WANTED!
BEAUTIFUL HOMES AND BUSINESSES

If you do, the Revere Beautification Committee (RBC) would like to know where they are located so that their property can be considered for the "Home of the Month" or "Business of the Month" award that the RBC presents to the owners of such places.

The RBC in the process of determining which homes or businesses should receive the award uses the following guidelines:

*Must also be clear of any trash, trash cans/bags, litter, debris, graffiti, weeds or high grass.

* Home/Business awards will begin in May and continue through October.

*Two Home awards will be given out per month and business awards will be given out as warranted.

*No repeat awards for at least 5 years after winning an award

* We will attempt to give awards to all 6 wards

City to hold Memorial Day exercises

By Cary Shuman

The City of Revere will hold its Memorial Day exercises Monday (May 31) at 11 a.m. on the American Legion Hall Lawn on Broadway.

Marc Silvestri, Revere director of veterans' services, will serve as master of ceremonies for the program. Silvestri is a highly decorated U.S. Army veteran and Cavalry Scout who served in Afghanistan in 2008 and 2009 and received a Bronze Star in Valor and a Purple Heart Medal.

Silvestri has invited Mayor Brian Arrigo, State Reps. Jessica Giannino and Jeff Turco, Sen. Joseph Boncore, City Council

President Anthony Zambuto, and members of the City Council and School Committee to attend the exercises. Residents are also welcomed to attend the program.

"This year we'll also be honoring some of our greatest, most valorous men, whom we intended to pay tribute to on Memorial Day in 2020 but were unable to because of the pandemic," said Silvestri.

Volunteers from the National Guard, led by Staff Sgt. Taylor DeAngelo, will join Silvestri in delivering remarks at the program honoring deceased members of the United States Armed Forces.

Improper disposal of smoking materials caused five-alarm fire on Endicott Avenue

Special to the Journal

Revere Fire Chief Christopher Bright and State Fire Marshal Peter J. Ostroskey said the cause of the May 20 fire at 141-143 Endicott Avenue, Revere, was the improper disposal of smoking materials.

RFI Investigator Capt. Mark Wolfgang and the Revere Police collaborated with the State Fire Marshal's Office in the investigation.

The five-alarm fire severely damaged the original six-unit building and the neighboring one-family home at 149 Endicott Avenue. Four additional homes suffered damaged in the dense neighborhood. The estimated loss is over $2 million. There were no injuries in the fire.

The fire started on the outside of 141-143 Endicott Avenue and there was evidence it was a frequent smoking area for residents.

Chief Bright said, "I am glad no residents or firefighters were hurt. But if this fire had happened in the middle of the night, the outcome might have been very different." He added, "I am grateful to the many neighboring fire departments that provided mutual aid. This fire is a terrible tragedy for the 16 people who are displaced, but hard work kept the fire from destroying more homes in this densely packed neighborhood."

Council approves CIT appropriation of $295,000

By Cary Shuman

The City Council approved an appropriation of $295,000 from the Community Improvement Trust (CIT) Fund for public space improvements at the Tyde Restaurant which will open at 21 Revere Beach Boulevard at street level as part of the spectacular Ryder Apartments complex.

All but one councillor followed the strong recommendation of Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna to approve the appropriation. Councillor-at-Large Gerry Visconti was the lone councillor to vote against the appropriation. Ralph DeCicco, chair of the Revere Commission on Disabilities, said he supported Visconti's vote.

McKenna recalled her first meeting with the developers of the project in

Powers says 'teenage parties' must be halted in Pines Road property

By Cary Shuman

What began as a discussion about short-term rental ordinances for Airbnb properties evolved into a startling revelation by Ward 5 Councillor John Powers that "teenage parties" are being held on weekends inside an Airbnb property on Pines Road.

Powers also reported that alcohol was being brought into the single-family home during the afternoon hours in advance of the nighttime parties, but it is unclear whether there was alcohol present at the gatherings.

"Regarding this matter, I had the occasion Friday evening, as I've had in the past two of three Friday evenings or Saturday evenings to go down to Pines Road," began Powers. "When I got there about 9 p.m., for about an hour and a half I observed probably 40 people going into a single-family home down there.

"Somebody has purchased that home and turned it into an Airbnb to run teenage parties down there," continued Powers.

The councillor said he has received calls from residents on Pines Road, "who observed the occupants bringing in alcohol in the afternoon."

He also expressed concern that the party-goers were parking their vehicles on the Lynnway, "disturbing the residents down there - [because] there is no parking on Pines Road."

Powers told his colleagues that he took the bold step of approaching "one of the individuals" and asking to speak with one of the party organizers "who was moving cars

Guinasso wants coyote situation addressed in rear of Lincoln School

By Cary Shuman

Saying the area behind the Lincoln School is a habitat for coyotes and raccoons, Ward 3 Councillor Arthur Guinasso wants the DPW to remove the tall grass, weeds, and dead trees at that location in the interest of public safety. "This is quite annoying based on the fact that this property abuts the Lincoln School where the school-children play in that new playground that I helped build a couple of years ago and we named it after my dear friend, [former Revere Mayor] Bob Haas," said Guinasso. The councillor said a High Street resident informed him more than a month ago that there was a raccoon set to deliver baby raccoons. "These raccoons, by the way, traverse throughout the neighborhood," said Guinasso. "I've been in touch with the DPW for weeks trying to work out a resolution to this." Guinasso said the process to remove the grass weeds, and trees is "cost-prohibitive - it costs a lot of money. We [The Council] authorized $8 million and more this evening. I can't believe how the neighborhood and the Lincoln School isn't outraged by the fear that every child is being put in jeopardy utilizing that playground. This is dangerous. You're talking coyotes and raccoons." Guinasso added that "the coyotes come in groups and the raccoons are very protective and they can do serious damage, especially to young children." He then requested the funding to address the problem be granted "immediately and properly." "Because those people are outraged and I don't blame them. I don't care how it gets paid, but I do care how it gets done and it has to be done ASAP. I'm sick and tired of waiting for projects in Ward 3." Council President Anthony Zambuto said his own High Street neighborhood has "a coyote problem and a raccoon problem and it's really troubling." "We've been trying to reach out to the wildlife people to come and remove a den. There's a den on Cushman Terrace and the coyotes travel up to High Street and they walk like they own the place," said Zambuto. The Council unanimously approved Guinasso's motion that asks Mayor Brian Arrigo to request the DPW to remove the grass, weeds, and dead trees in the rear of the Lincoln School.

McKenna requests parking exemptions for Ocean Ave. residents

By Cary Shuman

Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna is seeking to change the parking enforcement regulations for Ocean Avenue residents so they won't receive tickets for parking on the roadway during the hours of 9-10 a.m.

"The Ward 1 residents that got stickers to park on Ocean Avenue because they have meters in front of their properties are dealing with signs that were just put up by the DCR saying, 'No Parking from 9 to 10 a.m.,' so I'm just asking that communications between DCR and the City be established so these people are exempt from these signs and they can park there without getting ticketed," said McKenna. Interestingly, Ward 5 Councillor John Powers sought to amend McKenna's motion to include "residents only" parking in the area from 6 Lynway to the former Point of Pines Fire Station. But McKenna, ever the consummate team player on the Council, politely but firmly interrupted Powers with a procedural 'point of information.' "I just think this is going to take away from my motion," McKenna offered. "We're going to do this in separate motions," said Council President Anthony Zambuto, who gavelled the Council's unanimous approval of McKenna's motion. The Council followed up by approving Powers' motion for parking on the Lynnway. Councillor-at-Large and State Rep. Jessica Giannino and Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino, legislative aide to Rep. Giannino, recused themselves from voting on the two motions.

explaining why she supported the appropriation. "Because four years ago when they approached me and said they were going to build [the apartments], I wouldn't go along with it unless they put in a restaurant," said McKenna. "I think that restaurant is going to be a staple for Revere Beach. It's got indoor seating (120 seats) and outdoor seating (100 seats) and a beach bar, so people from the beach can order finger food items or a drink. The restaurant is going to be fantastic." Councillor-at-Large Jessica Giannino said she supported her colleague in the venture. "I know when Councillor McKenna first got elected, one of the first things she said was that she wanted to bring a restaurant to Ward 1 and we have the opportunity to bring a restaurant to Ward 1," said Giannino. "This is a great way to make the necessary improvements to the infrastructure - the sidewalks get what is needed so they can put a nice, first-class restaurant on America's first public beach." Bob O'Brien, director of community development who along with Mayor Brian Arrigo, has totally boosted the regional appeal of living in these luxurious, state-of-the-art Revere Beach properties, spoke in favor of the appropriation, commenting that, "It [the restaurant] is going to be a wonderful project. There will be indoor and outdoor dining. It's going to add a great deal of life to that end of the beach. All of the residents are really looking forward to it. The first question people would ask is: Is there going to be a restaurant?"

O'Brien credited McKenna for her crucial support of the project from the outset. "A good deal of the credit goes to the ward councillor [McKenna], who has been supporting the idea of a restaurant at this location literally from Day 1," said O'Brien. Council President Anthonny Zambuto voted in favor of the appropriation, but he expressed some concerns about the precedent it might set with CIT appropriations. "My real concern here is - I understand the Administration's point of view and the developer's point of view - in my opinion accurate what happened in the pandemic and what happened to try to entice a restaurant coming into that place at this time," said Zambuto. "My biggest fear is that we're going to set some type of precedent with the CIT money. If I eventually vote for this, it's going to be with the stipulation that this is not a precedent-setting event. This is a one-off thing that happened in a pandemic. This restaurant is built and it's going to be a wonderful restaurant."

