ConCom approves work on the Strand Trail

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

The Revere Conservation Commission approved a notice of intent for repairs to the Revere section of the Northern Strand Community Trail in North Revere, past Harmon Park. The entire trail will run 10 miles from Everett to Nahant when completed.

Last Wednesday, Conservation Commissioner Joe LaValle was the only one to vote against it. He objected to the trail being paved, favoring a stone material. It was explained that the trail must be paved to meet ADA compliance.

City Planner Frank Stringi said the trail, made from old railroad right-of-ways, starts at the Mystic River in Everett then through Revere to Saugus and to Western Avenue in Lynn and onto Nahant Beach.

The trail has already been paved in Everett and Saugus. Stringi said in 2012 the MBTA applied for an alternative use for the strip of land, the old rail bed, to use as a bike trail.

"Since then the rails and the railroad ties have been removed, the surface graded and gravel laid down," Stringi explained. "The Executive Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs has funding for the full design. It's now ready for pavement."

The Executive Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs is working on the full construction, including benches and historic signs in the Rumney Marsh area.

There will also be pedestrian and bicycle path improvements at several crossings, such as Salem Street and Lynn Street.

"This is a multi-purpose path," said Andrea Kendall, an environmental consultant.

She said that the path will be compliant with the American with Disabilities Act (ADA).

"At Salem Street there will be a plaza that will serve as a focal point for the community," she said. "It's also adjacent to Harmon Park where there could be a patio setting."

Remembering Alan Belinfante, co-owner of Beach Sales

By Cary Shuman

Alan Belinfante, an owner of Beach Sales, a legendary appliance store in Revere for many years, died unexpectedly on March 6, 2019. He was 73 years old.

Many long-time customers joined his relatives, friends, and colleagues in paying tribute to Mr. Belinfante at the funeral services on March 8 at Stanetsky-Hymanson Memorial Chapel in Salem.

Mayor Brian Arrigo, Council President Arthur Guinasso, and Councillor-at-Large Anthony Zambuto were among the city officials remembering Mr. Belinfante as not only an outstanding business owner, but also as a great person as well.

"My wife [Linda] knew Alan all her life and I got to know Alan as we grew up," said Guinasso, who attended the funeral services with Linda. "We also did a lot of business with Alan at Beach Sales.

Alan Belinfante.

We bought a 42-inch Sony television there that was beautiful. He was always pleasant to deal with and very nice to work with. The city lost a good friend. The tributes at the funeral, given to him by his daughters and relatives — they said it well: he was a wonderful man."

Zambuto said whenever you entered Beach Sales, Mr. Belinfante would greet you warmly and respectfully. That extra-special, personal customer service, not to mention the store's excellent products and low prices, helped Beach Sales develop a sizable and loyal following in the area.

"He's one of the nicest people you ever want to meet," said Zambuto, who would frequently socialize with Mr. Belinfante at the Bagel Bin on Shirley Avenue, a regular morning stop for businesspeople and a place where Mr. Belinfante held court daily with congenial conversations about news and sports. "Alan was a wonderful businessman, first class, always polite to everybody. Frankly, you would get the best price on any appliance at Beach Sales, they could compete with any big chain. He was just a genuine good guy and it's a tragedy

City is on strong financial footing

Arrigo says $6 million in general fund;
$8.2 million in 'rainy day fund'

By Cary Shuman

Mayor Brian Arrigo reported to the City Council that the City of Revere is in "spectacular financial shape" during his update on Free Cash Transfers to the Stabilization Fund, Water and Sewer Stabilization Fund, and the Capital Improvement Stabilization Fund.

"We have just over $6 million that will be certified in our General Fund and $2.8 million that is certified in our Water and Sewer Enterprise Fund," Arrigo told the Council at Monday's meeting. "Of that amount that has been certified in Free Cash, we are going to be depositing $900,000 in to our General Fund Rainy Day Account. All told, the city is in spectacular financial shape — the fact we have reserves on the general side up over $8 million now is a great sign."

Arrigo attributed the city's financial strength to the hard work of the Council, his administration, and the city's financial officials.

"It's not by accident these great things are happening," said Arrigo. "It is the tireless work of this Council, of the administration, and the folks who work in our financial offices and are committed to making the city a great place."

Residents will see some of the funds being used for streets and sidewalk improvements throughout the city, while each of the Revere schools will benefit greatly,

No mold found in City Hall samples

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

The engineers and construction crews working on repairs to City Hall have announced that there was no mold found in samples taken from City Hall, including those from the second floor, which has drawn a lot of complaints because of the condition of the auditorium and council chambers.

"No mold," stressed George Anzuoni, chairman of the Municipal Building Repair Committee. "I want to make that clear, no mold."

The committee held its 60th regular meeting last Friday morning and shared that the samples from the second floor, including the council chambers, the auditorium and offices and other areas were negative for mold.

Chip Heitkamp, project manager with Dore & Whittier and John Abramo, clerk of the works at DeMont Construction Services, concurred.

"The tests all came back negative," Heitkamp said.

This past week there has also been an analyst in to test the strength of the plaster on the ceiling and walls.

Crews are currently replacing the city hall roof after damage from the tornado in 2014.

While it was a short meeting, the group did agree on

Superintendent Dianne Kelly announces Revere school grants

Superintendent Dianne Kelly announces Revere school grants at the last Revere School Committee meeting.

working class school districts like Revere to become creative when it comes to adding or expanding successful educational and extracurricular programs.

School administrators and especially teachers are always on the lookout for grant money that can be used to enhance the student’s school experience and enrich their educational experience.

At last month’s School Committee meeting Revere School Superintendent Dianne Kelly said she wanted to make the committee and city aware of the work teachers in the classroom are doing each and every day to make sure students have a quality education in Revere.

i want to make community and committee aware of,” said Kelly. “We always talk about how resourceful our teachers have to be because unfortunately our finances don’t permit excess as they do in some other districts so a number of our teachers have applied for and been awarded grants in the past month.”

The first grant totaling $1,500 was a health and wellness grant for the Whelan School. Kelly said this grant was applied for and awarded to the school’s physical education teachers to pay for basketballs and volleyballs for a new program they will soon start at the school.

“In addition a number of teachers across the district applied for and were awarded Revere Cares mini-grants totaling $8,000,” said Kelly.

Kelly said $900 was awarded to Revere High School for a new program that will help students reduce their stress when it comes to balancing school work with other life activities.

A grant of $1,959 was awarded to the Beachmont School to start up a new STEAM (science, technology, engineering, arts and math) club that will take place after school at the Beachmont.

A grant of $378 was awarded to the Garfield School and will help the Garfield partner with North Suffolk Mental Health for a therapy program aimed at helping new students Giancarlo DeSario, energy director at Community Action Programs Inter-City (CAPIC).

CAPIC’s fuel assistance program provides a vital service to residents

By Cary Shuman

Under the leadership of Executive Director Robert Reppucci, Community Action Programs Inter City (CAPIC) has been a national model in addressing the needs of low-income families in Chelsea, Revere, and Winthrop.

CAPIC’s fuel assistance program has been one of its most utilized services, aiding more than 2,700 residents in the three communities.

Since his appointment last July as energy director, Giancarlo DeSario has overseen the program that is in its sixth decade of existence. The recent addition of well-known Chelsea community leader Henry Wilson as an outreach coordinator has also helped expand the program and bring recognition to the valuable services CAPIC provides in many areas.

DeSario explained the process by which residents can apply for fuel assistance.

“If someone finds themselves in need – whether they’re a tenant, homeowner, family or single person – they should call the CAPIC fuel assistance line to set up an appointment,” said DeSario. “We would conduct an interview with the individual and review all their paperwork. We’ll let them know if we need additional information and then we’ll process their application in about 30-45 days.”

Candidates for fuel assistance must meet some income guidelines.

“In order to qualify for fuel assistance, you need to be at 60 percent of the state median income, which for a single person would be $35,510; for a family of four people, it would be $68,280,” said DeSario.

CAPIC’s program covers heating expenses between the months of November and April.

According to DeSario, the fuel assistance program is funded through federal and state grants. CAPIC is currently waiting for a supplemental budget to be approved by the state.

