RBC RECOGNIZES FIRST BEAUTIFUL HOME OF 2021

In a return to normalcy after the long pandemic, the Revere Beautification Committee (RBC) has recognized this year's first "Beautiful Home".

The recipient of this award is Mr. and Mrs. Juan Santos of Ford Street. The Santos family has created a lovely front space with very little grass by the clever use of a multitude of flowers. As one walks into the front area (which is their parking spot), the fence along the side of the property is lined with attractive benches separated by pots of colorful geraniums and petunias. On the opposite side of the area, rose bushes, rhododendron bushes, and yellow and orange lilies flank the fence leading to the front of the house. The front of the house contains pots of flowers (impatiens, geraniums, dahlias) and hanging baskets of geraniums creating a warm and welcoming area.

All of the yard work is done by Mr. and Mrs. Santos who plan to beautify the rear of their property in the future. The RBC congratulates the Santos family and encourages all residents to beautify their property as they have done.

Traffic Commission will hold hearing for healthcare workers' parking

By Cary Shuman

The Revere Traffic Commission voted at its May 27 meeting to hold a public hearing on the issue of granting special parking permits for healthcare workers who assist seniors at residences such as the Jack Satter House on Revere Beach Boulevard.

The move for a public hearing on the issue follows a May 22 protest that was held near the Satter House regarding the DCR's decision to implement a parking meter program along Revere Beach Boulevard.

Traffic Commission Chair Paul Argenzio said the hearing will be held later this month at the Council Chambers in City Hall. The Commission is transitioning from Zoom remote meetings to in-person meetings at City Hall and is reaching out for available meeting dates in the Council Chambers.

The other major item on the agenda was the launching of 24-hour resident parking in the Oak Island neighborhood that is located near Kelly's Roast Beef.

"Residents of Oak Island will be granted 24-hour parking on their streets," said Argenzio, adding that the reason for the change is that many beachgoers would be seeking parking spaces in Oak Island as a way of avoiding the parking meters ($1.25 per hour) on Revere Beach Boulevard.

and a public lobby. Commission chairman Michael Tucker said the motion speaks for itself and noted that Ward 5 Councilor John Powers sent an email in support of the project.

The full motion that the ZBA approved is as follows:

The City of Revere, Massachusetts, 281 Broadway, is requesting the following variances of the Revised Ordinances of the City of Revere to enable the appellant to raze the existing fire station and construct a new fire station at 140 Lynnway, Revere, MA 02151:

A new fire station at the Point of Pines may have cleared its last obstacle. The commission unanimously voted to approve several variances to allow the project to move forward.

Dana Weeder, the architect for the project, noted that in addition to housing a full fire station, the building also will offer about 800 square feet for the community that would include a community room with a capacity of 40 to 50 people, three bathrooms,

City Council discusses urban farming and beekeeping ordinances

By Cary Shuman

The City Council discussed urban farming and beekeeping ordinances at a May 24 public hearing. Dimple Rana, director of community engagement for the City of Revere, opened the forum by elaborating on the goals of Revere on the Move, stating that the agency “aims to ensure that everyone in Revere has access to healthy foods.”

“Over the past ten years, Revere on the Move has developed resident-leadership capacity and resident-led programming to guide the development of the urban farming ordinance,” Rana told the Council.

“The urban farming ordinance was created to increase access to fresh, locally grown wholesome foods for and by residents of Revere.”

Rana said an urban farming ordinance would encourage home gardeners, commercial businesses, and non-profits to grow their own food. She also noted that the Revere Farmer’s Market will begin its seventh season in July and that a beehive pilot program in which Revere will begin to produce, market and sell honey, generating revenue for the city.

“Revere residents have long asked for additional community gardens, urban farms, chickens, bees, and more,” said Rana. “I support this ordinance and moving it forward.”

Damian DeMarco, a lifelong Revere resident and Revere schoolteacher for 20 years, spoke in support of the urban farming initiative. “Five years ago I attended bee school with the Boston Area Beekeepers Association and I became a beekeeper,” related DeMarco. “For the last three years, I’ve been managing the beehives in the Point of Pines as the beekeeper for the garden.”

DeMarco, who is studying at Cornell to become a master beekeeper, said he is an advocate for organic urban beekeeping and maintaining backyard hives. “I do support the city effort to bring bees to their urban farming initiative.”

Viviana Catano, program manager at Revere Cares, said she also supports the initiative.

“I am here to speak as a proponent of the urban farming ordinance and I am very excited that the city has put forward this ordinance that will allow more people to have access to fresh, healthier foods,” Catano told the Council.

Amanda Gibson, a resident of Broadstreet Avenue, said she and her husband are “proponents of the Revere urban farming ordinance.”

“The ordinance promotes healthy communities, increases access to healthy food and education regarding healthy eating as well as exercise, and helps understand where our food comes from and we can connect with people in our community,” said Gibson.

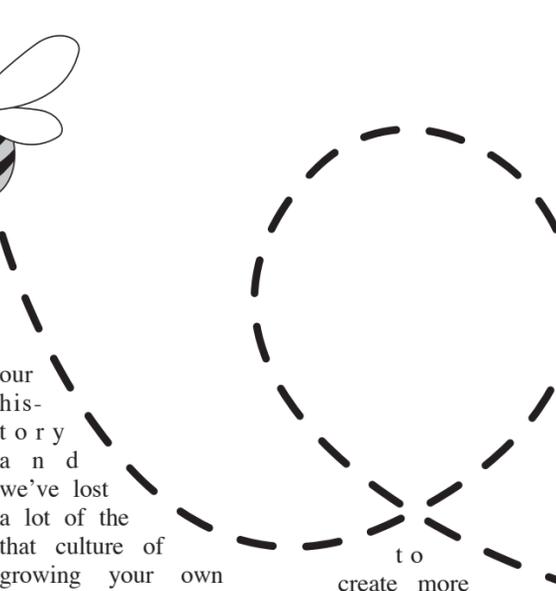

“It reduces our carbon footprint by reducing transportation and production costs,” she continued. “It increases the strength of our local economy with more dollars staying local and contributing to the betterment of Revere’s economy, and increasing local workforce and opportunities.”

Gibson cited the immediate success of the newly opened community garden in Beachmont.

“You can already see the garden drawing happy people who are coming together and connecting in a safe way after a really tough year of COVID-19. The community garden is boosting spirits and brings hope for a bright future. Please consider joining us in support of this important cause,” said Gibson.

Councillor-at-Large Jessica Giannino said, “I’m so excited that this is finally coming before the City Council. This is something that we have been talking about for quite a long time, and quite frankly it’s our history. Revere started as a farming community. There was Roland’s Greenhouses and my family’s [Giannino’s] Greenhouse and that’s really where our roots are. And I think that since the city has become more urban and more developed, we’ve lost a lot of our history and we’ve lost a lot of the that culture of growing your own food and knowing where your food comes from. I think this is phenomenal ordinance and it should have been done a while ago.”

Stating that the ordinance was “a little bit overdue,” Ward 4 Councillor Patrick Keefe, culinary director at Legal Sea Foods, expressed his full support. “Putting an emphasis on healthy community and healthy lifestyles really should be a model for the City of Revere,” said Keefe.

to create more farming for our community.”

City Councillors Joanne McKenna, Steven Morabito, and Richard Serino also expressed support of enacting the ordinance.

Mary Gandolfo of Washington Avenue, said she would like to see urban farming “done only on a small scale.” “I wouldn’t want a big farm or a chicken coop next to me,” she said. “I think it should be for families, not for commercial sales. I also don’t want to see marijuana grown.”

City Council President Anthony Zambuto directed the matter to the Zoning Sub-committee for further discussion.

and airmen of the Massachusetts National Guard returned home from a 10-week public safety support mission in Washington, D.C. The deployment fell under Governor Charlie Baker’s Jan. 25 activation order, which made up to 700 Massachusetts National Guard personnel available to augment the security and logistics capabilities of various agencies in the region. With the Governor’s consent, these service women and men undertook this second phase of the federally funded mission.