Visconti said the appropriation of $295,000 could have been spent "in other areas of Ward 1. I've been having a difficult time trying to wrap my head around reimbursing the developer (Redgate Founder and Principal Damian Szary appeared via Zoom at the Ways and Means subcommittee meeting when the issue was discussed) for costs overruns as well as the buildout for the restaurant that was agreed upon by the ward councillor, the administration, as well as the developer. "The fact that you [Szary] have complied and kept your word in terms of providing a restaurant speaks volumes to the developer's reputation. The problem I have is the cost overruns of creating this restaurant is between the developer and the restaurant owner. I personally feel the city should be kept out of it and this is no disrespect to the ward councillor. It feels as though I'm on an island by myself here and that's fine," said Visconti. Szary refuted Visconti's remarks about the appropriation being "a reimbursement to the developer."

What is the Community Improvement Trust (CIT) Fund?

Category: Economic Development & Planning
The Community Improvement Trust Fund (CITF) was established to provide mitigation funds to the City of Revere for projects where the applicant requested a special permit or variance to increase the intensity of use beyond the use by right. Funds received by a development can then be expended on infrastructure and public facilities improvements directly impacted by the project. All expenditures of the CIT must be approved by a majority vote of the Revere City Council.

McKenna praises responders to Endicott Avenue fire

By Cary Shuman

Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna thanked Revere firefighters, police officers, and other responders for their amazing efforts during Thursday's five-alarm fire on Endicott Avenue.

Following are Councillor McKenna's remarks at Monday night's City Council meeting:

On Thursday at 1:30 p.m., a horrific fire started on Endicott Avenue in Beachmont and moved through five other houses. It was amazing to see all these departments that came together to control this fire to only six houses. With the density of this neighborhood, it could've been a lot worse. The Revere Firefighters, under the direction of Chief Bright, and other neighboring fire departments were amazing!

A heartfelt thank you to the following: The Revere firefighters, The Revere Police, The Revere Water Department, The Revere DPW, The Salvation Army, The Red Cross, Cataldo Ambulance service and rehab, Boston Sparks Association, and the building inspectors.

A special thank you to Deputy Chief Glen Rich, Captain Steven Parson, Firefighter Mike Amato, and Firefighter Eric Gibson.

These firefighters went above and beyond their duties to retrieve personal belongings and pets for the fire victims.

I would also like to thank Firefighter Frank Barry and Captain Robert Fortuna for being in constant communication with me. My apology if I missed anyone.

Finally, I would like to thank the the people of Revere, the Beachmont community and everyone else that came together with generous donations and kindness! It was overwhelming to witness the outpouring of people who wanted to help these families.

I am very blessed and honored to be a part of the Revere community.

Arrigo activates Fire Relief Fund to support victims

Donations may be made online or via check through June 13th

Staff report

The Office of Mayor Brian Arrigo has begun collecting donations to the Mayor's Fire Relief Fund to benefit the victims of last week's tragic fire around the area of Endicott Ave in the Beachmont neighborhood. The fire left several families without stable housing, and the loss of pets and property has been devastating for the displaced residents. Losing almost everything, many have relied on the support of their friends, and Mayor Arrigo hopes the community will continue to be generous in helping them land on their feet.

"Our neighbors face the hardship of losing their homes after an incredibly challenging year for Revere's families, and it is my hope that the Fire Relief Fund will allow our community the opportunity to securely offer a hand," said Mayor Brian Arrigo. "Picking up the pieces after tragedies of this caliber is never easy, and the impact of the pandemic makes it that much harder for these families to reach the level of stability they need. I would like to thank the Revere Fire Department and the firefighters of our neighbor municipalities for their tireless efforts to defeat the fire. Our partner community organizations have been the front line of support for these residents, and I am glad to have such supportive infrastructure in our city

Our community has and will continue to support these families as they head towards better times."

Impacted families have received monetary support from Red Cross Massachusetts and will continue to receive support from the City's community partners.

Donations may be made online via PayPal by visiting <https://www.revere.org/mayors-office/relief>. Donations may also be received via a check made out to "City of Revere, Mayor's Office Fire Relief Fund" and mailed to the Mayor's Office or deposited at People's United Bank on Broadway.

Revere Fire's Engine 1 and Ladder 1 were the first on the scene at the fire in the Beachmont neighborhood and found the rear of three-decker at 143 Endicott Ave. heavily involved with fire on all three floors of the rear porches and extending to two buildings on Bellingham Avenue.

Lt. Kevin O'Hara of Engine 1 transmitted the working fire signal and within 30 seconds he ordered the second alarm transmitted. Deputy Fire Chief Tom Tedesco arrived shortly after, and upon seeing the heavy fire conditions, ordered the third alarm to bring additional help to the scene of the now raging-inferno.

Chief Bright ordered the fourth alarm to bring in additional companies to tap hydrants several blocks away to get adequate water supplies to fight the fire that had spread to five buildings. A fifth alarm was transmitted shortly thereafter.

"It was a tough fire," said Chief Bright. "That's a difficult area to get around but we're used to it. It's a very tight street. We were fortunate it was daytime because most people were either not home or they certainly were awake and alerted to the fire. We had reports of some of the residents going to pull the fire alarm to alert the residents. It's a tight-knit neighborhood, so that was not surprising."

Bright said the mild weather conditions helped in the containment of the blaze. "We were lucky that it was a mild day. We didn't have any strong winds coming off the Atlantic Ocean. If we had and that fire had come in the middle of the night, it would have been a different fire. We could have had a conflagration up there. We're very lucky that we eventually got ahead of fire and contained it and got an adequate supply of water and volume pressure to the scene."

Chief Bright said the department is working with MEMA and Mayor Brian Arrigo's Office to assist the fire victims.

(Information and press materials from the State Fire Marshal's Office, Boston Sparks A-10 President Paul Boudreau, who provided a narrative of the fire, and Revere Fire Department reports were used in the compilation of this story. A separate Revere Journal interview of Chief Christopher Bright was also conducted for this story).

Silvestri indicated that memorial pole tributes - during which a square in the city is dedicated to a Revere veteran - will resume during the summer.

"For many, Memorial Day means the beginning of summer, the start of warm weather, and a long weekend. For the Gold Star families and friends of those we've lost in combat, it's a day to remember their fallen heroes," said Marc Silvestri, Director of Revere's Veterans Services Office. "Men like Glenn Swell, Ryan King, and many others like them have left to serve our country and never came home. It's our responsibility to continue to keep the tradition of honoring our fallen on Memorial Day. All game some, some gave all."

U.S. Army Major Deborah Bowker, commander of the Revere High JROTC, will deliver the keynote address. Bowker's appearance in the prestigious speaker's roles coincides with the program's special tribute to females who currently serve or have served in the United States Armed Forces. Silvestri was recently interviewed on CBS Boston TV who sought the local hero's reaction to President Joseph Biden's decision to bring home the U.S. soldiers serving in Afghanistan. Silvestri said he supported Biden's decision.

Residents unable to attend the ceremony in person are welcome to tune in on RevereTV (Comcast channel 8/9 and 1072 HD, RCN channel 3/13 and 613/614HD), Facebook, or Youtube.

around down there," inferring that a party organizer was also acting as a valet for the gathering.

Powers was not pleased with his interaction with the person in charge. "He said to me, 'this is our business - not your business.'"

Powers said he decided "to make it my business" and called Revere Police Department Chief David Callahan. The RPD's response was immediate. "We had two police cars, the police dog, and [Parking Director] Jim Rose was good enough to send down a parking enforcement officer. It was total insanity down there that night," said Powers, describing the scene in the Point of Pines neighborhood that included individuals climbing over a seawall to gain access to the property. "It's totally out of control."

Powers noted in his remarks that Mayor Brian Arrigo has appointed Nick Catinazzo as Director of Short-Term Rental to oversee the Airbnb process as of July 1.

"This needs to be dealt with before July 1," cautioned Powers. "This should not be allowed to continue for one more night. Simply what we're talking about, someone purchased the house and he's running juvenile parties down there in the house on weekends."

As for the Council's original discussion of short-term rental ordinances, members applauded the mayor's appointment of Catinazzo to address the situation across the city.

"We're happy that Mayor Arrigo is going to be appointing Nick Catinazzo to run this department," said Ward 4 Councillor Patrick Keefe. "Ultimately the City has the ability to purchase the software that can manage these accounts. The software is out there. Obviously people are taking advantage of living near the ocean and renting out these properties and we understand that. But we just want to keep some buffers around it and make sure and it [the rental of Airbnb properties] is not being taken advantage of and they're being monitored and they're being inspected by the city."

Councillor-at-Large George Rotondo noted there are currently 300 properties in Revere that are listed on the Airbnb website.

The Council unanimously approved the motion by Councillors Joanne McKenna, Arthur Guinasso, and Patrick Keefe that Mayor Brian Arrigo request City Solicitor Paul Capizzi to amend the short-term rental ordinance to provide for six months of rental days as opposed to the 60 days currently allowed.

A MEMORIAL DAY

TO LOOK BACK AND AHEAD

If Memorial Day of 2020 was unlike any other, Memorial Day of 2021 will represent almost a 180 degree turnabout from the dark days of a year ago. Thanks to the miraculous production of vaccines and plummeting infection and hospitalizations rates, it would appear that the worst of the COVID-19 pandemic is behind us.

However, as joyful as our leap from the oppression of COVID-19 may be, we are saddened and humbled when we realize that almost 600,000 Americans, a total almost equal to the number of our soldiers killed in all of our foreign wars combined, have succumbed to the virus over the past 15 months.

