause billions of dollars of damage, both along the coastline and further inland.

We in the Northeast have been lucky for most of the past decade. Hurricane Sandy occurred in 2012 and we've been fairly fortunate since then. However, if ocean temperatures and sea levels continue to rise, it is only a matter of time before a storm of a magnitude far greater than the fabled Hurricane of 1938 strikes this area.

Bob Dylan wrote that we don't need a weatherman to tell us which way the wind is blowing.

What we are seeing on our TV screens in the South and West is giving us a glimpse of a future dominated by the effects of climate change -- and it isn't pretty.

ABORTION, A HORRIFIC PROCEDURE:

Dear Editor,

To inflict such methods on animals would incur immediate public outrage. Yet we continue to dismembered and crush the unborn from the women's womb in the name of women's choice! Planned Parenthood is a powerful entity with lots of money to promote its agenda, marketing and defense that deceives young teens and the public at large into thinking they are for "Women's Health". They prevent women from viewing their unborn baby's ultrasound in order to steer them toward abortion. Some clinics have been accused of not reporting sex traffickers to obtain abortions from their young victims. They continue to sell baby parts and organs to research companies. In 2020, Planned Parenthood got 618.1 million dollars in taxpayer money while killing 354,871 unborn babies! Their business is eugenics and infanticide! Any sane person cannot approve such practices against women and their unborn. What can the concerned taxpayer do?

LETTERS to the Editor

As I did, write or call your representatives in congress & senate to support the following: Ultrasound Informed Consent Act HR 648 - gives women the right to see her Unborn's ultrasound before deciding if to abort; Heartbeat Protection Act HR 705 - protects the unborn that has heartbeat; Protecting Life & Taxpayers Act HR 2619 - prevents taxpayer money from going to abortionists; and Life at Conception Act S 99 (Senate version) and HR 1011 (House version) - states a human life begins at conception, which is a scientifically proven fact.

Invest in yourself sick years ago and the out of pocket monthly cost for her care was over $15,000 a month. Obviously, this soon became financially debilitating.

While you are living life, working, going to school, raising your family, enjoying your golden years, keep this in mind, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

I know there are no silver bullets when it comes to our health. I've had health issues, two cancer procedures and other ailments. I've spent the last 30 years eating grilled chicken and salmon. I've walked, jogged, played sports and lifted weights most all of my life. My doctor told me I have to do more. He literally said, "No red meat, no sugar, no dairy, no fried foods." What is left? He did say I can eat some bison, venison and elk which I have tried and enjoy them all.

My 100-year-old friend who lives close by says she eats a little of everything but very little of everything majoring on vegetables, fruits and staying active. There has to be something to her lifestyle because it works for her. She still lives alone, in her own house and cares for herself. She laughs a lot and has a lot of adoring friends.

So, while you are building your financial security, invest in your health. See your doctor. Have routine blood tests. Monitor your blood sugar, LDL (bad cholesterol), blood pressure and have an occasional CT or MRI scan to find out what you really look like on the inside. If your doctor finds something then you can tackle what you know about. If you don't know what your enemy is then you can't put up a defense or an offense.

Investing time in taking care of yourself means you can enjoy your life longer. You will be in a better position to help your family or friends, instead of them taking care of you. Keep moving. Take your vitamins, eat as healthy as possible and try. What do you have to lose? Consider, all you might gain.

The best investment you can make is in yourself.

You can work, invest, save and accumulate wealth but what good is it if you ignore yourself? A friend of mine once said, "If I had known I was going to live this long, I would have taken better care of myself."

A sure way to undermine your financial security is to neglect your health. Failing health always results in life insecurity. When your health fails you don't feel like working. You aren't able to enjoy life or take care of others. Whatever you have accumulated financially will go to pay for emergency medical costs, rehabilitation or a nursing home.

Council discusses measure for additional visitors' parking passes

By Cary Shuman

Ward 2 Councillor Ira Novoselsky wants residents to have access to a second visitors' parking pass.

But his colleagues mostly want to stand pat and see how the new residential parking program progresses before making a change in its current procedures.

Novoselsky said he would like the Revere Traffic Commission to adjust the number of visitor parking permits from one to two per household.

"I know we worked hard on parking permits and the parking regulations, but some of the complaints I have gotten from some of my constituents is that [having only] one visitor parking permit is causing problems within families as far as visiting as the same time," explained Novoselsky.

Ward 3 Councillor Arthur Guinasso was clearly on the "one-visitor-pass-per-household" side of the issue.

"I worked five-plus years to get a parking-for-residents program in order to save our community," said Guinasso. "It was out of control, people parking all over the place. And now I think any adjustment to this is way premature. We just started the program a few months ago. I would ask that this not be recognized at this time, based on the fact, 'give us a year's chance to get this working' before we start amending it and taking it down to a situation where we don't have what we really intended to do in the first place.

"We really wanted to remove vehicles from a neighborhood that don't really live there and that's the whole primary purpose of this – to save our neighborhoods," continued Guinasso.

"Give us a chance to see this thing. People are jumping off the board right away here and they don't know what we went through to get this in the first place."

Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna said one of the biggest problems discussed during the development of the residential parking program was visitor's passes. McKenna said people were purchasing or taking visitor's passes from people "and leaving their cars on streets for ten days."

"We don't enough parking in Revere as it is," said McKenna. "And to put another 10-20 cars in a household is just going to add to this problem."

