Rep. Vincent announces intention to not seek re-election

State Representative RoseLee Vincent announced Tuesday that she will not be a candidate for re-election in the House of Representatives this fall.

Vincent has been the state representative for six years in the Sixteenth Suffolk District that includes portions of Revere, Chelsea, and Saugus.

Local officials lauded Vincent's outstanding record of service to Revere residents.

"It is a pleasure to work side-by-side with Representative Vincent on issues that affect our district, and I consider her a true friend," said Speaker of the House Robert A. DeLeo. "A smart, engaged, and dedicated leader who is passionate about environmental issues, RoseLee has done so much good on behalf of her community including her unwavering advocacy for the preservation and protection of Revere Beach. My colleagues and I will miss her in the House of Representatives. I wish her and her family all the best for a healthy and happy future."

State Rep. RoseLee Vincent

George Anzuoni to retire after 42 years of distinguished service

George Anzuoni, one of the city's most legendary public officials who has served with distinction for the past 42 years, will retire as Revere director of finance, collector, and treasurer on Feb. 24.

Former Mayor George Colella appointed Anzuoni to the position of city treasurer on Feb. 22, 1978. He also served in the administrations of former Mayors Bob Haas, Thomas Ambrosino, and Dan Rizzo and current Mayor Brian Arrigo. He is the longest-serving city treasurer in Massachusetts history.

"It's just the time to do it," said Anzuoni. "I want to spend more time with my family. And there are different projects that I want to get involved with."

Anzuoni, a lifelong Revere resident and a graduate of Boston College who also studied at Babson and Harvard, re-established the city's bond rating in 1979. After changing the city's banking relationship to a Boston-based bank, presiding over other innovations in the office, and collaborating with the city, Anzuoni has helped build it in to one of the top bond ratings (Standard and Poor's AA With a Positive Outlook) today.

"I'm very proud of that," said Anzuoni humbly.

Revere School Committee votes to not reverse disciplinary action against Whelan teachers

Last week the Revere School Committee opted at this time not to reverse disciplinary actions taken by Revere School Superintendent Dianne Kelly against Whelan School teachers for allegedly incorrectly administering the federal school breakfast program.

The School Committee previously held an executive session hearing earlier this month where the Whelan School teachers and the Revere Teachers Association (RTA) made their case on why the committee should reduce the severity of the discipline for all the teachers that filed grievances.

However, the issue is still ongoing and some hope a resolution that works for all parties can be reached in the near future.

The only School Committee member to release a statement after last week's meeting was Anthony D'Ambrosio.

"I have been asked by the media, parents, and friends about my view on the Whelan School Teacher dispute that has boiled over into the press," said D'Ambrosio in his statement. "While I believe that the Superintendent of Schools has a fantastic vision for the Revere Public School System, and I am broadly supportive of many of her policy goals and initiatives, I stand with the working teachers of Revere on the Whelan School issue. Over the course of the past several months, the issue of teacher morale in our schools has been particularly acute. Dozens of parents and teachers have raised their concern to me. As a School Department, we need to do a better job communicating with each other, mediating our differences, and working together for the betterment of the children of Revere."

D'Ambrosio said while he believes that the organized dismissal of school policy regarding the breakfast count was misguided, he also believes that the disciplinary action taken by Superintendent Kelly was far too harsh.

"The best path forward for our system requires collaboration, compromise, and enhanced morale," he said. "In an effort to foster better morale and future collaboration, I side with the teachers of Revere on this matter."

Mayor Arrigo announces new way to pay the meter

Mayor Brian M. Arrigo announced this week that drivers in Revere can now use the Passport Parking app to pay for on-street parking on Broadway and Shirley Avenue. The smartphone mobile app, Passport Parking, enables users to digitally pay for parking without using a meter.

The Passport Parking app makes parking simple. Users download the free app and create an account with their vehicle and payment information and can then start a parking session. When time expires, users are notified and have the option to extend the session without having to return to their vehicle.

SEAL OF APPROVAL

The State Police-Revere Barracks received a call last week reporting that a seal was potentially stranded on Winthrop Beach. Massachusetts State Troopers Carlo Mastromattei and Pasquale Zollo responded to do a well-being check and located the seal resting on the rocks. The animal did not appear to be injured, sick or in distress. After consulting with Winthrop's Animal Control Officer, who soon arrived on scene as well, the decision was made to leave the seal alone, as he would most likely return to the ocean soon. The Troopers checked on him, and sure enough, a few hours later, the beautiful animal made his way back into the friendly waters off the Winthrop coast.

FAMILY BENEFITS FROM MVES CAREGIVER SUPPORT PROGRAM

Caring for a person with Alzheimer's disease or dementia at home is a difficult task and can become overwhelming at times. Each day brings new challenges as the caregiver copes with changing levels of ability and new patterns of behavior. It is a demanding responsibility.

Caregivers work hard year round to provide assistance to their loved ones. Devoting themselves physically and emotionally, caregivers take on enormous duties in bringing comfort to a friend or family member. Normal everyday tasks such as dressing, bathing, eating, and the basic activities of daily living often become difficult to manage for both the person in need of care and the caregiver. And, unfortunately, there is no perfect instruction manual.

"It is important for caregivers to reach out for help," explains Mystic Valley Elder Services (MVES) Caregivers Support Coordinator Kathy Learned. "Caregiving is very difficult to do on your own. They need to recognize that they need and deserve a break from their caregiving responsibilities. Many times, caregivers benefit from talking with others in similar situations."

Nikki, 50, of Malden, is caregiver to her husband Paul, 56, who has had early onset Alzheimer's for more than two years. She attends Mystic Valley Elder Services' (MVES) Family Caregivers Support Group. She and Paul have three young sons just finishing school and Nikki is a nurse and works nights. "Finances are tight," says Nikki, with two kids in college and Paul having to leave his job due to the disease. "It can be difficult and very emotional," she says.

Paul is getting direct care including mental stimulation and physical care at an adult day health center three times a week, which MVES is helping him receive, and he is very happy there. Transportation is also provided through MVES to his day care services. During this time, Nikki finds time for herself to get a haircut and do errands. She is thankful for the support of her family, such as her sons who live at home, her mom, and Paul's dad, who stays with him during the week. They have also hired a companion who takes walks with Paul at night when she is working.

"Mystic Valley has helped us out tremendously," said Nikki. "They have been fabulous, whether it is the support group where you talk to people going through the same situation or troubleshooting direct problems that are specific to our age and issue. Our journey is a bit different due to our age and finances, the fact that we have children in their 20's and also taking care of our aging parents all while I work."

Mystic Valley Elder Services has a range of accessible and affordable caregiver services through its Family Caregiver Support Program, such as one-on-one assistance, family meetings, community resources, caregiver support groups and peer support, with many offered at no or low cost to caregivers. When the caregiver support coordinator meets with a new caregiver, she creates an individualized action plan. These services are provided to anyone in MVES' service area caring for an adult age 60 or older or an adult of any age with Alzheimer's disease or a related memory disorder.

REVERE RESIDENT HONORED AT STATE HOUSE

Speaker Robert A. DeLeo honored Revere resident Randall Modestini at the State House on Feb. 11 during the annual Black Excellence on the Hill event, hosted by the Massachusetts Black and Latino Legislative Caucus. Lawmakers honored Mr. Modestini for his work at city hall including the launch of the city's 311 system. Mayor Arrigo lauds Anzuoni's service to Revere

Mayor Brian Arrigo praised City Director of Finance, Collector, and Treasurer George Anzuoni, who announced that he will be retiring from his position on Feb. 24. The following is his statement:

City Hall will not be the same without George Anzuoni. For nearly half a century, George has devoted his talents and his energy to keeping the City of Revere on solid financial footing. He has been the ultimate protector of the City's treasury; he has been our vigilant Collector of taxes who made sure that everyone paid their fair share. He has been an invaluable resource to me and to those who preceded me in the Mayor's office. His institutional knowledge about public finance has helped guide our City through difficult financial times and has helped our city thrive during robust times. Our city's bond rating is reflected in his careful oversight of Revere's finances. Above all, George has been more than a colleague to the people he worked with during all those years; he was a friend, concerned for everyone's well-being and always ready to be supportive when he could. We will miss him around City Hall, and we wish him health and happiness as he steps into a new phase of his life.

“RoseLee Vincent always served the City of Revere from her heart,” said Mayor Brian Arrigo. “Her pride in Revere and her deep roots in our community motivated her every action as a state representative. Her objective, always, was to champion initiatives that made Revere a better city and she was never shy about confronting those whose ideas or actions could threaten Revere’s interests. She has been a strident advocate for Revere Beach and we know that she will continue to be a guardian for our precious waterfront long after she steps down from elected office.”

Councillor-at-Large Jessica Giannino said, “Rep. RoseLee Vincent’s strong leadership on Beacon Hill will be missed. She has accomplished a great deal in her time as state representative – but I believe that her strenuous opposition to the toxic Wheelabrator Saugus incinerator has been the hallmark of her tenure. The impact she has made in the district is a lasting tribute to her hard work. I wish her all the best as she turns the page in to the next chapter of her life and thank her for the decades of service to our city and to the 16th Suffolk District.”

City Council President Patrick Keefe said, “I am thankful for her many years of service to the residents in her district. While I’m sad to hear she’s leaving, I am confident that it will open doors to a capable successor that will served with renewed energy and passion for the district.”

Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino, who is an aide to Rep. Vincent, said, “The City of Revere will be losing one of its strongest advocates as the sun sets on Representative Vincent’s tenure in elected office,” said Ward 6 Councillor (and Vincent aide) Richard Serino. “I am forever grateful for the opportunity she gave me to work in her office, and to learn from her. She has been the best elected official to have as a mentor because she is a leader who fights hard for what she believes is morally right, and she always follows her conscience and gut. When it came to the Saugus incinerator and unlined ash landfill, she dared to raise awareness in a way that no other elected official had ever done in recent memory. Her integrity, strong moral compass and her boldness in standing up to protect her constituents has been refreshing to watch, and should be emulated by all of us who were elected to serve the people.”

