They will move onto the Nov. 7 general municipal election ballot.

McKenna currently serves as the Council President Pro Tem and was an educator in the Revere schools for over 30 years. She also chairs the city's public art commission.

McKenna, a lifelong Beachmont resident, still lives in the same house she grew up in.

She has served as the Ward 1 Councilor for the past eight years. In her years as the ward councilor, McKenna said she has always been available to meet with people, take all calls, and resolve all problems brought to her attention.

McKenna said she has spent her life volunteering and working for the city that she loves.

The Race for Ward 4

By Adam Swift

Paul Argenzio, the top vote-getter with 702 votes, and Gregory Murray, 242 votes, topped the ballot in the Ward 4 preliminary election on Tuesday night, moving onto the Nov. 7 municipal general election ballot.

The candidates are seeking to replace Patrick Keefe, who currently serves as acting mayor and is running for a full term in the mayor's office.

Argenzio is a lifelong resident of Ward 4 who currently serves as the city's Superintendent of Public Works. He has also served as the chair of the city's traffic and parking commission for the past five years.

Argenzio stated that the city must ensure that its new residents, along with families who have resided in Revere for generations, can continue to afford to live in the city, and that city services such as police, fire, and public works, grow to meet the needs of the rising population.

Murray said safety is his number one priority if elected to the council. He said there needs to be safety for students in school, as well as more programs for teens after school. In addition, Murray said there needs to be improved safety for the city's senior citizens, both in their homes and in the streets.

With the city growing, Murray said the city needs to increase its public safety personnel and give them the tools to succeed.

Proctor Ave. resident Herby-Jean Baptiste finished third with 168 votes.

The Race for Ward 5

By Adam Swift

Incumbent John Powers and Angela Guarino-Sawaya topped the Ward 5 preliminary election on Tuesday, moving onto the Nov. 7 municipal general election ballot.

Angela Guarino-Sawaya, was the top vote-getter with 668 votes, with Powers coming in second with 432 votes.

Powers, who served as councilor for two decades has said that he is running on his long record of his past achievements for the ward, which most recently have included the building of the new Point of Pines fire station. He said he is proud of his service in Ward 5.

Guarino-Sawaya is a graduate of Suffolk University with nearly 20 years experience with the Boston Public Schools. She has volunteered with organizations such as the Revere Little League, Immaculate Conception School, and President of the Point of Pines Beach Association.

She stated that the most pressing issues facing Ward 5 today are over-development, traffic management, and coastal resiliency. She said she plans to stop overdevelopment by implementing a moratorium and enacting a sensible planning review.

The other candidates on the ballot were Ralph Celestin with 177 votes, and Randall Mondestin with 152.

Disabilities Comm. hears of Boston Brakes program

By Journal Staff

The Revere Commission on Disabilities (CoD) held its regular monthly meeting last Tuesday evening, September 12, via Zoom. On hand for the meeting were chair Ralph DeCicco, vice-chair Pauline Perno, Jason Barone-Cichocki, Ellie Pagan-Vargas, and Mario Grimanis.

The guest speaker for the month was Colleen Flanagan, the Engagement and Outreach Specialist from the City of Boston Mayor’s Commission for Persons with Disabilities.

Flanagan said that a new initiative in Boston, known as Boston Brakes, aims to raise awareness among automobile operators and others about the unique needs of pedestrians with disabilities.

“It is important to respect everyone’s pace and speed,” said Flanagan. She showed a one-minute video that aims to educate bicycle and automobile operators about the need to operate safely in the city and be aware of those “who move at different speeds.”

Flanagan said that there are 80,000 Boston residents -- about 12 percent of the population -- with disabilities. She noted that the city’s changing infrastructure, including outdoor dining, bicycle lanes, and electric auto charging stations to meet sustainability goals are presenting new challenges for persons with disabilities.

Many of the educational videos Flanagan presented were directed at operators of bicycles and scooters in order to make them aware that they must yield to persons, especially those with disabilities, on the city’s streets.

It was noted that complaints about specific areas where there are safety problems for persons with disabilities should be directed to the 311 line both in Revere and in Boston.

Members of the commission agreed that education for motor vehicle operators and bicyclists about the scope of the laws pertaining to pedestrians with disabilities should be mandatory.

After Flanagan’s presentation and questions from the members, DeCicco updated the commissioners on the motions that were made and approved at the August CoD meeting to send letters regarding Bills S.446 & H.7690 (the bills are identical) to support “An Act Expanding Access To Trails For People of All Abilities.” These were letters sent by the CoD expressing the commissioners’ support for “Unpaved Trails for All” in the two bills that will be included in the package that will be submitted to the Joint Committee on Environment and Natural Resources at the State House.

The commission also sent letters directly to the Chair and Co-Chair of the Joint Committee on Environment and Natural Resources.

Letters also were sent to the local State House delegation, Representative Jeffrey Turco, Representative Jessica Giannino, and Senator Lydia Edwards, to ask for their support of the two bills. All three legislators responded that they would be supporting the two bills.

In addition, a letter was sent by the CoD to the City Council President Pro Tempore via the City Clerk’s office to support, sign, and send a resolution in support of the legislation. However, DeCicco reported that the City Council, through the City Clerk’s office, responded that this “was out of their realm” because there are no trails in the city.

DeCicco reported on the Commissions on Disabilities Alliance (CODA) monthly Zoom meeting that he attended on Wednesday, September 6. Among the issues discussed at the meeting were the lack of availability for the safe storage of wheelchairs and other equipment that are brought to beaches and similar facilities by persons with disabilities.

CODA also noted that the guidelines set forth by the Massachusetts Architectural Access Board (AAB) often are more rigorous than those established by the federal American with Disabilities Act (ADA). For example, the ADA deems surfaces consisting of wood chips to be “accessible,” but the AAB does not, and in Massachusetts, the AAB’s guidelines

PASSENGERS URGED TO PLAN AHEAD AS DETOURS EXPECTED AT BOSTON LOGAN

Due to ongoing roadway work that will impact passengers using Terminals B, C and E roadways, the Massachusetts Port Authority (Massport) is urging departing passengers to plan for extra time if driving to the airport and/or utilize the various transit modes to get to and from Logan. Terminals B and C are Boston Logan’s busiest terminals – B serves American, United, Air Canada, Spirit, Southwest, Boutique and Alaska, while C serves JetBlue, Aer Lingus, Cape Air and TAP Air Portugal. Ongoing roadway construction will revamp the current terminal roadway system to eliminate backups, enhance the passenger pick-up and drop off process, and get passengers to and from the terminals faster, improving the overall customer experience at Boston Logan.

During the 11-day period through September 25 (weather permitting), the roadway construction will require detours. Terminals C and E Departures traffic will be detoured to alternative roadways. Terminal

TOUCH A TRUCK THIS SATURDAY

The Suffolk Downs Third annual Touch a Truck event has been re-scheduled for Saturday, September 23. Touch a Truck will provide kids and kids at heart an up-close view of tractors, trucks, diggers, police cars, fire engines and more! Attendees will be able to sit in the seats, honk the horns, and take their picture on the front end. There will also be kids activities, face painting, games, bubbles, food trucks, and craft beer by Night Shift Brewery in the Paddock! Shown above, the scene at the Touch a Truck at Suffolk Downs event last year, where work vehicle admirers young and old were welcome at Suffolk Downs to Touch A Truck.

