RIVERFRONT DISTRICT MASTER PLANNING PROCESS TO START

The City of Revere will hold its first webinar for the Riverfront Master Planning Process on Thursday, November 12th, 2020 beginning at 6:00 p.m. The master planning process will explore the opportunities and challenges related to the district in and around Gibson Park in relation to the adjacent Point of Pines and Riverside neighborhood as well as implications for the City of Revere as a whole. Areas of focus will include plans to deal with coastal flooding and climate resiliency as well as open space, recreation, transportation, and development.

The master planning process will be guided by an advisory group designated by Mayor Arrigo, which will consist of community advocates and neighborhood representatives as well as elected and appointed city officials, who will provide input, feedback, and oversight throughout.

Four public meetings are scheduled for November and December; and all meetings will be held virtually. All are welcome and encouraged to attend. The meeting dates,

Revere City Council will honor retiring Representative RoseLee Vincent

By Cary Shuman

It would be an all-time testimonial dinner, a capacity-crowd tribute to her many years of service to Revere residents on Beacon Hill, the last six-and-a-half years as state representative for Revere, Chelsea, and Saugus.

RoseLee Vincent is retiring from her elected position in the House of Representatives after working as the chief of staff for the late former Mayor and State Rep. William Reinstein and his daughter, Kathi Ann Reinstein, who succeeded her father in the position. Councillor-at-Large Jessica Giannino, whom Vincent endorsed, was elected to the seat on Nov. 3.

City to name Broadsound Avenue area 'The Corey Abrams Community Garden'

By Cary Shuman

During an emotional tribute to a beloved Revere resident, the City Council voted to name a new community garden on Broadsound Avenue in memory of former Beachmont community leader and city councilor Corey Abrams, who died on May 31, 2020, at the age of 44.

Corey Abrams' father, former School Committee member Hal Ford Abrams, and sister, Kerry Abrams, the amazing woman who donated a kidney to John Nucci for a vital operation, were in attendance at the meeting via Zoom.

Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna made the motion to name the lot in Beachmont, "The Corey Abrams Community Garden."

"Corey Abrams was my pal, he was everyone's pal," said McKenna. "He had an infectious laugh, his selflessness. He always gave back to the people in need and to his community, but it often went unnoticed."

"Corey was a true friend and I miss him every day. He was always advocating for me. Corey was dedicated to my campaign and he always called me once a week to check in and make sure I was OK.

"It would only be appropriate for the Beachmont community and the City of Revere to support the naming of the upcoming community garden on Broadsound Avenue to the Corey Abrams Community Garden," said McKenna "This is a great honor to celebrate a kind young man and beautiful soul who was a staple in

VETERAN'S DAY -- HONOR OUR VETERANS

It was 102 years ago on November 11, 1918, that World War I formally came to a conclusion on the "11th hour, of the 11th day, of the 11th month."

Americans observed the first anniversary of the end of the war the following year when the holiday we now know as Veterans Day originated as Armistice Day in 1919.

The first world war was referred to at the time as "the war to end all wars." It was thought that never again would mankind engage in the sort of madness that resulted in the near-total destruction of Western Civilization and the loss of millions of lives for reasons that never have been entirely clear to anybody either before, during, or since.

Needless to say, history has shown us that such thinking was idealistically foolhardy. Just 21 years later, the world again became enmeshed in a global conflagration that made the first war seem like a mere practice run for the mass annihilation that took place from 1939-45.

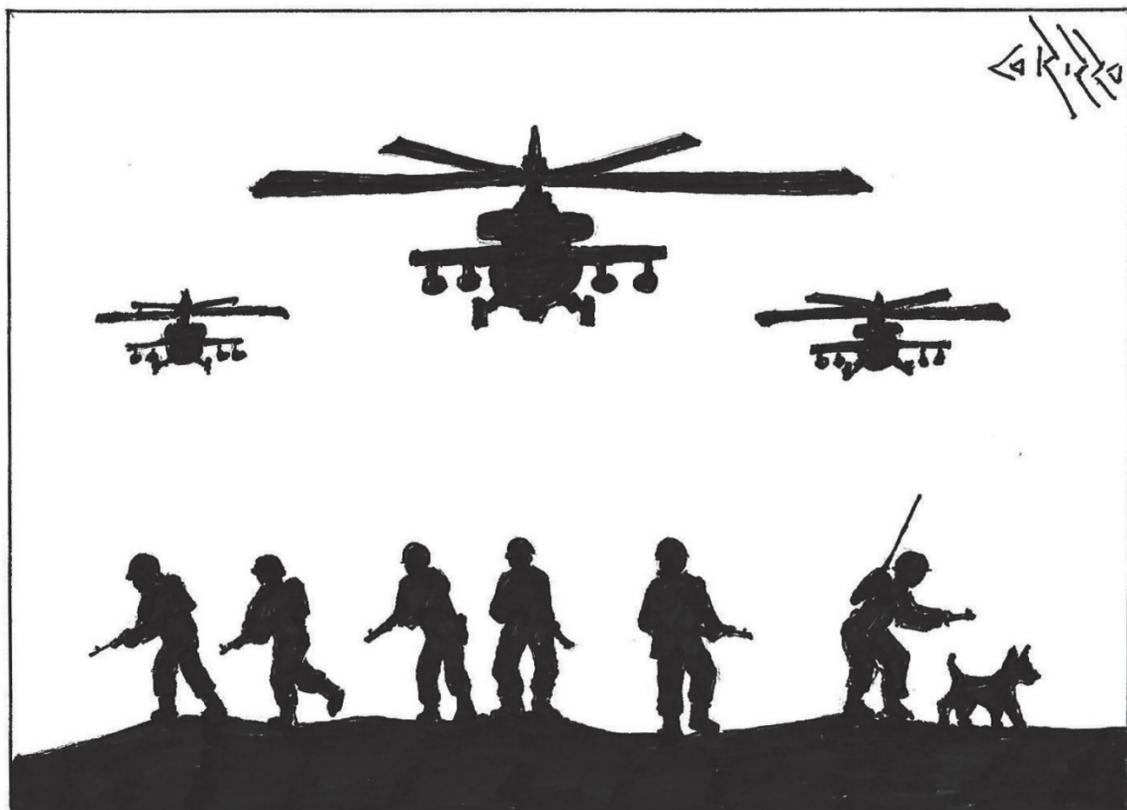

Even after that epic second world war, America has been involved in countless bloody conflicts in the 75 years since General Douglas MacArthur accepted the Japanese surrender on the Battleship USS Missouri. Today, we still have troops fighting -- and dying -- at various places around the world.

"Peace is at hand" has been nothing but a meaningless slogan for most of the past 102 years.

Armistice Day officially became known as Veterans Day in 1954 so as to include those who served in WWII and the Korean War. All of our many veterans since then also have become part of the annual observance to express our nation's appreciation to the men and women who bravely have answered the call of duty to ensure that the freedoms we enjoy as Americans have been preserved against the many challenges we have overcome.

Although Veterans Day, as with all of our other national holidays, unfortunately has become commercialized, we urge our readers to take a moment, even if just quietly by ourselves, to contemplate the debt we owe to the veterans of all of our wars and to be grateful to them for allowing us to live freely in the greatest nation on earth.

If nothing else, Veterans Day should remind us that freedom isn't free and that maintaining our freedom since our nation's founding has required the sacrifice of tens of millions of our fellow Americans who have placed their lives on the line to preserve our ideals and our way of life.

GUEST OP-ED

Chief Gants saw coming evictions as looming Civil Rights, public health crisis

By Joan Quinlan, Leslie Aldrich, Melanie Gleason and Deborah Ramirez

(The following op-ed first appeared in Commonwealth Magazine last week)

Before passing away earlier this fall, Supreme Judicial Court Chief Justice Ralph Gants was clear about what he saw as the largest civil rights and public health crisis in his lifetime: widespread evictions during COVID-19.

As the head of the state judicial system, Justice Gants had a systemic overview of the eviction crisis. He recognized that eviction is not merely a symptom of poverty. Evictions actively cause poverty—and disproportionately so for communities of color.

A recent report by City Life/Vida Urbana and MIT stated that as many as 1 in 3 Massachusetts tenants are presently at risk of eviction—over 300,000 renters. The study also found that 78 percent of eviction filings in Boston were in communities of color during the first month of the Massachusetts state of emergency. They also analyzed eviction records in Boston from 2014 to 2016, and confirmed that evictions are filed up to seven times as often in communities of color compared with predominantly white communities.

Furthermore, eviction proceedings on a tenant's record are an enormous barrier to being able to obtain subsequent housing. Research from the Massachusetts Legal Reform Institute indicates that tenants were rejected from future housing solely because eviction cases had been simply filed against them—regardless of the outcome. Even when there is an amicable settlement or if the court ruled in favor of the tenant, the eviction record is permanent and will follow a tenant for life.

This tenants' crisis also co-exists with a once-in-a-century pandemic. Escalated housing instability during COVID-19 threatens Massachusetts renters, families, children, and public health. Evicted individuals and families will face impending homelessness—forcing people to try to "double up" with family, friends, or seek space in overcrowded emergency shelters. This will disrupt vital social distancing and increase risk of COVID-19 exposure, transmission, illness, and death. Increased chronic stress, which is associated with worse health outcomes if the virus is contracted, will be inflicted on those evicted.

It is also well known that there are significant health disparities surrounding COVID-19 itself, particularly along pronounced racial lines. Data from the Massachusetts Department of Public Health's COVID-19 Health Equity Advisory Group found that black and Latinx residents have contracted the coronavirus at a rate that is three times higher than white residents. The advisory group also noted that nine out of 10 of the towns and cities with the highest rates of COVID-19 in the state were in communities where more than half of the residents identify as a person of color—including Chelsea, Everett, and Revere—all cities where MGH HealthCare Centers have been established and play a critical role in providing life-saving medical care and treatment.