Former Mayor and Councillor-at-Large Dan Rizzo said, “Rep. Vincent has served the district in a very professional and effective manner. We have been very fortunate to have her representing us for as long as she did, both in an elected capacity and in years past as the assistant to Rep. Kathi Reinstein and Rep. William Reinstein. I want to wish RoseLee and her family well.”

Rep. Vincent sent the following statement to her constituents in making her announcement that she will not seek re-election:

Dear Family, Friends and Neighbors:

It is with mixed emotions that I announce I have decided to not seek re-election to the Massachusetts House of Representatives in the fall of 2020. I have given it a lot of thought, and have not come to this decision lightly.

I first started working in the State House thirty-one years ago. When I began my career in public service, Ronald Reagan was President, a gallon of gas was $1.12 and the medium household income was $37,000. As a legislative staffer in 1989, I never envisioned that twenty-five years later, I would run for elected office myself. And yet in March of 2014, I did just that. At age 67, I threw my name into the mix in a special election, and with the help and support of so many friends and family, I won.

Over these past six years, I have been so fortunate to represent the people of Sixteenth Suffolk District. It has truly been my honor to serve you, the people of Revere, Chelsea and Saugus as your State Representative, and I am forever grateful to you for your love, support and friendship over the years – but particularly throughout these last six years. You are the reason I got here. You are the reason I have stayed here. And you are the reason that leaving here is so bittersweet.

Thank you to my colleagues in government who have helped guide me, and whose friendship I deeply appreciate. First and foremost, to Speaker of the House Bob DeLeo – thank you for the confidence you have placed in me during my time in the House. As a leader, you have shown me what it means to serve the district we share. As a friend you have offered sound counsel, a guiding hand and years of great memories. To my friends Senator Boncore, Representative Ryan, Senator DiDomenico, Senator Crighton, Representative Wong and Mayor Arrigo – thank you for the team effort, hard work and the true collaboration over these years. Additionally, a special thank you to former Revere Mayors Tom Ambrosino and Dan Rizzo for your friendship and support - I am forever grateful to you both.

To my legislative aide, Councilor Ricky Serino who does an amazing job in my office and is a great advocate for the city of Revere – thank you from the bottom of my heart. As I am winding down my political career, you are beginning yours. I will watch with pride as you soar in the next chapters of your life.

To my family – especially my husband Richie, and my daughters Wendy Fox and Robin Ginsberg - I would not have been successful without your support, encouragement and love. To my five grandchildren – Hallie, Max, Ben, Sam and Zach – you make me proud each day. I hope I have done the same for you. To the entire Vincent Family – most notably our Matriarch Millie Vincent, Georganne and Ron O’Connor, and Bethanne and Joe Cardarelli – you are not just ‘in-laws,’ - you are my friends, and I love you all. Also to Joe Giannino and Jeff Turco, both of whom I consider sons – you have given me much advice, help and love, along this journey – from the bottom of my heart, thank you.

But most of all I would like to once again thank you, the people of Revere, Chelsea and Saugus, for the confidence you placed in me these last 6 years. To Rose Napolitano and the girls, and all of my seniors - thank you! To all of you who made phone calls, wrote “Dear Friend” cards, helped with Team Vincent’s campaigns - thank you! I am forever humbled and grateful for everything you have done to make these years successful.

Although I will not seek re-election in the fall, I still have another year left in my term, and I will continue to be your voice on Beacon Hill. This is not a farewell letter – not yet. Rest assured, I am not going anywhere – there is still much to be done, and I will keep working for you, the people of the Sixteenth Suffolk District, until the very last day of my term. And then, if you are looking for me, you will find me somewhere on a beach – most of the time, on my beloved Revere Beach enjoying walks along the Boulevard with my husband.

As I reflect on my tenure in the Legislature, and on my thirty-plus year career in the State House, I am grateful for the relationships I have made, and proud of the work we have done to make the communities of Revere, Chelsea and Saugus even better. God willing, I look forward to the next chapter of my life, and I am excited to have the opportunity to spend more quality time with Richie, my family and my friends. Thank you all again so much for making these years some of the most proud, memorable and fun years of my life. It has been a heck of a ride!

With Deepest Gratitude,
RoseLee Vincent

FALL ELECTION DRAWING MUCH SPECULATION

By Cary Shuman

Revere political observers are looking ahead to this fall’s election following the decision by State Rep. RoseLee Vincent to not seek re-election.

The names of two popular members of the City Council have emerged as potential candidates, City Council President Patrick Keefe and Councillor-at-Large Jessica Giannino. Keefe won re-election to his Ward 4 Councillor’s seat without opposition. He was elected unanimously as the Council President in January.

“I would be interested but will need to take some time to discuss with my family and decide what’s the best path for us and Revere,” said Keefe.

Giannino topped the ticket in the councillor-at-large election in November. She has previously served as Council President.

Giannino said in a statement, “Today isn’t about me. Rep. Vincent has earned the accolades and honor of having this day be about her and her years of tireless service. In the coming days I will discuss this with my friends and family and will decide if running for state representative is the best way for me to serve.”

Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino, who is a legislative aide to Rep. RoseLee Vincent, who was being considered as a possible candidate had the following to say: “I am honored that the residents of Ward 6 elected me as their ward councillor in November. And as a new city councillor, I fully intend on being 100 percent committed and focused on the issues and the people of West Revere and North Revere and as such, I will not be a candidate for state representative.”

The Journal reached out to former Mayor and Councillor-at-Large Dan Rizzo, who said he wished Rep. Vincent well, but he declined to comment when asked specifically about his potential run for the seat.

Todd Taylor, a Chelsea city councillor, is also reportedly being urged by friends and supporters to consider a run for the seat. Taylor was elected District 1 councillor in the Chelsea election in November.

zuoni has overseen billions of dollars in the city treasury. He has been involved in 42 city budgets. He brought computerization to the city’s financial department.

“We were at the very cutting edge of computerization in the financial areas,” said Anzuoni.

He had a key role in the city’s implementation of a regional police-and-fire emergency call center through his lengthy negotiations for a contract for new software.

Anzuoni also changed the way in which taxes were collected by the city. In 1991 when he became the collector, he instituted “a very aggressive” tax collection program, helping to lessen the city’s $5.1 million deficit at the time. Other communities began to utilize Anzuoni’s tax title collection system for their cities’ delinquent taxes. He also developed a new tax title program for the foreclosure of properties and launched the public property auction program in the city.

For years Revere has been cited for its excellent investment practices by the state, notably in the 1980s in the Inspector General’s report.

Anzuoni takes considerable pride in his work in helping to finance hundreds of millions of dollars in city projects including new schools.

When he became director of finance in 2004, a number of offices were put under his direction, including the city auditor’s office, the purchasing office, the assessors’ office, the water billing department, and MIS department. He instituted an efficient, automatic water meter reading program throughout the city six years ago.

What is George Anzuoni most proud of in his illustrious career?

“I am most proud that I have always been a servant of this community and to the residents,” said Anzuoni. “I thank the citizens of this community for their support. I’m very grateful that I had the opportunity for many years to serve the city as a public servant. At all times, I adhered to the laws of Massachusetts that governed tax collections. However, I tried to always be fair and compassionate with the taxpayers.”

Looking back at some of the financial challenges the city has faced such as the institution of Property 2 ½ in the 1980s, major cuts in state aid, and 3C cuts in the early 2000s, Anzuoni remembers a particular instance when the city was seeking to cut services late in the fiscal year.

“There was a citizens’ petition to cut the budget by $4.2 million,” recalled Anzuoni. “We were looking at drastic cuts in our police, fire, public works, and school departments. I found the funding in other areas and we were able to present it to the City Council and we didn’t have to cut a dime.”

Anzuoni said there was also a difficult period in the late 1980s when the city had to lay off 25 employees.

“We worked to get all the employees back,” said Anzuoni. “We’re not here to cut people from their positions. We’re here to make the city grow and make sure that the personnel can continue working at a very high level.”

He has the utmost respect for his colleagues in city government.

“I am most impressed with all of the city’s municipal workers,” said Anzuoni. “They are very dedicated individuals. I think they get a bad rap. I will defend their work ethic every time. The people I work with daily at City Hall are very dedicated and it’s been that way for 42 years.”

Anzuoni has three daughters, Nicole, Rebecca, and Christina – all of whom are Revere High graduates. Nicole and Christina went on to graduate from Harvard while Rebecca graduated from Wellesley College.

“I have the highest praise for our school system,” said Anzuoni, who also has three grandchildren, Charlotte, Nolan, and Thatcher. “I decided to raise my family here because I always thought everything about the city was positive.”

Anzuoni has been working with his city officials during the transition period.

“I want to make sure the city always succeeds and progresses and that’s always been my goal,” said Anzuoni.

Anzuoni said he was particularly grateful to the state legislative delegation that has held powerful leadership roles, thanking such former officials as Senate Presidents Thomas Birmingham and Robert Travaglini, and Speaker of the House Robert A. DeLeo. Anzuoni also thanked the other senators and state representatives who have served the city well during his 42-year career in government.

He also praised his staffs throughout the years “for their diligent commitment to their responsibilities.”

Longtime City Treasurer and Director of Finance George Anzuoni.

THE MIRACLE ON ICE WAS MORE THAN JUST A GAME

For those who either were not around or were very young on Feb. 22, 1980, it is hard to imagine how low the American psyche had plummeted during the decade of the 1970s.

