Council approves appropriations for mayoral recount

By Adam Swift

The City Council unanimously approved a $30,000 supplemental appropriation on Monday night to pay for this weekend's mayoral election re-

Last week, the Board of Election Commissioners approved Dan Rizzo's filing for a recount in his race against Patrick Keefe on Nov. 7. The unofficial count had Keefe on top by approximately 360 votes.

The recount will take place beginning at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Dec. 2 at the Revere High School gymnasium.

"This recount was not anticipated as part of the FY2024 budget process," stated Richard Viscay, the city's finance director. "To ensure that funds are available to cover the costs of this recount, I have requested the Elections Commissioner to send me the estimated costs that the city will incur to administer a recount. It is estimated that the costs will be approximately $25,000 to $30,000 depending on the length of time needed and legal services required to complete the recount."

Viscay requested that the council approve the appropriation of $30,000 to ensure that the city would not incur any costs associated with the recount without an appropriation in place. Any money that remains after the recount will be returned to the general fund at the end of the year.

In other business, the council approved Mayor-Elect Keefe's request that parking meters throughout the city business districts not be enforced on the first four Saturdays in December to encourage shoppers to patronize local businesses during the holiday season.

"After doing so in previous years, I am confident that this will be a great opportunity for residents and visitors to enjoy the variety of shops and restaurants available in our city, and at the same time benefit both the businesses and shoppers," stated Keefe.

VFW seeking permit to rent parking spaces

The Beachmont VFW Post on Bennington Street is looking to generate revenue by renting out parking spaces in its lot.

The VFW is seeking a special permit from the City Council to allow the rental of 22 of its 73 spaces at 150 Bennington St.

If approved, those spaces would likely be used for the construction vehicles and employees working at the new apartment development at 93 Bennington St. That construction project is expected to last for up to three years, according to VFW Post quartermaster Jerry Goodwin.

The proposal will be before the council's zoning subcommittee on Dec. 4 before coming back before the full council for a potential vote on the special permit request.

"As you know, civic organizations really struggle financially, especially in these times, and this would be a way for them to generate some new revenue," said project engineer Rick Salvo. "This wouldn't be adding any parking and there would be no construction proposed as part of this, we would simply block off 22 of the parking spaces and rent them to someone in need of parking."

For the foreseeable future, those spaces would likely be rented for use for the nearby construction project.

"That would get those trades off the road and give them a place to park during the day when they are working," said Salvo. "This would be a way for (the VFW post) to generate some much needed revenue and be able to continue to do the good things they do for the community."

While there have been upgrades at the VFW function hall and business has picked up over the past two years, Goodwin said it is still a struggle for the non-profit to make money and the parking spaces would help generate some much-needed revenue.

Arcadia Street resident

Anthony Parziale said the proposal would help the VFW post, and help keep construction trucks out of residential neighborhoods.

Council President Pro Tem Joanne McKenna said she believes the proposal would be great for the VFW. However, she said she would like to see the post clean up some concrete and rocks that have been on the property for close to a year. Goodwin said he has been trying to get the contractor to pick up the debris. He added that if necessary, the leasing of the parking spaces would generate revenue so that the post could take care of the issue itself. Several councillors also

Literacy Tutoring Program in Revere announces details about student reading progress

(Revere, MA)--Ignite Reading, a nationally recognized high-dosage tutoring program, teaches 1st-8th grade students to read at more than twice the rate expected in traditional classrooms with no achievement gaps. Here in Revere, Ignite's national results are now being repeated in classrooms across the city.

Last spring, Revere Public Schools (RPS) introduced Ignite as a pilot program at two elementary schools, where 42% of first graders had reading skill gaps that placed them at kindergarten reading

"What we are seeing nationally with first graders is that 80% of the students that are completing our program are reading at grade level by the end of first grade," said Ignite Reading CEO Jessica Reid Sliwerski. "First grade is really the vision because you can close those achievement gaps kindergarten and first grade, cover first grade reading content and keep students on this successful trajectory as they head into second grade." Monday night, the City Council approved two special permit requests that had previously come before its zoning subcom-

The council approved a request to modify an existing non-conforming fiveunit apartment structure at 465 Revere Beach Boulevard to allow for 11 units with 17 parking spaces.

The council also approved a special permit for a self-storage facility located at 195 American Legion Highway from Arizona-based 1784 Hold-

At Monday night's zoning subcommittee meeting, Larry Beals of Beals Associates addressed some of the questions raised about the details of the proposed facility raised at a previous public

Several councillors had raised concerns about the size of the proposed five-story building across from the Rumney Marsh Academy on the American Legion Highway, the number of self-storage units in the building, and landscaping.

"Through some discussion and some input, a suggestion was made that we should landscape more heavily in front of the building," said Beals. "The drawings that were presented last time were done by an architect, and if you work with architects, they like to showcase their buildings. The message we were getting at the last meeting was that you would prefer not to see as much of the building.'

