Wilson honored for saving life of young girl

By Cary Shuman

The Revere City Council presented Revere Police Officer David Wilson its highest honor – a Certificate of Merit – for his heroic actions of rescuing a girl from the frigid waters of Revere Beach on May 14, 2021.

Councillor-at-Large George Rotondo said he witnessed Officer Wilson's miraculous efforts that saved the life of the despondent girl.

"Very few times in life you have the opportunity to see a miracle, pretty much the same time you see heroism in action," said Rotondo. "You just hear this woman screaming for this little girl and she was just treading water 200-300 feet out. What you don't understand is that it was 8 o'clock at night and it was dark out and the water was probably around 48 degrees.

"David starts making his way to the shoreline taking off his gear," continued Rotondo. "This young girl - if you know anything about people who struggle because they don't want you to help them, they fight and they fight hard – picture that in 48 degree water and pitch black by yourself, that's what he did. That's what Dave Wilson did to save this young girl.

"I've seen miracle in life. I'm a nurse. I've seen heroism, too. Very rarely

Employees to be honored

Revere Chief of Infrastructure and Engineering Donny Ciaramella, DPW General Foreman Joe Lake, and the city's Engineering and Water and Sewer Departments will receive a Certificate of Appreciation from the City Council.

City Council President Anthony Zambuto said the individuals will be recognized for their efforts in completing major storm water improvements in the Tuscano Avenue neighborhood to correct the flooding issues which had been unresolved for more than 20 years.

"It was 20 years in the making and it wasn't done," said Zambuto. "This motion was in to recognize the outstanding work and I want to say the engineering feat accomplished this as much as the physical work that got it done."

Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino, who co-sponsored the motion, said Donny Ciaramella, Joe Lake, and the entire team at the Water, Sewer, and Engineering Department took a 20-year issue in the West Revere neighborhood "and they resolved it."

Ward 2 Councillor Ira Novoselsky recalled city and state officials meeting at the site and seeking to remedy the situation.

"Donny really took the bull by the horns and did a great job down there," lauded Novoselsky. "This was a major accomplishment and I do want to congratulate everybody involved."

Rocco Falzone, a Tuscano Avenue resident who had advocated for several years to remedy the flooding issues, took the podium and expressed his sincere appreciation to the duo of Ciaramella and Lake, who were boyhood pals while growing up in

Board of Health lifts State of Emergency

Special to The Journal

The Revere Board of Health announced they lifted the State of Emergency issued last year on March 19, 2020. As of today, masks are no longer required at City Hall and other city buildings for fully vaccinated individuals. Masks for those not vaccinated are still strongly encouraged.

Also, with the end of the Governor's Covid-19 State of Emergency, credit card fees will no longer be absorbed by the city foron online payments. The City continues to absorb online fees for those who choose to pay by bank account rather than by credit payment. Mayor Brian Arrigo is currently working with the City Clerk to solidify a reopening plan for public meetings in Revere.

"The lifting of the State of Emergency is a milestone for our city and testament to all the incredible work our residents, the Emergency Response Team, COVID Ambassadors, and local nonprofits," said Mayor Brian Arrigo. "I am proud of all that we have been able to accomplish to move our city forward toward responsible reopening and rapid recovery. With the rise in vaccination, there are fewer people getting Covid in the City of Revere. I strongly urge all residents who have not been vaccinated yet to do so."

There are several vaccination clinics open this week:

Light show to highlight MFA art collection

This summer, "New Light: Encounters and Connections" at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston (MFA), brings more than 60 works of art from across the collection—including 23 newly acquired contemporary pieces—into thought-provoking dialogue. Organized into 21 "conversations," the exhibition juxtaposes each contemporary work with one or two rarely seen objects acquired earlier in the Museum's history. The latest additions to the collection include works by emerging as well as local or Boston-born artists, while the earlier objects range from an ancient Egyptian carving of a princess to 20th-century textiles from southwestern Nigeria and Gee's Bend, Alabama. Together, these objects invite visitors to explore an array of subjects—from religious devotion and ancestral heritage to queer communities and Indigenous resistance—sparking unexpected connections and new narratives.

New Light: Encounters and Connections is on view from July 3, 2021 through Feb. 6, 2022, in the Henry and Lois Foster Gallery and Charlotte F. and Irving W. Rabb Gallery. Access to the exhibition is included with general admission.

The exhibition is generously supported by the Callaghan Family Fund for Contemporary Exhibitions, with additional support from the Barbara Jane Anderson Fund, The Bruce and Laura Monrad Fund for Exhibitions, and the Diane Krane Family and Jonathan and Gina Krane Family Fund.

Several of the contemporary works on view in the exhibition were acquired in 2020, as part of an MFA initiative to support living artists in Boston and nationwide during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Freni presented key to the City

Ricky Freni Jr. has been presented with The Key To The City by Mayor Brian Arrigo on June 7 because of his passion and dedication to Revere.

Ricky Freni Jr met with Mayor Arrigo to discuss the future of Suffolk Downs and the Horse barns. Freni drew up an intricate set of plans of what he would like to see and would be named The Shops at Suffolk Logan Place.

It included safe pedestrian paths from the blue line stops, restaurants that are advertised on tv but not close to Revere, like a Chick Fil-A, Arby's, Red Robin, and more. The plans also included spots for small businesses like a train hobby shop.

Finally his plans had plenty of green space to hang out in and the relocation of the Showcase cinemas albeit on a small scale. Arrigo and Rick discussed his plans as well as the plans that HYM has in place. It was a great conversation between Arrigo and a young man who always wants to see his city improve with economic growth.

Little Ricky as he known throughout the City has much passion for Revere and wants to see it continue to thrive. His foundation, the Little Ricky Foundation has provided over $100k in supplies scholarship Revere special education classrooms for several years. Ricky Jr is 26 and has autism but autism does not have him He always been one proud Patriot. Ricky Jr and his family would like to thank Mayor Arrigo for taking time out of his busy schedule to meet with him.

Arrigo was so impressed with Ricky's love and dedication to the city that he graciously presented him with The Key to The City.

Now that's a terrific Tuesday.

USCIS updates policies on services

Special to the Journal

Immigration Services has issued new policy updates in the USCIS Policy Manual to clarify the criteria and circumstances for expedited processing; improve request for evidence (RFE) and notice of intent to deny (NOID) guidance; and increase the validity period for initial and renewal employment authorization documents (EADs) for certain noncitizens with pending adjustment of status applications.

"We are taking action to eliminate policies that fail to promote access to the legal immigration system, and will continue to make improvements that help individuals navigate the path to citizenship, and that modernize our immigration system," said Secretary of Homeland Security Alejandro N. Mayorkas.

"These policy measures are consistent with the Biden-Harris administration's priorities to eliminate unnecessary barriers to our nation's legal immigration system and reduce burdens on noncitizens who may be eligible for immigration benefits," said Acting USCIS Director Tracy Renaud. "USCIS is committed to promoting policies and procedures that ensure we operate in a fair, efficient, and humane manner that reflects America's heritage as a land of opportunity for those who seek it."

•Expedited Processing

Under the updated expedite criteria policy, benefit requestors and USCIS officers are provided further guidance on when expedited processing may be warranted. Additionally, nonprofit organizations whose request is in furtherance of the cultural and social interests of the United States may request that a benefit be considered for expedited processing, even if premium processing is available for that benefit.