Since the state eviction moratorium expired on October 17, tenants are in a full-fledged crisis and need urgent, immediate assistance. There are presently three solutions that the state needs to enact immediately.

First, the Residential Assistance for Families in Transition (RAFT) program needs to be further funded and better operationalized. Gov. Baker recently allocated an additional $100 million for the RAFT program to keep Massachusetts renters in their homes. While the governor is to be applauded and commended for this investment, it is unfortunately not enough, given the scale and scope of the housing crisis. Doubling this investment must occur to ensure all eligible tenants and landlords can meaningfully participate. This is critical to ensure that families and communities are not displaced and devastated.

Additionally, more state capacity-building resources must be dedicated to the nine Housing Consumer Education Centers (HCECs) statewide, which are responsible for distributing RAFT to tenants in need. More staff need to be hired and trained to build more effective rapid-response systems to dispense RAFT funds on an expedited basis in response to the eviction crisis.

Second, state agencies and non-profit organizations need to be educating tenants of their rights under the CDC moratorium, which is in effect until December 31, 2020. At-risk tenants are eligible for the moratorium if: 1) there is an individual net household income of less than $98,000 ($198,000 for a couple); 2) they cannot pay the rent due to a substantial loss of income or extraordinary medical expense; 3) they would likely become homeless if evicted; 4) they have tried to obtain state or local rental assistance; and 5) they are making their best effort to pay as much rent as possible.

Eligible tenants must fill out a CDC Moratorium Declaration Form and provide it to their landlord. Multilingual forms are available at the HUD website. Every tenant on the lease needs to print and sign a declaration and send it to their landlord via certified mail or email for proof of submission. If a landlord ignores or challenges a declaration, tenants should seek legal help at: www.masslrf.org.

Lastly, more pressure needs to be placed on the Legislature and Gov. Baker to enact the Housing Stability Act. The Legislature has the ability to be able to enact longer-term relief for both tenants and landlords, yet it has not had a formal session in over two and a half months. The Housing Stability Act would aid both vulnerable renters and landlords up to 12 months after the end of the governor's declared state of emergency. This emergency legislation addresses not only an eviction ban for tenants, but also offers other protections to renters—as well as assisting and stabilizing landowners and homeowners.

Undoubtedly, the state has already committed a laudable total of $171 million to its Eviction Diversion Initiative to help vulnerable tenants and landlords. However, funds are not being distributed swiftly or effectively enough. Since July 1, more than 25,000 requests for aid were submitted—more than four times the number of RAFT applications approved for the entire 2019 fiscal year. Since April, only 5,169 households have received $15.5 million in aid.

Chief Justice Gants spent the summer before he died preparing the courts for a torrent of eviction cases—aware of the deep intersectional crisis between civil rights and public health. For the good of the Commonwealth, particularly in our communities of color, it is imperative that the state take necessary, urgent action in protecting tenants where they are the most vulnerable: in their homes.

Melanie Gleason is a medical-legal partnership staff attorney at Lawyers for Civil Rights. Deborah Ramirez is a professor of law at Northeastern University School of Law. She is the widow of late Chief Justice Gants. Joan Quinlan is vice president for community health at Massachusetts General Hospital. Leslie S. Aldrich is executive director of the Center for Community Health Improvement at Massachusetts General Hospital.

MVES SEEK VOLUNTEERS FOR SOCIAL ENGAGEMENT

Mystic Valley Elder Services (MVES) is seeking volunteers for its Social Engagement and Money Management Programs. Both programs are vital to MVES' consumers by supporting independence and fostering compassion.

The Social Engagement Program is designed to help improve the health and well-being of isolated older adults in the community by providing meaningful social connection—whether it be through regular visits (when safe to do so), telephone calls, or email.

Not only has the COVID-19 coronavirus placed older adults and adults living with disabilities at very high risk of serious illness or death, but it has also made them more susceptible to social isolation and loneliness. Many older adults already live with a deep sense of disconnection from their community but the pandemic and related social distancing measures have made their sense of social isolation much worse.

There are three different options for program participants. Volunteers may choose one that is best for them, or could be involved in two, or all three. Options include a Telephone Reassurance Program, where a volunteer calls the isolated individual and provides a social contact and friendly conversation; an Email Correspondence, for online engagement with others via technology; and a Friendly Visitor Program, in which the consumer receives home visits (when safe to do so) that focus on in-person socialization and companionship.

As part of the program, volunteers will be paired up with consumers who are participants in MVES' home care program. Volunteers in all parts of this program will receive training and ongoing support. Considering that the goal of this program is to offer meaningful connections, we do ask that volunteers commit to a minimum of 1 year of service. Our expectation is that everyone would begin by being matched with just one person, however, if you are interested, we could potentially match you with up to 5 individuals looking for someone to connect with.

The Massachusetts Money Management Program from Mystic Valley Elder Services exists to make sure that seniors and adults with disabilities can keep track of their bills, translate confusing financial statements into plain language, and make timely payments. This program can help manage debt. And this program is completely free.

Volunteers in our Money Management Program are trained to be an assistant who can help organize and read financial statements, keep bills in order, assist with writing checks, and create and keep a budget to help make ends meet. During these uneasy times, the program has adapted to meet the various needs of consumers, while also protecting them and our volunteers. Each consumer will require a different level of service and interaction to ensure effective service. While some can be served through telephone and virtual means, others will need some contact through safe drop offs or modified visits. All volunteers will be given detailed information and will have the ability to determine the level of service they are able to provide during this time.

Current volunteer needs include the roles of Bill Payers, who help low-income older adults and adults living with disabilities by assisting with bill-paying tasks including paying monthly bills and maintaining the check register; Representative Payees, who provide on-going direct service to low-income consumers who have been designated by the Social Security Administration as incapable of handling their financial affairs; and Cash Distribution Specialists, who provide support to the Money Management team by working with program recipients who need a weekly allotment of cash but are unable to access funds on their own.

If you would like to learn more about volunteering for these programs, please contact Leah Mulrenan at (781) 388-2375 or lmulrenan@mves.org.

Winthrop Marketplace gears up for Thanksgiving

By Kate Anslinger

Holiday gatherings may be smaller this year, but the Marketplace is still going strong, stocking up on supplies and making sure that residents have what they need for all of the Thanksgiving Day fixings.

“We are currently in the process of getting our inventory for Thanksgiving and will be able to offer more variety of products throughout our store,” said Operations Manager, Chris Wallerice. “We will have pies, cookies, cakes, all of the Thanksgiving sides including mashed potatoes, stuffing, butternut squash, and cranberry sauce. And we will have turkeys of all sizes in addition to a selection of bone-in and boneless hams.”

Due to the uncertainties securing products on a timely basis because of the pandemic, the Marketplace will not be able to provide cooked dinners this year.

“As much as we love making the dinners and putting everything together for our customers, we were unable to cook the Thanksgiving dinners this year. With all the uncertainties in today’s world, we didn’t want to commit to something that we couldn’t do. In addition, we did not want to provide added pressure to our amazing employees that have been working so hard each and every day. We can only hope that the community understands our decision and continues to support us.”

Like many businesses in town, the Marketplace staff has pushed ahead and adapted to the new norm. Reflecting back on the early days of the pandemic, Wallerice said that the store was so hectic it was like there was a major snowstorm coming every day. The onslaught of excessive purchases resulted in product shortages and a constantly changing delivery schedule.

“It was hectic at first, but by being honest with our customers and letting them know the logistical and production issues from our wholesaler and vendors, we were able to build on our relationship and try to ensure everyone got what they needed.”

Since then, the store has expanded the vendor network, adding a variety of product lines to keep up with the demand and now they have fully stocked shelves and do not have to limit capacity like they had to in earlier months.

“In order to maintain our customers’ shopping needs, we have taken a lot more phone orders and scheduled deliveries with the local cab company to ensure grocery needs are not interrupted for our customers, especially our most vulnerable. In addition, we have seen more customers shop at our store from our surrounding communities, such as Revere and East Boston. These customers feel safer in a smaller store and we strive to maintain a clean and efficient environment for them.”

Over the last seven months, the Marketplace has established safety protocols to keep their employees and customers safe. Wallerice and his staff are grateful for the ongoing support of the community.

“We are so thankful to our community and our staff. It is our customers and our employees that keep us going. They have made and brought in masks for us, sent us notes and emails of thanks. That alone has given us a big lift emotionally and allowed us to keep going. We have seen the struggles that our customers have faced, either financially or health wise, and we must keep doing our best to provide them with quality products in a friendly and welcoming environment. We have learned that life can change in an instant and that we must appreciate what we do have. Life is so precious and we must enjoy each day. It was a time where being patient, respectful, and friendly was essential to making it through this and we are just so thankful to a play our part in this Winthrop community.”

The Winthrop Marketplace is located at 35 Revere Street and can be reached at: 617-846-6880.

the Beachmont community and a friend to all.”

Ward 3 Arthur Guinaso said, “It was a pleasure knowing a young man as gracious as Corey Abrams. He was a wonderful individual and I’ve been blessed to have his life shared with me and my family and I shall never forget the wonderful gestures he made.”

Councilor-at-Large Steve Morabito said, “I couldn’t think of a better tribute in how to memorialize him in a better way than what Councilor McKenna proposed tonight.”

Councilor-at-Large George Rotondo delivered a personal, heartfelt tribute to Abrams.

“Corey was not only a councilor, but he was my friend and I miss him dearly,” said Rotondo. “I fully support this tribute to him and his family. I thank Joanne for putting this motion forward.”

Council President Patrick Keefe and Councilors Gerry Visconti, Anthony Zambuto, Ira Novoselsky, John Powers, Jessica Giannino, and Richard Serino also offered words of praise and deep respect for Corey Abrams.

