Council discusses plans for new Revere Public Works building

By Cary Shuman

The Revere City Council reviewed the city's plans for the construction of a new 37,500 square-foot public works building on the current Revere DPW site at 321A Charger St.

During a public hearing on the matter Monday night, Simon Tempest, project manager for the DPW Yard, and David Kelley, of Meridian Associates, Beverly, made a presentation about the new project.

"We are here to propose to demolish the existing DPW building and propose a larger, more modern, more functional building for use of the DPW," said Kelley.

Revere paraprofessionals union seeks six-and-a-half hour work day

By John Lynds

At last Tuesday night's Revere Public School (RPS) Committee meeting President of the Revere Paraprofessionals Union Susan Buckley lobbied the committee for a six and half hour work day as opposed to the current three hour and fifty-five minute work day for RPS paraprofessionals.

As RPS is in contract negotiations with the Revere's Teachers Association (RTA), Buckley said her union members feel like their voice is not always heard. "They don't often have the time to participate," said Buckley. Revere voters go to the polls on Tuesday, Nov. 2

By Cary Shuman

The campaigns are winding down, and on Tuesday, Nov. 2, Revere voters will head to the polls to cast their ballots in the councillor-at-large, ward councillor, and school committee races.

In the councillor-at-large election, there are six candidates for the five at-large seats on the City Council. The incumbents are Steven Morabito, George Roton-do, Gerry Visconti, and Anthony Zambuto. The other candidates for councillor-at-large are former mayor Dan Rizzo and Veterans Services Director Marc Silvestri.

There are three contested ward races in the city. In Ward 2, Councillor Ira Novoselsky and Manny Carrero Jr. are seeking the position. In Ward 3, Anthony Cogliandro and Al Terminiello Jr. are seeking election to the seat that is currently held by Arthur Guinasso, who decided to not seek re-election. In Ward 5, Councillor John Powers and former Councillor-at-Large Al Fiore are running for the position.

Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna, Ward 4 Councillor Patrick Keefe, and Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino are running opposed in the election.

The School Committee election has nine candidates for six seats. Mayor Brian Arrigo also serves on the School Committee in his capacity as chief ex-

Farewell, But Not Goodbye

A personal thank you to the community from Manny Lopes

Special to the Journal

Manny Lopes, who has in many ways become the face of East Boston Neighborhood Health Center (EBNHC), will officially leave the Health Center Friday to become Executive Vice President of Blue Cross Blue Shield Massachusetts.

Lopes took over the helm as CEO of EBNHC after his mentor Jack Cradock retired in 2012. Lopes has served as CEO of the Health Center since then and as its president since 2015.

Lopes has also served as Director of the Blue

Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts Board as well as Chair of the Blue Cross Foundation. In 2018, Lopes was appointed as the Chair of Boston's Board of Health.

Lopes grew up in East Boston and now lives in Topsfield with his wife

Councillor McKenna wants a ban on Styrofoam in city

Special to the Journal

Ward 1 Councillor Joanne McKenna is requesting a ban on Styrofoam products as part of a proposed ordinance establishing regulations for sustainable food ware and packaging.

At Monday night's Council meeting, McKenna, who co-sponsored the motion with Councillor-at-Large Jessica Giannino, summarized her intentions.

"What we're trying to do is to ban Styrofoam," said McKenna. "Styrofoam has polystyrene in it. And in June, the National Institute of Environmental Health Studies added styrene, the chemical used in the manufacturing of Styrofoam cups and food containers to the list of substances reasonably anticipated to cause cancer. Styrene has also been linked to nerve damage and hormonal disruption."

McKenna said that 49 cities and towns in Massachusetts have banned Styrofoam, "and I think we [Revere] should be the 50th city to ban Styrofoam. I would like your support on this."

City Council President Anthony Zambuto ordered the proposal to a public hearing Nov. 8.

ENCORE BOSTON HARBOR SPA OFFERS WINTER SKINCARE TREATMENT

Encore Boston Harbor has announced that their signature spa has reopened for services seven days a week. They have a new signature treatment to help replenish moisture into dry skin during the cold, winter months.

The Moisture & Muscle Body Care Ritual is 120 minutes and is $385. This personalized treatment is the perfect antidote to revive dull skin and at the same time release muscle tension during the colder weather. The Ritual starts with a dry body brushing to brighten and prepare the skin for a better hydration as it sloughs off dead skin cells. It continues with an application of a warm mineral rich seaweed serum infused with Japanese Ume Plum extract and sea fennel that is massaged into the body to work tight muscles and to deeply seal in moisture for a silky, satin body finish. To culminate with this cozy and pampering body experience, a relaxing scalp massage followed by a hands and feet massage using a gotu kola healing balm to intensely moisturize and replenish lost

MBTA AND CITY OF REVERE ANNOUNCE START OF SOUTHBOUND AM PEAK BUS LANE PILOT

The MBTA and the City of Revere today announced an AM peak bus lane pilot along the southbound side of Broadway in Revere between Revere Street and Revere Beach Parkway. The mile-long bus lane will begin operational testing on the morning of October 25, 2021, with an official pilot start slated for November 8 and continuing until the end of spring 2022. Pending an evaluation of the pilot's performance, the City of Revere may determine whether to make the treatment permanent. The bus facilities are in effect immediately.

"Key Bus Route 116/117 is critical for our riders traveling in Revere and accessing the Blue Line. In the wake of the pandemic, this has been one of our highest ridership routes, retaining more than 80% of its average weekday ridership," said MBTA General Manager Steve Poflak. "These bus priority improvements will improve the commute for our current riders while encouraging more commuters to get on board and take transit. We thank the City of Revere for their leadership and collaboration during this critical time."

"This project is a priority for the City of Revere because we know that we cannot support an equitable recovery without improving transit for our frontline workers," said Mayor Brian M. Arrigo. "We are excited to start this pilot and look forward to working with the local business community and riders to improve upon it in the coming weeks and months."

According to a 2017

CTPS survey, 60% of Route 116/117 riders are non-white and 55% are low-income, well above MBTA system-wide averages for bus service. This pilot is the first time the City of Revere and the MBTA have worked together to commit local road space to bus priority. The project corresponds with other transit improvements along Broadway in Chelsea implemented earlier in November, which includes a bus lane that also benefits the Key Bus Route 116/117.

BE SURE TO VOTE!

The city election is set for this Tuesday, November 2. Although there is not a mayoral contest this year, Revere voters will have decisions to make in the contests for City Council-at-Large, Councilors in Wards 2, 3, and 5, and the School Committee. The future direction of our city will be determined by the choices we make on Tuesday. We urge all of our readers who are eligible voters to get out and vote.

REMEMBERING THE PERFECT STORM

It was 30 years ago this week when the Perfect Storm struck the East Coast of the United States, bringing powerful winds and gargantuan waves that pummeled the Massachusetts coastline on Wednesday, October 30, and continued into the next day. Although the storm eventually affected the entire East Coast from Canada to Florida, the most-costly damage occurred in Massachusetts, with more than 100 homes destroyed, especially along the South Shore in Marshfield.

The damage would have been much greater, given the 30-foot waves that ravaged the coastline, but the storm struck during a neap tide, the time of the month when the high tides are at their lowest.

If it had occurred during one of those King Tides -- we can only imagine the devastation.

The storm originally was called the No-Name Storm or the Halloween Storm, but eventually became known as the Perfect Storm, after the book by journalist Sebastian Junger and subsequent movie (starring George Clooney) that chronicled the fate of the crew of the Gloucester fishing vessel, Andrea Gale, which sunk amidst the storm and its 100-foot waves.

Junger got that name from a Boston meteorologist, who told Junger that the storm was formed from the convergence of the remnants of Hurricane Grace and two other weather systems, which then combined into one powerful storm -- the Perfect Storm -- a few hundred miles out to sea and then made a beeline westward for a direct hit on Massachusetts.

According to the meteorologist, the unlikely convergence of a hurricane and two other weather systems is a once-in-a-hundred year event.

For those of us who recall seeing the waves crashing over the seawalls in Revere and Winthrop from our tall office buildings in downtown Boston, and then getting a first-hand look at the damage the next day, the Perfect Storm is one we'll remember for the rest of our lives, just as we'll never forget the Blizzard of '78 and the previous generation never forgot the Hurricane of 1938.

In view of all of the destruction wrought by weather events in other parts of the world in the past 15 years, we should consider ourselves lucky that we have not had to face similar natural catastrophes.

On the other hand, realizing that it's been 30 years since our last truly Big One, the odds are that we are overdue for another natural disaster -- "Time and tide wait for no man," wrote the poet -- and with the added impact of climate change, whatever fate awaits us, we fear it will be a bad outcome.

The seawall along Short Beach in Beachmont proved no match for the waves of the Perfect Storm when it roared ashore on Wednesday, October 30, 1991.

ENJOY A SAFE HALLOWEEN

Yes, we all want to party and enjoy this Halloween season as we emerge from the worst of the pandemic, especially after Halloween essentially was cancelled last year.

But we urge all of our readers not to overdo it and to enjoy the holiday responsibly with their friends and loved ones.

Excessive drinking never makes sense and there never is a good excuse for it.

So let's dress up in our Squid Games costumes -- but remember that the winner of the game had to keep his head (literally and figuratively) to survive.

He never would have made it if he had been under the influence.

A NOTE OF APPRECIATION FOR PRISCILLA NICKERSON -

Dear Editor,

Last week, our city was hit with the devastating news of the passing of Mrs. Priscilla Nickerson. As a Ward Six resident for many years, Priscilla was one of the fiercest advocates for our neighborhood. She took pride in her home, in her business, and in West Revere, and always sought to improve the city where she could.

Priscilla co-founded the West Revere Neighborhood Group, and through Priscilla's organization and because of her advocacy, residents were able to come together to plan and execute projects that have greatly enriched our neighborhood and will serve as reminders of Priscilla's legacy. Some of these projects that Priscilla played an integral role in include the Paws 'N Play Dog Park on Sargent Street, the murals on the Sargent Street underpass, the Rosemary Cataldo Urban Walking Trail in West Revere, and playgrounds at the West Revere School Complex and in North Revere. Many of these would not have come to fruition without Priscilla's tenacity and dedication. When the West Revere Neighborhood Group was formed and needed a place to hold its meetings, she did not hesitate to open the doors of her family's function hall to her neighbors.

In founding the now-annual Revere Santa Walk in 2011, Priscilla's vision was to bring the residents of our city together for some fun while also raising funds to go toward various projects, which beautify the community. She even helped to organize the first city-wide spring cleanup, and never hesitated to pick up litter in the street -- we can recall during one meeting with the DCR, Priscilla told the DCR foreman that she bought a scraper at BJ's so she could scrape gum off the sidewalk as she did her routine walk on Revere Beach Boulevard. We can also recall countless calls from her over the years about graffiti that needed covering, weeds on public ways that needed tending to, dangerous double utility poles that needed addressing, street lights that needed replacing, sidewalks that needed fixing, underpasses that needed cleaning. That was Priscilla -- she wanted to make Revere shine in any way and every way she could -- and she did.

Priscilla constantly gave of her time and of herself for the greater good of this community. As the Ward Councillors, we valued Priscilla's input and advice, and appreciated not only her actions and enthusiasm, but we appreciated her. We will miss our friend, and we thank her for dedicating so much of her life to the people of Revere. May Priscilla Nickerson's memory and legacy live on by all of us sharing in the same pride and love for our community as she did.

OFFENSE TAKEN

Dear Editor,
I was absolutely appalled when I read the article in the October 13 Revere Journal reporting the meeting of the Revere Human Rights Commission.

Without any notice to the residents of Revere, the commission members voted to recommend that the celebration of Columbus Day on October 11th be replaced with Indigenous Peoples Day. This thereby would replace an 80 year Revere tradition with a newly created day. When asked what that new date would be, it was suggested that the commission seek guidance from an outside source "as to what we should do"!!

To add insult to injury, it was callously suggested that the Italians "can find another day".

I strongly suggest that the commission members revisit their decision and give the residents an opportunity to be heard on this matter. And I also wonder, if Columbus Day is deemed unimportant, can St. Patrick's Day be far behind?

GUEST OP-ED

Environmental Justice for the 21st Century

By Anthony D'Ambrosio

Our District is blessed with numerous waterfronts and beaches that attract visitors from around the world. Take Winthrop Parkway, for example. With beautiful coastline on one side and idyllic beach homes on the other, the Parkway represents the best of New England and bridges two of our great municipalities: Winthrop and Revere. It's hard to believe that just three years ago, sixty-foot waves easily breached the sea wall and fully submerged the road in icy water. In addition to cutting off one of the only access points to Winthrop and presenting a life-threatening risk to surrounding residents, the flooding from that day created scenes more reminiscent to far-away typhoons.

