partment and their departure will leave a large void. They have both helped further the district to ensure all students have what they need to achieve success. We are very excited to welcome Jacqueline Chavez to the School Committee. She is a teacher and an education policy specialist, she understands what our schools need. Interim Mayor Keefe has also been a very strong advocate of the school department and as a members of the School Building Committee, has been deeply involved in the years of work already dedicated to this project. With so many families with young children moving to Revere in recent years, I am hopeful that the citizens will keep the schools in mind when they go to the polls. We desperately need to get the new high school building off the ground and since that now appears to be at the site of the existing high school, we'll need to begin planning for a new central middle school as well.

Gravellese said the positive experiences she has been afforded as a member of the Revere School Committee cannot be overstated.

"I've appreciated and learned from every moment spent with colleagues and constituents as we've navigated through both triumphs and challenges together," she stated. "As I move on to this new chapter of my life, I will be forever grateful for those moments – and for the trust that you have placed in me over the last decade to provide service to our schools, our children, and our community."

In recent months, Gravellese has been a vocal advocate for the building of a new Revere High School at the Wonderland site, addressing the City Council in her role as a committee member, as well as a resident.

While Gravellese is stepping down from her position on the School Committee, it is far from the end of her service to Revere community.

"I look forward to continuing my ties with and dedication to this great city as the General Manager of the new Robert J. Haas Jr. Health and Wellness Center," she stated. "I would like to extend a sincere and heartfelt thank you to the City of Revere and its constituents, to my family, and to my friends for the support that you have given me – past, present, and future. As they say, 'you can take the girl out of Revere, but you can't take Revere out of the girl.'"

Public hearing scheduled for home childcare zoning ordinance

By Adam Swift

The City Council is holding a public hearing on a proposed zoning amendment that will make it easier for home childcare businesses to operate in the city at its April 24 meeting.

"The purpose of this amendment is to make more affordable childcare options for residents throughout Revere by reducing zoning barriers and helping to develop more childcare businesses," said Councillor-at-Large Steven Morabito. "Currently, the city ordinance limits home childcare businesses to no more than four children per business and requires a special permit by the City Council. Under this amendment, the home daycares would be more in check with the state level to operate by right in 12 of the 19 zoning districts."

In 2021, the city led efforts to create a workforce development plan, and one of the things that plan highlighted was the need to expand childcare availability throughout the city.

"I'm speaking both as a community development professional and a father of three young children of the importance of quality affordable childcare as a key component of workforce development," said Planning and Community Development Director Tom Skwierawski.

The city's workforce development plan specifically called for reforming the local zoning ordinance to better align with state regulations for childcare businesses.

"We moved forward with a community strategy to reform our local zoning ordinance," Skwierawski said. "We worked with an advisory committee, multiple focus groups and had multiple community meetings. The end result was a zoning ordinance change."

Councillor-at-Large Marc Silvestri noted that the city's state legislative delegation is also working on potential changes that could make childcare more affordable both for businesses and residents.

"We do have to look at some of this stuff to create better jobs and more affordable care for those in our city," said Silvestri.

Under the proposed amendment, the home daycares would be able to operate by right in 12 of the city's 19 zoning districts. In addition, it would increase the limit for the businesses from four to 10 children, provided there is a second, certified childcare assistant at any business with seven or more children.

The revised ordinance would allow home-based childcare by right without having to go before the city council for a special permit. The one exception would be if there was a proposal for a home-based childcare business within 300 feet of another similar business. In that case, a special permit would need to be approved by the council.

munity's priorities and commitment to equitable and inclusive policies that promote economic sustainability, public safety, and a high quality of life for all residents. We need a leader who will prioritize the well-being and progress of our community above all else. A leader who understands the needs of our population and the is committed to making positive change.

I am proud to announce my candidacy for Mayor of Revere.

My parents came to this country from Italy with hopes of the American Dream. I can relate with so many residents in our city who are first generation Americans. I am a lifelong resident of this city, and I am deeply invested in its success. With my experience, vision, and passion for public service, I am confident that I am the right candidate to lead our city forward. Revere faces numerous challenges, from affordable housing and transportation to economic development and environmental sustainability.

As your Mayor, I will tackle these issues head-on, with a collaborative and inclusive approach that involves input from all stakeholders, including our citizens, business owners, and community leaders.

My priorities as Mayor will include:

Affordable Housing for All: I will work to increase the availability of affordable housing options for all residents, including families, seniors, and low-income individuals. I will also work to prevent homelessness and provide support to those in need.

Economic & Community Development: As city councilor, I supported substantial investments in parks, fields and playgrounds. We must continue to prioritize community and economic development throughout the city of Revere. I will work tirelessly to attract and retain businesses, promote entrepreneurship, and create good-paying jobs for our residents. I will also invest in workforce development programs to ensure that our citizens have the skills needed to succeed in the changing job market.

McMackin Field is place where I played baseball as a kid... It now looks like Belle Isle Marsh!

This field was named in honor of Charles G. McMackin. A U.S. Army Staff Sgt. who sacrificed his life when his plane was shot down in World War II. I will work diligently to revitalize this location in collaboration with area residents, to determine a use that fits the neighborhood while continuing to honor Sgt. McMackin. Community values should lead our development work.

Sustainable Development: I will prioritize environmentally responsible policies that protect our natural resources, reduce our carbon footprint, and promote sustainability. I will work towards implementing green initiatives, such as renewable energy programs and waste reduction efforts.

Safe and Inclusive Communities: I will work with law enforcement agencies, community organizations, and residents to promote safety, inclusivity, and equality for all citizens, regardless of race, gender, religion, or sexual orientation.

Transparent and Accountable Government: I will ensure that our government operates with transparency and accountability.

I will work to improve access to information, engage with citizens in decision-making processes, and fight against corruption.

Infrastructure: Despite all the work that's been done to replace aging infrastructure. I will make strategic investments in the city's roads, sidewalks and bridges.

I am committed to putting the needs of our citizens first and working tirelessly to make Revere the best it can be. With your support, we can build a better future for our city and create opportunities for all residents to thrive.

I humbly ask for your support in the upcoming mayoral election. Together, we can make a difference and create a brighter future moving Revere Forward. The Boston Renegades Women's Tackle Football Team is the premier Women's Football Alliance team in New England but has their homebase in Revere at Harry Della Russo Stadium. RevereTV has been covering home games here and there over the past few years, but the team is kicking it up a notch with their media goals and on-screen talent. The Renegades will be on RTV in more than just the basic game coverage. You can soon watch a program and short video series on RevereTV's YouTube and the Community Channel.

The first program with the Boston Renegades at RevereTV will be called "The Rundown." This will be an interview style show that features longform explanations and coverage about the team and their progress this season. There will be opportunities to hear from the team organization, coaches, teammates, and fans. "The Rundown" will have its own weekly time slot on the RTV Community Channel. Some members of the Renegades will be in the studio this week to record the first episode so keep an eye out for airtimes in the next RTV Spotlight.

The second project with the Renegades is the "Renegades Report." This is going to be a YouTube exclusive and short video package. These videos will only run a few minutes and will consist of fieldside coverage featuring player interviews. You can watch the first "Renegades Report" right now on RevereTV's YouTube page to get an idea for what is to come this season. The team is defending champions yet again and hope to keep the title this year.

RevereTV is playing a video that was put together with the City of Revere that asks for food pantry volunteers. It is important to note that the food pantry has been moved from 200 Winthrop Ave. back to its original location at the First Congregational Church on Beach Street, and this video shows the move. The representatives that speak in this coverage stress the importance of the food pantry to the city and their gratitude for current and future volunteers. Most of the city employees in this message volunteered to help move the equipment and resources to the church location a few weeks ago. The food pantry is not associated with RevereTV, but you can watch this video on RevereTV for more information about it. For general information about the food pantry if you want to volunteer or if you are in need, go to revere.org.

Mayor Curley Petitions For New Highway

Mayor Curley and the Boston street commissioner this week petitioned the state department of public works to proceed with the construction of the $3,000,000 North Shore radial highway connecting Day square, East Boston, with the Newburyport turnpike.

The Metropolitan Planning Commission recommended the layout of a highway 100 feet wide a few years ago, but no action has been taken. In anticipation of the completion of the East Boston tunnel, the Mayor believes that this direct route from Revere and points along the Newburyport turnpike should be made available to motorists.