C Departures level traffic will be re-routed to the Arrivals level roadway to the Terminal C Ride App area in Central Parking. Terminal E Departures level traffic will be detoured through Terminal B Departures. For one day on September 16, Terminal C and E Arrivals traffic will be detoured through Terminal B Arrivals. Additional signage is being installed and State Police and Massport Ground Transportation staff will be on site to assist drivers.

The roadway construction is replacing the aging roadway infrastructure along both levels between the terminals. When work is completed, Terminals C and E Departures traffic will be able to use the newly constructed roadway and will no longer have to merge with vehicles exiting Terminal B. The construction will also create more curb space at Terminal C – and reduce congestion on Boston Logan’s roadways — by improving traffic flow and increasing traffic safety. This project is set to be completed this November.

including Framingham, Braintree, Woburn and most recently Peabody at the North Shore Mall.

For those picking up loved ones at Logan, we are encouraging the use of Boston Logan’s two Cell Phone Lots, located on Service Road and in the area adjacent to the Rental Car Center, to prevent congestion at the terminal curbs. Drivers should follow the signs to either of the Cell Phone Lots, and park until the person or party being picked up is ready at the terminal curb. Each location has approximately 100 parking spots. Additional customer benefits from this initiative include:

- Less queuing on roadways;
- Reduction of vehicle emissions associated with traffic delays;
- Increased infrastructure resiliency;
- Improved lighting and way-finding signage.

For more information on the various ways to get to and from Boston Logan, please go to www.massport.com/logan-airport/to-from-logan/.

PETER DE PAOLO
RACING CHAMPION
KIWANIS SPEAKER

Peter DePaolo, former national automobile racing champion, was the speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club in the Legion Memorial building Wednesday. He proved to be one of the most interesting speakers ever to appear in Revere.

Details of automobile racing, a description of some of the races in which he participated, and other facts which are generally unknown to the ordinary person about automobiles and racing drivers were given by Mr. DePaolo. He was unusually witty, also, interspersing his remarks with several funny stories. His listeners enjoyed it so much that he was asked to continue for an additional half hour and at the conclusion, was given a rising vote of thanks.

Mr. DePaolo won the national automobile racing championships in 1916 and 1927. When he won the famous Indianapolis 500 mile race in 1916, he set a record of over 101 miles per hour, which remained unbroken until this year. He is now connected with the De Soto division of the Chrysler corporation.

An innovation was introduced at this meeting by having the members themselves prepare the luncheon. A capable corps of waiters, consisting of John Noble, James M. O'Brien, Ralph Fulchino and Ernest Banks served. A similar luncheon will be served next Wednesday with Mayor Andrew A. Casassa and Dr. Paul R. Donovan as waiters and Dr. George A. Bruns and Ralph Horton as assistants.

The regular meeting of the City Council was held Monday evening, President White in the chair; eight Councilmen present; Mr. Sweeney absent.

Summons and venire presented by Constable Price to draw and select 18 traverse jurors. The following-named declared drawn and selected: John O. Santoro, 44 Mill st., 2nd Session; Superior Criminal Court; John Mastroio, 61 McKinley st., 3rd Session; Joseph Spiegel, 48 Summer st., 4th Session; Fred A. McDevitt, 193 Pearl ave., 5th Session.

John A. Picardi, 41 Cambridge st., and Nicholas P. D'Orlando, 126 Mountain ave., 1st Session, Superior Civil Court; Adolph R. Lang, 25 True st., and William Charles Upton, 31 Hall st., 2nd Session; Arcangelo E. Maffei, 89 Revere st., and Andrew DeLeary, 99 Pearl ave., 3rd Session; Anthony Cataldo, 32 McKinley st., and Herman L. Wenzel, 62 Park ave., 4th Session; Herbert H. Goodwin, 41 Lynnway, and James P. Carney, 52 Carlton st., 7th Session.

Hearing as ordered held upon the petition of Lena Fulchino for a gasoline filling station at 533 Broadway, Revere. No opposition. Hearing declared closed. Referred to the Committee on Licenses and permits.

On a motion of Councilman Gallagher, the privilege of the floor was extended to the citizens of the Point of Pines regarding the regulations recently adopted by the City Council on the digging of clams and the

After Quinn's brief remarks for Fitzgerald, he sang the "Rose of Tralee" and "My Wild Irish Rose," and received cheers of applause. Major Crowley of Cambridge also spoke on behalf of Fitzgerald.

Arthur McLaughlin of Revere spoke on behalf of the candidacy of Dr. Joseph E. Lyons for sheriff, and made a very strong appeal.

Herbert Hill of Revere, candidate for County Commissioner, also pleaded his own cause.

Joseph T. Monahan spoke for Captain Dave J. Brickley, candidate for Lieutenant Governor. He told of the war record of Mr. Brickley and also said that he had served in the Boston City Council in 1919, was assistant mayor for sixteen years and was a trustee of the White Funds.

Our "Primary Election Edition"

This issue of THE REVERE JOURNAL is published as a "Primary Election Edition," featuring principally the leading candidates for the forthcoming State Primaries on next Tuesday. Accordingly, we have printed at this time a great many more papers than our regular call is at present. These papers are being delivered today by newsboys to every home where American newspapers are read throughout this city.

We present this complimentary issue of our newspaper so that every citizen in the city may see what sort of effort and material we are continually, more and more, putting into making a real publication for the Revere public. A city the size of Revere should have one strong, dependable, and complete newspaper to represent its people. It is our aim to produce that newspaper as THE REVERE JOURNAL. Fifty-one years of continual and reliable service to the city and our readers has established an invaluable reputation upon which to build such a newspaper.

When the present publisher took over the management of THE REVERE JOURNAL last January, there was much to be done to rebuild the paper to the standing and reputation which it honestly deserved. The late Ernest H. Pierce, thru most of its half-century mark, during the last few years of his life was in poor health, and many of the former standards upon which he had built fell sadly into decay. The time had come for a new lease of life to be given THE REVERE JOURNAL. It has been our endeavor during the past months to nourish that new life-span of the paper as steadily and constructively as possible.

We firmly feel that THE REVERE JOURNAL is steadily gaining the foundation which belongs to it, beyond all precedent. We have introduced new features to our columns. We have established a system whereby "Revere's oldest newspaper" is enabled to publish "Revere's latest news" up to press-time on Friday evening. We have revolutionized the style, size, and make-up of the paper so as to make it ever more interesting and acceptable to our readers. We plan to continue to improve our publication with each forthcoming issue.

It is our policy to print all the local news that is worthwhile to be read. We are continually gathering more and more news from all of the sections of this large city. What we wish to do is to build this newspaper up to the highest in local interest and value. We shall continue in the future to maintain a paper which will be read with satisfaction.

