City Council set to meet Monday

By Cary Shuman

After a rare, one-month hiatus for the City Council due to holiday observances and other quirks in the schedule, City Council President Gerry Visconti will call a Council meeting to order on Monday, Oct. 17.

The City Council will be holding its first meeting since Sept. 19. The extended break was due to the first day of Rosh Hashanah being celebrated on a Monday this year, a few councillors being on vacation, and the Columbus Day holiday observance on Monday, Oct. 10.

Councillors have been busy nonetheless, attending city-wide events and ceremonies and dealing directly with their constituents. Visconti was part of a large delegation of councillors at the Italian flag-raising ceremony at City Hall last Friday and the bench dedication ceremony for community leader Rose Napolitano Sunday at the Revere Public Library.

"Fire won't wait. Plan your escape."

October 9-15 is fire prevention week

Staff Report

Fire Prevention Week will mark its 100th anniversary that will run through October 15 with a theme that reflects a major challenge in modern fire safety: “Fire won’t wait. Plan your escape.”

“Modern residential fires burn much faster than they did in past decades,” said State Fire Marshal Peter J. Ostroskey. “Changes in building construction, manufacturing, and furnishing mean you could have less than three minutes to escape a fire at home today, compared to 15 minutes or more in the 1970s. That’s why it’s so important to have working smoke alarms and a practiced escape plan that includes two ways out.”

Smoke Alarms

“Over 60% of Massachusetts fire deaths last year took place in the overnight hours,” said State Fire Marshal Ostroskey. “Smoke alarms are your first line of defense, so be sure they’re on every level of your home and working properly. When you hear that alarm, everyone at home should know it’s time to get out, stay out, and call 9-1-1.”

Smoke alarms should have a manufacturing date printed on the back. Alarms older than 10 years old should be replaced with new alarms that have a sealed, long-life battery. When choosing an alarm, select one from a well-known national brand that’s listed by an independent lab such as UL or Intertek/ETL. Test alarms monthly to be sure they’re working properly.

Home Escape Planning

“No matter how big or small your household is, every home needs an escape plan,” State Fire Marshal Ostroskey said. “Consider any special needs you or your loved ones might have, including young children, older adults, and people with disabilities.”

When creating your escape plan, look for two ways out of every room – and remember that one of them may be a window. Keep those escape routes clear of furniture, clutter, and other obstructions. If you have security fittings on doors or windows, be sure they can be removed or disengaged quickly from inside.

Pick a family meeting place out front a safe distance away from the house. The meeting place should be permanent, like a tree, mailbox, or light pole, and located where firefighters can easily find you.

Once you’ve planned your escape route, practice it at least twice a year. Try it during the day and at night so everyone is familiar with it – even if they’re tired or groggy. Remember that you may have to “get low and go” in the event of smoke.

100 Years of Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week is observed annually in the week that contains Oct. 9 – the date on which Great Chicago Fire of 1871 caused most devastation. The National Fire Protection Association has sponsored and promoted Fire Prevention Week annually since 1922, making it the longest-running public health observance on record.

REP. GIANNINO PARTICIPATES IN FIRE OPS PROGRAM

Rep. Jessica Giannino joined local and state officials across the Commonwealth and participated in the Professional Fire Fighters of Massachusetts (PFFM)’s Fire Ops program with Revere Fire Department’s own Captain Kevin O’Hara! It was a hands-on training where my colleagues and I had a unique opportunity to learn about the profession. We learned skills like cutting apart a car using the jaws of life, extinguishing an apartment fire, performing CPR (on a mannequin), as well as learning more about fire gear and equipment. Growing up with family members on both the police and fire departments in Revere, I have an acute understanding of and admiration for these selfless professions. After training with a live fire and using powerful tools that can save lives, I discovered a new level of appreciation and deeper gratitude for these skilled professionals who run into emergency situations when others run out.

Giannino said that she is grateful to the members of Saugus Firefighters Local 1003 & Revere Fire Fighters Local 926 IAFF.

Councillor McKenna will return to the Council Chambers

Ward 1 Councillor Joanna McKenna will be attending her first Council meeting since Sept. 12.

“Today was my first day out,” reported McKenna Monday following a month-long bout with COVID. “I was very sick. It went from COVID, to a reoccurrence, to a lung infection, to being on steroids. [Monday] was my first day out in 17 days.”

Known as a hard-working, 24-7 councilwoman, McKenna kept in touch with her constituents by phone and email and responded quickly to their concerns about the neighborhood.

“The whole time I was sick, Paul Argenzio, Billy Guinasso, and Michael Wells helped me tremendously every day to address some of the problems in Ward 1,” said McKenna. “If it weren’t for them, I don’t know what I would have done. I’m feeling much better. I’m looking forward to being back in the Council Chambers.”

ARRIGO RESPONDS TO THIS YEAR’S RISING ENERGY COSTS

As energy costs are slated to rise substantially in the coming months, Mayor Arrigo is taking several measures to educate residents and offer ways to save on their utility bills.

The City of Revere is currently gathering educational materials from the state and Mass Save program to provide residents with some ways to cut back on their energy expenses this coming winter. Additionally, there will be opportunities to attend information sessions for those interested in purchasing electricity from a competitive supplier. These sessions will also provide residents with some tips on how to avoid scams associated with energy suppliers.

At the upcoming City Council meeting on Monday, October 17, Mayor Arrigo will seek approval from the City Council to establish a community electricity aggregation program, similar to what many other surrounding communities have in place.

“We are working diligently to help our residents through these unprecedented energy rate increases,” said Mayor Arrigo, “and having our own electricity aggregation program will provide our residents with more options and offer reliable competition.”

Establishing a municipal aggregation program requires approval by the City Council and from the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities, resulting in a process that will take several months to complete. BOY STRUCK BY AUTO MAY HAVE SKULL FRACTURE

Ralph Picarelli, 13, of 43 Bates street, this city, is at the Winthrop Community Hospital with a possible fracture of the skull and an injury to his left knee, as the result of being struck by a car owned by Luigi Fiore, 202 Shirley avenue, and operated by Maurice Maccaro, of 139 Pomona street, Revere, on Wednesday afternoon.

The accident, according to the police blotter, occurred on Revere street, near Douglas street.

Maccaro claimed that he was proceeding along Revere street in a westerly direction and that just as his car neared Douglas street the Picarelli boy came running from that thoroughfare. Maccaro says he swung his car to the left in an attempt to avoid hitting the youth, but the tight rear mud-guard struck him, knocking him to the street.

He was taken to the office of Dr. Max Baker, who rendered first aid and then ordered his removal to the Winthrop Community hospital, where he was taken in the city ambulance.

Failure To Comply With Signed Agreement Means Summary Action

According to announcements released this week to the local Recovery Board, by Lothrop Withington, Director of Compliance of the Massachusetts State Recovery Board, persons using the Blue Eagle of the NRA, wrongfully and without authority, in connection with their advertisements are subject to prosecution under Massachusetts statutes.

"At this time," Withington advised the Revere group, "it is pertinent to point out that the display of the Blue Eagle, the words 'Blue Eagle' and the insignia is the property of the United States Government and should not be used in unauthorized ways or for private purposes.

"Those who are honestly found to be endeavoring to live up to the terms of the Agreement will have every consideration. On the other hand, anyone found to be displaying the Blue Eagle and at the same time deliberately failing to comply with the requirements of the President's Re-employment Agreement, will be promptly reported with recommendation for summary action."

TWO WOMEN ARE VICTIMS OF HIT, RUN CAR DRIVER

Two Medford women were injured yesterday morning in an auto accident at the junction of North Shore road and Revere street in which the operator of one of the cars involved made his escape without making known his identity.

According to the story told police by Patsy F. Morello, 359 Lincoln avenue, Saugus, owner and operator of the car in which the injured pair were passengers, he was proceeding west on Revere street when the offending machine came out of North Shore road, striking the rear left fender and wheel of his vehicle.

The operator of the car then turned out all lights on the machine and made his escape down North Shore road before his registration plates could be seen.

Riding in the rumble seat of the Morello car were Annie D. Smith, 8 Sherman court, and Evelyn Seaver, Stanley street, Medford. They were rushed to the Massachusetts General Hospital in the city ambulance. Mary Carageant, 29 Columbia road, Medford, riding in the front seat with Morello, escaped uninjured.

Following the crash word of the hit and run incident was broadcast over the police teletype, with a description of the car, but the driver was not apprehended.

Local School Headed For Catholic League Championship--Reardon Main Cog In I. C. Attack--Revere Gridsters Always In Lead

By JOE O'BRIEN

Displaying a passing attack that netted twotouchdowns Immaculate Conception High School football eleven defeated St. Mary's High of Brookline at the Brookline High School Field Thursday (Columbus Day) morning. The locals had to come from behind to win as St. Mary's High scored the first touchdown early in the opening quarter on a forward pass, Manning to O'Connor who ran 15 yards for the first score. The Immaculate boys wasted but little time in getting back the six points and Freddy Andrews placed kicked the point to give Coach Collins' boys a one point lead 7 to 6. Richards, Immaculate right end, was responsible for his team's first touchdown by virtue of a beautiful run after grabbing a forward pass from Franny Reardon, that Sullivan left half back for the home team tried to catch instead of batting to the ground. The ball bounced off his elbow and Richards reached up while running full speed, gathered the oval into his own arms and set sail for the goal line. He outsprung the entire St. Mary's eleven in making this run and crossed the line that counts standing up. The half ended with the score Immaculate 7, St. Mary's 6.

St. Mary's Band Great Between the halves, the St. Mary's

High School Band entertained the large crowd with musical selections and marching maneuvers, that delighted the spectators. In fact, St. Mary's High had two bands, one composed of boys and the other of girls and they vied with each other in obtaining applause from the fans. Dressed in their bright red and white uniforms they made a beautiful scene in the spacious stadium with the warm October sun shining down on a typical Indian Summer day.

Coming out for the second half St. Mary's started an attack that brought the ball to Immaculate's 25-yard line. Here the locals put up a desperate defense and took the ball away on downs. Reardon, Andrews and Morgan combining in rushing the ball up the field into St. Mary's territory. Andrews threw another pass into the waiting arms of Reardon and this boy scampered for the second touchdown for Immaculate Conception. The try for point missed completion. As the final period was fast being completed the St. Mary's High team started a march that didn't stop until they crossed the last white line with another touchdown. Manning, O'Connor and Sullivan took turns at skirting the ends or hurling ground-eating passes that placed the ball on Immaculate's three-yard line. Roycroft plunged through for the score, making St.

Beachmont Improvement Fight Given Start in City Council

Beachmont's fight for improvements got under way at Monday night's council meeting, with the passage of an order requesting the Board of Health to investigate the nuisance caused by crickets and beetles now found in the area about the Washburn and Winthrop avenue dumps, and to rid the community of the insects immediately.

Councilmen Thomas U. Kelley and Frederick H. Reinstein entered the order, the former representative of the district stating that he examined some of the crickets and found that they were of a large size. It is feared by residents of the vicinity, he said, that by next spring the district will be overrun with the obnoxious insects.

The most serious condition is centered on the reclaimed marshland adjacent to the Cycle track. Other insects were found around Charles Fredericks park dumping grounds.

The council also took final action in condemning and ordering the removal of nine dilapidated buildings at Roughan's Point.

On a motion entered by Councilmen William J. Gallagher and Kelley, it was ordered that the City Treasurer be requested to discontinue the acceptance of trustees on city employees until such time as they can again receive a steady income, regularly paid. This request, the councilmen said, was in conformity with fair play in order to enable a class of employees to adjust themselves in the clearance of a financial situation that they find themselves in, through no fault of their own.