“What we’re looking for is $30 million extra dollars in funding to help out with this heating season, but we’re looking closer to receiving $11 million,” said DeSario. He indicated that CAPIC has been working with Chelsea’s state legislators to secure additional funding.

DeSario has made a point during his tenure to “get out in the field” and meet individual clients. He has earned praise for his accessibility.

“I’m always available – I hand out my direct extension to clients all the time,” said DeSario. “I find it’s really important that if you’re going to serve clients correctly, you have to be in touch with them and understand their needs.”

DeSario has local roots

Giancarlo DeSario grew up in Maine, but he has always had local connections. “I’ve been coming to East Boston since I was a child. My mother (Yolanda DeSario) moved here from Italy when she was 10 years old. And my grandmother (Maria Caserta) has been living in East Boston for 50 years.”

DeSario attended high school in Maine and graduated from Roger Williams University where he studied Business and Legal Studies.

He began his career in woodworking and was promoted to the position of project manager, working with clients in Manhattan and Long Island, N.Y.

From there, DeSario entered the solar industry as a district site surveyor and rose through the company to become operations manager, overseeing several projects throughout the New England region.

DeSario came to CAPIC last July. “I saw a position was open and I applied for it. I was ready to go back to my old job when I got a call from Executive Director Robert Repucci, requesting that I come in for an interview.”

Like the entire staff at CAPIC and residents throughout the area, DeSario has come to appreciate Repucci’s exceptional leadership of the agency. Repucci arrived at CAPIC in 1972 and has been of Chelsea’s most influential and revered leaders.

“Mr. Repucci is an outstanding leader of CAPIC and in the community as a whole,” said DeSario. “He really pushes you to be a better person. He’s inspiring. He wants you to put people ahead of yourself, and you can tell, because he does that. He leads by example and I respect that about him.”

DeSario has also been impressed by the dedicated and knowledgeable staff at CAPIC.

“I was fortunate to come in to an agency where we have some really key players who know the programs in and out,” said DeSario. “The transition in to this industry was tough, because you don’t know it – but I was lucky to have a very good support group here to help out. They really care about the programs succeeding.”

DeSario said he finds his job rewarding and he appreciates the kind words from clients.

“There is nothing better than when we get a letter (of gratitude) or a phone call from a client who had no heat and we were able to restore a heating system that went out overnight, replace a heating system with a new one, or weatherize someone’s home,” said DeSario.

especially the school clubs and varsity sports programs at Revere High School.

Arrigo said $1.4 million will go toward streets and sidewalks, with an additional $800,000 in state grants targeted for that purpose.

Students at Revere High would see an unprecedented level of financial support for their after-school clubs. “Each student activity group (such as the National Honor Society and the JROTC, for example) at the high school would receive $5,000,” said Arrigo, noting that there are approximately 35 such clubs at RHS.

Each of Revere High’s varsity boys and girls sports programs would also net $5,000, an augmentation in funding that will certainly bring a smile to Athletic Director Frank Shea, whose innovative leadership has resulted in increased participation and successes on the playing fields.

“Those funds could go to [new] uniforms, jackets, equipment, and things like that,” said Arrigo.

Each of Revere’s 11 schools would receive $10,000. “The students at each will come up with ideas about how that money is spent,” said Arrigo. “The school principals are really excited, especially the civics lesson that students are going to get, in terms of having this allotment of money and being able to think about how to spend it.”

Councillor-at-Large Jessica Giannino began an avalanche of praise for the robust state of the city’s finances, the mayor’s fiscal management and the boost that the additional funding will provide for school clubs and other organizations in the city.

“This is great news,” said Councillor-at-Large Jessica Giannino. “I’m really, really happy to see some of these appropriations. As a city councillor, one of the top three concerns I get is streets and sidewalks. It’s one of the biggest issues in our city. I can’t think of a more powerful thing to do.”

Giannino, a graduate of Revere High School, also lauded the mayor’s initiative to provide additional funding to school activity clubs.

“Some of the biggest impacts in my life have been from what I accomplished through Revere public schools,” said Giannino. “So being able to put money in the budget for these kids, these groups and clubs, for sports teams – these are things that will directly impact their lives in college and in the workforce.”

Councillor-at-Large George Rotondo also voiced his support for the mayor’s decision to allocate funds for the schools.

Ward 4 Councillor Patrick Keefe said he was pleased to see the “reinvestment in our community” with funds being allocated for streets and sidewalks in his ward and the city. He said the additional funding for school clubs “will help create more well-rounded students in our city that are going to be more competitive for the best colleges in our state and this country.”

“All my colleagues pointed out great things, when I look at this, I’d like you to pat yourself on the back, Mr. Mayor,” said Councillor-at-Large Steven Morabito. “There is a lot going back to the community and the kids.”

“I’m glad to see this, it’s great,” said Ward 2 Councillor Ira Novoselsky. “This is the first time I have ever seen this kind of money put in to so many different categories.”

Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna asked the mayor whether, in addition to the street and sidewalk improvements, if the city would be addressing the issue of trees uprooting on sidewalks in certain areas of the city.

Arrigo replied that once the Council votes to put money in the Capital Reserve Fund, appropriations will be made to address additional improvements to public stairs, trees, and other sites in the city.

Council President Arthur Guinasso said the next step in the Free Cash Transfers approval process will be a Ways and Means Subcommittee chaired by Councillor-at-Large Dan Rizzo on March 25 (5 p.m.) at City Hall.

to protecting the environment. Financial need may be considered on a secondary basis among finalists.

Applicants demonstrating commitment to public health aspects of environmental protection will receive preference for the new Pamela Harris Memorial Scholarship. “As a nurse, volunteer member of the Saugus Board of Health, and Saugus River Watershed Council Board Member, Pam was committed to improving public health for families in the Saugus River watershed by addressing even the most troubling sources of pollution,” said SRWC Program Coordinator Mary Lester. “We are extremely pleased to provide this scholarship to honor Pam’s tireless efforts to make a difference by protecting public health and promoting environmental stewardship,” said Lester.

To be eligible applicants must live in one of the following 11 communities that are part of the Saugus River watershed: Saugus, Lynn, Lynnfield, Wakefield, Reading, Revere, Everett, Malden, Melrose, Peabody, and Stoneham. Funds may be used for college tuition, books or fees. Applications must be emailed to marylester@saugusriver.org by Friday, April 12. that he's gone so young."

Mr. Belinfante's daughters, Lauren Schraeder and Allison Charney, delivered beautiful eulogies that captured the kindness and the love of life's joys, and the proudness of a grandfather of "a family man who wanted to share life experiences with everyone around him." Lauren's husband, David Schrader, also paid tribute to his father-in-law, Mr. Belifante, who was a cherished grandfather known lovingly as "Pop" to his four grandchildren, Noah, Dahlia, Emmet, and Stella.

Charles Freedman, Mr. Belinfante's nephew, recalled the love of Boston sports teams that he shared with his uncle. They attended some of the region's greatest sports events, including the 1999 MLB All-Star Game at Fenway Park.

There were warm remembrances of Alan's lifelong relationship with his beloved wife of 53 years, Sandra (Freedman) Belinfante, who was "his childhood sweetheart and the love of his life." The couple first met when they were 13 years old.

"I think my dad, it wasn't that he had to still work, he just had a real passion for being there and for family, and for good friends, anybody who he could help or take care of," said his daughter, Lauren.

Cathy Belinfante Penn, a former Revere city councillor, has fond memories of her younger brother, Alan, a close relationship built up over a lifetime in a well-known family that has a proud heritage in public service. Mrs. Penn followed her father, the late Charles Belinfante, into city government. After Cathy served four terms as Ward 2 city councillor, her husband, the late Richard Penn, was elected to the position.

Mrs. Penn said that Beach Sales began in 1947, founded by Sumner Freedman as "a small typewriter store on Shirley Avenue."

"Sumner started the business and eventually my brother married Sandra, and he went in to the business," said Penn, noting the growth and success of Beach Sales as other similar businesses such as Lechmere Sales, closed their doors.

"Beach Sales offered personal service and that's why people kept going back there because of the great business they operated," said Mrs. Penn.