Beals said that rather than having lawn and some shrubs in front of the building, the plans have been supplemented with more trees. Beals noted that the need to be out of the flood plain also was one of the factors that generated the height of the building.

Beals said the developer has also committed to cleaning up the property both on and off the site of the proposed building.

In addition, Beals noted that there was room for emergency vehicles to drive around the entire building, a plan which would also enable emergency responses if there was an issue at the adjacent Amazon facility behind the property. Ward 2 Councillor Ira Novoselsky said he loved the project and was glad that there were more trees going up in front of the property.

Councillor-at-Large Councillor Marc Silvestri said he had recently walked the property, and that the developer's commitment to cleaning up the ditch in the back of the property was something that the city estimates would cost close to $1

"For them to put this into the neighborhood, I am in support of this," said Silvestri.

Councillor-at-Large Gerry Visconti, who initially had concerns about the height of the building, said he also recently walked the property.

"Being able to go around the building with the fire apparatus is pretty important, so I can understand why you are not able to extend the building wider and then lower the height," said Visconti. "With all of the necessary changes, I will be in favor of this."

Kelly. Yilmaz, who is also tied for the highest GPA in the class of 2024 with a 4.56, also had his share of remarkable achievements. Yilmaz had an almost perfect score on the Math SAT, has enrolled in nine AP courses, in which he earned the highest score of five on five AP exams, enrolled in one dual-enrollment course, and is even a

"He's got so many different pieces of excellent information on his resume," said Kelly.

After reading these statements, each student was invited to receive their award and shake hands with members of the school committee.

"Very proud of our students; they do an amazing job, and without the support of their parents and their families, it would be a lot harder for them to do so," said Kelly. "So congratulations to the Blaisdells, the Fiores and the Yilmazs."

Council schedules vote for clerk salary raises flation calculator through

By Adam Swift

The City Council tabled a hearing on a change to the city ordinance that would increase the pay for two clerk positions to its Dec. 4 meeting.

The motion will allow the council to vote on the ordinance change at that meeting without a further subcommittee meeting on the proposal prior to that meeting.

Monday night, the council held a public hearing on the ordinance change that would increase the Zoning Board of Appeals clerk's salary from $6,000 to $12,000 annually. It would also officially create the position of assistant City Clerk and put that salary at $75,000.

"The ZBA clerk's salary has not been updated in 25 years," said Ward 3 Councillor Anthony Cogliandro. "Putting it into an inthe state, we came up with $12,000 for that position." Cogliandro said the assistant city clerk is not an official position listed in the city, and needs to be included at that title. "Currently, the assistant

City Clerk is labeled as an administrative assistant, and she is handcuffed as to what she is able to get paid, unfortunately, so we are just trying to make this right," said Cogliandro. "This woman has worked for the city since 2006, she has been appointed as the assistant City Clerk, and she needs to be compensated as one, as well."

tight timeline at the end of the year, the developer was seeking to withdraw the special permit application and resubmit it at the beginning of the next council session next year.

Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino cast the lone vote against approving the withdrawal and questioned why the request was being made.

O'Neil said the developer believed they would have enough meetings to get approval for the project, but had scheduled a community meeting to make sure they had enough input and feed-

Shurley M. Kulakowski

Family was everything to her Family and friends attended a visitation on Monday, November 27th in the Vertuccio Smith & Vazza Beechwood Home for Funerals, 262 Beach St, Revere for Shurley M. (Welch) Kulakowski. Shurley died peacefully on Monday, November 20th at Hathorne Hill Nursing & Rehabilitation Center in Danvers, following a long illness. She was 98 years old. A Funeral Mass was celebrated in Ave Maria Parish (OLA), Lynnfield and interment immediately followed in Puritan Lawn Memorial Park Cemetery, Peabody.

Shurley was born in Boston on August 10, 1925 to her late parents, Harold H. and Marie L. (Better) Welch. She was raised in Beachmont with her brother and sister, and graduated from Revere High School, Class of 1943. She then began working for Northeast Airlines. This job changed her life, for it is where she would meet, fall in love, and later marry her husband, Thomas Kulakows-

Shurley and Tom were married in 1948. Over the next eight years, they became the loving and proud parents of four children. Shurley cherished being a wife and mother, and embraced all that came along with parenthood. When she returned to work some years later, Shurley became a part-time hostess at the Golden Dome Restaurant on Beacon Hill, a popular lunch spot for legislators and staff working at the State House.

When she learned of an overnight position as a Lockbox administrator at Shawmut Bank, she applied, knowing it would be a better fit for her family's busy lifestyle. Shurley's career there spanned more than 25 years before she retired in the 80's.