McKenna said she opposed any change to the current visitor's pass regulations. She suggested that residents call the Traffic Department when they are having a family party and say to officials, "Hey look, I live at so-and-so place and I'm having a family party, can you not come down and tag me for the night. And you know what, they would say, 'okay'. So that's all you have to do. But to put this back to where it was is a big mistake."

A non-resident asked the Council to consider an option where an additional visitor's pass would be granted if one family member were taking care of an elder relative and another member of the family needed a visitor's pass at the same time of the caretaker's visit.

Ward 5 Councillor John Powers said Point of Pines residents are entitled to one visitor's pass.

"In my own opinion, two visitor's passes per household is defeating the purpose of having resident parking [in the Pines] because people will be giving those passes to friends," said Powers.

Ronald Clark, a resident of Whiting Avenue, agreed with Councillor Guinasso's comment that "it is way too premature" to change the regulations.

City Council President Anthony Zambuto moved the issue to the Council's Public Safety Subcommittee.

New Revere health/recreation space may be in the works

By Cary Shuman

Is there a new health and recreation facility in Revere's future?

Councillor-at-Large Gerry Visconti made that inquiry to Revere Finance Director Richard Viscay during the Ways and Means Subcommittee meeting Monday Visconti had noticed a "health and wellness center" item in the budget.

"Can you elaborate a little bit on that?" Visconti asked Viscay.

"We have put out an RFP (Request For Proposal) for a recreational and wellness facility for the city and we've received one bid to get some recreational space that's being negotiated now with a lease," responded Viscay. "The numbers that are in the capital project reflect what I believe will be the cost of being able to secure a new building for us to have a wellness and a recreation center. It's our hope to use the American Recovery Act funds to fund that operation, but we're still working through the details with the government to make sure we can do it. We may be able to fund it through a revenue replacement as well."

Revere has a long and proud history that many may not be aware of, or just take for granted. Either way, this history is important to preserve, as part of it’s historical past and that it may be enjoyed by future generations.

There is a cemetery tucked away on Butler Street in Revere, the only cemetery in Revere as a matter of fact, that needs to be restored and preserved, the Rumney Marsh Burial Ground. This place of rest was established in 1693, and some of Revere’s most prominent citizens of the time are buried there. Deane Winthrop, son of Massachusetts 1st Governor, Lt. Thomas Pratt, builder of Slade’s Spice Mill, and many others including Revolutionary War Heroes as well, Samuel Sprague and the Fighting Parson Philip Payson to name a few. You may recognize these names as streets in Revere, but now to have an insight of where they came from.

The Rumney Marsh Burial Ground Committee (RMBGRC) is a sub-committee of the parent organization, the RSCHP, the Revere Society for Cultural and Historic Preservation, located at 108 Beach Street, home of the “Revere History Museum”.

NSMHA Chief Executive Officer Dr. Jackie K. Moore praised Hanton’s dedication, energy, and optimism during her career at the organization.

Sudders presented a Governor’s Citation to Hanton “in recognition of your passion and commitment to public service, your compassion and dedication to serving those who have a mental illness or substance use disorder, and your outstanding leadership and tireless efforts during the COVID-19 pandemic to support and protect the residents of Revere.”

Moore spoke about the incredible legacy that Hanton established at NSMHA.

“I am not sure what I can say about Kim Hanton – I don’t have the skill with words to capture what Kim means to many of us personally, to North Suffolk as an organization and to the citizens of the community we serve,” Moore told the gathering. “She is a force – full of energy and optimism. She works hard and gets things done. She calls it like she sees it – in the kindest and strongest way, what a gift! She is passionate. She believes in people and their capacity to be better. And she is determined to make sure there are opportunities to bring that to reality. “Most of us here today have been touched in profound ways by this amazing woman,” continued Moore. “It is my privilege and honor both to recognize her retirement and to dedicate this house and this program to her legacy.”

Moore presented to Hanton a Chelsea Clock, a distinguished symbol of excellence.

In a heartwarming acceptance speech of the major honor, Hanton thanked her family and colleagues for their support.

“North Suffolk Mental Health Association’s to continuous quality improvement and team building kept my attention always,” said Hanton. “But I would be remiss if I did not mention my first team that taught me how to be a good partner: my family. I was brought up in a family village known as West Revere, surrounded by family, who taught me to love and have acceptance for others. Thanks, Mom, Uncle Sonny, Uncle Paulie, and thanks, Deb (sister).

“I was blessed to have chosen a partner, Dennis, who supported my dedication to a cause that wasn’t always popular and together we built a family, Denny, Haley, James, and our most recent addition, my first granddaughter, Charlotte, or as we call her, “Charlie,” said Hanton.

Hanton said that her original professional goal was to be a schoolteacher, but the passage of Proposition 2 ½ and the ensuing budget cuts altered her plans.

“I chose to look at it as fate,” said Hanton. “I then began my journey of social work and never looked back.”

Hanton said she met so many special people in her career at North Suffolk. “I challenge all of you to find a special person who inspires you, someone you don’t want to disappoint, someone who makes you want to be a better person, and for me that is Judi Lemoine, your COO (chief operating officer).”

Hanton praised the colleagues and families with whom she collaborated to help others while at North

Suffolk. “Each of you have given me more than you will ever know,” she said.

Hanton talked about the mission of the Hanton House. “I hope the Hanton House will be a symbol of recovery that provides guidance through a lens of acceptance and appreciation for the differences that unite us all. The Hanton House will be a home for those seeking a new journey of travel, needing time to heal, time to learn, and time to build, with a team they can trust and rely on, because that team will be comprised of folks that will listen.

