Suffolk Downs project to begin on Revere side

By John Lynds

At an Orient Heights Neighborhood Council (OHNC) meeting Monday night, representatives from HYM were on hand to discuss progress on the Suffolk Downs mixed-use development project.

HYM's Michael Barowsky kicked things off saying that all the barns and stables on the Revere side of the project near Beachmont MBTA have been demolished and infrastructure work has begun around what will eventually become the Beachmont Square gateway section under Phase One of the project.

Barowsky said part of Phase One will include erecting the first, second and third residential buildings as well as a hotel, office space and a life science building.

"There are five key buildings that are part of this phase of the development including a small boutique office building in the corner of the site," said Barowsky. "Our first residential building as well as our second residential building will have about 450 units and we'll also be bringing a hotel during our initial phase, which will be on the corner of a new street that we're building into the site. We will also be constructing our first Life Science Building this year that we are really excited about. Finally, we have an additional residential building for a total of 1.7 million square feet of development for Phase One."

Barowsky said this Phase will be built out over the next three years beginning this year.

"We're building out all the roadways, plazas and doing some roadway work off site as well," he said.

Part of Phase One will also include the construction of the Beachmont Square entry plaza, which is roughly an acre.

"There's some built-in seating in the stairs on one of the buildings and we'll actually have room for performance in a grassy

DCR removes parking meter signage from beach

Staff Report

The Department of Conservation & Recreation (DCR) is removing all parking meter signage from Revere Beach, as a result of a law passed through the leadership of State Representatives Jeffrey Rosario Turco and Jessica Giannino. Last summer, parking meters were installed on Revere Beach in an effort to raise state revenues. The people of Revere organized and resisted the idea of paid parking on America's first public beach. Rallies were held for several weeks on Revere Beach demonstrating opposition to the meters. Representative Turco and Representative Giannino quickly drafted legislation which prohibited DCR from placing metered parking on any DCR roadway without explicit local approval. Although Governor Baker vetoed

Amanda Portillo, Lauren Maloney launch BIZZY Women Social

By Cary Shuman

Amanda Schepici-Portillo and Lauren Maloney certainly mean business for women.

The two Revere-based businesswomen have launched BIZZY Women Social "to inspire, empower, and connect like-minded female entrepreneurs and professionals who reside in and around Boston."

The debut members-only social event – BIZZY Hive Meeting - is set for Thursday, March 24 at 7 p.m. at Mission on the Beach, Ocean Avenue.

"Bizzy Women Social is a one-of-a-kind exclusive, social networking club for female entrepreneurs and professionals who want to expand their network and promote themselves but do so in a really fun way," said Portillo. "Our core value in authenticity, meaning that we want women to come together in authentic way and just be their full selves."

Maloney, a member of the Revere High School Class of 2004 and a three-time state cheerleading champion and a national champion, has been friends with Portillo since elementary school.

Maloney formerly owned Vamped, a clothing boutique, on Route 1, Sau-

Unsung Hero: how Asmaa Abou-Fouda's altruism and work ethic is making a difference

By Scott Ruescher

Since arriving from Cairo in 2008 with her husband and the first two of their eventual five children, Asmaa Abou-Fouda has become the epitome of civic and community engagement in Revere, Mass. — a beach town on the near North Shore of Boston.

Once known for its tawdry amusement park, Revere has been home to successive generations of non-English-speaking immigrants for more than a 100 years.

Over time Abou-Fouda has taken on multiple leadership positions in response to tangible needs. During the pandemic, those in need required access to food pantries, vaccine and testing information and rental assistance. It is no wonder that her help is never refused.

As much as 15 or 20 percent of Revere residents come from Arabic-speaking countries, primarily from Morocco and Algeria, and many of are not yet proficient in English. As a language justice coordinator/community health ambassador, Abou-Fouda translates all official documents published by the mayor into Arabic and provides verbal Arabic translation of the text in videos as well. She also produces a weekly video presentation on Revere cable television for the Arabic community.

"To reach the widest audience, we put Arabic-language posters on boards in the Senior Center, City Hall, and other public places, but we also use media," she says. "Though I am not neces-

RHS Principal Dr. Perella and Deputy Principal Mrs. Tuckman announce their departures

By John Lynds

Revere High School will lose two of its high profile leaders next year. Last week, RHS Principal Dr. John Perella and Deputy Principal Leah Tuckman both submitted their resignations to School Superintendent Dr. Dianne Kelly.

“Since the summer of 1997, I have been fortunate to serve as a teacher, coach, dean, vice principal, and now as the high school principal in my hometown,” said Perella. “I consider this an honor, a privilege, and an incredible responsibility. All great journeys come to an end, and my tenure as the Principal of RHS has reached its conclusion-I will not be returning to RHS in the fall.”

Perella thanked the RHS community for the trust and support they have given him during these past four years.

“This extraordinary community needs a school leader who can take the torch and push forward with relentless energy and excitement,” said Perella. “It is time for me to pass it on. Revere is a city like no other. Within it is genuine beauty, truly exciting potential and possibility, and deep-seated challenges and barriers. RHS is front and center in the struggles that define our time. I wish you all the best and look forward to being an observer of the next chapter of the RHS journey.”

Perella has been a teacher, athletic coach, and administrator at Revere High School since 1997. In 2012, Perella took over as the Headmaster at Medford High School but returned to RHS as its principal in 2018.

Since 2013 Perella has also taught A Critical History of Education at Tufts University.

He received a Bachelor of Arts in History from the University of Massachusetts Amherst, a Master of Arts in Teaching History, and a Certificate of Advanced Graduate Studies (CAGS) in School Leadership from Salem State

RHS Principal Dr. John Perella.

RHS Deputy Principal Leah Tuckman.

University, and a Doctorate in Urban Educational Leadership from the University of Massachusetts Boston.

Deputy Principal of RHS Tuckman has been an educator for the past 17 years.

Before coming to RHS three years ago, Tuckman spent six years at the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE). There she supported identified districts throughout the Commonwealth in strategically accessing and using professional development and targeted assistance to improve instruction.

She also taught high school and middle school math and served as a mathematics department chair in both the Boston Public Schools and the San Francisco Unified School District.

“I have given everything to Revere High School over the last three years and the thought of leaving is simultaneously heartbreaking and consoling,” said Tuckman. “I’m incredibly proud of the work we have accomplished together. We have collaboratively survived a pandemic, we are owning the 5 principles of Competency Based Learning, we are sending kids into select colleges and careers and we are cultivating good human beings who advocate for themselves and use their voices. None of this will change when I leave.”

Tuckman called RHS a very special and incredible place to have worked for the past three years.

“I will never forget our car parade graduation or the youth-led rally and march across the city in protest against racism, racial violence, and police brutality,” she said. “I will always be grateful to the educators that stepped up to help with both academic and social-emotional student support, coverage needs and teacher leadership roles. I will most certainly miss you and our amazing students.”

In response to Perella and Tuckman’s resignations, Dr Kelly said the last two years have not been easy ones for school leaders. “Both have made the decision that their work-life balance needs some adjustment,” said Kelly. “In terms of stress, I would put the job of High School principal and deputy principal at a level comparable to the superintendent or assistant superintendent jobs. I am not terribly surprised by their decisions but I do feel this is a good time for all of us to consider what kind of leaders will best serve students and staff as we move forward. I invite you to meet with me for a group discussion about the characteristics we need in the next building leadership team, our priority areas of focus, and whether or not the current admin structure is well suited to the needs of students and staff.”

Kelly said she plans to hold this group discussion in the RHS Learning Commons on Tuesday, March 28 at 5:00 pm and translation services will be available.

JOSEPH MOTTOLO VFW POST TO RAISE FUNDS TO SUPPORT ST. JUDE CHILDREN’S HOSPITAL

The Revere Joseph L. MottoLO VFW Post #4525

strives to raise money for charities. In 2021, our primary charity was a local one, the Chelsea Soldiers Home. This year, we are working to raise money for St. Jude’s Children’s Research Hospital.

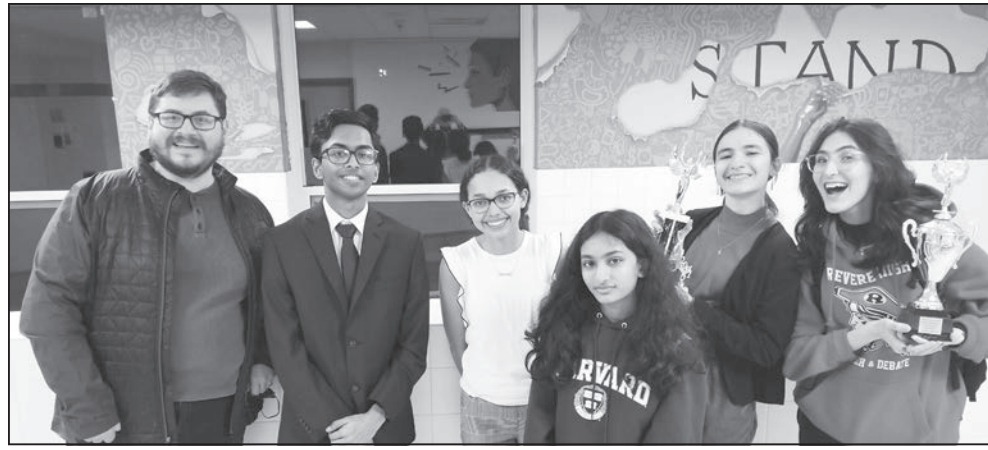

Our major fundraising event for this charity is going to be a Retro night held at the MottoLO Post/Casa Lucia in Revere, MA on May 7, 2022. The event will be a 70’s and 80’s themed glow party in one hall, and live music in the second hall.