A re-zoning petition entered by Jacob Litman, brought forth some discussion, after being reported by the Committee on Legal Affairs. The property sought to be rezoned is located near "Wonderland Park" and borders Kirby street, containing 11,000 square feet of land. A public hearing into the matter was set for November 6, 1933.

The Standing Committee on Finance which has studied the communication from the Emergency Finance Board, approving certain appropriations made by the council, reported and recommended that the City Clerk advise each department regarding the action of the board on the several appropriations made by the council, and that the recommendations be carried out in full by His Honor, the Mayor, and the various department heads.

The council meeting was rather slow in getting started this week, the members being called to order at 9 o'clock. Adjournment was ordered at midnight.

Complete report of the meeting will be found on page six of this paper.

Hundreds In Parade; Mayor Featured Speaker At Statue Exercises

With a short but colorful parade, and exercises at the Columbus statue in front of St. Anthony's Church, members of Guiseppi Mazzini and Revere Lodges, Orders of Sons of Italy in America, observed Columbus Day yesterday.

Blessed with a clear, bright day, the marchers gathered at the American Legion building on Broadway shortly after one o'clock. The female marchers lent color to the proceedings, appearing in brightly-hued peasant style dresses with wide dark sashes and colorful headdresses.

The men, although garbed in conservative clothes, wore berets of red or green.

Leading the procession was the bugle and drum corps of Revere Post 61, American Legion, with the members of the fair sex following them. In line also was a large moving float upon which were seated members of the ladies' degree team in beautiful long capes.

Upon arrival at the church the group assembled about the statue and Mayor Andrew A. Casassa engaged in the formalities of placing a wreath at its base. He then delivered an address commemorative of the great explorer whose enterprise meant so much to this country.

Mayro Casassa was glowing in his praise of Columbus and the sturdy

ALLEGED 'JURY FIXER' HELD IN SUPERIOR COURT

As the result of testimony offered in Suffolk Superior Court by many witnesses, three of whom were residents of Revere, Charles A. Murtaugh, 43, of 102 Chandler street, Boston, appeared in the same court Wednesday to answer to charges of jury fixing and bribery, following disclosures made at the recent disbarment trial of Lowell A. Mayberry, well-known Boston lawyer, who was exonerated.

Murtaugh pleaded not guilty and was held in $5000 bail, which was furnished by a surety company, pending his appearance for trial later in the month.

He is accused, in three indictments, with obstructing justice, corrupting a juror, and conspiracy to corrupt a juror.

The courtroom was crowded at the time Murtaugh was placed in the steel cage. His counsel asked for lower bail than the $5000 which was requested by Assistant District Attorney Doyle. He said his client had appeared voluntarily and there was no question that he would be present when wanted for trial. Judge

FIRE CHIEF IS GUEST SPEAKER FOR KIWANIS

Fire Chief Thomas J. McCarrick was the guest speaker at the weekly luncheon of the local Kiwanis Club, held at Lewis' Cafe, on the Boulevard, Wednesday. The chief was invited to carry out the Kiwanians observance of Fire Prevention Week.

With next week's meeting the organization will switch the scene of its weekly get-togethers back to the Legion building.

Chief McCarrick's talk was replete with bits of interesting knowledge regarding fire losses here and throughout the country. He spoke as follows:

"Fire prevention and fire insurance is little understood by most people and little is it realized that 75 percent of all fires are absolutely preventable if the general public

VOTER REGISTRATION

DEADLINE FOR THE STATE ELECTION IS OCTOBER 29

We wish to remind all of our readers that the deadline for registering to vote for the upcoming state election is October 29.

Citizens of Massachusetts have three ways to register to vote: on-line, by mail, or in-person at your local city or town clerk's office.

To register in Massachusetts you must:

- be a citizen of the United States
- be a resident of Massachusetts
- be at least 16 years old (must be 18 years old to vote on Election Day)
- not currently be incarcerated for a felony conviction

The web site for the Secretary of State's office has the necessary forms and instructions for those wishing to register to vote on-line or by mail.

The upcoming election on November 8 has the potential for far-reaching consequences for our state.

Never before in our history have the Democrat and Republican candidates for two major offices, Governor and Secretary of State, presented such divergent choices for voters.

We urge all residents to register to vote for this important election.

THE END OF AN ERA IN MASS. POLITICS IS AT HAND

The decision by Gov. Charlie Baker not to seek re-election effectively has brought to an end an era in Massachusetts politics.

Although Massachusetts voters typically have split our legislature and governorship between Democrats and Republicans for much of the past 80 years -- with Democrats controlling the legislature and Republicans the governorship -- the basic differences between the two parties were fairly minimal.

Republican governors typically were seen as fiscally more conservative than their Democratic counterparts, but there was general agreement between them on social and other issues.

Most importantly, Republican governors and Democratic legislators were able to work together to achieve far-reaching goals.

For example, it was Republican Gov. John Volpe who fought for a sales tax in the early 1960s in order to support city and town governments that were unable to meet the huge increases in the costs of local education because of the influx of students during the Baby Boom era.

Gov. Volpe previously had served as the State Commissioner of Public Works and oversaw the expansion of the state highway system during the 1950s that allowed our state to expand beyond Greater Boston, most notably the Route 128 Belt that became known as America's technology highway in that era and that fueled Massachusetts' growth into the last half of the 20th century.

Forty years later, Republican Gov. Mitt Romney joined with the Democratic legislature to craft the Mass. health insurance law that became the model for Obamacare, making health insurance affordable for all residents.

In the 1990s, the weekly breakfast meetings between Republican Governors Bill Weld and Paul Cellucci with the Democratic leaders of the House and Senate were instrumental in creating an atmosphere of collegiality on Beacon Hill.

These Republican governors understood the essential role that government must play in order to move our society forward.

By no means did they agree on everything with their Democratic counterparts, but they were able to disagree without being disagreeable. Moreover, Democratic and Republican leaders shared a common vision for our state. We realize that everyone loves to complain and gripe about everything, but the bottom line is that Massachusetts ranks among the best in the nation in just about every meaningful category, from education to health care.

However, that era is over. Those who lead the Republican party today have views that are far beyond the mainstream of our state's residents, whether on social issues such as a woman's right to choose or political matters -- the GOP's candidates for Governor and Secretary of State openly have voiced their support for the idea that the outcome of the 2020 presidential election was not legitimate and are avid supporters of Donald Trump.

The virus that has infected the politics of the rest of the country has made its way here. It would be nice to think that this change in the political climate in Massachusetts is temporary. But unlike the COVID-19 pandemic, there is no vaccine on the horizon.

Reports are pointing to an 8.9% raise for Social Security recipients. While it won't feel like enough, it may buy you a sack of groceries or a tank of gasoline. This is a big maybe on the gasoline as California reports prices of over $8 per gallon.

Some of our government leadership is crying because Saudi Arabia is cutting their oil production by 2 million barrels a day. This means less oil for everyone in the grand oil supply pool. I don't understand why anyone in our government would want to do business with the Saudis.

Buying oil from Saudi Arabia, Venezuela or any foreign entity is crazy. Why don't we use our own oil? I'm all for green energy but we aren't quite there yet. Make electric cars and drive them. Utilize solar energy and else anything that we can to help preserve this planet and its resources. Regardless, our country still needs oil. As long as we need oil, it would be wiser and much more cost effective to use our own oil. Put Americans back to work drilling our oil and selling it to foreign countries.

Our government has been draining our own oil reserve to try to keep the price of gasoline down. This doesn't seem to be working very well. Plus, it puts our country at risk. When China and Russia decide to attack us, we need to be able to put fuel in our jets and ships. That would not be a good time to have to go back to Saudi Arabia and beg for oil.

We should utilize a full arsenal of energy from electric cars and a grid to supply the power. Utilize our oil, wind, natural gas and coal. Once our country can do everything without oil or coal, then we can move on from those re-sources. Being dependent on getting them from foreign nations doesn't make sense, especially when we have the resources.

A loaf of bread will eventually cost Americans their 8.9% Social Security increase. Ukraine has been one of the world's leading providers of wheat. Having Russia in control of Ukraine, a major source of the bread supply, along with their major supply of natural gas is bad news for the world.

The Crimea bridge that was recently bombed between Russia and Ukraine should have been bombed on day one by Ukrainians. Ukraine must do whatever it takes to thwart Russia's ongoing destruction of their country. The news has been filled with fear that Russia will go nuclear in their efforts. When the nations start hurling nuclear bombs you won't need to worry about gas, groceries and cost of living adjustments because this planet can only take so much.

Keep in mind there is still something you can do to make a difference -- vote. Clear your calendar for voting. If you don't vote then don't complain about our government, inflation, rising interest rates, gasoline prices and more. I know it doesn't feel like your one vote matters, but it truly counts. The only way you can bring about change is to clear your schedule, take the time, and vote.

LETTER to the Editor

REGARDING KINGDOMS

Dear Editor,

Last February I wrote about two kingdoms that exist in the world: the kingdom of light, and the kingdom of darkness. One oppresses freedoms and is anti-life, anti-American, anti-law & order. It supports abortion and now goes to the extent of passing a bill in the California legislature that extends the killing of a baby to 28 days after birth! Incredibly, it was signed by Governor Newsom! This law is infanticide!

Progressive radicals have ruled with an iron fist, promoting policies that have led to increase crime, violence towards children and women, chaos at our border, weakened our military, and many who chose to be unvaccinated were forced out of work. These Socialistic radical policies have caused havoc in our economy. Rising prices of food and fuel has been caused by their irrational destruction of the fossil fuel industry in our nation, also leading to many black outs and the lack of heating oil for families this winter. Their "Clean Energy" plans cause more environmental issues. They've ridiculed and shamed their opponents into silence by labeling them as bigots, racists, diploables, homophobics, and fascists nazi terrorists; their opponent being the average American worker struggling to support their family!

The silent majority will make their voice heard come this election! The kingdom of darkness cannot exist when the kingdom of light shows up at the polls, anymore than a dark room can remain dark when the light is switched on!

Human Rights Comm. resumes monthly meetings

By Journal Staff

The Revere Human Rights Commission (HRC) resumed its regular monthly schedule after a 120-day hiatus with a meeting last Thursday evening, October 6, in the City Council Chamber. It was the commission's first gathering since June 2.

Chairperson Janine Grillo Marra and fellow commissioners Rachid Moukhabir, Kourou Pich, vice-chair Chai Hossani, Fire Chief Chris Bright, Molly McGee, and Dr. Lourenco Garcia were in attendance.

Marra began the meeting by noting that the HRC's former Executive Director, Dr. Maritsa Barros, Ed.D., who also had served as the city's Chief Officer of Talent and Culture, had resigned in June to take another job.

In addition, Marra informed the members that former member Kathi-Ann Reinstein had resigned from the commission for personal reasons.

Marra opened the meeting with the regular "Land Acknowledgement," in which Marra presented a map of the southern New England area indicating the various Indigenous peoples who occupied the land prior to the arrival of European settlers. The Pawtucket tribe lived on the land of present-day Revere.

Marra then led the commission through the "Arrive and Settle" portion of the meeting, giving the group and those in attendance an opportunity for a brief meditative session.

The commissioners then recited its HRC's Mission Statement in unison:

"The Mission of the Revere Human Rights Commission is to promote human and civil rights and empower all people of Revere by ensuring that everyone, especially the most vulnerable and marginalized, have equitable opportunities, equal access, and are treated with dignity, respect, fairness, and justice."

Marra made note of the various celebrations during the present month, including Hispanic and Latinx Heritage month (Sept. 15-Oct. 15), Italian Heritage month, Polish-American Heritage month, and Filipino Heritage month.