Mrs. Penn said her brother visited her at Revere City Hall last Tuesday.

"He was the best family man, father and grandfather," said Mrs. Penn. "He was a great brother. We have many, many cherished memories."

The family's legacy of excellence in business, started by Sumner Freedman more than 70 years ago and maintained so ably by Mr. Belinfante and others, will continue at Beach Sales for years to come.

(Information contained in Mr. Alan Belinfante's obituary was used in the compilation of this story).

$800,000 two-family home makes Revere real estate history as most expensive ever sold in City

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

According to the Multiple Listing Service (MLS) a Revere Realtor set another real estate record in Revere's real estate history – the sale of the most expensive two-family home in Revere for a record high $880,000.

Realtor Gary Ferragamo, of the Ferragamo Real Estate Group, a division of Keller William Realty just sold the record-breaking property at 624 Malden St. with 4,312 square feet of living space. The original listing price was $899,000.

"This recent record-breaking sale is a very beautiful and spacious two-family in a quiet section of Revere. There were not many comparable sales up in this price, but I knew this one was worth more and I proved it. After over 20 years in real estate, I have learned that there are a few things that determine price and value, no just comparable sales," said Ferragamo.

"To this day, Revere is still one of the best kept secrets on the Eastern Seaboard," said Ferragamo. "This city has it all, nationally recognized newer schools, beautiful new parks, wonderful restaurants, the Registry of Motor Vechiles office, shopping, huge commercial retail giant chains, such as BJ's, UNO Piz-za, Market Basket – and oh something very rare, a pristine beach.

Ferragamo is the same Revere Realtor who also sold the city's first $1 million dollar single-family home in 2015.

NEWS FROM THE CITY COUNCIL

The following motions were discussed at the Monday, March 11 City Council meeting.

Zoning Sub-Committee Report

4. 19-017 An ordinance further amending the zoning ordinances of the city of revere relative to a nine month moratorium on the granting of special permits for lodging and roominghouses.

5. 19-041 James S. George on behalf of Extenet Systems and AT&T Wireless, Network Building + Consulting, 100 Apollo Dr., Suite 303, Chelmsford, MA 01824 requesting permission from the Revere City Council to install small cell wireless equipment on an existing National Grid wood utility distribution pole at the corner of 116 State Rd. and 4 Unity Ave., Revere, MA 02151.

Legislative Affairs Sub-Committee Report
6. 18-036 An Ordinance Prohibiting the Distribution of Single-Use, Disposable, Plastic Shopping Bags. Public Hearing.

7. 18-159 Motion presented by Councillor McKenna, Councillor Giannino: That the City Clerk be requested to research and draft an ordinance banning plastic straws and stirrers. It was brought to our attention from the DCR, the Revere Beautification Committee, and the Beachmont Improvement Committee that plastic straws and stirrers are the number one items littering Revere Beach. As sand fills the straws, they get buried under the sand. This makes it impossible to remove straws during beach cleanups. Not only are plastic straws detrimental to Revere Beach, but they are environmentally toxic to sea life. Remained in Committee

8. 18-233 An Ordinance Promoting Clean and Health Parks and Designating Such as "Drug, Alcohol, Tobacco, and Weapon Free Zones." Second Reading.

9. 18-386 Motion presented by Councillor Rotondo: That the City of Revere develop a linkage fee for residential and commercial development. Tabled.

10. 19-030 Motion presented by Councillor Morabito: That the Mayor request the City Solicitor to create an ordinance to include provisions for the maximum local tax option and excise tax on short-term rentals. Voted fav.

11. 19-036 An ordinance relative to certain persons not represented under mgl, chapter 150e, section 10. Voted fav.

12. 19-037 An ordinance further amending an ordinance relative to snow and ice removal on sidewalks. Voted fav.

Communications

13. 19-045 Communication from the City Auditor relative to various Free Cash appropriations. Referred to Ways and Means Committee. March 25 at 5 p.m.

14. 19-052 Communication from the Director of Finance as it relates to Free Cash Transfers to the Stabilization Fund, Water & Sewer Stabilization Fund, and Capital Improvement Stabilization Fund in accordance with the Revised Ordinances of the City of Revere.

15. 19-047 Communication from the Mayor relative to the reappointment of Caruso Corporation as Licensed Drain Layer.

16. 19-048 Communication from the Mayor relative to the reappointment of Mercurio Brothers as a Licensed Drain Layer.

Motions

17. 19-049 Motion presented by Council Vice-President Keefe: That the City Council go on record as being opposed to House Bill 2007, An Act for no organized head impacts to school children. This bill would prevent children in grade seven or under from playing organized tackle football. Further, that the City Clerk forward a letter of opposition to the State Delegation on behalf of the City Council. Approved.

18. 19-050 Motion presented by Council Vice-President Keefe: That the Mayor request the Police Department to have a permanent detail from 7:15AM to 8:05AM at the intersection of Mountain Avenue and Broadway during school days. When this detail is in place a normal pattern of traffic and safety is established. When this detail is not present there are major issues with traffic flow on Broadway. Approved.

19. 19-051 Motion presented by Council President Guinasso: That the Mayor request Capital Waste to appear before the City Council regarding the handling of trash barrels when emptied by its employees. I have received numerous complaints of barrels being destroyed due to employees throwing them. The City has invested a significant amount of money in these new barrels and neither the City nor its residents should have to bear replacement costs. Approved.

HANDS-FREE DRIVING MAKES SENSE

Recent statistics indicate that the single-biggest cause of motor vehicle accidents these days can be attributed generally to what is known as “distracted driving.”

According to some reports, more Americans now are killed on our roads because of distracted driving than from driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol.

That is why we fully support the legislation recently filed by Gov. Charles Baker that would require all use of a cell phone or other device to be strictly hands-free. It simply is not possible for anyone to keep their eyes on the road while texting, dialing, or reading from an electronic device -- and the epidemic of accidents on our roads is the best evidence of that.

We also support another aspect of Gov. Baker’s bill that calls for the non-use of a seat belt as a primary offense, thereby giving police the authority to stop a motorist and issue a civil citation solely for not wearing a seat belt. Under the present law, a person may be cited for a seat belt violation only if the operator has been pulled over for another offense (such as speeding). Massachusetts is fairly unique in this regard, but the governor’s bill will bring us into line with the majority of other states.

Another key aspect of the bill would require anyone convicted of a first offense for operating under the influence who applies for a hardship license to use an ignition interlock device for a minimum of six months, and be subject to penalties from the Registry of Motor Vehicles for attempting to drive after drinking or tampering with the device.

In our view, drinking and driving should not be allowed at all. But to the extent that we have a 0.08 threshold, imposing the requirement of an ignition interlock device for first offenders is hardly draconian -- anyone who drinks to that extent and gets behind the wheel of a car clearly has a problem.

Moreover, we are in favor of any additional measures that serve as an added deterrent to drinking and driving and thereby improve public safety.

HAPPY SAINT PATRICK'S DAY MARCH 17

GUEST OP-ED

It’s called “Free Cash” — but it’s hard earned

By Mayor Brian Arrigo

This week I requested the City Council to approve appropriations for the disbursement of “free cash” funds to a variety of purposes, projects, and activities that will continue our endless pursuit of a better quality of life for the residents of Revere.

First, understand that the phrase “free cash” is somewhat of a misnomer. It’s not like the City went out and played the lottery and got lucky. Nor were we the surprised benefactor in the will of a long-lost wealthy relative. No.

“Free cash” is the direct result of careful budget planning, meticulous collection oversight, vigilant financial management in every municipal department, constant pursuit of state and federal grant money, and a vibrant community generating revenue through development fees that signify confident commercial investment in Revere. “Free cash” is the common term to classify money that accrues when the City has spent less than it expected to spend, or received more money than it expected to receive, or a combination of both.

Disbursement of free cash permits the City to undertake projects and support activities that were unfunded in a current fiscal year.

A year ago, Revere certified a record $11.2 million in free cash. Two million dollars of that was devoted to stabilizing our water and sewer rates after almost two decades of annual increases. Further, we committed funds to infrastructure improvements and equipment upgrades that already have markedly increased efficiency in our Water and Sewer, Public Works, and public safety departments.