Unfortunately, as we all know, this was not a one-time crisis. The Parkway flooded again during an excessively high tide in February and when Hurricane Ida hit in September. Further, just two weeks ago, a report released by the First Street Foundation, a non-profit dedicated to assessing the flood risk to American communities, found that Suffolk

County is one of the top 20 counties in the nation expected to see the largest increase in flood risk over the next 30 years. This means that Revere, Winthrop, and Boston will soon face similar flood threats to hurricane-prone cities in Louisiana and Texas.

Our environmental problems don't stop with flooding. Residents in our District face the brunt of environmental harms from the State's infrastructure systems: airport noise and air pollution, combustible jet fuel stored near parks and playgrounds, and smog from traffic congestion. The children in our District are more than four times as likely to suffer from symptoms of asthma and other respiratory conditions as children living elsewhere. The infrastructure in our District benefits everyone in Massachusetts including those from away towns, yet our residents alone suffer from the catastrophic threats to their health, homes, and livelihoods.

Most of the residents in our District live in what the EEA calls "environmental justice populations," neighborhoods in which residents are more vulnerable to environmental harms and exclusion from participation in environmental, energy, and climate change decision-making. The EEA released its updated "Environmental Justice Policy" in June of this year to address the exclusion of impacted residents from policy decisions, but people are right to be skeptical. For far too long, residents of our District have been promised a seat at the table for decisions that affect their homes and health only to be completely ignored in favor of Massport and utilities giants.

One recent example of this is Massachusetts's decision to permit the building of an Eversource electrical substation at an East Boston location near Chelsea Creek, across the street from the American Legion Playground, and within 800 feet of a jet fuel storage site. Despite the risk of flooding from the creek, fire or explosion from the jet fuel, and harm to children who might stumble upon the site from the playground, the Commonwealth proceeded with the project. Eversource selected the East Boston site largely because it already had the property and did not want to go through the trouble of finding another. The State chose the convenience of a massive utility over the health and safety of our residents.

This is unacceptable. We must hold the electrical substation, airport, and Saugus Wheelabrator accountable to state pollution standards and be unafraid to enact penalties when such standards are violated. We must hold state officials accountable to their own stated policies of environmental justice. Our District cannot always bear the brunt for other parts of the State. We must fund a more robust restitution fund for those suffering from the health consequences of environmental harms.

To preserve our beautiful coastal areas, reduce litter, and protect local marine wildlife, we must fund the placement of more trash and recycling bins at our public beaches. We must also secure more funding to combat coastal erosion, sea wall decay, jet fuel spills, noise damage to homes. Additionally, the state should expand the COASTSWEEP clean-up program to keep our coastlines free of debris and provide more environmental volunteer opportunities for students and other community members.

Finally, the contamination of our water systems with PFAS from factories, landfills, construction sites, and even firefighting materials presents another environmental challenge for the Commonwealth. The Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection has recently adopted new regulations requiring public water systems to test for PFAS. This was an important first step; however, if such tests show that PFAS is present in public water systems, the state should make funds available to municipalities that will have to make costly repairs to their water systems in order to prevent PFAS contamination. The costs of such repairs should NOT be passed onto Commonwealth residents in the form of higher water and sewer rates.

Every year we see the damaging consequences of environmental inaction grow. We must act now to build a safe and sustainable future for our families.

Who will pay for the $2 Trillion infrastructure project?

By Dr. Glenn Mollette

If you are making less than $40,000 a year then you probably don't care that single people making over $523,601 pay 37% of their income in federal taxes. Married people filing jointly making over $628,301 also pay 37%. These people make it and can afford to pay it we often say. What affects someone else doesn't bother us that much when it comes to income and taxes.

Let's say you are making $35,000 this year but next year you have an opportunity to make $45,000. Suddenly your federal tax rate increases from 12% to 22%. This is a big jump. You have the opportunity to make more but more of what you make goes to taxes. You start calculating the hours and time worked ver-

FALL TOUR AT YE OLDE RUMNEY MARSH BURIAL GROUND

On Oct. 24, the Rumney Marsh Burial Ground Restoration Committee hosted a Fall Tour of the burial ground. It was a wonderful Autumn evening in New England, the kind that provides the perfect opportunity to explore a local historic location. Tours were led by former Revere Public Schools history teacher Jeff Pearlman, who entertained and informed dozens of guests with tales of the early Revere residents who rest in RMBG. After the tour, guests were able to explore the burial ground at their leisure while enjoying coffee, cider and and children. "After nearly three decades at the East Boston Neighborhood Health Center, I have made the difficult decision to embark on the next chapter in my professional life. On November 1st, I will join Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts as Executive Vice President of Public Markets and Government Relations, continuing my fight for equitable access to health care for our community as well as all Massachusetts residents. While my new role means saying farewell to the health center, my ties to the community are unbreakable. Eastie born and raised, this region is part of who I am. I'm deeply grateful to the many community members who have supported me during my leadership of the health center: residents, patients, EBNHC's Board of Directors, staff, friends, and family. I thank every member of our vibrant community for making these years so full of meaning, purpose, and growth. I can't imagine having travelled a different path. It has been an honor. Over the last nine years as President & CEO, I've stood on the shoulders of giants like EBNHC former leaders, Jim Taylor and Jack Cradock, who, with the Board of Directors and our staff, built the health center from the ground up - turning a small community clinic into a recognizable force in local healthcare. Looking back, I feel blessed to have inherited a strong and successful organization. The health center already had 40 years of innovation and impact under its belt when I became CEO in 2012. Thanks to Jack, Jim, and the Board of Directors, EBNHC was one of the first organizations to bring the PACE (Program of All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly) model to Massachusetts; in 1997, the health center was an early adopter of a little known electronic tool for managing patient care - Epic

- which has now become the gold standard for electronic medical records nationwide; and EBNHC leveraged experience piloting new programs to found CATCH (Children's Access to Coordinated Health Care) for children with multiple disabilities and Project Shine for patients living with HIV. This is only a short preview of EBNHC's long and illustrious history in the community - a legacy that was turned over to me, just a kid from East Boston, nearly a decade ago. Now, as the organization enters into another time of transition, I'd like to take the opportunity to reflect on what we've accomplished together as a health center and as a community over the last ten years. The positive impact is astounding. We have expanded services to reach more than 120,000 patients across the Commonwealth's most vulnerable communities - solidifying access to equitable and inclusive care and consistently exceeding industry benchmarks in key areas of patient satisfaction. Our Neighborhood PACE program has grown to over 700 members - more than doubling in size since 2012 - and now boasts patient satisfaction rates of 95%, ensuring that more of our older adults can age in place, in the community, all while receiving superior care. We have made it our mission to hire from the community and build an engaged workforce, winning 7 Boston Globe Top Place to Work awards in the last 8 years. We have cut the ribbon on two new, state-of-the-art buildings while creating partnerships in our communities to ensure we can meet people where they are. We are co-founders of the Commonwealth's largest Medicaid Accountable Care Organization, Community Care Cooperative, and established Advocates for Community Health, a new national advocacy organization for innovative health centers focused on equity and impact. We fought back against COVID-19 - together distributing key information, supporting residents in need, and providing critical services to help stop the spread. To date, EBNHC has processed more than 160,000 COVID-19 tests and administered over 100,000 doses of COVID-19 vaccine - with East Boston, Chelsea, and Revere boasting the highest rates of Latinx vaccination in the Commonwealth. Perhaps most importantly, we never shut our doors, offering care 24/7/365, even at the height of the initial COVID-19 surge. Above all else, we've approached each day with compassion, respect, and an unwavering commitment to ensuring that all are welcome at the health center and in the communities we serve. Directly or indirectly, many in our neighborhoods have contributed to these successes. I thank you for your many years of support and partnership. My promise to you is that this work is not done. I will continue to advocate for our community and the health center remains strong and steadfast in its mission. You are in good hands. I'm fiercely proud of what we have accomplished together and look forward to watching the next decade of progress from just across the harbor. Thank you for everything, and be well. Manny Lopes"

MEMORIAL POLE DEDICATION CEREMONY FOR ARMY CORPORAL JOHN (JACK) GRIFFIN

By Cary Shuman

of the Bulge in January, 1945. Upon his capture, he underwent some of the most harrowing experiences anyone can live through.

“A proud Irish-American from Charlestown and Chelsea, Corporal Griffin was mistaken for a Jewish soldier and forced into a concentration camp,” said Arrigo. “With his fellow prisoners of war, he suffered from starvation, forced labor, and bore witness to the death of countless fellow soldiers and Jewish victims of the Nazi regime. Ultimately, fate would spare Corporal Griffin under these conditions, and he was rescued by his fellow soldiers weighing only 85 pounds.”

Upon his return, Mr. Griffin was awarded two Bronze Stars. He and his family lived on Essex Street in Revere.

Michael DeMarco, Mr. Griffin’s grandson, described his grandfather as a humble American hero. “This is something that he didn’t really speak to us about for decades,” said DeMarco. “It probably took him into his 60s before we really knew about what he went through.

DeMarco said Mr. Griffin lived in a house just a few hundred yards from where the memorial pole now stands.

“I have a lot of fond memories of being inside of that house as a young kid. So this area means a lot to us as a family, and I’m really glad that [memorial pole dedicated in his grandfather’s honor] is there.

“He taught us a lot as kids. He taught us strength. He was a very good caretaker to us. He took us everywhere. There’s not much more that I could say about how good of a man that he really was, because it’s true. It’s amazing that he endured all of this, and went through this hell, and turned out to be a really great man. I’m not so sure how many people could have done that.”

The family of U.S. Army Corporal John (Jack) Griffin is pictured adjacent to the memorial pole that was dedicated in his honor. Among those pictured are Mr. Griffin’s great-granddaughters Andrea DeMarco, Autumn Neary-Orne, and Mila DeMarco, grandson Michael DeMarco, son-in-law Tony DeMarco, daughter Donna DeMarco, brother-in-law John Martinello, grandson Nathaniel Neary-Orne, and granddaughter Meghan Neary-Orne.

...sus how much more you have to pay in taxes and you start wondering if it’s worth what it will take to earn the extra income. If a great job comes your way to earn $209,426 then you start calculating maybe it would be better to figure out how to make $208,000 and stay in the 32% tax bracket. Most likely if you are making $209,426 dollars a year you are probably working very hard for it and turning over $70,000 plus a year to the government doesn’t feel very good.

should pay their fair share like all Americans but a nation that penalizes prosperity is unfair. I don’t feel sorry for billionaires but a billionaire shouldn’t have to pay 40% of his/her earnings to the government. Also, America’s billionaires have the resources to move to another country if they choose to. Their tax rate should be fair but we shouldn’t run them out of the country.

If your income grows from $30,000 a year to $60,000, that is no reason for you to be penalized by your country. Congress needs to push for a flat tax and tax everyone including billionaires. A tax rate of 12% to 15% on all individuals and corporations would encourage people to make more and America would have more money to cover our infrastructure costs. Plus, more manufacturing would come back to America. Instead, our nation discourages prosperity by penalizing those who make more.

Every American will pay for the infrastructure project. We will be paying for a long time. Every American’s tax burden will increase. Don’t let Washington fool you into thinking somebody else will pay for this project. It’s going to be all of us and for a very long time.

America’s billionaires Glenn Mollette is the

Our government is hungry for money. The $2 trillion infrastructure project that is on the table will mean our government will desperately need lots more money for many years to come. Our grandchildren will be saddled with this debt for most of their lives.

We need infrastructure updates. Roads, bridges, new water lines, better energy sources, internet and more. The project will create a lot of jobs. However, don’t be fooled into thinking someone else will pay for the project. We hear reports that the debt will be passed onto America’s 600 billionaires. Do you really think Jeff Bezos, Elon Musk, Bernard Arnault, Bill Gates and Mark Zuckerberg are going to pay for this $2 trillion-dollar infrastructure deal?

Neighbors oppose plans for new funeral home on Mountain Avenue

By Cary Shuman

Neighbors expressed their opposition to plans for a new funeral home at 9 Mountain Ave. and a parking lot at nearby 100 School St. during a public hearing Monday night at the City Council meeting.

Daniel S. Smith of Vertuccio and Smith Funeral Home, 773 Broadway, is requesting a special permit to raze the existing structure at 9 Mountain Ave. and build a funeral home at the corner of Mountain Avenue and School Street.

Attorney Chris Cridler spoke on behalf of the applicants for the special permit. He said both Mr. [Ralph] Vertuccio and Mr. Smith had long served the community of Revere. Both men are known for their philanthropy and community service in Revere, and their professionalism throughout the funeral services sector. "They have both long served the community of Revere, providing comfort and solace when it is needed most by members of this community," said Cridler. "Now they need our help at this point."

Cridler indicated that Vertuccio and Smith Funeral Home has been asked to leave its current location on Broadway. "They have been seeking a new place to call home," said Cridler.

In addition to the 9 Mountain Ave. site, the two funeral directors purchased the 100 School St. property for parking for the business.