“Not only was Corey Abrams a good person, but he was a dedicated husband, a loving father, and to top it off he was a Dom Savio graduate,” said Visconti.

“To know Corey Abrams was to love him,” said Zambuto, who served with Corey on the City Council. “The kid was a wonderful soul. He had a heart of gold and would do anything for everybody.”

“This is a great, great tribute to put something permanent in the City of Revere with Corey’s name on it,” said Novoselsky, who has known the Abrams family for many years. “He deserves it. He and I used to meet during snowstorms while we were plowing.”

“The Abrams family in Beachmont has been a staple there for years,” said Powers, a former resident of Beachmont. “On Winthrop Parkway, you’ll see all the homes that his grandfather built years and years ago.”

“Corey was just such a

kind and caring and loving soul and a big part of that was because of his roots and his family,” said Giannino. “A lot of the conversations I had with Corey were around politics and he was always so engaged and interested in the community. I cannot think of a more fitting way to remember someone than a beautiful tribute like this.”

Serino said Corey Abrams “truly was a kind and gentle soul. I got to know him on various political campaigns working together. One of the last times I saw him was in Winthrop where he had a Christmas tree lot. We talked and we reminisced a bit and it was really a nice memory, one of last memories with him that I’ll always treasure.”

“Without knowing 20 years ago that the first live Christmas tree that I ever bought was from Corey’s lot on the Winthrop-East Boston line – fast forward many years later, my family became very close with the Abrams family and still is to this day,” said President Keefe. “When I think of Corey, I certainly think of his family, his loyalty, and of course I think of his family. That’s how I’ll always remember Corey.”

Corey Abrams’ childhood friend, Felipe, said that “I remember playing basketball, riding our bicycles, and swimming in Corey’s pool in the summer. I remember Corey always trying to make people laugh, no matter where we were or what we were doing. He was kind, generous, funny, very hard-working, and especially a friend. You could always count on Corey. He truly cared for people and always wanted the best for everyone. To me, Corey is the definition of what a father, son, brother, and friend should be. He loved his family and his friends dearly. Corey was a special person to many people. All the people around him, loved him. Corey has left a footprint in the hearts of many, especially those in the Revere community.”

James DiSabatino offered his family’s support of The Corey Abrams Community Garden.

Former mayor Dan Rizzo said, “The City of Revere does have a very steep history in honoring and remember prominent residents and certainly Corey Abrams falls into that category.”

Rizzo also read a beautifully written letter that he offered in support of Councilor McKenna’s motion. “Corey was well known and well loved,” said Rizzo. “It was hard to not be totally consumed with his sense of humor and infectious laugh. He was one of the most kind-hearted, generous, compassionate people I have ever known. I think [the naming of the community garden] is a wonderful tribute to Corey and his family and I’m proud to support it.”

A tenant who had lived in Corey Abrams’ former childhood home, said that Corey Abrams was a wonderful, generous person who helped out senior citizens in the neighborhood by providing them with rides to the polls among other acts of kindness.

That tenant shared a story of how her residence had been flooded in the aftermath of a blaze that had destroyed the unit next door.

“I selfishly started to think of my kids’ gifts hidden in the closet,” she recalled. “Corey brought me over to a fire truck, opened the door – he had saved every gift. We started working on my unit the week before Christmas so I could stay there for Christmas. This community garden is a wonderful idea.”

On behalf of Corey Abrams’ family, his wife, and their five children, Kerry Abrams thanked the City Council naming the community garden in honor of her brother.

service, and their lives after serving our country.”

Silvestri said he is incorporating an old tribal tradition of bravery into the Revere ceremonies. “When their warriors would come home from battle, they felt that if they sat with the rest of the tribe and talked with them about their issues and pains, it would spread through the tribe and take the stresses from the warriors themselves and give the tribe a better understanding of the warriors and not just see them as these beasts that would go out and fight and hunt,” explained Silvestri.

The seven veterans who will speak during the ceremony are: Arthur Minichiello, U.S. Navy veteran of World War II; Revere Police Sgt. Michael Trovato, U.S. Army veteran of Operation Iraqi Freedom; Revere Police Officer Joseph Singer, U.S. Marine veteran of Operation Enduring Freedom Afghanistan; Richie Evans, U.S. Marine Veteran who served in the Battle of Fallujah; Nicole Apollo, U.S. Navy veteran; Kenny Holgerson, U.S. Army veteran of the Vietnam War; and Ira Novoselsky, a 20-year veteran of the Army National Guard and the past Commander of the Jewish War Veterans of Massachusetts.

Veterans Office Moves On Temporary Basis

Veterans Service Director Marc Silvestri announced that the Revere Veterans Office has moved temporarily to the Rossetti-Cowan Senior Center on Winthrop Avenue while the current office is being renovated.

“I have to give Mayor Arrigo and the DPW big thanks on the much-needed improvements to the Veterans Office at the American Legion Building,” said Silvestri, who expects to be in the new offices by next week. “We’re going to have more space for veterans’ functions and programming once COVID-19 comes to an end.”

Silvestri also expressed his gratitude to Veterans Services Assistant Director Donna Dreeszen for her dedication to the office. Dreeszen is the wife of U.S. Army veteran Steven Dreeszen.

“Donna is super dedicated to this office and we really wouldn’t be able to do the things we do without her,” credited Silvestri. “Donna has built our monthly food bank from 30 clients to 400 clients. She gives that extra effort and really shows her care for the veterans. Her contributions are vital in serving our many veterans in Revere. She is really the backbone to this office.”

Twenty-five year employee of British Airways

Family and friends are invited to attend Visiting Hours today, Wednesday, November 11 from 5 to 7 p.m. in the Vertuccio & Smith, Home for Funerals, 773 Broadway (Rt.1017) Revere for Lisa M. (Mollenauer) Flury who died suddenly on Thursday, November 5 at the CHA – Everett Hospital after a long illness with Leukemia. She was 49 years old.

A Funeral Service will follow in the funeral home at 7:15 p.m. Due to the ongoing Covid-19 Pandemic, we will be following the strict rules, guidelines and mandates from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, The CDC and the City of Revere. All visitors must wear a face covering, temperature check, social distances and 25 people maximum. These regulations will be strictly enforced.

Lisa was a native of Pittsburgh, PA, was raised and educated in Pittsburgh and moved to Boston in 2000. She was employed as a Customer Service Representative.

Lisa met Brian T. Flury during her time in the Boston area. The couple was married and had two children together. They remained in Revere raising their family. Sadly, approximately five years ago, Lisa was diagnosed with Leukemia. This caused her to stop working due to her declining health, but it did not stop the fight she had in her. As a strong woman and a wonderful mother, she fought every day to have one more day with her husband and children. She lost her courageous and valiant battle, but never lost her will to love and demonstrate her will to live.

The beloved daughter of Thomas E. Mollenauer, Sr. and Paulette K. (Pawling) Mollenauer of West Hickory, PA, she was the devoted wife of Brian T. Flury of Revere, loving and cherished mother of Carsen R. Flury of Londonderry, NH, Sara R. Flury and Chloe R. Flury, both of Revere and grandmother of Ty Cameron Cory; dear sister of Thomas E. Dr. Robert Paul Forte

He leaves a legacy of a life well-lived

Dr. Robert Paul Forte, 88, of Ridgewood, New Jersey died peacefully on October 28, 2020, while surrounded by family in Atlanta, Georgia.

Robert Paul Forte was born in Revere on February 14, 1932 to Achille Forte and Julia Frangi-pane Forte. The oldest of three boys, Bobby started working at the local drugstore when he was 11, played the trumpet, excelled at shortstop, and was a top student at Revere High School. He graduated from the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy before becoming one of 36 dental graduates in the inaugural class of the Seton Hall College of Medicine and Dentistry in 1960 (now Rutgers School of Dental Medicine).

In 1962, the now Dr. Forte began what would be a thriving 55 year dental practice in Ridgewood, New Jersey. Well-respected by his colleagues, he was a member of the New York Academy of Dentistry, the Fellowship of the International College of Dentists, and served as President of the Bergen County Dental Association and as Editor of the Journal of the New Jersey Dental Association. In the office by 7 a.m., he treated generations of families and loved his patients: they were often a captive audience for his stories about golf, skiing, his travels to Italy, and later, his Vermont garden, or the recent adventures of his beloved grandchildren.

Early in his dental career, Dr. Forte began investing in real estate. He was self-taught, self-directed, and focused — abilities that he used in every aspect of his life — and over the years, his sideline turned into a substantial portfolio of almost a dozen residential, commercial and professional buildings in Northern New Jersey and Atlanta.

A competitive golfer who won many tournaments, Bob was a devoted student of the game. He was a member of the Hackensack Golf Club for over 40 years. Always an active participant, he ran many tournaments, was Chairman of the Golf Committee, Co-chairman of the Rules and Ethics Committee, and a member of the Board of Trustees. He was a past president and a member emeritus of the New Jersey Seniors Golf Association, as well as a member of the Course Rating Committee of the Metropolitan Golf Association. In 2019, the Hackensack Golf Club renamed a Senior Member-Guest tournament in his honor. He loved to play courses all over the country, and his grandchildren often joked that no matter where you drove with Grampy, he could find a golf course he played and an Italian restaurant within five miles. Bob relished his annual summer golf outings in Vermont with his close friends, and his many trips to Ireland and Scotland.

Like golf, Bob took up skiing in his mid thirties. He and his family skied all over New England until choosing Wilmington, Vermont as the place for a second home. They spent many winter weekends at the "A" frame, skiing with other families and friends at Mt. Snow and Haystack, and he took annual trips out West and to Europe. In 1985, Bob, now a young grandfather, built a house on Top of Hill Road in Wilmington and began to spend weekends there year round.

