URBAN FARMING IN REVERE

The City of Revere currently has two community gardens, with 45 plots for residents to tend, and access to a Farmers Market during the summer and early fall.

What would it look like to expand urban farming opportunities in Revere? If you enjoy gardening, green spaces, and access to fresh food, then you are invited to attend the first urban farming committee meeting. The meeting will be held on Tuesday April 30 from 6:00 to 7:30 p.m. at the MGH Revere HealthCare Center, 300 Ocean Ave., Sweet Conference Room (Door 2)

Medical marijuana dispensary on Railroad Ave. could be reality

By Journal Staff

A local attorney said that the actions of a Beverly investment adviser, accused of bilking investors out of millions for a medical marijuana facility on Railroad Ave. in Revere, should not hold up plans for the only medical marijuana dispensary in Revere to go forward.

Secretary of the Commonwealth William F. Galvin has charged a Massachusetts investment adviser representative who oversaw the solicitation of millions of dollars from more than 100 investors in order to fund various medical marijuana ventures, though no licenses were ever acquired in Massachusetts and no dispensary was ever opened.

McDonald funded several of his ventures through one high net-worth client, who has lost more than $3 million due to McDonald's activities. Collectively, investors have lost control of more than $8 million in assets, while seeing no returns on their investments, states the administrative complaint filed by Galvin's Securities Division.

Frederick V. McDonald, Jr., CEO of the Beverly-based investment adviser U.S. Advisory Group Inc., is accused of failing to disclose key risk factors in the cannabis industry, withholding information about his own conflicting interests in the investments he was recommending, concealing crucial information from the investors, and breaching his fiduciary duty to this client.

"McDonald failed to educate himself regarding the unique and complex licensing process in Massachusetts, which resulted in the distribution of offering documents that failed to adequately dis-

Council votes to ban single-use plastic bags

By Cary Shuman

The Revere City Council approved an ordinance Monday night banning single-use, disposable, plastic shopping bags at local stores. The ordinance will go in to effect in three phases: on July 1 (stores 20,000 square feet or more), on Aug. 1 (stores 10,000 square feet or more) and Sept. 1 (smaller stores).

"The stores will have to distribute a paper bag or a reusable bag," said Ward 4 Councillor Patrick Keefe, who joined all but two of his colleagues in voting for the new ordinance.

Keefe called the ordinance "a good step" for the city. "As a coastal community, we're able to protect the environment," he said. "This is something that is being done in over 100 communities in Massachusetts and it looks like later this year the state is going to take up this ban as well. We're just getting ahead of the state's eventual single-use plastic bag ban. I think it's great for our city to start protecting the environment."

Zambuto supports RFD's call for safety on cell phone tower issue

O'Hara seeks vote of support by councillors

By Cary Shuman

Councillor-at-Large Anthony Zambuto made it clear following Monday's Council meeting that he supports the Revere Firefighters Union in its request to have a cell phone tower removed from the Central Fire Station tower on Broadway.

"I'm for its removal 100 percent," said Zambuto. "Even if it's not proven to be a health hazard, because we do not have the actual proof of that, I'm with the firefighters all the way on taking the cell phone tower down. I also support the new city ordinance for not putting a cell phone tower on any city buildings."

Kevin O'Hara, president of the Revere Firefighters Union, was pleased to have Zambuto's support on the Central Fire Station cell phone tower (which O'Hara said is scheduled for removal in six months), but he was "disappointed" that the other issue of 5G cell phone antennae on telephone poles has remained in committee [Zoning Sub-Committee].

Zambuto, who chairs the Council's Zoning Sub-Committee, took offense at a proposed call for a vote on the issue at Monday's Council meeting.

"The issue was the little cell phone antennas that go on top of utility poles," said Zambuto. "I held it in committee because if we voted against it, we're going to lose in court. FCC regulations don't allow us to vote against small cell phone antennas. I was protecting the city by not letting the issue out of committee."

Falzone praises Rep. Vincent for assistance on flooding issue

By Cary Shuman

Toscana Avenue resident Rocco Falzone is praising Rep. Roselee Vincent for her efforts in assisting him with an ongoing problem with flooding at his property.

Falzone has appeared at City Council meetings detailing the flooding issue that involves a clogged drainage ditch. The problem is exacerbated during heavy rainstorms. There is often a lot of trash and debris on the Route 1 embankment on Asti Avenue. Falzone said Vincent has been working on the issue for several months and her efforts have been very productive.

"I cannot thank Rep. Vincent and her aide, Ricky Serino, for all they have done to assist me," said Falzone. "Because of Rep. Vincent's efforts since I first contacted her, I feel we are very close to resolving this safety issue."

Vincent has been on top of the issue from the outset. The state legislator convened an onsite visit with state and local agencies to examine the issue and come up with solutions.

"I felt that the meeting that occurred was productive and put Mr. Falzone in contact with point people at MassDOT and the Revere Department of Public Works," said Vincent.

Vincent also requested that MassDOT look in to the feasibility of regular maintenance of the trash gates on Asti Avenue to ensure that during heavy rains, blockage does not become an issue and lead to flooding.

Vincent's office also reached out to MassDOT, who responded with a cleanup of the Route 1 embankment located near Falzone's property.

Vincent's quick and thorough response did not surprise Falzone one bit.

"Whenever I've called Rep. Vincent and Ricky, they get back to me right away," said Falzone, who spoke on a separate issue at Monday's Council's meeting. "We're fortunate to have RoseLee representing the residents of Revere and fighting for our best interests."

O'Hara conceded that the Council's vote would not prohibit the installation of the antennas due to FCC regulations, but he would like the 11-member Council to conduct a vote voicing their opposition to the installation of the 5G antennas.

"By the councillors voting against the measure, it would show their support for the residents and children of the city and the safety of firefighters while battling fires," said O'Hara.

Zambuto said he backed O'Hara's conclusion made in remarks at the Council meeting that firefighters working on the top of ladder trucks would be affected by "harmful, non-thermal radiation" from nearby cell phone antennas located on telephone poles.

O'Hara thanked Councilors Joanne McKenna, Jessica Giannino and Patrick Keefe for their "full support" on the issue from the beginning.

"They have stayed in contact with me throughout the process and always requested information regarding the dangers of 5G cell phone towers," said O'Hara. "We are concerned about the potential dangers of these new 5G cell phone mini-towers on poles."a close to investors the risks or difficulties the investment could face," the complaint says.

The complaint alleges that McDonald took advantage of this advisory relationship with at least one client in order to pursue side marijuana projects, while hiding important information from investors. McDonald provided only minimal information about the various marijuana ventures, while using his position of trust to access investor funds to support his own projects.

While McDonald and his partners planned to open a medical marijuana dispensary in Revere, a lack of transparency and communication led to funding issues. McDonald and his partners jointly raised money for the venture, but when his partners began to dispute existing agreements, the relationship collapsed, and they subsequently failed to obtain a lease or license, according to the complaint.

It is further alleged that McDonald and his partners deliberately hid the identity of an individual who acted as an agent and fundraiser for the potential dispensary, as the discovery of that individual's criminal record could have led to denial of a license.

"McDonald's free-wheeling practices included cutting corners at every opportunity and lying to his own business partners and investors to cover his own mistakes," the complaint states.

Also charged in the complaint are McDonald's various companies and corporations, including U.S. Advisory Group, Commonwealth Pain Management Connections, LLC and Kettle Black of MA, LLC.

Galvin's office is seeking censure of the respondents, an order permanently barring McDonald and USAG from registration in the Commonwealth, disgorgement of profits, requirement that respondents make offers of rescission and provide restitution of compensate investors for the alleged wrongdoing, and an administrative fine.

"As far as I know the medical marijuana dispensary on Railroad Avenue intends to go forward according to conversations that I have had with the landlord. We've pulled a building permit and are presently in the process of developing most of what would be a cultivation center," said Attorney Lawrence Simione Jr., who represented the applicants of the project when it was granted a special permit by the City Council.

According to city records, building permits have been pulled for the 44 Railroad Ave. site for a roof and antennas.

In 2018 the City Council voted the ban all retail marijuana shops from Revere, mainly because the majority of voters voted against the 2016 ballot question for recreational/retail pot shops in the city.

Earth Day Poem

The colors of mother nature today,
so many, so different
The deep mystical crimson pigment of a rose, the peaceful calm, white tone of a dove
The intense, exquisite emerald shade on a leaf, the glistening, enchanting yellow tint of the sun
The uplifting, phenomenal, blue brilliance of the sky, the dim, frigid, rave cast of a shadow.
So many, so different.
So appealing, so charming.
Although our world is so beautiful, fulfilling,
everlasting, one day,
our colors will be transposed.
The offensive, repulsive, bronze touch of debris,
the unsightly, soiled, drab hint of chemical mist.
The fowl, displeasing, inky gleam of water impurity, the filthy, disturbed, homely look of rubbish.
You see, you must grasp the fact that it is all up to us.
The cradle of humanity's future is depending on us to take care.
The world may be brimming of deep, mystical,
crimson pigmented roses or
the offensive, repulsive, bronze touch of debris.
Will the colors of the earth stay the same,
or become transformed?
Understanding the concept is very hard, but one day
you must understand, it's our decision.

for a second year, in honor of its commitment of effective urban forest management.

The Tree City USA program is sponsored by the Arbor Day Foundation in partnership with the U.S. Forest Service and the National Association of State Foresters.

Revere achieved Tree City USA recognition for the second year in a row by meeting the program's four requirements: a tree board or department, a tree care ordinance, an annual community forestry budget of at least $2 per capita and an Arbor Day observance and proclamation.

To celebrate the City's continued commitment to tree growth and care, there will be a tree-planting event during Beautify Revere on April 27, 2019, beginning at 11:30 a.m. City Officials will assist the Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR) in the planting of a Dogwood Tree on the American Legion Lawn.

Trees are an asset to our City. Trees provide shade, retain water, provide wildlife habitat and improve the visual appeal of our streets and neighborhoods. Neighborhoods of Revere have been selected as part of a statewide program 'Greening the Gateway', by the MA Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs to increase canopy cover and reduce home energy use for heating and cooling. Please call 617-626-1459 to see if your neighborhood qualify for a free tree planting.

ARRIGO ENCOURAGES WALKERS FOR FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH 'WALK FOR HUNGER' TEAM

Mayor Brian Arrigo extended his encouragement to the team of walkers from Revere's First Congregational Church who will take part in the 2019 Project Bread "Walk for Hunger" on May 5 at Boston Common. The 'Walk' is the longest-running community event in the country that raises awareness about hunger. "The Revere Food Pantry fills a vital need in our community," said Mayor Arrigo. "We're proud of everyone who extends themselves in support of fellow residents in need."

This year, the Congregational Church team will conduct its own fundraising in conjunction with the Walk. Wendy Baur, principal of the Food Pantry, explained that 2019 will mark the first time that participants can raise money for their own cause.

"In previous years, we would apply for a grant," Baur said. "By raising funds through our team's own effort, we hope that this year we can raise about 60 per cent more money in addition to any grants we receive."

Anyone who wants to support the First Congregational team can join with them in the Walk, or pledge to donate to their team. For more information contact the First Congregational Church at 781-284-4158.

"The dedication of people like Wendy Baur and her team exemplifies compassion and concern for their fellow residents. This is what 'community' is all about" said Mayor Arrigo.

WHAT IS NATIONAL SOCIAL SECURITY MONTH?

April is National Social Security Month, a time dedicated to educating the American public about our programs and services. During this month, Social Security and its partners promote educational materials the public to emphasize the importance of financial planning.

The focus of this year's National Social Security Month is to highlight the timesaving features of the my Social Security account. Our focused transactions are to:

- o Request a replacement Social Security card
- o Set up or change direct deposit
- o Get a proof of income letter
- o Change your address
- o Check the status of your Social Security application
- o Get a Social Security 1099 form (SSA-1099)

Please join us in promoting these messages, tools, and educational materials through our online services, and in celebrating National Social Security Month.

CITY-WIDE CLEANUP THIS SATURDAY

Beautify Revere returns to kick-off the spring with a city-wide cleanup this Saturday, April 27, from 8:00 a.m.- 12:30 p.m. Check-in at the American Legion, 249 Broadway, at 8 a.m. to pick up a complimentary Beautify Revere T-shirt, cleaning supplies and head off to your desired cleanup location.

Following the cleanup, return to the American Legion for a tree-planting event as the City celebrates Arbor Day, complete with a free BBQ, entertainment, and activities for the whole family. All residents are encouraged to attend and participate in the community clean up - special recognition will be awarded to the team who assembles the largest group of volunteers.

The Revere Police and SUDI Department will be present for a prescription take-back table. Those interested in volunteering should contact Elle Baker at (781) 286-8188, or ebaker@revere.org.