Grillo further noted that this also is the month for awareness of Domestic Violence, Downs Syndrome, Bullying Prevention, and National Disability Employment.

She also made mention of two local events in October, the Shirley Ave. Cultural Festival that was held on October 1 and the Italian Flag Raising at 12:00 p.m. at City Hall Plaza on Friday, October 7.

The commissioners then discussed the two HRC Banners that were designed by vice-chair Hossani over the summer months, one of which displayed the entire Mission Statement and the other that summarized the goals of the HRC. Both banners

CITY DEDICATES BENCH IN HONOR OF ROSE NAPOLITANO AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

The City of Revere took the occasion of Rose Napolitano's 90th birthday to celebrate the well-known resident's "life's work as an advocate for Revere citizens."

Guy Frizzi, one of Rose's three sons (Cono Frizzi and Joseph Frizzi were also in attendance), served as master of ceremonies for the program that recognized Napolitano's outstanding contributions by dedicating a bench in her honor adjacent to the Revere Public Library.

Guy said the location of the bench at the library was fitting as the family once lived in the house across the street. He also said that his mother served as a volunteer reading instructor for children at the library.

"A lot of people helped put this [tribute] together, and I really appreciate it," Guy Frizzi told the large gathering on behalf of his family.

Former Speaker of the House Robert A. DeLeo spoke about Rose's loyalty and friendship to him. "She was a loyal friend at all times. I can't tell you how much I honestly miss you seeing you at all these events. God Bless You, Rose, and most important-ly, stay healthy."

State Rep. Jeff Turco said, "It's an honor to be here to speak on behalf of Rose. You've touched so many lives. The fact that we're today to celebrate you, Rose, shows our love for you - and thank you for all you've done for the city."

Councillor-at-Large Dan Rizzo and Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino proposed the motion that led to the dedication of the bench in honor of Rose Napolitano.

"People are busy on a Sunday morning, but look at the crowd you've brought out, Rose - people that still care so much about you," said Rizzo.

"Just a great sense of humor, a great human being -

Jeff Turco, City Councillors Richard Serino, Dan Rizzo, Patrick Keefe, Ira Novoselsky, and Anthony Zambuto, and former Speaker of the House Robert A. DeLeo.

Rosalie Freese and her daughter, Kimberly Frizzi, who is the daughter-in-law of Rose Napolitano.

I consider her a dear friend and I'm grateful for all that she meant to me and all that she means to all of us here," said Rizzo.

During his remarks, Rizzo commended DPW Director Paul Argenzio for his work in constructing the beautiful bench.

"I felt an immediate bond with Rose because she is a tough Italian woman with a heart of gold, and she reminded me of my great-grandmother," Councillor Serino told the crowd. "We are so grateful to you. We love you and wish you another 90 years."

Former State Rep.

RoseLee Vincent said her relationship with Rose goes back 35 years. "I think of you like a sister. You have done so much for the entire city of Revere, for all the people in it. Revere is a better place because of you. Happy 90th birthday." City Council President

Gerry Visconti presented a Citation to Rose Napolitano officially recognizing her for her lifelong commitment and dedication to the City of Revere and its residents and for being "a legendary community activist."

displayed a large number of flags of different nations in the background that were faded so as not to interfere with the writing.

"I like the idea of two banners," said Bright, "one for our web site and the other for our events. They would serve a useful purpose."

Laurenco suggested that the flags in the background that represent multiple nations be made "more visible for people to see. But the idea of having all those flags to represent different countries is a good one."

Pich thanked Hossani for her time and effort and said she "liked both," as did Moukhabir.

Grillo then presented an 11-minute video excerpt of a discussion this past January in support of legislation to establish Indigenous People's Day.

The segment featured statements from Mahtowin Munro (Lakota, United American Indians of New England - UAINE) and Heather Leavell (Italian Americans for Indigenous Peoples Day).

Prior to showing the video, Grillo made note of the city's long connection to Italian heritage.

"We realize that Revere has a long and full history of Italian-Americans living in this community," said Marra. "Our efforts on sharing videos like this are not to in any way dismiss Italians. It is more about learning what we didn't learn and how we can learn some more and become more inclusive."

At the conclusion of the video, Grillo said, "We're really at the beginning of learning more and figuring out how to honor both Italian-Americans as well as the Indigenous People of this land."

McGee and Garcia added their points of view, which were in agreement with Marra's.

"We must make sure that we do not distort history," said Garcia, who is the principal at Revere High. "We have to make sure that the curriculum we have in our schools reflects the cultural identity and the history of those who have suffered and been exploited in the past."

Garcia also added that there is new evidence to suggest that Columbus was not Italian, but rather may have been either Spanish or Portuguese.

Pich reminded the commissioners that last October, the HRC voted to recommend that Columbus Day be replaced with Indigenous People's Day and that Italian-American heritage be celebrated on another day in the month.

However, Marra noted that if the city were to move in that direction, "We have a lot of work to do to engage with the Indigenous People who may live in our community," and in any event, she said, the City Council would have the ultimate say on whether to do so.

McGee took the opportunity to suggest that the HRC work toward erecting a memorial at an Indigenous People's burial ground that was discovered on Revere St. in 1881.

The commission then adjourned until its next meeting on Thursday, November 3.

State Sen. Lydia Edwards, State Rep. Jessica Giannino announce endorsements

Special to the Journal

State Senator Lydia Edwards and State Rep. Jessica Giannino are proud to endorse each other to represent Revere on Beacon Hill.

"Since she was elected, Senator Edwards has hit the ground running, working hand in hand with me to support the City of Revere," said Representative Jessica Giannino. "As a young girl growing up in the city, I was always represented by strong women in the House of Representatives. It has been an honor serving alongside such a strong and fearless female in the Senate."

"Representative Giannino is a tireless advocate for her constituents in Revere and Saugus. She has shown up when WIN proposed a dangerous expansion of their ash landfill in Saugus, when the Point of Pines was in need of a new firehouse, and has pushed for needed reforms to the Revere School Committee. I am proud to support her," said Senator Lydia Edwards.

Senator Lydia Edwards is a career advocate, activist, and voice on behalf of society's most vulnerable. She was raised all over the world by her military mom but chose to make East Boston her home.

Prior to being elected to the State Senate and Boston City Council, Lydia worked extensively in the legal field. She worked as a public interest attorney with Greater Boston Legal Services focusing on labor issues such as fighting for access to unemployment insurance, back wages, fair treatment for domestic workers, and combating human trafficking.

Jessica began her career in politics as a City Councilor At-Large for the City of Revere in 2012. In that time, she has worked on countless issues that impact the daily lives of the citizens of Revere, as well as ordinances that will impact generations to follow. In 2013 her inclusive style and strong leadership qualities prompted her colleagues to elect her Vice President of the Council. In 2016 and 2018, Jessica had the honor of serving as City Council President. During that time, she worked to ensure the agenda maintained a balance between protecting and growing the city's economic base, without compromising the quality of city services to residents. Jessica believes it is her responsibility to ensure that Revere's government is accountable to the people, financially responsible, and forward thinking. More people now eligible to give blood or platelets with the Red Cross

The American Red Cross now invites those who spent time in the U.K., Ireland or France and have never tried to give blood due to concerns over variant Creutzfeldt-Jakob Disease (vCJD) – related to mad cow disease – to give blood and help save lives.

Recently, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration updated its blood donor eligibility guidance on vCJD, eliminating the deferral for those who spent time in the U.K., Ireland and France between 1980 and 2001. In alignment with FDA changes, the Red Cross began accepting donations Oct. 3 from individuals who have not tried giving blood before due to the prior donation criteria. In combination with prior eligibility updates in 2020 for those who spent time in other European countries, this new change effectively eliminates the deferral related to vCJD for all donors.

"For many years, the Red Cross has heard from people who have spent time in these countries – often members of the military and their families – hoping for the opportunity to donate blood or platelets," said Kelly Isenor, Director of Communications. "We now welcome all donors who may have spent time in Europe and avoided blood donation as a result to join us in our lifesaving mission to help patients in need."

More blood donors – especially type O donors – are urged to donate now to prevent disruptions to essential medical care this fall. Book a time to give by using the Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org or by calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767). As a thank-you, all who come to give Oct. 16-31, 2022, will receive a $10 e-Gift Card by email to a merchant of choice.

Changes in progress for those with a Red Cross donor record

Those who have tried to give with the Red Cross and have been previously deferred from donating will be contacted by the Red Cross once system records are updated. This deferral is more complex to remove than others as there are decades of donors in the Red Cross system who have been deferred under the previous FDA requirements. Individuals who have questions about their donor record can contact the Red Cross Donor and Client Support Center at 1-866-236-3276.

Upcoming blood donation opportunities Oct. 16-31:

Winthrop
October 25: 1 p.m. - 6 p.m., Cottage Park YC, 76 Orlando Ave

How to donate blood

Simply download the American Red Cross Blood Donor App, visit RedCrossBlood.org, call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) or enable the Blood Donor Skill on any Alexa Echo device to make an appointment or for more information. All blood types are needed to ensure a reliable supply for patients. A blood donor card or driver's license or two other forms of identification are required at check-in. Individuals who are 17 years of age in most states (16 with parental consent where allowed by state law), weigh at least 110 pounds and are in generally good health may be eligible to donate blood. High school students and other donors 18 years of age and younger also have to meet certain height and weight requirements.

Blood and platelet donors can save time at their next donation by using RapidPass® to complete their pre-donation reading and health history questionnaire online, on the day of their donation, before arriving at the blood drive. To get started, follow the instructions at RedCrossBlood.org/RapidPass or use the Blood Donor App.

The American Red Cross shelters, feeds and provides comfort to victims of disasters; supplies about 40% of the nation's blood; teaches skills that save lives; distributes international humanitarian aid; and supports veterans, military members and their families. The Red Cross is a nonprofit organization that depends on volunteers and the generosity of the American public to deliver its mission. Suffolk County Sheriff warns state residents about ongoing Jury Duty scam

Staff Report

The Suffolk County Sheriff's Department is issuing a warning to Massachusetts residents about an elaborate scam being attempted by people impersonating Department employees.

In one reported case, a woman received a telephone call from a man falsely identifying himself as "Chief Deputy Alphonso Johnson from Civil Process." The caller then told his potential victim that she was in contempt of court for failing to appear for jury duty and she would need to pay a stated amount of $625.00 to settle a bond so that they can close the matter. The scammer also told the woman that she would need to pay in the form of prepaid credit cards.

While many people believe that they could never be the victims of such a seemingly obvious attempt at deception, the perpetrators of this crime are continuously updating and enhancing their methods to convince their intended targets. Scammers are now using equipment and software that "spoofs" the telephone numbers of actual businesses and organizations, so that it appears on Caller ID that the caller is actually from the place that they are claiming to be from.

In an additional attempt to enhance the caller's appearance of authenticity, the scammer created a fake "Summons for Jury Duty" form with the inmissioners Joseph LaValle and Brian Averback also on hand.

The meeting was of the short and sweet variety. It lasted for less than 25 minutes and included a recommendation for the acceptance of a donation of six lots of land on Naples Rd. to the city by John Festa for conservation purposes.

The Conscomm first took up the continuation of the public hearing regarding the Notice of Intent (DEP File #061-0786) that had been filed by Irving Oil for the maintenance of its Irving Marine Terminal at 41 Lee Burbank Highway.

The commission had been unable to act on the Notice of Intent (NOI) at its September meeting because the Mass. DEP had not issued a formal file number for the project, which is a prerequisite in order for a local commission to take action on an application.

