IT'S A BEAUTIFUL DAY

Nanci DiLiegro, daughter of Lenore and Michael DiLiegro and Robert J. Haas III, son of Juanita Haas and the late Revere Mayor Robert Haas, were married Saturday, May 2 at Revere Beach. The couple has been planning this ceremony for a year, and even though they could not go ahead with the reception that they planned, they both felt that the wedding was what mattered. Family members in attendance were their son, RJ IV, Lenore, Michael, and Juanita. The rest of the family members and friends decorated their cars and drove by beeping and waving at the end of the ceremony. City Clerk Ashley Melnick performed the ceremony.

Celebrating Mother's Day 2020!

By Journal Staff

While the days and weeks seem to mesh into one amidst the coronavirus lockdowns, this Sunday is a special day that will break the monotony. It is Mother's Day, and while it may not be possible for mom to be taken out to eat at her favorite restaurant, there are local options for families to mark this special day.

One option could be a special delivery or curbside pickup from Twist and Shake or Wicked Eats, both on Revere Beach.

Sheryl Queen, who has been operating Twist and Shake on the Beach for the past 18 years, and just recently opened Wicked Eats at the former site of Bill Ash's Pizza also on the Beach, notes that there is something for everyone, especially for mothers.

Fifty-four residents being housed at Quality Inn

By Cary Shuman

The city's decision to use the Quality Inn Hotel as housing for residents who have tested for the coronavirus has proven to be a propitious one, with many agreeing that the isolation has prevented others from contracting the insidious disease and likely saved lives.

Fifty-four residents from Revere, Chelsea, and neighboring communities are currently being assisted at the hotel after Revere Mayor Brian Arrigo and Chelsea City Manager Thomas Ambrosino announced the project in April.

Health officials believes the initiative of providing residents with a safe and

Mask Up May program draws tremendous response

By Cary Shuman

The city's Mask Up May Program, launched Sunday with a pop-up mask distribution site at Revere Beach, is drawing a tremendous response, with more than 2,000 masks set to be delivered to Revere residents at their homes this Saturday.

Charlie Giuffrida, outreach coordinator for the city's COVID-19 Emergency Response Team who oversees supply distribution (food, masks, PPE) to residents, said the mask program officially started Tuesday. Adrianna Borriello is the coordinator of the Mask Program.

"Just in the past 24 hours, Adrianna has already received more than 300 addresses for deliveries," said

Giuffrida. Residents can also obtain their masks in person Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., at Rumney Marsh Academy.

Giuffrida said the city has purchased masks while also receiving masks from several different sources.

"One of our biggest supporters is the Moroccan American Connections in Revere (MACIR)," said Giuffrida. "Of the 900 masks that we have already set aside to be delivered, all of them were donated by MACIR."

According to Giuffrida, MACIR was awarded a $40,000 grant from the Boston Foundation Monday, allowing the organiza-

"The impact that this organization has had on our community during the COVID-19 crisis has been outstanding," Rotondo stated in his official motion.

Torretta's Bakery, Mercurio Brothers Landscaping help out Revere Food Pantry

By Cary Shuman

Ralph Torretta of Torretta's Bakery and Jimmy and Michael Mercurio of Mercurio Brothers Landscaping combined forces to perform an act of kindness and generosity for Revere residents during the COVID-19 crisis.

The three men donated 300 loaves of scali bread (made at Torretta's Bakery) to the Revere food pantry that is located at Rumney Marsh Academy. The bread was distributed to residents.

"It was Jimmy's idea – it was a good idea and I said, 'Jimmy, let's do it,' credited Ralph. "We made the bread here the night before, sliced it up, put it in bags, and Jimmy delivered it to the pantry."

Ralph said the store's baker, Adison Soares, with help from his son, Marcus, baked the bread.

Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna commended Ralph, Jimmy, and Michael for their generous deed. "What a wonderful gesture for two businesses and restaurants to join together and make this happen," said McKenna. "I am so proud of Jimmy and Michael Mercurio and Ralph Torretta for their donation in this time of need."

Salvatore Torretta, Ralph's father, founded Torretta's Bakery in 1993. Salvatore Torretta passed away in 2017 and Ralph, who grew up in Beachmont and graduated from Revere

Council to honor veterans with American flags on Legion lawn

By Cary Shuman

The City Council approved a motion by Councillors Richard Serino and Gerry Visconti to place one American flag on the lawn of the American Legion building for each service member from Revere "who has valiantly given his or her life" in service to the United States of America.

The observance will take place in advance of Memorial Day.

Serino, who witnessed a similar observance in Boston, feels it would be "a poignant reminder" to place American flags on the Legion lawn so residents can see the flags and pay tribute to Revere residents' service to the country.

"Given COVID-19, I would assume we're probably not going to have the traditional Memorial Day Exercises that we've had in the past," said Serino. "Placing these flags could be a very visual memorial for Memorial Day."

Serino said he and Visconti will personally donate the individual flags for the observance.

Councillors Jessica Giannino and Steven Morabito offered their support of the motion. Morabito also commended Director of Veterans Services Mark Silvestri for his service to the country and his superb organization of last year's Memorial Day Exercises.

"I'm honored to be part of this motion," said Visconti, who offered an amendment that the placement of the flags be an annual event.

Silvestri addressed the Council, stating that he fully supported the Serino-Visconti motion. "Since it being an odd year with COVID-19 and we're not going to have the regular Memorial Day celebration and decorations, I ask if we could extend the flags to go through the additional 600 veterans (beyond the 201 veterans that were lost in battle) that we place flags on yearly," said Silvestri.

The Council unanimously approved the amendments to the original motion as well.

Council refers Rotondo motion on loan restructuring to subcommittee

Special To the Journal

Councillor-at-Large George Rotondo presented a motion at Monday night's Council meeting that the city look in to the feasibility of restructuring all loans involving the city.

Rotondo said he looked at the city's bond debt "and we have bonds out at 4 percent and so forth. Imagine if we can restructure our debt, so that we're paying

I believe the city saved upwards of $4 million."

Rotondo said he looked at the city's bond debt "and we have bonds out at 4 percent and so forth. Imagine if we can restructure our debt, so that we're paying

1 percent on all our loans – that's a no brainer."

The City Council referred the motion to the Council's Ways and Means subcommittee for further review.

"The Moroccan American Community stepping up to the plate, what they did was phenomenal. When there was a need, they (Rachid Moukhabir and MACIR) rose to the challenge and I just want to thank them for that."

Councillor-at-Large Jessica Giannino said, "I've had the pleasure of getting to know Rachid very well the past few years on the Council and he and his whole organization will do anything to help the community. Any time anything is needed, they step up to the plate and they get it done. I can't thank them enough for their dedication and for what they do for us. And I hope they know that we're here to support them as well."

Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna also commended MACIR, saying that its members and other organizations and residents are deserving of commendation for their actions during the COVID-19 crisis. "I'm just so proud of Revere and what everybody has accomplished to help our residents," said McKenna.

Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino said MACIR "does amazing work and has truly stepped up" for the community.

Councillor-at-Large Steven Morabito asked Rotondo to include local tailor Blanca Bedoya in the recognition ceremony. Morabito said Bedoya has been instrumental in the sewing operations for the masks.