Shurley enjoyed so many things: Time with family and friends, Travel to new places and far-off lands, Ballroom dancing, Watching (and recording) golf matches on tv, Cheering on her beloved Red Sox.

Shopping, Chasing down sales and bargains, And selecting just the right gifts and cards for the people she loved.

But while she took pleasure in all these things, it was family that meant everything to her. When her daughter Colleen was diagnosed with Lupus in her early 20's, Shurley was right there at her side, navigating the challenges of this all-encompassing disease. She and Colleen used this time to make the best of a difficult situation and formed a very special bond with one another. Colleen would eventually lose the battle with Lupus

REMEMBER THOSE WHO ARE LESS FORTUNATE THIS HOLIDAY SEASON

"It was the best of times; it was the worst of times." -- Charles Dickens, A Tale of Two Cities.

With Christmas fast approaching, most of us will be rushing about -- either to the stores and malls or on-line --- to do our holiday shopping in hopes of finding that "perfect" gift for our family members and loved ones.

Although economic uncertainty, spurred by the after-effects of record-high inflation, continues to afflict almost every American household, most of us are doing okay, if not extremely well, thanks to unemployment rates that are near historically record-lows.

However, the strong economy (from an employment standpoint) that is being enjoyed by the majority of Americans has not been shared by all. For a sizable number of our fellow citizens, the lingering effects of the pandemic, as well as the fraying of the fabric of our social safety net in recent years, have come together to represent an existential disaster.

Millions of Americans of all ages, in a percentage greater than at any time since the Great Depression, are struggling financially, even if they have a job. To put it in stark terms, more Americans, including families in our own communities, are going hungry than at any time in our recent history. One in eight households (12.8 percent) experience food insecurity, defined as the lack of access to an affordable, nutritious diet. An estimated 44.2 million Americans live in these households. A recent Feeding America survey found that 80% of network food banks reported either increased or steady demand for emergency food services, with almost 35% of responding food banks reporting an increase in the number of people they serve.

In addition, thanks to the lack of affordable new housing and sky-high rents, far too many of our fellow citizens, including children, live either in shelters or in similar temporary housing arrangements -- or on the streets -- because our economy literally has left them out in the cold. Millions of Americans of all ages, including those in our own communities, are struggling financially, often through no fault of their own, thanks to a combination of low-wage jobs and a strong real estate market that ironically has made apartments (let alone buying a home) unaffordable. This dichotomy is most evident and acute in cities such as Los Angeles, San Francisco, New York, and right here in Boston (most notably at End). Despite the vast wealth in those metropolitan areas, thousands of homeless Americans, including many who have full-time jobs, are living in tent and cardboard "neighborhoods" on city sidewalks.

The homeless always have been among us, but the scope and depth of the problem is far beyond anything that has been experienced in our lifetime. The vast discrepancy between the enormous wealth enjoyed by some Americans and the abject poverty being endured by others is similar to what exists in major urban centers in South America and India -- but it now is happening right here in the U.S.A.

For these millions of Americans, the holiday season brings no joy.

Psychologists tell us that the Biblical directive, that we should give to those who are less fortunate, is the best gift that we can give to ourselves. Helping others activates regions of the brain associated with pleasure, social connection, and trust, creating the so-called "warm glow" effect.

Never in the lifetime of anybody reading this editorial has the need for contributions to local food banks been more urgent. There will be ample opportunities in the coming days to make the holidays brighter for those who are less fortunate, whether it be donations to local food banks and toy programs, or even just dropping a few dollars in the buckets of the Salvation Army Santas.

There simply is no excuse for those of us who are among the more fortunate for failing to make some effort over the next four weeks to make the holidays brighter for those who are less fortunate.

Earlier this month, Ignite Reading hosted a showcase and demonstration of its one-to-one, virtual-powered cy tutoring program at A.C. Whelan Elementary School. At the event, Sliwerski announced details about student reading progress since the partnership began.

"We launched a partnership with Revere Schools last spring," said Sliwerski. "When we first began implementing Ignite, we had 50 students across two schools here in Revere. We had students in grades one and three participating and an average program attendance of 90%." Over the course of the spring pilot, students had an average of approximately eight instructional hours, according to Sliwerski. In that short pilot, the students at the two Revere schools made over three weeks of progress in reading skills for every week in the Ignite pro-

> In Revere, Ignite Reading has gone from serving 50 students at two schools during the pilot to now serving 375 students in six schools across the district.

"We are so excited to see the expansion across Revere," said Sliwerski. "And what we have seen with the implementation so far this school year is that, on average, students have had just under four hours of total instruction. Students have been progress monitored at this point, and we have seen an 89% progress monitoring pass rate. What this 89% pass rate represents is that 89% of the kids who pass their progress monitoring assessment have already completed a quarter of a school year of foundational skills acquisition. So, these students, who had only basic alphabet knowledge, are now moving, in less than four hours of instruction, to tackle the next piece of the reading code. That is really important growth for the kids learning to the classroom. "I see a lot of joy in the kids' faces and lots of smiles," said Shanley. "They're engaged with their tutors. It's not often that we can find another platform, initiative, or program that is so impactful. I'm just so excited to see how the data improves."