Though there were many in the audience who supported the project, and Cridler was quite eloquent and factually informative in his presentation, neighbors of the project expressed their opposition.

A lifelong Revere resident who lives at 130 School St., told the Council,

"I finally built my home 31 years ago diagonally across from Revere High School."

The resident added, "I put up with all kinds of heavily impacted traffic. I don't feel that I want to put up with any more traffic. I think the funeral home can go somewhere else, where they're not so heavily impacted."

A McClure Street resident also expressed concerns about traffic, "School Street is worse than Broadway. At 5 o'clock at night, you can't even get up on to School Street. Traffic on Broadway backs up. Maybe two cars go by on a green light, and you never make it up to Broadway. Mr. Vertuccio is a personal friend of the family. This has nothing to do with him personally. I'm sure the funeral home is going to be beautiful, but it's going to impact traffic and that is the No. 1 priority with the residents around School Street, and I'm totally opposed about that new construction."

A Revere couple on Grand Avenue, which is across the street from the proposed site of the new funeral home, said they were "heavily opposed to this," citing "way too much traffic" at all hours of the day.

"This [project] doesn't seem to benefit anyone else in the area as far as the residents, besides the funeral home themselves," said the Grand Avenue resident.

Another Grand Avenue resident spoke about the traffic issues, stating, "We just feel as though there will be too much traffic and congestion. It's just not going to be good for the neighborhood, and it's not going to be good for the people who live there."

City Council President Anthony Zambuto referred the matter to the Zoning Subcommittee.

He said the larger building will allow more room for the storage of equipment and to keep the site cleaner. There will be new pavement on the site.

"The new building will allow for better office space, training rooms, and other rooms to maintain the equipment and meet DPW needs," added Kelly. "There will be 51 parking spaces that will be available to the public. There will two security gates on either side, so the public cannot access around the building. But they will still be able to park, go in, pay water bills, do whatever they need to do."

Ward 6 Councillor Richard Serino recalled that he worked as at the Revere DPW, "as a teenager over ten years ago, and the DPW facility that's there's now needed to be rebuilt back then, so God only knows how bad it's gotten over ten years."

Serino asked whether there would be an area at the new facility where mechanics could fix DPW equipment. "We have included repair bays in the new facility," Tempest said.

Councillor-at-Large George Rotondo, who has a great sense of getting to the heart of the matter and what his constituents want to know, asked, "When will the first shovel go into the ground? More importantly, what will be the estimated total cost, and will this facility to be technologically upgraded?"

"We can't say exactly, but we're hoping to go out to bid at the end of year, December or January," replied Tempest. "For the cost estimate, we're working on that right now."

"Twenty million dollars or less?" asked Rotondo.

"More than $20 million," said Tempest.

Ward 2 Councillor Ira Novoselsky said the new DPW building is long overdue, and he put in the first motion for a new building seven years ago.

"So, I feel proud that we've gotten to this point," said Novoselsky.

"And I look forward to hearing more about it at the subcommittee meeting."

Councillor-at-Large Steven Morabito asked Tempest what the expected time frame for the project would be.

"We're allowing 18 months. We think it probably be done in 12, but with the supply chain issues, we want to give a comfortable window for the contractor to be able to complete it," said Tempest.

Morabito then asked,

"Now if the economy sinks, if it's going to come to a stop, are we planning for that as well?"

"I think that's very difficult to predict, but I think if we sign a contract, the contractor is committed to complete the building for that price," said Tempest.

Council President Anthony Zambuto said residents have been looking forward to having a new DPW building for a long time, "so this is a step along the way, and we'll see you in zoning (subcommittee)."

Marilyn D. (Umbro) Bruno, 84, of Revere, formerly of East Boston, passed away peacefully on Wednesday, October 20.

The beloved wife of the late Kenneth A. Bruno, she was the devoted mother of Ken Bruno and his wife, Gloria of Saugus and Mark Bruno and his loving companion, Janet Funari; dear sister of Camille Tuttavilla of East Boston, Richard Umbro of Malden, Elizabeth Cavallaro of Lynnfield and the late Rocco and Anthony Umbro and cherished grandmother of Michael, Laura, Jessica and Gina. She is also survived by many loving nieces and nephews.

Family and friends will honor Marilyn's life by gathering at the Ruggiero Family Memorial Home, 971 Saratoga Street, (Orient Heights) East Boston, on Thursday, October 28 from 3 to 7 p.m. and again Friday morning at 8:30 a.m. before leaving in procession to Saint Joseph - Saint Lazarus Church, East Boston for a Funeral Mass celebrating her life at 10 a.m. Services will conclude with Marilyn being laid to rest with her beloved husband, Kenneth, at Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

In accordance with the City of Boston Five-Point Plan for the Delta Variant of COVID-19, face masks are required at all times when indoors. To leave an online condolence, please visit www.ruggieromh.com.

William O'Neil

Now at peace and restored

A Funeral Mass was celebrated on Monday, October 25 in St. Anthony of Padua Church for William J. "Bill" O'Neil who died on Tuesday, October 19, at the Massachusetts General Hospital as a result of sustaining a brain injury that occurred on July 29 while at home.

Bill, with his family by his side every step of the way, with love, support and prayers, battled toward recovery. He was 74 years old. Interment was private.

Bill was born in Newport, RI to Charles and Catherine E. (Donovan) O'Neil. He and his siblings lived in Newport until Bill was 10 years old when the family moved to New Bedford. Bill was educated in New Bedford Public Schools and was an alumnus of New Bedford High School, Class of 1965. He attended Dartmouth College and then entered the workforce.

Bill worked various jobs before beginning a career with the newly opened Dunkin Donuts franchises. He became a lead baker, relocated in Revere and worked at the Dunkin Donuts at Bell Circle for many years. He later went on to work for New England Caterers and Docy Donuts and eventually left the baking business and joined the Laborer's Union.

During a hiatus in construction, Bill worked at Vertuccio Home for Funerals for 10 years, then returned to the Laborer's Union Local #22.

In 1982, Bill married Elaine M. Ricciardelli and the couple moved to Revere where they raised their son, Brandon and daughter, Taylor.

Bill loved to work in his garden at home. Anyone who knew Bill, knew that his front yard garden displays were pure beauty, and it was all a result of his creativity. He was also known for his many wonderful and large holiday displays that he created every year. His unfortunate accident while at home was tragic and now his suffering is over and he is now at peace and restored.

Elaina, Brandon and Taylor are most grateful for the wonderful care and support from all of the nurses and staff provided to Bill at the Brighton House and for all of the overwhelming love, support and prayers they received as they endured this journey.

The devoted husband of 39 years to Elaine M. (Ricciardelli) O'Neil of Revere, Bill was the cherished father of Brandon C. O'Neil and Taylor M. O'Neil, both of Revere; dear brother of James O'Neil of New Bedford, Margaret M. "Peggy" O'Neil of W. Covina, CA, John O'Neil and his wife, Kay of Carson City, NV, the late Charles O'Neil and Maureen Kevan and her late husband, Jack Kevan. He is also lovingly survived by several nieces, nephews, grandnieces, grandnephews and many friends.

Remembrances may be made to The Brighton House Activities Fund, 170 Corey Rd., Brighton, MA 02135. To send online condolences, please visit www.vertuccioandsmith.com. Funeral Arrangements entrusted to the care and direction of the Vertuccio & Smith, Home for Funerals.

Ruth Cronin

Enjoyed an uninterrupted 101-year residency within the City of Revere, the city she so loved

Family and friends are invited to attend Visiting Hours in the Vertuccio & Smith, Home for Funerals, 773 Broadway (Rte. 107) Revere on Friday, October 29 from 4 to 8 p.m., for Ruth C. (Harding) Cronin, 101, who passed away on Sunday, October 17 in the presence of her God and her faithful family in the home that was hers for 99 years. Her funeral will be conducted from the funeral home on Saturday, October 30 at 10 a.m., followed by the Funeral Mass in the Immaculate Conception Church (Corner of Beach St. & Winthrop Ave.) Revere at 11 a.m. immediately followed by interment in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

Ruth passed away at 101 years old and enjoyed an uninterrupted 101-year residency within the City of Revere, the city she so loved.

Ruth was born on June 10, 1920 on Barrett Street, Revere, approximately six blocks from Park Avenue, Revere. She was the beloved wife of the late Revere Fire Captain John R. Cronin, who passed on March 15, 2006; the cherished mother to John R.

Cronin, Jr. and his wife, Cheryl of Beverly, Paulette F. Gallagher of Revere and her late husband, Walter, formerly of Everett and Robert H. Cronin and his wife, Christine of Boxford. Ruth also leaves 11 adoring grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandson. She was the caring daughter of the late Robert and Catherine (Ring) Harding and best sister to the late Daniel Green. Many nieces, nephews, grandnieces and grandnephews also survive her.

Remembrances may be made to the Alzheimer's Association, 309 Waverly Oaks Rd., Waltham, MA 02452. To send online condolences or for more information, please visit www.vertuccioandsmith.com.

Newly established Short-Term Rental office provides update to Revere residents

Staff Report

The newly established Short Term Rental Office provided an update to residents on registration processes. Last summer, the City Council passed the Short Term Rental Ordinance, an ordinance setting rules and regulations around short term rental properties in the city (Airbnb and Vrbo). In July 2021, the office was officially opened, led by Director Nicholas Catinazzo.

Over the last four months, the Short-Term Rental office has worked with short term rental property owners to make sure all rentals in the City of Revere are in compliance with the Short-Term Rental Ordinance. Since becoming operational August 1, 2021, 23 Properties have registered with the STR office. Of this number, 21 have been approved and issued licenses by the STR Inspector and Fire Department, while 2 have been denied. In addition to the registrations and inspections, the STR office has identified 64 properties which have not applied for registration and are in violation of the short-term rental ordinance. Each non-compliant property has received a letter stating their non-compliant status, given one month to either register and come into compliance or remove all active rental listings, or be fined $300 per violation per day.

"We have certainly learned a lot over the past four months," said Nick Catinazzo, Director of the Short-Term Rental Office. "We all know there are dozens of Air BnB's and other similar properties throughout the city. Our job is to make sure each property is compliant, safe, and abiding by the rules of the ordinance. I'm proud of the work we've done so far and continue to do to protect Revere residents."

The Short-Term Rental Office utilizes software that identifies short-term rental properties within the city, allows homeowners to apply for a short-term rental license, and monitors daily activity of all short-term rentals located in the city that are both currently compliant and non-compliant with the short-term rental ordinance.

As of today, October 26, 2021:

- There are 98 current active short-term rental properties in the City of Revere

- 21 licenses have been approved by the Short-Term Rental office since September 2021

- 64 properties have been identified as non-compliant properties at risk of facing fines

The Short-Term Rental Ordinance, as well as key elements and contact information, is available on revere.org/str. If you are interested in renting out a short-term rental property or have questions about the ordinance, please reach out to Nicholas Catinazzo at 781-485-8479.

Restaurant & Pub, William Butts, Manager, for a change of corporate officers.

DISCUSSION AND VOTE:

Atty. Elizabeth Pisano presented the application, which was a straightforward change of corporate officers. There was no opposition and the application was approved by a unanimous vote.

Item #2

Clown Management, Inc. d/b/a Staybridge Suites/Holiday Inn Express - Revere 245 Revere Beach Parkway, Catherine Marie Cucchiello, Manager. Application for a Change of Manager: Application of Colwen Management, Inc. d/b/a Staybridge Suites/Holiday Inn Express - Revere, Catherine Marie Cucchiello, Manager, for a change of manager of an All Alcohol Restaurant license from Jose Chino.

DISCUSSION AND VOTE:

Ms. Rodriguez presented the petition and mentioned that she has worked at the establishment for many years. The commissioners had no questions and there was no opposition.

The board approved the change, 3-0.

Item #3

Promos Partners, LLC, d/b/a Fajita's Sports Bar & Restaurant 46 Revere Street. Nicolas Portillo, Manager. Application for Change of License Category: Application of Primos Partners, LLC d/b/a Fajita's Sports Bar & Restaurant, 46 Revere Street, Nicolas Portillo, Manager, for a change of license category to All Alcohol Restaurant from Wine, Malt, and Cordials/Liqueurs Restaurant. (Continued from September meeting.)

DISCUSSION AND VOTE:

Atty. Cosmo Karalolos appeared on behalf of the petitioner. He said his client is seeking to add a full-alcohol component to its license in order "to appeal to a much-broader clientele."

Karalolos also mentioned that they wished to increase the hours to 1 a.m., but Selevitch noted that since that request was not on the application before the board, that matter would need to be addressed at a later date.

When Occena asked whether there had been any discussions with neighbors about the change, Karalolos mentioned that some neighbors had signed a petition, which detailed a remediation plan to address neighborhood issues, in support of the application.

Karalolos also noted that there have been no issues with neighbors for the past eight months, which is when this application initially had been submitted to the commission at its meeting in February.