Councillor-at-Large Gerry Visconti hailed Moukhabir for being "a community person." "This is a great motion," said Visconti.

Council President Patrick Keefe said he appreciated all the work that MACIR has done for the city while extending his best wishes during the community's observance of Ramadan.

"I look forward to recognizing MACIR at a Council meeting to be scheduled later," said Keefe.

healthy environment with direct access to medical care has been successful.

"It is universally agreed that isolating individuals who have tested positive is critical to slowing the spread of COVID-19," said Mayor Arrigo. "Yet, isolation is difficult, and in some cases, impossible, in communities like Revere where large numbers of people live in close quarters and densely populated neighborhoods.

"By providing a safe haven, we have isolated individuals who otherwise would be in circumstances where they were highly likely to infect others," continued Arrigo. "Given COVID-19's extremely contagious properties, isolation at the Quality Inn has prevented untold numbers of cases and no doubt saved lives."

Revere's expenses for using the hotel as an isolation facility have not been determined as the costs will be shared by multiple communities. It is also believed that the costs associated with the hotel will be reimbursed by the state and federal government.

Several members of the city's COVID-19 Emergency Response Team, including Kim Hanton, Rob Fortuna, and Adrienne Maguire, are coordinating Revere's effort at the hotel.

tion to make several thousand masks for the city.

Nonni’s Pizza donated approximately 250 masks to the city. Massachusetts General Hospital gave the city 7,000 masks that were distributed to every senior living facility in Revere. “MGH’s donation of supplies was incredible,” said Giuffrida.

Those unable to pick up their masks in person at RMA may submit a delivery form that is available on the main page at revere.org.

“Anyone who fills out form will receive a mask delivery on Saturday,” said Giuffrida. “These are no-contact deliveries. The driver will leave the mask on the front porch or side door, wherever they tell us to put it. For residents who live in apartment buildings, they have to make arrangements to have the mask delivered to the lobby.”

Charlie Giuffrida, outreach coordinator for the city’s COVID-19 Emergency Response Team, has been busy planning deliveries to Revere residents as part of the Mask Up May Program.

Zambuto calls for issuance of cease and desist order to RCN

By Cary Shuman

Councillor-at-Large Anthony Zambuto has asked for the issuance of a cease and desist order to RCN for what he termed the cable TV service provider’s “non-responsiveness” to the City Council’s request for an appearance before the Council.

“I don’t have exact proof but the stories are they’re leaving wires hanging from poles in the city,” said Zambuto.

Zambuto made the motion for the cease and desist order during a conference with Dan Cameron of National Grid and Stan Usovicz of Verizon about companies’ work involving double poles, trench work, and wiring.

While National Grid and Verizon received praise for their efforts and their accessibility to the Council, RCN drew the ire of the Council, especially Zambuto. “The bottom line is we meet with Verizon, Comcast, and National Grid once a month, and we’ve invited RCN and they don’t participate,” said Zambuto. “So therefore RCN doesn’t answer any of our concerns. The other companies answer our requests for updates on double poles or wiring problems or trenches that aren’t filled. I’m finally frustrated with RCN.

“They came in to this community and everybody was excited that we were going to have competition for cable television service and that’s all good - but not if we get a non-responsive player – and that’s what we have right now, a non-responsive player. I’m angry and I decided that I’ve had enough of it.” Zambuto said that RCN may resolve the issues of wires hanging from the poles and prove that the claims are not true, “but right now the evidence is that they’re doing stuff and they’re not coming here to answer for it.”

Council President Patrick Keefe also weighed in on Zambuto’s motion that was approved by the Council, joining Zambuto with his own comments that were critical of RCN.

“It’s unfortunate that we have to be so aggressive with RCN as we like having them in the community to offer residents an option and create healthy competition,” said Keefe. “However, RCN has been the furthest from being a good community partner and has shown really poor business judgment in building a reputable brand to the consumers of Revere.”

Efforts to reach RCN officials Tuesday for a comment were unsuccessful.

The Soofa Signs will be used to push out important PSAs, health guidelines, and resources for community members and businesses alike, as well as real-time transportation information. The signs will extend the City’s COVID-19 communications outside of digital channels to the outdoors. The first four signs are the first phase of a larger installation of up to 18 Signs.

chusetts’ transportation system, and creating a healthier, more sustainable state following the COVID-19 pandemic.

“Jim Aloisi is one of the foremost experts on transportation policy in Massachusetts,” said Gravellese. “For years, he’s been sounding the alarm on what Massachusetts must do to solve its transportation crisis, alleviate the burdens of congestion on communities like ours, and make our state cleaner and healthier. I’m thrilled to host him for a conversation on how we can make transportation better for Revere, Chelsea and Saugus, as well as residents all over the state.”

INTERNATIONAL UNION OF OPERATING ENGINEERS LOCAL 4 ENDORSES GRAVELLESE

The International Union of Operating Engineers Local 4 has endorsed Joe Gravellese in the campaign for State Representative in the 16th Suffolk District. The Democratic primary election will be held on Tuesday, September 1.

The IUOE represents construction workers who work as heavy equipment operators, mechanics, surveyors, and stationary engineers. Local 4 has over 5,000 members in central and eastern Massachusetts.

“From standing up to wage theft, to giving labor a seat at the table when crafting important safety regulations, I’ve committed to fighting for workers’ rights at the State House,” said Gravellese.

“I’ve had great conversations with labor groups across the state, but this endorsement is a special honor for me, as my father has been a union operating engineer for over 20 years. My family experienced firsthand what a difference it made to the quality of our lives when my father had access to a union.”

“Labor has played a huge role in our lives - my grandfather was a teamster, and my brother-in-law is a laborer. In my public service, I am committed to advancing the cause of workers’ rights - not through lip service, but by fighting for the important changes to state policy that will protect the right to organize for fair wages and working conditions.”

Voters can learn more about Gravellese’s campaign at www.joegrav.com or by emailing info@joe-grav.com.

Grab and Go Mask Distribution starts; food delivery to be available this weekend

The City of Revere’s Emergency Response Team continues to take proactive steps to slow community transmission of COVID-19 and establish strategies for longer-term recovery efforts. As of May 5, the Revere Board of Health has been notified by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health of 1,285 positive cases of COVID-19 in the City of Revere.

The City of Revere announced it has again expanded its food services for residents to include pop-up distributions that will bring fresh produce, dairy products and prepared meals to thousands of residents through the month of May. The pop-up program is being funded through Community Development Block Funding and directs dollars back into local businesses while expanding food access for residents.

In addition to existing Grab and Go meal distribution at Rumney Marsh Academy, breakfast and lunch services through Revere Public Schools, and ongoing food pantries and delivery services, the City has added the following services in May:

#MaskUpMay
Tuesday marked the start of the City’s Grab and Go mask distribution as part of its #MaskUpMay campaign. Residents in need of a mask will be able to walk or drive-up to the Rumney Marsh Academy any weekday between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. and receive a mask. The city will distribute cloth, reusable masks sewn by volunteers for nonprofit partner MACIR (Moroccan American Connections in Revere) after which disposable masks will be handed out. Yesterday, the City distributed more than 950 masks at its first pop-up mask distribution at Revere Beach.