The engineer and biologist for the project were on hand for the meeting and the members recollected the lengthy presentation they had made in September. The duo answered some general questions from the commissioners and briefly summarized the scope of the work that will be done, which essentially will encase the pilings for the dock, which will last for about 30 years.

The commissioners unanimously voted to approve the issuance of the NOI with the usual conditions.

The commissioners then took up a Request for Determination of Applicability by Boston Gas Company (National Grid) pertaining to the installation of a 1740 foot underground natural gas main pipeline within existing paved roadways in Malden and Revere along Lynn Street.

An environmental scientist appeared on behalf of National Grid. He told the commission that the project will entail the installation of about 525 linear feet in Revere in a trench about four deep and two feet wide. He said the trench will be back-filled at the end of the day and any excess fill will be removed.

The project will not get underway until April 15, 2023.

Although the new pipe will be located in a flood plain, inasmuch as there will be no further impact on the public roadway (Lynn St.) that already is there, National Grid is seeking a determination that it does not need to file a Notice of Intent.

The commissioners asked questions about traffic flow and the staging of the equipment.

Rudolph noted that the work that is being done is exempt from the Wetlands Protection Act and the commissioners unanimously voted to determine that the project does not require an NOI.

The commission then took up the matter of the donation by John Festa of the Festa Construction Co. of six lots of land on Naples Road to the City of Revere for conservation purposes.

Rudolph said he had walked the land in question and reported to the commission that there is "no significant dumping" on the site and "no considerable reason why we shouldn't accept this."

The commissioners then voted unanimously to recommend that the city accept the donation of land.

The final matter before the board was the NOI filed by Target, 36 Furlong Drive at Suffolk Downs (DEP File #0610787), to replace the existing asphalt parking lot.

Caycee Hart, an engineer with Kimley-Horn, presented the project to the commission. She said the majority of the project will entail the milling of the existing hardtop, leaving the base intact. There will be no additional impervious areas and the drainage patterns will remain the same.

The only areas of land disturbance will be portions of the parking lot where a low spot will be regraded. There will be the usual erosion and sediment controls because the lot abuts the nearby wetlands.

Rudolph had walked the site with Ms. Hart and recommended to her that the engineering firm increase its environmental protection barriers, which she agreed will be done.

Averback asked whether the adjacent Stop and Shop parking lot will be repaved as well, "because that's a disaster," he said. However, Hart said that her project only addresses the Target lot.

The commission unanimously voted to issue the NOI.

In the general discussion portion of the meeting, LaValle mentioned that the old pilings at the former Captain Fowler's site are still standing, even though the commission had made the removal of the pilings a condition of the issuance of the NOI for the project

Rudolph said he also sees them every day on his way to work. The commissioners agreed that the matter should be addressed at a future meeting for a possible enforcement action.

Parks and Open Spaces Division, embody what it means to be a Revere public servant. Without the work of both Marc Hilton and Chris Fabiano, along with the other incredible men and women of their departments, the City of Revere would not be able to offer important services like water, sewage, and open spaces – something many of us take for granted. Their love for their city and dedication to the work they do make Marc and Chris clear choices for this month's Public Servant of the Month.

summer program down at the DPW yard when I was in high school and I always thought it was a great place to work back then. It was nice when I was able to come down here – I initially ended up in the Water Department and I never pictured myself doing that type of work but I took to it, enjoyed it, and enjoyed the guys I was working with. It's definitely a different type of work but it's an important function. Then there was an opportunity to work in the Parks Department and I decided to make the jump.

Q: What does Revere mean to you?
 FABIANO: I grew up here all my life. Both sides of my family – my mother and my father – grew up in Revere. I went to school here, nowhere else. It's nice being able to work in the City you grew up in – you see familiar faces and know what you're doing affects those you care about.

HILTON: I grew up in East Boston, but my wife lives in Revere and I've been here for about 20 years now.

Q: How did you end up in this line of work?
 FABIANO: I did the

HILTON: My career started in construction right after high school. I was in the union for a lot of years, and when I saw in the paper the City of Revere was hiring, I said "why not work in the city I live in?" I landed in the Water Department and it was like second nature coming from construction. I didn't work on water in the union but when I started in Revere I learned a lot and I've been here ever since.

Q: What's the most rewarding part of your job?
 FABIANO: The Parks Department that I'm in now is very visible to the community. You can kind of see a start and an end result – whether it's setting up events, cleaning up a park, or landscaping designs. So you can see work getting done with your vision. The Water Department is a lot of unseen work. People know when they have water and when they don't – it's definitely an important function of this city. The reward is probably being able to work in the city that you grew up in, and see a lot of people you grew up with – it really is rewarding.

HILTON: He hit it on the head! I mean, you're working with a great group of people, which always make things easier. It's a team effort – without us all it wouldn't be possible. That's the rewarding part for me.

Q: What do you wish more people knew about the departments you work in?
 HILTON: With the Water Department, what a lot of people don't know is that we don't break the pipes – we're just there to fix them! Some people do get frustrated and understandably so – but a lot of times we're the target of that frustration. But we do care and we love what we do. We are there to fix things – it's what we do.

FABIANO: I want the residents to know that we do care about the work we do and how we leave jobs and what the city looks like. We want it to be a good reflection of our city and our people. We really do care. I think this administration has given us everything we needed – that goes a long way. We have a new DPW building coming new trucks and machines to make our job easier, it's a good time to be in the department, for sure.

dle of the night, we're on call, and during an emergency our guys always show up. They come in stretches – we could have 5, 6, 7 a month and then not have one for another month. We very rarely go home.

FABIANO: We're getting to the busy time now when it starts getting cold and most of the time this is when pipes start to break. You can't forecast water breaks of course, but we're always prepared during this time of year to be on-call and ready.

Q: If you had to give yourself at the start of this job some advice, what would it be?
 HILTON: Be willing to learn and always be available when the phone rings!

Q: When water breaks occur, what needs to happen? What's that like?
 HILTON: Depending on how big it is, we can usually open up the street and fix it with everyone still having water. Unlike what happened last Thursday night – we had to shut the water off due to the size. 6 PM to 10 AM is a long time for residents to not have water. When there's a break in the mid-

FABIANO: If you're not familiar with this type of work, be willing to learn and help your crew as much as you can. For me personally, I would probably tell myself not to listen to too much outside noise. I tend to take a lot of that stuff personally, but at the end of the day I know what we're doing matters

October is Long-Term Planning Month

Staff Report

October is Long-Term Care Planning Month. Questions around how to afford the rising cost of assisted living and other levels of senior living come into special focus. As Americans grapple with inflation and increased costs, Assisted Living Locators Boston, a local senior placement and referral service, is giving tips on how to pay less for assisted living.

"Long-term care expenses at assisted living facilities and nursing homes are climbing, as the industry copes with inflation," said John Moniz, Assisted Living Locators Boston Senior Care Advisor. "I have seen move-in fees at assisted living facilities jump from $5,000 to $10,000, or monthly rental fees increase by an unprecedented 10%."

Assisted Living Locators offers these tips to choose the right community and stretch your dollar.

1. Get The Right Amount Of Space. Assisted living communities offer residents a choice of room size. Remember your senior will be socializing in common areas and eating in large dining rooms. Reduce costs by opting for the smallest, most livable space for their personal room.

2. Consider A Roommate. In many senior living communities, a shared space is more cost-effective than a single room or apartment. Sharing a room can be safer and prevent loneliness, a common problem among the elderly.

3. Go Small On Community Size. Smaller assisted living residences tend to be less expensive than the larger communities and offer the same

Women construction workers make 'herstory' at first-ever Women Build Boston

Special to the Journal

Women in the building trades came together for the first-ever Women Build Boston conference on Saturday, October 8, highlighting Boston's leadership in making the construction industry more inclusive and diverse. The conference, dedicated to celebrating and uplifting women's role in building trades unions, convened over 700 women across the trades. The event was attended by women of all skill levels who work in the building trades across New England, as well as allies.

"This is the labor movement at its best and what happens when a group of determined workers fights for their rights," said U.S. Secretary of Labor Martin J. Walsh. "[The women of Women Build Boston] have grown into a powerful force in this industry. You are united and ready to smash down the doors for the next generation of women. And I'm here to tell you—the Biden-Harris administration has your back because you're leading the way."

The conference, organized by the Greater Boston Building Trades Unions, took place at Encore Boston Harbor — a landmark site for the advancement of women in the building trades. Under a project labor agreement, the greatest tool for promoting equity in the construction industry, nearly 500 tradeswomen were part of Encore's construction crew, the largest number of women workers on any construction project in U.S. history.

"As the proud daughter of a union school nurse — a single mom who raised all five of us on her own — I am forever in awe of the strength and resilience of women in labor," said Maura Healey, Attorney General of Massachusetts and the Democratic nominee for Governor of Massachusetts. "We've worked closely together to diversify the trades and bring more women into these high-paying, rewarding, and in-demand fields. As Governor, I want to build on this work to create and expand career paths for women in the trades and meet the urgent infrastructure needs of our state."

"Today, we came together to build up our labor movement," said Renee Dozier, Business Agent of IBEW Local 103. "We're creating not just a better Boston, but a better future for women workers."

"Whenever I look at construction sites, I see women stepping up and paving the way for Boston's future. I'm honored to be part of the surge in women's participation and leadership in building trades unions," said Renee Dozier, Business Agent of IBEW Local 103. "We're creating not just a better Boston, but a better future for women workers."

The day kicked off with a tribute to four Massachusetts women trailblazers in the building trades: Susan Eisenberg of IBEW Local 103, Deb Gilcoine of Painters and Allied Tradesmen District Council 35, Maura Russell of Plumbers and Gasfitters Local 12, and Gayann Wilkinson of Iron Workers Local 7. Attendees also participated in breakout sessions that helped them build financial literacy, develop their leadership skills, know their worker rights, and protect their mental health.

Caucus of Women Legislators seeks diverse applicants

Special to the Journal

The Massachusetts Caucus of Women Legislators is pleased to announce that they are seeking applicants to fill two seats on the Massachusetts Commission on the Status of Women (MCSW).

The Massachusetts Caucus of Women Legislators is a bicameral and bipartisan Caucus comprising 30% of the state legislature with 59 members. The Caucus is one of four appointing authorities to the Massachusetts Commission on the Status of Women.

The MCSW was created in 1998 and is tasked to review the status of women and girls in Massachusetts and to offer policy recommendations to improve equality and access to opportunities for all women in the Commonwealth. The Commission consists of nineteen volunteer commissioners who serve staggered three-year terms. The Caucus appoints six of these commissioners and is currently seeking interested applicants to fill two openings.

Interested applicants are asked to submit a copy of their resume and a letter of intent to the MA Caucus of Women Legislators' Executive Director, Nora Bent@MAlegislature.gov by Wednesday, October 26 at 5:00pm for consideration. Additional details regarding the application process can be found on the Caucus' website: www.mawomenscaucus.com.

Massachusetts. The Commission hosts public hearings, works with legislative partners to recognize "Commonwealth Heroines" in every community, and hosts advocacy days on Beacon Hill to advance issues.

The Commission strives to be representative of women throughout the Commonwealth and, as such, the Caucus is looking for diverse applicants who have varied backgrounds and resumes—specifically diversity in race, ethnicity, religion, age, sexual orientation, geography, professional background, interests, and socio-economic status. Commissioners are expected to commit to meeting attendance, participation, and collaboration with fellow Members of the Commission. Potential applicants should have a background in advancement work for women and girls or a strong interest in it. More information about the Commission on the Status of Women can be found on their website: www.mass.gov/orgs/massachusetts-commission-on-the-status-of-women quality of care.

