Giannino elected as State Representative

Newly-elected State Rep. Jessica Ann Giannino with her father, Chris were outside of the Susan B. Anthony Complex holding signs and talking to constituents on Election Day.

By Cary Shuman

Jessica Giannino officially became the state representative-elect for the Sixteenth Suffolk District following her election to the office on Tuesday.

Giannino, a five-term councillor-at-large on the Revere City Council, was unopposed in the election after having earned an impressive victory in the Sept. 1 Democratic Primary where she defeated Joseph Gravellese.

Though there was no Republican opponent on the ballot in Tuesday's election, Giannino had maintained an active campaign with the assistance of her grandmother and campaign manager, Joann Giannino, continuing to discuss issues with voters in the district and connecting with her many supporters.

Giannino voted early yesterday morning and then greeted voters at polls throughout the district that includes Revere, Chelsea, and Saugus.

Throughout her career, the 29-year-old Salem State University graduate has won plaudits from her constituents and her colleagues in city government for being a councilor who gets things done and is always accessible to residents. Giannino's rise in Revere politics has been meteoric since first being elected to the Council while she was a college student. Giannino has consistently been among the top vote-getters in city-wide elections. She has twice served as president of the Council.

Giannino called her service in Revere government and the election to the esteemed 160-member Massachusetts House of Representatives as "the honor of my life."

"This election and being a public servant has been the honor of my life," said Giannino.

"I'm so grateful for the hard work of my family and the many volunteers that helped on the campaign trail and most importantly share my vision for a better District. Together, we got creative, took social distancing precautions and had fun. I'm beyond fortunate to be so deeply rooted in the community and to have my family in my corner campaigning over the last nearly 10 years. Their support has always made a difference, and they are a huge part of our success.

"For years, the 16th Suffolk District has been represented by strong women who knew how to get things done," said Giannino.

COVID-19 UPDATE Board of Health updates capacity limits for retail establishments

Special to the Transcript

As of Monday, November 2, the Revere Board of Health recorded 17 new cases of COVID-19 in the City of Revere. The City is averaging 25.3 new cases a day and its 7-day average per capita is 46.8. In the month of October, the City of Revere recorded 622 new cases of COVID-19. By comparison, the City's total case count in May was 479. We are preparing for all of these numbers to increase in November and are asking our residents to remain vigilant and take precautions to help us slow the spread. Wear a mask, avoid gatherings, get tested. You can view updated data at revere.org/coronavirus.

New Retail Capacity Limits Take Effect Tomorrow

Effective Tuesday, November 3, at the opening of business, the City of Revere Board of Health will be adjusting customer limits in retail businesses, allowing five customers per 1,000 square feet of sales floor. City inspectors are visiting businesses today to provide updated customer limit numbers and window signage. Inspectors will continue visiting all businesses daily to ensure compliance. Businesses found out of compliance will receive a written warning and are subject to fines up to $490.00 after repeat violations.

Other existing requirements for retailers remain in place:

- All retail businesses must have a staff member at the entrance to ensure that all customers are wearing a mask upon entering & that you are not exceeding the customer limit number.

Commission addresses Councilors' off street parking issues

By Journal staff

Proving that the devil is in the details, several city councilors appeared before the Revere Traffic Commission at the October 29 meeting asking that certain multi-family apartment buildings be given parking permits for the Overnight Parking Program that was started on October 15.

Ward 3 Councilor Arthur Guinasso asked that the commission modify the regulations on certain buildings with six or more dwellings to allow their residents to obtain parking permits. Under the current regulations, tenants in these buildings would not be granted on-street parking permits.

Guinasso noted that the buildings that he would like to see be exempted from the regulation were built before the year 2000, and many tenants have no place to park except on the neighboring streets. He noted that two buildings in his ward, Village Court Condominiums and Friendly Gardens, were built before 2000. "Tenants in these buildings have no place to park. There are not enough parking spots to accommodate all the tenants. As a city, if we can help we should," he said. Presently, many tenants at Friendly Gardens have to park on Revere Street or Waite Street or in St. Anthony's parking lot, and under the new overnight program they could face nightly parking tickets.

He noted these buildings were built before the city required the number of off-street parking spots to correlate with the number of units. Guinasso further went on to say that there are buildings like Rumney Marsh that should not be included in the list of exemptions, because it was constructed only two years ago and should have enough off-street parking spots.

"I concur with (Councilor) Guinasso," Ward 5 Councilor John Powers said. He pointed out that 1129 North Shore Road was built more than 50 years ago and no one has ever received a ticket until now.

Ward 1 Councilor Joanne McKenna asked that certain buildings in her ward, such as 77 Bennington Street and 145 Bennington Street, as well as 45 Atlantic Ave., be added to the list to have tenants receive overnight street parking stickers. McKenna also pointed out that many single family homes that are on state roads such as Winthrop Parkway and the Lynnway should be granted stickers to park on adjoining city streets.

Ward 2 Councilor Ira Novoselsky also had a list of buildings to be added, including 41 Highland Ave., 525 Beach St., and 120 Walnut St.

"Many people have two cars, so there is a need to expand the relief," said Novoselsky.

Resident Elizabeth Kowalski of Village Court noted that many residents have two cars and their needs should be addressed. "Right now, we have 76 spaces for 75 units, so we have a need," she said.

"These and other buildings should be added to a list to be discussed at a public hearing at the November 30 meeting," said Traffic Commission Chairman Paul Argenzio.

James Rose, the city's Parking Director, noted that the first tickets that will be given out will only be warnings.

The commissioners, noting that time is of the essence, then voted to move the matter to a public hearing on November 30.

The commission also approved plans from Rose to place parking meters in the Central Ave. lot that is off Broadway. The lot currently has 85 parking spaces and will be partitioned as follows:

- 56 two-hour meter spaces;
- 18 business-permit spaces; and
- 11 spaces earmarked for seniors who are using the Rossetti-Cowan Senior Center.

The meters will be at fifty cents an hour for a maximum of two hours.

Area residents can park in the lot at no charge during designated hours. The business spots would be charged at $100 per year. During a snow emergency, the lot would default to emergency parking so residents have a place to put their cars off the streets. The motion was moved to a public hearing.

In other matters, the commission moved to have three spots on Ford Street by the Turkish Cultural Center be made into metered spaces from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. It was noted that these parking spaces would not impact the residents of the area and the motion was approved.

With regard to a request for a public hearing from the Point of Pines Yacht Club to have its members be able to park along their property, Councilor Powers said, "This motion should be tabled and we should hear from the residents who have some complaints."

After both Police Chief Dave Callahan and Fire Chief Chris Bright expressed public safety issues with the additional on-street parking, the commission tabled the motion.

The commission also heard a request from McKenna for the installation of No Parking signs on both sides of Ocean Pier Ave.

The Ward 1 Councilor

Changes will be coming to the parking lot off of Central Avenue. The commission approved a plan to install two-hour limit parking meters in 56 spaces and to convert an additional 18 spaces to business-permit spaces.

noted that during this past summer, with parking restricted on the beach, cars were parked on both sides of the street. McKenna also pointed out that Ocean Pier Ave. is a narrow street. The motion was passed by the commission.

Commissioners approved three handicapped parking signs for 20 Hauman St., 202 Constitution Ave., 560 Revere St., while a motion to deny a handicap sign at 22 Burnett Rd. was upheld because the house has a very wide handicapped-accessible driveway. The request did not meet the criteria for a handicapped sign and the motion to deny was passed.

The commission also heard a request from Novoselsky for No Parking Anytime signs to be installed on the westerly side of Walnut Ave. from Kimball Ave. to the dead end. Novoselsky noted that with the wider sidewalks, there is no room for two-sided parking.

The commissioners approved the motion.

Some of the requests that are headed to public hearing on November 30 include:

A request from Novoselsky to have a Loading Zone sign be posted at 1 Orr Square. Novoselsky noted that because of the wider sidewalks and the bumpouts, unloading trucks presently impede the traffic flow as they need to park more in the street while unloading.

Novoselsky also is seeking a stop sign on Standish Road for east-bound traffic at Curtis Rd.