While this year’s free cash certification is less than last year’s record amount, it is, nonetheless, the second highest certification in the city’s history, trailing only last year. Again, we will exercise responsible money management and spread the money among necessary projects and deserving activities.

At the same time we will tuck away a portion for the inevitable ‘rainy day’ when unexpected expenses will make their unwelcome appearance. We will add to a reserve capacity that is the highest in the city’s history. By conscientious planning now, we will be prepared for turbulent times in the future.

For the second year in a row, we will return $2 million the city’s water and sewer rate payers. Last year we broke a streak of 19 consecutive years of increases. Two straight years of water and sewer rate reductions reflect the positive results of infrastructure improvements and the efficiency of new water meters installed in nearly every structure in the city.

In the past three years, we have substantially reduced a staggering backlog of street and sidewalk repairs. These projects are expensive and labor intensive. Revere, like other cities and towns across Massachusetts, must rely heavily on state funds that subsidize only a few projects each year. As many streets and sidewalks continue to deteriorate, the expensive and labor-intensive task of street and sidewalk repair evokes the thought of the cursed mythical king Sisyphus, futilely pushing a large rock up a steep hill only to have it roll back as he approached the top.

This year, Sisyphus gets a helping hand: we will commit $1.4 million in free cash to street and sidewalk improvements to sites throughout the city that have waited years for attention. These sites are in addition to the streets that will undergo repairs pursuant to annual state funding.

Our 2019 free cash will benefit other worthwhile projects. We have committed $100,000 to qualify for a matching grant to fund repairs and renovations at the Revere Historical Society Museum at 108 Beach Street. An additional $50,000 will help fund beautification efforts throughout the City. We will steer additional funds toward Revere’s acclaimed Sand Sculpting festival to bolster security, traffic control, and entertainment.

We often have cheered the academic successes and accomplishments of the Revere Public Schools. But a comprehensive educational process entails more than just classroom study. It involves the teamwork and competition found on the athletic fields, and stimulating extra-curricular activities and clubs. Often, these programs depend on meager fund-raising ventures such as car washes and 50-50 raffles to raise money for sundry expenses such as team jackets, supplemental training or complimentary travel. Parents Clubs toil to raise these funds, and too often teachers and coaches pay for some of these expenses out of their own pockets.

This year, we are providing every varsity team at Revere High School with a one-time allowance of $5,000 to be spent as the teams and coaches deem most prudent. Beyond that, we will provide every extra-curricular program at the high school with a $5,000 allotment so that students and their teacher-advisors can focus on the program’s purpose instead of wondering how they might pay for it.

In another innovative concept, students at every school in the City will have a voice in the decisions of how to disburse the 2019 free cash. For the first time in Revere’s history, we are engaging students to participate in the budgetary process by requesting their ideas of how their schools can most effectively utilize a one-time $10,000 allocation.

This will be an educational process with a direct benefit to every school in the city. Teachers will formulate a lesson plan that outlines criteria of how the money can be used. Students will collaborate to develop ideas from which they will select the one they deem most worthwhile.

Revere is in a unique position. While some surrounding communities struggle to meet their financial commitments or face daunting deficits that auger staff reductions, we in Revere are reaping the benefit of judicious fiscal management, frugal spending, and a buoyant local economy.

Revere’s financial picture today is strong not by accident, but by the tireless work of the people who manage and staff our departments and who are as committed as I am to a great City. When we all work together, everyone benefits.

Brian Arrigo is the Mayor of the City of Revere.

ON WATERFRONT SQUARE AFFORDABLE HOUSING

Dear Editor,

I am writing to applaud the March 6 article about the new 51-unit, mixed-income building being constructed at 571 Revere St. that will offer 32 affordable rental units and 19 workforce rental units. According to the developer's website, of those 32 affordable units, six are for folks who make 30 percent of area median income, and the other 26 are for folks who make 60 percent of area median income. That means these units are going to working families who are spending way more than the recommended 30 percent of their income just to pay rent.

Talking to people on the campaign trail, the increasing cost of space in our city is the top issue I hear about.

This is an issue that affects everyone -- the business owner who rents their storefront, the family renting an apartment, or a homeowner facing rising property taxes. As prices increase, there is a fear that the neighborhoods and businesses we grew up with are going to disappear in the face of this rising prices.

It is great to see that even while market-rate buildings are going up on Revere Beach, projects like the one at 571 Revere St. are also being built to make sure that folks aren't forced to move out of our city. I'm running for City Councilor because we need more leaders in our city who are open to new ideas, and fight to find innovative ways to make sure that development in our city works for everyone.

Sincerely,
Dimple Rana, Candidate for At-Large City Council

REVERE Then and Now

ARTICLE 685 - MEMORIES OF REVERE BEACH

Revere Beach, established in 1896 as America's First Public Beach", has always been visited by those of us living in Winthrop who enjoy the seacoast and the many activities it offers. In recent years, the July Sand Castle Contest continues to be one of Revere Beach's notable events. At an earlier dinner meeting of the Winthrop Improvement and Historical Association, we were fortunate to have Bob Upton, a Revere Beach enthusiast and member of the Revere Society for Cultural and Historic Preservation organization, as our program guest speaker. His talk and slide show was excellent and has inspired the preparation of this article to look at four areas with historical tales from not only his presentation but also from numerous books by Peter McCauley a Revere historian, and Joseph Garland who authored books about the life and times along the North Shore during the hundred years from 1880 through 1980.

The first area we will look at is the north end of the beach which is called Point of Pines, also known in early days as the "beach with trees" since many trees existed there almost down to the water's edge. Picture one depicts this area about 1880. The two hotels shown are the "Goodwood" (previously known as the Ocean View Hotel and the "Pines". Behind them is a large open field where in 1881 Charles Thayer began holding reenactments of Civil War battles, using veterans of that war in their uniforms, as well as military presentations of current events, such as England's invasion of Egypt. These were attended by thousands who for only 50 cents could ride the NGRR train out from Boston, have refreshments and see the show. It is reported that his final show was a well-advertised "head-on" collision, at full speed, of two old steam engines in 1904 from which sufficient income was received to buy a new locomotive for the Narrow Gauge Railway Line.

Picture two is of the General Edwards Inn, which was located on the site of the previously mentioned Goodwood Hotel, until about 1990 when it was replaced by the current Point of Pines Condominium" at the north end of the beach. Picture three is the Paul Roger House originally built during the teens by the Episcopal Church as a home for single women with children and called "Mother's Rest". It was later purchased by Mayor Raymond Cary and his brother one of whom had two sons named Paul and Roger -- hence the name "The Paul Roger House". In 1951 they held a huge Roast Beef Dinner and had so much food left that they sliced the remaining meat into thin strips and made sandwiches which they sold on the small lot to the left of the building.

Due to the success of this venture the two cooks, Frank McCarthy and Ray Cary Jr. built what is known today as Kelly's Roast Beef stand on the same corner. The Paul Roger House was later replaced by the Jack Satter House during the mid 1970s. Picture four depicts the Wonderland Amusement Park when it was located from 1903 to 1909 on the site where the Wonderland Dog Track was previously, and adjacent shopping mall are today. A number of the amusements were subsequently moved over along the beach by the ocean where many continued to operate until the late 1970s

Ah yes, fond memories. For those interested in further historical information on Revere Beach, you are invited to visit the website reverebeach.com which was founded by Bob Upton.

The School Committee has voted to allow the Mass. General Hospital's school-based health center at Revere High School to dispense contraceptive services to students who are enrolled in the center. Those services will include condoms, birth control pills, and the morning-after pill. Members in favor of the proposal were Carol Tye, Dan Maguire, Donna Wood Pruitt, and Mayor Thomas Ambrosino. Voting against it were Ann Raponi and Michael Ferrante. Member Fred Pannella was absent. MGH officials said that teen pregnancy has increased at RHS by 50 percent in the past three years.

Long-time residents are mourning the passing of Charles Anderson Jr., a life-long resident who was a veteran of WWII and who worked in many careers, including with American Airlines, a printing company, and his own newspaper, the Revere Reporter. Mr. Anderson suffered a stroke in 2005 that left him blind and partially disabled, but he regained mobility with a lot of hard work and insisted on attending his grandchildren's football games and dance recitals.