It is impossible to do everything at once, but with the support and interest of the Revere citizens, we know we can give them a newspaper of which they and the city may be proud. The speed with which we may progress towards that goal, both editorially and mechanically, depends upon how seriously the city considers its need for a real newspaper—and responds.

SEN. BRODBINE
AND REP. AIROLA
PROTEST CAR RATE

Both Senator Conde Brodbine and Representative Augustine Airola were present at the hearing Tuesday on the tentative automobile insurance rates announced last week, and entered protests regarding the rates assigned to Revere. The hearing was at the Gardner Auditorium in the State House.

Leading the attack on the tentative rates, Chester I. Campbell, member of the Governor's Council and candidate for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor, criticized the present compulsory insurance law as being unsatisfactory in its operation.

Representatives of cities and towns were given increases in the tentative rates complained against "discrimination" and urged the commissioner to either reduce their old rates, or eliminate the increase. Chelsea, which received a decrease but is still in the highest zone, was represented by Hyman Kaplan, secretary of the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce who organized the drive against racketeering on insurance in that city.

Features Omitted From This Issue Of The Revere Journal

Because of limited space in this issue of THE REVERE JOURNAL, several regular features have been necessarily left out.

All those who are following the movie science experiment story by Major Owen MacGuffigan, High School Science Department head, will see the story once more in next week's paper.

Among the regular columns which will appear hereafter as previously are "The Journal's Open Forum," the "Children's Corner," and "Home Education."

THREE DRIVERS IN COLLISION ESCAPE
SERIOUS INJURIES

The driver of a milk wagon, Maurice Goff, of Lynn, miraculously escaped serious injury, as did the drivers of two automobiles, Henry F. Baron and Louis P. Cormier, both of Lynn, in a collision of the three vehicles on North Shore road, Revere, Friday morning.

Baron tried to pass the wagon, applied his brakes, but the horse-drawn vehicles and their car skidded into the Cormier car, which was coming toward Revere. All three drivers received injuries, but none serious.

Goff was thrown back among his milk bottles by the impact of the Baron car and was rendered unconscious, recovering his senses after the horse had run half a mile and then getting the animal under control.

Judge Cutler Finds Cause To Hold Moores and Swanholm
For Alleged Armed Robbery

Judge Samuel R. Cutler in District Court Thursday found probable cause to hold Leonard Moores, 17, of 150 Vine street, Everett, for the grand jury on a charge of attempted robbery while armed. Bail was placed at $5000.

Richard Swanholm, 16, of 19 Summit avenue, Everett, faced a similar charge in the juvenile court, but had his case continued until September 20.

It is charged by the Revere police that the pair on the night of September 8 attempted to rob a chain grocery store on Park avenue, this city. While Moores stood on guard across the street, young Swanholm is alleged to have entered the store, pointed a pistol at Manager Alfred T. Creed and commanded him to "stick 'em up."

After a wild chase down Park avenue, Thoms A. Brodie and Stephen McDonald, both of this city, succeeded in overtaking the terrified and exhausted Swanholm youth and took him to police headquarters.

According to Swanholm's confession to the Revere police last week, there was a regular gang in operation in this section and Greater Boston vicinity.

Questioned by Police Captain William E. Tappan, the boy revealed that the gun was the property of another boy who passed it around to members of the gang when they wanted to use it for holdups.

When asked by Captain Tappan the reason for turning bandit as such an early age, the boy replied very calmly "Why, everybody seems to be doing it, so I thought I'd try it. I'm not working, and I thought the easiest way to get some money would be to pull a holdup."

Republican Candidate

STIRS HEARERS IN RADIO ADDRESS

The radio address of E. Mark Sullivan, candidate for the Republican for Governor, over Station WBZ, Thursday evening, was heard by a host of Revere friends who are active in pushing his candidacy here. Mr. Sullivan said in part:

"I shall say a word about the forgotten man, and the forgotten woman, too—the two hundred and fifty thousand depositors with over one hundred millions of dollars in eighteen closed state banks in this Commonwealth.

"A brief word about myself: I was born in the town of Ipswich, Massachusetts, and received my education in the public schools of Ipswich, at Boston College and at Harvard Law School. I am a lawyer, and have served in the appointive offices of Assistant United States Attorney for the district of Massachusetts, and of Corporation Counsel of the city of Boston. I cast my first ballot in the re-election of President McKinley, and have been a consistent Republican all my life. I have taken an active part in every state and national campaign of my Party since 1906. This is the first time I have sought an election to public office, excepting for my being named by the Republican State Convention, in 1928, as a Hoover Elector.

MEN'S CLUB HAS
FIRST GATHERING,
MANY MEN SPEAK

The first fall meeting of the Revere Men's Club was held in Butler Hall Monday evening when wives and women friends of the club members gathered to hear several candidates for nomination for public office tell of their qualifications and accomplishments.

Frank A. Goodwin, Republican candidate for the primary nomination for governor, spoke on automobile insurance and advocated the state doing it. He said if nominated and elected he would give to the office of governor the same quality of service he has given to other offices he has held.

Lieut. Governor Youngman could not be present and sent a Boston attorney, Dwight L. Allison, to plead his cause.

Charles W. Lovett, of Lynn, widely known patent attorney, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress from this district, presented a carefully prepared statement in which he expressed his gratitude to the club for the opportunity to address them and plead his cause. Dolphin Ambrose, a young Lynn attorney, also urged support of Mr. Lovett in Revere. Mr. Lovett, who is a member of the Lynn Rotary Club and a past district governor of the New England district, said in part:

"Born in Lynn. I was educated in the public schools, the Lynn Classical High School, the Law School of Boston University, the College of Liberal Arts, and the Graduate School of Boston University, majoring in economics. I have an under-

CONGRATULATIONS -- AND THANKS -- TO ALL OF THE CANDIDATES

For those who have been around this city for a while, Tuesday’s hotly-contested primary election was a throw-back to an era when politics was the mother’s milk of everyday life in Revere.

However, one big difference between this political season and those of decades ago was the high degree of civility among the candidates. We won’t rehash the epic battles of Revere’s storied political history (though we chronicle them regularly in our Through the Years column), but this primary election reflected well upon the state of our city in 2023.

Although in the final analysis politics ultimately is a zero sum game -- there are only winners and losers -- the recently-concluded primary campaign brings to mind the famous “Man in the Arena” speech by President Theodore Roosevelt:

“It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly ...and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who neither know victory nor defeat.”

Running for elective office takes courage. Roosevelt’s words truly apply to those who throw themselves into the political arena, especially at a time when everything everyone does is under a high degree of scrutiny.

So we wish to offer our congratulations to all of the candidates for putting themselves out there for the good of our community and for running high-level campaigns that were a credit to themselves, their families, their supporters, and our city.

GET YOUR COVID-19 SHOTS

While we would all love to leave COVID-19 in the rearview mirror, the stark reality is that the virus is still circulating among us, with the elderly and persons with compromised immune systems the most vulnerable to becoming seriously ill and dying from the virus.