Councilor Patrick Keefe requested parking restriction signs at the old McKinley School be removed. Argenzio said that the McKinley is abandoned and the need for the signs does not exist.

Lastly, Ward 6 Councilor Richard Serino is seeking to designate no parking on one side of Brookline St.

MVES RECEIVES $10K GRANT FROM THE EASTERN BANK CHARITABLE FOUNDATION

Mystic Valley Elder Services (MVES) announced that it has received a $10,000 grant from Eastern Bank Charitable Foundation (EBCF). The grant is part of a commitment from the EBCF to provide financial support to local organizations focused on COVID-19 relief.

MVES is receiving this grant for its work in helping older adults in its communities of Chelsea, Everett, Malden, Medford, Melrose, North Reading, Reading, Revere, Stoneham, Wakefield and Winthrop, as they cope and adjust to new circumstances in food insecurity, financial challenges, and isolation brought on by the virus.

"We are so grateful for the support of the Eastern Bank Charitable Foundation," said Daniel O'Leary, Chief Executive Officer of Mystic Valley Elder Services. "Our agency relies on the generosity of business partners like the Eastern Bank Charitable Foundation so we can continue to provide services and programs to older adults who have been affected by COVID-19."

"Evidence of the impact of this virus outbreak on our neighbors, families, and small businesses is everywhere," said Nancy Huntington Stager, President and CEO of Eastern Bank Charitable Foundation. "And, we also see the resiliency, sheer will, and hope of people across our region as they band together to help one another. The need for assistance continues to grow, and we will do what we can to give back and support the most vulnerable populations in our communities as well as encourage those who are able to do so to join us."

In partnership with the Rossetti-Cowan Senior Center, Debbie Peccka DiGiulio was back at the RevereTV studio to record another episode of the "Revere Senior Craft Show" led by Ms. Sally. This is an instructional craft show for seniors who can call the senior center for a craft kit specific to this episode. Revere's First Lady, Daveen Arrigo, was the special guest on the program. Debbie and Daveen made a scarecrow craft out of a straw hat and artificial flowers. This episode will be playing on the RTV Community channels over the next few weeks and can also be found on YouTube at any time.

RevereTV always makes a point to celebrate Halloween each year, and this year included an exclusive Halloween movie marathon for the past two weeks. Although these movie specials have ended, you can still watch a Creature Double Feature on Saturday afternoons. The movies on Saturdays are from the same bunch as those featured in the scary movie special. Members of the RTV Staff were also present at Revere Department of Recreation's Spooktacular Lane Event on Saturday. The RTV van was decorated with spooky Halloween props, and the crew spent hours bagging at least 1500 bags of candy for the kids!

Diana Cardona produced a new program that will be airing on the last Saturday of each month at 10am on the community channels. Saturday's episode was called "Latinx Revere: Charlando con la Comunidad." Joe Fortunato has chosen an episode of his program "Eye on Revere" to show for the month of November. This episode is a re-run that features the late Ed O'Hara. It airs on Sundays at 4pm and Wednesdays at 9pm through the month of November.

The first episode of a show that is part of a grant program with the city and state will be on its way soon. The RevereTV crew helped members produce a run-through in the studio last week. The purpose of this grant program is to help inform and update Revere about the coronavirus crisis the city is facing. This program will be produced in three languages and will be distributed on all RevereTV media outlets.

Baker-Polito administration announce stay-at-home order

The Baker-Polito administration announced a series of targeted measures to disrupt the increasing trend of new COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations. Governor Charlie Baker announced these changes at a time where public health data has indicated that cases are rising, with cases up by 278% and hospitalizations up by 145% since Labor Day. These measures are meant to disrupt rising trends now, so the Commonwealth can keep the economy and schools open for residents and to prevent the need to roll back to Phase I or Phase II of the reopening plan.

All orders and advisories will be effective Friday, Nov. 6 at 12:01 a.m.

New Orders and Advisories:

Stay At Home Advisory: The Administration issued a revised Stay At Home Advisory to ensure residents avoid unnecessary activities that can lead to increased COVID-19 transmission. The revised Stay At Home Advisory instructs residents to stay home between 10 PM and 5 AM. The Advisory allows for activities such as going to work, running critical errands to get groceries and address health needs, and taking a walk.

The Stay At Home Advisory is available in full to read at www.mass.gov/stayhome.

Early Closure of Businesses and Activities: Governor Baker issued a new executive order that requires the early closure of certain businesses and activities each night at 9:30 PM. The 9:30 PM closure requirement is aligned with the Stay At Home Advisory and together the two new initiatives are designed to further limit activities that could lead to COVID-19 transmission.

Effective Nov. 6, the following businesses and activities must close to the public each day between the hours of 9:30 p.m. and 5 a.m.

- Restaurants (in-person dining must cease at 9:30 PM, although take-out and delivery may continue for food and non-alcoholic beverages, but not alcohol)
- Liquor stores and other retail establishments that sell alcohol must cease alcohol sales at 9:30 PM (but may continue to sell other products)
- Adult-use marijuana sales must cease at 9:30 PM (not including medical marijuana)
- Indoor & outdoor events
- Theaters/movie theaters (including drive-in movie theaters), and performance venues (indoor and outdoor)
- Youth and adult amateur sports activities
- Golf facilities

- Recreational boating and boating businesses
- Outdoor recreational experiences
- Casinos and horse tracks/simulcast facilities
- Driving and flight schools
- Zoos, botanical gardens, wildlife reserves, nature centers
- Close contact personal services (such as hair and nail salons)
- Gyms, Fitness Centers and Health Clubs
- Indoor and outdoor pools
- Museums/cultural & historical facilities/guided tours

The new executive order (including full list of businesses required to close at 9:30 PM) is available to read online at: <https://www.mass.gov/doc/covid-19-order-53/download>

Face Covering Order: Governor Baker also signed an updated order related to face-coverings.

The revised order requires all persons to wear face-coverings in all public places, even where they are able to maintain 6 feet of distance from others. The revised order still allows for an exception for residents who cannot wear a face-covering due to a medical or disabling condition, but it allows employers to require employees to provide proof of such a condition. It also allows schools to require that students participating in in-person learning provide proof of such a medical or disabling condition.

Gatherings Order: Governor Baker also signed an updated order restricting gatherings. The new gatherings order reduces the gathering size limit for gatherings at private residences: indoor gatherings at private residences are limited to 10 people and outdoor gatherings at private residences are limited to 25 people. The limit on gatherings held in public spaces and at event venues (e.g. wedding venues) remains the same. The new order also requires that all gatherings (regardless of size or location) must end and disperse by 9:30 p.m.

The new gatherings order also requires that organizers of gathering report known positive COVID-19 cases to the local health department in that community and requires organizers to cooperate with contact tracing. The gatherings order authorizes continued enforcement by local health and police departments and specifies that fines for violating the gathering order will be $500 for each person above the limit at a particular gathering.

I am completely humbled by the outpouring of support, and as the Suffolk 16th State Representative, I will have the utmost commitment to making sure your voices are heard on Beacon Hill.”

Giannino will succeed State Rep. RoseLee Vincent in the position. Giannino will be inaugurated at a ceremony at the Statehouse in Boston in January. She will serve in state government with Speaker of the House Robert A. DeLeo, who represents Revere and Winthrop in the Legislature.

Officials congratulate Giannino on her election

State and city officials congratulated Jessica Giannino on her election as state representative Tuesday.

State Rep. RoseLee Vincent said,

“I am thrilled to congratulate Representative-Elect Giannino on her victory! Jessica will be a tireless advocate for the people of Revere, Chelsea and Saugus, and I know that the office of State Representative for the Sixteenth Suffolk District is going to be in tremendous hands going forward. I look forward to working with the Rep-representative-Elect in order to make for a seamless transition. I am excited to see the amazing work she will do and great things she will accomplish as our next State Rep.”

City Council President Patrick Keefe, who serves on the Council with Councilor-at-Large Giannino, said, “I couldn’t be happier for Jessica. The work she’s put in over the last ten years as a Revere city councilor – I know she’s going to take the role as a state rep and add some youth and vigor and represent Revere, Saugus, and Chelsea to its fullest.”