But as Americans prepare to embark on the great reopening this Memorial Day weekend, marking our freedom from the virus, it is appropriate that we honor the brave men and women who gave their lives in our nation's wars so that we might enjoy the freedoms that define the American way of life.

Ever since the official inception of the holiday on May 30, 1868, when the practice of decorating the graves of the fallen Union soldiers with flowers, wreaths, and flags officially became recognized by the order of General Logan at Arlington National Cemetery, Memorial Day (originally known as Decoration Day) has been a time for all Americans to commemorate those who made the Supreme Sacrifice to preserve our freedom.

When Memorial Day was moved to the last Monday of May starting in 1971, the three-day weekend also came to mark the official start of the summer season when we gather for cookouts and other outdoor activities with friends and family.

Amidst the usual festivities of Memorial Day weekend however, we must remember not to take for granted the freedoms that allow us to partake of the American way of life.

Although the worst of the pandemic hopefully is behind us, we still are facing a grave threat to our democracy.

The enemy is not a foreign power or a viral infection. Rather, it is from within.

It is fair to say that Americans are as disunited as we ever have been since the end of the Civil War itself 156 years ago. The triad of seismic events of the past year -- the pandemic, the ensuing economic dislocation, and the endemic racism in our society -- exposed the deep fissures in our country that have been lurking beneath the surface for decades and exploded volcano-like over the past 12 months.

Rather than serving to unite us in a common effort to overcome these challenges, they tore us apart even further, culminating with the shameful effort on the part of some to bring to an end the great American experiment of democracy with the events of January 6.

In searching for appropriate words to capture this moment in which we find ourselves, the Gettysburg address that was delivered by President Abraham Lincoln on the site of the battlefield on November 19, 1863, rings most true, both in terms of honoring those who gave their lives in our nation's wars and for healing the wounds created by the current crises.

We hope our readers take a moment to absorb Lincoln's words and reflect upon the meaning of Memorial Day, both in terms of our past and our future:

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate -- we can not consecrate -- we can not hallow -- this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us -- that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion -- that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain -- that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom -- and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Your house and building financial security

By Dr. Glenn Mollette

As we approach Memorial Day, give thanks for our soldiers who gave and are giving sacrificially for our freedom.

One of the freedoms we enjoy is the freedom to own a house. The greatest asset of most people is the roof over their heads. Your house may be worth more than all of your cash, savings accounts and in some cases retirement funds combined.

If your house is paid for then congratulations to you. You have achieved a beautiful piece of the American dream. When I was 26 years old, I bought a house on a land contract. The house cost $80,000. Interest rates were 17% back then and a man sold it to me for no money down and 10% interest rate. The rate then was good and it was good for him. He was using the sale to fund his retirement for 20 years at about $800 per month. It was great for me because I didn't have a nickel to put down on the house. If you can buy a house this way then more power to you and the seller. Talk to an attorney and make sure the title is clear and the contract is solid before you enter into the agreement. A couple of years later I moved and sold the house and cleared $10,000. It worked out okay for me. The man got his balance owed plus interest.

You may not find a land contract deal and will have to go through a bank or other lender. The idea of entering into a 15, 20- or 30-year loan agreement is overwhelming. If you can handle a 15-year loan you will save tens of thousands of dollars. When you purchase a house on a 30-year loan the cost of the house depending on interest rates will almost double.

When you pay a few years on your house you develop equity. You could borrow against the house in case of an emergency. Once you have paid for your house it's yours and you have a place to live. In your golden years if you decide you don't want the hassle of taking care of property you can sell it and utilize the cash to rent or buy something more economical. However, carefully assess if you really want to give up your space and be subjected to a land lord or rental association. You'll always be more independent in your own place if you can maintain what you have.

There are tax benefits to buying and owning property that you won't get when renting.

You will also come out better financially if you are planning on living at least five years in your house.

A man or woman's house is his or her castle. Invest in a place to live if and when you can and give thanks for a country where we have the freedom to build financial security.

LETTER to the Editor

ON ANTI-SEMITISM

Dear Editor:

Antisemitism is in our midst. From May 1948 when Israel became a Nation, forces have tried to destroy her economically, and politically. Events reported by the media are misleading, discrediting Israel and supporting Palestinians. No one acknowledges that if Hamas's terrorists did not instigate attacks, Israel wouldn't need to defend herself!

Over the years, Israel has sought peace, invested resources in the Gaza Strip, building homes, power grids, green houses, even shelters to help the Palestinian people. Hamas destroyed these leaving the people dependent, unsheltered, and desperate. President Biden lifted sanctions on Iran, a chief supporter of Hamas, thus allowing Hamas to gain weaponry. And money we send to the Palestinian Authority to use for the Palestinian people is re-directed to purchase weapons and rockets to attack Israel!

Over the years of endless attacks, Israel wisely built bomb shelters and a defense system to protect her people! Thus, when fighting occurs, it appears that Palestinian people suffer more than the Israeli people. This is the result Hamas wants, to gain sympathy, while they are the very culprits who put their own people in harm's way using them as shields!

God made a covenant with Israel. Any Nation that blesses Israel, God will bless. But the Nation that tries to weaken or destroy her, God will punish!

Israel has a right to defend herself.

Shame on those reporters and congressional representatives who inflame antisemitic attitudes by constantly blaming Israel. Our government must strongly support Israel!

EBNHC President and CEO Manny Lopes takes part in panel discussion

By John Lynds

To commemorate Boston Magazine's 100 Most Influential People issue, the magazine hosted an influencer panel discussion on how to overcome the challenges facing Boston and other communities post pandemic and beyond.

East Boston Neighborhood Health Center (EBNHC) President and CEO Manny Lopes was one of several panelists that took part in Monday's discussion. Others included Reverend Liz Walker, Pastor of Roxbury Presbyterian Church; Betty Francisco, General Counsel for Compass Working Capital; and Karen Chen, Executive Director of Chinese Progressive Action.

Moderated by Kennedy Eley of Mix 104.1, Lopes was asked what some of the challenges EBNHC faced as well as the successes of the health center's vaccine rollout.

"We (EBNHC) have done over 80,000 doses of COVID vaccine as of today and that is pretty incredible," said Lopes Monday. "The team has worked extremely hard to make sure that on day one and week one we had (vaccine) sites open in some of the hardest hit communities in the state. In East Boston, Chelsea, the South End and through our partnership in Everett and Revere we were really ready to get the vaccine out to people who needed it the most."

Lopes said some of the challenges up front were getting all EBNHC staff vaccinated as quickly as possible.

"We knew that our employees were our most important resources and without them we couldn't do this work," said Lopes. "So when Moderna became available, we were the first in the country to give our employees a shot and we quickly rolled that out to the rest of the communities we serve. It was important to do this because we learn a lot from our staff. Sixty percent of our staff come from the communities we serve so they really informed us in terms of how we can get our message out or what questions residents have. But we knew we had to build capacity because we had many people who were ready to rush through the door. So we built this capacity to handle the volume and we had to really come at this rollout with a sledgehammer."

However, Lopes added that EBNHC staff knew in the communities they serve there is a level of mistrust of the healthcare system and many people had a lot of questions about the vaccine. "So, in addition to opening up these sites we also launched our education and outreach campaign to make sure that we were getting messages out early and often about how well the vaccine works, answering questions around the issues and concerns that people may have," said Lopes. "So once we got through the 'vaccine yeses' (those who wanted the vaccine) which was quite a bit of a challenge we really began to focus on the 'maybes' in the neighborhoods. The 'maybes' are the ones who won't go to the vaccine website, won't stay on the phone for 30 minutes waiting for someone to answer and you have to go to them. That's what we've been doing through our local vaccination sites that are well positioned."

Lopes said through partnerships and mobile vaccine vehicles EBNHC was able to go to the heart of hard hit communities and get more and more people vaccinated.

EBNHC President and CEO Manny Lopes took part in a panel discussion hosted by Boston Magazine.

"We made sure that vaccination sites were easily accessible," said Lopes. "We launched, along with some of our partners, mobile pop up sites where we can go into the heart of these areas. We can go to large employers and get as many people vaccinated as possible."

Lopes said the most recent challenge EBNHC is facing is the 'hard no'.

"Today we're dealing with the 'hard noes', which we've been dealing with since the beginning of the rollout," said Lopes. "These are individuals that need really personal attention and our strategy there is to do the vaccines in our exam rooms. Since we are the largest provider of healthcare in our service area we have high penetration rates in these communities. We felt that this is a great opportunity for us to put the vaccine in the exam rooms and hopefully give individuals an opportunity to ask some of those private questions, meet with their primary care team, and hopefully get the vaccine."

Come fall and beyond Lopes said there will be a lot of discussion and learning over the COVID 'booster' vaccine. This is the one shot booster vaccinated people will receive about six months after completing their first round of vaccination shots.

"There's a lot for us to learn around boosters and we're waiting for the CDC guidance around that once it becomes available," said Lopes. "But from our perspective we were doing 100,000 pre pandemic flu shots a year. So we're going to treat the booster like any other vaccine and hope that people every year, if it is necessary, come in and get their flu shot and get that COVID-19 booster shot as well."

LAST MILE VACCINE DELIVERY TO VACCINATE RESIDENTS OF ALTERRA AT OVERLOOK RIDGE

Last Mile Vaccine Delivery, an innovative mobile vaccination service formed by Mascon Medical, the Professional Fire Fighters of Massachusetts (PFFM) and Brewster Ambulance Service, will administer Pfizer and Johnson & Johnson vaccines to the residents of Alterra at 11 Overlook Ridge in Revere on Wednesday, May 26 and Thursday, May 27 from 4 to 9 p.m.