Even otherwise healthy individuals, especially if they are overweight, run the risk of becoming seriously ill from the disease in the short-term and potentially suffering the lingering and debilitating effects of long-COVID, which has been well-documented, though it remains poorly understood.

Fortunately however, the CDC has approved the updated COVID booster vaccine that has been proven to be an effective and safe preventative measure against both catching the disease in the first place and, if infected, mitigating its most harmful effects.

The reasons we need an updated booster are three-fold: First, the effectiveness of the vaccine diminishes over time. Thus, the shots we received last year are significantly less protective today than they were 12 months ago. Second, the virus has mutated in the past year and the updated vaccines will provide protection against this ever-changing virus. Third, as we enter the fall and winter months, families will be gathering, with many having traveled in airplanes and returning from school, which are breeding grounds for the virus, and therefore looming as potential threats for parents and grandparents. We would note that from January to July of this year, 88 percent of deaths from COVID-19 were among people who were 65 years or older.

We urge all of our readers, regardless of age, to get the latest COVID-19 booster as soon as possible, both for our own health and that of our friends, co-workers, and family members.

The importance of keeping Revere covered

By Audrey Morse Gasteier

At the start of the COVID-19 pandemic, thousands of Massachusetts residents, and people throughout the country, lost their jobs and the employer health insurance coverage they relied on to stay healthy.

In compliance with federal law, MassHealth – the state’s Medicaid program – was able to provide health insurance to keep people covered during this difficult time. Now following the pandemic, however, MassHealth is in the year-long federally required process of re-determining who remains eligible going forward.

Because income and circumstances may have changed since they first enrolled in MassHealth, many people in Revere and across the Commonwealth are expected to lose MassHealth coverage over the next year and have become eligible for other coverage options.

MassHealth members will receive a renewal form in a blue envelope in the mail to check their eligibility. All members should complete and return their renewal to receive the best health coverage they are eligible for. Some will remain eligible for MassHealth, and others may be determined eligible for health insurance through the Massachusetts Health Connector.

The Health Connector provides affordable health and dental coverage to about 275,000 Massachusetts residents who do not already have coverage from an employer, spouse, or other source.

According to projections, communities of color and immigrant populations may be disproportionately impacted during this transition. With its diverse population of Spanish and Portuguese-speaking families, Revere is a top area of focus for state outreach efforts.

The Health Connector is working to contact and transition as many residents as possible into affordable plans during this time. Through use of local media, health fairs, and targeted person-to-person outreach, Health Connector and its local Navigator partners are working hard to reach people to enroll them into new plans. If you no longer qualify for MassHealth, you may be eligible for subsidized coverage through the Connector.

To make sure that Revere residents remain covered, the Health Connector has:

- Launched an ongoing multilingual campaign with local Navigators at Boston Public Health Commission to transition MassHealth members into affordable Marketplace plans.
- Planned a ‘Latino Heritage Month Talent Showcase’ Sunday, Sept. 24 from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. at Verónica Robles Cultural Center in East Boston, featuring local Navigators to help enroll participants in health coverage.

For those who need health insurance – whether they are coming from MassHealth, are new to Massachusetts, or need insurance for other reasons – the Health Connector is ready to help.

Many people who are losing MassHealth already have an account at MA-healthconnector.org. They can go into their account, update information, and then select a plan and get enrolled in new coverage. Many people will qualify for help paying for their coverage through subsidized premiums, along with low co-pays and no deductibles for those that qualify for ConnectorCare. Due to a recently announced pilot expansion, more people than ever before are now eligible for ConnectorCare.

For those who need assistance finding the right plan, along with local Navigators, people with questions can call 877-MA-ENROLL (TTY: 877-623-7773) and get help with their application and getting into coverage.

The Health Connector’s goal is to help everyone stay covered so individuals and families can lead happy and healthy lives. Having access to reliable health coverage can make all the difference for a community: from improving physical and mental health, to preventing financial challenges due to medical emergencies.

Over the past several years, Massachusetts has reached record levels of health coverage across populations, age groups, and communities. The Massachusetts Health Connector is proud to be working to maintain those gains in Revere, and across the Commonwealth.

John T. DiLiegro honored for 47 years of ownership of John’s Service Station

By Cary Shuman

John T. DiLiegro, owner of John’s Service Station in Linden Square, was honored for his 47 years of ownership of the well-known business located in Linden Square near the Revere-Malden line.

Councillor-at-Large Dan Rizzo presented a congratulatory proclamation to DiLiegro during a ceremony at the full-service gas station and motor vehicle repair business on what was DiLiegro’s final day as owner of John’s Service Station. The business will remain in existence under new ownership.

Rizzo praised DiLiegro for his superb, five-decade stewardship of the business.

“For close to 50 years,

John has touched so many Revere families in a positive way and helping so many people,” said Rizzo. “I just talked to one of his customers this morning and he said that he taken his car here for everything, from an inspection sticker to a transmission, and John’s Service Station has always figured out a way to help him.”

Rizzo stated while presenting the proclamation on behalf of the City of Revere to Mr. DiLiegro during a brief by heartfelt ceremony, “I just want to take a little opportunity here to recognize John and his family for all they’ve meant to the City of Revere. We’re obviously going to miss his presence here. We’ll still see his face at the station, but he’s had a tremendous run.”

Mr. DiLiegro purchased the gas station in 1976. “I had always worked as a mechanic, and then I bought this business,” said DiLiegro. “I thought it [the purchase price] was a lot of money back then. Now I can’t buy one pump for what I paid.”

Asked what the key ingredients were for running such a successful business, DiLiegro offered, “I just worked seven days a week. I think in all the years I’ve been here, I took three weeks off for vacation, that’s about it.”

He also noted that John’s Service Station’s staff pumps the gas for motor vehicle owners, as opposed to the many self-service gas stations in the area.

For many years at the station, Mr. DiLiegro was assisted by his son, John T. DiLiegro Jr. “He’s the one who really built up the business,” said Mr. DiLiegro. “John worked here since he was 11 years old.”

John DiLiegro Jr. died on February 16, 2022, at the age of 49 after a courageous battle with glioblastoma.

Mr. DiLiegro also has two daughters, Kristin Galli and Karen DiLiegro, and seven grandchildren.

Dominic DiLiegro, who has worked at the station, lauded his grandfather’s career as an outstanding business owner, commenting, “It was a heckuva run.”

Councillor-at-Large Dan Rizzo presents a Proclamation to John T. DiLiegro marking Sept. 13, 2023, as John T. DiLiegro Day in the City of Revere.

“We serve really delicious, nutritious, affordable meals to help suit people’s busy lifestyle,” said Amanda. “Right now I feel a lot of people are overwhelmed and no one knows how to eat healthy when you’re busy all the time. We help people live a healthier lifestyle one meal at a time.”

The Bonasoros generously served to guests a delicious meal of scrambled eggs, protein coffee, breakfast tacos, protein bites, and some overnight oats.