Ward 6 Councilor Richard Serino, a former classmate in the Revere school system, said,

“I offer my sincerest congratulations to our new State Representaative-Elect Jessica Giannino! In addition to serving with Jess on the City Council, perhaps more importantly, we have been friends since we were in elementary school at the Whelan. We grew up together and went to each other’s birthday parties... it’s wild to me and I find it exciting that a classmate and dear friend will now be our State Representative in the Massachusetts House of Representatives. I am so proud of Jess, and know she is going to do a tremendous job because she has her beat on the pulse of the Sixteenth Suffolk District. She will pick up where Representative Vincent is leaving off, but will also bring a new, fresh perspective that I think is important looking toward the future for Revere, Chelsea and Saugus.”

Marra spent 24 years as an attorney for MetLife Property and Casualty Insurance Co. and was Director of their Massachusetts House Counsel office from 2002 until retiring in March of 2018. He will continue to support Hanton and the Mayor’s Office during the transition process.

“Bob Marra has not only been an asset to my office, but he has worked as a public servant to countless residents,” said Mayor Brian Arrigo. “Although we are saddened to see him retire, he will still be involved in our office in an ongoing consultant role. Kim Hanton has proven herself over the course of the pandemic and I know she will continue to serve our community as the new Chief of Staff.”

Hanton has served as the City’s emergency response team leader during the COVID-19 pandemic. Prior to joining the City in 2006 as a private consultant, she was a senior manager with North Suffolk Mental Health Association since 1988 as the Director of Addiction Services. Hanton began her clinical career at the Department of Social Services (DCF) in 1982.

“I am grateful for the confidence Mayor Arrigo has in me to serve this progressive city, said Kim Hanton. “I will miss Bob Marra’s wisdom and guidance but he has promised to support my transition into this new role. Best of luck to Bob on his new adventure.”

Hanton will continue in her role leading the City’s COVID-19 response while onboarding the new Director of the City’s Health Department, Lauren Buck. Her role as Chief of Staff will extend her capabilities and leadership skills across the full breadth of municipal government, working with all departments and staff toward an effective City Hall that represents the best of the City of Revere.

“Mayor Arrigo gave me this rare opportunity to serve in his Administration,” said Bob Marra of his time as Chief of Staff. “It has been exhilarating to be part of Revere’s resurgence, and I hope I made a contribution. Our community is nurturing a bold and confident identity that results from creative vision and dedicated workers. Working here has both inspired and educated me. More important, it provided the opportunity to associate with new colleagues and make new friends. I am grateful for that.”

REVERE CELEBRATES HALLOWEEN SAFELY PARKS AND REC HOST SPOOKTACULAR LANE AT THE RMA

Last Saturday afternoon, on Halloween the City of Revere and the Department of Parks and Recreation presented an alternative to Trick or Treating, Spooktacular Lane. Revere only residents were asked to pre-register their vehicle and the number of costumed goblins, superheroes, princesses and any other characters that are to a child's imagination. Cars were checked in at RHS and continued through the parking lot to get into line, the children (and if necessary) accompanying adult walked the line of local city departments and elected officials giving out candy and other treats.

All keeping in mind social distancing and in crowds wearing a mask, of some sort under the circumstances of the day. This offered a really good alternative to door to door trick or treating, safety for the children being the #1 priority, the weather cooperated as well, from a stormy/snowy Friday to a sunny Saturday.

Congratulations to Mike Hinojosa and his staff, for a great job in planning and not giving into then obvious and cancelling this annual Halloween event.

THERE WAS ONLY ONE “BOND....JAMES BOND”

The passing last weekend of Sean Connery, who became known to everyone throughout the world for his role as James Bond in the 1960s films, was a sad event for all of us who grew up mesmerized by his performances.

Although many other actors have played the role over the years in the subsequent Bond movies, none came even close to epitomizing the charm, strength, and sense of humor that Connery brought to the role. (We have enjoyed the most recent Bond films starring Daniel Craig, though his Bond is of an entirely different sort than Connery's.)

Sean Connery's performances in those iconic films have stood the test of time. They are every bit as much fun and enjoyable to watch, no matter how many times we see them, principally because of Sean Connery.

Beyond his Bond roles, Connery starred in countless other outstanding films over the next 40 years and earned an Academy Award. Off-camera he also was a larger-than-life figure. He was well-respected and beloved among his peers and was an outstanding professional actor in every sense of the word.

He overcame his hard-scrabble background as a youth growing up in Scotland through hard work and determination and never forgot where he came from.

Although he was named People Magazine's Sexiest Man Alive -- at the age of 59 -- his off-screen persona was hardly the raconteur he portrayed as Bond. Sean Connery was married to the same woman (his second wife) for 45 years, quite a feat in the movie business.

We came across a quote from his wife, Micheline Roquebrune, which in our view epitomizes the ideal that all men -- real men -- should strive for:

“He was a model of a man,” she said.

Her words bring to mind the lines of Marc Antony from Shakespeare's Julius Caesar when Antony eulogizes Caesar:

His life was gentle, and the elements

So mixed in him that Nature might stand up

And say to all the world, “This was a man.”

Sean Connery brought fun and joy to hundreds of millions of people for generations.

May he rest in peace.

LETTER to the Editor

THINKING OF MY FRIENDS THIS ELECTION

Dear Editor,

As I'm sure you know, this election season has been stressful for just about everyone. My 12 year old daughter has taken many of the issues to heart, and in an effort to do something that matters in the midst of everything, she came up with this:

Even though I'm just in middle school, I know how important and complicated the 2020 presidential election is. All of that aside, I've had something else on my mind, and I am writing this letter to reach out to the poll workers at the Jack Satter House, my family's polling place until the pandemic moved it.

First, I want to say that we missed going to the Jack Satter House to vote during the primary. Over the years, the people we'd see every election became familiar faces. I like saying hi to you, eating the snacks you have, and getting “I voted” stickers. You always do such a great job setting everything up, and my sister and I thank you for that. Your work also makes it easy and welcoming for my parents and neighbors to vote, and I've learned during this election season that not everyone has that kind of experience. I am grateful for all you do!

Second, I know the Satter House is a senior community and I can imagine how stressful and scary it has been for all of you over these long, lonely months. I understand why it is too risky to vote there right now. Please know that my family thinks of you all often and we wish you good health while we do all we can to avoid spreading the virus around the community. We hope we get to see you soon.

Finally, I want you to know that my sister and I have followed our tradition of voting on our pretend ballots. I'm sure my mother will make extra-special ballots for the presidential election, and the people at the Turkish Cultural Center will definitely hear some giggles. We'll think of you when we go to vote, and we can't wait until we're able to vote with you again!

Until then, may you all be safe, healthy, and happy to know that your littlest voters and friends have you in their hearts.

Nola Reynolds

GUEST OP-ED

The Sun is shining

President John F. Kennedy was assassinated. His death was one of the darkest days I can remember as a child but the Sun never ceased to shine.

When Americans came home from Vietnam in boxes and thousands of funerals were held around the country, we mourned but the Sun kept shining.

I've buried a wife and a baby and it seems like looking back that for a period of time I doubt that I even noticed the Sun was shining. Often life's traumas block the Sun from our eyes even if we are staring right into its rays.

Millions of Americans are unhappy with the election, and some aspects of American life. We don't like Covid-19, unemployment nor the unrest that is all over our country. We sadly have become alienated from good people who have different opinions than we do and this is tragic.

Today we need to look for the Sun. The Sun is not political. The Sun shines on the Democrats and the Republicans. The Sun shines on sinners and the righteous. The Sun takes care of the planet providing our warmth, growth and our very lives. We take the Sun for granted. So often we don't even pay attention to all the Sun does and provides. However, we need the Sun. We do hear about the importance of clean water and air but are you grateful for the good air and water that you do have?

Take time to notice the Sun today. A clear day or a cloudy day will find the Sun shining. Another day of life means another day to enjoy all that God has created and made. I've never known a day of life without the Sun. I've never known a day that I couldn't find good people with whom to talk. I've never experienced a day that I didn't feel there were people to love and people who cared about me.