“For those of you that have worked with me, you know I take every opportunity to quote those far wiser than I. I will leave you with this from the Dalai Lama: “When you talk you are only repeating what you know. But if you listen you may learn something new.

“So please take a moment each day to listen,” said Hanton. “For this will make a difference in someone’s else life.”

As guests made their way up the stairs to tour the Hanton House, they stopped to thank and take photos with the guest of honor, Kim Hanton. The smiles and well wishes were plentiful and sincere.

Kim Hanton truly left her mark at North Suffolk Mental Health Association and the Hanton House is a testament to her excellence.

Serino said because of the efforts of Ciaramella and Lake and the departments and “the foresight of Mayor Brian Arrigo” the City was “finally able to solve” the issue.

“Thank you, gentlemen, and I appreciate your hard work,” said Serino.

City Council President Anthony Zambuto called the project “a major accomplishment.”

“This was something that nobody could get up and control for more than 20 years,” said Zambuto. “These gentlemen deserve recognition and that’s what they’re getting tonight.”

Ciaramella was the first of the two honorees to take the podium and address the Council.

“I just want to thank the crew – they really deserve the credit. They’re very diligent,” said Ciaramella, whose work has been extraordinary as a member of the Arrigo Administration Cabinet. “We’ve identified what the issues are and we have Phase II and Phase III projects that we’re ready to implement, which is taking the drainage from the Sargent Street area and the Malden Street area and divert it away from that box culvert. The credit goes to my DPW staff for maintaining the free-flowing culvert that goes underneath the expressway.”

Lake, who is also an esteemed professional boxing trainer and a former prizefighter himself, said, “These guys work real hard and we’ve made a lot of infrastructure improvements in Donny’s tenure and Mayor Arrigo’s tenure that really gone unnoticed. I would just like to thank everyone in this Council for believing in the DPW, believing in the guys who are in the DPW – I’ll tell you right now, I’ve been here 16-17 years, this department never had the pride that it has now. I would like to thank everyone sitting in this Council, and especially Mayor Brian Arrigo.”

APPRECIATION

Remembering Gerard Roberto

By Bruce Singer

Another piece of old Revere is gone with the death of Gerard “Jerry Boy” Roberto who departed on June 11th. Born in Boston, he was extremely proud of growing up in the “west end” and kept in touch with many of his fellow “west-enders.”

Along with his brother Ritchie, Jerry drove a newspaper delivery truck for the Boston Globe for many years. He also worked and managed many “corners.” For those not in the business, “corners” were highly trafficked areas (entrances to busy train or bus stations, in front of churches after Sunday Mass, etc. where the chances were good in selling lots of newspapers.

For many years, he sold papers (and held court) at the entrance to Dunkin’ Donuts on Broadway in Revere. His observations and comments were legendary. He had a great following – his friends and customers would come from all over the area to shoot the breeze and purchase a paper or two. Of course he proudly sold the

Gerard “Jerry Boy” Roberto

Revere Journals!

Like an older brother, he was kind and patient with his two employees, Anthony and Joe DeCata. Jerry also enjoyed wagering on the speed of a steed and was often in attendance at Suffolk Downs.

In 2019, he sold his well-kept home on Revere’s Rumney Road and enjoyed residing in Wakefield with his daughter Toni and her husband Jarred Ciampi, and of the greatest joys of his life, his grandson Dominic.

Son of the late Angelo and Carmela (Salimone) Jerry was the loving father of Katherine Kneeland and husband Paul; Laura Roper and husband Lawrence. Brother of Richard Roberto and wife Maureen, John Roberto and wife Joanne, James Roberto and the late Robert and Angela Roberto. Adored grandfather of Alex and Jordan Roper, and Christopher and Paul Kneeland.

Jerry Roberto was a hard worker who as a matter of personal and professional pride sacrificed and would arise at 3:00 or 4:00 am most of his life, so that his people/customers could be well informed of the good and bad in the local, national, and worldly events.

Rest in peace my friend.

McKenna seeks assistance of DPW in abandoned shopping carts matter

By Cary Shuman

Stating that shopping carts being taken from supermarkets and other stores and being abandoned on city streets “are becoming a blight to our community,” Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna is reaching out to the DPW to help alleviate the situation.

“I don’t know what happened in the last month or so because of COVID-19 lifting the restriction, but there’s shopping carts everywhere,” said McKenna. “I just had 35 carts picked up in the last three weeks in Beachmont. It’s just out of control.

“So I’m just asking that DPW - if they’re driving by and they see a cart, just pick it up, don’t get the request from 311 first before you pick it up, just pick it up,” added the councillor.

McKenna said that the City should hold local stores more accountable for their property (the shopping carts).

“This is litter and it is littering our city,” said McKenna. “I just don’t understand that when you call them and say can you pick it up at so-and-so address and they never come down.”

McKenna told her City Council colleagues that shopping carts cost approximately $350 apiece. “It’s just out of control right now and I just want something to happen immediately before it’s just crazy.”

McKenna’s motion seeking the assistance of the DPW in the abandoned shopping carts matter received the unanimous support of the Council at its meeting Monday.

Revere School Committee votes to go forward with $102.7 million FY22 Budget

By John Lynds

At last Tuesday night’s Revere Public School Committee meeting, committee members voted to approve line items for the School Department’s $102,691,177 budget for Fiscal Year 22.

The money approved at last Tuesday’s meeting for FY22 did not include the federal Covid relief money through Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief (ESSER) grants that will fund a whole host of new positions and upgrades to Revere Schools.