THE REVERE PUBLIC LIBRARY CHALLENGES THE CITY OF REVERE!

In recognition of Patriots Day 2019 and Patriots Day 2020, the Revere Public Library is challenging everyone to put their memories to work during the next 52 weeks by learning and memorizing the entirety of Longfellow's famous poem, "Paul Revere's Ride."

Mayor Brian Arrigo praised Library Director Kevin Sheehan for the innovative idea. "Kevin has come up with a fun way for people to get some intellectual exercise and learn about the historical figure after whom our city is named," said Mayor Brian Arrigo. "It will take a great deal of effort to learn the poem, but it's a worthy challenge."

"It seems that everyone knows the first lines," said Library Director Sheehan as he recited "'Listen my children, and you shall hear of the midnight ride of Paul Revere...' Then he added: "...but then most of us come to a stop. This is a challenge for everyone, of all age brackets."

Sheehan has centered the challenge on Patriots Day, which is a holiday only in Massachusetts and commemorates Paul Revere's famous ride from Boston to Lexington to warn of the invading British Army. Or, as the poem eloquently says "...Ready to ride and spread the alarm, Through every Middlesex village and farm, For the country-folk to be up and to arm."

"People in other parts of country might think the holiday honors Tom Brady and the New England Patriots," Sheehan said with a laugh.

"We in Revere know better."

Memorizing Longfellow's poem is not a simple task, and that's what makes it a challenge. The poem comprises 14 stanzas containing 972 words. "The sad truth is," Sheehan said, "we don't use our memory faculty as much these days because information is right at our fingertips because of technology."

"Some things should be remembered, and for residents of Revere, Longfellow's poem is a famous tribute to the historical figure who shares our name."

Sheehan's vision is a year-long contest that will include recruitment in the schools and among civic groups to participate. The contest will seek individual winners and also teams who can combine their memory power to recite the entire poem.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow was born in 1807 in Portland when Maine was still part of Massachusetts. He wrote "Paul Revere's Ride" in 1861. The poem has remained a favorite in its romanticized depiction of Revere's famous ride at the start of the American Revolutionary War.

TIPS ON PREVENTING FALLS IN THE HOUSE

One in four Americans aged 65 or older falls each year, according to the National Council on Aging. Every 11 seconds, an older adult is treated in the emergency room for a fall; every 19 minutes, an older adult dies from a fall. Falls are the leading cause of fatal injury and the most common cause of nonfatal trauma-related hospital and nursing home admissions among older adults.

Although falls are prevalent in older adults, there could be many ways to help your loved one continue to live safely in their own home.

Falls and accidents seldom "just happen." Usually there are at least several contributing factors that lead to a fall. The danger in some of these factors can be eliminated or reduced by taking simple steps recommended by Mystic Valley Elder Services to make an elder's home safer. Here is a room-by-room breakdown of some of these steps.

Bathrooms: Place a rubber mat or rubber safety strips in the tub or shower. Install sur-dy grab bars in the tub/shower area to provide support. Have a night light available to use after dark and in the middle of the night.

Bedrooms: Use night lights or bedside, remote-controlled light switches. Place the telephone in an area easy to get to and keep the cord out of walking pathways. Consider a cordless telephone.

Stairs and hallways: Put light switches conveniently at both the top and bottom of stairs. Make sure carpeting is not loose or buckling and use non-skid treads on stairs. Both sides of each stairway should have sturdy handrails running their entire lengths. Avoid waxing hardwood floors that could create a slippery surface.

Living areas: Secure and place electrical/telephone cords out of walking pathways. Remove throw rugs that might slide or attach non-skid strips to rug backings. Furniture should be arranged to allow for unobstructed walkways. It is important to keep floors clear of clutter.

Other tips to prevent falls: You should also be aware of clothing and behavior that can help create a safer environment. You should wear well-fitted, flat, rubber-soled shoes to prevent slipping.

Do not walk or climb stairs with arms loaded—always leave a hand free for balance. Slowly get out of bed and slowly rise from sitting to avoid dizziness.

Make sure to have your vision tested regularly and keeps her glasses clean.

Be aware of any medications you are taking that could cause difficulty with balance.

You should be discussing the falls with your primary care physician to see if there is a medical condition that needs attention.

The dangerous situation created by a fall is frequently compounded by the inability to call for help. Personal emergency response systems should be installed whenever someone appears to be at risk of falling. The systems provide 24-hour access to emergency help, giving both the elder and family members some sense of security

Piping plovers season in full swing

Sections of Revere Beach fenced off for nesting

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

The nesting areas have been marked off and the Piping Plovers are back on Revere Beach and Winthrop Beach.

According to the Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR), every year, Piping Plovers, which are protected under both the Federal Endangered Species Act and the Massachusetts Endangered Species Act, migrate to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts' coastline, including Revere Beach and Winthrop Beach Reservation, seeking to mate, nest, and feed their young chicks.

A baby Piping Plover.

The Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR), in compliance with the Federal Endangered Species Act and the Massachusetts Endangered Species Act, installs safe zones for Piping Plovers during the shorebirds' nesting season. The fencing, designed to be minimally invasive to the human eye, is made of grey fiber glass poles, with blue triangular signs, and orange twine.

At this time, Revere Beach Reservation has eight pairs of Piping Plovers. The birds have been observed performing courting displays, a normal activity this time of year," said Olivia Dorrance, DCR press secretary.

"Additionally, there are 17 unpaired Piping Plover adults; however, this number of shorebirds is subject to change since they are arriving and leaving our Commonwealth's coastlines each day and aren't expected to establish their courtship and nesting territories for another two-six weeks."

The DCR reminds beach-

goers that while the protective fencing is in place along the beach, visitors and residents should observe the Piping Plovers from outside the protective fencing.

Because the number of Piping Plovers is subject to change, DCR is unable to determine the total amount of protected area until the shorebirds have established their nesting territories later this spring.

DCR advises people to resist fence boundary intrusion because this will cause the birds to remain on the Commonwealth's beaches for a longer period of time.

"Those who are interested in observing and learning more about the shorebirds are encouraged to approach DCR qualified monitors while visiting the beach," Dorrance said.

BHCC athletics unveils new Bulldogs mascot

After more than a year of research, reflection and evaluation, Bunker Hill Community College (BHCC) has revealed a newly designed bulldog mascot to represent the College's Athletics program. The new BHCC Athletics Bulldog was revealed at the College Faculty/Staff Forum on March 12.

The refreshed mascot design features a running bulldog, energetic and with its eyes focused forward, seeking success in a manner congruent with the program's mission and consistent with the uniqueness of BHCC.

The bulldog has long been the mascot of BHCC Athletics. New Director of Athletics Dr. Loreto Jackson, who joined the College in 2017, felt that the mascot needed a refresh to better align with the College's purpose and values. "The former bulldog had many different renditions," explained Dr. Jackson. "The designs were not unique to BHCC, and, more importantly, did not embody the philosophy of BHCC."

The College enlisted national brand identity firm Phoenix Design Works to assist with the mascot development. After research and discussion with department stakeholders, Jackson wanted to remove the common ideas of bulldogs—that they are mean-spirited, arrogant, combative or lazy. Instead, the BHCC Bulldog should portray respect, tenacity, a competitive spirit and loyalty. Also important was a gender-neutral mascot, unrestrained by the classic bulldog spiked collar.

Bunker Hill Community College is a member of the National Junior Collegiate Athletic Association (NJCAA), Division III. For more information on BHCC Athletics, please visit bhcc.edu/athletics.

McKenna says residents should be notified in advance of traffic changes

By Cary Shuman

Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna said residents should be notified in advance of any traffic changes made on local streets.

McKenna expressed her displeasure at Monday's Council meeting that three streets in Beachmont — Endicott, Bradtsreet, and Crest — were transformed to "one-ways" over the holiday weekend without notification to residents affected by the changes.

"Signs were put up and then people came home and they found out their streets were transformed," said McKenna. "I'm the councillor and I didn't even know that this was happening."

McKenna said that robo-calls from the city went out at 3:30 p.m. "and these signs went up at 10 o'clock in the morning."

The councillor said she received more than 50 calls, 20 text messages, and a number of Facebook comments objecting to the lack of notification about the changes to the streets.

"Going forward, I am asking that the city be more transparent in their communication to our residents and city departments be more responsible to communicate the changes taken place in the city to the proper channels so that our residents have at least two weeks notification," said McKenna.

Councillor-at-Large George Rotondo suggested that letters could be sent to residents affected by the changes. "It's a safety issue," said Rotondo.

Councillor-at-Large Dan Rizzo said he received a number of calls as well.

"It's not a matter of whether people were for or against it," said Rizzo. "It's the total lack of communication. We had a situation in Councillor McKenna's ward when they demolished an entire building and the neighbors didn't know it was coming down. There was absolutely no communication."

Ward 2 Councillor Ira Novoselsky said when the Traffic Commission approves a one-way street, "it may take two or three months to get to a public hearing."

"Then they have to send the request to the Public Works sign department to put up the sign. I'm not blaming anybody. But maybe there should be some notification from Public Works to the ward councillor, or somehow get out the notice to the people of those streets that are affected."

Man rescued from water

On Tuesday, April 16 at approximately 7:36 a.m. a box alarm was struck for a report of a motor vehicle in the water with a person still inside at 655 North Shore Road southbound. The response included several fire engines, and the inflatable zodiac with firefighters in dry suits. The first fire engine travelling northbound to the turnaround on North Shore Road could see a car in the water and immediately radioed the confirmation to fire dispatch alerting all incoming crews.

Upon arrival, firefighters Lt. Sean Griffin, Frank Trichilo and Paul McInnis prepared the hose-line floatation equipment. Civilians at the scene said there was someone still in the vehicle. The car airbag deployment made it difficult to see inside the vehicle, which at this point was more than three-quarters submerged.

Fire Department Lt. Sean Griffin realizing the situation could only get worse and time was critical, without hesitation, made the decision to enter the water with Firefighters Paul McInnis and Frank Trichilo, and attempt a rescue.

They waded out into chest deep 43-degree water to find a man struggling to keep his head above the rising water. It took the efforts of the rescuers to open the driver's door against the water pressure and current. Once open, the male victim, weak, bruised, disoriented and unable to help himself was pulled from the vehicle placed on his back and assisted to shore. If not for the immediate response and execution by the rescuers the outcome most assuredly would not have been as successful.

The victim, a male in his 40s now conscious and alert with some facial bruising was taken by the Cataldo ambulance to the hospital. The Department of Environmental Protection, Coast Guard and the Harbor Master were also notified for any environmental issues however, there were no obvious signs of contamination in the water from the vehicle.

The car was lifted out of the water with a crane; there were no obvious signs of contamination to the immediate environment from the accident.

The downed vehicle just visible in the waters off the shores of the Rumney Marsh reservation abutting North Shore Road.

THE CURSE OF SOCIAL MEDIA AND THE INTERNET

In the aftermath of the terrible coordinated attacks by suicide bombers on Easter Sunday in Sri Lanka that killed more than 300 people and wounded about 500 in churches and hotels across the small nation, the Sri Lankan government took the extraordinary step of shutting down social media platforms, including Facebook, YouTube, and Twitter, in order to prevent the dissemination of misinformation that might incite even more bloodshed among its various sectarian groups.

This decade has seen the spread of social media that rightly might be compared to an out-of-control wildfire. What initially was seen as an innocuous manner of sharing information among friend groups -- think of friends sitting around a camp fire telling stories -- has turned into a raging inferno whipped by the winds of greed and hatred that is destroying everything in its path.

Say what you want about the recently released Mueller Report, what is beyond dispute is that it shows that the Russian government used social media through coordinated bot attacks to spread misinformation among large swaths of the American public who utilize these forms of media. In short, the Russians are using social media to undermine our democracy.

The attacker in New Zealand who committed the atrocities in two mosques drew his inspiration from social media postings by right-wing organizations and individuals from around the world and then posted his carnage live online. It was hours before the social media companies were able to take down what he posted, but by then the damage had been done and his carnage had been viewed around the globe.

In some respects, these abuses of online platforms by those who wish to spread fear and disinformation are just the tip of the iceberg of the curse that has become the Internet.

There is no such thing as privacy for anybody, unless you live under the proverbial rock. Everything we do on-line is tracked and establishes a profile that can be used -- and misused -- by those who are keeping track.

The Chinese government is showing firsthand how the Internet can be wielded by a malevolent government (and non-government actors) to control both unfavored opposition groups and individuals.

The Chinese are employing facial recognition software to identify every person in their country -- a monumental task in a nation of a billion or so people -- but it already is being used to keep track of, and suppress, minority religious groups.