In his early 60's, he decided to start a "little" garden on the side of the hill where a swing set used to be. What began as a small collection of flowering plants, and a modest goal to be included on the Wilmington Garden Tour, became what has now been called the fourth largest perennial garden in Vermont and a permanent spot on the Wilmington Garden Tour. Completely self designed, he was honored when his garden was included in the prestigious national Garden Conservancy Open Days event in 2012. He described it in the tour catalog as "The North Forte is filled with classic perennials and shrubs, native Vermont bluestone walls, and striking architectural elements. Stroll the paths along the two waterfalls and koi ponds and continue over the garden bridge while viewing the Knot Garden. Continue through the garden gate to the roses and hydrangeas to the pergola and the Sculpture Garden". His newest addition was the design and installation of a garden railroad, complete with lights and intricate replicas of local Wilmington landmarks along the tracks. Bob opened his home and garden annually to host fundraisers for local charities, including this past July, which raised funds for CoVid relief in the Wilmington community.

Proud of his Italian heritage, he traveled to Italy more than 20 times, once on his own with four of his grandchildren, and the last time in 2013 with his four adult children. He was close to his children, a generous and attentive father, and he loved his daughter-in-law Kathy as if she were one of his own. Bob and his younger brother, Bill were devoted to each other. Born just a year apart, they were loyal and loving brothers, inseparable for more than 87 years.

There was nothing that gave Bob more joy than his favorite role as Grampy, The Gramps, or The Old Gramps. He was thrilled to become a great-grandfather and joked that he had thought nothing could be better than grandchildren until he had great-grandchildren. Grampy called each of his nine grandchildren often, never missed a birthday or a chance to support them in their myriad pursuits. He was their biggest fan and they knew he loved them unconditionally.

Generous in thought and deed, Bob was truly a self made man. He leaves a legacy of a life well-lived and a profound love for his family and friends.

Robert Forte was preceded in death in January by his wife, Mary; his parents; his brother, Richard; and his Aunt Mary Lanzo. He is survived by: his daughter Jeanne Marie; his sons Robert Paul, John Michael and wife Kathy, and David Christopher; his brother Bill and wife Peg; his grandchildren Diana, Caitlin, Charlie, Vanessa, Mircea, Jake, Ben, Sophie, and Will; his great-grandchildren Teddie, Ramona, George, and Margaux; his step-daughters Kara Sweet Klose and husband Jim, Kim Sweet Bonney and husband Scott, and Allison Sweet Posternock and husband Dan; his step-grandchildren Cory, Ian, Sawyer, Josh, and Mia. He is also survived by his business partner and first wife Diana Rossetti, nieces Mary and Julie, nephews Billy and Edward, several cousins and many friends.

A Virtual Service will be held on Saturday, November 21 at 11 a.m. To attend, please register for the service by Friday, November 20 by logging on to: <https://tinyurl.com/ForteMemorial>.

Memorial contributions may be made to The Rotary Club of the Deerfield Valley, Post Office Box 542, West Dover, Vermont 05356.

Revere Public School Committee's Ways and Means subcommittee discusses fiscal report

By John Lynds

At the last Revere Public School Committee's Ways and Means subcommittee meeting members discussed the first quarter financial report that includes the first three months of the current fiscal year.

According to the report presented by RPS Chief Financial Officer Matthew Kruse, Revere has an operating budget of over $94 million with $25 million expended so far for the current fiscal year.

With an available balance of $68.8 million Kruse said things are looking pretty good for FY2021.

"The most useful part of this report is to look and see if anything has already entered into a deficit or are they all tracking with surplus balances," said Kruse. "When you look through the detailed pages and line items there is only one red line item that stands out."

Kruse said the sole red line item was due to early retirement incentives RPS gave to staff that were nearing retirement. RPS offered early retirement due to the COVID-19 pandemic and a number of staff took advantage of the offer.

"This resulted in a $37,000 deficit but it is not a big one," said Kruse.

Going forward, Kruse said, RPS will look at any surplus in other areas that can flow to help cover the deficit in the retirement accounts.

In other areas RPS has spent $697,666 for administrative costs out of a $2.6 million budget.

Instructional services totaled $6.75 million in the first quarter of FY2021 out of a budget of $57.4 million and other student services have cost $3.94 million so far from a budget of around $10 million.

Operation of plant and maintenance has cost RPS $3.68 million in the first three months of FY2021 out of a budget of $9.2 million.

Employee benefits and insurance has totaled $168,441 so far out of a budget of $751,500 for the fiscal year.

Civic activities and community service have cost the schools $15,692 out of a budget of $39,783 over the first three months of the fiscal year.

There's a $832,294 budget for school improvements but none of that money has been spent thus far for FY2021.

Revere has spent $10 million through programs with other schools out of a budget of $13.1 million.

RPS is also expected to receive two grants due to the COVID-19 pandemic that can be used to help any foreseeable deficits as Revere moves into the second quarter of FY2021. One grant will be $1.6 million and the other will be for $2 million. The $2 million grant would need to be spent by the end of December according to RPS Superintendent Dianne Kelly.

Kruse said there will also be a "Carry Forward" allocation of roughly $7.92 million left over from FY2020. This money will be added to the budget during the second quarter of FY2021. Kruse said RPS is on target to release a report on where the money will be allocated at a School Committee meeting in November.

With coronavirus cases surging, Revere's citizenry will not be able to salute Vincent at a large-scale public gathering at this time.

Monday night the City Council voted unanimously to present a Certificate of Commendation to Vincent on the occasion of her retirement. Councillors praised Vincent, one of the city's most well-known and admired residents, while others said they will save their farewell remarks for the popular legislator when the presentation is officially made to her.

We can count on a prolonged standing ovation for Rep. RoseLee Vincent when that historic moment arrives inside the Council Chambers and broadcast live on Revere TV.

OBITUARIES

Will be fondly remembered for his incredible work ethic and charismatic nature

Long time Saugus resident Armand Couture entered into eternal rest on November 4 after a courageous battle with cancer.

Born in Revere, the son of the late Armand L. Couture, Sr. and Evelyn G. (Elliott), Armand attended Revere Public Schools and graduated from Revere High School, Class of 1964. After high school, he attended King's/Dalhousie University in Halifax, Nova Scotia. Upon returning home, Armand worked at his family's business, Alco Food Products in Saugus. He worked there until he embarked on a career at the US Postal Service as a clerk and acting supervisor. Armand retired in January of 2013 from the Chelsea IMC as a long time manual distribution clerk.

Armand enjoyed his retirement by always keeping busy. He was an avid runner and ran the Boston Marathon 7 times. His proudest run was his time of 3 hours 23 minutes. Armand will always be remembered for distributing care packages of snacks and food to family and friends. He had a passion for collecting bottles and cans and donating his profits to St. John's Episcopal Church in Saugus, where they in turn, donated to My Brother's Table. This year alone Armand collected $738.60 by turning in cans; something he was very proud of! Armand was a faithful and compassionate man, he was a longtime active member of St. John's Episcopal Church. He will be greatly missed and fondly remembered by his incredible work ethic and charismatic nature.

Armand was the beloved husband of 48 years to Elizabeth "Betty" A. (Slate) Couture; devoted father of Armand L. Couture III and his wife, Kelly, Andrea L. Couture and her husband Dana Clark, Julie A. Couture and her wife Briana; dear brother of Linda M. Shea and her husband Paul, Mark E. Couture and his wife Mahnaz, and the late Elizabeth G. Hampton. Armand is also lovingly survived by his grandchildren, Ethan, Ashley, Jacob and Kelly's daughters, Hallie and Jessica.

Private Funeral Services were conducted at St. John's Episcopal Church in Saugus on Tuesday, November 10. Interment was private. We encourage family and friends to visit www.carafafuneralhome.com to offer condolences at this time by means of the online guest book or to send a personalized sympathy card. Funeral arrangements were entrusted to the Carafa Family Funeral Home in Chelsea.

Donations in Armand's memory may be made to the St. John's Church Lighting Fund, 8 Prospect St., Saugus, MA 01906.

John Mellone

Longtime auto salesman

Revere High Seniors sending out an SOS

By Melissa Moore-Randall

As the almost 8,000 students in the Revere Public School system begin their third month of remote learning, Revere High School seniors are anxiously waiting to see if they will return to school and the playing fields. Seniors Nina Cassinello, Erica Anderson, Dillion Day, and Rich DiMarzo are trying to stay optimistic as they see their senior year slipping away due to Covid 19.

While the seniors understand the seriousness of Covid and how it has negatively impacted so many, they also feel that remote learning is not effective and that students need to return to the classroom in person.

Nina Cassinello said, "I think it's important to acknowledge Covid is definitely an issue, and we must take the necessary precautions in order to ensure everyone's safety. Wearing a mask, maintaining social distancing, and not having parties over a certain number of people is important if we want to see life get back to some form of normalcy. However with that being said, part of going back to normal is our ability to adapt. As long as we, as a city or as a school system, take the time to come together and develop in-depth precautions and safety regulations, we may be closer to reaching that sense of normalcy."

Cassinello, an RHS field hockey, basketball, and softball player and member of the Poetry Out Loud Club, Student Council, Model UN Club and School Improvement Council, considers herself a student who thrives in a school setting. "I look forward to collaborating with my peers and being mentored by my teachers, but it has become much harder to do that through a computer screen. My room had to be transformed into a classroom and become a place of productivity. I value all the work my teachers put into their lessons and I did find a way to adapt to the new norms, but it is definitely challenging."

Erica Anderson, a four year, three sport athlete, agrees with Cassinello and acknowledges the impact Covid has had on so many. "The COVID-19 pandemic has impacted a lot of families, businesses, and school systems. The tragic loss of human life is awful and my deepest condolences go out to the victims affected by this virus."