Although the 1960s generally are regarded as the decade of tumult in America, the events of the '70s did more harm to American self-confidence than any decade in our nation's history.

A brief history lesson of that era would be highlighted by these keywords: Kent State, Pentagon Papers, Watergate, 1972 Olympic basketball defeat, Arab oil embargoes of 1973 and 1979, fall of Saigon, stagflation, New York City bankruptcy, Chrysler bankruptcy, the decline of the U.S. auto industry, the rise of Japanese auto industry, U.S. embassy takeover in Tehran, and Soviet invasion of Afghanistan.

In short, as the new decade dawned at the beginning of 1980, the U.S. was down-and-out, a nation whose best times seemed behind it.

Into the midst of this maelstrom at the height of the Cold War and the depths of American economic and military power stepped the U.S. Olympic hockey team, which was both the youngest team at the 1980 Olympics and the youngest-ever in U.S. Olympic history.

The U.S. squad was by all accounts a mediocre group. The Soviets, Finns, Swedes, and Czechs were the medal favorites. Just making the medal round was beyond the grasp for the Americans.

However, a 2-2 tie in the last minute with Sweden in the opening game was followed by a convincing and unexpected win over the Czechs. The U.S. team improbably advanced to the medal round, along with the Soviets, the Swedes, and the Finns.

Although the U.S. had made it to the final round of four, their first-round opponent would be the U.S.S.R., which had not lost an Olympic hockey game since 1968 and had won the previous four gold medals.

In addition, this was a Soviet team that had trounced an NHL all-star team, 6-0, in the third and deciding game of the so-called Challenge Cup in the summer of 1979. More significantly, the U.S. and the Soviets had met in an exhibition game just a few weeks previously in New York and the result was a 10-3 shellacking administered by the Soviets.

Finally, our younger readers should know that the Soviet team essentially was comprised of players who had "government" jobs -- so technically they were amateurs -- but for all intents and purposes they were professionals. By contrast, the U.S. team was composed almost entirely of college-age kids with no professional experience.

Needless to say, the U.S. team was a huge underdog when the teams took to the ice at Lake Placid on that fateful evening before a national television audience.

What was it that elevated the Americans to accomplish what Sports Illustrated later labeled as THE most significant sporting event of all-time? What was it that kept the powerful Soviets, who took a 3-2 lead into the third period, from scoring after Winthrop's own Mike Eruzione, the U.S. captain, gave the U.S. a 4-3 lead with 10 minutes to play?

There have been a lot of explanations -- the Russian coach said his team's 10-3 beating of the Americans a few weeks earlier had made them overconfident and then they panicked when Captain Mike lit the lamp to give the U.S. the lead -- but what is beyond dispute is that a group of underdog American kids showed to the world that heart, desire, hard work, and a faith in themselves could overcome even the longest of odds.

In hindsight, it is not an overstatement to say that the U.S. team's victory marked the beginning of the end of the corrupt and decaying Soviet Empire and the end of the beginning of American decline. Mike Eruzione's goal from between the face-off circles (which still give us chills when we watch it on You Tube) in Lake Placid truly was the second "shot heard 'round the world," 200 years after a band of scraggly underdog Minutemen fired that famous first shot at on April 19, 1775.

The Miracle on Ice was more than just a hockey game -- and that is why, 40 years later, the U.S. victory on that fateful night still resonates today.

LETTER to the Editor

THIS DECISION IS WRONG

Dear Editor,

The Alliance for Health and Environment is deeply outraged by the recently released Emission Control Plan for Wheelabrator Saugus that was approved by the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection.

MassDEP issued a Modified Approval for Wheelabrator Saugus Incinerator's Emission Control Plan. Specifically, the Department of Environmental Protection required Wheelabrator to meet the new 150 ppm standard for Oxides of Nitrogen (NOx). While Wheelabrator could meet that standard by reducing the pollution, unfortunately, MassDEP is also allowing Wheelabrator to meet it by purchasing Emission Reduction Credits. Rather than insisting Wheelabrator install technology that would make the region's air cleaner, Wheelabrator can instead choose to buy credits from facilities that are below the emission standards required.

"While purchasing credits will allow Wheelabrator Saugus to comply with MassDEP's regulations, it will not decrease the contaminants emitted by the incinerator," Kirstie Peci, Director of the Zero Waste Project at Conservation Law Foundation said. "This does nothing to better protect the health of the people of Saugus, Revere, and Lynn."

"There are both locally heavy and regional impacts from smog-forming nitrogen oxide (NOx) emissions," said Cindy Luppi, Clean Water Action New England Director. "It is simply immoral to allow the Wheelabrator trash burner to keep pumping out this pollutant from its stacks, bringing no relief from the pollution burden locally. Shame on Governor Baker and the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection."

"I am angry and deeply disturbed, that MassDEP is once again failing to protect the people of my district, as they always seem to do when it comes to this dinosaur of an incinerator," said State Rep. RoseLee Vincent (D-Revere). "The DEP asserts that they are requiring Wheelabrator Saugus to meet the 150 particles-per-million emission limit for Nitrogen Oxides (NOx). However, they are allowing this to be done by letting the company purchase 'Emission Reduction Credits' from other municipal waste combustors in the Commonwealth that meet and exceed today's standards. Just because it's legal to buy credits to meet the current standards doesn't make it right or safe for those of us who live in Saugus, Revere, Lynn and beyond."

"Cigarettes are legal, but everyone knows that smoking them is a major cause of lung cancer," Vincent continued. "Allowing Wheelabrator to purchase credits to offset higher than acceptable emissions does absolutely nothing to protect the people I represent. Sadly, this is just the latest example of the total disregard for the health and safety of those who live in Wheelabrator's shadow. It is reprehensible, and beyond unacceptable."

"By the DEP allowing Wheelabrator to purchase Emission Reduction Credits to adhere to the 150 ppm standard, they are extending the life of this obsolete incinerator by negatively impacting the health and well-being of Saugus and our neighboring communities," said Debra Panetta, member of the Saugus Board of Selectmen. "These credits might look 'good' on paper, but they will wreak havoc on our health. If all the other incinerators in Massachusetts can meet this requirement, so should Wheelabrator Saugus. It's not fair to our community."

"The impacts from the smog containing nitrogen oxide (NOx) are terribly dangerous on both locally and regional levels," said Mary Lester, Executive Director of the Saugus River Watershed Council. "The future of all the people in the surrounding area is not being protected by MassDEP. MassDEP is turning a blind eye and allowing Wheelabrator to continue to pollute our air with a modified 'Incinerator Emission Control Plan'. MassDEP required Wheelabrator to meet the new 150 ppm standard and then allowed them to purchase Emission Reduction Credits. MassDEP is refusing to do their part and insist that Wheelabrator install technology that would make the air cleaner for the future of all of us."

"Despite tremendous opposition from local residents and officials, SAVE is extremely disappointed that the MA DEP has decided to allow Wheelabrator to skirt current emissions standards," said Ann Devlin, President of SAVE (Saugus Action Volunteers for the Environment). "This decision enables Wheelabrator to apply for and purchase ECR (credits) to meet the 150 ppm NOx standard rather than requiring this aging incinerator to retrofit its facility and, once again, ignores the health concerns of the people who live in the shadow of this aging incinerator."

"The recent decision from MassDEP to allow Wheelabrator Saugus use Emission Reduction Credits to offset the state mandates to meet nitrogen oxide emissions is just another disappointment for the neighbors that live in the shadow of Wheelabrator," said Saugus neighbor Jackie Mercurio. "Once again, this bad neighbor Wheelabrator has been granted another exception to the law at the expense of Saugus, Revere and Lynn's health."

"During the nearly three-hour public hearing on Wheelabrator's Draft Emission Control Plan in October, not a single person except for the company's own representative spoke in support of the plan. In fact, many people spoke out against the idea of Wheelabrator Saugus being able to buy their way into compliance with Emission Reduction Credits," said Revere resident Richard J. Serino. "As I said the night of that hearing, those at the agency ought to hang their heads in shame for failing to protect us by mandating that Wheelabrator do whatever necessary to comply with 2020's emissions standards. This is disturbing, but not the least bit surprising."

re-election to the Massachusetts Democratic State Committee in the First Suffolk & Middlesex District. Valentino will appear on the Presidential Primary Ballot on Tuesday March 3.

I have had the honor and privilege in working with Valentino since he decided to volunteer in his community at the age of 15. Professionally we serve together on the Massachusetts Democratic State Committee together representing the First Suffolk and Middlesex District. In 2017, as a member Democratic Party Platform Committee Valentino successfully advocated for language requiring Presidential Candidates to release their tax returns.

As a member of the Winthrop School Committee, he led the effort to improve full free day kindergarten to help reduce the financial burden on working families. Capobianco supported Question 3 in 2018 and in doing so, he fought for LGBTQ students, and earlier this year the Winthrop School Committee passed a resolution in favor of the "Student Opportunity Act" which changed the Chapter 70 funding formula. He diligently worked within the town budget to approve two Teachers contracts with salary increases, without layoffs and without a proposition 2.5-percent Override.

Valentino is a kindhearted hard working young man that loves public service. He is a leader that we can trust and it is my honor to ask you to join me in voting for Valentino Capobianco for Democratic State Committee on Tuesday March 3.

Denise LoConte

Malden Catholic High School celebrates the work of artist, José Estrela

On Friday, February 28 Malden Catholic High School will hold an art gallery reception featuring artist, José Estrela from 6:30 - 8:30 p.m. in the Girls Program Hub Gallery. On a quarterly basis, Malden Catholic Girls Program proudly features the work of well-known artists. This February and March, fourteen original digital art pieces will be on display highlighting the work of Azores, Portugal native, José Estrela, for students, families and the community to enjoy.