Working in coordination with the Commonwealth's Department of Public Health, as well as the Massachusetts Housing Authority, East Boston Neighborhood Health Center, Get Out The Vaccine (GOTVax) and the cities of Revere, Quincy, Chelsea and Leominster, Last Mile Vaccine Delivery continues to answer the call from the Commonwealth to augment COVID-19 vaccinations among the state's most-vulnerable communities. The group is committed to supporting efforts to address vaccine access, equity, and hesitancy.

Woburn's Mascon Medical joined forces with Brewster Ambulance and PFFM in January to launch the Last Mile Vaccine Delivery service. Following inaugural events in Chelsea and Quincy, the service has grown to host more vaccination clinics in underserved communities and communities of color, effectively responding to requests for operational and logistical support by municipalities, government agencies and other non-profits. Last Mile Vaccine Delivery has also administered COVID-19 vaccines at home through mobile vaccination units. The goal of the service is to address transportation and accessibility challenges in those local urban communities most affected by the COVID-19 pandemic. As a minority-owned business, Mascon Medical is sensitive to the needs of the Commonwealth's most vulnerable residents and created Last Mile Vaccine Delivery to help resolve equity issues with COVID-19 vaccine distribution and answer the call of Governor Charlie Baker to accelerate COVID-19 vaccine distribution in Massachusetts. # Ward 4 Councillor Keefe holds campaign kickoff event

By Cary Shuman

Ward 4 Councillor Patrick Keefe held a "Sip and Sign" campaign event Saturday at Luberto's Bakery on Broadway.

Keefe, who is running for re-election to a fourth term, asked his many supporters in attendance to, "sip some coffee and sign the nomination paperwork."

Guests also enjoyed delicious Luberto's pastries at the event that was moved outside to accommodate the crowd under social distancing protocols.

Keefe has been a highly productive city official since winning his first election for the seat in 2015. He served as Council President in 2020 in between the two co-deans of the Council, past President Arthur Guinasso (2019) and current President Anthony Zambuto (2021).

Keefe's extraordinary leadership as Pop Warner president is credited with helping revitalize the organization whose graduating football players and cheerleaders have continued their success at Revere High School. This season, he served as RHS football play-by-play announcer on Revere TV alongside his friend, Donald Boudreau, who is the father of star quarterback Calvin Boudreau.

Council offers strong support for outdoor seating at Broadway restaurant

By Cary Shuman

Louis Rubino, owner of the new Broadway restaurant, The Cutting Board, wants to add an outdoor space for up to 16 guests at his restaurant located at 744 Broadway.

And based on two councillors' supportive comments at a public hearing Monday night, it appears that visitors to the popular new restaurant will have that option soon.

"My plan is to put four tables of four people each outside in our paved patio," said Rubino. "There is ample space for all the people and all the tables out there. There are multiple exits and entrances to that patio and we think it would be a great addition to the restaurant, especially in these times when people really like to eat outside."

Rubino said the overall seating capacity at The Cutting Board would increase to 34 guests.

Guinasso said the restaurant is located within his ward. "And I'm very familiar with the Rubino family. They are well versed people in the community. They know what the rules and regulations are in business and they want to be a good neighbor to everybody," said Guinasso.

The councillor said letters were sent to 27 abutters of the restaurant and he did not receive a single call in opposition to the proposal.

"I'm very pleased to say that I think it's a great idea," said Guinasso. "Outdoor eating is now the way of the future. People appreciate the fact that they can eat outdoors. I think he has nothing to do with the sidewalk. He's got it on his own private property. As Mr. [Ralph] DeCicco stated, of course he has to go by the ADA rules and regulations, and I'm sure that Mr. Rubino will do that. And I just look forward to him serving nice meals to the community and it's a very centrally located business. I'm very pleased to see they have taken up shop there and they're going to provide to our community good Italian food. Whatever food they put on the table, it will be delicious, so I will be voting favorably for this particular application," concluded

Guinasso. Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino offered his support for the outdoor seating plan. "I could have sworn the previous tenant had outdoor seating and there was a patio, so I really don't think anything is changing," said Serino.

City Council President Anthony Zambuto referred Rubino's application to the Zoning Subcommittee.

Safety guidelines issued to parishes of the Boston Archdiocese

Staff report

Given the new State of Massachusetts protocols that go into place on May 29, the following guidance is issued for the parishes of the Archdiocese of Boston.

General guidelines

As of May 29, vaccinated people are no longer required to wear masks or socially distance in our parishes.

This statement applies to worship and other parish activities, but not to schools and not to the office space. Further guidelines will be issued for those two areas.

Parishes and pastors will not be policing the population. Every parishioner and every family will be expected to make a sound, reasonable decision about when they are ready to take off their masks and be near other people. No pastor and no parish will be expected to ask people whether or not they have been vaccinated.

The pastor has a high degree of discretion in the implementation of all of these changes. Some pastors may make changes quickly, and others may make them slowly. Pastors are encouraged to engage parish leadership in a conversation about how best to make the changes in their respective parishes.

There is no longer a distinct set of protocols for parishes in red zones.

Regarding communication

All parishes must publish something like the following statement: "As of May 29, masks are no longer required for vaccinated people in the State of Massachusetts. The State does advise that non-vaccinated people continue to wear masks." The statement should be published in bulletins and on web sites, and announced at Mass.

All parishes should strongly consider communicating the following points clearly to their parishioners:

The dispensation from the obligation for coming to Sunday Mass has not yet been lifted, and even when it is, if a parishioner is feeling ill they should remain at home.

It is understood that different people will be ready to take off their masks and sit near one another at different times.

Parishes should communicate that they are prepared to accommodate those who are ready to take off their masks and sit near others, and those who are not.

Some people who are comfortable dropping social distancing may not yet be comfortable taking off their masks. It should be communicated to people that they are free to continue to wear masks as long as they like, and that they will be respected if they choose to do so.

When a parish becomes aware that a COVID positive person has attended Mass, there should be some kind of general announcement at least on the parish's website. Parishioners should be advised to keep an eye on the website, as that will be where such an announcement will be made.

Regarding the setup of churches

Parishes should continue to make provisions for people who are not vaccinated and/or who are not yet ready come to sit near other people.

Perhaps this can be done by offering or continuing to offer outdoor Masses.

Perhaps this can be done by offering Masses at particular times for those who want to maintain social distancing.

Perhaps this can be done by cordoning off portions of the church, in a respectful way, for socially distanced seating. If this is the option chosen, every pew can be used in the non-distanced section of the church, and markings adjusted accordingly. Respectful signs in the church should make clear how different sections of the church are being used.

It is no longer necessary to regularly disinfect surfaces. Some pastors may decide to continue to do so for a time, but it is not required.

Missalettes and hymnals may be used, and kept in the pews. Parishes may want to engage in significant conversation about whether and how they want to do this. The Office of Worship will make some recommendations and resources available on their website.

Regarding the celebration of the Mass

Pastors should strongly consider continuing to stream their Masses.

Registration for Masses is no longer required, although pastors may desire it to continue for a period while they adjust the seating in their churches.

Congregational singing is allowed, as are choirs. Pastors may use their discretion with regard to masks for their choirs.

Deacons can play their full liturgical roles: reading the gospel, preaching when appropriate, preparing the altar, the elevation of the chalice, and assisting in the distribution of Holy Communion.

Altar servers may be used.

In scheduling children as altar servers, a pastor may want to schedule members of the same family for a given Mass.

It should be clearly communicated to parents that children may wear masks while altar serving.

It is likely that a retraining of altar servers, both children and adults, will be necessary.

Liturgical ministers, such as Lectors and Extraordinary Ministers of the Eucharist can be used.

A retraining of these volunteers may be necessary.

Parishes may wish to use this as an opportunity to reach out to new volunteers to fill these roles.

A collection may be taken up by using a basket, preferably with a pole, since some people may still feel uncomfortable touching a basket that many other people have just touched, and may feel that they have no option if the basket is handed to them. This reluctance may end up hurting the parish offertory.

Pastors are encouraged to slow play a return to a shaking of hands at the Sign of Peace. It may well be that not everyone is ready for that, even if they are unmasked and sitting near one another. Other forms for the Sign of Peace could be used.

The deacon should be allowed to receive the Precious Blood, but the pastor may exercise his discretion in the matter of the deacon using a separate chalice, or intinction, or sharing the celebrant's chalice. Consideration should be given to the health and vaccination status of both priest and deacon in that decision.

Priests, deacons, and Extraordinary Ministers of the Eucharist should still disinfect their hands before distributing Holy Communion.

Priests, deacons, and Extraordinary Ministers of the Eucharist are strongly encouraged to continue to wear masks during the distribution of Holy Communion.

The bottle of hand sanitizer should be kept close at hand in case someone receives communion on the tongue. Pastors may exercise their discretion in this matter.

Communion under both species is still not allowed at this time. A clear communication will go out to parishes when this practice may resume.

Regarding Pastoral Care

Communion calls may resume normally, though it may be necessary or wise to retrain the ministers of Holy Communion in how to be effective and respectful of people's concerns in this ministry.

Nursing home visits and Masses may resume, although it remains necessary to be completely respectful of the protocols of the facility being visited, or hosting the Mass.

Services in funeral homes, conducted by priests, deacons, and pastoral associates may resume, at the discretion of the pastor.

The use of confessionals may resume.

Final Points

There are many heroes among our volunteers that have kept our parishes going during these difficult times. They should be acknowledged and thanked, collectively and personally.

This document is not intended to be comprehensive. There will be many questions that arise, that will be addressed in the coming weeks.

There will be a webinar for parishes and staff on Wednesday, May 26 to discuss these questions.