Beginning this weekend, City volunteers will deliver masks to the homes of residents who cannot access the Grab and Go distribution. Any resident in need of a mask can call 3-1-1 or utilize this form to register for the service.

Produce Assistance:
On May 8 and 15, the City will provide bags of fresh fruit and vegetables from Vinny’s Market and La Oaxaqueña Market to residents in need. Volunteers will distribute 200 premade grocery bags at each event. Residents can register here.

Dairy Assistance:
On May 14 and May 21, milk and eggs will be provided to 250 Revere residents in need. Residents can register here for this event.

If you’re looking for more than just an ice cream to satisfy a sweet tooth, try one of their delicious Banana Boats or Brownie Sundaes.

As for worries about the ice cream or yogurt melting before it reaches your mother, Queen describes the process that keeps the frozen ice cream from melting.

“We first take the order, make the order, then bag and secure it for delivery,” Queen said. “We then put the bag into a deep freeze of about five degrees below zero and then wait for delivery or pickup.”

Twist and Shake - Revere and Wicked Eats are open seven days a week from 1 to 9 p.m.

Other local options are: Torretta’s Bakery located at 652 Winthrop Ave. that is offering sweets and a hearty meal where all dishes are made with high-quality ingredients and their secret

THIS SUNDAY IS MOTHER’S DAY

During this time of unprecedented upheaval because of the novel coronavirus pandemic, the rituals that most of us traditionally follow either have been eliminated or drastically changed because of the need to practice physical distancing.

So too, the manner in which we observe Mother’s Day, which is this Sunday, May 10, will be different from all others before it. The traditional family get-togethers that we usually observe will be cancelled or modified to a great extent because of the situation in which we find ourselves.

However, it often is said that necessity is the mother of invention (no pun intended) and in that spirit we’re sure that all of our readers will find a way to honor their mothers in some fashion, whether it be something as simple as a phone call or by a family gathering via Zoom.

Oftentimes, the smallest of gestures can mean the most. We hope too, that Mother’s Day this year will serve as a way for all of us to think about what is most important in our lives -- our family, friends, and loved ones -- as we struggle to make sense of these turbulent times amidst a pandemic.

We know we join with all of our readers in wishing all of our moms a happy Mother’s Day.

THIS IS NO TIME FOR HOOVERISM

Herbert Hoover had been President for about seven months when the stock market crashed in October, 1929. Although there have been many causes attributed to the onset of the Great Depression, the crash generally is viewed as the trigger point for what still rates as the greatest economic downturn in our nation’s history.

However, even as the economy continued to sink in the aftermath of the crash, Hoover adopted a hands-off policy toward the economy. Although Herbert Hoover was a good man with lots of government experience prior to becoming president, he refused to take action of any kind, held back by a combination of a lack of imagination and his rigid, free-market view of the U.S. economy.

Hoover failed to recognize the severity of the situation or leverage the power of the federal government to address it. He was widely viewed as callous and insensitive toward the suffering of millions of desperate Americans.

By the time Hoover left office in early 1933, unemployment in the U.S. had reached 25% and millions of Americans literally were starving. The iconic photos from that era of Americans lined up for handouts from the soup kitchens that were operated by private charities still are seared into our collective memory even today.

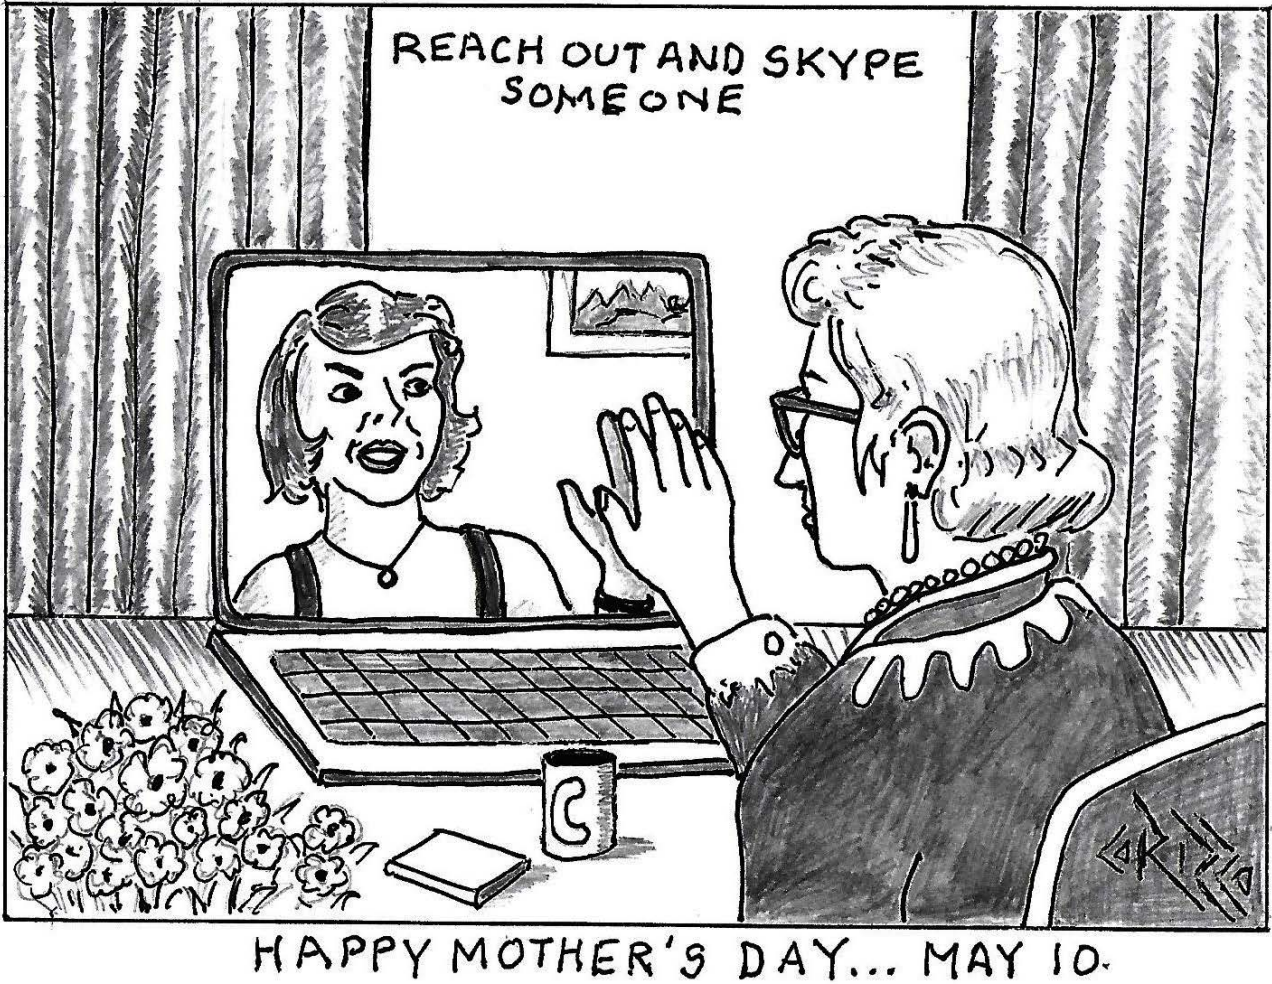

What brought to mind the inaction of Herbert Hoover during the Great Depression were comments made this past Sunday by Lawrence Kudlow, the former TV personality who now is one of the chief economic advisers to President Trump.