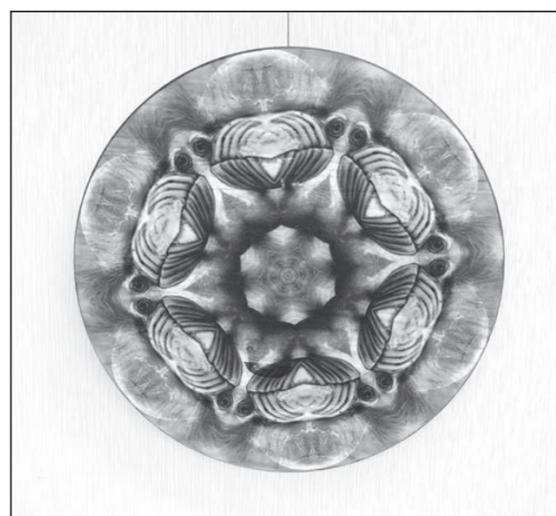

"We are so fortunate to be able to share José Estrela's creativity and mastery of many art forms, especially digital," stated Lisa Cenca, Principal of the Girls Program. "We hope everyone will come and celebrate José's skill and talent with us at this exciting event."

An established graphic designer whose mindset and works over the years reflect upon the vivid landscapes, colors and music of Estrela's native of Azores, Portugal. He was reinforced in early schooling in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil and began exploring his artistic skills as a teen by creating design, arts pieces and sculptures for friends and family. Eventually, he studied at Berkshire Community College in Massachusetts where he was advised to enroll in a visual arts course, which Estrela felt was the most rewarding advice he had ever received.

Following his love for art, he enrolled in the Sculpture Department at the University of Iowa. According to Estrela, "I greatly appreciated all of the art courses I pursued because they allowed me to explore the many venues where art can be applied." More recently, the artist entered the world of digital art and graphic software and he commented, "Art has made me recognize that in an interpretive sense engineering wouldn't allow me to break the rules - but art has no boundaries."

“The installation of smart meters in our City a year ago represented a monumental change in our parking department, which had been saddled for years with outdated and dysfunctional meters. The new meters delivered immediate improvement in collection practices and revenue,” said Mayor Arrigo. “Now, the Passport Parking app, allowing parking meter payment directly through a mobile phone, is another leap into modernizing city services. This convenience will make life easier for visitors to our business districts, facilitate compliance with parking regulations, and make collection procedures even more efficient and productive.”

- With the App users can:
- Purchase parking using a debit/credit card
 - Monitor their session
 - Extend their stay remotely (up to the maximum allotted time)
 - View all parking history
- Revere joins other Massachusetts cities and towns that have launched Passport’s service, including Cambridge, Brookline, Newton, Salem, Acton, Springfield, Newburyport, and Haverhill. Passport also powers the ParkBoston mobile pay app in the City of Boston. Users will also be able to use the ParkBoston app to pay for parking in Revere.

“We’re excited to bring Passport mobile pay to the City of Revere,” said James Rose, Director of Parking

“We are always working to provide a customer-friendly experience to our residents and visitors so we’re looking forward to introducing this new payment technology. With Passport, drivers will never have to walk back to the meter or risk a parking citation because they didn’t have enough quarters – everything can be managed conveniently from their phones.”

The Passport app is free to download from the App Store and Google Play.

Parking meters along Broadway and Shirley Avenue have been upgraded to allow pay by phone via the 'Passport Parking' app.

TODDY NUGENT
1993 February 24th 2020 - 27th Anniversary
"Tribute To Toddy"
There is a new star shining above the earth tonight
A star that warms the heavens and bathes us in its light
The light of a special woman who lived a happy life
She was the greatest mother and a very special wife
She was a caring person and a very special friend
Her attitude was positive until the very end
The time that we are given here on earth is very short
The ones who leave the quickest are the ones who mean a lot.
We'll miss her friendship dearly
we'll remember her sweet face
Her time on earth is over now she's in a better place
There is a new star shining above the earth tonight
May the spirit of our Toddy remain forever bright
Lovingly Remembered and Sadly Missed By Her Family and Friends

POLICE NEWS

PULLED A NUTTY AT THE SHELL STATION

A man acting very agitated and unpredictable entered the Shell Station on Squire Road Feb. 6 brandishing a knife and with fists a-swingin'.

Around 11 p.m., police were called to the store after the man walked in very agitated and upset. He then walked up to a man in the store and punched him in the head unprovoked. The man had a kitchen knife in his waistband and kept brandishing it and trying to use it. Patrons and employees disarmed him and circled around him to hold him captive until police arrived.

When officers got there, they found the man surrounded by the patrons and employees, who related the offenses above.

Police searched the man and found him to be in possession of two shotgun shells in his pocket, but no firearm was in his possession.

Ali Abselsater, 54, of Malden, was charged with assault and battery, disorderly conduct, threatening to commit a crime, city ordinance knife violation, possession of ammo without a permit and four counts of assault with a dangerous weapon.

ARRESTED WITH FIREARM, DRUGS

A Fenno Street man was arrested on Feb. 10 for firearm and drug charges after a suspicious 9-1-1 hang-up call triggered an investigation.

The situation began when police got a 9-1-1 call around 2:26 p.m. on Feb. 10 that resulted in the caller reporting an assault in progress, but hanging up abruptly before police could garner full details. As is protocol, an officer reported to the address to check out the matter.

Once there, those inside the home were evasive and something didn't seem quite right to the officer.

He left, but contacted the Drug Unit to do a follow up. After looking into it, the Drug Unit obtained a search warrant and were able to execute that at the address.

They allegedly found Class B drugs and an unlawful firearm.

Cristian Reyes Santiago, 22, of 405 Fenno St., was charged with possession of a firearm without a permit, possession of ammo without a permit and possession to distribute Class B drugs.

STORY PANS OUT, BUT NO LICENSE

Revere Police arrested a Roughan Street man on a minor charge after he was thought to have been bothering children at the Garfield School - and the story that many had been skeptical of ended up panning out.

The man had been asking kids at the Garfield School where children are picked up on Feb. 12 around 1:30 p.m. He said he was supposed to be picking up a child at the school, but didn't know where to go. It was sufficiently suspicious enough that children told school officials, who contacted police. Revere Police put out a bulletin on the man and his vehicle.

Officers located him on Reservoir Avenue and made a vehicle stop.

Police explained the situation and the man said he had been there to pick up a child. After a brief investigation, it was determined that his story was true.

However, the man also didn't have a driver's license and his car didn't meet state regulations. He was arrested.

Jose Manjarres Cordoba, 29, of 35 Roughan St., was charged with unlicensed operation, obstructed window tinting, and altered exhaust/muffler.

HAMDAN RETURNS FROM INTENSIVE RESEARCH PROJECT

Hadi Hamdan of Revere, a member of the class of 2020 majoring in civil engineering at Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI), was a member of a student team that recently completed an intense, hands-on research project in an off-campus location in Massachusetts. The project was titled Twin Cities Rail Pedestrian Bridge. In their project summary, the students wrote, "The purpose of this project was to evaluate an abandoned railroad bridge over Route 2 in Leominster, MA, and design structural improvements for Stantec Inc."

At WPI, all undergraduates are required to complete a research-driven, professional-level project addressing a challenge in their major field of study. About two-thirds of students complete a project at one of the university's more than 40 off-campus project centers, which are located around the world. A signature element of the innovative undergraduate experience at WPI, the project-based curriculum offers students the opportunity to apply their scientific and technical knowledge to develop thoughtful solutions to real problems that affect the quality of people's lives-and make a difference before they graduate.

"The WPI project-based curriculum brings students out of the classroom and into the real world to apply their knowledge to solve problems," said Professor Kent Rissmiller, interim dean of the WPI Interdisciplinary and Global Studies Division. "Students are immersed in a new setting, solving open-ended problems and working with people of different backgrounds-all valuable perspectives for surviving and thriving in today's global marketplace. They also learn the meaning and magic of teamwork; make valuable contributions to a problem in their field; and gain a competitive edge for any resume, or graduate or professional school application."

WPI, a global leader in project-based learning, is a distinctive, top-tier technological university founded in 1865 on the principle that students learn most effectively by applying the theory learned in the classroom to the practice of solving real-world problems. Recognized by the National Academy of Engineering with the 2016 Bernard M. Gordon Prize for Innovation in Engineering and Technology Education, WPI's pioneering project-based curriculum engages undergraduates in solving important scientific, technological, and societal problems throughout their education and at more than 45 project centers around the world. WPI offers more than 50 bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degree programs across 14 academic departments in science, engineering, technology, business, the social sciences, and the humanities and arts. RHS BOYS BASKETBALL WINS FIFTH STRAIGHT TO QUALIFY FOR STATE TOURNEY

The Revere High boys basketball team completed its amazing run to a berth in the post-season state basketball tournament by winning its fifth straight game with a 62-57 victory over Arlington Catholic in the opening round of the General Patton Tournament at Hamilton-Wenham this past Monday.

The triumph improved the Patriots' record to 10-9 on the season, assuring coach David Leary and his crew of the .500 record that is needed to qualify for the MIAA post-season state basketball tournament.

Revere came out smoking-hot early with a trio of three-pointers from senior co-captain Robert Raduazzo, junior guard Crisrael Lithgow, and junior forward Dillan Day to go up 9-2.

AC however, would settle down and run their offense to perfection and got good shot after good shot and found their rhythm. Raduazzo and Lithgow got to the basket for the Patriots, but the Cougars would again knock down shots and took a 16-13 first quarter lead.

Leary emphasized the lack of urgency that the Patriots played with in the first quarter and something must have clicked, because the Patriots went on a huge run to start the second quarter.

Sophomore forward John Capozzi (13 points, 3-4 from three-point land) lit it up with back-to-back treys, followed by a third three-pointer just minutes later, to boost Revere into a 21-16 advantage, holding AC scoreless in the first three minutes of the quarter.