The Chinese government also is issuing a "score" for every person in the country -- think of it as a credit score, but taken to the nth degree -- that ultimately will rank every person in the country on a scale of social and economic acceptability, creating a hierarchy that will determine a person's lifelong fate.

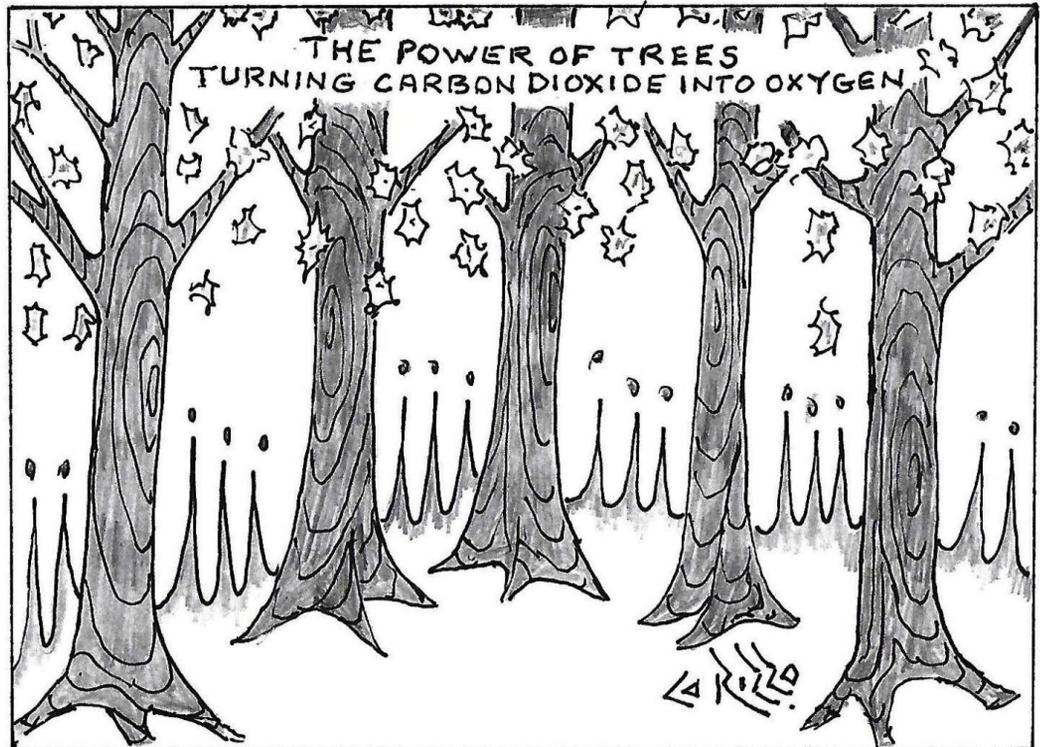

It also is clear that the internet has become the new battlefield among nations and others. Who needs nuclear weapons when a hostile government or terrorist organization or criminal enterprise can disable a nation's energy grid or wreak havoc on the financial system or hold individuals and businesses hostage simply by employing malevolent software?

America's military might -- our trillions of dollars worth of aircraft carriers, stealth bombers, and drones -- is no match for a computer virus or worm that attacks our nation's infrastructure.

George Orwell, in his novel "1984," describes a dystopian future in which the government, symbolized by Big Brother, scrutinizes every human action with the aim of creating conformity among its citizens.

Orwell wrote his novel in 1948. It is ironic -- and incredibly prescient of Orwell -- that the internet as we know it today was beginning to take shape in 1984.

It is clear in 2019 that the world Orwell predicted in 1984 has arrived -- and we fear that things are going to get a lot worse before we figure out how to get this Frankenstein monster under control, if we ever do.

NATIONAL ARBOR DAY - APRIL 26TH

GUEST OP-ED

Grassley-Klobuchar ushers in dangerous counterfeit drugs

Sally C. Pipes

Congress is poised to consider a bill that would allow Americans to import prescription drugs from Canada. The bill's authors -- Sens. Amy Klobuchar (D-MN) and Chuck Grassley (R-IA) -- label their effort as a bipartisan push to "help Americans who struggle to pay exorbitant prices for medication."

It's noble of lawmakers to tackle prescription drug costs. Eight in ten Americans are concerned about the price of medicines, according to a Kaiser Family Foundation survey.

But the Grassley-Klobuchar bill isn't the right solution. While it might deliver some minor financial relief, it'll jeopardize the health and wellbeing of millions of Americans.

On cost, the Grassley-Klobuchar would yield negligible savings at best. If the entire nation legalized drug importation, number crunchers at the Department of Health and Human Services predict that American drug spending would decrease by less than 1 percent.

On safety, the bill exposes Americans to dangerous counterfeits. It's estimated that 1 million people die at the hand of counterfeit drugs every year, many of which come from Canada.

Last year, U.S. prosecutors fined Canada's largest online pharmacy $34 million for selling counterfeit medications to unsuspecting Americans. The company earned a $78 million profit by deceiving vulnerable cancer patients. Two widely sold oncology drugs -- Avastin and Altuzan -- contained zero active pharmaceutical ingredients.

Exacerbating safety concerns is the fact that a startling number of the "Canadian" drugs purchased by Americans aren't actually from Canada.

An FDA operation conducted at three major U.S. airports examining suspected pharmaceutical shipments from India, Israel, Costa Rica, and Vanuatu revealed that nearly half were ordered from "Canadian" pharmacies -- and of those, just 15 percent actually originated in Canada. The rest came from one of 27 countries across the world, including India, Turkey, and Iran.

The FDA warns Americans that it cannot ensure the safety of medicines "bought over the Internet from foreign sources, from storefront businesses that offer to buy foreign medicine for you, or during trips outside the United States."

Neither, for that matter, can our northern neighbor. Canadian authorities have repeatedly stated that they're not responsible for regulating the safety, quality, or efficacy of medicines sold to U.S. citizens.

Americans should not take the U.S. regulatory system for granted. Before obtaining FDA approval, new drugs must undergo a rigorous testing process. It takes approximately ten years, hundreds of pre-clinical treatments, and multiple clinical trials to bring just one product to the market.

Unfortunately, the same FDA oversight doesn't apply to foreign pharmacies. And the Grassley-Klobuchar bill fails to acknowledge the dangers of importation.

Lawmakers are right to worry about how much patients spend at the pharmacy. But drug importation is not the right way to lower costs. Congress needs to go back to the drawing board.

REVERE THROUGH THE YEARS

10 years ago April 22, 2009

Officials with the state retirement system are reviewing the city's policies regarding its pensions for city officials who serve on the City Council in the wake of a recent Boston Globe article asserting that City Council members are both being paid their salaries and receiving pensions from their previous service.

A tanker truck full with 9,000 gallons of heating oil overturned at Brown Circle, spilling all of its oil into Rumney Marsh. Environmental clean-up workers have been at the site removing the black ooze from the marsh.

After more than two hours of heated discussion, the School Committee reaffirms its previous vote that will allow the dispensing of contraceptive services at the Revere High School health center, including the morning-after pill and condoms. A group of 20 persons comprised of citizens, parents, and a local priest, turned out to try to persuade the School Committee to rescind its previous vote.

A livery driver reported that he was held up at gunpoint by two men when he went to Dehon St. at 2 a.m. to pick up two passengers, who proceeded to take his vehicle and cash. The vehicle was found in Winthrop later in the morning.

Former Revere Police Chief John "Jake" DeLeire, whose sentencing after his conviction for his role in the ExamScam case has been postponed, reportedly now is cooperating with federal prosecutors in regard to other police officers who cheated on their Civil Service tests.

A meeting of the School Committee that degenerated into anger and frustration culminated with a vote of 6-1 to terminate former City Councillor William Bell from his position as a school custodian.

School Committeeman Guy Meli reportedly is recovering from a heart attack that he suffered on Saturday.

Both sides have rested in the case before a Middlesex Superior Court judge in which the state is seeking an order to tear down the half-finished condo building on No. Shore Rd. at the Pt. of Pines because it sits on land that the state asserts is the right-of-way of the former Boston and Maine Railroad.

Volare gets hours restored

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

The License Commission gave back some hours to a Broadway restaurant even after commissioners held discussions about allegedly serving intoxicated patrons and failure to properly control a licensed premise.

Volare had its hours rolled back to 11 p.m. after an incident a month ago. It was also brought up that in February a male patron of the establishment allegedly left the restaurant and crashed his car.

Attorney James Cipoletta, who represents Volare, acknowledged the patron was over the legal limit. The patron was arrested and a substance was found in the car, Cipoletta said. Lt. Robert Impemba said he could not go into great detail because the cases are pending. Volare uses four security people and one Revere police officer to monitor patrons.

"The issue is the clientele and crowd its drawing causing problems for the establishment," said Commissioner Linda Guinasso. "I'm concerned about the venue. Live video in Volare does not come with your entertainment license."

Guinasso held up a flyer announcing it as a place to drink.

"It's a good restaurant but you're getting the after-crowd you are looking for," she said. "Out of all the businesses in the city we see you the most."

Chairman Robert Selevitch suggested implementing a dress code.

"People are fed up with what's going on and you need to address that," Selevitch said.

"Is it a restaurant or a nightclub?" Guinasso asked. "You have a restaurant license, not a club license. It's illegal for you to run a club."

The commission, putting Volare's on notice, restored the 1 a.m. closing time for a probationary period of a year.

In other commission business:

- Nino's Restaurant and Bar, 7B Everett St., hours of operation approved for 2 a.m.
- Sabine Bakery and Café, 91 Centennial Ave., hours extended to 2 a.m. during Ramadan.

- Wraps on the Beach, 425 Revere Beach Boulevard, outdoor seating for 24 approved.
- La Esquina del Sabor, 1 Unity Ave., hours extended to midnight for a 90-day trial basis.

- Royal Lodge Loyal Order of Moose, 470 Broadway, change of manager from Wesley Clemons to Jennifer Santana.
- Boston Harley Davidson, 649-1 Squire Road, approved for seven one-day licenses for malt, common victualler and entertainment for special events at the store.

Marine Mammal Safaris kicks off

With a light sprinkle in the morning and the forecast of afternoon sun, 850 people from across the region joined Save the Harbor/Save the Bay on Saturday's three free Marine Mammal Safaris as a part of the Share the Harbor program. The overwhelming response and turnout topped each of the previous 15 trips, not to mention the abundance of seals and porpoises spotted on each cruise.

"We were blown away by the record breaking numbers," said Save the Harbor/Save the Bay President Tani Marinovich. "Our mission is to connect people to the harbor, so we were delighted to see such a great turnout."

Aboard Massachusetts Bay Lines' boat Freedom, families, neighborhood groups, and individuals from Boston's communities and beyond were eager to see what the clean water of the Boston Harbor had in store for them.

As the rain subsided, the guests of the first and second cruises were able to see three seals out by the Fish Pier, and even caught a glimpse of the fin of a porpoise gliding by the Charlestown Navy Yard.

The last cruise of the day embarked onto the harbor in 75-degree sunny weather – a great turn-around from the projected overcast skies. Although the charismatic macrofauna were a bit more hesitant to appear for the passengers, as the cruise motored toward East Boston, a plethora of seals and even a few porpoises made an appearance.

In the moments where there were no sightings of aquatic mammals, Save the Harbor staff donned their pirate hats and sang the sea chanty Haul Away Together to remind those around them that if they work together, just as the pirates did as they hoisted the sails, they can accomplish big things.

"In continuing our mission of sharing the harbor for the public to enjoy, Save the Harbor is hosting seven more free cruises to Spectacle Island and Boston Light throughout the summer and fall months," said Marinovich. "Check out the remaining Share the Harbor cruise dates on Save the Harbor's blog at blog.savetheharbor.org, which includes registration links."

Save the Harbor/Save the Bay would like to thank Massachusetts Bay Lines for their generosity in hosting us aboard Freedom and making it possible to venture out onto the harbor for each safari, while also giving guests great information about their surroundings through historical narration.

To stay up to date on future events with Save the Harbor follow us on Facebook or Twitter. See you all out on the harbor!

OBITUARIES

Shirley Murray

Re-united now with her love in heaven

Shirley Murray passed away peacefully on Monday, April 22 at West Revere Health Center in Revere after a brief illness. She was 89 years old.

She was born in Lowell, daughter the late Hilding Anderson and Doris (Aitken) Anderson; granddaughter of Nels & Neta (Johansdotter) Anderson, William 3rd and Melissa (Ayen) Aitken. Her family moved to Revere in the early 1930's.