Basically, Kudlow said the Trump administration is taking a wait-and-see approach before committing to more federal support for Americans as the United States continues to weather the coronavirus crisis and the accompanying economic damage.

“Well, I don’t want to get too far ahead of the story, Jake,” Kudlow said to CNN’s Jake Tapper. “There may well be additional legislation. There’s a kind of pause period right now.”

But “getting ahead” of this crisis precisely is what policymakers need to do. While it certainly is true that the federal government has spent trillions of dollars in various ways to assist Americans, it also is true that the degree of economic assistance -- as well as a coordinated plan -- that will be necessary simply to keep Americans fed during the ongoing crisis will require additional trillions of dollars as the economy plunges into free-fall without a parachute in the months ahead.

The lesson of the Great Depression is that a national government cannot be a passive bystander during a time of economic collapse. Speedy, forceful, and creative action is required today to prevent an already-calamitous situation from becoming worse tomorrow.

Mother’s Day, in Quarantine

By Brian M. Arrigo

Like St. Patrick’s Day, Easter Sunday, and Opening Day at Fenway Park, Mother’s Day 2020 will be different than any before.

Restaurants won’t be packed with families giving Mom a break from the kitchen. The stores where husbands, sons and daughters desperately shopped for just the right gift are closed. In many cases, mom and grandma will greet family virtually, without the loving touch that makes the day so precious.

Yes, Mother’s Day will be strange, but no less heartfelt. While this Sunday will be like every other Sunday—(every other day!)—since the middle of March, the simple designation that it is “Mother’s Day” will adorn it with special meaning.

In many ways, Mother’s Day in quarantine can be a lesson, a reminder of life’s most important attributes. Perhaps Mother’s Day 2020 will redirect us from the commercialism that has blossomed around the holiday and steer us closer to its true meaning.

Mother’s Day celebrates and honors Mother, that special individual who is the eternal source of affection, wisdom, protection, guidance, discipline, kindness, patience, and an infinite list of virtues that are embraced in the ideal of motherly love. Mother’s Day celebrates and honors motherhood, and the influence that mothers have upon every one of us and, therefore, on society as a whole.

In one way, the Covid-19 crisis has given us all a sense of motherhood. We endure sacrifice for the good of others. We appreciate that generosity, compassion, and health are the things that matter most. We have learned to accept that life will wallop us on occasion and still we will keep going.

Mother’s Day always is a harbinger of spring and the approaching summer. It is often the first annual holiday that we celebrate outdoors. But we must all be careful to remember that this perilous virus that endangers every one of us will not take a break this weekend. We must continue to be steadfast in staying safe, in quarantine, for our sake and the sake of our loved ones.

Sadly, in the past few weeks, too many have suffered the loss of a mother or grandmother as Covid-19 preyed ruthlessly upon the elderly. These tormented times have deprived many of the chance to visit a beloved mom during her final days, or to share the grief of loss with family and friends. For them, this Mother’s Day will intensify their grief and heighten their mourning. To them, we offer our prayers and condolences.

All those who are blessed to have the opportunity to celebrate Mother’s Day with their moms this weekend, whether in a quiet family dinner or a virtual greeting, can take comfort in knowing that maintaining your quarantine will help keep mom, and family, safe.

The time will come soon enough when can join together in traditional festivities. But for now, the greatest act of love for our mothers, and the greatest act of mother love, will be to keep one another safe. As difficult as that will be on Mother’s Day, it is critical as we all struggle to strike down the virus. Moms always teach that we can handle any difficulty.

Quarantine will never diminish the love between mother and child. In this bewildering 2020, quarantine will be a wonderful acknowledgement of it.

Happy Mother’s Day, no matter what, to all.

Brian Arrigo is the Mayor of the City of Revere.

Isn’t it a bit ironic?

By Jessica Giannino

These are truly unprecedented times. COVID-19 continues to wreak havoc on our lives and safety. Tom Brady is no longer a Patriot. There’s a shortage of toilet paper. Hand sanitizer is as valuable as a semi-precious stone. And, if this wasn’t enough for you to take a moment to ponder the present, Earth Day was celebrated by Wheelabrator in Saugus. Let that sink in. What’s next? Upside down rain?

Earth Day was established to expose for-profit companies that bring turmoil and despair with little regard or benefit to communities or residents. It exists to spotlight companies that do not hold themselves accountable and flaunt their disregard for local, state and national pollution standards daily. And, Earth Day is our way of coming together to recognize that despite some progress in other areas, significant work remains.

Wheelabrator, with an ancient incinerator, unlined landfill and massive expansion plans, is laser focused on profit. In my opinion, the company never has, nor will it ever care about the health and welfare of the residents of Revere, Saugus, Lynn or the surrounding communities that are forced to live with the noxious odor, unbearable noise, toxic pot-ash and black billowing smoke that pollute our air and water.

Wheelabrator was supposed to be closed more 20 years ago. And yet, it remains open and seeks to aggressively expand its’ presence and operation in the area. While our cries for relief have fallen on deaf ears at the Department of Environmental Protection, I will never stop advocating for the safety and well-being of our district. You shouldn’t either. This is why I am asking you to join me and the Alliance for Health and the Environment #WatchingWheelabrator campaign and take a stand. Enough is enough.

I have stood with you to fight for this cause during my time on the Revere City Council, and as your next State Representative, I will continue to lead the fight for us all. Wheelabrator and companies like it must be held accountable.

To participate in the #WatchingWheelabrator campaign, just follow these four easy steps:

1. Take a time-stamped photo or video of anything concerning you see or hear at the Wheelabrator facility
2. Take note of the date and time you took the photo/video, as well as the location (address) of where you captured it
3. Post your photos/videos to Facebook or Twitter with the hashtags: #WatchingWheelabrator and #AllianceHealthEnvironment
4. Email the photo/video with the above details to: alliancehealthandenvironment@gmail.com

Former RHS Hockey Captain, Retired Chef, Emergency Call-Taker

Paul A. Bright Jr. loved life and lived it with enthusiasm, joy, and an open heart that warmly encompassed everyone he loved and who loved him.

He loved the Boston Bruins, Aerosmith, cooking, his two cats, and, most of all, his cherished daughters, granddaughter, family, and loyal friends.

A Revere resident for most of his life, Paul passed away suddenly on Sunday, April 26.

Paul is survived by four daughters, Amanda, Dayna, Diandra, and Danae Bright, all of Revere; a granddaughter, Julianna; three siblings, Kathleen Bright-Procopio and her husband David of Saugus, Revere Fire Chief Christopher Bright and his wife Mary Ellen of Wakefield, and Amy Ciccone and her husband Eric of Marblehead. He also leaves many nieces, nephews and cousins and his aunt and uncle, Marilyn (Toomey) and Raymond Longden, of Fairfield, Conn. He was the former husband of Diana(DeSimone) Bright of Revere.