Ocean said that he has visited the establishment on three occasions, not as a patron, and had not witnessed any of the problems concerning noise that had been mentioned at the February meeting.

"I live in the area, so I'm very familiar with the establishment," said Guinasso. "There are four signatures from the same address who abut you directly, but I'm hearing from others in the area that there have been disturbances outside of the building."

"The problem in the neighborhood is that we've issued five liquor licenses and a package store within a block," Guinasso continued. "They (the neighbors) think it's a 'little too much alcohol,' especially abutting a school."

Guinasso also noted that there has been an issue with loud music in cars when patrons are leaving.

"However, this is only hearsay," said Guinasso, who also noted there were no signees on the petition from the broader neighborhood.

Occena said he was not aware of any complaints to the police about noise, which was confirmed by Revere Police Lieut. Sean Rand, who also was in attendance at the meeting via Zoom.

"When I went in on three occasions, the music was extremely low and there was no loitering in the parking lot," said Occena. "I think it's hard for these folks to survive in this climate as it is, and they need the additional revenue."

Karalolos concurred, stating, "There is a demand for people who want a cocktail with their fajita."

However, a resident who lives directly behind the establishment's small parking lot voiced her concerns.

"Fajita's parking lot shares a fence with my backyard," she said. "There already are two liquor stores on my block. I have concerns about my privacy. They disturb my peace when their trash truck collects at 4 a.m."

"I think her questions are valid and we can address the issue of a 4 a.m. rubbish removal," said Selevitch. "No trash trucks are allowed before 6 a.m. I understand the issue with the liquor licenses, but Fajita's already has a license and we're just adding to that."

Karalolos said he will address the trash truck issue with his client, as well as discussing increasing the height of the fence to mitigate the noise. The neighbor (whose name did not appear on her Zoom call) said she looked forward to talking with them.

The board then approved the application by a vote of 3-0.

Item #6

Revere Beach Partnership Revere Beach, Chris Puiia, Event Manager. Application for a 1-day Malt/Wine License: Application of Revere Beach Partnership for a 1-day license for Malt/Wine, said license to be exercised on Revere Beach across from Kelly's Roast Beef on Sunday, October 24, 2021 from 10:30 a.m. - 12 p.m. Event is a 5K road race with a beer garden after the race. Expected number of attendees is 200.

DISCUSSION AND VOTE:

Mr. Puiia appeared on behalf of the petitioner. He told the commissioners that only runners 21-and-over would be able to attend the beer garden that will be set up on the beach itself. Puiia said that both the DCR and the State Police had given their approval for the event.

Selevitch asked how the drinking will be contained on the beach, to which Puiia replied that DCR will set up a fenced-in area for those drinking beer. He said that only runners over the age of 21 will receive a free-beer ticket.

"This is a nice event that has been held for the past few years," said Guinasso.

There was no opposition and the request was approved 3-0.

Item #7

White Label, LLC, d/b/a Easy Pie, 649 Squire Road, Spiros Stogiannis, Manager. Hearing into an unlicensed entertainment event and fire safety violations.

DISCUSSION AND VOTE:

The principal issue before the commission concerned a "meet-up" for owners of antique and specialty automobiles that was held at the Easy Pie restaurant and whether the event required a permit from the License Commission.

Atty. Andrew Delory appeared on behalf of Easy Pie. Mr. Stogiannis also was on hand.

"How did this event come to be? Why wasn't there a specific application or permit requested from us to host the event?" asked Occena.

"It was a so-called car 'meet-up,' a drive to the restaurant," said Delory. "Mr. Stogiannis was not an active participant. There is a question of whether a license for this sort of event is needed, based on Mr. Stogiannis having hosted them in the past without having obtained a license."

"We received confirmation that there was a light show and entertainment that required a license from the commission," said Selevitch. "Was there alcohol served?"

"Alcohol was available only within the licensed premises," said Delory, who also explained that there was no entertainment of any kind.

"How many vehicles?" asked Guinasso. When Delory replied, "About 150," Guinasso further asked, "Who was out there controlling traffic? There was lots of noise for the residents and screeching through the streets. Who was handling this?"

"My client had a police detail officer on site at all times," said Delory. "He wants to host these events again and is willing to do whatever is needed to comply with the commission's requests. There was no music or entertainment. Music was coming only from the cars. We're willing to work with the commission to apply for all necessary licenses."

Ward 4 City Councillor Patrick M. Keefe Jr. appeared at the meeting and spoke about the matter.

"People are trying to find ways to keep their businesses afloat," said Keefe. "He (Mr. Stogiannis) reached out to the police for a detail. This may be a grey area, but it should have been a licensed event. With him realizing now that he should have obtained a license, he knows now, and we should be willing to support local businesses. I hope the commission can offer some leniency and understanding."

"Easy Pie has been a good operator and takes care of things as they come up," added Selevitch. "There have been no prior incidents. They have been a good neighbor. But if there are future car events, they should obtain a license. This was very loud and disturbing to the residents. I hope that going forward, events like this need to be run past the commission and the police department."

"They have a very good history and it would be too harsh to keep it on file," said Occena. "They now have received a stern warning."

The board also briefly discussed an unrelated incident in which the management of the restaurant turned off a fire alarm -- which had been set off accidentally with patrons on hand -- prior to the Fire Department arriving. The commissioners informed Delory and his attorney that the law requires that they have to wait for the Fire Dept. to arrive to reset the alarm.

"The commission is issuing a warning," Selevitch said in conclusion to Delory. "Advise your client that going forward he should call the office to determine whether an event needs to be licensed. We're here to help businesses navigate this stuff. We're not here to hurt them."

Item #8

Sena Motors, Inc., 120 Squire Road, Claudio Pontes, Manager. Hearing into violations of license conditions and unlicensed commercial vehicle storage.

DISCUSSION AND VOTE:

Mr. Pontes, the owner of Sena Motors, appeared for his company.

"We have been getting fairly regular complaints from residents that you have been parking cars outside of the premises and on the sidewalk and on Patriot Parkway," Selevitch said to Pontes.

"I'm surprised at this," said Pontes. "We responded to one complaint and took action to resolve it. We have resolved issues with the parking of the trucks that load and unload cars. An officer told us where to park and we complied. We're willing to listen and address any issues from neighbors and do whatever it takes. We're a strong supporter of the community in Revere."

Selevitch said that residents are concerned about cars being test-driven by prospective buyers who are speeding on Patriot Parkway.

"I'll make sure that customers sign a letter agreeing not to speed on the street when they test-drive a vehicle," said Pontes.

"Are there any opponents in the audience?" asked Guinasso. "It's a highly-residential area. The only thing I've ever seen is the car trailers, but they are licensed. I haven't heard anything from friends of mine who live on Patriot Parkway."

Selevitch wrapped-up the hearing.

"This will be an informational warning to be more mindful of the parking situation and the trailers as they arrive," Selevitch said.

NON-AGENDA ITEM:

The commission then briefly discussed a matter not on their formal agenda regarding the pending issues of the Moose Lodge.

"I'm still thinking about the Moose Lodge, which has not shown up at its hearing at the ABCC and some accusations that they still are conducting business as usual without a manager," said Selevitch.

"I would like to see them put on the agenda for our next meeting and if no one shows up, that we move for revocation of the license," said Guinasso, who also mentioned that she would like to see a bench removed from the public sidewalk in front of the Moose Lodge because it has become a "hangout to the detriment of the neighborhood."

After Occena said he agreed with Guinasso's comments, Selevitch said the commission will send a letter to the Moose to attend the commission's next meeting "to address the issues of management and the issues with the ABCC, and to remove the bench out front that is on the sidewalk. It's time to remove it."

COMMUNICATIONS:

The commission received the following communications since its last meeting:

1. Massachusetts Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission (ABCC) notice of approval of application of Beachmont Wine and Spirits, Inc. for transfer of an All Alcohol Package Store license.

2. ABCC notice of approval of application of TBS Beverage, Inc. d/b/a Ocean Liquors for transfer of an All Alcohol Package Store license.

3. ABCC notice of approval of application of Northgate Partners, LLC d/b/a Joe's Market for a change of manager.

4. ABCC notice of continuance of hearing for appeal filed by Four Partners, Inc. d/b/a Antonia's at the Beach. Hearing date is not yet scheduled.

Regarding the fourth item, Guinasso said, "We're still getting complaints about loud music. The whole summer has gone by without the ABCC taking action."

However, Selevitch pointed out that the only letter concerning noise came from a person who signed only their first name.

"I have checked and there have been no complaints to either the Revere or State Police about noise, music, or unruly patrons," said Selevitch.

LICENSE RENEWALS

Common Victualler:

Suffolk Diner, LLC d/b/a Airport Diner @ Suffolk Downs, 10 Furlong Drive.

Lee Burbank Highway Service Station, Inc. d/b/a Super Sunoco, 251 Lee Burbank Highway.

Entertainment:

Suffolk Diner, LLC d/b/a Airport Diner @ Suffolk Downs, 10 Furlong Drive.

Class 2 Motor Vehicle Dealer:

1A Corporate Auto Sales & Leasing II, Inc., 275 Lee Burbank Highway.

The commission approved all of the renewals unanimously.

The next meeting of the License Commission is scheduled for Thursday, November 17. The board voted 2-1 to continue to conduct their meetings via Zoom.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE JESSICA GIANNINO ANNOUNCES RE-ELECTION BID

By Marianne Salza

Revere Councilor-At-Large Jessica Giannino, Democratic State Representative for the 16th Suffolk district, celebrated her 30th birthday and campaign kick-off on October 25 at DeMaino's Restaurant. Giannino, who ran for office when she was 19-years-old, and was elected at 20, announced that she is running for re-election for State Representative in 2022. "They say sometimes the night is darkest before the dawn; and I think that is the case with Covid. We went through tough times as a community. It made me stronger as a leader, and I learned a lot from it," said Giannino, who has represented Chelsea and Revere throughout the pandemic. "This last year I've spent learning this job and the district, which is familiar, and also new. It's been fantastic. The best part of this job is the colleagues I have met at the House."

Giannino strives to bring more funds into the City of Revere and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to support issues such as public transportation, access to sexual health and productive services, environmental justice, and protecting taxpayers and investing in the community.

ON THE CAMPAIGN TRAIL

Edwards endorsed by UAW Region 9A, Iron Workers Local 7, and Massachusetts State Council of Machinists

Special to the Journal

Lydia Edwards has been endorsed in the special election to State Senate by: the United Automobile, Aerospace and Agricultural Implement Workers of America, UAW Region 9A; International Association of Bridge, Structural, Ornamental & Reinforcing Iron Workers Local 7; and the Massachusetts State Council of Machinists. Primary Election Day is December 14, 2021. General Election Day is January 11, 2022.

“We are excited to endorse one of our own members, Lydia Edwards, for the First Suffolk and Middlesex Senate Seat,” said Beverley Brakeman, Regional Director for UAW Region 9A. “Beginning with her amazing work at Greater Boston Legal Services, under UAW Local 2320, to her time in the Boston City Council, Lydia has always been a champion of working people. Lydia’s focus on progressive values and her inclusive style of leadership is what has made her so successful. Lydia cares deeply about the issues we advocate for every day – the right to organize, worker protections, affordable housing, food security, healthcare, and more. We know that Lydia will push back against the system and address every issue through a lens of equity, justice, and transparency. UAW Region 9A will stand behind Lydia all the way to the State House.”

“Residents of Boston and all of Massachusetts’ cities and towns are finding it difficult to make ends meet in this global economy and troubling times,” said Daniel McWilliams, President of Iron Workers Local 7. “We know that Lydia understands our views and will continue in that same manner protecting the working families of tomorrow. We need more people like Lydia that are willing to do the hard work required, such as bringing people together to have challenging conversations.”

The Massachusetts State Council is part of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, representing more than 1,500 machinists in Greater Boston. The State Council of Machinists voted unanimously to endorse Lydia Edwards, saying of Lydia:

“The Executive Board members of the Massachusetts State Council of Machinists feel that you are the one candidate in the race that will represent the issues and challenges that are facing the working families of our Union and those in Massachusetts. Thank you for demonstrating to us that you have the ambition and courage to stand up for working people. We fully support you in your campaign.”

The UAW Region 9A proudly serves over 30,000 active and retired members in all the New England states, New York City, and Puerto Rico. Their membership is very diverse, including legal aid attorneys and staff, technical and office professionals, childcare workers, graduate student workers and postdoctoral researchers, auto repair technicians, museum and cultural institution workers, draftsmen and women, light manufacturing workers, casino dealers and more.

Lydia Edwards is a fierce advocate for workers’ rights. In the Senate, she’ll continue her strong record of passing legislation and delivering resources and results for working people. As a member of the United Auto Workers, Lydia knows the power of a union, but she also knows that every worker, organized or not, deserves dignity, fair compensation and freedom from harassment in the workplace. Lydia Edwards has stood with workers in the hospitality industry, service workers at Logan Airport, student workers in our higher education system, teachers, Brazilian immigrant workers and many others.