The Boston petition simply seeks the laying out of the new 100-foot roadway from Boardman street to the Revere line at Belle Isle Inlet, but favorable action by the state department would mean the completion of the entire project.

Cases of Six Men Held On Liquor Charges Continued

The cases of the six men arrested by the Metropolitan police in the raids on Ocean ave. late last Saturday night were continued until April 11 by Judge Samuel R. Cutler in the district court at Chelsea Monday morning.

The men are Michael Mardoni, of Roosevelt street; Anthony Pramo, of 28 McKinley st.; Michael Ardiero, of 658 Ocean ave; Samuel Scio, of Washington ave; Anthony Scio, of 41 Agawam street, and John O'Toole of 585 Broadway.

All six are charged with making a nuisance of liquor and are being held for $400 bonds. Anthony Cucio was arrested had several copies of obscene literature on his person, according to the police, and an added charge of carrying immoral pictures and books was lodged against him.

Discipline For Four Members of Revere Police Department

Lieutenant and three patrolmen suspended from duty.

Lieutenant and three patrolmen, members of the Revere police department, were suspended from duty, Monday night, at roll call by order of Mayor Andrew A. Casassa. Each was charged with conduct unbecoming an officer.

They are Lieutenant Clair P. Chain, Patrolmen Whitman N. Zwicker, James F. Dooley, and Reserve Michael F. Mahoney.

It was said that the suspensions had no connection with recent raids in the city by the Metropolitan police, but the charges were based upon violation of the department regulations by the four officers on different occasions.

Reported Bill Favors Chelsea "L" Division

State House, Boston.—The purchase by the Boston Elevated of the Chelsea Street Railway is provided for in a bill which the Legislative Committee on Metropolitan Affairs reported this week.

The report provides for a redrafted bill and amends the 1931 Elevated control act by authorizing the purchase by the Metropolitan Transit District of Elevated bonds and use of the proceeds as follows: $2,800,000 for purchasing the Eastern Massachusetts properties in Revere, Chelsea, Everett, Malden and Boston and $500,000 for extensions, additions and improvements, including a power station.

Rep. Augustine Airola of Revere, who has been working unceasingly to secure the passage of the bill, is a member of the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs. Rep. Wadsworth of Boston has dissented, while Senators Hollis of Newton and Warren of Arlington, and Reps. Cavanaugh of Cambridge and Murphy of Boston have reserved their rights.

BRODBINE'S BILL FOR MOSQUITO CONTROL TABLED

State House.—After considerable debate the Senate on Wednesday finally voted to place on the table a substitute bill of Senator Brodbine of Revere to provide an appropriation of $100,000 for continuance of mosquito control work in order to aid employment. This measure was offered in place of an adverse committee report. Senator Brodbine stated that practically the entire amount would be used for labor and would be of great benefit.

The bill was opposed by Senator Moyses of Waltham, chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee, who declared that the committee would like to find employment, but did not believe mosquito control work was the way to do it.

Such projects have been valuable in providing work for the unemployed, in the opinion of Senator Shanahan of Swampscott, who urged substitution of assessments for the mosquito work.

The committee should be relieved, said Senator Haley of Rowley, who added that he could not vote for the measure unless that were done, although he felt it would be a means of furnishing employment.

Because there are a number of other mosquito control bills in committee which have not yet come up for action, Senator Holmes of Weymouth declared it would be advisable to place the measure on the table for a time. His motion carried on voice vote.

Firemen In Welfare Work

Capt. Albert Marden and Fireman Charles Clark of the fire department have been assigned by Mayor Casassa to investigate cases in the public welfare department. They relieve Patrolmen James M. McChristal and John H. Graham, who have been doing the work for several weeks. The latter are now engaged in police listing which began last Friday.

WALTER T. WHITE

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL OF WALTER T. WHITE

Funeral services for Walter T. White, 63, a former well known business man of this city, who died Saturday evening at his home, 151 Pleasant street, Winthrop, of pneumonia, was held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The Rev. C. H. Yinger of the Union Congregational church of Winthrop, officiated.

Mr. White was born in New York, but graduated from the Boston schools, and from the Massachusetts College of Embalming, from which institution he graduated with the highest honors, having obtained the remarkable rating of 100 per cent. He resided in Revere for more than 35 years, moving to Winthrop a short time ago.

He was prominent in the governmental affairs of Revere under the township form of government, holding several major political offices. He was a member of the Board of Health and the Board of Selectmen for four years. He held the unique honor of being the last chairman of that board before the town became a city in 1915.

During the war he also served on the local draft board.

He was a member of the Winthrop Lodge of Masons, a charter member of the Revere Lodge of Elks, Knights of Pythias and New England Order of Odd Fellows.

Mr. White will always be remembered as one of the outstanding men of the community. His passing will be regretted by his many friends in this city.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Oressa White, and one son, Raymond H. White.

Interment was at Woodlawn Cemetery.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS LEAVE FOR WASHINGTON

Forty-four Revere High School seniors, boys and girls, sailed Friday at 5 p. m. on the New York boat, en route for Washington, D. C., to pass a week in sightseeing. They are accompanied by Mrs. Harold Hathaway, Assistant Principal Robert R. O'Keefe, Earl Cardy and Miss Doris E. Wyman of the faculty. Mrs. Andrew A. Casassa, wife of Mayor Casassa, also is making the trip, while the latter plans to join the party later.

The high school party will arrive in Washington Saturday afternoon. Sunday morning a visit will be made to the Franciscan monastery. Monday and Tuesday mornings will be given over to the Capital's public buildings, and an audience may be arranged with President Hoover. Monday afternoon the students will go to Mt. Vernon and the unknown soldier's grave in Arlington cemetery. A visit will be paid Tuesday afternoon to the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Leaving Washington early Wednesday morning the party will make a brief stopover at Philadelphia for inspection of Independence Hall and the United States mint and a tour of the city. Thursday will be passed in a sightseeing tour of New York, among the places to be visited being the Empire State building. The seniors will sail for Boston Thursday evening, arriving home next Friday morning.

OFFICIALS ASK DYER RE REINSTATED FOR PENSION

Mayor Andrew A. Casassa, members of the Revere City Council, members of the Revere delegation and others spoke before the Rules Committee of the House of Representatives at the State House Wednesday in favor of a bill to reinstate John J. Dyer, former chief of police of Revere; so that he may be eligible for a pension.

Speakers said that Mr. Dyer had been in the police service 20 years at the time of his discharge by Mayor Walsh.

Revere Trust Agent Seeks $208,460 More

John W. Corcoran, as liquidating agent of the closed Revere Trust Co., through his attorney, Frederic J. Muldoon, Monday filed a bill in equity in the Supreme Court seeking to establish the liability of stockholders of that bank to the extent of $20, the par value of the stock, for each share held by them.

Well Known Men

Many well-known names in Greater Boston are included in the list of stockholders which is appended to the bill. The bank commissioner took possession of the bank Oct. 13.

One of the largest number of shares held by any concern or individual are those held by Eaton and McKnight, attorneys of Boston, the latter being Edwin T. McKnight, connected with the Medford Trust Co. as president, and admittedly holder of the majority of the stock of the Industrial Bank and Trust Co. of Boston, both banks being closed. In the Revere Trust Eaton and McKnight are stated in the bill to own 520 shares.

The largest stockholder is the president of the trust company, Joshua Harron of Beachmont, with 3995 shares.

John J. Hurley, treasurer of the trust company, will be called upon to pay the assessment of $20 a share on 175 shares.

John A. Deery of Salem, former president of the Salem Trust Company, owns 40 shares.

Mayor Has 200 Shares

Mayor Andrew A. Casassa is credited with holding 200 shares, and will be asked to contribute if the court grants the request of the liquidating agent.

A few of the stockholders have already paid their full liability, in response to a letter sent out on Jan. 2 last. Others, including Mayor Casassa, have paid in part, but the large majority of the stockholders have paid nothing.

Augustine Airola, representative in the General Court, holds 80 shares. The total amount sought to be collected by Mr. Corcoran is $217,600, and of this amount $5100 has been paid in full and $4040 as partial payments, leaving a balance still outstanding of $208,460.