However, Anderson is also struggling with remote learning. "Remote learning is not going well. Learning remotely is something that no one would think of when thinking about their senior year of high school. Remote learning is not allowing students to express their opinions but more importantly, it is not allowing us to learn like we would if we were in school. There is no interaction with remote learning, most students are home all day alone, and there is unneeded emotional stress being put on the students."

Dillion Day said, "COVID 19 is a very serious thing. It is not a joke and shouldn't be taken as one. However it is shown, throughout the state, that school age kids are not the ones making up the numbers, but instead it is adults who make up more numbers. I think that there are safe ways to be in the building or to go hybrid just like other schools in our state have."

Day, a varsity basketball and basketball player and member of the National Honor Society, said, "I think remote learning is great temporarily. I think that remote learning can be done for only certain ages and even certain classes. However, I think that overall it takes away from kids truly learning. All kids learn in different ways. So how many kids in Revere Public Schools are visual learners and hands on learners. It is very hard for some kids to learn through a screen with no discipline and no interaction. That doesn't even cover the kids with no or poor internet connection who can't even log onto class or understand the teacher."

Rich Dimarzo, the RHS basketball and baseball captain and Spanish Honor Society Member, finds remote learning impossible to focus. "Staring at a screen all day is the least engaging way to learn and it is not helping me grow as a student at all. Covid is a very serious issue and even though I would love to be in school, safety comes before school. However, I feel it makes no sense how other places are open but school is not."

In addition to the struggles with remote learning, the seniors are also struggling with the disappointments that Covid is bringing to their milestone senior year of high school.

My senior year was basically taken away from me. I experienced a lot of "lasts" without knowing, like my last school pep rally junior year. It's just sad when you look forward to something for so many years, as my friends and I looked forward to senior year, but then you get there and it's being done in your room through a computer, rather than in school with all your favorite teachers and friends. One of the other biggest disappointments is that so many things are unknown. There are no answers to common questions like when will we be back in the building? Will we get to experience our sports senior nights? Will we have normal graduation?", said Cassinello.

Anderson said three words come to mind when thinking about being a senior ... community, spirit, and accomplishment. "It is our final year to make memories with events like pep rallies, talent shows, and graduation. Knowing that those events may not happen due to the city statistics, lawmakers and the pandemic is upsetting. Another disappointment of COVID-19 is that I may not be able to share these amazing events and memories with my classmates. I feel as though the school system and the city are making no effort to help make this upcoming year for the seniors the best possible. We all witnessed what happened with the COVID-20, I will not allow that to happen to us."

Day added, "Even though most younger kids dread school, I think most seniors or high schoolers, or even people who have graduated, that we don't want to be rushed into the real world. Not being in school is taking away from our childhoods. Some adults say high school is the best 4 years of your life but now imagine taking away the last year and a half of high school? Senior and junior year is actually when everything happens. Taking away that year and a half is taking away some of the last and best years of our youth. It is really sad and disappointing to be a senior right now."

All students echoed a similar sentiment stating that, at some point, the city should move forward with a safe and logical hybrid model this year. The seniors suggested reopening schools with a hybrid plan where a certain number of students are allowed in the building a few days a week that maintains Covid 19 safety protocols. They also said an option should be available for students to either return to in person learning or continue learning remotely.

As numbers continue to keep Revere in the red, the seniors hope that at some point they will be able to salvage their senior year and enjoy all of the milestones that come along with it. The last day the seniors and the other 8,000 Revere Public School students were in their classrooms and on the playing fields was March 12.

RHS Seniors Jarrod Natola, Francesca DeAngelis, Lynzie Anderson, Nina Cassinello, Erica Anderson, Alexis Iacoviello, Rich Dimarzo, and Dillion Day (seated) are hoping to return to the classroom and playing fields.

Cronin Rink re-opens after two-week hiatus

By Cary Shuman

The Cronin Ice Rink in Revere re-opened Saturday morning after being closed for two weeks due to a spike in coronavirus cases.

Arena Manager John Carroll of FMC Ice Sports said the rink is open for youth hockey practices and games and figure skating organizations.

There are no individual public skating sessions, though Carroll said there might be an online advanced registration process put in place in the near future, limiting ice time to 25 skaters per session in compliance with social distancing guidelines.

The rink will have a new closing time of 9:30 p.m., meaning that the hockey leagues for senior players have been temporarily suspended.

"Everyone has to be out of the building by 9:30," said Carroll.

Depending on Revere's COVID-19 zone designation, the Revere High hockey program might be able to start its pre-season practices at the end of the month. "There will be some logistical challenges since all the team rooms are closed," said Carroll. "The players will have to come dressed and ready for practice and they won't be able to store their equipment here."

The capacity at Revere High home games will be 65-80 spectators.

Addressing the current pandemic and the safety precautions in place, Carroll said, "I hope that the hockey and skating community takes the restrictions seriously. We are willing and capable of implementing them so we can protect the health of the participants and keep the season going."

Carroll, 50, has been the arena manager in Revere since October, 2007. That means he is the only manager in the new rink's history.

"I made a commitment to this rink and this community and I intend to see it through," Carroll said proudly.

ALL-AMERICAN FOOTBALL PLAYERS AT DELLA RUSSO

Special to the Journal

In search of a new softball coach, St. Mary's Athletic Director Jeff Newhall only needed to look as far as the hockey rink.

St. Mary's girls hockey coach Frank Pagliuca has been named to replace Paige Licata of Revere, who resigned after four years at the helm of the Spartan softball program.

"We are thrilled to have Frank take over the softball program," Newhall said. "He has had significant success with our girls hockey program, he knows our school and our student-athletes extremely well, and he has a proven record as an outstanding softball coach as well."

Pagliuca coached the Lexington High softball team from 2007-15, compiling a 128-49 record and winning back-to-back MIAA Div. 1 state championships in 2008 and 2009. He led the St. Mary's hockey team to state titles in 2008, 2009 and 2010, giving him state championships as a coach in five consecutive seasons.

"If I were going to come back to softball, it had to be a situation where I felt really comfortable with the school and the community," Pagliuca said. "I have a tremendous relationship with Jeff and the St. Mary's community, so this worked out very well."

A Wakefield native

who played hockey at UMass Boston, Pagliuca has coached the girls hockey team at St. Mary's since 2005, after one year at Wakefield High. His career record is 286-62-34, including four state titles and a 100-game unbeaten streak from 2008-11.

"Frank epitomizes what you want in a coach," Newhall said. "He has the technical expertise and relates well to his players."

Pagliuca is inheriting a powerful program that won state championships in 2009 and 2010 under Colleen Newbury and is a perennial contender in Div. 3 North. With last season having been cancelled due to the pandemic, there are eight players returning from the 2019 squad, including: Lily Newhall, Marina DiBiasio, Samantha Porazinski, Felicia D'Alessandro, Julia Nickolau, Sophia LeBert, Alyssa Grossi and Angelina Catino.

"I'm excited to be part of a great program," said Pagliuca, who has taught for 19 years at Lexington High School, where he also served as girls soccer coach from 2005-11. "I know the value St. Mary's places on the student-athlete, so this is really a perfect opportunity for me."

Pagliuca said former St. Mary's standout athlete Angela Dandreo '11 and Genevieve Benoit '12 will serve as assistant coaches. He is cautiously optimistic that there will be a season this year.

St. Mary's Girls Hockey coach Frank Pagliuca will be taking over the helm of the St. Mary's softball league.

"For some kids, this is the last opportunity to play competitive sports," he said. "I really hope they have the opportunity to get back on the field."

Pagliuca lives in Lynnfield with his wife, Kara, and their daughters, Kiley (8), Mikayla (5) and Emma (2).

Lynn English, Classical are aligned in effort to join Revere High in GBL

By Cary Shuman

When Revere High School Director of Athletics Frank Shea led the way for Revere to leave the Northeastern Conference for the Greater Boston League, he had a vision for the future composition of the GBL.

Shea reasoned that the two Lynn schools, Classical and English, might find the GBL to be a better fit competitively and geographically. Shea also believed that Chelsea High might be interested in rejoining the GBL, a league in which the Red Devils played through the 1980s before heading to the Commonwealth Athletic Conference.

Shea was right on the mark. Chelsea High will become a full-fledged, competing member of the GBL in September, 2021. And now in a story that first appeared in the Lynn Journal, sister publication of the Revere Journal, Classical and English officials are "exploring" the idea of applying for admission to the GBL.

The GBL currently has five members: Revere, Everett, Malden, Medford, and Somerville. Chelsea, Classical, English, and would make for a well-positioned, eight-team league, perhaps with two four-team divisions.

Shea, whose Revere teams have enjoyed much success since he took over the program, supports the Lynn schools' move to the GBL. "That would be a dream addition for us," said Shea. "That was part of the vision a couple of years ago when we broke away from the Northeastern Conference. If we could get Chelsea (the Red Devils will join the GBL next fall) and the two Lynn schools in, that would really give us a really good urban league."

Chelsea High Athletic Director Amanda Alpert understands the plight of the Lynn schools.

"I think like Chelsea, the Lynn schools are looking for a place that fits their needs," said Alpert, whose program is an "independent" this year before joining the GBL next fall.

Why are Lynn English and Lynn Classical pondering a move to the GBL?

One reason is that officials and coaches from Classical and English were reportedly not happy when other schools in the Northeastern Conference decided to go forward with their fall sports seasons after the NEC principals had voted to move the entire season to "Fall 2" due to the coronavirus. All GBL schools stood as one and canceled their fall seasons.

NEC schools, including first-year entrant Masconomet Regional, are now concluding their fall seasons while the English, Classical, and Winthrop teams are on the sidelines looking in.