Junior forward Dillan Day (12 points, 10 rebounds) then got in on the scoring party and Lithgow knocked down another three-pointer as well, and the Patriots (7-9 on threes in the half) stormed to a 34-26 halftime lead.

The Cougars, already a state tournament team and led by long-time head coach Joel Burke, showed no sense of panic and came out poised after the intermission.

Revere scored the first basket to go up 10, but then it was all AC from there. AC smothered the Revere shooters and the Patriots managed just six points in the third quarter. Arlington Catholic continued to run their offense and got balanced scoring, so that by the end of the third quarter, Revere held a slight edge, 40-39.

Leary stressed the importance of every possession to his team, "We just told the kids going into the fourth quarter to go take it -- nobody is going to hand it to you. You want it, go get it!" The Patriots responded right away as junior forward Calvin Boudreau (seven points, three assists), no stranger to late-game heroics, made a tough shot in the lane. Then Raduazzo (12 points, five rebounds), who was the only Patriot to score in all four quarters, drained a three-pointer to make it 45-39.

Capozzi then flipped in a nice lefty hook shot for Revere to get some breathing room, but AC answered with a quick 5-0 run to cut the lead back to just one point with just over three minutes remaining.

Lithgow (18 points, 4-6 on treys), who had been held scoreless in the third quarter, had a huge three possessions, first nailing a timely three-pointer, then jumping the passing lane for a steal and a layup, and then hitting another deep three-pointer.

The Patriots led 57-47 with under two minutes remaining and could smell a state tournament bid, but Revere High senior Erika Cheever receives an All-Tournament Team award from IAABO Board 130 Executive Board Chairman Peter Dion.

Cheever named to All-Tournament Team

By Cary Shuman

Erika Cheever, a four-year varsity player in the Revere High girls basketball program, was named to the McIntire Classic All-Tournament Team Monday.

Cheever accepted her award following the consolation game against Peabody. The 5-foot-4-inch guard scored 27 points in the two games.

Cheever reflected on her outstanding career and the many highlights that included being a strong contributor as a freshman to a Revere High team that became No. 1 ranked in the state and won 18 consecutive games. Cheever swished two clutch free-throws in the final seconds against Classical that helped keep the memorable winning strike alive.

Cheever, one the most outstanding long-range shooters in the program's history, reflected on her All-Star career after Monday's game against Peabody.

"It's bittersweet to play my final game for Revere," said Cheever. "I had a lot

President Patrick Keefe congratulated the athletes and coaches for their outstanding performance in competition and for the sportsmanlike manner in which they represented the organization and the city.

The teams were recognized with individual trophies. Special recognition went to the 2019 national champion Revere Pop Warner Cheerleading Squad.

the Cougars clawed back and made consecutive three-pointers after Revere missed two front ends of one-and-ones at the free throw line, cutting the Patriot lead to 57-53 with 25 seconds remaining.

Finally, Boudreau and Lithgow closed things out at the foul line and gave Revere the hard fought 62-57 victory, their fifth in a row, to punched their ticket for a Journey to the Tourney.

Revere (10-9) was set to play Marblehead (9-10) in the General Patton Tournament Championship last night (Tuesday) and then will wait to see on Friday afternoon where they will be playing in the first round of the State Tournament.

"These kids are amazing," an emotional Leary said after the state tournament-clinching win. "When we got to 5-9 we (the coaching staff) were not sure which way this would go, but this group has been resilient all year no matter what we have been through. The tougher things get, the closer they come together. This is pretty special. We just told ourselves we have to win one game five times and they believed in each other. They deserve all the credit. They're a fun group to be around!"

RHS BOYS CELEBRATE SENIOR NIGHT FITTINGLY

Senior Night is always special and last Wednesday night the RHS boys basketball team honored seniors Michael Hayes, Derek Avery, Bobby Kjersgard, Lewis Garcia-Martinez, co-captain Robert Raduazo and co-Captain Amara Bockarie, who took the floor at home for the last time.

Following an emotional pre-game ceremony to honor the six senior cheerleaders, the six senior players, and senior Olivia Freni (who beautifully sang the "National Anthem") it was time for basketball.

The Kipp Academy Panthers (13-3) from Lynn did not seem fazed by the ceremony and were ready from the start. Revere came out quickly with a Derek Avery three-pointer and a nice fast-break finish from Amara Bockarie.

The visiting Panthers would respond however, and tie the game at 7-7 midway through the first quarter. Revere center Lewis Garcia-Martinez had two nice put-backs at the rim and again Bockarie (eight points, five rebounds, four assists, and four steals) seemed to be everywhere. After Amara sank a three-pointer to beat the shot clock, he made a great steal and threw a behind-the-back pass on the break to junior guard Crisrael Lithgow (18 points, four rebounds, four assists) for the layup to electrify the great home crowd to boost the Patriots into a 16-12 lead after the first period.

The second quarter was more back and forth as both teams struggled to score early on. Lithgow broke the ice with a deep three-pointer and junior forward Calvin Boudreau made a tough bank shot in the lane to push Revere ahead, 25-21, with 3:23 remaining before halftime.

KIPP again had an answer with a balanced attack as six Panthers scored in the quarter and Revere took a one point lead into the locker room, 27-26.

The close halftime score was no surprise to RHS head coach David Leary. "We expected nothing less," said Leary. "It was a one point game at KIPP last month and they are a hard-nosed, well-coached team."

The Revere offense again struggled to get going coming out of the intermission, but kept up their end of the bargain on defense in the first few minutes. KIPP big man Algha Barry caught fire and drained back-to-back three-pointers with 3:19 remaining in the third frame and KIPP took a 33-30 lead.

Revere junior forward Dillan Day (11 points, five rebounds, 6-7 free throws) finally got going with two straight baskets and a free throw to pull the Patriots ahead, 35-33, with a minute remaining in the third.

However, KIPP went on a quick burst to end the quarter, which included a three-pointer at the buzzer by senior Panther Winfred Sanchez (19 points), and Revere trailed 39-35.

Revere entered the fourth quarter with an adjustment and switched to a man-to-man defense after playing zone for three quarters. The move paid off as KIPP could not shake loose from the stifling Patriot defense. With 5:21 remaining, senior co-captain Amara Bockarie stepped up again, knocking down a three-pointer to give Revere a 41-40 lead and seize the momentum for his team on Senior Night.

Day made a free throw and Lithgow would get to the basket to extend the Patriots' lead to 44-40 with 3:05 left in the game, but again Sanchez came up huge for KIPP and hit another three to make it a one-point game, 44-43.

The Revere offense came down and moved the ball around until it found sophomore forward John Capozzi, who took and sank his only three-point attempt of the evening, pushing the lead to 47-43.

Junior sharpshooter Lithgow found himself open in front of the Revere bench and drained another three-pointer to give the home Patriots a 50-43 edge. KIPP in desperation was able to make another three-pointer, but after another Day free throw, Revere held on for their fourth straight win, 51-46.

"Anytime you hold a team like KIPP to a seven-point quarter, you give yourself a chance," said Leary in praise of his team's defense and his seniors after the game. "We could not find any rhythm on offense, but our defense won us that game tonight. Calvin (Boudreau) was immense on Sanchez in the fourth quarter. And for it to happen like it did for us on Senior Night was pretty special,

"Coach (Bob) Sullivan, Coach (John) Leone, and I were talking about it in the ceremony that this group of seniors was our first four-year group because their freshman year was our first year," Leary continued. "They're just a special group of kids. I thought we really fed off of Amara's energy early."

RHS HOCKEY TEAM ENDS ON WINNING NOTE

The Revere High hockey team concluded its 2020 season with a 7-4 victory over Lynn this past Monday afternoon at Cronin Rink.

After spotting Lynn an early 2-0 lead, the Patriots came storming back and soon took control of the contest. Freshman Gerry Visconti scored the first of his two goals on the night and junior James Marini notched the equalizer.

Sophomore Alexio Trichilo then lit the lamp to put the Patriots ahead for good. Although Lynn continued to battle, Revere received additional offensive firepower from senior Matt D'Annolfo, who scored two goals, and Kevin Ivany to cement the victory.

"It's always nice to end the season with a win," said EHS head coach Joe Ciccarollo, whose squad finished their campaign at 6-10-2, four points short of reaching the post-season state tournament.

BETTERO JUST SHY OF A MEDAL AT D-1; 4 X 2 SETS RHS MARK

Sophomore hurdler Carolina Bettero finished just short of earning a medal in the 55-meter hurdle event at the Division 1 State Meet that was held last week at the Reggie Lewis Center in Roxbury.

How close was Carolina to making the finals and bringing home a medal, which is awarded to the eight finalists? She finished ninth in an official time of 9.21, with the eighth-place girl clocking in at 9.16, a margin of just five-one-hundredths (0.05) of a second.

"Carolina will be running the 400-meter hurdles and the high hurdles in the spring, so she'll get her shot at redemption in the spring state meet," said RHS head coach Antonio LaBruna.

Luana Barbosa competed in the long jump and ended up leaping 15'-7", which is two inches shy of her personal record (PR).

"Luana has been chasing 16 feet for the last couple of weeks, but will have to accomplish that in the spring season," noted LaBruna.

The Lady Patriot 4 X 200 relay quartet of Barbosa, Kathy Umanzor, Astrid Umanzor, and Jerelys Canales re-broke their school record time of 1:55.52 by running a 1:55.51.

"The hand-offs could certainly have been better, which would have lowered our time by at least a half second, but it was still a fast time," said LaBruna.

Also competing for Revere at the meet, which requires contestants to achieve a qualifying standard, was the 4 X 400 squad of Nubya Filho, Kathy Umanzor, Astrid Umanzor, and Bettero, who came across the line in 4:35.41.