Born in Revere to the late Paul Sr. and Katherine (Toomey) Bright, Paul attended the Immaculate Conception School and graduated from Revere High School, where he skated for the school’s strong hockey teams and was chosen as a team captain in 1975. He would remain an ardent sports fan throughout his life, especially of the Bruins and Patriots.

He enjoyed the company of a group of loyal friends who often gathered behind the old Revere Cinema on Broadway, and, in reference to the place where they hung out, called themselves the Show Yard Kickers. Once, as youths, they painted a mural on a wall in tribute to the rock band Aerosmith, and Paul would remain a passionate fan of their music throughout his life.

He was employed for many years in the culinary industry, working as a chef for Marriott Hotels and prominent corporate and event catering companies. Throughout his life, Paul enjoyed cooking and good food, and at one point contributed a recipe column to The Revere Journal.

Later in his life Paul worked as a 911 call-taker for the city of Revere and later for the city of Chelsea. After several years he was promoted to deputy director of the Chelsea 911 department. He retired several years ago.

Paul lived in Chelsea briefly and moved to Boston two years ago. In his retirement, in addition to his close bonds with his daughters and granddaughter, dear friends and family, he also cherished the companionship of his two beloved cats, J.J. and Mittens, whom he had rescued separately.

Throughout his life, Paul was a joyous and warm presence whenever he was around family and his many friends, always quick with a smile, a laugh, or a humorous remark. He had the gift of making people feel good when they were around him.

Funeral arrangements, under the direction of Vertuccio and Smith Home for Funerals in Revere, are private because of restrictions caused by the COVID-19 public health emergency.

Remembrances in Paul Bright Jr.’s name may be made to the Animal Rescue League of Boston, 10 Chandler St., Boston MA 02116.

World War II English War Bride and a woman of style, elegance and grace

Kathleen “Kay” (Davies) DiChiara of Revere died on April 30 at the age of 92.

Born in Liverpool, England to the late Daniel and Elizabeth (Hanratty) Davies, she was the beloved wife of the late Alfonse “Al” DiChiara, devoted mother of Sandra DeChristoforo and her late partner, Steve of Revere and the late Nicholas DiChiara of Westminster, CO; dear sister of the late Anne Matthews and Bette Machon of England; cherished grandmother of Gina Bassant and her late husband, Jay of Revere, Brenda Spinelli and her husband Jim of Port St. Lucie, FL and Johnna Wallace and her husband, Bruce of Port St. Lucie, FL; adored great grandmother of Cassandra, Nikolas, Caden and August. She is Iso survived by many loving nieces and nephews.

We lost a remarkable woman. A woman full of life, courage and determination. Throughout her exceptional life she endured many challenges but also enjoyed many incredible experiences. Growing up in England during World War II led her to meet a U.S. soldier and fall in love, and that love led her to move to the United States, to marry and start a new life and a family.

Kay was a devoted wife and an amazing mother, grandmother and great-grandmother (Nana). A woman of style, elegance and grace. She was the family’s matriarch, historian and storyteller. She loved to travel the world and read everything she could. Her talents were endless; there wasn’t anything she couldn’t cook, sew, create or learn. Always there to lend a hand and always had a smile. And she was the best bargain shopper, especially at her beloved Filene’s.

There is so much that can be said about Kay and the way she lived life. She will be tremendously missed and remembered by all those who love her.

Markey for U.S. Senate campaign blows past signature goal

Staff Report

The Ed Markey for U.S. Senate campaign this evening announced that it has received over 23,600 signatures from an unprecedented sweep of the state--with requests for nomination papers from 343 of the 351 cities and towns.

As a result of the massive level of voter support from thousands of volunteers, who contributed countless hours of their time, Senator Markey will appear on the September 1 primary ballot. The campaign will file the signatures with the Secretary of State’s Office next week. Senator Markey participated in a virtual video call this evening where he thanked over 360 supporters for their efforts.

After successfully winning 70 percent of the support at local city and town caucuses earlier this year--a significant grassroots show of support-- the Markey campaign also gathered 7,000 signatures by engaging with voters at coffee shops, libraries, and in their homes, and the campaign was on track to have the required number of signatures prior to the May 4 deadline. Through successful digital and relational organizing, in the weeks following the cancelation of the caucuses, the Markey campaign saw an enormous outpouring of support resulting in today’s announcement.

as we balance work, home life, caring for loved ones, and the education of our children while also working to remain safe during this health crisis.

As part of the new policies, districts will decide whether students will be held back or not in their grade. If districts allow students to continue to advance to the next grade, districts like Revere have to create opportunities for summer learning and additional support in the fall.

“We are doing some things similar to other districts like grading using a “Met Competence” of “has not yet met competency” approach,” said Revere Public School Superintendent Dr. Dianne Kelly. “Middle and High School students have to successfully complete 60 percent of the remote learning work to meet competency.”

Students with disabilities will receive services that can reasonably be provided in a remote learning environment by their assigned team of educators in relation to the goals identified in the student’s IEP and ELS students will receive ESL instruction based on their English Development Level.

“When we built our Remote Learning Plan (RLP), we intentionally focused on the “what if we can’t reopen” scenario knowing we’d be able to peel back from that if we did re-open,” said Kelly. “Commissioner Riley has indicated that the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education will release a second Remote Learning Plan guidance document later this week. Once we receive that document, we’ll revisit our RLP and make any necessary adjustments.”

Kelly said now that students won’t be back to school this year RPS will look to provide more detail to the RLP and focus more on how to assist seniors as they transition beyond high school to college, the military, and the workforce.

“We’re also focusing on how to leverage the start of next school year to close the learning gaps for kids in grades Pre-K through 11,” she said. “We are still hoping to have some programming over the summer to help students get back on track but even that remains unsure at this time.

While we want you to know what our next steps are and how we are working to support students, we also want to emphasize the need to focus on your own wellbeing and that of your children. Doing the best you can is all we ask.”

Kelly said she and RPS realize remote learning will look different across homes based on family needs and that is perfectly fine.

“Together, we’ll figure it out. If you have questions or concerns we encourage you to contact your child’s school,” said Kelly. “Email is being checked by all staff members regularly. This, and other electronic forms of communication (like Dojo at the elementary level), are the best ways to communicate with staff.”

Kelly said staff working from home can still answer phones and direct calls as needed; but may not be able to do so in real time. If you reach the school’s answering machine, Kelly urges parents and students to please leave a message to ensure we can respond to your questions or concerns as quickly as possible.

“It is more important now than ever that schools and families work together to help kids with anything they need,” she said. “If your family is in need of assistance or has any other needs (example: additional food, support, medicine), please call Revere 311 which is available Monday thru Friday from 7:30 am-6:00 pm, or the Massachusetts 211 hotline, which is available 24 hours a day and in multiple languages.”

Raquelle MacDonald brought home the top ribbon for the Revere High girls track team with her first place finish in the 100 meter high hurdles at the Northeastern Conference Freshman/Sophomore Meet that was held Friday afternoon in Lynn. Raquelle's time of 17.2 far outdistanced the field, with her nearest competitor coming in at 18.9, a spread of 1.7 seconds which is quite large for a sprint event.