DeCicco tells DCR of the need to make Revere Beach more accessible

By Journal Staff

Among the topics discussed at the recent meeting of the Revere Commission on Disabilities was a report from Chairperson Ralph DeCicco about the need for the Mass. Dept. of Conservation and Recreation (DCR) to take steps to make the state's public beaches, and Revere Beach in particular, more accessible and welcoming for persons with disabilities.

DeCicco said he attended the annual hearing of the Metropolitan Beaches Commission that was held on October 31. He noted that the new DCR Commissioner, former Revere mayor Brian Arrigo, spoke about some initiatives that DCR has begun regarding more informational signage that will be available in multiple languages with the use of QR codes. Arrigo also mentioned DCR is working to ensure more accessibility for everyone, including people with disabilities, at public beaches and DCR properties. Arrigo said that Revere Beach will have 264 feet of new, accessible beach mats so that people with mobility difficulties will be able to go down to the water.

In addition, DeCicco said he also spoke on a few areas of concern that he would like to see DCR implement at all public beaches, but especially Revere Beach, which he presented to his fellow commissioners in bullet-point format:

-- The boulevard needs to have more ASL (Audible Signalization Lights) installed. "It is very difficult for anyone to cross the boulevard, but especially people with disabilities such as visual impairments," said DeCicco.

-- "Although 264 feet of beach-accessible mats at Revere Beach is a good start, more are needed. DCR must do a better job of maintaining the mats each day when they rake the sand," DeCicco said.

-- DCR must Implement a better system for, and access to, beach mobility chairs, along with providing more information on how and where to find them, especially at Revere Beach. "DCR also must make sure that there is an adequate supply for use, along with providing a way for people to safely store their own wheelchair or scooter if applicable," DeCicco added.

-- DCR should look at ways to create a family/quiet area on public beaches or properties to accommodate families, especially those with disabilities. "This is done at various sports venues throughout the country," DeCicco noted.

After DeCicco finished with his presentation, the commission concluded the meeting with the monthly reminder to all residents;

"The Commission on Disabilities office number is 781-286-8267. Residents can also call Revere 311 directly and speak to their staff Monday through Friday. They will be able to answer most questions but if they are unable to or if you would like to speak to our department directly, please ask to be transferred to the Disability office. If we are unavailable, please leave a detailed message and someone will get back to you as soon as possible. As always, please let us know if you would like something discussed or brought up and added to our monthly meeting agenda. You can let us know if you would like to speak on any issue or concern. The 2013 Revere High School Lady Patriots Powder Puff team faced their rivals, the Winthrop Vikings on Saturday Nov. 23 at the Harry Della Russo Stadium. The stadium was packed with fans who got to watch an exciting flag football game. The girls put a lot of hard work and effort into their practices for weeks and the Lady Pats came out victorious with a score of 33-12.

The 2-8 Revere High football team will be the decided underdog when they make the short trek through Beachmont to Miller Field in Winthrop (5-5) Thursday morning for the 84th renewal of their gridiron rivalry on Thanksgiving Day. Kickoff time is 10:00 a.m. The con- test will mark the 100th anniversary of the schools' first meeting on the football field in 1913. However, there were two stoppages in relations between them, first in the 1920s and then in the late 1940s through the 1950s This year's Turkey Day contest will be a bit different than in all of the schools' previous Thanksgiving Day meetings because the teams already have met this season thanks to the new MIAA state football playoff format. Winthrop prevailed in that contest, 30-13, but the Patriots have high hopes of turning the tables on their long-time rival. Patriot seniors who will be playing in their final game for the Blue & White are senior captains Tommy Portrait and Ed Volcimus, Steve Selevitch, A.J. Matine, Duche Romeus, Mike DeBay, Sere Morm, David Castro, Ravi Ryland, Brian Cabrera, Brian Bonilla, and brothers David and Leonard Chauca.

20 years ago December 3, 2003

Revere and Winthrop fans on both sides of the field were treated to a hard-fought contest on Thanksgiving Day which Winthrop prevailed by a score of 27-19. First year head coach Lou Cicatelli's Patriots trailed 29-7 with about three minutes to go in the final quarter, but staged a furious comeback that showed the Revere team's heart and courage. RHS quarterback Matt Mauro tossed two TD passes, one to Emilio Digitale for 60 yards and another to Mike Adessa for 35 yards. RHS star running back Jose Escobar scored from one yard out with 2:25 remaining to make it a 29-21 affair. Revere recovered the onsides kick and drove as far as the Winthrop 38, but failed to move any further. Although the Patriots came out on the short end of the contest, they have served notice that under Cicatelli's helmsmanship, the days of Winthrop domination of the series, in which Revere has won

just three times in the last

29 years, may be coming to an end.