RESIDENTS AND FRIENDS OF THE JACK SATTER HOUSE ON REVERE BEACH PROTEST THE DCR'S PARKING METERS

Last Saturday morning many residents of the Jack Satter House were joined by family and friends to publicly protest the recent DCR meter and parking enforcement along America's First Public Beach, and their home for many years, Revere Beach.

Most understand the decision, although unpopular in Revere, the addition of parking meters along the beach. The complaint is that there are no accommodations for family and friends that visit either for the day or even on an overnight visitation without a fee payable, not to City of Revere, but to the DCR. This fee they find very resident unfriendly and needed to speak out about it. Many feel their elected officials have let them down, even though the City of Revere has gained some concessions from the DCR for resident parking in chosen zones, Satter House residents feel left out. It would seem that these life-long Revere residents, who support so many Revere policies and events, should be able to see their children and grandchildren as often as possible in their senior years, without having to pay for their visit to the DCR.

Ward 5 City Councillor John Powers (3d from left) stopped by to listen to resident complaints about DCR parking fees and why the City of Revere has not stepped in to help them on this matter with the DCR. Many residents feel, elected officials both state and city knew this was coming and did nothing to address it or involve residents in a discussion for a plan to halt it. ### RHS SPORTS Roundup

A VICTORY FOR THE AGES FOR RHS SOFTBALL

For long-suffering Boston Red Sox fans (pre-2004), the memory of Game 6 of the 1986 World Series, when the Sox blew a two-run lead in the bottom of the 10th inning to the New York Mets (who had two-outs and nobody on), will forever remain painfully etched in our minds.

But for the Revere High girls softball team, the improbability of a walk-off victory in the bottom of the seventh inning under similar circumstances will be a source of joy that none of the Lady Patriots will forget for the rest of their lives after the team's dramatic and exciting 5-4 triumph over Everett in the 2021 season-opener this past Monday at the Ardagna Softball Field at Griswold Park.

"It was a great game and a great win," said RHS head coach Joe Ciccarello. "We have 10 seniors on our team, so for them this was an amazing way to start the 2021 season after missing out entirely of their 2020 season."

Revere had grabbed a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first on an inside-the-park home run by speedy Adrianna Fusco, who hit a deep fly over the head of the Everett right fielder and then flew around the bases as the ball rolled to the fence.

However, Everett struck back for four runs in the third, thanks primarily to some Revere fielding miscues. That would be the extent of the Everett offense for the day against Fusco, who tossed all seven innings, allowing only one earned run and fanning 10 enemy batters.

The Lady Patriots chipped away with solo tallies in the fifth and sixth to slice the deficit to 4-3, but when Revere was down to its last out in the bottom of the seventh, the prospects of an opening-day win seemed bleak.

But Fusco was the batter -- and Adrianna gave the good-sized Revere fandom in attendance a flicker of hope when she came through with a base hit. The fleet Fusco then promptly stole second to move into scoring position.

RHS clean-up hitter Alexis Iacoviello took her turn to wear the hero's cape when she delivered her fellow senior across the plate with a base hit, tying the score at 4-4.

That brought up Gianna Uminski, who took her star turn in the spotlight with another base hit to move Iacoviello into scoring position.

Adrianna Keefe stepped up next and roped a line drive down the third base

Middle School placement lottery to take place Thursday evening

By John Lynds

At last week's Revere School Committee meeting Revere Public School (RPS) Assistant Superintendent Dr. Danielle Mokaba announced that Revere will hold its annual Middle School placement lottery on Thursday, May 27 at 5 p.m. The lottery will be broadcast live from the School Committee Room on Channel 22 and the School Committee's Youtube Channel.

As many Revere parents know RPS holds an annual lottery system for its three middle schools because the city's six elementary schools feed into the three middle schools so the lottery is necessary to ensure school choice transparency.

"There are eight lotteries this year and they'll be done in the order of the largest school first," said Mokaba. "So the Whelan School will go first, then Garfield, the Hill, the Paul Revere, the Lincoln, and then Beachmont. So for the Whelan School, there will be a lottery for Susan B. Anthony (SBA) only. Historically, Whelan has had two lotteries--one for Rumney Marsh Academy (RMA) and one for SBA because a significant number of students did select SBA as their choice."

The Middle School Lottery emerged some years ago after Revere built two new middle schools, starting with the SBA over a decade ago followed by the RMA. Those two new middle schools joined the existing Garfield Middle School while the former Beachmont Middle School was discontinued.

When the new schools were built many parents wanted their kids to go to the newer schools, or wanted them to be closer to their homes on the west side of the city. Previously, both middle schools were on the east side of Revere.

The result was that scores of children annually oversubscribed to the two new middle schools - the SBA and RMA - while Garfield Middle had excess seats. That required a lottery process to fill seats at Garfield and give students a random shot at attending their first choice for middle school.

line to seal the deal, as Iacoviello easily made it home with the game-winning run.

"I was really proud of our team, especially our pitcher, Adrianna Fusco, who shook off that tough third inning and shut out Everett the rest of the way," said Ciccarello.

The Lady Patriots' pandemic-shortened 2021 season will feature three games for the next three weeks on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays against their seven fellow Greater Boston League schools. Two of their nine contests will be exclusionary games for purposes of determining the league champ.

Ciccarello and his crew will host Somerville today (Wednesday) at 4:00 and entertain Lynn Classical on Friday at 5:30. They will play at Medford on the holiday on Monday.

SPRING SPORTS SWING INTO GEAR

Barely a week after the end of the Fall II sports season, Revere High athletes kicked off their spring sports season this week.

All of the RHS squads will face their Greater Boston League rivals in the coming three weeks in a pandemic-shortened spring campaign.

The baseball and softball teams held their opening day this past Monday, with both enjoying victories -- 8-1 for coach Michael Manning's baseball squad and 5-4 for coach Joe Ciccarello and his softball crew -- over Everett.

The RHS tennis teams, directed by veteran coaches Carla Maniscalco for the girls and Mike Flynn for the boys, were scheduled to meet Everett tomorrow (Thursday).

The boys and girls track teams, led by Sam Ros and Racquel MacDonald respectively, open their seasons today (Wednesdays) and will compete against their GBL rivals on the ensuing Wednesdays.

The Revere High girls and boys lacrosse teams, coached by Karen Atkinson and Zac McDannell, also get underway this week.

Sean Stellato a noted NFL Player Agent, Author, motivational speaker addressed the St. Mary's of Lynn Graduating Class of 2021 last Friday during senior week as the guest lecturer.

Stellato brought the NE Patriots Super Bowl Trophy with him for the students to take selfies. He spoke on how the future is in no one else's hands but your own. You need to have a plan and stick to it, Stellato repeated over and over again. Nothing can match your desire to obtain success, and hard work, following a plan and never take no for an answer. Easier said than done, but it is possible to obtain anything within your reach if you want it bad enough and are willing to sacrifice to get it.

NEWS FROM AROUND THE REGION

ELECTRIC VEHICLE COMPANY POISED TO OPEN IN CHELSEA

CHELSEA - A California company has purchased a property at 25 Griffin Way for the purpose of repairing and preparing Electric Vehicles (EV) for customers in the Boston area, said a spokeswoman for Rivian EVs that appeared at the City Council.

Angie Krauss, of San Francisco, told the Council Rivian makes electric adventure vehicles and currently has three vehicles on the market, including an RPV, a pick-up truck and an SUV. Their mission is to promote healthy living and sustainability through exploring the world responsibly.

The company wishes to locate a service location and delivery prep location for Rivian customer, and is looking to inhabit about 27,000 sq. ft. of space on 25 Griffin Way.

"These are not hybrid vehicles," she said. "This is all-electric so there are no combustion engines. The services provided at the location would be windshield wiper repair, windshields, door handles, taillight repair and other services, but not painting."

She said there would also be space for pre-delivery quality control inspection prior to new vehicle delivery to customers.

The building owner, Mila Farahani, rose in support of the measure, and WECO Group, which makes electric motors at the location, requested that the Council look at changing the zoning ordinance to allow the activity there. Those changes would define the use of EV prep and repair in the zoning code and also insert it as allowed by Special Permit only in the Industrial District.

This would be Rivian's first location on the East Coast, with the closest location to Chelsea now being in Normal, IL.

According to the website, Rivian is "a network of offices, test labs, experience centers, service centers, charging stations and manufacturing sites, all interconnected by thousands of employees. Our 2028 net-zero commitment requires us to fully understand the carbon intensity of our suppliers and service providers as well as our own operations. This accurate carbon accounting is being used to drive our decisions and actions - from working on more sustainable raw material supply to aggressively managing our waste generation. Achieving carbon neutrality requires us to examine every aspect of our business."

The company indicated it would have its first full year of manufacturing in 2022.

"The scale of the challenge is enormous, but we're lucky to be a part of this - to be able to help solve how we shift our planet's energy and transportation systems entirely away from fossil fuel," said Rivian Founder and CEO RJ Scaringe on the company website.

The Council moved the matter to a Committee on Conference.

EMINENT DOMAIN TAKING FOR AFFORDABLE HOUSING

City Manager Tom Ambrosino said after a legal analysis, the City believes that taking property at several locations in Chelsea for the creation of affordable housing would be appropriate.

"Based upon a legal analysis of taking property by eminent domain for affordable housing development, the City believes it would be an appropriate purpose for a public taking," he wrote in a letter.

Council President Roy Avellaneda proposed the idea last month at a Council meeting, saying despite great efforts, he still didn't think enough was being done for affordable housing. He proposed to take underutilized private property by Eminent Domain in order for the City's new Affordable Housing Trust Fund effort to make new housing.