God has provided the Sun and as long as our creator wants it to shine it's going to shine. Today, let the Sun shine on you.

Glenn Mollette is the publisher of Newburgh Press, Liberty Torch and various other publishing imprints; a national columnist -- American Issues and Common Sense opinions, analysis, stories and features appear each week in over 500 newspapers, websites and blogs across the United States.

By Dr. Glenn Mollette

The Sun is shining today and will rise tomorrow. For more years than we know the Sun has followed this same pattern.

The rising Sun is a good pattern for all of us. We know each day we can count on the Sun. Some days the Sun is hidden by clouds but it's there. Too often we forget to notice the Sun. Often it feels too hot or we wish it would warm up. We are never completely satisfied with the job the Sun does. Too hot, not hot enough. Too bright. Through all of our life's discontents with the Sun's performance, the Sun keeps performing. Throughout my lifetime I don't know of a day that the Sun has let me down. It just keeps on glowing regardless of the day or world events.

I remember the day

Council approves one-year residency requirement for candidates for elected positions

By Cary Shuman

If you want to serve as Mayor of Revere or as a member of the City Council or School Committee, you now have to live in Revere for at least one year in advance of the municipal election.

The Council unanimously approved Councillor Jessica Giannino's motion on the one-year residency requirement at the Oct. 26 City Council meeting. The matter goes before for the Mass. State Legislature for its approval.

"I just think this makes sense," said Giannino. "When you look at some of our surrounding communities and what you have to do at the state level, it doesn't do anything out of the ordinary other than make the City of Revere fall in line with other elected officers."

The Council enthusiastically supported Giannino's motion though Council President Patrick Keefe asked for an amendment regarding any redistricting enacted as a result of the 2020 census.

Keefe used Mountain Avenue as an example, stating that the street is currently split among Wards 3 and 4 and that redistricting may preclude a candidate from running for office because he/she has resided in his new ward (in 2021) for less than one year.

"My only concern is that this doesn't fall under what they do at the state level," said Giannino. "If redistricting happens, you can get redistricted out of your district also. I think it [President Keefe's concern] is well intended, however, I think it will be difficult to police and I also think: where do you draw the line?"

Ward 2 Councillor Ira Novoselsky said, "I love this motion. Thank you, Councillor Giannino."

"I understand what Council President Keefe is talking about, but I think when you start watering the motion down, it becomes more complicated."

Novoselsky noted that redistricting happens only every ten years, "so the motion should be the way it is right now."

Councillor-at-Large Anthony Zambuto said, "I wholeheartedly support my colleague on this. I think it's fine the way it is and anytime you do special legislation, it should be as streamlined as possible."

Ward 5 Councillor John Powers also requested that the motion go forward as constructed, calling it "perfect the way it is."

Ward 3 Councillor Arthur Guinasso said that the motion was "well-written" and it adhered to the state-level guidelines for elections, and he would be supporting the measure.

Councillor-at-Large Steven Morabito said the only issue he had with the motion was: "How could [a lifelong resident] run for a ward seat if there is a lag of one year [due to redistricting]?"

Morabito said he always encourages new candidates even if they were running for an at-large seat on the City Council.

Calling it "a great question," Giannino responded that, "If that situation does happen, run at-large. Or run for the ward that you're in. Again, it's no different than the state level. There are five councillor-at-large seats, six ward seats, and there's School Committee [seats] as well. So it's only restrictive to a ward seat and I really don't think it's irrational to want to live in a community for a year before just representing that community."

Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna cited an example in which an individual moved into her ward from another city and lived in the ward for three months before running against her in the election.

"She didn't win, of course - I'm still here," said McKenna. "But these things are not fair. You need to be invested in the city. If you're going to be a ward councillor, you need to be invested in the ward. And that's how I feel. No one should come in and after three months run against a ward councillor. No one should come into the city for three months and run for mayor. Councillor Giannino is right on."

TIME FOR A VOTE

Councillor Serino revises his time-of-meeting proposal

By Cary Shuman

Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino is advancing a proposal concerning various city boards and the starting times for their meetings. Originally Serino proposed that all City Council subcommittee meetings and city board meetings start at 6 p.m. or later.

However, after listening to his City Council colleagues, other public officials and his constituents weigh in on the matter, Serino has revised certain aspects of his proposal.

The City Council will vote on Serino's motion at its next meeting on Nov. 9. Currently City Council meetings start at 6 p.m., with subcommittee meetings preceding the committee-of-the-whole meetings. During previous years, the Council has held its regular meetings at starting times ranging from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The Revere Journal asked Councillor Serino about his much-discussed proposal that would affect all board members and residents throughout the city. Following are Councillor Serino's responses:

RJ: Do you want all government meetings in Revere - including the School Committee - to start at 6 p.m. or later?

RS: The original language of the motion would have required meetings of all municipal committees, boards and commissions begin in the evening hours of 6 p.m. or later. However, as discussion evolves, I admit that a one-size-fits-all approach would not be appropriate. For example, the School Committee does sometime hold meetings during the day to accommodate teachers; the License Commission holds meetings in the afternoon to accommodate restaurant owners/managers who might otherwise be operating their businesses in the evenings; both the Council on Elder Affairs and the Retirement Board hold meetings in the afternoon due to the nature of their business, which works for the population they are serving. However, the true intent of the ordinance change is to give the vast majority of people in the City a reasonable timeframe in order to participate in meetings in which the subject matter might truly affect them personally. This goes for City Council meetings - sub-committee and the committee of the whole; Zoning Board of Appeals meetings; Conservation Commission meetings; Planning Board meetings, etc. Particularly with regard to the meetings of our own body, I am quickly learning that most Council business is dispensed with during sub-committee meetings, which are held at hours in which most reasonable people would argue are working hours. At the very least, our sub-committee meetings should be held in the evening hours to allow the average taxpayer the chance to weigh-in and participate without having to take time off work. Again, as I stated tonight, this was not meant to be a self-serving motion. As an elected official, I know what my commitment is, and I am able to make it work. This is for the North Revere residents who couldn't attend a Planning Board meeting in January, the residents of Sherman Street who couldn't attend a ZBA meeting last month, and all residents who have had to either miss or take time off work to attend various public meetings.

RJ: Will the Council be voting on your proposal at the Nov. 9 City Council meeting? What do you anticipate the amendments will be from your colleagues?

RS: Based on the discussion at our Oct. 26 meeting, I am anticipating that the Legislative Affairs sub-committee will take this up on November 9, and I am hopeful that with clarifying language, it would be forwarded to the entire City Council for a vote on that night.

The amendments that I would imagine would be proposed would be language to explicitly state which municipal boards would be excluded from this ordinance change (i.e. School Committee, License Commission, Council on Elder Affairs, Retirement Board).

Ward 6 City Councillor Richard Serino.

RJ: Did you infer in the original discussion of your proposal that you would be okay with your proposal not going into effect until January, 2021?

RS: Regarding my comments on requesting that this be taken up before the end of the calendar year - in January, 2021, new sub-committees of the Council will be assigned, and therefore I was asking that this be taken up before the current Legislative Affairs sub-committee changes. But, in essence, I wanted to make clear that I wanted our committee to take a vote on the matter at some point in the near future and that I did not want the subject matter to fall by the wayside.

RJ: Various city councillors and other officials have indicated their opposition to your proposal. Do you think you have the majority of your colleagues ready to vote in favor of your motion?

RS: I think that if we amend the language to address the concerns that some of the councillors brought up at the Oct. 26 meeting, I do think it would have a good chance of passing.

Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino provided this photo of MassDOT equipment situated in Copeland Circle located off of the Route 1 South exit. The Council approved a motion by Councillors Richard Serino and Jessica Giannino to request that MassDOT clean up the area and remove the equipment and dirt piles within the rotary.

Councillors request MassDOT to clean up Copeland Circle

By Cary Shuman

City Councillors Richard Serino and Jessica Giannino want visitors from the North's first look at Revere to be a pleasing one

The two officials co-sponsored a motion that requests the Massachusetts Department of Transportation (MassDOT) to clean up Copeland Circle, the rotary located directly off the Route 1 South (Showcase Cinemas exit). Serino and Giannino claim that MassDOT "utilizes the rotary sporadically as a staging area with piles of dirt and parking for heavy equipment."