4. Look Nearby. Sometimes the cost of assisted living communities is driven by the cost of real estate. Look in neighborhoods where the cost of living is less expensive.

Traveling an extra 30 minutes to a rural or suburban area can result in a meaningful reduction in rent and care costs.

5. Time Your Move-In. Assisted living communities, especially larger ones, have financial pressures the same as other businesses. They are often willing to give price breaks at the end of month or their financial quarter.

6. Get Only What You Need. Many assisted living communities will offer an all-inclusive services package. Instead, review the a la cart offerings and only select those services your senior really needs.

7. Have More Than One Option. Potential residents should always have more than one option for assisted living to increase bargaining power and likelihood of getting incentives, as well as minimizing items such as community fee. It also provides a client with a Plan B should the assessment of the senior not go well.

"Paying for senior care can quickly become a financial burden to seniors and families who may not know their options" explained Moniz. "It's important to seek senior living advice. I personally work with families to help save money and reduce costs of long-term care."

RHS VOLLEYBALL REMAINS UNDEFEATED

The Revere High girls volleyball team remained undefeated with three more victories this past week over Greater Boston League (GBL) rivals, all of which were 3-0 shut-outs.

The Lacy Patriots, who improved to 15-0 overall on the season, topped Lynn English, 25-15, 25-17, 25-15, last Thursday.

The following day, senior Tassya Dacosta set 20 assists for her teammates and the duo of Ayra Vranic and Gabriela De La Rosa made 10 kills each in a victory over Medford.

This past Monday, the Lady Patriots vanquished the Lady Red Devils of Chelsea, one of the top teams in the GBL, by scores of 25-11, 25-19, and 25-7.

Coach Lianne Mimmo and her crew, who stand alone atop the GBL with a 12-0 mark, will seek to clinch the 2022 league title with a match at Malden today (Wednesday). Revere defeated the Lady Golden Tornadoes (who lost to Chelsea this past Friday and who are in second place in the GBL with an 8-2 record) in their first meeting three weeks ago.

Revere will travel to Everett on Friday to complete their GBL schedule and will return home to host non-league rival Archbishop Williams on Monday.

RHS GIRLS SOCCER IMPROVES TO 6-4-2

The Revere High girls soccer team won three of its five contests during a busy 10-day stretch to improve to 6-4-2 on the season.

The Lady Patriots faced off against a well-coached and disciplined Medford team on Thursday, September 29, and came up short, 1-0.

“We dominated the whole game and outplayed Medford, but we couldn’t find the net,” said RHS head coach Megan O’Donnell.

The Lady Mustangs scored what would prove to be the game-winning goal late in the first half, and though Revere outshot Medford the rest of the way, the Lady Patriots were unable to deliver the ball into the back of the Lady Mustang net.

“Our defense, led by Ari Pina and Giselle Salvador, has really come together this year to be a lockdown defense,” noted O’Donnell. “Our offense, led by Nahomy Galvez, Nataly Olivia, Erika Mejia, and Sandra Torres has been playing so well together this season and it will only get better.”

However, the Lady Patriots shook off the tough defeat and bounced back with a 1-0 win over league rival Somerville, which was another strong battle against a tough team.

The Lady Patriots scored late into the first half when a ball was played deep to the corner of the box. Nataly Olivia and Erika Mejia both touched the ball before it hit a Somerville defender in the back and Samarah Paiva was in the right spot at the right time to kick the deflected ball past the Lady Highlander keeper.

“Our midfield, led by Erika Mejia, Sandra Torres, Catalina Chizavo and Kyra Delaney, made some big plays in the middle by knocking Somerville off the ball and causing many turnovers,” said O’Donnell. “Our defense, led by Ari Pina, Samarah Paiva, Fatima Olivia, and Giselle Salvador, played Somerville very tough and denied them shots on goal.

“Our keeper, Nisrin

Sekkat, made multiple saves down the stretch to

The Revere High golf team defeated Lynn English, 38.5-33.5, on the latter's home course at the Gannon Country Club this past Thursday. The contest was a close one, with Revere only ahead by two points with the final four-some of the teams' No. 7 and No. 8 players still to come home. However, Jason Seigal, playing in the No. 8 spot for the Patriots, defeated his English opponent by a wide margin, 7-2, to secure the triumph. Other winners against their English counterparts for Coach Matt Nazzaro's squad were captains John Cimarutta (6-3) and Mark Maloney (5-4) at No. 1 and No 2, and Jeff Kingston and Gennaro Cataldo, both by scores of 5-4. The Revere High boys soccer team broke into the win column with a pair of solid 2-1 victories over Saugus and Gloucester this past week. Tarik Maddrey moved from goal into the field and provided an instant spark for the Patriots by scoring two goals against Saugus. The next victory over Gloucester followed the same script, with Maddrey and Wilmer Cruz scoring goals on headers. Junior Nikki Nelson continues to set the standard for the Revere High girls cross country team. Nelson set a new school record on the RHS course, running 19:35, to capture first place in last week's meet with Lynn Classical which was won by the Lady Patriots, 15-47. Caitlyn Carmello came in second place in 21:57. A total of 16 Lady Patriots competed in the meet. The Revere High boys cross country team shifted into high gear to come away with a 15-50 shutout victory over Lynn Classical Tuesday. Leading the way for Coach Mike Flynn's squad was Kristi Nushi, who finished all alone in a time of 16:42. Karim Sahila was next across the line for the Pats in a clocking of 17:09, a personal record (PR). He was followed by teammates Rawlings Toglon in 17:24, John DelloRusso in 17:48, William Truong in 18:28, Mohamed Bensadok in 18:31, Derek Fortuna in 18:32, Jay Mistri in a PR of 19:24, Boun Chea in 20:14, Chris Genty in 21:48, Dominic Giangregorio in 27:21, Carl Bendeck in 27:37, and Anderson Venagas in 32:28. The Revere High girls soccer team came out on the short end of three contests this past week, which included well-played, close losses of 3-1 to Saugus and 3-2 to Gloucester. Paola Ortiz scored a goal in both games and Taylor Fiore reached the back of the net in the Gloucester tilt, a match in which the teams were tied until Gloucester scored the winning goal with 15 minutes to play. 20 years ago October 16, 2002 The RHS football team dropped a 28-15 decision to Arlington. David Cardinalino scored both Revere touchdowns. RHS quarterback Larry Salamone ran for some big yardage and completed a 52 yard pass to James Vuu that set up the first Revere TD. get us the win and record another career shutout victory," O'Donnell added. Last Wednesday the Lady Patriots made it two in a row over a Greater Boston League opponent with a 3-0 blanking of Malden. Sandra Torres scored her first varsity goal midway through the first half with an assist from Nahomy Galvez and Kaylin Olivia. Revere made it 2-0 when Olivia reached the back of the Lady Tornado net with an assist from Samarah Paiva, who sent a great ball up the middle to Kaylin, who beat two defenders and then the Malden keeper. "This was Kaylin's first career goal," noted O'Donnell. Erika Mejia, with an asassist from Nahomy Galvez, added an extra insurance marker for the 3-0 finale. Sekkatt collected her second shutout of the season. "We had great play by everyone who got into the game that day," said O'Donnell. "Again, our midfield and defense played lights out." Revere traveled to Lynn Classical the next day and dropped a 3-0 decision to the Lady Rams. "Classical is a tough team," said O'Donnell. "They outplayed us Thursday night, but Nisrin Sekkat made a huge save on a penalty kick in the first three minutes into the game and set the tone early. Classical scored all three goals in the first half and we shut them out in the second half, but we couldn't find the net." O'Donnell and her crew then played their third game in three days — and fourth in five days — when they took on non-league opponent Boston International on Friday and earned a 5-0 victory. Revere grabbed the lead late in the first half with goals from Erika Mejia (assisted by Sandra Torres) and Ari Pina, assisted by Mejia. On the latter goal, the duo of Ari and Erika worked a nice give-and-go when Pina brought the ball up the field from the back and passed it to Mejia, who gave it back to Ari for the score. The Lady Patriots came out flying after the intermission, with goals from Sandra Torres (assisted by Eldaa Samuel and Fatima Oliva), Catalina Chizavo (from Fatima Oliva), and Nisrin Sekkat, with an assist from Ryesha Mezan. "Myka Charles got her first career start on defense and played really well with Fatima Oliva, Ari Pina, and Giselle Salavador," said O'Donnell. "Our midfield were Erika Mejia, Sandra Torres, Catalina Chizavo, and Jessica Nova, and our strikers were Kaylin Oliva and Eldaa Samuel." The contest afforded O'Donnell the opportunity to give her full team some playing valuable time. "Amina Chitaoui, Kimberly Doblado, Tiffany Hoang, Ryesha Mezan. Kathy Granados, Jennifer Martinez, and Grace Ramirez all got into the game and played great," noted O'Donnell. "They have been working hard all season and it showed in the second half of the game." The Lady Patriots, who need two wins (or four ties) in their final six games in order to punch a ticket for a journey to the post-season tourney, were scheduled to travel to Lynn English yesterday (Tuesday) and will host Everett tomorrow (Thursday). They will entertain non-league foe O'Bryant High next Monday evening, October 17, in a contest that will be highlighted by Senior Night festivities at 6:00 at Harry Della Russo Stadium, and Chelsea next Tuesday.

day. "Sophomore Daniela Santana Baez and freshman Stephanie Reyes each had amazing races, both running their fastest race pace to date, as well as beating their previous home course time by over a minute," Sinnott added. "Juniors Rocio Gonzalez Castillo and Yasmin Riazhi also bettered their home course race times. Olivia Rupp continues to be dominant, taking first place for the third consecutive race," Sinnott continued. "Our next two meets are also at home, which is where we can really show our full-season improvements." Sinnott and her crew were scheduled to host GBL rival Malden today (Wednesday) and will entertain Somerville next Wednesday. "Both opponents will be challenging races, so we know there is work to do," noted Sinnott. The individual results for the Revere girls were as follows: Olivia Rupp — 1st — 22:45 Rocio Gonzalez Castillo — 2nd — 23:01 Yasmin Riazhi — 4th — 24:56 Salma El Andalosy — 5th — 26:27 Daniela Santana Baez — 7th — 27:08 Stephanie Reyes — 8th — 29:15

Zaraius Bilimoria finished sixth in 20:04, which was faster by seven seconds from his race two weeks ago. Luca Shanley, running in his third varsity meet, ran a strong race, finishing with a time of 28:04. Flynn and his crew were set to host Malden today and Somerville next Wednesday. RHS GOLFERS PLAY WELL VS. GBL RIVALS Although the Revere/Malden co-op golf team came up on the short end of its recent matches with Greater Boston League rivals Lynn English and Lynn Classical at the Gannon golf course, a number of the Patriot Tornados turned in fine performances. In a closely-fought battle with Lynn English, in which the Bulldogs edged Revere/Malden by a score of 39-33, the top performers for the Patriot Tornados were Ollie Svendsen, playing at #6, who won his match, 6-3, and Chris MacDonald, playing at #7, who defeated his Bulldog counterpart 5.5-3.5. Frankie Annunziata at #3, Saul Kruckenberg at #4, and Dante Federico at #8 all halved their matches with their English rivals. In the match with Classical, which was captured by the Rams by a score of 47-25, Annunziata won big at #3 by a score of 7-2. Federico at #8 was a 6-3 winner and MacDonald, playing at #7, won his match, 5-4. Saul Kruckenberg tied his match, 4.5-4.5, in the #4 slot. Coach Brandon Pezzuto and his crew were slated to host Salem yesterday (Tuesday) on the Patriot Tornados' home course at the Kelly Greens Golf Course in Nahant. The Greater Boston League Open is scheduled for next Tuesday at Kelly Greens.