MAKE PLANS FOR CLEAN UP WEEK CAMPAIGN

Preliminary steps in the local clean-up campaign were taken by Mayor Andrew A. Casassa during the past week when he asked Supt. of Public Works Walter Sancier to have trees pruned and old trees cut down and the wood used for distribution to those receiving city aid. Every street in the city will be cleaned up by men assigned to work by the welfare department.

The full text of the Mayor's letter follows:

As part of the local clean-up campaign for this year, it seems to me that it would be an excellent plan for you to assign some one in your department to visit parts of the city and prune the trees and remove the wood to the city yard where the welfare men can cut it into quantities for the use of the welfare department. There must also be in the city old trees that should be cut down and this wood should be taken to the city yard and split up for use. I will ask the people of the city to help us by sending us word of any old wood or trees which they would like to have us take care of. I would like this work to begin this coming week.

Will you also distribute the men assigned you by the welfare department to various streets of the city and have them cleaned up, street by street. If you will give me a list that I can publish telling the citizens when the trucks will be in their district for the collection of rubbish, we will try and make the city immaculate for the coming season. We have plenty of men and there is plenty of opportunity to use them to advantage if the work is systematically planned. I would suggest that the week of April 25th to 30th, inclusive, would be satisfactory for the collection department.

Please try to make this the best clean-up campaign that this city ever had. We will not ask the school children to participate actively this year and will leave it wholly to you and the men of your department.

Sincerely yours,
ANDREW A. CASASSA,
Mayor

Three Burned In a Thrilling Fire Rescue

Three men were badly burned, two of them fire department officials, and a girl was saved from death, when fire caused by the explosion of an alcohol lamp utilized for singeing a chicken exploded Thursday on the second floor of a wooden business block at the corner of Walnut and Shirley avenues.

Capt. George Porter and Lieut. Harold Jackson, of the fire department, and Harry Katz, who was singeing the chicken, were severely burned in their successful attempts to save Ellen Katz, Harry Katz's niece.

Fire raced through the building after the explosion, trapped Miss Katz in a windowless room on the second floor, from which she was rescued. Damage was estimated at $5000.

Eight persons besides Katz and his niece were forced to run from the building when fire broke out. None of them were injured.

The building is owned by Abram Bresnick and it is insured.

Know the Early Warning Signs of COPD

Chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD) is a long-term lung disease that makes it hard to breathe. A leading cause of disability and death in the United States, more than 12.5 million people have been diagnosed, and millions more may have the disease without even knowing it. While there is no cure, knowing COPD’s early warning signs can lead to earlier treatment and may prevent its progression.

The American Lung Association, funded with support from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, is sharing the following insights to help Americans recognize the warning signs of COPD and take action:

Early Warning Signs of COPD

Not everyone has the same COPD symptoms, but some of the more common early warning signs and symptoms may include shortness of breath, a cough that may bring up mucus or phlegm, chest tightness, fatigue and reoccurring lung infections. People may think these symptoms are because of aging, smoking or being out of shape and become less active to avoid experiencing them. These signs and symptoms shouldn’t be ignored. Speak with your healthcare provider if you experience any of these symptoms and discuss any activities you are avoiding due to breathing difficulties.

Risk Factors and Diagnosis

Anyone can develop COPD, but people aged 40 or older and those who smoke or used to smoke are at higher risk. Cigarette smoking is the leading cause of COPD, however 1 in 4 people with COPD never smoked cigarettes. Secondhand smoke, air pollution, workplace exposures to dust, fumes and chemicals, and a genetic condition called alpha-1 antitrypsin deficiency (AATD) are also causes and risk factors for COPD.

People are often diagnosed at later stages of COPD when the disease has progressed because they delayed sharing their early symptoms with their healthcare provider. Everyone with risk factors and those experiencing early warning signs should talk to their healthcare provider about any breathing issues. It’s especially important for women to do so. Because COPD has been historically thought of as a “man’s disease” or an “old person’s disease,” women are sometimes misdiagnosed or receive a delayed diagnosis. But overall, more women are affected by COPD than men and the death rate is higher in women. In addition, women tend to develop the disease at a younger age.

To diagnose COPD, the healthcare provider will evaluate symptoms, gather a complete health history, conduct a health exam and perform a pulmonary function test called spirometry. The results of the spirometry test can determine if you have COPD.

Lifestyle Changes

In addition to treatment, certain lifestyle changes may make a difference, as patients living with COPD know firsthand. After being diagnosed with stage 2 COPD in the wake of a COVID-19 infection, Bob F. partnered with his doctor and started monitoring his breathing at home and leaned into exercise. His hard work has paid off, with his last pulmonary function test showing that the disease has not progressed, and he is in better overall shape than before.

“Most of the advice you should follow is no different than what doctors tell us all. Eat right, exercise, sleep, drink plenty of water, manage your weight and don’t smoke. If you do these things, you may slow the progression of your COPD,” says Bob.

But you shouldn’t wait until a COPD diagnosis to make these changes. Lifestyle changes like quitting smoking, avoiding secondhand smoke and reducing your exposure to air pollution may reduce your risk for developing COPD. If you are experiencing shortness of breath or other respiratory symptoms, do not delay talking to your healthcare provider about your symptoms or COPD risk factors. Colleagues praise Mayor Arrigo for his service to Revere

By Cary Shuman

Mayor Brian Arrigo has served as Mayor of Revere since January, 2016. He brought many positive changes to the city over the last seven-and-half-years as its chief executive.

Colleagues in city and state government praised Mayor Arrigo for his exceptional leadership of the city and wished him continued success in the esteemed statewide position of Commissioner of the Department of Conservation of Recreation in the Gov. Healey Administration.

Following are some of the remarks from city officials and community leaders:

State Rep. Jessica Giannino
I am thankful for Mayor

Arrigo’s years of service to the City of Revere, and I wish him all the best in his new position as Commissioner of the DCR. In 2011, Mayor Arrigo and I began our journey together as young, new elected officials on the Revere City Council. It has been a pleasure working with him. I look forward to continuing our work together in his new role with the State, and I know he will continue to ensure that Revere remains a priority.

State Rep. Jeff Turco
As Mayor Arrigo begins the next phase of his public service, I offer my best wishes and congratulations to him and his family. Starting with his wonderful father, the Arrigo family has served the citizens of Revere for decades and we are better off because of their service. I look forward to continuing my working relationship with Commissioner Arrigo as he strives to make the Commonwealth's vast public parks a source of pride for all of us.

Sen. Lydia Edwards
I am excited for Mayor Arrigo and for the Commonwealth. He is ready on Day 1. He knows the relationship between environmental stewardship, growth, and setting up sustainable infrastructure.

Sen. Sal DiDomenico
I congratulate my friend, Mayor Arrigo, on becoming the next DCR Commissioner. This is a well-deserved appointment, and because of his experience as a municipal leader, he understands the important role DCR plays in our cities and towns throughout the Commonwealth. I know he will be a great Commissioner, and I look forward to working with him.”

Councillor-at-Large Marc Silvestri
It’s been a privilege to work for Mayor Arrigo’s administration for over seven years. As a city employee, I have witnessed Mayor Arrigo profession-alize city government while expanding and improving services that benefit everyone who calls Revere home. As an elected official, it has been an honor working with him to continue moving Revere on a successful path forward. Mayor Arrigo has transformed Revere and left the city better off than when he took office. I know Brian will take the same passion and commitment he has for Revere to the entire Commonwealth as the new Commissioner of DCR. I wish him and his family the best of luck.”

cant contributions to the City of Revere since 2015. He was awarded the 2020 Black Excellence on the Hill Award and Public Servant of the Month in December 2021 due to his commitment towards improving the City. Now, Randall is announcing his candidacy for City Council in Ward 5 and, if successful, will be the first Black candidate to sit on Revere's city council. His primary focuses are introducing innovation to improve city services, infrastructure, and green parks, and he continues to make Revere a great place to live, work, and visit.

"Randall has been an invaluable asset to the City of Revere," said Fernando Loaiza, a long-time resident of Ward 5 in Revere. "His dedication to improving the city has been beneficial to the community and is an example of how one person can make a difference."