Edwards announces trio of new labor union endorsements

Special to the Journal

Lydia Edwards has been endorsed in the special election to the State Senate by: the North Atlantic States Regional Council of Carpenters (NASRCC) and member union Pile Drivers Local 56; and United Food & Commercial Workers (UFCW) Union Local 1445. Primary Election Day is December 14, 2021. General Election Day is January 11, 2022.

“We are pleased to support Lydia Edwards for State Senate because she shares our values and has worked to provide opportunity and fairness for all workers. As a Boston City Councilor, she has been an advocate for responsible development that provides family-sustaining wages and benefits, promotes apprenticeship and ensures worker safety,” said Joe Byrne, NASRCC Executive Secretary-Treasurer. “While union members in Boston enjoy these benefits, there are still many workers who do not have the opportunities and protections they deserve. Wage theft and tax fraud are far too prevalent and not enough employers participate in comprehensive skills training programs that turn a good job into a great career. We believe Lydia Edwards will bring knowledge, experience and hard work to fight for these issues at the State House and will make an excellent State Senator.”

“Pile Drivers Local 56 appreciates Lydia Edwards’ strong commitment to creating work opportunities with livable wages and good benefits for working families in Boston,” said Business Manager David Borrus. “Lydia has a solid record of legal action on behalf of workers, and supporting meaningful labor legislation especially for transportation infrastructure. Lydia has been a strong voice for labor as a City Councilor, and we are proud to support her campaign for Massachusetts State.”

In their endorsement of Lydia, UFCW 1445 wrote:

“We are excited and proud to support our sister, Lydia Edwards, in her campaign for State Senate. Lydia’s efforts on behalf of working families are unmatched and they extend far beyond her own union membership. For her entire career, she has stood up for the people who need it the most. She has never backed down from a fight for good, and we know that she will take that same spirit to the State House. Lydia is the clear choice for the First Suffolk & Middlesex District.”

Lydia Edwards is a

ANTHONY D’AMBROSIO FOR STATE SENATE ENDORSEMENT ROLLOUT

Special to the Journal

The D’Ambrosio campaign is proud to announce that we have received the endorsements of Charlie Patch, Former Revere Ward 6 City Councilor and RoseLee Vincent, Former State Representative.

“Anthony will bring to the State Senate high energy, fresh ideas and an unrivaled work ethic. He is a breath of fresh air during a time of politicians trying to have it both ways,” said Charlie Patch, Former Revere Ward 6 City Councilor. “We won’t have to wonder where Anthony stands because he clearly articulates his positions and isn’t swayed by insiders looking out for their own agenda. I am proud to support him and am looking forward to seeing his leadership at the State House.”

some quotes for them on why they think we should have a six and half hour workday versus a three hour and fifty-five minute workday. First off, a lot of them are feeling the pain that a lot of our members need to leave the district to go seek full time employment in other places. Ten school liaisons and medical aides are now full time and you would think that those of us that work with the most vulnerable students would be full time seeing the need is there especially coming out of COVID. We are seeing a lot of behavioral problems and socio-emotional issues with some children, especially the youngest that are now entering school for the first time.”

Buckley said another member responded to the union survey and worried that being under 32.5 hours a week leaves RPS paraprofessionals without benefits like health insurance.

“Working part time, if I get sick, I don’t have health insurance if I need to stay out and seek medical attention,” said Buckley quoting a member.

Buckley argued that paraprofessionals bond with children during the school day but don’t start and finish their day with the children they have bonded with.

“This can trigger negative behaviors,” she said. “COVID-19 has left a lasting impact on our youngest students in Pre-K through grade one. These children have never been in a classroom setting and our teachers need extra help now more than ever navigating daily routines, and giving our students the social emotional support they need. Lots of us are seeing school adjustment counselors basically running like chickens with their heads cut off from classroom to classroom in kindergarten and in the grade one small learning groups. They just don’t have the support and we don’t think these adjustment counselors just can’t keep up and I think thawing a paraprofessional fulltime in the classroom would definitely help in situations like that when the teacher needs to defuse situations.”

Buckley added, “Our kids are the most vulnerable in the district yet they are never given the full attention they deserve. They need staff that can help. The district could ensure that students have the support they need if they redistribute the hours of the vacant positions to the existing staff and give them a six and half hour work day instead of a three hour and fifty-five minute workday. Our kids need us there but the district is robbing them of the support by not doing this. I just thought during negotiations, I wanted to take this opportunity because I’ve been getting a lot of paraprofessionals reaching out to me and I just wanted to share their perspective because they don’t have a voice at the table.”

RPS paraprofessionals and supporters of their grievances stand outside City Hall holding signs, voicing their desire for a 6-and-a-half hour work day.

Rotondo wants Pledge of allegiance recited at public meetings in Council Chambers

Staff Report

Councillor-at-Large George Rotondo offered a proposal at Monday’s City Council meeting that the Pledge of Allegiance be said at all public meetings in the City Council Chambers.

Said Rotondo, “This beautiful hall and one of our greatest patriots, Paul Revere, on the wall, the flags behind us all served a purpose – having served in our military and been an infantry soldier, I think it is of the utmost respect to start any meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance.”

Council President Anthony Zambuto referred Rotondo’s proposal to the Council’s Legislative Affairs Subcommittee.

ENDORSEMENT ALERT:

REVERE FIRE FIGHTERS ENDORSE JOHN POWERS FOR WARD 5 CITY COUNCILLOR

John Powers understands what it takes to keep Revere residents safe

Ward 5 Councillor talked about opening the Point of Pines Fire Station when he first ran. Since then he has spent every day fighting to make it a reality. Now after a $9.2 million bond was unanimously approved by the Revere City Council, and after extensive site work was done, it is close to becoming a reality.

John Powers doesn't just talk about public safety during election season, he works hard year round on ensuring that residents in Ward 5 and across Revere are safe.

John has directed major investments to flood mitigation. Installing new drainage lines and pumps, and dredging our ditches to keep water off our streets and out of our homes during storms and high tides.

RHS GOLFERS TOP NE VOKE IN FINALE

The Revere/Malden co-op golf team ended its season on a high note with a victory over non-league rival Northeast Regional last Tuesday at Mt. Hood. The teams played a stableford (6 points per birdie, 4 points per par, 2 points per bogey, 1 point per double bogey) format, with coach Brandon Pezuto's Golden Patriot Tornados carrying the day by an 11-point margin. The leading point contributors for Revere/Malden were Jake Simpson (23), Ryan Willett (20), and Alexio Trichillo (20).

RHS GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY TOPS SOMERVILLE

The Revere High girls cross country team ended its dual-meet season on a winning note with a victory over Greater Boston League rival Somerville last Wednesday. "The race at the top was competitive, with about 45 seconds separating 3rd place from 5th place," said RHS head coach Katie Sinnott. Both Yasmin Riazi and Christy Ly ran personal best home race times, as well as personal best paces. "Yasmin took over a minute per mile off her last race, a break-out race for her," noted Sinnott. Rocio Gonzalez Castillo and Jessica Medina also turned in personal best home race times, and Carly Bennett ran her best race of the year. "This was our last dual meet of the season and it is evident how much time and work the girls have put in," said Sinnott. "The girls are racing their best of the season and look to run strong at the GBL Meet." The GBL Meet is scheduled for today (Wednesday).

RHS football team motors past Somerville, 44-6

By Cary Shuman

The Revere High football team took control early and cruised to a 44-6 victory over Somerville on Senior Night at Harry Della Russo Stadium. There were big plays all around, but quarterback Anwar Marbough's 52-yard touchdown pass to Sami El Asri on a slant pattern and junior linebacker Domenic Boudreau's 32-yard Pick-6 (see related story) topped the list of Revere highlights. Mark Marchese opened the scoring on Revere's first possession with a 21-yard touchdown run before Davi Barreto rushed for the two-point conversion. Barreto added a one-yard run and two-point conversion to make it 16-0. Marbough then split two defenders with a pass to El Asri, who sprinted past Somerville defenders to the end zone. El Asri scored from 25 yards out on an end-around, receiving some excellent blocking on the way to the end zone. Barreto struck again on a two-pointer for a 30-0 lead. Boudreau made the defensive play of the game when he picked off a pass at the 32-yard line and returned it to the end zone. Senior Syllis Davis scored on a 3-yard run to make it an extra special Senior Night for the Class of 2022. "A lot of players had big games, and offensive line was opening up holes and getting a push forward off the line of scrimmage," said Revere head coach Lou Cicatelli. Revere (5-2) plays Lynn Classical Friday at 5 p.m. at Manning Field.

dreau announced enthusiastically from the press box.

Revere head coach Lou Cicatelli credited Boudreau for the defensive touchdown.

"Domenic had a great, great pick," said Cicatelli.

li. "He was sitting there waiting for it for most of the game. For whatever reason, he kept flowing to the left and he intercepted the pass and ran it back for a TD. It was a great play for him."

Boudreau explained

how he came to be in perfect position for the interception and 32-yard return for a touchdown.

"They [Somerville] ran a motion across the play and I just read the motion and then I just picked him off and took it to the end zone," said Boudreau. "I think I had a couple of Pick 6s in Pop Warner, but that was my first high school Pick 6."

During the spring season, Boudreau, who is 5-foot-11, caught a varsity pass from his brother, Revere All-Scholastic quarterback Calvin Boudreau.

In addition to his role on defense, Domenic Boudreau is also the team's long snapper on special teams. "Coach Vin [Gregorio] taught me," said Boudreau. I just have to work on my spiral and getting the ball back faster to [holder] Anwar Marbouh."

Boudreau is hoping that Revere can defeat Lynn Classical Friday and qualify for the playoffs. "It's been a great season. I really like our team," he said.

The deadlock came last Tuesday with Greater Boston League rival Chelsea, a battle that saw the teams duel to a 1-1 standoff.

Keny Guerrero Alvarez, assisted by Bryan Medina, scored the Patriot goal.

The Patriots had better success finding the back of their opponent's net two days later on Thursday when they easily-handled Malden, 5-1, on the Golden Tornados home field at Pine Banks.

Five different Patriots contributed to the goal-scoring spree: Felipe Maia (assisted by K. Bonn Quiroz), David Paiva (from David Marquez), Guererro (from Paiva), Jeferson Oineda Mejia (from Paiva), and Joao Victor Cunha (from Mejia).

The Patriots were scheduled to meet non-league rival Charlestown on Friday, but won the game by forfeit.

Coach Manny Lopes and his crew, who now stand at 8-5-4, will conclude their regular season this Saturday morning when they host non-league opponent Newton North at Harry Della Russo Stadium. The opening kick-off is set for 10:00.

The Patriots then will await word of their seeding and first-round opponent in the MIAA post-season state tournament.

IMPRESSIVE PERFORMANCES FOR RHS BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

Although the Revere

High boys cross-country team came out on the short end (actually, the long end in cross country) of a 15-46 decision to unbeaten Somerville last Wednesday, RHS head coach Mike Flynn was pleased with his team's individual performances.

Mo Ouakani came in 7th with a personal record (PR) on the Patriots' home course in a time of 18:12.

"Mo deserves a lot of credit for having his PR on the final home race," said Flynn.

Right behind Ouakani was Victor Pelatere, who finished 8th in a clocking of 18:13.

"Victor deserves a lot of credit because he hasn't felt well in a few weeks and ran an excellent race while not being close to prime running shape," noted Flynn.

Trey Delaney came in 11th with a time of 19:07, followed by Brayden Shanley, who ran an excellent race. Brayden finished in 13th with a PR on his home course of 19:45.

"This is the first time that Brayden broke 20 minutes on the home course, which is a testament to his dedication this season," said Flynn.

Miguel Leonarte finished in 16th place with a time of 21:04 and Santiago Gil ran his PR on the home course, coming in 19th with a time of 25:40.

Flynn and his crew were set to compete in the GBL Meet today (Wednesday).

REVERE THROUGH THE YEARS

The City of Revere recently released its full list of Vacant Buildings. That list specifies those properties that will be fined for being abandoned. When the list was created, it was during much better economic times, and the purpose was to push the city's few vacant property owners to sell in a boom market. Now, however, with the city and state mired in a housing crisis, the list, which has grown substantially, has become a measuring stick for the problems created by the Great Recession.

Owners of the building that formerly housed the Mt. Vernon at the Wharf Restaurant appeared before the License Commission last Thursday and maintained that they will immediately pay the $33,000 water bill that was left on their doorstep last month. "We were in the process of evicting them for non-payment of rent and on the final day, the ownership vacated the building," said Deborah Molle, a controller of the trust that owns the building. "We were left with $75,000 in unpaid real estate tax payments, water and sewer tax payments, and rental fees.