To make this fundraiser a success for St. Jude’s, we are asking for donations from our neighbor businesses. We would be very grateful for your support of this fundraising endeavor. Any donation you can give would be appreciated – cash, food, gift card for raffles. We are working to ensure all the monies raised goes directly to St. Jude’s. To that end, the halls, decorations, time by people and food will be donated to ensure all the money raised goes directly to the children in need.

Floor and Decor in Sausage has also signed on to be a major sponsor.

Please join them in supporting the kids of St. Jude Children’s Research Hospital by donating to my fundraiser. Your support would mean so much to me and will change the lives of kids and their families.

SJC ISSUES ORDER RELAXING MASK MANDATE IN STATE COURTHOUSES

The Supreme Judicial Court (SJC) issued a new order on Monday regarding access to Massachusetts state courthouses, which relaxes the requirements with respect to the wearing of masks, effective March 23, 2022.

The order continues to encourage the wearing of masks inside courthouses to protect against the transmission of COVID-19, especially by those who are at increased risk for severe disease or are not up to date on COVID-19 vaccinations. Masks are no longer required, however, except under certain identified circumstances.

The order also continues to prohibit entry into courthouses by persons who have tested positive for COVID-19 within the previous 5 days, have symptoms consistent with COVID-19, are not up to date on vaccinations and have been in close contact with someone with COVID-19 within the last 5 days, are awaiting test results after experiencing symptoms, or should be in isolation or quarantine.

The City of Revere held an Irish Flag Raising Ceremony last week on St. Patrick’s Day. It took place on the lawn of City Hall and RevereTV covered it live on social media and television. To watch it back, you can find it replaying as event coverage on the Community Channel, or at any time on Facebook and YouTube. On the same day, RTV covered the Revere Fire Department Swearing in Ceremony. It happened before the flag raising ceremony in the Council Chambers at City Hall and is airing on RTV GOV. All city municipal meetings and ceremonies are posted to YouTube and replay on the government channel in the proceeding weeks.

Tax season is upon us so it may be of interest to check out last week’s city PSA recorded at RevereTV. It is about the child tax credit available to families with children who file taxes for 2021. The link provided in the PSA video, findyourfunds.org, also has resources to help those who may not have received COVID-19 stimulus funds last year. You can watch this announcement on RevereTV’s YouTube page in three languages, English, Spanish, and Arabic. You will see the PSAs playing on all RevereTV television channels in between programming.

If you are missing RevereTV’s coverage of the Revere High School Basketball seasons, you’ll want to check out the highlight reels! The RTV staff compiled highlights of both the girls’ and boys’ seasons which were amplified by the commentary of the volunteer play-by-play announcers. Watching the highlight reels makes it obvious that the commentary spruces up game coverage. The highlight reels will be airing in between shows on the community channel over the next few weeks but can also be viewed on YouTube at any time in the RHS Basketball playlists.

As April approaches, keep an eye out for new episodes of “Cooking Made Simple” and “The Senior FYI.” You can watch replays of last week’s City Council Meeting, the License Commission, and Zoning Sub-Committee meeting on RTV GOV. This week, you’ll see a Zoning Board of Appeals and Revere Board of Health Meeting added to the mix.

License Comm. addresses Hampton Inn parking issue; approves temporary licenses

By Journal Staff

The Revere License Commission took up a full agenda of items at the commission's regular monthly meeting last Wednesday, March 16, in the City Council Chamber.

Chairman Robert Selevitch and fellow commission members Daniel Occena and Linda Guinasso were on hand for the meeting.

The chief highlight of the session was a lengthy discussion of the parking problem at the Hampton Inn on Lee Burbank Highway that has proven problematic for access by the city's emergency vehicles. (See Item #10 below).

In other matters, the commissioners gave their approval for short-term licenses for upcoming special events by various organizations in the city.

Those items and discussions, as well as the rest of the commission's agenda for the evening, were as follows:

Applications submitted for consideration:

Item #1:

MACIR (Moroccan American Connections in Revere) Whelan School, 107 Newell Street, Rachid Moukhabir, Event Manager: Application for a 1-day Common Victualler and Entertainment License: Application of MACIR for a 1-day Common Victualler and Entertainment license to be exercised on the park of the Whelan School at 107 Newell Street on Saturday, June 25, 2022 from 1 p.m.-8 p.m. for the annual Moroccan Cultural Day event. Expected attendance is 500, amenities to include two food trucks and musical performances.

Well-known Revere resident Rachid Moukhabir presented the application on behalf of the Moroccan American Connections in Revere, a local non-profit organization that was established in 2016.

The festival has been held for the past six years and has been a popular event in the city.

"This has been a very good event for the community," noted Selevitch. The commission received a letter from City Council member Richard Serino expressing his support for the event and the license.

The commission unanimously approved the issuance of the license.

Item #2:

Revere Restaurant Group, Inc., d/b/a Tio Juan's Margarita's Mexican Restaurant 85, American Legion Highway, Sean M. Casey, Manager: Application for a Change of Officers/Directors and Transfer of Stock: Application of Revere Restaurant Group, Inc. d/b/a Tio Juan's Margarita's Mexican Restaurant, Sean M. Casey, Manager, for a change of officers/directors, and a transfer of stock.

Jodene Scott, a vice-president with the parent company of the local restaurant, presented the application to the commission. She noted that this is simply a matter of a transfer of stock among the owners and there will be no changes in the operation of the current business.

The commission unanimously approved the application.

Item #3:

Blanchard's Revere, Inc., 286 American Legion Highway Bridget Hurd, Manager: Application for a Change of Officers/Directors, Change of Ownership, and Transfer of Stock: Application of Blanchard's Revere, Inc., Bridget Hurd, Manager, for a change of officers/directors, change of ownership, and transfer of stock.

Atty. Marcy Costa of the Boston firm of McDermott, Quilty, and Miller presented the application and appeared with Ms. Hurd. She explained to the commission that the passing of a former board member of Blanchard's has resulted in the transfer of his 49% ownership interest to his wife. There will be no changes to the operation of the business.

Item #4:

Shun, Inc., d/b/a Parkway Convenience, 190A Revere Beach Parkway, Mitten Patel, Manager: Application for a Change of Officers/Directors and Change of Manager: Application of Shuban, Inc. d/b/a Parkway Convenience, Mitten Patel, Manager, for a change of officers/directors and a change of manager from Meena Patel.

Application for a Change of Hours: Application of Two Brothers Hospitality, LLC d/b/a Murray's Tavern, John Murray, Manager, for a change of opening hours to 11 a.m. from 4 p.m. John Murray presented the application to the commission. Murray said he is seeking the change in hours in order to start serving lunch. He also noted that with St. Patrick's Day the following day, he wanted to start immediately.

"I think it's a great idea and a great place," noted Guinasso.

"What's going to be on the menu for St. Paddy's Day?" she asked with smile and Murray told her of what sounded like a delicious St. Patrick's Day menu.

"You're doing a good job and it's a great addition to the city," added Selevitch.

The commission approved the application unanimously.

Future use of vacant McKinley School is nearing a final decision

By Cary Shuman

The vacant McKinley School property and its future use have been the topic of presentations and discussion at community meetings and workshops.

Julie DeMauro, McKinley School project coordinator along with Tech Leng, director of the Department of Planning and Community Development, said several residents have participated in the group discussions and voiced what they would like to see at the former elementary school on Yeamans Street.

"We've had three community meetings and there will be one final Zoom workshop (Wednesday at 3 p.m.)," related DeMauro, who is also the city's transportation coordinator.

"The final presentation of plans for the McKinley School will be at a public meeting during the last week of April."

DeMauro said part of the McKinley School will most likely be used for a Revere Public Schools' centralized, early childhood education and care center.

"The additional space will be used for community space, whether it be work force development, art, or small business incubator space - that's what these meetings have been all about," said DeMauro. "The goal is to have the building open regularly throughout the day and operating simultaneously with the early childhood program."

Patrick Keefe, the city councillor of Ward 4 where the McKinley School is located, has been closely monitoring the meetings and has had numerous conversations with his constituents.

"Since the closure of the McKinley School, its future use has been a constant subject in my conversations with the [Mayor Brian Arrigo] Administration and the School Department," said Keefe. "Recognizing the needs for more early childhood education and theater performance and arts space, I will be excited to see the future of this historic and beautiful property we have at the McKinley School."

"I want to stress to residents and neighbors we are not entertaining the idea of selling this property. It will be used to the betterment and benefit of our community."

Residents can weigh in on the plans for the McKinley School in an online survey on the city's website.

"It's going to be a two-to-three-year project," said DeMauro. "The plan is to eventually renovate the McKinley School depending on the future use of the building. The grant from Mass Development allows us to put the City of Revere in line for future funding related to structural integrity, environmental concerns, and other things that need to be addressed before the building is renovated."

gus, for seven years before closing in 2017.

"That's where I started my entrepreneurial journey and I had a great experience and met a lot of people," said Maloney. "As Amanda was running her businesses, she reached out to me with this concept and vision (for BIZZY). She presented the idea to me to come on board as the creative director and build the brand. And it has transpired from there."

Portillo, who is also the Executive Director of the Revere Chamber of Commerce, said BIZZY will primarily hold members-only events but at times will offer events open to the public.

"The Hive meetings are members-only, fun, networking get-togethers," said Portillo. "One of our members will be holding a mixology class. Not only are we providing a cool experience to our guests, but she gets to showcase her brand in her business. We'll be having a dinner party and wine-tasting event in mid-April and our monthly Hive meeting will be a brunch at Dryft."

Twenty-three businesswomen have joined BIZZY to-date, with the hope to grow membership into the hundreds. What makes BIZZY different than some other female networking organizations?