Ambrosino said he would support starting the effort by bringing in an official appraiser to get a good fair market value of the properties for taking, and a consultant to advise the Council on whether the costs would allow for such development of affordable housing.

He proposed a $75,000 expenditure from Free Cash and also indicated he would be ready to put out an RFP for the appraiser and consultant.

However, he did advise against taking property on Shawmut Avenue, as it's already owned by affordable housing developer TND, and he said a property on Congress is owned by an entity that intends to develop 22 Willow St. in the near future.

DEFENDING THE NEW DIE DIRECTOR

On Monday night, Chelsea Black Community President Joan Cromwell appeared before the Council to defend the decision of the forthcoming Diversity, Inclusion and Equity Director's choice to live in Revere Beach, and not Chelsea.

The new director, who starts in July, was roundly criticized by several councillors earlier this month when City Manager Tom Ambrosino notified the body of a residency waiver he granted the director to allow her to live outside of Chelsea.

Cromwell, who served on the hiring committee, said the criticism wasn't fair.

"I felt like I needed to comment on questioning her commitment to our community because she moved 10 to 15 minutes up the street," she said. "She didn't move to Nahant or Newburyport or New Hampshire, but Revere. It's a City we have a Memorandum of Understanding with and one that faces similar, if not worse, equity disparities as Chelsea. How is she going to be removed from our community when she is across the street?"

She said she is glad the Council did not have the ability to reject the waiver.

"I am so glad this was not your waiver to reject because if it were, you would have to scrutinize where more than half of this municipality lives, starting with Human Resources, Treasury, City Clerk, 9-1-1, Police, Fire, ISD, and DPW...Chelsea was not a requirement in the job description and I believe we got the best person for the job. Let her do her job and don't attack her integrity...before the woman even gets here. Let's face it, One North and Admiral's Hill are not the day-to-day Chelsea either."

CANDIDATES PULL NOMINATION PAPERS

EVERETT - All three candidates for mayor have pulled Nomination Papers - as Papers officially became available on Monday morning - and some surprises have already emerged, such as Councilor Michael McLaughlin announcing he won't run for re-election to the Ward 6 seat and is currently keeping his options open.

Other immediate surprises - as of Tuesday at noon - were School Committeeman Allen Panarese filing for Councilor at-Large; At-Large Councilor Wayne Matewsky filing for Ward 1 Councilor; Council Clerk Mike Mangan filing for Ward 4 School Committee; and Bernie D'Onofrio re-entering public life in running for Ward 6 School Committee.

"Monday was a very busy day," said City Clerk Sergio Cornelio. "It was a steady flow all day of candidates and incumbents coming in to get their Papers. I'd rather have them in and get their Papers if they are running so we have time to go through the certification process."

One key change is the emergence of ward-only voting for Council Ward seats and School Committee ward seats. No longer will a ward councilor or School Committee member have to run citywide. That Charter Change was signed into law by Lt. Gov. Karyn Polito at 11:47 a.m. on Saturday, thus changing the course of this election in a big way.

The biggest race, of course, has been solidified with the three candidates for mayor pulling Nomination Papers on Monday afternoon.

After pulling papers, each mayoral candidate issued a statement about their campaign, which are listed below in alphabetical order by last name.

Said Councilor Gery Adrien, "On Monday morning, I was the first mayoral candidate to pick up my Nomination Papers at Everett City Hall. For the past few months, I have been out in our neighborhoods, knocking on doors and talking to residents everyday about our campaign's bold vision for a better Everett. I am looking forward to continuing to engage with our neighbors throughout the next few weeks to gather signatures, so we can get on the ballot and continue to fight for the changes our residents deserve."

Said Councilor Fred Capone, "My family and I are prepared for a busy summer of campaigning. We have already started door knocking and are overwhelmed by the support. This campaign is not about me; it's about the residents of Everett. We are running so that every voice gets heard and every opinion matters. I'm excited about speaking with our residents and working to earn their support in September."

Said Mayor DeMaria, "I have officially pulled papers and will be seeking re-election as Mayor of the City of Everett. When I became Mayor, I made a promise to continue to better our community. I am not finished, my job is not done. I look forward to knocking on each and every door to make sure my message and goals for our city are clear. As always, on behalf of my family

PREPARATION FOR MEMORIAL DAY

City workers and community volunteers fanned out on Monday and Tuesday across Glenwood Cemetery to mark each veteran buried there with an American Flag in preparation for Memorial Day Exercises. The City said it would hold traditional exercises at 10 a.m. on May 31. Right, even some children got into the act of placing flags on the graves of veterans.

and I, we appreciate the continuous love and support. #EverettforEveryone."

Mayoral candidates have to get 500 signatures, and a long-standing requirement already in place is that at least 25 signatures have to come from each ward. Once those signatures are certified, it guarantees a place on the ballot. If all three qualify for the ballot, that would trigger a Mayoral Preliminary Election in September.

One of the bigger surprises Monday was someone that didn't show up on the Nomination Paper list, and that is Councilor McLaughlin.

In a statement on Monday morning, he said he would not be seeking re-election to the Ward 6 seat - which led to it becoming another open seat on the Council. He said it wasn't the end of his political road, and he will be running for another office.

"As nomination papers are now available, I am in the process of still considering how I can be most beneficial to the entire Everett community," he said. "While I plan to continue serving as an elected official in some capacity, I'm still talking to family, friends and constituents regarding their needs in hopes to make the best informed decision as to where I can best serve my hometown. I look forward to the coming weeks and months and discussing how I can help continue moving Everett forward for all that call Everett home."

In Ward 6's new open seat, Candidate Al Lattanzi has pulled papers to run for the seat - after having lost to McLaughlin last time around. He will likely face Ross Pietrantonio of Alfred Street.

McLaughlin has already lent his support to Lattanzi this week.

In Ward 1, long-time at-Large Councilor Wayne Matewsky - who is recovering from a medical emergency earlier this year - has pulled papers to succeed mayoral candidate Fred Capone. A long-time resident of Lewis Street, Matewsky was rumored for a while to be interested in the Ward 1 seat if Capone ran for mayor.

The five at-large seats on the Council are fairly open with Matewsky departing and Adrien running for mayor. Incumbents Michael Marchese and Rich Dell Isola have pulled Papers, but Council Dean John Hanlon has not pulled his Paper yet. A major surprise in the race is long-time School Committeeman Allen Panarese making the jump to run for at-Large Council. Two years ago, he was rumored to be interested, but didn't make the call. This time around, he's in.

Those who have also pulled Papers for a potential run for the seat include Angelmarie DiNunzio, James Mastrocola, Stephanie Smith, James LaVecchio, and Kenny Gianneli.

In Ward 2 City Council, incumbent Stephanie Martins has decided to stay put in the Ward seat, but she'll face long-time political veteran Jason Marcus of Dartmouth Street. It will be an interesting race in particular now that ward-only voting is in place.

In Ward 4 Council, incumbent Jimmy Tri Le could face James Mastrocola, who also pulled papers for the at-Large race. Le won with no competition two years ago when long-time former Councilor Leo McKinnon decided not to run just before the cutoff date.

Unopposed so far are Ward 3 Councilor Anthony DiPierro and Ward 5 Councilor Rosa DiFlorio.

In the School Committee, there is no shortage of drama as well, which has not historically been the case in Everett. One of the most interesting races so far is in Ward 1, where Joanne Parris, Millie Cardello and Margaret Cornelio have all pulled papers. Parris is a long-time resident who has been very active in the community for a number of years, while Cornelio is a former School Department employee who is also the mother of Clerk Sergio Cornelio. Cardello is currently an at-Large member, and also pulled papers for that office too. It is the same situation for Cornelio, who has also pulled papers for at-Large.

In Ward 4, incumbent Dana Murray has pulled Papers, but quickly had some competition from Council Clerk (and former councilor) Mike Mangan, of Walnut Street. Murray won election in a surprise two years ago, but emerged as a leader on the Committee as she is an educator in East Boston and has a firm grip on the issues. Mangan, however, has quite a political following in Everett and was involved for years in youth activities.

Ward 6 is interesting in that former School Committee Chair Bernie D'Onofrio has pulled Papers to run once again for a seat. Two years ago, in a challenge by former Candidate David Lindsey, D'Onofrio's signatures were determined to be invalid, and he did not qualify for the ballot. Now, he's back, and incumbent Tom Abruzzese has yet to pull Papers, but is expected to do so.

In Ward 2, with Panarese out, an open seat exists and so far Jason Marcus is the only candidate. Marcus has also pulled Papers for Ward 2 Council. It will be interesting to see which directions he veers towards.

In the at-Large race, incumbent Cynthia Sarnie has pulled Papers again, and Cardello and Cornelio - as mentioned above - have pulled papers for at-Large and Ward 1.

Ward 3 School Committeeman Frank Parker and Ward 5 School Committeeman Marcony Almeida Barros have no one against them at this point.

BPDA APPROVES DEVELOPMENT

EAST BOSTON - At its May board meeting the Boston Planning and Development Agency voted to approve a 29-unit residential development on Curtis Street.

Owners and developers of 7-11 Curtis St., Seth Williams and Jim Grossman plan to demolish the existing structure that currently houses Eastern Flooring, combine four separate parcels and erect two buildings--one on Curtis Street with 21 units and a second one on Saratoga Street with 8 units.

Williams and Grossman want to create a mix of condo/rental units. The building with 21 units will include 17 parking spots while the building with only 8 units on Saratoga Street will have no parking spots. The developers also plan to contribute $30,000 to the Mclean Playground rehab project.