On Friday, May 14, Governor Baker had the chance to meet, address, and thank members of the Guard for their continued service while he was in Washington D.C. for a series of meetings with federal authorities.

Although the Massachusetts National Guard remains ready to assist when called, there are no current plans to deploy further personnel to support public safety in Washington, D.C., and all Guard personnel associated with this mission have returned to their home stations.

BAKER-POLITO ADMINISTRATION RECOGNIZES MEMORIAL DAY WITH VIDEO TRIBUTE

The Baker-Polito Administration on Monday recognized Memorial Day with a virtual tribute honoring our fallen military heroes and their families. The video released highlights Governor Charlie Baker’s remarks at the Massachusetts Military Heroes Fund’s Flag Garden on Boston Common, and a recent visit by Governor Baker and Lt. Governor Karyn Polito to the Massachusetts State Veterans’ Cemetery in Agawam.

The video is available at www.mass.gov/MemorialDay.

Governor Baker’s Remarks: “Now most of the re-ipients of that very special class [Medal of Honor recipients] don’t usually make it back.

And there are plenty of examples of that represented by many of the flags that are behind us today.

And as one of these people who’s had a chance to spend a big part of my professional career serving in public office at the local and state level, I am acutely aware that it’s the sacrifices and the generosity of spirit, and the courage, of those who serve – and their families – who make it possible for our democracy to continue to operate on behalf of the people that we all serve.

The debt that’s paid by the flags here and the folks they represent can never be repaid.

But the one thing I have heard time and time again from Gold Star Families in my conversations with them over the years, is ‘Through the tragedy, I hope you never forget, and you always take time to honor and remember, those who have made possible through their sacrifices, all that we hold dear here in Massachusetts and across the country.’”

LGBTQ PRIDE FLAG-RAISING CEREMONY JUNE 7 AT CITY HALL

The City of Revere will hold an LGBTQ Pride flag-raising ceremony on Monday, June 7 at 5 p.m. in front of Revere City Hall.

Councillor-at-Large Steven Morabito said the month of June is LGBTQ Pride Month and Monday’s event will be Revere’s second annual flag-raising ceremony.

Mayor Brian Arrigo will preside over the ceremony. Morabito will be one of the speakers during the program.

The LGBTQ flag will be displayed on the City Hall flagpole through the month of June.

BOSTON GLORY TO HAVE FULL CAPACITY AT HOME GAMES

In accordance with state and local guidelines, Boston Glory will have full capacity at Hormel Stadium. Boston Glory is a professional ultimate team and member of the 22-team AUDL (American Ultimate Disc League). Featuring men’s players from across New England, the team is poised to begin its inaugural season.

“This is what it is all about,” team owner Peter Coltery said. “Going through this past winter and spring without the guarantee of fans in the building was tough, we’re so excited to be able to share our product. We’re going to create a really fun environment for fans of all ages. With an incredible product on the field, we’re excited to get the stands packed. Even if you’re not too familiar with ultimate, we’re confident you’ll fall in love after a couple hours at Hormel.”

The AUDL has been gaining popularity across the country since 2012. Boston Glory’s season will begin in Pittsburgh on June 5. Glory will make their home debut at Hormel Stadium in Medford on June 11 against Atlanta. Tickets are available now on the team website at <https://theaudl.com/glory>.

GRANT FOR THE FUTURE OF WORK PROGRAM AVAILABLE

The Baker-Polito Administration and MassDevelopment have announced up to $1 million in funding for the sixth round of the Collaborative Workspace Program, a MassDevelopment program that accelerates business formation, job creation, and entrepreneurial activity in communities by supporting infrastructure that fuels locally based innovation.

Eligible organizations may apply for seed grants of up to $15,000 to study the feasibility of new collaborative workspaces or fit-out grants of up to $100,000 for new equipment or building improvements, including adjustments to help spaces adhere to the social distancing and health and safety standards outlined in the Commonwealth’s sector-specific COVID-19 Workplace Safety Standards.

“The COVID-19 pandemic has changed the outlook for what it means to be ‘at work’ for many people, with Massachusetts’ vast network of co-working spaces offering another avenue for working, creating, and collaborating,” said Housing and Economic Development Secretary Mike Kennealy, who serves as chair of MassDevelopment’s Board of Directors. “Through MassDevelopment’s Collaborative Workspace Program, our administration is pleased to offer coworking spaces the resources they need to grow their membership, expand offerings, and make adjustments to keep members safe.”

Since its pilot launch, and through the first five rounds of grants, the Collaborative Workspace Program has made 164 awards totaling $9,842,041 for the planning, development, and build-out of collaborative workspaces.

The full Request for Proposals is available at massdevelopment.com/cowork. Responses are due by 5 p.m. on July 2.

Bill to honor veterans lost to service-related illness filed

Staff report

The Baker-Polito Administration has re-filed legislation to establish the Massachusetts Medal of Fidelity, which will be presented by the Massachusetts National Guard to the families of veterans who lost their lives to service-related illnesses and injuries.

“The Medal of Fidelity is an important opportunity to honor the brave men and women and their families who have served not just the Commonwealth, but the nation,” said Governor Charlie Baker. “Service-related injuries and illnesses can persist long past service, and our administration is proud to offer legislation that, if passed, will demonstrate our gratitude for the sacrifices of our veterans and their loved ones.”

The bill, entitled “An Act Relative to Establishing the Massachusetts Medal of Fidelity,” will authorize the Commonwealth to award the Medal of Fidelity to the next-of-kin of Massachusetts service members who “died as the result of service-connected diseases, conditions or injuries that are related to either exposure to harmful toxins, herbicides, agents, and materials or service-related post-traumatic stress disorder.”

Complementing the Medal of Liberty, which is presented to the families of Massachusetts veterans who die of combat-related physical injuries, the Medal of Fidelity will recognize service-connected injuries related to exposure to harmful substances, such as Agent Orange, as well as death attributed to service-related mental illness.

“The brave men and women who serve in the military suffer visible and invisible trauma. Massachusetts is a leader in providing benefits and services to veterans, and helping veterans access mental health and other services,” said Secretary of Veterans’ Services Cheryl Lussier Poppe. “We can never express enough gratitude for those who have served, but we can take every opportunity to honor and pay our respects to those who give so much to us, and their families.”

The bill will also authorize a commission to make Medal of Fidelity award recommendations to the Governor. The commission will be composed of The Adjutant General of the Massachusetts National Guard and two field grade officers of the armed forces of the Commonwealth.

“There is no doubt that Margo has been a big part in the success of this particular project,” added Baker.

The Little Free Libraries were closed for a short time during the COVID-19 pandemic but they are now operating at full operations and ready for a busy summer.

“I just want to thank all the volunteers who contribute to this project in areas such as repairs,” said Johnson, also the owner of Doc’s Nuthouse Plus, a maker of delicious food items. “If it weren’t for them, I couldn’t do it.”

Margo Johnson’s initial involvement in reading projects began in Chelsea, where she worked for many years. She started organizing events through the Reach Out and Read Program and continued her community service in the Raising A Reader Program.

Fifteen years ago Johnson founded “Chelsea Reads Family Literacy Day” which is held annually at the Chelsea Public Library. The event has grown steadily to 1,000 participants, becoming one of the Chelsea’s largest youth educational events. Johnson presents a souvenir backpack filled with books to each participant.

“Hopefully I’m going to start a “Revere Reads” event which Elle thinks is a great idea,” said Johnson.

Both Johnson and Baker credit Revere Mayor Brian Arrigo for his tremendous support from the outset of the venture. Johnson said that Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino has also been very supportive of the LFL’s program.

Said Baker, “I really just want to say thank you to Margo for all of her hard work throughout the years. She’s been very motivated and inspirational to keep everyone on task of keeping these Little Libraries maintained and full of books for everyone to access.”