The last competition of the indoor season for the Revere girls team will be the Massachusetts State Pentathlon on Feb. 25 at which Canales, Barbosa, and Bettero will be competing as a trio.

On the boys side, Ricardo Goncalves finished in 23rd place in the 55 hurdles in 8.46. Teammate Alaa Atoui finished in 20th spot in the shot-put with a throw of 40'-8.5".

Coach Sam Ros's Patriots also competed in all three of the relay events.

In the 4 x 200, the team of Rayan Riazzi, Mark Cerbone, Ricardo Goncalves, and Mark Marshese finished in 17th place; in the 4 x 400, the quartet of Augusto Goncalves, Cerbone, Cam Ventura, and Michael Adolphus came across in 18th place; and in the 4 x 800, the foursome of Christian Madrid, Sami El Asri, Victor Pelatere, and Fabio Tran finished in the 16th spot.

Revere High girls hoop falls to Peabody in season finale

The Revere High School girls basketball team fell to Peabody High, 58-40, in the consolation game of the Larry McIntire IAABO Board 130 Classic Monday at Beverly High School.

Revere, under second-year head coach Matt Willis, finished its season with a 5-16 record.

Senior Katie O'Donnell (nine points) had the Revere offense rolling early with the first basket of the game and ensuing three-pointer. Alanna Nelson (9 points) also connected a three-pointer in the quarter.

Senior Erika Cheever (14 points) hit a pair of three-pointers in the second quarter to help Revere to keep matters close (30-24) at the half. One of Cheever's pointers came from 25 feet away with the clock having wound down to one second.

Peabody seized control of the game in the third quarter, outscoring Revere of great memories the past four years and I'm looking forward to continuing my basketball career at Salem State."

Cheever was named an All-Northeastern Conference player as a junior under coach Matt Willis. She also played two seasons for former coach Lianne O'Hara.

"I want to thank my coaches for helping me to improve as a player," said Cheever, who was a two-year captain. "The past two seasons, Coach Willis has really helped me develop not only as a player, but as a person."

Willis said Cheever was a good role model for the players in the program.

"If you could take her work ethic and put it into every kid in every program, you'd be a lucky coach," said Willis. "She just works so hard. All the accolades that she's received as an athlete are well deserved."

Willis also praised senior Katie O'Donnell, a league field hockey MVP who also showed her versatility on the basketball court. She is considered one of the school's best all-around athletes.

"Katie is a competitor - whatever challenge you give her, she embraces it, whatever role you ask to play, she embraces it," lauded Willis. "We're going to miss her leadership and the great example she set for the younger players in our program."

by a 12-4 margin. Revere made a run at Peabody in the fourth quarter, helped by a three-pointer by O'Donnell that closed the gap to 50-37, but the Tanners held off the Patriots' comeback to earn the victory.

Skyla DeSimone, a sophomore guard with a bright future at the controls of the Revere offense, netted 19 points in a 70-48 defeat to Beverly in the first round of the tournament.

"Skyla has a great work ethic and that's a good thing to build upon," said Coach Matt Willis.

Revere finished its season with a 5-16 record.

NEWS FROM AROUND THE REGION

CITY MANAGER HIGHLIGHTS SUCCESS IN STATE OF THE CITY

CHELSEA: City Manager Thomas Ambrosino gave the annual State of the City address, highlighting residential and commercial growth, infrastructure improvements, and successes in Chelsea's schools.

Ambrosino also called for Chelsea citizens to get involved with the upcoming charter review process and the census.

"This may turn out to be one of the shorter presentations I've made to the Council," Ambrosino said. "That's certainly not because there aren't things to celebrate. In fact, I would say just the opposite – that perhaps the past year has been among the most productive in the City since I've been here as City Manager."

Ambrosino said the City has made significant progress in the areas it has long identified as priorities – creating opportunity for beneficial commercial and residential development, investing in infrastructure, and supporting the school system.

"In 2019, we had an incredibly productive year in terms of approving residential development and making a real impact on our housing shortage," he said. "In just the past 12 months alone, the city approved over 1,000 new housing units. That is certainly the most in my tenure here and perhaps more than any year in a generation."

Chelsea has made great strides in housing, especially when it comes to affordability, according to the City Manager.

"In fact, we even improved upon our Inclusionary Zoning ordinance this past year, making 15 percent of units a mandatory number and requiring that affordability encompass a range of income eligible renters, including those making only 30 percent of Area Median Income," Ambrosino said. "By doing so, this Council has ensured that, moving forward, the affordable housing we create in Chelsea is truly accessible to the people who actually live and work here in Chelsea."

In 2020, Ambrosino said the City will continue to expand its affordable housing efforts, with a focus on affordable home ownership. During his speech, he proposed dedicating $1.5 million in General Stabilization money to support the homeownership efforts of the City's Affordable Housing Trust Fund Board.

While he highlighted the residential growth, Ambrosino also pointed to several commercial development projects that have taken place over the past year, including expansion of the Acorda pharmaceutical manufacturing facility on Vale Street, the opening of a new Fairfield Inn on Beech Street, the acquisition and repurposing of the former Nancy Sales site on Willow Street, and the acquisition by a major commercial developer of the Anthony Simboli office portfolio.

"To me, each of these projects is further proof that Chelsea continues to be an attractive location for commercial growth," Ambrosino said.

On the infrastructure front, Ambrosino said he is proud of the commitment the city has collectively made to take full advantage of its financial health and put it to work to benefit the lives of Chelsea residents.

"We've invested in streets, sidewalks, parks and public buildings," said Ambrosino. "From the simple – like decorative night lights at City Hall and Holiday decorations in the downtown; to the much more impactful – like the New Clark Avenue Middle School. Calendar year 2020 will be no different. In fact, you have before you tonight the City's most recent request for infrastructure investment, more than $24 million in new projects, the most I've ever proposed."

The more than 40 proposed projects include the complete reconstruction of Broadway from City Hall to Revere, the complete renovation of Beacham Street, the continuation of a complete restoration of the Garden Cemetery, and a new playground for the Williams School Complex.

In the downtown, Ambrosino touted the plans to renovate the former Salvation Army building and the storefront improvement pilot program.

"Finally, to our final but by no means least of our priorities – the place we may have reason for the most optimism – the Chelsea Public School System," the City Manager said. "The School Department has benefited greatly this past decade from the outstanding leadership of Mary Bourque. Those will be tough shoes to fill. But, I know that many who live in the City and care deeply about its school system, including Mary herself, feel confident that we have selected an outstanding successor in Dr. Almi Abeyta. All of us have been impressed by the passion and enthusiasm she brings to her new role."

Ambrosino said he will be looking once again to collaborate with the School Department on the Bunker Hill Tuition program. For the past two years, that program has ensured that every Chelsea High School student has the opportunity to attain an Associate's Degree at Bunker Hill at no financial cost.

"Shortly, I will be sending an appropriation request to the City Council to continue the program for a third year, so that we can continue to proudly say here in Chelsea that not a single public school graduate will have her or his college education dreams denied for lack of money," said Ambrosino.

Finishing up the speech, Ambrosino urged residents to get involved with the City Charter review process and the Census, two issues that he said will have a long-ranging impact on the city.

"Even though participation in both of these efforts will be a challenge for 2020, I do have great confidence that we will succeed," he said. "As I noted at the Dr. King Breakfast a few weeks ago, my experience here in Chelsea over the past few years is that whenever the need is great; the cause important; the issue critical; this community rises to the occasion, comes together and delivers. I have no doubt that will be the case in 2020 and that the State of this City will continue to be described and defined as one of remarkable success."

COUNCIL BACKS PROPOSED LEGISLATION FOR UNDOCUMENTED IMMIGRANTS TO OBTAIN DRIVER'S LICENSES

CHELSEA: The City Council voted Monday night to support state legislation which would allow undocumented immigrants to obtain driver's licenses.

While the Council voted overwhelmingly, 9-1, in support of the measure, one new City Councillor signaled that he would be taking a stand against so-called "virtue-signaling" measures proposed by the Council.

The resolution calls upon the state legislature to pass the Act Relative to Work and Family Mobility, which would allow undocumented immigrants to get a driver's license regardless of their immigration status.

Several councillors spoke in favor of the measure, noting that similar measures have passed in other states, and that the legislation would help make Chelsea's streets safer.

"This is a unique opportunity to persuade legislators to be on the right side of the aisle," said District 5 Councillor Judith Garcia. "We will be able to educate drivers and we will be creating roads that are safer for everyone."

District 4 Councillor Enio Lopez said he agreed, adding that the act would benefit immigrants who need to get safely to school and work, as well as other drivers on the road.

But District 1 Councillor Todd Taylor said he would not vote to support the legislation, and would be voting against any future efforts by the Council to impact state legislation that is outside the purview of the Council.

"This does not belong before the City Council; the City Council has no bearing on the issuance of driver's licenses," said Taylor. He added that there was no need to put added pressure on Chelsea's state legislators, since those legislators are all likely in support of the bill.

"Everyone is free to advocate for a bill or not, but anytime a resolution is offered in this manner, which is partisan political and meant to virtue signal, I will vote no, whether I agree or don't agree (with the measure)," Taylor said.

Taylor said he was elected to solve Chelsea's problems, not problems that the City Council is not authorized to deal with.

After the vote, Council President Roy Avellaneda said the Council took the right approach.