With the lack of a mayoral contest -- incumbent Thomas Ambrosino is unopposed -- interest in Tuesday's city election has been minimal. However, a question on the ballot that would extend the term of the mayor from two years to four years has been drawing a lot of interest. Election Department head Diane Colella is predicting a turnout of 45 percent.

Although the MCAS scores have not officially been released to the public, Revere School Supt. Paul Dakin said he is pleased with the results, which show that Revere students are showing the same level of improvement as students throughout the state.

With the long and often-bitter mayoral campaign between Robert J. Haas Jr. and John Festa coming to a close, Election Commissioner Sherri Botticelli is predicting an 80 percent turnout of registered voters for Tuesday's election. In the final week of the campaign, Haas charged that, "Festa is engaging in the tactics of a desperate man," while Festa shot back that Haas is trying to draw attention away from all of the mistakes he has made during his tenure as a City Councillor. The duo are vying to succeed George V. Colella, who is not seeking re-election.

The Revere High football team, the winner of five of its six previous contests this season, came out on the short end of a 38-13 decision to Lynn English. English scored on its first drive of the game, but the contest still was a tight 6-0 affair midway through the second period when the roof fell in on the Pats. English put together another long scoring drive to increase its advantage to 14-0, but Revere seemed poised to strike back with a drive deep into English territory near the end of the half. However, the Pa-trioti turned the ball over on downs and then a broken English play with just seconds left in the half resulted in a 60 yard TD scamper that upped the English advantage to 21-0 at the intermission.

The RHS football team erupted for 20 unanswered points in the second half to earn an exciting 28-22 win over Arlington Friday night at Harry Della Russo Stadium. Mike Silvestri rushed for 101 yards and three touchdowns, including the game-winner with 1:53 to play. He also recovered an Arlington fumble to snuff out the last Arlington drive of the contest. Peter Graziani rushed for 109 yards, including a 59-yard jaunt on the winning 94-yard drive. Quarterback Bryan Marino scored on a five-yard keeper.

The RHS football team dropped its first game of the season, a heartbreaking 14-7 decision to Medford. The Pats had been nursing a 7-6 lead for the entire game, but with two minutes to go, Medford blocked a Revere punt and recovered the ball on the Revere six-yard line. The lone Revere TD was scored on a 16 yard pass from Dom Finelli to Brian Murphy.

Victor's, the 1981 champion of the Revere Softball League, was honored at the first annual league banquet Saturday evening at the Mottolo Post. Richie Santosuosso of the Vitale & Caturano team was named the league's MVP, Bobby DePasquale of Victor's was named the playoff MVP, and Doug Hittinger of Victor's was the home run king. The RHS cross-country team saw its 35-meet winning streak come to a close with a 22-35 loss to Peabody. Chief Bright provides an update on construction of new Point of Pines fire station

By Cary Shuman

At the request of Ward 5 Councillor John Powers, Revere Fire Chief Christopher Bright gave the City Council an update on the construction timeline for the new Point of Pines fire station Monday night at the Council meeting.

“That station was demolished back in September,” Bright said. “That was a pretty big milestone for us. Right now, we’re about to enter a really, exciting phase of the project. Along with our state partners, we’re beginning to wrap up some of our land acquisitions and permitting issues, because we’re trying to take that entire lot down there.”

Bright said the city has been working with several state agencies to expedite the land acquisitions.

“I think we’ll be finalizing that stuff this winter,” said Bright.

The chief said he expects construction to begin in March or April of 2022, and the project will take 10 months to complete.

“The completion date will be January, 2023, according to the construction schedule,” said Bright.

He added that the new fire station will be “a modern-day, state-of-the-art, three-bay fire station, with a training room, and a community space that is desperately needed in the Point of Pines for their polling stations and for community groups, and for our firefighters to train.”

“We’re excited about the new fire station,” concluded Bright.

Powers, who has been instrumental in the advancement of the new Point of Pines fire station project, thanked Chief Bright for his informative appearance before the Council.

Baker signs student nutrition act ensuring more students access free meals at school

Governor Charlie Baker, Lt. Governor Karyn Polito and Secretary of Education James Peyser joined lawmakers to participate in a ceremonial bill signing for An Act Promoting Student Nutrition (H 3999) which increases students’ access to free school meals and prohibits schools from using any punitive measures against students with meal debt. The legislation requires any school or district to implement universal free breakfast and lunch for all students if a majority of its the students meet low-income criteria.

“This legislation is another way we can ensure all children in the Commonwealth have access to healthy meals when they are in school,” said Governor Charlie Baker. “We are thankful to our partners in the Legislature for their leadership on this important issue so that no child goes hungry and can focus on their learning and education.”

“This bill will end the undue burden on students whose families have school meal debt by preventing children from being involved,” said Lt.

Governor Karyn Polito. “No child should be involved in debt collection or made to feel uncomfortable when they go to eat lunch at school.”

“As a state, we simply cannot accept hungry students as part of our reality. Students who don’t get enough to eat every single day face very real disadvantages as compared to their peers,” said Senate President Karen Spilka. “This legislation ensures that students across the Commonwealth have equitable access to nutrition to ensure that they start every day ready to learn. I’d like to thank Senate Majority Leader Cindy Creem for her leadership on this bill, and to the Legislature and Governor Baker for acknowledging that supporting our students through accessible meals, rather than shaming families for their inability to pay, is the best path towards success for all of our students.”

“Addressing food insecurity, especially among our state’s most vulnerable students so they are able to learn and succeed in school, is a top priority for the Massachusetts House of Representatives,” said Speaker of the House Ronald J. Mariano. “I would like to thank Chair Alice Peisch and Representative Andy Vargas for their leadership and hard work in extending access to meals and working to end hunger in our schools.”

“School meals are critical to students’ health and well-being,” said Secretary of Education James Peyser. “This new law will expand access to free school meals to ensure thousands of additional students have access to healthy meals every day so they can learn and grow to their full potential.”

The legislation also requires school districts that participate in the national school lunch program to take steps to maximize federal revenue resources and savings for families and directs the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education to assist districts in improving direct certification for its students. It also allows school districts to certify children for free or reduced-priced meals for up to four consecutive school years.

In addition, school districts will be required to determine whether a student with unpaid meal debt is eligible for free or reduced-priced meals within 30 days of notification of the debt. During that 30-day window, students can still access meals until it is determined whether the family is eligible for free or reduced meals. School employees are now prohibited in any way from publicly identifying a student with meal debt; denying a student a meal; disposing of a student’s meal; or serving a student an alternative meal because of debt.

HICCUPOPS LAUNCH PILOT PROGRAM IN REVERE

We’ve all experienced hiccups. Most of us think of hiccups as an inconvenient, transient annoyance unworthy of much attention, but for some, hiccups can be a serious problem and detract from well-being. Clinically significant hiccups are often linked to underlying medical conditions, such as cancer. Now, for the first time, there is a product available at Revere CVS stores (339 Squire Rd.) designed to stop occasional hiccups: Hiccups. Revere has been selected as part of an exclusive test pilot for these new hiccup lollipops, which previously had only been available for order online, on-shelf this week. Hiccups are made by Boston-based Meter Health, a patient-founded health care company focused on building awareness, advancing science, and delivering solutions for the full spectrum of hiccups.

REVERE BEACH PUMPKIN DASH

Photos & Story by Marianne Salza

After completing the Revere Beach Pumpkin Dash one-mile kids run, three children cheered from the sidelines holding a "Run Like There's Candy" poster, and Hersey's chocolate bars triumphantly raised in their fists in support of the 5K. Some 270 runners – dressed as Wonder Woman, Superman, and the Scooby-Doo gang -- participated in the October 24 challenge, presented by The Revere Beach Partnership. All participants received a commemorative t-shirt, medal, and for those 21-years of age and older, a free beer at the Sam Adams-sponsored beer garden. Families enjoyed live music by Vanessa Salvucci, cookie decorating, and a pumpkin patch in the sand.

Sheree Wheeler, as Thelma, Kristine Murphy, as Daphne, Michael Wheeler, Jr., as Scooby-Doo, and Mike Wheeler, as Shaggy.

Eight-year-old, Edward Harper, of the South End, came in first in the kids run.

FRESH & LOCAL

Stews and Stewed!

of cooking by which food is barely covered with liquid and simmered slowly for a long period of time in a tightly covered pot.”

Stews from Everywhere for Every Eater

Wright has chapters on various meats from beef and lamb to goat and rabbit. He explores how diverse foodways have used their native pantry to produce an appropriate stewed dish for their taste.

He also has a range of seafood and vegetable stews. Some of these are vegetarian, while others contain meat products. For example, bacon or salt pork is common in chowders, while some vegetable stews call for chicken broth. If you want a fully vegetarian or vegan meal you can easily adapt any stew recipe by using alternative ingredients that fit your preference.

The freedom to make changes to use what you have or what you want is a hallmark of stew evolution. One of the most ubiquitous examples is Biga or Hunter’s Stew. This dish uses whatever is on hand and might be cooked on a stove or over an open fire.

Hunter’s stew may have evolved from the Medieval tradition of the perpetual stew pot. That meal is called a companaticum by Wikipedia. They defined it as “That which goes with bread.”

Our Stew Tips

When shopping for meat for our stews, we head straight for the least expensive cuts. For example, beef shanks cost us $4.99 a pound.

Bone-in meat with plenty of connective tissue is ideal for a rich textured stew broth. After shredding the meat from the shanks, Penny mashes the bone marrow and returns it to the pot.

Stewed or braised dishes are usually better the next day, so these are great make-ahead meals.

In a beef stew, mushrooms add umami flavor and fool the eye to make it look to the eater like the pot contains more meat than it does.

In place of salt, we often add umami-rich salty ingredients like Worcestershire sauce for depth of flavor.

It’s Stew Time

Stews are perfect autumn and winter meals.

We love stewy dishes because you cook once and eat for days.

A pot of stew can also use the food you might waste. Wright’s last recipe in the book is for Cliff’s No Name Stew. He created a feast he made in a 22-quart pot with what he had in his freezer, refrigerator, and a trip to the farmers’ market. He enjoyed it with a gathering of friends.

Sharing is our final reason for loving stew. It’s a perfect meal to share with people you enjoy. Be generous, make a big pot of stew and share away, in-person if that is within your comfort zone, or as takeaway containers and a Zoom meal if not.

Do you have a question or topic for Fresh & Local? Send an email to Penny@BostonZest.com with your suggestion.

Beef shanks and mushrooms were the only items we shopped for to make a great stew. Once home, we gathered the rest of the ingredients from what we had on hand.

Save the Pollinators

Did you know?
1 out of every 3 bites we eat exists because of pollinator animals!

Caring for the pollinators means we will continue to enjoy some of our favorite foods. When we think of pollinators, honey bees come to mind, but pollinators can also be native bees, butterflies, moths, birds, bats, flies, and other insects.

Fall is still a great time to help pollinators. Consider leaving fallen leaves on the ground during the winter. Many moths and caterpillars overwinter in the leaves. Leaves are also important for soil health, enriching it with organic matter while protecting it and keeping it moist. Talk to people about it! Tell your neighbors why you are not cleaning up your yard in the Fall. Let them know you are making an educated ecological decision.

Fall is also a great time to dream about what your garden can look like in the Spring and Summer. If you don't have a formal garden, use balconies or spaces in the front or sides of your house to plant pollinator-friendly plants. When possible, use plants that are native to our region.

The following is a list of pollinator-friendly plants you can consider.

Lawn alternatives:

1. Pennsylvania sedge provides opportunities for the larval stages of moths and butterflies. While it does not provide nectar or pollen for bees and butterflies, it provides foliage. Once established, this sedge does not require mowing, fertilizer, or water, and it thrives in the shade.
2. Another lawn alternative is wild strawberry/fragaria virginiana, the larval host to 75 species of moths and butterflies. Once it flowers, it hosts a wide variety of bees, including the honey bee but native bees as well. Later you can enjoy the fruit. Wild strawberries can withstand foot traffic from dogs and people.
3. Consider a clover lawn. While not native, it provides opportunities for pollinators and nectar collection.
4. Little Leaf Pussy Toes/Antennaria Microphylla works for dry sunnier parts of the landscape.

Shrubs
Instead of lawn alternatives, you can also add layers to your lawn by adding more trees and shrubs. Shrubs for pollinators include spicebush, viburnums, New Jersey tea, blueberries, raspberries, blackberries, buttonbush, pussy willow, elderberry, and Aronia berry. You can also fill vertical space with vines like Virginia creeper and coral honeysuckle, which attracts hummingbirds.

Trees
Plant native trees. Oaks support over 400 species of pollinators. Poplars, willows, elms, birches, cherries support close to that number as well. Small trees are also great for pollinators if you don't want a large tree. Smaller trees include: beach plum, chokecherry, pagoda dogwood, flowering dogwood, serviceberry, muscledwood, redbud, sweetbay magnolia, and witch hazel.