The commissioners also unanimously approved a request from Bouchra Saouab to add a second floor to his house at 20 Hasey St. Saouab noted that his family has five members and he needs to add more bedrooms to his house.

In another matter before the board, minor changes to an already-approved project at 191 Shirley Ave. unanimously were approved. Some of the new modifications include adding more than four feet in height to the building to accommodate keeping a significant architectural detail of a brick wall of the building on North Shore Road.

“The owner needs the additional height to keep part of the old building,” said Ward 2 Councilor Ira Novoselsky.

Other changes to the original plan approved by the board included reducing the number of parking spaces for trash and transformer use, as well as a handicapped use. Atty. Kari Ann Greene, who represented the owner, Craig Halijian, said that the modifications would not include any additional rental units in the project.

The commissioners unanimously approved the requests, but also reaffirmed the restrictions in the existing site plan findings, including the provision that since this is a transit-oriented project, no on-street parking permits may be granted to tenants living at this address.

In the final matter before the board, after a lengthy hearing that took up more than half of the meeting, the commissioners voted to continue the hearing on the appeal by JEK Enterprises, 7 Franklin Street, from the decision of the Building Inspector regarding the determination as to the current use of 7 Franklin Street, as set forth in the Order to Correct issued by the Building Inspector on January 19, 2021.

The order states in pertinent part: “Neither the NB (Neighborhood Business) zone nor any asserted grandfathered-use of the property supports any of the structures or premises being utilized for a 24/7 business operation, particularly with the movement of, and noise generated from, large vehicles and construction material.”

During the hearing, it was noted that JEK has been operating at this address for more than three years.

Council President Anthony Zambuto spoke in favor of continuing the hearing because of the arrival of numerous documents that the board recently had received. He urged the board “to let the process finish out.”

Ward 6 Councilor Richard Serino wanted a vote “tonight,” noting that this issue has been on-going for three months.

Chairman Tucker acknowledged that a lot of new evidence has been received by the board in the last 32 hours and that one commissioner had yet to receive all of the material.

“I hope things can be ironed-out between the lawyers and the city before the next meeting,” Tucker said in support of the motion to continue the hearing.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 2021

Graduation Day is one of the few occasions that brings a smile to the faces of everyone in a community, regardless of whether they have a personal connection to a graduate. It is an occasion when all of us share in the joy -- and pride -- that graduation day marks in the lives of our young people. For older folks, graduation day recalls a time when we too, were young and our entire future lay in front of us.

Graduation day marks a bittersweet moment for parents, friends, family, and teachers, as well for the grads themselves. As befits every turning point in our lives, it is a time of mixed emotions of joy, sadness, and reflection. Although the graduates and those close to them are looking forward to the exciting future that lies before them, they also will be looking back on the passing of their carefree youth and the experiences that have shaped their lives to this point.

The young women and men who will be receiving their diplomas no longer are considered "youths" in the eyes of the world. They are full-fledged adults who have been deemed ready to assume all of the rights -- and responsibilities -- that adulthood implies.

The graduates, most of whom have turned 18, can vote, run for public office, enter into contracts, be tried fully as adults in the criminal justice system, and fight and die for their country.

For the parents of the grads, watching their "little boy or girl" proceed to the podium to receive his or her diploma will be a poignant moment. No doubt every parent will be thinking of the sentiments expressed in the song, Sunrise, Sunset, from Fiddler On The Roof:

Is this the little girl I carried?
Is this the little boy at play?
I don't remember growing older
When - did - they?
When did she get to be a beauty?
When did he grow to be so tall?
Wasn't it yesterday when they - were - small?

Although economists these days tell us that the value of a high school diploma is not what it was a generation or more ago, the graduates should keep in mind, as they contemplate venturing out into an uncertain world, that their mere presence on the podium has proven that they have the ability and the determination to achieve whatever goals they may set for themselves.

We recently came across a news item that appeared in the Winthrop Sun on June 24, 1898. The article, which reprinted the Class Ode for the Winthrop High Class of 1898, is as timely today as it was 123 years ago, and sums up the feelings of all of us on Graduation Day.

The years pass by in swift array
We cannot check their onward flight;
The moments that were ours today,
Have passed forever from our sight.

Yet while the course of life moves by
We too, must never lag behind;
But work and strive as best we may
To aid and benefit all mankind.

This we must do, or soon too late
We think in sadness of our loss,
For "Each is Master of his Fate,"
Though some must bear a heavy cross.

And when the race of life is run,
This life that holds so much for each
Shall come the gentle words, "Well done!"
As we at last the goal have reached.

MEMORIES OF REVERE BEACH

Dear Editor:

Her porcelain face and pink stained cheeks a fixture on my dresser—Betty. Her spidery dark lashes awning her blue glass eyes one stuck, half shut. Her new gown is lovely.

Mom's friend made it, replacing the tired tea-stained one she'd worn for years.

The charred remains of the Cyclone disappeared a few years ago—the last of it all.

The past, both the beaches and theirs, is but an imprint, except for Betty—she was there.

I don't remember that beach, the one with rides, games, and Betty's. Mom and Dad do. It's that beach; Dad let Mom win at ball toss, the game he worked—she won Betty, and he won her.

Hundreds of rising tides, sunrises, and sunsets pass; things change—they do.

The waves wash away the footprints of old, and they disappear in the sand. New ones come for the experience of salty air and calls of gulls. The sands of the little silver moon.

LETTER to the Editor

On the porch across from the wall, I sit, waiting for my turn. With heart and hair ready to sit with them—the ones on the other side.

They came in every color, the cars, supped up and bass booming, on display for the parade.

Gold chains and hoops, with hair to the heavens, they marched, the new Betty's—to attract, to matter, for all to see.

I understood. I soon marched with them—sharp and cool.

Changing faces and changing moons, the tide washed it away. The Betty's; parades, games, and rides. New Betty's, new people—time.

The first swim of the season is always icy and cold. Mom walks down the sand to the water she visits every year. Dad's path washed away in the waves. Betty's eyes stay closed now. Her new dress—stained and tired like her.

A sea of new faces comes to the sea that's ours until the waves wash us away: all to enjoy the experience of the crescent sandy shores--our little silver moon.

REVERE Through the Years

For the first time in a long time, MWRA rates for Revere have dropped overall by nearly two percent (1.7 percent to be exact). However, due to salaries and expenses within the local Water and Sewer Enterprise Fund, rates are expected to rise about 3.5 percent in the coming fiscal year which starts on July 1. Mayor Tom Ambrosino said that MWRA rates went down because they began using the official U.S. Census population number to set rates, rather than an estimate that was previously used and is much larger. However, all of those savings were wiped out by a nearly five percent increase in the cost of running the local Enterprise Fund caused by employee salaries and expenses. However, the 3.5 percent increase is far better than last year, when residential rates increased by 14.5 percent and commercial rates were up by 17.5 percent.

Using Revere as a model, State Attorney General Martha Coakley has teamed up with Mayor Tom Ambrosino, Chelsea Restoration, and the Mass. Bankers Association to work out a receivership program to rehabilitate homes that are abandoned and unwanted. Last week, a cadre of officials converged on a home at 60-62 Agawam St. that had become abandoned when the owner walked away and the bank failed to take responsibility for the loan or the upkeep. It was literally a property in limbo and it was falling apart fast and becoming a blight on the close-knit neighborhood near Wonderland Station. Speaking from the kitchen of the fully rehabilitated property, Coakley said that such programs could be key to the ultimate turnaround of the entire state economy.

Revere voters gave a resounding "No" vote to all 14 menu items on the Prop. 2 and 1/2 override referendum Tuesday. The closest vote was question three, which would have raised tax revenue by $1.425 million for the fire department, with voters rejecting it by a vote of 6687-4517. Otherwise, all of the other menu items, for departments ranging from the schools to police to veterans affairs, overwhelmingly were turned down by margins ranging from 4-1 to 8-1. City officials now must deal with the reality of a tight budget that will involve layoffs in every city department, the closing of fire stations, and the elimination of city services.