30 years ago December 1, 1993

It was more of the same old story for the Revere High football team against a Super Bowl-bound Winthrop squad on Thanksgiving Day, as a 9-1 Winthrop team rolled to a 49-22 victory over the 4-6 Patriots. Winthrop now has defeated Revere in 17 of their past 19 Turkey Day contests. Winthrop took a 12-0 lead early in the game, but a 29 yard TD pass from Revere quarterback J.J. Jones to GBL all-star Frank Candela and a PAT by Mike Spinelli cut the Winthrop advantage to 12-7 in the first quarter. However, by halftime, the Winthrop lead had ballooned to a commanding 35-7 advantage and after three quarters, the score stood at 49-7. RHS head coach Mike Cella said he was amazed at the way in which Winthrop piled up the points so quickly behind their star running back, Anthony Palmer, the state's leading scorer with almost 200 points this season. Palmer ran back both of Revere's kickoffs for touchdowns.

Thursday's annual Thanksgiving Day game between Revere and Winthrop saw Winthrop claim its ninth straight holiday victory with a 24-6 triumph. Revere came in as a heavy underdog to the undefeated Vikings, who now are headed to the Division 2 Super Bowl, but the Patriots grabbed an early 6-0 lead thanks to a 74 yard pass connection for a touchdown between quarterback Dave Errico and Joe Ross. However, Winthrop soon erased the deficit on a 74 yard TD jaunt by its star running back, Steve Staffier, the state champion in the 100 meter dash, who is headed to the University of Miami. Winthrop now has won nine straight Turkey Day contests. The Vikings also have a 32-game unbeaten streak over the past three years and will be making their second Super Bowl appearance in three years. More than 5000 fans were on hand for the battle between the traditional rivals, which marked the last appearance by long-time Patriot head football coach Silvio Cella, who announced before the game that he would be stepping down from that post after serving for 27 years at the helm of the RHS football program. Cella is the winningest coach in RHS grid history with 103 wins. He led Revere to two GBL titles and a berth in the second-ever Super Bowl in Revere and the nation are in a state of shock and mourning over the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas last Friday, November 22. As word of the assassination at 1:30 Eastern Standard time reached around the globe, time seemed to stand still, as the world reeled in disbelief and horror. Many Revere residents felt a special kinship with Kennedy, who was a frequent visitor to the city during his years as a U.S. Senator from 1952-60 and who came to know many residents personally. A photo in this week's Revere Journal shows then-Senator Kennedy sitting at a linotype machine in the Journal's composition department just prior to announcing his candi-

CALIGULA - ROME'S MOST MISUNDERSTOOD EMPEROR?

Caligula - The Roman Empire's "Mad King". In his brief four-year reign, he managed to unleash merciless terror amongst the Roman people, such as executing rivals along with senators who disagreed with him. How could the son of one of Rome's most regarded generals end up down the path of tyranny and madness?

Gaius Julius Caesar Germanicus or "Caligula" was born to the highly regarded general, Germanicus, in 12 C.E. He lived under the reign of Tiberius, a cold and insecure emperor. Emperor Tiberius lived in the shadow of his predecessor, Augustus, and was unable to live up to the same glory and prestige of his nephew, Germanicus. He was overwhelmingly paranoid of being dethroned, eventually sending troops to eliminate Germanicus as a possible contender for the throne.

Caligula, at the age of seven, was deeply affected by his father's death. His mother, Agrippina, was an elite socialite that posed an even greater threat to Tiberius, turning Rome's elite against him.

One day, Roman soldiers arrived to remove Agrippina, sending her to exile and completely breaking apart the young boy's family. At such a young age, Caligula was already familiar with trauma and tragedy. He grew up under the watchful eyes of Tiberius's administration, always fearing the day that he would also follow in his father's footsteps of being silenced by a repressive ruler, as he himself posed a threat as the male child of an influential general.

When Drusus, Tiberius's only son, passed away, the succession and future prosperity of the Roman Empire were at stake. Caligula was adopted by Tiberius, a common practice amongst Roman emperors to maintain succession within the Empire. Caligula inherited the throne in 37 C.E., becoming potentially one of the most powerful men in the world at the age of 25. He was seen as a beacon of hope and the end of the reign of such an unpopular emperor. However, the turning point of this was when Caligula fell severely ill, being comatose and bedridden for months. He awoke a changed man who would bring Rome to madness.