Revere football falls to Everett, 41-13

By Cary Shuman

The Revere High football team scored the game's first touchdown, but Everett High's depth and talent on both sides of the football proved to be too much for the Patriots who fell to the Crimson Tide, 41-13, Friday night at Everett Memorial Stadium.

Coach Lou Cicutelli's contingent took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter when Carlos Rizo connected with Sami Elasri for a 55-yard touchdown pass and Felipe Maia booted the PAT.

But Everett's potent offense, led by senior quarterback Karmarri Ellerbe, took control of the game with 28 unanswered points. Ellerbe rushed for two touchdowns in the game. Everett defensive end Kevin Ruiz's return of an interception for a touchdown – known as a Pick-6 – was also a key play in the Tide's takeover of the proceedings.

"Their quarterback ran wild on us," said Coach Cicutelli. "We weren't able to contain him. He's a very good football player. We also made two big mistakes that really cost us, but other than that, we played them tough. It's Everett and bottom line, they're hard to beat."

Rizo and Elasri combined for Revere's second TD on a 60-yard pass play in the fourth quarter.

Boudreau sustains collarbone injury

Dominic Boudreau sustained a collarbone injury in the game and will likely be lost for the remainder of the season.

The hope is that Boudreau, one of the school's best all-around athletes, will be ready to take the court for the Revere High basketball season.

Revere plays at Somerville Friday

Revere (2-3) will travel to Dilboy Stadium in Somerville Friday for a 7 p.m. kickoff against the Highlanders.

"Hopefully we can right the ship and get back on track," said Cicutelli. "We have a big one the following week against Lynn Classical."

In one of the bigger games on the high school football schedule this week, undefeated Peabody (5-0) hosts Winthrop (3-2) Friday night. Winthrop has won three games in a row over Medway, Danvers, and Gloucester.

UP ABOVE: Dom Boudreau (11) gets up enough to outleap Everett's Kederson Pierre (8) and come down with the catch.

PRESSURE POINT: William Rosaes Granadino pressures Everett quarterback Karmarri Ellerbe during first quarter action of Everett's 41-13 win at Everett Memorial Stadium Friday, October 7.

OUT OF REACH: Christopher Cassidy (5) and Everett's Joao Pedro Rodrigues watch as an overthrown ball intended for Cassidy lands incomplete.

TRIPLE DECKER: Revere's Abbas Attoui (20) and Jason Shoho land on Everett's Domenic Papa (bottom of pile).

RODEO RIDE: Revere's Danny Hou wrestles Everett's Damien Lackland.

GROUP EFFORT: Revere's Michael Toto (14), Giovanni Woodard (48) and Dom Boudreau join forces to stop Everett's Kederson Pierre (8).

LATE ARRIVAL: Nicholas Aguirre (66) moves in but is not in time as Everett's Jayden Prophete recovers a muffed punt.

EYES ON THE BALL: Dom Boudreau (11), defended by Everett's Dave DeSouza (7) concentrates on the ball but the pass fell incomplete.

RUNNING ROOM: Revere's Maykin Funez Gonzalez has some open space to run.

Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority to host recruitment fair at Boston City Hall Plaza

Staff Report

The MBTA today announced a Recruitment Fair at Boston City Hall Plaza on Thursday, October 13, 2022. Like many industries, transit employers across the country are rushing to hire workers as they try to fill critical vacancies and rebuild a workforce battered by the pandemic.

According to the American Public Transit Association, more than nine in ten public transit agencies are having difficulty hiring new employees, with bus operations positions being the most difficult to fill. Almost two-thirds of transit agencies indicate they are having difficulty retaining employees.

"At the T, we are facing a workforce shortage with employee attrition outpacing new hires," said MBTA General Manager Steve Pofatak. "We are hiring across all departments and divisions including bus and train operators, administrative support, accounting and finance, legal, engineering, labor, IT, environmental, and safety, along with a host of other career opportunities."

As the T looks to fill open positions, it is working closely with local and state career centers and community partners to recruit new individuals to join its team.

The T will have tents on City Hall Plaza from 10 AM to 2 PM to support its recruiters who will discuss job opportunities, provide information on careers, benefits, and directions on how to apply for a job. Recruiters from Keolis, The Ride, and Block-by-Block will also be on hand to discuss career opportunities. The City of Boston will also have recruiters on-hand to discuss municipal career opportunities.

People interested in learning more about careers at the T should visit mbta.com/careers.

The MBTA is offering competitive salaries, signing bonuses for safety critical positions such as bus operator and dispatcher, increased its tuition reimbursement to $10,000 annually, and paying nearly $8,000 for bus drivers to earn their CDL license.

For more information, visit mbta.com/careers, or connect with the T on Twitter @MBTA, Facebook /TheMBTA, or Instagram @theMBTA.

Northeast Metro Tech celebrates groundbreaking on new school building

Staff Report

Superintendent David DiBarri, the Northeast Metro Tech School Committee and School Building Committee are pleased to share that they were joined by local and state officials Wednesday as they broke ground on a new school building that will expand and modernize facilities and serve students from a dozen member communities for over 50 years.

"This new school will solidify the existence of career technical education for the next 50 plus years, changing the lives of thousands of local residents for generations to come," said School Building Committee Chairman Theodore Nickole. "That's something special that we've all done together. Just think of it: For the next 50 years, kids and their kids and grandchildren being here. That's really exciting to me."

Northeast, built in 1968, currently serves about 1,300 students in its career technical education programs, but only has the capacity to accept 41 percent of applicants each year. The building has outlived its intended lifespan. The new facility will expand capacity to serve about 1,600 students; will modernize shops and technology within the building to meet the demands of employers and industries; improve compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act; improve access to school grounds for both buses and drivers, and significantly reduce the school's carbon footprint.

A team made up of Northeast officials, School Committee members from all 12 communities that Northeast serves, and construction experts spent more than four years developing a plan for a new building. The team worked in partnership with officials in sending communities, listening to suggestions and concerns, to develop a building plan that is cost-effective, environmentally sound, and fiscally responsible.

The new facility will be built next to the current school while classes continue uninterrupted. It is scheduled to be completed in 2026.

Nickole thanked Northeast Metro Tech alumni from the school's 12 sending communities, and said their support in public forums and on social media were key to getting the proposal at the ballot box.

"They want this school here for their children and their grandchildren, and that's what we all want," Nickole said.

Davis, former Speaker of the House Robert DeLeo and Northeast Metro Tech Superintendent Dave DiBarri toss the first shovels full of dirt at a groundbreaking for a new school building.

COURTESY NORTHEAST METRO TECH

School Committee Chair Deborah P. Davis thanked the administration, her fellow board members and the School Building Committee for their hard work, but said she wanted to thank the voters in the schools' member communities most of all for their support.

"We will be providing our 12 member communities with the finest vocational education and a brand new, state-of-the-art facility for many years to come," Davis said.

Former Massachusetts Speaker of the House Robert DeLeo, who was instrumental at times in helping the project move forward, said the new school will be a win for the entire state, and not just the 12 member communities, because of the value and importance of career technical education.

"I can tell you that although this is a wonderful ceremony, this is really not an event about the first step. This is really a celebration," DeLeo said. "This is a celebration because I see this school, and all the vocational schools throughout this state, as being major engines for the economy of Massachusetts."

The approximately $317.4 million project will receive approximately $138 million in support from the Massachusetts School Building Committee, whose executive director spoke at the groundbreaking. The balance of the costs will be paid by sending communities based on the number of students attending the school.

MSBA Executive Director Jack McCarthy said that as he visits building projects around the state, he enjoys those at vocational-technical schools the most because of the passion of the students.

"They're here because they really want to be here in this school to learn the trades and the things that they're learning," McCarthy said.

Students in the Culinary Arts and Design and Visual Communications programs helped organize the groundbreaking ceremony. Culinary students provided hors d'oeuvres, popcorn and other snacks, and Design and Visual Communications students helped prepare gifts for the event, the event program, and greeted guests on Thursday.

"The quality of this new building will serve students and change their lives for the better for decades to come, facilitating their growth and helping them to find clear pathways for the rest of their lives. Each brick and beam that goes into this building will help build the lives of future students," said Superintendent DiBarri. "I am so grateful for the support from our sending communities and excited for the future of all those in our communities who chose Northeast Metro Tech and the paths that we provide to the future."

REVERE Through the Years

10 years ago October 10, 2012

The inaugural Columbus Day Parade roast on Monday featured several zingers and it wholly entertained a sold-out crowd in the Beachmont VFW. In fact, the event was such an immediate success that it appeared it would become an annual affair. The hall was packed to the gills Monday morning, with standing room only available and seats hard to come by. There were local residents, political figures from neighboring cities as well as local officials, and statewide office holders. There was also a substantial turnout from the business community and the Revere Chamber of Commerce. All of it pointed in one direction: the Columbus Day Parade is not dead yet – and in fact – may have been fully revived after Monday morning.

If Revere loses the coveted and necessary Rental Car Surcharge fee from Thrifty Rental Cars, that loss will be only half of the story. City Director of Finance George Anzuonisaid that the City also would lose around $600,000 per year in excise taxes when Thrifty leaves for the Logan Airport's new Consolidated Rental Facility.

As a machine burst into flames deep within a mechanical room at the behemoth Necco Candy Company on American Legion Highway last Friday night, the situation went from bad to insanelly bad in a matter of minutes. It was precipitously close to a disaster, but the end result was a lucky near miss – a situation that almost unfolded in what many have dreaded since the candy company opened 10 years ago and informed the City it would be using lots of ammonia. Fire Chief Gene Doherty told the Journal this week that the Friday night fire ended up rupturing condenser lines that contained ammonia inside the factory, leading to a widespread release of very dangerous vapors throughout the facility. Two firefighters were immediately transported to the hospital with serious injuries, and the loss of property and product within the factory could end up totaling in the millions.

NEWS FROM AROUND THE REGION

AVELLANEDA TO LEAVE CITY COUNCIL

CHELSEA - Nearing the end of last week's City Council president, during the time allotted for announcements, Council President Roy Avellaneda dropped a bombshell.

"This is my last City Council meeting, and I appreciate that my family was here tonight, and that my brother received an award and recognition, but it is something that I knew was coming," said Avellaneda.

Earlier in the evening, firefighters Christian Avellaneda, Stephen Waxman, and fire Captain Michael Gerska were presented department commendations for their roles in helping rescue a resident during a recent fire on Cottage Street.

Avellaneda noted that even some of his family members were likely taken by surprise by his announcement.

"Quite frankly, I have just been overwhelmed with the number of responsibilities that I have been taking on, both as a business owner and taking care of the presidency," said Avellaneda, who was first elected to the council about 25 years ago.

With the responsibilities he faces, Avellaneda said he saw the council position as the only part of his life that he could cut out for now.

"But I am happy with the decision, and I think we did a lot of work," said Avellaneda. "I say we, and I know I proposed a lot of stuff, I am happy with the history here of 25 years: the CPA, increasing the residential tax exemption, plenty of zoning changes, wage theft, the nip ban, keeping the 5th Street on-ramp open, having the senior bus program."

With his resignation, Avellaneda said District 8 Councilor and Vice President Calvin Brown will now assume the council presidency. He said it will also be up to the council to decide if it wants to fill his at-large seat for the remainder of his term, which runs through 2023.

"To the public, I imagine the council would start taking applications for this position to fill it, because it is a decent amount of time, too long I think, but again, I will leave it up to my colleagues," said Avellaneda. "It is now your court to decide whether or not to fill the position for the unfulfilled year, nearly 14 months."