Two Revere men were murdered in separate incidents this weekend. Residents were horrified by the brutal beating death of Michael Guarino, 22, by a group of 20-30 Asian young men who struck him with metal bars and stabbed him with knives. # Baker terminating state of emergency effective June 15

Staff report

On Friday afternoon, Governor Charlie Baker joined Lt. Governor Karyn Polito, Secretary of Housing and Economic Development Mike Kennealy and Secretary of Health and Human Services Marylou Sudders to sign an Executive Order terminating the Commonwealth's State of Emergency effective June 15, 2021.

The Order also rescinded most COVID-19 restrictions, including limitations placed on businesses, which went into effect on Saturday, May 29 as Massachusetts nears the goal of vaccinating four million residents. This week, the Commonwealth passed the 3.5 million mark for fully vaccinated residents.

"Today marks an important milestone in our fight against COVID-19 here in the Commonwealth," said Governor Baker. "Over the last 15 months, the residents of Massachusetts have shown an incredible amount of strength and resiliency, and we are pleased to take this step forward towards a return to normal."

Effective May 29, all industries were permitted to open. With the exception of remaining face-covering requirements for masks in public and private transportation systems, hospitals and other facilities housing vulnerable populations, all industry restrictions will be lifted at that time, and capacity will increase to 100 percent for all industries. All gathering limits were also rescinded.

To continue certain public health requirements, like requiring face coverings in certain settings, to remain effective past June 15, Governor Baker today issued a modified declaration of a public health emergency under the public health statute.

Under this order, the Executive Office of Health and Human Services and the Department of Public Health will be proposing to the Public Health Council the continuation of some public health orders in the coming weeks to maintain flexibilities and policies for vaccination, testing and other critical operations.

Earlier this week, Governor Baker filed legislation to extend certain emergency measures currently in place via executive orders that are set to expire on June 15 with the end of the State of Emergency. The bill would extend measures providing for a temporary suspension of certain open meeting law requirements, special permits for expanded outside dining at restaurants, and surprise billing protections for COVID-19 patients.

Gov. Charlie Baker signs the executive order lifting the restrictions imposed on the Commonwealth due to COVID-19.

Construction manager chosen for new Northeast Metro Tech vocational school

Staff report

Superintendent David DiBarri and the Northeast Metro Tech Building Committee are pleased to share that Gilbane Building Company has been hired as the project's construction manager at-risk (CMR).

Designed by architect Drumme Rosane Anderson with PMA Consultants serving as the owner's project manager, the new school will be a state-of-the-art facility and will allow Northeast to grow its enrollment from 1,270 students to 1,600 -- a 26% increase.

The increase in available seats is expected to dramatically shorten the district's annual waitlist, which on average totals approximately 400 students.

The District is wrapping up the Schematic Design phase, through which details of the design and cost estimates are being finalized. The Schematic Design Report is slated to be submitted to the Massachusetts School Building Authority (MSBA), a state agency that supports the funding of capital improvement projects in the Commonwealth's public schools, for consideration in July.

Headquartered in Rhode Island with a local office in Boston, Gilbane has been providing construction management services for Massachusetts projects since 1946. Gilbane has extensive experience with large-scale and vocational K-12 school projects including Quincy Comprehensive High School in Quincy, Minuteman Regional High School in Lexington and Essex North Shore Agricultural and Technical School in Danvers.

"Hiring a construction manager is a significant step forward in the Northeast Metro Tech building project," Superintendent DiBarri said. "With Gilbane on board, we can now begin to move forward with the fine-tuning of our Schematic Design drawings and cost estimate to build the project. We look forward to sharing these details as they are finalized with our communities in the coming weeks and months through forums, events and regular updates."

"We're incredibly excited to be a part of the NEMT project team. Having worked with both PMA and DRA in the past on similar successful projects, we're confident we can work together through the next phases of design and construction to build a contemporary school the NEMT district communities will be proud of for years to come," said Mike O'Brien, senior vice president and MA business unit leader for Gilbane.

The building project is estimated to cost $317.5 million, and the MSBA will contribute between $110-1140 million in grant funding to support the project, a total which will be finalized in August. Northeast's 12 sending communities will be responsible for the remainder of the project costs. Tax impact information for all 12 communities will be available this summer, and voters will have the opportunity to vote on the project this fall.

The new NEMT High School will address the current facility's outdated building systems, including much-needed ADA accessibility and code compliance upgrades, in addition to overcrowding. The new school will feature 21st-century learning environments, improved Individualized Education Program (IEP) accommodations, state-of-the-art shop space, expanded program offerings, a new primary access roadway from Farm Street to reduce traffic congestion, a full-size gym, a 750-seat auditorium, outdoor space for learning and a new cafeteria. With a focus on sustainability, the project is targeting LEED Silver+ certification with energy-efficient mechanical systems, provisions for solar panels, and vegetated roofs. The compact, four-story design will feature an upper-level courtyard, roof decks, and a double-height library rotunda.

This project is made possible by the Massachusetts School Building Authority (MSBA), a state agency that supports the funding of capital improvement projects in the Commonwealth's public schools. NEMT was selected from hundreds of applicants as qualified for receiving grant support to launch a feasibility study, a process that revealed building a new school is the most economical and educationally appropriate option in addressing the current NEMT facility deficiencies.

Arrigo credits faith leaders for their efforts during COVID-19

By Cary Shuman

Mayor Brian Arrigo thanked leaders in Revere's religious community for their efforts and partnerships during the COVID-19 pandemic as part of his opening remarks at a Revere Interfaith Prayer Event broadcast live May 27 on Revere TV.

Arrigo said for the past 18 months faith leaders of all congregations in the city were invited to monthly meetings with him and the city's emergency response staff.

"We have learned a lot from each other and we've created lasting connections throughout our entire city," said Arrigo. "I am extremely proud of the work that we have done over the last year, but it could not have been done without the faith leaders of Revere and their ability to share resources with thousands of our community members."

Arrigo expressed optimism for the future as residents receive their COVID-19 vaccinations. "The vaccine has given us so much hope and for that I am truly, truly thankful," said the mayor. "The work that we've done in furthering relationships with the faith leaders in our city is apparent and it's apparent in tonight's event. This is a moment to reflect on the year and pray with our community for a safe transition to summer," concluded Arrigo.

Dr. Derya Honca, of the Association of Islamic Charitable Projects (AICP), also spoke at the Interfaith Event, delivering an inspiring message of unity and hope for peace in the world.

"Let us hold this event that expresses our community solidarity in the face of the COVID pandemic and all the stresses and problems that have come along with it," said Dr. Honca. "Let us achieve the strengths that come with solidarity by speaking with one voice. Let us dwell on what unites us and speak only in ways that will benefit all of us. COVID may prove to have had blessings interwoven among its many calamities if we can recognize these lessons in common humanity and apply them in other areas of our public and private lives."

Rabbi Lior Nevo, Chaplain at the Jack Satter House, expressed the hope that people "will continue to come together both in times of joy and in times of sorrow to beautify our world."

Also delivering remarks at the Interfaith Event were the Rev. John Sheridan of St. Mary of the Assumption Parish, Revere, Tarek Abdulla of AICP, and Imam Abraham Sayar, Chaplain at Boston Children's Hospital.