“It’s been a fun morning,” said Amanda, who is a member of the RCC Board of Directors and a great supporter with her husband, Christopher, and their daughter, 19-month-old Lily, of all RCC events.

Revere man charged with impersonating a police officer faces additional charges

By Journal Staff

A Revere man charged with impersonating a police officer is facing additional charges for allegedly shoving a TV reporter while leaving his July court date.

Byron Boisseau, 44, was arraigned in Chelsea District Court last week and charged with assault and battery on a person over 60. Judge Jane Prince ordered Boisseau to stay away and have no contact with the victim. Boisseau will return to court on November 1.

On July 23, Massachusetts State police received a report from an unidentified man driving on Ocean Avenue who noticed a white Ford Crown Victoria with amber lights driving close behind him, according to Suffolk County District Attorney Kevin Hayden's office. The man pulled his vehicle to the side to let the Crown Victoria pass and video recorded the flashing lights and registration. A BOLO broadcast was issued.

A trooper observed the white Ford Crown Victoria turn off Revere Beach Boulevard with flashing amber lights displayed on both the front and the rear of the vehicle. As the trooper approached the vehicle during a traffic stop, he observed two thin blue line stickers on the rear windshield and a black hat that read "security" on the top back seat. There were not any identifying markings or signs on the vehicle itself, according to the district attorney's office.

Upon speaking to the driver, later identified as Boisseau, the trooper noticed he was wearing a black polo shirt with "security" embossed on the front and noticed a silver badge in a holder hanging from the rear view mirror. Boisseau explained that he works as a security contractor for several cities and that he was armed with a mace gun and a BB gun.

As Boisseau stepped out of the vehicle, the trooper observed him touching the small black handle of a firearm protruding from his front thigh pants pocket. The trooper also observed Boisseau wearing a police style belt equipped with several pieces of police equipment such as an expandable baton and a Glock style handgun, later identified as a BB gun.

After a further search of the vehicle, police stated that they found numerous items such as a black bulletproof vest, a large black flashlight, a Rothco police supply catalog, an aluminum citation holder, a black winter ski mask, two pairs of bolt cutters, handcuffs, an alcohol breathalyzer, and a vehicle push bar bumper, a device often found on police vehicles.

Boisseau was arraigned in Chelsea District Court on July 26 on charges of impersonating a police officer, possession of burglarious tools, carrying a dangerous weapon, and disorderly conduct.

After the arraignment a TV reporter attempted to get a statement from Boisseau as he was leaving the courthouse. Boisseau grabbed the reporter and shoved him multiple times, according to the district attorney's office. The victim was able to provide investigators with video footage that shows Boisseau pushing him.

The victim was evaluated at a local hospital but did not sustain any major injuries.

"Impersonating a police officer or any armed official is not only dangerous but also a crime," stated Hayden. "This individual chose to commit another crime right after answering on a different one. We all have a job to do. Use of force or violence against someone performing their professional duties will never be tolerated, as this individual has found out."

EEE sightings increasing around State

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health (DPH) last week announced that Eastern equine encephalitis (EEE) has been detected in an additional mosquito sample collected on September 13 in Brimfield. This finding raises the EEE risk level to high in Brimfield, Sturbridge, and Holland and to moderate in Wales.

This is in addition to the six communities already at high risk for EEE: Douglas, Dudley, Oxford, Southbridge, Sutton, and Webster. Auburn, Charlton, Grafton, Millbury, Northbridge, and Uxbridge are at moderate risk.

"The forecast is for cooler temperatures which will start to reduce mosquito activity," said Dr. Catherine M. Brown, State Epidemiologist. "However, the risk for spread of EEE virus from mosquitoes to people is still present. Everyone in these moderate- and high-risk areas should take the recommended steps to prevent mosquito bites; this includes avoiding outdoor activity between dusk and dawn in the high-risk communities."

EEE is a rare but serious and potentially fatal disease that can affect people of all ages. EEE is generally spread to humans through the bite of an infected mosquito. There were 12 human cases of EEE in Massachusetts in 2019 with six deaths and 5 human cases with one death in 2020. There were no human cases of EEE in Massachusetts in 2021 or 2022. No human or animal case of EEE has been detected in Massachusetts so far this year.

City and state working together to assist migrant families

By Adam Swift

Over the past several months, city officials have been coordinating with the state to help handle the influx of migrant families that are currently being sheltered in Revere, as well as other communities throughout the state.

At a meeting of the city's Community Response Network on Monday, Public Health Director Lauren Buck gave an update on the current status of migrant families in the city.

"The state has been coordinating the large influx of migrant families we have seen over the last three to four months," said Buck. "There are welcome centers where the families are hopefully being directed. None of the welcome centers are necessarily close; they are opening one in Quincy and there is one in (Jamaica Plain) I believe."

Revere has families that have been placed through the EA (emergency assistance) shelter program, with the majority of families from Haiti, Buck said. In addition to migrant families, Buck noted that the EA shelter program in the state is also open to people who are homeless but not necessarily new to the country.

"Our role in this in the last three months we've been involved has been trying to coordinate and make sure these families are set up with all the appropriate resources, that they are connected with the Revere Public Schools, and they are making sure they have medical clearance and medical screenings."

Children from most of the families are enrolled in Revere schools or getting enrolled in early education programs such as Head Start, Buck said.

As in other communities, the state is sheltering the majority of the migrant families in hotels.

"We've had some very generous donations and done some clothing drives," said Buck. "We've worked with the state to help organize regular meals, because if you are living in a hotel room, you don't necessarily have access or the ability to cook meals."

Almost all of the families have been set up with SNAP and WIC benefits, Buck added.

"Because of the large influx of families, the National Guard was deployed by the governor," said Buck. "Although we haven't had the National Guard into some of our hotels, I believe they will be coming soon to help with organization. So far, we have not necessarily had any big issues; our families are doing really well and the kids are in school."

Community groups form Plastic Free Mass

Special to the Journal

Over a dozen community and environmental groups have joined forces to form Plastic Free Mass, a new coalition dedicated to ending the use of polluting plastic. The group will push for new policies to protect our Commonwealth's residents and natural resources by ending our plastic addiction and moving us toward a cleaner future.

The data couldn't be clearer. Nearly 40% of the plastic produced annually is for single-use plastics and packaging. Very little plastic – between 5-6% in the United States – is actually recycled. Plastic is toxic and polluting at every stage of its lifecycle – from extraction and manufacturing, to use, recycling, and disposal. Many single-use plastics can be easily reduced, redesigned for reuse, or replaced with nontoxic alternatives.

"The Friends of the Malden River have sponsored many cleanups around and in the Malden River. The Malden River, a typical urban river, is inundated with plastic pollution due to its physical connection with the city's stormwater system. Volunteers have removed thousands of single use plastic items and pounds of degraded polystyrene from the waterway. It is distressing. We have witnessed the contamination of the collected recycling at our local single stream recycling system. Typically, over 65% of Malden's collected recyclables are contaminated with plastic bags, household waste, and nonrecyclable plastics and metals. This contaminated recycling is incinerated at the Wheelabrator Saugus Plant. The Plastic Blight needs to end with state legislation and public awareness," said Karen Buck, Friends of Malden River.