She attended Revere Public Schools through grade 8, leaving due to vision problems. While her peers were attending grade 9, she went to work at the Five & Dime in Beachmont. She met and fell in love with the love of her life, Donald Goss Murray. They were married in 1949. They became the proud parents of three sons, Laurence of Arlington, Richard of North Carolina and Donald of Newton. She lived in Revere for over 87 years.

In her younger days she enjoyed the Lighthouse Cafe on Revere Beach and the Beachmont Yacht Club. She kept a beautiful and tidy home, which she enjoyed decorating for each season and holiday. She was very thoughtful, always remembering birthdays. She was very independent, one of the strongest women we have known. She had a strong love of cats and always asked and cared about the family's pets. She also enjoyed flowers, especially her husband's roses, and nature's beauty. She treasured visits from family. Her grandchildren felt she was one of their biggest cheerleaders; supporting their interests and dreams, even if they did not align with her own ideologies. She was well liked, charming and a doll. She will be greatly missed but we are comforted knowing that she will be reunited with her love in heaven.

Shirley is survived by her sons; two sisters, Beverly Nicolas and Marjorie Anderson of Braintree; six grandchildren and six great grandchildren. She is also survived by nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by her husband in 2007.

In lieu of flowers, remembrances may be made to ARLBoston, Animal Rescue League of Boston, c/o Advancement, 10 Chandler Street, Boston, MA 02116 [checks payable to the Animal Rescue League of Boston] or online www.arlboston.org/get-involved/ or to Hospice [payable to Hallmark Health VNA and Hospice] to: 178 Savin St., Suite 300 Malden, MA 02148 or online. www.hallmarkhealthhomecare.org/donation-opportunities/.

A celebration of life is planned for the summer.

Robert Snyder

Verizon (G.T.E.) retiree

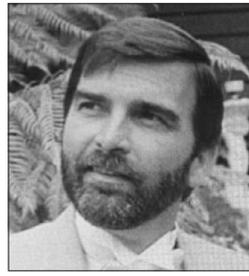

Family and friends are invited to attend Visiting Hours today, Wednesday, April 24 in the Vertuccio & Smith, Home for Funerals, 773 Broadway (Rte. 107) Revere from 9 to 11 a.m. followed by a Funeral Service in the funeral home at 11:15 a.m. for Robert L. Snyder, 72, immediately followed by interment in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

Mr. Snyder died on Monday, April 15 at the Physicians Regional Medical Center of Naples, Florida following a brief illness. He was 72 years old.

A native of West Covina, California, he entered the U.S. Army during the Vietnam Era in April of 1967 and served until April of 1973. Robert held an Associate Degree in Liberal Arts from Mt. San Antonio Junior College of Walnut, California. His chief career, for over 25 years, was with Verizon (formerly known as G.T.E.). He worked as a Line Supervisor with extensive background in splicing and testing and labor administration. His Associate Degree in Sales brought him a position with Home Depot of Danvers as a Sales Associate.

Although, he was not there for a long time, he was highly regarded by his supervisors and more importantly by his colleagues for his knowledge and genuine concern for his fellow man.

The beloved husband of 30 years to Linda B. (Caccamesi) Snyder, a former Revere native, he was the devoted brother of Jerald B. "Jerry" Snyder and his wife, Ida of Fontana, California, Sandy Smith and her husband, Daniel of Ft. Dick, California and Terry R. Snyder of Lytle Creek, California; the beloved father of Heather Snyder and Michael Snyder, both of San Jose, California. He is also lovingly survived by three grandchildren, Alex, Troy and Joseph and by many nieces and nephews.

In lieu of flowers, remembrances may be made to N.E. Center & Home for Veterans, P.O. Box 845257, Boston, MA 02284-5257.

No matter where our paths may lead
I always count on you each day to forever be beside me and show me the right way...

When my days start without you
I always think we are far apart
but everytime I think of you
I know you are right here, in my heart...

I still have many dreams at night and I see so many things in sight remembering you is so easy for I always see you and it's always all right...

My fondest memories always bring me comfort
I hold them all so close and our many conversation are what I miss the most...

I know your smile is gone forever and your voice I cannot hear
I will always have our memories and those I hold so dear...

We love and miss you very much,

Another birthday without you always seemed to bring a tear of all the wonderful times gone by that happened year after year...

You listened to my stories and you wiped away my tears
You wrapped your arms around me and you understood my fears...

"Mom"... is such a special word for which it brings to mind
Your beautiful and loving smile and how were always kind...

You left me wonderful memories
Your love is still my guide and though I cannot see you you are always by my side...

May the winds of heaven blow softly and whisper in your ear how much we love and miss you and wish you were still here...

Prayer To The Holy Spirit

Holy spirit, you who gives meaning to and shines the light on my path so that I may reach my goals. You who gives me the divine grace to forgive and forget the evil done unto me and which is with me at every moment in my life. I want in this short dialogue to reassure you one more time I do not ever want to be separated from you, no matter how grand the worldly possessions may be, my desire to be with you and my brothers in perpetual glory will not be lessened. (One should say this prayer 3 days the divine shall be granted no matter how unattainable it may be.) Publications must be promised. Favor Received.

MassWildlife offers Spring turkey tips

Due to recent inquiries and reports about turkeys acting aggressively towards people and pets, the Massachusetts Division of Fisheries and Wildlife (MassWildlife) is offering information about turkey behavior and tips to prevent turkey conflicts.

March through May is breeding season for wild turkeys and as a result, there is an increase in turkey activity all across the Commonwealth. Some turkeys may be seen acting aggressively by pecking, following, or exhibiting other intimidating behavior towards people. Males will puff out their feathers, fan their tails, and "strut their stuff" while gobbling and making other vocalizations. This behavior is common during the breeding season and other times of year when turkeys are establishing social dominance or status within the flock.

Wild turkeys live in flocks organized by pecking order.

Each bird is dominant over or "pecks on" birds of lesser social status. Turkeys may attempt to dominate or attack people that they view as subordinates, and this behavior is observed most often during breeding season. They may also respond aggressively and peck shiny objects like windows or automobiles, interpreting their own reflection as an intruding turkey.

MassWildlife urges the public to avoid feeding wild turkeys. Aggressive behavior towards people occurs when turkeys have become overly comfortable in the presence of humans, usually over several months or even years, in areas where turkeys are fed. Never intentionally leave out food like bird seed or corn in attempts to help or view turkeys. Avoid using bird feeders, as fallen bird seed attracts turkeys and other wild animals. For those who enjoy viewing songbirds, MassWildlife recommends planting native plants and shrubs or adding a water feature to attract birds.

"The best thing you can do to prevent conflicts with turkeys is to stop feeding them," says Dave Scarpitti, MassWildlife Turkey Biologist. "Feeding turkeys, whether intentional or not, can cause turkeys to act tame and may lead to bold or aggressive behavior, especially in the breeding season from March through May. Once this behavior is established, it can be very difficult to change." People are encouraged to scare or threaten bold turkeys with loud noises or water sprayed from a hose. A leashed dog may also be an effective deterrent. Mylar tape, balloons, or pinwheels can be used in and around your property as a deterrent to turkeys; however all these techniques may have variable success for turkeys that have become highly habituated around people. For more information on how to prevent problems with aggressive turkeys, check out MassWildlife's Tips for Wild Turkey.

MassWildlife also reminds the public that the wild turkey is the state's official game bird and that the spring turkey hunting season begins Monday, April 29 and continues through Saturday, May 25. Licensed hunters with a turkey permit can harvest up to two bearded birds. The Youth Turkey Hunt will take place on Saturday, April 27. To learn more about turkey hunting, visit MassWildlife's Guide to Wild Turkey Hunting at www.mass.gov/hunting-wild-turkey-in-massachusetts.

It's Jake!! Who could forget?! Although Jake may have been relocated, there are still plenty of turkeys trotting about the city. With the breeding season underway, be on the lookout for aggressive turkeys.

Councillors Steve Morabito, Jessica Giannino, and Joanne McKenna on the ordinance.

"Prior to introducing the motion to ban single use, plastic, shopping bags, it was reassuring to work with Councillors Giannino, Keefe, and McKenna, who shared the same passion as I do on this matter," said Morabito. "This ban will curb litter on the streets, protect marine environment, waterways and reduce greenhouse gas emissions and solid waste."

Morabito thanked his colleagues for keeping an open mind on the issue by listening, researching, and learning about the matter, "but more importantly by voting to pass this motion tonight."

"These single-use plastic bags are cheap and one of the lowest quality that are manufactured," added Morabito. "The bags often end up on the streets, in the trees, against fences, blocking sewer drains and blown out to our beach water and marshes. This is an additional step to improve our neighborhoods."

Giannino said she was pleased to see the ordinance passed by the Council. "The ordinance was something very important to Councillor McKenna and me. Although it is one small step in the big picture, it's a step in the right direction. I am proud that as a coastal community, Revere is setting an example for all of Massachusetts," concluded Giannino.

McKenna also expressed her gratitude to her colleagues for their vote for the ordinance.

"I thank and commend my colleagues that were initially against this ordinance but educated themselves to the facts and then voted favorably in support of this ordinance," said McKenna. "It might be a baby step in a large picture, but it is a positive step going forward especially in a coastal community like Revere. Bravo!"

Councillors-at-Large George Rotondo and Anthony Zambuto voted against the ordinance.

Leading the way in the passage of the ordinance banning the distribution of single-use, disposable, plastic shopping bags at stores in Revere were, from left, Councillors Steve Morabito, Patrick Keefe, Jessica Giannino, and Joanne McKenna, pictured in the City Council Chambers following Monday's meeting.

A shot from last year's Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk to benefit the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

Call for Walkers: Register for the 31st Annual Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk presented by Hyundai Registration is now open for the 2019 Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk presented by Hyundai, the nation's highest fundraising single-day walk. Scheduled for Sunday, September 22, funds raised from the Walk will support all forms of adult and pediatric patient care and cancer research at the nation's premier cancer center, Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

as well as a celebration at the Copley Square Finish Line, complete with food, music, and a speaking program.

All walkers commit to raise a minimum of $325, except for walkers 12 years old and younger whose fundraising commitment is $125. There is also a Virtual Walker option for those unable to attend the event on September 22, who still want to support the cause.

The Jimmy Fund (www.JimmyFund.org) solely supports Boston's Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, raising funds for all forms of adult and pediatric cancer care and research to improve the chances of survival for cancer patients around the world. It is an official charity of the Boston Red Sox, as well as the official charity of the Massachusetts Chiefs of Police Association, the Pan-Mass Challenge, and the Variety Children's Charity of New England. Since 1948, the generosity of millions of people has helped the Jimmy Fund save countless lives and reduce the burden of cancer for patients and families worldwide. Follow the Jimmy Fund on Facebook: www.facebook.com/thejimmyfund and on Twitter: @TheJimmyFund.

The Jimmy Fund Walk has raised more than $135 million in its 30-year history. The Boston Athletic Association has supported the Walk since 1989, and Hyundai has been the presenting sponsor since 2002.

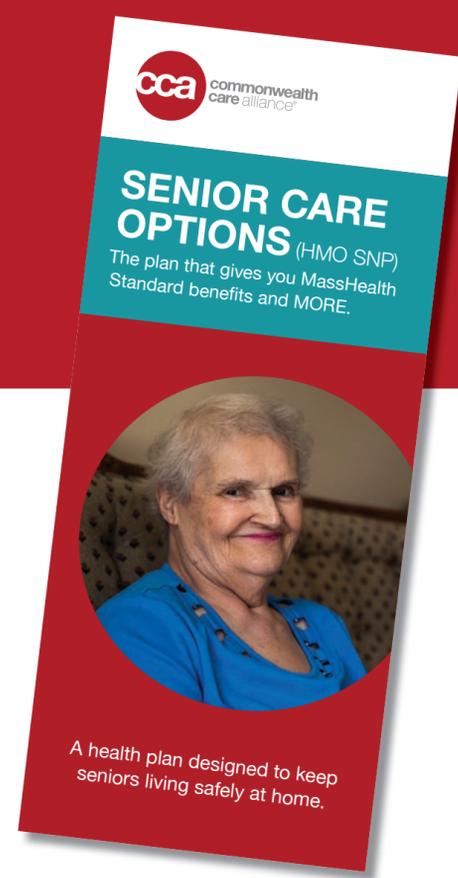

The Details:
 Participants can choose from any of the below four routes along the historic Boston Marathon® course:

- Marathon Walk (26.2 miles) from Hopkinton
- Half Marathon Walk (13.1 miles) from Wellesley
- 10K Walk (6.2 miles) from Newton
- 5K Walk (3.1 miles) from Dana-Farber Cancer Institute

Walkers are treated to refueling stations along the course

RHS BOYS TRACK REMAINS UNDEFEATED

The Revere High boys outdoor track and field team improved its record to 3-0 with a 97-39 triumph over Everett last week.