I'm Free

*Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free
I'm following the path God laid for me.
I took God's hand when I heard the call;
I turned my back and left it all.
I could not stay another day, to laugh,
to love, to work or play.
Tasks left undone must stay that way.
I found that place at close of day.
If my parting has left a void,
Then fill it with remembered joy.
A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss.
Ah yes, these things too, I will miss.
Be not burdened with times of sorrow;
I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow.
My life's been full, I've savored much, good friends, good times, a loved one's touch.
Perhaps my time seemed all too brief,
Don't lengthen it now with undue grief.
Lift up your heart and share with me
God wanted me now, God set me free.*

Marijuana delivery license available to qualifying applicants

Staff report

The Cannabis Control Commission (Commission) is pleased to announce that Certified Economic Empowerment Applicants and Social Equity Program Participants can now apply for pre-certification and licensure for a second delivery license type—Marijuana Delivery Operator licenses—through the Massachusetts Cannabis Industry Portal (MassCIP). The availability of the Marijuana Delivery Operator license is a major development to the agency's ongoing commitment to ensure meaningful participation in the legal industry by individuals who have been disproportionately impacted by previous marijuana prohibition, as well as efforts to combat unregulated cannabis delivery happening throughout the Commonwealth.

"I applaud the Commissioners, staff, and members of the public who envisioned this license type and worked hard to streamline the application and make it as accessible as possible," said Commission Executive Director Shawn Collins. "Our delivery policies and procedures will only bolster Massachusetts' reputation as a role model for states looking to incorporate equity into cannabis legalization and ensure public safety."

As it launches the Marijuana Delivery Operator application in MassCIP, the Commission is also assisting applicants by publishing a Delivery Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) document that helps applicants and the public navigate the submission and review process. Massachusetts residents can locate the FAQ by visiting MassCannabisControl.com and following the "Applicants and Licensee" constituent pathway to "Adult-Use Licensees/Frequently Asked Questions" or looking under "Public Documents."

After opening up pre-certification and license applications for the Marijuana Courier (formerly known as Delivery-Only) businesses last May, the Commission approved the creation of Marijuana Delivery Operator licenses during its 2020 regulatory review process. Qualifying Microbusinesses also can offer delivery service upon receiving a Delivery Endorsement from the Commission.

For a minimum of three years, the Commission's delivery license types are exclusively available to businesses controlled by, and with majority ownership comprised of, Certified Economic Empowerment Priority Applicants or Social Equity Program Participants. Under the Commission's regulations, the exclusivity period begins the date the first Marijuana Delivery Operator receives a notice to commence operations.

Marijuana Delivery Operator licenses, which were created in direct response to a robust public hearing and public comment process in 2020, enable businesses to wholesale finished marijuana products from Marijuana Cultivators and Marijuana Product Manufacturers, white-label, or affix the branding name and/or logo of a Marijuana Establishment, and sell those products directly to consumers, among other functions. Along with the Commission's typical testing, packaging, and labeling safeguards, licensees will be required to comply with stringent public safety regulations to warehouse inventory, as well as other protections such as a minimum of two Marijuana Establishment Agents in any vehicle that undertakes delivery service, and the use of body cameras when carrying out the delivery, with certain privacy restrictions and notifications.

Currently, more than 400 applicants are eligible for the Commission's delivery licenses, between 122 Certified Economic Empowerment Applicants and nearly 300 Social Equity Program Participants from cohorts one and two. Already the Commission has approved one final license and seven provisional licenses for Marijuana Couriers and pre-certified 62 applicants for that license type.

Under the Commission's regulations, licensed delivery service will be able to occur within:

- A municipality which the delivery licensee has identified as its place of business;
  - Any municipality which allows for adult-use retail within its borders; or
  - Any municipality that has notified the Commission that delivery may operate within its borders.
- For more information about Marijuana Delivery Operators, call the Commission at 774-415-0200, email Commission@CCCMass.com, or follow the agency on Facebook and Twitter.

The Rev. Patrick Healy celebrates his 100th birthday at Chelsea Soldier's Home

By Cary Shuman

Distinguished veterans and residents of the Chelsea Soldier's Home, family, friends, and state officials came to St. Michael's Chapel Sunday to honor the Rev. Patrick Francis Healy, the Home's beloved chaplain, on the occasion of his 100th birthday.

The Rev. Healy is a highly decorated veteran himself, having served in the United States Armed Forces for 23 years, with stops in Japan, Germany, South Korea, and two tours of duty in Vietnam. He was the recipient of three Bronze Stars and the 'V' Device for heroism and valor.

Sunday morning the Rev. Healy officiated the chapel Mass in honor of Memorial Day before well-known attorney and former state representative Gene O'Flaherty presided over the impressive program honoring Healy, who was ordained on June 2, 1947, one day after his 26th birthday on June 1, 1947.

"We're here to celebrate Father Healy's 100th birthday," said O'Flaherty in a welcoming remark that drew a prolonged ovation for the eminent clergyman. "To Father Healy's extended family who are with us today, thank you very much for giving him to us."

O'Flaherty presented city and state citations to the Rev. Healy honoring his lifelong achievements and his continuing service as chaplain at the Soldier's

Home "to the eternal gratitude of veterans, residents, and neighbors alike."

O'Flaherty, who was corporate counsel to former Boston Mayor Martin Walsh, delivered a special congratulatory message from President Joseph Biden through U.S. Labor Secretary Martin Walsh, wishing Healy a happy 100th birthday. Flaherty also read a congratulatory letter from the President of Ireland, Michael Higgins. The Rev. Patrick F. Healy was the ninth of ten children of Patrick and Catherine Healy, immigrants to Boston from Kerry and Limerick, Ireland.

Addressing the gathering, Flaherty said, "I know that each and every one of you has a very special relationship with this man. You've gone to him in times of trouble, you've gone to him in times of joy. But everyone has a special relationship with this man, which is why we're going to make sure today that we took the time to say, 'thank you, Father, for all you do for us each and every day, for the example you set to us as Catholics, and how to live each and every day.'"

Family, friends laud Healy

Jim McLaughlin, nephew of the Rev. Healy, was one of several family members who traveled from throughout New England to honor the eminent clergyman the family calls, "Padre."

"He's a great spiritual leader and a pastoral legend," said McLaughlin.

Rosemarie DeFelice and Joseph Fineran, with the Rev. Patrick Healy.

"We've been blessed to have him as an example in our family. He's stood as a wonderful symbol in faith. As an uncle, he's married us, baptized us, and buried us."

Bob McLaughlin, also a nephew, said that his uncle was present when he was inducted into the United States Navy during a ceremony in South Weymouth.

"My father was a pilot and a commander in the Navy Reserve, so he swore me in and Father Healy was present and I was so honored to have him there," said McLaughlin.

Frank Kowalski, who assisted with Communion at the service, said, "Since he came to us several years ago, he's just been a godsend to everybody here at the Chapel. He takes care of all the veterans and all the members that now call St. Michael's their church. We're very happy to have him. Only God knows how long he's going to keep him here for us, but we hope it's still a long, long time."

The Rev. Healy recalls his early years

Patrick Francis Healy grew up on Prescott Street in Charlestown and graduated from Boston English High School in 1939.

As a youth, he attended St. Mary's Church in Charlestown. He was a member of the CYO and played football, hockey, basketball, and baseball. He earned a tryout with the Boston Red Sox.

"We had the Bunker Hill Boys Club at one place and at the other end of the town was the YMCA with a gymnasium," said Healy. "We had a group called the Chestnut Eagles and five of us went into the priesthood."

On celebrating his 100th

One could feel the outpouring of love and respect in St. Michael's Chapel for the Rev. Healy throughout the birthday celebration Sunday.

"It's been here all the time, from the beginning and it's mutual," said Healy.

To what does he attribute his longevity and incredible energy?

"Just following the will of God - it's up to Him," he said.

Long-time Soldier's Home employee Anthony Mafale was among the many people who joined the Rev. Patrick Healy at his 100th birthday celebration Sunday at St. Michael's Chapel.

State launches 'Let's Go Out' campaign

Staff Report

Last week, the Baker-Polito Administration announced the launch of the "Let's Go Out" campaign, an effort to raise public awareness of the importance of supporting local restaurants across the Commonwealth.

The campaign is being led by the Massachusetts Office of Travel and Tourism (MOTT) in conjunction with the Executive Office of Housing and Economic Development and industry partners. The launch of the $1.9 million campaign is timed to coincide with the lifting of public health restrictions in Massachusetts and is scheduled to run throughout the summer, through September.