Both councillors live in Ward 6 where the rotary is located. They described the rotary as "a blight that is unacceptable."

During his remarks, Serino displayed a copy of a Oct. 25 photograph of Copeland Circle illustrating the heavy equipment at the busy rotary (That photo appears with this story).

"You come off of Route 1, it's the first thing you see and for the past few years now, MassDOT has tended to use it as a staging area for the Route 1 project - it would be nice if we could get sound barriers for that," said Serino. "They have heavy equipment and up until last spring there were a lot of dirt piles - it was disgusting. This seems to be a reoccurring problem. It's a blight. It's a mess in our city."

Serino asked that Mayor Brian Arrigo send a letter to MassDOT, reasoning that a correspondence from the mayor "would carry a little more weight and try to permanently clean up" the problem.

Giannino offered her support of Serino's summary, echoing her colleague's remarks.

Councillor-at-Large George Rotondo said the issue actually "goes back decades."

"We need mitigation - we are environmentally impacted by sound," said Rotondo. "Other communities [such as Chelmsford and Newton] have sound barriers and the City of Revere gets trucks and dumped on."

Serino said that through the efforts of State Rep. RoseLee Vincent and Speaker Robert A. DeLeo, there are funds in the Transportation Bond Bill that include installing sound barriers along Route 1. He said the bill is currently in conference committee and that State Sen. Joseph Boncore is the lead Senate conferee on the bill.

City Council President Patrick Keefe said he has personally reached out to Sen. Boncore about the sound barriers for Revere and also asked his constituents to contact the senator's office. "We may never get them, but we can keep asking," said Keefe.

The City Council unanimously approved the motion to ask MassDOT to clean up Copeland Circle.

Theresa Marks

All who loved her will never forget her tenacity, thoughtfulness and undying love and devotion for her children and family

Theresa (DiRuzza) Marks of Saugus, formerly of Revere, passed away surrounded by her loving family on October 27 at the age of 92.

Theresa was born and raised in Revere and left school at an early age to help her mother and father support the family. She worked in the factories her whole life and retired from Standard Box of Chelsea after 20 years. Theresa was great at what she did and was a hard worker and recalled after many layoffs she would be the only woman that they kept on the payroll. Our mother was 4'6" feisty little fire cracker who had no problem telling you what was on her mind and was the strongest woman you would ever know. She was loyal, loved unconditionally, and was the sweetest most forgiving person. Our mom would give all that she had and go without. She was nurturing and loved playing with her grandchildren and great grandchildren. Theresa enjoyed bingo, playing cards and Pokemo with her family, and was a great bowler. We have many fond memories of our camping trips with mom like making apple pies, building the fires (she would stand in the fire pit to build because she was so little), and driving the golf cart and boat. She was a great cook who made awesome gravy. Her famous spicy hot sausages and potatoes as well as her onion, pepper and mushrooms were loved by everyone. All who loved her dearly will never forget her tenacity, thoughtfulness, and undying love and devotion for her children and family.

Born in Revere on July 27, 1928 to the late Philip DiRuzza and Mary (Christello), she was the beloved wife of 34 years to the late Joseph Marks, devoted mother of Al and his late wife, Judy, Charlie and his late wife, Carmela, Mel and his wife, Terry, Phyllis and her husband, Jim and Joseph; dear sister of Jeanne, Dolores, Pat and the late Mariano, Mario "Sonny," Angelo "Mousie," Felix "Junior," Antoinetta "Netta," and Geraldine "Gerry." She is also survived by her god daughter, Lynda and by many loving grandchildren, great grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

Due to the current spike in COVID-19, the guidelines issued by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and local officials, funeral services will be privately held for the immediate family under the direction of Paul Buonfiglio & Sons - Bruno Funeral Home, 128 Revere Street, Revere, MA 02151. REVERE THROUGH THE YEARS

10 years ago November 3, 2010

The city this week released the list of abandoned properties and revealed the disheartening news that more than 100 buildings and homes have been identified as vacant or abandoned as the lingering effects of the Great Recession continue to be felt here and across the country.

Word has spread throughout the city that City Councilor George V. Colella, who is the longest-serving public official in the state and who served more terms as mayor in Revere history until he decided not to seek re-election, reportedly is gravely ill at Youville Hospital in Cambridge.

City health inspectors reported that rumors of bedbugs at the Showcase Cinemas have no basis after they conducted an inspection this week.

An usher at the Showcase Cinemas was brutally attacked with a knife by two men at the end of the midnight show on Saturday night.

A new store, 3-2-1 Ready, Set, Save, opened its doors this week in the shopping plaza at Bell Circle.

Four new Revere police officers, Carmen Purpora, Angel Lopez, Maurice Aguiler, and Charles Saindon, were sworn-in by Mayor Thomas Ambrosino this week.

NECCO, the candy company that is the city's largest employer, reportedly missed making its Halloween shipments and is expected to start laying off workers. The city gave the company a 20-year tax break when it located its plant on American Legion Highway in 2003.

Although Revere voters favored all Democrats in Tuesday's election, the lone exception was Republican Gov. Francis Sargent, who defeated Boston Mayor and Democrat Kevin H. White locally, 8054-7336. Otherwise, Revere supported Democrats Edward M. Kennedy for U.S. Senator, Torby Macdonald for Congressman, Robert Quinn for Atty. General, Robert Crane for State Treasurer, John F.X. Davoren for Secretary of State, Thaddeus Buczko for Auditor, Joseph J.C. DiCarlo for State Senator, Joseph DelGrosso and William G. Reinstein for State Rep., and John E. Powers for Clerk of the Supreme Judicial Court for Suffolk County. With regard to a ballot question about the War in Vietnam, voters gave 6093 votes for a phased military withdrawal, 5740 votes for immediate withdrawal, and 2136 votes for a military victory.

A new organization has been created in the city, the Massachusetts Welfare Rights Organization.

A record 92.2 percent of Revere voters, 20,364, turned out for Tuesday's Presidential election and strongly backed all of the Democratic candidates, including Mass. Senator John F. Kennedy for President by a vote of 15,280-4794 over GOP candidate Richard M. Nixon. Although Revere voters favored Democrats Thomas J. O'Connor for U.S. Senator and Joseph D. Ward for Governor, they lost statewide to incumbent U.S. Senator Leverett Saltonstall and John Volpe. Locally, voters favored Democrats Harold Canavan for State Senator and Raymond Carey and Harry Della Russo for State Representatives.

Revere voters gave strong support to Democratic candidates in Tuesday's state election. State Reps. Harold Canavan and Peter J. Jordan both were re-elected, though Jordan won by only a narrow margin of 41 votes over Republican challenger, former State Rep. William H.J. Rowan. Local Democrats also favored State Rep. Andrew P. Quigley of Chelsea for State Senator, giving him a victory by a 3-1 margin over Republican candidate Walter Butler of Revere. Quigley, 24, now will become the youngest person ever to serve in the Massachusetts Senate.

Dr. John A. Walsh, who served as mayor of Revere from 1925-28, passed away Wednesday in his home at 238 Beach St. He was 77. He also served for many years as the city physician.

at 93 percent but that number is now 96.8 percent districtwide."

Mokaba said since the pandemic began last spring, RPS has ratcheted up its attendance policy and attendance is taken daily and reported to the state.

At the elementary school level attendance was 96.7 percent while the middle school attendance rate was 97 percent. Over at Revere High School attendance was at 95 percent but the Seacoast School falls way behind with an attendance rate of 56 percent for remote learning.

Mokaba said intervention at all levels, but especially at the Seacoast, has been a priority and parent liaisons, social workers, and teachers are all working to get more kids online and engaged.

"One of the things I want to highlight is the Seacoast is still struggling 56 percent (attendance)," said Mokaba. "Right now, administrators are reaching out to families and students, our parent liaisons are beginning to connect with new and existing students and families to identify the tools they need for their children to engage and be present."