A grand slam homer in the top of the seventh inning handed the Revere High baseball team a heart-breaking 9-7 defeat last Wednesday to Peabody. Revere held the lead most of the way thanks to some timely hitting and a gutsy pitching effort by Jonathan Chiarelli who pitched well enough to win. Jonathan allowed only seven hits in the contest while throwing 130 pitches. Paul Norton enjoyed a fine day at the plate for the Patriots with two hits, including a two-run roundtripper in the fourth. Chris Adreani, Frank Colleran, and Brendan Mandell all contributed RBI base hits, while Jay Sasso and Norton both scored two runs apiece.

The Revere High softball team endured a difficult week, dropping four games to Northeastern Conference rivals. Monday's 3-0 loss to Winthrop saw Lady Patriot hurler Briana Lauletta turn in a fine effort on the mound, as she stifled a Winthrop team that has displayed some offensive firepower this season. However, the Lady Patriot themselves only mustered two hits on the day. The Lady Patriots also dropped contests to English, Peabody, and Gloucester. Ashley DiFraia, Lindsay Gurska, Michelle Johnson, Kat Prince, and Cassandra Petrola all were cited by the coach Joe Ciccarello for their offensive contributions at the plate.

Brahim Rahzi and Vito Licata brought home first place finishes for the Revere High boys track team in last week's meet against Lynn English. Brahim set the pace in the mile with a clocking of 5:04 and Vito won the discus with a toss of 98 feet. The talented Rahzi also scored in three other events, taking second in the 400 in 55.7; third in the long jump with a leap of 17-2.5; and third in the triple jump with a landing of 38 feet. Licata also added points to the Revere score-sheet with a second place shotput throw of 38'-0".

The Revere High boys tennis team earned its second win of the season with a 5-0 blanking of Lynn English. All three of Coach Mike Flynn's singles players cruised to victory in straight sets. Richie Bonilla, playing at No. 1, shut out his English rival with a 6-0, 6-0 triumph. Francesco Tartaglia was a 6-1, 6-2 winner at No. 2 and Malak Mossadek triumphed by a 6-1, 6-1 score. Both Patriot doubles teams also prevailed, but in tough, three-set matches after overcoming losses in the first set. The first doubles duo of junior Pariwat Chauiwong and freshman Nick Mucci emerged victorious, 3-6, 6-4, 6-1, while the second tandem of sophomore Timothy Mellen and freshman Mladen Pepic came through with a 5-7, 6-4, 6-3 triumph.

Tayla Hough and Marissa Parent set new Revere High School records to highlight the past week for the Revere High girls track team. Tayla broke her own record in the 800 meter run of 2:32.7 with a new mark of 2:32.2. in Monday's meet against Salem. Marissa established a new standard for a Lady Patriot in the 200 meter dash with a clocking of 27.2, eclipsing the previous fastest time of 27.5, in last week's meet with Lynn English. Coach Peter DiGiulio's squad split the meets, easily defeating English 100-20, but dropping an 85-52 decision to Salem. Leading the way for Revere in the triumph over English with first-place finishes were: Elizabeth Nutile in the 400 intermediate hurdles in 80.1 and with a triple jump of 28-4; ; freshman Caitlyn Caramello in the two mile in 13:24; Colby Hough in the mile in 5:59.9; Melissa Adreani in the 110 high hurdles in 19.6 and in the high jump with a leap of 4-8; Briana Scata with a shotput toss of 28-3.5, Briana's best this season; Theresa Santiano McHatton with a long jump of 14-3.5; Jessica Mack with a discus throw of 65-3, a personal record (PR); Taryn Kershaw in the 400 in 69.7; and Tayla Hough in the 800 in 2:35.1.

MEET REVERE POP WARNER'S NEW LEADER Brianna Roderick begins as organization president

By Cary Shuman

It's hard to think of youth football and cheerleading amidst a global pandemic, but hopefully Sundays this fall at Della Russo Stadium will ring again with the audibles and the cheers of Revere Pop Warner athletes and their proud families.

Brianna Roderick will be leading the way as the new president of the Revere Junior Patriots Pop Warner organization. Roderick, who was elected in March, succeeds Patrick Keefe, who stepped down after a very successful tenure that included an investment in state-of-the-art equipment and uniforms and emphasis on safer play. Enrollment also increased in the program.

Roderick, 34, has been a board member for six years. Her son, Joseph, is beginning his seventh season in Pop Warner and is a lineman for the U-12 football team.

Roderick said it has been a challenge for the board trying to plan the season with COVID-19 affecting everything.

"We're hoping to start our registration process this month and I think we'll be

WINTHROP MARKETPLACE

To Our Valued Customers

First of all, thank you. Thank you for your patience, your support, your understanding, and your patronage. This is the space we usually reserve for our sales ad for our Winthrop, Chelsea, Revere and East Boston customers. Unfortunately, as we all know, we are not living in normal times and we are unable to offer a sales ad at this time.

Who would have imagined standing in line waiting to come into grocery stores? Glass shields at the registers while standing 6 feet apart from fellow customers? Having limits on toilet paper, tissues, napkins paper towels, if we can even stock them?

Not being able to buy Lysol. Watching meat prices rise up and seeing shortage of chicken? And limits across the board on what you can buy! Then we have the challenge of wearing face masks with all this. They may be uncomfortable and a nuisance to have on, but they can save lives (but we do miss seeing your smiling faces). And through all of this craziness, we must all find a way to stay positive and hopeful. Hopeful that this will get easier, that the supply chain will fix itself, that everyone will stay healthy, and that we will be able to offer you a full variety of great products at a great price. We know that this isn't easy and we want to say thank you for supporting our whole team. When you shop at our store, your support means so much.

We are all doing our best and we will continue to get through this together.

A break in an MWRA water main created a water emergency for more than two million MWRA users last weekend and early this week. Saturday’s major water infrastructure break involving a 120-inch pipe in Weston at the MWRA treatment plant put a boil water advisory in effect for most of the Greater Boston area, including Revere – leaving drinking water in demand and prompting a federal disaster declaration from President Barack Obama on Monday. Ironically, that came about a month after another federal disaster had been declared here, except the previous disaster was linked to too much water rather than too little water. For those who have forgotten, the previous disaster concerned the heavy rains and horrible flooding that took place in March. The water emergency had businesses in Revere reeling, especially those involved with food and beverage service. At BJ’s in Revere, the Revere Police had to be called in to quell a water run that got violent and injured a man from Watertown. Water was pouring off the shelf at BJ’s Saturday evening when things got out of control. The Watertown man reported to police that he was attempting to purchase water along with several hundred other people also scrambling to purchase water. During the scramble, the man was pushed from behind by the crowd and fell to the ground, injuring his shins and knees. Police observed visible cuts, scrapes, and bruising. Outside in the parking lot, witnesses told the Journal that people were “scalping water in the parking lot at double and triple the price.” Revere Police responded to the store around 7:45 p.m. with more than five units to quiet the madness.