Lauren Maloney and Amanda Schepici-Portillo have launched BIZZY Women Social, with the first networking event scheduled for Thursday, March 24 at Mission on the Beach.

Said Portillo, "I have been in the entrepreneurial scene for the past four years and I've joined different networking organizations for women, and I felt there were two big things missing for me. There was the authenticity piece - everything felt structured, and you couldn't be your whole self, and the events weren't super fun. I just feel when people can be themselves and have conversations that go beyond business, you get to know on a humanistic level and that's going to open up doors. That's where real meaningful relationships form."

Maloney said BIZZY plans to hold events at small restaurants and businesses. The pre-launch event was held at Pazza on Porter, East Boston.

"We're here to support each other and bring up the small guy," said Maloney. "We're trying to build an experience completely different from anything that exists right now."

this legislation, Turco, Giannino and their colleagues held tough in the face of adversity and the Governor's veto was overridden thus securing free parking for Revere Beach. With the signs coming down today, the battle against paid parking on the beach has now reached its official conclusion.

"It is only right that parking should be free on Revere Beach, the first public beach in the United States of America," said Representative Jeffrey Rosario Turco (D-Winthrop). "This is our beach and it is now open for everybody, regardless of their economic status. The signage coming down marks the end of a long, difficult, but crucial fight to right an obvious wrong. Today is a great day for Revere."

"I am thrilled that signs are being removed and Revere Beach will once again be free to park at," said Representative Jessica Giannino (D-Revere).

"Revere Beach is America's first public beach. It is so important that it remains free and accessible as it always has been for families and locals to continue to enjoy for generations to come."

IRISH FLAG RAISING

By Marianne Salza

Armed Forces evacuated Boston during the Revolutionary War in 1776. Mayor Brian Arrigo reflected on the history of Irish Americans, who experienced discrimination and hardships when they arrived; and noted their accomplishments in politics, organized labor, literature, music, art, religion, and industry.

“The signs that we’ve all seen, ‘Irish need not apply,’ were plastered on business doors while Irish immigrants tried to make a better life for their families,” described Mayor Arrigo. “Through it all, they persevered.”

Mayor Arrigo explained the Irish flag’s symbolism: green represents independence, Republicanism, and Catholicism; orange signifies King William III’s Protestantism; and white denotes peace, uniting Catholics and Protestants.

“Our flag raising tradition here in the city has expanded over the last few years as a tribute to the wide ranging cultures that make our city a proud symbolism of inclusion, diversity, and community,” said Mayor Arrigo.

Father John Sheridan, Morning Star Catholic Collaborative, also presented words from St. Patrick’s breastplate to inspire the community to be welcoming and teach love.

SPRING IS IN THE AIR FOR ALL THE SENSES

This past Sunday marked the vernal equinox, also known as the beginning of astrological spring. It's one of the two days of the year -- the other being the fall equinox -- when day and night are roughly equal in length around the globe.

We would note that "meteorological spring" began March 1, the date used by meteorologists and climatologists to mark the beginning of the spring season.

However, to paraphrase Bob Dylan and Sam Cooke, we don't need a weatherman (or a calendar) to be aware that a change is coming. Our senses have alerted us for the past few weeks to the impending arrival of spring.

We can see the crocuses that have been emerging, providing a burst of color through the barren ground.

Every morning right around sunrise, we can hear the chorus of birds in the trees, loudly chirping and tweeting after their winter of silence.

On clear days, the sun feels warm and strong, especially if we are on the leeward side of a wall or other structure, protected from the still-chilly March wind.

And even in the city, there is an earthy smell we have known since childhood that instinctively informs our brains that there is a change in the seasons.

To be sure, Mother Nature most likely will have some wintry surprises left for us. This April 1 will mark the 25th anniversary of the April Fool's snowstorm of 1997 (we'll write about that next week).

But our senses have told us that Ol' Man Winter is done and spring is here.

WHAT WILL WE DO IF (WHEN) PUTIN USES A NUCLEAR WEAPON?

With the news that Putin's Russian army at best is facing a stalemate in Ukraine, the odds that Putin might use a so-called tactical nuclear weapon are increasing daily.

The thing about autocrats is this: Just when you think they've gone as far (or as low) as they can go, they cross a new threshold of evil.

We were both surprised and dismayed to read that Russia has nuclear weapons that only are about two percent as powerful as the atom bombs that the U.S. dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki in WWII.

Both the Soviet Union and the U.S. have long-maintained nuclear arsenals with hydrogen bombs that are 2000-3000 times more powerful than the first A-bombs, but we were not aware that both sides also have developed these mini-nukes.

Indeed, Putin can look at our use of the A-bombs in WWII as an example of how to force an opponent into submission. Japan only surrendered after we used the bombs. With the Ukrainians defiantly resolved to fight to the last person, the use of a small nuclear weapon might be the only option left to Putin to win his war.

So what if Putin were to drop a small nuke over say, Kyiv?

What will be the response of NATO and the U.S.?

The world as we know it is being threatened -- and thereby controlled -- by a sociopath.

The civilized world can impose all of the economic sanctions it wants upon a despot, but in the final analysis, nukes are what matter, which is why the No. Koreans are trying to get them.

We can only speculate about the future path that the war in Ukraine will take us.

We are entering a deep, dark cave with no light at the end of the tunnel.

Hopefully, that light, when it comes, will not be the flash of a nuclear bomb.

GUEST OP-ED

Utility bills, gasoline prices and Ukraine

By Dr. Glenn Mollette

Most of us simply want peace in our lives, nation and world. We enjoy resting in a warm or cool house, with something to eat, free from worry and stress. Peace is not always easy. This winter, chances are that your heating bill was chomping on your checking account and taking a huge bite out of your income. You may have turned your thermostat down and wore extra layers hoping to cut back on literally burning up your money.

People have reported gas and electric bills from $500 to over a $1,000 for one month of trying to stay comfortable in their homes.

While you are attempting to stay warm or cool, you are wondering if you can afford to start your car. Americans are seeing gas prices dance between $4.00 and over $6.00 for one gallon of gas. Filling up my old truck is pushing toward $150 at a time. When my wife goes to the grocery store the same staples seem cost more every time she goes.

The current inflation is not only expensive but is chipping away at our peace. Peace? It's hard to have peace if you go into cardiac arrest every time your utility bill arrives, you buy gasoline or go to the grocery store. If you are renting a place in America then you have a further burden as some Americans are paying over $2,000 a month to rent a house. If they can find one to rent.

Russia has destroyed Ukraine and has become a major player in driving up our cost of living. We were already experiencing inflation but the entire planet is reacting to what Russia is doing to Ukraine. Do you remember when we heard the news that Osama Bin Laden had been shot by one of our seal teams? When and how will the murderous rein of Vladimir Putin end? We must hope and pray for an end to this evil.

Unfortunately, the world is a difficult place for peace. The Bible assures us that in the last days there will be wars and rumors of wars. There will be pestilence, famine, and our hearts will fail us from fear. Thus, our peace must come from God who is greater than our problems. There is an internal strength and peace that comes when we focus our minds on Him. Currently millions of Ukrainians have nothing left but the shirts on their backs and whatever internal resolve and fortitude that is keeping them going.

Our peace in America is very unsettling but compare your situation to millions of Ukrainians today. Pray for them and let us all give thanks for what we have.

Arrigo, Veterans Services will host breakfast on Vietnam Veterans Day

By Cary Shuman

Mayor Brian Arrigo and the City of Revere Veterans Service Office under the direction of U.S. Army veteran Marc Silvestri will host a Vietnam Veterans Day Breakfast March 29 at 9 a.m. at the VFW Mot-tolo Post, 61 Lucia Ave.

The event marks the fifth annual observance of National Vietnam War Veterans Day that recognizes U.S. military veterans who served in the Vietnam War.

Donald Boudreau, a member of the Veterans Service Office staff, expects a large turnout at the breakfast.

"All veterans are welcomed to join us at the breakfast," said Boudreau. "I think it's a good thing to do. We appreciate our veterans' service to the country."

Councillor-at-Large Ira Novoselsky, past National Commander of the Jewish War Veterans, will attend the breakfast.

"I'm looking forward to being at the breakfast," said Novoselsky. "I'm pleased that Marc had made this an annual event. It's good to get our veterans together periodically."

State Reps. Jessica Giannino and Jeffrey Turco, and State Sen. Lydia Edwards and local officials have received invitations to the breakfast

"I am honored to join Mayor Arrigo and our VA Director Marc Silvestri at this breakfast to honor our Vietnam veterans," said Representative Giannino (D-Revere). "I once read that 'our Vietnam Veterans have taught us that no matter what our positions may be on policy, as Americans and patriots, we must support all of our soldiers with our thoughts and our prayers.'" area in the middle," said Barowsky. "This is of course open to everybody as a park and a plaza with retail and outdoor seating. This plaza is really to welcome the community."

Barowsky added that the ground floor retail in the first phase will consist of local and regional retailers and restaurants.

"We will not be doing any 'big-box' stores on the site," he said. "We are already adjacent to a Super Stop & Shop and a Target."

Lastly, an outdoor performance theater being built as part of Phase One will double as a stormwater detention basin.

"This is something that would be built towards the end of our initial phase," said Barowsky. "Again, this will be open to all and we think it's a great public amenity."

sarily a media person — in Egypt I earned an undergraduate certification to teach English to other second-language learners, not a degree in media.”

Besides Arabic speakers, there are Portuguese speakers from Brazil, speakers of Southeast Asian languages from Cambodia and Vietnam, and Spanish speakers from El Salvador and Colombia. If the neighbors of a Cambodian or Brazilian family do not understand the Spanish or Arabic of their Salvadoran or Moroccan neighbors, they will need their own translations from English.