While many students struggle in a traditional setting, the pandemic and remote learning has amplified the need to intervene when students are not engaged.

Mokaba said RPS also looks at student engagement alongside attendance.

"Engagement is used as a basic metric on how students are participating in learning in a remote setting," said Mokaba.

Mokaba said overall at the elementary school level 74 percent of RPS students are fully engaged in their learning while 19 percent are moderately engaged and 7 percent have little or no engagement during online instruction.

"We see students with disabilities are continuing to struggle at this level and we hope to start seeing more improvement starting with elementary school," said Mokaba.

At the middle school level the staff and administrators at Revere's three middle schools found that 64 percent are fully engaged while 26 percent are moderately engaged and 10 percent have little engagement during remote learning classes.

"Again there is definitely a need for improvement here," she said. "All three middle schools are now doing weekly focus meetings and reach out efforts to students that are struggling to engage."

At RHS, the engagement report was broken down by grade.

In 9th grade the report found 79 percent are engaged, 15 percent are moderately engaged and 4.95 percent have little or no engagement.

At the 10th grade level 79 percent of students are fully engaged, roughly 15 percent are moderately engaged and around 6 percent have little or no engagement.

However, Mokaba points out as you look at the upperclassman at RHS the engagement percentages increase.

In 11th grade 88.9 percent of students are fully engaged, 9 percent are moderately engaged and 2.7 percent have little or no engagement.

Moving to 12th grade the report found 82.5 percent are fully engaged, 15 percent are moderately engaged and only 2.5 percent have little or no engagement in their online studies.

"We see it as a positive trend that as the grade level increases so does the percentage of engagement," said Mokaba. "Our parent liaisons have been calling RHS families non-stop to get students participating more (during online classes)."

Again, Mokaba highlighted the work that needs to be done at the Seacoast School.

At the Seacoast the level of engagement was broken down by subject.

The report found only 42 percent of students at Seacoast were fully engaged in ELA classes while 10 percent were moderately engaged and a majority, 48 percent, had little or no engagement in the subject.

History and Civics was even worse with only 28 percent of students fully engaged in the subject, 27 percent moderately engaged and 45 percent having little or no engagement.

However, there was a bright side according to Mokaba.

"We see a swing towards a positive trend when it comes to science and math," she said.

At the Seacoast 53 percent are fully engaged in science while 47 percent have little or no engagement.

In math the report found that the numbers of those engaged and those that were not the same as science.

"One of the things the team at the Seacoast has done, which includes school counselors and social workers, is set up a three tier system and create individual student action plans to get more students engaged at the school," said Mokaba.

THE FIRST SNOWFALL OF WINTER 2020-2021

Staff photos

Despite only being halfway through Fall, the skies opened up above

Revere Friday morning letting loose thick, heavy snowfall on the City and surrounding areas.

To the surprise of residents, the storm continued to batter the community throughout the day, not stopping until after 5 p.m.

Shown above, the silhouette of the Revere Beach clock stands starkly against the snow-covered beach. The famous clock has stood strong through many storms of all seasons. It originated as a reminder for bathing suit renters to return their suits.

The RSCHP the Revere Society for Cultural and Historical Preservation headquarters and museum was recently renovated with a grand and was ready for its first winter in New England-again.

Local residents hoping this was not the sneak peek as what was to come this winter season.

Despite the weather Revere Police and National Grid have work to get done at the corner of Broadway and Revere Street.

Residents just weren't ready for the early snow covering their cars on Friday.

What is usually a nice walk to Broadway for a little local shopping turned into an adventure Friday morning.

Halloween decorations usually ready for trick-or-treaters were covered in snow, and took on a much different look.

Beachmont Square, usually hosting locals in coffee and conversation was completely empty Friday afternoon.

Local businesses cleared out walkways for their customers.

Heading up Winthrop Avenue in Beachmont the trees along both sides were hanging low with snow and ice, forming a natural tunnel.

The historical Rumney Marsh Burial Grounds looked like late winter instead of an October day.

Market Basket customers fight their way back to their cars through the slush with their shopping carts.

Revere AD Frank Shea awaits guidelines from state and the MIAA

By Cary Shuman

Will there be a winter sports season for Revere High School student-athletes?

Revere Director of Athletics Frank Shea is awaiting guidelines from the state's Executive Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs (EEA) and the MIAA about whether schools can proceed with their winter sports seasons during the continuing COVID-19 pandemic.

The winter sports (basketball, hockey, indoor track) season is scheduled to begin on Nov. 30, 2020 and end on Feb. 21, 2021. As it stands right now, there would be no MIAA State Tournaments held following the season.

Revere's fall sports season was canceled due to the coronavirus and the city being in a "red zone" (at the highest risk for transmitting COVID-19).

Shea said the EEA Office is expected to release its recommendations on Nov. 6. The MIAA Sport Committee will meet to discuss possible modifications to the season. The MIAA Board of Directors will then likely approve the MIAA Sport Committee's recommendations.

"We also have a Greater Boston League meeting on Nov. 12 where the direction of our season will be determined," said Shea. "Obviously we know the COVID-19 infection rates in most of the GBL communities are still high, so we're not sure how that will affect our teams going forward."

Shea said that the discussions over the next seven days will be crucial in making the decision about the winter sports season.

"I know they (state and MIAA officials) are compiling data about the fall sports season from cities and towns and factor that date into the decision about the winter sports season," said Shea.

Should there be a season, basketball and hockey teams would likely play a reduced number of games. Those teams usually play 20-game seasons, but that number could be reduced to 12-16 games.

Revere competes in the Greater Boston League where the longest distance traveled to a game would be to Somerville and Medford. Possible non-league games against neighbors Chelsea and Lynn (Classical and English) would also be shorter trips.

Shea said Revere will continue its cooperative hockey program with Malden and Matignon. The Cronin Rink in Revere, which has been closed for the past two weeks, is scheduled to reopen on Nov. 7, but that decision was made before the recent order by Gov. Baker that all indoor recreational venues be closed at 9:30 p.m.

The cancellation of the 2020 spring and fall sports seasons has sidetracked the momentum that the Revere High athletic program had been building under the guidance of Frank Shea. Last fall's football, soccer, field hockey, and cheerleading seasons launched the program on to a highly successful year before COVID-19 forced officials to cancel the entire spring season.

Shea had also launched a new boys' volleyball program that was set to make its debut in April under head coach Lianne O'Hara, the former girls basketball coach who led the Lady Patriots to a No. 1 ranking in Massachusetts during her tenure. Hopefully, O'Hara's varsity and JV teams will be able to participate in their inaugural volleyball season this April.

Meanwhile looking ahead, the GBL will expand to six teams in the fall of 2021 as former GBL school Chelsea joins the league. Chelsea has left the Commonwealth Athletic Conference and is playing an independent schedule until it becomes a full member of the GBL in Sept., 2021. The Chelsea-Revere rivalry was once a hotly contested one, especially in the 1970s when such superb pitchers as Steve Cushing and Steve DiCarlo regularly faced off against Mike Lush and the Red Devils. Cushing, DiCarlo, and Lush were all pursued by Major League Baseball organizations.

Commission on Disabilities seeks two new members

By Cary Shuman

Ralph DeCicco, co-chair of the Revere Commission on Disabilities, said the board is seeking two new members to fill recent vacancies.

Co-chair Rick Freni stepped down after four years of service, stating that he was unable to give 100 percent to his responsibilities due to shoulder surgery and a lengthy rehabilitation process.

"We're looking for two new members," said DeCicco. "Candidates can go to the City of Revere Website and proceed to 'jobs' and there is a link for boards and committees where you can fill out an application."

Mayor Brian Arrigo

would make the final recommendations of the two new members to the City Council's Appointments Subcommittee, who would then vote on the candidates. "If Mayor Arrigo asks me to participate in the selection process, I would be glad to help out," said DeCicco.

DeCicco has served on the Commission for five years, having been appointed by Arrigo at the outset of his first mayoral administration.

"I was honored that the mayor asked me to help re-establish the Office on Disabilities," said DeCicco.

DeCicco grew up in Everett and moved to Revere during his junior year in high school. He graduated from Revere High in 1989.