Antony Arias led the way for the Patriots, scoring 18 points. Antony grabbed first place in three events, the long jump with a leap of 20'-8", the triple jump with a distance of 39'-8", and the 400 hurdles in a clocking of 62.5 seconds. He also took second place in the 110 high hurdles with a time of 17.7.

Hurdling-mate Ricardo

Goncalves was the only performer who bettered Antony on the day. Ricardo won the 110 hurdles with a sprint of 16.9. Ricardo also added a point to the Revere cause with a third place in the 400 hurdles in 63.8.

Jaryd Benson turned in a first-and-second-place kind of day, winning the shot put with a throw of 39'-5.25" and grabbing second in the discus with a spin of 104'.

Fraynel del Rosario scored points in three events, taking second in the high jump (5'-2") and third in both the long jump (18'-6") and 100 dash (12.0).

Lucas Barbosa scored eight points for the Patriots with a first in the high jump with a leap of 5'-2" and a second in the javelin with a toss of 118'.

Revere dominated in the distance events, sweeping all three races.

In the 800, Fabio Tran set the pace with a time of 2:18.6, followed by teammates Eiad Karageh (2:20.) and Lucas Hurtado (2:23.6).

Jonathan Nushi won the mile in a clocking of 5:08.5, followed by Will Martinez (5:14.2) and Kevin Nguyen (5:33.6).

Victor Pelatere crossed the line first in the two-mile in 11:38, followed by Christian Madrid (12:09) and James Carpinelli (12:09).

The other first-place effort for the Patriots came from Cristian Acuna, who captured the javelin with a throw of 122'-5".

Revere swept the shot put, with Rayan Riazi taking second with a toss of 35'-6" and Alaa Atoui grabbing third spot with his throw of 34'-9.5". Alaa also completed a Patriot sweep of the discus with his spin of 94'-4".

Other second-place finishers for Revere were Matthew DeRocha in the 200 dash in 24.8 and Augusto Goncalves in the 400 dash in 56.0.

Adding single points for the Revere side of the scoresheet with third-place performances were: Andres Mejia in the high jump (5'-2"); Sam Gonzalez in the 400 dash in 56.5; Ricardo Goncalves in the 400 hurdles in 63.8; and Camron Ventura in two events, the triple jump (37') and the 200 dash (25.0).

Revere also won the 4 x 100 relay. The Revere foursome of Ventura, del Rosario, William Ginepra, and Sebastian Bolivar triumphed in the 4 x 100 with a time of 47.5 compared to Everett's clocking of 49.0.

In the 4 x 400, the Patriot quartet of Pelatere, Michael Adolphus, Nushi, and Idriss Taoujni fell short to their Everett counterparts by six seconds with their clocking of 3:55.3.

"The meet with Everett was going to be our most challenging to this point in the season," said RHS head coach Sam Ros. "Based on their stats this year, it would have needed a concerted team effort. We knew they had us in the sprints and on paper, the jumps as well.

"We had a game plan going in that we needed to sweep the distance events, the 800, mile, and two mile, but hold our own in the sprints and throwing events and maybe find some magic in the jumps," Ros added. "We did more than just that. Distance swept, throws were amazing, sprints held our own.

"The magic in the jumping events came in the form of Antony Arias," Ros continued. "He took the wins in both the long jump and triple jump. He even bettered the state-qualifying mark in the long jump by one inch. Overall, it was the team effort we needed. We will need more of the same as the season progresses."

Ros and his crew were scheduled to meet Lynn Classical yesterday (Tuesday) and will host Lynn English next Thursday.

RHS GIRLS TRACK NOW STAND AT 3-0

The Revere High girls outdoor track and field team continued its winning ways, breezing past Everett by a score of 98-38 last week, to improve to 3-0 on the season.

"Although we lost both relay events, we scored at least four points in every individual event," said RHS head coach Antonio LaBruna. "It was a well-balanced attack from the girls."

There were four Lady Patriots who took first place in two events: Erika Cheever, who came across the line first in the 800 (2:55.2) and the mile (6:27); Skyla DeSimone in the discus (70'3") and shot-put (27'-2 3/4"); Claritza Vazquez in the long jump (15'-8") and 100 dash (13.4); and Chloe Giordano in the triple jump (29'-4 1/2") and 400 hurdles (80.0)

Other first-place finishers for Revere were: Lorina Tran in the high jump (4'-4"); Luana Barbosa in the 110 high hurdles (18.2); and Astrid Umanzor in the 400 dash (72.3).

Giordano also finished second in two events, the long jump (14'-10") and the 110 high hurdles (18.2), to rack up a team-high 16 points on the day.

Barbosa similarly scored points in four events, with seconds in the high jump (4'-

Boston City FC will play home games at Della Russo Stadium

By Cary Shuman

Revere soccer fans have a new team to call its own.

The Boston City FC, a team made up of current Division 1 college soccer players and other elite players, will play its first home game versus Hartford FC on Saturday, May 4 at Harry Della Russo Stadium on Park Avenue.

Boston City has played its last three seasons at Malden Catholic High School. The team played one game at Della Russo Stadium during the 2017 season.

Michael Preston, communications director for the amateur team, said the organization developed a good working relationship with Mayor Brian Arrigo in its first three seasons.

"We used to train in the pre-season on Revere Beach," said Preston. "We've considered moving the team to Revere in the past and after discussions with the city, we decided to do that. Boston FC is now officially a Revere-based club."

Preston also praised the stadium, calling it one of the premier soccer venues in the region.

"It's a great facility," said Preston, adding that the team will also practice four nights a Captain Scott Montefusco was deadly from the three-point line during his career at RHS. His career total of 82 long range bombs led the Patriots basketball team to many exciting victories and kept them in the hunt for a possible play-off position. In the 2018-2019 season as captain of the RHS Patriots his total of 44-3 pointers placed him fourth in the state.

Captain Scott Montefusco will be graduation in June and in the fall will be attending Anna Maria College in Paxton Ma, studying sports management. Congratulations on an outstanding career and good luck in the future.

week in Revere. The stadium was built after the city secured a $2.72 million grant from the Gateway Parks program in 2014 under the leadership of then-Mayor Dan Rizzo.

"In 2011, prior to the 2012 election, I pledged to Revere Pop Warner, Revere High Head Football Coach Lou Cicutelli and his staff, along with others that if elected, I would make this long-overdue stadium facility a reality – and we fulfilled our promise," said Rizzo.

"To know that teams, players, coaches, and fans from outside Revere recognize this amazing asset as an outstanding facility only further accentuates its value to our own kids, parents, and residents across this community. It was always meant to be something that we all could be proud of, and I believe it has become that."

Chelsea star Bustamante is new Boston FC coach

Boston FC welcomes a new head coach, Michael Bustamante, a former Chelsea High School and Boston University soccer star who played professionally in the MLS. Bustamante is a Revere resident.

Bustamante has changed the approach of the team, deciding to add several current players from college teams, including BU and Northeastern, to the roster.

Boston FC will compete in an eight-team division in the National Premier Soccer League (NPSL), which is officially the fourth level of soccer in the United States. The MLS is considered No. 1.

"What we're most proud of is that this is our fourth season and we're still going strong," said Preston. "A lot of teams come and go, which harms the sport. Our longevity is really important to us."

Boston FC is owned by Renato Valentin, who owns and operates several Tavern in the Square Restaurants. The managing director is Craig Tomberg, a Revere resident who is the former general manager of the New England Revolution.

Preston stands for soccer in Greater Boston

Michael Preston, 50, has become synonymous with soccer excellence in the area, helping elite players realize their dream of playing the game at its highest level.

A former sports journalist in his native England, Preston went on to work in public relations for the National Football League's office in London. Preston worked at his 20th NFL Super Bowl in Atlanta in February, a game won by the New England Patriots.

Preston moved to the Boston area in 2002. "I came to Boston because my wife is from Massachusetts," related Preston. He and his wife, Jen, and their four children live in Providence.

Preston also owns a public relations company and works with Global Football, a firm that specializes in transporting Division 3 college teams to Europe for tours and international exhibition games.

0") and long jump (14'-10") and a third in the 200 dash (29.3) to total 12 points for the Lady Patriots.

Vazquez took second in the 200 dash (29.0) to finish with 13 points for the Revere cause. "Claritza had a great meet," noted LaBruna. "She is one of the league's top jumpers, but has been battling a knee injury and was held out of the jumps the first two meets. She jumped 15'-8" in the long jump, which was a great way to start her season."

Additional Lady Patriots who added three points to the Revere side of the scoresheet with second-place performances were:

Gianna Mahoney - Shot-Put (27'1")

Maria Torres - Javelin (84'6")

Olivia Novoselsky - 2 Mile (14:28)

Olivia Novoselsky - 800M (3:02.1)

Carly Bennett - Mile (6:58)

Kathy Umanson - 400M (72.4)

Jerelys Canales - 400M Hurdles (93.5)

Valerie Moy - Discus (63'0")

Scoring single points with their third-place efforts were:

Yulissa Santana - 2 Mile (16:45)

Jerelys Canales - 100M (14.0)

Vivian Le - High Hurdles (20.6)

Nubya Filho - 400M (72.6)

Lorina Tran - Triple Jump (28'7 1/2")

Gianna Mahoney - Javelin (84'5")

"Chloe Giordano and Jerelys Canales got us off to a great start in the 400 hurdles," LaBruna said. "Chloe hasn't run that race yet this season and ended up winning it with a very respectable time. Jerelys took a hard fall about halfway through the race, but got back up and ended up coming from behind to steal second place."

LaBruna and his squad were scheduled to meet Lynn Classical yesterday. "Classical is tough and match up really well against us," LaBruna said. "It's going to be a close meet." The Lady Patriots will host Lynn English next Thursday.

FAST START FOR BOYS TENNIS TEAM

The Revere High boys tennis team opened its season in stellar fashion last week, defeating Everett and Salem last week by shutout scores of 5-0.

Freshman newcomer Ashton Hoang led the way in both contests with victories of 6-0, 6-0 over his counterparts at first singles.

"Ashton is the most talented player I've coached," said RHS head coach Mike Flynn. "He plays the game the right way. He's very coachable and serves as a great example for his teammates."

Senior captain David Phan won both of his matches at second singles 6-0, 6-1 and 6-3, 6-2. Junior captain Wellan Sok, who never misses a practice and who has improved every year while in the RHS program, won his matches at third singles by scores of 6-1, 6-4 and 6-0, 6-0.

Both of the Patriot doubles teams also are comprised of juniors. The first doubles duo of Ergi Ismahili and Michael Marchese defeated their rivals in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2 and 6-2, 6-0.

The second doubles tandem of Vincent Nguyen and Hus-sain Alharbi were victorious over Everett, 6-2, 6-3. Salem did not field a second doubles. "We're off to a really nice start," noted Flynn. "This is a great group of boys who are very supportive of each other and work hard at every practice."

Flynn and his crew are scheduled to meet Medford today (Wednesday) and Somerville on Friday. They will face Lynn English on Monday and Malden next Wednesday.

RHS SOFTBALL TEAM BLANKS SALEM, 12-0

The Revere High softball team rebounded from an 8-3 loss to Everett to post a 12-0 win over Salem last week.

Senior Olivia McManus spun a three-hitter and fanned 11 Salem batters. Adriana Fusco reached base on all four of her at-bats and Alexis Iacoviello had three RBI to pace the Lady Patriot offense. McManus helped her own cause with some timely hitting and Katie O'Donnell laid down some nice bunts while also playing well in the field at second base.

In the Everett contest, which was played last Tuesday after being rained out on Patriots Day, the Revere squad fell behind 6-0 in the top of the first and never recovered.

"Everett came out on fire, while we were flat," said RHS head coach Joe Ciccarello. "The game served as a wake-up call for us because it let us know that we have to be ready for every opponent in every game."

The Lady Patriots, who now stand at 2-1 on the season, are scheduled to play at Medford today (Wednesday) and will entertain Somerville Friday. That contest that will be highlighted by the dedication of the playing field at Griswold Park to Vanessa and Tony Ardagna to recognize them for their many years of dedicated service to Revere youth softball.

The Revere girls will travel to Lynn English on Monday and entertain Malden next Wednesday.

RHS SPORTS Through the Years

10 years ago April 22, 2009

The RHS baseball team won the Strike Out Colon Cancer tournament in East Boston during the weekend, defeating East Boston, 8-2, and Newton South, 7-6. Chris Mastropietro drove in five runs in the win over Eastie, including a two-run homer. In the Newton South game, Dom Terenzi won the game with a walk-off homer in the bottom of the seventh that capped a comeback from a 5-0 deficit for Revere. Nick DiMare delivered a bases-loaded double and Brian Robichaud had two RBI in that game.