The City Council voted unanimously to sell the old Walden Street fire station near Shirley Avenue. The station went out of service last summer when the new Parkway station was completed. Revere police and other law enforcement officials arrested a Lynn man on charges of selling oxycontin in Revere.

Mayor Thomas Ambrosino said he is hoping that the impending federal government stimulus plan being proposed to fight the national recession will provide the city with funds to construct a 1900-space, open parking garage at the proposed Waterfront Square development at Wonderland to encourage private development of the project.

Lenten Letter: Summit to protect children and minors was powerful

By Cardinal Seán P. O'Malley, OFM, Cap.

As we begin the holy season of Lent, this annual time of prayer, fasting and almsgiving affords us the opportunity to be renewed by God’s love and mercy as we recommit ourselves to lives of prayer and service to others.
This year, Lent has particular significance for the leadership of the Church at every level, local, national and universal. Recently Pope Francis called bishops from every country in the world to come together at the Vatican for the Summit to Protect Children and Minors. The summit included powerful testimony from survivors of clergy sexual abuse, religious sisters and laypersons who made clear that a meaningful and effective response from the Church is long overdue and of critical importance. I participated in the summit as the President of the Pontifical Commission for Protection of Minors and, with all present, was deeply impacted by those who addressed us.
Given the depth and seriousness of the crisis and the failures of the leadership of the Church, the expectations for the meeting were high and people are anxious to see concrete results. I left the meeting convinced that no bishop could possibly say that his diocese is not affected by these issues or that this is not a problem in his country and culture. Patience among our people and in the wider community is exhausted and understandably the call is rising for effective action.

A dominant theme at the meeting was the need for an effective reporting mechanism when a Bishop or Cardinal has failed in his duty to protect children or has himself abused children or vulnerable adults. Although I believe an effective set of procedures will be developed by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, I nonetheless wish to address this need immediately for the Archdiocese of Boston.
To that end I have decided to implement EthicsPoint, a confidential, anonymous and third-party system, exclusively for the reporting of misconduct by a Cardinal, Bishop or Auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese of Boston. Since 2011 we have utilized EthicsPoint for concerns of potential ethics violations, financial improprieties, and other violations of the Archdiocesan Code of Conduct related to financial matters.

Like the existing system currently in use, this will be web based and have a toll-free hotline to make a report. Reports will be sent to members of my Independent Review Board who will be charged to immediately notify law enforcement for claims of abuse as well as the apostolic nuncio; the diplomatic representative to the U.S. of the Holy See. The system will be hosted on secured servers at the EthicsPoint facility and is not connected to the Archdiocese of Boston website, intranet system or the existing EthicsPoint system currently in use. We anticipate the system being up and running soon and will provide more information at that time.
In January 2002 the clergy sexual abuse crisis was revealed by the media in powerful and compelling reports on the failures of the Church to protect children. Courageous survivors came forward and forced the Church to face the crisis and accept responsibility for the crimes committed against them. That same year the American Bishops implemented the Dallas Charter of Norms. Where it has been faithfully implemented, it has been effective. But we must aggressively build on the Charter to ensure that there are clear paths for reporting misdeeds of the hierarchy by utilizing the expertise of independent lay professionals.

During the meeting in Rome, the most powerful moments were when survivors of abuse spoke to us. This confirmed my own experience. The way forward for the Church is to hold as a priority the voices and experience of survivors, to keep them close to every step we take and make all possible efforts to provide the means for them to be heard. In Boston we will continue to provide pastoral care and counseling for survivors. We will continue to carry out programs of prevention and education in our schools and parishes. We will continue to do background checks annually for bishops, priests, all archdiocesan personnel, and all volunteers who work with children and young people. You may find the depth and breadth of those efforts in the Archdiocese of Boston on our dedicated website at Commitment.BostonCatholic.org.

For more than 26 years my ministry has involved responding to the abuse of minors by clergy. The crisis of sexual abuse by clergy is the greatest failure of the Church in my lifetime. It has eroded our moral authority, it endangers our pastoral, social and educational ministry, but worst of all, it devastates children and families.
We must face our past with transparency. Those who were sexually abused by clergy, their families and loved ones must always be the central focus of our response to the crisis. Their courage in coming forward has forced the Church to face the crimes committed against them. We are committed to accompanying them on their journey toward healing. Often it is survivors who teach us not to lose hope.

As we strive to live this season with renewed seriousness and commitment we pray and work for renewal in the life of the Church. We are firmly committed to zero tolerance, transparency and accountability, at all times holding survivors as the priority, always being vigilant to do all possible to prevent any harm to children.

Don't think of her as gone away, her journey's just begun. Life holds so many facets this earth is only one. Just think of her as resting from the sorrow & the tears, in a place of warmth and comfort, where there are no days and years. Think how she must be wishing that we could know today, how nothing but our sadness can really pass away. And think of her as living in the hearts of those she touched, for nothing loved is ever lost, and she was loved so much.

Frank Roselli

Master carpenter and craftsman

Frank A. Roselli, Sr., a 20-year resident of Plymouth and a former resident of East Boston, Charlestown, Sharon and Andover, passed away following a year long battle with metastatic lung disease at his Plymouth residence on Monday, March 4. His funeral was conducted from the Vertuccio & Smith, Home for Funerals, Revere followed by entombment at Holy Cross Community Mausoleum, Malden.

Born at Winthrop Community Hospital, his family lived in his early years at the Eagle Hill Section of East Boston. Later, Frank moved with his family to Charlestown and then on to Sharon and Andover. For the past 20 years, he has lived in Plymouth with his beloved wife of 20 years, Deborah J. D'Agresta-Roselli.

Frank was educated within the Boston School System and attended Boston Trade School. Most of his working career was as a proud master carpenter and craftsman for Local #40 Carpenters Union and he often worked as a self-employed developer. Concurrently, he also worked often as a Tractor Trailer Driver for Local #25, especially in the food industry for Stop & Shop, Inc. and other food markets.

He served the U.S. Army during peacetime, from Sept. 17, 1956 through Sept. 16, 1959, as a SP4, E-4 (T). His hobbies were many and varied, i.e., fishing, boating, camping and he was most proud of his talents as an unofficial "Chef." He enjoyed working around the house and spending time at home with his wife Debbie and his puppy, Misha.

The devoted father to Frank A. Roselli, Jr. and his wife, Virginia of North Attleboro and Tracey Roselli of Wareham, he was the cherished grandfather of Gregory Roselli and his wife, Morgan of Attleboro and Samantha A. Roselli of North Attleboro; the dear brother of Corinne Roselli of Melrose and the proud uncle to Anthony Pisani of Hull and Mandi Hogan of Revere. He is also lovingly survived by his canine buddy, "Misha" and by many faithful cousins.

His funeral was conducted from the Vertuccio & Smith, Home for Funerals, Revere followed by entombment at Holy Cross Community Mausoleum, Malden.

In lieu of flowers, remembrances may be made to Cranberry Hospice, 36 Cordage Park Circle, Suite 326, Plymouth, MA 02360 or by visiting: www.bidplymouth.org

POLICE NEWS

PASSER-BY THWARTS ROBBERY

A good samaritan foiled a robbery attempt on Malden Street March 4 when a woman walking home was accosted by a man trying to steal her purse.

Around 10:05 p.m. on March 5, the woman got off the bus on Broadway and was headed home via Malden Street. As she turned onto Malden, she noticed a male suspect following her and closing in fast. As he got to her, he grabbed her purse and a struggle ensued.

At that point, a motorist passing by noticed the fracas, stopped her car and got out to yell at the robber.

Stunned, the robber dropped the purse and fled towards Revere Street.

The matter is under investigation. The man was described as being 6-foot tall, light skinned black male with curly hair and long, black facial hair.

DELIVERY DRIVERS TARGETED

Revere Police are warning delivery businesses that two robberies have targeted food delivery drivers in the last two weeks.

One of the robberies occurred just before midnight on March 3, with the other one occurring on March 4.