Although she does work largely in response to the needs of her fellow Arabic-speaking community members, Abou-Fouda is proud of the other immigrant communities of Revere. “It is a very interesting community,” she said. “I have Latin-American friends at work in City Hall, one Peruvian and one Mexican. When the pandemic isn’t making us work remotely, we go out to lunch once a week — one week at a Latin-American restaurant, the next at an Arabic restaurant.”

Due in part to the developmental disabilities of twin sons born to her and her accountant husband in 2015, Abou-Fouda found her way into the mayor’s Commission for Disabilities, as well. In this position, she is responsible for proactively identifying specific needs of the community for such things as ramps and Braille signs in public spaces and for answering requests for such infrastructural help, including those from the significant elderly population.

When her 19-year-old daughter, a health science major and American Sign Language minor at Northeastern University, came home with a story about helping a deaf patient find the proper resource es at a local workplace, Abou-Fouda began to advocate for all official public materials from Revere City Hall to be additionally relayed in American Sign Language.

“I hadn’t thought of that community before,” she noted.

Despite all this, Abou-Fouda also finds time on weekends for an extra-special project. At the American Muslim Center in nearby Everett, she runs a school that offers Arabic language learning, specifically the reading and writing skills they might not receive at home, to children ages four through 17.

“We offer seven classes every Saturday and seven every Sunday and have a total of 150 students,” she said. “I am the principal of this school — so I work on the weekend with the community that I serve during the week. It is important for the children to learn the spoken language of their culture, but also to learn the written language of the Quran, a central part of that culture.”

In the Health, Community and Engagement Department, Abou-Fouda serves as the local “network leader” for the Revere office of Union Capital Boston, a non-profit dedicated to providing access to financial, medical and residential services to under-represented neighborhoods — a collaboration that also cooperates with Revere CARES, which discourages substance abuse and promotes healthy habits.

Her active engagement in civic affairs led Abou-Fouda’s City Hall boss to recommend her for the board leadership training program for Neighborhood Developers, a non-profit community development corporation with headquarters in the nearby town of Chelsea.

“We had a guest presentation by a female city councilor from Revere who told us about her experience on that council and encouraged us to run for a seat,” she said. “I learned a lot about public life from that kind of thing and loved the community-building part too.”

Having earned her certificate Abou-Fouda, who truly symbolizes the extraordinary work ethic of so many immigrants, is now planning to add to this further dimension to her civic and community engagement, and says, “I couldn’t be happier.”

Pro, Inc. d/b/a Billy Tse’s, Jin Fang Wang, Manager, for an alteration of premises to add a sushi bar in the licensed premises.

Mr. Wang presented the details of the application. He said there will be a separate sushi bar in the front of his present establishment. He also presented the new menu to the commissioners.

The commissioners had no questions, though Guinasso noted that there is an issue about parking in the neighborhood. However, Wang informed the commission that the nearby Tufts Health facility will allow parking for his customers on weekends, which Guinasso said will be welcome news for the neighbors.

The commission approved the application unanimously.

Item #7:
Hang Thai Pham, d/b/a Seas the Day, 320 Revere Beach Boulevard, Dinh Pham, Manager:

Application for a Common Victualler and Entertainment License: Application of Hang Thai Pham d/b/a Seas the Day, 320 Revere Beach Boulevard, Dinh Pham, Manager, for a Common Victualler and Entertainment license to be exercised at the same location. Requested seating is 72 inside, 32 outside, requested hours are Sunday – Saturday 7 a.m. – 11 p.m., and requested entertainment is Widescreen Cable TV and Radio.

The commission was informed that there will be soft music, not loud music, and that the opening hours in the morning are meant to accommodate senior citizens who might like to get breakfast at a low cost.

In response to a question from Guinasso, the commission was informed that seafood and Asian food will be the focus of the restaurant for lunch and dinner.

Ocean inquired about the entertainment and was informed that there will be only soft music and no live music.

There were no proponents, but a resident of Revere Beach Blvd. said he was opposed to the amount of outside seating. He said that as a disabled person who occasionally uses a wheelchair, outside seating makes it difficult to use the sidewalk. He said that he had tripped outside of an establishment on Revere Beach

Blvd., which had taken all of the sidewalk, and had broken his jaw.

“It’s outrageous that people can take over the public sidewalk,” he said.

However, Guinasso said that the issue of using the sidewalk is not within the commission’s purview. She said that it is up to the Dept. of Conservation and Recreation (DCR) to allow businesses whether to use the sidewalk and that it is her understanding that there must be a four-foot wide pathway to allow for pedestrian access.

Selevitch noted that the diagram presented to the board with the petition indicated that the applicant will not infringe upon the four-foot buffer zone.

In addition, Revere Deputy Fire Chief Paul Cheever spoke to the commission and said that his department will be looking at the issue and will take the necessary steps with DCR to ensure that all of the businesses on the boulevard comply with the four-foot requirement.

The commission approved the application unanimously, though with the stipulation that if there are complaints about the outdoor seating encroaching on the public sidewalk, the commission will revisit the issue.

Item #8:
Boston Renegades, Harry Della Russo Stadium, Park Avenue, Benjamin Brown, Event Manager:

Application for (5) 1-day Malt/Wine Licenses and a Mobile Food Vendor Special Event License: Application of Boston Renegades for five 1-day licenses to serve malt/wine beverages at Harry Della Russo Stadium and host a mobile food vendor on five separate Saturdays, as follows: 1) Saturday, April 30, 2022; 2) Saturday, May 7, 2022; 3) Saturday, May 21, 2022; 2) Saturday, June 11, 2022; 3) Saturday, June 25, 2022. Requested hours for each event shall be from 5 p.m. – 7:30 p.m. Events are professional women’s tackle football games. (Continued from last meeting)

This matter initially came up at the commission’s February meeting, but action was postponed until the March meeting.

Mr. Brown, the general manager of the Renegades, presented the application. He told the commission that the Renegades have used Harry Della Russo

(HDR) Stadium as their home field for the past five years and that a license to serve beer, wine, and food had been approved last year by the commission.

He noted that the Renegades have been national champions for the past three seasons and never have lost a game at HDR.

He said up to 1000 fans attend the team’s games and that it is an adult league. He also said that alcohol is not served after the end of the third quarter.

“This is a family-friendly atmosphere and we would like to have the opportunity to serve food and alcoholic beverages (beer and wine) for our fans,” said Brown.

“I’m excited to see you once again this season,” said Occena, who noted that he is a youth football coach.

There were no opponents and the board approved the application unanimously.

Item #9:

LaFauci d/b/a Brothers Auto Body, for a Class 2 Motor Vehicle Dealer License, said license to be exercised at 16 Naples Road. (Continued from last meeting.)

This matter once again was continued at the request of the applicant.

Item #10:
MHF Logan Operating V, LLC d/b/a Hampton Inn Revere 230 Lee Burbank Highway Corey Casano, Manager:

Hearing: Hearing into multiple fire safety violations and violations of conditions of parking lot license.

Atty. James Cipoletta appeared on behalf of the licensee, along with Sam Sudah, the new general manager of the hotel.

Cipoletta said that the company has engaged a firm, VPNE, which specializes in parking issues for hospitals and hotels, that will be on-site for two months and that will analyze the situation and inform the hotel of what steps need to be taken to be in compliance with the law.

Deputy Fire Chief Paul Cheever told the commission that there have been seven notices of violations issued to the company since December of 2019, but the issue still has not been addressed.

He said that egresses have been blocked and that large trucks, in addition to regular passenger vehicles with out-of-state plates, have been blocking the fire lanes. He also said that the Park and Fly vehicles have blocked the access to the hotel to such an extent that hotel guests are unable to park on the premises and that a recent ambulance call resulted in the ambulance having to park on the highway, rather than being able to pull up to the hotel entrance.

He also asserted that vehicles with out-of-state plates are parking at various other locations throughout the city.

In response to a question from Guinasso, it was noted that 375 cars are allowed to park on the premises, which are allocated among a Park and Fly operation that is run by the hotel, parking for the hotel’s guests, and a separate car rental company that leases parking spaces from the hotel.

Sudah, who took over as the new general manager of the hotel three months ago, said he is aware of the problem and is addressing the issue immediately with the help of the parking specialist company.

“This is alarming to me that this is happening, Something has to be done,” said Guinasso, who suggested that offending vehicles be ticketed and towed.

“It seems to me that there is a deliberate inaction by the management,” said Occena. “The song and dance that is happening today is not acceptable. Something severe or dire is going to happen and something has to be done.”

Jim Marcotte, who operates Select Parking, which leases space in the parking lot from the hotel for his rental vehicles, then spoke to the commission, stating that the problem stems from a nearby vehicle rental company that is referring overflow vehicles to the lot. He also said that contactless car rental companies also are using the lot without permission.

“There is no doubt this is a hazard,” said Marcotte, who has reduced the number of cars he rents from 194 to 100 and who further stated that his company has no relationship with the Park and Fly business that is operated by the hotel.

Marcotte also assured the commission that none of the cars he rents will be in the fire lanes and that the parking logistics company being hired, VPNE, will take care of the problem of unauthorized vehicles parking on the premises.

After hearing some additional comments from Cheever, Sudah, and Cipoletta, the commission voted to continue the matter for a period of 60 days to review the matter based on the report from VPNE.

“If we have to hear about this again, I will be in favor of a lengthy suspension,” warned Guinasso.

First Congregational Church food pantry hits the pavement for Project Bread’s 54th annual Walk for Hunger

Staff Report

On May 1, staff, volunteers, congregants and community members of the First Congregational Church of Revere will be among thousands of virtual participants to lace up for Project Bread’s 54th annual Walk for Hunger. For the 3rd consecutive year, the Revere-based nonprofit will participate in the event through The Commonwealth Program which gives 60 percent of all funds raised by teams from likeminded organizations and agencies back to support their own hunger relief programs, with the remaining 40 percent applied to the statewide anti-hunger effort. To date, Project Bread has awarded more than $13,000 in grants to the First Congregational Church of Revere Food Pantry through the Commonwealth Program.