The first line item approved was the administration’s budget of $2,680,387. This is money for the Superintendent’s Office and the Business Office as well as some of the district wide administration of the school district.

The next line item was $64,406,262, which is the largest portion of the School Department budget.

“This is about 60% of our budget overall,” said Superintendent Dr. Diane Kelly. “Out of this we fund all of our salaries for our professional staff, including teachers, administrators curriculum directors, our paraprofessionals and all other folks who have anything to do with academics or student learning like our guidance counselors, our social workers, our occupational and physical therapists, all of those folks are included in that number.”

The committee then approved $9,968,589 for student services with the largest line item in this category going to the school department’s transportation budget.

“This is also how we pay for other student services, including food services, student activities such as athletics, and other other components like clubs, and our school system security program,” said Kelly.

The committee then approved $9,331,456 for school maintenance. Kelly said this line item pays for RPS’s custodial services, cleaning services at school facilities and school upgrades.

The next item approved was $182,931 for employee benefits and insurance followed by an approval of $39,784 for community service.

Another $843,119 was approved for school building improvements for school facility upgrades.

Finally $14,238,649 was approved for the Programs with Other Schools initiative.

“This is where we fund tuition for outplaced students or any of our students who have, because of their educational needs, been placed at other schools other than Revere Public School and it’s the second largest line item in the budget,” said Kelly.

School Committee Member and Chairman of the Ways and Means subcommittee, Michael Ferrante said the items voted on last Tuesday represent the total amount that the school department will be financing this year.

Before the meeting adjourned, Ferrante thanked the other committee and subcommittee members, especially Stacey Rizzo and Anthony D’Ambrosio, for all their hard work.

“Without them we couldn’t have ever got this thing done,” he said. “I just want to thank everybody for all the hard work.”

New book by local author cuts through the ‘Fog’ of war

By Seth Daniel

There’s no shortage of new revelations for the die-hard Battle of Bunker Hill enthusiast in a new book by Marc Stockwell-Moniz, including an updated death count and some insight into just how crazy – or foggy – the whole battle was on both sides.

Stockwell is a member of the Bunker Hill Monument Association, grew up in Revere, and his mother lived in Charlestown on High Street for nearly 30 years. In addition, he has at least two direct ancestors he found some years ago while in Charlestown that fought in the battle.

“I hired a genealogist at the time to find more information and in about two hours she came back with information that was so amazing to me,” he said, noting that was one key starting point in his research. “It actually really changed my life in a significant way.”

Now living in San Diego, Stockwell has authored a new book called ‘Fog On The Hill: General Gage, Here We Are Come Get Us.’ He said he began his interest as a kid reading about the battle, and then was engrossed in it when his mother lived in the shadow of the Monument on High Street. Finally, as an adult, he did extensive research and just put the book out in time for this year’s 246th commemoration.

One of the key findings for avid Bunker Hill fans is Stockwell believes he has found a revised American death count. While there are 153 American deaths listed in the history books and on the tablets at the Training Field, Stockwell said he has found in research three more deaths – making the count 156.

“I have updated the American death count that has stood since 1889 when the Bronze Memorial Tablets were placed at the Training Field in Charlestown 132 years ago,” he said. “These tablets proclaim 153 deaths and I say there were 156 deaths of Americans, either at the battle or who later died from their wounds. This is of course new information, but I searched and searched and lo-and-behold I found three more men.”

Another interesting tidbit he advances is the fact that Stockwell believes the battle was not on Bunker Hill (which we all know), and it was not on Breed’s Hill either – which is new.

“The thing that historians or people that like to think they’re in the know will say is it was fought on Breed’s Hill and not on Bunker Hill,” he said. “However, there was no such thing as Breed’s Hill when they built the redoubt. It was Russell’s Pasture or Green’s Pasture. Breeds land was further away than what is today Breed’s Hill. At the time, it wasn’t known as Breed’s Hill; it was just pasture land.”

Some of the biggest revelations in the book, however, are long and drawn out sketches of the foggiest of war – and particularly a war in 1775 between a mighty power like England and a ragtag group of militias under differing commanders. He said after years and years of research, he came away thinking the Battle of Bunker Hill was a comedy of errors on both sides that contributed to the foggiest on the Hill.

From the British ignoring the warnings of Henry Clinton prior to June 17, to the haughtiness of the British to order soldiers up the Hill into incoming bullets – a suicide mission. Then on the American side, it was the insistence by Gen. Israel Putnam to build a second redoubt instead of concentrating on the battle, as well as the confusion in commandment – whereby New Hampshire soldiers wouldn’t take orders from a Connecticut officer. All of that, Stockwell said made him focus on that one word – Fog.

“There was this fog of war that began to cloud

A new book by Marc Stockwell-Moniz, a native to the area, has just come out and details some new revelations about the Battle of Bunker Hill, and also includes an overview of the foggiest that clouded the judgement of both sides.

everyone’s judgement, especially the British and to an extent the Americans,” he said. “It was the old saying that the left hand had no idea what the right hand was doing. That was absolutely going on with the British and the Americans. It just became clear to me everything both sides were doing was crazy. They were flying by the seat of their pants. That’s when I started focusing in on it being the fog of war, which gave way to the title become ‘Fog on the Hill.’

“It was all really a comedy of errors,” he continued.

Stockwell said he does believe the Americans won the war, even though the British seemed to “carry the day.” However, he views it as a major blow to the British, and for the Americans, it was the moment of no return.

“It was the Battle of no return,” he said. “It was the battle where there was no going back to being a British subject. We will fight on and emerge as free people in a new nation, or we would we would be subjugated and become British subjects with no rights or freedoms.”