English Athletic Director Dick Newton said English and Classical have enjoyed their membership in the Northeastern Conference, "but times have changed, demographics have changed. Schools leaves leagues all the time. Lynn English is not the Lynn English of 1980 and anybody who thinks it is hasn't really been awake."

"[Classical Athletic Director] Billy Devin and I care about our kids," said Newton. "We want what's best for them."

Devin, whose sons have all been standout athletes at Classical, is also "all-in" on the move to the Greater Boston League.

"First and foremost the Lynn schools' move to the GBL would give us competitive balance for all our teams, not just a select few — especially our girls programs," said Devin. "Secondly the GBL is a perfect fit for English and Classical. The schools have similar enrollments. All of the schools have tremendous diversity. The proximity and the location of the schools works for Lynn. The GBL also has great facilities."

Devin said he is grateful to the GBL for "singlehandedly saving our Fall 2 season. I want to personally commend all of the GBLADs. If we do have a Fall 2 season, they saved us. Because as you know, the NEC schools flip-flopped on their original agreement to move everything to Fall 2."

The Greater Boston League ADs will next meet on Thursday, Nov. 12 and it's a near certainty that the topic of English and Classical joining the GBL will be brought up informally for discussion.

And it's our AD Frank Shea who foresaw this potentially historic moment in GBL history that could result in two Lynn schools entering the fold.

Meanwhile, the Chelsea-Revere GBL rivalry is set to resume next year. That means former Revere star and 1,000-point scorer Gena Restiano will be leading her CHS girls basketball team into two GBL matchups against her alma mater in the 2021-22 season.

Although a top-ranked Gloucester football team lived up to its billing and rolled to a 42-18 win over Revere Friday night at Harry Della Russo Stadium, the Patriots displayed a bit of firepower of their own behind two touchdowns by running back Trae Weathers and a third TD by Quintin Wesley. The RHS girls soccer team came up short in its state tourney contest with Framingham. Senior Marissa Parent scored the lone goal for coach Natalie Lyons's Lady Patriots, who sneaked into the tourney for the first time in 15 years with an 8-8-4 record.

Zonta Club of Chelsea rebrands to Zonta Club of Chelsea and Northshore

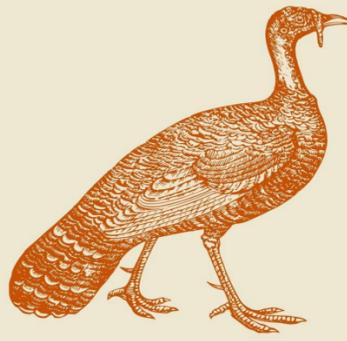

The Zonta Club of Chelsea has been serving and advocating for women and children locally and internationally through out the years. The Zonta Club was started in Chelsea in 1980 by local professional women with the desire to volunteer and help others. The club is a chapter of Zonta International, a non-profit women's service organization.

They participate in local service projects and support local, national and international projects. For the past 40 years the club has provided many services: given holiday food certificates to needy families, provided school supplies for children living in shelters, given scholarships for graduating high school girls, and has supported local domestic violence shelters and many other causes dedicated to assisting women and children.

Since we service the communities of Chelsea, Revere, Winthrop, Everett and Saugus we felt it was time to change the name of our club to represent the cities that we serve. We are now the Zonta Club of Chelsea & North Shore. In order to raise money to support and fund our causes we usually have two fundraisers a year but like most things in the world right now fundraising will and has to be different.

This year we are selling a "Zonta Club of Chelsea & North Shore Lottery Calendar" from now till December 24th. The cost of this Lottery Calendar for the month of January 2021 is $25.00 and there will be a drawing on each day of the month. Each day a prize will be given away. The prizes given away will be gift cards, cash, lottery tickets, and other prizes. The total value of the prizes to be won is $1295. Winning names will be re-entered into the remaining drawings. If you are interested in purchasing a "January 2021 Lottery Calendar" please contact Christine DePrizio at 617-466-1596 or at c5dsmom@yahoo.com.

Revere residents, young and old and from all walks of life, are mourning the passing this past Sunday, November 7, of City Councillor George V. Colella. He was 83 years old. Colella was a living legend, not only in Revere, but throughout the Commonwealth. He first was elected to the Revere School Committee in 1954, embarking on a remarkable political career that spanned six decades in which Colella served as mayor for 10 terms in the 1960s, 70s, and 80s, and as a City Council member for a total of 13 terms. DeMauro pleads guilty to charge of embezzlement at Revere League of Special Needs

The former president of the Revere League for Special Needs has pleaded guilty to charges in connection with an embezzlement scheme in which she stole thousands of dollars from the organization for personal use, Attorney General Maura Healey announced today.

On Monday, Michelle DeMauro, 49, of Revere, pleaded guilty in Suffolk Superior Court to Larceny Over $1,200 by a Single Scheme (two counts), Tax Evasion, Failure to Collect or Pay Taxes, Keep Records or Supply Information (one count), and Obtaining a Signature Under False Pretenses (two counts).

Following the plea, Judge Michael Ricciuti sentenced DeMauro for four of the charges to serve six months in jail, suspended for three years of probation, and with the conditions that she pay restitution to the Revere League for Special Needs, complete the AG's financial disclosure form, complete 150 hours of community service, sign over the proceeds of the fraudulent 401(k) retirement account she illegally set up to the Revere League for Special Needs, and that she stay away from the organization. On the fifth charge – Tax Evasion – DeMauro was sentenced to three years of probation with the same conditions, to run concurrent with her sentence for the larceny and fraudulent signature charges.

Between March 2016 and April 2019, DeMauro used her position as president of the organization to embezzle more than $42,000 in charitable funds that she used for personal expenses including home improvement projects, jewelry, an iPhone, a laptop, eyeglasses, concert tickets, cash withdrawals, and gift cards. DeMauro also made personal purchases using the charity's tax-exempt status to avoid paying sales tax to the state. She also used more than $5,000 in stolen funds from the organization to set up an unauthorized 401(k) retirement account with herself as the beneficiary.

The Revere League for Special Needs is an organization that aims to "promote the general welfare of children and adults with special needs in the home, church, school, or community." All of the organization's staff are volunteers who donate their time to hold events and activities for members of the organization and do not receive any compensation for their work. The Revere League's other board members fully cooperated and assisted with the AG's investigation.

This case was prosecuted by Assistant Attorney General Gretchen Brodigan, of AG Healey's White Collar and Public Integrity Division, and Sallyann Nelligan, Chief of the AG's Financial Investigations Division. The Massachusetts State Police provided valuable assistance to this investigation.

Essex DA releases findings in officer-involved shooting

Special to the Journal

Essex District Attorney Jonathan Blodgett stated that a preliminary investigation into an officer involved shooting in Lynn this morning has found the following:

At approximately 8:07 this morning, Revere Police received reports of a robbery at the Walgreens on 430 Broadway.

Witnesses informed responding officers that a white male suspect fled in a silver BMW and provided the plate number.

A Revere unit observed the suspect vehicle on Route 107 and attempted a stop. The vehicle fled and a pursuit ensued. At approximately 8:15, Revere Police notified Lynn Police that the pursuit was coming into Lynn on Route 107. All Lynn units were notified.

A Lynn officer working a detail on the corner of Summer and Witt Streets observed the suspect vehicle turn down Witt Street (a dead end) with the Revere unit in pursuit. The officer ran to assist.

Upon observing the Revere officer outside of his vehicle and pinned by the suspect vehicle, the Lynn officer discharged his service weapon at the suspect. The suspect died at the scene.

The Revere Officer was transported to Massachusetts General Hospital with non-life threatening injuries.

This is an active and fluid investigation. There are no plans for a presser at this time.

Two more suspects arrested in connection with Revere Beach murder

Special to the Journal

Within the last few days, Massachusetts State Police and Revere Police have located and arrested two suspects who had remained at-large following a July homicide on Revere Beach.

Early Friday morning, Revere officers responded to a report of an erratic driver at the Wendy's drive-through on Squire Road. Upon approaching the car, the vehicle fled, almost striking an officer, headed east down Squire Road, and entered the Brown Circle rotary traveling in the wrong direction. Revere officers pursued the vehicle onto Malden Street, where it came to a stop after crashing into a traffic island and knocking over a utility pole.

Two occupants of the vehicle fled on foot. Revere officers, with assistance from a State Police K9 team, pursued and apprehended a 17-year-old male. Three days earlier, the male, an East Boston resident, had been indicted for murder and armed robbery for the July 26, 2020 shooting homicide of 20-year-old Yaseen Butt on Revere Beach Boulevard.

The juvenile male was located with assistance from MSP K9 Unit Trooper Michael Murphy and his partner, Keira, who acquired a scent and tracked into a yard near where the suspect vehicle crashed. Keira pulled hard behind the house, and as the search team rounded a corner of the home there, they observed the suspect sitting on a bench. Trooper Murphy gave verbal commands to the suspect to surrender or face apprehension by the dog, and the suspect surrendered.

Shortly before 7 a.m. today, Troopers from the State Police Detective Unit for Suffolk County and the State Police Violent Fugitive Apprehension Section, along with Revere Police, located another suspect in the homicide of Mr. Butt. Troopers and Officers arrested that suspect, who is also a 17-year-old male from East Boston, inside a Hutchinson Street, Revere residence on a warrant charging him with murder, armed robbery, and firearm and ammunition offenses.

The arrests made since Friday are the second and third overall in the Yaseen Butt homicide. During the summer, FELIX MARTINEZ, 20, of East Boston was charged in Mr. Butt's killing and remains in custody awaiting trial.

The homicide is being prosecuted by the office of Suffolk District Attorney Rachel Rollins. The suspects arrested Friday and today are considered juveniles and thus their names are not being released at this time. The District Attorney's Office will determine when names may appropriately be released per judicial protocols.