Historically, the Walk for Hunger, the nation’s oldest continual pledge walk, takes place the first Sunday of May on the Boston Common. The 2022 fundraiser will be the third event to be done virtually and is expected to raise more than $1 million to support Project Bread’s work to increase food access for people of all ages in Massachusetts.

“Currently, 1 in 5 Massachusetts households with children is struggling without enough to eat and that number jumps dramatically for Black, brown, and immigrant households,” says Erin McAleer, Project Bread CEO. “Participating in the Walk for Hunger is one way in which residents can take action to fund school and community meal sites and Massachusetts’ only statewide hotline that connects residents with a range of food resources, including SNAP assistance. We can drive community change together.”

Money raised through the Walk is funding Project Bread’s work to ensure kids have reliable access to food, directly helping individuals and families, and advocating at the state and federal levels for expedited and efficient relief for those in need. Walk funds are also supporting community organizations, like the First Congregational Church of Revere Food Pantry, that are helping residents to access food now and grants to ensure communities have the resources necessary to sustain and grow local anti-hunger programs. In 2021, 28 nonprofits participated in The Commonwealth Program and raised more than $165,000 to support their own work.

Founded in 1983, the First Congregational Church of Revere Food Pantry serves as an emergency food provider for food insecure families in the community. Pre-pandemic, the nonprofit served approximately 60 to 80 families per week, distributing 6,000 to 8,000 lbs. of food per month provided by the Greater Boston Food Bank. Today, the food pantry serves an estimated 350 to 400 families weekly, offering 60,000 to 70,000 lbs. of food monthly. The need has never been greater as families continue to struggle with job security and the rising costs of living, food, gas and home heating. The team has a long history of participating in the Walk for Hunger even before the Commonwealth Program launched in 2020. This year, the team, which is actively accepting community members to join, aims to raise $2,000 to help fund the purchase of food and other supplies to keep the pantry running.

“Project Bread has been a longtime partner of ours and of the City of Revere to help provide food to residents of all ages, through school meals, the Summer Eats program and our pantry,” says Wendy Baur, Director of the First Congregational Church of Revere Food Pantry, who for years volunteered at the registration table for the event when it was held in-person on the Boston Common. “Participating in the event is one way to help our neighbors in need. You never know who is struggling in our community. You can help by joining our Walk team.”

This year’s event will include virtual programming with McAleer, elected officials, as well as walkers and volunteers posting and sharing their experiences along their neighborhood routes and why they are walking to help end hunger. Families with kids, individuals and teams of corporate employees are encouraged to find creative ways to connect virtually and fundraise together.

To register for the event and create a personal or team fundraising page for The Walk for Hunger or to make a donation, visit projectbread.org/walk or call (617) 723-5000. There is no registration fee or fundraising minimum to participate. Participants who raise $500 or more are recognized as Heart & Sole walkers, and receive access to personalized fundraising support, exclusive event gear, and invitations to events.

People experiencing food insecurity should call into Project Bread’s toll-free FoodSource Hotline (1-800-645-8333), which provides confidential assistance to connect with food resources, including SNAP benefits, in 180 languages and for the hearing impaired. For more information, visit: www.projectbread.org/get-help.

Project Bread is the leading statewide anti-hunger organization in Massachusetts. Beginning in 1969 with the first Walk for Hunger, the nonprofit focuses on driving systemic change to ensure people of all ages have reliable access to healthy food. Project Bread works collaboratively across sectors to create innovative solutions to end hunger and improve lives across the Commonwealth. For more information, visit: www.projectbread.org.

The First Congregational Church of Revere Food Pantry is an emergency food provider for food insecure families in our community. Located at The Revere Food Hub at 200 Winthrop Ave., the pantry is open every Wednesday night from 6:15 to 8:00 p.m. Clients may pick up food twice a month. Clients arriving by car drive up, no street parking is allowed. Only one member per household can register. For more information, visit: www.firstcongrevere.org/food-pantry.

CITY PAWS

Garden Planning with Pets in Mind

By Penny & Ed Cherubino

“More than 20 million novice gardeners picked up a trowel for the first time swelling the ranks of American gardeners to more than 63 million according to Bonnie Plants CEO Mike Sutterer,” so reported Pat Munts recently in Spokane, Washington’s The Spokesman-Review.

Some of these are the same folks who added companion animals to their lives. Since this is the time of year when gardeners, new and old, begin to work on their plots and plans, we wanted to share some essential considerations on pet-friendly gardens.

Safety First

Insecticides, herbicides, weed killers, antifungals, and other garden chemicals are not the only pet dangers in a garden. For those, read the “Material Safety Data Sheets” available with each and decide what you find safe to use around your pets. Use care in storing these products in a pet-proof manner. Watch for mushrooms that grow in wood mulches. Those may be harmful.

Warnings from ER Veterinarians

Veterinarians in ER practices see dangers in a garden that most of us would never consider. Naturally, they will warn you about plants that are poisonous to animals. Some are more dangerous than others but choosing plant material with your animals in mind can help you avoid a mildly sick pup or a trip to the emergency room.

The ASPCA’s website has a list of plants that are toxic to dogs and cats. It includes some photos if you don’t know the name of a plant that you might have inherited. Even those of us who don’t garden may want to visit the site because we’ve spotted toxic flora along the edge of sidewalks and poking through garden fences.

These doctors also see dogs with scratches on their cornea from rose bushes, who have cut a paw on lawn edging, swallowed wood chips or rocks used as garden decor, or have ingested “cocoa mulch” made from cocoa bean shells and potentially dangerous to your pets.

We suggest that you pet-proof your garden with a dog or cat view inspection. While down low tending your plants, look around carefully and see what is going on at the four-paw level. Walk barefoot in the space to feel what might hurt or even cut a paw. Consider what your dog or cat can reach at full stretch.

Garden Training

How safe a particular dog is in a garden depends on the age, breed, temperament, and how well-trained that pup happens to be. Like all other aspects of life with dogs, training your companion to be a polite garden visitor will take some effort.

Small breeds are designed to be human companions, these guys are normally easy on a garden. But, dogs with high energy, strong instincts to dig, guard, or hunt need careful monitoring and correction.

Indoors Too!

The other day, we watched our Westie Poppy doing her best to reach the herbs we grow in a hydroponic planter. She used a step stool kept handy to work on the plants in the back and could almost reach the mint trailing over the edge.

That mint wouldn’t have hurt her, but there are plants that, while safe for humans, could be dangerous for her. Keep any questionable plants out of reach. Remain alert. Leaves can fall, plant food can spill, the gardener could be a bit careless, and your dog or cat might be sickened by a plant despite your best efforts to keep the two apart.

MCU CEO meets with Mayor Arrigo to discuss new 40-year mortgage

Staff Report

Metro Credit Union, Massachusetts’ largest state-chartered credit union, is hosting meetings this month with city officials to discuss benefits of their new 40-year mortgage. Metro recently added the 40-year mortgage to its product lineup, which includes options for jumbo loans and bi-weekly payments.

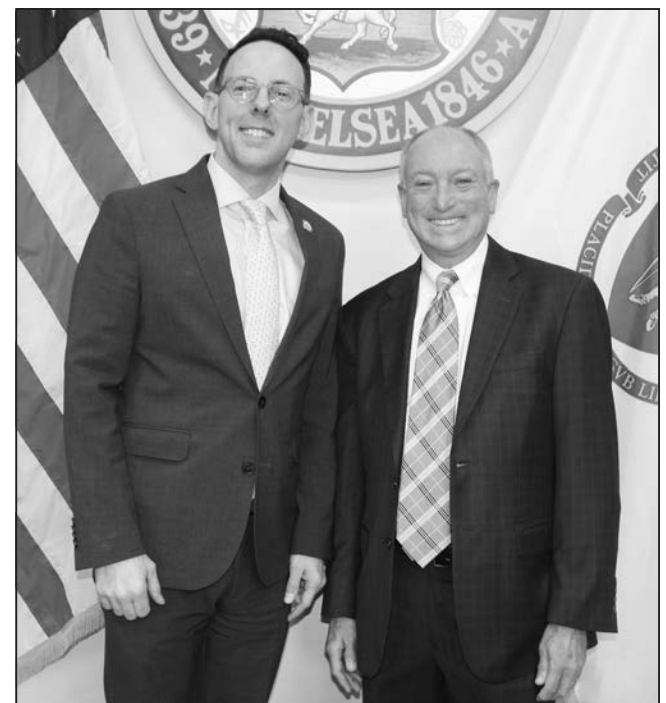

Robert Cashman, Metro Credit Union’s Chief Executive Officer, met with Brian Arrigo, Mayor of Revere, at Revere City Hall this week to discuss the new offering. The 40-year mortgage will make becoming a homeowner a reality for more individuals, including first-time homebuyers who are having difficulty getting into the market.

“Revere residents will be eager to hear about how Metro’s new 40-year mortgage can open up new possibilities in homeownership” said Robert Cashman, CEO and President of Metro Credit Union. “The 40-year mortgage term provides another way to make homeownership a reality, beyond traditional mortgage terms.”

Extending the mortgage term to 40 years results in a lower monthly mortgage payment, offering housing affordability for many who are currently priced out of the market, or those having difficulty refinancing an existing loan. Cashman and Arrigo seek to spread the word about the 40-year mortgage to improve housing affordability for Revere residents.