Avellaneda thanked his family members for their support over the years, and also noted that he recorded a separate video aimed at thanking the residents and his supporters in Chelsea.

He also had some parting words for long-time clerk to the council Paul Casino, who is retiring at the end of the calendar year.

"I want to say I beat you Paul, I got out of here before you did," said Avellaneda. "This man has been incredible, he truly has, just to know your way up here and to get things done. He is a straight shooter with no biases, and that is really hard to do with so many characters and personalities up here."

Several of the councilors praised Avellaneda for his leadership at the helm of the council and expressed surprise that he was stepping down.

"I have served here since I was 23 years old, and you were the only president who gave me an opportunity to lead in some of the most important positions in this body and this government," said District 5 Councilor Judith Garcia.

Garcia said it's important to recognize leaders who paved the way for others.

District 2 Councilor Melinda Vega Maldonado also praised Avellaneda for helping her to establish her place in politics.

"It has been an honor and a pleasure to work side by side with you, and you have been a tremendous mentor and coach," Maldonado said.

Brown remembered when he and Avellaneda ran against each other for the same seat and butted heads in their early days on the council.

"But throughout the years, not only have I grown to have a great respect for your integrity, your workmanship, your willingness and dedication to serve and give, it's been an honor working with and beside you," said Brown. "Throughout the last few years, we've worked terrifically together and worked tirelessly in support of bringing this city together."

Councilor-At-Large Leo Robinson, the longest serving member of the council, said he was a little shocked that Avellaneda was stepping down, but understood his priorities.

"You have been a good leader for the city, and you have stepped up and introduced a lot of legislation that has benefitted the city," Robinson said

DEVELOPER LEAVES POPE JOHN PROJECT

EVERETT - The only designated developer selected to build affordable housing at the former Pope John XXIII High School notified city officials on Monday night that it is withdrawing its proposal.

"This just isn't the right time or place for it," said Rafael Mares, the Executive Director of The Neighborhood Developers (TND).

City officials purchased the property in 2019 from the Archdiocese of Boston for more than $10M after the school closed following financial difficulties in May, 2019. City councilors initially believed that the razing of the school for 138 units of affordable housing for the elderly, veterans, and families was the right course of action in December, 2019, when they authorized city officials to purchase the former school.

In the fall of 2020, the city put out a Request for Proposals to develop the site. The only bidder to apply was TND, the developer of many units of affordable housing in the communities of Chelsea and Revere and the St. Therese project on Broadway in Everett.

The bid was accepted and TND partnered with Hebrew Senior Life in the spring of 2021 to provide services to the senior citizens in the project. In the bid, the city would donate the building to TND and TND would pay real estate taxes that would eventually exceed the $10M that was paid.

However, the city's priorities have changed following the acceptance of the bid.

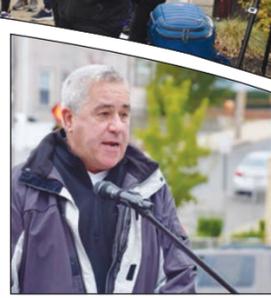

Student overcrowding, a problem in local schools for years, exploded on the public radar screen in recent months.

School officials tried to maximize the existing space in local schools by refurbishing storage rooms and suggesting the addition of modular classrooms at the George Keverian School to ease the overcrowding.

Mayor Carlo DeMaria set in motion the steps to get on approved project list at the Massachusetts School Building Assistance Program to build a new high school with a site to be determined. However, a proposed new high school could take up to 10 years to open.

Parents and residents became publicly upset and city councilors started their process to look at a and new construction in their neighborhood.

In September, Superintendent Priya Tahiliani and the school committee started looking at the Pope John school as a potential 7th and 8th grade middle school. Tahiliani presented three proposals to eliminate overcrowding in the K-8 schools at the September 19 meeting of the school board.

However, the high school would still remain a problem, with more than 400 students over the capacity of the building.

School Committee members and city councilors all took tours of the Pope John site, and made note of the extensive work that needs to be done to bring the building, which was constructed in the 1960s, up to present-day standards.

According to Tahiliani, a renovation could cost up to $40M.

The City Council and School Committee have scheduled a Joint Convention on Tuesday, October 4, to review the Pope John site for the use by Everett students.

The following is the letter that was sent by Mares of TND about withdrawing as developer of the Pope John site:

"Over the past weeks, I have been approached by many Everett residents. They each made a point of telling me that they appreciate the details of The Neighborhood Developers' (TND) proposal to build affordable homes at the closed Pope John School, but that it just isn't the right time or place for it.

"Overcrowded classrooms call for a school to remain a school. And while it unfortunately may not be as easy as opening the doors and letting the students in, we at TND appreciate the call for the Pope John School to be renovated so that it can service public school students in Everett.

"In 2019, the City Council and administration saw the closed Pope John School site as an opportunity to address another crisis Everett is facing, the desperate need for affordable homes. When in the Fall of 2020 the City issued a request for proposals to convert the Pope John School into affordable housing, we responded. We were the only team that did. No one else wanted to take on the Wehner Park. Putting together a financially viable proposal was not an easy thing to do at a time when construction costs alone are too expensive to make any new home affordable without some type of subsidy.

"In June 2021, we were selected as the developer for the site. While the pandemic may have pulled all of us in different directions, our team at TND continued to refine the concept.

"When in June 2022 the City Council considered the next step, the land disposition from the City to TND, the City Councilors astutely observed that the circumstances may have changed over the last few years. I admit, it was painful for us to watch after all the work we had invested and with the knowledge that the need for affordable homes in Everett has only escalated, but it was reasonable.

"The City Council therefore asked us to convene a community meeting to get feedback on the proposal; so we organized three events to make sure as many of the neighbors and other residents of the city could make it. What we learned, in part, was that another problem, the shortage of classrooms, was more pressing. While Pope John may not solve the whole space problem for Everett Public Schools, it could be one of the quicker ways to alleviate some of the pressure. We are honored to unwittingly have played a catalyst role to make that happen. To be clear, we are no longer working on the vision to transform the closed Pope John School into affordable homes.

"Why?", you might ask. TND, despite the D in our name standing for 'developers,' isn't really a developer in the common sense of the word. As the N for 'neighborhood' in our name suggests, our focus is broader. We develop affordable homes in Chelsea, Revere, and Everett so that residents can stay in their communities. We are a nonprofit, mission-based organization. We do more than build real estate. Our goal is to counter displacement, to create beautiful homes for residents of our communities, and to support them after they move in. Our mission is to create strong neighborhoods enabling community members to secure a stable home, Census over 50% of Everett residents spend more than 30% of their income on housing? Were you aware over 27% spend more than 50% of their income to have a roof over their head? That's not sustainable. Eleven percent of Everett's residents are 65 or older and almost 2.3% are veterans. There is a real risk of displacement for many Everett residents. TND remains ready to work with the City, residents, and non-profit partners to counter displacement, including through the creation of affordable homes. "Feel free to email me with ideas, I'm all ears.

NOAH HOLDS RESILIENCY SUMMIT

EAST BOSTON - More than 120 community residents and activists gathered at the Resiliency Summit that was organized by The Neighborhood of Affordable Housing (NOAH) at Spinelli's in Central Square. The summit touched on 12 topics that dealt with Cybersecurity, Extreme Heat, Tree Canopy, Air Quality and Health, Housing, Pandemic Planning, Food Insecurity, Flood Prevention, Critical Infrastructure, Youth Roles, and Immigration.

Those attending picked a topic that they felt strongly about and then, and with 8-10 other people, convened in breakout groups to discuss what can be done to improve people's lives and safety in East Boston.

Mayor Michelle Wu was in attendance and gave the keynote address for the event before the discussions started. The mayor said she had made it a point to squeeze this event into her schedule before she headed back to her next meeting in Dorchester. She said her office was working to tie resilience, climate, equity, and other community needs together and that people could see this effort in her new cabinet.

Mayor Wu introduced her Director of the Green New Deal, Oscar Sellers-Garcia, who began work just last August. Neighborhood favorite, Nathalia Benitez, the to meet and greet as well. Ward 1 Councilor Gabriela Coletta also stopped in and remained behind to meet with constituents. Coletta said this work to pull the neighborhood together, especially on waterfront and climate issues, was essential.

Gloribel Rivas, State Rep. Adrian Madaro's Chief of Staff, said the representative was in support, but was in Italy with family on a long-awaited vacation.

Latifa Ziyad, the Resiliency Coordinator at NOAH for the last 18 months, took the lead in the community efforts along the way that resulted in many listening sessions, with the Social Centers, the Health Center, food and social service agencies, and the East Boston Climate group among the most frequent participants.

In their previous summit in 2020, NOAH had undertaken more than 300 surveys throughout East Boston.

"Since East Boston is so vulnerable, we worked across all East Boston neighborhoods to learn if and how people understood climate issues and to whom they turned for reliable information on climate issues, especially in the event of an emergency," NOAH Executive Director Philip Giffie said.

"A major outcome was the agreed-upon need for more emergency preparedness planning and building a non-partisan Resiliency Network," he added.

While the need for Emergency Preparedness is still very much a focus, Ziyad found that in today's challenging COVID world, other issues topped residents' list of priorities, including food insecurity and food collaborations, COVID information networking and health and social service collaborations, and air quality.

"We believe that resiliency has to be built first with respectful listening to what people are saying about their needs and priorities," said Ziyad. "Everyone across the community is interested in preparing for an event, but other issues, such as affordable housing, immigration, youth vulnerabilities, flooding, air pollution, food insecurity, and the like need to be acknowledged first."

She said that more than 15 people came up to her afterwards and asked about next steps and how to get involved.

Giffie said some of those next steps include gathering interested people and agencies for a Resiliency Network and diving into some planning for the highly vulnerable Liberty Plaza/Central Sq. environs. He also said the City's Chief of Emergency Management, Shumeane Benford, agreed to help work on an East Boston Emergency Preparedness Summit in the coming months.

To get involved, reach Latifa Ziyad at 617.418.8241. The next steps include gathering people for a Resiliency Network and preparing in the coming months for an Emergency Preparedness Summit.

NOAH along with East Boston Neighborhood Health Centers and Blue Cross Blue Shield helped to fiscally sponsor the full days event(s). However the event planners consisted of no fewer than 22 organizational and academic leaders, many of whom co-facilitated the issue tables.

HELPING THE VICTIMS IN PUERTO RICO

LYNN - Jordan Avery and Stacia Frederick of the Salvation Army Lynn Corps are being commended for their humanitarian efforts in Puerto Rico following Hurricane Fiona which has had a devastating impact on the island and its residents.

Avery and Frederick traveled to Puerto Rico to assist the Salvation Army in food preparation and food distribution efforts that began soon after the Category 4 hurricane hit on Sept. 18.

Avery is well-known in Lynn for his work in the community. He is a certified emergency medical responder.

In Puerto Rico, Avery has been assisting in different aspects of the Salvation Army's response. "I'm helping out and doing whatever is needed," said Avery. "Yesterday, I was on the road driving two-and-a-half hours to the other side of the island to deliver food, work in the kitchen, and do some clean-up. The need is great, and the people are very appreciative of us being here and helping them."

Frederick is in her first year in the Salvation Army Lynn Corps. "I joined to hopefully help other people in any way that I could," said Frederick during a telephone interview. "Our effort is going well. A lot of our work has been cooking meals and preparing meals for people that don't have any electrical power in their homes."

Frederick said she was familiar with the Salvation Army's noble efforts. "I had met with their emergency/disaster services, but I didn't realize the extent of the help that they provide to people in the community after fires and other emergencies," said Frederick, who has been donating clothes to the organization for several years. "The Salvation Army does great work. I love working with the other volunteers and meeting people from different states."