Funeral Services and interment were held privately for Vicki Taylor, who died on Monday, June 14 at the Kaplan Family Hospice of Danvers following a long illness. She was 94 years old.

Vicki was born to Enrico and Mary (DiFucci) Lorio in Long Island, New York. She was raised and educated in Astoria, Long Island and was a graduate of Astoria High School. Vicki was a young woman who had beauty, talent, wit and humor. She wanted to work in show business and her passion led her to travel the show business circuit. Vicki could sing and dance, but it was with her husband, Roy Douglas’ training and guidance, that she became one of the very few female ventriloquists. Vicki toured with her husband and she eventually went on her own with “Ronnie.” Her show became known as Vicki Taylor & Ronnie. Vicki toured all over Europe and throughout the United States. She played in Las Vegas and The Palace on the Steel Pier in Atlantic City. She played variety shows, night clubs, banquets and many other events. During this time, Vicki was raising her son, Ronald L. Douglas. Vicki took her son on the road often. Her son also rubbed elbows with these celebrities. Vicki had dozens of photos with her son being held by Frank Sinatra, Mel Torme’ and many others.

Vicki continued her long career, where she lived aboard a cruise ship for over five years. Vicki settled in Revere in 1990’s and resided at Friendly Garden on Revere Street. She continued to perform at senior events until she was 87 years old.

She was a woman who set out at a young age to be in show business, found her niche and was one of the very best and well renowned for almost 70 years. She would always close a show saying, “I’d like to retire, but Ronnie won’t let me.”

She was the loving and cherished mother of Ronald J. Douglas, dear sister of Salvatore Lorio and his wife, Jean, Thomasina Mancuso and John Lorio, all of Long Island, NY and the late Carmela Yederlinick and Josephine Brogan. She is also lovingly survived by many nieces, nephews, grandnieces, grandnephews, friends and fans.

RHS SPORTS ROUNDUP

RHS SOFTBALL TEAM OUTLASTS LYNN CLASSICAL TO WIN GBL CUP

It was only fitting that the championship game of the Greater Boston League softball tourney between Lynn Classical and Revere came down to extra innings.

The GBL foes, who have carried over their intense rivalry from when both were members of the Northeastern Conference for 14 years, split their two encounters during the regular season, with the Lady Patriots taking the first meeting and the Lady Rams gaining revenge in the rematch.

The rubber game of their three-game personal duel last Tuesday at Griswold Park was more-than-worthy of a championship bout between the top two teams in the GBL.

RHS ace pitcher Adrianna Fusco and her LC counterpart fired goose eggs through the first four frames until Classical broke through for two runs in the bottom of the fifth (Classical was the home team by virtue of a better GBL regular-season record).

However, the Lady Patriots struck right back in the top of the sixth to deadlock matters at 2-2 and send the game into extras.

After a scoreless seventh, eighth, and ninth frames, the Lady Patriots struck for three runs in the top of the 10th, the key blow coming off the bat of Nina Cassinello, who delivered a two-run double. Nina herself eventually scored on a sac fly by Adrianna Keefe to make it 5-2.

That left it up to Fusco to preserve the win, which Adrianna did admirably to complete her 10-inning masterpiece in which she fanned 13 enemy batters and allowed only seven hits to a good-hitting Lady Ram squad.

For coach Joe Ciccarello and his all-senior team, the exciting victory culminated a season filled with many other highlights -- and certainly will be one they will cherish forever.

VENTURA SETS NEW RHS RECORD IN 110 HIGH HURDLES

Revere High ace track man Cam Ventura established a new school record in the 110 meter high hurdles in a tri-meet with Greater Boston League rivals Malden and Lynn Classical last week.

Cam's hurdling dash of 14.5 seconds easily broke the old standard of 14.7 by Steve Kirklys that had stood in the Revere High record books for 39 years.

Ventura's record-setting performance was among the many highlights for coach Sam Ros's Patriots, who handily dispatched of both rivals. The meet was scored as a true tri-meet (five points for first, three for second, two for third, and one for fourth), with Revere tallying 116 points to 26 for Classical and 10 for Malden.

Cam was a triple-winner for the Patriots, also capturing the 200 dash in 22.7 seconds and the triple jump.

Rayan Riazzi was a double-winner for Revere with first-places in the javelin and discus. Rayan also grabbed second spot in both the 110 hurdles and the 100 dash to account for a meet-leading 16 points on the day.

Other first-place finishers for the Patriots in their respective events were: Ricardo Goncalves in the 400 hurdles; Victor Pelatere in the two mile in a clocking of 11:37.2; Mark Marchese in the 100 dash in 11.70; Mohamed Oaukani in the mile in 5:34; James Clauto in the high jump with a leap of 6'-0"; Ramadan Barry in the long jump; Alaa Atoui in the shot-put; Mahdi Bellemsieh in the 800 in 2:32.2; and Tommy Desir in the 400 dash in 55.6.

Adding three points to the Revere scoresheet with second-place efforts were: Desir in the 400 hurdles; Rami Ameziane in the mile; Barry in the high jump; Kevin Willett in the shot-put; Marchese in the 200 dash; and Pelatere in the 400 dash.

Third-place efforts were turned in by Ricardo Goncalves in the 400 dash; Kenny Le in the 800; Felipe Maia in the 200 dash; Abbas Atoui in the discus; Barry in the 110 hurdles; and Pelatere in the triple jump.