The RHS softball team defeated Lynnfield, 5-2, behind the four-hit pitching of Sara Selevitch. Kristen DeCandia had a double and a triple with two runs scored to lead the RHS offense.

The boys tennis team is 3-1 on the season after wins over Lynn Classical and Beverly this week.

20 years ago April 28, 1999

The RHS baseball team improved to 5-1 with three wins during the vacation week. In a 4-2 victory over Waltham, Robert Coro paced the offense with a home run. Robert Coppola and B.J. Long hit homers in a 17-2 rout of Somerville. Rick Laurano delivered a bases-loaded base hit to drive in the winning run in a 7-6 triumph over Cambridge.

30 years ago April 26, 1989

The RHS baseball team routed Quincy, 13-3, behind the pitching of John Leone, who went six innings, and Matt Ferullo, who closed out the game. Vince Cianciaruso went 3-for-4 with two doubles and three RBI. Leone also hit a home run.

Jennifer Wells spun another no-hitter for the RHS softball team in a 16-1 romp over Quincy. Wells then tossed a one-hitter in an 18-1 win over Cambridge. Wells, who boasts a 60 mph fastball, hit home runs in both games. Debbie Ronga and Marie LaVita had three hits apiece in the Quincy contest and Michelle Kilduff went 5-for-5 vs. Cambridge.

40 years ago April 25, 1979

The RHS baseball team bounced back from a loss to Chelsea to record wins of 5-1 over Peabody and 6-0 over Medford. RHS head coach Al Blasi said he was pleased that his team committed no errors in either game. Charlie Perullo and Al Annese combined to pitch in the win over Peabody. Larry Lacroix, Carmen Albano, and Annese shared the pitching duties vs. Medford.

60 years ago April 23, 1959

The RHS baseball team under coach John Capone and the Immaculate Conception High baseball team under coach Bob McCarricks are set to open their season this week. The IC baseball program is resuming after a 10-year absence.

70 years ago April 28, 1949

Edgar Dane, 21, of 119 Bennington St. in Beachmont, won the senior men's North American indoor speed ice skating championship this past Sunday in Colorado Springs, Colo. He was sponsored by the Our Lady of Lourdes Holy Name Society. It is believed that Dane is the first Revere man ever to win a national championship in any sport. He is hoping to earn a spot on the 1952 U.S. Olympic team. Dane is a graduate of RHS where he captained the baseball team. He served in the war aboard the USS Leyte. Mary, his younger sister, also is a champion skater who has won many trophies in junior division competitions.

NEWS FROM AROUND THE REGION

CITY LOOKS TO INTRODUCE 3-1-1 REPORTING SYSTEM FOR CONSTITUENT SERVICES

CHELSEA - Have a problem?

Soon Chelsea – like other cities – can “3-1-1” it.

City Manager Tom Ambrosino said he hopes to proceed with introducing a 311 constituent services reporting platform to the City in the next fiscal year, which begins on July 1.

Already, Everett, Revere, Boston and others feature a telephone and online/app 311 system that residents can use to report anything from a pothole to graffiti to a rabid skunk.

“The goal is to provide better and more prompt responsiveness to constituent complaints,” read a letter from Ambrosino to the Council.

Ambrosino said the system he has in mind would operate with two employees working out of the DPW building. They would field complaints from 311 by telephone, email, text message and web-based reporting. They would fall under the supervision of Public Works Commissioner Fidel Maltez.

Once having taken the complaint, the employees would then assign the complaint to the appropriate department.

That would open up a series of accountability measures on each complaint, he said.

“These employees will be responsible for assigning the issue to the appropriate department representative or directly accessing the relevant information in a City database, tracking progress on the issue providing information on the resolution of the issue to the individual who reported it,” he wrote. “We believe this will be a much more effective way of addressing constituent complaints and hopefully it will be well-received by our residents.”

Start-up costs would look to be $162,000 for employees and the computer software. He said there is already $27,000 set aside for the program, and $50,000 from a state grant received last year. The remainder of the first-year costs would have to come from a budget request.

“I hope the Council will see the benefits of this improved constituent services effort and approve the requested FY20 appropriations,” he wrote.

The new system would replace the old SeeClickFix reporting system, which never worked as advertised.

YOUTH JOB FAIR LOTTERY HELD

CHELSEA - City Manager Tom Ambrosino and members of the Chelsea Collaborative held a lottery on April 4 to pick the names of scores of young residents who will secure a summer youth employment job.

Director Gladys Vega said that while it was a time to celebrate the employment of more than 100 youth in the community, the need was far greater than the jobs.

“This year we received more than 300 applications, with more that came after the deadline,” she said. “Due to our funding, we are able to offer only 150 spots this year. We are excited to pair youth with more than 40 of our longstanding partners, including City of Chelsea, Chelsea Police, Intergenerational Literacy Program, Jordan Boys & Girls Club, North Suffolk Mental Health and others.”

At the lottery, 185 names in several different age groups were selected.

Some were put on a waiting list, and a vast majority of those applying were of a younger age.

Youth that were picked in the lottery are now going through several interviews this week, during School Spring Break. If they successfully pass those interviews, they will meet their employers in June and receive more training.

The Summer Youth Employment Initiative (SYEI) begins on July 1.

COUNCIL HEARS ABOUT PROPOSED CHANGES ON ADMINISTRATIVE CODE

EVERETT - On Thursday, April 11, the Council convened for its regular meeting of the Committee of the Whole. On the agenda was a single item, a presentation by the administration to amend the City of Everett Administrative Code.

The Council will be voting on the proposed changes at their next regular meeting on April 22.

All councilors were present save three; Councilors Anthony DiPierro, Wayne Matewsky and Leo McKinnon had prior commitments.

The meeting opened with a slideshow presented by Assistant City Solicitor Matt Lattanzi, which provided an overview of the proposed changes to the code. Councilors received paper copies of the presentation as well as the existing administrative code to compare the changes against.

The Council then analyzed the 60-page administrative code line by line and invited Mayor Carlo DeMaria, Chief of Staff Kevin O'Donnell, and City Solicitor Colleen Mejia to answer the Council's questions about the amended language.

Proposed changes were divided into three groups and included the following:

- General Provisions

Those eligible to serve on a board or commission would expand to include those who own property in Everett (previously residents only). Board or commission members can be removed after missing two meetings (previously three) with permission from chairperson, or four total meetings (previously six). The Mayor would be able request the resignation of anyone serving on a board. All boards and commissions would be required to submit recordings and minutes within seven days. The Assistant City Clerk would be able to administer oaths of office to appointees (previously only City Clerk.)

- Multi-member Bodies

Changes to the Everett Public Libraries Board of Trustees (LBoT) would include the following: the City would take over the human resources duties of the LBoT; the City Treasurer would become the default treasurer of the LBoT; and the LBoT would go from overseeing the whole library system to overseeing the management of the trust left by founder Frederick E. Parlin.

Amendments in this section also reflect changes to multi-member bodies including commission names, alternate members, numbers of required members, term lengths, job duties, and language that could be interpreted as ambiguous.

- Executive Administration

The Department of Public Works (DPW) would rename a number of its departments as well as modify the duties and responsibilities associated with various departments and job titles. The Code Enforcement Task Force would add the Superintendent of Schools or his designee as a 10th required member. The City's new Department of Organizational Assessment would provide workplace consulting to and oversight of other City departments. Lastly, the title of Risk Manager and associated duties would be added to the title of City Solicitor.

The Council will be required to vote on these changes as a whole rather than on individual changes. For this reason, the Council requested a clarification in the language regarding associate/alternate members, which the Mayor agreed to. The City Solicitor will present the final document with the incorporated changes to the Council on April 22 where the Council will accept or reject it.

MAYOR CANCELS SPEECH, WILL DELIVER 'VIRTUAL' STATE OF THE CITY

EVERETT - Mayor Carlo DeMaria announced last week that he planned to forego his State of the City Address on April 25 and will instead give a virtual speech at some time in the future.

The confusing news came suddenly late on Tuesday and was confirmed by Council President Rich Dell Isola.

In an invitation prepared by the Mayor's Office later on Tuesday, it was stated that the mayor had chosen to do a virtual broadcast instead of a live speech before the City Council.

“In order to reach the maximum amount of resident, we have changed the State of the City Address to a virtual broadcast to be viewed on ECTV On Demand, Youtube.com and via Facebook,” the invitation read. “This will allow all residents to watch and listen at their convenience, anytime, day or night.”

The date is to be announced soon but was not given in the invitation.

ORIENT HEIGHTS COUNCIL VOTES DOWN PROJECT

EAST BOSTON - Members of the Orient Heights Neighborhood Council (OHNC) voted 25 to 13 against a project to turn a one family home on Barnes Avenue into five units of housing.

Attorney for the project at 119 Barnes Ave., Matt Eckel, announced at Monday night's meeting that his client had made some changes to the project after hearing from the community during the March OHNC meeting.

Eckel said his client reduced the number of units from six to five, reduced the number of bedrooms from 10 to eight, increased the number of parking spaces from six to eight, and reduced the height of the building as well as the floor area ratio.

After making all these concessions, a majority of OHNC members still felt the project was too large despite a number of multifamily homes on the block.

OHNC members like Mary Berninger felt some compromise with developers needs to be made especially when the proposal is not a huge development project like some of the others being proposed around Eastie.

“I can never understand that kind of a vote when a developer makes many concessions,” said Berninger after the meeting. “The final iteration showed something that was very much in keeping with surrounding structures. Combine that with the decrease in scope and more parking spaces than originally offered. Trying to find compromise and middle ground is exhausting.”

Others like John Casamassa were shocked at the outcome.

“I'm surprised (by the vote) since nobody really spoke out against it or even made the case as to why it shouldn't be approved,” he said. “From the outside it at least looked fitting with the neighborhood, unlike so many of these huge boxes that are being proposed.”

In the past OHNC President Joseph Ruggiero III has expressed his fear that the group has gained the reputation among the Boston Zoning Board of Appeals as a body that rejects everything. Ruggiero feels by rejecting everything the group loses credibility with the ZBA whereas if the group was more balanced in its voting—the ‘no’ votes on particular projects would send a signal to the ZBA that there is clear community opposition or that the developer hasn't addressed the community's concerns.

“Based on previous zoning and what I can only imagine the future zoning will be, someone could build essentially the exact same structure proposed for 119 Barnes Ave. as a two-family, decrease the amount of parking spots and the new two-family could have two, four to five bedroom units at 2000 sq. ft.,” he said. “There's no way a building like that would be better to live next to than what was proposed. This is why I suggested before that the OHNC goes to a 2/3 or 3/4 majority vote on projects. If the threshold is met OHNC send a letter of support or opposition for a project. If the threshold is not met in support or opposition the OHNC takes no action.”

TWO LOCAL TEACHERS HONORED

EAST BOSTON -Two East Boston teachers were honored by Boston Public Schools and the Boston Teachers Union (BTU) as an Educator of the Year. The two local teachers and nine teachers from other BPS schools in the city were invited to watch players warm up before the final home game of the Boston Celtics' regular season on Sunday, April 7. The 2019 winners were also honored at center court during halftime of the game.

In Eastie both Jillian Archer and Tanya Boone received this year's honors.

During the nomination period, BTU, BPS, and the City of Boston invited school faculty and staff, students, families, and community members, to nominate exemplary educators to honor their work and dedication to their profession.

Archer is a school psychologist at the Curtis Guild Elementary School. During the nomination phase the entire Curtis Guild school community compiled an entire packet of heartfelt nominations.

“Today, we celebrate our incredible school psychologist, Jillian Archer, one of the 11 outstanding educators chosen to be Educator of the Year out of almost 400 nominees this year,” said Curtis Guild Principal Karen McCarthy. “I quote from a letter submitted about Jillian (Archer), ‘Schools do not become great due to one educator. The strongest schools work with intentional systems and a network of strong staff who collaborate and support each other's work—making us all better than we would be in isolation and creating a school that ensures that children's needs are met, Ms. Archer exemplifies such an educator.”

Boone is a veteran BPS educator from Mattapan who teaches kindergarten at the Samuel Adams Elementary School. Boone has been an integral part of the Eastie community throughout her 31-year teaching career. In fact, Boone has been teaching so long in Eastie that some of her current students are children of her former students.

The Educator of the Year Awards recognize the exceptional educators who go above and beyond to impact the lives of BPS students and community members. The program celebrates educators who exemplify a commitment to the profession by selecting educators who are worthy of representing the positive contributions of teaching staff districtwide.

The awards honor teachers, paraprofessionals, librarians, and other support staff. Fellow teachers, families, students, community members, and others were invited to nominate educators who they believed to be deserving of recognition for their contributions to the school community.