The mission of the campaign is to amplify the importance of restaurants as an integral part of daily life and a key driver of economic activity for the Commonwealth's downtowns and main streets. "Let's Go Out" is an extension of the Administration's "My Local MA" campaign that has been encouraging residents to shop, dine and stay local since last August.

"Our administration recognizes that the challenges created by the pandemic have made the last year tremendously difficult for the entire small business community, and especially for the restaurant industry," said Gov. Charlie Baker. "We have been proud to provide more than $688 million in grants to help restaurants and other hard-hit small businesses navigate these challenges, and look forward to building on that support through the 'Let's Go Out' campaign to ensure a strong recovery for restaurants across the Commonwealth."

Campaign ads will capture the meaningful moments that play out in restaurants, such as celebrating special occasions, reconnecting with friends, spending time with loved ones, or meeting someone new. Following the economic impact of COVID-19 on restaurants and the transition of many customers to delivery and takeout alone, this summer presents an opportunity for consumers to get out and reengage with friends and family, around the food they love in an atmosphere that invites emotional connections.

"As our restaurants reopen to capacity, it's an exciting time for them to welcome back customers," said MOTT Executive Director Keiko Matsudo Orrall. "The aim of the 'Let's Go Out' campaign is to showcase the amazing diversity of restaurants we have across the state and encourage a return to in-person dining to support these businesses that are so critical to our economy. While there may be some changes at the restaurants, like new floor plans or contactless payment systems, the unparalleled experience of in-restaurant dining is essential to connection and community."

The campaign, which will run through September 2021, will feature statewide coverage including display ads, digital billboards, posters, and radio spots, as well as billboards at Fenway Park. Additional billboards and display ads will be featured on highways and at Logan Airport, in partnership with MassDOT and Massport. A TV spot will also air on broadcast TV, including on NESN during Red Sox games in late summer. The campaign's landing page, VisitMA.com/LetsGoOut, features campaign information and a growing restaurant directory.

The "Let's Go Out" campaign was developed in close collaboration with key industry stakeholders that offered their expertise and support, including the Massachusetts Restaurant Association, Mass Restaurants United, and members of the Restaurant Promotion Commission.

"Over the last year, restaurant owners and their staffs have shown great resilience and creativity as they invented new ways to engage with customers while dealing with important but difficult safety restrictions. The fact is, however, that in-person dining is critical to the health of the restaurant industry. With the 'Let's Go Out' campaign, Massachusetts is making it clear that they support restaurants, and are taking the issue seriously. The Massachusetts Restaurant Association is proud to be a part of this statewide effort," said Massachusetts Restaurant Association President and CEO Bob Luz.

Drop-in activities will include art making, Spotlight Talks focused on artwork by the MFA's artist-in-residence Rob Stull and musical performances curated by BAMS Fest. Limited free tickets will be available for an outdoor screening of Summer of Soul, presented in partnership with the Roxbury International Film Festival. Additionally, a virtual panel discussion titled "Disruption by Design: A New Path to Liberation" will take place on June 16 at 6 pm.

ROXBURY INTERNATIONAL FILM FESTIVAL: The 23rd annual Roxbury International Film Festival (June 17–

26) takes place virtually on mfa.org and in person this year, including outdoor film screenings on June 19 and 24. RIFF is the the largest festival in New England dedicated to celebrating films by, for and about people of color. Tickets will be available to purchase on June 2.

GARDEN FOR BOSTON:

This spring, the MFA will launch Garden for Boston, a new outdoor project by local artists and activists Ekuia Holmes (African American, born 1955) and Elizabeth James-Perry (Aquinnah Wampanoag, born 1973) that welcomes visitors and opens conversations about the land that the Museum occupies. The project will be further activated through a series of public discussions with artists, scholars and thought leaders about the deep connections and intersections between Black and Indigenous histories in Boston. Upcoming events include "Community Crossroads: Black and Native Experiences in Boston" (June 1) and "Planting Together: Conversation with Ekuia Holmes and Elizabeth James-Perry" (June 22).

PAST-PRESENT-FUTURE: CONTEMPORARY JEWELRY NOW:

The annual Daphne Farago Fund Lecture on June 3 will bring together three contemporary artists working in jewelry today: Melanie Bilenger, Tiff Massey and Mallorey Weston. These artists create provocative, relevant and socially engaged work, each posing adornment not just as aesthetic decoration, but as a vital and urgent means of connecting past to present, and communicating visions of the future through design.

YOUTHFUL AMBITION:

Flemish painter Anthony van Dyck was not yet 20 years old when he painted Self-Portrait as Icarus with Daedalus in about 1618. In a virtual program on June 8 organized by the Center for Netherlandish Art, leading experts on Flemish art take a closer look at the recently rediscovered work, which is a promised gift to the MFA from the Van Otterloo Collection. Participants will explore Van Dyck's motivations behind the painting and the pictorial traditions from which it emerged, and preview the Museum's plans for displaying works by Van Dyck and other Flemish masters in the new galleries of Dutch and Flemish art, opening fall 2021.

SOUND BITES:

In conjunction with Writing the Future: Basquiat and the Hip-Hop Generation, the MFA is hosting a Sound Bites: Nancy Lee Clark Concert Series that explores how different generations expand on and redefine early hip-hop. The concerts—filmed inside the exhibition and available for rent on the Museum's recently launched on-demand video platform, MFA Selects—conclude on June 3 with Slick Vick with Cake Swagg and Bernadine. The full suite of performances will be available to view on MFA Selects through the run of the exhibition.

Project illuminates where giant exoplanets reside

Staff Report

Astronomers have long wondered whether the configuration of planets in our solar system is common elsewhere in the universe. New results from the longest-running survey of exoplanets helps answer this question.

Small, rocky planets in our solar system, like Earth, are found closer to the sun, while giant planets like Jupiter and Saturn sit farther away. The California Legacy Survey looked at the brightest stars in the northern hemisphere for 30 years to determine whether other solar systems are organized this way too.

The survey results are being published in two Astrophysical Journal Supplement articles. They found that the overwhelming majority of giant exoplanets fall between 1 and 10 astronomical units or AU from their host stars.

An AU is roughly 93 million miles, the distance between Earth and the sun. Jupiter is roughly 5 AU from the sun, and Saturn is about 10.

"This tells us that yes, solar systems like ours are fairly normal," said UC Riverside astrophysicist Stephen Kane. "It also gives us a lot of information about how and where giant planets are able to form."

One popular method of searching for exoplanets involves monitoring stars for "wobble," in which a star moves toward and away from Earth. The wobble is likely caused by the gravitational pull of a nearby planet exerts on it.

This method is biased toward planets close to their stars, since these are likely to have more wobble.

It was necessary for this survey to be as long as it was, Kane said, because farther-flung planets have less detectable wobbling, and they also tend to take much longer to orbit their stars. For example, Saturn takes 30 years to go around the sun.

"If we observe another star for 30 years, we can start to see if that star might have a Saturn," Kane said.

Many searches for planets around other stars target a specific area of the sky or certain type of star. This project took a much broader approach that worked like a demographic census, in which pollsters study a wide range of people.

"If you only observe a couple of stars, you wonder if your results are normal," Kane said. "By observing a random sampling of hundreds of stars, we can trust the results are more representative of stars in general."

Telescopes at the W.M. Keck Observatory in Hawaii and at the Lick Observatory near San Jose, California, observed 719 sun-like stars for the duration of the survey. They found 177 planets, some of which have 20 times the mass of Jupiter.

This project was supported by the University of California, California Institute of Technology, the University of Hawaii, Tennessee State University, NASA, the National Science Foundation, Google, and Ken and Gloria Levy.

Kane has collaborated with the project for 15 years. He is also involved in a similar survey of stars in the southern hemisphere with the MINERVA-Australis observatory at University of Southern Queensland in Australia.