Contributing single points with fourth-place finishes were: Marchese in the javelin; Willett in the discus; Miguel Leonarte in the two-mile run; and Jonathan Samuel in the mile.

The Patriot 4 x 100 quartet of Felipe Maia, Allen Hou, Steve Ticlayauri, and Abbas Atoui earned five points for their winning relay. Ros and his crew will conclude their season today (Wednesday) in the GBL Meet.

BETTERO WINS FOUR EVENTS IN TRI-MEET

The RHS girls maintained their undefeated season last Wednesday, topping Greater Boston League rivals Malden and Lynn Classical in a tri-meet. The Lady Patriots were led to victory by captain Carolina Bettero, who was Revere’s top scorer with 20 points. Carolina won four events -- the 100 hurdles, 400 hurdles, high jump, and triple jump. Jerelys Canales was the second top-scorer for Revere with 13 points. Jerelys took first place in the long jump, second place in the high jump and 200 dash, and added a point with a third place in the 100 dash. Rocio Gonzalez kept her undefeated streak alive in the two mile with another first place finish. Other first-place finishers for the Lady Patriots were Gianna Mahoney in both the shot-put and javelin and Natalia Lopez in the discus. Second-place finishers included Natalia Lopez in the shot-put, Yasmin Riazi in the discus, Fatima Hartout in the mile, and senior Isabella Cuartas in both the 100 and 400 dashes. Contributing points to the Revere side of the scoresheet with third-place finishes were Carly Bennet in the mile, Yasmin Riazi in the 400 dash, Maajda Louaddi in the 800, and Tiffany Esteves in the 200 dash. On Thursday, Gianna Mahoney and Alannah Burke competed at the Division 1 North State meet. Gianna took home an eighth-place medal in the javelin, an event in which she was undefeated during the regular season in the GBL, with a throw of 95’-8”. Alannah competed in the 800 and ran a 2:28.57, a time that is only .17 seconds off the RHS school record. Burke will have a chance to break the record when coach Racquel MacDonald and her crew compete in the GBL Meet today (Wednesday). VENTURA, CLAUTO WIN MEDALS AT D-1 MEET A contingent of members of the Revere High boys track and field team competed in the Division 1 State Meet that was held this past week. Only athletes who have met pre-qualifying standards are eligible to compete in the meet. “We had an okay performance at the State Divisional meet over the weekend,” said RHS head coach Sam Rose. “We had Mark Marchese compete in the 100 meters, Rayan Riazi in the 110 meter hurdles, Cam Ventura in the 110 meter hurdles, long jump, and triple jump, and James Clauto in the long jump and high jump.” Among the highlights for the Patriots were the performances of Clauto in the high jump and Ventura in the long jump to earn medals and qualify for the upcoming All-State Championship Meet. Clauto finished in fifth place in the high jump with a leap of 6’-0”, tying his season-best. “From watching his jumps, everyone says the same thing about James -- that he has the ability to jump at least 6’-6”. This being his first year of jumping, and jumping this high, is a great accomplishment,” said Ros. As for Ventura, his long jump of 20’-5.5” landed Cam an eighth-place medal and earned him a ticket to the All-States at Norwell High this Saturday. The quartet of Ventura, Clauto, Marchese, and Riazi also competed in the 4 x 100 relay. The foursome ran a season-best time of 45.29, but came up shy by just .07 of a second from an eighth-place finish that would have earned a medal and sent them onward to the all-states.

RHS TENNIS TEAMS COMPETE IN GBL TOURNEY

The Revere High boys and girls tennis teams participated in last week’s Greater Boston League championship match that featured the top singles players and top doubles teams from each school who competed in eight-game pro sets. On the boys’ side, Revere’s #1 player, Ashton Hoang, represented the Patriots in the singles play. Ashton handily dispatched of his first-round opponent with an 8-0 shutout, but then ran into the top player in the league from Malden in the semifinals and fell by a similar 8-0 score. “The Malden player is ranked in the top 100 nationally for 16’s,” said RHS head coach Mike Flynn. “Ashton is the number two player in the GBL, but just had a bad draw.” In the doubles side of the tourney, Nafiz Islam and Matthew Chianca took the court for Revere.

“They played well, but lost to a very good Medford team, 8-3,” noted Flynn. For RHS coach Carla Maniscalco’s girls’ squad, first singles Nada Abou Hadiba lost in a tiebreaker against Everett in the first round, 8-9. In the doubles match, the tandem of Meryem Charty and Kathy Trinh lost to Malden in the first round, 1-8. RHS BASEBALL, SOFTBALL TEAMS FALL IN TOURNNEY The Revere High baseball and softball teams competed in the North Sectional of the Division 1 State Tourney on Monday. The baseball Patriots, who were seeded seventh in the D-1 North, dropped a 16-2 decision to 10th-seeded Lexington. As for the softball squad, who were seeded fourth in the D-1 North, they came up on the short end of a 14-7 decision to 20th-seeded Concord-Carlisle.

MLB PITCH, HIT AND RUN COMPETITION AT GRISWOLD COMPLEX

Recently Griswold Complex played host to the Official MLB (Major League Baseball) pitch, hit and run competition, for boys and girls from 7 -12 years of age. Each contestant had the opportunity to throw for accuracy, run from second base to home, and bat for distance. All these figures to be entered to the national data base of the MLB Association, and winners will be picked to attend the World Series later this year. There were no losers this day, it was baseball, and everyone loves the game, and parents loved cheering for their special ball player competing on a national level. Good Luck to everyone.