Through the MA Department of Conservation & Recreation, Greening the Gateway Cities Program, you may be able to plant pollinator-friendly trees free of charge, depending on your location in the city. Call 617-626-1459 to ask about eligibility.

Where to Buy:

While "bee hotels" purchased in stores or online are great, the materials need to be changed out every year because they can breed different pathogens if left unkempt year after year.

Treasurer Goldberg announces appointees to Cannabis Advisory Board

Staff Report

Treasurer Goldberg announced 5 appointments to the Cannabis Advisory Board. The Board, which consists of 25 members, studies, and makes recommendations to the Cannabis Control Commission regarding the regulation and taxation of marijuana in Massachusetts.

"I am pleased to appoint these members to the Massachusetts Cannabis Advisory Board," said Treasurer Deborah B. Goldberg.

"I am confident they will have a meaningful impact on the regulation of the cannabis industry across our state."

The law requires the Governor, Treasurer and Attorney General to appoint 5 members to the Cannabis Advisory Board. Members appointed by the Treasurer are required to have expertise in marijuana cultivation, marijuana retailing, marijuana product manufacturing, laboratory sciences and toxicology, and providing legal services to marijuana businesses.

Treasurer Goldberg's new appointees and reappointments to the Cannabis Advisory Board are as follows:

Amanda Rositano- Expert in marijuana product manufacturing:

Amanda Rositano is the principal of Rositano Strategies, a cannabis business consulting firm focused on building a more inclusive and responsible cannabis industry, and former president of NETA (Parallel MA), where she served as a key member of the start-up and leadership team that led the launch of the state's medical marijuana program and successfully transacted the first legal adult-use sale of cannabis east of the Mississippi.

Dr. Alan Balsam- Expert in laboratory sciences and toxicology:

Alan Balsam PhD, MPH is an Adjunct Associate Professor at Tufts Medical School and BU School of Public Health. He retired after 21 years as Commissioner of Public Health in Brookline. Prior to that he served as Director of Elder Health at the Massachusetts Dept. of Public Health. He is a founding member of Community Servings, the medically tailored meals provider in Massachusetts and sits on its Board of Mentors.

Dr. Marion McNabb- Expert in marijuana retailing:

Marion McNabb, DrPH, MPH is the President of Cannabis Center of Excellence, INC a Massachusetts-based 501c3 nonprofit organization that conducts citizen-science-focused population studies and programs in the areas of community engagement, medical cannabis, adult-use cannabis, and social justice in the cannabis industry. The CCOE serves as a virtual resource & network of cannabis industry professionals, academics, policymakers, healthcare

NEWS FROM AROUND THE REGION

TEACHERS STAGE A 'WALK-IN'

CHELSEA - Chelsea teachers staged a "walk-in" on Monday as part of their efforts to demand what they consider to be a fair contract.

Teachers, staff, educators, and community leaders rallied outside the district schools last week before walking into the buildings together.

The most recent contract between the district and Chelsea Teachers Union Local #1340 expired at the end of the last school year. According to Kathryn Anderson, president of the union, the teachers' top negotiation priorities include making pay competitive with nearby districts, paying paraprofessionals for translation services, reducing class sizes, and providing prep periods for all members, including weekly preps for paraprofessionals.

"I think the Chelsea community stands with us and recognizes how important the demands are for getting students the services they deserve," said Anderson.

She said the support and participation from teachers across the district was high for the walk-in, and helped to show that there was unity among teachers beyond the leadership of the union.

Anderson said she believes one of the biggest issues on the school side is that there is a mindset locked into constant budget cuts over the years, and that some might not fully believe that Chelsea is going to see a major bump in Student Opportunity Act (SOA) money in the coming years. The SOA money coming into Chelsea is estimated to double from $70 million to $140 million over the next six years, and after the six-year phase, the increase from the state will become permanent.

Low pay, teacher retention, and high class sizes are all issues that are intertwined and could be solved through the smart use of the SOA money, Anderson said.

"There's a huge difference between class sizes of 32 kids and 24 or 20 kids," said Anderson.

She also noted that the teacher retention rates are lower than in surrounding communities, and that the pay for Chelsea teachers plays a big part in that.

"If you are looking a mile away, and they are making 16 percent more, it can be hard to convince people to stay," Anderson said.

The next negotiation sessions between the schools and the union are scheduled for Nov. 8 and 15. Anderson said there has been movement on some issues, but that there are still issues where the two sides are far apart.

"Negotiations between Chelsea Public Schools and the Chelsea Teachers Union are ongoing," said Superintendent of Schools Dr. Almi Abeyta.

"I can assure you that we are working in good faith to reach an agreement. I fully expect that we will reach an agreement that is fair and equitable both for staff and for the community."

School Committee member Marisol Santiago said that all the teachers, paraprofessionals, and all the members of the school district are valuable stakeholders in the process, and that it is important to have a good negotiation process to make sure both sides have their needs met.

"We all have to keep in mind the various stakeholders and plan for the future," she said. "It's critical to do that respectfully, because everyone wants the best for the community."

Santiago said she did see positives from the teacher walk-in held at the schools on Monday.

"I'm glad to see that great organizing is happening that is building out a stronger community that benefits us all," she said.

OFFICIALS TAKE STEPS TO STOP STUDENTS FIGHTING

EVERETT - "We are making headway, but there is still a way to go," Superintendent of Schools Priya Tahiliani told School Committee members regarding the measures that school officials are taking to stem the recent increase in incidents of fighting at Everett High School.

Tahiliani, speaking at a meeting of the School Committee, even went so far to say that school officials could be looking at prosecuting those students responsible for filming and then posting the fights on social media platforms.

Tahiliani, who temporarily has moved her office to the high school to have a more hands-on approach to the problem, outlined some of the measures being taken by school officials, including having a full-time staff to record a student's attendance during the entire day; having students review the student handbook; filling vacant positions; and stressing the responsibility of students who record and then post videos on social media.

The committee backed the superintendent's actions, acknowledging that there is a problem at the high school. However, the members agreed that once the misinformation that is circulating on social media is corrected, parents will feel much better about the situation.

"As a parent with a daughter in the Everett Public Schools, I understand the concerns fellow parents have about recent incidents at the high school," said Mayor DeMaria. "It's important for families to know that these issues are being taken seriously by the School Department and the School Resource Officers assigned by the Everett Police Department to the high school. Progress has already been made on a series of measures and more work is underway to prevent further incidents," the Mayor continued. "The School Department has committed to sharing information with parents about the efforts underway to keep our students safe and help address parents' concerns. I look forward to working with the Superintendent and my colleagues on the School Committee to find additional ways to support the social and emotional learning needs of all our students to help them transition back into the classroom environment and the impacts they have felt from the pandemic."

Ward 5 member Marcony Almedida Barros told his colleagues that he was at Everett High for more than three hours and saw no major problems at the school. He also mentioned how he communicated with parents in Portuguese, and once the truth about the situation came out, how relieved the parents felt.

"There are rumors that the place is falling apart," Barros said, adding, "We need to communicate with parents that there are fights, but we are taking action."

Ward 1 School Committeeman Allen Panarese echoed Barros's sentiments.

"Five percent of the students' actions are negative and are overshadowing the 95% of the good accomplishments of the students," Panarese said.

"My son feels safe at Everett High," at-large committeewoman Samantha Lambert told her colleagues.

Tahiliani added that the Everett High staff are working with the Everett Police School Resource Officers to address the issue.

Kimberly Auger of the Everett Teachers' Association (ETA) issued a statement on the matter.

"The ETA membership wants nothing more than to reconnect with and support our students. We welcome and encourage more visits and discussions between teachers and administrators. We know our members already show up every day for our students' social, academic, and emotional growth. We are all willing to examine and improve our practice within our classrooms and our schools. The staff at each school, nearly all of whom we represent — teachers, administrative assistants, paraprofessionals, vice-principals, coordinators, directors, department heads — stand ready to continue to help the Superintendent and the building principals create a productive environment for the students and staff at Everett Public Schools."

During the public comment period, Ben Murray, an Everett teacher, urged all parties, "...not to fingerpoint, but to work on the common goal to educate children."

FALL CRAFT FAIR AT ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH WINTHROP

René Pike, Ellen MacNeil, and Joe Pike enjoying the Fall Craft Fair at St. John's Episcopal Church on Saturday, Oct. 16.

Tahiliani added, "We are striving to have one good day after another."

COVID-19 testing

Tahiliani noted that 20 COVID-19 cases were confirmed in the schools for the period of October 1-14. The school population still falls short of the state-mandated 80% threshold of fully-vaccinated students that would permit the schools to have the state's mandatory mask-wearing order rescinded.

Tahiliani also told members that between Cataldo Ambulance and Cambridge Health, the schools have been able to increase the number of students taking part in the test-and-stay program, whereby students with symptoms are tested, and if found negative for COVID-19, they can stay in school.

NEW ART EXHIBIT INSTALLED

EAST BOSTON - A new art exhibit that is a collaboration between Boston Harbor Now and conservation photographer Lauren Owens Lambert has been installed at LoPresti Park in East Boston and Langone Park in the North End.

"On the Edge: Boston's Working Waterfront" uses Lambert's photos to showcase the range of jobs linked to the Boston waterfront and the value they bring to the city and the region.

While traditional maritime jobs persist, the changing waterfront—cleaned over the past four decades, lined with significant new construction, and preparing for the impacts of climate change—offers employment to many.

Through a set of working portraits by Lambert the installation represents, on a human scale, the economic impact and interconnection of Boston Harbor.

Like the Piers Park Sailing Center picture Lambert's other portraits illustrate a cross-section of the city's workforce and highlight the diversity of humans and roles that help the region benefit from a healthy and connected harbor.

Lambert commented that the harbor is a vital economic engine that powers the City and the many lives and livelihoods that depend on it.

Piers Park Sailing Center Executive Director Alex DeFronzo said his team is really excited for the public art installation because it showcases the historic maritime work that continues today in Eastie.

Lambert is a photographer and video journalist based in the Boston area whose work has a creative focus in documenting the human aspect of climate change, ocean health, natural resource management, conservation, and our relationship with the natural world during the age of the Anthropocene.

Her work has been published with Agence France-Presse, Audubon Magazine, BioGraphic Magazine, and The Boston Globe. She is an International League of Conservation Photographer and has presented work at the United Nations on the importance of visual storytelling with ocean science and data communication.

REMEMBERING DOUG MULLINS

LYNN - The Lynn baseball community will honor the memory of Doug Mullins, a highly respected athlete and coach, with a tremendous tribute: the Doug Mullins Memorial Baseball Tournament to be held May 27-28, 2022, at Fraser Field.

Douglas Adam Mullins was the head coach of the Lynn English baseball team before his passing on Oct. 17, 2020, at the age of 34. Mr. Mullins had an All-Star-caliber career at Lynn Classical and later served as an assistant baseball coach at St. Mary's and Lynn English before being promoted to the head coaching position at Lynn English on the recommendation of head coach Joe Caponigro and the appointment by Director of Athletics Dick Newton.

The English, Classical and St. Mary's baseball teams will compete with Swampscott High School in the first Doug Mullins Memorial Baseball Tournament which will be held during Memorial Day weekend.

Caponigro, head coach of the Swampscott High baseball team, is the director of the tournament.

"I loved Doug as a coach and loved him as a person," said Caponigro. "He was a terrific young guy, very motivated, very good to his players — just an all-around great person."

Caponigro said when he brought forth his proposal for the tournament to the Lynn athletic directors, Dick Newton (English), Bill Devin (Classical), and Jeff Newhall (St. Mary's), and head baseball coaches, Esteban Paula (English), Mike Zukowski (Classical), and Derek Dana (St. Mary's), they warmly embraced the tournament and its intended goals of honoring Mr. Mullins' legacy.

"I also wanted Swampscott to be a part of the tournament because of my connection and friendship to Doug," said Caponigro.

The final Nipper Clancy Memorial Baseball Tournament was slated to be held in 2020, but because of the COVID-19 pandemic, the tournament was canceled. The Doug Mullins Baseball Tournament will now become the premier showcase for Lynn baseball on the holiday weekend.

"I had the pleasure of coaching Doug Mullins when he was in the ninth grade," said Classical AD Devin. "At the time I was the freshman coach, and Dougie was one of my best players. He could pitch, play shortstop, play outfield, and he had tremendous speed. I told [then-Classical] Coach Jim Tgettis that this kid was going to be a very special player on the varsity, which he was."

Devin said what impressed him the most was Doug's leadership qualities and character.

"He was a tremendous person, so likable — everything was team first," said Devin. "He was an extremely hard worker, a great athlete, just a well-rounded person. My sons, Brandon and Sean, played on Doug's team in American Legion Baseball, and they absolutely loved him as a coach. So, I'm completely honored to be a part of the Doug Mullins Tournament. It's going to be something special and will keep his memory alive."