The architect for the new Beachmont School has charged that the city is withholding $27,000 in payments owed to him because he has not contributed to Mayor George V. Colella’s campaign fund. Ward 6 Councillor Serino wants speed limit enforcement

By Cary Shuman

Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino says too many motorists are speeding down Washington Avenue. And the first-year city official is asking Revere Police for increased “strategic enforcement” of the speed limit on the busy street.

The City Council unanimously approved Serino’s motion that requests the RPD to “station an officer with radar technology along or off of Washington Avenue.”

With fewer vehicles on the road due to the coronavirus pandemic, Washington Avenue, which is usually quite busy during certain hours, has been clear sailing for motorists in a hurry to get to their destination.

“I received a few calls from residents on Washington Avenue who have been complaining about the speeding from Park Avenue to Malden Street,” said Serino.

He said he had earlier petitioned the Traffic Commission to install three-way stop signs at the intersection of Mountain and Washington Avenue. Since that idea was deemed “not feasible,” Serino said residents had contacted him about motorists well exceeding the posted 30 MPH limit.

“I’d say people are going at least 40 miles per hour

– not when there’s heavy traffic, obviously,” said Serino. “But at less busy times in the mornings and on the weekends, there are people speeding down Washington Avenue.”

Serino reasoned that because there are no stop signs all the way from the Park Avenue intersection until the Sargent Street intersection, motorists tend to pick up speed.

Serino said in the past he has seen police officers stationed in the driveway near the gate of the Glenwood Cemetery, but “I don’t know if they have been doing that lately.”

“That’s kind of what I’m looking for – having an officer stationed there,” said Serino. “But I think that spot could technically be in Everett, so that’s why I’m suggesting a spot right on, or immediately off of, Washington Avenue.”

her, we will continue to see RJP thrive in Revere.

Roderick said she hopes to continue the strong tradition. Several current Revere High football and cheerleaders are graduates of the program. Revere Pop Warner has been one of the city’s most popular youth programs since the 1960s.

“I’d like to keep the momentum going,” said Roderick. “We have great cheer and football teams. I’d like to boost the parental involvement – that’s always a challenging aspect.”

The RJP cheerleading program will also have a new leader. April Delaney is succeeding Cheer Coordinator Jennifer Keefe, wife of outgoing president Patrick Keefe. The Keefes are continuing to assist the organization and have been helpful in the leadership transition process.

Justice Department committed to investigating predatory practices in housing amid COVID-19 Pandemic

Special to the Journal

The Attorney General has directed U.S. Attorney’s Offices across the country to investigate reports of housing-related sexual harassment resulting from the current COVID-19 pandemic.

As the country adopts drastic measures to slow the spread of COVID-19, many Americans have lost their jobs and many more have seen their wages curtailed. These losses have forced some to seek abatements or suspensions of their rent. According to a recent memo from the Attorney General, there have been reports of landlords who have responded to requests to defer rent payments with demands for sexual favors and other acts of unbecome sexual conduct. Such behavior is illegal under the Fair Housing Act, which prohibits discrimination in housing on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, familial status, national origin and disability. Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination prohibited by the Act. Sexual harassment by landlords, property managers, maintenance workers, and others with power over housing often impacts society’s most vulnerable populations.

“Sexual harassment in housing is illegal and despicable,” said United States Attorney Andrew E. Lelling. “No person should have to tolerate this behavior in order to keep a roof over his or her head. This conduct is unacceptable in normal times, and certainly will not be tolerated in the midst of a pandemic. My office will aggressively investigate these cases.”

The Attorney’s General’s directive reaffirms the commitment that the Department of Justice made when it launched the Sexual Harassment Initiative in October 2017. The initiative seeks to identify barriers to reporting sexual harassment in housing, increase awareness of its enforcement efforts – both among survivors and those they may report to – and collaborate with federal, state, and local partners to increase reporting and help survivors quickly and easily connect with federal resources.

If you think you are a victim of sexual harassment by a landlord, or other person who has control over housing, resulting from the COVID-19 crisis, contact the U.S. Attorney’s Office by calling 888-221-6023 or emailing USAMA.VictimAssistance@usdoj.gov. For more information, visit www.justice.gov/crt/sexual-harassment-housing-initiative

Unemployment data shows new claims are overwhelmingly from white residents

Staff Report

For the fourth week in a row, new unemployment claims were lower than the previous week, and new data from the state shows that more than 80 percent of new claims since March 15 came from residents describing themselves as white.

Of the 722,552 new claims since March 15, some 82 percent – or 459,511 claims – were from white residents, with the next highest racial group being Hispanic residents at 15 percent (91,779 claims). That did not include the new Pandemic Unemployment Assistance (PUA) claims, which is a new type of unemployment for self-employed, gig workers and other workers that don't typically qualify for unemployment.

Of the other groups represented, Black/African Americans made up 10 percent of the new claims (54,584 claims) and Asian residents made up 8 percent (44,018).

The state Department of Unemployment Assistance (DUA) did not give any reasons as to the large numbers of white residents claiming unemployment since March 15. The sectors of the economy with the most new claims included Retail Trade, Food & Accommodations, and Healthcare & Social Assistance.

From April 19 to April 25, Massachusetts had 70,552 individuals file an initial claim for standard Unemployment Insurance (UI), the fourth consecutive week of fewer initial claims filed over the previous week. Since March 15, a total of 722,009 initial claims were filed. As the number of initial claims continues to decrease, the number of claimants filing for their weekly benefit each week continues to grow. For the week of April 19 to April 25, there were a total of 527,538 claimants, an increase of 13.8% over the previous week, who filed for their weekly unemployment benefits. Food and Accommodation with 93,168, Retail Trade at 69,333 and Health and Social Assistance with 66,202 showed the largest number of claimants who filed for their weekly unemployment benefits.

The Cares Act created a new temporary federal program called Pandemic Unemployment Assistance (PUA), which provides unemployment benefits to individuals who are self-employed, gig workers and those not covered by regular unemployment compensation. In the week of April 19 to April 25, there were a total of 171,598 PUA claims.

From March 15 to April 25, combining UI and PUA, Massachusetts had a total of 893,607 claims filed for unemployment insurance. Currently, the Department of Unemployment Assistance (DUA) is paying standard Unemployment Insurance (UI) benefits to around 450,000 claimants and Pandemic Unemployment Assistance to around 150,000 claimants. Since March 15, nearly 700,000 Massachusetts total claims have been paid amounting to more than $2.3 Billion in disbursements to beneficiaries of both programs. Over the last month, the customer service staff at DUA has grown from around 50 employees to more than 1,200. The remote customer service operation is now making more than 25,000 individual contacts per day and DUA continues to host daily unemployment town halls, held in both English and Spanish, which have been attended by more than 200,000 constituents. Massachusetts was one of the first states to successfully launch the PUA program. Due to DUA's previous efforts to migrate their systems to the cloud, the first unemployment agency in the country to do so, the unemployment online platforms for both regular UI and PUA has maintained functionality throughout the surge in demand.