Expedited processing is a special-situation service that USCIS considers for benefit requestors who urgently need their request for immigration benefits adjudicated. USCIS reviews such requests on a case-by-case basis. Expedited requests for noncitizens with a final order of removal or noncitizens in removal proceedings are coordinated between USCIS and U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement.

•Requests for Evidence and Notices of Intent to Deny

USCIS is returning to the adjudicative principles of a June 2013 memo that instructed agency officers to issue an RFE or NOID when additional evidence could potentially demonstrate eligibility for an immigration benefit. As part of the updated RFE and NOID policy, USCIS is rescinding a July 2018 memo that permitted agency officers to deny certain immigration benefit requests instead of first issuing an RFE or NOID.

This updated policy will ensure that benefit requestors are given an opportunity to correct innocent mistakes and unintentional omissions. In general, a USCIS officer will issue an RFE or NOID when the officer determines additional information or explanation may potentially establish eligibility for an immigration benefit.

This guidance was issued due to ongoing processing delays affecting the completion of adjustment of status applications. Renewing EADs in this category is generally free, and USCIS received nearly 370,000 adjustment-related employment authorization requests in fiscal year 2020.

MASSPORT ASKS DRONE OPERATORS TO FLY SAFELY

As more people are out and about in the warm weather, the Massachusetts Port Authority (Massport), in collaboration with the Massachusetts State Police, is renewing efforts to educate the public about the safe use of drones and ensure drone operators follow the recently updated rules and regulations from the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA).

"Safety and security is our number one priority. For the safety of all who use the airspace, we want the public to fully understand the rules on drones before they take them out of the box or put them into operation," said Massport Chief Security Officer Hank Shaw. "Failure to adhere to FAA regulations is no excuse. We recognize there are significant benefits to the use and safe integration of drones into the airspace, but they also pose a significant risk if they're not operated responsibly. We urge people to know the rules before you fly."

Federal regulations require all drones over .55 lbs. to be registered with the FAA and must be marked with the registration number. Operators must also carry proof of registration. Other FAA regulations include the following:

· Flying drones in controlled airspace, around and above airports, is prohibited without prior FAA approval;

· Violators will be subject to penalties for breaking the law;

· Never fly drones near any aircraft;

· Keep your drone in sight at all times and fly lower than 400 feet;

Register your drone before your first flight; and

Comply with Remote ID rules.

Additionally, the FAA has developed the free mobile application, B4UFLY, which shows an interactive map to help recreational drone operators know where they can and cannot fly. Using a mobile device's location, the app also features a status indicator that informs the operator whether it is safe to fly, and provides critical information, including controlled and restricted airspace.

Massport recently put out an ad campaign in various community newspapers and on social media to encourage drone operators to "Know the Rules before your Fly." The ads feature a QR code linked to the FAA's "Drone Zone" website. The campaign, which began in late April, targets the communities around Boston Logan International Airport, Laurence G. Hanscom Field, and Worcester Regional Airport, as well as communities along the flight paths to and from these airports.

Since 2016, Massport has installed approximately 200 "No Drone Zone" signs in over 50 parks and other locations around Boston Logan International Airport, as well as signage at other Massport sites, and surrounding state, city and town properties. The locations include Piers Park, Bremen Street Park, Festa Field, and the Neptune Road Buffer in Easton Boston. Signs have also been posted at the Maritime Park and Cruiseport Harborwalk in South Boston. Massport continues to work with neighboring communities to install additional signage, specifically within areas of increased drone activity and along critical flight paths to and from our airports.

A Resounding Response

Boudreau, Boston Sparks provide a great service to firefighters

By Cary Shuman

When Revere firefighters rushed to Kingman Avenue on June 2, they encountered heavy fire and smoke overflowing from the top floor of the building.

Fire officials had to determine quickly whether there were still occupants inside the burning structure and the instantaneous decision had to be made about what strategy could be implemented to best contain the fire.

A major challenge confronting firefighters was the hot, humid conditions that day. Firefighters, who wear many pounds of equipment, faced head-on the dangers of heat exhaustion and dehydration.

That is where Paul Boudreau, president of the Boston Sparks Association, played an instrumental role in assisting the Revere Fire Department.

Boudreau, 63, and his Boston Sparks contingent had set up a unit of well-trained and certified volunteers nearby to help Revere firefighters during breaks from their strenuous firefighting operations.

"The temperature was very hot, about 90 degrees (on June 2)," recalled Boudreau. "There was also some wind which hampered the firefighting efforts. The firefighters, with the amount of protective gear that they wear today, it really holds the heat into their bodies, so they need to take a break periodically. And when that happens, they come into our rehab area and we provide them with hydration (such as water or Gatorade) and cold towels and we work in conjunction with EMS and they take their vital signs to make sure that they're okay to go back to the firefighting effort."

If it's a long-duration firefighting effort, Boudreau said the Boston Sparks will provide food for the firefighters. "One of the great suppliers for us is S and L Cold Cuts in Chelsea [which is owned by Steven Powers]," said Boudreau.

"And one of the crucial things now is the Boston Sparks' truck has special firefighting products (wipes) that help the firefighters clear contaminants from the exposed areas of their skin," said Boudreau.

Boudreau is deservedly proud of his dedicated presence at fire scenes in Revere.

"I don't miss any of them, to be honest with you," said Boudreau. "I'm a Revere boy, so I don't miss anything in Revere. I try to make sure we're there. It's a great team effort. It takes more than one guy to do it. I just orchestrate things."

Paul Boudreau, president of the Boston Sparks Association, is pictured on the scene at a fire in Revere where his group provided rehab and support services.

Boston Sparks was founded in 1938

Boudreau has been president of the Boston Sparks Association since 2004 and a member of the group for close to 40 years.

He noted that the Boston Sparks Association was founded in 1938 by a group of men who had an interest in fire service and the betterment of the fire service.

"It was established initially for the purpose of following in the fire service as fire buffs who would study the techniques of the fire department and hold fundraisers to create awareness of the department and fire safety," said Boudreau.

He said the Association has grown through the years to the point where it has its own fire station in Boston as a headquarters for its emergency rehab and canteen service.

The Boston Sparks Association now assists the Boston Fire Department and departments in 36 surrounding cities and towns.

"In addition to the fire rehab, we also run the Boston Fire Museum which has all the artifacts of City of Boston Fire Department and other areas," said Boudreau. "We also do education programs for children's birthday parties out of the old fire station on Congress Street in Boston."

The Boston Sparks Association now has 200 members. "It's made up of a diverse group of individuals – some are retired or active firefighters, some are business people, and we actually have police officers who are members, so it's quite a diverse membership of 200 people that make up the Association."

An early interest in firefighting

The son of the late Arthur Boudreau and Doris Boudreau, Paul said his father was a fire buff as well. Before the family moved to Revere, Paul had grown up in Chelsea.

"I happened to live next door to a deputy chief [Bob Denning] who was a great guy and he got me interested in the fire department," said Paul. "I tried to get on the fire department back in in the 1970s but I took the test and I wasn't successful."

Boudreau related that the fortunate part of his lifelong interest in firefighters was "in the communications business [ALL-COMM Technologies, based in Revere] that I have, I'm involved with a lot of the police and fire departments because that's what we do – public safety radio communications.