Randall's role in helping establish Revere's 311 system has made it easier for residents to access city services and report issues. He also spearheaded the first rodent program in the city, which has significantly reduced rodent issues around Revere. His constant dedication to bringing more advancements to the City has made him an asset to the community.

"I am passionate about making sure that Revere is a great place to raise a family," said Randall. "I want to make sure that our city is a place where everyone can thrive and be proud to call home."

Join Randall for his first meet-and-greet with Revere residents on May 5th at 5:30 pm at Antonia’s at the Beach, 492 Revere Beach Blvd Revere, to learn more about his plans for the City of Revere. He is eager to meet with the community and discuss how he can help make Revere an even better place to live.

Parziale, often with a bullhorn in hand, was among the most vocal of the Arcadia Street residents who successfully rallied against the building of a 24-bed homeless resource facility at 84 Arcadia Street earlier this year.

“The honest truth is, I don’t want to run for City Council, I’ve tried to talk myself out of it a thousand times,” Parziale said. “But after going to so many City Council meetings after trying to help the community get the homeless shelter put in a different location, I came to realize that the only way to get something done is to do it yourself, and that’s the biggest reason. My daughter and the people in my neighborhood are the biggest reason I keep coming back to thinking I don’t have a choice, I have to do this.”

Parziale said if he serves on the City Council, he will be a “buck stops here” forward looking councilor looking for solutions to problems.

“I’m going to run for the people who feel like they have not been heard, for the people who feel like they don’t have a seat at the table, for the people who have been told by a city official that there is nothing we can do – there most certainly is, and I’m their guy,” said Parziale.

He said he believes that everyone currently serving as elected officials in Revere are good people, but that he has a different approach.

“My approach is always, how can we do this, how can I help?” he said. “When people say it can’t be done, those words don’t even register to me.”

Parziale isn’t afraid of being outspoken. For nearly two decades, Parziale was the producer and then an on-air personality for the Hill-Man morning show on WAAF before hosting his own podcast that skewers which tends to tilt conservative.

But Parziale said one of his strengths is his ability to listen and hear all sides of an issue.

“One of the things about me that I think is unique from other people, I absolutely find it imperative to work with the other side, no matter how strongly your politics are,” he said. “I prefer to hang out and to deal with people who don’t have the same views as me, because I am seeking to understand why they feel this way, because I might be wrong. Working with people who have a different opinion than me, that’s my forte.”

While he hasn’t made a final decision yet, Parziale said if he qualifies for the ballot, he may not seek any donations to his campaign.

“I don’t feel right asking people to fund my campaign,” he said. “It would be one thing if I was already on the City Council and running for reelection.”

One thing Parziale said he will be doing if he runs, though, is getting out to as many events and meeting as many voters as possible.

“I’m going to ask that if someone does support me, that they share it with someone else,” he said.

THE MARATHON BOMBING, 10 YEARS LATER

This week marks the 10th anniversary of the tragic Boston Marathon bombing which occurred on April 15, 2013, when two brothers set off a pair of bombs near the finish line of the marathon, killing three persons (Krystle Marie Campbell, a 29-year-old restaurant manager from Medford; Lü Lingzi, a 23-year-old Chinese national and Boston University statistics graduate student; and 8-year-old Martin William Richard from Dorchester) and injuring 281 persons, of whom 16 lost limbs.

In addition, during the manhunt for the bombers in the ensuing days, the brothers shot and killed 27 year-old Sean Allen Collier, a MIT police officer, who crossed their path, and shot two Boston police officers, one of whom, Dennis Simmonds, died on April 10, 2014, from head injuries he received during the shootout in Water-town.

One of the brothers was killed during the shootout and the other eventually was captured, tried, convicted, and sentenced to death, and now is imprisoned in a federal Supermax facility.

For those of us who are lifelong Boston-area residents, the horror of that afternoon, as well as the three-day manhunt for the suspects, will remain etched in our memories forever as no other local event ever has.

We will never forget the tremendous performance of the medical and emergency crews on the scene and at our area hospitals, who miraculously saved the lives of scores of victims who otherwise might have died from their wounds.

Ten years later, the memory of that day gives all of us pause to reflect, both to remember the innocent victims and to honor those whose heroic actions saved lives.

CLARENCE THOMAS: SUPREME HYPOCRITE

“I prefer the RV parks. I prefer the Walmart parking lots to the beaches and things like that. There’s something normal to me about it.” -- Judge Clarence Thomas in a recent interview.

The revelation this past week that Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas and his wife have been accepting luxury vacations from a Texas billionaire for the past 25 years, including a recent vacation that is estimated to have had a price tag of $500,000 (that’s not a typo -- there are no added zeros), is absolutely sickening.

For his part, this billionaire said he never discussed any cases with Thomas and reportedly never had any specific cases pertaining to him in front of the court.

However, among the other guests on these vacation junkets were top executives of major U.S. corporations, so it certainly is conceivable that some of these companies may have had matters that came before the Supreme Court during the 25 years that Thomas has been receiving these extraordinary gifts from the Texas billionaire.

However, the focus on whether any one of these wealthy and influential persons had any specific matters before the Supreme Court misses the point entirely, which is this: Thomas is hobnobbing with, and accepting gifts of immense value from, individuals who have a great deal of general interest in cases that come before the Supreme Court.

For example, the infamous Citizens United case in 2010 (in which the court held that the free speech clause of the First Amendment prohibits the government from restricting independent expenditures for political campaigns by corporations, thereby striking down a federal law that had placed a limit on donations by corporations) was brought by billionaires -- and who have been influencing U.S. elections ever since with what is known as “dark money” (because its source is unknown). Thomas -- surprise! -- voted with the majority in a 5-4 decision.

But beyond what constitutes an obvious conflict of interest by Thomas, this is just another example of the hypocrisy that has marked Thomas’s tenure ever since he was appointed to the Supreme Court more than 30 years ago.

Thomas rates as the most unqualified person ever to sit on the court. He never tried a case in a courtroom and had no substantive legal experience prior to being appointed to a seat on the federal Appeals Court. (He was incapable of having been named as a federal district court judge because he would have been clueless as to how to conduct a trial.)

He often speaks and writes of his humble beginnings growing up poor on a farm in Georgia, but he never acknowledges that it was thanks to de facto affirmative action programs at Holy Cross and Yale Law School that gave him the opportunity to rise to the highest court in the land. Nor does he acknowledge that it essentially was affirmative action by President George H.W. Bush that elevated him to his judicial posts, because Thomas by any objective measure was unqualified to be a judge.

But here’s the irony of Thomas’s personal affirmative action story: He is among the leaders of the Supreme Court faction that no doubt soon will be striking down affirmative action programs that have existed for decades in universities across the country.

Thomas’s stance on affirmative action is the height of hypocrisy — he benefited from programs that afforded him opportunities, but he is pulling up the proverbial ladder so that others cannot follow him— that goes way beyond taking expensive vacations in the face of his laughably stated preference for “Walmart parking lots.”

A climate resilient Boston needs Belle Isle Marsh

By Ana Tavares Leary

Nestled between the cities of Boston, Revere, and Winthrop lies a natural barrier to climate change, the 359-acre Belle Isle Marsh. A salt marsh is a low-lying, coastal area that mostly comprises grasses that are frequently flooded by ocean tides.

This wetland protects coastal areas from flooding, destructive winds, higher tides, and increasingly intense storms. Plants in salt marshes help buffer the coast and reduce the impacts of storm surges, such as those generated during hurricanes. The Marsh delivers essential ecosystem services, which are important to help reduce climate change impacts caused by rising sea levels and severe weather events. Belle Isle Marsh provides critical habitats for wildlife—including the 271 species of birds which have been documented there—and recreation areas for local communities.

Background

In 1988, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts designated Belle Isle Marsh as an ACEC, or an Area of Critical Environmental Concern. This area once contaminated by industry is now one of the most biologically significant habitats in Boston, according to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Thousands of birds migrate to this area, and many endangered and threatened species can be found in the reservation year round.

The largest remaining salt marsh in Boston Harbor, Belle Isle Marsh plays an important role in the prevention of flooding by delivering flood storage capacity. This capacity is lost when marshlands are filled or degraded via poor water quality from stormwater, which can also negatively impact public health, wellbeing, and safety to surrounding communities. Marshland filling accelerated in Boston during the expansion of Logan Airport in the 1960s.