Accordingly, we support legislation, policies, and programs that: phase out and avoid the production and use of any unnecessary single-use plastics, reduce and eliminate plastic packaging whenever possible, and modernize our state's beverage container deposit system to include reuse and refill targets.

The members of Plastic Free Mass include Berkshire Environmental Action Team, Berkshire Zero Waste Initiative, Beyond Plastics, Clean Water Action, Conservation Law Foundation, Container Recycling Institute, Environmental League of Massachusetts, Friends of the Malden River, Just Zero, Metropolitan Area Planning Council, MetroWest Climate Solutions, Mothers Out Front, Oceana, Progressive Democrats of Massachusetts, Seaside Sustainability, Slingshot, and Story of Stuff.

"The Commonwealth of Massachusetts is an environmental leader in so many ways, so it's particularly disappointing to see us fall behind in the area of solid waste. For example, our state is one of the only states in New England without a statewide plastic bag ban, and our bottle bill has one of the lowest redemption rates in the country. We must move quickly and decisively to remedy these shortcomings or we risk falling even further behind in the fight to curb the climate crisis," said Kirstie Pecci, Executive Director, Just Zero

Mara Shulman, Senior Attorney, Conservation Law Foundation added, "It's time to finally address the plastics crisis in Massachusetts. From modernizing our antiquated beverage container deposit system, to banning single-use plastic bags at checkout, to making producers of plastic packaging responsible for reducing packaging and managing plastic waste at its end of life, there are several pending bills that will take us in the right direction. We stand with our elected officials and pledge to keep up the momentum because there is no time to waste in taking a bite out of waste."

REVERE Through the Years

City leaders are bracing for a huge, unexpected expense and are warning residents on Winthrop Avenue in the Immaculate Conception (IC) area that inconvenient times are coming. The source of the problem is a compromised sewer main that lies some 20 feet below Winthrop Avenue next to the McMackin Park. About two weeks ago, the sewer pipe failed and for the past two weeks, crews have been running a pump to bypass the crumbled sewer pipe, but that has grown expensive with overtime costs, police details and equipment.

The news last week by Superintendent Paul Dakin that the new Hill School will be at capacity before it even opens (possibly in September 2015) has come as a shock to most residents and city officials, who have been stunned by the ever-increasing size of the city's student population.

The Immaculate Conception Church held its annual Family Festival on Saturday. Eleven countries were represented and fine cuisine from all over the world was served and enjoyed by all.

Daigle, who has been well-known over the years as an impersonator of Elvis and other celebrities at The Cove and Zeke's, allegedly confessed to stabbing Surette and then attacking him with a machete.

Council approves grant application for Gibson Park project

By Adam Swift

For the second time in the past three months, the City Council approved a resolution that will allow the city to apply for a state grant to help pay for the first phase of the Gibson Park improvement project. “If you think you have been here before talking about this resolution, it’s because you have,” said Tom Skwierawski, the city’s Chief of Planning and Community Development at last week’s council meeting. “In June of this year, I brought a similar resolution before you regarding Gibson Park. It’s basically a formality when we submit PARC (Parkland Acquisitions and Renovations for Communities) grant applications to the state that a resolution must be passed by the City Council stating that, in effect, because it is a reimbursement grant, that we have the money to front the development of the project before the PARC grant reimburses us for the balance.”

What is different with the Gibson Park project compared to past PARC applications is that for the past applications, the PARC grant covered the bulk of the improvements.

“In this case, the $500,000 we’d receive would be but a fraction of the $2-plus million project that will be taking place at Gibson Park,” said Skwierawski. “So originally, when we put the motion in front of you in June, we had just picked out a few discrete items that correspond to the grant application, such as turning the baseball diamond into an all-purpose field and adding lighting fixtures and adding an ADA accessible (walking path).”

Those items totalled about $700,000, Skwierawski said.

But he added that the city does have the money necessary to cover the first phase of the project through an ARPA allocation that came through during Mayor Brian Arri-go’s term. The new resolution passed by the council essentially shows that the ARPA funding is in place to complete the project.

Skwierawski said the city also has state and federal funding in place and is seeking additional funding for the larger overall Riverfront improvement project that will see a new Rte. 1 roundabout that will keep excess traffic away from the Gibson Park neighborhood, and environmental resiliency and flood mitigation efforts for the neighborhood.

election set for Tuesday, Mayor William G. Rein-stein dropped a bombshell on the eve of the election with his announcement of a $200,000 libel suit that he has filed against one of his opponents, City Councillor Anthony Yantosca, based on statements made about Reinstein in a 12-page campaign circular put out by Yantosca. City Councillor Edward O'Hara, speaking on a point of personal privilege at the council meeting this week, took exception to many of the accusations made in the Yantosca circular. City Cuncilor Joseph DelGrosso and political newcomer Robert J. Martocchio are the other candidates in the mayoral race.

There are 24,436 registered voters for the primary election, a decrease of 1274 from last year's presidential election.

RHS senior Steven Levine has been named a National Merit semi-finalist.

The City Council unanimously voted to place the question of pay raises for themselves and the mayor on the November ballot.

The City Council, at the urging of Councillor Edward O'Hara, is balking at making payments on the new chief's car purchased by Fire Chief Anthony D. Mastronardi. O'Hara said it is rumored that the new car, an Olds 98, has air conditioning and a stereo, luxuries that O'Hara said are not needed in a city vehicle. O'Brien also noted that the City Council had refused to buy Mastronardi a new vehicle, but that the chief used a provision in the city charter to make the purchase on an emergency basis. The new auto replaces a 1964 car that Mastronardi claims had broken down. However, O'Hara asserted that he went to the fire station this week and that the 1964 car started up right away.

When you move with pets, you have the added task of finding new service providers for your furry friend.

CITY PAWS Settling in with Pets

By Penny & Ed Cherubino

When you move with pets, you have the added task of finding new VIPs for your furry friends - those who walk dogs, care for your pets when you travel, groom your critters, and provide routine and emergency veterinary care. In addition, you need to obtain the local licenses your municipality requires and update your contact on the microchips and tags identifying your animals.

Recommendations

To find excellent dog services, try a two-pronged approach. First, gather recommendations from your new neighbors and those you meet while walking around your new neighborhood. If they’re a pet guardian, ask what they like and dislike about the professionals they use. It’s good to ask which dog walkers, groomers, pet-sitters, and veterinarians they’ve used in the past and why they may have stopped using them.

In some cases, a person with dogs might be a dog walker. Don't hesitate to ask for their company’s contact information, even if you're not impressed with their dog-walking style. This will help you avoid services that are not up to your standards.

Dog Walker and Sitter Considerations

We recommend asking some specific questions to find a reliable dog walker. Inquire about their availability throughout the year and if they have coverage when ill or on vacation. Do they have specific training in animal care and pet first aid? Do they carry professional insurance?