Caligula was known to live lavishly throughout his life, engaging in acts with courtesans and recklessly spending a tremendous amount of Rome's money. Eventually, Rome's funds were diminishing along with the emperor's popularity. To save face, he staged an invasion of Britain across the English Channel for prestige and war spoils, but he attempted to declare war on the sea after failing to convince his generals to cross. His erratic behavior ultimately led to his assassination through a plot amongst the Senate and Praetorian guard.

Was Caligula the sadistic and impetuous emperor historians depict him to be, or was he really just a troubled young man who faced hardship his entire life that made him to be as dubious as his domestic policy?

Salsabil Mendoza, Junior Student Representative

JOURNALING - 9/25/22

I haven't written in a while, but I've done more thinking and reading and maybe some more thinking. There's no urge to open a Google Doc or to grab my pen.

Writing to me isn't water like it is for some, it's more like a bottle of lemonade I grab from Walgreens when I have a bad day. Writing has been and always will be a comfortable place to go to. The more I grow and learn about this world (one that is slowly growing bigger now) the more I find myself wanting to write. Although high school seems to be making writing a chore once more. I can't stand to hate writing again. I feel lost in this world without writing because it's the one thing I can safely say I know how to do. Most people can write, of course, but there's a sense of pride in being able to create images out of letters. I know the clicking of my keyboard can become paints for someone's mind.

People are starting to ask what I want to be when I'm older and, quite frankly, I don't know. They'll reply with "No rush, just enjoy your high school years" but how can I enjoy them when it feels like tomorrow I'll have to write my essays to apply for colleges? I envy those with a clear goal in mind because their path seems so mapped out. I constantly feel like I'm walking aimlessly through a sea of fog, waiting to run into an answer.

I wrote on a school paper once that my greatest fear was to never equate to something. It's still true. I don't want to live my whole life without leaving something to remember me by. I've thought of becoming a writer, but it never seemed quite right. Maybe I shouldn't be like goldilocks, waiting for my "just right" bowl to come, but I can't help but wonder if there's something out there that's just for me. I want to love my job just as the adults in my life who put money aside and work because they genuinely love it. Their passion inspires me to move forward with my own ambitions.

There's still a lot I don't know about myself or know how to express. Funny right? You spend every moment alive on this earth with yourself and yet you learn something new each day. There's truly no end to learning. I want to say that's the reasonIhaven'tpursuedanything because

A tough opponent Lou Cicatelli had followed the Vikings all season and knew their 6-4 record was somewhat misleading.

At the ceremony, MC's Make-A-Wish Club Co-Presidents, Clodagh Duffy and Colum Flood presented the check to Make-A-Wish® Massachusetts and Rhode Island Community Senior Manager of Corporate and Community Partnerships, Mariama Sano. Also present at the event were Malden's Mayor Gary Christenson, MC President John K. Thornburg, executive team members Make-A-Wish® from Massachusetts and Rhode Island, MC Make-A-Wish Club members, Club Co-Moderators, Brother Puccio and Eilish O'Brien and special guest, RJ, a MC Make-A-Wish Club recipient who received a parrot as his special wish the previous year.

According to Mariamo, "There is something very remarkable about everything the students, parents, staff have contributed at Malden Catholic to support a local child who is suffering from an illness. This contribution is a true testament to the power we have as a community when we come together for a cause."

Over the last 5 years, Malden Catholic Make-A-Wish Club members and parents have joined together to raise money through a variety of events, including an Irish Dance, selling frozen bon bons, an ice cream social, dress down days and volleyball tournament. Individual contributors have also contributed to the wishes that were granted to children in need. "We are blessed and thankful for the commitment and dedication of our MC Make-A-Wish Club. Knowing that we can make a difference in the life of a critically ill child is truly and incredible thing," stated John K. Thornburg, Malden Catholic President.

Douglas Cummings Park rededicated; Leonard Piazza honored with memorial step

By Cary Shuman

The rededication of the Douglas Cumming Park in Beachmont and the dedication of the memorial step in honor of Leonard Piazza was held Nov. 19.

Beachmont Improvement Committee President Kathleen Heiser presided over the ceremony for Mr. Piazza, a founding member of the Committee who was active in many organizations in Revere.

Mayor-Elect Patrick Keefe and Council-

lor-at-Large Marc Silvestri represented city government at the impressive ceremony.

"Leonard Piazza was a Beachmont icon," said Keefe. "He was born and raised here, contributed back to our community for many years. The inscription says it all: A life well Silvestri, a highly decorated veteran, noted Mr. Piazza's service to his country during World War II. Said Silvestri, "Lenny Piazza was a veteran. He would come by our Veterans Service office often and talk about his family and the city he loved so much. He would bring us his books and magazines and he always kept us up to date on things that he was aware of going on in the city. He was part of the Greatest Generation. He was a great man, and I'm honored to have gotten to know him, and work with him in making Revere a better place."