Dick Newton is also excited to be a part of the tournament. "This event is going to be the start of something that we hope continues for many years,"

 Beachmont School
 Notice is hereby given that the Revere City Council will conduct a public hearing on Monday evening, November 8, 2021 at 6:00 p.m. in the City Councillor Joseph A. DelGrosso City Council Chamber, Revere City Hall, 281 Broadway, Revere, MA 02151 relative to the following proposed loan order: That $2,589,359 is appropriated to pay costs of replacing the boiler at the Beachmont Veterans Memorial School located at 15 Everard Street, Revere, Massachusetts, including the payment of all costs incidental and related thereto (the "Project"), which proposed Project would materially extend the useful life of the school and preserve an asset that otherwise is capable of supporting the required educational program, and for which the City may be eligible for a grant from the Massachusetts School Building Authority (the "MSBA"), said amount to be expended under the direction of the School Committee; that to meet this appropriation, the Treasurer, with the approval of the Mayor, is authorized to borrow said amount under and pursuant to Chapter 44, Section 7(1) or Chapter 70B of the General Laws, or pursuant to any other enabling authority, and to issue bonds or notes of the City therefor; that the City acknowledges that the MSBA's grant program is a non-entitlement, discretionary program based on need, as determined by the MSBA, and any project costs the City incurs in excess of any grant approved by and received from the MSBA shall be the sole responsibility of the City; that any grant that the City may receive from the MSBA for the Project shall not exceed the lesser of (1) seventy-six percent (76%) of eligible, approved project costs, as determined by the MSBA, or (2) the total maximum grant amount determined by the MSBA; and that the amount of the borrowing authorized by this order shall be reduced by any grant amount set forth in and received pursuant to the Project Funding Agreement that may be executed between the City and the MSBA. That any premium received by the City upon the sale of any bonds or notes approved by this order, less any such premium applied to the payment of the costs of issuance of such bonds or notes, may be applied to the payment of costs approved by this order in accordance with Chapter 44, Section 20 of the General Laws, thereby reducing the amount authorized to be borrowed to pay such costs by a like amount.
 That the Treasurer is authorized to file an application with the appropriate officials of The Commonwealth of Massachusetts (the "Commonwealth") to qualify under Chapter 44A of the General Laws any and all bonds of the City authorized to be borrowed pursuant to this loan order, and to provide such information and execute such documents as such officials of the Commonwealth may require in connection therewith.

 A copy of the aforementioned proposed loan order is on file and available for public inspection in the Office of the City Clerk, Revere City Hall, Revere, Massachusetts 02151, Monday through Thursday from 8:15 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. and Friday 8:15 A.M. to 12:15 P.M. Written testimony on this public hearing may be submitted to amelnik@revere.org or by mail to the Office of the City Clerk, Revere City Hall, 281 Broadway, Revere, MA 02151.

STEM opportunities in the Commonwealth are greater than ever

Staff Report

STEM-heavy industries are leading Massachusetts' recent economic growth according to a study released by Commonwealth Corporation in partnership with the Executive Office of Education (EOE), and the Executive Office of Labor and Workforce Development (EOLWD) for the fourth annual Massachusetts STEM Week 2021. STEM Week takes place from October 18 - 22 and is organized by EOE and the STEM Advisory Council in partnership with the state's nine Regional STEM Networks. It is a statewide effort to boost the interest, awareness, and ability for all learners to envision themselves in STEM education and employment opportunities.

"Studying STEM creates endless opportunities, and we hope more students can see themselves in STEM," said Lt. Governor Karyn Polito, Co-Chair of the STEM Advisory Council. "STEM jobs and industries are vital to the Massachusetts economy, so we want to inspire young learners to get involved, be inspired, and picture themselves in a STEM career."

Massachusetts' economy grew at an annual rate of 6.9%, according to Growth Domestic Product data released by the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis covering fourth quarter 2020 through first quarter 2021 (October 2020 - March 2021). This growth was led by the professional, scientific, and services industry, which has the highest concentration of STEM jobs across all industries. Looking forward, the demand for STEM jobs is increasing and expected to account for 40% of the increase in total employment in Massachusetts through 2028.

"To meet the needs of job growth projections in STEM, the Baker-Polito Administration is committed to upskilling workers for long-lasting careers in technology, manufacturing, health care, and biotech," said Labor and Workforce Development Secretary Rosalin Acosta. "One proven pathway is Apprenticeships, and we are expanding this program to include more training opportunities for software developers, cybersecurity analysts, and IT business analysts."

One in five workers in Massachusetts work in the STEM field. Though often associated with science and technology, STEM jobs encompass a broad range of industry sectors. For example, one in five manufacturing jobs in Massachusetts is a STEM job; one in seven management jobs is STEM; and one out of every seven post-secondary teaching jobs is a STEM job.

"Our Administration, through the leadership of Lt. Governor Polito and the STEM Advisory Council, has worked hard for the past several years to help Massachusetts students gain experience in STEM fields," said Education Secretary James Peyser. "We have expanded career and college pathways for young people to pursue industry-recognized credentials, and we deepened partnerships with employers and higher education institutions to offer more work-based learning experiences in STEM fields."

While STEM occupations are found in almost every industry in Massachusetts, racial minority representation in STEM continues to be low. Data from 2020 estimates that 27% of STEM workers are non-white, compared to the 2018 report of 24%. Black/African Americans make up 5% of the Massachusetts STEM workforce, most concentrated in healthcare. Hispanic/Latinx workers compose 6% of the STEM workforce. Asians are at 15% working in STEM. Though STEM jobs appear evenly distributed among men and women, women tend to work in lower-paying STEM industries. Excluding healthcare, women hold 29% of STEM occupations.

"At CommCorp, we are working to create a pipeline," said Christine Abrams, President & CEO of Commonwealth Corporation. "For example, YouthWorks, in its recent grant cycle, supported youth placements in STEM jobs across information technology, healthcare, manufactur-

Northeast Metro Tech hosts Legislative Breakfast

Staff Report

Local officials and lawmakers who attended Northeast Metro Tech's Legislative Breakfast were served by culinary students and faculty. From left, Mia Lara Anorga of Revere, Olivia McCluskey of North Reading, Gertrude Nabbale of Malden, Culinary Arts Department Head Elizabeth Beals, retired Culinary Arts Department Head Paul Mortimer, Taylor Nuzzo of Saugus, Beatriz Fermino of Malden, and Myah Joseph of Wakefield. Northeast Metro Tech recently welcomed state legislators and town officials to the campus and provided updates about the school's building project.

A legislative breakfast on Friday, Oct. 15 served as an opportunity for school leaders to share news about the project's progress, and to elicit support as the District's 12 sending communities are asked to support a state-of-the-art structure.

Students attend classes in a more than 50-year-old building that requires educational, capital and maintenance improvements. The new school will address the current facility's outdated building systems, including much-needed ADA accessibility and code compliance upgrades, in addition to overcrowding.

The Massachusetts School Building Authority (MSBA) recently awarded the district a grant of up to $140.8 million for a new building, the largest in the state's history.

School leaders stressed that:

- The current building has outlived its expected lifespan and no longer supports modern career technical education.

- A new state-of-the-art building will provide 21st century education to a diverse student population, giving graduates skills that prepare them for high-paying jobs in high-demand fields.

- The MSBA process does not consider that career technical education requires more space than comprehensive schools, and therefore the state pays a lower share of the District's total cost.

- School officials have planned diligently for many years, developing a cost-effective plan and giving communities time to plan for project expenditures.

- The District places 400 applicants on a waitlist each year, the largest list of any technical school in the state.

The new school will feature improved Individualized Education Program (IEP) accommodations, state-of-the-art shop space, expanded program offerings, a new primary access roadway from Farm Street to reduce traffic congestion, a full-size gym, a 750-seat auditorium, outdoor space for learning and a new cafeteria.

With a focus on sustainability, the project is targeting LEED Silver+ certification with energy-efficient mechanical systems, provisions for solar panels, and vegetated roofs. The compact, four-story design will feature an upper-level courtyard, roof decks, and a double-height library rotunda.

Students preparing to serve during the Northeast Metro Tech Legislative Breakfast.

The project is estimated to cost $317.4 million. The project will proceed on schedule if all district communities' legislative bodies do not oppose the project. If one community does, voters can support the project in a districtwide referendum planned during the winter

Rockland Trust appoints Karen Rebaza as Vice President, Residential Community Development Officer

Staff Report

Rockland Trust is pleased to welcome back Karen Rebaza to the Bank's residential lending group. In her newly established role as Vice President, Residential Community Development Officer, Rebaza will be responsible for growing the Bank's first time home buyer efforts through providing educational workshops, working with community housing organizations, and exploring opportunities for Rockland Trust to expand its residential product and program offerings in an effort to narrow Massachusetts' home ownership gap.

"Rockland Trust is thrilled to have Karen back on our residential lending team. Her extensive knowledge of how best to serve first time home buyers is a tremendous asset to the bank," said Joseph Lamberti, Vice President, General Sales Manager of Residential Lending at Rockland Trust. "Karen's expertise and leadership will enable us to bring greater opportunities and resources to the individuals and families in the communities we serve."

Rebaza rejoins Rockland Trust after spending two years serving as the Assistant Director of Homebuyer Services for Boston's Home Center; previously she worked as a senior loan officer at Rockland Trust and Blue Hills Bank. Throughout her decade long career in the residential mortgage field, Rebaza has been deeply involved in advocating for the Boston community. She currently serves on the Board of Advisors for the East Boston YMCA board as well as the Advisory board for the Massachusetts Affordable Housing Alliance's STASH Program.

"I am very excited to return to Rockland Trust and contribute to the Bank's ongoing efforts to narrow the homeownership gap in Massachusetts", said Rebaza. "I am eager to provide our community with specialized education and resources and assist our loan officers in building strong customer relationships."

Rebaza came to the United States from Guatemala in 1992 and is fluent in both Spanish and English. Due to her passion and dedication when it comes to community and narrowing the home ownership gap, she has received multiple awards throughout her career recognizing her work in the mortgage field as well as her dedication to the community. Rebaza has received the Outstanding Professional Award, Mayor's Office City of Lynn- Presenter Centro de Mujeres Latina: MARIA in both 2018 and 2019. In 2017, Rebaza also received the Inspiration and Dedication to the Latino Community in Boston from the City of Boston. She currently resides in East Boston with her husband Marco and her four children.

Independent Bank Corp. (NASDAQ Global Select Market: INDB) is the holding company for Rockland Trust Company, a full-service commercial bank headquartered in Massachusetts. Rockland Trust was named to The Boston Globe's "Top Places to Work" 2020 list, an honor earned for the 12th consecutive year. In 2021, Rockland Trust was ranked the #1 Bank in Massachusetts according to Forbes World's Best Banks list for the second year in a row. Rockland Trust has a longstanding commitment to equity and inclusion. This commitment is underscored by initiatives such as Diversity and Inclusion leadership training, a colleague Allyship mentoring program, and numerous Employee Resource Groups focused on providing colleague support and education, reinforcing a culture of mutual respect and advancing professional development, and Rockland Trust's sponsorship of diverse community organizations through charitable giving and employee-based volunteerism. In addition, Rockland Trust is deeply committed to the communities it serves, as reflected in the overall "Outstanding" rating in its most recent Community Reinvestment Act performance evaluation. Rockland Trust offers a wide range of banking, investment, and insurance services. The Bank serves businesses and individuals through approximately 100 retail branches, commercial and residential lending centers, and investment management offices in eastern Massachusetts, including Greater Boston, the South Shore, Cape Cod and Islands, Worcester County, and Rhode Island. Rockland Trust also offers a full suite of mobile, online, and telephone banking services. Rockland Trust is an FDIC member and an Equal Housing Lender. ing, science, and engineering. This type of connection with employers is crucial as it can provide students with work-based learning opportunities as well as show them that they have many options for the future."

The healthcare sector holds the greatest number of STEM jobs at 212,340, while the professional, scientific, and technical services sector has the highest concentration of STEM jobs at 43%. Massachusetts continues to be among the states with the highest demand for STEM occupations, adjusted for population, across the U.S.

"The findings in this report reinforce the importance of our efforts to continue raising awareness of key career paths among STEM fields, which are playing a leading role in the Commonwealth's economic recovery," said Housing and Economic Development Secretary Mike Kennealy. "By focusing on the pipeline to develop talent, we can ensure STEM industries can continue to leverage a strong workforce in Massachusetts to strengthen their position in our economy and also expand STEM career opportunities to even more communities that traditionally have been underrepresented."

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION SCHOOL HOSTS FALL FESTIVAL

By Marianne Salza

Friends wrapped each other with toilet paper like mummies to “Walk Like an Egyptian,” during the Immaculate Conception School Fall Festival on October 23. Cotton candy was plentiful, and students guessed how much candy corn was in a container. Families painted pumpkins, played corn hole toss, and admired costumes during a student parade around Father Brennan Hall.

Jacob, first grade, and John MacDonald.