Investing in a wetland is investing in public health. Salt marshes contribute to positive physical and mental wellbeing; they clean polluted air and purify water. Also, they provide accessible green spaces for recreation, physical activity, and connection to nature, all of which are crucial for improved mental health.

Coastal ecosystems (mangroves, salt marshes, seagrass meadows) are also known as blue carbon systems. Salt marshes and seagrass beds can sequester carbon (like forests do) during plant photosynthesis creating a carbon “sink” (capture). If destroyed, these habitats would emit a large amount of carbon into the atmosphere. Preserving these vital coastal systems is essential to reducing the effects of climate change and protecting vulnerable communities.

Given the enormous benefits of the Marsh to its neighboring cities, what is being done to conserve it?

FBIM

Local nonprofit and environmental advocacy group, Friends of Belle Isle Marsh (FBIM), has spent 40 years protecting and preserving critical conservation habitats, specifically Belle Isle Marsh. This group of volunteers and conservationists organized in 1983 to protect the Marsh from industrial use, and it continues to work in close partnership with the Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR) and other regional conservation groups. FBIM’s mandate is to protect the Marsh and its surroundings, to educate the public about the importance of salt marshes and barrier beaches, and to offer educational programming in all areas of the reservation.

Recently, the organization has partnered with the Mystic River Watershed Association, the Nature Conservancy, and the DCR to conduct an environmental inventory of Belle Isle Marsh, with technical assistance from the Woods Hole Group, to better understand the health of salt marsh’s ecosystem and to measure how it has changed over time. This inventory helps inform how the Marsh will adapt over the next 50 years to climate change, sea level rise, and increasing storms.

What can you do to get involved to help protect Belle Isle Marsh?

First, come visit Belle Isle to go bird watching, enjoy a leisurely walk, watch the sunset, or climb the observation tower. Then, read more about the organization on our website (<https://friendsofbelleislemarsh.com>) and join in on upcoming events, including monthly bird-watching walks, summer kayaking expedition, art painting night, and tide pool explorations for children. Finally, become a member to advocate for local conservation efforts, and take greater action in your community.

Conclusion

Understanding the critical importance of protecting our natural habitats is a first step to preserving and cherishing them. Wetlands provide myriad ecosystem services that benefit surrounding communities and help cities fight climate change.

Preserving Belle Isle Marsh—an essential coastal resource—contributes to a more climate resilient Boston, Winthrop, and Revere.

were all heading to the capital city of Massachusetts for an explanatory reason.

So not only were our local news teams there for the disaster: WBZ Channel 4 for CBS, WCVB Channel 5 for ABC, WHDH Channel 7 which used to be an NBC affiliate from 1995-2016, WFXT Fox 25, and NECN plus newspaper companies like the Boston Globe and Herald were also there for the investigation but also all of the mainstream media was there, especially several from around the world.

After several press conferences between Boston Police and the FBI, it was revealed that 2 boys linked with ISIS are the ones that caused the disaster.

For the whole week up until Friday night, the entire FBI, the SWAT team and the U.S. ARMY were on the hunt to track down the enemies of America that not only killed three innocent citizens and two deputies for the police department, but also injured over 50 Marathon runners which lost their arms and legs due to the explosions at the finish line.

In a message by the late Boston Mayor Tom Men-nino and th Chief of the FBI, all of Massachusetts must be on 100% quarantine so that the SWAT team and the U.S. ARMY could track down and find the villains that want to seek vengeance on the U.S. after the 9-11-01 attacks. Osama Bin Laden was assassinated on the first day of May 2011.

During the Friday night car chase, the Boston Police got a call from an owner of a convenient store who said that 2 robbers are threatening to kill the employee. Initially enough, the emergency department was shocked that the robbers were actually the same team who caused the bomb earlier that Monday.

In the middle of the car chase, one of the terrorists tried to kill the cops with an AR-15 but nearly 10 officers have successfully killed the first one and now they have to deal with the second one. But the question was, where could he be?

In another 9-1-1 call, a homeowner said to the police that one of the terrorists were hiding in a sailboat that’s covered in a tarp due to the fact that sailboat season doesn’t start until the middle of May.

News cameras were rolling, the SWAT team and the ARMY have surrounded the area of the covered sailboat, and all of the TV screens were on for the most anxious moment in American history. At one point, nearly five officers in SWAT uniforms walked cautiously to the sailboat to break the tarp open so that the surviving ISIS member would sneak and be ready for war with the American police. Amazingly, the terrorist was covered in blood and could barely move any weapon. Hand cuffs applied and the enemy had no choice but to surrender.

All of Boston and all of Massachusetts cheered on the SWAT, the FBI, and the ARMY for successfully capturing the team of two brothers that caused the week long most wanted hunt in all of Bay State spring break history.

So here we are: 10 years later today and we still remember the three citizens and two officers who were killed by the bomb, but for all the survivors who lost their arms and legs, its quite understandable why Boston, would always have the strongest police department, the strongest citizens, and even the strongest heart itself.

Thank you all and god bless America, and god bless Boston forever and ever.

A WOMB STORY

Dear Editor,

In the book, FINDING MEANING, THE SIXTH STAGE OF GRIEF, by David Kessler, he references the "womb story" in which two babies in the mother's womb have a conversation about whether there is life after the world they live in now. One says: "Of course there is another world after delivery!" The other baby replies: "Nonsense, the umbilical cord is too short, there can't be another world after this one and no one has ever come back from there! Leaving here is the end of life." The other twin said, " But Mother will take care of us when we see her." The other baby laughed, "You believe in a Mother? An all intelligent being that makes this all happen? Where is she now? I don't see her!" The other replied: "Sometimes when you're in silence, you can hear her voice and you know she is there! I believe there is a world after this one."

Babies could never imagine the large world awaiting them outside the womb! As David Kessler states:"We cannot imagine life after death." I 've often thought of this same analogy and felt that Earth was mankind's womb and God placed us here to learn about Him. All Creation shouts the Glory of God! Just be still and know God! Some believe in a loving God who did come to make Himself known. And there are some who will say there is no God, just nothing after this life.

Which baby are you?

RHS BASEBALL TEAM DEFEATS MEDFORD, 15-5

The Revere High baseball team broke into the victory column in a big way with a 15-5 victory over Greater Boston League (GBL) rival Medford in the Patriots' home opener this past Monday.

After spotting the visiting Mustangs a 3-0 lead in the top of the first, the Patriots responded in the bottom of the frame when senior Mike Popp led off with a double and was promptly brought home on a base hit by senior Chris Cassidy.

Medford extended its lead to 5-1 in the third, capitalizing on several Revere errors in the infield, an unfortunate and similar occurrence over the Patriots' first few games this season.

But that would prove to be the apogee of the Mustangs' visit to Tony Conigliaro Field. Revere exploded for seven runs in the bottom of the third, five runs in the fifth, and two more in the sixth to end the game per the mercy rule.

While the Revere bats were pounding away, RHS starter Kyle Cummings got stronger as the game went on, tossing shutout baseball after the third to post the "W." Kyle's impressive final line showed six innings pitched, six hits, three earned runs, two walks, and six strikeouts.

Six Patriots (seniors Chris Cecca, Popp, and Cassidy and juniors Cummings, Andrew Leone, and Ollie Svendsen) recorded multiple hits on the day. Popp and Cummings left the yard with home runs.

In addition, Revere had a whopping 10 stolen bases. The victory was a nice bounce-back win for coach Michael Manning and his crew after a pair of losses in the opening week at GBL foes Lynn Classical (7-3) and Lynn English (10-9).

In the English contest, the Patriots grabbed a 4-0 lead in the top of the first when senior Giancarlo Miro and Popp drew walks and fellow senior Dom Boudreau lashed a base hit. Another base hit by Cummings produced two runs and an error on a grounder by Leone brought in two more teammates.

However, Revere's advantage proved to be short-lived, as the Bulldogs posted six markers in its half of the inning and then tacked on two more tallies in the second to make it 8-4.

Revere got one back in the third when a grounder by Boudreau scored Miro, who had led off the inning with a walk, but English responded in kind to leave matters at 9-5 after three.