“I am grateful that we have so many dedicated teachers, support staff, and administrators in the Boston Public Schools who make our students' futures brighter each and every day, and change our students' lives for the better,” said Mayor Martin J. Walsh. “These educators show unwavering commitment to their school communities and go above and beyond to prepare our students for future success. I am proud to highlight their success as winners of the 2019 Educator of the Year Awards.”

Educator of the Year award winners, their families and colleagues will be invited to attend a reception in May to honor their exemplary work and profound commitment to their school communities.

“The Educator of the Year Awards are a great way to honor the deep commitment of our BPS staff,” said Boston School Committee Chairperson Michael Loconto. “These educators are serving some of our highest needs students, and are a great representation of the talent and steadfast commitment to learning of this district. For every winner we're proud to announce today, we know there are hundreds of other teachers pouring their heart, soul and knowledge into supporting our kids every day. I'm proud of the Educator of the Year award winners for being consummate professionals and unequivocal role models for their school communities.”

BPS Interim Superintendent Laura Perille said the two educators in Eastie and the other educators in Boston are pillars of their school communities and instrumental in the personal and educational development of their students.

“I was honored to personally notify the award winners of this distinction, learning more about the important work they do every day inside our schools,” she said. “I look forward to further celebrating their profound contributions to BPS in the coming weeks.”

This year, the district received close to 400 nominations, the highest number ever received. Submissions included letters of support, samples of student work, photographs, videos, and other testimonials. In addition to the nine teachers honored, this year's winners also include a school psychologist and clinical coordinator. Two of the nine teachers are special education teachers. This year's winners also include a teaching pair. In addition, four of 11 winners have been teaching in BPS for at least 20 years, with two finalists retiring at the end of this school year.

“The Educator of the Year Awards are a wonderful way to highlight the hard work and exceptional talent in this district's teaching force,” said BTU President Jessica Tang. “These educators go the extra mile to ensure our students reach their full potential. Congratulations to the winners, and all of our teachers and staff who work every day to ensure a quality educational experience for Boston students.”

DEMONSTRATION HELD OVER TAX FRAUD

LYNN - The New England Regional Council of Carpenters and Local 339 hosted a demonstration at Lynn City Hall on Thursday April 11. Their event illuminated the rampant tax fraud tainting the construction industry.

“Construction industry tax fraud is an issue that robs taxpayers of critical funding for things like firefighters and local schools here in Lynn, and it gets worse when you note that a lot of it happens through the mistreatment of workers and the unethical ways that they are hired,” said NERCC Local 339 member Adam DiGiovanni. He informed attendees on the magnitude of illegal construction employment practices and their impact on Lynn and Massachusetts.

Each year labor brokers and contractors cheat their tax obligations by misclassifying their hires and paying an estimated 1.2 million workers ‘off the books,’ robbing taxpayers of up to $2.6 billion through lost federal income, employment taxes, and state income taxes. These dishonest tactics deprive city, state, and federal budgets of tax dollars and ethical businesses the chance to fairly compete for work.

When employers engage in tax fraud, workers can't collect unemployment when a job finishes and they get laid off.

"When I got hired for my old job I didn't realize that I had an option to not be treated this way," said Manny Domingues, an NERCC member. Prior to joining the union, Manny experienced worker exploitation and tax fraud methods though employee misclassification.

He noted, that "Standing up in unison against this behavior means it will stop. The public is being robbed of tax money. If they put pressure on local representatives and developers, we have a real chance to make this right for workers, for locals, and for funding public services in Lynn."

Together, nearly 100 attending NERCC members and locals called for a unified front against this insidious activity by demonstrating with picket signs and banners.

Representatives also spoke about next steps for protecting taxpayers and workers in Lynn. The Lynn City Council signed an ordinance to protect against wage fraud in March of 2018.

"As a union organizer, I've seen tax fraud up close when talking to workers. Now I get to help the people of Lynn see just how pervasive this issue is and make sure they know they have rights. I'm so proud that our leaders here have spoken out against this. Now the hope is that other cities and towns in the North Shore will step up and do the same," said Justin Anshewitz, an NERCC Organizer and a member of the City of Lynn Wage Theft Committee.

During the week of the April 15, national tax deadline, additional events will be held by other regional councils of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America. Together these groups are working to elevate the conversation around construction industry tax fraud and the associated costs to American taxpayers and their communities.

STUDENTS USE VOICES FOR SELF-DEFENSE

WINTHROP - If you walked through the halls of Winthrop High School, you may have heard a lot of shouts, as several senior girls were learning to use their voices during a free self-defense class taught by the Winthrop Police Department.

The four-hour introductory course was designed to empower females and included a presentation on common situations, interactive lessons that taught escape methods and techniques to deter an aggressor, and videos depicting real-life scenarios.

"I loved taking this class, and I felt like it gave me a solid foundation not only for being safe in college but really in any environment," said senior Faith Hunt. "I wanted to get a better understanding of how to protect myself against aggressors in all situations and be able to predict danger before it happens. Every woman or man should take a self-defense class, because unfortunately, we never know when we might need it."

The class emphasized the importance of situational awareness and encouraged participants to free themselves from any type of distractions that could cause them to get caught off guard.

"This class is to empower the girls who are going off to college soon and even those who are not," said School Resource Officer (SRO), Detective Dawne Armitstead. "The purpose of this course is to give some minimal tools and self-defense skills in case you should encounter a dangerous situation and to prevent a dangerous situation from getting out of control."

Both girls and instructors suited up in protective gear and engaged in real-life scenarios, where they practiced punches, holds, hits, kicks, and letting go of the fear of using their voices.

"It's dear to our hearts to teach young people how to be safe on the street," said Kevin Janeilis, a personal safety self-defense instructor and former defense and tactical training instructor at the Suffolk County Sheriff's Department. "We want this to be a positive experience. We want to teach situational awareness, get students empowered, and help them gain confidence, and have fun doing it."

The class was led by SRO Detective Dawne Armitstead, Officer Michael Connolly, and retired Captain of Suffolk County Sheriff's Department and Winthrop Harbor Master Kevin Janeilis, as part of a police youth partnership. Winthrop Police was awarded a grant through the State Shannon Grant program to improve and build trusting relationships between police and the youth of the community. This is the first of several police-youth partnership events that will be conducted throughout the year.

Another self-defense class will be offered before the end of the school year. Interested students should contact: darmitstead@town.winthrop.ma.us.