Four of the 29 residential units will be income restricted under the BPDA inclusionary policy. The units will be a mix of studio, one bedroom, two

Ice cream shop proposal will go to Zoning Committee

By Cary Shuman

The City Council discussed a plan by Malden resident Rod Rivera to open an ice cream and smoothie shop at 54 Yeamans St. in Revere before sending the matter to the Council's Zoning Subcommittee.

Rivera, the construction supervisor and designer of the proposed business, told the Council that the business owner would like to open a stand with ice cream, milk shakes, and slush on the list of available items.

"It's not something that's going to create a large amount of crowds, since it's a small place where the design is to keep the equipment inside and just be able to have the customers from a slide-in window," said Rivera. "The customers will not be able to come into the facility itself."

When Council President Anthony Zambuto asked if there were any proponents or opponents of the ice cream shop, City Clerk Ashley Melnik said there had been one letter of opposition received from a neighbor at 6 Vane St. Melnik read the letter aloud from the neighbor.

The neighbor, through an attorney, wrote that she opposed the proposed zoning change for the location.

"The property in question is directly across the street from 6 Vane St. and parking is extremely limited on both Yeamans Street and Vane Street in that area," wrote the neighbor. "In addition an ice cream shop's hours would most likely extend to the evening hours, creating a lot of foot and car traffic during the normally quiet evening time. Trash would also be a concern as well. "In closing, this ice cream shop belongs in a business district, not in a residential district," concluded the neighbor.

Ward 4 Councillor Patrick Keefe said there were residents in the neighborhood that expressed to him their opposition to the ice cream shop, citing traffic and parking concerns. "I would have a tough time supporting this," said Keefe.

Councillor-at-Large George Rotondo said the proposed location once housed a candy store while "parking [for customers] would be over by the old McKinley School."

"But I'm going to support the ward councillor [Keefe] on this one," said Rotondo. "But I do want to let you know historically that used to be candy store."

Following the discussion, Zambuto referred the matter to the Zoning Subcommittee.

State Taxpayers Foundation releases landmark analysis on racial divide

Staff Report

The Massachusetts Taxpayers Foundation (MTF), the state's premier public policy organization dealing with state and local fiscal, tax, and economic policies, last week released a major new report, "Closing the Racial Divide in the U.S. and Massachusetts: A Baseline Analysis."

Marking the foundation's first exploration of racial disparities in the Commonwealth, the 29-page report statistically documents inequities in wealth, income and employment, education, criminal justice, health care, as well as the potential economic and fiscal gains that could be realized by closing the racial gap. The report is intended to become a baseline framework, expanded and strengthened over time, for evaluating the impact of efforts to address racial inequities moving forward.

MTF President Eileen McAnneny said, "The Foundation has always been committed to fiscal stability, economic growth, and opportunity for all, and this new report represents our effort to ensure we are adding a racial-equity lens to our research on policy impacts. This report does not assign blame—it gathers facts, puts them in context, and makes clear the economic as well as moral and justice-based reasons for closing the economic divide."

In addition to compiling data on disparities from authoritative sources, "Closing the Racial Divide" includes new original Foundation analysis showing that Massachusetts' gross state product (GSP) would increase by $25 billion over five years were the Commonwealth to close the racial divide in wages, housing, investments, and wealth. If Blacks and Hispanics graduated from college at the same rate as white peers, MTF calculates, Massachusetts would realize $20 billion over a decade in increased tax revenues and reduced public-assistance expenditures.

Keith Mahoney of The Boston Foundation said: "When it comes to high-quality research and non-partisan analysis, no one has more credibility on Beacon Hill and across the Commonwealth than the Massachusetts Taxpayers Foundation. In this time when a national reckoning on issues of race is long-overdue, the Foundation's 'Closing the Racial Divide' report makes an exemplary contribution to this critically important discussion. The Boston Foundation is proud to partner with MTF for the next phase of its work, which entails collaborating with all interested stakeholders to improve the metrics by which we will measure our collective progress."

Among many findings in the report:

- In Massachusetts and the U.S., Black families have markedly lower levels of household wealth and home ownership.

- Median income for Blacks lags far behind that of whites, and in the most recent figures income of Blacks in Boston averaged just 45 percent that of whites.

- High-school dropout rates for Hispanics in Massachusetts are four times as high as those for whites and more than double those of Blacks

- Blacks and Hispanics are incarcerated in Massachusetts at rates 8 times and 4.9 times, respectively, as whites.

- Lack of health insurance, infant mortality, and negative experiences with healthcare providers are all disproportionately higher for Blacks and Hispanics than whites.

- As documented by a 2017 survey, Boston continues to carry a national reputation for racism and is seen as the least welcoming of eight major U.S. cities to people of color.

"We recognize and acknowledge that this report is not as comprehensive as it could and must be, and many indices of disparity and inequity that the Foundation wanted to be able to calculate and present we found do not exist," McAnneny said. "For that reason, we are convening an advisory committee to work with and guide the Foundation in how we will expand future editions of the

'Closing the Racial Divide' report to provide the most comprehensive and authoritative analysis possible."

Jane Steinmetz, Chairwoman of MTF, said: "This report lays bare the disparities that exist across virtually every measure of economic and social conditions in our society. We are committed and motivated to work with a wide range of groups and voices to continue to measure progress in efforts to close these disparities and make Massachusetts a more united, diverse, and equal Commonwealth."

bedrooms, and three bedrooms. The housing will be transit oriented as it sits between the Wood Island and Orient Heights MBTA stops and is in close proximity to different bus routes. The project will also contain a bike room to encourage less vehicular travel.

The developers met several times with members of the Harbor View Neighborhood Association (HVNA) over the past year and made several changes to the project after hearing feedback from the community.

Williams and Grossman moved away from boxy brick buildings and incorporated bay windows, the use of fiber cement clapboard siding, shed dormers and added continuity with windows to pick up site lines of adjacent buildings in the final design.

The project was also reduced from five stories down to four stories and the parking has been sunk underground.

The owners also added greenspace and added landscaping along the frontage of the buildings and reduced the overall square footage by 1,400 square feet.

At the meetings prior to the BPDA vote HVNA members seemed to be warming up to the project when compared to the initial presentation. Some applauded the changes and thanked the developers for listening to community input.

However, HVNA members still voted 23-9 against the project. Those in opposition pointed to density, lack of parking and the overall size and scope of the project as another example of over-building in the neighborhood.

One of the nine HVNA members that voted in favor of the project said, "I have been in the neighborhood for over 40 years. This could be a great opportunity for the neighborhood. I look forward to the new building and new activity in the area".

REDDY NAMED NEW LYNN POLICE CHIEF

LYNN - Mayor Thomas McGee is pleased to announce the hiring of Christopher P. Reddy as the new Chief of Police for the City of Lynn. Chris was selected from a list of several highly-qualified candidates who completed the required Civil Service Assessment Center in March of this year and applied for the position.

"Chris is a lifelong Lynner who clearly demonstrated throughout the entire hiring process that he has the necessary skills to lead the Lynn Police Department with the highest standards our City deserves," said Mayor Thomas M. McGee. "He has a deep understanding of the Lynn community and the importance of racial equity in modern policing by having built strong relationships with many diverse groups and organizations during his time as a Lynn Police Officer. Chris is ready to meet the moment and lead the hardworking women and men of the Lynn Police Department through the current crossroads we are facing to bring the community together and approach this position with a commitment to equity and transparency. I want to thank each of the three exceptional candidates who applied for the promotion to be the Chief of Police. Your dedication and commitment to the City of Lynn was clearly evident throughout the entire process. My sincere appreciation to Deputy Chief Desmarais for stepping up to lead the Department over the last 10 months during an incredibly challenging time for our City, State and Country."

"I want to offer my sincere appreciation to Mayor McGee for giving me the opportunity to serve this community, and the members of the Lynn Police Department, as the next Chief of Police," said Christopher Reddy. "It has been my privilege to serve as a police officer in this community for the past 36 years and I am humbled and honored to have been selected for this important role. I'm excited to work with my brother and sister officers, as well as the Mayor, the City Council, and community stakeholders to move the Department forward in our common goal of promoting public safety for all."

Chris Reddy has been a Lynn Police Officer since 1985 and has most recently served as the Captain of Patrol since 2010. Among his main responsibilities he has served as the supervisor of a number of policing units including for patrol operations, E-911 and dispatch center, traffic enforcement and the community policing unit. His role also included being the Police Department liaison for coordination with outside agencies, organizations and community groups coordinating for special events as well as the liaison to the City of Lynn Emergency Management Committee. He received his Bachelor's degree in business administration-management from UMASS Lowell and a Master's degree in Criminal Justice from Anna Maria College.

COUNCIL DISCUSSES SEVERAL ISSUES

WINTHROP - The Winthrop Town Council held a remote meeting on May 18, where it discussed updates on issues impacting the community. Approximately seventeen members of the public attended.

COVID-19

In Winthrop, there have been 2,399 positive COVID cases, with 13 individuals currently in isolation. The incident rate remains low, at just 1.6 percent. Fifty-nine percent of residents have received at least one dose of the vaccine, and 48 percent are fully vaccinated.

A vaccine clinic will be held May 27 from 4 pm to 7 pm at the St. Michael's Parrish. There will also be vaccines available at the schools for students age 12 and over.

"Let's get everyone vaccinated," said Council Pres. Phil Boncore, adding that he'd like to get all residents inoculated within the coming weeks.

Pres. Boncore also praised the tireless efforts of DPH Director Meredith Hurley, calling her "the hero of this pandemic."