DeCicco praised the city for its polls being accessible to people with disabilities during Tuesday's election. "The Elections Department has done a great job to make sure the polls were in full compliance with ADA regulations through the state," said DeCicco.

The hard-working co-chair thanked Rick Freni for his service to the Commission. "Rick was a great member. He's done a tremendous job for children with autism in the community for many years. I'm sorry to see that he had to leave our board. Hopefully, we'll be able to work together again on the Commission in the future."

Revere's Olga Tacure named 2020 Latinx Trailblazer

Staff report

House Speaker Robert A. DeLeo announced that on Oct. 29, the Massachusetts Black & Latino Legislative Caucus awarded Olga Tacure of Revere with a 2020 Massachusetts Latinx Trailblazer Award. The caucus honored Olga for her long-standing commitment to her community at a virtual event hosted by the Caucus. Deeply committed to public education and education equity, Olga serves as the executive director of Women Encouraging Empowerment (WEE) in Revere. She helped to launch the Revere Education Justice Alliance and was one of the first immigrant women to serve in a leadership role on Revere High School's PTO.

"I have always believed the diversity of the Commonwealth is one of its greatest assets, and celebrating cultural heritage not only instills a sense of personal pride, events like this allow others to share in that celebration, which fosters understanding and appreciation and makes our state a better place for all," said Speaker DeLeo (D-Winthrop). "I congratulate Olga Tacure of Revere on the trailblazer award for her deep commitment to public education and education equity and for her dedication to her community. I thank the members of the Black and Latino Legislative Caucus for their partnership and work on behalf of the people of Massachusetts."

During COVID-19 Pandemic, Olga worked to secure funding - especially for immigrant and low-income families - from organizations, foundations and private donors. Her work to help those most vulnerable among us continues. Her extensive community involvement also includes working with the Revere Cares Coalition as a Union Capital Boston Network Leader, and serving on the City of Revere's Master Plan Steering Committee.

Born in Peru, Olga received her Bachelor's Degree in Nursing from the Instituto Hugo Pesce Pescetto in Lima. She served as volunteer at Massachusetts General Hospital and Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston.

City of Revere awarded grant to support recycling efforts

Special to the Journal

House Speaker Robert A. DeLeo announced the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection (MassDEP) awarded the City of Revere a $2,000 grant to help the city support its community-wide recycling efforts. MassDEP's Sustainable Materials Recovery Program awarded the grants, which recognize cities and towns that implement policies and programs to maximize reuse and recycling, as well as reduce waste.

"The House has long-recognized that recycling services are essential to our communities, and has worked to fund sustainability programs across the Commonwealth," said House Speaker Robert A. DeLeo (D-Winthrop). "These funds will help the city of Revere boost its efforts in cutting waste, recycling and re-using materials in the community."

"Through this grant, we can make Revere a more sustainable city," said Senator Joe Boncore (D-Winthrop). "Local efforts like these to reduce waste are the steps that must be taken to curb climate change and protect our green planet."

"As Mayor I've been proud to work with Speaker DeLeo and the entirety of Revere's delegation to promote sustainability and environmental stewardship," Mayor Brian Arrigo added, "This grant reflects our strides in educating our community about the importance of recycling and offers us the opportunity to keep fighting against climate change."

"I am thrilled that the City of Revere is the beneficiary of a grant to maximize reuse and recycling," said Representative RoseLee Vincent (D-Revere). "Given that most of our trash is burned in the Saugus incinerator on Route 107 and ends up in the unlined ash landfill directly across the Pines River from many homes in the City of Revere, we must all be cognizant of the solid waste our households generate, and try to reduce what we put in our trash by recycling or re-purposing items."

Ultimate Tailgate Party to benefit Lovin' Spoonfuls goes virtual Nov. 18

Staff report

Boston-based food rescue Lovin' Spoonfuls will host their 10th annual Ultimate Tailgate Party online this year on Wednesday, Nov. 18. The virtual program will begin at 7 p.m., and features a timely keynote on the intersection of food justice and racial equity from Wes Moore, CEO of the Robin Hood Foundation.

For the first time in the event's history, tickets to Tailgate are free, however registration is required and can be done here or by visiting LovinSpoonfulsInc.org. TV personality, chef, social justice advocate and Lovin' Spoonfuls Culinary Panel member Andrew Zimmern returns as this year's master of ceremonies. In addition to a musical performance from Lake Street Dive, Spoonfuls will also debut its new video highlighting the efforts of front-line workers during the COVID-19 pandemic.

"Since 2010, our Ultimate Tailgate Party has attracted thousands of guests and dozens of the area's best restaurants, all in the name of raising money and awareness for Spoonfuls," says Ashley Stanley, founder and executive director of Lovin' Spoonfuls. "For the safety of all our guests, employees and vendors, this year's Ultimate Tailgate will take the same lively spirit of our largest annual event online, and I'm confident we'll replicate the same energy and enthusiasm it creates every year. We know that this year has taken a financial and emotional toll on everyone and are grateful to Wes Moore and Lake Street Dive for joining our 2020 program. Though not physically together with our friends in hospitality this year, we remain grateful for them and are committed to supporting them anyway we can, and making sure they stay healthy and focused on their businesses."

Leading one of the largest anti-poverty forces in the nation, Wes Moore is also a New York Times bestselling author, combat veteran, and social entrepreneur. Wes' first book, The Other Wes Moore, captured the nation's attention on the fine line between success and failure in communities and in ourselves. Wes' latest book, Five Days, explores the uprisings in Baltimore in 2015 after the death of Freddie Gray in police custody, through a kaleidoscope of perspectives and examines critical questions about the deeper course of violence and poverty.

Various donation opportunities will also be available during the Virtual Ultimate Tailgate Party. Proceeds raised during the event will enable Spoonfuls' ongoing efforts to rescue an average of 75,000-80,000 pounds of fresh, healthy food per week and distribute it to organizations across the Commonwealth that serve people facing food insecurity. To learn more about sponsorship opportunities, please contact Senior Director of Development, Erin Keohane.

"By making admission to Tailgate complimentary this year, it allows Spoonfuls to engage with both our larger community as well as with new supporters - people from all over who have never had the chance to attend this event in person - to discuss the importance of food rescue and food insecurity, while also highlighting all of the organization's accomplishments during a turbulent year," says Erin Keohane, Lovin' Spoonfuls Senior Director of Development. "It is our hope that this year's Tailgate program will bring some light to everyone's week and inspire attendees to support Spoonfuls' continued work throughout the Commonwealth."

Since 2010, Lovin' Spoonfuls has rescued and distributed over 18 million pounds of fresh, healthy food - the equivalent of more than 15 million meals. Driven by a passion for change, Ashley Stanley established Spoonfuls after realizing hunger isn't a problem of supply, it's a problem of distribution. Since the start of the COVID pandemic, Spoonfuls has rescued nearly 3 million pounds of food, as well as onboarded 20 new beneficiary partners and launched a new permanent eighth route in response to the rising need. About 14 percent of partners rely on Lovin' Spoonfuls' deliveries for all of the food they serve their clients.

To learn more about Lovin' Spoonfuls and the 10th Annual Ultimate Tailgate, or to donate to the organization, please visit lovin Spoonfuls Inc. org. For the latest updates and events, join Lovin' mailing list or follow on Instagram, Twitter or Facebook.

Each week day, Spoonfuls' 12 Food Rescue Coordinators work with over 200 vendor partners across eight truck routes to pick up wholesome, perishable food from grocery stores, produce wholesalers, farms and farmers markets, and distribute it to more than 160 community nonprofits that address food insecurity in Greater Boston, MetroWest and Western Massachusetts. Communities served include: Boston, Chelsea, Everett, Revere and others.

DeLeo, state lawmakers pass legislation to extend unemployment benefits

Special to the Journal

House Speaker Robert A. DeLeo along with his colleagues in the Massachusetts Legislature on Monday, Oct. 26 passed An Act relative to additional unemployment benefits for the neediest recipients currently excluded from the Lost Wages Assistance program, which would enhance unemployment benefits for 17,000 people in Massachusetts by as much as $1,800 each.