“We are grateful for local businesses who explore innovative programs to benefit our residences, particularly when it comes to homeownership and household assistance” said Brian Arrigo, Mayor of Revere. “Revere residents will have greater access to the equity that homeownership can provide through this new 40-year mortgage offered by Metro Credit Union, and I thank them for their continued support and partnership.”

A BENCH SPARK

Anthony D'Itria helps fuel St. Mary's run to state title

By Cary Shuman

When St. Mary's High School boys basketball coach David Brown needed a lift off the bench in an MIAA Elite 8 matchup versus Dover Sherborn, he called on his super sixth man, Anthony D'Itria.

Known for his accurate outside shooting, D'Itria lit up the board for four three-pointers, including a third-quarter buzzer beater, and 14 points overall as St. Mary's motored to a 64-48 victory.

D'Itria continued his stellar play in the role that John Havlicek made famous as the 6-foot guard from Revere helped St. Mary's defeat Norton (87-49) and Watertown (71-40) in the Final Four and claim the Division 3 state championship.

D'Itria title-winning contributions marked a special journey for Anthony's father, Mike D'Itria, who is an assistant coach of the St. Mary's team and had worked with Anthony on developing his game since he was in fourth grade and p.

Brown said D'Itria presence on the court is all-encompassing.

"Anthony knocked down some big 3s in the tournament," said Brown. "He's always been a great shooter and a tough defender. Over the last year-and-a-half, he's grown four or five inches in height, and now he's one of our better rebounders, and he does a great job at the defensive end."

D'Itria considers the crucial effort against Dover Sherborn as one of his best games of the season.

"We needed a spark off the bench to help get us going and I did the best I could to supply that," said D'Itria.

Hard work in off-season paid off

Like with all high school basketball players, the 2020-21 season was a challenging one due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

"I put in the work in the off-season just to have a set role on this year's team, and I luckily found that in the sixth-man spot," said D'Itria. He began playing AAU basketball for the North Shore Ballers with his current teammate, David Brown Jr., an All-Scholastic guard, in fifth grade. That team was coached by St. Mary's head coach David Brown Sr. and won a pair of state championships.

A dazzling dribbler, D'Itria has always possessed a great shooting touch from medium to long-range distances.

"The three-point shot is what I rely on, probably too much sometimes, but I've worked in the off-season on my handles, my jumping, just being more explosive toward the rim, and my playmaking, getting to the rim and seeing my teammates for open shots," said D'Itria.

His leaping ability has steadily improved, notably in track and field where he has a personal best in the high jump of 6 feet, earning him a Catholic Central League individual championship.

"I can dunk, but I haven't done it in a game yet," said D'Itria.

He credits Coach David Brown for helping become a better all-around basketball player.

"I've had the opportunity to play basketball for Mr. Brown for quite a while now," said D'Itria. "As the years have gone by, you're just able to see how good of a coach he is. His wins show it, his state championships. He's tough on you sometimes, but that's because he cares, and he wants the best for us."

D'Itria has also benefited from watching his sister, Nicolette D'Itria, excel for the St. Mary's High School girls basketball program. A Catholic Central League All-Star and Herald All-Scholastic, Nicolette just completed her freshman season for the UMass Dartmouth women's basketball program.

"As much I don't like to admit it, I do look up to her when it came to basketball," said Anthony. "Her dedication to the game, always putting in the work, battling hard at all times – so her effort, determination and now playing at the college level – I have to say I really do look up to her for that."

As for his parents, Mike D'Itria and Tami D'Itria, Anthony said, "I'm grateful for their support. My dad, especially, when it comes to sports and basketball, he has always stayed on top me, making sure I could be the best I could be – waking me up to go to the workouts, staying late in the gym to work on my shooting. Just him allowing me to do that, it means a lot because some kids aren't able to have that."

Said Mr. D'Itria about the state championship season in which St. Mary's had an amazing 28-1 record, "I'm very proud of my son and I'm very happy for him. We've been waiting for this day since we decided to go there."

A starting role in search of a repeat

Anthony D'Itria is being projected as a starting guard for the Spartans next season as they look to repeat as state champions. It is likely he will join All-Scholastic David Brown Jr. in the Spartans' backcourt.

St. Mary's High School junior Anthony D'Itria and his father, assistant coach Mike D'Itria proudly hold the Division 3 state championship trophy following the Spartans' 71-40 victory over Watertown Friday at Tsongas Center in Lowell.

"Anthony should definitely be stepping in as a starter," said Brown. "He played a lot of minutes this season and excelled in late-game, crucial situations. I look forward to Anthony being a major contributor to our program again next season."

With three starters back, along with Anthony D'Itria and 6-foot-4 inch forward Nick Sacco in the fold, the Spartans should be the favorite to repeat as champions in 2023.

Revere football star Elkaouakibi is heading to Stonehill College

By Cary Shuman

Elmahdi Elkaouakibi will leave the Revere High School football program as one of its best linemen ever – and one of its most unheralded stars.

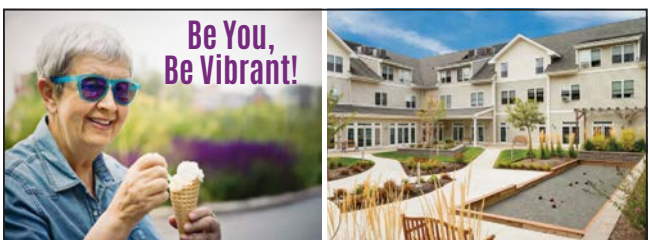

Revere High football, like all athletic programs, was denied a regular football season in 2020 due to the pandemic. There was an abbreviated spring season, and no traditional Thanksgiving game against Winthrop was held.

And after Elkaouakibi and Company, led by head coach Lou Cicatelli, posted a 6-2 record in 2021 and finished a strong second to Everett in the Greater Boston League, there was no playoff berth due to the controversial new playoff ranking system. To their credit, Elkaouakibi and the Patriots regrouped and defeated Winthrop, 16-13, in a classic at Della Russo Stadium to finish an outstanding 8-2 season.

Monday at the Roland Ferullo Fieldhouse, Elkaouakibi signed his national letter of intent to attend Stonehill College where the big and talented, 6-foot, 4-inch, 315-pound athlete will be continuing his football career.

Coach Lou Cicatelli, Athletic Director Frank Shea, and Elmahdi's teammates were on hand and personally congratulated Elkaouakibi on his honor of receiving a college scholarship. Shea organized another special ceremony for the occasion, bringing pride to an athletic program that has soared under his leadership.

"This accomplishment couldn't have happened to a better family or a nicer kid," praised Lou Cicatelli. "He was a great captain and leader for our team. We ran a lot of plays behind him on offense. For a big guy, he can really move well, and I think that's what impressed college football coaches. Elmahdi will do very well at Stonehill. It's an excellent Division 2 college football program. Any time Revere High can send a player onto college football, it's a win-win for the athlete, the coaches – it's great stuff."

Elkaouakibi was joined at the signing table by his proud parents, Karim Elkaouakibi and Fadila Hassouni, and his sister, Reem Elkaouakibi. The family is of Moroccan descent.

"I came to the United States back in 1999 when I was 20 years old," said Karim. "I'm proud of my son. He put a lot of hard work in to get to this stage. He was really serious about being a football player. I was backing him up 100 percent in his goals and he knew that. His coaches, his friends, his teammates, and the whole school all played a role in his success. They were pushing him and helping him to choose the best road. They were a team on the field and off the field."

"I wish him good luck in college," said his mother, Fadila.

Reem, a sixth grade student at the Garfield School, added, "I'm really proud of my brother."

Selecting Stonehill
A very good student, Elkaouakibi had several options for college including Valparaiso University, Pace, Long Beach State, Fitchburg State, and Framingham, but he ultimately chose Stonehill which is located in North Easton.

"I picked Stonehill because they offered me a great opportunity," said Elkaouakibi. "They showed a lot of interest when I visited the campus. The coaches are amazing people. They were very welcoming. The school is also close to home and it feels like home."

Elkaouakibi is projected as an offensive lineman at the college level. "Hopefully, I will be a starting offensive lineman – that's the dream. But anyplace on the field is fine with me."

At Revere High, Elkaouakibi was a three-year starter at left offensive tackle and also played defensive tackle as a senior. He was named as a Greater Boston League All-Star.

Elkaouakibi said he made his debut in organized sports as a football player at Revere High. "I had never played football before high school," said Elkaouakibi, who attended the Lincoln School and Rumney Marsh Academy. "The school system has done a lot for me, and I appreciate everything all my teachers have done for me. My favorite teacher is my physics teacher, Josh Miranda."

As for playing football for Coach Lou Cicatelli and his staff, Elmahdi said, "It was an amazing experience, and that's why I want to play football in college."

Elkaouakibi was hoping for a playoff berth for Revere last fall. "It was my dream to play in the playoffs, but it was still a great season with one of the best records in school history, and no matter what, I cherished every moment playing for Revere High," said Elkaouakibi. "And beating Winthrop was my favorite moment of the year."

MBTA to close Blue Line from Airport to Government Center stations next month

By John Lynds

At a community meeting MBTA's Adam Kamoun announced some bad news for commuters. At the meeting Kamoun said the MBTA will be closing down the Blue Line for nearly two weeks between Airport and Government Center from Saturday, April 2 to Thursday, April 14 for harbor tunnel repair work. "The bad news is we do have to divert the Blue Line from April 2 through April 14," said Kamoun. "The MBTA at this time is replacing 1800 feet of track but the good news is this work is going to make the tunnel a lot more resilient and less prone to some of the concerns that we're hearing from folks from the environmental community. This work will also make our service just a little more reliable in the future." Kamoun said part of the work includes a lot of tunnel inspection, tunnel lighting repair, fiber optic cable installation, removing abandoned cable that exists in the tunnel. "We are also performing signal repairs, which is a major source of issues on the Blue Line when there are so-called "blind delays", said Kamoun. "We're also investigating some of the drainage issues that we have in the tunnel—especially because it goes under the harbor." Kamoun said Eastie commuters will have to use shuttle buses from Airport to Bowdoin but the buses will stop at Maverick, Aquarium, State Street and Government Center. "So during this time, we'll be bussing folks from Airport station to Bowdoin," said Kamoun.