It took a lot of coordinating, and time, thanks to Shawn Vetere and all those who helped him run this event, it was a great day for the City of Revere and the many ball players that enjoyed the special event.

Hoping for a chance to attend the 2021 World Series, Chase Smith, Anthony DiCiccio and Bobby Connolly.

NEWS FROM AROUND THE REGION

CANNABIS LICENSE BEING SOUGHT

CHELSEA - La Colaborativa Director Gladys Vega announced this week that her company, Vida Verde, would pursue a cannabis retail and transportation license at the former tuxedo shop on the Parkway in Chelsea. Vega and business partner, Leah Piantidosi, will pursue the Chelsea license with the goal of having three recreational cannabis shops in the region – with one already in the works for Somerville and another one in Malden. Vega said she considered the marijuana industry when it was first legalized more than three years ago, trying to decide if she would get involved in the new industry. She said coming from a home where there was drug use was prevalent, and she felt she would be the kind of responsible person to introduce the industry into Chelsea correctly.

“Because I grew up in Chelsea, I have experienced growing up in a household where my brother used heavy drugs,” she said. “The abuse of marijuana in our family was very hard growing up. As I got older, I wondered what I would do if marijuana was legalized, and if I would get involved...I want to make sure Chelsea, these businesses go in and come out without doing anything for the residents. Many people become rich and are I and out of our city. I want to create a foundation and have this do things to support our city. I have invested my whole life into Chelsea and I want to make sure whomever makes an investment in Chelsea gives back to Chelsea.”

Vega said one of the main reasons she is involved is, one, for the health aspects that her business partner, Piantidosi, has testified to – finding that it helped her late mother when she had cancer. The other reason is to set up a foundation that will help La Colaborativa and other non-profits continue their critical work in the community.

“My plan is to kick-off these businesses and have Chelsea managers that are able to manage the operations and hopefully three years from now, I can be at all location three locations,” she said. “I want to be able to do that when I have the resources for La Colaborativa and the Foundation is intact and I don’t have to stay up late figuring out how to make our payroll. Right now we’re okay because of the pandemic, but the pandemic is old news and people will forget about it and our blanket of poverty will continue. The problems from this pandemic will be something we have to battle for years and years. I’m not going to say I don’t want to make money, but I also want to make money for our community.”

She said they will be hiring staff, and she said she probably would bring some people along that she trusts to help the business along. Meanwhile, she said security will be paramount, and she would not tolerate loitering, using the product in the surrounding neighborhood or throwing packaging on the ground. She said to prevent such litter, they would tag each package with a unique ID and anything found could be tracked to the customer – who would face consequences if they returned.

She said she plans to really upgrade the old tuxedo shop (Russo’s) on the Parkway, and indicated the shop they are building in Somerville is very luxurious and professional. That will be the same case in Chelsea as well.

She said if anyone is to be trusted with this new industry, she said she hopes Chelsea will trust her and her company.

“I’ve invested years into Chelsea and I have nowhere else to go,” she said. “Chelsea is my hometown.”

GVLP Corp., known as Vida Verde, will have its community outreach meeting for the cannabis establishment on June 30, 6 p.m., in the City Hall Conference Room. The location of the establishment is 320 Revere Beach Parkway. The public will have an opportunity to ask questions.

EVERETT - Council President Wayne Matewsky visited death’s door for certain after having a critical heart attack three months ago while on vacation in Florida, but it was a door he did not pass through and now has recovered and was on hand to re-assume his post and tell the tale.

Last week before the early City Budget special meeting, Council Interim President Anthony DiPierro introduced Matewsky back to the body, and relinquished the seat back to Matewsky – where the long-time councilor relayed the harrowing tale of how he survived a major heart attack, recovered in Florida and at home, and discovered just how much he is appreciated in Everett.

He said he was in Ft. Lauderdale at a motel he has stayed at for the past four years, going there for some rest and relaxation from the COVID pandemic and ended up having a major heart attack.

“I went to Florida for a rest and I was there eight days and the heart attack hit me,” he said. “It was sudden. I had no chest pains but just couldn’t breathe. Thank God there is a fire station right behind the motel. I actually went there to get away from sirens and trains, but thank God for that fire station. The day of the heart attack, when I opened my door and told the manager at the pool to call 9-1-1, that fire department was there in a minute, and they rushed me to Holy Cross Hospital. They saved my life. For two weeks I was in an induced coma from what I’m told.”

Matewsky, 62, has spent the last month or more recovering at Spaulding Hospital in Cambridge, and had spent some time in Florida recovering and gathering strength for the trip back to Everett.

Once he got back to Everett, Matewsky said he was touched at the outpouring of support from all of his colleagues – each of which he named and from residents and friends throughout the City. Some of his colleagues and his friends also visited him in Florida, such as DiPierro and Councilor Michael Marchese and Library Board member Edna Micelin.

He said he has gotten more than 400 cards in the mail, baskets and gifts as well.

“I can’t thank the people of Everett enough,” he said. “I’ve never been sick in my life, but there were so many people who visited me or sent me notes to get well and I’ll never forget it. I’m lucky to be alive and I mean that. I want to thank the membership of this Council. I didn’t realize people appreciated me as much as they did. When something this serious happens to you, you just really appreciate the kindness you receive.”

Mayor Carlo DeMaria after the meeting sent out a statement welcoming Matewsky back to work.

“President Matewsky’s return was a pleasant surprise on Monday evening,” said Mayor DeMaria. “He gave us all quite a scare, but he has certainly come a long way and I look forward to continuing to serve the residents with him.”