"The Senate is laser focused on assisting those most in need, especially as we continue to tackle the dueling challenges posed by the global pandemic and economic crisis," stated Senate President Karen E. Spilka (D-Ashland). "This legislation speaks to that commitment and will help assist residents in obtaining lost wages as a result of the ongoing public health emergency. I would like to thank Senators Pat Jehlen, Eric Lesser and Michael Rodrigues, as well as Speaker Robert DeLeo and his colleagues for working to quickly usher this bill to the governor's desk."

"The House has an ongoing and long-standing commitment to supporting workers, and these benefits will ease the economic burden of the pandemic on individuals and families across the Commonwealth," said House Speaker Robert A. DeLeo (D-Winthrop).

"I thank Chairs Michlewitz and Hay and House Members for their diligence in this important issue, and appreciate the leadership of Senate President Spilka with the support from our colleagues in the Senate.

"The swift passage of this assistance reflects the Legislature's commitment to supporting economic security for individuals and families across the Commonwealth," said Senator Joe Boncore (D-Winthrop). "On our path towards recovery from both the public health and economic impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Legislature will continue to prioritize those most impacted in our communities."

"I am proud that through this public health and economic crisis our Commonwealth is obtaining lost wages as a result of the ongoing public health emergency. I would like to thank Senators Pat Jehlen, Eric Lesser and Michael Rodrigues, as well as Speaker Robert DeLeo and his colleagues for working to quickly usher this bill to the governor's desk."

"The House has an ongoing and long-standing commitment to supporting workers, and these benefits will ease the economic burden of the pandemic on individuals and families across the Commonwealth," said House Speaker Robert A. DeLeo (D-Winthrop).

significantly high unemployment because of the pandemic."

"This legislation will make the necessary changes to make sure people with less than $100 in weekly benefits receive that $1,800 in added income," said Senator Patricia Jehlen (D-Somerville). "Just last week I heard from a neighbor and constituent who was short $2 in his weekly benefit to receive the $1,800 in Lost Wages Assistance. The state investment in raising the minimum benefit will bring $31 million to Massachusetts residents for rent, for food and other expenses."

"I want to thank the Speaker and his staff for their leadership in working diligently to pass this bill so quickly," said Representative Stephan Hay (D-Fitchburg). "It was a pleasure to work with Senator Jehlen to fix this oversight and help marginalized people. We all know that in 2020 every dollar counts and it is critical that we do whatever is possible to help working families."

The legislation authorizes an increase to unemployment compensation for every recipient in Massachusetts not receiving at least $100 in weekly benefits. This enhancement would apply retroactively to approximately 17,000 recipients.

The Governor signed the legislation into law.

Pressley, Ramamurti urge Fed, Treasury to make emergency lending facilities more equitable

Staff report

Congresswoman Ayanna Pressley (MA-07) and Congressional Oversight Commissioner Bharat Ramamurti last week wrote to Federal Reserve Chairman Jerome Powell and Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin urging the agencies to take immediate action to address the disproportionate impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on our most vulnerable communities.

The letter offers several suggestions for improving the Municipal Lending Facility (MLF) and Main Street Lending Program (MSLP) to better serve people of color and women.

“You have both acknowledged that the COVID-19 pandemic has had an outsized impact on Black and Brown communities and women, and the Federal Reserve recently proclaimed that its full employment mandate—which applies to the CARES Act programs—is a ‘broad-based and inclusive goal,’” Pressley and Ramamurti wrote in their letter. “And yet, your design of these programs appears to be widening racial and gender gaps rather than closing them.”

State and local governments have been hit hard by the economic downturn resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic, with governments laying off more than one million workers due to severe budget shortfalls. These targeted layoffs disproportionately affect Black and female workers, with workers laid off in the public sector 20 percent more likely to be Black and 32 percent more likely to be a woman than those laid off in the private sector. The solvency of our nation’s states and cities is therefore a matter of racial justice.

Despite the many tools given to the Fed and Treasury by Congress to address this crisis, the agencies have designed a narrow, punitive lending program that has delivered aid to almost none of the state and local governments struggling during the pandemic. In contrast, the agencies’ corporate credit facilities and other interventions have boosted the stock market—prosperity, which has not been felt equally.

In their letter, Congresswoman Pressley and Commissioner Ramamurti recommended several changes to the MLF’s terms and conditions to make it a more generous and viable option for state and local governments—all of which were endorsed by nearly every witness at a recent hearing of the Oversight Commission, as well as a broad, bipartisan group representing tens of thousands of state and local officials. The changes include: (1) extending the MLF’s duration into 2021; (2) lowering the MLF’s interest rate; (3) lengthening the repayment term; (4) expanding the permitted uses for loan proceeds; (5) expanding eligibility to more municipalities, territories and tribes; and (6) the creation of a secondary-market facility.

Congresswoman Pressley and Commissioner Ramamurti also expressed concern about the disparate racial and gender impact of the MSLP, and urged the Fed and Treasury to heed the lessons learned from the administration of the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP), which saw rampant disparities in access, little transparency about which businesses were receiving funds, and a notable absence of explicit fair lending protections. To address these concerns and increase access to the MSLP, Pressley and Ramamurti recommended (1) reducing the minimum loan amount; (2) establishing and enforcing strict anti-discrimination rules; (3) allowing Community Development Financial Institutions and Minority Depository Institutions to issue loans; and (4) collecting demographic data and conduct other analyses of program impact.

"[T]here are monetary policy tools at your immediate disposal to quickly and directly address the outsized im-act of the pandemic on communities of color and women, as well as the large gap between White and Black and Brown unemployment," Pressley and Ramamurti continued. "We hope you will take these steps with the speed and urgency this moment demands."

In April, Congresswoman Pressley, along with Congressman Gregory Meeks (NY-05) and Sens. Kamala D. Harris (D-CA) and Sherrod Brown (D-OH), led more than 80 of their Congressional colleagues in calling for the Small Business Administration and Treasury Department to ensure that minority-owned businesses are not shut out of the PPP.

In May, Congresswoman Pressley, along with Sen. Harris introduced the Saving our Street (SOS) Act, legislation that provides federal support to small minority-owned micro-businesses—largely left out of federal relief efforts—during the ongoing COVID-19 crisis.

Local artist brings Revere Beach to life

By Melissa Moore-Randall

Alina Zalucki first fell in love with Revere Beach back in 2012 when she came to the Annual Revere Beach National Sand Sculpting Festival. Zalucki, a native of Connecticut, said, "I saw the apartments right on the beach and thought it was an amazing place to live." Zalucki, who lived in Revere for years before recently moving to Salem for a shorter commute to her teaching position in Beverly, thoroughly enjoyed the community and beach.

Alina quickly took to the city and brought one of its best features, Revere Beach, to life in many of her citywide art projects. After graduating from Wellesley College with a BA in Studio Art & Psychology, she moved to Las Vegas to participate in the Teach For America program. "I taught Special Education for three years out there, and then decided I wanted to settle down back east and moved to Revere and started teaching art in East Boston."

Zalucki taught art classes at the City of Revere Recreation Department that utilized watercolor, clay, and fabric arts. Eventually, she participated in Project Switchbox including the design and painting of three switch boxes along and near Revere Beach. Her first endeavor was the switchbox outside of Wonderland that has a Revere Beach theme. Her second switchbox is on the corner of Revere Street and is space-themed. Her final project was an abstract ocean scene themed box located near the Jack Satter House.

Prior to Covid 19 and aside from Project Switchbox, Zalucki was heavily involved in the city's public arts program. This included watercolor booths and polaroïd booths at the Revere Summer Nights events and participation in the Revere Beach Art Festival twice in person and then virtually this past year. "During one of the festivals, I participated in the live art competition and created a scene of the Markey Bridge. I turned that work of art into the 02151 sticker that has become quite popular!"

Zalucki looks forward to returning to Revere once the pandemic is over, to continue working on Revere projects and events and continue in the public arts programs. In the meantime, she is focusing her energy on building her network and sales for her Etsy shop, Art by Alina Z, and also looks forward to holiday fairs both virtually and in-person.