"So in addition to my work with the Boston Sparks, my company is involved in public safety communications as well, so it's kind of a way that I can give back to the community," said Boudreau. "It's very rewarding. I like it. It's a unique thing that we do, get out on bed at 3 o'clock in the morning when it's 4 degrees out and go to a fire and provide care and comfort for the firefighters. That's our main goal."

Boudreau remains grateful to Mr. Denning for activating that childhood respect and admiration for firefighters and what they do in their profession. He noted that a member of the illustrious Denning firefighting family of Chelsea, his close friend, Bobby Denning, is married to former state representative Kathi Ann Reinstein.

Boudreau's family consists of three members of the Massachusetts State Police while his nephew, Sean Randall, is a lieutenant and executive officer in the Revere Police Department.

"We are more law enforcement than fire in my actual family, which is kind of unusual," he said.

Asked how long he hopes to be active in the Boston Sparks Association, Boudreau said, "I intend to keep doing it as long as I can because I enjoy it. We provide a great service and that's the most important part. It's a good service and a good feeling."

Chief Bright has praise for Boudreau, Sparks Association

Revere Fire Chief Christopher Bright praised Paul Boudreau and the Association for their ongoing assistance to the Revere Fire Department.

"Paul's group, the Boston Sparks, responds really anywhere they're needed, whether it's a multiple-alarm fire, a large-scale incident, or a weather event – it could be anything, they come out no matter the hour, the weather, the holiday – they've been a great benefit to firefighters throughout Greater Boston," said Bright.

Bright said the Sparks Association serves as a key partner to Cataldo Ambulance at fire scenes in assisting firefighters during vital medical situations.

"Years ago there was very little rehab happening at the fire scenes and unfortunately, a lot of firefighters, because we weren't as sophisticated back then, were falling to heart attacks, severe dehydration, and overexertion and things like that – today, between Paul's group and Cataldo Ambulance, our firefighters get rehabbed, their. vital signs are checked, their fluids are replenished, they take a rest and if everything checks out, they can go back to work," said Bright.

Bright said firefighters truly appreciate the efforts the Boston Sparks Association.

"The Boston Sparks Association really does provide for the comfort, care, and safety of the firefighters on the scene," concluded Bright. "We value it highly."

Council adopts ordinance on baiting for rodent control

lBy Cary Shuman

The City Council unanimously approved an ordinance on baiting procedures for rodent control following a brief but interesting exchange of viewpoints between two long-time councillors Anthony Zambuto and Ira Novoselsky at a Legislative Affairs Sub-Committee meeting.

Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino said the ordinance was made to "strengthen the baiting ordinance in the city." Serino's original motion called for 21 days of rodent baiting prior to a demolition project in the city and 21 days afterwards.

Novoselsky requested that the pre-demolition time frame for rodent baiting by a contractor be extended to 28 days. Meanwhile, Zambuto felt a total of 21 days was sufficient for the pre-demolition rodent baiting phase.

"Two weeks is really not a lot of time to bait, especially when they're doing a demolition," Novoselsky told the subcommittee. "Rodents find other places to go and then tend to come back after the baiting is finished. So I'd like to make sure that it's extended to four weeks prior to any demolition."

Zambuto initially disagreed with Novoselsky's request for a longer baiting session.

"I think it's great to have longer baiting sessions, [but] I think at some point it's gets ridiculous," reasoned Zambuto. "I think three weeks before demolition is more than enough time and three weeks after demolition is more than enough time. At some point, we're going to make this, if not ridiculous, redundant. You don't need it that long. I think it's overkill."

Novoselsky respondly sharply, "With all due respect to Councillor Zambuto, I am probably one city councillor that has more demo done in the last two years, and you don't have to hear the phone calls I'm getting from neighbors before and during, not necessarily after. But I get the phone calls and honestly, I see the rodents. So the sooner we get to them, the better. I don't mind reducing the after [baiting period], but the before, I'm insistent upon it. So I feel very strongly on this being four weeks."

Said Zambuto, "My colleague feels so adamant about this, I'm probably not going to win this fight, even though I've got 40 years of construction experience."

"I've got 30 years, Councillor, so we're almost the same," interrupted Novoselsky.

"The bottom line is I'll go for the four weeks before and we'll stick to the three weeks after – how's that for a compromise?" said Zambuto, who then joined his colleague in the unanimous vote on the matter.

On the morning of June 17, 1775, the fog was slowly lifting over the small village of Charlestown, Massachusetts. Tragically, a more ominous and metaphorical type of fog quickly descended upon the Charlestown Peninsula. It followed angry American patriots and their wrathful British enemies. This fog was the omnipresent fog of war. It would dictate the chaotic fighting by the combatants during the legendary Battle of Bunker Hill. In his book, Fog On The Hill, author Marc Stockwell-Moniz guides the reader into the bedlam of this renowned battle. He details the utter confusion which surrounded both the Americans and the British and explains the de facto political recognition by the British toward the freely elected Massachusetts Provincial Congress. Also highlighted in Fog On The Hill are First Nation Americans and African-Americans, along with an updated American death count from the legendary battle.

Author Marc Stockwell-Moniz is a fourteenth-generation American. Marc was born in Cambridge, Massachusetts in 1954. He was graduated from San Diego State in 1978 with a degree in journalism. His ancestors were among the group of settlers who received the charter from King Charles to establish the Massachusetts Bay Colony. They founded Charlestown, Massachusetts in 1628. Several of Marc's ancestors fought in the American Revolutionary War under the command of General Artemus Ward and later General George Washington. Marc is a member of the Bunker Hill Monument Association, Sons of the American Revolution and the Sons of the Union Veterans. He lives in San Diego County, Ca. with his family.

THE GUN CRISIS

The recent increase in mass shooting incidents across the country comes as no surprise to anyone with an ounce of common-sense.

The ease of purchase, and relatively low-cost, of assault-style weapons, particularly AR-15 semi-automatics with large-capacity magazines, makes it possible for anyone to become a mass murderer.

And make no mistake about it, the purpose of high capacity magazines in assault weapons is to reduce the time it takes to reload, thereby increasing the time in engaging the target, ensuring that a mass murderer can kill and maim large numbers of victims in a matter of seconds.

It is not a coincidence that the vast majority of mass shootings occur in states with lax gun laws. Texas, Georgia, and other Southern states impose virtually no restrictions on the purchase and sale of these weapons that are designed to kill and maim as many people as quickly as possible.

Up to now, Massachusetts and many other states with stronger gun laws fortunately have been fairly insulated from such incidents.

However, that soon may change. It has long been the goal of the National Rifle Association and the gun lobby to invalidate what those groups consider to be restrictive gun laws in violation of the Second Amendment in every state. They want every citizen in the country to be able to buy whatever gun they want, whenever they want, and to be able to carry loaded firearms in public all the time and everywhere.

The NRA basically has adopted Archie Bunker-reasoning. (Archie's solution to solving the airplane hijacking problem of the 1970s was to give every passenger a gun when they boarded so that they could "get the drop" on the would-be hijacker).

The NRA's long-cherished dream of an AR-15 in every household took a big step forward two weeks ago with a decision by a federal judge striking down California's ban on the sale of assault-style weapons that has been in effect since 1989.

The judge began his opinion with these words: "Like the Swiss Army Knife, the popular AR-15 rifle is a perfect combination of home defense weapon and homeland defense equipment. Firearms deemed as 'assault weapons' are fairly ordinary, popular, modern rifles."