He is hoping to use the results of California's Legacy Survey to predict what NASA's TESS satellite might find. That mission is seeking exoplanets that could potentially support life by observing transits — events that periodically block part of the light from their host stars.

"This survey taught us much about our giant planetary neighbors," Kane said. "We hope new missions will help us find and learn more about Earth-sized planets, too."

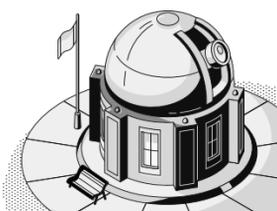

Guests of the Museum of Fine Arts will no longer be required to wear masks.

RHS SPORTS Through the Years

10 years ago June 1, 2011

When the Lady Patriots' bats fell silent in the final four innings as they watched Beverly erase their 3-0 lead, their record fell to 7-10 and they knew they were going to have to run the table if they were to punch their ticket for a Journey to the Tourney. Their uphill fight began two days later with a 6-1 win over Peabody behind the five hit pitching of Sabrina Palermo. Lindsay Gurska was a one-girl wrecking crew at the plate with four hits, including two doubles, and four RBI. Brianna Lauletta then took the mound against Waltham Friday evening under the lights at Hill Park for Senior Night and spun a nifty seven hitter for a 5-1 triumph. Nicole Palermo swung the big bat for Revere with a multiple RBI night. The Lady Patriots' season came down to the 20th and final regular season contest with Marblehead on Sunday in a redo of a game that was stopped after four innings because of lightning

(with Marblehead leading 1-0). Sunday's make-up at Hill saw Marblehead take leads of 1-0 and 2-1 into the sixth, bringing the Revere girls' to potentially their second to last at-bat of the season and, for the seniors, of their RHS careers. "We had the top of the order coming up in the sixth, which consists of our seniors," said RHS head coach Joe Ciccarello, "and I took them aside and said, 'It's up to you right now to decide whether your careers will end today or whether you will make the tourney, which is a goal all of you have been working toward for four years'." Kat Prince, a senior captain and lead-off hitter, placed a perfect bunt between first and second to get on base. A sacrifice bunt by Gurska advanced Kat to second with the tying run. Senior captain Ashley DiFraia then lined a single over shortstop, moving Prince to third. Ashley then stole second with the potential go ahead run. That brought up Nicole Palermo, who drilled a ball up the middle that tipped off the Marblehead shortstop's glove, scoring Prince and moving DiFraia to third. After Logan DiCarlo reached on an infield hit to load the bases, Michaela Maguire came through with a deep drive to left field that allowed DiFraia to tag up with the go-ahead tally. Sabrina Palermo came on in the seventh in relief of Lauletta and set Marblehead down in 1-2-3 order to preserve the victory. The Lady Patriots are seeded 19th in the MIAA Division 1 North Sectional State Softball Tournament and will play at Bedford, the 14th seed, on Friday.

The Revere High boys tennis team needed a win over Winthrop in its final match of the season Friday to keep alive its hopes of qualifying for the post-season state tournament. Malak Mossadek set the tone for the Winthrop match with a 6-4, 6-0 win at first singles over a Winthrop player who had beaten him in their first the match in a hard-fought three sets by a score of 3-6, 6-4, 3-6.

Kathy Trinh also put up a fierce fight at third singles before falling in three sets by a final score of 2-6, 7-5, 2-6.

GIRLS TRACK RUNS PAST SOMERVILLE, 71-34

The Revere High girls outdoor track and field team gave new head coach Racquel MacDonald a victory in her coaching debut with a 71-34 triumph over Somerville last week.

Carolina Bettero led the way for the Lady Patriots, taking first place in three events, the 100 meter high hurdles, the high jump, and the triple jump, to account for 15 points on the Revere side of the score-sheet.

Double-winners for Revere were Natalia Lopez in the shot-put and discus and Jerelys Canales in the 200 dash and long jump. Jerelys also grabbed a second place in the 100 dash to tally 13 points on the day.

Other first-place finishers for the Lady Patriots were Rocio Gonzalez in the two mile, Isabella Cuartas in the 400 dash, Alannah Burke in the 800, and Gianna Mahoney in the javelin.

Adding three points to the Revere cause with a second-place finish was Fatima Hartout in the mile.

Single-point contributors with third-place finishes were Tiffany Esteves in the 100 and 200 dashes, Carly Bennett in the 800, Yasmin Riazi in the 400, and Maajda Louaddi in the mile.

MacDonald and her crew are set to host Everett and Medford today (Wednesday) in a tri-meet at Harry Della Russo Stadium.

BOYS TRACK ROLLS PAST SOMERVILLE

The Revere High boys track and field team opened its season in fine fashion with a 78-58 triumph over Somerville last week.

Cam Ventura was the top-scorer for the Patriots, taking first place in three individual events, the long jump (21'-5"), the triple jump (41'-6"), and the 110 meter high hurdles (16.4), and anchoring the winning 4 x 100 relay team for a total of 16.25 points.

Rayan Riazi added 10.25 points to the Revere cause with a first place in the discus with a spin of 100'-4"; a second place in the 100 dash in 11.50; a third in the high jump with a leap of 5'8"; and running a leg of the 4 x 100.

James Clauto enjoyed a superb afternoon, finishing first in the high jump with a leap of 6'-0" and second in the long jump with a landing of 20'-5". James also ran the first leg of the 4 x 100 relay to add a total of 9.25 points to the Revere side of the score-sheet.

Victor Pelatere, the cross-country champion in the Greater Boston League's recently-completed Fall II season, gave the Patriots their first first-place finish of the day, capturing the two-mile run in a time of 12:02. Victor also grabbed second place in the 400 meter dash with a clocking of 56.6 to total eight points on the day.

Other first-place finishers for Revere were: Sami Elasri, who took first place in the 800 meter run in 2:08.7; Ryan Doucette, who tossed the javelin 120'-0"; and Yophee Ek, who won the shot-put with a throw of 39'-11".

Second-place performers for the Patriots were: Tommy Desir in the 400 meter hurdles (67.20), Carlos Quintanilla in the mile in 5:10, Mark Marchese in the 200 dash in 24.6 (Mark also ran a leg in the 4 x 100), and Kevin Willett with a shot-put throw of 32'-0".

Adding single points for the Patriots with third place efforts were: Ramadan Barry in the 400 hurdles in 72.20, the long jump with a leap of 18'-5", and the 110 hurdles in 22.6; Desir in the 400 dash in 56.7; Mohamed Ouakani in the 800 in 2:43.6; and Eli Nater in the discus with a toss of 90'-0".

"Coming into the season, we were not sure what we were going to get," said RHS head coach Sam Ros. "This COVID layoff has hit our track team very hard. Speaking to coaches around the league and around the state, it seems to be a problem all over and not just us.

"The participation level has been very low," Ros added. "We only have about 25 boys on our team when in a normal year we would have 40-60. The base of our team is about 15 returning juniors and seniors from the team two years ago. We have high-level talent, but no depth to back them up. Honestly, winning meets has taken a back seat to driving interest in the team and the sport.

"This first meet was a great win for us," Ros continued. "We had some newcomers to the team that helped contribute right away. The highlight of the meet belonged to a couple of boys, Cam Ventura and James Clauto. Cam qualified for the Large Schools State Meet in the long jump and triple jump while James, a newcomer, qualified in the long jump and high jump. Cam was the performer of the meet for us with his three individual wins, plus helping the 4x100 to the win as well.

"With the season being only five weeks long, we will concentrate on maximizing individual performances," Ros said. "A handful of our boys have the potential to compete at the next level in college and we will try to showcase that as much as we can. We are looking forward to a short, fast, and exciting season."

RHS SOFTBALL TEAM WINS TWO MORE, NOW 3-0

The Revere High softball team won both of its contests in the past week defeating Greater Boston League rivals Somerville, 17-0, and Lynn Classical, 5-2.