Following are Kathleen Heiser's remarks at the ceremony:

Welcome everyone as we gather on this lovely, crisp autumn day. It seems especially fitting to celebrate the rededication of this, the Douglas Cummings Park, on its tenth anniversary.

This park was the dream of the Beachmont Improvement Committee to convert an unkempt lot into a gorgeous multi-function memorial park. The community was happy to honor their families and loved ones with engraved pavers.

The park is a delightful place to sit and chat with friends, or maybe even read a book from the Little Library. We enjoy the plants that beautify the perimeter and change with each season, thanks to our master landscaper, Jimmy Mercurio.

The annual Christmas tree will soon be standing here in the middle of the park. We invite you to join us again in December for the lighting of the tree, caroling, hot chocolate and a visit from Santa and

Mrs. Claus. This year we lost a beloved friend, Lenny Piazza, a founding memory of the Beachmont Improvement Committee. Lenny was a lifelong Revere boy who was active in every aspect of Revere life. For decades Lenny enjoyed living in his big red house on the hill overlooking the ocean. Lenny was a World War II veteran, an idea man, an eager volunteer at every City event, and a most memorable character, in every good sense of the word. So today, we are with his family and friends. We have placed a memorial step in honor and in memory of our dear friend, Lenny. May we never forget him. The inscription reads: Leonard R. "Len" Piazza, 1927-2023. A Life Well-

Thank you all for coming. Have a wonderful day. Stay safe and Happy Thanksgiving.

By Penny & Ed Cherubino

The last thing you want included in the holiday season is an emergency veterinary visit. The weeks ahead are busy for Meanwhile. everyone. your animals face more temptations from visitors, decorations, celebratory food, holiday events, and less watchful guardians. Those with a new furry companion may not know that critters can decide to eat items we might not see as dangerous.

When you shop, take note of possible dangers for your cat or dog. Perhaps the rest of the year, you don't put a bowl of candy on an end table or hang cookies on a tree.

Consider dangers from the toys you purchase for your pets and take a good look at anything someone gives them as a holiday gift. Some toys may be dangerous if left alone within the animal's reach.

Your cat may adore playing with a feather on a string toy. This toy can be safe when you actively supervise the play and examine the toy for any weak spots. Anything that can be pulled apart and swallowed might cause a blockage.

A dog's interaction with toys and the danger posed depends on the animal's size and the vitality of their chewing. Our Westie Poppy doesn't tear stuffed animals apart but is hard on chew toys. Our experience with small terriers is that they can destroy a regular Kong toy but not the Kong Extreme designed for the hardest chewers.

Visitors and Gatherings

The lack of group celebrations during the pandemic may have made us less aware of how visitors can add to the possibility of exposing our pets to items they've not seen, smelled, or been tempted with before.

A handbag or coat pocket left within reach could contain something as simple as sugarless gum, mints, or candy your dog might ingest. These products often contain xylitol. The FDA says that if your dog eats this artificial sweetener, "...the consequences could be deadly." They warn, "If you think

National Parks of Boston hosts Pearl Harbor Remembrance Day in Charlestown Navy Yard on Dec. 7

Special to the Journal

The National Parks of Boston will host a gathering of remembrance at the USS Constitution Museum followed by a wreath-laying ceremony on the World War II-era destroyer USS Cassin Young to remember and honor those who perished in the December 7, 1941 attack on the U.S. Naval Base at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. USS Cassin Young was named in honor of U.S. Naval Commander Cassin Young, who received honors for his actions during the Pearl Harbor attack.

December marks the 80th anniversary of the commissioning of the USS Cassin Young. On Thursday, December 7, this free three-part public program will be held in the Charlestown Navy Yard starting at 11:30 a.m. with lunch and a speaking program at the USS Museum, Constitution followed by an outdoor ceremony beside USS Cassin Young, and concluding with warm beverages at the Charlestown Navy Yard Visitor Center. Lunch is provided by the Mayor's Office for Veterans' Services and Boston Harbor Now is sponsoring the beverages. Ceremony speakers include National Parks of Boston Superintendent Michael Creasey, USS Constitution Commander Billie J. Farrell. USS Constitution Museum President & CEO Anne Grimes Rand, Massachusetts Executive Office of Veterans Services Secretary Jon Santiago, and Boston Commissioner of Veterans' Services Robert Santiago. State and city elected officials will be among the attendees, along with veterans and USS Cassin Young volunteers. The program will include the USS Constitution and Flying Leatherneck Honor Society Color Guards and rifle and cannon salutes from both USS Cassin Young and USS Constitution.