MASKS FOR MVES

Janet Maestranzi, Mystic Valley Elder Services (MVES) Registered Nurse, received an email that the agency was looking to obtain Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) for clients and staff. Knowing that it can be difficult right now to obtain PPE because of supply shortages and the expense, Janet made 40 masks for MVES to use, and she continues to make more--as many as she can and as are needed at home. The masks she makes are sturdy, washable, and reusable, which is useful because it looks like the virus will be here for a while. Janet says she will not be comfortable visiting a client without wearing a mask for the client's safety. When she has the time and materials, Janet makes masks for other groups and charities, as well.

Volunteers assist at the Revere Food Pantry located at the Rumney Marsh Academy.

DeCicco seeks volunteers for food distribution, other capacities

By Cary Shuman

Ralph DeCicco is the ADA coordinator and chair of the Revere Commission on Disabilities. He is also the volunteer coordinator and wellness and neighborhood check outreach coordinator for Revere’s COVID-19 emergency response team.

Mayor Brian Arrigo and his administration created the emergency response team and there has been an increasing need for volunteers as the COVID-19 crisis continues.

“We need volunteers,” said DeCicco succinctly. “We ask prospective volunteers to go to revere.org, the city’s web site, and there is a volunteer link where they can sign up.”

DeCicco estimates that the team currently has approximately 300 community volunteers assisting in various capacities.

“Most of the volunteer positions we’re looking are food-pantry related [at Rumney Marsh Academy],” said DeCicco. “The Mayor’s Office is also starting an outreach of mask deliveries where anyone in the city can pre-register a mask to be delivered to residences.”

DeCicco said he is in regular communication via email with the volunteers. He coordinates a schedule listing the assignments and the number of volunteers needed for different events.

“It is a very well-thought out process from Mayor Arrigo’s administration,” said DeCicco. “It’s created a whole, new facet of the operation on its own. “I want to commend Mayor Arrigo for leading everyone through this dire situation. Without his leadership, Revere would not be on top of this situation in the best possible way that we are. It shows his knowledge and his compassion for all the residents of Revere.”

Food Program Schedule

DeCicco said the Revere Food Pantry’s food distribution program at the Rumney Marsh Academy requires several volunteers each day.

“We have food distributions in the form of a grab-and-go meals process Monday through Thursday (9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.),” explained DeCicco. “And on Friday, residents are able to take meals for Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.”

There is a lunch program being run in coordination with the Revere School Department along with an ongoing, monthly food program at the Paul Revere and Hill Elementary Schools. A monthly veterans’ food pantry is also in effect.

“We’re also starting two pop-up food pantries on Wednesdays and Fridays at the Beachmont School parking lot,” said DeCicco.

Revere’s emergency response team has also collaborated with the First Congregational Church of Revere and relocated the church’s food pantry (held Wednesday nights) to the Rumney Marsh Academy.

RCN extends COVID-19 response policies to June 30

Staff Report

RCN, an award-winning and leading provider of fiber and broadband services, announced it will extend its commitments through June 30 to ensure business and residential customers remain connected to the internet during the COVID-19 crisis.

Originally announced on April 6, the company made the following commitments that will now be extended through June 30, 2020:

- RCN is offering free internet and Wi-Fi for 60 days to all qualifying low-income households, especially students in low income households who do not already subscribe to the company’s internet service and who enroll in the Internet First program.

- The Internet First program is affordable internet designed to help families and students in low-income households to have reliable access to the internet. It will enable them to home school, do homework, and access educational resources and more. RCN is partnering with school districts to ensure local communities are aware of the program’s extension and the tools to help students learn remotely.

- The Internet First program includes 25Mbps high-speed internet service at $9.95 per month and is available to all eligible new residential customers who do not currently have RCN service. Installation fees will be waived for eligible students and new customers.

- More information on Internet First is available at rcn.com/internet-first.

- RCN will not terminate service to any residential or business customer because of their inability to pay their bills due to disruptions caused by COVID-19. Customers can reach out to make special arrangements to keep services active.

- RCN will waive any late fees that any residential or small business customer might normally incur because of their economic circumstance related to COVID-19.

RCN continues to see excellent performance of their network with engineers, field technicians, and operations centers on point 24/7 to meet shifts in usage patterns and increased traffic. While many are still working, learning and connecting from home, the company remains vigilant in monitoring all network and support systems to ensure customers receive the fastest and most reliable connections and service.

“Now, more than ever, keeping people connected is a critical priority,” said Chris Fenger, Chief Operating Officer of RCN. “In extending these measures RCN will continue to help ensure that customers are able to continue to work, learn, and stay informed from the safety of their own homes. We are committed and ready to do our part in supporting our employees and our customers during this time.”

In addition, RCN is supporting the broader communities it services with its newly launched Everyday Hero program. Residents are invited to nominate a local hero in their community via the website here. In the coming weeks, the company will launch its partnership with Feeding America to donate 10% of installation fees for 30 days.

For details on all RCN programs and additional updates on the company’s response to COVID-19, please visit rcn.com/we-care.

U.S. Attorney’s office and Homeland Security investigations remind parents of risks to children online

The U.S. Attorney’s Office and Homeland Security Investigations are partnering to alert parents and guardians of the potential dangers to children online, and providing guidance for internet safety.

As a result of school closings due to COVID-19, children are increasingly using online resources for schoolwork as well as entertainment. Due to increased access to and reliance on social media, chatting apps, gaming, and other internet-based platforms, children may be more vulnerable to sexual exploitation. Now more than ever before, it is imperative that parents and guardians take steps to educate and protect children online.

The U.S. Attorney’s Office and Homeland Security Investigations have partnered to develop an awareness campaign, “Think Before You Click,” to encourage parents and guardians to discuss internet safety with children of all ages and to monitor internet use. Included are tips for identifying potential victimization and resources to report concerns. The flyer was distributed to law enforcement officers and school leaders throughout the Commonwealth.

“Children are susceptible to online predators because they are often unaware of how dangerous online environments can be,” said United States Attorney Andrew E. Lelling. “Children are at an even greater inadvertent risk now due to school closures and the prevalence of ongoing learning and leisure activities. Through “Think Before You Click,” we aim to make parents and guardians more cognizant of the dangers to children online, and arm them with tools to protect children’s privacy.”

“The COVID-19 pandemic has created an increase in online activity, whereby students are utilizing the internet and social media as a key source of education and entertainment.

The marked increase in social media usage and lessened social interaction may create opportunity for predators to exploit our children. That being said, parental supervision, open discussions about internet safety, active monitoring, and smarter use of privacy settings will reduce the chance of victimization from child predators,” said Michael S. Shea, Acting Special Agent in Charge of Homeland Security Investigations (HSI) Boston. “The inherent dangers presented by social media applications are evident. HSI and our law enforcement partners will continue to take an aggressive, whole of government approach to identifying, disrupting, and dismantling those malicious organizations and actors who seek to prey upon our children.”

This effort was brought as part of Project Safe Childhood (PSC), a nationwide initiative to combat the growing epidemic of child sexual exploitation and abuse, launched in May 2006 by the Department of Justice. PSC marshals federal, state, and local resources to locate, apprehend, and prosecute individuals who exploit children, as well as identify and rescue victims. PSC also conducts education and outreach programs aimed at combating and preventing technology-facilitated crimes. For more information about Project Safe Childhood, please visit www.projectsafechildhood.gov.