Lady Patriot pitcher Adrianna Fusco was immense in both contests, tossing a no-hitter vs. Somerville and then coming back to limit a strong-hitting Lynn Classical squad to just four hits while fanning 15 Lady Ram hitters.

Adrianna thus far this season has racked up 38 strikeouts in three games.

The contest with Somerville was never in doubt, both because of Fusco's dominance in the pitching circle and the power of the Revere offense, which scored early and often. Julianna Raffa wielded the big bat for the Lady Patriots, going 4-for-5.

In the victory over Classical, Lynzie Anderson helped manufacture some runs with some small ball, reaching base on a bunt, stealing second, and then coming home on a base hit by Alexis Iacoviello.

Eliani Monge had a nice day at the plate, accounting for a pair of RBI.

Nina Cassinello played a key role in the victory with some nice defensive plays in right field and had two hits and an RBI. Altogether, the Revere offense produced 11 hits.

"This was a nice win because Classical always has been a tough opponent for us," said RHS head coach Joe Ciccarello, recalling the game two years ago when Classical overcame a 7-0 deficit to post a 12-7 victory.

"The team is having fun," Ciccarello added. "We have an all-senior team that works hard. They're mature and have an excellent work ethic and attitude."

Ciccarello and his crew are scheduled to meet the Lady Rams in a rematch today (Wednesday) and then will trek to Lynn English on Friday. They will play at Medford on Saturday and then host Medford on Monday.

They will entertain Chelsea next Wednesday at 6:00 for Senior Night and travel to Malden next Thursday.

RHS BOYS LACROSSE EDGES CLASSICAL, 9-8

The Revere High boys lacrosse team earned a hard-fought, come-from-behind victory over Lynn, 9-8, this past week.

Bruce Culleton (six goals) and Jarrod Natola (three goals) provided the offensive punch for the Patriots.

Revere goalie Vinny Snyder was a stalwart in net, recording 16 saves.

"This was a very close game that went back and forth," said RHS head coach Zach McDannell. "Going into the fourth quarter the score was tied. Overall we moved the ball on offense a lot more efficiently, opening up opportunities for different scorers."

Earlier in the week the Patriots came up on the short end of a 9-7 decision to Somerville in their season-opener.

Natola reached the back of the Highlander net for all seven of the Revere goals.

"Considering that for many of my kids, this was their first match ever, we played very well against Somerville," said McDannell. "It was a close, back-and-forth game. It took us some time to find our stride. Our defense and our goalie, Watanak Samon, really held us in the game. Jarrod Natola had a stellar performance with his seven goals."

McDannell and his crew were scheduled to host Medford yesterday (Tuesday) and will travel to Malden tomorrow (Thursday). They will entertain Somerville next Thursday.

RHS GIRLS LACROSSE SINKS SOMERVILLE, 12-2

The Revere High girls lacrosse team opened its season with a 12-2 victory over Somerville last Monday.

Junior Skylia DeSimone was a force on offense for the Lady Patriots, scoring five goals and adding an assist. Julianna Diccico scored three goals, while Angela Huynh reached the back of the Somerville net for two goals. Asmara Omar and Mayerly Ortez both added a goal apiece, with Mayerly also recording an assist.

"Our senior goalie, Jen Silva, played great for her first lacrosse game ever," said RHS head coach Karen Atkinson. "We are a young and inexperienced team, but the girls are learning more each day. I am excited for the program to continue to grow again."

Last Wednesday Revere came up on the short end of a 20-4 decision to Malden. The goal-scorers for the Lady Patriots were Huynh, Diccico, DeSimone, and Ortez.

"Jen Silva, our senior goalie, played fantastically," noted Atkinson. "We struggled in this game, but there were so many great learning opportunities. We're looking forward to our games in the coming week."

BOYS TENNIS TEAM PLAYS WELL IN OPENER

Although the Revere High boys tennis team dropped its season-opener to Somerville last week, RHS head coach Mike Flynn was encouraged by his team's performance.

"Considering that this was our first match, and for many of my kids, their first match ever, we played very well against Somerville," said Flynn.

Junior captain Ashton Hoang provided the Patriots with their only point of the day, defeating his Somerville counterpart at first singles in straight sets, 7-5, 6-3. Ashton was facing set point in the first set, but came back to win that set and then took the match.

At second singles, senior captain Nafiz Islam played what Flynn termed "a great match and almost came back to win," but eventually dropped a tight battle with his Highlander rival, 2-6, 6-4, 4-6.

At third singles, junior Matthew Chinch, who was playing in his first singles varsity match, played well in an 0-6, 1-6 match against a strong Somerville opponent.

At doubles, junior Luis Galvez and junior Richard Bravo, competing in their first varsity match, played well in their contest, but came up short by a score of 0-6, 1-6.

Marisa Parent and Mike

Fitzpatrick turned in the top performances for the Revere High boys and girls track teams at Saturday's Eastern Mass. Division 1 Meet held at Andover High. Marisa just missed qualifying for the finals in the 100 meter dash, finishing in ninth place in a time of 13.25, just .22 off the eighth place girl who clocked a time of 13.03. Marisa also competed in the 200 meter dash and finished in a tie for 12th position out of the large field in 27.67. Fitzpatrick finished in 10th spot in the 800 meter run, setting a personal record time of 1:59.93, the only Revere runner to break 2:00 in the 800 since Samnang Ros set the RHS mark in 1998 with a clocking of 1:59.33. Fitz's time was the 28th best in the entire state on Saturday and he may be tabbed to compete in the all-state meet Saturday at Bridgewater State College. Other Revere tracksters who competed in Saturday's meet were Briana Scata, who tossed the discus 71'-6", and Karim Sahila, who ran the 400 meter hurdles in 1:03.96.

Rescued sea turtles to be released into the wild

Special to the Journal

Following a historic season that saw hundreds of cold-stunned sea turtles wash ashore on Cape Cod, the New England Aquarium sent off 25 rehabilitated turtles to be released back into the wild from the North Carolina coast.

The turtles spent the past four to six months at the Aquarium's Sea Turtle Hospital in Quincy. Volunteer pilots with the non-profit organization Turtles Fly Too met animal care staff members at the Marshfield Airport to safely get the turtles onboard and en route to North Carolina's warmer waters off Fort Macon State Park. Three planes transported the rehabilitated turtles south, along with nine turtles from National Marine Life Center and Mystic Aquarium.

"It is so rewarding to see many of these turtles returning to their home," said Adam Kennedy, senior biologist at the Aquarium. "While I would love to be there to set the turtles down on the beach myself, knowing that this honor will go to others that have played such pivotal roles rescuing these animals over the years—especially this year—makes it just as special."

Aquarium biologists and veterinarians had treated the Kemp's ridley turtles, an endangered species, for a variety of life-threatening medical conditions that resulted from weeks of hypothermia and the inability to feed during stranding season, which occurs when New England waters quickly turn cold in the fall. The 2020 season, which began in October, required strict safety protocols and tight coordination with partner organizations amid the pandemic. The Aquarium worked closely with Mass Audubon's Wellfleet Bay Wildlife Sanctuary, National Marine Life Center, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's (NOAA) Fisheries Service, and Turtles Fly Too to save hundreds of turtles. Over the course of the season, the Aquarium admitted 569 sea turtles for rehabilitation. There are currently 15 turtles remaining at the Quincy facility, which will be released off Cape Cod over the summer.

For more than 30 years, the New England Aquarium has helped rescue, rehabilitate, release, and research endangered and threatened sea turtles. The Aquarium's Sea Turtle Hospital functions similarly to how a human patient would be admitted to a hospital. When they first arrive, the turtles are assigned a federal number to track their medical plan, acting as an identifier for prescriptions and other specialized care. The turtles then receive a physical exam, replacement fluids, heart rate and respiration assessment, wound care as needed, and a trial swim. The trial swim helps biologists and veterinarians determine the turtle's level of activity and alertness. Turtles also get X-rays to assess for fractured bones and lung condition, with many diagnosed with pneumonia.