The Patriots closed the gap to 9-8 with three runs in the fourth. After Leone reached on an error and Svendsen drew a walk, Cassidy plated Leone with a single. Cecca then delivered a huge pinch-hit double that scored both Svendsen and Leone to make it a one-run game.

English tallied a run in its half of the fourth on a sacrifice fly, but Revere once again drew within a run when Cassidy singled home Leone in the fifth.

Revere mounted a rally in the top of the seventh when Cummings led off with a double, but Kyle was cut down at the plate on a base hit by Svendsen, ending the Patriots' chances.

"We had a challenging opening week, both in our execution and also with our mental approach. We definitely kind of lost our heads against Lynn English," said Manning, whose squad made five errors in the contest. "It really hurt us.

"We didn't even practice the Thursday following the Lynn English game," Manning continued. "We held a 2.5 hour team meeting and had a great dialogue among the players and coaches on what we all needed to do to get back on track this year and become the team we know we can be.

"I'm so proud of how the boys responded in a big way against Medford," the coach added. "We got punched in the mouth early and kept our composure and showed what we are capable of when we keep our focus for a full game."

Manning and his crew have a busy week ahead. They were scheduled to meet non-league opponent Cambridge yesterday (Tuesday) and will host GBL foe Chelsea today (Wednesday). They will trek to GBL rivals Malden on the holiday on Monday and to Everett next Wednesday.

GIRLS TRACK TOPS EVERETT IN OPENER

The Revere High girls outdoor track and field team started its 2023 season on the right foot with a 78-58 victory over Greater Boston League rival Revere last Thursday at Harry Della Russo Stadium.

Lady Patriot star performers Liv Yuong and Ashley Cabrera Rodriguez led the way for Revere, with both girls winning three events to tally 15 points apiece on the day for coach Racquel MacDonald's squad.

Liv took first place in the high jump with a leap of 4'-8", the long jump with a flight of 14'-1", and the 110 meter hurdles with a clocking of 17.8, while Ashley captured the 400 hurdles in a time of 1:17.9, the 200 dash with a sprint of 30.3, and the triple jump with a hop, skip, and jump of 29'-10".

In addition, a number of their Lady Patriot teammates also turned in superb performances to take first place in their events: Gemma Stamatopoulos outran the field in the two-mile in 15:05.6 and also took second place in the 800 with a clocking of 2:52.4; Olivia Rupp took the mile in 6:21.8; and Alannah Burke captured the 800 in a time of 2:48.7.

MacDonald and her crew will host Somerville tomorrow (Thursday) and will trek to Lynn Classical next Thursday.

RHS VOLLEYBALL BLANKS MEDFORD FOR THIRD STRAIGHT

The Revere High boys volleyball team won its third match in a row over the Patriots' Greater Boston League (GBL) opponents with a 3-0 shutout of Medford this past Monday.

Setter Christyan Berger earned 20 assists on the day. Alex Serrano Toborda (10 kills), Ruben Rodriguez (eight kills), and Sami Welsh five kills led the Revere offensive attack.

Coach Lianne Mimmo and her crew, who now are 3-1 on the season, will entertain GBL foe Chelsea today (Wednesday) and will trek to non-league opponent Greater Lowell tomorrow (Thursday). They will travel to GBL rival Everett next Wednesday morning for an 11:30 match.

RHS GIRLS LACROSSE WINS TWO MATCHES

The Revere High girls lacrosse team earned two victories this past week, defeating non-league opponent Northeast Regional last Friday by a score of 5-1 and topping Greater Boston League (GBL) rival Malden, 10-6, this past Monday.

Leading the offensive attack for coach Amy Rotger's squad in the victories were senior Mariana Tamayo, senior captain Lynberlee Leng, senior Mariyah Rogers, and sophomore Jayla Foster.

The Lady Patriots will host GBL foe Medford today (Wednesday) on the turf at Harry Della Russia Stadium at 4:00. They will trek to GBL opponents Somerville on Friday and Everett on Monday.

High boys outdoor track and field team came up on the short end of a 73-55 decision to Greater Boston League (GBL) rival Everett in the season-opener last week at Harry Della Russo Stadium, a number of Patriots turned in outstanding individual performances.

The first-place finishers for Revere were: Kenan Batic, who won the two-mile run in a time of 11:27.2, which was 42 seconds faster than his closest Everett opponent; Youness Chadid, who captured the mile with a clocking of 5:13.1; Sami El Asri, who nosed out an Everett opponent by 0.6 in the 400 dash with a clocking of 53.2; JV Cunha, who captured the 800 in 2:11.5; Javan Close, who won the high jump with a leap of 5'-4"; and Gabriel Santana, who took the shot-put with a throw of 37'-5.25".

Contributing three points to the Revere scoresheet with second-place finishes were: Allen Hou in the 200 dash (24.9); Ahmed Bellemsieh in the triple jump with a hop, skip, and jump of 37'-5" (Ahmed also took third place in the 400 dash in 54.6); Felipe Maia in the shot-put (35'-11"); Kevin Purcifull in the discus (102'-0"); and Abbas Atoui in the javelin with a throw of 79'-5" (Abbas also took third place in the discus with a spin of 87'-4").

Adding single points with third-place efforts were: Samuel Burns in the 400 hurdles (1:12.2); Latrell Ashby in the 100 meter dash (12.2); Adam Assour in the mile (5:31.9); Kevin Alves in the 800 (2:29.2); and Erick Mayorga in the long jump (16'-3").

Coach David Fleming and the Patriots host Somerville tomorrow (Thursday) and will trek to Lynn Classical next Thursday.

BOYS TENNIS TEAM GAINING EXPERIENCE

Although the Revere High boys tennis team came up short in its matches this past week, RHS head coach Mike Flynn has been pleased with the effort of his young team.

In a contest with Greater Boston League (GBL) rival Lynn English last Wednesday, the Patriots put up a fierce battle.

"We were shorthanded, but the players played well and gave a great effort," said Flynn. "Moises Alfaro played a really strong match against a good player at first singles. He won the first set, 6-2, dropped the second, 3-6, and then played a third-set tiebreaker for the match which the English player won, 7-3.

"Nick Aguilar played a very strong match against a good #2 player and lost a close match 6-2, 7-6 (7-5)," Flynn continued. "Raihan Ahmed and Nick Barry played a very strong first doubles team and lost 6-2, 6-0."

The Patriots then took on defending GBL champ Malden this past Monday.

"With Malden having a dominant #1 and excellent #2, both teams adjusted our lineups," said Flynn. "This provided an opportunity for new players to get match experience in singles or doubles.

"Malden may be the best team in the GBL, but our team competed well and played a strong match," Flynn added.

The trio of Raihan Ahmed, Nick Barry, and Vincent Phan all had the chance to play their first singles matches.

"All were new to singles and competed very well," noted Flynn.

"Alec Waxer and Nick Aguilar had an opportunity to play against two excellent Malden players, including the most dominant player in the GBL the last four years, and played very well," Flynn added. "Seamus Duffey and Sergio Osoria also gained valuable experience playing at second doubles."

Flynn and his crew were scheduled to take on non-league opponent Boston Latin yesterday (Tuesday). They will host GBL foes Medford on Monday and Everett next Wednesday during the vacation week. Both of those matches are scheduled for 10:00 in the morning at the Gibson Park courts.

former on a state championship team in 2022 and a Catholic Central League All-Star for the Division 3 state finalist Spartans this winter, falling a win shy of back-to-back titles.

But along the way, Anthony D'Itria became a high-level track athlete after deciding as a sophomore to take up the sport during a COVID-19-altered season.

Monday afternoon at St. Mary's during a National Letter of Intent signing ceremony attended by his parents, Mike D'Itria and Tami D'Itria, Anthony announced his decision to attend Colby College in Waterville, Maine, where he will compete in track and field.

Colby is one of the most prestigious, private liberal arts colleges in the country, and D'Itria's excellent academic record (he's ranked 11th academically in the Class of 2023) - along with his prowess as a high jumper and triple jumper - led to his recruitment as both a scholar and an athlete.

"I toured a few schools during the summer, but after talking with the coaches and getting on campus, Colby was definitely my top choice out of all of them," said Anthony, 18. "St. Mary's has really prepared me well for college. I especially like my AP Government Class. My teacher Ms. [Sarah Hashikawa] does a great job teaching the subject in a way that I enjoy learning it."