"I'm proud that the City Council is on record in support of S2061/H3012 which would allow Massachusetts to join Connecticut, Vermont, New York, New Jersey, in addition to Delaware, New Mexico, Utah, Oregon, Nevada, Illinois, Washington, Maryland, Colorado, Hawaii and California as states that allow undocumented immigrants to [obtain] a driver's license," he stated. "I appreciate the work done by the Chelsea Collaborative in advocating with its 235 Driving Families Forward organizational partners, including the Massachusetts AFL-CIO State Federation on this issue and bringing it to our attention. I know that their advocacy was key in making local enforcement officials such as our own Police Chief Brian Kyes support the measure as a way to increase safety on our roadways"

When the Massachusetts Major City Chiefs association, which Chief Kyes is president of, and is made up of Chiefs of Police, Commissioners or Superintendents across the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the State Police, and Transit Police in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, tell you it's "common sense public policy that benefits everyone;" you listen, Avellaneda added.

EASTIE FIRST-EVER-SENIOR CENTER BECOMING A REALITY

EAST BOSTON - For decades East Boston's senior citizens and senior groups like the Golden Age Club have been clamoring for their own space in the community.

Seniors share space at other non-profits for senior programs, social hours, parties and other events. A dedicated senior center would allow seniors accomplish these things within the confines of their own permanent location.

Last Tuesday, Mayor Martin Walsh joined hundreds of Eastie seniors at the Boston Centers for Youth & Families (BCYF) Paris Street Community Center to kick off the community process for a new senior center at the former North Heights library location on Barnes Avenue.

The event provided an opportunity for community members to provide input on programming they would enjoy, which will assist the architects in designing the renovation. The community process follows a $1 million investment in the City's current budget. The full cost of the project will be included with the Mayor's next Capital Plan released in April.

"We have heard from the East Boston community about how a senior center will enrich the neighborhood and the lives of residents in the area," said Mayor Walsh. "It's been a long time coming -- and I am very proud that we're moving forward with this project. We are more than doubling our current investment and engaging in this community process, so that this senior center can be as great as it can be for generations to come. I want to thank the residents and partners who have advocated for this new senior center for many years."

According to the Mayor's Office, the investment will transform the former library into a new senior center. The project will be managed by the City's Public Facilities Department and include creating flexible rooms to support the programs that will be offered, building a new deck on the north side of the building, relocating and upgrading the kitchen, and making all entrances and bathrooms fully accessible. In addition, all major mechanical systems will be upgraded or replaced including electrical, plumbing and HVAC.

Investments from Massport, through a mitigation agreement with the Logan Impact Advisory Committee (LIAG), will help support the programming and operational needs of the newly renovated center once construction is complete.

"We are proud to join with Mayor Walsh to support this great project for the East Boston community," said Massport CEO Lisa Wieland. "Massport strives to be a good neighbor to our surrounding communities. Over the years, with the help of East Boston residents and elected officials, we have fulfilled many community commitments in East Boston. Our support of this new Senior Center is a great example of these collaborative efforts."

Rep. Adrian Madaro, who helped to create the LIAG in response to the Massport's Terminal E project, said last Tuesday was a great day for seniors in Eastie.

"We kicked off the planning process for our neighborhood's new senior center," said Madaro. "This long-awaited project will provide important community resources and activities for seniors."

Senior centers and the senior programming they house promote connection, education, health and personal enrichment for older adults.

"I think this senior center is a wonderful opportunity for our community, and I thank Mayor Walsh and Massport for making it possible," said Fran Carbone, who has been advocating for a senior center for the past five years. "Seniors look forward to having some substance every week. It's going to empower us to have somewhere to go everyday and enjoy. Participating in the community process is a wonderful opportunity for us to put our happy wishes into the building. It feels like a dream—it's finally coming to fruition. We have a lot of plans, and we are ready!"

The East Boston senior center is being developed in collaboration with design firm Fennick McCredie Architecture and City of Boston departments including Budget, Public Facilities, Property Management, Age Strong, Department of Neighborhood Development, and Neighborhood Services.

"I'm thankful that we'll have a place where at our age we can enjoy cultural and entertainment programming," said Josefina Osorio, who lives in East Boston. "As a Latina, I'm happy and grateful to be included in these kinds of programs offered by the City."

BOSTON FEDERAL LAWMAKERS LOOKING FOR A QUIETER LOGAN

EAST BOSTON - A group of federal lawmakers recently penned a letter to the CEOs of Southwest, Delta and American Airlines that was obtained by the East Boston Times urging the three air carriers to begin efforts to drastically reduce airplane noise at Logan International Airport.

The problem stems from the relatively new satellite-based navigation system airlines use to try to increase fuel efficiency. The program was implemented around the country by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) and major carriers in 2013 to create more fuel-efficient flight paths. The unexpected consequence has been a spike in noise complaints from communities surrounding Logan.

"We write in regards to ongoing concerns regarding elevated noise levels created by NextGen flight paths in Massachusetts and communities throughout the country," wrote Sens. Elizabeth Warren, Ed Markey and Reps. Stephen Lynch, Joseph Kennedy, Katherine Clark and Ayanna Pressley. "Given your company's operations at Boston Logan International Airport, we ask that your airline take measures to reduce airplane-related noise problems that have affected Massachusetts residents and others affected by airplane noise issues across the country, including communities in and around San Diego, Seattle, Los Angeles, and Washington, D.C."

Logan Airport noise has long been a bone of contention between Eastie residents and Massport dating back to the late 1960s. In 2016 Massport and the FAA signed an agreement to begin reducing noise levels at Logan. JetBlue was one of the first airlines that voluntarily agreed to try and fly more quietly by retrofitting their fleet with noise-reducing vortex generators.

The group of lawmakers are asking American, Delta and Southwest to take similar measures.

"Since the FAA introduced the NextGen satellite-based navigation system in 2013, which was meant to create more fuel-efficient flight paths, our offices have heard from numerous communities in Massachusetts that have experienced increased airplane noise," the letter continues. "The Massachusetts Port Authority (Massport), which operates Boston Logan International Airport, and several municipalities have seen a sharp spike in airplane noise complaints since implementing NextGen. For example, in the first two months of 2019, Massport received nearly 18,000 total noise complaints from Greater Boston and as of September 2019 the City of Medford, Massachusetts, alone received nearly 25,000 noise complaints for the year."

The group of lawmakers added that the Air Traffic Noise and Pollution Expert Consensus Act of 2019 was introduced to require the FAA to work with the National Academy of Sciences to study the effects of air traffic noise and pollution on human health.

"This bill would seek to determine causes of increased noise reports and health impacts of increased jet noise and to make recommendations on how to address the problem," the lawmakers wrote. "The Cleaner, Quieter Airplanes Act has also been introduced to make investments in the technology needed to cut airplane noise and carbon pollution from commercial airlines in half. As Congress works to address airplane noise, and address the noise pollution that has resulted from FAA's new navigation system, your company can also take steps to alleviate concerns of communities affected by increased airplane noise."

The lawmakers point to JetBlue and several other airlines with operations at Logan that have voluntarily taken measures to address airplane-related noise problems affecting nearby communities.

“Notably, in October 2018, following a letter we sent with other members of the Massachusetts congressional delegation JetBlue announced plans to retrofit their entire Airbus fleet with noise-reducing vortex generators,” the lawmakers wrote. “In our letter to Jet-Blue, we noted that airlines, including Air France, British Airways, Lufthansa, and United Airlines, voluntarily retrofitted or developed plans to retrofit certain aircrafts with generators that would reduce airplane noise. We ask that your company implement similar measures. We ask that your company take steps to reduce airplane noise from your fleet and provide information about how your company has worked to mitigate noise-related complaints associated with your airplanes by Feb. 28.”

COUNCILOR MCLAUGHLIN OFFICIALLY ENTERS THE RACE FOR STATE REP.

EVERETT - Hot off of a decisive Council victory, Councilor Michael McLaughlin announced that he is pulling Nomination Papers to run for Everett's state representative seat.

McLaughlin has had his eyes on the seat for several years, but had never made the jump to run against incumbent State Rep. Joe McGonagle. Now, having won the hotly-contested Ward 6 race with a strong citywide vote (ward races are voted citywide in Everett), he announced in a letter on Tuesday he is ready to take on the sitting rep.

“With the urging of friends, family and supporters, I have decided to continue my dream and represent Everett on a full-time basis,” he wrote. “It is an honor and truly humbling experience to announce that I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Representative in the 28th Middlesex District...

“It's not often that someone gets to say that they have been able to pursue their lifelong dream,” he continued. “For me, I have had that privilege to serve the people of Everett as a City Councilor for seven years. It is something I have poured my life into, making it nearly a full-time job. My time on the City Council has been one of the most rewarding experiences of my life. I have prided myself on being an independent voice for the people of Everett and someone they can count on.”

According to the Secretary of State's Office, Nomination Papers became available on Feb. 11. However, signed papers to get on the ballot are not due for many months. The election, however, will not likely be decided in November with the U.S. President. Rather, it will likely come down to the Sept. 1 Primary Election given that there are no Republican candidates expected to emerge.

Right now, it is expected that Rep. McGonagle will run for re-election, but beyond he and McLaughlin, there has only been speculation.

McLaughlin highlighted the need to fight at the State House for good public schools, to work to improve traffic and transportation, and to address the affordability of housing.

“Over the past 10 years...I have had conversations around countless kitchen tables, on front porches and at front doors to understand the struggles families across our city live with,” he wrote. “As one of seven children growing up in a family in Everett, I know the struggles each of us face. Like many of the families in Everett, we often lived week-to-week, concerned about paying the bills that were coming due.

“I want to be a State Representative that does everything they can to enhance the quality of life for every Everett resident...no matter who you are, who you know or where you came from,” he continued. “I believe everyone who calls Everett home, deserves a voice at the State House, period.”

Let the race begin.

COMMUNITY LEADER DONALD CASTLE ENDORSES NEW SCHOOL BUILDING PLAN

LYNN - The man behind the defeat of a $188 million proposal for a pair of middle schools has endorsed the latest plan to replace the crumbling Pickering Middle School.