Is the dog walker willing to meet you and your dog before scheduling appointments? This allows you to determine if the person is a good fit for your furry friend. Inquire about the number of dogs they usually handle. You might even request to accompany them on a walk to observe their handling of your dog within a pack.

If you have specific needs or requirements, make those clear from the beginning. A close friend hired a dog walker for her dog with the condition that the dog should never be tied up outside. She told us that if we ever saw her dog tied up, we were to take him home and notify her immediately. One day, Penny found him in a group of dogs outside a building and did as requested. That was the last time that person walked that dog.

Veterinarians and Groomers

While dog walkers come to your home, you must take your dog to the Vet and groomer. Location and transportation can be deciding factors. We recently changed veterinarians to one we could get to without a car.

In addition to a great location, we had already had a good experience with this Veterinary group in an emergency during the pandemic and were impressed. They offered certified fear-free care, which was important for our anxious little dog. They fit our specific needs. Your decision should be based on how well a practice fits your wants and needs.

Don’t Wait for Holiday Pet Care!

Now is the time to reserve the holiday season transportation, lodging, and pet care you’ll need for your pets and guests who might be coming for a holiday visit. Fortunately, the Greater Boston Area has many pet-friendly hotels. Finding a place for your sister and her dog to stay (if your building does not allow pets) should be easy.

Finding someone to groom, pet sit, or dog walk during the holidays is more complex. If you have a regular service, ask about boarding, sitting, or if you will have a visiting dog to walk over the holidays. As much as they’d like to accommodate regular customers, there’s a limit to how many animals a pet sitter can accept.

about bringing smart development to the city and slowing down residential development that he said has taxed city services. He has also pointed to his achievements as an elected mayor in the city from 2013 to 2017. When asked for comment, Rizzo said, "would like to thank the voters of Revere for confidence in my candidacy and to thank all my amazing volunteers that ran such a great campaign! I look forward to working for the next seven weeks and bringing our positive message for the future of Revere to each and every doorstep in each and every neighborhood." In the preliminary vote for at-large City Council, Ed Almeida looked to be the lone candidate of the 11 not to make the final cut for the general election. Ten candidates will be running for five at-large seats on Nov. 7. Robert Haas III topped the at-large ballot, followed by the two incumbent at-large councillors in the race, Anthony Zambuto and Marc Silvestri, with all precincts but one reporting by Tuesday night. They will be joined on the general election ballot by Stephen Damiano, Jr., Michelle Kelley, Alexander Rhalimi, Anthony Parziale, Juan Pablo Jaramillo, Donald Martelli, and Wayne Rose.

RHS SPORTS Roundup

TWO VICTORIES FOR RHS GIRLS SOCCER

The Revere High girls soccer team chalked up a pair of impressive victories this past week.

Last Wednesday, coach Megan O'Donnell and her crew hosted Boston Collegiate Charter School and earned a 4-0 triumph. Freshman Kesley Morales scored her first varsity goal on a penalty kick. Also reaching the back of the 'Canes' net were senior defender Ari Pina; Jessica Galvez, with an assist from Sandra Torres; and Erika Mejia, with an assist from Nataly Olivia.

Lady Patriot goalkeeper Nisrin Sekkat recorded her second shutout of the season.

"Their goalie played great. We had a ton of chances but couldn't finish," noted O'Donnell. "We had great play from our midfielders, Sandra Torres, Erika Mejia, Jessica Galvez, and Catalina Chizavo."

The following day, the Lady Patriots had more success in the finishing department, pouring in seven goals in a 7-0 blanking of Greater Boston League (GBL) rival Lynn English. Samarah Paiva struck for two goals, with Ari Pina, Giselle Salvado, Catalina Chizavo, Nataly Oliva, and Adriana Cataldo (her first career goal) also reaching the back of the Lady Bulldogs' net.

"We had great play from senior Karla Robles, Jamiy Gomez, and Giselle Portillo, all of whom showed true leadership on the field," said O'Donnell.

"Grace Ramirez, Kathy Granados, Kaylin Folgar, Salma Zahraoui, Emily Torres, and Amilee Hernandez all got to show off their skills in this game. They showed hustle and determination to win," added O'Donnell.

Freshman Ajsi Balla and Sekkat earned the combined shut-out in goal, with both making some superb saves.

O'Donnell and her crew were scheduled to meet GBL foe Everett yesterday (Tuesday) and will make the short trek down Broadway to GBL rival Chelsea tomorrow (Thursday). They will travel to GBL opponent Medford next Tuesday.

REVERE BOYS SOCCER STANDS AT 3-0 IN GBL

The Revere High boys soccer team improved to 3-0 with a pair of 2-1 victories over Greater Boston League rivals Lynn Classical and Lynn English this past week.

Coach Manny Lopes and his crew were set to engage in their toughest encounter thus far when they hosted Everett yesterday (Tuesday). Both the Patriots and the Crimson Tide were undefeated entering the fray, with Everett, the defending GBL champion, coming off a pair of big victories over Malden (6-1) and Chelsea

The Revere boys will hoist Chelsea tomorrow (Thursday) and will entertain Medford next Tuesday.

REVERE/MALDEN GOLF OPENS WITH TWO WINS

The Revere and Malden High School co-op golf team started its season on a winning note with victories in its opening two matches this past week.

Coach Brandon Pezzuto's opened their season with a match at Gannon Golf Course against Lynn Classical and came away on the upside of a 44-28 final score.

Among the highlights for the Patriot/Tornadoes were the performances of #1 Chris Macdonald and #2 Matt Lacroix, both of whom won their matches against their Classical counterparts in convincing fashion by scores of 6.5-2.5.

Frankie Annunziata, playing in the #4 slot, won his match handily, 7.5-1.5. Jonathan Wells at #5 and captain Saul Kruckenberg at #7 tied their matches. Jacob Simonelli won his match by a score of 5-4 at #6. Freshman Tommy Cronin won his match with the largest margin of the day, 8-1, in the #8 spot.

Pezzuto's crew made it two in a row on Thursday when they hosted a match against Everett at Stoneham Oaks and recorded a 49-23 victory.

"We are very excited to have so much intrasquad competition this year, as it challenges our team to continue to improve each day," said Pezzuto. "The coaching staff has been impressed by the focus on improvement our team has demonstrated. Each day the kids take 2-3 pointers regarding strategy or fundamentals that they implement into their games in the pursuit of developing into more complete golfers."

The 2023 squad is led by a trio of captains: Ollie Svendsen of Revere, Saul Kruckenberg of Malden, and Ryan Cogswell of Malden.

"Our team is filled with great leadership by both seniors and underclassmen alike," said Pezzuto, who added that Frankie Annunziata of Revere, Jonathan Wells of Revere, and Christopher MacDonald of Malden are other key members of the team.

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL TEAM FIGHTS HARD VS. ENGLISH

Although the Revere High volleyball team fell short in its recent matches this past week, first-year head coach Emilie Hostetter's crew has been fighting hard against its opponents.