"So you'll have regular train service from Airport to Wonderland in Revere. The one caveat I'll add is that we're proposing a new busing route. So normally what we do is pick folks up on Maverick Street, we go down Chelsea Street, and then loop around to get to Airport station. We heard from the neighborhood that there were a lot of concerns about congestion on the streets, especially in the morning." Kamoun said the MBTA is proposing a new route for the shuttle bus that takes a right and goes down Porter Street and then uses the Massport gate on Porter and Cottage Streets. This gate, when open, gives access along Masport property all the way to Airport station without using neighborhood streets. "This would actually save the bus a significant amount of time and allow the MBTA to use less buses, which means a lot less emissions from running these buses from Airport to Boston," he said. Kamoun said express shuttles will be servicing Airport, Aquarium, State (drop off only) and Government Center. Local shuttles will service Airport, Maverick, Aquarium, State (drop off only) and Government Center.

Centro Presente and Lawyers for Civil Rights file request for AG and DPH to investigate EBNHC

By John Lynds

Last Wednesday Centro Presente and Lawyers for Civil Rights (LCR) sent a letter formally requesting that the Massachusetts Attorney General and the Department of Public Health jointly investigate the medical care provided by the East Boston Neighborhood Health Center (EBNHC).

In the request, Centro Presente and LCR said they have received several complaints and some EBNHC patients are arguing, "discriminatory medical treatment of immigrants, particularly women and patients on MassHealth insurance".

The request includes detailed reports of what Centro Presente and LCR said amount to substandard care at EBNHC. The formal request for an investigation asks the two state agencies to determine if EBNHC is in compliance with civil rights and public health laws.

In the filing Centro Presente and LCR report numerous incidents in which immigrant patients of EBNHC have complained of substandard care — including failure to perform tests or lab work and misdiagnosis — that has resulted in worsened medical conditions, prolonged hospital stays, late diagnoses of cancer, and even death.

Citing evidence that this substandard care falls particularly harshly on immigrants, women, and those on MassHealth, the request urges that a State investigation be opened immediately and deliberately and intentionally conducted through the lens of civil rights laws.

"Patients and their families have repeatedly reported substandard, discriminatory treatment at EBNHC, resulting in misdiagnosis, worsened health conditions, and even death," said Patricia Montes, Executive Director of Centro Presente. "The community has identified the problem and is now prepared to address it head on through legal action."

Some of the allegations made by patients of EBNHC and highlighted in the formal request include:

A Honduran immigrant woman on MassHealth, brought her infant child to EBNHC for medical care, only to be sent home. The following day, her baby's condition worsened, and she brought him back to EBNHC. This time, staff called for an ambulance to rush him to a hospital, but it was too late. Tragically, the baby died en route to the emergency room.

A Salvadoran immigrant woman took her two-year-old son to EBNHC because she found a bump on his penis. The nurse examined the child, and they were sent home. Approximately a week later, the child's condition worsened. The mother brought him to the emergency room at Boston Medical Center where doctors explained to her that the infection her child had was advanced and should have been diagnosed and treated much earlier.

A woman of Salvadoran descent on MassHealth, went to EBNHC because she had chest pain, fatigue, and heart palpitations. An EKG was run, and a doctor deemed the results to be normal. The doctor told the patient that she had an irritation in her lungs and prescribed ibuprofen. The patient's symptoms worsened, so she sought treatment elsewhere, where she was diagnosed with stage three lung cancer.

"State law forbids healthcare providers from discriminating on the basis of race, national origin, sex, or MassHealth in-insurance status," said Iván Espinoza-Madrigan, Executive Director of LCR. "That is why it is vital that this investigation be conducted jointly by the Attorney General's Office and the Department of Public Health."

EBNHC serves more than 120,000 patients each year, of which more than 70,000 identify as Latino. More than 65 percent of the Health Center's office visits are with patients whose primary language is Spanish and EBNHC had more than 400,000 patient visits last year.

"East Boston Neighborhood Health Center exists specifically to serve East Boston and many surrounding communities, and our staff is largely made up of people who live and have families in our service areas," said EBNHC in a statement. "We take this allegation very seriously. We have proactively reached out to the Attorney General's Office to invite a review of any allegation. We also welcome the opportunity to hear from any of our patients regarding their experiences with our organization, which can be done through our website or by calling us directly. Every patient is a member of our extended family, and we will navigate this together with urgency and compassion."

The Health Center added that as part of its strategic efforts to listen to patient voices EBNHC will be launching a Patient Advocate Office, a process that was started more than six months ago.

Additionally, EBNHC has proactively made numerous investments in cultural competency, including offering advanced levels of cultural awareness training for medical staff as well as new diversity training for medical providers.

Sixth annual Moroccan Festival to be held in Revere

Staff Report

Moroccan American Connections in Revere (MACIR) will host the sixth annual Moroccan Festival on Saturday, June 25th, from 1pm to 8pm at the Whelan Elementary School (107 Newhall St, Revere, MA).

The event will highlight the culture and history of the city's Moroccan community, currently estimated to be at least 10% of the city's population. The event is free and open to the public.

"The success of last year's event will allow us to attract bigger sponsors to make this year's event surpass the ones before. As a matter of fact, we will be raffling a free round-trip ticket to Morocco, and other surprises will be announced soon," Salwa Gardaf, the Moroccan Festival Director, said.

This celebration of Moroccan culture will feature Moroccan food, live music, henna tattoo art, and local Moroccan vendors. Special guests include Mayor Brian Arrigo, Revere city officials, and a number of Moroccan officials and celebrities. The best exhibitor at the festival will be named the 2021 Honorary Ambassador of Morocco to the City of Revere.

"It is true that MACIR runs the show, but this is a collective work of all city entities, including the Mayor's Office, the Rec Department, City Council, Police Department, Fire Department, Revere Public Schools, and DPW - without forgetting community leaders, who are truly committed to promoting diversity, inclusion and equity in the city of

MGC says new project is not within its purview

By Stephen Quigley

The development project opposite the Encore casino on Lower Broadway (Everett) cleared a major hurdle on March 14 when the Massachusetts Gaming Commission (MGC) voted that the new project does not need to be physically regulated by the MGC, but rather have several conditions added to the Gambling License that will address the commissioners' concerns.

The several conditions that will be added to the license will be as follows:

- 1) The number of seats that can be installed at one time for "live entertainment."
- 2) Radius restrictions so that the same entertainer can perform elsewhere in the area.
- 3) That the new development must follow the guidelines and rules of the Massachusetts Environmental Protection Agency.
- 4) There must be a security plan for the new garage at the development, as well as for the present garage under the gambling establishment. The commissioners want to make sure that children are not left unattended in parked cars while their guardians are on the gambling floor of the casino.

5) Any future development proposed for the lower Broadway District Urban Renewal Plan that could be construed to be part of the gambling establishment would then need to be addressed by the MGC.

6) The employees at the garage, entertainment buildings, hotels, and restaurants of the new development are not subject to the MGC oversight. Likewise, these new employees cannot be on the gaming floor except as visitors.

7) The last concern centered on the pedestrian bridge that will span the six-lane highway. The commissioners wanted full architectural plans submitted within 90 days of an application. They were concerned about the egress from the bridge as it neared the Encore buildings. This egress must be included in the final plans before construction can get underway. In addition, the security plans for the bridge must include checkpoints and surveillance cameras.

These concerns were first aired at the public hearing on February 28 and then discussed at the MGC meeting on March 10.

There was debate among the commissioners whether to wait to vote until a fully-written copy of conditions can be added to the Encore Gambling License. However, all commissioners eventually agreed that there was ample evidence in the notes and recordings to show the intentions of the commissioners and their wishes.

Jacqui Krum, who represents Encore, noted that all of the conditions that were discussed were "agreeable" to the company.

The final vote was 4-0.

Hordes of State Police investigators conducted a sudden raid on the B&B Cyber Café – otherwise known as a loophole casino – Tuesday afternoon in what became a startling scene within the Mahoney Circle strip mall. State Police and investigators stormed into the establishment and demanded everyone stop what they were doing, according to customers who were inside the café. The cyber café operates under a loophole in the law that allows gaming through a sweepstakes – much like the phone card machines that inundate the City. Participants can legally purchase time on the computer at B&B and then they are able to play a sweepstakes for money. While many attempts have been made by state government to shut down such operations, nothing has stuck yet and the practice appears to be legal.

Those living next to billboards have never liked being under their shadow, but until now, no one has ever been able to put a figure on just what that shadow costs a homeowner. A study of the impacts of billboards on property values – released this past December by a Philadelphia researcher – is now being used in the local fight against billboard expansion, and its results show a meaningful loss in value for those close to outdoor advertising displays. The “Philadelphia Study” – as it’s being called – came to light through the research of Revere Beautification Committee (RBC) member Ron Champoux and City Councillors Bob Haas and Brian Arrigo. Among the researcher’s findings were that all properties within 500 feet of a billboard in Philadelphia suffered a $30,000 decrease in property values upon their sale.

On Sunday afternoon, Revere High School (RHS) will officially come under the microscope. After about 18 months of preparations and written evaluations from every corner of every academic department in RHS, a team of outside evaluators from the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC) will arrive to see just how well the school is doing. Accreditation evaluations happen once every 10 years – with the last RHS evaluation in 2002. A team of education evaluators from all over New England conducts the visit. The team studies the best education practices, reads all of the school’s submissions, and then visits the school building.