Towing company owner pleads guilty to tax fraud and evading cash transaction reporting

Special to the Journal

The owner of a Revere towing company pleaded guilty yesterday to engaging in an under-the-table payroll fraud scheme that defrauded the government of more than $3.3 million.

Gennaro Angiulo, 49, of Nahant and Saugus, pleaded guilty to one count of willful failure to collect and pay over taxes and one count of evading cash transaction reporting requirements. U.S. Senior District Court Judge Douglas P. Woodlock scheduled sentencing for March 2, 2021.

For tax years 2014 through at least 2017, Angiulo paid a portion of the wages to employees of his company, GJ Towing, in cash "under the table." In doing so, Angiulo did not collect, account for or pay over to the IRS required withholding and FICA taxes.

The cash payments to employees were funded, at least in part, by cashing checks from clients of GJ Towing and other third parties in groups totaling not more than $10,000 in a single day.

The charge of willful failure to collect and pay over taxes provides for a sentence of up to five years in prison, three years of supervised release and a fine of $250,000 or twice the gross gain or loss, whichever is greater. The charge of evading cash transaction reporting requirements provides for a sentence of up to 10 years in prison, up to five years of supervised release, a fine of $500,000 and forfeiture. Angiulo is also required to pay restitution to the IRS. Sentences are imposed by a federal district court judge based upon the U.S. Sentencing Guidelines and other statutory factors.

No street sweeping fines will be given out in December

By Cary Shuman

The City Council approved a motion by Councillors Richard Serino and Joanne McKenna that the city's parking director enforce street sweeping in December by giving out warnings instead of fines.

"A lot of people don't realize we've extended street sweeping to December, so I think especially with COVID-19 here and people still working from home and being home, it would be only fair that we only give warnings to people who parked during street sweeping in December," said Serino.

McKenna, who noted the many leaves falling on city streets in December, said street sweeping in that month is "weather permitting."

"If we do have snow on a street-sweeping day, that street sweeper will not come out," said

McKenna. "It is weather permitting but it will extend until Dec. 31."

Ward 2 Councilor Ira Novoselsky, chair of the Public Works Subcommittee, said that "not only is snow an issue with street-sweeping equipment, if it's too cold, the equipment won't work.

The transmission fluid and the machinery get very thick and it will not work. I want everyone to know so even it doesn't know, if the equipment doesn't snow and the equipment doesn't show up, it's because it's too cold out."

Council President

Patrick Keefe said that although he favors the motion, "I would probably suggest the first time would be a warning, the second time would be a violation, because I tend to feel sometimes people do take advantage of it, but I think this is a well-intended motion."

Sen. Joseph Boncore blasts proposed MBTA service cuts

By John Lynds

MBTA's Daniel Mueller laid out the T's plan to cut service on the Blue Line, a move that was immediately publicly rebuked by the Senate Chair of the Transportation Committee, Sen. Joseph Boncore.

Mueller said that the T's 'Forging Ahead' plan would reduce weekday and Saturday service on the Blue Line by one hour. The Blue Line would now run from 5 a.m. to midnight instead of 5 a.m. to 1 a.m. on weekdays and Saturdays. Sunday service will operate from 6 a.m. to midnight instead of 6 a.m. to 1 a.m.

The T, explained Mueller, will also reduce peak frequency by 20 percent and reduce off-peak frequency by an additional 20 percent on the Blue Line, as well as the other MBTA rapid transit lines. Mueller said the Blue Line is operating at about 24 percent of its pre-COVID level.

"As a result of the decline in ridership that is similarly impacting transit agencies across the country, the MBTA is now only transporting 330,000 trips on an average weekday - but is continuing to run the same high levels of service as it ran to serve 1.26 million daily trips prior to the pandemic, an unsustainable level of service delivery," he said.

Sen. Boncore said Tuesday that the proposed service cuts to the MBTA are very concerning.

"Though there has been a decrease in MBTA ridership during the COVID-19 pandemic, those who continue to utilize public transit throughout this public health crisis are the families, individuals, and essential workers who rely on it most," said

Boncore. "We must treat public transportation as a public good, similar to our roads and bridges. Expecting riders to face the consequences of less frequent service, delays, and crowding is unacceptable. Especially during the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, we must prioritize public health and safety."

The MBTA will be holding a number of public meetings to discuss proposed service cuts with communities and solicit feedback. The next meeting will be held online this Saturday, November 14, at 1pm. You can find details about this meeting and register for it at www.mbta.com/events/2020-11-14/forging-ahead-virtual-public-meeting-boston-and-milton-region-3.

"As the Senate Chair of the Joint Committee on Transportation, I remain committed to ensuring public transit is accessible, affordable, safe, and reliable," said Boncore.

In a statement, MBTA General Manager Steve Poflak said, "COVID-19 has had a significant impact on ridership and the MBTA is releasing these proposed changes to adjust to the realities created by COVID-19, while protecting service for those who depend on it most. I want to reassure our riders that these service changes are not permanent, do not include any fare changes, and will not take effect immediately. We are carrying out a comprehensive outreach process and encourage all members of the public to provide comments and feedback, as we want to hear from riders to help us identify and protect the services that support transit-critical populations and communities."

'Dance for Dana' Dance-a-thon fundraiser set for November 22

On Sunday, November 22, local dancing schools and teams will join together to host the fourth Annual "Dance for Dana" Dance-A-Thon to benefit Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. Nicole Paolo founded the event in 2017 in honor of those who courageously fight or have lost their battle to cancer. The event exemplifies dancing for a purpose, an important philosophy for the "Dance for Dana" team.

The "Dance for Dana" Dance-A-Thon is a fun, finessed-based event for dancers of all ages and levels that instills the importance of coming together as a community to help others. The event will be held virtually this year to ensure the safety of all dancers and instructors. There will be live dance performances, follow-along routines, event day drawings, and prizes for the top earning dancing schools.

Last year, the event collectively raised over $35,000 for vital cancer research at Dana-Farber. This year, the "Dance for Dana" team is comprised of the following dancing schools: Beverly Richards Dance Center, East Boston; Nicole Zervas Dance Academy, Revere; and Darcy's Dance Academy, Malden.

"Dance for Dana" was also awarded the "Team Spirit Award" by the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute Event Fundraising team. This award is given in recognition of the event's outstanding contributions to Dana-Farber and the Jimmy Fund. The Team Spirit Award is awarded to an event in recognition of its mission

Courts extend start date for jury trials

Staff report

The Supreme Judicial Court (SJC) and the Trial Court announce that the gradual resumption of jury trials will now commence the week of November 30, 2020. However, Phase 1 of the plan previously approved by the SJC order of September 17, 2020, has been scaled back due to the current situation in the Commonwealth with respect to COVID-19.

As recommended by the Jury Management Advisory Committee (JMAC) in its report on the resumption of jury trials, Phase 1 will last for two months. The number of jury trials and locations, however, will be reduced. Beginning the week of November 30, trials to juries of six will commence in 3 to 5 courthouses that have been identified by the Trial Court as meeting the environmental and engineering controls that were recommended by the JMAC. Only one trial each week will be conducted in each courthouse. Comprehensive protocols that address the health and safety of jurors and other trial participants will be in place at all stages of the trials, from receipt of a summons through conclusion of the trial and exit from the courthouse. These trials will help guide court leaders as they consider moving to Phase 2 of the plan for the gradual resumption of jury trials.

The limited resumption of jury trials is intended to balance the safety of everyone who enters a courthouse with the fundamental constitutional right to a trial by jury. Careful compliance with the protective protocols and safety measures put in place by the Trial Court will allow the court to better protect both of those interests.

The Trial Court and the Office of Jury Commissioner have produced an informative video, What to Expect When You Are Summoned to Jury Duty, which details the extensive steps being taken to provide for the safety of jurors, court staff, and the public. Summoned jurors also are reminded to contact the Office of Jury Commissioner in advance of their date of service if they or a household member have an identified vulnerability to COVID-19, or other circumstances related to COVID-19.

As always, all plans and expectations regarding the resumption of jury trials may be adjusted as the court continues to monitor the COVID-19 situation in the Commonwealth.

State releases new metric guidelines for school districts

Staff report

Last week, Gov. Charlie Baker and COVID-19 Command Center released updated metrics for schools and municipalities. The Department of Elementary and Secondary Education also released updated school guidance.

This update builds on the state's ongoing efforts to refine data that is reported publicly to track the impact of the virus in the Commonwealth. The updated metrics for communities will give school districts more data to make informed decisions regarding in-person learning. Local officials have also used these metrics to make decisions for schools and businesses in their communities.

Understanding of the virus continues to evolve. Studies have shown that there is low transmission in schools, even in communities where there are high rates of COVID.

UPDATED METRICS FOR SCHOOLS & MUNICIPALITIES

The updated metrics adjust for the reporting of cases by a municipality's population size. These metrics incorporate cases per 100,000 residents and the test positivity rate when determining a municipality color designation.

Using one metric to determine school re-openings community by community does not reflect the state's current understanding of the virus in the Commonwealth that there is more transmission across the Commonwealth due to increased cases of COVID-19.

The Command Center has also been reviewing metrics used by other states as well as what is available in the academic and national data sets. This updated metric also will better account for communities that conduct a significant amount of testing.

This metric will continue to be used to determine whether a community is in Step 1 of Phase 3 or Step 2. Communities currently in Step 1 of Phase 3 will need to have 3 weeks of data where the community is designated yellow, green or grey in order to move to Step 2 of Phase 3.

Under the new methodology, the color coded designations are: 16 red communities, 91 yellow communities, 79 green communities, and 165 grey communities based on this week's data.

DESE's UPDATED SCHOOL GUIDANCE:

In coordination with this data metric update, the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE) has issued updated guidance to prioritize in-person learning statewide and support municipalities.