Most notably, last Wednesday the Lady Patriots narrowly dropped a 3-2 decision to Greater Boston League (GBL) rival Lynn English in a see-

Sisterly Bond is the foundation of RHS field hockey team

By Melissa Moore-Randall

Throughout the years, RHS Field Hockey has made history including an historic run during the 2019 season. During that season, the team returned to the postseason after almost 30 years. This season, the team is making history off the field. The 2023 squad led by first year Head Coach Alex Butler and Assistant Coach Hanneliese Scheel has to be extra vigilant with their scorebooks and rosters. The reason being is that this year's team has four sets of siblings.

Four upperclassman, Senior Bella Stamatopoulos, Senior Briana Mendieta, Senior Olivia Morris and Junior Ana Kalliavas have taken their young siblings under their wings on the field. The girls are joined by younger sisters, Sophomore Gemma Stamatopoulos, Sophomore Isabella Mendieta, Sophomore Ava Morris, and team manager and future Lady Pat 8th grader Zizi Kalliavas. They say sibling rivalry often leads to the best competition. Hopefully this year, it will lead to a return to the playoffs for the Lady Pats squad.

Revere High School Patriots football falls to Plymouth South

By Journal Staff

Unable to contain Plymouth South's standout running backs Cassious Johnson and Gio Lynch-Ruberio, the Revere High football team fell, 35-7, in a non-league matchup Friday night in Plymouth.

The two players each rushed for more than 100 yards in the game and accounted for all five touchdowns.

Revere was facing its second ranked opponent in as many weeks, having been defeated by No. 17 Peabody in its home opener.

Revere (0-2) will look to get into the win column in its Greater Boston League opener against Medford. The Mustangs defeated Brookline, 19-7, in their season opener before falling to Cambridge Rindge and Latin, 26-7, last Friday night.

RHS FIELD HOCKEY TEAM HOLDS ANNUAL CAR WASH

By Melissa Moore-Randall

The RHS Field Hockey team held its annual car wash behind City Hall on Sunday. Under a beautiful September sky and in the shadow of Hurricane Lee, the team and Parent Club worked all morning to get the cars of Revere residents squeaky clean. The annual fundraiser is used to help pay for several initiatives throughout the season for the players and coaches. Special thanks to all of the RFD, DPW, elected officials, candidates, family, friends and strangers who stopped by and/or donated. If were not able to attend but would like to make a virtual car wash donation you can do so at Venmo@rhs-field-hockey.

Officer Joe Singer of the Revere Boxing and Outreach program stopped by with a generous donation for the RHS Field Hockey team.

saw battle that went down to the wire. Revere won the first and fourth sets by scores of 28-26 and 25-16, while English took the second and third sets (25-18 and 25-15) before winning the fifth and deciding set by the slimmest of margins, 15-13.

Two days later, the Lady Patriots won a set before falling to Lowell Catholic, 3-1.

"Our setters, Susan Lemus Chavez and Bianca Rincon, have been key in assisting with kills," said Hostetter. "In the match with English, outside hitter Hadassa Dias had five kills and in the contest with Lowell Catholic, Liv Yuong had five kills and Lea Doucette had four kills. Susan Lemus Chavez had four aces in the Lowell Catholic match."

Hostetter and her crew are scheduled to take on four GBL foes this week: at Chelsea today (Wednesday), hosting Malden on Friday; and trekking to Somerville next Monday and to Everett next Wednesday.

EOVS announces new appointments to the Veteran’s Reintegration Advisory Committee

The Executive Office of Veterans Services (EOVS) proudly announces the revival of the Veteran’s Reintegration Advisory Committee (VRAC) and the appointment of seven new committee members. VRAC is entrusted with actively investigating, studying, and scrutinizing various aspects of veterans’ reintegration into civilian life. Its primary objectives include reducing suicide rates and addressing the profound effects of post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD), depression, and anxiety among veterans. RHS SPORTS Through the Years

September 18, 2013
The RHS football team coughed up four fumbles, three of them deep inside Medford territory, to kill potential scoring drives, with the end result being a 35-22 loss. Captain Tom Portrait gave an indication of a banner senior season by picking up 130 yards on 23 carries and scoring touchdowns on runs of 10 and 15 yards. He also added a two point conversion for a total of 14 points. Tight end Steve Selevitch accounted for the eight other RHS points with a 10 yard TD reception and a follow-up catch for the two point conversion. Both scoring tosses were thrown by RHS sophomore quarterback Dan Murphy. Kaleb Silva picked up 65 yards rushing and Murphy added another 60 yards carrying the ball to give Revere some impressive stats in the ground game department. Seven years of frustration for the RHS field hockey program came to a dramatic and exciting conclusion with a 3-2 victory over Everett last week. "It was a long time coming, especially for the 11 seniors on this team," said RHS head coach Erin Parker. After spotting Everett a 1-0 lead in the opening five minutes, senior Michaela Elliot evened the count with a goal before the end of the first half. Senior captain Noelle MacDonald gave the Lady Patriots a 2-1 lead with a marker shortly after the intermission and after Everett responded to tie the game at 2-2, but Erica Ronga let go a shot that deflected off the Everett goalie for what would prove to be the decisive tally with 2:30 to play. The Revere High volleyball team rolled to its third straight victory of the season, defeating Swampscott, 3-1, in a hard-fought battle last Thursday. After dropping the first game by a 25-21 score, the Lady Patriots roared back to take the next three games, 25-19, 27-25, and 27-25. Senior Natalie Colon-Martin, who accounted for seven service aces, seven kills, and six blocks in the match, delivered the final and deciding point when she tapped the ball into a hole in the Swampscott defense. Also racking up impressive statistics in the victory were fellow seniors Shannon Spillane, who was credited with 20 digs, and Raela O'Donnell, who earned 20 assists as the Lady Patriot setter.

September 24, 2003
The Revere High football team gave it their all, but in the end proved no match for Everett, the two-time defending Super Bowl champion, falling by a score of 35-0 Friday evening at Harry Della Russo Stadium.

30 years ago
September 22, 1993
RHS quarterback J.J. Jones tossed TD passes of 33 yards to Kevin O'Hara and 10 yards to Steve Fiore, but the Patriot football team dropped a 27-13 decision to Wakefield.

The RHS boys cross country team, led by Capt. Michael Barranco in a time of 17:03 over the three-mile course, topped Waltham, 26-31. Michelle Medeiros led the RHS girls cross country team to a 25-31 win over Waltham, taking home first place in a time of 23:34.

A 75 yard touchdown pass with just 43 seconds remaining in the game from Dave Errico to John Ross and then a gutsy pass from Errico to John Laurano for the two point conversion gave the Revere High football team an exciting 8-7 win over Wakefield. The triumph was the 100th career victory for RHS head coach Silvio Cella.

The RHS field hockey team, which was winless last season, recorded two victories to start the 1983 season, 3-2 over Brookline and a forfeit over Medford. Laurie Tunnera scored two goals and Chris Woodman scored once to lead the Lady Patriots to the win over Brookline.