The School Committee has voted to issue layoff notices forthwith to the 16 non-tenured teachers in the school system. The committee must find a way to balance the school budget for the current fiscal year, which is showing a deficit of almost $1 million.

The legislature appears poised to carve up the present Seventh Congressional District, which includes Revere, presently belonging to veteran Democratic Congressman Thomas J. Lane, as part of the overall Congressional redistricting plan which is necessary because the state is losing seats in Congress. Revere, Chelsea, and Winthrop would be moved into Congressman Torbert Macdonald’s new seventh district, with Lane, who hails from Lawrence, moving into the fifth district, which presently is occupied by Republican Bradford Morse.

Several hundred skilled technicians will perform the work.

Members of the local VFW post are making plans to provide housing for the large number of members and guests from posts across the state who will converge on Revere in June for the annual state convention. Hotels and cabins in surrounding communities have been Revere and 49 other communities will stage another surprise blackout next Tuesday at an unannounced time. This means that the air raid wardens will have to be on call and any persons on the streets at that time will be directed by the wardens to find shelter.

City officials are expected to take steps to protect students by fingerprinting them for identification and strengthening the air raid shelters at schools, including the glass in school buildings.

The Revere American Legion auctioned off two ancient cannon from the USS Constitution and a German howitzer captured in WWI at the battle of the Argonne to support the Salvage for Victory Drive held Sunday on the Boston Common. Massport announces goal to be Net Zero by 2031

Staff Report

The Massachusetts Port Authority (Massport) unveiled a new, bold agenda to reduce carbon emissions across all facilities and become Net Zero by 2031, coinciding with the Authority's 75th anniversary. The Roadmap to Net Zero focuses on 100% of the greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions directly controlled by Massport-owned facilities, equipment, and purchased electricity, with continued influence in areas the Authority does not control. The plan outlines the steps Massport will take to reduce emissions within the decade, directly benefitting neighboring communities and further preparing the Authority for the impacts of climate change.

"Massport is committed to working with our surrounding communities to reduce our impacts to the environment, while remaining focused on supporting the region's economy," said Massport Board Chairman Lew Evangelidis. "Massport's Roadmap to Net Zero aligns with the Commonwealth's climate goals."

Massport will accomplish this by:

- Improving energy efficiency in buildings through design standards and operational controls;

- Transitioning to clean fuel sources such as renewable electricity, renewable natural gas, etc.;

- Generating as much renewable energy as possible on-site, and make off-site renewable energy purchases;

- Acquiring renewable energy credits, renewable identification numbers, and carbon offsets as a transition strategy, for the fossil fuel sources that cannot be reduced, electrified or switched to renewable energy in the near-term;

- Implementing all remaining facility-specific initiatives identified to ultimately reach net zero.

"The pandemic gave us an opportunity to rethink the way we do business going forward, and we are now on the path to Net Zero," said Massport CEO Lisa Wieland. "This is a real commitment, with aggressive goals, tied to real actions that will take us to Net Zero by 2031, which also happens to be Massport's 75th anniversary. While we get our own house in order, simultaneously we will be working with our business partners on ways they can help reduce emissions."

For any areas where emissions cannot be reduced to zero, Massport will invest in carbon offsets to reach the target. The Authority expects to be Net Zero without offsets by 2040. Carbon offsets are investments in GHG reducing projects, such as a solar farm, that diminish the impact of an organization's own GHG emissions. Massport's aim would be to purchase offsets that benefit local projects within the Commonwealth.

"As an East Boston resident and community advocate, I'm glad to see Massport making this commitment to becoming Net Zero that will greatly benefit neighboring cities and towns," said John Nucci, Massport Board member and Chair of the Community Outreach Committee. "Logan Airport and Massport's other facilities create greenhouse gases that impact our neighbors and this plan takes real steps to improve air quality and reduce those impacts."

Components of the phased plan controlled by Massport include items like upgrading lighting systems across all facilities to LEDs, which has already been started, to rehabilitating Logan Airport's Central Heating Plant, upgrading the Logan Express and shuttle bus fleet to electric vehicles, and installing more solar panels and renewable energy sources.

There is also a section of the plan including emissions that Massport does not control, but can possibly influence. One such example of an area of potential influence would be to enable use of SAF at Logan. SAF, or sustainable aviation fuels, are a renewable/cleaner substitute for fossil jet fuels that reduce carbon emissions and improve the air quality. It is estimated that more than 99% of airline emissions and approximately 50% of airport emissions worldwide are related to the combustion of jet fuel. This past fall, President Biden announced a goal for U.S. companies to produce at least 3 billion gallons of SAF per year by 2030 and, by 2050, sufficient SAF to meet 100% of aviation fuel demand, which is currently projected to be around 35 billion gallons per year. Massport will work to enable use of SAF at our three airports and encourage our airline partners to transition to this alternative fuel while longer term strategies are evaluated, approved and adopted.

Massport currently has several programs to reduce emissions and has had success with environmental initiatives. Past projects include:

- On-airport clean-fuel buses since the mid-1990s;

- In 2001, Hanscom Field became the first U.S. airport to earn ISO 14001 certification for its Environmental Management Systems (EMS);

- In 2003, Conley Terminal was the first U.S. container terminal to implement an EMS and receive ISO 14001 certification;

- In 2005, Logan's Terminal A redevelopment was the first LEED® Certified airport terminal in the world;

- Installation of on-site renewable energy sources, including solar and wind;

- Developed more than 37 acres of greenspace within our surrounding communities;

- two new parks currently being designed in East Boston will be an additional 8 acres

- Since 1990, Massport has invested more than $100 million in High Occupancy Vehicle (HOV) transportation to and from Logan Airport, including the Logan Express system and free MBTA Silver Line service to South Station;

- In 2014, completed the Rental Car Center at Logan - a LEED Gold certified building that consolidated nine rental car agencies into one center; reduced 100 diesel buses trips to 28 hybrid buses per hour; decreased shuttle bus vehicle miles by 70%, with an accompanying 35% decrease in airport-related emissions. The facility also has rooftop solar panels that account for 5% of the building's energy usage;

- Cut carbon emissions at Logan by 40% by 2019 - goal was 2020;

- Cut energy consumption at Logan by 25% by 2019 - goal was 2020.

Massport will continue to pursue outside funding to help pay for some of these projects. The Authority was recently awarded $600,000 by the Mass. Clean Energy Center for a pilot project to build electric vehicle infrastructure at Logan to catalyze the electrification of the ride-for-hire industry. In 2020, Massport received a $4M VALE grant to acquire charging stations at Logan for eGSE (electric ground service equipment). The EPA granted Massport $500,000 in 2018 to install airline owned eGSE charging stations at Logan's Terminal B, and $330,000 in 2015 for a Clean Diesel Project at Conley Terminal.

The next steps in the road map will be prioritizing the projects, further data analysis, creating the budget strategy, and timeline.

During the week of April 11, 2022 the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education's (DESE)'s Office of Language Acquisition will conduct a Tiered Focused Monitoring Review of Revere Public Schools. The Office of Language Acquisition reviews each district's and charter school's ELE program every six years to monitor compliance with federal and state English Learner education laws and regulations. Areas of review will include English learners' student assessments, identification of English learners; what programs English learners are placed in, parent and community involvement, curriculum and instruction, student support services, licensure requirements for faculty, staff and administration, program plans, and evaluation and recordkeeping. In addition to the onsite visit, parent outreach is an important part of the review process. The review chairperson from the Office of Language Acquisition will send a survey to the parents of students whose records the review team examines. The survey focuses on key areas of their child's English learner education program. Survey results will contribute to the monitoring report. Parents and other individuals may call Samantha Kodak, Office of Language Acquisition Review Chairperson, at (781) 338-3561 to request a telephone interview. If an individual requires an accommodation, such as translation, to participate in an interview, DESE will make the necessary arrangements. Within approximately 60 business days of the onsite visit, the review chairperson will provide the Revere Public Schools with a report with information about areas in which the Revere Public Schools meets or exceeds regulatory requirements and areas in which it requires assistance to correct or improve practices. The report will be available to the public at <http://www.doe.mass.edu/ele/cpr/>.

REVERE FIRE DEPARTMENT PROMOTIONAL CEREMONY

By Marianne Salza

City and state officials, off-duty and retired members of the Revere Fire Department, and families gathered in the Revere City Hall Council Chambers on March 17 for a Promotional Ceremony. Chief Christopher Bright and Mayor Brian Arrigo congratulated newly promoted Lieutenant Charles Foster and six graduates of the Massachusetts Firefighting Academy Recruit Class #297.

“One of my favorite days is commemorating our first responders and celebrating those who continue to go above and beyond for our residents,” said Mayor Arrigo. “Every event like this recognizes our brave firefighters and their sense of duty, while also signaling the beginning of new and greater responsibilities. The firefighters today will excel as leaders of the community and keep our residents safe.”

Third generation Revere Firefighter, Lieutenant Charles Foster, is a retired Air Force veteran who attained the rank of Staff Sergeant, and is a seven-year veteran of the Revere Fire Department. City Clerk Ashley Melnik also swore-in Dylan Stuart, US Navy veteran; Tyler D’Angelo, US Army National Guard; Jarel Pemberton, US Marine Corps veteran; Hernando Oretega-Bueno, US Army veteran; and Jordan Bohannon, US Army veteran (Jacqueline Snyder was not present at the ceremony).

“This is the first time in 30 years that every position of the Fire Department has been fully funded,” said Chief Bright, who advised the new firefighters to trust one other during stressful and dangerous conditions. “Firefighting is not a sole effort. Successful firefighting demands teamwork and cooperation. Be proud. Stay well. Continue taking good care of one another,” Bright said.