USS Cassin Young was named for U.S. Navy Commander Cassin Young, recipient of the Medal of Honor for his distinguished and heroic actions during the attack on Pearl Harbor, which initiated the United States entry into World War II. As commanding officer of USS Vestal, which was moored to USS Arizona. Cmdr. Young took personal command of his ship's three-inch antiaircraft gun at the beginning of the attack. When the forward magazine of Arizona was hit, Cmdr. Young was thrown overboard and incredibly swam back to his ship amidst burning oil on the water between the two ships. Despite the subsequent bombing of Vestal, Cmdr. Young moved his ship away from Arizona to save the ship and countless lives. USS Cassin Young has similarly served the country with distinction.

It was built in San Pedro, California, typical of the many Fletcher-class destroyers serviced in the Charlestown Navy Yard during World War II. The ship was commissioned at the end of 1943 and first saw action in the Pacific Theatre in 1944. It took part in the landings in the Philippines, rescued survivors from the stricken carrier USS Princeton, screened the American force that sank four Japanese carriers in the battle of Cape Engano, and survived two separate kamikaze hits, one of which killed 21 crew members. No stranger to Charlestown, the ship was recalled to service in 1951 and underwent modernization at the shipyard on several occasions during the next decade before finally hauling down its commissioning pennant in 1960. "On this day of remembrance and reflection, the National Parks of Boston is proud to honor the service people of the United States Navy past and present, and share the history of USS Cassin Young with visitors from around the world," said National Parks of Boston Superintendent Michael Creasey.

Pearl Harbor Remembrance Day marks the beginning of a weekend of programs and events related to the U.S. Navy and Armed Forces. On December 8, Navy midshipmen and Army cadets compete in "Patriot Games" around the city, which includes a relay race from the Charlestown Navy Yard to Bunker Hill Monument and back. Later that evening, USS Constitution hosts its annual tree lighting ceremony. The 2023 Army-Navy Game takes place at Gillette Stadium on December 9. The National Parks of Boston is a collection of three National Park Service sites - Boston National Historical Park. Boston African American National Historic Site, and Boston Harbor Islands National and State Park. Established by individual legislation and for designated purposes, the three units have come together under a unified organizational umbrella to collaborate in ways that celebrate our cultural heritage, reconnect people to history and nature, and provide outdoor recreation opportunities on land and on the water. For more information, visit: www.nps.gov/ bost, www.nps.gov/boaf, and www.bostonharborislands.org.

The USS Constitution, America's Ship of State, is the world's oldest commissioned warship afloat and played a crucial role in the Barbary Wars and the War of 1812, actively defending sea lanes from 1797 to 1855. USS Constitution was undefeated in battle and destroyed or captured 33 opponents. The ship earned the nickname of Old Ironsides during the War of 1812 when British cannonballs were seen bouncing off the ship's wooden hull. The active-duty Sailors stationed aboard USS Constitution provide free tours and offer public visitation as they support the ship's mission of promoting the Navy's history and maritime heritage and raising awareness of the importance of a sustained naval presence. This group claimed that the primary was not a true indication of the sentiment of the people of Revere. Facts were presented to indicate that many people voted for Council President Charles H. White for the Republican nomination with no intention of voting for him as mayor but merely because it was felt that he was the weaker of the two and would be easier for ex-Mayor John E. Beginning with the next issue of THE REVERE JOURNAL the publishers will inaugurate a new and important policy in the publication of a weekly newspaper which the people of Revere will, we hope, take kindly to and support generously.

First, the day of issue will be changed from Saturday to Friday, to assure mail and carrier delivery, as well as newsstand sales, early Friday afternoon. This, also, should prove of value to advertisers seeking their share of the week-end business of our readers.

Second, the single-copy price of THE JOURNAL will be reduced from five to two cents, with a mail subscription price of one dollar per year. Subscriptions of all who have paid in advance will be extended to conform with the new rate. What better Christmas gift for a relative or friend who has moved to some other city than a weekly visit of the old home paper—52 issues for $1.00?

It is our aim to make THE JOURNAL larger and better as fast at the Revere people show their appreciation of our efforts by their support and co-operation. We deeply appreciate the help already given by the hundreds who have paid for subscriptions at the old rate, so that in our first year in Revere our subscription list has increased nearly 800 copies.

We hope that the new plans as announced today will meet with the approval of all our old friends and of many new ones in the

Mrs. Washburn was found in unonscious condition Sunday by Ben-jamin Shurtleff, Cushman avenue. He notified Dr. Rowe, and it was es-timated that the woman had been taken by the shock, which left her in a partially paryalized state, some-time early Saturday.

Mr. Shurtleff had been accustomed to leaving a morning newspaper at Mrs. Washburn's house each morning. When passing the house Sunday morning, he noticed that the previous day's paper was still in the same place where he had left it. Becoming suspicious that something must have been wrong, Mr. Shurtleff went to the door, but his knock was unanswered. He tried the door but found it to be locked from the inside. After a few moments,

Both day and night nurses have been attending the stricken woman this week and will continue until she has more fully recovered.

Mrs. Washburn has been living alone for the past four years since the death of her husband.