Obviously, even comparing an AR-15 to a Swiss Army Knife is ridiculous on its face -- we've never heard of a mass murderer using a knife as a weapon -- but what in our view was really chilling was the judge's words stating that an AR-15 is useful as a "homeland defense weapon."

That wording mimics what the gun crowd (the type of guys who like to dress up in camouflage) sees as the principal argument in favor of lax gun laws: That ordinary citizens will need these weapons in order to defend our country against the possibility of a foreign invading army.

That argument likewise is nonsense, but it's what animates the gun types who like to play soldier -- and obviously was among the reasons for the judge's decision striking down the California statute.

The state is appealing this judge's ruling. Ultimately, this question will reach the U.S. Supreme Court. However, given the present make-up of the court, we would bet even-money that the court will strike down the California statute -- and when that happens, it will be open season on innocent Americans all across the country for mass murderers.

We have emerged stronger as a community from the pandemic

By Mayor Brian Arrigo

Yesterday, June 15, marked the end of both the Commonwealth's COVID-19 State of Emergency as well as the municipal State of Emergency our Board of Health and I declared last year on March 19. While we have been slowly regaining a sense of normalcy for several months, and while our vaccination efforts remain diligent in order to reach herd immunity, the end of these declarations offer us an opportunity to reflect on the struggles we overcame during the pandemic, the neighborliness we relied upon in our response, and the lessons we learned will guide our recovery. Being your mayor during these historic times challenged me in ways I could never have anticipated. The strides made in our public health department, community outreach practices, and emergency management processes will continue to push Revere toward being an ever-greater city.

With the total disruption of our lifestyles and the collateral effects on our mental health and economy, the human toll of the pandemic has been difficult to properly account for. As of writing, 163 Revere neighbors passed away due to COVID-19, each loss reverberating throughout their loved ones and the community at large. We hold the memories of each in our hearts-beloved grandparents, cherished sons and daughters, essential workers, and community leaders-and will make sure they are memorialized solemnly and permanently. To that end it is vital that we remain vigilant of the risks of the virus and do our part to keep all of our neighbors as safe as possible.

Out of the devastation of the pandemic also came significant hope. Presented with the opportunity to contribute to the health and wellness of all, Revere's residents stepped up to the plate and established networks of care, ensuring that information and resources were disseminated as widely and accessibly as possible. The Emergency Response Team, comprised of non-profit organizations, city staff, and concerned volunteers, brought together one of the strongest coalitions of stakeholders this city has ever seen, and our community was made much safer due to their efforts. From testing to food delivery, vaccination to housing relief, translation to small business grants, and everything in between, my administration and our cherished partnerships worked to bridge the many gaps keeping families and businesses from being safe, healthy, and economically sound.

The solidarity and community-based momentum generated by the pandemic ought not stop with the end of emergency orders, nor even with the long hoped for arrival at local herd immunity. If we were to proceed as usual and behave as if the pandemic never happened, then much of the sacrifice and effort that has gotten us to today would be wasted. Our city must work to incorporate the lessons of the pandemic into the practices and rituals of our civic life, and chief among those lessons ought to be the fact that we are strongest when we come together as neighbors helping neighbors. As we advance towards a just recovery, it is paramount that we remember just how intertwined our families, businesses, neighborhoods, and city really are.

While I look forward to less crisis situations and emergency meetings, I would be remiss not to say that being Mayor of Revere during the COVID-19 pandemic was the honor of my career and has made me prouder than ever of the community we all call home.

Brian Arrigo is the Mayor of Revere

Strategize your money flow

By Dr. Glenn Mollette

If your outgo is more than your income then your upkeep will be your downfall.

A sure way to disable yourself financially is to spend more than your income.

If your income is $2500 a month then you can't spend $3500 a month and come out ahead.

An old friend used to say, "You can't borrow yourself rich."

We have "wants" and "needs." Needs must always outweigh wants. We need food and shelter, transportation and basic utilities to survive.

A person with a small income has severe financial pressure and must live on a strict budget. The person who has a lot of income still must determine a budget. The principal is the same for the person who has more income. Your outgo must not exceed your income. If you are earning $9,000 a month but spending $10,0000 you are going to end up in financial trouble.

With a very low income even the very basic needs become a luxury. Keeping the house warm or cool is a luxury. Buying good or healthy groceries are difficult. Buying gasoline to go to work is expensive. If you have access to a credit card, the pressure is great to put basic living needs on the card but the exorbitant fees and interest of credit card companies begin to quickly intensify your financial burden.

Your choices are few when it comes to good household budgeting. Let's look at a lean budget. Let's say your income is $2,000 a month. You can afford the following: $500 a month in rent, $250 a month in utilities, $250 a month for a used car payment and $150 a month for gasoline. This gives you $850 a month to buy food on and buy basic auto insurance. You will have to go through your state medical insurance program and apply for free state health insurance because you can't afford to buy health insurance. You also have to figure out how to make more money. You have to work hard where you are and do good so you can get a better paying job. Or, you must gain additional income through a second job. With surging inflation facing our country this makes these numbers an intense strain. Consider living as close to your job as possible to save on transportation costs.

If your income is $5,000, $10.000 a month or more. Your strategy is easier. Your main goal must be to not buy a house or a car that stretches your income to the max. You don't need the stress. Budget so you can afford to take a vacation or have a play day. Life is short! Enjoy it along the way. How you budget and spend your money can make you financially unstable or you can live with a feeling of financial security.

THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES

Dear Editor

"How lucky I am to have something that makes saying goodbye so hard." - a.a. milne (Winnie the Pooh)

When I first arrived at Revere High School for my interview, I had no idea that I would accept aposition, if offered, nor that I would stay as long as I have.

I am retiring after 20 years of teaching art at RHS, and want to thank the community of Revere for the privilege of working with my wonderful students from whom I have learned so much.

I have had the joy of seeing many students succeed after struggling, and experienced the frustration that came when some were less successful. They were all special in their own way (yes…even the ones who drove me bananas during class). My students made me laugh, they made me cry - mostly happy tears at graduation, but a few when students were lost prematurely.

They challenged me to learn so I could be a better teacher, and a better person. I'm sure there were times I fell short, but they never let me stop trying.

It was an honor to be a member of the Revere HS staff. My colleagues - educators and support staff - are some of the most dedicated, creative, inspiring, and caring human beings I have ever known. I have learned so much from all of them.

I've also enjoyed meeting a number of parents, guardians, siblings, and members of the community, and have actually been at RHS long enough to teach the child of a former student.

This year was difficult. It was hard to spend so much time in front of a screen, with many students represented by a black rectangle with white text. In spite of that, I felt like I was able to connect with many of them. The struggles this year were not just academic or art-related, and I can only hope that art classes provided some pleasure and a little escape from all that was going on in the world - even temporarily. I was inspired by the way the people of Revere came together to help each other through the pandemic, and how they took the lead on making sure people had food, medical care, access to Covid testing, and then vaccines. Amidst all the pain, there was beauty.

I'm leaving on a high note; Revere has started to plan for a new high school and a new future. I, too, am planning for a new future. It's the right time for me to leave, but I'm taking all of my memories with me. Thank you for those. I've been lucky.