‘A great all-around athlete’

St. Mary's track coach Tristan Smith remembers Anthony D'Itria beginning his track career as a sophomore during the "extra" season that was created due to the pandemic.

"Anthony fell in love with track, and the coaches fell in love with having him on the team immediately," said Smith.

D'Itria quickly displayed skills in the high jump event. "He qualified for the State Meet in his first year, but he's been adding so much more now to his repertoire, and he's really passionate about the triple jump, which is a really tough and technical event, and he's not afraid of a challenge. I think Colby will utilize him in jumping and sprinting events, because they're getting a great all-around athlete and a really hard worker.

"I know it was a tough decision for him between basketball and track, so I'm thrilled with the decision, and I hope Anthony is as well. "Colby is a great school and has a great track program, and we're so proud of him," concluded Smith.

St. Mary's Principal David Angeramo also expressed the pride felt by the school about Anthony D'Itria matriculation at Colby.

"As a school administration and school community, we're just very excited with Anthony continuing his education at Colby," said Angeramo, a former college baseball pitcher at Dartmouth. "Anthony is a special kid. He's one of our Garrity Scholars. Most importantly, he's a great person, and obviously a very good student and athlete, and we wish him the best in the next chapter of his career."

A career full of highlights

Anthony D'Itria said winning a state basketball championship was the highlight of his career, but there were other notable individual achievements in track, the sport he will compete in at Colby.

"I tried out for winter track because a lot of my friends were doing it, and we loved competing for Coach Smith," recalled Anthony. "I had participated in track in the sixth grade in the 400-meter hurdles. I played baseball in the seventh grade. I started doing high jumping as a sophomore. Coach Smith taught me how to high jump. It wasn't easy learning the form, but by spring track season I felt I had grasped the techniques. I'm grateful to Coach Smith, Coach Demo, and Coach D., and my trainer, Alex Rachmaciej, for all the improvement I've made."

As a junior, D'Itria competed in the high jump, triple jump, 4 X 100-meter relay, and the 400 meters, emerging as the team's leading scorer and receiving the team MVP award. He is the reigning CCL high jump champion and finished fourth in the state in the high jump in 2022.

Now a team captain, D'Itria claimed first-place honors in the high jump and the triple jump in the Spartans' season-opening meet.

"My team goal is for us to beat Bishop Feehan and win the CCL championship," said D'Itria. "Individually, I'd like to high jump 6-3 (6 feet is his personal best) and triple jump 45 feet (42-6 is his personal best)."

A supportive family

Mike D'Itria began coaching his son's Revere basketball team when Anthony was in the third grade. Anthony became part of Revere's Big Three in with Nick Martinez (Malden Catholic) and Domenic Boudreau (Revere High).

Anthony enrolled in St. Mary's in the sixth grade.

"It's been a great seven years and Anthony got to experience highlights that most athletes don't get to do, like being in the Garden, playing [in the state finals] at Tsongas Center," said Mike D'Itria, who is an assistant coach at St. Mary's. "Anthony took a liking to track, did pretty well in the jumping events, and took advantage of the opportunity."

Anthony's older sister, Nicolette D'Itria, set the high standards for the family at St. Mary's. Nicolette was a basketball star herself for the Spartans, becoming a team captain and winning a state championship. A Dean's List student, she is currently playing college basketball at UMass/Dartmouth and studying Criminal Justice.

"Academics wise and athletics wise, my sister was a very good role model for me," said Anthony. "I grew up watching her play basketball and looking up to her in a way. And when she won a state title in basketball at St. Mary's, I wanted to win one."

Said Nicolette, "I'm proud of my brother going to Colby. He was always really good at basketball. Our father coached us both in basketball. It's great that he'll be competing in track in college. I'm really happy for him. I'll have to make a few trips to Maine to watch his meets."

Interestingly, the most accomplished collegiate athlete to-date in the D'Itria family to-date is their mother, Tami D'Itria.

"Our mother competed in gymnastics at Northeastern and I know she set some records," said Nicolette proudly.

Witter hits the pavement for Project Bread's 55th Annual Walk for Hunger on May 7

Staff Report

On May 7, Megan Witter, of Revere, will hit the pavement for Project Bread's The 55th annual Walk for Hunger. She will be among over 3,000 participants, both in-person and virtual, to walk the new 3-mile loop around the Boston Common or in their own neighborhoods. Back on the Common for the first time since 2019, the one-day fundraising event will raise more than $1 million to support food assistance resources and sustainable policy solutions to end hunger across the Commonwealth.

Beginning in 1969, as the first pledge walk in the nation, Project Bread's Walk for Hunger brings together a diverse community dedicated to creating change. On Sunday May 7th, the annual fundraiser returns to Boston Common after 3 years of being virtual due to COVID-19 safety precautions. This rite of passage for people in Massachusetts returns in its 55th year with a shorter route and a fresh look. The mission of the time-honored tradition will never change. The fundraising goal this year is over $1 million dollars.

"As we continue to recover from the pandemic and see federal emergency benefits such as expanded SNAP benefits coming to an end, 1 in 5 Massachusetts households with children are still struggling without enough to eat," says Erin McAleer, Project Bread CEO. "That number jumps dramatically for Black, brown, and immigrant households. Participating in Project Bread's Walk for Hunger is one way we can all do something real to make sure our neighbors in need can get the food to meet their most basic of needs."

Witter first participated in Project Bread's Walk for Hunger in 2006. She was inspired to walk by her first boyfriend when she was 16 years old. Almost 20 years later, the Revere resident has raised $2,000 for the cause. For the past two and a half years, Witter has worked for the Community Health and Engagement Department's Food Hub in conjunction with the First Congregational Church food pantry of Revere. She feeds approximately 500 families every week and hears stories from people that face food insecurity locally. Participating in the Walk for Hunger opened her eyes to what was happening in Massachusetts. Her goal is to raise $5,000 this year.

"I've always wanted to give back to my community," says Witter. "Life is truly about the little things. Even just an hour here and an hour there, it is all important. After listening to people's stories at the food pantry, it pushed me to do what I could to get healthy, fresh, affordable and culturally appropriate food for these people. Many residents in Revere live paycheck to paycheck and struggled through the pandemic to have enough to eat. Food insecurity is real, and we need to combat it together."

Money raised through the Walk for Hunger is critical to Project Bread's statewide work to ensure kids reliably have enough to eat, provide one-on-one support for individuals and families who need food assistance, and work to prevent hunger in the first place by eliminating barriers to resources and implementing policies that make food more accessible. In keeping with the community-spirit of the event, In keeping with the community-spirit of the event, the Walk also provides a platform for organizations to fund the vital work they do fighting hunger locally. The Commonwealth is a joint fundraising program Project Bread launched in 2019. In 2022, 36 nonprofits raised more than $123,000 to support their own programs.

"This year's event represents a culmination of our fundraising season and a celebration of community efforts over the last three years of the pandemic to fundraise and walk to solve hunger," says McAleer. "We cannot wait to welcome the Massachusetts community -both new and returning - together in-person on the Common while continuing to engage those across the country making strides in the fight against hunger locally."

This 55th annual event will include remarks by McAleer as well as family-friendly activations on the Boston Common, such as live music, photo booths, giveaways and raffle prizes, lawn games, and a Kid's Corner with balloon animals and face painting. For the fifth consecutive year, Project Bread is inviting other anti-hunger programs to participate as co-fundraisers in the event through the Commonwealth Program.

To register as a participant for Project Bread's The Walk for Hunger, or to support a walker or team with a donation, visit projectbread.org/walk or call (617) 723-5000. There is no registration fee or fundraising minimum to participate, although a $250 minimum goal is suggested. Participants who raise $500 or more are recognized as Heart & Sole walkers and receive access to personalized fundraising support, exclusive event gear, and invitations to events.

People experiencing food insecurity should call Project Bread's Food-Source Hotline (1-800-645-8333), which provides confidential, free assistance getting connected to a variety of food resources in 180 languages and for the hearing impaired. Counselors can pre-screen families and help them to apply for SNAP. Learn more at www.projectbread.org/get-help.

OBITUARIES

Dr. Rocco J. Malfitano

Former Superintendent of Schools and School Committee Member

Dr. Rocco J. Malfitano, Retired Superintendent of Revere Public Schools, passed away on April 10 at the age of 86.