After telling his story, Matewsky didn’t seem to miss a beat – launching into a Budget meeting and then conducting a full City Council meeting that went nearly three hours.

It was to the amazement of many in the Chambers and watching at home.

CRIGHTON ENDORSES NICHOLSON FOR MAYOR

LYNN - State Sen. Brendan Crighton (D-Lynn) has announced that he is endorsing Jared Nicholson for Mayor of Lynn.

In his announcement Sen. Crighton said that “throughout my 16 year career in public service I’ve had the opportunity to work closely with many dedicated members of the Lynn community. Today I am honored to announce my support for one of the brightest, hardest working individuals that I’ve ever worked with.”

Sen. Crighton cited his experience working with Jared, “even before Jared ran for office, he was fighting for many of our shared priorities including school funding, job creation, transportation improvements, and making sure that all Lynn residents have access to housing they can afford.”

Sen. Crighton also put the endorsement in the context of Lynn’s future, “it is crucial that we have a mayor with the vision, toughness, and skills to lead us. When I’m fighting for the priorities that matter to Lynn in the State House, I need a partner like Jared in City Hall. His vision for a future of Lynn that includes all of us is exactly the direction we need.”

Nicholson said, “Senator Crighton is an exemplary leader in Lynn with an outstanding track record and a true champion of the causes that we both care about for Lynn’s future. I am thrilled and honored to have his support.”

This endorsement is a telling sign that Jared’s grassroots campaign for Lynn’s future is building momentum in the community.

TOWN COUNCIL MEETS IN-PERSON

WINTHROP - The Winthrop Town Council held its first in-person meeting since the start of COVID on Tuesday, June 15, in the Harvey Room in Town Hall, where it voted on the FY22 budget. In attendance were all members of council, several department heads and six members of the public.

Technical Issues
When they had first started talking about meeting in person again, the council vowed to make its meetings accessible remotely. However, if Tuesday was any indication, it has a long way to go.

For those present in the Harvey Room, only some of their voices were able to be heard on the WCAT livestream. In particular, the microphones of Interim Town Manager Terence Delahanty, Health Director Meredith Hurley, Council Pres. Phil Boncore, and Councilor Tracy Honan were compromised.

Around ten members of the public attended the meeting via Zoom, but their experience was not much better. Voices sounded gravelly and muffled, with many sentences trailing off into silence. The other problem with Zoom was the wide angle view of the council, which made it difficult to ascertain who was speaking.

Ultimately, only those who were present in the Harvey Room know what was discussed. Luckily, the Transcript was able to obtain some of the meeting contents from individual speakers.

FY22 Budget
Council voted on the budget submitted to them at the June 8 meeting. They first voted on the budget as a whole, then on individual funds and projects separately. Some small amendments were made. The public is encouraged to read the full ten-page Finance Commission report, available on the Town website.

Town Manager Delahanty praised the hard work of the Finance Commission, which met for over 50 hours on the budget in recent months. He also noted the lack of competition between departments.

“The budget process tends to bifurcate us and pit us against each other,” he said. “We have become one—one community, one team.”

Pride Flag
Town Manager Delahanty has received correspondence from community members urging the town to put rainbow flags on town property in honor of Pride Month. Currently, the town is only able to raise the American Flag, the Massachusetts State Flag and the Prisoner of War/Missing in Action Flag on town property.

However, the town manager said, “I think we need to modify that policy.”

Council Pres. Phil Boncore concurred, stating, “We want to see diversity and inclusion.” COVID

Health Director Meredith Hurley gave her usual COVID update. Winthrop has had 2,314 total cases, with 2,277 recovered, 35 deceased, and two in isolation. As of July 9, fewer than one percent of tests over the past two weeks were positive. Almost three quarters of all eligible residents have received at least one dose of the vaccine, and 65 percent are fully vaccinated. Center Business District

DPW Director Steve Calla discussed ongoing construction in the Center Business District, which is now moving from the utility infrastructure phase to the surface restoration phase. This will include restoring streets, sidewalks, lighting and landscaping.

CAPUANO, FORTE PROMOTED TO LIEUTENANTS IN REVERE FIRE DEPARTMENT

William J. Capuano and Michael R. Forte took their oaths of office from City Clerk Ashley Melnik, signifying their promotion to the rank of Lieutenant in the Revere Fire Department during a ceremony Monday at City Hall.

Capuano, 43, is a 1996 graduate of Savio Preparatory High School. Forte, 36, is a 2003 graduate of Revere High School and a veteran of the United States Marine Corps.

Mayor Brian Arrigo and Fire Chief Christopher Bright congratulated the two men on their promotions.

"Each promotion recognizes the brave work and the good work that happens 24/7," said Arrigo. "It also signals the beginning of greater responsibilities. The firefighters that we have gathered today to promote, Lieutenants William Capuano and Michael Forte, exemplify that service that not only allowed them to excel, but also keep our city safe under their leadership."

Chief Bright said that promotional ceremonies are on the most joyful ceremonies performed in the fire service. In offering his personal congratulations to the two lieutenants and their families, Bright said, "I have had many opportunities to work with Lieutenants Capuano and Forte. Both these men are well liked and respected by members of the Revere Fire Department. They bring much energy, enthusiasm, and talent to their jobs. They will make excellent fire officers. I congratulate both of you for stepping up to take on a leadership role on the Fire Department and we look forward to working with you in the years ahead."

Nancy Capuano had the honor of pinning the badge on her husband William J. Capuano's uniform. Rebecca Forte had the honor of pinning the badge on her husband Michael R. Forte's uniform.