Mass. Gov. Charlie Baker intends to lift all COVID restrictions by May 29. Police Chief and Interim Town Manager Terence Delehanty spoke about the potential for holiday parades and fireworks, emphasizing that he will take his queues from surrounding towns and health officials.

Schools

Supt. Lisa Howard was awarded another year-long contract. Andrea O'Leary, Asst. Principal at the Cummings School, was promoted to Principal. Meanwhile, Susan Eccles, longtime Business Manager of the Winthrop Public Schools, is set to retire.

"Sue has done a fine job and represented this town very well," said the council president. "She deserves our applause and I want to wish her well."

Some students have launched a Diversity and Inclusion Resource Center and a website is underway. Vandalism was discovered at the Fort Banks elementary school basketball court in the form of broken glass bottles and a broken basketball net.

Summer schools will be available, with a focus on math, English and special needs.

Policing

The Winthrop Police Dept. is hosting Fair & Impartial Policing clinics for the public with the goal of educating residents about law enforcement and policing in Winthrop.

It has joined with the Dept. of Public Health so that social workers, therapists and recovery coaches will know how their clients will interact with the police department.

"We don't plan on solving everything [right away]," said Chief Delehanty. "This is just the beginning."

Miller Field

The tennis courts at Miller Field are nearly complete and should be fully operational by the end of June. The area has been paved and fencing installed. Improvements to the fieldhouse include non-slip flooring, bathrooms and concession stands. The facility should be open around Labor Day, with a grand opening slated for early fall. The project is on budget.

Bids for the dog park and golf shed will open on May 20, and the project will be awarded by early June. Work would commence immediately and the facilities should be completed by early summer.

MBTA Sexual Assault

Police are investigating a sexual assault that occurred on board the #713 MBTA bus from Orient Heights to Winthrop on April 24. The incident was caught on camera, and shows the bus driver assaulting a passenger. Police Chief Delehanty said the community was rightfully concerned about the vetting process for bus drivers.

Budget Meetings

The Finance Commission has met four times since the last council meeting to discuss the budget, with each meeting running two to three hours. All meetings are open to the public and there will be three more before the commission will deliberate and send its recommendations to the council for the first meeting in June. Council will then vote on the recommendations at its second meeting in June.

Town Charter

The Ordinance Review Committee (ORC) presented three recommendations to amend the Town Charter. It also accepted many non-substantive changes suggested by the Collins Center. The Rules and Ordinances Committee reviewed the full report and is expected to have motion at a later meeting. The ORC has requested to continue its work until the end of the year.

Other Updates

An interim chief financial officer has been identified and will be offered a 90-day contract, the longest an interim town manager is permitted to authorize. The individual in question has almost four decades of experience in the business world.

The Rules and Ordinances Committee is working with KP Law to come up with zoning recommendations for the middle school. A public hearing will be held, after which recommendations will be sent to the Town Council for approval.

Construction will begin soon on the Ingleside Park Playground, which suffered a fire last December.

Council Pres. Boncore appointed the following individuals to town committees: Sarah Jane Fourness to the Planning Board; and John Vitagliano and Nicholas Ivancic to the Airport Hazards Committee.

REVERE STUDENTS EARN ACADEMIC HONORS

ZULU GRADUATES FROM ST. JOHN'S PREPARATORY

St. John's Preparatory School held its 111th Commencement exercises on Saturday, May 22 at 11 am. Headmaster Edward P. Hardiman, Ph.D. awarded diplomas to 258 seniors during an outdoor ceremony held on the school's campus.

Lesedi Zulu, of Revere, was among the graduates.

"It would be foolhardy to attempt to summarize this experience given that each of you has endured this public health crisis in different ways, with different challenges, and different outcomes," said Dr. Hardiman, noting that the class included the first graduates since 1948 to have started at the Prep as seventh graders. "While you each have different gifts, talents, and experiences, you have made connections, built bridges, and overcome obstacles. As you walk across the bridge to your next adventure, keep building, keep dreaming, keep adapting, keep learning, and always remember that you never walk alone. The Prep is always with you."

The Class of 2021 valedictorian was Michael Maddison of Lynnfield, and the salutatorian medal went to Jacob Garland of North Andover. Haverhill's Jordan Young received the Xaverian Award; the highest honor the school can bestow upon a graduating senior, presented to the class member who best epitomizes the values and tradition of Xaverian education. The Commencement Address, delivered by a student-selected keynote speaker, was given by math teacher Anthony Lammana, a 2008 St. John's graduate and a Somerville resident.

College acceptances for the class included five Ivy League schools as well as Georgetown, Howard, Notre Dame, Stanford University, Tufts, Williams College, New York University, University of North Carolina, Northeastern University, University of Michigan, UCal-Berkeley, all four schools in the UMass system, and the University of Virginia, among 218 total institutions to date. Graduating Eagles will fly away to locales as far west as California, as far north as Canada, as far south as Texas, and to many states in between.

St. John's Prep is an inclusive, Catholic, Xaverian Brothers Sponsored School founded on the Xaverian values of compassion, humility, simplicity, trust, and zeal. Established in 1907, St. John's offers an academically challenging program and wide-ranging co-curricular opportunities for students to grow and learn outside the classroom. Located on a 175-acre campus in Danvers, Massachusetts, St. John's enrolls 1,500 students from approximately 80 area communities.

Revere Police awarded grant to increase seat-belt use among local motorists

Staff report

Mayor Brian Arrigo and Chief of Police David J. Callahan announced that the Revere Police Department was awarded a grant from the Executive Office of Public Safety and Security's Office of Grants and Research (OGR) to increase the number of patrols and to remind drivers and passengers about the lifesaving benefits of wearing a seat belt. Revere police will join other departments across the state and the Massachusetts Department of State Police in the national Click It or Ticket enforcement campaign.

"Seat belts are the single most important safety item in our vehicles," said Chief Callahan of the Revere Police Department. "We see firsthand the devastating consequences of drivers and their passengers not buckling up. These funds will increase our traffic enforcement presence to help end these preventable tragedies."

"Seat belts are the best way to protect yourself from dangerous drivers," said Kevin Stanton, Executive Director of the OGR. "You might be an excellent driver, but not everyone else is. Seat belts are your best defense against impaired, aggressive, and distracted drivers."

"Seat belts save lives. It's as simple as that," said Jeff Larason, Division Director of the OGR's Highway Safety Division. "Massachusetts has one of the lowest seat belt use rates in the nation. We need to change that."

The following data

about seat belts is listed below:

Massachusetts' seat belt use rate is consistently lower than the national average, ranking 45th in the 2019 seat belt observational study.

At 81.6% use, over 1.2 million Bay Staters still are not regularly buckling up. The national seat belt use rate is 90.7% (2019)

In Massachusetts, a larger percentage of pickup trucks (71%) and SUVs (65%) fatalities are unrestrained compared to passenger cars (60%).

According to NHTSA, seat belts saved an estimated 61 lives in Massachusetts in 2018.

68% of nighttime fatalities are unrestrained in Massachusetts compared to 55% of unrestrained daytime fatalities.

SALEM STATE UNIVERSITY NURSING CLASS OF 2021 PINNING CEREMONY AT HARRY DELLA RUSSO STADIUM

On Wednesday May 19, Harry Della Russo Stadium played host to the Salem State University Pinning Ceremony for the graduates of SSU's Nursing Program. The 2021 graduates were joined by a handful of 2020 graduates that were unable to have a pinning ceremony earlier due to pandemic restrictions.

Revere High School graduate, Audra DiMasso-Scott (left) with Josie Marstjepovic, both received their nursing pin, in accordance with decades of tradition, officially marking their transition from students to nurses.

The latest group of graduates of the Salem State University Nursing Program in the Class of 2021, exiting the ceremony, officially as nurses.

Revere resident Lariza Haro, was among the students to receive their pin on Wednesday, May 19.

The setting sun painted the stadium during golden hour, coinciding with the graduates walking the stage to accept their pins.

Safety was still a top priority during the ceremony, with guests both limited and socially distant in the bleachers.

DCR seeks lifeguards for summer season

Staff report

The Massachusetts Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR) has announced that the agency is actively recruiting individuals to become a lifeguard at DCR-managed inland and coastal waterfronts, and deep water swimming pools in Central and Eastern Massachusetts. DCR lifeguards are professional rescuers who are trained to prevent injuries, and respond in the event of an emergency to help save a life. As part of a team, lifeguards must work together calmly and efficiently to manage potential crisis situations and ensure the safety of all visitors at DCR-managed waterfronts. DCR lifeguards make a difference and enjoy a fulfilling summer job while earning $17 per hour, or $18 per hour for head lifeguards.

"Every year, Massachusetts residents and visitors travel to DCR beaches, lakes, ponds, and pools seeking relief from the summer heat and time with friends and family outdoors," said DCR Commissioner Jim Montgomery. "DCR lifeguards are absolutely critical to ensuring the public can safely enjoy our popular swimming locations, and make a real difference by dedicating their summer days to safeguarding the public."

In order to be considered for a DCR lifeguard position, applicants must be at least 16 years of age, must complete lifeguard training, and must be certified in first aid and cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). The agency trains and certifies its lifeguards prior to opening designated swimming areas, and provides certification free of charge to those who commit to working with DCR.

Furthermore, candidates must be able to complete the following:
 • A timed 500 yard swim; and,
 • Recover a 10-pound object in 9-12 feet of water.

DCR is currently recruiting in Central and Eastern Massachusetts with a focus on the Boston Metro area, North of Boston to Salisbury, and South of Boston to the Cape and the Islands. Candidate training and certification dates and locations in these areas can be found below. Please note, all interested candidates must register with DCR aquatics staff to be placed in the appropriate course before arriving.