In both instances, the drivers were called to Everard Street in Beachmont, and then held up with a knife by two male suspects.

Police are investigating both robberies.

FAKE DOCUMENTS

Revere Police have summonsed an East Boston man for allegedly have fake identification documents, as well as motor vehicle infractions.

On March 8, police stopped the man in Beachmont Square after he made an infraction.

The man was not licensed to drive, but produced a license from El Salvador and a Mass ID. After further investigation, it was determined that neither were bonafide.

The man told police they were fake and he had paid a friend to get him the proper ID.

Gerson Gutierrez, 20, of East Boston, was charged with motor vehicle equipment violation, unlicensed operation and two counts of possession of false RMV document.

RAPE OF CHILD ALLEGATION

Revere Police were assisted by Chelsea Police on March 7 in the arrest of a man accused of raping a child.

A warrant had been issued for his arrest, and the Chelsea Police were able to arrest the man on March 7 at his Chelsea home.

The incident stems from an investigation by Revere Police.

Wilson Caraballo, 66, of Chelsea, was arrested on one warrant.

OUI DRUGS

A Clifton Street man has been charged with his second offense for operating under the influence of drugs.

The man was stopped around 12:35 a.m. on Broadway March 10, after several motor vehicle violations. After a further investigation, it was determined he was under the influence of liquor and also under the influence of drugs – which was his second offense.

Evan Goldney, 33, of 17 Clifton St., was charged with operating with a revoked license, operating under the influence of drugs (second offense), operating under the influence of liquor, operating with a revoked license as a result of being an habitual traffic offender, marked lanes violation and negligent operation.

BHCC Men’s Basketball to compete in NJCAA Elite Eight

Revere’s Jones, Jones, Urdaneta and Joof looking for a win

The Bunker Hill Community College (BHCC) Men’s Basketball Team, led by head coach Nkrumah Jones, of Revere, (ranked eighth nationally) won the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) Division III Region XXI tournament. BHCC Men’s Basketball defeated Bristol Community College (7th) in the semi-final game and the Community College of Rhode Island (fourth) in the final game. BHCC punched their ticket to an elite eight invite to the NJCAA Division III tournament to be held in Rochester, Minnesota, March 14-16. BHCC received a No. 4 seed and will be facing No. 5 Rock Valley College (Rockford, Illinois) on Thursday, March 14, at 5 p.m. CST.

The imposing end to 2018-2019 Region play highlighted a season of noteworthy accomplishments by the team, individual players and coaches. The BHCC men’s team was ranked as one of the top ten programs in all but the first week of the national poll. This winningest BHCC team has won 27 games thus far with a 15-0 win record at home and a 16-game winning streak during the season. These wins included a win over No. 2 ranked Nassau Community College (Garden City, New York) to start the

RHS CHEER TAKES SECOND AT STATE COMPETITION

The Revere High School Cheerleaders placed second in the Large Coed division at the State Competition on Sunday March 10. The team also earned the seventh highest score in the state and the highest score RHS Cheer has ever earned in a State Competition. Head Coach Julianne Falzarano and Assistant Coaches Kristina Russo, Nicole Palermo, Kylie Mazza, and Kemal Custovic said “it was so much fun working with this group of kids as they had all the makings of a great team (dedication, passion, sportsmanship, talent, etc.) and it showed in competition. Unfortunately, we will be losing our Senior Captain Brenden Godino, but we anticipate another strong season in the Fall. We would also like to thank everyone in our town and school who has shown so much support for this program this year. Go, Pats!”

SHOWCASE CINEMA de Lux REVERE

At age 21, Sgt. Nick Mendes was blown up by an I.E.D. in Afghanistan, paralyzing him from the neck down. This unflinching and surprisingly funny documentary follows him for five years as he re-adjusts to life. At the start of the story he is in a V.A. hospital unable to speak, eat, or even breathe on his own. By the end of the film he is studying for a real estate license, using mouth-operated technology to play video games, and fishing. Nick reunites with the soldier who saved his life in Afghanistan and most amazing of all, is he falls in love with and marries his medical caregiver.

Panel discussion to follow.

NEWS FROM AROUND THE REGION

COUNCIL PRESIDENT SAYS TO BRING BACK NON-CITIZEN VOTING MEASURE

CHELSEA - A small order on the Feb. 25 Council agenda likely didn't attract a lot of attention at the regular meeting, but Council President Damali Vidot said she had hoped it could have sparked a conversation.

That measure, which she introduced, revolved around looking at the possibility of allowing non-citizens who are here legally to vote in municipal elections.

Instead, she said, she was greeted with silence – and a 'no' vote.

"We have people invested in our community, who own homes, have kids in the schools and own businesses, but because they are citizens, they can't vote in our elections," she said. "Why not have a conversation about allowing them to vote? The fact my colleagues didn't want to at least have a conversation is a travesty."

The roll call consisted of a 5-6 defeated vote, with Vidot and Councillors Judith Garcia, Yamir Rodriguez, Enio Lopez and Giovanni Recupero agreeing to begin talking about it.

Those voting against were Councillor Roy Avellaneda, Calvin Brown, Joe Perlatonda, Luis Tejada, Leo Robinson and Bob Bishop.

Vidot said she fully intends to bring the matter back in 90 days.

"I don't understand why we couldn't entertain this, to allow people to be part of the civic process," she said. "At the minimum, I thought we could have a conversation. If I had known there would be this reaction from my colleagues, I would have organized before. I have every intention of bringing it back again in 90 days. We can't be in the habit of saying 'no' without talking about it."

Other cities in Massachusetts have voted to allow non-citizens to vote, including Cambridge and Brookline. Such a petition by the Council would require a home rule petition by the State Legislature. It would also require legislative action by the State House as well.

The measure in Chelsea would not allow non-citizens to vote in state or federal elections.

STEPHANIE SIMON WINS NATIONALS

CHELSEA - At a certain point, it would be wise to just leave the Chelsea High record books in girls' track blank until junior Stephanie Simon graduates.

The champion jumper, runner and hurdler tends to break most school records, and then break her own records time and time again. At a certain point, her coaches say, they will probably fill it all in after she graduates.

Simon, 16, comes from a strong athletic family – and her sister, Martine – is the only runner to have ever beat her in a meet. Now, she has focused in on jumping events and has put together a string of wins during the indoor season this winter.

Recently, she took first place in the Division 2 state long jump, and took second place in the New England Championship meet. Earlier this year, at the multi-state Dartmouth Relays, she took first in the long jump and high jump.

This weekend, she will travel to New York City for the second year in a row to compete in the National Championship indoor meet.

But back in Chelsea, if you see a young lady cutting it up on a skateboard, that might be Stephanie Simon.

"When I'm not training or practicing, I like to ride a penny board," she said. "I ride it everywhere, even to school. I think that's why I can jump. I think that's something every jumper has to have to be successful and that is being able to take a risk. You have to be willing to take a risk to throw yourself in a pit of sand or give it everything you have to flop up and over the high jump bar. It's the adrenaline I like."

Simon was born in Chelsea to Hubert and Mathilde Simon, who originally came from Haiti. Her older brother, Norbert, was also a track standout, as was her sister, Martine, who graduated last year. She said her younger brother, Emanuel, has potential in the 200 sprint.

She attended the Early Learning Center, the Berkowitz School, the Clark Avenue Middle School and has settled in at Chelsea High – where she keeps a 3.4 grade point average and is active in academics.

But her cool demeanor likely comes from having to contain herself on the track. Unlike with the sprints – where she also has great success within the conference meets – she said she has learned that a jumper (whether high jump, long jump or triple jump) needs to stay in control.

"Adrenaline is good for running, but for jumping you have to kind of put it in a bottle and use it to motivate you and counter it with technique," she said. "For jumping and sprints, unlike distance running, it's half mental and half physical."

It will be a very important quality when she arrives at the New York City Armory this weekend with her coach, Cesar Hernandez. Last year was her first indoor national meet, and she said it was overwhelming.

"Last year, stepping into that building was so overwhelming," she said, noting that there hasn't been another Chelsea runner since Bobby Goss decades ago to go to nationals. "Every runner there was working hard and wanted to win. I didn't do so well, but it made me even more determined to do better at the national outdoor meet in North Carolina last spring and I did."