GREATEST THING A PARENT CAN DO

Dear Editor:

With all the dreams parents have for their children, to lead successful productive and kind lives that contribute positively to society, the one goal most important is to direct their children to the knowledge of Jesus Christ the Savior. If children achieve worldly status, wealth, and power and they do not have Christ, they ultimately have nothing because these things are only useful for this world! But if they have Jesus as their Lord and Savior, they have everything to live here and in eternity. Earthy life is short! When death comes, one leave behind the trophies of success, wealth, education and power. The only thing one takes with them is their soul and their decision about Jesus Christ.

My Mom, with all her limitations and sometimes her overly stern parenting, often spoke to me about the Lord when I was a child. When she did, she was thoughtful, tender and full of emotional gratitude that Jesus suffered the penalty for our sins. My Mom planted the seed of faith in God into my life. By doing so, she ensured my eternal future.

Eternal Life through Jesus Christ is the greatest gift from God the Father. Dear Moms and Dads, make this your number one goal, to share Jesus with your children. And if you don't know Him, seek Him first. God Bless you in your role as a parent.

SST THREATENS EAST BOSTON, WINTHROP, REVERE, CHELSEA, ET AL AGAIN!

Dear Editor,

Many years after the Concorde SST was mothballed due to insurmountable extreme environmental, safety and financial issues it appears that Logan Airport's densely populated surrounding communities (East Boston, Winthrop, Revere, Chelsea, South Boston, et al) are once again threatened by the emergence of another SST project sponsored by Boom Technology and under purchase agreement to United Airlines. Boom Technology's objective is to complete a full-size, 88 passenger version SST by 2029 according to a report by the Wall Street Journal.

I well remember experiencing the Concorde's flights at Logan Airport in the 1970's, 1999 and 2003. The thunderous, ear-splitting takeoff noise was caused by the Concorde's military-like afterburning engines which were required to accelerate it to its abnormally high takeoff speed of 250 mph, compared to 185 mph for a 747. The SST's high takeoff speed necessitated very long runway lengths.

The SST was notorious for its sonic booms which were so disruptive to normal activities that the SSTs were prohibited from overland supersonic flight. It should be noted that even the Concorde's overwater flights were not without consequences. For example, it was standard procedure for SST pilots flying at 60,000 feet to warn other aircraft at lower altitudes of the approaching sonic boom. The SSTs were also notorious for their contribution to ozone layer depletion.

While the current Massport Noise Rules include a provision that prohibits SST operations at Logan Airport, thanks to the leadership of former Senator Mario Umana who spearheaded the legislation, it is imperative that every effort be made to eliminate all federal funding for SST development.

REINSTATEMENT OF SUNDAY MASS OBLIGATION

To the Editor,

"Without the Lord's day, we cannot live!" His Holiness, Pope Benedict, in his homily at the Cathedral of Saint Stephen in Vienna on September 9, 2007, quoted the Abitinian Martyrs, who during the persecution of Emperor Diocletian were arrested for celebrating Sunday Mass. The martyrs responded to the magistrate: "Sine dominico non possumus!" – without the Lord's day, we cannot live! The Pope went on to say: "For these Christians, the Sunday Eucharist was not a commandment, but an inner necessity. Without him who sustains our lives, life itself is empty. To do without or to betray this focus would deprive life of its very foundation, would take away its inner dignity and beauty."

Aware that the opportunity to participate in Sunday Mass is increasingly available and increasingly safe for our Catholic people, we are joining dioceses in the Boston Province (Boston, Fall River, Springfield, Manchester, and Portland) in lifting the dispensation of the Sunday and Holy Day Mass obligation, effective the weekend of June 19 and 20, 2021.

We are mindful of the Lord's statement: "Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them." (Mt 18:20). While we certainly can pray alone, there is both strength and blessedness in communal prayer.

We do also note that attendance at Mass is our way of following the Third Commandment of the Decalogue: "Remember the sabbath day – keep it holy. For six days the LORD made the heavens and the earth, the sea and all that is in them; but on the seventh day he rested. That is why the LORD has blessed the sabbath day and made it holy." (Ex. 20:8,11)

We call to mind the many times we see Jesus observing the sabbath by going to the synagogue and teaching there (Mt 13:54, Mk 1:21-28, Lk 4:16-30, Jn 6:22-59). It is a desire of every Christian to conform his or her life to the life of Jesus, and Jesus went to the synagogue on the sabbath.

Most significantly, receiving the Eucharist is the center of every Catholic life. The Lord commands us to take and eat, and to do it in memory of Him. (Mt 26:26-30, Mk 14:22-26, Lk 22:14-20, 1 Cor 11:23-26, CCC 1324). The Eucharist is food for our difficult journey through life, filling us with joy and strengthening us to embrace our suffering. It transforms us from the inside out and creates a unity among us that is a strong witness to the whole world.

Therefore, it is with great confidence and trust in the Lord that we reinstate this Sunday Mass obligation. It has been a long, difficult year. People have experienced great pain and suffering throughout this pandemic. Loss of life has been immense. People continue to recover from the long-term effects of the coronavirus.

The heroes among us — our nurses, doctors, first responders and all medical professionals — were a source of enormous comfort. Priests brought the Sacrament of the Sick to COVID patients. Now we are able to join together, remembering the lives changed and the sacrifices made. Let us gather together again in joy, as one people united around the Eucharist.

In this year of Saint Joseph, who was always a faithful observer of the sabbath, we chose Father's Day as an appropriate day to encourage all of our people, and especially our families, to return to the Sunday celebration of the Eucharist.

This obligation does not apply to those who are ill; those who have been recently exposed to COVID or any other communicable illness; those who are confined to their homes or to hospitals or other facilities due to illness, infirmity, frailty, or age; and those who are not yet able to be vaccinated, due to age or any health consideration. Parishioners should consult their local pastor if they have questions about the obligation.

To all of those who have not been able to be with us during this last year, we look forward to welcoming you back to the celebration of the Mass.

School Committee discusses Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief grant spending

By John Lynds

The U.S. Education Department just released guidance explaining how states and school districts can meet the requirements for using federal Covid relief money in ways that provide equitable support to schools dealing with concentrated poverty.

The $190 billion in Covid relief to local school districts includes Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief (ESSER) grants to promote student health and academic success.

At the June 11 Revere Public School (RPS) Committee meeting the committee discussed ESSER spending.

"The ESSER grant available balance we have is $6,499,758," said Revere Public School Superintendent Dr. Dianne Kelly. "We have mapped out a budget plan that spends almost all of these grants. We did receive new guidance from the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education that said that we should do our best to spend down the ESSER 2 grants before we started spending the ESSER 3 grants. Part of the rationale for that is that the ESSER 2 needs to be used either in FY22 or FY23 whereas ESSER 3 grants can be carried through FY24. What I'm about to lay out spends almost all of that grant except for the $59,943 that we want to leave as a flex point in that grant".

Kelley said the money would be spent on a Human Resources Officer position, a Communications Coordinator, a support staff of 30 paraprofessional positions, moving parent liaisons from part time to full time positions as well as hiring five more bus monitors and health aide staff.

"We've included the additional health and wellness teacher at the elementary level, three adaptive PE teaching positions district wide, special needs program for Occupational, Physical and Speech Therapy positions, a reading interventionist and one school nurse."

The funding would also go towards hiring behavioral analysts and three school psychologists. "We're also targeting some funding for our summer programs including four nurses and seven health aides," said Kelly. "The health aides will be specifically brought on to conduct our surveillance pool testing program throughout the summer for COVID testing. We've also put funding there for supplies and materials for the schools for their summer programming with these staff positions that I spoke about previously."