'Our Dedicated Volunteers'

Heather McFarlane, director of communications for the Salvation Army Massachusetts Division and public information officer for the Salvation Army's Puerto Rico Response, recognized the dedication of Avery, Frederick, and the other volunteers.

"The Salvation Army is responding to meet the immediate needs of survivors and first responders after Hurricane Fiona ravaged Puerto Rico," said McFarlane. "Our dedicated volunteers were deployed to assist the team in Puerto Rico for two weeks as feeding needs have increased and we are providing other needs - ranging from hygiene and clean-up kit distribution, emotional and spiritual care, and other resources. The Salvation Army is still serving survivors and first responders. To date, we have served more than 20,000 individuals across the island. We'll be here as long as it takes to help with the long-term recovery. Sometimes the recovery on the inside can be harder than the recovery on the outside."

SCHOOL COMM. APPROVES NEW TEACHER CONTRACT

WINTHROP - The School Committee approved a memorandum of agreement with the Winthrop Teachers Association for a new, three-year contract at its meeting last week.

The contract, which runs through August 31 of 2025, will see teachers receive a two percent raise per year over the duration of the contract, as well as some additional market adjustments and longevity pay.

"The collective bargaining agreement expired on August 31 of 2022," said Paul Hodnett, the attorney for the school district. "We began negotiations in January of 2022, but in earnest, really, the negotiations began in late March. We had 11 sessions between January and Sept. 21."

The teachers ratified the agreement on Wednesday, Sept. 28.

"It provides wage increases on the basic teacher salary schedule of 2 percent each year," said Hodnett. "In year two and year three, in addition to these 2 percent COLAs (cost of living adjustments), there is what I describe as a market adjustment of $750, but only for those teachers who are on step 8 of the salary schedule."

There is also a longevity increase in year one for teachers who have been in the system for 30 years or more. Hodnett said that increase runs from $1,800 to $2,500.

Other teachers in the bargaining unit, at whatever step they are on, will receive a $100 increase on their step, although that increase would not apply to the teachers with 30 years or more of longevity.

The agreement also sees small increases in salary for coaches and assistant coaches, extracurricular activity leaders, and lead teachers and mentors.

In addition, the rate for teachers asked to take on extra work from the administration will see the hourly rate for that work increase from $35 to $42 in year one, $44 in year two, and $46 in year three.

The new agreement will also allow teachers to use some of their accumulated sick days for family illness days and will allow birthing parents to access eight weeks of sick leave and up to 15 personal days, if they have it available. Non-birthing parents will be able to use 15 accrued sick or personal days for paid leave.

The School Committee voted unanimously to approve the agreement, with the exception of Town Council President James Letterie, who recused himself because his wife is a teacher.

"As someone who has worked on this agreement, this is the result of many, many weeks of back and forth and very good discussion with our teachers," said committee Chair Jennifer Powell. "I think it is both reflective of our budget constraints and also the respect we have for our teachers and our desire to support them and to encourage them to stay here and also to be able to attract other teachers."

The following incident reports are among the calls to which the Revere Police Department responded on the listed dates. The log is a public record and available for review. All persons who are arrested or charged with a crime are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

Do you hate anchovies?

America's Test Kitchen made it clear that there is a vast difference between the best and the worst quality anchovies. If your experience with these little fish has been at the bottom of the quality scale, you have a good reason for not liking them. The tasters say those versions are not good examples of their kind, and simply trying a better quality product might change your mind. The taste testers on Serious Eats concluded, "Straight to the Point. Our favorite anchovies are the jarred Ortiz Anchovies. They're tender and have a mild, clean flavor."

In deciding what form of anchovies to use, we'll follow the guidance offerred by Kenji Alt-Lopes who writes "As someone who cooks with anchovies on a very regular basis, to me the answer is pretty clear: I'll stick with the oil-packed filets, but also keep a jar of the salted whole anchovies on-hand for when I really want that anchovy flavor to come forward. The paste can stay on the shelf."

Hidden Anchovies

We bet you've enjoyed anchovies without knowing it. You are already eating anchovies in dishes like puttanesca, caesar salad, caponata, tapenade, and condiments like Worcestershire and fish sauces.

Whole anchovy lovers will find those on the french tart pissaladiere and salad nicoise. They may also be the reason you love specific restaurant preparations.

In the 2022 taste test on Serious Eats, Niki Achitoff-Gray wrote, "Talk to almost any chef or experienced home cook, and they'll tell you that anchovies are one of the industry's favorite not-so-secret secret weapons. Because they're a concentrated source of glutamic and inosinic acid—two molecules responsible for triggering our sensation of savoriness—they're irreplaceable for adding depth of flavor and a meaty backbone to, well, pretty much anything."

Recipe developers often say that anchovies are optional. But - when you leave out anchovies, you won't enjoy the same result as the author.

Cooking with Anchovies A recipe may tell you to rinse dry-salted anchovies for half an hour or give the brined ones a quick rinse. That's a guideline. Your anchovies may need a longer rinse or none at all. We suggest you taste along the way when using this

Commonwealth drought conditions slowly beginning to ease up across state

Special to the Journal

With several recent precipitation events in September that directly benefited Massachusetts' hydrological systems, Energy and Environmental Affairs (EEA) Secretary Beth Card announced that drought conditions have improved in all regions of the state, and made the following drought declarations: the Western Region has been upgraded to Level 0-Normal Conditions; the Connecticut River Valley, Central Region, and Southeast Regions have been upgraded to Level 1-Mild Drought; and, the Northeast and Cape Cod Regions have been upgraded and will join the Islands Region as a Level 2-Significant Drought. As outlined in the Massachusetts Drought Management Plan, a Level 1-Mild Drought warrants detailed monitoring of drought conditions, close coordination among state and federal agencies, and technical outreach and assistance to the affected municipalities. Additionally, a Level 2-Significant Drought calls for the convening of an interagency mission group, which is already meeting, to more closely coordinate on drought assessments, impacts, and responses within state government.

"Even though recent rainfall over the past month has been extremely beneficial to the Commonwealth's water systems, it is important to remember that the majority of the state has had an insufficient amount of precipitation this year," said Energy and Environmental Affairs Beth Card. "State agencies will continue to closely monitor conditions, especially in locations that didn't receive as much rain, such as the coastal part of the Northeast, the elbow area on Cape Cod, and Islands Regions, and we ask that everyone continues practicing water conservation in an effort to further assist the rebounding of local water systems."

Today's declarations are the result of recommendations made by the state's Drought Management Task Force, which is composed of state and federal officials, and other entities. The taskforce will continue to meet until water levels return to normal in the affected regions. The task force noted that September rains have resulted in some recovery for both streamflow and groundwater; however, drought impacts continue to be seen, including some remaining dry streams and numerous slow-recharging or deeper wells across the state. Due to remaining low groundwater and less rain since the end of September and start of October, streamflow in some areas are beginning to decline again. Therefore, additional precipitation is needed to continue recovering from the drought and fully recharge the ecosystem. Additionally, coastal regions northeast of Boston, as well as the elbow of Cape Cod from Hyannis to Wellfleet are still exceptionally dry.

Below are recommendations for communities and individuals living and working within a Level 2 - Significant Drought region and a Level 1 - Mild Drought region, including those utilizing a private well. Residents and businesses are also asked to check with their local water system in case more stringent watering restrictions are in place.

For Regions in Level 2 - Significant Drought

- Residents and Businesses:
1. Minimize overall water use.
  2. Limit outdoor watering to hand-held hoses or watering cans, to be used only after 5 p.m. or before 9 a.m.
  3. Follow local water use restrictions, if more stringent.

Immediate Steps for Communities:

1. Adopt and implement the state's nonessential outdoor water use restrictions for drought; Level 2 restriction calls for limiting outdoor watering to hand-held hoses or watering cans, to be used only after 5 p.m. or before 9 a.m. If local restrictions are more stringent, continue to keep them in place during the course of the drought.

2. Limit or prohibit installation of new sod, seeding, and/or landscaping; watering during or within 48 hours after measurable rainfall; washing of hard surfaces (sidewalks, patios, driveways, siding); personal vehicle or boat washing; filling of swimming pools.

3. Establish water-use reduction targets for all water users and identify top water users and conduct targeted outreach to help curb their use.

Short- and Medium-Term Steps for Communities:

1. Establish a year-round water conservation program that includes public education and communication.
2. Provide timely information to local residents and businesses.
3. Implement or establish drought surcharge or seasonal water rates.
4. Check emergency interconnections for water supply.
5. Develop or refine your local drought management plan using guidance outlined in the state Drought Management Plan.

For Region in Level 1 - Mild Drought

Residents and Businesses:

1. Toilets, faucets and showers are more than 60% of indoor use. Make sure yours are WaterSense efficient;
2. Limit outdoor watering to 1 day a week (only from 5:00PM - 9:00AM), or less frequently if required by your water supplier;
3. Switch to more drought-tolerant plants.

Short- and Medium-Term Steps for Communities:

1. Establish a year-round water conservation program that includes public education and communication;
  2. Provide timely information to local residents and businesses;
  3. Check emergency interconnections for water supply;
  4. Develop a local drought management plan.
- Additionally, the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection (MassDEP) will continue to provide technical assistance to communities on managing systems, including assistance on use of emergency connections and water supplies.

"Drought conditions are improving in many areas of the Commonwealth, but the effort to conserve water remains as important today as it did earlier in the summer," said

MassDEP Commissioner Martin Suuberg. "Please continue to follow the instructions of your local water supplier to help conserve this precious resource."

It is important to note that the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (MWRA) water supply system is not experiencing drought conditions, as defined within its individual plan. Private wells, local streams, wetlands, vernal pools, and other water-dependent habitats located within MWRA-serviced areas are being impacted by drought conditions while water quality in ponds can deteriorate due to lowering of levels and stagnation.

The Drought Management Task Force will meet again on Wednesday, November 9, at 10:00AM. For further information on water conservation and what residents can do, please visit EEA's drought page and water conservation page. To get the most up-to-date information on the drought indices, go to the state's drought dashboard page. Additionally, the Commonwealth is surveying the public for any drought impacts that are currently being experienced. To participate, please visit the Massachusetts Water Impact Reporter webpage.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCTOBER 9-15 CELEBRATING 100 YEARS ■ 1922-2022

A FRIENDLY MESSAGE FROM THE REVERE FIRE DEPARTMENT

Fire Prevention Week works to educate people about the leading risks to home fires and ways they can better protect themselves and their loved ones.

IMPORTANT POINTS TO REMEMBER FROM THE REVERE FIRE DEPARTMENT

"FIRE WON'T WAIT, PLAN YOUR ESCAPE!"

- Make sure your home escape plans meet the needs of all your family members, including those with disabilities.
- Smoke alarms should be installed inside every sleeping room, outside each separate sleeping area, and on every level of your home.
- Know at least two ways out of every room, if possible. Make sure all doors and windows open easily.
- Have an outside meeting place a safe distance from your home where everyone should meet.
- Practice your home fire drill at least twice per year with everyone in the household, including guests. Practice at least once during the day and once at night.

high-sodium ingredient.

Anchovies disappear in a dish like Ed's favorite pasta puttanesca. One of the first steps is to warm olive oil in the pan and add garlic, anchovies and hot pepper flakes, then stir until the anchovies melt into a paste and become part of the oil.

Allergy Alert!

The possibility of an allergic reaction is our final thought on anchovies. If you have a seafood allergy, discuss that every time you are about to eat food prepared by someone else. Since anchovies are a secret ingredient beloved by so many chefs and great cooks (and are present in many traditional food preparations), you should always assume there might be anchovies in what you are about to eat.