When she went to the Dartmouth Relays earlier this year, she said that same New York feeling came upon her, but she was able to shake it off, which is something she said she will do when she goes back to New York this week.

"I told myself it's the same events and the same sand," she said. "I was able to recover and move on."

Amazingly, Simon was never a runner until she got to high school, unlike many top runners who have been at it since grade school.

"My freshman year I didn't even run that first season," she said. "I liked soccer. I was able to make varsity my freshman year. In the winter, I played basketball. Then I did outdoor track and I was really good at it. In track, there was so much support and it was

year, as well as those over two higher ranked teams to win the Region XXI tournament. The team is first in the country in rebounds (55.9/game) and number two nationally in steals and assists.

Team captain Jamaurie Coakley (sophomore) was nominated JUCO All-American and Player of the Year for Region XXI. Coakley led the Region in steals and passed the 1,000 points scored mark (the first in 14 years of BHCC basketball). Dayne Allen (sophomore) led the region in rebounding (11.4/game) and is second in the Region in blocks (2.9/game), ranking him as fifth in the country in both rebounds and blocks per game. Captain Janard Jones, of Revere, (sophomore) is currently the winningest player in BHCC history with 48 wins, while also leading the team in three-point shots made (65).

Several players received Regional respect with appointments to All Region XXI teams: first Team: Jamaurie Coakley; third Team: Dayne Allen; and Honorable Mention Team: Jonathan Cenesar and Janard Jones. Captain Jaelen George-Bellitti (sophomore) received the Region XXI Most Valuable Player honor and is also the team's defensive leader.

The BHCC Men's Basketball Team excels not only on the court, but also in the classroom. Characteristic of the principle of the "student-athlete," this team started the spring semester with a GPA of 2.96 with six student-athletes maintaining an overall GPA of over 3.0: Dayne Allen, Laqu Howard, Janard Jones, Quincy Taylor, Craig Thomson and Marvin Urdaneta, of Revere.

While the student-athletes execute the plays that determine the outcome of the games, the leadership and direction come from the coaching staff. This year, head coach Nkrumah Jones received his third Region XXI Coach of the Year honors (also received in 2016 and 2017) and is recognized as having a program win 20 or more games for four-years in a row.

"This is an exciting time in BHCC Athletics," said Dr. Loreto Jackson, Director of Athletics and Wellness at BHCC. "The Men's Basketball Program continues to rise to new heights, with several players planning on graduating and being recruited by four-year colleges. For current and prospective student-athletes, these players demonstrate that excellence is fostered, supported and expected."

THIRD ANNUAL WOUNDED VETERANS HOCKEY TOURNAMENT

Welcoming everyone were Linda Fennelly and Stacie French.

It was a great day a Porrazzo Rink last Saturday morning. Local EMS and veteran hockey teams faced off to help raise funds for wounded veterans. Andy Biggio and his team brought is special honored guest Staff Sgt. JD Williams, U.S. Army sniper, a triple-amputee wounded in battle, to drop the puck for the championship game. Teams from Revere PD, Saugus Fire and Police, Winthrop Fire and Police, National Guard, Transit Police, Malden Police all played a grueling four games of 25 minutes each to get to the championship round. It came down to two teams at 4-0, returning champs the Revere Police and the challengers, Winthrop Fire and Police. It was a tough match, and at the end of regulation time they were tied 2-2. The Revere Police took it in overtime to be back-to-back hockey champions. The real winners were everyone who attended the event, they got to see great hockey and meet real heroes on and off the ice and the American veterans who were wounded in battle defending our country.

Cambridge Health Alliance launches new mental health awareness training program

Studies show that each year, more than one in five Americans experience a mental health or substance abuse issue, while only 40% of those affected seek treatment. For friends and family members, it can be hard to know when and how to help. As a result, those in need of mental health services often do not receive the help they need.

Through the Mental Health Awareness Training program, funded by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), Cambridge Health Alliance (CHA) is offering free Mental Health First Aid trainings in community settings. The program will expand and increase educational opportunities in Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Malden, Medford, Revere, Somerville and Winthrop.

CHA is offering community trainings focused on adult mental health, challenges common among children and adolescents, and for Veterans and their families. CHA's Community Health Improvement Department is partnering with community organizations to ensure broad reach and access to increase the community's capacity to support people with mental health challenges.

Mental Health First Aid (MHFA) is an eight-hour certification training that provides individuals with the skills to assist someone facing a mental health crisis. Just as CPR helps those without clinical training assist an individual having a heart attack, MHFA prepares participants to interact with a person experiencing a mental health crisis. Trainees will learn a five-step action plan that guides them through the process of reaching out and offering support.

"When we observe someone having a health crisis like a heart attack, or car accident, we don't hesitate to offer some sort of aid," noted Jaime Lederer, MSW, MPH, who directs the grant program at CHA. "People are sometimes less comfortable responding to a mental health crisis - someone experiencing anxiety, severe depression or substance misuse. MHFA gives laypeople the knowledge and skills they need to provide assistance and refer people for further help."

Over one million people have been trained in MHFA nationwide, according to the National Council on Behavioral Health, which leads MHFA training efforts. "Expanding mental health training in our communities will strengthen our capacity to better support and serve those who experience a mental health problem," explained Lederer. "By removing the fear and hesitation people often feel when discussing mental health and substance use, we can reduce the stigma and equip people with the necessary tools to start a dialogue, and more people can receive the support they may need."

The MHFA program helps participants recognize the signs and symptoms of a number of mental health issues including depression, anxiety, trauma, psychosis, substance use and ways to respond to crises like suicidal thoughts, panic attacks, and overdoses.

"Research shows that those who have attended a MHFA class feel much more prepared to assist those grappling with mental health issues and to help them get the appropriate services that they need," noted Lederer, "I look forward to expanding our reach in communities and raising awareness of the resources and services available to help."

so much support and it was like a big family. My freshman year I was trying to figure everything out. Everyone kept telling me I had more potential in track. I listened to them and I'm glad I stayed.” Simon credited Coach Hernandez with helping her take bigger and bigger steps as a runner and, especially, as a jumper. As a raw athlete, she had talent, but she said Her-andez helped her to develop technique and pushed her not to just rely on athleticism. “If he wasn’t my coach, I would not be doing what I’m doing,” she said. “He fits the kind of coach I need.” She also credited her teammates for being a great support system. She also credited her family, who she said has been very proud of her academically and in sports. “In our family, everyone has their thing they are best at,” she said. “I guarantee I win at track.” OFFICIALS LOOK TO REVAMP CENTRAL AVE., PARKS EVERETT - The City is seeking input from residents on a proposal to renovate and revamp two parks up the hill from Ferry Street – with one of them proposed to be a colossal dog park. The City unveiled plans from Bohler Engineering on Monday at a public meeting cut thin by the snow storm, and the plans call for new concepts at the Central Avenue playground and the Hale School Site on Glendale Street. Both are just around the corner from one another, and City Planner Tony Sousa said they are being viewed as tandem projects. Both parks are in a heavily and dense residential district on the west side of Broadway, and are funded within the current Capital Improvement Plan (CIP). Central Avenue appears to be the most exciting of the two proposals, with a plan to convert the playground into a $1.1 million dog park. “Central Avenue is a small parcel and our proposal is to convert it into a dog park with some public gathering space,” he said. “It’s designed to be an active dog park with water features and other elements. It goes beyond the traditional stone dust and grass.

We're putting in a small water splash feature and misting stations with obstacles and equipment. It's no different than a traditional playground, but it is centered on dogs. It's not the first dog park, but it's the first one we're taking to this level with added amenities like a water feature and obstacle courses for dogs. It's exciting."

Then, just around the corner on Glendale Street, the old Hale School site that is now a passive park would be converted to passive and active. The paths and benches would be retained, but new playgrounds would be added throughout the existing park. "We do plan on putting playgrounds throughout the park space, and we're also potentially going to make space there for a community garden," he said.

That project is at a budget of $1.5 million and all of the play areas would have a rubberized surface and would be ADA compliant. Naturally, both parks would retain as many existing trees as possible, and new trees would be added along with new landscaping.