Kelly said the school's are also budgeting $620,000 for additional benefit costs.

"We've allocated $130,000 for furniture at the library and cafeterias and that's at the Beachmont and Garfield schools," said Kelly. "(Funding) will also be used for various upgrades to use exhaust fans across the district and $1.3, million for replacement of the pump controls at the high school."

The grant spending also includes a number of line items for professional development so that the school's can bring in folks to help build capacity as a staff in the areas that align with RPS's district wide improvement plan.

"We budgeted for new textbooks at the elementary level in both math and literacy, and a new science pilot for the middle school which has a minimal cost associated with it because it's a pilot," said Kelly. "There are various line items identified for technology. Many of them are infrastructure upgrades such as hardware and fiber connections and network storage arrays for our classroom technology. There's also a line item for 1000 new Chromebooks as well."

Diane earned her bachelor's degree in Sociology, summa cum laude, from Framingham State College. Following a vocation in the travel industry, she transitioned into a career in Consumer Relations and Human Resources and further pursued her studies in business and law. In later years, as a management contractor/consultant, Diane partnered with senior decision-makers of major corporations and start-up companies. She also assumed operations of her husband's seasonal contracting business.

Diane was well-liked and had many interests. She was a former member of the Boston Ski and Sports Association and Ski Wheelers. She had a passion for musical theater and dance, both as a patron and performer. In her quiet moments, she enjoyed writing.

Diane relocated several times before residing on Cape Cod, in the Boston area and on the South Shore with her husband, John, sharing with him her fondness for travel, big band music and ballroom dance.

Diane will affectionately be remembered for her caring, generous and thoughtful ways.

Diane's parents were the late Wilbert "Bill" Longfield and Anne J. (Rigano) Longfield of Cambridge, formerly of East Boston. Her sister was the late Julie Longfield of Revere and East Boston. She is survived by her brother, "Chuck" Longfield and his wife, Susie Mees-Longfield of Cambridge, niece, Kate and nephews, Tim and Matt Longfield, plus many loving cousins.

Auburn St., Watertown for a Funeral Mass to be celebrated in her honor at 10 a.m. Interment will follow at the Mt. Auburn Cemetery, 580 Mt. Auburn St., Cambridge. Father's Day Remembrance
Richard "Dickie" Smith

Daddy,
Childhood living is easy to do,
The things that you wanted I bought them for you
Graceless lady, you know who I am
You know I can't let you slide through my hands.
Wild horses couldn't drag me away,
Wild, wild horses we'll ride them some day.

Love, Wanda

Novena to the Sacred Heart

Dear Heart of Jesus, In the past I have asked for many favours. This time I ask for this special one. (mention it) Take it, Dear Heart Of Jesus, and place it within Your own broken heart where Your Father will see it. Then in his merciful eyes it will become Your favour, not mine. Amen

Revere Police Officer David Wilson was recognized for saving the life of a young lady on Revere Beach and putting his life in peril while doing so. Wilson entered freezing water and carried the young lady back to shore all by himself. do. You get to see it, but I got it to see it that night," said Rotondo. "David Wilson saved her life. He did it in pitch black and he did it in frigid waters. He is the epitome of the Revere Police Department. He is a hero."

City Council President Anthony Zambuto read aloud the Certificate of Merit which recognized David Wilson's "extraordinary, distinguished, and meritorious actions."

"Without hesitation, you jumped into action and dove into the waters and saved her life that day," said Zambuto. "You have gone above and beyond the call of duty by putting your own life at risk and your actions will be forever remembered."

Police Chief David Callahan extended the official congratulatory wishes from the Revere Police Department to Wilson.

"I just want to congratulate Officer Wilson," said Callahan. "He's been on the Police Department over 25 years and when I heard the story when I was called that evening, it didn't surprise me. Over the course of his 25 years, he's always been selfless where he puts other people before himself. This instance could have been a very different situation, but he inserted himself in harm's way, at nighttime in the ocean, in frigid temperatures. He didn't think twice. He didn't think a moment about it. He put himself in the ocean and his efforts alone saved that girl."

State Rep. and Councillor-at-Large Jessica Giannino presented a Citation on behalf of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to Officer David Wilson.

"He was my resource officer when I was a student at Revere High School and it's truly an honor to be able to present this to you as a state representative," said Giannino.

"As we lifted the State of Emergency in Revere, we also will remain dedicated to bringing vaccines to our residents throughout the summer in an effort to reduce barriers and increase confidence in this scientific breakthrough," said Lauren Buck, Director of Revere Public Health. "We hope that continued vaccination efforts and declining COVID infections will help Revere residents feel safe to have a fun summer after such a hard year."

As of June 10, 53% of Revere residents are fully vaccinated (32,453) and 64% of Revere residents (39,019) have at least one dose. The positivity rate has fallen below 1% for the first time since the pandemic started at 0.9%. Data has shown that when vaccination percentages increase, the weekly case numbers substantially decrease.

"While I am grateful that the city can take this next step towards normalcy, the fight against COVID is not over," said Dr. Nathalee Kong. "I urge everyone who has not yet been vaccinated to take advantage of the numerous mobile vaccine clinics available throughout the city and I urge every resident to remain vigilant about symptoms and to get tested at one of the many free testing sites in the city - together we can keep Revere safe and healthy!"

Testing continues to be a priority in the city – the two largest testing sites at Suffolk Downs and Revere High School will be open until the end of September and we encourage everyone to continue to get tested if they believe they have been exposed.

want to thank Mayor Brian Arrigo for giving me the opportunity to take this position and have the trust in me over the last three years to do it," said Rose. "We made a parking department that I know I'm proud of and whoever takes it over, I think they're walking into a department now that people respect."

Rose also thanked Revere Finance Director Richard Viscay for his partnership. "He was like a guardian angel guiding me through this whole process," said Rose. "He was a huge help."

He also applauded his colleagues in the Parking Department, "who are a tremendous asset."

"They came to work every day, worked hard, and we were all building the same program together," said Rose. "Without them, it totally would have been impossible."

Rose said his goal at the Parking Department – where he maintained an open-door policy for residents - was always "to help people."

"I'm sorry that I'm leaving but I think the time has come," said Rose. "I want to spend time with my wife, my grandchildren, and take some trips and do things that I used to do. I appreciate everybody being here and I can't say enough. This is quite the honor."

Traffic Commission approves special permits

By Journal Staff

The Revere Traffic Commission voted to grant healthcare workers special permits so they can park for free on certain city streets.

"For example, if a healthcare worker were coming to provide care to a resident at the Jack Satter House [on Revere Beach Boulevard], they would be given a special permit to park their vehicles," explained Commission Chair Paul Argenzio.

The DCR installed paid parking stations on Revere Beach Boulevard in May.

The Commission also moved to a public hearing in August a proposal for 24/7 residential parking in the Riverside neighborhood of Point of Pines. The Riverside neighborhood is located to the left of North Shore Road heading to Lynn. The Oceanside neighborhood, which has been granted 24/7 parking, is located to the right heading to Lynn.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

Councillor seeks surveillance camera for dog park in West Revere

The Revere City Council approved unanimously a motion by Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino and Council President Anthony Zambuto to install a surveillance camera at the West Revere Dog Park.