Donald Castle, president of Protect Our Reservoir | Preserve Pine Grove, a grassroots organization fought the Proposition 2 ½ override to pay for two schools in 2017, said Mayor Thomas M. McGee's decision to build one school on Conomo Avenue, adjacent to the 104-year-old Pickering, has his support.

“I appreciate the mayor looking at different sites to build a new school,” he said. “The Pickering location is the right place for it. I enthusiastically support it.”

Castle led the opposition to a plan supported by then Mayor Judith Flanagan Kennedy, former Superintendent Catherine Latham, the School Committee, Lynn Teachers Association, and the City Council for a 652-student school to be built near the Pine Grove Cemetery and Breeds Pond Reservoir on Parkland Avenue. A second one to serve 1,008 students would have been constructed in West Lynn on McManus Field.

Latham said the new schools were needed to fix the lack of space and inadequate facilities. At the time, she said the Massachusetts School Building Authority (MSBA), the state agency founded to fund school construction, insisted on two schools to meet the districts' growing school population.

But Castle argued both sites were unacceptable because the Parkland Avenue parcel was intended for the expansion of Pine Grove Cemetery, and the Commercial Street location would exacerbate traffic problems in that section of the city. Castle also insisted the site selection process failed to be inclusive, and the school building project was too expensive.

While the administration said the average tax bill would increase by $196 annually until 2042, many homeowners whose homes are assessed at a higher value, would be hit with increases of as much as $500 each year.

Voters crushed the proposal at the polls by an overwhelming majority.

Michael Bertino, the city's chief financial officer, did not return calls and texts seeking comment. He told The Daily Item, which first reported the story, the city would set aside $500,000 annually from the city's budget to pay the city's portion.

“If the people don't have the appetite to pay more, we have to do it within the confines of Prop 2½, which is our budget,” Bertino told the paper.

Still, there will be costs to be paid by taxpayers. If Lynn pays the project cost from its budget, the cash-strapped city will continue to be unable to bring the Police, Fire and the Inspectional Services departments up to full employment levels.

Under MSBA rules, communities may be reimbursed up to 80 percent of the cost of a new school. But it could be closer to 65 percent. If the new school costs $100 million, at 80 percent, that's a $20 million taxpayer bill. If it's 65 percent, the cost to taxpayers is $35 million.

But City Council President Darren Cyr said he hopes the explosion of commercial development over the next two years will bring in millions of dollars in taxes to help support city schools and services.

School Committee member John Ford said it's unclear whether the school would just include grades six, seven, and eight.

“We are looking for perhaps a K-8 school that would solve multiple problems,” he said. “That could be the wave of the future for Lynn's schools. We have a dozen schools that are more than a 100 years old and three schools in urgent need of repair. To build that many schools would be an awfully big outlay of capital annually.”

Cyr agrees. He said the idea is to put as many as four elementary schools and the middle school in separate wings, and that makes sense to him.

“If we could combine four schools into one building with state-of-the-art services and eliminate three or four other buildings, that would save money,” he said.

It's unclear how many students it would hold. But Cyr said it could serve as many as 2,000 children.

Unlike the previous plan to build the two schools, which Ford said lacked transparency, this time it will be different.

“There will be lots of public hearings, people will be well informed,” he added.

LUCILLE WINE SHOP AND TASTING ROOM HOLDS GRAND OPENING

LYNN: Lucille Wine Shop and Tasting Room held its grand opening and ribbon-cutting ceremony at the new store located at 776 Washington St.

Mayor Thomas McGee and State Rep. Peter Capano, later joined by Rep. Daniel Cahill, presented congratulatory citations to Lucille owner Sarah Marshall. The store's name “Lucille” is a tribute to Sarah's maternal grandmother, who turned an eighth-grade education into a lifelong career as a chef.

Marshall, 33, describes her new business as “a specialty wine and craft beer retail shop and event space.”

The space will be used for educational classes, tastings with distributors, and private events, from casual cocktail parties to a three-or-four course catered dinners.

Sarah's mother, Brenda, is also part of the venture while Sue Meigs is the store manager and vintage buyer. Originally from Maryland, Sarah moved to Lynn in 2016. She previously worked at the legendary Boston eatery, L'Espalier.

“It's been a dream of mine to own my own business and I've been in the restaurant business for 15 years, specifically about five of those have been as an event planner and the last 10 years have been on the wine side of things,” said Sarah.

Inside the spacious, beautifully decorated store, customers can choose from 200 varieties of international wines and 100 craft beers from the United States, Belgium, and Germany.

Greater Lynn Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Colin Codner said at the ceremony, “From an event standpoint, I've actually hosted an event here and it's just absolutely amazing what can be done with the flexibility of the space. I just want to thank you on behalf of the Chamber.”

Lucille Wine Shop and Eatery is open Tuesday to Saturday, 11 a.m. to 8 p.m., and Sunday, noon to 6 p.m.

STORM LEAVES SECTIONS OF WINTHROP IN THE DARK

WINTHROP - All power has been restored in the Shirley Street area and life is back to normal after heavy winds knocked down telephone poles there.

The winds that reached 65 miles per hour and the ensuing cold front took down a telephone pole (with three transformers on it) at 600 Shirley St., across the street from the Winthrop Yacht Club (WYC).

According to Fire Chief Paul Flanagan, the weight of the transformers caused two additional telephone poles to fall to the ground.

“The new telephone poles were reset that night, but due to the high winds and the open area where it happened and the fact there were high-voltage wires – utility workers don't go up in the buckets when the wind exceeds 25 miles per hour – the work didn't commence until the next day,” said Flanagan.

The chief said National Grid crews came to Winthrop and worked all day on Saturday (in frigid conditions) and restored power at 6 p.m. At the height of the emergency, more than 1,800 customers were without power. Flanagan put out a code-red call to all-impacted Winthrop residents informing them of where to get assistance.

Throughout the incident, the Winthrop Fire Department had an engine and a crew stationed at Church Square and Deer Island. Firefighters rode through the darkened streets helping residents and informing them of power restoration efforts on Shirley Street.

“A special thank-you goes out to the MWRA,” credited Flanagan. “On Saturday morning when it was quite apparent that the power wasn't going to be on for the majority of the day, the MWRA opened up their reception center to anybody who wanted to take shelter or charge their cellphones. The MWRA was being a good neighbor.”

Winthrop Police Chief Terence Delehanty deployed six police officers on the scene through Sunday night, diverting traffic coming out of Point Shirley and helping to alleviate the disruptions caused by the power failure and repair operations.

MORRISON TELLS HISTORY OF MASS. TO MEMBERS OF WIHA AT DINNER

WINTHROP: In 1630 Boston was a peninsula of 739 square acres, where a dedicated community of 30 English families survived a brutal winter and were able to develop a vibrant economy of over 100 families in five years. John Morrison, President of the Partnership of Historic Bostons (PHB), told the story of how Massachusetts formed and became self-governing during the Winthrop Improvement and Historical Association's (WIHA) first Members Dinner and Lecture of the new year, on Feb. 4, in the Deane Winthrop House barn.

“Acting together, they would make a new form of government that is both civil and ecclesiastic, and that's care is for the needs of the public,” explained Morrison, who produces walking tours for Boston by Foot.

From 1625-1630, a whole society of English tenant farmers executed a mass emigration to America in hopes of religious freedom and safety. They carefully planned the supplies that were needed to begin a successful base of operation, including every material necessary to continue their crafts.

“The desire to commercialize England's economic system forced people off the land and resulted in a huge increase in the money people earned for a day's labor,” said Morrison. “There was a great number of people in the late 1500s and 1600s who needed a place to go.”

Puritans received a royal charter from the king, granting migrants independence from England and those who financed them. They had the right to make their own decisions, a privilege that other colonies in Massachusetts did not have. People were expected to sell their properties in England, and permanently move.

“It was unique to the colonies of America, all of which had to report back to their board of directors in England,” Morrison explained. “That made it possible for us to become who we are.”

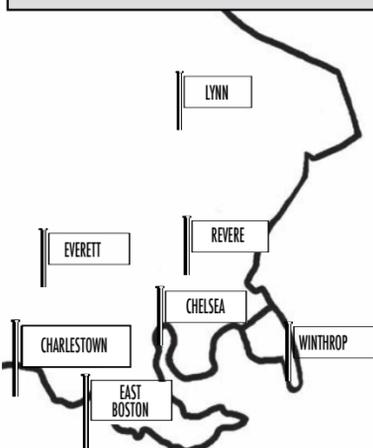

Gov. John Winthrop was among the administrators who sailed on the Arabella, the admiral of the first fleet of 11 ships that voyaged to America. When they arrived in Salem, the original settlers were in poor condition: sick, and without food. During a 1950 excavation in Boston Common, remains of a large campfire, where people survived their first, frigid winter, were found.

“Captain William Pierce was a mariner. He and his brothers were active in the development of Plymouth and Massachusetts Bay,” Morrison described about the original owner of the Deane Winthrop House, Captain Pierce, who was granted 100 acres in Pullen Point (now Winthrop) in 1637. “Captain Pierce went back to England and brought as many supplies as he could back to Massachusetts Bay. He found people starving when he got back on March 5, 1631.”

Eventually, the colonies learning how to sequentially plant crops from interactions with peaceful Native Americans helped them thrive. The natives fertilized mounds of dirt with alewife, a herring fish found in North America. Corn seeds were first planted, and once the shoots appeared, natives planted beans around them. When the beans twined around the corn stalks, melons and pumpkins were planted, and the broad leaves shaded weeds from growing. English settlers were then able to consume higher calorie, nutritious food, rather than the grains that they had expected to grow in Massachusetts climate and soil.

“November 7, 1631 was officially proclaimed as a day of thanksgiving in Boston,” concluded Morrison.