He was the beloved husband of Lorraine I. (Trunfio) Malfitano, with whom he shared 63 years of marriage. Born in Revere, the son of the late Domenico Malfitano and Marianna (Misiano) Malfitano, he was a resident of Revere for sixty-five years, later residing in Stoneham and Port St. Lucie, FL. He was the devoted father of Marc Malfitano of Swampscott, Roxanne Aiello and her husband, Richard of Stoneham and Monique Mallicoat and son-in-law Frank of San Francisco, CA; proud grandfather of Bianca Dunn and her husband, Stephen of Norwell, Alessandra Fedorka and her husband, Chase of San Diego, CA. and Christelle Black and her husband, Christopher of Bradford, VT; loving great-grandfather of Charlotte and Francesca Dunn and Juliette Fedorka; dear brother of Anthony Malfitano and his wife, Sheila of Revere and the late Tina and her husband, Pasquale Pisani, Mary and her husband, John Stasio and Vito Malfitano. He is also lovingly survived by many nieces and nephews.

At the time of his retirement in 1994 from Revere Public Schools, he had served 36 years in the field of education. Dr. Malfitano was a proud graduate of Revere High School, Class of 1955. He co-captained the football team in his senior year. After receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1959 from Suffolk University with a major in biology and minor in chemistry he returned to Revere High School as a biology teacher and freshman football coach. In 1960 he earned his Masters of Education degree from Boston State College. In 1962 he was appointed Elementary Science Advisor. At that point he began his career as a mentor to other teachers. In both 1962 and 1963, his work was recognized by the National Science Foundation. He was one of twenty teachers selected nationwide to participate in the 1962 Summer Institute on Radiation Biology at the University of Wyoming. In 1963 he was one of thirty-five teachers selected nationwide to participate in the National Science Foundation Elementary School Earth Science Institute at Rutgers University.

In 1965 he was appointed principal of the Shurtleff School. His view of the principal as curriculum leader put him in the vanguard of educational change. In 1968 he was selected as principal of his elementary/junior high school alma mater, the Abraham Lincoln School, where he would serve for twenty years and earn his doctorate in Educational Administration from Nova Southeastern University in 1978.

As a principal, Dr. Malfitano fostered experiments in methods teaching, modification of the curriculum for individual differences, curriculum innovations and curriculum construction. His teachers were encouraged to try new techniques. He designed and implemented a resource room program with a team approach for children with special needs which was chosen as a model by the Massachusetts Federation of the Council for Exceptional Children. The model was presented at the 56th Annual International Convention in Kansas City, MO. He developed an English curriculum for grades seven and eight and a program for gifted and talented children.

Recognizing the remarkable talent, skill and energy which he has given unselfishly throughout his twenty three years in administration, the Honorable school committee named Dr. Malfitano as Deputy Superintendent in 1988 and Superintendent of Schools in 1991. Among his many achievements in that role was the implementation of the middle school concept. This innovation at the time was a response to the devastating financial constraints and demands for accountability. With the realignment of the elementary program all seventh and eighth grade students would receive equity in education in excellent educational facilities.

In anticipation of the demands of the 21st century for computer literate students who had learned to live and work with diverse people from diverse backgrounds, he created a computer curriculum for the new Garfield Magnet School.

Dr. Malfitano recognized that the schools belonged to the community and opened forums for parental concerns and suggestions through individual school councils and the Superintendent's School Improvement Committee. In recognition of his extraordinary vision and service, of his shepherding the school system through financial disaster into a new age of education reform, and as an indication of the honor with which he was regarded by the entire educational community, he was named Superintendent Emeritus by the School Committee. He was honored to have the Abraham Lincoln School Library dedicated in his name, receive the Revere High School Distinguished Alumni Award and the City of Revere Certificate of Merit. Following his retirement Dr. Malfitano served as a member of the Revere School Committee. Dr. Malfitano was a member of the Massachusetts Association of School Superintendents, life member of the Nation Education Association, life member of the Massachusetts Teachers Association, life member of Massachusetts PTA/PTSA and the Retired State, County and Municipal Employees Association.

The family of Rocco J. Malfitano would like to acknowledge the many health care professionals at Life Care Center of Stoneham, ComForCare Home Care of Woburn and Beth Israel Lahey Health at Home Hospice.

A major change is afoot in Linden Square as a vacant supermarket and broken down health club is in line to be replaced with shiny silver tailpipes and a Northeast headquarters for the squeals of Harley-Davidson “hawgs.” The Boston Harley dealer – long a fixture on Revere Beach Parkway in Everett – has filed plans with the city that would clear the path to build a huge, new Harley complex on the current retail site. The plan includes gutting and rehabilitating the existing buildings and putting up a new facade. However, before any of that can happen, the company must get a zoning change and a special permit from the City Council.

District administrators and Revere High School (RHS) officials this week are touting a $450,000 grant from the Nellie Mae Foundation as one of the biggest things to happen to RHS in decades. RHS was one of only two schools in Massachusetts to receive the grant, with Chelsea being the only other. The 20-month grant from the private Nellie Mae Foundation is looking to help implement and speed up innovative approaches to urban education. In addition to Revere and Chelsea, Nellie Mae also picked four districts in Connecticut and Providence, RI.

Lessons from Jamie Oliver

Use Less

We have Jamie Oliver to thank for many of our favorite meals. Penny recently studied his cookbook, “One: Simple one pan wonders.” It prompted us to start a list of what Jamie calls “clever tips, tricks, and techniques” that we’ve learned from his books and videos.

This healthy food advocate and educator pares away roadblocks that keep busy people from cooking. He knows that clean-up discourages home cooks. His website describes this book as “...his ultimate homage to making your life simpler. Every recipe is cooked in just one pan, so is perfect for getting good food on the table fast.”

Watch a few of Jamie’s videos; you’ll see less equipment, ingredients, knife work, and measuring. He calls it “maximum flavor with minimum effort.” You’ll see him washing his hands often because he uses his hands for many jobs that you might do with a utensil. For example, he tears peppers, mushrooms, and greens and mixes dough and salads with his clean hands.

A cutting board takes the place of extra bowls and platters. Of course, it is used for cutting ingredients that require a knife. He also uses it to mix dough, dress and toss salads, and serve meals like tarts, pies, pizza, and even salads. The board makes a few trips to the sink for a wash between jobs, but that step becomes part of your workflow once you discover how much cleanup this technique saves.

He simplifies what he calls his “hero ingredients” to “...olive oil for cooking, extra virgin olive oil for dressing and finishing dishes, red wine vinegar as a good all-rounder when it comes to acidity and balancing marinades, sauces, and dressings, and, of course, sea salt and black pepper for seasoning.”

Use More

On the other side of this equation, he uses more high-quality pantry staples like canned tomatoes and beans, coconut milk, frozen vegetables, premade fresh pasta sheets, pie and pizza dough, frozen phyllo, and puff pastry.

He uses “flavor bombs” such as chutneys, curry pastes, black bean and teriyaki sauces, miso, and pesto instead of the many ingredients each contains. He’ll add sausage, bacon, smoked salmon, and jarred tuna as proteins and flavor boosters.

Swap It Up and Make a Batch

Jamie uses two types of swaps in his recipes. He encourages you to make the recipe your own by changing the ingredients to what you have on hand, what you prefer, or what suits a particular diet. For example, he loves chilies and spicy food. However, he tells you to leave the chili out if you don’t like heat. He also explains how to minimize the heat by removing the seeds and membranes or putting the chili in whole.

You’ll also hear how to Jamie’s “50/50 Bolognese” is made with ground meat and lentils and is great for batch cooking. We enjoyed these “Sloppy Joes” made with a frozen portion.

use swaps to make your meals healthier and to add more vegetables and fruit to your diet. You’ll see him use whole grains, sneak veggies into something like a fish pie or create a vegetarian version of a popular dish.

Jamie will always tell you when a dish freezes well. Penny made a big batch of his “50/50 Bolognese” with ground meat and lentils to serve with pasta.

She froze half, and we enjoyed it in “Sloppy Joes” later in the month. We have another batch saved to top with mashed potatoes for a healthier cottage pie. Both suggestions for other uses were part of Jamie’s recipe!