"Pretty straightforward," Serino told the Council. "There have been some questionable activities at the dog park whereby vehicles have been going there late at night. If we could use funds in the Dog Park Revolving Fund, I think it [surveillance camera] would be a good addition to keep that area safe."

RHS SPORTS THROUGH THE YEARS

RHS girls tennis coach Bob Lospennato has been named the Boston Globe's Coach of the Year. The RHS girls have compiled a 76-32 during his nine-year tenure and won EMass titles in 1983 and 1984.

30 years ago
June 17, 1981

Maria Lochiatto and Carla Maniscalco won their matches at second and third singles, but coach Ron Worden's RHS girls tennis team came up short by a 3-2 score to Archbishop Stang High in the state championship match. The Lady Patriots will have all of their team returning next year and should challenge once again for the state title.

Three local B.C. High grads were honored at their graduation ceremonies. Basketball co-capts. Paul Dawley and John Miller were cited for leading their team to a 24-3 record and a Catholic Conference title, finally losing to Pat Ewing's Cambridge team in the Division 1 state finals. Rich Sanchez, who led the B.C. High football team to a league title, also was honored. Dawley and Sanchez will attend Tufts and Miller will attend Assumption College.

Paul Maiorano, who smashed Dom Finelli's indoor school record in the 1000-yard run and who was 12-0 during the tennis season, was honored as the Revere Journal's Revere High Superstar Award winner.

Revere's new football stadium, constructed with federal funding as a WPA project, will be ready for football in September. The stadium will be dedicated in the season-opening game against Melrose on Sept. 19. The new stadium means that at long last the high school football team will be able to play its home games at home, than opponents' fields.

Carolina Bettero led the way for coach Racquel MacDonald's squad, scoring 20 of the Lady Patriots' 76 points with first-place finishes in four events, the 400 hurdles, the 100 high hurdles, the high jump, and the triple jump.

Jerelys Canales was a double-winner for Revere, capturing the 200 dash and the long jump. Jerelyn also scored three points with a second-place performance in the high jump for a total of 13 points on the day.

Other first-place finishers for the Lady Patriots were Rocio Gonzalez in the two-mile, Gianna Mahoney in the javelin, Carly Bennett in the mile, Isabella Cuartas in the 400 dash, and Alannah Burke in the 800.

Adding three points onto the Revere side of the scoresheet with a second-place finish was Alannah Burke in the long jump.

Contributing two points to the Revere cause with third-place finishes were Rocio Gonzales in her first-ever javelin throw, Tiffany Esteves in the 100 and 200 dashes, and Yasmin Riazi in the 400 dash.

MacDonald and her crew will take on Lynn Classical and Malden today (Wednesday) at Harry Della Russo Stadium. A few of the RHS girls also will be competing in the Division 1 North State championships on Thursday and Saturday.

LEE CLAIMS SINGLES WIN FOR RHS GIRLS TENNIS

Junior Sofia Lee won her match at third singles in straight sets, 6-1, 6-0, to provide the main highlight for the Revere girls' tennis team in its match with Medford last week.

With coach Carla Mansicalco and her squad having wrapped up their regular season, Revere will be participating in the Greater Boston League's individual tournament that will feature the top singles player and top doubles team from each GBL school.

Nada Abou Hadiba will represent Revere at first singles and the tandem of Meryem Charty and Kathy Trinh will take the court in the doubles competition.

The tournament is scheduled for today (Wednesday) at Tufts.

BALANCED ATTACK FOR RHS BOYS LACROSSE

Although the Revere High boys soccer team came up on the short end of a 12-9 decision to Somerville last week, the Patriots featured a balanced scoring attack.

Jarrod Natola led the RHS offense with three goals and two assists. Cam Correia scored two goals to go with an assist and Bruce Culleton reached the back of the Somerville net for a pair of goals.

Also chipping in with goals were Neilson Landaverde and Hamza Ouriour. Hamza also was credited with an assist.

"Although we lost, it is nice to see more players scoring each game since the beginning of our season," said RHS head coach Zach McDannell.

"We played well, but Malden is a very solid and experienced GBL team," said Flynn. "Our top singles player, Ashton Hoang, who is the second-best player in the GBL lost 0-6, 0-6 to one of the best players I have seen in my coaching career either in the NEC or GBL."

At #2 singles, Nafiz Islam played well and lost 3-6, 3-6 to an experienced Malden player. At #3 singles, Matthew Chianca played what Flynn termed "a great match" and lost to a good player 6-7 (3-7), 3-6.

RHS GIRLS LACROSSE DROPS CLOSE CONTEST

The Revere High girls lacrosse team celebrated Senior Night last week at which the six members of the Class of 2021 -- Mayerly Ortez, Nicole Marin, Jen Silva, Minnah Sheikh, Asmaa Omar, and Julianna DiCicco -- were honored before the game for their contributions to the girls lacrosse program.

Although the Lady Patriots dropped a heartbreaking 10-9 decision to Medford, in which the visiting Lady Mustangs scored the winning goal in the final seconds, RHS head coach Karen Atkinson was pleased with her team's effort.

"Our lack of overall experience was detrimental to us during this game," said Atkinson, "but I could not be prouder of the game itself. The girls played so well, with complete trust in one another.

"Six of our nine goals were assisted, which is a coach's dream," Atkinson added. "Jen Silva, our goalie, had 22 recorded saves for the game, which was huge for us."

Asmaa Omar led the Revere offense, scoring six goals, Julianna DiCicco scored one goal and had three assists, Angela Huynh added a goal, and Skyla DeSimone scored a goal and earned two assists.

"Along with the goal scorers, our defense did a tremendous job working together, and our attack helped with the transition to our offensive end," said Atkinson. "Clearly, the score wasn't the outcome we wanted, but the girls did well."

Earlier in the week Revere played Malden and dropped a 19-1 decision.

"We struggled during our Malden game to score," noted Atkinson. "The final was 19-1, but I genuinely believe the score does not depict how much Revere has improved over the past few weeks. The girls were working together to force dropped balls and rushed our opponent's passes, but we could not come up with the ground ball."

For Kids Only Afterschool announces summer programming

After a year filled with a wide array of challenges brought on by a global pandemic, For Kids Only Afterschool (FKO) is committed this summer to giving every child in Revere the chance to learn in a safe and fun environment. Beginning on June 28th, FKO will kick off their summer programming that will engage children in opportunities to learn and enjoy their summer while keeping them safe. FKO's goal this summer is to foster a sense of unity as staff take the kids on 'a journey around the world', learning about different cultures and global values.

Through new partnerships with Young Audiences of Massachusetts (YAMA) and Project Adventure, kids will experience a plentiful amount of enrichment projects and learning opportunities both on and off site. Once per week, YAMA will be coming to all sites to teach kids about different heritages and develop an appreciation for the cultures that make up our world through traditional and contemporary art forms. These performances will all take place on-site and outdoors whenever possible.

FKO is also thrilled to announce their partnership with Project Adventure in Beverly. On Monday each week, children will have the opportunity to travel to FKO's exclusive space on the campground and participate in exciting team-building activities and challenges led by experts, inclusive of climbing walls, rope courses and ziplines, all while remaining with their FKO groups to ensure that everyone remains safe and healthy.