Scientific evidence and COVID-19 transmission data supports that with strong health and safety protocols in place, schools are able to operate safely and successfully with in-person learning. This updated guidance was developed in conjunction with medical professionals and public health experts.

Under this guidance, districts and schools in communities designated gray, green or yellow are expected to have students learning fully in-person when possible.

The guidance states that schools in red communities should implement hybrid models while maximizing in-person learning for high-needs students.

In communities with the highest numbers of COVID-19 cases, DESE and DPH will work with local school officials to develop and implement risk reduction strategies.

Fully remote instructional models should be implemented only as a last resort, and classrooms should reopen after appropriate mitigation strategies have been implemented.

This update replaces previous guidance, Interpreting DPH COVID-19 Health Metrics, issued on August 11, and structured learning time requirements for students and related regulatory and statutory standards remain in effect for all districts.

Gov. Baker nominates Justice Dalila Argaez Wendlandt to SJC

Staff report

Governor Charlie Baker last week nominated Associate Justice of the Appeals Court, Dalila Argaez Wendlandt, to serve as an Associate Justice on the Supreme Judicial Court. The nominee and her family joined Governor Baker and Lt. Governor Karyn Polito for a formal announcement today at the State House. If confirmed, Justice Wendlandt will be the first Hispanic person to join the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court.

"Justice Dalila Argaez Wendlandt is an intelligent and hard-working jurist whose attitude and determination will serve her and all those that come before her on the Court well," said Governor Baker. "Her knowledge of the law and unique professional background will be a much needed asset to the Supreme Judicial Court and I look forward to her confirmation."

The Supreme Judicial Court is the Commonwealth's highest appellate court, consisting of the Chief Justice and six Associate Justices. The seven Justices hear appeals on a broad range of criminal and civil cases from September through May and issue written opinions that are posted online.

Dalila Wendlandt, Associate Justice, was appointed to the Appeals Court by Governor Charlie Baker in July of 2017. Since her appointment, she has authored over 30 decisions. She served on the SJC Advisory Committee on the Rules of Evidence and is the Appeals Court liaison to the Probate and Family Court. Justice Wendlandt has also sat on several internal committees geared towards supporting the infrastructure of the Court – the Case Management Committee, the IT Steering Committee and the Policies and Procedures Committees.

Born in New Orleans, Louisiana, to parents who had immigrated from Colombia, Justice Wendlandt graduated from the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign in 1991 with a Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering and from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology with a Master of Science in Mechanical Engineering in 1993. While at MIT, she designed, manufactured and developed the non-located control of a climbing robot. She then earned her Juris Doctor degree, with highest honors, from Stanford University Law School in 1996, where she was an article editor of the Stanford Law Review.

Upon graduation, Justice Wendlandt clerked for the Honorable John M. Walker, Jr., of the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. She joined the firm of Ropes & Gray LLP in 1997, eventually becoming a partner in the Intellectual Property Litigation Group of that firm. Her practice focused on counselling clients in such diverse industries as semiconductor manufacturing, medical devices and pharmaceuticals, with particular emphasis on electro-mechanical devices and controls algorithms, regarding patent and trade secret misappropriation litigation. Her active trial and litigation practice included a successful appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court challenging a federal statute on constitutional grounds. She was also active in the firm's administration, particularly with regard to hiring and coordinating the firm's summer associate program. She also served on the firm's flextime committee, assisting lawyers who desired flexible work arrangements.

Justice Wendlandt has published widely on the subject of patent law, writing in technical journals like Biotechnology Law Report to more popular publications such as Forbes. She has also lectured extensively at specialized seminars, bar associations and a law school. Justice Wendlandt assisted clients in pro bono activities such as requests for political asylum and a death row inmate's post-trial petitions. She also served as a Middlesex County Special Assistant District Attorney in two appellate matters.

ed his margin of victory with impressive vote totals in the other areas of the district.

"It was a hard-fought race and Melissa and I were out campaigning constantly," said Caggiano, a 1976 graduate of Revere High School. "I was out there in every city. I met a lot of nice people. The campaign was much more than what I thought it would be. Covering 12 cities and towns - there was a lot of hard work involved."

He praised Elam for her sportsmanship and cordiality in the course of the campaign.

"She worked very hard and it was a nice election," said Caggiano. "We were both very cordial to each other."

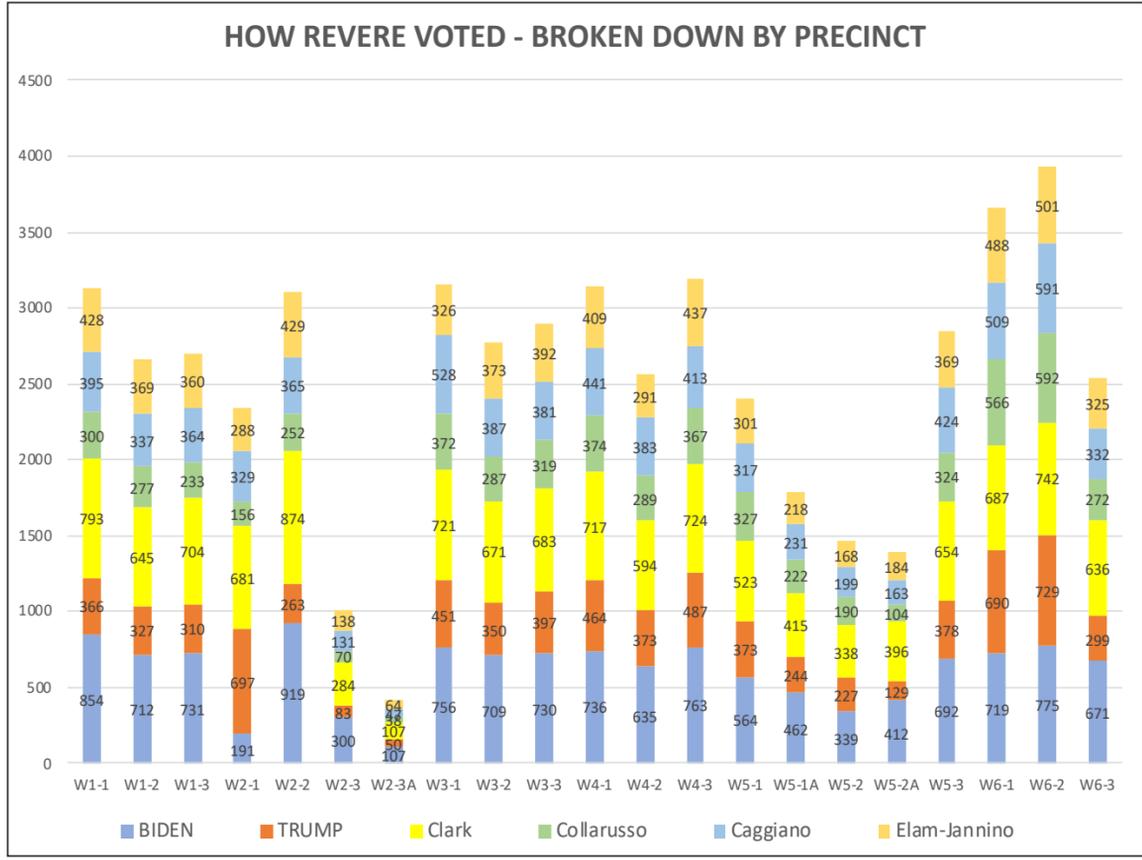

Caggiano credited Chris Keohan, principal and founder of CK Strategies for being instrumental in the coordination of his successful campaign. Keohan has proven to be an excellent and innovative consultant in various campaigns in Revere.

"I also want to thank [Attorney] Gerry D'Ambrosio for helping me put this whole thing together," said Caggiano. "Gerry asked me if I really wanted to run and I said, 'yes.' I received key backing from [former mayor and city councillor] Dan Rizzo and [Revere School Committee] member] Anthony D'Ambrosio."

Rizzo, always a potent vote-getter in citywide elections, stood at the polls on Election Day with Caggiano. Anthony D'Ambrosio topped the ticket in the last School Committee election.

"I also thank Teamsters President Sean O'Brien for that key endorsement of my candidacy," said Caggiano.

The chart above shows the breakdown of how Revere voters cast their ballots, precinct by precinct. The precinct with the highest turnout was Ward 6 Precinct 2 with 3,930 votes cast, while Ward 2, Precinct 3A had the lowest at 413 cast votes. At the end of the day, Revere sent 13,283 votes to the Biden camp and 7,181 to the Trump camp. Katherine Clark received 12,589 votes to challenger Caroline Colaruso's 5,931.

Caggiano said he was humbled by the support his campaign received in Revere and across the district during sign-holding events.

"That was probably the most humbling thing about the whole election - the people coming up to me and talking to me during the campaign," said Caggiano. "I was just humbled by the whole experience and all the people that I met."

This was Caggiano's first run for office. Asked after his tremendous showing in Revere and in other cities whether he was considering another campaign in 2021 or beyond, he replied, 'No.' This [the Regional School Committee] was the only position I was ever looking to seek. My stepfather was special needs director at Northeast. My mother worked there. I used to go to meetings at a very young age and sit there and watch my stepfather try to get appropriations for special needs. Sometimes after school I would do my homework there while my mother was working. This campaign was very personal. I think the voters could tell how passionate I was about the school and how important it is to me. My three kids went to Northeast and they're doing very well. I think my sons got more excited about the campaign as it went on. Some of my family came up from the South Shore to support me so it was a family thing."

Caggiano will be inaugurated to a four-year term in January. He is looking forward to working with Supt. David DiBarri and participating in the planning process for the new high school that is being proposed for the campus in Wakefield. He has already begun his transition to office by looking at existing programs and projects at Northeast.

"When January comes, I want to be updated," said Caggiano. "I don't want to go in cold. I want to know what the agenda is."