items that do not fit conveniently in a standard, city-issued trash receptacle. Items at any time classified as Bulky Items are subject to change. See also Specialty Items. For disposal procedures, see 8.06.060 (a) and (b). Commercial Trash: Any of the following: i. Trash generated as a result of carrying out a business; ii. trash generated by a residential building containing more than six residential units as listed in the records of the Revere City Assessor; iii. lawn and garden clippings from normal maintenance of the foregoing premises; and iv. trash produced by the customers of a commercial establishment. See 8.06.050 regarding disposal. Commercial Trash Cart: A receptacle, color tan, issued by the City of Revere to all qualifying business properties in exchange for an annual fee determined by the Superintendent of Public Works to be used for the storage of trash and exclusively for the placement thereof for curbside collection of commercial trash as may be determined by the Superintendent of Public Works. See also "receptacle" For trash commercial trash collection requirements, see 8.06.050 et seq. Construction debris: Items and waste produced and accumulated as a result of building construction, demolition, renovation, repairs, and or activities related to any of the foregoing, notwithstanding that such activity occurs at a residential property, and as such is not considered residential trash and not eligible to be collected at any time either during curbside collection or dropoff at the City Yard. Construction debris includes, but is not limited to, sheet rock, blue board, lumber, sinks, toilets, cabinets, paneling, storm doors, storm windows, doors, wood, sliding doors, power equipment, hand held equipment, rugs and carpeting. See further 8.06.060 (e) Curbside Collection: The retrieval and removal, by a hauler under contract with the City of Revere, of trash placed in trash carts furnished to all single-family residences and all residential buildings containing six or fewer dwelling units in accordance with the requirements of this Title; curbside collection may be further regulated by the Board of Health and the Department of Public Works. For trash collection procedures, see 8.06.030 et seq. Department of Public Works: The City of Revere Department of Public Works. Food Establishment: A business that stores, prepares, packages, serves or provides food for people to eat, and includes a restaurant, grocery market, convenience store, food stand or food truck, schools and other institutions, hotels, bakeries and vending machines. Garbage: Waste material derived from animal or vegetable food waste, kitchen waste, or food scraps that will decompose or decay. For the purpose of this Title the term "garbage" may be interchanged with the words "trash" or "rubbish." See also: Trash; rubbish. Medical Waste: Any waste that is generated at health care facilities such as hospitals, clinics, physician's offices, dental practices, blood banks, veterinary facilities, and laboratories in the diagnosis, treatment, or immunization of human beings or animals, in research pertaining thereto, or in the production or testing of biologicals. Medical waste includes but is not limited to blood-soaked bandages, culture dishes and other glassware, discarded surgical gloves, discarded discarded needles used to give shots or draw blood (e.g., medical sharps), cultures, stocks, swabs used to inoculate, cultures, removed body organs (e.g., tonsils, appendices, limbs) and discarded lancets. Mercury Products: All products to which mercury has been intentionally added, such as thermometers with silver liquid, thermostats with silver liquid in a glass cylinder, button batteries, blood pressure cuffs, neon lamps, electrical switches, bilge pumps and sump pumps and items containing mercury; these are hazardous waste and shall not be discarded in regular waste disposal. Products to which mercury has been added are labeled by the manufacturer and require special handling at the end of useful life. Overflow trash: Trash that exceeds the capacity of a single Trash Cart. For collection and disposal procedures see Section 8.06.031 Plastic: High density polyethylene (HDPE) and polyethylene terephthalate (PET) plastics and other plastics as may be determined by the Superintendent of Public Works. Receptacle: A container used for the storage and collection of trash or recyclable materials. All receptacles must be made of metal or other durable, rodent-proof material. See section 8.06.020 (b) Recyclable paper: Paper that is clean, containing no stain, foreign substance, or food waste. Recyclable material: Cardboard, glass bottles and jars rinsed clean, clean aluminum, leaf yard waste, plastic containers, metals, recyclable paper, and other such materials. Recyclable materials shall also include any such materials as covered by the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection or the Superintendent of Public Works. For procedures relating to the preparation and collection of recyclable material see 8.06.040 et seq. See 310 CMR 19.017 for DEP waste bans. Recycling Bin: A receptacle, color brown, issued by the City of Revere to be used exclusively for the storage of recyclable materials and the placement thereof for curbside collection. See 8.06.040 Restaurant: Within the context of this Chapter, a restaurant is an establishment that provides service, food and beverages to customers as its regular and customary operation. Rubbish: See "Trash" Single Stream Recycling: The method where all recyclable materials including paper, glass, plastic, metal, aluminum, and corrugated cardboard are placed, commingled, not contained in a plastic bag, and not necessarily separated, in a Recycling bin and collected in a curbside collection process that is separate from the curbside collection process for trash. See 8.06.040 et seq. Specialty Items: Specialty items include generally, but are not limited to: anti-freeze, batteries, computer monitors, fluorescent light bulbs, mercury thermometers, nickel-cadmium batteries, paint cans (with original labels), propane tanks, televisions, tires (without rims), and waste oil. Items at any time classified as Specialty Items are subject to change. For disposal procedures, see 8.06.060 (f) Storage: The placement of trash in a proper receptacle at all times that such receptacle is not placed for curbside collection in accordance with the requirements of this Title. Storage refers, generally, to the days that trash is contained in a receptacle during the days that precede the day of curbside collection. See Section 8.06.020 for requirements. Trash: All household solid waste, including garbage, that is not defined as recyclable material. The meaning of the term "trash" incorporates the term "refuse" or "rubbish" and for the purpose of this Title the word "Trash" may be interchanged with the word "garbage" or "rubbish." The term "trash" does not include yard waste, recyclable material, household hazardous waste, construction debris, electronics, and metals, or specialty items as defined herein. Trash Cart: A receptacle, color blue, issued by the City of Revere to all residential properties in the City containing six or fewer residential units therein, to be used for the storage of trash and exclusively for the placement thereof for curbside collection of residential trash except as may be determined by the Superintendent of Public Works. See also "receptacle" For trash collection procedures, see 8.06.030 et seq. See also "Commercial Trash Cart" Trash Stop: A property eligible for Curbside collection. Waste ban: State prohibition on landfill and combustion of easy-to-recycle and toxic materials. See 312 CMR 19.017 Yard waste: Clippings of grass, weeds, hedges, shrubbery, plants or plant clippings, garden waste, leaves and brush. Further, the product of tree or shrubbery pruning no longer than four feet and greater than three inches in diameter; and any materials as further defined as "Yard waste" or "Leaf" by the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection or the Superintendent of Public Works. Items at any time classified as yard waste are subject to change. For collection procedures see 8.06.060 (e) White Goods: Household appliances, whether of the color white or otherwise, such as washing machines, clothes dryers, refrigerators, stoves, hot water tanks, freezers, air conditioners, window fans, freestanding fans, and dishwashers. Items at any time classified as White Goods are subject to change. For collection procedures see 8.06.060 (c) and (d) Section 8.06.020 - Requirements for the Storage of Trash A. Receptacles used for the storage of trash shall be physically placed prior to the weekly curbside collection at a location as near to the rear yard or side yard of said residence as and as far out of public view as practicable, and firmly secured from animal intrusion. B. The placement on the ground of plastic bags of any kind containing trash is prohibited unless otherwise specifically authorized by the Department of Public Works for a designated purpose. C. Every receptacle used for the storage of trash shall be watertight and rodent-proof with a tight-fitting cover, made of metal or other durable, rodent-proof material. Containers other than City-issued trash carts that are used for storage may be placed for curbside collection only during collection periods for overflow trash as are designated herein. Any container not issued by the City of Revere that is used for storage but placed out for curbside collection during designated overflow collection times must be rodent proof and covered. See Section 8.06.031 regarding overflow trash. D. Trash carts issued by the City of Revere and bearing the City seal, or trash containers as described in sections (a) and (c) are permitted for the storage of all forms of trash. See also 8.06.030 (c) E. The owner of any dwelling, or the association of unit owners of any condominium building, shall be responsible to assure that proper receptacles are used for the disposal and collection of trash, and the obligation to comply with the provisions of this chapter is non-delegable by lease or other written arrangement. See further 8.06.070 Section 8.06.031 - Overflow Trash Handling; Holiday Exceptions A. Overflow Trash, Curbside collection: At the first curbside trash collection following the six respective holidays listed in this subsection (i), overflow trash may be placed for curbside collection, provided however that it is contained within a proper receptacle as described in 8.06.020(C). i. The six designated weeks are the weeks of New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day (Fourth of July), Labor Day, Thanksgiving, and Christmas. ii. The Superintendent of the Department of Public Works may designate other days for curbside collection of overflow trash as deemed necessary. B. Overflow Trash, Drop-off at City Yard: On the second and fourth Saturday of every month, residents may bring overflow trash to the City Yard facility as designated by the Department of Public Works for disposal. i. Overflow trash delivered to the City Yard for disposal in accordance with this section may be contained in sturdy plastic bags or other suitable container. ii. The Department of Public Works may establish a reasonable fee for the disposal of overflow trash in accordance with this section. Section 8.06.032 - Care of Trash Carts; Additional Trash Carts and Exchange of Trash Carts A. The occupant and owner of each such dwelling where a Trash Cart is issued, or who purchases an additional Trash Cart, shall: i. take all proper and necessary steps to protect the Trash Cart against misuse, loss, and damage and shall not deface or mark the Trash Cart with paint or other permanent marking. The City may require any such resident to pay for the replacement of a Trash Cart which has incurred damage due to misuse or neglect. ii. notify the police department and the Department of Public Works or the Revere Constituent Services department in the event of theft or loss of a Trash Cart. iii. leave the Trash Cart for use by the subsequent resident in the event they vacate the premises and relocate to a residence outside the City of Revere except as may be provided in subsection (b)(ii) of this section. iv. at all times keep the assigned Trash Cart at the assigned premises. B. Additional Trash Carts may be acquired at the request of the property owner through procedures established by the Department of Public Works. A fee for use of the Trash Cart shall be assessed in an amount determined by the Department of Public Works. i. In the event that a resident who has obtained an additional Trash Cart in accordance with this section shall vacate the premises and relocate outside the City of Revere, the additional Trash Cart must remain at the original premises. ii. In the event that a resident who has obtained an additional Trash Cart shall vacate the premises and relocate to an address within the City of Revere, the resident may take the additional Trash Cart to the new location in the City of Revere only upon prior notification to the Department of Public Works for the purpose of updating data to track the Trash Cart location. Section 8.06.040 - Mandatory Recycling; Curbside Collection in Single Stream Recycling; Overflow Recycling A. The procedures and requirements for the placement and disposal of Recyclable materials is mandatory for all properties in the City unless otherwise specifically exempted by the Department of Public Works. B. The City shall provide one Recycling bin, as defined, to every dwelling property containing six residential units or less and receiving municipal trash disposal service; one Recycling bin shall be issued per residential unit. C. Recyclable materials must be placed in a city-issued Recycling bin. D. Overflow Recycling. Overflow recycling may be placed in a rodent-proof covered container clearly marked "Recycling" and placed adjacent to the Recycling bin. The Department of Public Works may from time to time authorize other receptacles specifically approved for the curbside collection of Recyclable materials. E. Recyclable materials must be placed for curbside collection in accordance with the requirements set forth in this Chapter. When materials that do not qualify as recyclable materials, or are not prepared in accordance with this section, are placed in a Recycling bin, no curbside collection of the recycling bin will occur. F. The Department of Public Works shall establish a schedule for curbside collection of recyclable materials. Section 8.06.041 - Procedures for the Placement of Recyclable materials for curbside collection A. Every household using the municipal trash collection services shall separate from regular trash all newspaper, recyclable paper, corrugated cardboard, aluminum, steel and tin cans, acceptable plastic containers, and glass containers made of clear, green or brown glass from the trash before depositing same for collection. B. Materials as listed in subsection (a) and so separated from ordinary trash shall be prepared in the following manner and placed directly into a recycling bin to be placed at curbside in accordance with the collection schedule established by the Department of Public Works. The materials need not be separated from each other and shall not be encased in plastic bags. i. Newspaper/Recyclable paper. Newspapers and recyclable paper must be placed in a paper (not plastic) bag, a cardboard box, or tied into a bundle. ii. Glass. All clear and colored glass bottles and jars must be rinsed and have metal and plastic lids, rings and wrappings and labels removed before being placed into the Recycling bin. iii. Plastic Containers. All acceptable plastic containers must be rinsed clean and all metal or plastic caps and rings must be removed. iv. Metal Containers. All steel and mixed metal cans must be rinsed clean with labels removed. v. Aluminum Cans. All deposit and non-deposit aluminum cans must be rinsed clean with labels removed. vi. Corrugated Cardboard. Heavy cardboard, preferably flattened and broken into sheets no longer than two and one-half feet by three feet. C. The practice of "scavenging" (i.e. removing recyclable materials placed for curbside collection) without prior authorization from the Department of Public Works is prohibited. Section 8.06.050 - Commercial Trash A. The owner of a commercial interest with a location in the City of Revere, and the Owner of every residential dwelling containing more than six residential units, shall be responsible for the storage, disposal and collection of trash, and such trash shall not be eligible for curbside collection, except as otherwise provided in this Chapter or may be established from time to time by the Department of Public Works. B. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (A), a commercial interest that is not a Food Establishment, and does not generate medical or hazardous waste, and is not in the principal business of retail sales, and that generates each week only an amount of commercial trash that will be contained in a single Commercial Trash cart, may apply to the Department of Public Works for municipal curbside collection, and subject to the discretion of the Superintendent of Public Works and upon the payment before January 1 of an annual fee determined by the Superintendent, may receive a Commercial Trash Cart (color tan) and receive weekly municipal curbside collection. C. A Commercial interest that qualifies for a Commercial trash cart in accordance with paragraph (B) shall not be eligible for an additional Commercial Trash cart, and only one Commercial Trash cart shall serve a single commercial interest. The provisions of Section 8.06.031 regarding overflow trash shall not apply to Commercial interests that qualify for a Commercial trash cart. D. The City of Revere maintains ownership of all Commercial Trash carts and the Department of Public Works shall retrieve any cart for which the required annual fee is unpaid. E. Private parties, firms or corporations may collect ordinary commercial and/or extraordinary commercial and industrial trash provided that such collection shall be made only when said trash is enclosed in metal or rigid containers that are leak-proof and can be contained beneath a lid or appropriate cover. F. Every vehicle used to carry commercial trash shall be subject to supervision or the Department of Public Works and be suited for hauling trash in accord with any applicable regulations, shall be equipped with a cover or roof or lid sufficient to keep contents covered at all times during transport, shall be leak-proof, and shall contain all trash within a fixed enclosed area. Section 8.06.060 - Disposal of Bulky Waste Items, White Goods, Yard Waste and Specialty Items; Hazardous waste; Fees A. Bulky Items. Curbside Collection Bulky items as defined may be placed for curbside collection on the City's e-permitting system made no later than two hours before the close of business on the day preceding the scheduled waste collection day. No white good items shall be picked up without a specifically scheduled pick-up date. D. White Goods. Disposal at City Yard. White goods may be brought for disposal to the City Yard between 7:00 a.m. and noon on the second and fourth Saturday of each month and disposed of after payment of a fee as established by the Department of Public Works. E. Yard Waste. Yard waste as defined may be placed for curbside collection provided that it is separated from regular trash and recyclable items and placed in recyclable paper bags or open plastic barrels for collection twice per month during the months of April through November according to a schedule established by the Department of Public Works. F. Specialty Items. Specialty items as defined shall not be placed at any time for municipal curbside collection and may only be disposed of by delivery to the City Yard on the last Saturday of each month from 7 a.m. to 12 noon and upon payment of a fee as established by the Superintendent of Department of Public Works. G. Construction Debris. The owner of property shall be solely responsible to arrange for and cause the removal and disposal of construction debris, as defined, from any location in the city. Construction debris is ineligible for municipal curbside collection or disposal at the city yard. H. Hazardous materials; Mercury-added products: All products to which mercury has been intentionally added, such as thermometers with silver liquid, thermostats with silver liquid in a glass cylinder, button batteries, blood pressure cuffs, neon lamps, electrical switches, bilge pumps and sump pumps and items containing mercury must be taken to a Mercury Collection site or must be disposed of as Specialty Items in accordance with this section and may only be disposed of by delivery to the City Yard on the last Saturday of each month from 7 a.m. to 12 noon and upon payment of a fee as established by the Superintendent of Department of Public Works. I. Fees associated with the disposal of Bulky Items, White Goods, Yard Waste, and Specialty Items, whether through curbside collection via e-permitting or by drop-off at the City Yard as prescribed in this section, shall be established by the Superintendent of the Department of Public Works and may reflect a discount for the disposal of certain items by persons over the age of 60. J. Any person who arranges for a privately-contracted hauler to remove any such Bulky Item, White Goods, Yard Waste, and Special Items from an address within the City of Revere shall place the item for removal no more than 24 hours before such removal and shall notify the Department of Inspectional Services of the address and scheduled time of removal. Failure to do so may result in a fine. Section 8.06.070 - Enforcement A. Chapter 8.06 shall be enforced by the Department of Inspectional Services and is further subject to the general law enforcement authority of the Revere Police Department. B. The owner of any dwelling, or the Association of unit owners of any condominium building, or any Commercial interest that is in violation of the provisions of Sections 8.06.020 through 8.06.060 shall be subject to the penalties set forth in Article III of Title 1, Chapter 1.12 the Revised Ordinances of the City of Revere (Noncriminal Dispositions of Violations--Mass. G.L. ch. 40U s. 1 et seq.), which is incorporated by reference into this section. C. Only items authorized or approved for curbside collection in accordance with Sections 8.06.020 through 8.06.060 of this Chapter will be removed at curbside collection. Items left for curbside collection that are not placed for collection in compliance with this chapter and do not otherwise comply with the provisions of this chapter and are not removed shall subject the property owner to fines as set forth in this section and Title 1, Chapter 1.12 of the Revere Revised Ordinances. D. The placement for curbside collection of trash, recyclable materials, bulky items, white goods, or specialty items that are not eligible for curbside collection in accordance with the Chapter, or that are improperly commingled with such items that are eligible for curbside collection, will not be removed by the municipal waste collection contractor, and such placement shall constitute a violation of this Chapter. A copy of the aforementioned proposed ordinance amendment is on file and available for public inspection in the Office of the City Clerk, Revere City Hall, Revere, Massachusetts 02151, Monday through Thursday from 8:15 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. and Friday 8:15 A.M. to 12:15 P.M. Do you like growing fruits and vegetables? Are you interested in urban farming or want to know what it is?

In the city, we currently have two community gardens, with 45 plots for residents, and access to a Farmers Market during the summer and early fall. What would it look like to expand urban farming opportunities in Revere?

If you enjoy gardening, green spaces, and access to fresh food, then we invite you to attend the first urban farming committee meeting where we will chat about this topic and together create a vision for urban farming in Revere.