The State Ethics Commission reportedly has been investigating the improper use of city email accounts and computers by city employees. The city solicitor has gone on record as sending to the Ethics Commission and to the Office of Campaign Finance more than a dozen political e-mails city employees apparently sent to other city employees on their city- owned computers during working hours. Revere police have recovered the statue of a little girl that had stood in front of the Revere Public Library for 10 years before it was stolen a few months ago. The statue was found in a dank garage on Yeamans Street that was littered with beer and soda cans and various vestiges from years past. When Revere Police Det. Doug Zingali cut the lock on the front of the little storage garage and shone a flashlight into the back, he discovered the statue, which had been shattered into many pieces, with only the head and feet intact. Shortly after locating the statue in the garage of 24 Yeamans St., police located a suspect on Reservoir Ave. and arrested Michael Vanvalkenberg, 46, who confessed to police that he stole the statue and planned to sell it for scrap. He said he had cut it up into numerous pieces with his saw and hoped to take those pieces to a scrap metal dealer. Vanvalkenberg has been charged with larceny of property over $250, vandalizing a religious or educational building, malicious destruction of property over $250, and illegal possession of a Class B drug subsequent offense.

The Revere Fire Department will be spared from this year's devastating budget cuts, which would have resulted in rolling station closures this coming budget year and a contingent whittled down to 92 firefighters – one of the lowest numbers in years. However, this week Fire Chief Gene Doherty said it looks like Revere will get a federal grant from the Department of Homeland Security to hire 12 firefighters for two years. That, he said, will bring the department back to104 firefighters.

A drastic reduction in the WPA quota for Revere will mean layoff notices for up to 200 local residents and the elimination of such projects as toy and furniture, which employs 100 men, and ladies' sewing, which employs 61 women. Some white collar management jobs also will be eliminated on smaller projects. However, the layoffs mean that the city's welfare rolls will increase.

Tankers have been diverted to England to help with that country's war effort and thus the usual amount of gasoline has not been coming to New England. Volunteers canvass Revere neighborhoods

Over the past few weeks, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health (DPH) field team focused efforts in Revere to spread information about the COVID-19 vaccine. Trained canvassers worked with local businesses as well as traveled door-to-door to answer questions and hand out information for residents to get vaccinated. These efforts are part of DPH's larger Vaccine Equity Initiative, which works with populations and communities that are disproportionately affected by COVID-19 to reduce barriers to vaccination, increase awareness of vaccine safety and efficacy, and ultimately increase vaccinations. Prioritizing vaccine outreach to these communities is key to ending the pandemic.

DPH's trained canvassers continued field operations on the ground. The team, comprised of Revere residents, traveled door-to-door to hand out flyers, hang doorknob knockers, and answered questions such as "When can I get the COVID-19 vaccine?" "How will I know it's my turn to get vaccinated?" and "Is vaccination safe?"

This focused grassroots outreach strategy is the product of a collaboration between DPH and Archipelago Strategies Group (ASG) and Health Care for All (HCFA), and is just one component of DPH's larger Vaccine Equity Initiative.

The initiative prioritizes 20 cities across the state that were identified as having been disproportionately impacted by COVID-19. These priority populations were determined using case data and the COVID-19 Community Impact Survey, which DPH conducted in the fall of 2020. To ensure the vaccine is accessible to our most disproportionately impacted populations, the Commonwealth prioritizes vaccines to each of the 20 municipalities every week, subject to program administration guidelines.

About Massachusetts Department of Public Health (DPH)

DPH promotes the health and well-being of all residents by ensuring access to high-quality public health and healthcare services, and by focusing on prevention, wellness, and health equity in all people.

VETERANS COMMITTEE SCHOLARSHIP WINNER

The Revere Veterans Committee was established to conduct a Veterans' Day ceremony for the City of Revere on behalf of the Veterans of Revere. The Committee was put together in 2003 with the total co-operation of Councillor Ira Novoselsky and Al Terminiello, Jr. The Committee is involved in helping the Veterans of Revere and their families.

Over the years the Committee has conducted the Revere Veterans Day program and BBQ's for Revere residents at the Concerts on the Legion Lawn to raise funds for RHS Students of Veterans families. RHS scholarships have been presented to RHS students who are members of the RHS JROTC program.

PCSS hold graduation exercises

Pioneer Charter School Of Science (PCSS) I in Everett and PCSS II in Saugus celebrated the schools graduating classes last Thursday evening in a combined ceremony at Rivergreen Park in Everett. Under threatening skies, but luckily just a passing light shower, the 103 seniors (53 from PCSS I and 50 from PCSS II) celebrated their collective journey through academic challenges, social growth and a worldwide pandemic that interrupted their junior and seniors years - and looked ahead to the next chapter in their lives.

Nearly every student is off to college, earning more than $9 million in scholarships and grants.

The class of 2021 received more acceptances to Ivy League Schools than any other class in the school's history. Some students will stay in New England, with a few matriculating to institutions like Brandeis, Dartmouth, Boston University and Northeastern, while others will travel all over the country to attend Stanford, UPenn and Cornell.

Melissa Gonzalez, of Revere, was PCSS I Valedictorian, and will be headed to Dartmouth to study biological sciences. Norah Asemota, of Lynn, was PCSS II Valedictorian, and will be majoring in finance at Stanford University. Harman Singh, of Everett, was PCSS I Salutatorian, and expects to attend Wentworth Institute of Technology to study computer engineering, and Misato Chinchilla, of Lynn, was PCSS II Salutatorian, and will go on to Cornell University to study atmospheric sciences.

"The Class of 2021 has been tested on so many levels, they are ready for the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead," said Barish Icin, PCSS Chief Executive Officer. "We are proud of their resiliency and of all they have accomplished in their time at PCSS. We have high expectations for them as they continue on the road to college and careers. "

Melissa Gonzalez of Revere was PCSS I Valedictorian and will be headed to Dartmouth to study biological sciences.

The ceremonies also highlighted the school's diversity. The graduating class has ties to a dozen countries and 75% are students of color; 64% of them have a second home language.

Dr. Lynette Tannis, an adjunct lecturer at the Harvard Graduate School of Education, delivered an inspirational commencement address. She is the author of Educating Incarcerated Youth: Exploring the Impact of Relationships, Expectations, Resources and Accountability and is recognized as a juvenile justice education expert and an expert on school leadership and literacy. Her work as an adjunct lecturer, researcher, and independent education consultant focuses on ensuring all children — free or incarcerated — receive the free high-quality public education they deserve.

The ceremony marked the end of a tumultuous year due to COVID-19, but also provided reasons to celebrate the school's achievements. PCSS I and II were featured by U.S. News and World Report in its annual 'Best High Schools' ranking. PCSS I ranked 17th in Massachusetts among 365 high schools and PCSS II ranked 4th. PCSS II was also recognized as one of the top 200 high schools in the nation.

PCSS II was selected as the winner of the prestigious Pozen Prize for Innovative Schools by the Boston Foundation. The award recognizes sustained academic excellence and innovation.

PCSS's curriculum focuses on developing strong math and science skills and many of the graduates plan to pursue careers in math and science. The students must pass 5 math and 5 science classes in order to graduate. Students must also complete 40 hours of community service. The school has a 195-day school calendar, extended days (7:30 a.m. - 3:35 p.m.), tutoring until 4:30, and voluntary Saturday classes for students who need extra help. MCAS scores have consistently shown PCSS students surpassing both state and district averages in all subjects and grades.

PCSS I, located in Everett, serves students in Grades PreK-12 from several communities North of Boston, including Everett, Chelsea, Lynn, Revere, Malden and Medford.