Sousa said they hope to bid out both projects as one tandem project in the spring. "The game plan for these is to put it out to bid later this year an start construction late this fall with a completion in the spring of 2020," he said.

Ideally, he said, they would hope that one construction firm would big on both parks in order to reduce some of the mobilization costs – especially since they are only about a block from one another.

Sousa said they hope to bid out both projects as one tandem project in the spring.

Another park project on the way this summer is Rossetti Park by Waters Avenue and the Northern Strand Bike Trail. Already, the roller hockey rink has been taken down there, with plans for it to be moved to the seven-acre Park area. Sousa said they have $1.1 million set aside to re-furbish the tennis courts and landscaping there. Beyond that, and maybe more exciting, is the City is looking to locate shipping container retail opportunities on the area of the park nearest the bike path. That is an initiative championed by Mayor Carlo DeMaria earlier this year, and Sousa said they have taken his idea and hope to implement it at Rossetti.

•Other Park projects in the queue: Phase 2 of Meadows Park (behind St. Anthony’s Church) will go out to bid later this month. Appleton Street Park renovations will also be bid out this spring, and upgrades to Wehrner Park will also be bid out.

Sousa said it is a credit to the City Council working with Mayor Carlo DeMaria to fund a very active CIP for this year, a plan that helps to create new and improved park spaces every year.

CHARGES AGAINST FORESTEIRE OUTLINED

EVERETT - What is detailed in the Everett Police criminal complaint against former Supt. Fred Foresteire – though just an allegation at this point – is shocking and sad to many in the community.

The redacted complaint – which does not contain names of victims or interviewees – became available to the media late last week, and the 15-page complaint relies on seven interviews with alleged victims, current administrators, City Hall employees, staff members and former employees of the district.

It paints a picture of a man who allegedly obsessed over certain women and allegedly took action – mostly at the School Administration Building – on those feelings.

It was a place, according to the complaint, that was like Las Vegas.

“(The victim) stated that on one occasion Foresteire allegedly told her that the Administration Building is ‘Like Las Vegas, what happens here stays here,’” read the criminal complaint filed by Everett Police in Malden District Court.

The allegations in the voluminous report are graphic, but particularly for two of the victims – and some of the incidents are being corroborated by current and former school employees who told police they were informed of the allegations long before the controversy erupted publicly last fall.

One of the victims was a long-time employee with the schools who, among other allegations, said her troubles began when she went into work at the Administration Building on a Sunday in 2012 or early 2013.

The problem started when her friend dropped her off and Foresteire allegedly asked her if that was her “lesbian lover.”

Soon after, she alleged that Foresteire came towards her and unzipped her sweat jacket and allegedly began kissing her neck and chest area. She pushed him away and told him to stop, and then he allegedly suggested she go into an adjacent room and “bend over” so he could come up behind her.

As that unfolded a co-worker arrived and the day went on without incident.

However, when they were leaving, she went to tell him they were going home.

At that point, she began to leave the conference room and Foresteire allegedly pushed her up against a filing cabinet and forced her legs apart and allegedly rubbed his genitals on her. She was able to break free and flee the building.

On the following Monday, she said it was like nothing had happened.

The victim said that in her two years at the Administration Building, there were alleged routine harassments, and Foresteire would allegedly try to find opportunities when no one was around to touch her inappropriately.

Early in 2013, however, she was finally told she would be re-assigned. However, the re-assignment she ended up with was not what was promised. She told police that was allegedly because Foresteire said she had told people about the alleged incidents.

Soon, she was working the switchboard at an elementary school. During the first year at that assignment, the victim said Foresteire would allegedly call the switchboard to speak with her. When he was assured it was the victim, he would allegedly ask her sexually explicit questions. During the final two years of her employment, this time at a different school, she said all of the alleged harassment stopped as if it had never happened.

According to the complaint, one of Foresteire’s alleged common activities was to call select women on the switchboard and ask them sexually explicit and graphic questions.

Another victim, who worked at the Administration Building in 2017 and 2018, detailed other incidents where Foresteire would allegedly call and ask explicit questions. The woman said she did not report it for fear of losing her job and not being able to provide for her children.

That victim told police she felt Foresteire was allegedly obsessed with her, leading her to enlist friends and other victims to help her so she would not be alone in the building.

“The victim told me that Foresteire was allegedly obsessed with her and that he would allegedly often touch her,” read the report. “She told me that he has on countless occasions allegedly put his hand on her and allegedly grabbed her butt. She stated that he would allegedly parade her around the School Administration Building as if to show her off. When he saw her, he would allegedly make her stand up and turn around so that he could look at her and inspect what she was wearing.”

That victim also detailed two alleged incidents, one in 2017 and one in 2018, when Foresteire allegedly ripped her shirt and bra off with force, and allegedly began to kiss her exposed chest – which she indicated terrified her. It wasn’t long after that, she told police, that she began to complain and was finally terminated.

Another former principal in Everett corroborated many of the accounts, and also reported another alleged account of a teacher who Foresteire allegedly tried to pull her clothes off during a visit to the school. The principal had written notes on the incident from 2011 that she had kept, and turned them over to police. The teacher had not wanted to report the matter so as not to risk her job, but she did request that the principal allegedly notify her if Foresteire was coming to the building so she could make sure she wasn’t alone.

DIDOMENICO FOUNDATION HOLDS ANNUAL ST. PATRICK’S DAY CELEBRATION

Sen. Sal DiDomenico welcomed friends, family, supporters, and political colleagues Friday night to celebrate St. Patrick’s Day at the annual DiDomenico Foundation St. Patrick’s Day Celebration in Charlestown. Hundreds of local and state officials gathered to enjoy the tradition. To kick off the evening in a most appropriate way, bagpipes were played throughout the hall.

That principal also alleged she was the subject of a lewd comment, allegedly, by Foresteire. She alleged that after attending a School Committee meeting, the next day Foresteire called to tell her he liked to look up her dress when she sat in the front row of the meetings.

“(The principal) told me that Foresteire allegedly would ‘accidentally’ rub against or touch her breasts,” read the report. “She told me that if she reacted, Foresteire would allegedly apologize as if it was unintentional, but if she didn’t react, he would say nothing.”

To counter all of the allegations, a current high-ranking female official in the School Administration – the former director of curriculum according to the report – told police she has never heard anyone tell her of any harassment or assault by Foresteire.

“She told me that no one ever told her about Mr. Foresteire acting inappropriately,” the report read. “She told me that she was the director of curriculum and that it was not her position, that any reports would go to the Title 9 director. I then asked her specifically if she recalled speaking with either (Victim 1) or (Victim 2) about Mr. Foresteire and she told me no.”

Several more incidents were detailed in the criminal complaint, which are just allegations. It has been pointed out by DA Marian Ryan consistently that Foresteire is innocent until proven guilty.

In the report, Attorney Mark Rotondo is mentioned as representing some of the victims. Contacted by the Independent, he said he would not comment on the specifics.

“This cannot be tried in the news,” he said. “Even Fred Foresteire is entitled to due process of law. It will be up to a jury of his peers to determine if he is guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.”

Attorney Tara Swartz has been handling cases for three victims who have filed complaints with the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination (MCAD). She is also mentioned in the complaint, and issued a statement last week.

“My firm represents three women who filed sexual harassment claims with the MCAD against the former Superintendent of the Everett Public Schools, Frederick Foresteire,” she wrote. “My clients have always believed that they are not alone in what they endured during their employment with EPS. They remain resolute in the pursuit of their claims, as well as their hope that coming forward will assist in effectuating real change within the school system. We have no comment about the criminal charges announced today against Mr. Foresteire. We will let due process unfold and the evidence to be presented for a jury to decide.”

The Everett Teachers Association said they were disturbed by the charges and said they would support their members who have been victimized.

“These are very disturbing charges,” wrote President Kim Auger. “The Everett Teachers Association has taken important steps to support any members who may have been victimized and we will continue to do so.”

Foresteire’s attorneys, Spruce Law, have not returned repeated phone calls to comment on the allegations.

Foresteire is due in Malden District Court on April 4 for an arraignment on seven charges.
